5. We have repeatedly pressed the government of guatemala to investigate the bamaca case. in an encouraging development, Guatemalan President de Leon announced at a press conference October 27 that he was appointing a special investigator, Alvaro Guadamuz, to look into the 1992 disappearance of Harbury's Guatemalan guerrilla husband, Efrain Bamaca. (text of press conference faxed to usun.) Guadamuz, Guatemala's Ambassador to the OAS, was de Leon's deputy when de Leon was Human Rights Ombudsman; he has a good reputation in Guatemala and abroad for his commitment to human rights. De Leon said that Guadamuz would work with the Attorney General and other GOG officials; that the GOG would "open all doors" to facilitate the investigation; and that the UN Verification Mission (MINUGUA) may play a role in looking into this case. department wishes to follow up on this announcement by encouraging MINUGUA's involvement.

6. action request: drawing on talking points in para 7, mission should approach un secretariat to discuss the modalities of minugua involvement in the gog's investigation into the harbury/bamaca case. usun should also approach the friends of the peace process to request that they make similar presentations to the un.

7. begin talking points:

-- guatemalan president de leon announced october 27 that the appointment of alvaro guadamuz, former gog deputy human rights ombudsman, to investigate allegations that the guatemalan military holds guerrillas, including efrain bamaca, in clandestine detention.

-- in his press conference, president de leon said that his government has offered every facility to the un verification mission to complete its mission and to assess the human rights situation in guatemala, including bamaca's case.

-- we regard this as a promising, if overdue, development, and we wish to encourage the gog to include international participation in the Guadamuz investigation.

-- we recognize that minugua does not yet have a headquarters agreement in guatemala and will face many challenges in implementing its mandate.

-- however, we believe that this case represents an important opportunity for minugua to demonstrate its intention to strengthen existing guatemalan human rights mechanisms.

-- president de leon said that the investigation would involve the human rights ombudsman and the attorney general's office, as well as his own special investigator and a designated prosecutor ("fiscal especifica") appointed by the public ministry.

-- all of these entities could benefit from collaboration with minugua.

-- in addition, minugua's involvement will enhance the credibility of the investigation conducted by the gog.

-- we hope that you will encourage minugua's leadership to be receptive to president de leon's willingness to work with minugua on this case, paving the way for fulfillment of its overall mandate.

SUBJECT: JENNIFER HARBURY/RICK NUCCIO CONVERSATION - 10/27

REF:

1. SUMMARY: ARA SENIOR ADVISOR DR. RICHARD NUCCIO MET WITH JENNIFER HARBURY ON THE EVENING OF OCTOBER 27. HE INFORMED HER OF PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO'S ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE GOG PLANNED TO INITIATE A FORMAL INVESTIGATION INTO THE CASE OF DISAPPEARED URNG COMMANDER, EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ. GUATEMALA'S AMBASSADOR TO THE OAS, CESAR ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ WILL BE APPOINTED TO DIRECT THE INVESTIGATION, WHOSE EXACT FORM HAS YET TO BE DECIDED. HARBURY REACTED NEGATIVELY TO THE IDEA OF A SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE BODY, EVEN IF IT WERE COMPOSED, IN PART, OF INTERNATIONAL INVESTIGATORS OR OBSERVERS. SHE NOTED THAT SHE HAS LITTLE CONFIDENCE IN THE EFFICACY OF INTERNATIONAL COMMISSIONS OR INVESTIGATORS AND COULD NOT NAME ONE PERSON OR BODY THAT WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO HER AS AN INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN HER AND THE GOG. SHE EMPHASIZED THAT ONLY FULL ECONOMIC SANCTIONS WILL FORCE THE GOG TO PRODUCE BAMACA AND THE OTHER 35 URNG GUERRILLAS ALLEGEDLY HELD IN CLANDESTINE PRISONS. END SUMMARY.

2. NUCCIO AND THE ACS OFFICER (NOTE TAKER) MET WITH JENNIFER HARBURY AT THE U.S. AMBASSADOR'S RESIDENCE. AMBASSADOR AND DCM JOINED FOR THE LAST HALF OF THE DISCUSSION. EARLIER THAT DAY, NUCCIO AND HARBURY, SURROUNDED BY LOCAL AND INTERNATIONAL PRESS, HAD MET BRIEFLY AT THE SITE OF HER HUNGER STRIKE. AT THAT MEETING, NUCCIO WISHED HARBURY A HAPPY BIRTHDAY, BUT SUBSTANTIVE CONVERSATION WAS LIMITED DUE TO THE CROWD OF REPORTERS AND WELL-WISHERS. AT THE EVENING MEETING, NUCCIO INFORMED HARBURY OF PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO'S TELEVISED ANNOUNCEMENT THAT HE WAS APPOINTING A SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR, CESAR ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ, TO HEAD AN EXHAUSTIVE INQUIRY INTO THE BAMACA CASE. NUCCIO ADDED THAT HE AND THE AMBASSADOR HAD SUGGESTED THAT THE INVESTIGATIVE COMMISSION INCLUDE INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPATION, WITH THE INTERNATIONAL VERIFICATION COMMISSION (MINUGUA) AS A POSSIBLE CANDIDATE. DISCUSSIONS WITH MINUGUA ON THAT ISSUE WERE STILL PENDING, AND WHILE THE PRESIDENT HAD REACTED POSTIVELY, NO DECISIONS HAD BEEN TAKEN. IN ADDITION, THE GUATEMALAN ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE HAD ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT IT IS OPENING A PARALLEL INVESTIGATION, HEADED BY A SPECIAL PROSECUTOR.

3. HARBURY REJECTED THE IDEA OF A SPECIAL INVESTIGATION OF ANY KIND, EVEN WITH INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPATION. SHE STATED THAT SHE WAS CONFIDENT THAT THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY COULD EASILY INTIMIDATE POSSIBLE WITNESSES, BLOCK ACCESS TO KEY SECRET LOCATIONS, OR SIMPLY MOVE BAMACA FROM PLACE TO PLACE, AHEAD OF ANY VISITS BY THE INVESTIGATORS. IN HER VIEW, AN INVESTIGATION

WOULD TAKE TOO MUCH TIME AND YIELD NOTHING. MEANWHILE, BAMACA WOULD BE KILLED. NUCCIO SAID THAT AN INVESTIGATION IS NECESSARY: THERE IS NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE THAT THE ARMY HAS HIM. JENNIFER RETORTED "WHAT ISN'T CONCLUSIVE?". NUCCIO REPLIED THAT THE ARMY "PROBABLY HAD HIM" (ALIVE OR DEAD), BUT IT "HARD TO DEMONSTRATE THAT THEY HAVE HIM." HARBURY PROFESSED THAT SHE HAS LITTLE FAITH IN THE EFFICACY OF AN INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION IN THIS SPECIFIC CASE, REJECTING THE SUGGESTION THAT MINUGUA OR THE ICRC COULD PLAY ANY SIGNIFICANT ROLE. FURTHERMORE, SHE LACKS CONFIDENCE IN PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON'S ABILITY TO UNCOVER THE TRUTH BECAUSE, IN HER WORDS, "HE HAS A GUN TO HIS HEAD BY THE MILITARY" AND IS POWERLESS TO ACT. ASKED BY NUCCIO IF SHE COULD NAME ANYONE WHO WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO HER AS AN INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN HER AND THE ARMY, SHE REPLIED THAT APART FROM NUCCIO HIMSELF ON THIS SPECIFIC OCCASION, THERE WAS NO ONE, REPEATING HER EARLIER POSITION THAT THE GOG WILL ONLY RESPOND TO FULL ECONOMIC AND TRADE SANCTIONS AGAINST IT.

4. HARBURY SUPPORTED HER CALL FOR ECONOMIC SANCTIONS BY POINTING OUT THAT THE SANCTIONS PLACED AGAINST GUATEMALA AT THE TIME OF THE "SELF-COUP" BY FORMER PRESIDENT JORGE SERRANO HAD YIELDED THE DESIRED RESULTS QUICKLY AND EFFICIENTLY (RETURN TO DEMOCRACY AND ASSUMPTION OF THE PRESIDENCY BY A CANDIDATE ACCEPTABLE TO THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE AND TO THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY). IF THERE IS NO "STICK", SAID HARBURY, THE GOG WILL HAVE NO INCENTIVE TO RELEASE HIM (BAMACA -- SHE ASSERTS HE REMAINS ALIVE) AND HE WILL BE KILLED. ON THE OTHER HAND, SHE FELT THAT THE GOG WOULD BE WILLING TO ACCEDE TO HER FACE-SAVING OFFER (SEE REFTEL) IF AND ONLY IF IT HAD A STRONG INCENTIVE, I.E. THE LIFTING OF TRADE AND ECONOMIC AID SANCTIONS. SHE ATTRIBUTED THE FACT THAT THE GOG HAD NOT RESPONDED TO A SIMILAR OFFER BY URNG COMMANDER RODRIGO ASTURIAS, A.K.A. GASPAR ILOM, TO THE FACT THAT THIS ECONOMIC INCENTIVE WAS MISSING FROM THE EQUATION. DR. NUCCIO DISAGREED THAT ECONOMIC SANCTIONS WOULD PRODUCE THE DESIRED RESULT AND EXPRESSED HOPE THAT THE INVESTIGATION WOULD RESOLVE THE ISSUE OF BAMACA'S FATE. HE SAID THAT ECONOMIC SANCTIONS COULD IN FACT STRENGTHEN THE HAND OF HARDLINERS WITHIN THE ARMED FORCES AND THEREFORE BE COUNTERPRODUCTIVE TO HARBURY'S DESIRES.

5. NUCCIO THEN RECOUNTED HIS DISCUSSION THAT DAY WITH MOD MARIO ENRIQUEZ REGARDING MS. HARBURY'S ASSERTION TO EMBASSY OFFICIALS AND IN VARIOUS CORRESPONDENCE THAT SHE HAD HELD "SECRET NEGOTIATIONS" WITH THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE. THE MOD TOLD NUCCIO THAT HARBURY HAD MISINTERPRETED INNOCENT STATEMENTS BY HIM SUCH AS "I WOULD LOVE TO FIND HIM. PERHAPS HE WILL TURN UP IN MEXICO OR TEXAS" AS "CODED OFFERS" IN AN "UNSTATED NEGOTIATION" FOR BAMACA. HARBURY RESPONDED TO NUCCIO THAT IT WAS NATURAL THAT THE MOD RESPONDED NEGATIVELY TO HIS INQUIRY AS IT WOULD HAVE DEMONSTRATED TO THE U.S. GOVERNMENT THE ARMY'S KNOWLEDGE AND GUILT IN THE CASE.

6. HARBURY CONCLUDED BY EMPHASIZING THAT SHE, THE URNG, THE OAS, AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS HAD ALREADY INVESTIGATED THE CASE AND A NEW INVESTIGATION WAS NOT ONLY UNNECESSARY BUT WOULD BE FUTILE. SHE SAID THAT SHE WILL CONTINUE HER HUNGER STRIKE AND AGAIN CALLED FOR U.S. TRADE AND ECONOMIC SANCTIONS UNTIL BAMACA IS RETURNED, DEAD OR ALIVE, AND HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN GUATEMALA DECREASE SIGNIFICANTLY. COMMENT: AS HARBURY DEPARTED THE AMBASSADOR'S RESIDENCE, THE MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS, MARITZA DE VIELMANN, AND GUATEMALAN AMBASSADOR TO THE U.S., EDMUND MULET WERE ARRIVING. MS. HARBURY GREETED MULET, WITH WHOM SHE HAS MET SEVERAL TIMES. WHILE MULET RESPONDED WITH A CORDIAL GREETING, MOF DE VIELMANN VISIBLY

STIFFENED AND DID NOT ADDRESS HARBURY. UNCLASSIFIED

7. HARBURY WAS TAKEN BACK TO HER SITE IN FRONT OF THE NATIONAL PALACE IN AN EMBASSY CAR, ACCOMPANIED BY AMERICAN CITIZENS CONSULAR OFFICER. SHE TOLD CONOFF THAT IN HER MORE THAN 2-YEAR SEARCH FOR EFRAIN BAMACA, SHE HAS NEVER BROUGHT INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE UP TO THE HEIGHTS THAT IT IS REACHING NOW, AND WILL NEVER BE ABLE TO DO SO AGAIN. SHE FEELS IF THE ARMY IS EVER GOING TO BREAK AND FINALLY AGREE TO PRODUCE HER HUSBAND, NOW IS THE TIME. SHE IS NOT WILLING TO DESTROY THIS HUGE INTERNATIONAL PUSH BY AGREEING TO A NEW INVESTIGATION THAT WILL BECOME MIRED IN BUREAUCRATIC RED TAPE AND END IN NOTHING.

SUBJECT: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE: MEETINGS WITH THE PRESIDENT AND FOREIGN MINISTER

Amb/DCM. See paras 13 and 22 - we need to be careful not to be holier than the Pope if the URNG would be willing to find an acceptable solution with the Army to preserve the peace talks. Good work! E4358

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ARA Senior Adviser Dr. Richard A. Nuccio and the Ambassador met separately October 27 with President Ramiro De Leon Carpio and Foreign Minister Marithza Ruiz de Vielman on the Jennifer Harbury/Efrain Bamaca case. Prior to his meeting, the President had announced specific measures to investigate the disappearance of Bamaca, including naming an overall coordinator and special prosecutor. In addition, the Prosecutor General has filed a "habeas corpus" on Bamaca's disappearance.

3. The President also privately added MINUGUA could/could play a role in verifying the GOG investigation. In an October 28 meeting with the MINUGUA acting director, the Ambassador was told that the President has indeed asked them to play a role. The Foreign Minister, for her part, said the Bamaca case has little resonance here and that the President made his announcement only to satisfy the U.S. She argued that if the President is perceived as violating Guatemalan sovereignty in this matter by allowing a foreign investigation, it would have a high domestic political cost. Nuccio said the U.S. was not trying to weaken De Leon, but to solve this problem and that both the GOG and URNG needed to address what happens/happened to prisoners and clarify the clandestine prison concern. In both meetings, Nuccio related a conversation with ORPA comandante Rodrigo Asturias wherein the guerrilla said that he would like to find an honorable way for the army to end this case. End summary.

4. ARA Senior Adviser Dr. Richard A. Nuccio met separately October 27 with President Ramiro De Leon Carpio and Foreign Minister Marithza Ruiz de Vielman on a number of topics (septels), including the Jennifer Harbury/Efrain Bamaca case. The Ambassador and PolOff attended the Presidential meeting, while the Ambassador, DCM, PolCouns and PolOff participated in the session with the Foreign Minister, who was accompanied by White House Ambassador Edmund Mulet.

Public Announcement

5. The President received Dr. Nuccio. the Ambassador and PolOff after an hour wait, necessitated by an impromptu press conference where he announced measures to deal with the Bamaca case. (Note: This wait was put to good use as the case was discussed with Presidential Chief of Staff Otto Perez Molina.) De Leon announced a special task force will be created to run the investigation into the whereabouts of Bamaca, headed by Guatemalan OAS Ambassador (and former Deputy Human Rights Ombudsman) Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz. The President also stated the Prosecutor General and Solicitor General would take actions, the latter naming a special prosecutor ("fiscal especifico").

6. De Leon further stated he would "open all doors and facilitate" the investigation into the case of "persons belonging to entities and institutions." Separately, Solicitor General Acisclo Valladares filed a "habeas corpus" on October 27 in favor of Bamaca before the Supreme Court. For his part, Prosecutor General Ramses Cuestas told the press that, if necessary, he would investigate whether clandestine prisons exist as part of this matter.

Presidential Meeting

7. Apologizing for being late, the President told Nuccio he recognized the importance of the Bamaca case and the potential for it to "snowball." He then related some of the specifics of his public announcement, noting Alvarez would be in charge of the investigation and that MINUGUA could/could participate. De Leon added some in his government have told him the UN Verification team could not do any investigations, but he said it could talk to persons and follow the matter. The president implied he basically saw this "investigation vs. verification" concern as a semantic difference.

8. The President continued he wanted to clarify that, when Human Rights Ombudsman, he received a description of Bamaca from the URNG that he later included in a letter (he gave us a 1992 fax from the URNG with Bamaca's physical characteristics.) This info did not come from army intel, he underscored, as some have charged. (Note: The URNG fax does not include as detailed a description as that in the De Leon letter, a point Harbury made to Nuccio at a brief Central Plaza meeting prior to a longer private session. Our files, however, contain a document suggesting the description came from the court records of a justice of the peace -- copy sent to ARA/CEN.)

9. De Leon then said all indications are that Bamaca died in combat, perhaps being carried away for burial by his comrades. The problem is there is no body to prove this. De Leon mused it is almost impossible to prove a negative -- that the army does not have Bamaca -- though he was willing to "open the doors" of all military bases to prove it. Hopefully the Alvarez Guadamuz led investigation will find the truth. the President said. If Bamaca's body is located it would help solve the matter; if the body showed signs of torture, this would also be investigated.

10. Nuccio responded that while the Bamaca matter was not the clearest human rights case to deal with, it was important to find the truth. In addition, it had the potential to seriously damage bilateral relations. To help find the truth, and limit bilateral damage, verification by MINUGUA of the investigation was key. Nuccio noted he had discussed a possible MINUGUA role with Acting mission head Fernando Castanon in Mexico a day earlier.

11. Noting he was only offering an idea that still had to be considered in Washington, Nuccio observed MINUGUA has asked the U.S. (along with other countries) for 5-10 police participants (out of a total of 60). If the U.S. could provide them, it would be up to MINUGUA to decide whether to have those specific persons verify the Bamaca investigation. Nonetheless, the mere presence of U.S. personnel might give more credibility to the MINUGUA police verification.

12. Misunderstanding, De Leon responded an investigation by U.S. police into the Bamaca disappearance would violate Guatemalan sovereignty. The Ambassador clarified we meant the U.S. police members would be on the MINUGUA staff and De Leon said, in that case, he would have "no problem" with it. Nonetheless, De Leon said this would have to be carefully handled so as not to raise political/sovereignty concerns. The President observed he was committed to "achieving positive results" in this and other human rights cases.

13. Nuccio noted that, at the start of the meeting, the President made a vague reference to a conversation in Mexico between a guerrilla comandante and a member of the GOG peace team about Bamaca. The ARA Special Adviser related ORPA leader Rodrigo Asturias had told him of this chat with Gen. Pineda. According to Asturias, he told Pineda he was interested in an honorable solution to the crisis, implying this would be one that would not damage the army. Nuccio said his impression was Asturias was willing to collaborate with the government in finding a solution and that the comandantes did not want the Bamaca case to damage the peace process. "I wish that were so," replied De Leon.

14. In closing, the Ambassador and Nuccio urged the President to communicate his actions on the case directly to Harbury, perhaps using Solicitor General Acisclo Valladares as the messenger. The President said he would consider this and also said he would see Harbury if necessary. The Ambassador and Nuccio also urged the President to consider going back to Asturias and exploring what the URNG had in mind.

Foreign Minister Session

---

15. The Foreign Minister and Ambassador Mulet came to the residence in the evening, crossing paths with Jennifer Harbury who was just leaving after speaking with the Ambassador and Nuccio. Whereas Mulet shook Harbury's hand, De Vielman went out of her way to ignore and be cold to the hunger striker. The Foreign Minister visibly stiffened after a conciliatory start to the meeting with the Ambassador and Nuccio when the Harbury topic was raised.

UNCLASSIFIED

16. In opening discussion of the Harbury matter, Nuccio revisted the question of possible damage to bilateral relations, noting his fear the case would give ammunition to those seeking to attack Guatemala and the peace process. He suggested one way to limit this damage would be to allow "international accompaniment" to the national investigation, specifically by MINUGUA. Such a move could help forestall pressure for the U.S. to act unilaterally, he said.

17. The ARA Special Adviser also noted the U.S. might/might contribute 5-10 police monitors to MINIGUA who would verify human rights and serve an advisory role. Whether these persons were assigned to verify the Bamaca case would be up to the UN mission. Such a move could conceivably help, though, with those using this case to criticize U.S. peace process involvement. The officers could also be of assistance in looking into the question of clandestine cells, if MINUGUA so decided. Emphasizing this was not an official U.S. position, Nuccio asked De Vielman and Mulet what they thought of it.

18. Mulet reacted positively, judging the international factor could lessen pressure on Guatemala. He said COPREDEH head Jorge Cabrera intended to tell the President as much in a mid-afternoon October 27 meeting. De Vielman, for her part, emphasized the high domestic political cost of international involvement and likelihood of charges of allowing Guatemalan sovereignty to be violated. She emphasized the local impact of this case is "nil" and the "President cannot bend over backwards" to do everything the U.S. wants on this. De Vielman added people here do not believe Harbury even knew Bamaca and the whole hunger strike/case was a "show and Ramiro would be a fool to fall for it. No one believes this woman."

19. Continuing on this line, the Foreign Minister said, "This is a country with too many widows and she doesn't look like a widow." De Vielman then rhetorically asked, "Who cares" here about the case? She answered the President did due to his humanitarian concern for other people. The Presidential announcement, though, was done "strictly to comply with your wishes and for the U.S. audience." Nonetheless, the investigation would be thorough and under the tutelage of OAS Ambassador Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz, whom she had recommended and freed from most duties.

UNCLASSIFIED

20. Nuccio responded, "It would be a mistake to conduct the investigation of this case or clandestine prisons just for international consumption." These were Guatemalan concerns that needed to be clarified for the good of the country. De Vielman answered the announcement was for international consumption; the investigation itself, however, will be done because it is necessary. She cautioned, though, that "if you want progress in the peace process, you can't weaken the President" by expecting him to jump through hoops. Keep the "global picture" in mind, she said.

21. Answering, Nuccio said the U.S. was not trying to weaken De Leon, but to solve this problem. He continued both the GOG and URNG needed to address what happens/happened to prisoners and clarify the clandestine prison concern. De Vielman said she could not speak of the past, but no clandestine cells exist today. Continuing, she said it was important to recognize what demands are reasonable and what are not. The Foreign Minister also stated while she hoped and expected the GOG investigation would clear up the matter, there may come a point when a deadend will be reached. If the investigation has been fair, she hopes the U.S. will accept and appreciate these efforts, even if no final answer is found.

22. In closing, Nuccio related his conversation with ORPA leader Asturias and said he had suggested to Defense Minister General Enriquez earlier in the day that the government/army may want to try and work something out with the URNG if the investigation hits a wall. He urged De Vielman not to discard this URNG channel as an option. She replied, "we will bear it in mind."

Comment: Proactive president, reluctant minister

23. The moves by the President are encouraging and show a recognition of the importance of this case. In addition, MINUGUA Acting Director Fernando Castanon told the Ambassador and PolOff in an October 28 meeting that De Leon has asked his organization to take on the Bamaca case, saying it fell within MINUGUA's mandate. (Note: He also asked Castanon to take on the "La Exacta" case.) For her part, the Foreign Minister struck a hard pose and will likely try to restrain De Leon from being too forthcoming in any public statements.

24. This cable has not been cleared by Dr. Nuccio.

Interview With Jennifer Harbury
Guatemala City
Sunday, October 23, 1994 and Saturday, October 29, 1994

Preliminary

As part of a Sister Parish delegation of the St. Francis of Assisi Church of Raleigh, NC to Guatemala, we were able to spend time with Jennifer Harbury at the beginning and end of our visit. She agreed to an interview with us and urged us to send the message on to officials and those concerned with the situation in Guatemala, politically, socially and spiritually. On October 11, 1994 Jennifer started her hunger strike at the Central Plaza in Guatemala City facing the National Palace. The yellow letters on the black banners read, "Everardo I love you. Your life is my life. I will wait for you here to the end."; "Army, what happened to the Human Rights Accord?"; "Army, why do you value private property so much but human life so little?" and "Army of Guatemala: True peace, yes, False peace, no." What follows is a word for word transcription of the interview conducted by myself and other members of Sister Parish.

13th Day of Hunger Strike - October 23, 1994

My name is Jennifer Harbury, I am a U.S. citizen, I am 42, I am an attorney. I've been practicing since 1978 in South Texas. This is my husband Efraín Bámaca Velásquez (she shows a 8 by 10 black and white picture of her husband. During the remainder of the interview she keeps it on her lap). He is a Mayan citizen of Guatemala. He is also known as Everardo Commandante Velásquez of URNG forces which is the United Front for the resistance forces here in Guatemala. Guatemala is 60% indigenous; so is the URNG much more than 60% indigenous.

He was one of the original founders; he was ORFA's tenth member. ORFA being one of the four groups that are now forming the URNG. He'd been in the mountains for 17 years when he vanished and he is the URNG last surviving Mayan Commandante. They had many, but the army has killed them all. There are many other young Mayan officials rising through the ranks, but he is of particular significance to them both as a founder and the last surviving commander of Mayan heritage.

He disappeared in Tenero on March 12, 1992 in a skirmish at the Rio Ixcucu which is near the town of Rataluleo. That is in south west Guatemala near the Mexican Border. There was literally a lot of smoke, a lot of explosions and people took cover. When they looked up, he had just vanished into thin air. He was just not there; his boots were gone; his body was gone; his backpack was gone; his rifle was gone; everything was gone. [He was] the only guerilla to disappear during the combat at that place on that date. No one else was missing. The next day, the army issued a brief statement saying they had found the body in [an] olive green [outfit] near the river at the combat site, and were sending it to Rataluleo for [an] autopsy and burial as unidentified.

Logically, that had to be him, but there were a number of discrepancies in the story. The URNG commandantes became very worried, as was I, that a hoax was going on; and that in fact he was alive and being tortured. They called on Emelio de Leon Carpio who is now the president of Guatemala, but back then was the Human Rights Ombudsman, and asked him to go to the army and get forensic photographs, fingerprints, dental records, etc. of that body which are routinely taken of any one that's even considered suspicious, let alone of someone in olive green with a rifle and what he would have had in his backpack: maps, codes, you know, money, special battle correspondence, etc.

De Leon Carpio called back and said: They claimed they don't have that stuff, but I'll send you what I've got. And he sent back a description that matched my husband's feature by feature to the centimeter, saying he had been shot through the back and (that he) turned his rifle around and blew himself away, shot himself through the mouth to avoid being captured alive and that his cranium was destroyed and that was the cause of death.

For a long time I thought he was dead. But someone escaped from a military base named Santiago Cabrero Lopez at the end of 1992. Santiago had been in my husband's group for a long time; my husband was his commanding officer. Santiago was captured alive in 1991, a year before Everardo was. And he himself had been severely tortured for six months. He was hung up with his arms behind his back from a rifle hook until his arms turned black. He was beaten with construction blocks. He was beaten across the feet until all of his toenails fell out. He was chained to bed ends with hands and feet for five months straight. The only break he would get is when they took him to the morgues to see his dead friends. He was kept in a pit in the ground for five days and five nights straight. I could go on and on; he was beaten and tortured with electrical shocks and then he expected to be killed.

But instead, he was placed in a new experiment the army is conducting, G2 or intelligence is conducting, which is aimed at breaking a prisoner psychologically until he snaps and start working as a secret informant for intelligence division. That was done in the really famous case of Father Pelliser back in the early 80's. He was a liberal priest, was tortured horribly for months after he was kidnapped by the army. And he came back like a zombie talking about my brothers the soldiers and he has worked for army intelligence ever since. All of this priest's friends that tried to talk to him, ended up saying "you know the body came back alive, with someone else inside."

And what the army does is to torture people horribly that they've chosen for a very long time. Then they start breaking them down mentally and force them in to work with the army and they are told that if they ever escape, not only will they be picked up and killed, but their families will be massacred. Santiago was willing to talk because his family is not in Guatemala. The others will not talk. If they are asked anything, they'll say they are voluntarily with the army. They can't even tell other soldiers that they are prisoners there, dressed in army uniforms and forbidden to talk. Again with the consequence of either further torture or the killing of family members.

Santiago on March 12, 1992 saw my husband dragged into a military base on exactly the day he was captured. He was chained on bed ends with hands and feet just the way he had been for 20 days and 20 nights. He was actually able to talk to him briefly although they were always under heavy intelligence guard. After that he'd been told Everardo was taken away and that he tried to escape and was killed. For a long time he thought he was dead. But at the end of July 1992, he walked around a corner of another military base and walked right into him, again under heavy guard. And the G2 official started yelling that this prisoner can be with no one else. No one was supposed to ever see him and that this was an outrage and they had taken him to an infirmary and locked him in there.

And the next day, someone sent Santiago in to pick up a typewriter thinking by then he had been almost a year and a half that he was broken and really working for them. They trusted him completely by then. And he saw Everardo lying on a small bed with an unidentified gas tank next to the bed. He said he was blindfolded and his entire face and body was entirely swollen. He didn't know what had been done to him and that one arm and leg were completely bandaged as if they were ruptured, and that he was raving. They called for a doctor to make sure that they didn't accidentally kill him. He is a commander, a founder, he has 17 years worth of experience, he is a treasure chest of information. They don't want to kill him, they want to break him so that he works for them.

Santiago was able to escape that Christmas. He actually saw Everardo one more time a few days later after that torture session and he was alive although he looked ill. The swelling had gone down completely, he voice was normal but he was dressed in army uniform again so he couldn't see the arm or leg. Santiago went to the United Nations, I went to OAS. Americas Watch and Amnesty International all shrieked. A number of US Congress people signed on to a protest letter. And of course the army said Santiago is lying, he's a drunk, he is black-mailing us, it's a propaganda stunt by the subversives and we don't have your husband.

So, it went to Guatemala with my marriage certificate and demanded an exhumation of the body where he was supposedly buried. And first I got to see judicial records, because I am his wife. And the one thing they had never counted on was anyone in Guatemala admitting they were the wife of an indigenous guerilla commander. If I was a Guatemalan, they would have shot me. You can't say that publicly down here. It is impossible. But I said it, and I am expensive. You know, aid could get cut off, as it should be. So I got to see the judicial records as a family member. I found the autopsy report of the body actually brought in from the Rio Ixcucu on March 12, 1992. The person was not 1.60m like by husband's is, he was 1.55m; he was not in his 30's but in his 20's, he was not clean shaven he had a moustache, he was not dark skinned, he was medium skinned; he had very tilted up oriental style eyes, which my husband doesn't have; he had a scar on his hand which my husband doesn't have; he didn't commit suicide. He had been tied by the ankles with this socks so tightly that the weaving pattern was etched into his skin. He had been fingerprinted, there was black ink on his finger tips. He'd been shot, he'd been stabbed, he'd been strangled, he had gravel stamped in his face and his skull was smashed in by rifle butt blows. I opened the grave, that is who was in there, an 18 year old who was beaten to death.

So I went to the minister of defense and said: You know what you've done is captured him alive, then you took him to a military base and started breaking him psychologically through physical and mental abuse until he starts working with you and to cover that whole thing up, you brought a different person from somewhere else, I don't know who it is even, took him up and you smashed him to pieces and said here is the body we found yesterday. How could you send my husbands' description feature by feature to the centimeter, instead of the kids' ?

The minister of Defense came up with some arguments he has used ever since:
#1: We never had your husband in the first place, we found a body you yourself say is not him. We've never had him. That is it. Well, if you never had him in the first place, where did the feature by feature to the centimeter description come from and why did you send it when you were asked for a description of the body.
#2: The guerillas must have switched to body in the grave to make us look bad. But they used the autopsy report the day the body was buried. It wasn't him in the first place.
#3: That really is him in the grave. Yeah, 5 cm too short, different facial structures. I have a video of him:
#4: This must be a propaganda stunt.
#5: All indians look alike. No comment.
#6: If you can tell us where your husband is, we'll personally drive you out there. Somehow, I've got to guess where they are holding and torturing my husband. It's not gonna work.

So, I've been to OAS, they issued protective orders, I have been to the United Nations and Pinto critized the minister severely back in the February session in her discourse in Geneva this year in 1994. This situation has been denounced strongly by every human rights organization I could get my hands on; the Kennedy Center, the Carter Center, Amnesty International, Americas Watch. Every single one has denounced it. But what I see is happening is that as of January the minister of defense was worried about this money from [Washington] DC and he started bargaining with me. Grossly over-simplifying the conversation we had, what it boiled down to was that he said they never had him in the first place and what if we do a sweep of the jungle and capture him for you. What are you going to do. In that case I will probably sign a legal waiver of my rights to prosecute the major and colonel seen torturing him, who happened to be graduates of the school of the Americas. That won't sit well with Congress will it? Then he said, "Jennifer, you are such an intelligent woman, why don't you have another cup of coffee."

I had the same conversation in June. In August all doors were slammed in my face. And the reason why, is that they have been signing parts of the peace agreements. They signed the Human Rights accords which requires him legally right now to be in the hands of the Human Rights Ombudsman. They are violating their own human rights accords already! Human rights violations ironically sky-rocketed as soon as they signed the Human Rights accord at the end of March this year. What they are thinking is that by just being in the peace talks, signing anything, their money from Washington is safe and sound and that all international trade will not be cut. Because then, they would say you are hurting the peace process. Pretty good argument.

Meanwhile, they can wipe out the opposition as much as they want and there will be fewer consequences: exactly what's happening at the time the peace talks started. There is less incentive for them to turn him over to the courts. And, as of August the negotiations I was having with them just disintegrated. So, here I am, ready to give them a little wake-up call shall we say. That I am not going to stand for this, that I 'm not letting my husband be kidnapped and tortured for two and a half years and then dumped out of a helicopter. So they can just forget it! I am here until it is over.

They have to turn people over to the courts. There are 200.000 civilians in this population of 9 million, minimum that have been killed or disappeared by the death squads, which is the same, they are tortured to death. The figure is probably double. I lived here in '85 and '86. Almost never was a human rights violation reported because there was no one to report it to. There was no one allowed in this country, not even the International Red Cross. And if the death squads came and tore someone out of their bed, they would always be saying that if you talk to any one about this, they'd be back tomorrow for someone else. They are just now opening a grave of 1000 people in the Ixcan area. That is way more than was in Mosape. Like, it's got to stop.

They are signing these peace agreements and laughing in the face of the international community. This is a test case. If they get away with this with all this concrete evidence, there will never again be a case with this much concrete evidence. Almost never can any one be named. I can name every single one of them. If they get away with this, they will get away with everything. And they know it, they are testing us, so I am here for the test. I am very irritated.

Reporters told me that whenever my name comes up in a press conference with the Minister of Defense, his face turn purple. And the other day someone asked him: "And Jennifer?" and he said "Our enemies are very agile" (Laughs). Thanks for listening.

[At this point Jennifer completes her story and we continue with a brief question and answer session]

Jennifer (JH): Who are you visiting down here?
Sister Parish (SP): We are with an organization called Sister Parish. We are on our way to Cantabal.
JH: You are not visiting here with local officials?
SP: There are no meetings scheduled at this point. I think what you are doing here is amazing.

JH: It has to be done. I am counting on being here quite a while. I have high motivation.
SP: Where did you grow up in the States?
JH: I grew up in New England (Connecticut) and I have been in Texas for years and right now I am in DC.
SP: You are a long way from home ...
JH: Fine with me. I have been in Guatemala for a decade now. Before that I was active in human rights.

SP: How long have you been married to your husband?
JH: We met in '90 in the mountains. I was coming up there to interview people for the human rights. We married in '91 while he came to Mexico for the peace talks.
SP: Does the Guatemalan government recognize you are a citizen since you married a Guatemalan citizen?
JH: I don't know. I guess I could apply for that. Right now as a US Citizen I am expensive. They may not get money.
SP: But they must be comfortable with the $40 million that they recently got.
JH: When did that happen?
SP: I believe it was in April of this year.
JH: Was it AID money?
SP: Yes...
JH: But there was no military assistance right?
SP: No there wasn't.
JH: I would like the trade status to get shady. They would change their attitude overnight. What we have to stop doing is say: Please be good, here is your check. Sounds crazy right? Well, the US is doing business with the Western Hemisphere's worst violator of human rights according to Amnesty International. What we need to do is say: Change your ways: your check is in the drawer. For some reason our government does not want to do that. They are not requesting change and that is just plain stupid. Also, concerning the Ortiz case, we should be making headlines news. This is an outrage. But all cases have been censored out of the press. The only thing that is going to get front page press is when a white person, a white US citizen, starts to look like she's in trouble, then some people will start jumping. But the only way I can save his life is to chain his to me, and then hurt myself. Somehow this is all more important than the fact that he has been tortured for two and a half years. Who cares. Just an indian, right? And we know what our own country has done to its own indigenous people. So, I basically have to do this to myself to make anyone pay attention to what is happening to him.

SP: Jennifer, what can we do to help?
JH: Try to get hold of the White House, the Congress, the State Department. And tell them to take urgent action. We cannot let Guatemala laugh us in the face. And we should not give money. Let alone laugh in the face of the UN which is what they are doing. All they need to do is to pull the trigger, it shouldn't be so hard.

SP: How about the European Community. What should they do?
JH: The same thing. They shouldn't support them and not buy from the Guatemala coffee market. All we need to do is to make it more expensive for the Guatemalan government to violate human rights. If it is more expensive, they'll change. And not one day before. It is very profitable now the way it is.

SP: Who in the state department should be aware of this?
JH: Undersecretary Nuccio should be aware. He has been conducting the peace talks. But you can't go wrong contacting more people.
SP: What is your gut feeling of what will happen?
JH: Something is going to give, but I don't know what. They are not going to let me go into convulsions. But someone is going to give and who knows what it will be.

SP: I understand the US ambassador has been here several times and what is her opinion?
JH: She always says at my question of what will happen if they kill him, that the US cannot cut off benefits. She may think she is very supportive these days. She asked congress to remove my case from a resolution in May, and then she tells me that she's treating all cases equally. So I confronted her. I asked her to please check your records and she said: She can't recommend to cut off aid for an individual case. And I said that my case was a test case. She says: Well, he's a combatant. And I said: Well, that's not a legal distinction is it? And she freaked and said no. Now she is real friendly and sweet and she loves me. Now she sends out her patrol cars at nights. But there is no value attached to his life. There is nothing. She doesn't want to deal with the criticism internationally. It is just window-dressing.. She has been around forever. She's a professional. She does whatever the State Department tells her to do. State Department wants any piece of paper signed on the peace agreement so we can unlock the Guatemalan doors and be profitable. An this case is very embarrassing for the peace talks. The army is sitting at the peace talk table saying to the guerillas: Put your guns down on the basis of trust. But at the same time they are pulling a commander and a founders' finger nails out in a secret prison. It doesn't look good and they are already violating their human rights accord. Which also doesn't look good. So, it's a lot easier to say he is dead. But the ambassador is changing her tune. Now she is mentioning the case, but it is not enough.

SP: I noticed a lot of people were talking to you yesterday. Mayas were telling you their own story? Have some seen your husband lately?
JH: Well, there are always little mentionings of people saying they see him here or there, you know. But I don't want to get my hopes up. On the other hands, the minister of Defense is still bargaining with me.

SP: Who are the members of congress behind you?
JH: There is quite a few. Morelli, Cirrano, Sen. Leahy, Pat Murray and Mosely Brown's office has been great. Feinstein has also been sympathetic.

SP: Your single goal is to get your husband back alive, is that right?
JH: I'll fast until they present him to the courts. I hope we can break that cycle of not turning people over to the courts.

SP: Thank you. We'll keep you in our thoughts and prayers during our travels. We'll be back next Saturday.
JH: Thank you. Have a great trip. I'll be here.

19th Day of Hunger Strike - October 29, 1994

We have returned to Guatemala City after a 5 day stay in the Playa Grande area to be with the Mayan poor people. Upon our return we read that Jennifer is doing fine and that she has gotten some reaction from Washington. I am conducting the interview now on behalf of our Sister Parish delegation.

HU: Good Morning Jennifer. You got some reaction from Nuccio as we read in the papers yesterday.
JH: Oh really? What did it say?
HU: Well it had a picture of you with Nuccio and the ambassador and one paper basically said that it was all a show. The other paper was pretty fair in stating the facts. But there was not much detail. Both papers said your husband disappeared.
JH: I put a paid ad in the paper the other day just explaining all the facts because my Guatemalan friends said they could not get those in the paper. It gets in a little bit, but then it gets censored out. But Peoples Magazine, NPR, Newsweek have just been here. It's been in the NY Times twice, its really starting to explode. 60 Minutes is here. And the pressure is on the ambassador of the US, and the Guatemalan ambassador in the US is getting over a hundred phone calls a day. So does the state department, so does the White House. So things have heated up a lot and that is why Nuccio was here the other day to talk to the minister of defense, and to the president and to see basically if anything could be done.

So, Nuccio talked to me after the meetings and what he said made me absolutely furious. He said he asked the minister of defense point blank whether he had negotiated with me and he said that the minister convinced him that that did not happen, it must be in my imagination and that I just should keep my hopes up. That is not really how it was. #1: Nuccio wasn't there, #2: no one was there because they didn't want any witnesses in my negotiations obviously, #3: this is a guy who lies and keeps saying we never had him in the first place.

The president has promised a special investigatory commission. This happens all the time. They did it for Ortiz. And basically that is a way of defusing the pressure. Every one goes home, it all dies down and I get half forgotten. The commission hangs around for a while, they torture a few witnesses and try to make them talk and those answers don't make any sense. Then they come up with some confusing story. They don't need this special commission. I've already been there, investigating one and a half years. The OAS has and the United Nations commission on forced disappearances has investigated it. We have letters in black and white, signed by the president of Guatemala. We have the autopsy on film. We have the exhumation on film, we have everything.

HU: Exhumation of another body than that of your husband.
JH: Right. We have all the info. I want my husband back. I'm not leaving such that we go around in circles for another couple of years and then they could say, yes he was alive at the time of the hunger strike, but now they killed him... . Tragic accident of the past. This cannot be forgiven or forgotten in the name of peace. I am staying right here. They can have access to my files. I'll be glad to cooperate but now is not the time to start investigating. That happened two years ago. Now is the time to fork him over. If he is dead, they can show me his body.

HU: It looks to us that in order to resolve this, they'll have to find a scapegoat if they want to bring him in.
JH: Well, they have a problem with this because I have the names of everyone who tortured him. I will give them a face saving way out. I can't discuss this now, but I have offered that to them many times. There are lots of things they can do, but they have never given anyone back alive before and they don't want to start now. So we are basically stonewall to stonewall. I ain't leaving and they don't want to give him up.

HU: People have escaped before but it looks like, given the situation, he won't have a chance to escape.
JH: Well, look at the last guy that escaped. It was a big problem for them wasn't it?
HU: What has happened to Santiago since?
JH: He's giving testimony to OAS in Washington right now. He will be leaving there and go underground. He can't stay in the US. He will be in another country, but he was in DC long enough to give his witness statement.

HU: Was any further statement made by Nuccio as far as a follow up on his part?
JH: No, he was a little disturbed that I didn't like the news that the president had given him. He thought that it was the perfect solution. And I told him that I couldn't agree and I openly criticized him for believing the minister of defense about the negotiations I had with him. I specifically told him never to mention that in negotiations in a face saving way out. I told him point blank about my negotiations. I really don't think that Nuccio is stupid. I do think he may be in this by fate. I also think his sky-rocketing career with the State Department is intent on solving the 35 year old war in Central America. I try to stay in the light.

HU: Do you think he was here because he had to be here for other reasons or was he here for your case?
JH: Apparently the case is very hot in Washington on very high levels.
HU: We transcribed your interview from last Sunday and we will do the same to this interview. Do you mind if we send that around?
JH: Not at all. You can use it any way you want. What went on here with Nuccio by the way, was an attempt at a little white washing and I turned it down. Thank you very much. I'd rather starve.

HU: How are you doing?
JH: I am doing fine, as long as I keep drinking this electrolyte solution. It tastes horrible but it has lots of minerals, potassium and a tiny amount of sugar. So that I can chemically function. So all I have to do is lose more weight.
HU: Well, we are going back tomorrow and we hope to hear good reports there. Thank you very much Jennifer.
JH: Thank you.

U.S.-Guatemalan Ties Strained by Woman's Protest

By EDWARD ORLEBAR
SPECIAL TO THE TIMES

GUATEMALA CITY—A U.S. woman's three-week hunger strike here to protest what she claims is the illegal detention of her guerrilla husband is putting a strain on Guatemala's relations with the United States.

Jennifer Harbury, a 43-year-old Harvard Law School graduate who married guerrilla commander Efrain Bamaca in 1991, says she will continue her protest until her husband, missing since a battle in March, 1992, is handed over to the courts.

A cellular phone in one hand, Harbury has remained perched on blankets in this capital's main square, across from the Presidential Palace. She gives frequent news conferences and receives visits from U.S. government officials and human rights activists. The hunger strike, which entered its 20th day Sunday, is Harbury's second in just over a year; the first lasted six days.

The military and the government contend that Bamaca is dead, but Harbury says she believes he is being held in a clandestine army jail.

The case underscores the still-bleak human rights picture in Guatemala, where a long civil war claimed 100,000 lives, mostly civilians, in the 1980s. And it is angering the Guatemalan military, which in the last year has mounted a careful public relations campaign to alter its image as one of the most abusive armies in the hemisphere.

Guatemala's ambassador to the United States, Edmund Mulet, who was recalled for consultations last week, said he is receiving a hundred calls a day about the case, presumably from Harbury's well-organized support network. He said the case could threaten Guatemala's preferential trading status with the United States.

In response to pressure, President Ramiro de Leon Carpio said Thursday that he will order a special investigation, despite his stated belief that Bamaca is dead.

Harbury's demonstration is proving to be a headache as well for the U.S. government, which is trying to shore up De Leon's 15-month-old administration. U.S. officials have also taken great pains not to alienate what they see as the modernizing elements in the Guatemalan army under the direction of Defense Minister Gen. Mario Enriquez.

But after first trying to downplay the case, the U.S. Embassy is adopting a more aggressive public role.

"The case is very important to the U.S. government because of the involvement of a U.S. citizen and because it addresses certain fundamental issues of human rights," said John Hamill, an embassy spokesman. "We are disappointed there has not been more progress in the case but welcome the president's initiative."

De Leon, himself a former human rights ombudsman, took office after his predecessor tried to seize dictatorial powers in an ultimately unsuccessful coup. De Leon's presidency raised hopes that Guatemala's human rights record would improve and that its formal democracy would gain substance.

The government and the military signed a landmark human rights agreement in March as part of negotiations with Guatemala's leftist guerrillas aimed at ending the 33-year war. But abuses have only increased, activists say.

In August, the Roman Catholic Church's human rights office recorded 180 killings, at least 35 of them politically mouvated, making it the worst month since the office opened five years ago.

Harbury argues that her husband's case casts doubts on the military's good faith.

Bamaca disappeared after a battle March 12, 1992. The army said he was wounded, killed himself to avoid capture and was buried.

But in January, 1993, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, another guerrilla who said he had escaped from army capture, told Harbury that he had seen her husband alive in military installations in 1992. Cabrera claimed that Bamaca was one of 36 rebels being held by the military in clandestine jails as part of a plan to break them down and use them as informants.

Harbury also says peasants in the western area of San Marcos and members of guerrilla counterintelligence have spotted Bamaca on numerous occasions since, usually entering or leaving a military base under heavy guard.

The military denies it is holding rebels or that clandestine jails exist, and has called the Harbury demonstration a guerrilla "show."

But the claim that Bamaca was buried has proved false. An exhumation in August, 1993, unearthed a shorter, younger man who appeared to have been shot with his hands tied behind his back.

Cabrera is due to testify this week before the Organization of American States. He has given Harbury names of the military personnel, including a colonel and a major, who he claims captured and tortured Bamaca. At least two, Harbury says, are graduates of the School of the Americas at Ft. Benning, Ga.

As a guerrilla for 17 years until his disappearance, Bamaca was a potential gold mine for military intelligence. "He knows every [rebel] face, every trail, every source of guns," Harbury said. "He knows everything."

MEXICO

Official: Suspect was burglar, not an assassin

MEXICO CITY — An armed man arrested near the home of President-elect Ernesto Zedillo was a burglar and not a would-be assassin, the attorney general's office said in a statement Friday.

Newspapers had reported that the man, identified as Lino Salazar Diaz, had broken into Zedillo's house Wednesday night and intended to kill him. Zedillo is to take office Dec. 1.

Salazar was caught with a .22 caliber weapon trying to burglarize the house of a Zedillo neighbor, the statement said.

■ Mexico and the United States and Mexico signed an agreement Friday to help catch money launderers by exchanging more financial information, Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen said.

COLOMBIA

Study: Volcano spewing gold

BOGOTA — A U.S. scientist claims that a volcano in southern Colombia is spewing a pound of gold a day, making authorities fear a rush of reckless prospectors.

About 45 pounds of gold from the Galeras Volcano become embedded in surrounding rock each year, according to the study by Fraser Goff of the Los Alamos National Laboratory in New Mexico, Colombian National Radio said Friday.

But Libaniel Casas, director of the government mining and geology center in Narino state, said the volcano releases much less gold and in fragments so small that they are of no commercial value.

ETC.

■ PUERTO RICO — The U.S. Customs Service said Friday it seized 1,617 pounds of cocaine worth about $22 million. The drug, wrapped in 15 bales, was dropped by an airplane near a dump in the city of Arecibo.

3. URNG COMMANDER RODRIGO ASTURIAS, WHO RECRUITED BAMACA, OVERSAW HIS POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT AND HAD

A CLOSE PERSONAL RELATIONSHIP WITH HIM, TOLD NUCCIO OCTOBER 27 THAT DURING THE OCTOBER 19-24 ROUND BETWEEN THE URNG AND THE GOG ON INDIGENOUS PEOPLES, HE MADE THE FOLLOWING OFFER TO THE GOG: RELEASE BAMACA ("IN WHATEVER CONDITION HE IS IN") AND IN RETURN THE URNG WILL KEEP THE CASE QUIET AND WITHDRAW LEGAL ACTIONS IN GUATEMALA AND WITH THE INTER-AMERICAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (IACHR). ASTURIAS SAID THE GOG DID NOT REJECT THE OFFER OUT OF HAND, AND HE IS WAITING FOR A REPLY.

4. ASTURIAS ALSO SAID THAT IF IT APPEARS THAT THE GOG WILL NOT RESPOND TO PRESSURE, AND JENNIFER HARBURY'S LIFE IS IN DANGER DUE TO HER HUNGER STRIKE, THE URNG WOULD TRY TO PERSUADE HER TO GIVE IT UP. THEY WOULD CONTINUE TO PURSUE LEGAL REMEDIES, BOTH IN GUATEMALA AND IN THE IACHR. ASTURIAS ADDED THAT EVEN IF BAMACA IS NOT ALIVE, MINUGUA SHOULD STILL PURSUE THE CASE. IN RESPONSE TO NUCCIO'S QUERY, ASTURIAS SAID THE URNG WOULD REGARD IT AS A POSITIVE GESTURE IF THE U.S. WERE TO DECIDE TO PROVIDE INVESTIGATORS TO MINUGUA TO ASSIST IN THIS (AND OTHER) CASES.

SUBJECT: BAMACA CASE: NUCCIO MEETINGS WITH MINUGUA AND FRIENDS OCT 27

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT

2. SUMMARY: ARA SENIOR ADVISOR RICHARD A. NUCCIO AND AMBASSADOR MET BRIEFLY OCT 27 WITH MINUGUA REPRESENTATIVES HUGO LORENZO, GUILLERMO FERNANDO MALDONADO AND MARIE LUDE IN THE ABSENCE OF ACTING CHIEF FERNANDO CASTANON, WHO HAD BEEN CALLED AWAY TO MEET WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON. NUCCIO RAISED POSSIBILITY OF MINUGUA PARTICIPATION IN BAMACA INVESTIGATION. DISCUSSION OF BAMACA CASE CONTINUED IN MEETING WHICH FOLLOWED IMMEDIATELY WITH LOCAL FRIENDS OF THE PEACE PROCESS VENEZUELAN AMBASSADOR SADIO GARAVINI DI TURNO, MEXICAN AMBASSADOR GUILLERMO COSIO VIDAURRI, COLOMBIAN AMBASSADOR JESUS ANTONIO BEJARANO AVILA, SPANISH DCM JUAN JOSE BUITRAGO AND NORWEGIAN CHARGE FREDERICK ARTHUR (PEACE PROCESS REPORTED SEPTEL). NUCCIO EXPRESSED HOPE IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE FOR MINUGUA TO PARTICIPATE TO LEND CREDIBILITY TO THE INVESTIGATION.

(PRESIDENT DE LEON WAS SINCE ASKED MINUGUA TO PARTICIPATE AND IT HAS AGREED TO DO SO AFTER IT HAS A HEADQUARTERS AGREEMENT)

END SUMMARY

3. THE MEETING WITH MINUGUA REPRESENTATIVES WAS PRIMARILY A COURTESY CALL IN THE ABSENCE OF CASTANON. DR. NUCCIO RAISED THE BAMACA DISAPPEARANCE, NOTING THAT IT WOULD LEND CREDIBILITY TO THE INVESTIGATION IF IT WERE TO BE VERIFIED BY MINUGUA. THIS WAS FOLLOWED BY A BRIEF DISCUSSION NOTING THAT IF A

DISAPPEARANCE CASE WERE ONGOING, IT SHOULD BE OPEN TO BEING PURSUED BY MINUGUA. CHARGES OF THE CONTINUED EXISTENCE OF CLANDESTINE PRISONS SHOULD ALSO BE WITHIN MINUGUA'S PURVIEW, AND THE MINUGUA REPRESENTATIVES NOTED THAT THE AGREEMENT GAVE THEM THE RIGHT OF ACCESS TO ALL MILITARY INSTALLATIONS. THEY NOTED, HOWEVER, THAT THEIR HEADQUARTERS AGREEMENT HAS NOT YET BEEN AGREED WITH THE GOG. NUCCIO CLOSED BY NOTING THAT MINUGUA INVOLVEMENT WOULD MAKE THE BAMACA CASE LESS A BILATERAL MATTER,

GUATEM 00924 0100342 SNC5401
WHICH WOULD BE HELPFUL.

FRIENDS
---

[redacted] B1

THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD MADE A VERY HELPFUL PUBLIC STATEMENT ON THE CASE WHICH WOULD OPEN THE WAY TO ITS INVESTIGATION. SHE NOTED THAT HE HAD SAID PRIVATELY THIS MIGHT ALSO INCLUDE VERIFICATION BY MINUGUA. SHE STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF INTERNATIONAL INVOLVEMENT TO LEND CREDIBILITY TO ANY INVESTIGATION.

5. [redacted] B1

NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT THE CLAIM IS THAT CLANDESTINE PRISONS CONTINUE TO EXIST AND THAT BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE. THUS IT IS NOT A PAST CASE.

[redacted] B1

NUCCIO NOTED THAT VERIFICATION BY MINUGUA WOULD INVOLVE IT ACCOMPANYING NATIONAL INVESTIGATORS, ONCE IT HAS BEEN INSTALLED, AND THAT WE CONSIDER IT IMPORTANT THIS BE AN INTERNATIONAL AND NOT A BILATERAL ISSUE.

6. COMMENT: WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON'S APPROVAL AND MINUGUA'S CONCURRENCE, WE DO NOT EXPECT ANY INTERNATIONAL RESERVATIONS ABOUT MINUGUA'S ROLE IN THE BAMACA INVESTIGATION. HOWEVER, SOME DOMESTIC CRITICISM IS LIKELY ON SOVEREIGNTY GROUNDS. WE ALSO ANTICIPATE SOME NERVOUSNESS IN THE ARMY, WHICH PRESUMABLY ASSUMED THAT PAST DISAPPEARANCES WOULD BE DEALT WITH BY THE COMMISSION ON HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION, WHICH CANNOT ASSIGN INDIVIDUAL BLAME, RATHER THAN THE COURTS AND MINUGUA WHICH CAN.

7. DR. NUCCIO HAS NOT CLEARED THIS CABLE.

2. SUMMARY: ARA SENIOR ADVISER RICHARD A. NUCCIO AND THE AMBASSADOR MET OCTOBER 27 WITH PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO. NUCCIO THANKED THE PRESIDENT FOR GUATEMALA'S UNGA ABSTENTION ON THE CUBA EMBARGO RESOLUTION AND NOTED THE GOG-URNG INDIGENOUS ROUND WAS POSITIVE, DESPITE AN ACCORD NOT BEING REACHED. DE LEON REPLIED THE CUBAN DECISION WAS A TOUGH ONE AND SAID THE "DELICATE" INDIGENOUS ISSUE MUST BE DEALT WITH GIVEN GUATEMALA'S MAYAN MAJORITY. HERE OF REMARKS MADE BY USG OFFICIALS IN NEW YORK, WITH THE PRESIDENT EXPRESSING AN UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT WAS REALLY SAID.

3. DE LEON INTENDS TO FOCUS ON FURTHER ENCOURAGING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND ADVANCING THE PEACE PROCESS IN HIS REMAINING TIME IN OFFICE. THE PRESIDENT UNDERSCORED HIS DESIRE FOR MOVEMENT ON HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, INCLUDING BAMACA (REF A) AND "LA EXACTA." HE IS MULLING OVER CHANGES AT THE TOP OF THE GOVERNMENT MINISTRY. DE LEON IS ALSO CONSIDERING REFORMING THE NATIONAL POLICE (PN) AND DISSOLVING THE MOBILE MILITARY POLICE (PMA) AND TRANSFERRING SOME OF ITS MEMBERS TO THE PN. END SUMMARY.

4. ARA SENIOR ADVISER RICHARD A. NUCCIO, ACCOMPANIED

BY THE AMBASSADOR AND POLOFF, MET OCTOBER 27 WITH PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO. THE SESSION COVERED A NUMBER OF TOPICS, INCLUDING CUBA, THE PEACE PROCESS, HUMAN RIGHTS AND DE LEON'S AGENDA FOR THE FUTURE. THE HARBURY/BAMACA CASE ALSO WAS DISCUSSED (REF A).

PEACE PROCESS

5. NUCCIO BEGAN BY RELATING HE HAD JUST COME FROM MEXICO AND BELIEVED THE GOG-URNG INDIGENOUS MEETING WAS POSITIVE, DESPITE AN ACCORD NOT BEING REACHED. DE LEON RESPONDED THIS WAS A "DELICATE" TOPIC, ONE THAT SCARED THE BUSINESS CLASS. NONETHELESS, IT IS AN ISSUE THAT MUST BE DEALT WITH GIVEN THAT THE MAYAN POPULATION IS A MAJORITY IN GUATEMALA. THE PRESIDENT ADDED HE HAD ANALYZED A DOCUMENT ON THE TALKS A DAY EARLIER AND, EXCEPT FOR THE PORTION INVOLVING LAND ISSUES, FOUND IT GENERALLY ACCEPTABLE. (NOTE: DE LEON WASN'T SPECIFIC ABOUT THE DOCUMENT. PRESUMABLY, THIS IS THE PAPER UN MODERATOR JEAN ARNAULT PREPARED AFTER LAST ROUND. ON OCTOBER 28, THE EXISTENCE OF THIS PAPER WAS PUBLICLY ACKNOWLEDGED.)

6. DE LEON ALSO STATED HE WAS INTERESTED IN EXPANDING HIS GOVERNMENT'S DIALOGUE WITH CIVIL SOCIETY. IT IS PREFERABLE, HE SAID, TO BE TALKING WITH CIVIL SOCIETY RATHER THAN "HAVING IT (FIGHTING) IN THE MOUNTAINS." THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THE EMBASSY/USG WERE TRYING TO ENCOURAGE LOCAL DIALOGUE

AND HAD MADE SOME PROGRESS. SHE UNDERSCORED, THOUGH, THIS EFFORT WAS MEANT TO BE COMPLEMENTARY TO DE LEON'S AND NOT UNDERCUT IT. DE LEON FULLY ACCEPTED THIS POINT AND ASSERTED HE HAS MORE PROBLEMS WITH THE CIVILIANS IN HIS GOVERNMENT ACCEPTING THE WORTH OF SOCIETAL TALKS THAN WITH MILITARY PERSONNEL.

7. NUCCIO BRIEFLY RAISED HIS CONCERN OVER THE MISINTERPRETATION HERE OF SOME REMARKS MADE BY USG OFFICIALS IN NEW YORK (REF B; SEE ALSO SEPTELS ON NUCCIO'S CONVERSATIONS WITH THE PEACE COMMISSION AND FOREIGN MINISTER). THE PRESIDENT, WHO HAD PREVIOUSLY SPOKEN TO THE AMBASSADOR ON THIS, DOWNPLAYED ANY PAST MISUNDERSTANDING, SAYING HE AGREED WITH THE U.S. ANALYSIS THAT IT WAS BEST NOT TO TRY AND DIVIDE THE URNG AND TO DEEPEN SOCIETAL DIALOGUE. ILLUSTRATING THE FIRST POINT, DE LEON SAID HE TOLD COPAZ TO STOP TALKING PUBLICLY ABOUT GUERRILLA DIVISIONS. EMPHASIZING HE WAS NOT SPEAKING ABOUT CREATING A "PARALLEL" NEGOTIATION, NUCCIO ADDED IT WOULD BE HELPFUL IF THE GOG STARTED SENDING REPS TO INTERNATIONAL PEACE FORA. DE LEON DID NOT RESPOND,

BUT SEEMED TO ACCEPT THE POINT.

CUBA
----

FUTURE AGENDA

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 94GUATEM009926

9. THE PRESIDENT SAID WITH THE POLITICAL ("DEPURACION") CRISIS NOW BEHIND HIM, HE INTENDS TO FOCUS ON FURTHER ENCOURAGING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND ADVANCING THE PEACE PROCESS. HE STATED THESE WILL BE THE TWO PILLARS OF HIS REMAINING TIME IN OFFICE. DE LEON EXPLAINED HE HAD A WIDE CONCEPTION OF THE PEACE PROCESS, SEEING IT AS INCLUDING INTERNAL SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT AND DIALOGUE AND ENCOURAGING WEALTHY BUSINESSMEN TO STOP SEEING THE COUNTRY AS THEIR "FARM."

HUMAN RIGHTS

10. IN ADDITION TO THE LENGTHY DISCUSSION OF THE HARBURY/BAMACA CASE (REF A), THE PRESIDENT ALSO

TOUCHED ON A NUMBER OF OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS MATTERS. HE CALLED THE "LA EXACTA" ("EL HORIZONTE") CASE A "BLEMISH" ON HIS REPUTATION AND SAID HE INTENDED TO FIND OUT WHO WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE TRAGIC EVENTS AT THAT FARM. HE IMPLIED THE FINDINGS IN THIS CASE COULD LEAD TO THE DISMISSAL OF [redacted] DE LEON ADDED, "IN THE COMING DAYS WE WILL MAKE CLEAR" OUR DISPOSITION TO CLARIFY THIS CASE. (NOTE: LATER ON OCTOBER 27, THE PRESIDENT PRIVATELY ASKED MINUGUA TO TAKE ON THIS MATTER.)

11. TURNING TO THE CARPIO CASE, THE PRESIDENT SAID THE POLICE NEED TO CARRY OUT THE REMAINING SIX ARREST ORDERS WHETHER THE PERSONS ARE PAC MEMBERS OR NOT. REFERRING TO THE FORMER POLICE CHIEF IN QUETZALTENANGO, DE LEON ALSO STATED OFFICERS INVOLVED IN NEGLIGENT OR CRIMINAL ACTS CANNOT SIMPLY BE MOVED FROM ONE POST TO ANOTHER. HE INTENDS TO SPEAK TO GOVERNMENT MINISTER PARINELLO ABOUT THIS. FINALLY, DE LEON SAID HIS EVENTUAL INTENT IS TO DISSOLVE THE PMA (MOBILE MILITARY POLICE) AND TRANSFER SOME OF ITS PERSONNEL TO THE NATIONAL POLICE (PN). RECOGNIZING THAT MUCH NEEDS TO BE DONE WITH THE PN, HE ADDED HE HOPED TO PROVIDE THE POLICE WITH MORE TRAINING, NEW UNIFORMS AND, PERHAPS, A NEW NAME.

COMMENT: THE KEY IS FOLLOW THROUGH

12. THE PRESIDENT'S WORDS ON THE PEACE PROCESS AND

HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, AS WELL AS HIS SUPPOSED FUTURE AGENDA, ARE ENCOURAGING. WHILE ALL THIS REPRESENTS CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS, IT SHOULD BE EMPHASIZED THAT PUTTING PLANS AND IDEAS INTO ACTION IS NOT THIS GOVERNMENT'S LONG SUIT.

SUBJECT: MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE DISCUSSED.

United States Department of State

Date: 10/06/97
Case ID: 951222H7

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. ARA SENIOR ADVISER DR. RICHARD A. NUCCIO, AMBASSADOR, AND DEFENSE ATTACHE MET WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE GEN ENRIQUEZ ON OCTOBER 27. THE GT ARMY CONTRIBUTION TO THE MNF IN HAITI AND THE PEACE PROCESS WAS DISCUSSED. DR. NUCCIO RAISED THE JENNIFER HARBURY/EFRAIN BAMACA CASE AND EMPHASIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT AFTER HAVING MET HARBURY FIVE TIMES, HE NO LONGER BELIEVES SHE IS A SINCERE PERSON LOOKING FOR HER HUSBAND, BUT A POLITICALLY MOTIVATED PROFESSIONAL. GEN ENRIQUEZ DOUBTED ASPECTS OF HER CASE SUCH AS IDENTIFYING HERSELF AS A REPORTER DURING THE FIRST EXHUMATION ATTEMPT, AND WHAT HE SUSPECTS ARE MARRIAGE DOCUMENTS FILED AFTER BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE.

3. WHILE HE PERSONALLY BELIEVES BAMACA IS DEAD, GEN ENRIQUEZ AGREED TO FULLY COOPERATE WITH THE SOLICITOR GENERAL'S PLANNED INVESTIGATION INTO BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE. GEN ENRIQUEZ ALSO RELUCTANTLY ACCEPTED MINUGUA VERIFICATION OF ANY INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE. HE EXPLAINED THAT ORPA LEADER RODRIGO ASTURIAS HAD ALSO SENT AN OFFER FOR AN HONORABLE SOLUTION TO THE ARMY, VERY SIMILAR TO HARBURY'S OFFER TO STOP HER HUNGER STRIKE AND OTHER PRESSURES IF BAMACA IS SECRETLY MADE TO APPEAR IN A NEUTRAL LOCATION. DR. NUCCIO CLARIFIED A MISINTERPRETATION OF HIS REMARKS IN NEW YORK TO THE EFFECT THAT THE USG WISHED TO "STRENGTHEN" THE URNG, WHEN HE HAD ACTUALLY QUOTED A PREVIOUS MOD STATEMENT THAT THE URNG MUST REMAIN "UNIFIED" IN ORDER TO BRING ALL SUBORDINATE ELEMENTS ALONG TO A FINAL PEACE SETTLEMENT. GEN ENRIQUEZ WAS RELIEVED AT THIS CLARIFICATION, AS THE IDEA OF "STRENGTHENING" THE URNG HAD BEEN AN ISSUE OF SERIOUS APPREHENSION AND DISCUSSION AMONG MANY SENIOR OFFICERS. END SUMMARY.

4. ARA SENIOR ADVISOR DR. RICHARD A. NUCCIO MADE AN OFFICE CALL ON THE GUATEMALAN MINISTER OF DEFENSE (MOD), MAJOR GENERAL MARIO RENE ENRIQUEZ MORALES, ON THE AFTERNOON OF THURSDAY, 27 OCTOBER. ACCOMPANYING HIM WERE THE AMBASSADOR AND DEFENSE ATTACHE. GEN ENRIQUEZ BEGAN THE SESSION BY NOTING THAT HE HAD JUST COME OUT OF A MEETING WITH SOME OF HIS PRINCIPAL GENERAL OFFICERS TO INCLUDE BG BALCONI, THE INSPECTOR GENERAL, BG PINEDA, THE VICE-CHIEF OF STAFF, AND MG GONZALEZ, THE CHIEF OF STAFF, AMONG OTHERS. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED BY PRAISING THE PRESENCE OF MG GONZALEZ AT THE RECENT CONFERENCE IN SAN FRANCISCO. DURING THE CONFERENCE, MG GONZALEZ HAD RESPONDED TO FEROCIOUS VERBAL ATTACKS IN A DISCIPLINED AND RESPONSIVE WAY, WHICH REQUIRED A GREAT DEAL OF PERSONAL COURAGE. DR. NUCCIO

EMPHASIZED THAT NOW WE MUST DEMAND THE SAME PARTICIPATION AND COURAGE ON THE PART OF THE CIVILIAN LEADERSHIP IN THE GOVERNMENT AND ELSEWHERE.

GT ARMY PARTICIPATION IN HAITI MNF

5. DR. NUCCIO INQUIRED AS TO HOW THE GUATEMALAN PARTICIPATION IN THE MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE (MNF) IN HAITI WAS GOING. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT SO FAR THINGS WERE GOING VERY WELL. THE GT ARMY HAD MADE GREAT EFFORTS TO HAND PICK THE PARTICIPANTS AND ENSURE THEY WERE WELL PREPARED AND BRIEFED PRIOR TO THEIR DEPARTURE. GEN GONZALEZ HAD JUST BRIEFED THE OTHER GENERAL OFFICERS ON THE EXCELLENT IMPRESSION THE GUATEMALAN TROOPS HAD MADE DURING THEIR TEN DAYS OF PREPARATION IN PUERTO RICO. GEN ENRIQUEZ BELIEVED THAT THE CIVIL AFFAIRS COMPONENT OF THE FORCE WOULD BE PARTICULARLY USEFUL IN BOOSTING THE MORALE AND BRINGING ASSISTANCE AND SERVICES TO THE LOCAL CIVILIAN POPULATION IN HAITI. HE ADDED THAT JUST YESTERDAY HE HAD RECEIVED A LETTER FROM THE UN INVITING GUATEMALA TO CONTINUE ITS PARTICIPATION WHEN THE MNF IS CONVERTED TO THE UN MISSION IN HAITI (UNMIH). GEN ENRIQUEZ CONTINUED THAT THE GT ARMY WAS VERY PLEASED WITH THE OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE IN HAITI. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT ON THE CONTRARY, THE U.S. WISHES TO THANK GUATEMALA FOR ITS PARTICIPATION IN THE MNF IN HAITI.

PROGRESS IN THE PEACE TALKS

6. DR. NUCCIO CONTINUED THAT HE HAD JUST COME FROM MEXICO CITY WHERE A POSITIVE ROUND IN THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS HAD JUST BEEN CONCLUDED. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT THE NEXT NEGOTIATING SESSION TO BE HELD FROM 4 THROUGH 9 NOVEMBER WOULD REACH A FINAL ACCORD ON THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION. HE ADDED THAT YESTERDAY HE HAD LUNCH WITH THE MEMBERS OF THE CONGRESSIONAL DEFENSE COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS THE NEW RECRUITMENT LAW, WHICH MUST BE PASSED AS PART OF THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE GLOBAL HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD. OTHER ISSUES DISCUSSED INCLUDED DOWN-SIZING THE ARMY ONCE THE CONFLICT ENDS AND THE ROLE OF RESERVE FORCES WITHIN THE GUATEMALAN ARMY.

JENNIFER HARBURY CASE RAISED

7. DR. NUCCIO EXPLAINED THAT HE WAS VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE HUNGER STRIKE OF JENNIFER HARBURY. THE PUBLICITY AND PROTEST IN THE U.S. CONCERNING THE LACK OF RESPONSE BY THE GOG ON THE CASE HAS REACHED FRIGHTENING LEVELS. THE U.S. CONGRESS AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS ARE VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE CASE. DR. NUCCIO ADDED THAT HE HAD ALSO RAISED THE ISSUE WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON, WHO PROMISED THAT HE WOULD ANNOUNCE A MAJOR INVESTIGATION INTO THE DISAPPEARANCE OF ORPA COMANDANTE EFRAIN BAMACA, MS. HARBURY'S HUSBAND.

8. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE HAD PERSONALLY MET WITH JENNIFER HARBURY ON TUESDAY, AND HE HAD ALSO TOLD HER THAT HE WOULD ASK FOR AN INVESTIGATION INTO THE WHEREABOUTS OF BAMACA. HE TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT SHE IS NEEDLESSLY SELF-INFLICTING SUFFERING UPON HERSELF, BECAUSE THE GT ARMY DOES NOT HAVE BAMACA. IF BAMACA IS ALIVE HE IS CERTAINLY NOT IN ARMY CUSTODY, AND IF HE REALLY CARED FOR MS. HARBURY, HE WOULD COME TO HER AND SHOW HER THAT HE IS ALIVE, EVEN IF IT WAS IN DISGUISE AT NIGHT, SO THAT SHE COULD END HER SUFFERING. GEN ENRIQUEZ CONTINUED THAT HE ALSO TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT WHEN HE FIRST MET HER HE BELIEVED THAT SHE WAS AN INTELLIGENT AND SINCERE WOMAN MOTIVATED BY HER LOVE OF BAMACA. HOWEVER BASED ON HER MORE RECENT

BEHAVIOR, HE HAD LOST CONFIDENCE IN HER AND NOW BELIEVED THAT SHE HAD POLITICAL MOTIVES FOR HER HUNGER STRIKE, WHICH HAD CAUSED HIM TO SPEAK SOMEWHAT SARCASTICALLY ABOUT HER CASE TO THE PRESS.

9. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE HAS NOW SEEN MS. HARBURY FIVE TIMES. HE HAD ALWAYS TOLD HER THAT HE DOES NOT KNOW THE WHEREABOUTS OF BAMACA. THE ARMY NEVER CLAIMED TO HAVE HAD BAMACA, AND IN FACT THE NOTIFICATIONS OF HIS DISAPPEARANCE CAME FROM THE URNG, NOT THE ARMY. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT HE ALSO TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT IF HE GOES OUT TO THE CENTRAL PLAZA TO SEE HER, IT WILL BE WITH TWO DOCTORS, AND IF THOSE DOCTORS DETERMINE THAT HER HEALTH IS IN DANGER, HE WILL HAVE HER REMOVED TO A CLINIC FOR MEDICAL TREATMENT. (NOTE: GEN ENRIQUEZ' MOST RECENT DISCUSSION WITH MS. HARBURY TOOK PLACE IN HIS OFFICE IN THE NATIONAL PALACE, NOT IN THE CENTRAL PLAZA WHERE SHE IS HOLDING HER HUNGER STRIKE.)

10. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN EXPLAINED THAT IT IS NOW OBVIOUS TO HIM THAT MS. HARBURY IS WORKING WITH THE URNG. HER BOOK WAS WRITTEN AND SOLD TO RAISE FUNDS FOR THE URNG. SHE SYMPATHIZES WITH RODRIGO ASTURIAS, THE ORPA LEADER. MS. HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE IS A POLITICAL ACT BEING CONDUCTED BY A PROFESSIONAL; SHE IS NOT THERE TO RECLAIM HER HUSBAND LIKE HE HAD ORIGINALLY THOUGHT. HER CURRENT ACTIVITIES IN FRONT OF THE NATIONAL PALACE ARE CLEARLY DESIGNED TO SUBVERT THE STATE, WHICH IS AGAINST THE LAW IN MANY OTHER COUNTRIES. HOWEVER, HERE IN GUATEMALA EVERYTHING IS NOW ALLOWED.

11. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT DURING HIS INTERVIEW WITH MS. HARBURY, SHE HAD OFFERED TO STOP HER HUNGER STRIKE IF HE WOULD PROMISE TO MAKE BAMACA APPEAR AT SOME SPECIFIED TIME AND LOCATION IN THE FUTURE. HE HAD RESPONDED THAT HE IS SORRY THAT SHE IS SELF-INFLICTING HER SUFFERING, BUT HE CAN NOT MAKE SUCH A PROMISE BECAUSE THE ARMY DOES NOT HAVE BAMACA. THE GT ARMY WOULD NOT DETAIN BAMACA FOR NO REASON. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE PERSONALLY BELIEVES THAT BAMACA IS DEAD, BUT HE HAS NO PROOF OF THAT, IT IS SIMPLY HIS LOGICAL DEDUCTION.

MOD DOUBTS ASPECTS OF BAMACA CASE

12. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THERE ARE MANY DOUBTS ABOUT MS. HARBURY'S CASE. DURING THE FIRST EXHUMATION FOR BAMACA'S BODY THAT OCCURRED IN 1992, MS. HARBURY WENT TO THE CEMETERY AS A REPORTER, NOT AS BAMACA'S HUSBAND. ONLY LATER DID SHE CLAIM TO BE BAMACA'S HUSBAND. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE WISHED HE HAD THE INVESTIGATIVE CAPABILITIES TO GO TO TEXAS AND OBTAIN THE MARRIAGE RECORDS OF MS. HARBURY AND BAMACA, BECAUSE HE SUSPECTS THE MARRIAGE DOCUMENTS WERE IN FACT FILED AFTER BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE. LIKEWISE, THE ARMY NEVER ANNOUNCED THAT IT HAD KILLED OR CAPTURED BAMACA IN COMBAT. THE DESCRIPTION OF BAMACA'S BODY THAT MS. HARBURY CLAIMS WAS SENT FROM THE ARMY IN FACT CAME FROM THE URNG. ALL OF THESE ITEMS CREATE DOUBTS ABOUT MS. HARBURY'S STORY.

13. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN PHILOSOPHIZED THAT AFTER 34 YEARS OF "DIRTY" WAR, AND THAT'S WHAT IT WAS, AS BOTH THE ARMY AND THE GUERRILLAS HAD DONE DIRTY THINGS, BOTH SIDES ARE UNDOUBTEDLY GUILTY OF ILLEGAL ACTIONS. IF THE GT ARMY HAD NOT DONE WHAT IT DID, GUATEMALA MIGHT PRESENTLY BE UNDER A COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT LIKE THAT OF CUBA. HOWEVER NOW, ONLY THE ACTIVITIES OF THE GOG OR THE ARMY ARE DENOUNCED. FOR EXAMPLE, ONLY A YEAR OR TWO AGO A U.S. CITIZEN WAS CAPTURED BY THE ORPA, PASSED TO THE EGP AND LATER THE FAR, AND THEN MURDERED. YET NO ONE SAYS ANYTHING

ABOUT THAT CASE. THE ARMY HAS GOOD DOCUMENTATION ON THIS CASE WHICH GEN ENRIQUEZ PROMISED TO PASS TO THE EMBASSY.

MOD AGREES TO FULL INVESTIGATIONS

14. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT WHATEVER GEN ENRIQUEZ MAY THINK ABOUT THE CASE, IT HAS BECOME EXTREMELY IMPORTANT AND IS ABOUT TO CAUSE THE SKY TO FALL ON GUATEMALA. TO PREVENT THAT FROM HAPPENING A SOLUTION MUST BE FOUND QUICKLY. THE SOLUTION MUST BE CONVINCING TO THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY, EVEN THOUGH IT MAY NOT FULLY SATISFY MS. HARBURY. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT IN FACT HE HAS ASKED PRESIDENT DE LEON TO ORDER AN INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE. HE HAD ALSO TOLD HIS COMMANDERS THAT IF ANYONE MATCHING THE APPEARANCE OF BAMACA IS SEEN, HE SHOULD BE BROUGHT IN. IF ANY OFFICER KNOWS THAT BAMACA WAS HELD BY THE ARMY AND IS DEAD, HE SHOULD COME FORWARD. IF SOME INDIVIDUALS GOT OUT OF CONTROL AND KILLED BAMACA WHILE HE WAS IN CUSTODY, THEN THEY WOULD BE PROSECUTED. MAYBE A PREVIOUS MOD KNOWS MORE ABOUT THE CASE THAN GEN ENRIQUEZ. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THE ONLY SERIOUS CASE OF WHICH HE HAS FIRST HAND KNOWLEDGE BECAUSE IT OCCURRED WHILE HE WAS MINISTER WAS THE MURDER OF JORGE CARPIO, AND THAT CONTINUES TO BE INVESTIGATED.

15. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE HAD ALSO ASKED THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE SOLICITOR GENERAL TO INVESTIGATE THE BAMACA CASE. THE SOLICITOR GENERAL, ACISCLO VALLADARES, TOLD GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT HE WOULD ISSUE A PETITION OF PERSONAL EXHIBITION TO THE PRESIDENT, THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, AND THE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT. THE PROCEDURES FOR THE PETITION WOULD BE THOSE OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, WHICH COULD RESULT IN ORAL HEARINGS CONCERNING THE WHEREABOUTS OF BAMACA, DURING WHICH MANY INDIVIDUALS COULD BE CALLED IN TO MAKE DECLARATIONS. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD RESPONDED TO ACISCLO VALLADARES THAT HE SHOULD GO FORWARD WITH THIS PROCEDURE AND THAT HE WOULD HAVE THE FULL SUPPORT OF THE ARMY. EVEN THE TWO OFFICERS NAMED BY EX-GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA AS HAVING TORTURED BAMACA COULD BE MADE AVAILABLE TO TESTIFY. DR. NUCCIO ASKED GEN ENRIQUEZ IF HE OR ANYONE HAD QUESTIONED THE TWO OFFICERS ABOUT THE ALLEGATIONS OF CABRERA. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE HAD NOT.

16. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE PERSONALLY BELIEVES THAT BAMACA IS DEAD. AROUND THE TIME OF THE DISAPPEARANCE, HE HAD HEARD TALK THAT BAMACA HAD BEEN KILLED IN COMBAT, BUT HE WAS NOT IN A POSITION TO BE INFORMED OF SUCH THINGS AT THE TIME. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT DURING A CONFLICT, THERE IS COMPARTMENTALIZATION BY BOTH THE GUERRILLAS AND THE ARMY. AS A RESULT THERE COULD BE A SMALL, SELECT GROUP OF OFFICERS WHO KNOW MORE ABOUT THE BAMACA CASE THAN HE DOES.

RODRIGO ASTURIAS' OFFER

17. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THE ORPA LEADER, RODRIGO ASTURIAS, HAD SENT A MESSAGE TO HIM FROM MEXICO VIA BG PINEDA, COPAZ MEMBER AND VICE-CHIEF OF STAFF. ASTURIAS TOLD BG PINEDA TO TELL GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT IF THE GT ARMY WOULD MAKE BAMACA APPEAR IN SOME LOCATION, LIKE CHIAPAS FOR EXAMPLE, THAT WOULD PRESERVE THE HONOR OF THE ARMY, HE WOULD CALL OFF THE INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE ON THE CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THIS WAS EXACTLY THE SAME DEMAND BEING MADE BY MS. HARBURY HERSELF. HE ALSO COMMENTED THAT THE URNG MUST THINK IT HAS A GREAT DEAL OF INTERNATIONAL INFLUENCE TO BELIEVE THAT IT COULD SHUT DOWN ALL PROTESTS ABOUT THE BAMACA CASE.

18. DR. NUCCIO EXPLAINED THAT IN CONFIDENCE, RODRIGO ASTURIAS HAD ALSO INFORMED HIM OF THE OFFER MADE THROUGH BG PINEDA, BUT THE WORDING WAS SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT. ASTURIAS HAD EXPLAINED THAT IF BAMACA WHERE MADE TO APPEAR SOMEWHERE IN A WAY THAT PRESERVED THE HONOR OF THE ARMY, HE WOULD OFFER HIS PERSONAL EFFORTS TO ELIMINATE ANY PROVOCATIONS OR PERSONAL ATTACKS ABOUT THE CASE, AND WOULD ATTEMPT TO CONVINCE MS. HARBURY TO STOP HER ACTIVITIES. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THAT WAS NOT THE WAY IT WAS PRESENTED TO HIM, BUT RATHER THAT ALL INTERNATIONAL PRESSURES WOULD BE ELIMINATED. DR. NUCCIO CLARIFIED THAT ASTURIAS' OFFER WAS NOT THAT ALL-ENCOMPASSING, BUT ONLY WAS AN ASSURANCE OF HIS PERSONAL EFFORTS TO PERSUADE MS. HARBURY TO STOP HER ACTIVITIES AND LOOK FOR AN HONORABLE SOLUTION FOR THE ARMY.

INTERNATIONAL PRESSURES MOUNT

19. DR. NUCCIO ADDED THAT THE BAMACA CASE HAS TAKEN ON GREAT IMPORTANCE IN THE U.S., AND HAS EVEN GOTTEN TO THE WHITE HOUSE. DR. NUCCIO THEN SHOWED GEN ENRIQUEZ SOME STATISTICS SHOWING THE LARGE NUMBER OF LETTERS AND FAXES THAT HIS OFFICE ALONE HAS RECEIVED ON THE BAMACA CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ REVIEWED THE STATISTICS AND REMARKED THAT THESE INQUIRIES SHOWED THE INCREDIBLE INTERNATIONAL CAPABILITY OF THE URNG. HE EXCLAIMED THAT AGAINST THIS KIND OF OPPOSITION IT IS A WONDER THE GOG WAS ABLE TO SURVIVE. THE URNG HAD LONG RECEIVED STRONG INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT FROM SUCH COUNTRIES AS NORWAY, SWEDEN, AND FRANCE. FRANCE AT ONE TIME EVEN DELIVERED WEAPONS TO THE URNG. THIS INCREDIBLE OPPOSITION WAS ONE REASON THE ARMY HAD TO RESPOND THE WAY IT DID DURING THE 1980'S.

20. GEN ENRIQUEZ COMMENTED THAT IT IS A PITY THAT THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY HAS MOBILIZED ITSELF ON THE BAMACA CASE, AS THIS ORPA COMANDANTE DID NOT DESERVE THIS KIND OF SUPPORT. HE WAS NOT AN INNOCENT VICTIM, AS HE HAD A LONG RECORD AS AN ORPA COMBATANT. FOR EXAMPLE, THERE ARE NO ARMY WIVES CONDUCTING A HUNGER STRIKE DEMANDING THE WHEREABOUTS OF THEIR HUSBANDS FROM THE URNG. WHY DIDN'T THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY MOBILIZE THIS KIND OF SUPPORT OVER THE MURDER OF MICHAEL DEVINE? THERE IS A CASE THAT CERTAINLY MERITED THIS KIND OF PRESSURE, AS HE WAS AN INNOCENT, CIVILIAN, U.S. CITIZEN VICTIM. THE ONLY REASON BAMACA IS RECEIVING SUCH GREAT ATTENTION IS BECAUSE MS. HARBURY IS PLAYING A POLITICAL GAME.

MOD RELUCTANTLY ACCEPTS MINUGUA INVOLVEMENT

21. DR. NUCCIO ONCE AGAIN REITERATED THAT WHATEVER THE MERITS OF THE CASE OR GEN ENRIQUEZ' FEELINGS ABOUT THE CASE, IT DESERVED A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION, WITH INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPATION. THE UN MISSION IN GUATEMALA, MINUGUA, IS ONE POSSIBILITY OF INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPATION. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT MINUGUA WILL REALLY ONLY BEGIN ITS OPERATIONS ON 14 NOVEMBER, AND SINCE BAMACA DISAPPEARED IN MARCH 1992, THE CASE DOES NOT QUALIFY. OF COURSE, IF ONE ACCEPTED MS. HARBURY'S PREMISE THAT BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE THEN THE CASE COULD PERHAPS FALL UNDER MINUGUA'S JURISDICTION. LIKEWISE, MINUGUA IS ONLY AUTHORIZED TO VERIFY, NOT CONDUCT ITS OWN INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATIONS. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT HIS UNDERSTANDING ALSO WAS THAT MINUGUA COULD ONLY VERIFY, BUT IT COULD ACCOMPANY THE GT HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN OR OTHER GOG INVESTIGATOR UNDER THAT CRITERIA. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT MINUGUA COULD ALSO SUGGEST QUESTIONS THAT THE OMBUDSMAN MIGHT ASK AS WELL. GEN ENRIQUEZ AGREED THAT SUCH OPTIONS SEEMED TO FALL WITHIN THE JURISDICTION OF MINUGUA.

22. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT SHE BELIEVED THAT THE PRESIDENT PLANNED TO APPOINT CESAR ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ, CURRENTLY THE GT AMBASSADOR TO THE OAS, AS A SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR TO LOOK INTO THE CASE OF BAMACA. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WOULD BE AN EXCELLENT CHOICE, AS HE WAS FAMILIAR WITH THE CASE FROM HIS TIME AS PRESIDENT DE LEON'S DEPUTY WHEN HE WAS THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. THE SOLICITOR GENERAL, ACISCLO VALLADARES, ALSO HAS GREAT CREDIBILITY IN SUCH CASES. GEN ENRIQUEZ REMARKED THAT HE HAD ALREADY OFFERED HIS FULL SUPPORT TO ANY INVESTIGATION THAT VALLADARES MIGHT INITIATE.

23. GEN ENRIQUEZ REMARKED THAT EARLIER THE SAME DAY HIS CHIEF OF STAFF, MG GONZALEZ, HAD REMARKED TO HIM THAT WHILE HE HAD ALWAYS DONE AN EXCELLENT JOB IN EXPLAINING ARMY POSITIONS TO THE PRESS, MG GONZALEZ BELIEVED THAT HE WAS LOSING HIS CREDIBILITY OVER THE BAMACA CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD RESPONDED THAT IT IS ALSO THE CHIEF OF STAFF'S JOB TO ENSURE THAT THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE DOES NOT LOSE HIS CREDIBILITY. THEREFORE MG GONZALEZ SHOULD DIRECT HIS COUNTERINTELLIGENCE DIVISION (CUERPO TECNICO CONSULTATIVO) TO PROVIDE ALL INFORMATION THEY HAVE ON BAMACA SO THAT THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE DOESN'T LOSE HIS CREDIBILITY ON THE BAMACA CASE.

MAINTAINING A UNIFIED URNG

24. DR. NUCCIO THEN EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD ERRED AND BEEN MISINTERPRETED AS A RESULT OF QUOTING GEN ENRIQUEZ FROM A PREVIOUS VISIT. DR. NUCCIO RECALLED THE MEETING WHERE GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD EXPLAINED THAT GT COULD NOT AFFORD TO HAVE A DIVIDED URNG, AS THE COMANDANTES WOULD THEN NOT BE ABLE TO BRING IN ALL OF THEIR UNITS FOR DISARMING ONCE A CEASEFIRE IS DECLARED. RATHER IT WOULD BE BETTER FOR THE URNG TO REMAIN UNITED. GEN ENRIQUEZ ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HE HAD MADE SUCH A COMMENT TO DR. NUCCIO. DR. NUCCIO CONTINUED THAT HE HAD REPEATED THIS COMMENT AT A MEETING IN NEW YORK, AND HAD THEN BEEN MISQUOTED BY THE GT MINISTER OF FOREIGN RELATIONS, MARITZA RUIZ DE VIELMAN, AMONG OTHERS, AS SAYING THAT THE U.S. HAD THE GOAL OF A POLITICALLY STRENGTHENED ("FORTALECIDA") URNG, RATHER THAN MAINTAINING A UNIFIED ("UNIFICADA") URNG, WHICH IS WHAT HE HAD INTENDED. LIKEWISE, HE HAD ALSO BEEN MISQUOTED AS SAYING THAT THE US WANTED CIVIL SECTORS TO PARTICIPATE AT THE BARGAINING TABLE ITSELF, WHEN WHAT REALLY HAD BEEN SAID WAS THAT THE US WANTED TO INCREASE CIVIL SECTOR PARTICIPATION IN THE OVERALL PEACE PROCESS, BUT CERTAINLY NOT BY HAVING THEM AT THE BARGAINING TABLE.

25. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WAS EXTREMELY PLEASED TO HEAR THIS CLARIFICATION. HE HAD INDEED BEEN EXTREMELY CONCERNED BY THE REMARKS ATTRIBUTED TO DR. NUCCIO. IN FACT, IT HAD BEEN REPORTED TO HIM THAT DR. NUCCIO HAD SAID THAT RIGHT NOW THE GOG IS SO STRONG AND THE URNG IS SO WEAK, THAT IT IS LIKE BRINGING A LION AND A MOUSE TO THE NEGOTIATING TABLE--THE DISPARITY IS SO EXTREME THAT NO AGREEMENT CAN BE REACHED. THEREFORE, THE MOUSE MUST BE STRENGTHENED AND MADE MORE LIKE A TIGER SO IT CAN GO TO THE TABLE AND SIGN AN AGREEMENT WITH THE LION.

26. RECENTLY, GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD BEEN DISCUSSING DR. NUCCIO'S REPORTED REMARKS WITH SOME OF HIS GENERAL OFFICERS, TO INCLUDE BG BALCONI AND BG CAMARGO, AND THINKING ABOUT WHY THE U.S. WOULD HAVE SUCH A POSITION. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT HE WAS VERY SAD AND COULD NOT UNDERSTAND WHY THE US GOVERNMENT WOULD WANT TO STRENGTHEN THE URNG WHEN THE GT ARMY HAD SPENT SO MANY YEARS AND LOST SO MANY LIVES COMBATTING THEM MILITARILY, AND WHEN THE URNG HAD EVEN MURDERED A U.S. AMBASSADOR. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD INITIALLY THOUGHT IT WAS ABSURD THAT THE U.S. WOULD HAVE SUCH A POSITION, BUT THEN BEGAN TO BELIEVE THAT MAYBE THE U.S. REALLY DID HAVE A HIDDEN AGENDA, AND HAD DEVELOPED A NEW STRATEGY TO REDUCE OR EVEN ELIMINATE THE GT ARMY.

27. DR. NUCCIO REITERATED ONCE AGAIN THAT HIS REMARKS HAD BEEN COMPLETELY MISINTERPRETED, AND THAT IT HAD BEEN REPORTED THAT HE WANTED TO "PROMOTE THE PRESENCE OF THE CIVIL SECTORS AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE," WHEN THE IDEA IS TO PROMOTE THE PARTICIPATION OF THE CIVIL SECTORS IN THE OVERALL PEACE PROCESS, BUT NOT AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE. GEN ENRIQUEZ REPEATED ONCE AGAIN THAT HE WAS RELIEVED TO HEAR THIS CLARIFICATION. IN FACT, THE MISINTERPRETATIONS HAD SOME CREDIBILITY, BECAUSE THE GOG PERCEPTION WAS THAT DR. NUCCIO HAD MUCH MORE FREQUENT CONTACT WITH URNG REPRESENTATIVES THAN WITH COPAZ OR GOG REPRESENTATIVES. DR. NUCCCIO EMPHASIZED THAT AFTER EVERY MEETING WITH THE URNG, HE ALWAYS VISITED THE GUATEMALAN EMBASSY. DR. NUCCIO ADDED THAT HE DOES NOT MEET WITH THE URNG BECAUSE THEY ARE HIS FRIENDS, BUT TO INFLUENCE THEM TO FURTHER THE PEACE PROCESS. HIS GOAL IS NOT TO ADVANCE THE URNG'S AGENDA, BUT TO END THE CONFLICT IN GUATEMALA.

MEETINGS WITH THE URNG

28. THE AMBASSADOR INFORMED MG ENRIQUEZ THAT DR. NUCCIO WOULD BE VISITING GUATEMALA MORE OFTEN IN THE FUTURE TO HELP AVOID SUCH MISUNDERSTANDINGS. LIKEWISE THE AMBASSADOR HERSELF WAS CONTEMPLATING GOING TO MEXICO CITY ON THE TAIL END OF THE NEXT ROUND OF PEACE TALKS TO MEET WITH THE URNG COMANDANTES TO OBTAIN A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF THEIR POSITIONS AND ATTITUDES TOWARDS THE PEACE PROCESS. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE TOO WOULD LIKE TO MEET WITH DR. NUCCIO MORE OFTEN, AND WOULD BE WILLING TO TRAVEL TO MEET HIM. HOWEVER, GOING TO MEXICO CITY WOULD BE DIFFICULT, BECAUSE WHENEVER THE MOD OR COS GOES THERE HE IS SUSPECTED OF MEETING WITH THE URNG COMANDANTES. SINCE PEACE TALKS WITH THE URNG HAD FIRST BEGUN, THERE HAD ALWAYS BEEN AN UNDERSTANDING WITHIN THE ARMY THAT THE MOD AND COS WOULD NOT PERSONALLY MEET WITH THE URNG TOP LEADERSHIP. FOR EXAMPLE, WHEN IT BECAME KNOWN THAT MG GONZALEZ HAD MET WITH TWO OF THE COMANDANTES IN SAN FRANCISCO IT HAD CAUSED HIM SOME PROBLEMS AMONG THE OFFICER RANKS.

29. DR. NUCCIO EXPLAINED THAT HE MUST CONTINUE TO MEET WITH THE URNG, AND IN EFFECT EXERT PSYCHOLOGICAL PRESSURE ON THEM TO CONTINUE WITH THE PEACE PROCESS. LIKEWISE, HE HAD TO GIVE THEM A DIFFERENT IMPRESSION OF THE U.S. IN ORDER FOR U.S INFLUENCE TO BE EFFECTIVE--THEY HAVE THE IMAGE OF THE U.S. AS AN EGOISTIC, IMPERIALIST POWER. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT DR. NUCCIO HAD BEEN A VERY EFFECTIVE ADVOCATE FOR THE PEACE PROCESS AND FOR RENEWED IMET FOR THE GT ARMY GIVEN HIS CREDIBILITY ON CAPITOL HILL--IN THIS SENSE HE IS ONE OF THE ARMY'S BEST FRIENDS IN WASHINGTON. DR. NUCCIO INQUIRED OF GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT PERHAPS ON HIS NEXT VISIT HE SHOULD VISIT AN ARMY UNIT WITH THE MOD. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WOULD LIKE DR. NUCCIO TO SPEAK TO AN ASSEMBLED GROUP OF OFFICERS AT THE MARISCAL ZAVALA BRIGADE IN GUATEMALA CITY TO DISCUSS THE PEACE PROCESS WITH THEM. DR. NUCCIO AGREED TO DO THIS ON HIS NEXT VISIT, POSSIBLY IN MID-NOVEMBER.

MOD'S REMARKS ON BAMACA MISINTERPRETED

30. THE AMBASSADOR REFERRED BACK TO GEN ENRIQUEZ' EARLIER STATEMENTS THAT MAYBE BAMACA WOULD APPEAR IN CHIAPAS OR OUT IN THE JUNGLE SOMEWHERE. SHE EXPLAINED TO GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT IN FACT MS. HARBURY HAD INTERPRETED THESE STATEMENTS AS A TYPE OF "SECRET NEGOTIATION" BETWEEN HER AND THE MOD. DATT CONFIRMED THAT MS. HARBURY HAD INDEED INTERPRETED THESE STATEMENTS AS AN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT THAT BAMACA WAS ALIVE IN ARMY CUSTODY, AND THAT THESE WERE SUBTLE SIGNALS TO HER THAT THE MOD WISHED TO NEGOTIATE THE RELEASE OF BAMACA AT A TIME AND PLACE THAT WOULD NOT DISCREDIT THE ARMY. GEN ENRIQUEZ APPEARED DUMBFOUNDED AND DID NOT RESPOND FOR A FEW SECONDS.

31. HE THEN EXPLAINED THAT HE NEVER INTENDED TO CONVEY SUCH AN IMPRESSION. WHAT HE HAD MEANT BY SUCH STATEMENTS WAS THAT MAYBE BAMACA WAS ALIVE SOMEWHERE WITH THE URNG OR IN HIDING. IN FACT HE HAD EVEN TOLD THE PRESS ON ONE OCCASION THAT HE COULD CONCEIVE THAT ORPA LEADER RODRIGO ASTURIAS HAD HIDDEN BAMACA, AND IS WAITING FOR THE RIGHT MOMENT TO ORDER HIM TO APPEAR. AFTER ALL, AS HE SAID EARLIER, THIS HAS BEEN A DIRTY WAR AND MANY THINGS ARE POSSIBLE. FOR EXAMPLE, HE COULD EVEN BELIEVE THAT BAMACA HAD ORIGINALLY BEEN BURIED IN THE CEMETERY IN RETALHULEU, BUT THE URNG HAD LATER SECRETLY SWITCHED BODIES IN THE CEMETERY AND HAS HIDDEN BAMACA'S REMAINS. WHILE SUCH A BODY SWAP IS UNLIKELY, IT IS POSSIBLE.

32. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT MANY GROUPS WILL BE VISITING GUATEMALA DURING THE COMING WEEK TO SEE MS. HARBURY AND INQUIRE ABOUT THE WHEREABOUTS OF EFRAIN BAMACA. WHAT WOULD BE GEN ENRIQUEZ' POSTURE CONCERNING SUCH GROUPS? WOULD HE BE AVAILABLE TO SEE THEM? GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WOULD CONTINUE WITH THE SAME POLICY AS ALWAYS--HE WAS OPEN AND WOULD RECEIVE AS MANY VISITORS AS HIS SCHEDULE PERMITTED. ONLY YESTERDAY GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD RECEIVED TWO REPORTERS FROM ARIZONA, WHO HAD TAKEN PICTURES OF VARIOUS ROOMS AND HALLWAYS WITHIN THE MOD'S OFFICIAL RESIDENCE. GEN ENRIQUEZ WAS SURE THE PHOTOS WOULD BE USED TO SHOW THE OPULENCE OF THE MOD'S OFFICIAL RESIDENCE AND THUS ATTEMPT TO DISCREDIT HIM.

ODDS AND ENDS

33. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE EARLIER HAD A MEETING WITH GT OFFICERS INVOLVED WITH THE PREPARATIONS FOR FUERTES CAMINOS 95. HE WAS CONSIDERING WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE U.S. EMBASSY REQUEST THAT COL CABRERA AND LTC ALPIREZ BE TRANSFERRED FROM MILITARY ZONE 10 AT JUTIAPA. (NOTE: THE EMBASSY HAS REQUESTED THAT BOTH OFFICERS BE TRANSFERRED FROM THE MILITARY ZONE WHERE THE FUERTES CAMINOS 95 BASE CAMP WILL BE ESTABLISHED, BECAUSE THEY WERE INVOLVED IN THE COVERUP OF THE ARMY'S INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE IN MAY OF 1990.) HE WAS ALSO SAD TO HEAR THAT MG CROCKER, THE ARMY SOUTH COMMANDER, WOULD HAVE TO DELAY HIS VISIT BEYOND 6 NOVEMBER BECAUSE OF MS. HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE. HE AND HIS STAFF HAD VERY MUCH BEEN LOOKING FORWARD TO THE VISIT. HE INFORMED THE AMBASSADOR AND DR. NUCCIO THAT HE HAD BEEN INVITED TO VISIT ISRAEL AND WOULD BE THERE FOR NINE DAYS FROM 6-16 NOVEMBER. GEN ENRIQUEZ COMMENTED THAT PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD ACCEPTED AN INVITATION TO TAKE A RIDE THE FOLLOWING DAY IN ONE OF THE TWO FLYABLE A37'S THAT THE AIR FORCE HAD BEEN WORKING HARD ON TO MAKE AIRWORTHY. SINCE THE PRESIDENT WAS FLYING, HE AS MOD HAD NO CHOICE BUT TO GO UP IN ONE OF THE AIRCRAFT AS WELL, A PROSPECT THAT MADE HIM SOMEWHAT NERVOUS.

34. GEN ENRIQUEZ WAS UNUSUALLY DISORGANIZED AND RAMBLING WHEN HE DISCUSSED THE BAMACA CASE. AT ONE POINT HE MENTIONED THAT IF BAMACA IS ALIVE HE SHOULD APPEAR TO MS. HARBURY AT NIGHT IN DISGUISE, BUT THEN LATER STATED THAT HE BELIEVED BAMACA WAS DEAD, BUT THEN CAVEATED BY SAYING THAT HE HAD NO PROOF OF THIS. EVEN AN ATTENTIVE LISTENER FAMILIAR WITH THE CASE CAN EASILY BECOME CONFUSED WITH SUCH RAMBLINGS. FURTHER, GEN ENRIQUEZ GAVE THE FIRST INKLINGS THAT THE ARMY MAY HAVE HAD BAMACA AT ONE TIME, WHEN HE REFERRED TO "COMPARTMENTALIZATION" OF OPERATIONS, AND THE FACT THAT HE TOLD GEN GONZALEZ THAT HE SHOULD HAVE HIS CI SECTION REVEAL ALL INFORMATION SO GEN ENRIQUEZ WOULD NOT CONTINUE TO LOSE CREDIBILITY ON THE BAMACA CASE. OVERALL, GEN ENRIQUEZ APPEARED SOMEWHAT TIRED AND SHOWED MORE SIGNS OF STRESS THAN USUAL.

35. THE DISCUSSION OF THE MISINTERPRETATION OF DR. NUCCIO'S REMARKS ABOUT STRENGTHENING RATHER THAN UNIFYING THE URNG CLEARLY HIT A SENSITIVE POINT. GEN ENRIQUEZ WENT ON AT GREAT LENGTH ABOUT HOW CONCERNED HE WAS WITH A U.S POLICY OF STRENGTHENING THE URNG, ALMOST TO THE POINT OF PARANOIA. IT WAS OBVIOUS HE HAD DISCUSSED THE ISSUE WITH HIS FELLOW GENERAL OFFICERS MORE THAN ONCE. WHILE AN IMPORTANT FIRST STEP HAS BEEN TAKEN TO CLEAR UP THIS MISUNDERSTANDING, LINGERING DOUBTS ABOUT THE USG'S "REAL" MOTIVES TOWARDS THE URNG UNDOUBTEDLY LINGER.

36. IT IS CLEAR THAT GEN ENRIQUEZ NO LONGER HAS ANY CONFIDENCE IN DEALING WITH MS. HARBURY PERSONALLY. RODRIGO ASTURIAS' OFFER OF AN HONORABLE ALTERNATIVE CLEARLY HAD AN IMPACT ON GEN ENRIQUEZ--WHETHER BECAUSE HE SAW IT AS MORE EVIDENCE OF A LINK BETWEEN MS. HARBURY AND THE URNG, OR BECAUSE HE CONSIDERS IT A POTENTIAL CHANNEL FOR THE ARMY TO NEGOTIATE A SOLUTION TO MS. HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE, IS UNCERTAIN. WHILE THE POSSIBILITY THAT BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE IS SLIGHT, IF THE ARMY DOES WANT AN HONORABLE SOLUTION AS PROPOSED BY ASTURIAS THEY MAY WELL BE BACK IN TOUCH.

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ARA SENIOR ADVISER DR. RICHARD A. NUCCIO AND THE AMBASSADOR MET OCTOBER 27 WITH PEACE COMMISSION (COPAZ) MEMBERS HECTOR ROSADA AND ANTONIO ARENALES. NUCCIO TOOK THE OPPORTUNITY TO CLARIFY SOME RECENT MISCONCEPTIONS. ROSADA EXPRESSED HIS DOUBTS OVER URNG INTENTIONS AND COMPLAINED ABOUT THE NEGOTIATING FORMAT OF THE LAST PEACE ROUND. BOTH COPAZ MEMBERS MADE CLEAR THEIR SENSITIVITIES OVER ANY (MIS)PERCEIVED TILT TOWARD THE URNG. END SUMMARY.

RUMORS

3. ARA SENIOR ADVISER DR. RICHARD A. NUCCIO, ACCOMPANIED BY THE AMBASSADOR AND POLOFF, MET OCTOBER 27 WITH PEACE COMMISSION (COPAZ) MEMBERS HECTOR ROSADA AND ANTONIO ARENALES. NUCCIO BEGAN BY THANKING THE GOG FOR ABSTAINING ON THE CUBAN RESOLUTION AT THE UNGA. THE ARA SENIOR ADVISER THEN NOTED A RECENT U.S. MAGAZINE ARTICLE CHARACTERIZED HIM AS A RIGHTWINGER ON CUBA, WHILE RUMORS HERE PORTRAY HIM AS A LEFTIST WHO LOOKS FAVORABLY UPON THE URNG (REF). NEITHER CHARACTERIZATION WAS TRUE, HE UNDERSCORED.

OUR POSITION

4. EXPLAINING FURTHER, NUCCIO NOTED A MISIMPRESSION

HAD ARISEN OUT OF A LATE SEPTEMBER NEW YORK MEETING WITH THE FOREIGN MINISTER (REF A) THAT HE AND OTHER DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS WERE SEEKING TO STRENGTHEN THE URNG AT THE BARGAINING TABLE AND, POSSIBLY, MILITARILY. OTHER REMARKS AT THIS MEETING WERE MISINTERPRETED TO IMPLY WE WANT THE CIVIL SECTORS AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE. NUCCIO NOTED IF WE SPOKE OF "STRENGTHENING" THE URNG, THE MEANING WAS NOT TO FORCE GOG CONCESSIONS, BUT TO MAKE SURE THE UNITY OF THE GUERRILLA MOVEMENT DID NOT SPLINTER AS IT MOVED THROUGH THE NEGOTIATIONS. THE IDEA, HE UNDERSCORED, IS PEACE IS EASIER TO REACH WITH ONE GROUP, NOT MANY (CF. COLOMBIA). IN ADDITION, A UNIFIED GUERRILLA MOVEMENT WILL BE MORE CAPABLE OF DELIVERING ITS TROOPS/ARMS AT THE TIME OF A FINAL ACCORD. IN THIS, WE WERE IN AGREEMENT WITH AN IDEA PUT FORTH BY DEFENSE MINISTER ENRIQUEZ.

RELEASED

5. AS FOR THE CIVIL SECTORS, OUR GOAL IS THERE BE AN EXPANSIVE DIALOGUE WITH A BROAD SPECTRUM OF GUATEMALAN SOCIETY AS A COMPLEMENT TO THE PEACE PROCESS. IN THIS, WE ARE ECHOING THE OCTOBER 1993 GOG PEACE PLAN. WE DO NOT SEEK A SEAT AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE FOR CIVIL SECTOR REPS, IT WAS EMPHASIZED, NOR THAT THE DIALOGUE BE LIMITED TO THOSE WHO HAVE ARROGATED TO THEMSELVES THE TITLE OF "CIVIL SECTORS."

6. NUCCIO ALSO NOTED HE HAS CULTIVATED CONTACTS WITH

THE URNG COMANDANTES AS A WAY OF INFLUENCING THEM TO MOVE FORWARD ON THE PEACE PROCESS. RECOGNIZING THIS, COPAZ MEMBER MARIO PERMUTH HAD ASKED NUCCIO TO WEIGH-IN WITH THE URNG DURING A DIFFICULT MOMENT IN OSLO. ALL OUR EFFORTS IN SEEKING CONTACT WITH THE URNG LEADERSHIP IS DESIGNED TO MOVE THE PROCESS RAPIDLY FORWARD SO THAT A FIRM AND LASTING PEACE, THAT FACILITATES CHANGE, WILL BE REACHED. IN ADDITION, IT WAS IMPORTANT FOR COPAZ TO UNDERSTAND WE MODULATE OUR URNG CONTACT (INCLUDING VISA ISSUANCE) DEPENDING ON THE COMANDANTES BEHAVIOR.

"LA HISTORIA OFFICIAL"

7. ROSADA THANKED NUCCIO FOR HIS EXPLANATION, SAYING THE MISUNDERSTANDING WENT BEYOND A MERE RUMOR; IT REFLECTED THE "OFFICIAL INTERPRETATION" OF WHAT WAS SAID IN NEW YORK. BOTH HE AND ARENALES STATED THEIR BROAD AGREEMENT WITH THE ABOVE POSITIONS AND NOTED THE GOG INTEREST IN A WIDE SOCIAL DIALOGUE. MAKING AN OBLIQUE REFERENCE TO THE FOREIGN MINISTER, ARENALES ADDED ONE PROBLEM WAS CERTAIN PEOPLE INSIDE THE GOG WERE TRYING TO GAIN PEACE PROCESS "PROTAGONISM" THROUGH THE PROPAGATION OF MISPLACED NOTIONS.

8. ARENALES, HOWEVER, NOTED SOME PERCEIVED DIFFICULTIES IN THE BEHAVIOR OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY VIS-A-VIS THE GOG AND URNG. IN THIS VEIN, HE RELATED A CONCERN OVER THE SUPPOSED U.S. ISSUANCE OF MULTIPLE VISAS TO THE COMANDANTES, THE ALLEGED UN ATTITUDE IN TREATING THE GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLAS AS EQUALS, AND THE STANCE OF SOME FOREIGN NATIONS (E.G., SPAIN AND FRANCE) IN RECEIVING THE COMANDANTES AT AN EVEN HIGHER LEVEL THAN GOG PEACE EMISSARIES.

9. NUCCIO RESPONDED THE QUESTION OF VISA ISSUANCE WAS A SOVEREIGN U.S. DECISION, THOUGH WE COULD INFORM THE GOG OF OUR DECISIONS. IN ANY CASE, THE URNG LEADERS STILL MUST SEEK INDIVIDUAL WAIVERS TO ENTER THE U.S. AND DO NOT HAVE MULTIPLE VISAS. AT ONE POINT AFTER OSLO (WHERE THE URNG SIGNED TWO ACCORDS), THERE WAS SOME EXPLORATION OF SETTING UP A SYSTEM OF PRE-APPROVED WAIVERS FOR THREE OR SIX MONTHS (IN ORDER TO FACILITATE THE PEACE PROCESS), BUT THIS PROVED LEGALLY IMPOSSIBLE. NUCCIO ADDED WITH THE RECENT INCREASE IN URNG MILITARY ACTIONS, THE U.S. MAY HAVE TO RAISE THESE ATTACKS WITH THE COMANDANTES.

SERIOUS DOUBTS

10. THE ARA SENIOR ADVISER ALSO OBSERVED OUR CONTACT WITH THE GUERRILLA LEADERSHIP WAS DESIGNED TO GIVE THEM AN APPRECIATION OF THE REAL WORLD AND ENCOURAGE THEM TO THINK OF THEIR POSTWAR ROLE IN GUATEMALA. ROSADA RESPONDED HE HAD DOUBTS THE COMANDANTES WERE SERIOUS ABOUT GIVING UP THE WAR. HE FELT THEY WERE PLAYING FOR TIME, KNOWING THAT AS MATTERS STAND NOW,

THEY HAVE NO POLITICAL, MILITARY OR IDEOLOGICAL FUTURE. NUCCIO RESPONDED WE DON'T PLACE OUR FAITH IN URNG GOOD INTENTIONS, BUT NEGOTIATIONS CAN HAVE UNEXPECTED RESULTS, LEADING TO PLACES THE PARTICIPANTS DON'T EXPECT.

INTERNATIONAL FORA

QUESTION OF SERIOUSNESS

12. SWITCHING TO THE RELATED TOPIC OF HUMAN RIGHTS, THE AMBASSADOR OBSERVED THE IMPORTANCE OF BOTH INSTITUTIONAL CHANGE AND THE INVESTIGATION OF INDIVIDUAL CASES. ROSADA RESPONDED THAT WE NEEDED TO KEEP IN MIND A DISTINCTION BETWEEN ACTUAL HUMAN RIGHTS CASES AND DENUNCIATIONS. ARENALES ADDED IT

WILL BE DIFFICULT, IF NOT IMPOSSIBLE, TO CLARIFY PAST CASES, BUT "SPECTACULAR" NEW ONES ARE NO LONGER OCCURRING. GIVEN THIS, IT WAS UNFAIR TO PAINT GUATEMALA AS UNCHANGED.

13. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED, HOWEVER, THE "LA EXACTA" CASE WAS RECENT, A POINT ARENALES CHOSE NOT TO RESPOND TO. INSTEAD, HE REFERRED TO BAMACA, ASKING, "DO YOU THINK HE WILL APPEAR?" IT IS "TOO LATE" TO EXPECT AN INVESTIGATION TO FIND ANYTHING, HE CONTINUED, ESPECIALLY GIVEN THE POOR INVESTIGATIVE CAPACITY HERE. NONETHELESS, ARENALES GRANTED MINUGUA COULD VERIFY THIS CASE. HE ADDED THE GOG WAS CLOSE TO A HEADQUARTERS ("SEDE") AGREEMENT WITH MINUGUA.

(NOTE: IN AN OCTOBER 28 MEETING WITH THE AMBASSADOR AND POLOFF, ACTING MISSION DIRECTOR FERNANDO CASTANON

LAST ROUND

14. FINALLY, ROSADA BRIEFLY DESCRIBED THE OCTOBER NEGOTIATING ROUND IN TERMS BROADLY CONSISTENT WITH REF B. HE OBSERVED FAR LEADER PABLO MONSANTO SEEMS EVER STRONGER INSIDE THE URNG AND RELATED HIS DISPLEASURE OVER THE NEGOTIATING FORMAT USED AT THE LAST ROUND, AS WELL AS THE LARGE DISRUPTIVE GROUP THE URNG BROUGHT. HE WAS ESPECIALLY INCENSED OVER MIGUEL

ANGEL SANDOVAL'S BEHAVIOR.

COMMENT: I GET NO RESPECT!

15. THE COPAZ MEMBERS APPRECIATED THE OPPORTUNITY TO CLARIFY THE PAST MISUNDERSTANDING AND THIS DISCUSSION REINFORCED THE AMBASSADOR'S MID-OCTOBER COMMENTS TO COPAZ ON THIS SUBJECT (REF A). ROSADA AND ARENALES ALSO MADE CLEAR, THOUGH, THEY ARE SENSITIVE TO ANY PERCEIVED SLIGHT OR TILT TOWARD THE URNG.

16. THIS CABLE WAS NOT CLEARED BY DR. NUCCIO.

Background on Objectives

Summit:

De Leon has sought the Central American lead in making an "Alliance for Sustainable Development" a centerpiece of the Summit. The White House Office of Environmental Policy is drafting a response to de Leon's letter to Clinton suggesting that the Summit include a theme on indigenous people and sustainable development. Guatemalan environmentalist Jorge Cabrera is slated to meet in August with Katie McGinty of the VP's office to discuss the Central Americans' draft summit paper. AID Guatemala is working with Cabrera on this.

Alien Smuggling:

Guatemala in August 1993 and May 1994 provided critical assistance to us in combatting alien smuggling. Both incidents involved Taiwan flag vessels involved in efforts to smuggle aliens to the U.S. The Guatemalan navy apprehended the first vessel on its own, and we assisted the GOG to arrange for repatriation of the aliens to the PRC by the International Organization for Migration (IOM). When in April the U.S. Coast Guard apprehended the second vessel (the Jin Yinn) on the high seas, Mexico declined to permit us to land the vessel there.

Guatemala, however, permitted us to tow the vessel to one of its ports, where the IOM again repatriated the PRC aliens.

Peace Process/Human Rights:

The long-stalled peace process achieved a breakthrough in January when the GOG and URNG guerrillas signed a framework agreement. In March the two sides signed a Human Rights Accord providing for UN verification as soon as possible (probably to begin this fall). The two sides also signed a negotiating calendar committing themselves to reach a comprehensive peace settlement by the end of the year. The GOG and the URNG are currently in Oslo negotiating the issues of refugees/displaced persons, and whether a "historical clarification (truth) commission" should be organized to study human rights violations that took place during the conflict. There is optimism that agreement will be reached on both issues. As a member of the Group of Friends (along with Mexico, Norway, Spain, Colombia, and Venezuela), we are playing a key role in supporting the peace process. We are moving to set up a Peace Fund using $4.6 million in suspended FMF, and are asking the Secretary to approve a "Peace and Democracy Initiative" linking various elements of our relationship with Guatemala to progress in the peace process.

The army is pressing the GOG hard to obtain elimination of the mandate of the UNHRC independent expert. Guatemala's PermRep to the UN in Geneva is included in De Vielman's entourage. The GOG hopes to have ECOSOC direct the UNHRC to terminate advisory services; this is a non-starter. We support Mexico's ECOSOC resolution referring the matter to the UNHRC for review at its next meeting.

Counter-narcotics:

The GOG has closely cooperated with the USG on narcotics control and narcotics trafficking through South America. The GOG has virtually eliminated cultivation of opium poppies.

Devine Case:

On bilateral human rights issues, the GOG may believe it has outlasted us on demanding justice for the murder by army personnel of AmCit Michael Devine. Army Captain Hugo Contreras needs to be arrested and sent to prison to serve the 30 year term to which he was sentenced.

Travel Warning:

De Vielman may raise the issue of the current Travel Warning which the GOG, under great pressure from the travel industry, is pressing hard for us to narrow. We needn't be defensive. We have a statutory responsibility to inform the American public of dangerous conditions in foreign countries. Three AmCits have been the victim of mob attack -- one AmCit remains in a coma. The GOG has taken some public affairs actions and has promised to create a quick reaction tourist police unit. We are working on a new draft with CA which indicates that attacks have not occurred in major tourist and business destinations.

U.S.-Guatemalan Ties Strained by Woman's Protest

■ Central America: Jennifer Harbury's hunger strike aims to disprove claims that her rebel husband is dead.

By EDWARD ORLEBAR
SPECIAL TO THE TIMES

GUATEMALA CITY—A U.S. woman's three-week hunger strike here to protest what she claims is the illegal detention of her guerrilla husband is putting a strain on Guatemala's relations with the United States.

Jennifer Harbury, a 43-year-old Harvard Law School graduate who married guerrilla commander Efrain Bamaca in 1991, says she will continue her protest until her husband, missing since a battle in March, 1992, is handed over to the courts.

A cellular phone in one hand, Harbury has remained perched on blankets in the capital's main square, across from the Presidential Palace. She gives frequent news conferences and receives visits from U.S. government officials and human rights activists. The hunger strike, which entered its 20th day Sunday, is Harbury's second in just over a year; the first lasted six days.

The military and the government contend that Bamaca is dead, but Harbury says she believes he is being held in a clandestine army jail.

The case underscores the still-bleak human rights picture in Guatemala, where a long civil war claimed 100,000 lives, mostly civilians, in the 1980s. And it is angering the Guatemalan military, which in the last year has mounted a careful public relations campaign to alter its image as one of the most abusive armies in the hemisphere.

Guatemala's ambassador to the United States, Edmund Mulet, who was recalled for consultations last week, said he is receiving a hundred calls a day about the case, presumably from Harbury's well-organized support network. He said the case could threaten Guatemala's preferential trading status with the United States.

In response to pressure, President Ramiro de Leon Carpio said Thursday that he will order a special investigation, despite his stated belief that Bamaca is dead.

Harbury's demonstration is proving to be a headache as well for the U.S. government, which is trying to shore up De Leon's 15-month-old administration. U.S. officials have also taken great pains not to alienate what they see as the modernizing elements in the Guatemalan army under the direction of Defense Minister Gen. Mario Enriquez.

But after first trying to downplay the case, the U.S. Embassy is adopting a more aggressive public role.

"The case is very important to the U.S. government because of the involvement of a U.S. citizen and because it addresses certain fundamental issues of human rights," said John Hamill, an embassy spokesman. "We are disappointed there has not been more progress in the case but welcome the president's initiative."

De Leon, himself a former human rights ombudsman, took office after his predecessor tried to seize dictatorial powers in an ultimately unsuccessful coup. De Leon's presidency raised hopes that Guatemala's human rights record would improve and that its formal democracy would gain substance.

The government and the military signed a landmark human rights agreement in March as part of negotiations with Guatemala's leftist guerrillas aimed at ending the 33-year war. But abuses have only increased, activists say.

In August, the Roman Catholic Church's human rights office recorded 180 killings, at least 35 of them politically motivated, making it the worst month since the office opened five years ago.

Harbury argues that her husband's case casts doubts on the military's good faith.

Bamaca disappeared after a battle March 12, 1992. The army said he was wounded, killed himself to avoid capture and was buried.

But in January, 1993, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, another guerrilla who said he had escaped from army capture, told Harbury that he had seen her husband alive in military installations in 1992. Cabrera claimed that Bamaca was one of 35 rebels being held by the military in clandestine jails as part of a plan to break them down and use them as informants.

Harbury also says peasants in the western area of San Marcos and members of guerrilla counterintelligence have spotted Bamaca on numerous occasions since, usually entering or leaving a military base under heavy guard.

The military denies it is holding rebels or that clandestine jails exist, and has called the Harbury demonstration a guerrilla "show."

But the claim that Bamaca was buried has proved false. An exhumation in August, 1993, unearthed a shorter, younger man who appeared to have been shot with his hands tied behind his back.

Cabrera is due to testify this week before the Organization of American States. He has given Harbury names of the military personnel, including a colonel and a major, who he claims captured and tortured Bamaca. At least two, Harbury says, are graduates of the School of the Americas at Ft. Benning, Ga.

As a guerrilla for 17 years until his disappearance, Bamaca was a potential gold mine for military intelligence. "He knows every [rebel] face, every trail, every source of guns," Harbury said. "He knows everything."

Official: Suspect was burglar, not an assassin

MEXICO CITY — An armed man arrested near the home of President-elect Ernesto Zedillo was a burglar and not a would-be assassin, the attorney general's office said in a statement Friday.

Newspapers had reported that the man, identified as Lino Salazar Diaz, had broken into Zedillo's house Wednesday night and intended to kill him. Zedillo is to take office Dec. 1.

Salazar was caught with a .22 caliber weapon trying to burglarize the house of a Zedillo neighbor, the statement said.

■ Mexico and the United States and Mexico signed an agreement Friday to help catch money launderers by exchanging more financial information, Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen said.

COLOMBIA

Study: Volcano spewing gold

BOGOTA — A U.S. scientist claims that a volcano in southern Colombia is spewing a pound of gold a day, making authorities fear a rush of reckless prospectors.

About 45 pounds of gold from the Galeras Volcano become embedded in surrounding rock each year, according to the study by Fraser Goff of the Los Alamos National Laboratory in New Mexico, Colombian National Radio said Friday.

But Libaniel Casas, director of the government mining and geology center in Narino state, said the volcano releases much less gold and in fragments so small that they are of no commercial value.

ETC.

■ PUERTO RICO — The U.S. Customs Service said Friday it seized 1,617 pounds of cocaine worth about $22 million. The drug, wrapped in 15 bales, was dropped by an airplane near a dump in the city of Arecibo.

MINUGUA

3. THE MEETING WITH MINUGUA REPRESENTATIVES WAS PRIMARILY A COURTESY CALL IN THE ABSENCE OF CASTANON. DR. NUCCIO RAISED THE BAMACA DISAPPEARANCE, NOTING THAT IT WOULD LEND CREDIBILITY TO THE INVESTIGATION IF IT WERE TO BE VERIFIED BY MINUGUA. THIS WAS FOLLOWED BY A BRIEF DISCUSSION NOTING THAT IF A

DISAPPEARANCE CASE WERE ONGOING, IT SHOULD BE OPEN TO BEING PURSUED BY MINUGUA. CHARGES OF THE CONTINUED EXISTENCE OF CLANDESTINE PRISONS SHOULD ALSO BE WITHIN MINUGUA'S PURVIEW, AND THE MINUGUA REPRESENTATIVES NOTED THAT THE AGREEMENT GAVE THEM THE RIGHT OF ACCESS TO ALL MILITARY INSTALLATIONS. THEY NOTED, HOWEVER, THAT THEIR HEADQUARTERS AGREEMENT HAS NOT YET BEEN AGREED WITH THE GOG. NUCCIO CLOSED BY NOTING THAT MINUGUA INVOLVEMENT WOULD MAKE THE BAMACA CASE LESS A BILATERAL MATTER, WHICH WOULD BE HELPFUL.

FRIENDS

4. NUCCIO INFORMED THE FRIENDS THAT THE BAMACA CASE WAS ASSUMING A VERY HIGH PROFILE IN THE US, AND ESPECIALLY WAS ATTRACTING THE INTEREST OF CONGRESS. [redacted]

[redacted] B1

[redacted] THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD MADE A VERY HELPFUL PUBLIC STATEMENT ON THE CASE WHICH WOULD OPEN THE WAY TO ITS INVESTIGATION. SHE NOTED THAT HE HAD SAID PRIVATELY THIS MIGHT ALSO INCLUDE VERIFICATION BY MINUGUA. SHE STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF INTERNATIONAL INVOLVEMENT TO LEND CREDIBILITY TO ANY INVESTIGATION.

[redacted] NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT THE CLAIM IS THAT CLANDESTINE PRISONS CONTINUE TO EXIST AND THAT BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE, THUS IT IS NOT A PAST CASE. [redacted] B1

6. COMMENT: WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON'S APPROVAL AND MINUGUA'S CONCURRENCE, WE DO NOT EXPECT ANY INTERNATIONAL RESERVATIONS ABOUT MINUGUA'S ROLE IN THE BAMACA INVESTIGATION. HOWEVER, SOME DOMESTIC CRITICISM IS LIKELY ON SOVEREIGNTY GROUNDS. WE ALSO ANTICIPATE SOME NERVOUSNESS IN THE ARMY, WHICH PRESUMABLY ASSUMED THAT PAST DISAPPEARANCES WOULD BE DEALT WITH BY THE COMMISSION ON HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION, WHICH CANNOT ASSIGN INDIVIDUAL BLAME, RATHER THAN THE COURTS AND MINUGUA WHICH CAN.

Memorandum to the File - W/W Jennifer Harbury

From: Cons - Chuck Keil

Subject: Jennifer in Guatemala illegally?

Jennifer called at 1600 hrs this afternoon with an urgent report that, according to media sources, MinDef Enriquez was going to have her expelled from the country because she was here without a formal entry permit. Jennifer said that she had arrived from Mexico City via Mexicana on October 8. her passport contains an entry stamp issued at La Aurora airport that grants her a 90 day stay. She asked for Embassy assistance to convince the Guatemalan Government that she was here legally. I told her that I would advise the Ambassador and do the necessaries to confirm that she was here in legal status.

Subsequently, we called the Sub-director of Immigration and confirmed her arrival data as provided above. The Immigration office faxed us a barely legible copy of the arrival manifest for the Mexicana flight listing Jennifer. They indicated that she had no problem from an immigration standpoint. At the Ambassador's direction, I called Colonel Keller and asked him to contact the Minister's office to say that we had heard press reports that the Ministry was interested in Jennifer's immmigration status. Colonel Keller spoke with the Duty Officer, who said that he was unaware of any of the above and observed that, to his knowledge the Minister had been in the office all day and had not spoken to the media. He promised to check the story out and get back to us. Stay tuned.

MEMORANDUM

RELEASED

DATE: November 2, 1994

TO: ARA/CEN - Peg Willingham

THRU: DCM - John Keane

FROM: CONS - Carolyn Gorman

SUBJECT: Information on Possible Location of Bamaca Grave

Donaldo Garcia Palaez, Secretary General of the Supreme Court (Julio Rivera Claveria's replacement) informed Consul General and American Citizens Services consular officer this afternoon that they had received information which indicated that the body of URNG commander, Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, might be buried in an "XX" grave in the public cemetery of the town of Coatepeque. Congen and ACS officer went to Garcia Palaez' office for further details.

Judge Isnardo Roca, of the Third Penal Court of First Instance in Guatemala City was present and recounted to Congen and ACS officer what he had just explained to Garcia Palaez. He said that in March of 1992 (around the time that Bamaca disappeared), he was the Judge in the Court of First Instance in the town of Coatepeque, located about 55 km. from the town of Retahuleu. (Harbury said that the GOG told her Bamaca was buried in Retahuleu - site of the Aug. 1993 exhumation). Judge Roca remembered that in March 1992, his secretary had entered his office saying that there was a crowd of people in the park because two guerrillas, killed in combat had just been brought in in the back of a pick-up truck for burial. He specifically remembered that event because, according to Roca, there were very few altercations in that area between the army and guerrillas and very few casualties brought in. He said he did not go out to see the guerrillas.

About a month later, he continued, the Mexican Consul requested that Judge Roca order the exhumation of one of the two unidentified bodies because it was believed to be that of the Mexican jounalist, Fernando de la Mora y Bueno. In May 1992, Judge Roca ordered and attended that exhumation. He said that the two bodies were in plastic bags, buried one on top of the other. The first body was determined not to be that of Mr. de la Mora as it was only about 1 meter, 60 or 70 cm. tall and did not have his characteristics. (Bamaca is 1 meter 60 centimeters tall). The other body was positively identified as Mr. de la Mora by his wife.

Judge Roca said that he remembers reading an article in the Guatemalan newspaper, "Prensa Libre" about 3 months ago which said that Bamaca had been killed at the same time as Fernando de la Mora y Bueno. Roca said that Harbury's recent hunger strike suddenly caused him to remember that article and connect it to the fact that he had exhumed de la Mora's body and that there was another unidentified cadaver with it, both buried in March 1992. He believes the other body may be that of Efrain Bamaca.

Garcia Palaez said that Judge Roca would give a more formal declaration tomorrow to the Supreme Court. They were also requesting the presence of Jennifer Harbury, the Head of the Public Ministry, Asisclo Valladares, and someone from the Embassy. They felt that an exhumation would be useful and assured that they could arrange it quickly. Conoff asked that they arrange for a guard at the gravesite in the meantime, to which they agreed.

They agreed that more than one forensic doctor should be present if an exhumation were to take place, preferably one from the United States, but all present decided details could be discussed after Ms. Harbury had been informed.

ACS consular officer, after conferring with Ambassador and DCM, visited Jennifer Harbury at her hunger strike sight to tell her the news. As conoff began the story, Ms. Harbury interrupted almost immediately, maintaining that: 1. the article in the newspaper was false and the ex-guerrilla who had made the statements in the article told her (on videotape) that he had never been interviewed and the article was a "plant" and 2. she was already aware of the guerrillas buried in Coatepeque and they had been killed in a different firefight, not far from the site of her husband's firefight, two weeks earlier or later in March. (She said she remembered because her husband was very upset to learn that his friend, whom she thinks was de la Mora, was killed....but almost in the same sentence, she said she couldn't remember if de la Mora or her husband was killed first.) She also later said that the article, which she remembered as being from August, did not say anything about de la Mora and Bamaca being killed together, and that she has never seen an article which refers to that. (Embassy is trying to find the article).

Ms. Harbury said that the judge's memory was quite correct and that the dead guerrillas (and the journalist) were, according to her memory, in fact taken to Coatepeque, but that they died two weeks before (or after - she wasn't sure) her husband's death in a different firefight. She said she had been through all the relevant files and had records in her office in the states. Conoff asked her to try to call her office and have any relevant documents sent by fax to the Embassy for presentation to the judge tomorrow.

Harbury also said that as forensic evidence for use at an exhumation, she has a video of Bamaca in which it can be seen that he has no metalwork in his teeth. But she added that she was not willing to attend another fruitless exhumation and she is convinced that this one would be. Harbury said she will thank the judge for his good intentions but put the record straight tomorrow. ACS officer will accompany.

On the chance that the court will decide to pursue the exhumation anyway, we are working on options for bringing in a capable, unbiased forensic expert. The question of who will pay would have to be resolved. It appears that the only material upon which identification could be based would be the videotape, a photo of Bamaca's face, and Jennifer Harbury's personal identification. We will also look into any other possibilities (i.e. DNA, finding family members, etc.) if it is decided to pursue the exhumation. We should have a clearer picture by tomorrow afternoon, after the meeting at the Supreme Court.

Interview With Jennifer Harbury
Guatemala City
Sunday, October 23, 1994 and Saturday, October 29, 1994

Preliminary

As part of a Sister Parish delegation of the St. Francis of Assisi Church of Raleigh, NC to Guatemala, we were able to spend time with Jennifer Harbury at the beginning and end of our visit. She agreed to an interview with us and urged us to send the message on to officials and those concerned with the situation in Guatemala, politically, socially and spiritually. On October 11, 1994 Jennifer started her hunger strike at the Central Plaza in Guatemala City facing the National Palace. The yellow letters on the black banners read, "Everardo I love you. Your life is my life. I will wait for you here to the end."; "Army, what happened to the Human Rights Accord?"; "Army, why do you value private property so much but human life so little?" and "Army of Guatemala: True peace, yes, False peace, no." What follows is a word for word transcription of the interview conducted by myself and other members of Sister Parish.

13th Day of Hunger Strike - October 23, 1994

My name is Jennifer Harbury, I am a U.S. citizen, I am 42, I am an attorney. I've been practicing since 1978 in South Texas. This is my husband Efraín Bámaca Velásquez (she shows a 8 by 10 black and white picture of her husband. During the remainder of the interview she keeps it on her lap). He is a Mayan citizen of Guatemala. He is also known as Everardo Commandante Velásquez of URNG forces which is the United Front for the resistance forces here in Guatemala. Guatemala is 60% indigenous; so is the URNG: much more than 60% indigenous.

He was one of the original founders; he was ORFA's tenth member. ORFA being one of the four groups that are now forming the URNG. He'd been in the mountains for 17 years when he vanished and he is the URNG last surviving Mayan Commandante. They had many, but the army has killed them all. There are many other young Mayan officials rising through the ranks, but he is of particular significance to them both as a founder and the last surviving commander of Mayan heritage.

He disappeared in Tenero on March 12, 1992 in a skirmish at the Rio Ixcucu which is near the town of Rataluleo. That is in south west Guatemala near the Mexican Border. There was literally a lot of smoke, a lot of explosions and people took cover. When they looked up, he had just vanished into thin air. He was just not there; his boots were gone; his body was gone; his backpack was gone; his rifle was gone; everything was gone. [He was] the only guerilla to disappear during the combat at that place on that date. No one else was missing. The next day, the army issued a brief statement saying they had found the body in [an] olive green [outfit] near the river at the combat site, and were sending it to Rataluleo for [an] autopsy and burial as unidentified.

Logically, that had to be him, but there were a number of discrepancies in the story. The URNG commandantes became very worried, as was I, that a hoax was going on; and that in fact he was alive and being tortured. They called on Emelio de Leon Carpio who is now the president of Guatemala, but back then was the Human Rights Ombudsman, and asked him to go to the army and get forensic photographs, fingerprints, dental records, etc. of that body which are routinely taken of any one that's even considered suspicious, let alone of someone in olive green with a rifle and what he would have had in his backpack: maps, codes, you know, money, special battle correspondence, etc.

De Leon Carpio called back and said: They claimed they don't have that stuff, but I'll send you what I've got. And he sent back a description that matched my husband's feature by feature to the centimeter, saying he had been shot through the back and (that he) turned his rifle around and blew himself away, shot himself through the mouth to avoid being captured alive and that his cranium was destroyed and that was the cause of death.

For a long time I thought he was dead. But someone escaped from a military base named Santiago Cabrero Lopez at the end of 1992. Santiago had been in my husband's group for a long time; my husband was his commanding officer. Santiago was captured alive in 1991, a year before Everardo was. And he himself had been severely tortured for six months. He was hung up with his arms behind his back from a rifle hook until his arms turned black. He was beaten with construction blocks. He was beaten across the feet until all of his toenails fell out. He was chained to bed ends with hands and feet for five months straight. The only break he would get is when they took him to the morgues to see his dead friends. He was kept in a pit in the ground for five days and five nights straight. I could go on and on; he was beaten and tortured with electrical shocks and then he expected to be killed.

But instead, he was placed in a new experiment the army is conducting, G2 or intelligence is conducting, which is aimed at breaking a prisoner psychologically until he snaps and start working as a secret informant for intelligence division. That was done in the really famous case of Father Pelliser back in the early 80's. He was a liberal priest, was tortured horribly for months after he was kidnapped by the army. And he came back like a zombie talking about my brothers the soldiers and he has worked for army intelligence ever since. All of this priest's friends that tried to talk to him, ended up saying "you know the body came back alive, with someone else inside."

And what the army does is to torture people horribly that they've chosen for a very long time. Then they start breaking them down mentally and force them in to work with the army and they are told that if they ever escape, not only will they be picked up and killed, but their families will be massacred. Santiago was willing to talk because his family is not in Guatemala. The others will not talk. If they are asked anything, they'll say they are voluntarily with the army. They can't even tell other soldiers that they are prisoners there, dressed in army uniforms and forbidden to talk. Again with the consequence of either further torture or the killing of family members.

Santiago on March 12, 1992 saw my husband dragged into a military base on exactly the day he was captured. He was chained on bed ends with hands and feet just the way he had been for 20 days and 20 nights. He was actually able to talk to him briefly although they were always under heavy intelligence guard. After that he'd been told Everardo was taken away and that he tried to escape and was killed. For a long time he thought he was dead. But at the end of July 1992, he walked around a corner of another military base and walked right into him, again under heavy guard. And the G2 official started yelling that this prisoner can be with no one else. No one was supposed to ever see him and that this was an outrage and they had taken him to an infirmary and locked him in there.

And the next day, someone sent Santiago in to pick up a typewriter thinking by then he had been almost a year and a half that he was broken and really working for them. They trusted him completely by then. And he saw Everardo lying on a small bed with an unidentified gas tank next to the bed. He said he was blindfolded and his entire face and body was entirely swollen. He didn't know what had been done to him and that one arm and leg were completely bandaged as if they were ruptured, and that he was raving. They called for a doctor to make sure that they didn't accidentally kill him. He is a commander, a founder, he has 17 years worth of experience, he is a treasure chest of information. They don't want to kill him, they want to break him so that he works for them.

Santiago was able to escape that Christmas. He actually saw Everardo one more time a few days later after that torture session and he was alive although he looked ill. The swelling had gone down completely, he voice was normal but he was dressed in army uniform again so he couldn't see the arm or leg. Santiago went to the United Nations, I went to OAS. Americas Watch and Amnesty International all shrieked. A number of US Congress people signed on to a protest letter. And of course the army said Santiago is lying, he's a drunk, he is black-mailing us, it's a propaganda stunt by the subversives and we don't have your husband.

So, it went to Guatemala with my marriage certificate and demanded an exhumation of the body where he was supposedly buried. And first I got to see judicial records, because I am his wife. And the one thing they had never counted on was anyone in Guatemala admitting they were the wife of an indigenous guerilla commander. If I was a Guatemalan, they would have shot me. You can't say that publicly down here. It is impossible. But I said it, and I am expensive. You know, aid could get cut off, as it should be. So I got to see the judicial records as a family member. I found the autopsy report of the body actually brought in from the Rio Ixcucu on March 12, 1992. The person was not 1.60m like by husband's is, he was 1.55m; he was not in his 30's but in his 20's, he was not clean shaven he had a moustache, he was not dark skinned, he was medium skinned; he had very tilted up oriental style eyes, which my husband doesn't have; he had a scar on his hand which my husband doesn't have; he didn't commit suicide. He had been tied by the ankles with this socks so tightly that the weaving pattern was etched into his skin. He had been fingerprinted, there was black ink on his finger tips. He'd been shot, he'd been stabbed, he'd been strangled, he had gravel stamped in his face and his skull was smashed in by rifle butt blows. I opened the grave, that is who was in there, an 18 year old who was beaten to death.

So I went to the minister of defense and said: You know what you've done is captured him alive, then you took him to a military base and started breaking him psychologically through physical and mental abuse until he starts working with you and to cover that whole thing up, you brought a different person from somewhere else, I don't know who it is even, took him up and you smashed him to pieces and said here is the body we found yesterday. How could you send my husbands' description feature by feature to the centimeter, instead of the kids' ?.

The minister of Defense came up with some arguments he has used ever since:
#1: We never had your husband in the first place, we found a body you yourself say is not him. We've never had him. That is it. Well, if you never had him in the first place, where did the feature by feature to the centimeter description come from and why did you send it when you were asked for a description of the body.
#2: The guerillas must have switched to body in the grave to make us look bad. But they used the autopsy report the day the body was buried. It wasn't him in the first place.
#3: That really is him in the grave. Yeah, 5 cm too short, different facial structures. I have a video of him:
#4: This must be a propaganda stunt.
#5: All indians look alike. No comment.
#6: If you can tell us where your husband is, we'll personally drive you out there.
Somehow, I've got to guess where they are holding and torturing my husband. It's not gonna work.

So, I've been to OAS, they issued protective orders, I have been to the United Nations and Pinto critized the minister severely back in the February session in her discourse in Geneva this year in 1994. This situation has been denounced strongly by every human rights organization I could get my hands on; the Kennedy Center, the Carter Center, Amnesty International, Americas Watch. Every single one has denounced it. But what I see is happening is that as of January the minister of defense was worried about this money from [Washington] DC and he started bargaining with me. Grossly over-simplifying the conversation we had, what it boiled down to was that he said they never had him in the first place and what if we do a sweep of the jungle and capture him for you. What are you going to do. In that case I will probably sign a legal waiver of my rights to prosecute the major and colonel seen torturing him, who happened to be graduates of the school of the Americas. That won't sit well with Congress will it? Then he said, "Jennifer, you are such an intelligent woman, why don't you have another cup of coffee."

I had the same conversation in June. In August all doors were slammed in my face. And the reason why, is that they have been signing parts of the peace agreements. They signed the Human Rights accords which requires him legally right now to be in the hands of the Human Rights Ombudsman. They are violating their own human rights accords already! Human rights violations ironically sky-rocketed as soon as they signed the Human Rights accord at the end of March this year. What they are thinking is that by just being in the peace talks, signing anything, their money from Washington is safe and sound and that all international trade will not be cut. Because then, they would say you are hurting the peace process. Pretty good argument.

Meanwhile, they can wipe out the opposition as much as they want and there will be fewer consequences: exactly what's happening at the time the peace talks started. There is less incentive for them to turn him over to the courts. And, as of August the negotiations I was having with them just disintegrated. So, here I am, ready to give them a little wake-up call shall we say. That I am not going to stand for this, that I 'm not letting my husband be kidnapped and tortured for two and a half years and then dumped out of a helicopter. So they can just forget it! I am here until it is over.

They have to turn people over to the courts. There are 200.000 civilians in this population of 9 million, minimum that have been killed or disappeared by the death squads, which is the same, they are tortured to death. The figure is probably double. I lived here in '85 and '86. Almost never was a human rights violation reported because there was no one to report it to. There was no one allowed in this country, not even the International Red Cross. And if the death squads came and tore someone out of their bed, they would always be saying that if you talk to any one about this, they'd be back tomorrow for someone else. They are just now opening a grave of 1000 people in the Ixcan area. That is way more than was in Mosape. Like, it's got to stop.

They are signing these peace agreements and laughing in the face of the international community. This is a test case. If they get away with this with all this concrete evidence, there will never again be a case with this much concrete evidence. Almost never can any one be named. I can name every single one of them. If they get away with this, they will get away with everything. And they know it, they are testing us, so I am here for the test. I am very irritated.

Reporters told me that whenever my name comes up in a press conference with the Minister of Defense, his face turn purple. And the other day someone asked him: "And Jennifer?" and he said "Our enemies are very agile" (Laughs). Thanks for listening.

[At this point Jennifer completes her story and we continue with a brief question and answer session]

Jennifer (JH): Who are you visiting down here?
Sister Parish (SP): We are with an organization called Sister Parish. We are on our way to Cantabal.
JH: You are not visiting here with local officials?
SP: There are no meetings scheduled at this point. I think what you are doing here is amazing.

JH: It has to be done. I am counting on being here quite a while. I have high motivation.
SP: Where did you grow up in the States?
JH: I grew up in New England (Connecticut) and I have been in Texas for years and right now I am in DC.
SP: You are a long way from home ...
JH: Fine with me. I have been in Guatemala for a decade now. Before that I was active in human rights.

SP: How long have you been married to your husband?
JH: We met in '90 in the mountains. I was coming up there to interview people for the human rights. We married in '91 while he came to Mexico for the peace talks.
SP: Does the Guatemalan government recognize you are a citizen since you married a Guatemalan citizen?
JH: I don't know. I guess I could apply for that. Right now as a US Citizen I am expensive. They may not get money.
SP: But they must be comfortable with the $40 million that they recently got.
JH: When did that happen?
SP: I believe it was in April of this year.
JH: Was it AID money?
SP: Yes...
JH: But there was no military assistance right?
SP: No there wasn't.
JH: I would like the trade status to get shady. They would change their attitude overnight. What we have to stop doing is say: Please be good, here is your check. Sounds crazy right? Well, the US is doing business with the Western Hemisphere's worst violator of human rights according to Amnesty International. What we need to do is say: Change your ways: your check is in the drawer. For some reason our government does not want to do that. They are not requesting change and that is just plain stupid. Also, concerning the Ortiz case, we should be making headlines news. This is an outrage. But all cases have been censored out of the press. The only thing that is going to get front page press is when a white person, a white US citizen, starts to look like she's in trouble, then some people will start jumping. But the only way I can save his life is to chain his to me, and then hurt myself. Somehow this is all more important than the fact that he has been tortured for two and a half years. Who cares. Just an indian, right? And we know what our own country has done to its own indigenous people. So, I basically have to do this to myself to make anyone pay attention to what is happening to him.

SP: Jennifer, what can we do to help?
JH: Try to get hold of the White House, the Congress, the State Department. And tell them to take urgent action. We cannot let Guatemala laugh us in the face. And we should not give money. Let alone laugh in the face of the UN which is what they are doing. All they need to do is to pull the trigger, it shouldn't be so hard.

SP: How about the European Community. What should they do?
JH: The same thing. They shouldn't support them and not buy from the Guatemala coffee market. All we need to do is to make it more expensive for the Guatemalan government to violate human rights. If it is more expensive, they'll change. And not one day before. It is very profitable now the way it is.

SP: Who in the state department should be aware of this?
JH: Undersecretary Nuccio should be aware. He has been conducting the peace talks. But you can't go wrong contacting more people.
SP: What is your gut feeling of what will happen?
JH: Something is going to give, but I don't know what. They are not going to let me go into convulsions. But someone is going to give and who knows what it will be.

SP: I understand the US ambassador has been here several times and what is her opinion?
JH: She always says at my question of what will happen if they kill him, that the US cannot cut off benefits. She may think she is very supportive these days. She asked congress to remove my case from a resolution in May, and then she tells me that she's treating all cases equally. So I confronted her. I asked her to please check your records and she said: She can't recommend to cut off aid for an individual case. And I said that my case was a test case. She says: Well, he's a combatant. And I said: Well, that's not a legal distinction is it? And she freaked and said no. Now she is real friendly and sweet and she loves me. Now she sends out her patrol cars at nights. But there is no value attached to his life. There is nothing. She doesn't want to deal with the criticism internationally. It is just window dressing. She has been around forever. She's a professional. She does whatever the State Department tells her to do. State Department wants any piece of paper signed on the peace agreement so we can unlock the Guatemalan doors and be profitable. An this case is very embarrassing for the peace talks. The army is sitting at the peace talk table saying to the guerillas: Put your guns down on the basis of trust. But at the same time they are pulling a commander and a founders' finger nails out in a secret prison. It doesn't look good and they are already violating their human rights accord. Which also doesn't look good. So, it's a lot easier to say he is dead. But the ambassador is changing her tune. Now she is mentioning the case, but it is not enough.

SP: I noticed a lot of people were talking to you yesterday. Mayas were telling you their own story? Have some seen your husband lately?
JH: Well, there are always little mentionings of people saying they see him here or there, you know. But I don't want to get my hopes up. On the other hands, the minister of Defense is still bargaining with me.

SP: Who are the members of congress behind you?
JH: There is quite a few. Morelli, Cirrano, Sen. Leahy, Pat Murray and Mosely Brown's office has been great. Feinstein has also been sympathetic.

SP: Your single goal is to get your husband back alive, is that right?
JH: I'll fast until they present him to the courts. I hope we can break that cycle of not turning people over to the courts.

SP: Thank you. We'll keep you in our thoughts and prayers during our travels. We'll be back next Saturday.
JH: Thank you. Have a great trip. I'll be here.

19th Day of Hunger Strike - October 29, 1994

We have returned to Guatemala City after a 5 day stay in the Playa Grande area to be with the Mayan poor people. Upon our return we read that Jennifer is doing fine and that she has gotten some reaction from Washington. I am conducting the interview now on behalf of our Sister Parish delegation.

HU: Good Morning Jennifer. You got some reaction from Nuccio as we read in the papers yesterday.
JH: Oh really? What did it say?
HU: Well it had a picture of you with Nuccio and the ambassador and one paper basically said that it was all a show. The other paper was pretty fair in stating the facts. But there was not much detail. Both papers said your husband disappeared.
JH: I put a paid ad in the paper the other day just explaining all the facts because my Guatemalan friends said they could not get those in the paper. It gets in a little bit, but then it gets censored out. But Peoples Magazine, NPR, Newsweek have just been here. It's been in the NY Times twice, its really starting to explode. 60 Minutes is here. And the pressure is on the ambassador of the US, and the Guatemalan ambassador in the US is getting over a hundred phone calls a day. So does the state department, so does the White House. So things have heated up a lot and that is why Nuccio was here the other day to talk to the minister of defense, and to the president and to see basically if anything could be done.

So, Nuccio talked to me after the meetings and what he said made me absolutely furious. He said he asked the minister of defense point blank whether he had negotiated with me and he said that the minister convinced him that that did not happen, it must be in my imagination and that I just should keep my hopes up. That is not really how it was. #1: Nuccio wasn't there, #2: no one was there because they didn't want any witnesses in my negotiations obviously, #3: this is a guy who lies and keeps saying we never had him in the first place.

The president has promised a special investigatory commission. This happens all the time. They did it for Ortiz. And basically that is a way of defusing the pressure. Every one goes home, it all dies down and I get half forgotten. The commission hangs around for a while, they torture a few witnesses and try to make them talk and those answers don't make any sense. Then they come up with some confusing story. They don't need this special commission. I've already been there, investigating one and a half years. The OAS has and the United Nations commission on forced disappearances has investigated it. We have letters in black and white, signed by the president of Guatemala. We have the autopsy on film. We have the exhumation on film, we have everything.

HU: Exhumation of another body than that of your husband.
JH: Right. We have all the info. I want my husband back. I'm not leaving such that we go around in circles for another couple of years and then they could say, yes he was alive at the time of the hunger strike, but now they killed him... . Tragic accident of the past. This cannot be forgiven or forgotten in the name of peace. I am staying right here. They can have access to my files. I'll be glad to cooperate but now is not the time to start investigating. That happened two years ago. Now is the time to fork him over. If he is dead, they can show me his body.

HU: It looks to us that in order to resolve this, they'll have to find a scapegoat if they want to bring him in.
JH: Well, they have a problem with this because I have the names of everyone who tortured him. I will give them a face saving way out. I can't discuss this now, but I have offered that to them many times. There are lots of things they can do, but they have never given anyone back alive before and they don't want to start now. So we are basically stonewall to stonewall. I ain't leaving and they don't want to give him up.

HU: People have escaped before but it looks like, given the situation, he won't have a chance to escape.
JH: Well, look at the last guy that escaped. It was a big problem for them wasn't it?
HU: What has happened to Santiago since?
JH: He's giving testimony to OAS in Washington right now. He will be leaving there and go underground. He can't stay in the US. He will be in another country, but he was in DC long enough to give his witness statement.

HU: Was any further statement made by Nuccio as far as a follow up on his part?
JH: No, he was a little disturbed that I didn't like the news that the president had given him. He thought that it was the perfect solution. And I told him that I couldn't agree and I openly criticized him for believing the minister of defense about the negotiations I had with him. I specifically told him never to mention that in negotiations in a face saving way out. I told him point blank about my negotiations. I really don't think that Nuccio is stupid. I do think he may be in this by fate. I also think his sky-rocketing career with the State Department is intent on solving the 35 year old war in Central America. I try to stay in the light.

HU: Do you think he was here because he had to be here for other reasons or was he here for your case?
JH: Apparently the case is very hot in Washington on very high levels.
HU: We transcribed your interview from last Sunday and we will do the same to this interview. Do you mind if we send that around?
JH: Not at all. You can use it any way you want. What went on here with Nuccio by the way, was an attempt at a little white washing and I turned it down. Thank you very much. I'd rather starve.

HU: How are you doing?
JH: I am doing fine, as long as I keep drinking this electrolyte solution. It tastes horrible but it has lots of minerals, potassium and a tiny amount of sugar. So that I can chemically function. So all I have to do is lose more weight.
HU: Well, we are going back tomorrow and we hope to hear good reports there. Thank you very much Jennifer.
JH: Thank you.

OF MINUGUA'S RESPONSE TO PRESIDENT DE LEON'S REQUEST FOR SUPPORT, THE GLOBAL PROBLEM BEHIND THE SPECIFIC CASE, AND THE ADVANTAGES TO MINUGUA OF ESTABLISHING RELATIONSHIPS WITHIN THE GOG WHICH COULD COME FROM EARLY COLLABORATION. FRANCO'S PRINCIPAL CONCERN WAS THAT MINUGUA NOT RAISE EXPECTATIONS OF ITS CURRENT CAPABILITY WHICH WOULD LEAD TO DISAPPOINTMENT AND LOSS OF CONFIDENCE IN ITS ABILITY. END SUMMARY.

3. ON OCTOBER 31, AMBASSADOR COWAL DELIVERED REF A DEMARCHE ON MINUGUA SUPPORT FOR INVESTIGATING THE BAMACA AND OTHER DISAPPEARANCES TO GILBERTO SCHLITTLER (UN OFFICE DIRECTOR FOR LATIN AMERICA, POLITICAL AFFAIRS) AND JEAN ARNAULT (MODERATOR IN THE PEACE PROCESS). USUN POLOFF AND MINUGUA DESK OFFICER DENISE COOK TOOK NOTES. COWAL EMPHASIZED THAT THE SITUATION, ALTHOUGH UNFORSEEN, COULD SERVE THE UN AND PRESIDENT DE LEON WELL, IF IT HELPS ESTABLISH WIDESPREAD SUPPORT FOR MINUGUA AND A RELATIONSHIP OF TRUST BETWEEN THE GOG AND MINUGUA.

4. SCHLITTLER AND ARNAULT WERE CIRCUMSPECT BUT INCLINED TO BE SUPPORTIVE. SCHLITTLER SAID CASTANON HAD SPOKEN TO THE PRESS IN GUATEMALA THAT MORNING INDICATING MINUGUA'S WILLINGNESS TO ENGAGE, ALTHOUGH ONLY AFTER IT OPENED ITS OFFICES, HE HOPED ON NOV 11. THE "SOMA" (STATUS OF MISSION AGREEMENT) HAD YET TO BE SIGNED; THE UN WOULD NOT LIKE TO DO ANYTHING TO JEOPARDIZE QUICK ACTION ON THIS. [redacted] B1

5. AT SCHLITTLER'S SUGGESTION, WE FOLLOWED UP WITH A MEETING ON NOV. 3 WITH MINUGUA HEAD FRANCO. FRANCO AGREED THAT WHILE THE BAMACA CASE HELPED FOCUS ATTENTION ON WHAT APPEARED TO BE A DETERIORATING HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA, IT RISKED TARRING

MINUGUA AT THE OUTSET AS RESPONSIVE TO POLITICAL PRESSURE. MINUGUA WOULD LOOK AT THE CASE ON ITS OWN MERITS TO DETERMINE IF IT WAS SOMETHING FOR THE AS-YET UNCONSTITUTED TRUTH COMMISSION (EVENTS OF THE PAST) OR THE VERIFICATION MISSION (ONGOING SITUATIONS). HOWEVER, FRANCO ADDED THAT MINUGUA PERSONNEL IN THE FIELD WERE DOING WHAT THEY COULD AND HAD SPOKEN NOV. 2 WITH MS. HARBURY. IF DE LEON SIMPLY WANTED MINUGUA'S GOOD OFFICES BEFORE THE SOMA WAS SIGNED AND THE OFFICE ESTABLISHED, HE THOUGHT MINUGUA WOULD BE ABLE TO GIVE ITS "FULL COOPERATION." AMB. COWAL THANKED HIM FOR BEING AS RESPONSIVE AS POSSIBLE TO PRESIDENT DE LEON AND NOTED THAT IT WOULD BE BEST FOR MINUGUA IN THE LONG RUN IF IT DID NOT LET ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES PREVENT IT FROM ADDRESSING ITS VERIFICATION WORK.

6. ON NOV 1, AMB. COWAL BRIEFED THE FRIENDS ON HER OCT 31 MEETING AND HOPED THE FRIENDS WOULD SUPPORT OUR CALL FOR MINUGUA TO TAKE AN EARLY AND FORWARD-LEANING ROLE. ALL WERE AWARE OF THE SITUATION BUT NONE KNEW THAT PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD SOUGHT MINUGUA'S HELP. [redacted] B1
[redacted] EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT THE U.S. WAS SINGLING OUT ONE PARTICULAR CASE. THE [redacted] B1
EMBASSY IN GUATEMALA WAS CONCERNED THAT THE US WAS ASKING MINUGUA TO DO TOO MUCH AND MICROMANAGING MINUGUA'S PRIORITIES AND THE INVESTIGATION OF THE BAMACA CASE. DRAWING FROM THE INSTRUCTIONS, AMB. COWAL SAID THAT THE US HOPED TO USE THIS CASE TO HELP DE LEON TO INVESTIGATE NOT ONLY INDIVIDUAL DISAPPEARANCES BUT ALSO CLANDESTINE PRISONS. [redacted] AGREED THAT B1

E.O. 12356: ~~DECL:OADR~~
TAGS: ~~CASC~~, PHUM, PINS, PGOV, PINR, GT
SUBJECT: COALITION MISSING/AMBASSADOR MEET ON HARBURY

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: AMBASSADOR MET ON NOVEMBER 1, A NATIONAL HOLIDAY IN GUATEMALA, WITH 3 MEMBERS OF "COALITION MISSING", INCLUDING SISTER DIANA ORTIZ, AND 3 REPRESENTATIVES OF THE U.S. CATHOLIC COMMUNITY TO DISCUSS THE HARBURY CASE. THE GROUP BELIEVES THAT THE GOG IS HOLDING URNG GUERRILLA LEADER, EFRAIN BAMACA, OR KNOWS HE IS DEAD AND WHERE HIS BODY LIES. THEY FEEL THAT THE INVESTIGATIVE PROCESS INITIATED LAST WEEK IS "NOTHING BUT A SMOKESCREEN" WHICH WILL DELAY ACTION AND WHICH, IF HE IS ALIVE, RESULT IN BAMACA'S BEING KILLED. THE GROUP INSISTED THAT THE U.S. GOVERNMENT AND EMBASSY DEMAND THAT THE GOG FIRST PRODUCE BAMACA, DEAD OR ALIVE, AND THEN PROCEED WITH ANY INVESTIGATION. THEY ARGUED IN FAVOR OF TRADE SANCTIONS AGAINST GUATEMALA TO INDUCE THE GOG TO COOPERATE. AMBASSADOR EMPHASIZED THAT OUR POLICY IS MULTIFACETED: WE VIGOROUSLY PURSUE JUSTICE IN INDIVIDUAL CASES, WE ATTEMPT TO STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS THROUGH BUILDING BETTER INSTITUTIONS (SUCH AS MORE EFFECTIVE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE), AND WE WORK WITH THE OTHER FRIENDS IN ASSISTING THE PEACE PROCESS. AMBASSADOR EXPLAINED THAT TRADE SANCTIONS WOULD NOT WORK AND WOULD BE COUNTERPRODUCTIVE, HARMING THE VERY PEOPLE, THE POOR AND OPPRESSED, WHOM THE GROUP WAS TRYING TO HELP. MOREOVER, IT WOULD INCREASE THE INFLUENCE OF THE MOST REGRESSIVE ELEMENTS OF THE MILITARY AND SOCIETY. THE GROUP RETORTED THAT HARDLINERS HAVE CONTROL OF THE MILITARY, WHICH CALLS THE SHOTS IN THE GOG, THEREBY RENDERING IRRELEVANT THE USG'S EFFORTS IN THESE OTHER AREAS. THE GROUP WAS INTERVIEWED BY A TEAM FROM "60 MINUTES" AFTER THE MEETING. ON A SEPARATE ISSUE, EMBASSY IS WORKING WITH THE GOG TO CLARIFY MS. HARBURY'S IMMIGRATION STATUS IN THE COUNTRY. END SUMMARY.

3. THE GROUP CONSISTED OF RELIGIOUS LEADERS AND MEMBERS OF "COALITION MISSING", WHICH IS AN ORGANIZATION OF U.S. CITIZENS WHO IDENTIFY THEMSELVES AS DIRECTLY AFFECTED BY OFFICIAL AND RIGHT-WING VIOLENCE IN GUATEMALA. THIS GROUP, FORMED IN THE U.S., INCLUDES JENNIFER HARBURY, DIANA ORTIZ, JACKY AND SAM BLAKE, AMONG OTHERS. PRESENT AT THE NOV. 1ST VISIT TO THE EMBASSY WERE DIANA ORTIZ, MEREDITH

LARSEN, AND JOSH ZIMMER. ACCOMPANYING THEM WERE MARIE DENNIS, A CATHOLIC NUN, BISHOP GUMBLETON FROM DETROIT, AND FATHER JONANGLE WHO IS A PERSONAL FRIEND OF JENNIFER HARBURY. ALSO PRESENT WERE DCM, PAO, USIS INFORMATION OFFICER, CONSUL GENERAL, AMERICAN CITIZENS SERVICES OFFICER, AND EMBASSY HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICER.

NO DOUBTS: THE ARMY IS HOLDING BAMACA

4. THE GROUP STATED THAT THE EVIDENCE IS CLEAR THAT THE MILITARY IS HOLDING OR HAD EFRAIN BAMACA. THE BISHOP STATED THAT THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE HAD INDICATED TO JENNIFER LAST JANUARY THAT SHE WOULD BE RE-UNITED WITH HER HUSBAND IN THE NEAR FUTURE; NOW HE HAS EVIDENTLY BEEN PRESSURED BY HARDLINERS TO BACKTRACK AND HE IS STONEWALLING. BAMACA IS LIKELY TO BE KILLED UNDER THESE CIRCUMSTANCES UNLESS THE USG ACTS SOON TO PRESSURE THE GOG AND STAND UP FOR BAMACA'S LIFE AND FOR ACCOUNTABILITY. REFERRING TO PRESIDENT DE LEON'S ANNOUNCEMENT OF A NEWLY-FORMED COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE BAMACA CASE, THEY AFFIRMED THAT THE OAS AND UN HAD ALREADY INVESTIGATED AND ANY SUCH EFFORT AT THIS POINT ON THE PART OF THE GOG WAS A "SMOKESCREEN." THEY INSISTED THAT THE EMBASSY DEMAND THE GOG PRODUCE BAMACA OR HIS BODY IMMEDIATELY, AND THEN INVESTIGATE THE CASE.

BAMACA A "TEST CASE" FOR THE USG AND THE GT ARMY

5. THE GROUP ARGUED THAT IF THE EMBASSY WANTS TO SUPPORT MODERATE, PROGRESSIVE ELEMENTS IN THE GOG MILITARY, THIS CASE IS THE PERFECT OPPORTUNITY FOR THEM TO SHOW THEIR "GOOD FAITH." AS FAR AS THEY ARE CONCERNED, BAMACA IS ALSO THE "TEST CASE" TO PROVE THAT THE USG WILL NOT TOLERATE GUATEMALAN MILITARY IMPUNITY. THEY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT A GREAT EFFORT WAS MADE TO BUILD THE KIND OF PRESSURE THAT HAS BEEN MOUNTED IN THE U.S., AND THEY HOPED IT WOULD WORK, OR THIS WOULD DEMONSTRATE TO THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY THAT THEY CAN GET AWAY WITH ANYTHING INDEFINITELY. SISTER DENNIS STRESSED THAT A PEACE ACCORD WITHOUT AN END TO HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES AND ACCOUNTABILITY BY THE MILITARY FOR ALL THEIR ATROCITIES WOULD BE A SHAM. THE BISHOP VOLUNTEERED THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO SEE HAPPEN HERE WHAT HAPPENED IN EL SALVADOR AT THE END OF HOSTILITIES, THAT IS, NO END TO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, NO IMPLEMENTATION OF LAND REFORM AGREEMENTS AND NO FUNDAMENTAL STRUCTURAL REFORMS IN SOCIETY.

U. S. POLICY FOSTERING HUMAN RIGHTS

6. THE AMBASSADOR POINTED OUT THAT THE EMBASSY HAS FOLLOWED A THREE-PRONGED APPROACH IN ITS POLICY TOWARD GUATEMALA WHICH INCLUDES ATTENTION TO INDIVIDUAL HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, THE BUILDING OF DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND THE PROMOTION OF THE PEACE PROCESS. SHE OFFERED A DETAILED ACCOUNTING OF PROGRESS IN THE AREAS OF DEMOCRATIC CHANGE, HUMAN RIGHTS, THE JUDICIARY, THE CONGRESS, ETC. AND THE USG'S ROLE IN PROMOTING THAT PROGRESS THROUGH VARIOUS ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS AND FACILITATION OF COMMUNICATION AMONG OPPOSING GROUPS. SHE EXPLAINED THAT IN HER VIEW, TRADE AND ECONOMIC SANCTIONS WOULD HURT THE VERY PEOPLE THAT THIS GROUP WAS TRYING TO HELP AND

WOULD NEGATIVELY AFFECT THE CHANCE FOR CONTINUED PROGRESS IN THE AREAS LISTED ABOVE. MOREOVER, SUCH STEPS WOULD STRENGTHEN THE HAND OF HARDLINERS IN SOCIETY AND THE MILITARY, WHO HAVE BEEN ECLIPSED IN THEIR INFLUENCE SINCE THE AUTOCOUP BY THOSE WITH A DEMOCRATIC VISION IN FAVOR OF ADVANCING HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE PEACE PROCESS. SHE STATED THAT CUTTING OFF GSP PRIVILEGES AND OTHER TRADE OR ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS WAS A DRACONIAN MEASURE AND COULD VERY WELL "KILL THE PATIENT" IN THE INTEREST OF CURING THE ILLNESS.

DISAGREEMENT OVER UTILITY OF AN INVESTIGATION

7. THE GROUP RESPONDED THAT THE HARDLINERS ARE REALLY IN CONTROL IN THE MILITARY (ONE SAID SINCE THE SERRANO AUTO-COUP!), WHICH IN TURN CONTROLS THE GOVERNMENT, AND THAT THE EMBASSY'S EFFORTS IN THE AREAS OF INSTITUTION-BUILDING AND PROMOTION OF THE PEACE PROCESS WILL AMOUNT TO NAUGHT IF THE MILITARY CONTINUES TO CONTROL THE GOG AND ENJOY UNRESTRICTED IMPUNITY. THEY THEN RETURNED TO THEIR ORIGINAL DEMAND THAT THE U.S. EMBASSY REQUIRE THE RETURN OF BAMACA OR HIS BODY BEFORE ANY INVESTIGATION BEGINS, BACKED UP BY THE THREAT OF CONSEQUENCES IF THE GOG DOES NOT COMPLY. AMBASSADOR AND DCM POINTED OUT THAT ALTHOUGH THE EMBASSY HAS ALWAYS OPERATED ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT BAMACA MAY BE ALIVE, IT DID NOT IN FACT HAVE ANY HARD EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT THAT ASSUMPTION OR CLAIMS SUCH AS THOSE BY THE MILITARY AND GOG TO THE CONTRARY. FOR THAT REASON, THE EMBASSY SUPPORTS THE IDEA OF A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION TO CLARIFY THE MANY UNANSWERED QUESTIONS IN THIS CASE. LARSEN SAID SHE HOPED THE EMBASSY WOULD NOT BELIEVE THE WORD OF THE MOD AGAINST JENNIFER, "A HARVARD EDUCATED LAWYER WHO HAS STUDIED A GREAT DEAL ABOUT GUATEMALAN LAW" (SIC). (COMMENT: WE DID NOT PICK UP THAT GAUNTLET.)

8. SISTER DENNIS ASKED WHAT MIGHT BE THE UNANSWERED QUESTIONS THAT NEEDED TO BE CLARIFIED. DCM REPLIED THAT AN INQUIRY MIGHT LOGICALLY START WITH INTERVIEWS OF ALL THOSE PRESENT AT THE MARCH 12 FIREFIGHT TO ASK THEM WHAT THEY KNEW ABOUT WHAT HAPPENED TO BAMACA, AND THEN PROCEED WITH INTERVIEWS OF PERSONS AT THE MILITARY BASES AT THE TIME, ETC. DCM NOTED THAT DE LEON HAS ANNOUNCED AN INVESTIGATION AND WAS ALSO

CONSIDERING THE POSSIBILITY OF INTERNATIONAL ACCOMPANIMENT, AND THAT WE UNDERSTOOD FROM MINUGUA THAT THEY WERE GIVING THIS OPTION FAVORABLE CONSIDERATION. ONE OF THE GROUP RETORTED THAT THAT IS FRUITLESS BECAUSE THE MILITARY WILL NOT COOPERATE. IT WOULD GO NOWHERE LIKE ALL OTHER INVESTIGATIONS IN GUATEMALA AND WOULD TAKE A LOT OF TIME THAT IS UNNECESSARY, SINCE EVERYONE KNOWS THAT MILITARY HAVE HIM OR KNOW WHERE HE IS. AMBASSADOR POINTED OUT HISTORIC IMPORTANCE OF THIS KIND OF ACCOMPANIED INVESTIGATION AND SIGNIFICANCE FOR THIS AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS CASES IN BREAKING THE CYCLE OF IMPUNITY.

9. PAO ADDED THAT THE GROUP SHOULD BE AWARE THAT ATTITUDES OF GUATEMALANS TOWARD THE CASE DIFFER SIGNIFICANTLY FROM THOSE OF AMERICANS, AND THIS ENVIRONMENT NEEDS TO BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT AS THEY ANALYZE THE SITUATION. HE NOTED THAT MANY GUATEMALANS, AS REFLECTED IN THE MEDIA AND PERSONAL COMMENTS, ARE RESENTFUL OF AMERICANS TRYING TO INTERFERE IN GUATEMALAN INTERNAL AFFAIRS, OR OF THE

ENORMOUS IMPORTANCE GIVEN TO THE FATE OF BAMACA WHEN TENS OF THOUSANDS OF OTHER GUATEMALANS HAVE DIED ON BOTH SIDES OF THE CONFLICT, OR OF THE ATTEMPT TO USE ECONOMIC/TRADE SANCTIONS AGAINST GUATEMALA. HE NOTED THAT THE PRESENCE OF WIDOWS OF GUATEMALAN SOLDIERS NOW IN THE PLAZA AS A COUNTER-DEMONSTRATION IS AN ILLUSTRATION OF THE ENVIRONMENT. LARSEN RETORTED THAT THEY ARE CONVINCED GUATEMALANS SUPPORT HARBURY,

AND CITED THE GAM SOLIDARITY DEMONSTRATION. JONANGLE REPLIED THAT HE ONLY KNEW OF THE SUPPORT OF HUNDREDS OF GUATEMALANS WHO HAVE COME TO THEM TO EXPRESS SOLIDARITY IN THE PLAZA, BUT WOULD BE INTERESTED IN RECEIVING MORE INFORMATION ABOUT OTHER VIEWS. THE PAO WILL PROVIDE CLIPPINGS ON THE RASH OF ARTICLES, COLUMNS AND LETTERS TO THE EDITOR IN THE GUATEMALAN MEDIA THAT WERE TOUCHED OFF BY HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE.

CHANNELS OF COMMUNICATION TO URNG

10. THE AMBASSADOR EXPRESSED HOPE THAT CHANNELS OF COMMUNICATION REMAIN OPEN TO THE URNG SO THAT ANY IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS CAN BE DISCUSSED (E.G., IN CASE THE GUATEMALAN ARMY WERE TO PRODUCE BAMACA). SHE ASKED IF JENNIFER HAD ANY RECENT CONTACTS WITH THE URNG. VISIBLY UNNERVED BY THE QUESTION, LARSEN SAID SHE THOUGHT SHE DID, BUT SHE WASN'T SURE, WHILE DENNIS SAID SHE DID SOME TIME AGO BUT DID NOT KNOW WHEN THE MOST RECENT CONTACT OCCURRED.

VISA STATUS

11. ON ANOTHER FRONT, EMBASSY LEARNED YESTERDAY THAT THE GUATEMALAN MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT PUBLICLY CALLED INTO QUESTION MS. HARBURY'S IMMIGRATION STATUS IN THE COUNTRY, CLAIMING THAT THERE WAS NO RECORD THAT SHE HAD ENTERED THROUGH THE GUATEMALAN AIRPORT AND WAS LEGALLY IN THE COUNTRY. CONGEN CHECKED WITH [redacted] BY IMMIGRATION AT THE AIRPORT ENROUTE FROM MEXICO AND POSSESSED PERMISSION TO REMAIN IN THE COUNTRY FOR 90 DAYS. MS. HARBURY ALSO PRESENTED HER ENTRY STAMP AND 90-DAY PERMIT TO GUATEMALAN TELEVISION REPORTERS. EMBASSY OFFICIALS ARE CONTACTING GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS TO ADVISE THAT WE UNDERSTAND MS. HARBURY IS IN LEGAL STATUS AND EXPRESS CONCERN THAT THERE BE NO CONFUSION ABOUT THE RECORD OF HER LEGAL ENTRY.

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. MINUGUA WILL TAKE STEPS TO HELP THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA ON THE BAMACA/HARBURY CASE, WITHIN THE LIMITS OF ITS CURRENT CAPABILITIES. IN MEETINGS WITH GUATEMALA MODERATOR ARNAULT, LATIN AMERICA DIRECTOR SCHLITTLER, MINUGUA CHIEF FRANCO AND WITH THE FRIENDS, AMB. COVAL UNDERLINED THE IMPORTANCE OF MINUGUA'S RESPONSE TO PRESIDENT DE LEON'S REQUEST FOR SUPPORT, THE GLOBAL PROBLEM BEHIND THE SPECIFIC CASE, AND THE ADVANTAGES TO MINUGUA OF ESTABLISHING COOPERATIVE RELATIONSHIPS WITH THE GOG. FRANCO'S PRINCIPAL CONCERN WAS THAT MINUGUA NOT RAISE UNREALISTIC EXPECTATIONS. END SUMMARY.

3. ON OCTOBER 31, AMBASSADOR COVAL DELIVERED REF A DEMARCHE ON MINUGUA SUPPORT FOR INVESTIGATING THE BAMACA AND OTHER DISAPPEARANCES TO GILBERTO SCHLITTLER (UN OFFICE DIRECTOR FOR LATIN AMERICA, POLITICAL AFFAIRS) AND JEAN ARNAULT (MODERATOR IN THE PEACE PROCESS). COVAL EMPHASIZED THAT THE SITUATION, ALTHOUGH UNFORSEEN, COULD SERVE THE UN AND PRESIDENT DE LEON WELL, IF IT HELPS ESTABLISH WIDESPREAD SUPPORT FOR MINUGUA AND A RELATIONSHIP OF TRUST BETWEEN THE GOG AND MINUGUA.

4. SCHLITTLER AND ARNAULT WERE CIRCUMSPECT BUT INCLINED TO BE SUPPORTIVE. SCHLITTLER SAID CASTANON HAD SPOKEN TO THE PRESS IN GUATEMALA THAT MORNING INDICATING MINUGUA'S WILLINGNESS TO ENGAGE, ALTHOUGH ONLY AFTER IT OPENED ITS OFFICES. HE HOPED ON NOV 11. THE STATUS OF MISSION AGREEMENT HAD YET TO BE SIGNED; THE UN DID NOT WANT TO JEOPARDIZE QUICK ACTION ON IT.

5. AT SCHLITTLER'S SUGGESTION, WE FOLLOWED UP WITH A MEETING ON NOV. 3 WITH MINUGUA HEAD FRANCO. FRANCO AGREED THAT, WHILE THE BAMACA CASE HELPED FOCUS ATTENTION ON WHAT APPEARED TO BE A DETERIORATING HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA, IT RISKED TARRING MINUGUA AT THE OUTSET AS RESPONSIVE TO POLITICAL PRESSURE. MINUGUA WOULD LOOK AT THE CASE ON ITS OWN MERITS TO DETERMINE IF THE AS-YET UNCONSTITUTED TRUTH COMMISSION (EVENTS OF THE PAST) OR THE VERIFICATION MISSION (ONGOING SITUATIONS) COULD PLAY A ROLE. HOWEVER, FRANCO ADDED THAT MINUGUA PERSONNEL IN THE FIELD WERE DOING WHAT THEY COULD AND HAD SPOKEN NOV. 2 WITH MS. HARBURY. MINUGUA COULD PROVIDE GOOD OFFICES EVEN BEFORE THE SOMA WAS SIGNED AND THE OFFICE ESTABLISHED, IF THAT WAS ALL DE LEON WANTED. AMB. COVAL THANKED HIM FOR BEING AS RESPONSIVE AS POSSIBLE AND NOTED THAT IT WOULD BE BEST FOR MINUGUA IN THE LONG RUN IF IT DID NOT LET ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES PREVENT IT FROM ADDRESSING ITS VERIFICATION WORK.

6. ON NOV 1, AMB. COVAL BRIEFED THE FRIENDS ON HER OCT 31 MEETING AND HOPED THE FRIENDS WOULD SUPPORT OUR CALL FOR MINUGUA TO PLAY AN ACTIVE ROLE. ALL WERE AWARE OF THE SITUATION BUT NONE KNEW THAT PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD SOUGHT MINUGUA'S HELP. [redacted] B1
[redacted] EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT THE U.S. WAS SINGLING OUT ONE PARTICULAR CASE. THE SPANISH EMBASSY IN GUATEMALA WAS CONCERNED THAT THE US WAS ASKING MINUGUA TO DO TOO MUCH AND MICROMANAGING MINUGUA'S PRIORITIES AND THE INVESTIGATION OF THE BAMACA CASE. AMB. COVAL SAID THAT THE US HOPED TO USE THIS CASE TO HELP DE LEON TO INVESTIGATE NOT ONLY INDIVIDUAL DISAPPEARANCES BUT ALSO CLANDESTINE PRISONS.
[redacted] AGREED THAT THE QUESTION OF CLANDESTINE PRISONS WAS WITHIN MINUGUA'S MANDATE. MEXICAN DPR VOLUNTEERED TO SET UP A BRIEFING FOR THE GROUP WITH B1

FRANCO, ARRIVING IN NEW YORK LATE NOVEMBER 1. HE SUGGESTED THAT THE FRIENDS MIGHT INQUIRE AT THAT MEETING WHAT MINUGUA WAS DOING TO RESPOND TO DE LEON'S REQUEST FOR THEIR HELP. (NOV. 4 MEETING REPORTED SEPTEL.)

SUBJECT: GUATEMALA: UN SEEKS HELP IN CONCLUDING SOMA
- FOR MINUGUA

REF: GUAT 9926

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. THIS IS AN ACTION REQUEST. SEE PARA 11.

3. SUMMARY: ON NOV 4, CHIEF OF THE UN MISSION IN GUATEMALA (MINUGUA) FRANCO SOUGHT THE HELP OF THE FRIENDS OF GUATEMALA IN GETTING THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO CONCLUDE A STATUS OF MISSION AGREEMENT (SOMA) CONSISTENT WITH THE STANDARD CONVENTION OF PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES. CITING AS PROBLEMATIC GOG SUGGESTIONS THAT THE GOG UNILATERALLY BE ABLE TO DECIDE TO REMOVE MINUGUA PERSONNEL FOR INVOLVEMENT IN "INTERNAL POLITICAL AFFAIRS" AND RESISTANCE TO "IRRESTRICTED FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT" FOR MINUGUA, FRANCO UNDERLINED THAT MINUGUA COULD NOT BEGIN WORK UNTIL A VALID SOMA WAS SIGNED. THE FRIENDS AFFIRMED THEIR WILLINGNESS TO WEIGH IN WITH THE GOG AND SAID AGREED TO SEEK INSTRUCTIONS FOR THEIR MISSIONS IN GUATEMALA TO CARRY OUT. END SUMMARY.

4. ON NOVEMBER 4, MINUGUA HEAD FRANCO, ACCOMPANIED BY DESK OFFICER DENISE COOK, MET WITH THE FRIENDS OF GUATEMALA, REPRESENTED BY AMB. COVAL (SR. AREA ADVISER FOR LATIN AMERICAN AFFAIRS, USUN), NORWEGIAN PERMREP BJORN LIAN, MEXICAN DPR ALBIN, SPANISH DPR LACLAUSTRA, VENEZUELAN DPR RIVERO, AND COLOMBIAN MISSOFF. USUN POLOFF ATTENDED AS NOTETAKER.

BACKGROUND AND ADVANCE TEAM

5. FRANCO OPENED THE MEETING WITH A BRIEFING ON THE STATE OF PLAY IN GUATEMALA. HE REMINDED THE FRIENDS THAT A TECHNICAL ADVANCE TEAM HAD BEEN PRESENT IN GUATEMALA SINCE SEPTEMBER AND EXPRESSED PLEASURE WITH THE GOVERNMENT'S SUPPORT. THE TEAM'S PRESENCE HAD SEEMED TO EASE TENSIONS AND ASSURED THE GUATEMALANS THAT

USUN N 04789 00 OF 02 0504082 014981 S049271

"WE MEAN BUSINESS." WITHOUT A HEADQUARTERS AGREEMENT, THE TEAM HAD RESTRICTED ITS WORK TO LOGISTICS AND PREPARATION OF TRAINING MATERIALS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION.

6. FRANCO STRESSED THAT ACCORDING TO NGO AND NEWSPAPER REPORTS (NOT INDEPENDENT MINUGUA VERIFICATION, AS THIS WAS NOT POSSIBLE UNTIL THE MISSION COULD FORMALLY BEGIN WORK), THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA WAS DETERIORATING. AUGUST 1994 WAS THE WORST EVER IN TERMS OF VICTIMS, AND THERE WERE INDICATIONS THAT OCTOBER WOULD BE EVEN WORSE. FRANCO TOLD OF "HORRENDOUS" CRIMES BEING PERPETRATED, INCLUDING THE KILLING OF TWENTY UNION LEADERS BETWEEN LATE SEPTEMBER AND MID-OCTOBER. THE URNG WAS ACTIVE IN GUATEMALA CITY, AND THE URNG AND GOG WERE EACH BLAMING THE OTHER FOR VARIOUS ACTIONS. THE BAMACA CASE HAD HELPED CREATE A CLIMATE OF GREAT EXPECTATIONS. THE END RESULT, ACCORDING TO FRANCO, WAS THAT MINUGUA, ONCE ESTABLISHED, WOULD HAVE NO LACK OF WORK.

GETTING A HEADQUARTERS AGREEMENT

7. FRANCO THEN FOCUSED ATTENTION ON AN ISSUE THAT THREATENED TO DELAY AND PERHAPS DERAIL THE OPENING OF MINUGUA'S OFFICES IN GUATEMALA. UNDERLINING THAT U/SYG GOULDING HAD AUTHORIZED HIM TO SEEK THE FRIENDS' HELP, FRANCO EXPLAINED THAT THE GOG WAS SEEKING CHANGES TO THE UN-PROPOSED STATUS OF MISSION AGREEMENT (SOMA) WHICH WERE NOT CONSISTENT WITH THE CONVENTION ON PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITES. THE UN HAD ALREADY MISSED THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY DEADLINE FOR CONCLUDING THE SOMA, OCTOBER 19, AND FRANCO WAS PESSIMISTIC THAT THE NOV 11 DATE FOR INAUGURATING MINUGUA COULD BE MET. GOULDING WAS SCHEDULED TO SPEAK WITH THE GOG'S NEGOTIATOR, ARENALES, LATER IN THE DAY.

8. FRANCO ADDED THAT SOME OF THE UN LANGUAGE WAS MORE SPECIFIC THAN THAT IN THE CONVENTION, AND THAT SOME RESISTANCE TO THE UN DRAFT MIGHT HAVE TO DO WITH INTERNAL POLITICAL QUESTIONS (I.E. THE ISSUE OF NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY). ARENALES HAD TOLD THE UN THAT SOME OF THEIR DEMANDS WOULD REQUIRE RATIFICATION BY PARLIAMENT.

[redacted] FRANCO WAS QUICK TO POINT OUT THAT HE DID NOT KNOW IF PRESIDENT DE LEON WAS AWARE OF THE SITUATION AND THAT IN GENERAL COOPERATION BETWEEN THE GOG AND MINUGUA'S ADVANCE TEAM HAD BEEN VERY GOOD.

9. ACCORDING TO FRANCO AND COOK, THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA HAD INSISTED ON THE OMISSION OF SEVERAL POINTS FROM THE PROPOSED AGREEMENT, INCLUDING: 1) INVIOLABILITY OF THE MISSION'S INTERNAL MAIL SYSTEM; 2) THE PROMISE TO PROVIDE THE HEAD OF THE OPERATION WITH ARMED ESCORTS SHOULD THEY BE DEEMED NECESSARY AND; 3) THE INVIOLABILITY OF MISSION PREMISES IN THE COUNTRY. OF GREATER CONCERN, HOWEVER, WAS THAT THE GOG WANTED AS A UNILATERAL RIGHT TO BE ABLE TO REMOVE VOLUNTARY PERSONNEL AND EXPERTS FROM THE COUNTRY FOR "INVOLVEMENT IN LOCAL AFFAIRS" AND NOT TO ALLOW "IRRESPECTIVE" FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT OF MINUGUA.

GUATEMALA

(C) SHATTUCK VISIT: DRL A/S SHATTUCK PLANS TO VISIT GUATEMALA NEXT MONDAY. HE TOLD GT AMBASSADOR MULET TODAY THAT HE WILL BEAR A "POSITIVE" MESSAGE OF SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS AND ENCOURAGEMENT REGARDING THE ONGOING INVESTIGATION INTO THE BARAGA CASE. MULET EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR THIS APPROACH [redacted] B1 [redacted] (PWILLINGHAM)

PANAMA

(C) PANAMA TO ASK USG TO "DECONTAMINATE" BASES: CARLOS MENDOZA, PRESIDENT OF THE INTEROCEANIC REGION AUTHORITY (ARI) HAS ANNOUNCED THAT THE GOP WILL BE ASKING THE USG TO CLEAN UP MILITARY BASES BEFORE TURNING THEM OVER. MENDOZA SPECULATES THAT THE COST WOULD BE IN THE HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS AND BELIEVES THE PANAMANIANS ARE EXERCISING THEIR RIGHTS UNDER THE TREATY'S IMPLEMENTATION AGREEMENT. THE AGREEMENT DOES REQUIRE THE U.S. TO CLEAN UP AREAS BUT DOES NOT GO AS FAR AS THE PANAMANIANS THINK. THE AGREEMENT SAYS THE CLEANUP SHOULD BE AS MUCH "AS IS PRACTICAL". DOD HAS BEEN QUICK TO NOTE THAT THE TREATY DOES NOT SAY "POSSIBLE"! THE REAL PROBLEM ARISES WITH CLEANING UP TANK PLANT AREAS AND, PARTICULARLY, BOMBING RANGES WHERE, EVEN IF IT WERE POSSIBLE TO DO, COSTS WOULD BE ASTRONOMICAL. WE ARE WORKING WITH DOD TO DEVELOP A PROPERTY REVERSION POLICY THAT INCLUDES

CLEANUP. (WRIGHT)

STATE 383138 0918472 021864 S009009

(LOU) PRELUDE TO GATT: PANAMANIANS ARE INSISTING THAT USTR EASE UP ON REQUESTS THAT PANAMA DRASTICALLY REDUCE ITS TARIFFS ON PROTECTED PRODUCTS. AMBASSADOR ARIAS CALLED ON SURO-BREDIE LAST WEEK SAYING HIS GOVERNMENT IS "FLABBERGASTED OVER OUR REQUESTS". ARIAS WAS NOT ABLE TO GIVE SPECIFIC EXAMPLES, AND USTR WAS NOT IMPRESSED. HIS REQUEST FOR PRE-NEGOTIATIONS MEETINGS WAS DECLINED BUT USTR OFFERED TO HELP ANSWER ANY TECHNICAL QUESTIONS. NEGOTIATIONS ARE DUE TO BEGIN NOVEMBER 21. (WRIGHT)

SUBJECT: HARBURY: REQUEST FOR MEETING WITH VP AL GORE

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. JENNIFER HARBURY'S U.S. ATTORNEY JOSE PERTIERRA,

ACCOMPANIED BY FORENSIC ATTORNEY JIM MALONEY, MET WITH THE AMBASSADOR MORNING OF NOVEMBER 9 TO REVIEW NEXT STEPS IN OUR JOINT EFFORTS TO DETERMINE THE WHEREABOUTS OF EFRAIN BAMACA. POLCOUNS AND CONGEN WERE ALSO PRESENT. PERTIERRA OPENED WITH A SHORT SUMMARY OF MS. HARBURY'S CASE AGAINST THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT IN THE OAS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION. HE NOTED THAT THE EVIDENCE PRESENTED IN THE CASE INCLUDED SPECIFIC IDENTIFICATION OF GUATEMALAN MILITARY OFFICERS WHO HAD PARTICIPATED IN BAMACA'S ALLEGED DETENTION AND SUBSEQUENT TORTURE. ON THE BASIS OF THIS CREDIBLE EVIDENCE, HE CONTINUED, THE OAS IN DECEMBER HAD ORDERED THE GOG TO TAKE PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES TO SAFEGUARD BAMACA AND THE OTHER COMBATANTS BEING HELD BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY. PERTIERRA SAID THAT THE GOG HAD REJECTED THE OAS INSTRUCTIONS, CLAIMING THAT THEY WERE INAPPROPRIATE SINCE THE GOG WAS NOT HOLDING THESE COMBATANTS. HE NOTED THAT THE OAS HAD NO SANCTIONS AVAILABLE TO ENFORCE ITS ORDERS.

3. PERTIERRA REPORTED THAT A FOLLOWUP HEARING IN THE CASE HAD BEEN HELD LAST THURSDAY AND THAT A WITNESS SENT FROM MEXICO (PRESUMABLY BY THE URNG) HAD PROVIDED LONG, DETAILED TESTIMONY CONCERNING BAMACA'S CAPTURE AND SUBSEQUENT DETENTION. HE CHARACTERIZED THE GOG'S CROSS EXAMINATION OF THE WITNESS AS PERFUNCTORY AND FOCUSED ON MAKING STATEMENTS RATHER THAN CHALLENGING THE WITNESS' TESTIMONY. PERTIERRA FEELS THAT THE CASE IS READY FOR DECISION AND THAT HARBURY WILL WIN, BUT NOTED THAT THE DECISION HAS NO TEETH.

4. POINTING OUT THAT THE GOG HAS NOT TAKEN STATEMENTS FROM ANY OF THE OFFICERS LISTED IN HARBURY'S OAS BRIEF, PERTIERRA SAID THAT HE DOUBTED THAT THE CURRENT GOG INVESTIGATION INTO

BAMACA'S WHEREABOUTS WOULD PROSPER. HARBURY AND HER SUPPORTERS UNDERSTOOD THAT BAMACA WAS A COMBATANT IN AN ONGOING

INSURGENCY. THEY WERE NOT ASKING FOR HIS RELEASE, BUT RATHER ASSURANCES THAT HE AND THE OTHER 35 URNG COMBATANTS ALLEGEDLY BEING HELD BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY ARE BEING TREATED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE GENEVA CONVENTION, PARTICULARLY WITH RESPECT TO ACCESS (TO CONFIRM THEY ARE ALIVE AND WELL) AND PROTECTION FROM TORTURE OR MISTREATMENT.

5. PERTIERRA SAID THAT JENNIFER AND HER SUPPORTERS WERE CONCERNED BY THE CLAIM IN THE 60 MINUTES PROGRAM THAT A CIA REPORT CONTAINING INFORMATION ABOUT BAMACA'S WHEREABOUTS HAD NOT BEEN SHARED WITH THEM. HE URGED THAT THIS AND ANY OTHER INFORMATION THAT WE DEVELOPED ABOUT BAMACA BE MADE AVAILABLE. NOTING THAT THE NEW GUATEMALAN PENAL CODE REQUIRES THE PUBLIC MINISTRY (PROSECUTORS OFFICE) TO PRESERVE RECORDS THAT RELATE TO ACTIVE CASES, HE URGED THAT THE EMBASSY PRESSURE THE GOG TO PROTECT ANY MILITARY RECORDS THAT MIGHT SHED LIGHT ON THE WHEREABOUTS AND ACTIVITIES OF THOSE MILITARY OFFICERS IDENTIFIED IN THE OAS BRIEF. PERTIERRA CLOSED HIS OPENING REMARKS BY ARGUING FOR TARGETED ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST SPECIFIC GUATEMALAN PRODUCTS TO CONVINCE THE GUATEMALAN PRIVATE SECTOR, AND THEREBY THE ARMY, THAT WE MEAN BUSINESS ON BAMACA.

6. RESPONDING TO PERTIERRA'S SPECIFIC REQUESTS, THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT ANY QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE ALLEGATIONS BY 60 MINUTES THAT THE CIA HAD INFORMATION ON BAMACA SHOULD BE PURSUED IN WASHINGTON. SHE SAID THAT WE WOULD RAISE WITH THE GOG CONCERNS THAT ALL RECORDS BE PRESERVED THAT RELATED TO THIS AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS CASES. WE CONTINUE TO PRESSURE FOR COMPLETE INVESTIGATIONS IN CASES WHERE MILITARY INVOLVEMENT IS KNOWN, AS IN THE DEVINE CASE, OR SUSPECTED. BUT THE WALL OF IMPUNITY AROUND MILITARY INVOLVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IS STRONG AND WE HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO BREACH IT. THE AMBASSADOR REITERATED OUR WELL-KNOWN POSITION THAT ECONOMIC SANCTIONS WOULD HARM THOSE AT THE BOTTOM OF THE ECONOMIC LADDER IN GUATEMALA, AND WOULD THREATEN A BACKLASH AGAINST BROADER EFFORTS TO SEEK PEACE, PROMOTE EQUITABLE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, AND STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY.

7. PERTIERRA THEN TURNED TO JENNIFER'S HEALTH. HE SAID THAT SHE HAD UNDERTAKEN THE HUNGER STRIKE AGAINST HIS RECOMMENDATIONS, AND THAT HE WAS CONCERNED ABOUT HER DETERIORATING PHYSICAL CONDITION. HE URGED THAT WE SEEK A WAY OF CONVINCING JENNIFER TO END HER HUNGER STRIKE SHORT OF A CLEAR DETERMINATION OF BAMACA'S FATE. RICHARD WILHELM OF VICE PRESIDENT GORE'S STAFF HAD CALLED HIM RECENTLY ASKING THAT PERTIERRA MEET WITH THE VICE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL SECURITY:TY ADVISOR UPON RETURNING FROM GUATEMALA. PERTIERRA SUGGESTED TO WILHELM THAT THE VICE PRESIDENT AGREE TO MEET PRIVATELY WITH JENNIFER IN WASHINGTON AS A WAY TO PERSUADE HER TO END HER HUNGER STRIKE. AFTER ARRIVING IN GUATEMALA ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON, HE HAD BROACHED THE IDEA TO JENNIFER, WHO HE CLAIMS WAS INTERESTED BUT SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE POSSIBILITY THAT SUCH A MEETING WOULD TAKE PLACE. PERTIERRA URGED THE AMBASSADOR TO REPORT HIS REQUEST FOR A HARBURY MEETING WITH THE VICE PRESIDENT TO THE DEPARTMENT, WITH AN EMBASSY RECOMMENDATION THAT THIS IS A PROMISING OPPORTUNITY TO END THE HUNGER STRIKE. THE AMBASSADOR UNDERTOOK TO FORWARD THE SUGGESTION TO THE DEPARTMENT, BUT WAS CAREFUL NOT TO COMMIT HERSELF TO RECOMMENDING ITS ADOPTION.

8. PERTIERRA CLOSED THE MEETING BY OBSERVING THAT, IF THE EXHUMATION IS UNSUCCESSFUL (AS JENNIFER AND HER SUPPORTERS ANTICIPATE), THEN THEY WILL CALL A PRESS CONFERENCE AND READ OUT THE NAMES OF THOSE ARMY OFFICERS LISTED IN THE OAS BRIEF. HE SAID THAT THIS MIGHT INCREASE THE THREAT LEVEL TO JENNIFER AND HER SUPPORTERS, AND PROMISED TO COORDINATE SECURITY

9. COMMENT: PERTERRA'S REQUEST FOR A HARBURY MEETING WITH VICE PRESIDENT GORE PUTS US ON THE HORNS OF A DILEMMA. WHETHER HER OR HER ATTORNEY'S IDEA, IT MAY OFFER AN HONORABLE WAY FOR HARBURY TO END HER FAST WHICH FROM HER POINT OF VIEW, WILL FURTHER AID HER HUSBAND'S CASE BY LENDING IT GREATER PUBLICITY AND DIRECT SUPPORT AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL OF THE USG. IF SHE IS AS DETERMINED AS SHE AND HER COMPANIONS INSIST, IT COULD ALSO PREVENT POTENTIAL MARTYRDOM THROUGH STARVATION OR SERIOUS PHYSICAL DAMAGE IF SHE DOES NOT END HER FAST RELATIVELY SOON. ON THE OTHER HAND, A VISIT WITH THE VICE PRESIDENT WOULD BE SEEN BY THE ARMY, THE GOG AND MOST INFLUENTIAL GUATEMALANS AS THE US ALLYING ITSELF WITH THE URNG INSURGENCY, GREATLY REDUCE OUR INFLUENCE ON THE PEACE TALKS WHICH UP TO NOW HAS BEEN BASED ON CAREFUL EVENHANDEDNESS, AND LIMIT U.S. EFFECTIVENESS IN DEALING WITH THE GOG.

MEXICO

The State Department report on Mexico concludes that human rights violations declined noticeably in 1993, but is silent about the precise methodology utilized to reach this conclusion. In reality, neither the contents of the report nor the actual record substantiates such a conclusion. The report consistently acknowledges the occurrence of certain egregious human rights violations, ignores other violations and concludes on an optimistic note by emphasizing government reform efforts — the same approach used by the Mexican government when it is questioned about violations. The report presents attempted government reforms as wholly positive, with no discussion of their effectiveness. Critical analyses by independent human rights organizations are barely mentioned. In general, the report's extremely uneven substantive emphasis fails to convey the full dimension of the human rights problem in Mexico.

The report correctly identifies diverse and widespread human rights violations, as well as the persistence of impunity for the perpetrators; however, the fundamental weaknesses of the 1992 report are repeated. The report again fails to explain why high levels of egregious violations and impunity persist in the face of allegedly strong government efforts to reduce both. One explanation is that the report over-emphasizes such efforts, which are, in fact, insufficient to rectify serious human rights problems. The report unquestioningly accepts government efforts as credible and reliable, including the activities of governmental human rights commissions and reforms in the office of the Attorney General (PGR). Furthermore, the report omits or gives only cursory attention to certain important cases, incidents and topics.

The structure of the report reflects an ongoing US policy of muted criticism of human rights matters, designed to avoid potential harm to the US-Mexico bilateral relationship and US interests in Mexico, while encouraging further improvement. This approach leads to a persistant tension in the report: statements praising Mexican government efforts are often contradicted by descriptions of continuing egregious human rights violations and impunity. The result is a cognitive dissonance that runs throughout the report.

The Mexican government bears full responsibility for all human rights violations committed in Mexico and for the failure of the Mexican justice system to prosecute violators. Civilian governments sometimes lack sufficient power to confront security forces on human rights matters, but as last year's Critique pointed out, Mexico's entrenched Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI) cannot credibly make such a claim. The PRI government's failure is largely the result of design or omission, but not incapacity.

The report fails to substantiate its conclusion that the Salinas administration has succeeded in curbing human rights abuses. Quantifiable evidence may be difficult to obtain, but ample documentation, from non-governmental organizations and the press, casts significant doubt on the report's conclusion. The report makes occasional references to human rights NGO's, but includes only statistics published by the government-appointed National Human Rights Commission ( CNDH), without any critical analysis. Over 100 Mexican NGO's publish periodic reports, yet none are cited.

Claims for the effectiveness of the CNDH, which the report cites as the centerpiece of the Mexican government's efforts to curb human rights violations and official impunity, must be evaluated on the basis of its record. The CNDH has no prosecutorial powers, and, as the 1992 report observed, it must rely on "the pressure of public opinion and the accuracy of its investigations to induce compliance with its recommendations to state and federal authorities to investigate and prosecute transgressors." Despite repeated expressions of support from President Salinas, a majority of the CNDH's recommendations have been ignored or only partially implemented. According to the report, by the end of 1993, only 268 of 624 recommendations had been fully implemented. The CNDH also issues recommendations to government agencies regarding cases that are not police-related (for example, proper treatment in government healthcare facilities), suggesting that the proportion of fully implemented recommendations in cases involving beatings, torture and other serious human rights violations is even lower.

With respect to prosecutions resulting from CNDH recommendations to the PGR during the same three-and a one-half-year period, the report states, without any analysis, that 82 people have been arrested and 20 tried, convicted and sentenced to prison terms averaging over five years. These figures reflect an arrest rate of less than two per month; a conviction rate of less than one-fourth of all arrestees; and an average of one conviction every two months. Such rates are extremely low in light of the widespread nature of violations in Mexico, and their overall deterrent value is questionable.

Critics of the CNDH's effectiveness, including the Lawyers Committee, have pointed out its failure to make recommendations concerning compensation for victims; its support for the creation of state-level human rights commissions, which have impeded the independent monitoring of human rights investigations (discussed below); its failure to complain when persons accused of torture by victims are charged only with lesser crimes by prosecutors; its excessive bureaucratization with over 600 employees; and its equivocal recommendations in politically sensitive cases, such as the 1991 murder of a striking worker at the Ford Motor Company.

The report recognizes discrepancies between CNDH claims that torture complaints declined in 1993 and those of unspecified independent human rights organizations that "torture remained at historic levels or even increased," but concludes only that the "magnitude of the problem is significant." The report fails to mention that one principal source for the discrepancies is that the CNDH expressly limits its findings of torture to cases in which the torture is well-documented and strong physical evidence exists. Independent groups also accept credible claims of torture that are more difficult to document, especially where the torturer chooses a technique designed to leave few marks on the victim. For example, the report states that torture methods have included beatings, asphyxiation and electric shock, but makes no mention of several other widely reported methods, such as the forcible introduction of carbonated water into the victim's nose (tehuacanazo), forcible submersion in water and food deprivation. These omissions are an example of the State Department's failure to credit reports by non-governmental sources.

UNCLASSIFIED

The UN Committee Against Torture has, in fact, relied on information from non-governmental groups to reject claims by the Mexican government based on CNDH reports that torture was declining. In late 1992, the Committee criticized the government's inadequate efforts and took the unusual step of directing the Mexican representative to present a new report in 1994. The State Department should explain its reasons for relying on the CNDH to the near-exclusion of other human rights entities.

The report cites with approval the creation of state-level human rights commissions, without any analysis or discussion. By the end of 1993, 29 of the 30 states (Aguascalientes was the lone exception), as well as the Federal District, had created human rights commissions, which were authorized by the federal constitutional amendments enacted in January 1992. Independent human rights monitors report that the performance of these state-level commissions is variable and in all cases susceptible to local political pressure. Some states only established commissions after considerable delays. The report fails to provide any information on the state human rights commissions by which their respective performances can be judged. This is a significant omission.

The state of Puebla offers an example of what may be expected from the state human rights commissions. The state congress enacted legislation to create a commission in December 1992, but did not name a president and two assistants until July 1993. Press reports indicated that Puebla Governor Manuel Bartlett Diaz (formerly a member of President Salinas' cabinet) had personally selected the three commission members without consulting independent human rights organizations or the political opposition, causing considerable consternation among these sectors. The new commission president tried to assure the public that the body would function autonomously and professionally, but then also announced that its advisory panel would be directed by Governor Bartlett.

The report ignores or mentions only superficially, limitations created by the 1992 constitutional amendments. These amendments ensure that the CNDH and all state commissions possess no prosecutorial authority and that their respective mandates exclude electoral and labor law violations. Furthermore, investigations are limited to violations reported within one year of their alleged occurrence, and final sentences by courts and administrative tribunals cannot be challenged by actions of the governmental commissions. Also, the CNDH's jurisdiction has been reduced to issuing recommendations to federal agencies and reviewing the recommendations of the new state commissions. In effect, the Mexican government replicated a weak national institution at the state level, and diminished the authority of the original national body. It chose to expand a bureaucratic structure with questionable effectiveness, instead of taking decisive measures to end police and military abuse, ensure that prosecutors do their jobs and guarantee that the courts dispense justice. The addition of state commissions merely adds another layer of bureaucracy and further delays investigations and possible prosecutions.

The report implies that public awareness of human rights concerns increased in 1993, in part, as a result of government efforts. In fact, decentralization of authority over human rights investigations probably has had an adverse effect. With investigatory information now arising in virtually all the states as well as the Federal District, the press and human rights advocates based in Mexico City will have greater difficulty in monitoring governmental human rights investigations. Previously, the CNDH had been a convenient centralized source of information. Now, inquiries and complaints must be taken to the state capitals.

The report also cites reforms to the office of the Attorney General as a strong government effort to end the "culture of impunity" surrounding the security forces. However, neither the actual record nor the contents of the report substantiate such a claim. The report mentions a few specific cases where members of the Federal Judicial Police, which is subordinate to the PGR, were arrested for involvement in murder cases, but specifies only one instance of reform in the office of the PGR — its ending the practice of hiring police auxiliaries.

In January 1993, President Salinas appointed Jorge Carpizo, the president of the CNDH, to be the new federal Attorney General. Carpizo was placed in the curious position of heading the government agency that had most often dragged its feet in complying with CNDH recommendations. Over the following twelve months, Carpizo dismissed numerous personnel of the PGR and the Judicial Police. Over 300 officers of the Judicial Police were dismissed, including 70 commanders. Carpizo deserves credit for dismissing many individuals with poor records; however, the fundamental impact of such firings on the roots of corruption and human rights violations is questionable. Some of Carpizo's predecessors undertook similar housecleanings without any significant longterm impact.

The report makes only a brief mention of the May murder of Catholic Cardinal Juan Posadas Ocampo in Guadalajara, which revealed the extent to which corruption pervades Mexican police institutions. The chief of the state police in the state of Jalisco, a high-level member of the judicial police in the state of Baja California Norte and the chief of police in Mexico City were fired and charged with links to Posadas' assassins, alleged drug traffickers. The cardinal's murder also prompted a government crackdown on drug trafficking.

Some critics charge that the crackdown was merely intended to clean up an international embarrassment for President Salinas at a time that the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) was being hotly debated in the United States and Canada. The Mexican government has a history of launching showy investigations and purges of law-enforcement agencies after embarrassing narcotics-related scandals. Mexican police sources contend that protection sold to high-level traffickers reaches beyond police commanders and into the civilian world of national politicians and business leaders, none of whom were touched by Carpizo's crackdown in 1993.

After the Posadas murder, President Salinas decided to concentrate the battle against drug trafficking in a new autonomous agency, the National Institute to Combat Drugs (INCD). The PGR has oversight authority over the INCD but its director is named by the president. Significantly, the PGR has relinquished control over the Judicial Police, the investigative police and its anti-narcotics squad to the INCD. This move would indicate that the government has concluded either that the Judicial Police require a wholesale restructuring, or that the PGR is incapable of cleaning up the Judicial Police, or both. Whether this measure will be more effective than its predecessors remains to be seen.

Human rights advocates and other critics of Carpizo's performance in 1993, questioned a number of his decisions, including support for a new law increasing the permissible length of preventive detention of persons suspected of organized crime links, and the return of police roadblocks to federal highways, which had been previously eliminated to end widespread police extortion. Carpizo was also criticized for his reluctance to disclose the names of dismissed members of the Judicial Police and the criminal charges, if any, brought against them, and for his failure to pursue vigorous prosecutions of all former police members allegedly guilty of human rights violations. In September, Carpizo's handpicked liaison with human rights organizations resigned and publicly alleged that corruption and the lack of will to uphold justice had made it impossible for her to continue her work.

The report mentions that the armed uprising of the Zapatista Army of National Liberation (EZLN) which began in the state of Chiapas on January 1, 1994, "called attention to serious discontent with the human rights and economic situation", but provides virtually no information about the "situation" to which it refers. The report does not mention the human rights violations committed in Chiapas during the conflict. Mexican and international human rights organizations have documented summary executions, torture, forced disappearances and unlawful detentions by Mexico's security forces. In addition, Mexican sources noted cover-ups of human rights violations, including complicity by the CNDH and other government representatives. Documented abuses committed by EZLN combatants included the taking of civilian hostages, the murder of at least one hostage, using civilians as shields during combat and destroying non-military targets.

The egregious human rights violations committed by the security forces in Chiapas are consistent with previously documented violations in Chiapas and other parts of the country. For example, during 1993, Mgr. Samuel Ruiz, the Catholic bishop of San Cristóbal de las Casas) and the Centro de Derechos Humanos Fray Bartolomé de las Casas (the Human Rights Center) denounced violations against several Mayan communities. Senior military officers responded by accusing Ruiz and the Human Rights Center of spreading "odious lies" about the military, "obstructing justice" and "defending criminals." The CNDH took the side of the military and accused the Human Rights Center of interfering with a police investigation. Independent human rights organizations from Mexico and the United States investigated the accusations against Ruiz and the Human Rights Center, concluded that they were unfounded and substantiated the accusations against the military.

After the EZLN revolt began in January, numerous high-ranking Mexican government officials accused Ruiz and other Catholic clerics of being behind the rebellion. Ironically, the Mexican government subsequently turned to Ruiz for help in meditation efforts with the EZLN, after the government's initial response to eliminate the rebellion by force failed and generated graphic media reports of human rights violations by security forces. The 1994 report should discuss such violations and the government's attacks on critics such as Bishop Ruiz and the Human Rights Center.

The persecution and murder of gay men and the failure or lack of appropriate police investigations also warrants more attention in next year's report, especially with respect to Chiapas. Independent human rights organizations report that as many as 25 men have been murdered in Tuxtla Gutiérrez, the Chiapas state capital, since 1991. In February 1994, press reports indicated that the former coordinator of police forces for the state had been arrested on charges of arms trafficking, kidnapping and murder, and was implicated in the gay murders. Government officials now attest that he was never arrested. In April 1994, the state governor appointed an independent investigator in response to a CNDH recommendation. The State Department should report next year on the status of the investigation.

The report states that the Mexican government permits domestic and international human rights groups to operate "without restrictions or official harassment." This sanguine assessment ignores the unsubstantiated accusations endured by Ruiz, the Human Rights Center and others. The report does not mention that the Center for Border Studies and Human Rights Promotion (CEFPRODAC) in Reynosa, Tamaulipas, and its president, Arturo Solis Gómez, were targets of an intimidation campaign by state authorities in 1993.

MEXICO

CEFPRODAC reports on human rights abuses in the region bordering south Texas, which are often linked to drug trafficking and related corruption in the police and prison systems. CEFPRODAC has often identified the Judicial Police as the prime violator of human rights in the region, but in 1993 it reported that most of the serious cases of police torture and abuse of which it became aware in 1993 involved state and local police in the border cites of Matamoros, Reynosa and Rio Bravo. CEFPRODAC also reported that abuses in prisons remained at high levels. The state Attorney General and the Director of Prisons responded by accusing CEFPRODAC of "protecting criminals." The PRI and two other allied political parties accused Solis and CEFPRODAC of being spies for foreign interests because CEFPRODAC had received charitable contributions from the Ford Foundation and other US-based philanthropic institutions. Solis, who is also a journalist, received anonymous death threats.

The report briefly mentions the case of Victor Clark Alfaro, director of the Binational Human Rights Center in Tijuana, Baja California Norte, who was the target of governmental attacks in 1993 after he published a report entitled Torture and Corruption: an Endemic Malady. Efforts to discredit Clark by the police and government of Baja California Norte involved officials up to Governor Ernesto Ruffo Appel. Clark was even indicted by the state Attorney General on charges of libel and defamation, based on a complaint by the Attorney General's chief bodyguard, whom Clark had identified as responsible for selling identification cards of the state judicial police to drug traffickers. Prosecution of the case was suspended in the face of an international campaign on Clark's behalf.

The report does not mention that most human rights monitors believe that they are under constant government surveillance, including telephone wiretaps. The government's failure to dispel this concern has contributed to significant self-censorship, which was exacerbated after electronic listening devices were found in the government's own CNDH offices in 1991. Some monitors also have reported receiving "friendly warnings" from government acquaintances advising restraint in investigating certain subjects or cases. Others have reported threatening messages on their answering machines and thefts of files.

The report's description of "significant restrictions" on speech and press freedoms is generally accurate; however, it conveys an unwarranted tone of optimism in referring to certain "signs of change between the Government and the press." For example, the government practice of paying the press to run government-produced materials as news was not banned as the report states; instead, only unrecorded payments were banned. Such a ban may impose some measure of restraint on government agencies; however, as the report correctly indicates, some agencies simply ignore the ban altogether. Journalists who accompany President Salinas on domestic and international trips are now required to pay their own expenses, but are still under intense pressure to soften their reporting in exchange for access. The president's office continues to decide who may travel with him, and press requests to create self-selected coverage "pools" have been declined. On at least one occasion in 1993 —a trip to Austin, Texas — the president violated his own rule on not covering press expenses, offering the post facto justification that the members of the press entourage were all invited guests.

The report states that the selling of two government-owned television stations "will provide significant new competition in national television media." This erroneously creates the impression that a diversity of viewpoints may soon be available, beyond what the pro-government, privately-owned Televisa network currently provides. The sale of two extensive media packages will likely lead to greater commercial competition for advertising time, but not necessarily greater diversity in programming. The first package, which included a total of 90 TV channels, was sold to a consortium headed by an individual who has stated publicly that he strongly favors the government's political and economic programs, and that the primary role of television is entertainment. The second package, which included 62 TV channels, was sold to Televisa, which now controls approximately half of all television channels in Mexico. Each package was valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars, which precluded all except the wealthiest corporations and individuals from bidding. Bidding was to have been on a competitive basis, but Televisa was reported to have begun purchasing equipment for its new stations months before the public bid was even announced, leading to allegations that the bidding was rigged. The Mexican press reported that government officials discouraged submission of several potentially competitive bids.

The report fails to mention a significant effort undertaken in 1993 by Attorney General Carpizo, which was ostensibly intended to prosecute journalists involved in the drug trade, but in fact produced little factual evidence and appeared aimed at intimidating critics. In early May, Carpizo revealed that his office was pursuing a significant investigation of what he termed "narcojournalists." Carpizo made repeated public accusations about the existence of such narcojournalists, which increased after the murder of Cardinal Posadas in late May. In mid-July, three print journalists were indicted; however, all drug-related charges were later dropped by the courts for lack of evidence, and Carpizo's accusations subsided.

The report's coverage of elections is excessively optimistic in describing in some detail electoral reforms enacted in 1993, while downplaying protests and claims of fraud by opposition parties. The report accurately mentions claims of electoral fraud in the states of Nayarit, Guerrero, Baja California Sur and Yucatán, but fails to mention several others. Furthermore, election victories continue to be susceptible to post-election negotiations between the PRI and opposition parties, notwithstanding electoral reforms and actual election results, as in the state of Yucatán.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The report's claim that PRI victories in 1993 provoked "only scattered protests" is inaccurate. Strong protests of fraud occurred in virtually every state where elections were held. In the state of Mexico, the opposition protested electoral results in 40 of 121 state municipalities. Alleged electoral violations included last-minute changes of polling places, threats, vote-buying with private and public monies, violation of polling secrecy, failure to verify voter credentials, ballot-box stuffing, the operation of polling places by PRI members and improper herding of voters to the polls (acarreo). The state of Michoacán began the year with opposition party members occupying 38 town halls across the state in protest of elections held in the fall of 1992. In Puebla, 18 town halls were occupied at the beginning of the year. In San Luis Potosí, the opposition protested alleged shaving of polling lists, the use of invalid voter credentials, improper replacement of polling authorities, delayed opening of polling places, and illegal campaigning by the PRI and improper herding of voters to the polls. In Coahuila, the opposition denounced a PRI victory as the product of the dirtiest elections in the history of the state. The State Electoral Commission deliberately used non-indelible ink to mark voters' fingers. In Guerrero, 14 town halls were occupied by protesters from the opposition Democratic Revolutionary Party (PRD) after October's elections and widespread election-related violence resulted in the deaths of at least nine members of the PRD and one police officer.

In some instances, peaceful political protests were met with violence by police or government officials, which contradicts the report's blanket assertion that the Mexican government "permits demonstrations by a broad range of political groups." In Nayarit, for example, press reports indicate that Governor Rigoberto Ochoa, whose entry into his official offices in the state capital of Tepic had been blocked by protesting PRD members since his disputed election in July, ordered indiscriminate police attacks on protesters during a two-day period. On October 17, the police chased protesters throughout the city for at least three hours. Dozens were beaten and targeted with tear gas, including the offices of El Sol de Tepic, a daily which had written critically of Ochoa. On October 18, the police attacked PRD followers who had sought refuge on the grounds of a Catholic church. Several people were beaten and more than a dozen were detained without warrants, including the parish priest.

In Puebla, Governor Bartlett had the state's security forces forcibly remove most of the protestors who had occupied town halls across the state. In this atmosphere, PRD protesters in the town of Coxcatlán marched to the home of the mayor, where he was meeting with eight other elected PRI officials from the region. The protesters were met with gunfire which killed two elderly protesters and wounded 12 others.

CRITIQUE 1993

The report's emphasis on the electoral reforms approved in 1993 is not warranted, given continued electoral violence, protests and post-electoral deals. In Mérida Yucatán, the PRI's mayor-elect apparently agreed to step down in exchange for the National Action Party (PAN)'s ending its protest of the gubernatorial election results. In Baja California Sur, the PAN's national leadership probably was willing to override protests of the gubernatorial election results by the state leadership as part of a secret arrangement with the PRI. In February 1994, PRI members admitted that the 1993 reforms had been weak and frequently violated by the PRI.

Fully one-third of the report is devoted to a discussion of worker rights. Yet this fails to describe serious distortions and limitations of the rights to freedom of association, collective bargaining and acceptable working conditions. A significant portion of the text is dedicated to merely reciting substantive and procedural aspects of Mexican labor law and conveying factual information about specific cases and situations. The report fails to identify clearly violations of worker rights, thereby creating the erroneous impression that few such violations occurred.

Mexican workers are given no reasonable opportunity to form independent unions and bargain collectively. Independent unions constituted by their members, who meet and vote to decide issues of direct concern to them are practically nonexistent. Mexico suffers from a government-controlled system of officially sponsored and manipulated unions which often take steps antithetical to the best interests of the workers they claim to represent. The majority of unionized workers are members of "official" unions imposed upon them and run by imposed leaders (known as charros). Such unions are subservient to state interests, while the rank and file are required to pay union dues without having input into union actions. The collective bargaining system even allows union leaders to negotiate contracts without the approval of the membership. The report only briefly mentions criticisms that have been raised concerning union registration requirements. In fact, such requirements keep unions under governmental control and prevent the establishment of autonomous unions. Only groups that have joined union confederations affiliated with the PRI, such as the Confederation of Workers of Mexico (CTM), and the Regional Confederation of Workers of Mexico (CROM), or are supported by a corporation, win legal registration.

In the last eight years, the Labor Ministry has granted charters to only a handful of independent unions, and then only after protracted litigation. Only one independent union (a seamstresses' union) did not have to resort to such litigation as a result of significant public pressure on the Labor Ministry. At the local level, registration must be obtained from local conciliation and arbitration panels, composed of government, corporate and "official" union representatives. Registration can often be delayed for years. The Labor Ministry continues to exert tremendous influence over a union's activities after extending official recognition. For instance, any strike that does not have the ministry's authorization is expressly illegal, regardless of any underlying circumstances. Faced with an illegal strike, companies frequently call in riot police to break up picketing workers.

The persistence of widespread human rights violations in Mexico and the impunity with which they are committed contradict the stated commitment of President Salinas and the Mexican government to improve human rights practices. Respect for human rights will improve in Mexico only with stronger measures backed by the requisite will at all levels of the Mexican government, beginning at the highest. The record demonstrates that despite substantial international attention to Mexico's human rights practices in recent years, that will is lacking. Dismissals and prosecutions of some human rights violators have taken place, but not in sufficient numbers.

A credible government response to the problem of impunity is of critical importance. The Mexican government must address this central problem directly through effective reforms to the justice system. The creation of parallel, nonjurisdictional structures, such as the federal and state human rights commissions, carries inherent opportunity costs in terms of improvements to existing legal institutions.

Consistent with US obligations under domestic and international law, as well as the Clinton administration's stated commitment to human rights, the State Department should improve its human rights reporting on Mexico. All reporting should be as accurate and objective as possible, and not subject to foreign policy concerns. Finally, the US government should press human rights concerns with Mexico at every available opportunity.

SUBJECT: Questions on Harbury-Bamaca Marriage and Queries about Bamaca's Body.

The following are various documents relating to the marriage of Jennifer Harbury and Efrain Bamaca, and to queries concerning the location and description of Bamaca's body.

When and how were they married? What proof is there?

Janet Hawkins, Harvard Magazine Sep.-Oct. 1994: JH met EB in Guatemala in 1990. Stayed at ORPA camp six weeks. "In 1991 Bamaca asked her to join him in Mexico City... after six months of sharing living space and confidences, Bamaca and Harbury married..."

Jennifer Harbury, Bridge of Courage (p. 249). "Everardo and I were married in 1991, one of the most mismatched yet happiest of couples.

"March 21, 1993 Letter from JH to Jeff Moon at US Embassy: "... EB and I exchanged vows with one another in September 1991 and lived together thereafter as husband and wife. As far as we are concerned, we have been married since that time; but given his clandestine status, we were never able to register the marriage with any governmental agency. We did, however, live together as husband and wife in the state of Texas (where I am still a resident) for over six weeks, holding ourselves out as married, to our friends and to others. We were together in Texas from late September through early November of 1991. We are thus in satisfaction of the requirements of the cites Texas statute on common law marriages.

April 13, 1993: Notarized Affidavit, State of New York, County of New York: ..."We were married pursuant to Texas Ann. Civ. Statues 1.91 et seq. on September 25, 1991. Under the terms of this statute, no certificate of marriage is issued."

Declaration and Registration of Marriage, Travis County, Texas. Dated June 22, 1993. Judge Jeanne Meurer, Presiding. Ordered, adjudged and decreed that Jennifer Harbury and Efrain Bamaca were legally married to each other under the laws of the State of Texas on September 25, 1991. (Based on Texas Annotated Civil Statues--Husband and Wife Section 1.91 and following). Marriage without formalities: (a) In any judicial, administrative, or other proceeding, the marriage of a man and woman may be proved by evidence that: 1) a declaration of their marriage has been executed under Section 1.92 of this code; or 2) they agreed to be married, and after the agreement they lived together in this state as husband and wife and there represented to others that they were married.

Aug. 25, 1993 report by JH:...Efrain and I met again, when he came out of the mountains to work on the preparation of certain issues, such as indigenous rights...We were able to spend a number of months together, and were married in September 1991."

People Magazine: "In 1991 the pair had a small common-law ceremony outside Austin, attended by a few friends..."

CONCLUSION: Harbury and Bamaca are are married because she says they were. No photos together, no third party statements by anyone who saw them together. Presumably Bamaca entered illegally to spend the "six weeks in Texas."

Where is Bamaca's Body?

April 24, 1992: Fax from URNG Political-Diplomatic Commission Member Francisco Villagran Munoz to Human Rights Ombudsman Ramiro de Leon Carpio dated April 24, 1992:

Firefight at 10:15 a.m. March 12, 1992 in Montufar, Nuevo San Carlos, Retalhuleu. Claims Comandante Everardo was captured and wounded, supplies following data:

name: Efrain Bamaca Velasquez

dob: 18 june 1957

pob: Finca El Tablero, El Tumbador, San Marcos parents: Jose de Leon Bamaca and Cornella Velasquez height: 1.61 m.

facial complexion (tez): brown (morena)

eyes: dark brown (cafe oscuro)

The fax from Villagran claims the army said a guerrilla, possibly a commander, had been killed, but did not mention his name. Since the army could have identified him, Villagran is concerned that no public mention was made of who had been killed.

In this same fax, the URNG says it was informed that between 12-14 March a body was brought to morgue in Retalhuleu of a guerrilla supposedly killed in Montufar, buried as XX (unknown).

Also in this fax, Villagran says the URNG has heard that a guerrilla commander was captured wounded and is now being tortured. Asks HR Ombudsman De Leon to clarify the situation, as the URNG now has serious doubts whether EB is alive or dead. Asks for investigation into the events of March 12 and the identity of the dead guerrilla buried as XX.

Finally, the URNG asks for 3 days' advance notice of exhumation in order to have representative present, and requests that said representative be protected.

May 5, 1992:

Maria Irma Arriaza requests to Judge of First Instance of Retalhuleu an exhumation of body buried on or about March 13 or 14 as XX in Retalhuleu cemetery.

May 6, 1992:

Report to HR Ombudsman, name and date not shown: Presumably follows the May 5 exhumation request, as it says "6th of this month."

Went to National Hospital of Retalhuleu on 6th of (May?) to get all information on patients and bodies entering hospital in March. Information was negative regarding investigation. Sought interview with forensic doctor; he could not be found. Went to Justice of the Peace and met people who wished to remain anonymous, who shared information which allowed him to find expedient number 395-92 in care of second official of Second Court of First Instance, in which Justice of Peace of Retalhuleu affirms that on 13 March at 1300, on banks of River Ixcucua of Canton Montufar, Nuevo San Carlos, Retalhuleu, a body was found without identification with the following characteristics:

Male, brown, round face, wide forehead, coffee brown eyes, thick eyebrows, flat-nosed, large mouth, straight black hair, thick lips, trimmed mustache, dark complexion, age approximately 30, height approximately 1.60 meters, wearing a long-sleeved olive green shirt, pants of same color, underwear white with blue stripes, blue socks, black combat boots, wearing a nylon belt with a canteen holder, assorted medicine and a canvas rucksack, holding in his hands a carbine of Chinese make, serial number B4MC00478AD47, cal. 7.62 with two clips of 28 rounds each and a plastic bag containing 72 cartridges of the same caliber. The body showed a bullet wound above the belt in the back, and the skull shattered by a bullet; according to persons who had access to this information and who collaborated with me without identifying themselves, this person fell wounded and upon being surrounded by the army fired his weapon into his mouth, the bullet making an exit wound in the occipital, explaining the shattering of the skull. The medical report contradicts the act of exhumation, because the medical diagnosis is death by strangulation, contusions on the thorax, noted in death certificate number 41, folio 309, book 45 of the respective register of deaths.

According to the data which you (De Leon) first shared with me, I found a similarity in the physical traits of the body, thus acting in my capacity as advisor to the Human Rights Ombudsman I did the necessary steps for the exhumation of said body, and through conversation with the Second Judge of First Appeal of Instruction of Retalhuleu, this is to take place May 14. I would like to add that Victor Villeda and Raul Rodriguez Ovalle were an important help in this task.

May 10, 1992: Another fax from URNG official Francisco Villagran repeating request of April 24, seeking information on fate of Commander Everardo; URNG has heard nothing of him since March 12.

May 11, 1992: Fax from Human Rights Ombudsman De Leon Carpio to Francisco Villagran Munoz of URNG in Puebla, Mexico. (NB: JH maintains this data was provided by the army; there is no mention in the fax of where the data originated. The most logical assumption is that it dervies from the report submitted to De Leon noted above.) This fax conveys the following data to the URNG official Villagran:

"On 13 March at 1300, on banks of River Ixcucua of Canton Montufar, Nuevo San Carlos, Retalhuleu, a body was found with the following characteristics:

Male, brown, round face, wide forehead, coffee brown eyes, thick eyebrows, flat-nosed, large mouth, straight black hair, thick lips, trimmed mustache, dark complexion, age approximately 30, height approximately 1.60 meters, wearing a long-sleeved olive green shirt, pants of same color, underwear white with blue stripes, blue socks, black combat boots, wearing a nylon belt with a canteen holder, various medicine and a canvas rucksack, holding in his hands a carbine of Chinese make serial number B4MC00478AD47, cal. 7.62 with two clips of 28 rounds each and a plastic bag containing 72 cartridges of the same caliber. The body showed a bullet wound above the belt in the back, and the skull shattered by a bullet, supposedly the person shot himself in the mouth, exit wound atop the skull, shattering the cranium."

Aug. 16 1992: Fax from URNG Francisco Villagran to HR Ombudsman De Leon Carpio requesting humane treatment for two URNG prisoners, Roberto Everardo Sanchez Velasquez and Pedro Victor Gonzalez Cortez, captured June 22 in Quetzaltenango. Says they have been displayed tied up in various towns, show signs of beating.

March 12, 1993 Letter from Jennifer Harbury to Jeff Moon:

Cites lack of publicity over Bamaca's death. URNG contacted HR Ombudsman De Leon Carpio, requested forensic photographs, none available. Says description "provided by army" resembled face of Everardo. Exhumation cancelled by Asisclo Valladares.

Aug. 25, 1993. Report by Jennifer Harbury:

Claims the description of the killed guerrilla was "the army's statement." May 20 1992 exhumation called off by Asisclo Valladares. File at Human Rights Ombudsman's office has disappeared. "Carlos" saw him alive in July 1992.

Cites discrepancies between description of dead guerrilla "by army" and body actually buried in Retalhuleu.

| XX | Bamaca |
|---|---|
| -- | ------ |
| 25 | 34 |
| light brown skin | dark brown skin |
| light mustache | no mustache (NB:Description DOES mention trimmed mustache.) |
| 1.55 meters | 1.60 meters |
| scar on hand | no scar |
| tied, shot, strangled, stabbed, skull crushed by blows. | supposedly shot self in mouth, exit wound shattered skull. |

Jennifer's account and description of exhumation of body in light olive green URNG uniform:

Two corona on upper front teeth, upper extraction, no lower extraction. Says Bamaca has no coronas, no upper extraction, does have lower extraction.

NB: Do dental records for Bamaca exist? How does Harbury know the details of Bamaca's teeth?

Exhumed body determined to be of male 18-20 years of age, frame smaller then JH (who says Bamaca is almost exactly her size, i.e. 5' 3", normal weight 125 lbs.).

Aug. 9, 1994 letter from JH to John Shattuck:

Army claims never had Bamaca. But, if they never had him, then how were they able to send an exact description of him to the URNG through De Leon?

October, 1994 Newspaper Statement By Jennifer Harbury:

Autopsy done on 3/13/92 describes a different person than Bamaca. Says Santiago Cabrerea saw Bamaca 3/12/92 at Destacamento de Santa Ana Berlin. Also saw at end of August at San Marcos military base.

Army, on March 12, 1992, brought another prisoner of war from another place to site of supposed death of Bamaca, and murdered him brutally there. Army sent to URNG an exact description not of the buried body, but of Efrain Bamaca.

Explanations from army to JH and why they do not work:

1. Never had him in the first place: So why did the description sent by army through De Leon to URNG describe Bamaca exactly? Why did army send this description instead of that of the body actually buried?

2. The guerrillas switched bodies: Official autopsy of the body on 3/13/92 describes a person completely different from Bamaca.

3. All indigenous people have similar characteristics: And are they also all the same age and height?

4. It really is him in the grave: With a difference of 5 cm (2"), 15 years, and different teeth?

5. "If she tells me where he is, I will take her there to verify it": How am I going to know where they have hidden my husband? The army knows where he is.

Oct. 24, 1994: Letter from forensic anthropologist Michael Charney to Ambassador Madeleine Albright:

Examined the remains exhumed in August, 1993: Male, 18-20, two silver facial fillings on upper central incisors, missing upper tooth left side. All bones of skull present, those on left and back smashed as if by a rifle butt.

Everardo had one facial filling upper incisor, and missing one tooth lower right jaw. If body was that of Bamaca, who had supposedly shot himself in the mouth, the bones at the back of the skull would have been blown away by the bullet. The remains could not possibly be those of Bamaca.

Dear Mr. Raines:

The editorial "Guatemala: Change the Message" that appeared in the November 9 edition of your newspaper inaccurately characterized the Department of State's policy seeking to end decades of human rights abuses in Guatemala, and unfairly maligned the efforts and reputations of two decent and hard working public servants in the process.

The Department of State in our Embassy in Guatemala City have provided and continues to provide Ms. Harbury with extensive assistance in her search for information about her husband, a Guatemalan Guerrilla commander. That assistance has included frequent meetings in Washington and Guatemala with Ms Harbury and repeated representations to the Government of Guatemala that this case is important to the U.S. Government and needs to be resolved. In late Oct., a series of meetings was held by my Senior Advisor, Richard Nuccio, with the President, the Defense Minister, the Minister of Foreign Relations, the Peace Commissioner, the URNG Command in Mexico City, Representatives of the friends of the Guatemala Peace, the UN Peace Moderator and the UN Verification Mission in Guatemala to explain again our concern about the case and to press for action. Amb. McAfee participated in many of these same meetings and has had many other others to the case.

Our message in each of these meeting was the same: that Ms. Harbury's charges represented a grave violation of Human Rights and should be investigated thoroughly and promptly. Neither Dr. Nuccio nor Amb. McAfee have ever believed the Government of Guatemala's version of events over Ms. Harbury's. Indeed, it is precisely because we do not accept the explanation we have so far received that we continue to press for greater Government of Guatemala action and international verification.

For more than a year Dr. Nuccio, as coordinator of our involvement in the Guatemala Peace Process, Amb. McAfee, and many others not named in your editorial have worked tirelessly to end 4 decades of violence and to forge a new relationship for our country with a Guatemala at peace. Those efforts have been applauded by both parties to the conflict.

Symbolic of this new era in our relationship is the fact that in September President Clinton decided to convert 4.6 million dollars in suspended military assistance to Guatemala into a peace fund to help implement the accord even now being negotiated by both sides in Mexico.

We believe this peace process and our participation in it can help to resolve Ms. Harbury's case and the thousand others stemming Guatemala's past.

That is our message.

Human Rights Watch/Americas Denounces Exhumation Hoax as Latest Ploy in Harbury Case

Human Rights Watch/Americas alleges today that the Guatemalan government is conducting a campaign of deceit and misinformation in the disappearance of rebel leader Efraín Bámaca Velásquez. Yesterday's exhumation was only the latest act in this tragic comedy. American lawyer Jennifer Harbury, who married Bámaca in 1991, today ended her hunger strike in front of the National Palace of Guatemala, intended to pressure the Guatemalan government to disclose additional information regarding the fate and whereabouts of her husband.

On November 10, the Guatemalan government conducted an exhumation in Coatepeque, claiming that the body found was Efraín Bámaca Velásquez. Despite the government's allegations to the contrary, there were never genuine indications that Bámaca's body could have been in the unmarked graves: the physical characteristics provided to the forensic team did not match Bámaca, and the cadaver was buried 10 days before Bámaca's disappearance. Indeed, his body was not found in the graves and his fate and whereabouts remain unknown.

A team composed of Congressional aides and human rights advocates, including Anne Manuel, the deputy director of Human Rights Watch/Americas, meets today with Attorney General Acisclo Valladares Molina to demand information regarding Bámaca's whereabouts. President Ramiro de León Carpio has refused to meet with the delegation, and even with Jennifer Harbury. The president's inaccessibility and lack of cooperation with national and international human rights organizations' efforts to arrive at the truth is particularly unfortunate. When he was the Guatemalan human rights ombudsman, de León Carpio provided information to the URNG that a rebel combatant with physical characteristics matching those of Bámaca had been killed. In addition, the de León Carpio government has not, thus far, interviewed any military officers who could provide critical information in this case.

Human Rights Watch/Americas calls on the Guatemalan government to conduct a serious investigation, including the interrogation of army officers accused of capturing Bámaca. In addition, the New York-based human rights organization calls on President de León Carpio to divulge any relevant information that would help determine Bámaca's fate. Finally, HRW/Americas exhorts the U.S. Government to press Guatemalan authorities to investigate this matter with the seriousness it merits.

OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS

University Secretary Attacked According to Victor Gudiel, the president of the Association of University Students (AEU), on October 8 Secretary General of Student Affairs GUILLERMO FERNANDEZ was attacked. Two men and a woman reportedly followed him onto an urban bus and then sprayed him in the face with a substance that caused him to lose consciousness. He was found by firemen two hours later and taken to Roosevelt Hospital with wounds on his body and a cut to his face. Gudiel noted that the attack occurred moments before a new student council was elected. He said it may have been in response to the AEU's efforts to coordinate the settlements of squatters living along the railroad tracks.

Salesman Goes into Exile OSCAR GILBERTO RIOS fled into exile under the protection of the Human Rights Procurator, after being blackmailed several months ago by officials at the Department of Criminal Investigations (DIC). Ríos is holding the DIC responsible for any retaliation against his family in Guatemala.

Spanish Solidarity Worker Detained by Armed Men According to GAM, GRACIELA PASI, the president of the National Coordinating Committee of Spanish Solidarity with the People of Guatemala, was detained by two armed men as she was leaving the GAM in Zone 1 of Guatemala City. She was taken to a vehicle, where she was held for two hours and interrogated about her work in and in Guatemala. The men left her in zone 19.

Survivor of Carpio Attack Intimidated Former National Centrist Union party member MARIO RENE LOPEZ ARRIVILLAGA, who witnessed the 1993 assassination of Jorge Carpio Nicolle, reports that several unidentified men have tried to break into his home in Zone 2 of Guatemala City. He said the harassment could be related to his participation in the investigation of the murder.

Human Rights Groups in Guatemala Report Scores of Violations Ronalth Ochaeta, the director of the Archbishop's Human Rights Office in Guatemala City, reports that in the month of August, 180 assassinations occurred. Thirty-five of these were definitely considered political crimes. The Committee of Families of the Detained and Disappeared of Guatemala (FAMDEGUA) reported thirty politically motivated extrajudicial executions in September, sixteen cases of torture, and seven disappearances. Three people went into exile. FAMDEGUA also reported numerous violations against street children.

On September 7, a policeman killed SERGIO SANCHEZ, striking him in the head. A child who witnessed the killing was detained by police and threatened with death. FIDEL SOLORZANO (12) was killed by a bomb explosion on September 22. RUBEN GARCIA GONZALES (13) DANIEL ROSALES (10) were shot to death. VICTOR MANUEL GARCIA was wounded.

Clandestine Cemetery Discovered in Chimaltenango A clandestine cemetery believed to contain various bodies was discovered in the village of Paquix, in Comalapa, Chimaltenango. The remains of two people have been exhumed and identified as EUSEBIO MAYOR APEN and HUMBERTO CHEC SON. The victims were identified by Maritza Pelón Cutzal, who said the men disappeared after going to work in the fields on April 17, 1981. Other Comalapa residents whose relatives have disappeared are requesting further excavations of the site. Nineth Montenegro, of the National Human Rights Coordinating Committee of Guatemala (CONADEHGUA) said that in the past year, twenty-eight clandestine cemeteries have been found on the South Coast and in the Highlands.

OTHER INFORMATION

Peace Talks Continue From October 21–24, the Guatemalan government and the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Unity (URNG) met in Mexico to discuss the identity and rights of the Indigenous. No accord was reached in that round of talks. Negotiations were resumed on November 4 and were expected to conclude on November 9.

Refugees Return On October 15, forty-seven families returned from Chetumal, Mexico to the Xaman finca in Chisec, Alta Verapaz. Meanwhile, the Permanent Commissions Representing Guatemalan Refugees in Mexico concluded the necessary proceedings to request credit for the purchase of the San Cayetano finca, on Guatemala's South Coast. A group of 120 families from Campeche and Quintana Roo plan to return to the finca. So far, however, they have not received a response to their application for credit, although twenty days, the maximum time period for a response, has elapsed. The CCPP also decided to purchase El Silencio and Las Conchas fincas in Genova, Quetzaltenango, for the return of other refugee groups.

THE HUNGER WEAPON

Demanding the release of her missing husband, an American woman starves herself in Guatemala

THE DAY SHE TURNED 43, ON OCT. 27, Harvard-educated lawyer Jennifer Harbury sat in an armchair at the edge of the main square in Guatemala City, shielding herself from the intense sun with an umbrella. That night she slept in the plaza—as she has every night since Oct. 11—on a thin foam pad atop two wooden crates. All she had for food that day was water and a mineral solution. It was, Harbury says, "the best birthday of my life."

Harbury is slowly and publicly starving herself in the hope of shaming the repressive Guatemalan government and the army that sustains it into producing her husband, Mayan guerrilla commander Efraín Bamaca Velásquez, 37—better known by his nom de guerre, Everardo. Initially, the military said he committed suicide to avoid capture during a skirmish in March 1992, a blip in the bloody three-decade civil war between government troops and leftist guerrillas that has resulted in an estimated 200,000 deaths and "disappearances." Now army officials say they have no idea where he is.

But Harbury is convinced they are lying and believes Everardo is being tortured in clandestine army detention. The only way she knows to save him is by staging a hunger strike—and attracting as much publicity as she can. "It's just starting to heat up," Harbury says with a smile, "and I know they're very sensitive to this kind of heat. It's like a vampire. You shine a bright light on it, and it flips out."

As for her own prospects, the petite Harbury, who has already lost 15 pounds, says she is prepared to die and that she is fighting for the lives of all guerrillas being held by the government. But she doubts it will come to that. "They can't have a gringa starve to death on their front lawn," jokes Harbury, who is fasting opposite the National Palace. "This is not a suicide mission. This is an attempt to save lives."

Jennifer Harbury has been something of a maverick most of her life. She grew up in New Haven, the second of four children of Henry Harbury, a biochemistry professor at Yale, and his wife, Dorothy, a homemaker. (Her parents, who encouraged independence, strongly support Jennifer today, while worrying about her health.) As an undergraduate at Cornell in 1969 she became swept up in the peace movement and dropped out in her sophomore year. She spent the next few years traveling everywhere, from Africa to the Arctic Circle, returning to college in 1972. After graduating two years later, she backpacked through

MYSTERY

➤ "[Everardo] was chained to a metal bunk bed," says Carlos, who claims to have seen him in captivity and was to testify before the Organization of American States last week.

➤ "If she married a subversive, she knew that anything could happen," says defense minister Mario René Enríquez Morales.

BRENDAN BJORNSEN

➤ "They handed me the jaws and asked me if it was Everardo," says Harbury (at the August 1993 exhumation of a body authorities had misidentified as her husband's). "It was so pathetic. Here was this 18-year-old kid who'd been beaten to death."

Afghanistan, returning to the U.S. just three days before classes began at Harvard Law School.

It was after she got her law degree that Harbury learned about Guatemala's internal strife. While working for Texas Rural Legal Aid in the early '80s, she heard stories of brutal village-wide massacres from Guatemalan migrant workers seeking political asylum. But stringent Reagan-era requirements governing asylum claims from non-Communist countries—much less regimes receiving U.S. support, like Guatemala—were virtually impossible to satisfy. Even obviously maimed torture victims found their petitions rejected.

Somewhat naively, Harbury decided that if she observed the abuse, she could help refugees make their cases. During two years in Guatemala, beginning in 1985, Harbury witnessed shocking atrocities. "For a while," she says, "I was losing a friend a week to the [military] death squads."

But when she returned to Texas, she found that even her testimony wasn't sufficient. Frustrated, Harbury decided to write a book, Bridge of Courage (Common Courage Press, 1993), to publicize the Guatemalans' plight.

Conducting research in Guatemala in 1990, she met Everardo at a guerrilla camp in the Tajumulco volcano. He had grown up dirt-poor and illiterate on a coffee plantation, living with hunger and laboring like a pack mule. Everardo had learned to read and write only after joining the resistance, where he rose to the rank of commandante and became renowned for his bravery. But despite the pair's wildly different backgrounds, "he was all I ever wanted," says Harbury, who had already been married once—for about a year—to a fellow lawyer in Texas. "He was this combination of being real simple and straightforward and absolutely brilliant."

The relationship blossomed in 1991 during the six months the couple lived together in Mexico City, where Everardo was preparing position papers for the on-again, off-again peace talks between the Guatemalan government and the guerrillas. After an idyllic period of long walks in the parks and dancing to salsa music in their apartment, Harbury says, Everardo proposed. "If it's a good thing, why waste time?" asked Everardo, who said his first two wives had been killed by the army. "You never know what's going to happen."

In September 1991 the pair had a small common-law wedding ceremony outside Austin, Texas, attended by a few friends. Instead of rings, they exchanged spoons—a guerrilla custom born of poverty. Even so, Harbury's friends were impressed. "Everardo is an extraordinary man," says Emily Jones, an Austin lawyer. "He is the only man I would put up there with Jennifer."

Early the following year the couple had a wrenching farewell when Everardo headed back to the jungle to escort his troops into a new region. "[Everardo] had very strong premonitions he was going to die or disappear," Harbury remembers. "He had recurring nightmares, and it was very clear he did not expect to come back."

On March 12, it seemed his nightmare had come true: Everardo disappeared after a brief battle with the army. Military authorities reported that one guerrilla, with no identification, had killed himself rather than risk capture. The government's description of the victim matched Everardo's. Harbury, who was three months pregnant, miscarried. She believed her husband was dead. But soon she began to have doubts. Why were no fingerprints available? Why didn't the government publicize the killing of such a prominent rebel?

In January 1993, Harbury found what she believed was an answer. Another guerrilla, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, known as Carlos, surfaced to say he had escaped from a secret military base where the army was torturing dozens of captives in an experimental program to force political conversions. Among the prisoners Carlos was able to identify was Everardo, whom he said he saw on several occasions. One of these times, Carlos said, Everardo lay chained to a hospital bed, his body grotesquely swollen from head to toe.

Since meeting Carlos, Harbury has thrown all her energy into finding her husband. In August 1993 a Guatemalan judge granted her request to exhume the body the government said was Everardo's. An American forensic anthropologist Harbury hired, Michael Charney, determined the body was not his but that of a much younger, shorter man who had been beaten to death.

With that, Harbury went on a weeklong hunger strike "just to get [the government's] attention." Her reward was several meetings with Guatemala's minister of defense, Gen. Mario René Enríquez Morales—but no action.

Now she is trying again. Guatemalan officials insist that they do not have Everardo—and never did. "If I knew where he was, I would go get Jennifer and show her," says Enríquez. Neither he nor Lt. Col. Otto Noack Sierra, a military man who holds Guatemala's top human rights post, believe Harbury and Everardo are married. "An American lawyer fall in love with a Guatemalan Indian?" scoffs Noack. "I do not believe the history."

Even so, they are worried about Harbury's health—and the controversy she is creating. "She's an American citizen," says Noack. "Military aid and economic assistance could be affected." Indeed, U.S. officials are lobbying behind the scenes for resolution of Harbury's case. With that in mind, President Ramiro de

Leon Carpio announced that a special commission had been appointed to look into Everardo's disappearance. But Harbury says that's not good enough: "I'm not trading my husband's life for another investigative committee."

The defense minister says he hopes Harbury finds Everardo. "My biggest dream is that he's alive and that he has a good life with Jennifer Harbury," says Enríquez. Harbury hopes so too. But she is a realist. If Everardo is alive, "he's probably not going to be in good shape," she says. "He'll probably have to be in a trauma center for a long time." Still, she is optimistic. "I'm not afraid," Harbury says. "I think it's because I'm totally at peace with what I'm doing."

SUBJECT: REPORT TO JENNIFER HARBURY ON MEETING WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON

REF: STATE 302742

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT

2. SUMMARY: JENNIFER HARBURY MET WITH THE AMBASSADOR AT AMBASSADOR'S REQUEST EARLY AFTERNOON NOV 11 IN THE EMBASSY. SHE INFORMED HARBURY OF THE INFORMATION GIVEN TO PRESIDENT DE LEON THE SAME MORNING THAT WE HAVE CONCLUDED THAT EFRAIN BAMACA WAS TAKEN CAPTIVE BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY, AND THAT WE HAVE NO

INFORMATION THAT HE WAS ALIVE MUCH MORE THAN A FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE. SHE STRESSED THAT SHE HAD URGED A VIGOROUS INVESTIGATION, AND THAT DE LEON SAID HE WOULD SEEK TO PROVIDE ASSISTANCE TO THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN.

3. HARBURY SAID SHE HAD ENDED HER HUNGER STRIKE, AND WILL RETURN TO THE US SHORTLY FOR HIGH LEVEL WHITE HOUSE MEETINGS AS WELL AS TO MEET WITH UN HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT MONICA PINTO, AFTER WHICH SHE WILL RETURN TO GUATEMALA TO AID THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION. IF THE RESULTS ARE NOT SATISFACTORY, SHE SAID SHE INTENDS TO PROSECUTE CRIMINAL CHARGES AGAINST THOSE NAMED IN OAS TESTIMONY UNLESS THE ARMY PERMITS A NEUTRAL OBSERVER TO VIEW BAMACA AND CONFIRM HE IS ALIVE AND WELL AND WILL BE TURNED OVER WHEN A PEACE AGREEMENT GOES INTO EFFECT.

END SUMMARY

4. THE AMBASSADOR MET WITH JENNIFER HARBURY, WHO WAS ACCOMPANIED BY JAMES MALONEY, FORENSIC ATTORNEY; AND JOSE PERTIERRA, HARBURY'S LAWYER. THE DCM, THE PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICER, THE CONSUL GENERAL AND THE POLITICAL COUNSELOR ALSO ATTENDED. THE CAMERA PERSON WHO ACCOMPANIED HER WAS ASKED TO REMAIN IN THE LOBBY.

5. AFTER GREETING HARBURY AND HER GROUP AND NOTING SHE HAD BEEN TO MEET WITH HER EARLIER, THE AMBASSADOR INFORMED THEM THAT SHE HAD MET WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON IN THE MORNING AND HAD DELIVERED A DEMARCHE TO HIM, BASED ON INSTRUCTIONS FROM WASHINGTON. SHE INFORMED THEM THAT THE INSTRUCTION HAD CONTAINED THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION: "BASED ON ALL THE INFORMATION NOW AVAILABLE TO US FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES, WE

HAVE CONCLUDED THAT BAMACA WAS TAKEN CAPTIVE BY THE ARMY IN MARCH 1992. HE HAD BEEN WOUNDED, BUT HIS INJURIES WERE NOT

GUATEM 10259 00 OF 03 141451Z 025877 S058939

BELIEVED TO BE LIFE THREATENING. WE HAVE NO INFORMATION THAT HE WAS ALIVE MUCH BEYOND THE FIRST FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE." THE AMBASSADOR TOLD HARBURY THAT SHE HAD INFORMED PRESIDENT DE LEON OF THIS, AND THAT WE WERE ATTEMPTING TO DEVELOP FURTHER INFORMATION FOR HIM.

6. THE AMBASSADOR DECLINED TO EXPAND OR RESPOND TO QUESTIONS ABOUT THE INFORMATION, NOTING THAT IT CONCERNED INTELLIGENCE MATTERS. SHE SAID SHE HAD PRESSED THE PRESIDENT FOR A VIGOROUS INVESTIGATION. SHE HAD TOLD HIM THAT SHE HAD MET WITH HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN GARCIA LAGUARDIA THE DAY BEFORE, WHO HAD COMPLAINED ABOUT THE LACK OF RESOURCES TO CARRY OUT AN ADEQUATE INVESTIGATION. DE LEON HAD INDICATED THAT HE HAD A LOT OF RESPECT FOR THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE (WHICH HE USED TO HEAD), NOTING IT WAS APPROPRIATE FOR IT TO INVESTIGATE THE BAMACA CASE SINCE IT WAS OUTSIDE THE GOVERNMENT. HE HAD SAID HE WOULD TRY TO ASSIST IT IN ANY WAY POSSIBLE. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED SHE HAD ALSO STRESSED WITH THE PRESIDENT THE ONGOING RESPONSIBILITY OF THE PUBLIC MINISTRY TO CONTINUE ITS CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION.

7. HARBURY REPLIED THAT THE PUBLIC MINISTRY WAS NOT DOING ANYTHING EFFECTIVE; THEY HAD NOT YET INTERVIEWED ANY OF THE MILITARY PERSONNEL NAMED LONG AGO IN OAS TESTIMONY AS WITNESSES TO BAMACA'S CAPTIVITY. THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THAT SHE HAD SUGGESTED THAT BE DONE AND THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN ALSO INTERVIEW URNG COMBATANTS IN MEXICO WHO MAY HAVE INFORMATION ABOUT BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE, AS WELL AS FOLLOW UP ON REPORTED SIGHTINGS IN GUATEMALA, SUCH AS A RECENT REPORT HE WAS BEING HELD IN JUTIAPA. GARCIA LAGUARDIA HAD SAID HE WOULD DO SO.

SHE CONTINUED THAT WE ARE AWARE THAT THINGS DO NOT HAPPEN IN GUATEMALA UNLESS THERE IS A PUSH, AND WE WILL KEEP PUSHING. THE AMBASSADOR REPORTED THAT SHE HAD ARGUED TO DE LEON THAT INTERNATIONAL ACCOMPANIMENT OF THE INVESTIGATION BY MINUGUA WOULD BE IMPORTANT, AND HE HAD AGREED. PERTIERRA OBSERVED THAT THEY WOULD BE MEETING IN A FEW DAYS WITH MONICA PINTO (THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT FOR GUATEMALA).

8. HARBURY OBSERVED THAT, IF THERE WERE NO SATISFACTORY RESULTS FROM THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION IN THE 30 DAY PERIOD, SHE WOULD PERSONALLY PROCEED TO PROSECUTE ALL THOSE PERSONS NAMED IN THE OAS TESTIMONY. SHE SAID SHE EXPECTED TO HAVE HIGH LEVEL MEETINGS IN THE WHITE HOUSE, AND THEN TO COME BACK TO GUATEMALA TO WORK CLOSELY WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN IN HIS INVESTIGATION. AT THE AMBASSADOR'S URGING, SHE SAID SHE WOULD BE WORKING WITH MINUGUA AS WELL, AND AGREED TO TRY TO SEE ITS ACTING DIRECTOR FERNANDO CASTANON BEFORE SHE RETURNS TO THE US.

9. PERTIERRA WONDERED IF US RESOURCES MIGHT BE MADE AVAILABLE TO AID THE BAMACA INVESTIGATION. THE AMBASSADOR STRESSED THAT IT IS IMPORTANT TO CREATE AN INSTITUTIONAL CAPABILITY TO

PROSECUTE VIOLATIONS, SINCE THIS IS ULTIMATELY A GUATEMALAN RESPONSIBILITY. HARBURY NOTED THAT A PRESS ITEM ON THE AMBASSADOR'S MEETING THE PREVIOUS DAY WITH SUPREME COURT PRESIDENT BARRIOS HAD MENTIONED WE WERE ASSISTING THE COURTS. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT SHE HAD MADE A PRIVATE, FIRST VISIT TO THE NEW PRESIDENT AND NO PUBLIC STATEMENTS WERE MADE; THE PRESS ITEM DOUBTLESS WAS CONCOCTED BY THE COURT'S PUBLIC

RELATIONS OFFICER. SHE SAID THAT THE VISIT DID INCLUDE DISCUSSION OF OUR ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM. PERTIERRA ASKED IF THIS AID SHOULD BE TIED TO THE INVESTIGATION IN THE BAMACA CASE. THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THAT WOULD BE A TRAVESTY, BECAUSE THE PENAL PROCEDURES CODE IS A MAJOR REFORM THAT WILL BE STILLBORN IF WE DO NOT HELP. THIS IS EXACTLY THE TYPE OF THING WE NEED TO DO TO CHANGE THINGS IN GUATEMALA. THERE ARE MANY PEOPLE HERE WHO WOULD LIKE THE REFORM TO FAIL. SHE NOTED THAT, IN HER MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT OF THE COURT (REPORTED SEPTEL), HE HAD SAID THAT HE HAD GREAT SYMPATHY FOR HARBURY AS WELL AS ADMIRATION FOR HER ELOQUENT COURT PRESENTATION. WHILE IT WAS TOO SOON TO SAY FOR SURE ABOUT THE NEW COURT, ITS PRESIDENT (A HERO OF THE 1944 REVOLUTION AND A CABINET MINISTER IN THE AREVALO GOVERNMENT) HAS IMPECCABLE CREDENTIALS AND A HISTORY OF POLITICAL COMMITMENT.

10. HARBURY THEN REQUESTED COPIES OF ALL EMBASSY COMMUNICATIONS ON HER CASE, TO WHICH THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THE REQUEST NEEDED TO BE MADE IN WASHINGTON. PERTIERRA ASKED IF THE USG WAS GIVING INFORMATION TO THE GUATEMALAN INVESTIGATING AUTHORITIES THAT IT WAS NOT GIVING TO HARBURY. THEY WERE AGAIN REFERRED TO WASHINGTON. PERTIERRA CONTINUED THAT THE INFORMATION WHICH HAD BEEN GIVEN TO THE PRESIDENT HAD BEEN PRETTY DAMNING AND PUTS THE GOG IN A TENUOUS POSITION. HE ASKED HOW DE LEON HAD REACTED TO THE MESSAGE "YOUR ARMY KILLED HIM." THE AMBASSADOR DECLINED TO CHARACTERIZE THE PRESIDENT'S REACTION. PERTIERRA THEN WANTED TO KNOW IF DE LEON HAD EVER DIVULGED TO HER WHERE HE HAD GOTTEN THE DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF BAMACA CONTAINED IN HIS LETTER TO THE URNG WHEN HE WAS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT SHE HAS MENTIONED THE NEED TO CLARIFY THIS AND OTHER POINTS AS AN ELEMENT OF THE INVESTIGATION. WHEN ASKED WHETHER ANY OF THE INDIVIDUALS NAMED IN OAS TESTIMONY HAD BEEN INTERVIEWED AS PART OF THE INVESTIGATION, THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THE GOG HAD RESPONDED NO IN THE RECENT OAS HEARING; SHE HAS ALSO URGED THIS AS AN ESSENTIAL PART OF THE INVESTIGATION.

11. HARBURY THEN OFFERED WHAT SHE CHARACTERIZED AS A FACE SAVING WAY OUT FOR THE ARMY: IF SHE AND THE ARMY CAN AGREE ON A NEUTRAL INTERMEDIARY WHO WOULD VISIT BAMACA WHERE HE IS BEING HELD TO VERIFY HE IS ALIVE AND WELL; AND IF THE ARMY WILL AGREE TO RELEASE HIM AT THE TIME A PEACE AGREEMENT GOES INTO EFFECT; SHE WILL THEN WAIVE HER RIGHT TO PROSECUTE AND "THE PROBLEM WILL GO AWAY." SHE SAID SHE WOULD PUSH FOR THIS. IF NOT ACCEPTED, SHE WILL PROVIDE ALL POSSIBLE SUPPORT AND EVIDENCE TO MINUGUA INCLUDING VIDEOS AND DOCUMENTS; AND WILL PROSECUTE ALL THOSE INVOLVED TO THE FULL EXTENT OF THE LAW (HER PRESS STATEMENT FAXED TO ARA/CEN AND USIA NOV 11 MAKES CLEAR SHE INTENDS ALSO TO BRING CHARGES AGAINST THE MOD, GEN. MARIO ENRIQUEZ). SHE WILL BE IN THE US FOR ONLY A WEEK OR SO, AND WILL THEN RETURN TO PURSUE HER CASE. PERTIERRA NOTED THEY WOULD HAVE THE OAS TURN OVER ALL ITS EVIDENCE TO MINUGUA AS WELL.

12. HARBURY THEN SAID THAT SHE HAD TERMINATED HER HUNGER STRIKE AN HOUR EARLIER. SHE ADDED THAT SHE HAD CONTINUED HER STRIKE A WEEK LONGER THAN INTENDED BECAUSE OF GOG EFFORTS TO INTIMIDATE HER AND WEAR HER OUT, E.G. BY THE TWO TRIPS TO COATEPEQUE FOR THE UNNECESSARY EXHUMATION. SHE PARTICULARLY THANKED THE EMBASSY AND ESPECIALLY THE CONSUL GENERAL FOR THE EXTENSIVE HELP AND SECURITY WHICH HAD BEEN PROVIDED. SHE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT SHE HAD WANTED THE FIRST EXHUMATION CANCELLED, AND OBSERVED THAT HER FATHER, WHO HAD SOUGHT EMBASSY

HELP TO CANCEL IT, COULD BE "A PRETTY INSISTENT PERSON." SHE HAD THOUGHT THE EXHUMATION POINTLESS SINCE IT WAS CLEAR THOSE BURIED THERE HAD BEEN KILLED A WEEK EARLIER THAN HER HUSBAND'S DISAPPEARANCE, BUT SHE HAD NONETHELESS COME (TWICE) TO PREVENT THE POSSIBILITY THE ARMY MIGHT TRY TO SWITCH HER HUSBAND'S BODY WITH ONE OF THOSE IN COATEPEQUE. SHE ALSO THOUGHT IT HAD BEEN CRUEL OF THE GOG TO INVOLVE BAMACA'S FATHER IN THE COURT HEARING SINCE HE HAD NOT SEEN HIS SON IN TWENTY YEARS. THESE WERE JUST EXAMPLES, ACCORDING TO HARBURY, OF THE SMOKE AND MIRRORS THE GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES WERE ENGAGING IN RATHER THAN REALLY INVESTIGATING.

13. AS THE MEETING CLOSED, PERTIERRA ASKED REGARDING THE INFORMATION PASSED TO PRESIDENT DE LEON, WHETHER WE HAD

GUATEM 10259 00 OF 03 141451Z 025877 $058939

INFORMATION WHERE THE BODY MIGHT BE. THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THAT SHE HAD GONE AS FAR AS SHE COULD IN RESPONDING, THAT SHE DID NOT KNOW WHAT HAPPENED TO BAMACA, AND THAT SHE DID NOT WISH TO MISSPEAK OR MISLEAD. THESE QUESTIONS SHOULD BE PRESENTED IN WASHINGTON. HARBURY NOTED SHE WOULD BE PUTTING IN A FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT REQUEST ON THE BAMACA MATTER. SHE ASKED THAT WE KEEP IN MIND THE FACE SAVING WAY OUT FOR THE ARMY SHE HAD MENTIONED, TO WHICH THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THAT WE HAVE NO INFORMATION INDICATING BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE. HARBURY DID NOT REACT.

14. POSTSCRIPT: PERTIERRA RETURNED ALONE AS HARBURY WAS BEING SHOWN OUT TO SAY THAT HE HAD SOME INFORMATION HE HAD NOT SHARED WITH HER, NAMELY THAT HE HAD LEARNED FROM A THIRD COUNTRY (INTELLIGENCE SOURCE THAT BAMACA HAD BEEN FLOWN OUT OVER THE PACIFIC IN A HELICOPTER AND THROWN INTO THE SEA. HE DID NOT

IDENTIFY HIS SOURCE FURTHER. HE ALSO NOTED THAT THE REFERENCE TO WHITE HOUSE MEETINGS CONCERNS A MEETING WHICH HAS BEEN ARRANGED FOR HARBURY AND HIMSELF WITH THE VICE PRESIDENT'S SECURITY ADVISOR. HE SAID HE WAS OPTIMISTIC THAT EFFORTS TO RAISE THE MEETING TO ONE WITH THE VICE PRESIDENT HIMSELF WOULD SUCCEED.

15. COMMENT: WE HAVE NO WAY TO KNOW HOW MUCH HOPE HARBURY HAS THAT HER HUSBAND MAY STILL BE ALIVE. WHILE THE GOG WILL NOT BE PLEASED BY HARBURY'S PLANS TO RETURN, IN VIEW OF HER ESSENTIAL ROLE IN THE INVESTIGATION, THEY WOULD BE HARD PRESSED TO DENY IT.

SUBJECT: ARA GUIDANCES, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1994

1. ARA GUIDANCES, 11/14/94:

-HAITI: U.S. TROOP PRESENCE-

Q: WHAT IS YOU REACTION TO SENATOR DOLE'S CALL TO PULL U.S. TROOPS OUT OF HAITI BY THANKSGIVING?

A: U.S. TROOPS ARE IN HAITI LEADING A MULTINATIONAL FORCE, WHICH 29 OTHER NATIONS HAVE JOINED. THE FORCE WAS AUTHORIZED BY UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION 940, WHICH ALSO ESTABLISHED THAT THE FORCE WILL BE RELIEVED BY A U.N. MISSION WHEN THE SECURITY COUNCIL DETERMINES THAT A SECURE AND STABLE ENVIRONMENT EXISTS IN HAITI AND THE U.N. MISSION IS PREPARED TO DEPLOY.

THE PRESIDENT RECENTLY ANNOUNCED THAT 6,000 TROOPS WILL BE WITHDRAWN FROM HAITI BY DECEMBER 1. THE ADMINISTRATION WILL WITHDRAW U.S. TROOPS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, CONSISTENT WITH THE SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION.

-HAITI: MURDER OF EMBASSY EMPLOYEES-

Q: WHAT CAN YOU TELL US ON THE KILLING AND WOUNDING OF HAITIAN EMPLOYEES OF U.S. EMBASSY PORT-AU-PRINCE?

A: THREE EMBASSY EMPLOYEES TRAVELLING IN AN EMBASSY VEHICLE WERE ATTACKED AND ROBBED BEFORE NOON ON THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10. THE EMPLOYEES WENT FROM THE EMBASSY TO A BANK, AND WITHDREW FROM THE BANK 110 PAY PACKETS FOR DISTRIBUTIONS TO THE EMBASSY FOREING SERVICE NATIONAL STAFF. OUR EMPLOYEES WERE ROBBED ON THE WAY BACK TO THE EMBASSY. TWO OF THE THREE EMPL9OYEES WERE KILLED AT THE SCENE, APPARENTLY BY THE PERPETRATORS(S). THE THIRD, THE VEHICLE DRIVER, WAS ALSO SHOT. HE WAS FOUND TO BE IN CRITICAL CONDITION AND WAS MEDICALLY EVACUATED BY U.S. ARMED FORCES TO THE U.S. WE MOURN THE DEATHS AND WOUNDING OF OUR FELLOW DEPARTMENT OF STATE EMPLOYEES IN PORT-AU-PRINCE.

Q: WHAT WAS THE MOTIVE?

A: ROBBERY APPEARS THE CLEAR MOTIVE: THE EMBASSY EMPLOYEES WERE CARRYING MONEY, AND ALL THE MONEY WAS TAKEN.

Q: WHO WERE THE EMPLOYEES KILLED AND WOUNDED? HOW MUCH MONEY WAS TAKEN?

A: THE EMBASSY EMPLOYEES KILLED WERE MR. KESNEL, JEAN PAUL, A BUDGET AND FISCAL SPECIALIST, AND MS SONDRA MARIE RIGAUD, A PROCUREMENT ASSISTANT. BOTH WERE HAITIANS IN THEIR MID-20'S. THE WOUNDED EMBASSY DRIVER, ALSO HAITIAN, IS MR. LAMARTINE GUERRIER. UPWARDS OF 50,000 DOLLARS MAY HAVE BEEN TAKEN.

Q: HAVE THE PERPETRATORS(S) BEEN DETAINED, OR IDENTIFIED? ARE U.S. FORCES AND/OR HAITIAN SOLDIERS OR POLICE INVOLVED IN THE SEARCH?

A: THE CHIEF SUSPECT IS SGT. FRANCOIS COLLEGE, A HAITIAN

ARMY SERGEANT WHO SERVED ON AMBASSADOR SWING'S PROTECTIVE DETAIL. THE HAITIAN POLICE, WITH FULL SUPPORT FROM THE U.S. ARMY CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION DIVISION, THE REGIONAL SECURITY OFFICE OF THE EMBASSY, AND THE INTERNATIONAL POLICE MONITORS, ARE INVESTIGATING THE CASE.

Q: CAN YOU RULE OUT POLITICAL MOTIVES FOR THIS ROBBERY OF THE U.S. EMBASSY?

A: WE HAVE NO EVIDENCE OF ANY POLITICAL MOTIVE.

Q: DOES THIS PROVE A SAFE AND SECURE ENVIRONMENT DOES NOT EXIST IN HAITI? ARE U.S. SOLDIERS SAFE, OR SHOULD THEY BE BROUGHT BACK?

A: WE BELIEVE THIS WAS AN ISOLATED CRIMINAL ACT.

Q: WHAT STEPS HAD BEEN TAKEN TO PREVENT SUCH AN ACT?

A: OUR EMBASSY FOLLOWED ITS PROCEDURES FOR PERIODIC BANK WITHDRAWALS OF THIS AMOUNT, DURING DAYLIGHT HOURS.

Q: WHAT FURTHER STEPS ARE BEING TAKEN NOW?

A: WE NEED TO AWAIT THE RESULTS OF THE INVESTIGATION, OUR IMMEDIATE FOCUS HAS BEEN ON THE TRAFFIC LOSS OF THESE U.S. GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES AND THEIR FAMILIES, AND ON TH E INVESTIGATION OF THE CRIME AND THE APPREHENSION OF THE PERPETRATOR OR PERPETRATORS. OF COURSE, IN VIEW OF THIS ROBBER, WE WILL REEXAMINE OUR PROCEDURES FOR PERIODIC BANK WITHDRAWALS.

Q: HOW WAS SGT. COLLEGE HIRED?

A: THE PROTECTIVE SECURITY DETAIL IS PROVIDED BY THE HAITIAN GOVERNMENT FROM THE HAITIAN ARMY'S 43RD COMPANY, WHICH IS SPECIALLY TRAINED FOR THE TASK. SGT. COLLEGE WAS NOT HIRED BY THE EMBASSY DIRECTLY, BUT RATHER WAS PROVIDED BY THE HAITIAN GOVERNMENT.

-GUATEMALA: JENNIFER HARBURY-

Q. CAN YOU GIVE US AN UPDATE ON THE HARBURY HUNGER STRIKE?

A. JENNIFER HARBURY ANNOUNCED NOVEMBER 11 THAT SHE WAS ENDING HER HUNGER STRIKE. SHE RETURNED TO THE U.S. OVER THE WEEKEND.

IN A STATEMENT, SHE SAID SHE WOULD BE RETURNING TO GUATEMALA IN THE NEAR FUTURE TO FILE CRIMINAL CHARGES AGAINST MILITARY PERSONNEL WHO SHE CLAIMED WERE INVOLVED WITH THE CAPTURE, DETENTION, AND TORTURE OF HER HUSBAND (EFRAIN BAMACA, AKA COMANDANTE EVERARDO).

THE GUATEMALAN SUPREME COURT HAS ORDERED A NEW INVESTIGATION UNDER THE PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, ASSISTED BY THE SOLICITOR GENERAL AND THE CHIEF PUBLIC PROSECUTOR. PRESIDENT DE LEON HAS STATED THAT THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION (MINUGUA) CAN ALSO PLAY A CONSTRUCTIVE ROLE. THE SUPREME COURT HAS ASKED THAT THE INVESTIGATION BE COMPLETED IN 30 DAYS.

Q. WHAT MEETINGS DOES JENNIFER HARBURY HAVE SCHEDULED AT THE WHITE HOUSE? AT THE DEPARTMENT?

A. AT THE REQUEST OF CONGRESSMAN SAM GEJDENSON, THE VICE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR, LEON FEURTH, HAS AGREED TO MEET WITH JENNIFER HARBURY'S ATTORNEY, BUT THAT MEETING HAS NOT YET BEEN SCHEDULED. WE ARE UNAWARE OF ANY OTHER GOVERNMENT APPOINTMENTS, BUT OF COURSE WOULD BE WILLING TO MEET WITH HER HERE AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

Q. WHAT IS THE DEPARTMENT'S OPINION ABOUT BAMACA'S FATE?

A. BASED ON ALL THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US, FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES, WE HAVE CONCLUDED THAT EFRAIN BAMACA WAS TAKEN CAPTIVE BY THE ARMY IN MARCH 1992. HE HAD BEEN WOUNDED, BUT HIS INJURIES WERE NOT BELIEVED TO BE LIFE-THREATENING.

WE HAVE NO INFORMATION TO INDICATE THAT HE WAS ALIVE MUCH BEYOND THE FIRST FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE.

Q. WAS MS. HARBURY'S DECISION TO STOP HER HUNGER STRIKE A RESULT OF RECEIVING INFORMATION FROM THE USG THAT YOU BELIEVE BAMACA WAS TAKEN CAPTIVE, ALIVE, BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY IN 1992?

A. NO. MS. HARBURY ANNOUNCED THE END OF HER HUNGER STRIKE SHORTLY BEFORE WE PROVIDED THIS INFORMATION TO HER AND TO THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT, BUT THERE IS NO LINK BETWEEN THE TWO EVENTS.

Q. DID THE STATE DEPARTMENT CONCEAL INFORMATION ABOUT MS. HARBURY'S HUSBAND'S POSSIBLE WHEREABOUTS FROM HER?

A. AS YOU KNOW, WE ARE NOT ABLE TO DISCUSS INTELLIGENCE MATTERS WITH PRIVATE CITIZENS. WITHIN THAT CONSTRAINT, WE HAVE BEEN AS FORTHCOMING AS POSSIBLE WITH MS. HARBURY AND HAVE GONE TO EXTRAORDINARY LENGTHS TO GIVE HER ASSISTANCE.

ON NOVEMBER 11TH, WE INFORMED BOTH MS. HARBURY AND THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT THAT, BASE ON ALL THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES, WE HAVE CONCLUDED THAT EFRAIN BAMACA, ALSO KNOWN AS COMANDANTE EVERARDO, WAS TAKEN CAPTIVE BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY IN MARCH 1992. HE HAD BEEN WOUNDED, BUT HIS INJURIES WERE NOT BELIEVED TO BE LIFE-THREATENING. WE HAVE NO INFORMATION TO INDICATE THAT HE WAS ALIVE BEYOND THE FIRST FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE.

THIS INFORMATION WAS PROVIDED TO THE GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO ASSIST THEM IN THE RESOLUTION OF THIS CASE.

-GUATEMALA: U.S. ASSISTANCE-

Q: HOW MUCH AID DO WE GIVE GUATEMALA?

A: OUR RELATIVELY SMALL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM IN GUATEMALA (APPROXIMATELY 50 MILLION) FOCUSES ON BASIC HUMAN NEEDS AND SUPPORT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND JUDICIAL REFORM. IT PROVIDES VITALLY NEEDED AID THAT PROMOTES HEALTH AND CHILD SURVIVAL, JUDICIAL REFORM, MEASURES TO PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT AND TO ENCOURAGE BROAD-BASED SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT.

MUCH OF OUR AID TO GUATEMALA IS DELIVERED THROUGH NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS (NGOS) TO ENSURE THAT IT GOES DIRECTLY TO THE MOST NEEDY.

MILITARY AID TO GUATEMALA WAS HALTED IN 1990 BECAUSE OF CONCERN OVER UMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

IN 1994, WE CONVERTED THE 4.6 MILLION OF FROZEN MILITARY AID TO CIVILIAN ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUNDS AND EARMARKED IT FOR FUTURE SUPPORT OF A COMPREHENSIVE PEACE AGREEMENT.

(IF ASKED)

IN 1994, WE PROVIDED APPROXIMATELY 28 MILLION IN FOOD AID, 15 MILLION IN DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE TO PROMOTE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT, 11.5 MILLION IN ECONOMIC SUPORT FUNDS, 2 MILLION IN COUNTERNARCOTICS ASSISTANCE, AND 36,000 IN INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING FUNDS TO PAY FOR FIVE INDIVIDUALS TO PARTICIPATE IN A COURSE ON CIVIL-MILITARY RELATIONS.

-MEXICO: MIGRATION TALKS-

Q. WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO PRESIDENT SALINAS' CALL FOR MIGRATION TALKS?

A. WE NORMALLY DISCUSS MIGRATION ISSUES IN THE MIGRATION AND CONSULAR AFFAIRS WORKING GROUP OF THE BINATIONAL COMMISSION. THAT WORKING GROUP HAS MET THREE TIMES IN 1994 (MARCH IN LAREDO, MAY IN MEXICO CITY, AND OCTOBER IN WASHINGTON, DC).

THE ZEDILLO ADMINISTRATION TAKES OVER ON DECEMBER 1ST, 1994. IN THE NORMAL COURSE OF EVENTS WE WOULD ANTICIPATE A MEETING OF THE WORKING GROUP EARLY IN 1995.

-CUBA: VISIT OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICIAL-

Q: WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO THE IMPENDING VISIT TO CUBA OF A LEADING UN HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICIAL?

A: THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CUBA REMAINS DEPLORABLE, AND WE HOPE THE NOVEMBER 15-19 VISIT OF THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, JOSE AYALA LASSO, CAN BE A FIRST STEP TOWARD ENSURING GREATER RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN THAT COUNTRY. IN PARTICULAR, WE HOPE AMBASSADOR AYALA WILL BE ABLE TO VISIT POLITICAL PRISONERS AND MEET WITH A RANGE OF HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS AND DISSIDENTS, WHO ARE SUBJECT TO CONSTANT HARASSMENT AND PERSECUTION BY THE REGIME. AMBASSADOR. AYALA'S BRIEF TRIP IS NO SUBSTITUTE, HOWEVER, FOR AN INTENSIVE VISIT BY THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION'S SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, CARL-JOHAN GROTH, WHOM THE CUBAN GOVERNMENT STILL REFUSES TO ALLOW TO VISIT THE ISLAND. WE HOPE AMBASSADOR AYALA'S VISIT WILL LEAD TO FULL COOPERATION BY THE CUBAN GOVERNMENT WITH THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR.

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PREL, PGOV, PHUM, UN, OAS, GT, MX
SUBJECT: GUATEMALAN PEACE PROCESS: IS URNG STALLING, AND WHY ARE THEY CALLING ON FIDEL?

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: UN MODERATOR JEAN ARNAULT TOLD ARA SENIOR ADVISOR RICHARD NUCCIO NOVEMBER 11 THAT HE SENSED THAT THE URNG WAS DRAGGING OUT THE PEACE TALKS. URNG COMANDANTES ASTURIAS AND MONSANTO TOLD NUCCIO NOV. 12 THAT THEIR REQUEST TO DELAY THE TALKS SO THAT THEY COULD TRAVEL TO CUBA FOR EDICAL REASONS WAS ONLY PART OF THE STORY: THEY WOULD ALSO USE THE CUBA TRIP TO MEET WITH FIDEL CASTRO. THE URNG REPRESENTATIVES SAID THE TALKS WOULD RESUME IN COSTA RICA NOVEMBER 27. THE URNG'S PILGRIMAGE TO HAVANA COULD MEAN THAT THE GUERRILLAS ARE DIVIDED AND SEEK GUIDANCE, OR THAT THEY NEED COVER FOR COMING TO CLOSURE ON A PEACE AGREEMENT. WE WOULD APPRECIATE INFORMATION FROM HAVANA ON THE URNG VISIT. END SUMMARY.

3. ARA SENIOR ADVISOR RICHARD NUCCIO DISCUSSED THE GUATEMALA PEACE PROCESS IN MEXICO CITY WITH UN MODERATOR JEAN ARNAULT ON NOVEMBER 11 AND WITH TWO URNG COMMANDERS ON NOV. 12. ARNAULT SAID THAT FROM HIS PERSPECTIVE THE URNG APPEARED TO BE USING

DILATORY TACTICS TO SLOW DOWN THE TALKS; THIS IMPRESSION WAS REINFORCED BY EVENTS IN GUATEMALA, INCLUDING RECENT DEMONSTRATIONS, STRIKES, AND THE SUSPENSION BY JENNIFER HARBURY OF HER HUNGER STRIKE.

4. URNG COMANDANTES RODRIGO ASTURIAS AND PABLO MONSANTO TOLD NUCCIO NOVEMBER 12 THAT THE BRIEF HIATUS IN THE TALKS REQUESTED BY THE URNG WAS FOR HUMANITARIAN REASONS TO ALLOW MONSANTO AND FELLOW COMANDANTE ROLANDO MORAN TO TRAVEL TO CUBA ON NOVEMBER 21 TO VISIT AILING RELATIVES. MONSANTO SAID THAT HIS "COMPANION" WAS BECOMING DISABLED BY MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS AND NEEDED UNSPECIFIED TREATMENT. HE SAID THAT MORAN'S WIFE, WHO HAD A STROKE A FEW YEARS AGO, WOULD UNDERGO BYPASS SURGERY.

5. NUCCIO NOTED THAT IF THE TALKS WERE POSTPONED UNTIL LATE NOVEMBER, THE INAUGURATION OF MEXICAN PRESIDENT-ELECT ZEDILLO ON DECEMBER 1 WOULD COMPLICATE MATTERS AND THAT THE IMPENDING CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS WOULD EFFECTIVELY DELAY ANY REAL PROGRESS UNTIL JANUARY, 1995. PERHAPS SENSING THAT NUCCIO WOULD ASK HIM TO PUT OFF THE TRIP TO CUBA, MONSANTO VOLUNTEERED THAT CUBAN PRESIDENT FIDEL CASTRO HAD AGREED TO MEET WITH ALL FOUR COMANDANTES; THIS WOULD BE THEIR FIRST MEETING WITH CASTRO IN MANY YEARS. MONSANTO SAID HAT THE URNG HAD NOT MENTIONED THIS TO ARNAULT OR PUBLICLY ANNOUNCED IT, BUT THAT HE HAD NO PROBLEMS WITH TELLING NUCCIO.

6. ON THE STATUS OF THE NEGOTIATIONS, ASTURIAS EXPLAINED THAT THE "PETIT COMITE" WOULD MEET THE WEEK OF NOVEMBER 14-18 TO GO OVER MODALITIES FOR RENEWING THE ROUND ON INDIGENOUS PEOPLES. A "PENDULAR" SESSION WOULD ENSUE AND THE ROUND WOULD RESUME NOVEMBER 27 IN COSTA RICA. ASTURIAS SAID THAT COSTA RICA WAS A PREFERRED VENUE BECAUSE VALLE DE BRAVO IN THE STATE OF MEXICO WAS TOO REMOTE AND TOO EXPENSIVE FOR GUATEMALAN JOURNALISTS. MONSANTO SAID THAT SOME 40 PERCENT OF THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE TWO SIDES HAD BEEN RESOLVED; THE MAIN REMAINING PROBLEMS WERE GOG RESISTANCE TO DISCUSSING CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES ON THE STATUS OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES, AND ACCESS TO THE TALKS BY NON-GOVERNMENT GROUPS.

7. NUCCIO THANKED ASTURIAS AND MONSANTO FOR THEIR EFFORTS TO HAVE HARBURY SUSPEND HER HUNGER STRIKE. NUCCIO EXPLAINED THAT AMBASSADOR MCAFEE HAD GIVEN HARBURY IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON THE CASE OF HER HUSBAND EFRAIN BAMACA THE PREVIOUS DAY, BUT THAT HE, NUCCIO, WOULD PREFER THAT HARBURY HERSELF GIVE THE INFORMATION TO THE URNG. ASTURIAS SAID THAT HE WAS GLAD THAT HARBURY HAD ENDED THE HUNGER STRIKE AND THAT HE HAD ADVISED HER TO DO SO BECAUSE A STRUGGLE ORIGINALLY TARGETED AGAINST THE ARMY AND THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA HAD TURNED INTO AN ATTACK AGAINST THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF STATE. FOLLOWING UP ON ASTURIAS' REFERENCE TO THE HUNGER STRIKE, MONSANTO SAID THAT "IF YOU, RICK, ARE TAKEN FROM THE PEACE PROCESS, WE WILL MOUNT A HUNGER STRIKE IN FRONT OF THE U.S. EMBASSY IN MEXICO CITY TO HAVE YOU REINSTATED." THE COMMANDERS NOTED THAT THEY FULLY SUPPORTED, AND WOULD COOPERATE WITH, AN INVESTIGATION INTO THE

8. COMMENT: WE WERE INTRIGUED TO LEARN THAT THE URNG WOULD GO TO HAVANA TO CONSULT WITH FIDEL ASTRO. ALTHOUGH THE CUBAN GOVERNMENT HAS BACKED THE GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA FROM THE BEGINNING, WE ASSUME THAT IT HAS BEEN UNABLE TO PRIVIDE THE URNG WITH MEANINGFUL MATERIAL SUPPORT FOR SEVERAL YEARS. ARE THE GUERRILLAS DIVIDED OVER TACTICS AND POLICIES AND WILL THUS SEEK GUIDANCE FROM THE FAIRY GODFATHER OF LATIN AMERICAN INSURGENCIES? OR, DO THE GUERRILLAS NEED CASTRO'S BACKING TO PERSUADE THEIR FOLLOWERS THAT THEY SHOULD SIGN A PEACE AGREEMENT, SINCE ASSISTANCE FROM OTHER QUARTERS, INCLUDING NORWAY AND MEXICO, IS QUICKLY DRYING UP? WE WOULD APPREICATE INFORMATION FROM HAVANA ON THE URNG VISIT. END COMMENT.

SUBJECT: REPORTED DEATH OF RETURNED REFUGEE

1. DEPARTMENT HAS RECEIVED SIX PHONECALLS FROM THE PUBLIC IN THE LAST TWO WORKING DAYS REGARDING A REPORT OF THE DEATH OF A RETURNED GUATEMALAN REFUGEE. ALL REPORTS HAVE BEEN CONSISTENT--NAMELY, THAT MANUEL LOPEZ' BODY WAS FOUND IN CENTRO VERACRUZ ON OCTOBER 27; THAT HE WAS AMONG THE REFUGEES WHO RETURNED FROM MEXICO (CAMPECHE IN THIS PARTICULAR CASE) DURING THE FIRST ORGANIZED REFUGEE RETURN IN JANUARY, 1993; AND THAT HE WAS FOUND WITH HIS HANDS TIED BEHIND HIS BACK WITH HIS BODY SHOWING "SIGNS OF ABUSE". THE FIRST CALLER, FROM WITNESS FOR PEACE, SAID THAT UNHCR TRANSPORTED HIS BODY TO COBAN WHERE AN AUTOPSY WAS TO BE PERFORMED. ALL CALLERS ASSUMED THAT THE GUATEMALAN ARMY OR CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS WERE INVOLVED AND CALLED UPON THE USG TO RAISE THIS MATTER TO THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT'S ATTENTION. A NUMBER OF CALLERS REPORTED THAT MILITARY AND PAC HARASSMENT OF RETURNEES, PARTICULARLY IN THE IXCAN REGION, HAD BEEN INCREASING OF LATE.

2. EMBASSY IS REQUESTED TO CHECK WITH UNHCR ON THE DETAILS SURROUNDING THIS CASE AND ADVISE DEPARTMENT. COMMENT.

(C) SOUTHCOM MILGROUP COMMANDERS CONFERENCE: THE

CONFERENCE PROVED EXTREMELY USEFUL TO BOTH WASHINGTON PARTICIPANTS AND MILGROUP COMMANDERS. COMMANDERS SEEM FINALLY TO UNDERSTAND THAT THERE'S NO WAY TO RETURN TO THE GLORY DAYS OF UNLIMITED MILITARY RESOURCES. WASHINGTON FOLKS GOT A GOOD UNDERSTANDING OF HOW LITTLE THE COMMANDERS UNDERSTAND THE POLITICAL ENVIRONMENT HERE, AND HOW LITTLE GOOD INFORMATION THEY GET FROM DOD. A FULL REPORT WILL BE CIRCULATED, BUT HIGHLIGHTS (OR SURPRISES) FOLLOW:

--BOTH GENERAL MCCAFFREY AND DSAA DIRECTOR LT. GEN. RHAME STRESSED REPEATEDLY THAT IF A MILGROUP COMMANDER ASKS FOR SOMETHING, THEIR FIRST QUESTION WILL BE "DOES THE AMBASSADOR SUPPORT THIS?"

--BOTH FEEL STRONGLY THAT "RESPONSIBLE" US ARMS SALES ARE A NECESSITY AND MUST BE ENCOURAGED. THEY ALSO BELIEVE, HOWEVER, THAT WHILE WE HAVE REAL OPPORTUNITIES IN THE REGION, THOSE OPPORTUNITIES SHOULD BE LOW-TECH (E.G. HELOS AND HUMVEES, NOT FIGHTER AIRCRAFT).

--THE MILGROUP COMMANDERS FROM ARGENTINA, BRAZIL AND CHILE WILL BE FORMULATING A COORDINATED MESSAGE URGING WASHINGTON TO SELL F-16S TO ALL THREE COUNTRIES (THEREBY REDUCING THE CONCERN OVER REGIONAL IMBALANCE!). OUR MILGROUP COMMANDER IN BRAZIL HAS ALREADY TAKEN BRAZILIAN AIR FORCE OFFICERS ON AN "INCENTIVE RIDE."

--COMMANDERS ARE INTERESTED IN EXPANDED IMET COURSES (HUMAN RIGHTS, CIVIL-MILITARY RELATIONS, MILITARY JUSTICE, ETC.), BUT BELIEVE THERE AREN'T ENOUGH COURSES IN THESE AREAS (CORRECT). SCHOOL COMMANDANTS WERE URGED TO DEVELOP MORE COURSES, AND MILGROUP COMMANDERS URGED TO BRING IN MORE CIVILIANS (WE CAN NOW INCLUDE NGOS ALONG WITH EXECUTIVE AND LEGISLATIVE BRANCH CIVILIANS).

--THE NAVY'S OVERALL RESPONSE TO THE DEMAND FOR EXPANDED IMET FAR OUTPACES THE OTHER TWO SERVICES, BUT THE AIR FORCE'S INTER-AMERICAN SCHOOL (IAAFA) IS DOING A LOT OF CREATIVE THINGS. SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS REMAINS THE LAGGARD. MCCAFFREY MUSED TO ME THAT PERHAPS WE SHOULD SCRAP THE SCHOOL AND START OVER. I THINK HE WAS KIDDING. (RSJACOBSON) (APPROVED: LGUTIERREZ)

Guatemala: Bamaca/Harbury 10f3

A vigil in Guatemala

Editorial Notebook

GUATEMALA CITY

As Jennifer Harbury ended her hunger strike last week, the government of Guatemala was preoccupied with a more pressing matter: rioting over an increase in bus fares. Police guarded the National Palace in the main square, and army troops – the ultimate arbiter of power in this country – clustered at the entrance to a parking garage under the square in case protesters threatened the seat of government.

Harbury had fasted for a month in an attempt to force the government to reveal the fate of her husband, the guerrilla commander Efrain Bamaca. If she were a Guatemalan, she would have been ignored or, more likely, murdered, but as a US citizen with a flair for public relations, she was able to get the US ambassador to intercede with President Ramiro de Leon Carpio. The government finally agreed to exhume the grave of two unidentified bodies – neither of them Harbury's husband – in the area where Bamaca was last seen alive in March 1992.

In Guatemala there are two systems of governance: One is the civilian sector with an array of officials, laws and civil rights protections; the other is the army and other security forces, who kill with impunity to suppress a sputtering guerrilla uprising and otherwise keep order in a country riven by class and racial divisions exacerbated by a US-supported coup in 1954.

If Bamaca's fate could be determined using the normal legal processes and if violators of his rights were punished, the soldiers would be put on notice that they could no longer operate with impunity.

When the grave was opened by a team of US and Guatemalan forensic specialists, it revealed the bodies of two men, each shot in the back of the head, who were at least 15 years younger than Bamaca. The administrator of the cemetery said he gets five to eight bodies a month murdered in ways that suggest political violence. So far this year, the human rights office of the Guatemalan Archdiocese reports, there were 318 "extrajudicial executions" – a small number compared with the tens of thousands slain 10 or 15 years ago when guerrilla suppression was at its worst, but enough to make the point that the army is still in charge.

With human rights violations rampant throughout the world, it might be tempting to slight those in Guatemala. But the United States bears a particular responsibility for that country because of the 1954 coup.

Harbury, fearful that her health would be permanently damaged or that Guatemalan authorities would force-feed her, ended her fast a day after the exhumation and traveled to Washington, where she is trying to interest high-ranking US officials in the case.

Harbury wants the United States to impose sanctions until Bamaca's fate is determined and other human rights abuses are corrected. That harsh penalty would harm poor Guatemalans the most. Sanctions require the wholehearted support of international opinion, as in the case of South Africa, and they take years to be effective.

The Guatemalan military gets no US aid except $100,000 intended to educate the officers in more-acceptable behavior. When US military aid was cut off under President Carter, it merely prompted the army to ratchet up its terror campaign to an unprecedented level. As for nonmilitary aid, the $55 million currently allotted finances a host of useful projects. A cutoff of this money ought to be a measure of last resort in case of an army coup or some other horrendous development.

But the United States could undertake a series of incremental measures to show that it is serious about encouraging the expansion of human rights.

Guatemala falls under the US General System of Preferences, a tariff arrangement that allows coffee and other crops to come into the United States with low tariffs. Under present law these privileges can be ended completely or not at all. Legislation could allow the administration to impose selective penalties without crippling the Guatemalan economy.

Human Rights Watch and the Boston-based Physicians for Human Rights do heroic work in documenting the extent of brutality in Guatemala. The physicians' forensic teams ferret out the secrets of atrocities that the army thought it had hidden in unmarked graves. These groups merit continued US protection and support, as do the Guatemalan human rights activists who are working at high risk of death or disappearance.

The United States is supporting the peace talks in Mexico between the Guatemalan government and the guerrillas. Protection of rights is essential in any peace agreement, as is the establishment of a "truth commission" to ensure that the horrors of the past are not forgotten. And the guerrilla leaders must be assured of safety when they return to Guatemala.

Finally, the United States can give more assistance to democratic forces similar to that it lavished on the peaceful opposition that defeated the Sandinistas in Nicaragua in the 1980s. Labor unions – whose organizers are frequent targets of assassins – newspapers, the Catholic Church and opposition politicians need to know that they are not alone as they fight to wrest the country from the control of the gunmen.

"My friends live under the constant pressure of death threats," says Harbury. Yet violence comes capriciously to human rights activists, as though the security forces were toying with them even as pressure from abroad allows them a measure of freedom to do their work. Political violence encourages conventional criminality to the point where the US Embassy advises its staff to avoid driving at night. The archdiocese puts the number of non-political murders this year at 746.

The rioters last week were opposing an arbitrary increase in bus fares – one of the few bargains available to the Guatemalan poor – from 6 cents to 17 cents. Under government pressure the bus owners agreed to rescind the increase. Guatemala would be better off if violence were never used to resolve any political disputes, including fare increases. The army must be brought to heel before the nation knows peace.

2. summary: DRL Assistant Secretary John Shattuck and Ambassador met with President De Leon evening Nov 17. The president stressed his commitment to observance of human rights and to seeking a peace agreement urgently to end the guerrilla conflict, the major source of human rights violations. He described his eforts to this end and the steps he was taking to get to the bottom of the "La Exacta" and Bamaca cases, inclding the involvement of the United Nations Human Rights Verification Mission (MINUGUA). He said Bamaca was no longer alive. It, along with thousands of other cases arising from the war, would then be dealt with by the historical clarification commission. He stressed that it would be tragic if the Bamaca case became an obstacle to ending the guerrilla conflict.

3. A/S Shattuck and Ambassador McAfee accompanied by DRL Mary Curtin, Polcouns George Chester and AIDoff Todd Sloan (interpreter), called on President De Leon in his office at the Casa Presidencial. The President, in a serious mood and looking somewhattired, welcomed Shattuck warmly, noting he considered it important to meet with the Assistant Secretary despite the shortness of his visit. Shattuck reciprocated, noting the background in constitutional aw nd huan rights he shared with De Leon, and that he knew of no one else so committed to the human rights profession who had risen to be President. He stressed that President Clinton, Vice President Gore and Secretary Christopher were all impressed with what De Leon had been able to do at the time of the attempted coup in May and June 1993 to preserv democracy, and since to seek peace.

4. Alluding to a ~~conversation~~ with the Foreign Minister in New York in September (ref), Shattuck expressed ~~regret~~ if there were any misreading of USG support for the President in his search for peace, and pledged our strong and enduring support to move the process forward. He acknowledged key steps by De Leon in support of respect for human rights, citing his dissolution of the "Archivos" intelligence operational unit on the Presidential staff and his acceptance of the United Nations Human Rights Verification Mission (MINUGUA) in advancing the peace process. Shattuck noted his meeting with Defmin Enriquez (septel) in which the MOD had expressed his commitment to MINUGUA's success and a ready willingness to discuss human rights issues. He continued that we wish to encourage this process as the President moves to establish peace, end impunity and address human rights problems.

5. Shattuck then broached two specific cases. In referring to the "La Exacta" case in which several farm workers were killed, he welcomed the President's having ordered a full investigation. He noted ~~Ambassador Kanter~~ was awaiting the results which will be taken into account as part of our consideration of termination of the GSP review of Guatemala. Concerning Bamaca, the Assistant Secretary acknowledged that De Leon had had many discussions on the subject and said he was grateful the President was willing to talk about it with him. He was raising it not so much as an individual case, but rather as ~~concerning~~ the treatment of prisoners ~~taken by both sides~~ in the guerrilla conflict. He asked how the various investigations into the case would be coordinated among ~~themselves~~ and with MINUGUA. He closed by stressing the high level of interest in the case in the United States and the importance of taking it seriously.

6. De Leon said he would be delighted to discuss not only the two cases but also the broader view concerning what is happening in Guatemala. He said things were changing, but only gradually. This is sometimes difficult to understand because of the culture of violence and the violations of human rights throughout the history of Guatemala. De Leon emphasized he became President in order to achieve peace and to change the human rights situation. He had made changes in the army, but change was slow. Fortunately we were talking only of two cases: one involving the army; the other, the police; not mass human rights violations. The task was not easy -- the army had dominated for years and done what it wanted with full impunity: the officers, the soldiers, the civil patrollers. The traditional attitude was to protect al members of te institution, regardless of what had occurred.

7. The president related that he had just had a one and one half hour meeting with a group of young officers o the new generation. He said they wish change; they wish to end impunity and they understand it is better to punish crimes than to cover them up. However, there is great resistence from the machinery of the institution -- doubts and fears that it will be harmed. Some fear that it will be wiped out. But the army is preparing itself for peace and a new judicial system in which there will no longer be impunity.

8. This is a difficult process, but de leon stressed that the army had not created obstacles to his decisions or blocked him by withholding information. They had no role in social or economic policy -- they understood the supremacy of civilian rule. The Congress was questioning the government minister, the mod, the human rights ombudsan, the police director, the prosecutor general and others about the recent events at the university where a student was killed. This would have been unheard of a few years ago. The Congress is beginning to exercise its function of serving as a control on the acts of the state. He had instructed his cabinet ministers and other government witnesses to respond to the Congress' queries.

9. De leon pointed up the crucial difference from the U.S. -- it has a justice system one can trust in. That was not so in Guatemala and progress was slow. The new supreme court and appellate courts are a major step forward, but they have a long way to go. De Leon said he is fully committed to change things; he has had a global vision, but there are many obstacles. The achievement of peace is vital; the war is the principal source of human rights violations. He stressed there isno government policy of violating human rights and no mass violations as in the past.

10. Concerning "La Exacta," de leon acknowledged there had been an error, an excess, but said the President cannot get involved in the details of everything, although he believes his personal involvement in this cae is important. He had been given an official version which had not been fully accurate. He has now ordered COPREDEH to garner all information available from all sources and channel it to him directly, not through the security forces. According to the head of COPREDEH, the investigation would soon be complete. It would show that no one was thrown from a helicopter -- that had not happened. It was very difficult to establish the facts because of the lack of trust in the people on the ground during the incident.

11. The President stressed that it was important to determine who was actually responsible before taking action. On the administrative side, appropriate disciplinary steps will be taken against those responsible. On the judicial side, those involved will be turned over to the courts for trial. This is the hard part, because it is almost impossible to expect a judge to convict a high-ranking police official. While not a total solution, this situation should be greatly helped under the oral procedure mandaed by the new penal procedures code. This lack of justice in the past is the reason the people and the international community have lost hope, since there is no punishment. One should not be too negative, because there have been exceptions. De Leon noted one example several years ago while he was still human rights mbudsman in which both military and police personnel were sentenced to long prison terms for the shooting death of a student (in the Hunapu case), but there the evidence had been much more clear cut.

12. Concerning the Bamaca case, De Leon had learned of the case in March 1992 as human rights ombudsman. He had received the complaint, and it had resulted in the first exhumation. He said there ere two facets to the case. He said he could assure the assistant secretary that Bamaca is not bing held by the army and that he is not alive. He said all doors will be opened to naional and international investigations including MINUGUA. He also assured Shattuck that since hehad become president June6, 1993, there have been no clandestine prisons. De Leon said he did not know whether Bamaca had been killed in combat or had been captured. This was the hard part. While human rights ombudsman, the URNG had sent him a description of Bamaca. At that time he had reached the conclusion that Bamaca had either died in combat or had committed suicide. He had not been able to take the case farther. This has been confirmed by his chief of investigations at the time, in a recent review of the investigators' files.

13. The President stressed that there were thousands of cases of disappearances in Guatemala. This was different because it concerned a guerrilla comandante and because he had married or lived with an American woman. This was a dirty, cruel war filled with horrors committed by both sides. Thousands were dead and buried throughout the country. As Human rights ombudsman he had been able to save many lives. Guerrillas had been turned in to him, and he had been able to help them, citing the case of Veronica Ortiz as an example. De Leon said it is known that some guerrillas taken prisoner by the army chooe to work for the army and remain with it. Some later leave the army when they have another way to earn a living.

14. Returning to the concrete steps on the Bamaca case, the president stressed that he is satisfied that Bamaca had not been held during the period he has been President. Secondly, he has facilitated all legal steps to authorize investigations by the Human Rights ombudsman and the public ministry. Third, he had ordered Guatemalan OAS ambassador Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz, deputy to De Leon when he was human rights ombudsman and who was familiar with the case at that time, to also pursue the investigation. Finally, he supported the involvement of MINUGUA, not to investigate a past case, but to verify the facts so that the international community has the complete picture. e Leon noted that Jennifer Harbury had been present at the latest exhumation and that there would doubtless be others in the future. It will be very difficult to locate Bamaca's body because of the large number of mass and indiidual graves, and, if the guerrillas had had the body, they hide the graves of their dead.

15. De Leon noted that the State Department said that it has information that Guatemalan officers had had Bamaca. He thought it important that MINUGUA interview those officers (note: the state department has made no reference to "officers" -- names of individuals in the army who were allegedly involved with holding Bamaca are contained in the OAS testimony of a URNG guerrilla who escaped from army custody). If indeed Bamaca had been killed, this information should be passed to the historical clarification commission (to be established at the time the peace agreement goes into effect). De Leon said that this completely open process is to determine that Bamaca is not being held but is dead -- this is all he can do. All available information should be used to question them and find out what they may know.

16. A/S Shattuck thanked De Leon for his extensive response, and noted that those who work on human rights know that individual cases are important to illustrate how we can protect human rights. We realize that cases are being worked on against a background of inefficient judicial systems and a tradition of impunity. The actions and efforts of the president to get to the bottom of these cases were very important to move toward an effective justice system.

17. Shattuck observed that De Leon had a photograph of president kennedy with his famous quote "ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." De Leon is the embodiment of that phrase in the life of Guatemala. De Leon appreciated the compliment, noting that the government was using the quote in its television spots. Becoming pensive, he said that above all the many problems besetting the country was the need to achieve peace. That is why he had accepted the presidency, and this goal was closely linked with achieving respect for human rights. The President stressed that at all costs one must prevent the peace process from being blocked. This will take real effort in the Bamaca case; it cannot be permitted to jeopardize the peace process. One no longer thinks of rigged elections or military coups, but these are only formalistic. What is essential is a true participatory democracy with a really functioning judicial system. The democratic system also needs to confront labor problems, narcotics trafficking, contraband smuggling, corruption and other ills as well. He hopes to leave the government to his successor better than when he came. He said these two cases must be clarified to show the end of impunity -- it is necessary to show that there is reason to have hope.

18. A/S Shattuck took the opportunity to express USG appreciation for theGuatemalan army's participation in the multinational force in Haiti. He had visited Haiti last week, and this was a symbol of the struggle for democracy in this hemisphere. We should continue to work closely together. He stressed that we were looking forward to the President attending the Summit of the Americas in Miami, and passed President Clinton's special greeting to De Leon.

19. Shattuck also expressedthe hope that any discussions we have, including in Washington, will maintain the tone of two friends working together. He assured De Leon we would do our part to this end, stressing the importance that the dialogue ~~continue to be~~ constructive. De Leon responded by assuring Shattuck that he had no doubt of the full support of the USG in the peace process. He agreed totally on the need to keep a friendly tone, even when there are differences. He remembered fondly the meeting of Central Amrican Presidents with President Clinton in the White House one year ago, and was looking forward very much to the Miami conference and seeing President Clinton again.

20. Comment: The president's willingness to have complete investigations to determine Bamaca's fate is revolutionary in the Guatemalan context. His obvious hope is that, once it is confirmed that Bamaca is dead, the matter can be handled by the historcal clarification commission which will neither assign individual responsibility nor have judicial consequences in accordance with the Oslo agreement, in order to limit the chance of the case negatively affecting the peace process. His commitment to achieving a peace agreement, and ~~his concern that~~ the Bamaca case ~~could be exploited to~~ stand in the way of an accord, was palpable. end comment.

4. THE COMMISSION MEMBERS SAID THE CURRENT ROUND ON INDIGENOUS PEOPLES WAS STALLED. THEY NOTED THAT THE PETIT COMITE MEETING THAT JUST CONCLUDED IN MEXICO HAD NOT SUCCEEDED IN MOVING THE TALKS FORWARD. THEY COMPLAINED THAT THE GOG WAS NOT WILLING TO MAKE THE CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES NECESSARY TO RECOGNIZE AND GUARANTEE THE RIGHTS OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES. THE COMMISSION MEMBERS STRESSED THAT THEY DID NOT WANT TO CREATE A SEPARATE MAYAN STATE, AND THAT THEY WERE WILLING TO INCLUDE A SPECIFIC REFERENCE TO NATIONAL UNITY IN THE CONSTITUTION, ALONG WITH GUARANTEES OF THE RIGHTS OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES AND THE CHARACTERIZATION OF GUATEMALA AS A MULTI-LINGUAL AND MULTI-ETHNIC STATE.

5. SANDOVAL CITED THE CREATION OF AUTONOMOUS REGIONS IN SPAIN AS A POSSIBLE MODEL FOR ENHANCING THE RIGHTS OF THE MAYA. POLOFFS NOTED THAT THE CONCEPT OF AUTONOMOUS REGIONS MIGHT BE DIFFICULT TO SELL, AND URGED THE URNG TO FOCUS ON THE BASIC RIGHTS FOR INDIGENOUS PEOPLES, AND REMAIN FLEXIBLE REGARDING MEANS AND TERMINOLOGY. POLOFFS ALSO STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF STICKING TO THE TIMETABLE IN THE FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT.

6. THE COMMISSION MEMBERS QUESTIONED THE ABILITY OF THE GOG TO DELIVER ON ANY AGREEMENT REACHED. THEY QUOTED FORMER UN HUMAN RIGHTS RAPPORTEUR TOMUCHATT AS CHARACTERIZING THE PRESIDENT AS "SURROUNDED" BY THE MILITARY AND LACKING IN FREEDOM OF ACTION. THEY ALSO POINTED OUT THE GOG'S FAILURE TO CARRY OUT THE HUMAN RIGHTS

HARDBURY/BAMA A CASE

7. TURNING TO THE HUNGER STRIKE BY AMCIT JENNIFER HARDBURY, THE COMMISSION MEMBERS OBSERVED THAT SHE HAS MOBILIZED INTERNATIONAL PUBLIC OPINION AGAINST THE OPPRESSIVE ELEMENTS OF GUATEMALAN SOCIETY. THEY ALSO NOTED THAT THESE ELEMENTS (WHICH THEY CHARACTERIZED AS MOSTLY THE ARMY AND SOME OF THE PRIVATE BUSINESS INTEREST IN CACIF) COULD ONLY BE INFLUENCED BY MASSIVE INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE AND THAT JENNIFER HAD DONE MORE TO DRAW ATTENTION BY HER HUNGER STRIKE THAN OTHERS HAD MANAGED IN MANY YEARS. THEY CONCLUDED THAT -- IN LIGHT OF THE PROGRESS ACHIEVED BY HARDBURY -- GUATEMALA MUST REMAIN IN THE EYE OF U.S. AND INTERNATIONAL PUBLIC OPINION.

BEKKER REPLIED WITHOUT HESITATION THAT HE WOULD RETURN TO THE WESTERN HIGHLANDS OF GUATEMALA, TO WORK WITH THE "RANK AND FILE" OF A LEFT WING POLITICAL MOVEMENT. LUZ MENTES SAID SHE WOULD "GO WHERE THE COMMANDERS TOLD HER TO GO," BUT THAT HER PREFERENCE WOULD BE TO WORK ON WOMEN'S ISSUES IN THE PROVINCES. Guatemala: Peace Process

Guatemala's long-running internal conflict began in November 1960 with an abortive military uprising. The guerrillas (URNG, or Guatemalan National Revolutionary Unity, an umbrella group founded in 1982 encompassing four factions) are estimated to have fewer than 900 insurgents operating inside Guatemala, but they continue to mount armed attacks on the military and to commit acts of sabotage, kidnapping and extortion. Thousands have died since the conflict began; the counterinsurgency reached its bloodiest peak in the early 1980s, when the army's scorched-earth policy left thousands dead or displaced; thousands more fled to Mexico and elsewhere. The guerrillas were also responsible for massacres during the same period.

Fruitless peace talks took place in secret throughout the years, but the two sides only began to negotiate in earnest in April 1991. Considerable progress has been made since the UN, in the person of able French negotiator Jean Arnault, began to mediate the talks in January 1994. Other factors contributing to the momentum in the first six months of 1994 include pressure on the URNG by their Mexican hosts in the wake of the Chiapas uprising; greater involvement by the international community, including the U.S., which became one of the six "friends" of the peace process; and key concessions, including allowing the establishment of a UN verification mission, by the GOG.

The parties signed a framework agreement in January 1994, including a calendar of negotiation topics, to include discussions on human rights, displaced persons, indigenous issues, socio-economic reform and agrarian matters and the army's role in a democracy. So far this year, agreements on human rights, displaced persons and a Truth Commission, called an Historical Clarification Commission, have been signed. The March 29 human rights accord provided for the establishment of a UN verification mission to strengthen existing institutions to improve respect for human rights. That mission (acronym: MINUGUA) was approved by the UN General Assembly in September. A preliminary mission began work in Guatemala in mid-September; the full mission, which ultimately will employ about 300 people, should be inaugurated November 21. The June accord on displaced persons creates a six-person technical commission to review implementation of the accord.

The accord on the Historical Clarification Commission was reached in late June; since then the talks have floundered. The URNG felt a backlash from its rank and file and from the Guatemalan and international NGO community for signing an accord that created a Commission that would not name names and whose findings would not have judicial status. Having disappointed its troops and sympathizers, the URNG leadership adopted delaying tactics and engaged in fingerpointing with the GOG.

Finally, the GOG largely failed to honor the accords it had signed, providing excuses to the URNG to stall and undercutting proponents of the peace process.

These problems led to a four-month breakdown in the talks, which restarted only after much international effort and pressure. Talks on the sensitive topic of indigenous rights were held in late October and early November; additional sessions will take place at the end of this month. The URNG, however, is giving indications of stalling on the indigenous question and interestingly, intends to consult with Fidel Castro in Cuba before the next round.

The U.S. role in keeping the talks on track is very important. For that reason, it is necessary we not be perceived as being partial to one side. To the extent our actions on the Bamaca case are misperceived as siding with the URNG, it will hurt our influence with the GOG. In addition, to the extent this case lessens international pressure on the URNG, it throws the guerrillas a lifeline. Finally, we should be aware that the whole exercise of pushing to clarify a case of a guerrilla presumed to have died two years ago unnerves the army since it seems to reopen the possibility names will be named in past abuses, a point the army believed it won in June. This, in itself, could undermine military support for the negotiations.

There is a lot of misinformation circulating about Barnaca

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE NGO COMMUNITY:

The publicity surrounding the case of guerrilla leader Efraín Bámaca has brought Guatemala and the peace process underway there to more people's attention than ever before. Unfortunately, it has also created a number of false impressions about US policy toward Guatemala and my involvement in it. My role as the US representative to the peace process limits my ability to respond to personal attacks as directly as I would like. But I ~~did~~ want to provide some public clarification of how I see this case and US policy toward Guatemala.

My active involvement in the peace process began when I arranged a private interview for Congressman Robert Torricelli with then-President Jorge Serrano in 1992. At that point the peace process was stalled, but President Serrano asked Representative Torricelli to carry a personal message from him to the URNG guerrillas in Mexico about the peace process. I then arranged the first meeting between the URNG and any member of Congress. His meetings with the URNG and the government of Guatemala allowed Rep. Torricelli to play an important role in encouraging both sides to move forward in the peace process. Throughout this period, I worked closely with those State Department officials directly concerned with Guatemala. Eventually, Rep. Torricelli's initial contact with the URNG led to the first meetings between senior State Department officials and the URNG. These meetings were significant because they represented a policy decision to use contact with an active guerrilla organization, responsible for the deaths of American citizens, to advance the peace process. They might have been very controversial were it not for the Congressional support offered by Rep. Torricelli for them.

When I joined the Clinton Administration in 1993 as Assistant Secretary Watson's senior advisor, he asked me to coordinate US involvement in the peace process. I made several trips to Guatemala and Mexico to assess the peace process and met, eventually, with the entire URNG command. The State Department repeatedly encouraged both the URNG and the Guatemalan government to return to active negotiations and, in early 1994, the UN was invited by both sides to play a more direct and active role as a moderator of the talks. The US was also asked by both sides to become, along with the Norway, a formal "Friend" of the process, and I had the privilege of representing the United States on those occasions when the UN or the parties called a meeting of the "Friends."

Because of my role in the peace process, I met several times with Jennifer Harbury over this last year to talk about her husband's case and its relationship with the peace process. I always told Jennifer that I believed the peace process offered the best hope of finding out the truth about her husband, specifically through the human rights verification mission that would eventually be installed to verify those provisions of the peace accords.

This summer Jennifer met with me again to explain that she had been offered a "deal" by Defense Minister Enríquez: her husband would be produced alive, if she would promise to drop her protest against the Guatemalan government. I was frankly startled to hear that the Defense Minister had made such a proposal. The Guatemalan government was telling us officially that Bámaca had killed himself to prevent capture. Now, according to Jennifer, the Defense Minister was suggesting that Bámaca was alive and could be traded for her silence. I asked for more details and she then recounted to me various statements by the General in public and private that had convinced her, and others who had heard the public statements, that such a deal was being offered.

I told her that it seemed possible to me that another interpretation of his comments was possible, but when she suggested I pursue the matter directly with the General I agreed. She asked me to convey to him the sincerity of her offer to drop her protests against the government if her husband was set free. I told her that I would raise her husband's case with URNG commander Gaspar Ilom, the head of her husband's faction, and with the General. I spoke with both in August and reported the relevant parts of each conversation to Jennifer. She told me then that if results were not produced soon, she would have to consider other steps to raise the pressure on Guatemala.

During a trip to Mexico and Guatemala in October I underlined the importance of the Bámaca case again with the URNG, with representatives of the Friends group, and in all my meetings with Guatemalan government officials. In particular, I had a long discussion of the case with General Enríquez. He repeated in that conversation some of the same phrases that had prompted Jennifer to conclude that he was offering her a "deal". Given the gravity of Jennifer's hunger strike, I asked him directly if he was offering to produce Bámaca alive with these words. He denied emphatically that he was or that he knew anything about Bámaca's whereabouts.

During a second private meeting with Jennifer on the same day I met with General Enríquez, I told Jennifer about my conversation with him. Since I had earlier carried a message to the General on her behalf, I felt it was important to relate his specific denial that he ~~had intended to communicate~~ a "deal" to Jennifer. I told her that I was not trying to convince her of his intentions, but that I could not interpret what he said as confirming her conclusions. This was not a matter of believing the General over Jennifer. She had asked for my help in communicating her willingness to accept a deal and the General had now specifically rejected ever having offered one. Regardless of whether a "deal" had been offered or not, the US government's official position on the case remained that Efraín Bámaca was alive and that the Guatemalan government needed to explain his whereabouts.

There have also been assertions that the US government has secret information about the Bámaca case that should be made public. Signed commitments with criminal penalties prevent US officials from sharing classified information with the public. We have, however, briefed Congressional staff with security clearances about what information we have and made available to President De León and to Jennifer the conclusions of an intelligence review that we now believe Bámaca was ~~captured alive and~~ may have been held for some period after his capture.

Perhaps the most perverse assertion about US policy is that we "need" a peace agreement in Guatemala to pursue our "real" agenda of free trade. From this mistaken perspective, we are said to be ignoring human rights violations in Guatemala because they conflict with the peace process. This is a tragic distortion of our policy and an insult to the many Guatemalans struggling to advance the peace process at ~~some~~ personal risk.

- First, it is Guatemala, not the United States that requires peace. An armed conflict of thirty years duration has already cost ~~tens of thousands of~~ lives. Guatemalans will be the principal beneficiaries of peace, not the United States.

- Second, a dramatic and lasting reduction in human rights violations must result from the peace process. A global human rights accord, verified by a UN human rights verification mission now being deployed, was one of the first achievements of the peace process. Tragically, as the peace process has moved forward, violence has escalated, not decreased. This may seem a contradiction, but is characteristic of many other peace processes from the Middle East to El Salvador, as those with entrenched interests in war seek to derail the process when breakthroughs occur. The violence is not just directed against the weak and powerless. The URNG has increased dramatically its military operations against the armed forces and the kidnapping for ransom of business leaders. Just this summer, an off-duty officer was kidnapped, tortured, and killed. All of the Friends have criticized the violence as damaging to the process. We have pressed the UN to deploy its verification mission as quickly as possible to reinforce the message that the violations must cease and to assist Guatemala's own institutional response. No single aspect of the peace process — the refugee accord, the historical clarification commission, the current round on ethnic identity and rights, proximate rounds on the role of the military in a democratic society and the reintegration of the URNG into civil society, or human rights — should become the test of a process intended to address so many of Guatemala's problems.

- Finally, I hope that Guatemalan government, military, and business leaders are worried that without peace they may be isolated from the new post-Cold War world emerging in the hemisphere. That is a world in which violence of the kind that has marked Guatemala for too long will encourage trade and investment to flow elsewhere. Guatemala cannot sign a piece of paper and expect to enter this world. It must build a peace with democracy and respect for the human rights of all Guatemalans. This is US policy and I believe it merits the support of all ~~North Americans~~ of us who want the best for Guatemala.

I have been a student of change in Guatemala for nearly ten years, traveling more to that country than nearly any other in Latin America and the Caribbean. I began with a perspective on Guatemala that was very black and white: an evil military versus a virtuous popular struggle. I have discovered that Guatemala's current story must be told in shades of gray: sincere and courageous individuals on both sides of the conflict struggling to overcome decades of suspicion and construct a new Guatemala together. I have watched this evolution at first hand and I believe the United States is making a positive contribution ~~contributing~~ to it. NGOs and human rights groups have played an important role in support of Clinton Administration policy in the region. I hope that some of the clarification I have provided will convince you that our Guatemala policy is a sound one, in our own interest and that of the majority of Guatemalans, and worth supporting.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Nuccio

PRESS STATEMENT

National Security Adviser Anthony Lake met for an hour today with Jennifer Harbury to discuss the disappearance of her Guatemalan husband, Efrain Bamaca. Also present at the meeting were the Vice President's National Security Adviser, Leon Fuerth, and State Department Assistant Secretary for Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs, John Shattuck. Mr. Lake reiterated U.S. concerns and efforts regarding the case and the human rights situation in Guatemala. He indicated that we have received information, which we cannot verify, that Bamaca was seen alive in July, 1992. However, ~~we do not know whether he is alive today.~~ WE HAVE NO INFORMATION TO INDICATE THAT

The Administration officials noted that the UN Verification Mission (MINUGUA) was now helping to investigate the case and that the United States will be providing technical assistance to MINUGUA. They urged Ms. Harbury to cooperate with the investigation. They also stressed the importance of the peace process for improving the overall human rights situation in Guatemala.

Article Text:

The days are busy for Jennifer Harbury, filled with meetings, legal actions, crisp recitations of the facts. But the nights are empty. All the while wondering if her husband, Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, is alive or dead, she cannot sleep. She considers it her responsibility to stay healthy for his sake, so she turns out the light and stays in bed, no matter what.

'It's part of the stress and trauma of the family members of disappeared persons,' she says simply. Bamaca, a k a Comandante Everardo, has been missing since March 1992, when the then-35-year-old Mayan guerrilla leader disappeared after a firefight with the Guatemalan military.

Until recently, the military insisted he killed himself during the battle to avoid being captured. On Friday, a spokesman from the Guatemalan Embassy verified that original contention but qualified it, saying that there is not enough information to say clearly what happened to Bamaca, and pointed out that on Oct. 28, Guatemalan President Ramiro de Leon Carpio created a commission to investigate the matter. Harbury insists Bamaca emerged from the fight alive, has been sighted many times since then and is probably being held and tortured in a military prison.

But Harbury doesn't want your sympathy. She wants you to join her in outrage.

Last month, after more than two years of strategically planned but orderly attempts to retrieve her husband, Harbury, 43, a Harvard Law School graduate and civil rights activist, escalated her battle. On Oct. 11, she began an open-ended hunger strike in the Central Plaza outside the presidential palace in Guatemala City.

Sleeping on wooden crates covered with a thin foam pad, shielded from the sun by an umbrella, Harbury had as her only nourishment water and an electrolyte solution. Three weeks into her fast, according to letters she sent to supporters, Guatemalan officials threatened to drag her to a hospital and force-feed her with an intravenous solution.

But Harbury was determined -- and cheered by messages of support, bouquets of flowers, visits from sympathetic diplomats, and perhaps most of all by whispered reports that Bamaca had been seen alive in the last few months -- one sighting as recent as five weeks ago.

So she persevered, convinced that without the influence of world opinion, he would be lost if she gave up. Then 12 days ago, Harbury learned that Clinton administration officials, whom she has been trying to meet since spring, had agreed to see her. She ended her fast two days later.

'I can do a lot more for him here through these meetings than I can chained to a hospital bed,' she says.

And today Harbury and her attorney, Jose Pertierra, will take their case to national security adviser Anthony Lake and to Vice President Gore's assistant for national security affairs, Leon Fuerth.

She is clearheaded about what she wants to come out of the meeting. 'I want the White House to make it stop,' she says. 'They can intervene in the case in a discreet way. They don't have to do it publicly. But I want them to make the Guatemalan army give me back my husband. And I want them to make the Guatemalans comply with the human rights agreement they have signed or else risk losing relations with the United States.'

Love on a Volcano

It is early afternoon five days after Harbury ended her hunger strike. Camping out in Pertierra's office in downtown Washington, she is relieved and grateful that the massive efforts of friends and supporters across the country, as well as a professional public relations firm, eventually landed her on '60 Minutes' and in People magazine, and carried her to the top levels of the U.S. government. She recounts her story passionately -- but like a lawyer rather than a distraught wife.

Harbury was a civil rights attorney working for Texas Rural Aid with almost a decade's involvement with Guatemalan refugees when she met Bamaca in 1990 in a guerrilla camp at the top of the Tajumulco volcano. They fell in love.

Not that it was that simple.

They were an unlikely couple. Harbury is the second child of Dorothy and Henry Harbury, now a professor of biochemistry at the Dartmouth medical school and the former president of Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center. Her education was privileged -- first Cornell and then Harvard Law School -- after what she sees as the typical '60s adventure: backpacking alone across Europe, Afghanistan, Turkey, Morocco. Her parents were supportive. 'She worked hard and earned her own money,' says her mother. 'I don't think she was doing anything I wouldn't have liked to do myself.'

According to her parents, Harbury's humanitarian qualities surfaced early. 'It sounds funny to talk about your daughter this way, but she is just a wonderful human being, a very stable person, not someone who goes chasing after causes,' says her father. 'She would always help people in need of assistance. She very much believes you are your brother's keeper.'

Or in her case, her sister's. A year younger than her sister Katharine, who is deaf, Harbury was always placed in the same class with Katharine in order to assist her. 'That could have seemed patronizing,' says her father, 'but she handled it in the most natural way.'

Bamaca was a motherless, illiterate Mayan peasant who'd been taught to read and write by the guerrilla leader whose forces he eventually joined on his 18th birthday. By the time he and Harbury met, he had 17 years' experience in the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Union (URNG).

According to Harbury, her connection to the leftist Guatemalan forces, whose cause she supports, was a natural outgrowth of her involvement with the country's refugees who poured into Texas in search of political asylum. After trying to assist them for a few years -- often unsuccessfully because there was little documentation of the civil rights violations they described to her -- she went down to Guatemala to investigate.

She thought she would stay for two months but ended staying two years. She supported herself through occasional trips to Texas, where lawyer friends gave her temporary work. 'Whatever they would give me,' she says. 'Besides, there are no real living expenses tramping around the jungle.'

By the time she met Bamaca, she had returned to Texas to write a book, 'Bridge of Courage,' about the people involved in the insurgency and was visiting Guatemala in search of female combatants to interview. As the leader of the camp Harbury secretly visited, Bamaca helped her make contacts. They became good friends. As she watched him deal with community problems around the campfire at night, she found him gentle, a strong leader, an able mediator. But they both realized theirs might be a temporary infatuation, and the future was unpredictable. 'He was always a little hesitant,' she says, 'because I don't think he expected to survive the war.'

Besides, she says, his two previous wives had been killed, one shot dead at his side, the other tortured to death.

After six weeks in the camp, she returned to Texas. Amazingly, they managed to stay in contact through letters carried by friends. In 1991, Bamaca asked her to join him in Mexico City, where he had gone to help prepare for negotiations between guerrillas and the government.

Months together in Mexico City led to a common-law marriage ceremony in Texas and an unknown future. What kind of life did she think they could possibly have together? 'I guess I thought it would be kind of like this,' she says. 'I knew it would be very rough, with good chunks of time when we couldn't see each other, and time when he was in combat. I knew we could lose each other at any time. But life is short. I took it one day at a time.'

They lived a life of their own creation in a tiny apartment. A child who grew up without a real home, he liked to stay in. A daughter of the '60s, she resisted wifely cooking. So he cooked, and they stayed home during the week. And he planned special outings for the weekend.

In January 1992, Bamaca had to return to Guatemala, and on March 12, while Harbury was in New Hampshire with a college roommate who lay dying of cancer, he disappeared.

Bodies of Evidence

The couple had never really talked about how he would handle being captured. 'I knew if he possibly could, he would kill himself,' she says. So when Bamaca was the only one missing after the firefight, and when the Guatemalan military said it had found the body of a man who had shot himself, she believed he was dead.

Only gradually did she gather details that made her believe he was alive. The one who convinced her was another guerrilla, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, known as Carlos, who told her he had escaped from a military base that Christmas. He said he had seen Bamaca chained to a bed and tortured at the end of July.

Harbury left Texas and moved to Washington, where she went into a high lawyerly mode, writing letters, assembling documents and data, questioning everyone who might have information. But the Guatemalan government continued to insist Bamaca was dead.

On Aug. 17, 1993, repeated requests to produce evidence about Bamaca eventually led to the exhumation of a grave purported to be his.

Harbury insisted on being there -- only to discover that the body was not his. 'He was five centimeters too short, 15 years younger and, unlike Everardo, had two metal plates on his front teeth,' she says. 'They told us Everardo shot himself in the mouth. We found a cadaver that had been shot, stabbed, strangulated, his skull smashed to pieces. He weighed maybe 100 pounds. It wasn't Everardo.'

A couple of weeks later, mostly 'as a warning signal that this was going to get serious,' Harbury staged a one-week hunger strike in front of the Polytechnica in Guatemala City, a place she describes as a cross between the Pentagon and West Point. To no avail.

From then on, making trips in and out of Guatemala, Harbury has directed all her energies to getting her husband back -- by beseeching Congress, seeking out the assistance of the United Nations, the Organization of the American States, Americas Watch, Amnesty International -- anyone who would listen. 'They've all been great,' she says.

Convinced that Bamaca was still alive, and worried about what she describes as an increase in civil rights violations in Guatemala, Harbury turned to her recent hunger strike. 'It was a last-ditch effort to save his life,' says Harbury. 'I had no other recourse.'

Her attorney, Pertierra, an American citizen born in Cuba who took the case on a pro bono basis, was worried. Concerned for her physical safety, he advised against the fast. 'Jennifer went on a hunger strike to the death until they gave up her husband, and in a 34-year civil war, the Guatemalan Army has never given up a prisoner of war,' he says. 'I was afraid she would die. And if she didn't, because of medical intervention against her will, I was afraid that before that she would do serious damage to her kidneys or her brain functions.'

Almost two weeks ago Pertierra traveled to Guatemala to see Harbury with two pieces of good news: First, administration officials had agreed to meet with them, and second, a recent demarche sent by the U.S. government to the Guatemalan president concluded, they were told, that Bamaca had been captured alive. He also wanted to convince Harbury to end her hunger strike.

But there was one more grueling step to endure. The Guatemalan government had authorized another exhumation purported to reveal Bamaca's corpse -- even though the burial records listed the death date of the body as Feb. 29, 1992, 13 days before his alleged suicide. Says Pertierra, 'It was a joke. They wanted to show the international press they were seeming to cooperate, and they wanted to get Jennifer out of the square. ... But it was clear to us that unless he was placed in that grave, the bodies there [couldn't be] his.'

After driving five hours to the small coastal town of Coatepeque, near the Mexican border, they spent the next day in a cemetery where a number of graves were designated as containing unknown corpses. In 105-degree weather, they waited to examine the bodies, which again did not match Bamaca.

During the journey back to the capital that evening, Harbury, encouraged by Pertierra to save her strength for the meetings in Washington, agreed to end her hunger strike and return with him.

'In retrospect,' says Pertierra of Harbury's fast, 'she was absolutely right because we have moved this case to a higher level.'

As for Harbury, she is forestalling any emotion resembling optimism until she sees what happens next. 'I can't get on with my life until I know what has happened to Everardo,' she says. 'He's just perfect for me. With all the uproar that's come with him, I don't regret a minute of it.'

BEHIND THE personal drama of an American woman's search for her missing guerrilla husband in Guatemala lies a political drama that has unfortunately been obscured. Not that they are unrelated. Jennifer Harbury's so far unavailing quest for Efrain Bamaca Velasquez illustrates for an international public a lack of official accountability all too familiar to the families of the large numbers of Guatemalans killed or 'disappeared' at official hands. But the larger event of Guatemala's incipient effort to put aside its violent past also is part of the picture.

The armed forces are corrupt and make the old El Salvador's armed forces -- the killers of the Jesuits -- look well-behaved. Importuned by Ms. Harbury, a lawyer from Washington, the army has dodged and lied and failed to provide verifiable facts about the missing man. Some parts of the human rights community in Guatemala have supported Ms. Harbury's campaign, which entailed a month-long hunger strike outside the National Palace. Others have noted that Mr. Bamaca is not a typically innocent Guatemalan civilian victim of army terrorism but a member of an organization itself identified with violence. No matter. It is worth it to have the military on the defensive at this moment when a U.N.-sponsored renewal of Guatemala is taking fragile root. The government of Ramiro de Leon Carpio, a former human rights ombudsman, has been negotiating with the guerrillas on human rights, the role of the armed forces, the place of the majority indigenous peoples, refugees and a Salvador-like 'truth commission'; other issues are to come. It's tough going: Mr. de Leon is a minority president, and the armed forces, unlike El Salvador's, are not vulnerable to American pressure, having been cut off years ago. But it's going.

The Cold War began, in this hemisphere, in Guatemala in 1954, when the United States helped topple an elected leftist government that was beginning to take up the very questions returning to the national agenda only now. Except this time the United States is supporting, not subverting, the Guatemalan popular will as a formal 'friend' of the talks, welcomed by both sides.

The renewal process is about ending the war that caught up Mr. Bamaca and many others. But his single case does not lend itself to being made a test of U.S.-Guatemalan relations. A fair result is likelier if the military can make the necessary concessions not to the United States, in which event nationalistic hackles rise, but to United Nations human rights monitors, an option now opening.

GUATEMALA CITY, Nov Nov-- An American lawyer today ended a 32-day hunger strike outside the National Palace to return to Washington because, she said, 'senior White House officials' want to discuss the disappearance of her guerrilla husband with her.

Jennifer Harbury, 43, told reporters from her makeshift bed in the capital's main square: 'I have decided to end my hunger strike and return to Washington... . I will return to Guatemala to press charges against officials who have committed crimes against my husband.' She had been on a hunger strike since Oct. 11 to press for information about her missing husband, Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, a Mayan guerrilla leader. Guatemala's army insists that Bamaca killed himself to avoid capture two years ago, but Harbury says the army captured him in March 1992 after a firefight with guerrillas.

Harbury, a Harvard-educated lawyer from Washington, gave reporters the names of eight army men she said had tortured her husband. She said the names of the men, including a colonel, were given to her by a guerrilla who escaped from an army base in late 1992.

The guerrilla, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, has testified before the United Nations and the Organization of American States that he saw Bamaca in a secret military prison several times that year.

Harbury, in an article published Friday by the New York Times, urged the United States to impose economic and trade sanctions against Guatemala 'until basic international humanitarian laws are respected.' She said 'the army still has my husband, and it knows that the outside world knows.'

In a preamble, the newspaper said Harbury wrote the article before going with government authorities Thursday to a cemetery in the remote western town of Coatepeque.

She later reported that neither of two bodies exhumed at the site was her husband's. Harbury's campaign is backed in Washington by an array of political figures, including former president Jimmy Carter.

The Baltimore-born Harbury met Bamaca in 1990 when she was interviewing guerrillas on the Tajumulco volcano in western Guatemala. They married a year later in Texas.

The Associated Press reported the following:

Bus owners rolled back a fare increase that had sparked a 10-day protest in Guatemala City in which at least one person was killed and more than 30 injured. The move came after President Ramiro de Leon Carpio ordered troops onto the streets and gave them full powers to quell the rioting.

The fares had been raised from the equivalent of 6 U.S. cents to 17 cents, a considerable sum for many poor Guatemalans. The owners said they had not had a fare increase in years, but the government did not approve the raise.

More than half of Guatemala's 9 million people, including a large number of peasants and urban workers, depend on public transportation.

De Leon said arrest warrants were issued against bus owners who 'irresponsibly and illegally' raised tariffs and against some protesters.

Abstract: Mary McGrory discusses the campaign of Jennifer Harbury to find her husband, Efraim Bamaca Velasquez, a guerrilla commander known as Commandante Everardo who has fought the Guatemalan government for 17 years and was captured by Guatemala's pitiless military. McGrory notes that Harbury's campaign involves a hunger strike.

Article Text:

A VALIANT woman named Jennifer Harbury is conducting a campaign for the release of her husband. He is a guerrilla commander who was captured by Guatemala's pitiless military. She is a graduate of Harvard Law School, now in the 27th day of a hunger strike in a plaza in downtown Guatemala City. She feels fine, she says, over her portable telephone, 'I am built like a truck.' She is 42.

Her husband vanished on March 12, 1992. The government has told her that he went off with another woman, that he walked off into the jungle, that they never had him and that he committed suicide. Once they produced a body they said was his. She went to the exhumation and ascertained that the bones were not her husband's. Is Harbury irrational to think that a regime that has murdered between 150,000 and 200,000 of its citizens in recent decades would spare the life of Efraim Bamaca Velasquez, known as Commandante Everardo, who fought them for 17 years? She says no. Everardo was a legend among the rebels, and the adopted son of one of the leaders of the four rebel groups who make up the umbrella force known as URGT. He knows every path and peak in the mountains, the strategies and personalities of the revolutionaries. He is the last guerrilla commander of Mayan blood. The Mayans are to Guatemala what the blacks were to South Africa. Alive, he is a treasure to the Guatemalan military, she insists. Several witnesses say they have seen Everardo in custody since he vanished; one saw him being tortured.

Philip Heymann, a former Justice Department official and now a Harvard Law School professor, ran a law reform group in Guatemala for four years -- until 12 of his student-assistants were 'disappeared.' He finds it hard to believe that Everardo is still among the living. In his search for his vanished students, Heymann went to rural areas and asked a police chief why he killed people when they were arrested. The chief was dumbfounded: 'What else would we do with them?'

With such a crew in power how does Jennifer Harbury expect to survive, even without a hunger strike? She is never alone. A band of 22 'accompanists' keeps two people with her at all times. She sits in the plaza, surrounded by four banners describing her cause. Guatemalans bring her flowers and poems and water.

Among those who watch over her is Sister Diana Ortiz, who was kidnapped, raped and tortured almost exactly five years ago by the Guatemalan security forces. Sister Diana was scared stiff to go back but she did. She told Sister Alice Zachman, director of the local Guatemalan Human Rights Commission, that she was glad to be there.

Harbury's protest -- which calls attention to Guatemala's appalling human rights record, the worst in the hemisphere -- could hardly come at a worse time for the government. They are in peace negotiations with the rebels, and the United States is serving as an intermediary. Last March the military signed a human rights accord, and Harbury thinks they are getting in their last licks before they have to treat peasants like human beings. The election of Guatemala's leading human rights advocate, Ramiro DeLeone Carpio in 1993, was supposed to herald a new era for the oppressed indigenous population. The dream died almost instantly. Carpio's cousin was killed in a crime that had military written all over it. Carpio has been fearful ever since -- like the rest of Guatemala.

Jennifer Harbury met Commandante Everardo in a volcano. She had come to the mountains in 1990 to investigate for herself what had sounded like genocide when she was back in Texas interviewing refugees. They were married in 1991. She was attracted, she says, by his brilliance, his commitment, his bravery and his sweetness. 'He refused to allow any pride or egotism in his nature; he has kept his humble peasant personality.'

She can have no tent in the plaza. She sleeps under a plastic sheet, listens to music when she can. 'If we did this,' Guatemalans tell her, 'they would kill us. Don't leave.'

She thinks she is holding a few cards beyond her U.S. citizenship. The Guatemalan government would love to wrap up the peace talks and start enjoying the benefits of trade with the United States. It wants economic aid. Harbury has lined up impressive congressional support -- Reps. Connie Morella (R-Md.) and Sam Gejdenson (D.-Conn.) have threatened to cut off aid if no action is seen with Everardo. The Organization of American States has been investigating for two and a half years and produced nothing.

She wants her husband, dead or alive.

There are many campaigns going on these days. Jennifer Harbury's is one that Washington politicians could study with profit. It would teach them much about courage and commitment and sacrifice, elements that hardly figure in their activities.

PRESS STATEMENT

National Security Adviser Anthony Lake met for an hour today with Jennifer Harbury to discuss the disappearance of her Guatemalan husband, Efrain Bamaca. Also present at the meeting were the Vice President's National Security Adviser, Leon Fuerth, and Assistant Secretary of State for Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs, John Shattuck. Mr. Lake reiterated U.S. concerns and efforts regarding the case and the human rights situation in Guatemala. He indicated that we have received information, which we cannot verify, that Bamaca was seen alive in July, 1992. However, we do not know whether he is alive today.

The Administration officials noted that the UN Verification Mission (MINUGUA) was now helping to investigate the case and that the United States will be providing technical assistance to MINUGUA. ~~They urged Ms. Harbury to cooperate with the investigation.~~ They also stressed the importance of the peace process for improving the overall human rights situation in Guatemala.

E.O 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PHUM, PINS, PREL, PGOV, MARR, GT
SUBJECT: MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE DISCUSSED.

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. ARA SENIOR ADVISER DR. RICHARD A. NUCCIO, THE AMBASSADOR, AND DEFENSE ATTACHE MET WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE GEN ENRIQUEZ ON OCTOBER 27. THE GT ARMY CONTRIBUTION TO THE MNF IN HAITI AND THE PEACE PROCESS WAS DISCUSSED. DR. NUCCIO RAISED THE JENNIFER HARBURY/EFRAIN BAMACA CASE AND EMPHASIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT AFTER HAVING MET HARBURY FIVE TIMES, HE NO LONGER BELIEVES SHE IS A SINCERE PERSON LOOKING FOR HER HUSBAND, BUT A POLITICALLY MOTIVATED PROFESSIONAL. GEN ENRIQUEZ DOUBTED ASPECTS OF HER CASE SUCH AS IDENTIFYING HERSELF AS A REPORTER DURING THE FIRST EXHUMATION ATTEMPT, AND WHAT HE SUSPECTS ARE MARRIAGE DOCUMENTS FILED AFTER BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE.

3. WHILE HE PERSONALLY BELIEVES BAMACA IS DEAD, GEN ENRIQUEZ AGREED TO FULLY COOPERATE WITH THE SOLICITOR GENERAL'S PLANNED INVESTIGATION INTO BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE. GEN ENRIQUEZ ALSO RELUCTANTLY ACCEPTED MINUGUA VERIFICATION OF ANY INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE. HE EXPLAINED THAT ORPA LEADER RODRIGO ASTURIAS HAD ALSO SENT AN OFFER FOR AN HONORABLE SOLUTION TO THE ARMY, VERY SIMILAR TO HARBURY'S OFFER TO STOP HER HUNGER STRIKE AND OTHER PRESSURES IF BAMACA IS SECRETLY MADE TO APPEAR IN A NEUTRAL LOCATION. DR. NUCCIO CLARIFIED A MISINTERPRETATION OF HIS REMARKS IN NEW YORK TO THE EFFECT THAT THE USG WISHED TO "STRENGTHEN" THE URNG, WHEN HE HAD ACTUALLY QUOTED A PREVIOUS MOD STATEMENT THAT THE URNG MUST REMAIN "UNIFIED" IN ORDER TO BRING ALL SUBORDINATE ELEMENTS ALONG TO A FINAL PEACE SETTLEMENT. GEN ENRIQUEZ WAS RELIEVED AT THIS CLARIFICATION, AS THE IDEA OF "STRENGTHENING" THE URNG HAD BEEN AN ISSUE OF SERIOUS APPREHENSION AND DISCUSSION AMONG MANY SENIOR OFFICERS. END SUMMARY.

4. ARA SENIOR ADVISOR MR. RICHARD A. NUCCIO MADE AN OFFICE CALL ON THE GUATEMALAN MINISTER OF DEFENSE (MOD), MAJOR GENERAL MARIO RENE ENRIQUEZ MORALES, ON THE AFTERNOON OF THURSDAY, 27 OCTOBER. ACCOMPANYING HIM WERE THE AMBASSADOR AND DEFENSE ATTACHE. GEN ENRIQUEZ BEGAN THE SESSION BY NOTING THAT HE HAD JUST COME OUT OF A MEETING WITH SOME OF HIS PRINCIPAL GENERAL OFFICERS TO INCLUDE BG BALCONI, THE INSPECTOR GENERAL, BG PINEDA, THE VICE-CHIEF OF STAFF, AND MG GONZALEZ, THE CHIEF OF STAFF, AMONG OTHERS. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED BY PRAISING THE PRESENCE OF MG GONZALEZ AT THE RECENT CONFERENCE IN SAN FRANCISCO. DURING THE CONFERENCE, MG GONZALEZ HAD RESPONDED TO FEROCIOUS VERBAL ATTACKS IN A DISCIPLINED AND RESPONSIVE WAY, WHICH REQUIRED A GREAT DEAL OF PERSONAL COURAGE. DR. NUCCIO EMPHASIZED THAT NOW WE MUST DEMAND THE SAME PARTICIPATION AND COURAGE ON THE PART OF THE CIVILIAN LEADERSHIP IN THE GOVERNMENT AND ELSEWHERE.

GT ARMY PARTICIPATION IN HAITI MNF

5. DR. NUCCIO INQUIRED AS TO HOW THE GUATEMALAN PARTICIPATION IN THE MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE (MNF) IN HAITI WAS GOING. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT SO FAR THINGS WERE GOING VERY WELL. THE GT ARMY HAD MADE GREAT EFFORTS TO HAND PICK THE PARTICIPANTS AND ENSURE THEY WERE WELL PREPARED AND BRIEFED PRIOR TO THEIR DEPARTURE. GEN GONZALEZ HAD JUST BRIEFED THE OTHER GENERAL OFFICERS ON THE EXCELLENT IMPRESSION THE GUATEMALAN TROOPS HAD MADE DURING THEIR TEN DAYS OF PREPARATION IN PUERTO RICO. GEN ENRIQUEZ BELIEVED THAT THE CIVIL AFFAIRS COMPONENT OF THE FORCE WOULD BE PARTICULARLY USEFUL IN BOOSTING THE MORALE AND BRINGING ASSISTANCE AND SERVICES TO THE LOCAL CIVILIAN POPULATION IN HAITI. HE ADDED THAT JUST YESTERDAY HE HAD RECEIVED A LETTER FROM THE UN INVITING GUATEMALA TO CONTINUE ITS PARTICIPATION WHEN THE MNF IS CONVERTED TO THE UN MISSION IN HAITI (UNMIH). GEN ENRIQUEZ CONTINUED THAT THE GT ARMY WAS VERY PLEASED WITH THE OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE IN HAITI. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT ON THE CONTRARY, THE U.S. WISHES TO THANK GUATEMALA FOR ITS PARTICIPATION IN THE MNF IN HAITI.

PROGRESS IN THE PEACE TALKS

6. DR. NUCCIO CONTINUED THAT HE HAD JUST COME FROM MEXICO CITY WHERE A POSITIVE ROUND IN THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS HAD JUST BEEN CONCLUDED. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT THE NEXT NEGOTIATING SESSION TO BE HELD FROM 4 THROUGH 9 NOVEMBER WOULD REACH A FINAL ACCORD ON THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION. HE ADDED THAT YESTERDAY HE HAD LUNCH WITH THE MEMBERS OF THE CONGRESSIONAL DEFENSE COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS THE NEW RECRUITMENT LAW, WHICH MUST BE PASSED AS PART OF THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE GLOBAL HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD. OTHER ISSUES DISCUSSED INCLUDED DOWN-SIZING THE ARMY ONCE THE CONFLICT ENDS AND THE ROLE OF RESERVE FORCES WITHIN THE GUATEMALAN ARMY.

JENNIFER HARBURY CASE RAISED

7. DR. NUCCIO EXPLAINED THAT HE WAS VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE HUNGER STRIKE OF JENNIFER HARBURY. THE PUBLICITY AND PROTEST IN THE U.S. CONCERNING THE LACK OF RESPONSE BY THE GOG ON THE CASE HAS REACHED FRIGHTENING LEVELS. THE U.S. CONGRESS AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS ARE VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE CASE. DR. NUCCIO ADDED THAT HE HAD ALSO RAISED THE ISSUE WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON,

SUBJECT: MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE DISCUSSED.

WHO PROMISED THAT HE WOULD ANNOUNCE A MAJOR INVESTIGATION INTO THE DISAPPEARANCE OF ORPA COMANDANTE EFRAIN BAMACA, MS. HARBURY'S HUSBAND.

8. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE HAD PERSONALLY MET WITH JENNIFER HARBURY ON TUESDAY, AND HE HAD ALSO TOLD HER THAT HE WOULD ASK FOR AN INVESTIGATION INTO THE WHEREABOUTS OF BAMACA. HE TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT SHE IS NEEDLESSLY SELF-INFLICTING SUFFERING UPON HERSELF, BECAUSE THE GT ARMY DOES NOT HAVE BAMACA. IF BAMACA IS ALIVE HE IS CERTAINLY NOT IN ARMY CUSTODY, AND IF HE REALLY CARED FOR MS. HARBURY, HE WOULD COME TO HER AND SHOW HER THAT HE IS ALIVE, EVEN IF IT WAS IN DISGUISE AT NIGHT, SO THAT SHE COULD END HER SUFFERING. GEN ENRIQUEZ CONTINUED THAT HE ALSO TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT WHEN HE FIRST MET HER HE BELIEVED THAT SHE WAS AN INTELLIGENT AND SINCERE WOMAN MOTIVATED BY HER LOVE OF BAMACA. HOWEVER BASED ON HER MORE RECENT BEHAVIOR, HE HAD LOST CONFIDENCE IN HER AND NOW BELIEVED THAT SHE HAD POLITICAL MOTIVES FOR HER HUNGER STRIKE, WHICH HAD CAUSED HIM TO SPEAK SOMEWHAT SARCASTICALLY ABOUT HER CASE TO THE PRESS.

9. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE HAS NOW SEEN MS. HARBURY FIVE TIMES. HE HAD ALWAYS TOLD HER THAT HE DOES NOT KNOW THE WHEREABOUTS OF BAMACA. THE ARMY NEVER CLAIMED TO HAVE HAD BAMACA, AND IN FACT THE NOTIFICATIONS OF HIS DISAPPEARANCE CAME FROM THE URNG, NOT THE ARMY. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT HE ALSO TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT IF HE GOES OUT TO THE CENTRAL PLAZA TO SEE HER, IT WILL BE WITH TWO DOCTORS, AND IF THOSE DOCTORS DETERMINE THAT HER HEALTH IS IN DANGER, HE WILL HAVE HER REMOVED TO A CLINIC FOR MEDICAL TREATMENT. (NOTE: GEN ENRIQUEZ' MOST RECENT DISCUSSION WITH MS. HARBURY TOOK PLACE IN HIS OFFICE IN THE NATIONAL PALACE, NOT IN THE CENTRAL PLAZA WHERE SHE IS HOLDING HER HUNGER STRIKE.)

10. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN EXPLAINED THAT IT IS NOW OBVIOUS TO HIM THAT MS. HARBURY IS WORKING WITH THE URNG. HER BOOK WAS WRITTEN AND SOLD TO RAISE FUNDS FOR THE URNG. SHE SYMPATHIZES WITH RODRIGO ASTURIAS, THE ORPA LEADER. MS. HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE IS A POLITICAL ACT BEING CONDUCTED BY A PROFESSIONAL; SHE IS NOT THERE TO RECLAIM HER HUSBAND LIKE HE HAD ORIGINALLY THOUGHT. HER CURRENT ACTIVITIES IN FRONT OF THE NATIONAL PALACE ARE CLEARLY DESIGNED TO SUBVERT THE STATE, WHICH IS AGAINST THE LAW IN MANY OTHER COUNTRIES. HOWEVER, HERE IN GUATEMALA EVERYTHING IS NOW ALLOWED.

11. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT DURING HIS INTERVIEW WITH MS. HARBURY, SHE HAD OFFERED TO STOP HER HUNGER STRIKE IF HE WOULD PROMISE TO MAKE BAMACA APPEAR AT SOME SPECIFIED TIME AND LOCATION IN THE FUTURE. HE HAD RESPONDED THAT HE IS SORRY THAT SHE IS SELF-INFLICTING HER SUFFERING, BUT HE CAN NOT MAKE SUCH A PROMISE BECAUSE THE ARMY DOES NOT HAVE BAMACA. THE GT ARMY WOULD NOT DETAIN BAMACA FOR NO REASON. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE PERSONALLY BELIEVES THAT BAMACA IS DEAD, BUT HE HAS NO PROOF OF THAT, IT IS SIMPLY HIS LOGICAL DEDUCTION.

MOD DOUBTS ASPECTS OF BAMACA CASE

12. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THERE ARE MANY DOUBTS ABOUT MS. HARBURY'S CASE. DURING THE FIRST EXHUMATION FOR BAMACA'S BODY THAT OCCURRED IN 1992 [illegible] HARBURY WENT TO THE CEMETERY AS A REPORTER, NOT AS BAMACA'S HUSBAND. ONLY LATER DID SHE CLAIM TO BE BAMACA'S HUSBAND. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE WISHED HE HAD THE INVESTIGATIVE CAPABILITIES TO GO TO TEXAS AND OBTAIN THE MARRIAGE RECORDS OF MS. HARBURY AND BAMACA, BECAUSE HE SUSPECTS THE MARRIAGE DOCUMENTS WERE IN FACT FILED AFTER BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE. LIKEWISE, THE ARMY NEVER ANNOUNCED THAT IT HAD KILLED OR CAPTURED BAMACA IN COMBAT. THE DESCRIPTION OF BAMACA'S BODY THAT MS. HARBURY CLAIMS WAS SENT FROM THE ARMY IN FACT CAME FROM THE URNG. ALL OF THESE ITEMS CREATE DOUBTS ABOUT MS. HARBURY'S STORY.

13. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN PHILOSOPHIZED THAT AFTER 34 YEARS OF "DIRTY" WAR, AND THAT'S WHAT IT WAS, AS BOTH THE ARMY AND THE GUERRILLAS HAD DONE DIRTY THINGS, BOTH SIDES ARE UNDOUBTEDLY GUILTY OF ILLEGAL ACTIONS. IF THE GT ARMY HAD NOT DONE WHAT IT DID, GUATEMALA MIGHT PRESENTLY BE UNDER A COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT LIKE THAT OF CUBA. HOWEVER NOW, ONLY THE ACTIVITIES OF THE GOG OR THE ARMY ARE DENOUNCED. FOR EXAMPLE, ONLY A YEAR OR TWO AGO A U.S. CITIZEN WAS CAPTURED BY THE ORPA, PASSED TO THE EGP AND LATER THE FAR, AND THEN MURDERED. YET NO ONE SAYS ANYTHING ABOUT THAT CASE. THE ARMY HAS GOOD DOCUMENTATION ON THIS CASE WHICH GEN ENRIQUEZ PROMISED TO PASS TO THE EMBASSY.

MOD AGREES TO FULL INVESTIGATIONS

14. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT WHATEVER GEN ENRIQUEZ MAY THINK ABOUT THE CASE, IT HAS BECOME EXTREMELY IMPORTANT AND IS ABOUT TO CAUSE THE SKY TO FALL ON GUATEMALA. TO PREVENT THAT FROM HAPPENING A SOLUTION MUST BE FOUND QUICKLY. THE SOLUTION MUST BE CONVINCING TO THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY, EVEN THOUGH IT MAY NOT FULLY SATISFY MS. HARBURY. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT IN FACT HE HAS ASKED PRESIDENT DE LEON TO ORDER AN INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE. HE HAD ALSO TOLD HIS COMMANDERS THAT IF ANYONE MATCHING THE APPEARANCE OF BAMACA IS SEEN, HE SHOULD BE BROUGHT

SUBJECT: MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE DISCUSSED.

IN. IF ANY OFFICER KNOWS THAT BAMACA WAS HELD BY THE ARMY AND IS DEAD, HE SHOULD COME FORWARD. IF SOME INDIVIDUALS GOT OUT OF CONTROL AND KILLED BAMACA WHILE HE WAS IN CUSTODY, THEN THEY WOULD BE PROSECUTED. MAYBE A PREVIOUS MOD KNOWS MORE ABOUT THE CASE THAN GEN ENRIQUEZ. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THE ONLY SERIOUS CASE OF WHICH HE HAS FIRST HAND KNOWLEDGE BECAUSE IT OCCURRED WHILE HE WAS MINISTER WAS THE MURDER OF JORGE CARPIO, AND THAT CONTINUES TO BE INVESTIGATED.

15. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE HAD ALSO ASKED THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE SOLICITOR GENERAL TO INVESTIGATE THE BAMACA CASE. THE SOLICITOR GENERAL, ACISCLO VALLADARES, TOLD GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT HE WOULD ISSUE A PETITION OF PERSONAL EXHIBITION TO THE PRESIDENT, THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, AND THE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT. THE PROCEDURES FOR THE PETITION WOULD BE THOSE OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, WHICH COULD RESULT IN ORAL HEARINGS CONCERNING THE WHEREABOUTS OF BAMACA, DURING WHICH MANY INDIVIDUALS COULD BE CALLED IN TO MAKE DECLARATIONS. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD RESPONDED TO ACISCLO VALLADARES THAT HE SHOULD GO FORWARD WITH THIS PROCEDURE AND THAT HE WOULD HAVE THE FULL

SUPPORT OF THE ARMY. EVEN THE TWO OFFICERS NAMED BY EX-GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA HAVING TORTURED BAMACA COULD BE MADE AVAILABLE TO TESTIFY. DR. NUCCIO ASKED GEN ENRIQUEZ IF HE OR ANYONE HAD QUESTIONED THE TWO OFFICERS ABOUT THE ALLEGATIONS OF CABRERA. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE HAD NOT.

16. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE PERSONALLY BELIEVES THAT BAMACA IS DEAD. AROUND THE TIME OF THE DISAPPEARANCE, HE HAD HEARD TALK THAT BAMACA HAD BEEN KILLED IN COMBAT; BUT HE WAS NOT IN A POSITION TO BE INFORMED OF SUCH THINGS AT THE TIME. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT DURING A CONFLICT, THERE IS COMPARTMENTALIZATION BY BOTH THE GUERRILLAS AND THE ARMY. AS A RESULT THERE COULD BE A SMALL, SELECT GROUP OF OFFICERS WHO KNOW MORE ABOUT THE BAMACA CASE THAN HE DOES.

RODRIGO ASTURIAS' OFFER

17. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THE ORPA LEADER, RODRIGO ASTURIAS, HAD SENT A MESSAGE TO HIM FROM MEXICO VIA BG PINEDA, COPAZ MEMBER AND VICE-CHIEF OF STAFF. ASTURIAS TOLD BG PINEDA TO TELL GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT IF THE GT ARMY WOULD MAKE BAMACA APPEAR IN SOME LOCATION, LIKE CHIAPAS FOR EXAMPLE, THAT WOULD PRESERVE THE HONOR OF THE ARMY, HE WOULD CALL OFF THE INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE ON THE CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THIS WAS EXACTLY THE SAME DEMAND BEING MADE BY MS. HARBURY HERSELF. HE ALSO COMMENTED THAT THE URNG MUST THINK IT HAS A GREAT DEAL OF INTERNATIONAL INFLUENCE TO BELIEVE THAT IT COULD SHUT DOWN ALL PROTESTS ABOUT THE BAMACA CASE.

18. DR. NUCCIO EXPLAINED THAT IN CONFIDENCE, RODRIGO ASTURIAS HAD ALSO INFORMED HIM OF THE OFFER MADE THROUGH BG PINEDA, BUT THE WORDING WAS SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT. ASTURIAS HAD EXPLAINED THAT IF BAMACA WHERE MADE TO APPEAR SOMEWHERE IN A WAY THAT PRESERVED THE HONOR OF THE ARMY, HE WOULD OFFER HIS PERSONAL EFFORTS TO ELIMINATE ANY PROVOCATIONS OR PERSONAL ATTACKS ABOUT THE CASE, AND WOULD ATTEMPT TO CONVINCE MS. HARBURY TO STOP HER ACTIVITIES. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THAT WAS NOT THE WAY IT WAS PRESENTED TO HIM, BUT RATHER THAT ALL INTERNATIONAL PRESSURES WOULD BE ELIMINATED. DR. NUCCIO CLARIFIED THAT ASTURIAS' OFFER WAS NOT THAT ALL-ENCOMPASSING, BUT ONLY WAS AN ASSURANCE OF HIS PERSONAL EFFORTS TO PERSUADE MS. HARBURY TO STOP HER ACTIVITIES AND LOOK FOR AN HONORABLE SOLUTION FOR THE ARMY.

INTERNATIONAL PRESSURES MOUNT

19. DR. NUCCIO ADDED THAT THE BAMACA CASE HAS TAKEN ON GREAT IMPORTANCE IN THE U.S., AND HAS EVEN GOTTEN TO THE WHITE HOUSE. DR. NUCCIO THEN SHOWED GEN ENRIQUEZ SOME STATISTICS SHOWING THE LARGE NUMBER OF LETTERS AND FAXES THAT HIS OFFICE ALONE HAS RECEIVED ON THE BAMACA CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ REVIEWED THE STATISTICS AND REMARKED THAT THESE INQUIRIES SHOWED THE INCREDIBLE INTERNATIONAL CAPABILITY OF THE URNG. HE EXCLAIMED THAT AGAINST THIS KIND OF OPPOSITION IT IS A WONDER THE GOG WAS ABLE TO SURVIVE. THE URNG HAD LONG RECEIVED STRONG INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT FROM SUCH COUNTRIES AS NORWAY, SWEDEN, AND FRANCE. FRANCE AT ONE TIME EVEN DELIVERED WEAPONS TO THE URNG. THIS INCREDIBLE OPPOSITION WAS ONE REASON THE ARMY HAD TO RESPOND THE WAY IT DID DURING THE 1980'S.

20. GEN ENRIQUEZ COMMENTED THAT IT IS A PITY THAT THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY HAS MOBILIZED ITSELF ON THE BAMACA CASE, AS THIS ORPA COMANDANTE DID NOT DESERVE THIS KIND OF SUPPORT. HE WAS NOT AN INNOCENT VICTIM, AS HE HAD A LONG RECORD AS AN ORPA COMBATANT. FOR EXAMPLE, THERE ARE NO ARMY WIVES CONDUCTING A HUNGER STRIKE DEMANDING THE WHEREABOUTS OF THEIR HUSBANDS FROM THE URNG. WHY DIDN'T THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY MOBILIZE THIS KIND OF SUPPORT OVER THE MURDER OF MICHAEL DEVINE? THERE IS A CASE THAT CERTAINLY MERITED THIS KIND OF PRESSURE, AS HE WAS AN INNOCENT, CIVILIAN, U.S. CITIZEN VICTIM. THE ONLY REASON BAMACA IS RECEIVING SUCH GREAT ATTENTION IS BECAUSE MS. HARBURY IS PLAYING A POLITICAL GAME.

MOD RELUCTANTLY ACCEPTS MINUGUA INVOLVEMENT

SUBJECT: MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE DISCUSSED.

21. DR. NUCCIO ONCE AGAIN REITERATED THAT WHATEVER THE MERITS OF THE CASE OR GEN ENRIQUEZ' FEELINGS ABOUT THE CASE, IT DESERVED A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION, WITH INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPATION. THE UN MISSION IN GUATEMALA, MINUGUA, IS ONE POSSIBILITY OF INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPATION. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT MINUGUA WILL REALLY ONLY BEGIN ITS OPERATIONS ON 14 NOVEMBER, AND SINCE BAMACA DISAPPEARED IN MARCH 1992, THE CASE DOES NOT QUALIFY. OF COURSE, IF ONE ACCEPTED MS. HARBURY'S PREMISE THAT BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE THEN THE CASE COULD PERHAPS FALL UNDER MINUGUA'S JURISDICTION. LIKEWISE, MINUGUA IS ONLY AUTHORIZED TO VERIFY, NOT CONDUCT ITS OWN INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATIONS. DR. NUCCIO RESPONDED THAT HIS UNDERSTANDING ALSO WAS THAT MINUGUA COULD ONLY VERIFY, BUT IT COULD ACCOMPANY THE GT HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN OR OTHER GOG INVESTIGATOR UNDER THAT CRITERIA. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT MINUGUA COULD ALSO SUGGEST QUESTIONS THAT THE OMBUDSMAN MIGHT ASK AS WELL. GEN ENRIQUEZ AGREED THAT SUCH OPTIONS SEEMED TO FALL WITHIN THE JURISDICTION OF MINUGUA.

22. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT SHE BELIEVED THAT THE PRESIDENT PLANNED TO APPOINT CESAR ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ, CURRENTLY THE GT AMBASSADOR TO THE OAS, AS A SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR TO LOOK INTO THE CASE OF BAMACA. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WOULD BE AN EXCELLENT CHOICE, AS HE WAS FAMILIAR WITH THE CASE FROM HIS TIME AS PRESIDENT DE LEON'S DEPUTY WHEN HE WAS THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. THE SOLICITOR GENERAL, ACISCLO VALLADARES, ALSO HAS GREAT CREDIBILITY IN SUCH CASES. GEN ENRIQUEZ REMARKED THAT HE HAD ALREADY OFFERED HIS FULL SUPPORT TO ANY INVESTIGATION THAT VALLADARES MIGHT INITIATE.

23. GEN ENRIQUEZ REMARKED THAT EARLIER THE SAME DAY HIS CHIEF OF STAFF, MG GONZALEZ, HAD REMARKED TO HIM THAT WHILE HE HAD ALWAYS DONE AN EXCELLENT JOB IN EXPLAINING ARMY POSITIONS TO THE PRESS, MG GONZALEZ BELIEVED THAT HE WAS LOSING HIS CREDIBILITY OVER THE BAMACA CASE. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD RESPONDED THAT IT IS ALSO THE CHIEF OF STAFF'S JOB TO ENSURE THAT THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE DOES NOT LOSE HIS CREDIBILITY. THEREFORE MG GONZALEZ SHOULD DIRECT HIS COUNTERINTELLIGENCE DIVISION (CUERPO TECNICO CONSULTATIVO) TO PROVIDE ALL INFORMATION THEY HAVE ON BAMACA SO THAT THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE DOESN'T LOSE HIS CREDIBILITY ON THE BAMACA CASE. ——

MAINTAINING A UNIFIED URNG

24. DR. NUCCIO THEN EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD ERRED AND BEEN MISINTERPRETED AS A RESULT OF QUOTING GEN ENRIQUEZ FROM A PREVIOUS VISIT. DR. NUCCIO RECALLED THE MEETING WHERE GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD EXPLAINED THAT GT COULD NOT AFFORD TO HAVE A DIVIDED URNG, AS THE COMANDANTES WOULD THEN NOT BE ABLE TO BRING IN ALL OF THEIR UNITS FOR DISARMING ONCE A CEASEFIRE IS DECLARED. RATHER IT WOULD BE BETTER FOR THE URNG TO REMAIN UNITED. GEN ENRIQUEZ ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HE HAD MADE SUCH A COMMENT TO DR. NUCCIO. DR. NUCCIO CONTINUED THAT HE HAD REPEATED THIS COMMENT AT A MEETING IN NEW YORK, AND HAD THEN BEEN MISQUOTED BY THE GT MINISTER OF FOREIGN RELATIONS, MARITZA RUIZ DE VIELMAN, AMONG OTHERS, AS SAYING THAT THE U.S. HAD THE GOAL OF A POLITICALLY STRENGTHENED ("FORTALECIDA") URNG, RATHER THAN MAINTAINING A UNIFIED ("UNIFICADA") URNG, WHICH IS WHAT HE HAD INTENDED. LIKEWISE, HE HAD ALSO BEEN MISQUOTED AS SAYING THAT THE US WANTED CIVIL SECTORS TO PARTICIPATE AT THE BARGAINING TABLE ITSELF, WHEN WHAT REALLY HAD BEEN SAID WAS THAT THE US WANTED TO INCREASE CIVIL SECTOR PARTICIPATION IN THE OVERALL PEACE PROCESS, BUT CERTAINLY NOT BY HAVING THEM AT THE BARGAINING TABLE.

25. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WAS EXTREMELY PLEASED TO HEAR THIS CLARIFICATION. HE HAD INDEED BEEN EXTREMELY CONCERNED BY THE REMARKS ATTRIBUTED TO DR. NUCCIO. IN FACT, IT HAD BEEN REPORTED TO HIM THAT DR. NUCCIO HAD SAID THAT RIGHT NOW THE GOG IS SO STRONG AND THE URNG IS SO WEAK, THAT IT IS LIKE BRINGING A LION AND A MOUSE TO THE NEGOTIATING TABLE--THE DISPARITY IS SO EXTREME THAT NO AGREEMENT CAN BE REACHED. THEREFORE, THE MOUSE MUST BE STRENGTHENED AND MADE MORE LIKE A TIGER SO IT CAN GO TO THE TABLE AND SIGN AN AGREEMENT WITH THE LION.

26. RECENTLY, GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD BEEN DISCUSSING DR. NUCCIO'S REPORTED REMARKS WITH SOME OF HIS GENERAL OFFICERS, TO INCLUDE BG BALCONI AND BG CAMARGO, AND THINKING ABOUT WHY THE U.S. WOULD HAVE SUCH A POSITION. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT HE WAS VERY SAD AND COULD NOT UNDERSTAND WHY THE US GOVERNMENT WOULD WANT TO STRENGTHEN THE URNG WHEN THE GT ARMY HAD SPENT SO MANY YEARS AND LOST SO MANY LIVES COMBATTING THEM MILITARILY, AND WHEN THE URNG HAD EVEN MURDERED A U.S. AMBASSADOR. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD INITIALLY THOUGHT IT WAS ABSURD THAT THE U.S. WOULD HAVE SUCH A POSITION, BUT THEN BEGAN TO BELIEVE THAT MAYBE THE U.S. REALLY DID HAVE A HIDDEN AGENDA, AND HAD DEVELOPED A NEW STRATEGY TO REDUCE OR EVEN ELIMINATE THE GT ARMY.

27. DR. NUCCIO REITERATED ONCE AGAIN THAT HIS REMARKS HAD BEEN COMPLETELY MISINTERPRETED, AND THAT IT HAD BEEN REPORTED THAT HE WANTED TO "PROMOTE THE PRESENCE OF THE CIVIL SECTORS AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE," WHEN THE IDEA IS TO PROMOTE THE PARTICIPATION OF THE CIVIL SECTORS IN THE OVERALL PEACE PROCESS,

SUBJECT: MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE DISCUSSED.

BUT NOT AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE. GEN ENRIQUEZ REPEATED ONCE AGAIN THAT HE WAS RELIEVED TO HEAR THIS CLARIFICATION. IN FACT, THE MISINTERPRETATIONS HAD SOME CREDIBILITY, BECAUSE THE GOG PERCEPTION WAS THAT DR. NUCCIO HAD MUCH MORE FREQUENT CONTACT WITH URNG REPRESENTATIVES THAN WITH COPAZ OR GOG REPRESENTATIVES. DR. NUCCCIO EMPHASIZED THAT AFTER EVERY MEETING WITH THE URNG, HE ALWAYS VISITED THE GUATEMALAN

UNCLASSIFIED

EMBASSY. DR. NUCCIO ADDED THAT HE DOES NOT MEET WITH THE URNG BECAUSE THEY ARE HIS FRIENDS OR TO INFLUENCE THEM TO FURTHER THE PEACE PROCESS. HIS GOAL IS NOT TO ADVANCE THE URNG'S AGENDA, BUT TO END THE CONFLICT IN GUATEMALA.

MEETINGS WITH THE URNG

28. THE AMBASSADOR INFORMED MG ENRIQUEZ THAT DR. NUCCIO WOULD BE VISITING GUATEMALA MORE OFTEN IN THE FUTURE TO HELP AVOID SUCH MISUNDERSTANDINGS. LIKEWISE THE AMBASSADOR HERSELF WAS CONTEMPLATING GOING TO MEXICO CITY ON THE TAIL END OF THE NEXT ROUND OF PEACE TALKS TO MEET WITH THE URNG COMANDANTES TO OBTAIN A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF THEIR POSITIONS AND ATTITUDES TOWARDS THE PEACE PROCESS. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE TOO WOULD LIKE TO MEET WITH DR. NUCCIO MORE OFTEN, AND WOULD BE WILLING TO TRAVEL TO MEET HIM. HOWEVER, GOING TO MEXICO CITY WOULD BE DIFFICULT, BECAUSE WHENEVER THE MOD OR COS GOES THERE HE IS SUSPECTED OF MEETING WITH THE URNG COMANDANTES. SINCE PEACE TALKS WITH THE URNG HAD FIRST BEGUN, THERE HAD ALWAYS BEEN AN UNDERSTANDING WITHIN THE ARMY THAT THE MOD AND COS WOULD NOT PERSONALLY MEET WITH THE URNG TOP LEADERSHIP. FOR EXAMPLE, WHEN IT BECAME KNOWN THAT MG GONZALEZ HAD MET WITH TWO OF THE COMANDANTES IN SAN FRANCISCO IT HAD CAUSED HIM SOME PROBLEMS AMONG THE OFFICER RANKS.

29. DR. NUCCIO EXPLAINED THAT HE MUST CONTINUE TO MEET WITH THE URNG, AND IN EFFECT EXERT PSYCHOLOGICAL PRESSURE ON THEM TO CONTINUE WITH THE PEACE PROCESS. LIKEWISE, HE HAD TO GIVE THEM A DIFFERENT IMPRESSION OF THE U.S. IN ORDER FOR U.S INFLUENCE TO BE EFFECTIVE--THEY HAVE THE IMAGE OF THE U.S. AS AN EGOISTIC, IMPERIALIST POWER. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT DR. NUCCIO HAD BEEN A VERY EFFECTIVE ADVOCATE FOR THE PEACE PROCESS AND FOR RENEWED IMET FOR THE GT ARMY GIVEN HIS CREDIBILITY ON CAPITOL HILL--IN THIS SENSE HE IS ONE OF THE ARMY'S BEST FRIENDS IN WASHINGTON. DR. NUCCIO INQUIRED OF GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT PERHAPS ON HIS NEXT VISIT HE SHOULD VISIT AN ARMY UNIT WITH THE MOD. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WOULD LIKE DR. NUCCIO TO SPEAK TO AN ASSEMBLED GROUP OF OFFICERS AT THE MARISCAL ZAVALA BRIGADE IN GUATEMALA CITY TO DISCUSS THE PEACE PROCESS WITH THEM. DR. NUCCIO AGREED TO DO THIS ON HIS NEXT VISIT, POSSIBLY IN MID-NOVEMBER.

MOD'S REMARKS ON BAMACA MISINTERPRETED

30. THE AMBASSADOR REFERRED BACK TO GEN ENRIQUEZ' EARLIER STATEMENTS THAT MAYBE BAMACA WOULD APPEAR IN CHIAPAS OR OUT IN THE JUNGLE SOMEWHERE. SHE EXPLAINED TO GEN ENRIQUEZ THAT IN FACT MS. HARBURY HAD INTERPRETED THESE STATEMENTS AS A TYPE OF "SECRET NEGOTIATION" BETWEEN HER AND THE MOD. DATT CONFIRMED THAT MS. HARBURY HAD INDEED INTERPRETED THESE STATEMENTS AS AN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT THAT BAMACA WAS ALIVE IN ARMY CUSTODY, AND THAT THESE WERE SUBTLE SIGNALS TO HER THAT THE MOD WISHED TO NEGOTIATE THE RELEASE OF BAMACA AT A TIME AND PLACE THAT WOULD NOT DISCREDIT THE ARMY. GEN ENRIQUEZ APPEARED DUMBFOUNDED AND DID NOT RESPOND FOR A FEW SECONDS.

31. HE THEN EXPLAINED THAT HE NEVER INTENDED TO CONVEY SUCH AN IMPRESSION. WHAT HE HAD MEANT BY SUCH STATEMENTS WAS THAT MAYBE BAMACA WAS ALIVE SOMEWHERE WITH THE URNG OR IN HIDING. IN FACT HE HAD EVEN TOLD THE PRESS ON ONE OCCASION THAT HE COULD CONCEIVE THAT ORPA LEADER RODRIGO ASTURIAS HAD HIDDEN BAMACA,

UNCLASSIFIED

AND IS WAITING FOR THE RIGHT MOMENT TO ORDER HIM TO APPEAR. AFTER ALL, AS HE SAID, THERE HAS BEEN A DIRTY WAR AND MANY THINGS ARE POSSIBLE. FOR EXAMPLE, HE COULD EVEN BELIEVE THAT BAMACA HAD ORIGINALLY BEEN BURIED IN THE CEMETERY IN RETALHULEU, BUT THE URNG HAD LATER SECRETLY SWITCHED BODIES IN THE CEMETERY AND HAS HIDDEN BAMACA'S REMAINS. WHILE SUCH A BODY SWAP IS UNLIKELY, IT IS POSSIBLE.

32. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT MANY GROUPS WILL BE VISITING GUATEMALA DURING THE COMING WEEK TO SEE MS. HARBURY AND INQUIRE ABOUT THE WHEREABOUTS OF EFRAIN BAMACA. WHAT WOULD BE GEN ENRIQUEZ' POSTURE CONCERNING SUCH GROUPS? WOULD HE BE AVAILABLE TO SEE THEM? GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE WOULD CONTINUE WITH THE SAME POLICY AS ALWAYS--HE WAS OPEN AND WOULD RECEIVE AS MANY VISITORS AS HIS SCHEDULE PERMITTED. ONLY YESTERDAY GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD RECEIVED TWO REPORTERS FROM ARIZONA, WHO HAD TAKEN PICTURES OF VARIOUS ROOMS AND HALLWAYS WITHIN THE MOD'S OFFICIAL RESIDENCE. GEN ENRIQUEZ WAS SURE THE PHOTOS WOULD BE USED TO SHOW THE OPULENCE OF THE MOD'S OFFICIAL RESIDENCE AND THUS ATTEMPT TO DISCREDIT HIM.

ODDS AND ENDS

33. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE EARLIER HAD A MEETING WITH GT OFFICERS INVOLVED WITH THE PREPARATIONS FOR FUERTES CAMINOS 95. HE WAS CONSIDERING WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE U.S. EMBASSY

SUBJECT: MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE: JENNIFER HARBURY CASE DISCUSSED.

REQUEST THAT COL CABRERA AND LTC ALPIREZ BE TRANSFERRED FROM MILITARY ZONE 10 AT JUTIAPA. (NOTE: THE EMBASSY HAS REQUESTED THAT BOTH OFFICERS BE TRANSFERRED FROM THE MILITARY ZONE WHERE THE FUERTES CAMINOS 95 BASE CAMP WILL BE ESTABLISHED, BECAUSE THEY WERE INVOLVED IN THE COVERUP OF THE ARMY'S INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE IN MAY OF 1990.) HE WAS ALSO SAD TO HEAR THAT MG CROCKER, THE ARMY SOUTH COMMANDER, WOULD HAVE TO DELAY HIS VISIT BEYOND 6 NOVEMBER BECAUSE OF MS. HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE. HE AND HIS STAFF HAD VERY MUCH BEEN LOOKING FORWARD TO THE VISIT. HE INFORMED THE AMBASSADOR AND DR. NUCCIO THAT HE HAD BEEN INVITED TO VISIT ISRAEL AND WOULD BE THERE FOR NINE DAYS FROM 6-16 NOVEMBER. GEN ENRIQUEZ COMMENTED THAT PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD ACCEPTED AN INVITATION TO TAKE A RIDE THE FOLLOWING DAY IN ONE OF THE TWO FLYABLE A37'S THAT THE AIR FORCE HAD BEEN WORKING HARD ON TO MAKE AIRWORTHY. SINCE THE PRESIDENT WAS FLYING, HE AS MOD HAD NO CHOICE BUT TO GO UP IN ONE OF THE AIRCRAFT AS WELL, A PROSPECT THAT MADE HIM SOMEWHAT NERVOUS.

COMMENTS

34. GEN ENRIQUEZ WAS UNUSUALLY DISORGANIZED AND RAMBLING WHEN HE DISCUSSED THE BAMACA CASE. AT ONE POINT HE MENTIONED THAT IF BAMACA IS ALIVE HE SHOULD APPEAR TO MS. HARBURY AT NIGHT IN DISGUISE, BUT THEN LATER STATED THAT HE BELIEVED BAMACA WAS DEAD, BUT THEN CAVEATED BY SAYING THAT HE HAD NO PROOF OF THIS. EVEN AN ATTENTIVE LISTENER FAMILIAR WITH THE CASE CAN EASILY BECOME CONFUSED WITH SUCH RAMBLINGS. FURTHER, GEN ENRIQUEZ GAVE THE FIRST INKLINGS THAT THE ARMY MAY HAVE HAD BAMACA AT ONE TIME, WHEN HE REFERRED TO "COMPARTMENTALIZATION" OF OPERATIONS, AND THE FACT THAT HE TOLD GEN GONZALEZ THAT HE SHOULD HAVE HIS

CI SECTION REVEAL ALL INFORMATION SO GEN ENRIQUEZ WOULD NOT CONTINUE TO LOSE CREDIBILITY ON THE BAMACA CASE. OVERALL, GEN ENRIQUEZ APPEARED SOMEWHAT TIRED AND SHOWED MORE SIGNS OF STRESS THAN USUAL.

35. THE DISCUSSION OF THE MISINTERPRETATION OF DR. NUCCIO'S REMARKS ABOUT STRENGTHENING RATHER THAN UNIFYING THE URNG CBEARLY HIT A SENSITIVE POINT. GEN ENRIQUEZ WENT ON AT GREAT LENGTH ABOUT HOW CONCERNED HE WAS WITH A U.S POLICY OF STRENGTHENING THE URNG, ALMOST TO THE POINT OF PARANOIA. IT WAS OBVIOUS HE HAD DISCUSSED THE ISSUE WITH HIS FELLOW GENERAL OFFICERS MORE THAN ONCE. WHILE AN IMPORTANT FIRST STEP HAS BEEN TAKEN TO CLEAR UP THIS MISUNDERSTANDING, LINGERING DOUBTS ABOUT THE USG'S "REAL" MOTIVES TOWARDS THE URNG UNDOUBTEDLY LINGER.

36. IT IS CLEAR THAT GEN ENRIQUEZ NO LONGER HAS ANY CONFIDENCE IN DEALING WITH MS. HARBURY PERSONALLY. RODRIGO ASTURIAS' OFFER OF AN HONORABLE ALTERNATIVE CLEARLY HAD AN IMPACT ON GEN ENRIQUEZ--WHETHER BECAUSE HE SAW IT AS MORE EVIDENCE OF A LINK BETWEEN MS. HARBURY AND THE URNG, OR BECAUSE HE CONSIDERS IT A POTENTIAL CHANNEL FOR THE ARMY TO NEGOTIATE A SOLUTION TO MS. HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE, IS UNCERTAIN. WHILE THE POSSIBILITY THAT BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE IS SLIGHT, IF THE ARMY DOES WANT AN HONORABLE SOLUTION AS PROPOSED BY ASTURIAS THEY MAY WELL BE BACK IN TOUCH.

37. THIS CABLE HAS NOT BEEN CLEARED BY DR. NUCCIO.

2. SUMMARY: DRL ASSISTANT SECRETARY JOHN SHATTUCK AND AMBASSADOR MET WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON EVENING NOV 17. THE PRESIDENT STRESSED HIS COMMITMENT TO OBSERVANCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND TO SEEKING A PEACE AGREEMENT URGENTLY TO END THE GUERRILLA CONFLICT, THE MAJOR SOURCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. HE DESCRIBED HIS EFFORTS TO THIS END AND THE STEPS HE WAS TAKING TO GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THE "LA EXACTA" AND BAMACA CASES, INCLUDING THE INVOLVEMENT OF THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION (MINUGUA). HE SAID BAMACA WAS NO LONGER ALIVE. IT, ALONG WITH THOUSANDS OF OTHER CASES ARISING FROM THE WAR, WOULD THEN BE DEALT WITH BY THE HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION. HE STRESSED THAT IT WOULD BE TRAGIC IF THE BAMACA CASE BECAME AN OBSTACLE TO ENDING THE GUERRILLA CONFLICT.

END SUMMARY.

3. A/S SHATTUCK AND AMBASSADOR MCAFEE, ACCOMPANIED BY DRL MARY CURTIN, POLCOUNS GEORGE CHESTER AND AIDOFF TODD SLOAN (INTERPRETER), CALLED ON PRESIDENT DE LEON IN HIS OFFICE AT THE CASA PRESIDENCIAL. THE PRESIDENT, IN A SERIOUS MOOD AND LOOKING SOMEWHAT TIRED, WELCOMED SHATTUCK WARMLY, NOTING HE CONSIDERED IT IMPORTANT TO MEET WITH THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY DESPITE THE SHORTNESS OF HIS VISIT. SHATTUCK RECIPROCATED, NOTING THE BACKGROUND IN CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS HE SHARED WITH DE LEON, AND THAT HE KNEW OF NO ONE ELSE SO COMMITTED TO THE HUMAN RIGHTS PROFESSION WHO HAD RISEN TO BE PRESIDENT OF A COUNTRY. HE STRESSED THAT PRESIDENT CLINTON, VICE PRESIDENT GORE AND SECRETARY CHRISTOPHER WERE ALL

IMPRESSED WITH WHAT DE LEON HAD BEEN ABLE TO DO AT THE TIME OF THE ATTEMPTED COUP IN MAY AND JUNE 1993 TO PRESERVE DEMOCRACY, AND SINCE TO SEEK PEACE.

4. ALLUDING TO A GOG REPORT ON A MEETING AT THE UN WITH THE FOREIGN MINISTER IN NEW YORK IN SEPTEMBER (REF), SHATTUCK EXPRESSED CONCERN IF THERE WERE ANY MISREADING OF USG SUPPORT FOR THE PRESIDENT IN HIS SEARCH FOR PEACE, AND PLEDGED OUR STRONG AND ENDURING SUPPORT TO MOVE THE PROCESS FORWARD. HE ACKNOWLEDGED KEY STEPS BY DE LEON IN SUPPORT OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, CITING HIS DISSOLUTION OF THE "ARCHIVOS" INTELLIGENCE OPERATIONAL UNIT ON THE PRESIDENTIAL STAFF AND HIS ACCEPTANCE OF THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION (MINUGUA) IN ADVANCING THE PEACE PROCESS. SHATTUCK NOTED HIS MEETING WITH DEFMIN ENRIQUEZ (SEPTEL) IN WHICH THE MOD HAD EXPRESSED HIS COMMITMENT TO MINUGUA'S SUCCESS AND A READY WILLINGNESS TO DISCUSS HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES. HE CONTINUED THAT WE WISH TO ENCOURAGE THIS PROCESS AS THE PRESIDENT MOVES TO ESTABLISH PEACE, END IMPUNITY AND ADDRESS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS.

5. SHATTUCK THEN BROACHED TWO SPECIFIC CASES. IN REFERRING TO THE "LA EXACTA" CASE IN WHICH SEVERAL FARM WORKERS WERE KILLED, HE WELCOMED THE PRESIDENT'S HAVING ORDERED A FULL INVESTIGATION. HE THE USG WAS AWAITING THE RESULTS WHICH WILL BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT AS PART OF OUR CONSIDERATION OF TERMINATION OF THE GSP REVIEW OF GUATEMALA. CONCERNING BAMACA, THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT DE LEON HAD HAD MANY DISCUSSIONS ON THE SUBJECT AND SAID HE WAS GRATEFUL THE PRESIDENT WAS WILLING TO TALK ABOUT IT WITH HIM. HE WAS RAISING IT NOT SO MUCH AS AN INDIVIDUAL CASE, BUT RATHER AS A CONFLICT. HE ASKED HOW THE VARIOUS INVESTIGATIONS INTO THE CASE WOULD BE COORDINATED AMONG GOG AGENCIES AND WITH MINUGUA. HE CLOSED BY STRESSING THE HIGH LEVEL OF INTEREST IN THE CASE IN THE UNITED STATES AND THE IMPORTANCE OF TAKING IT SERIOUSLY IN THE CONTEXT OF THE PEACE PROCESS.

6. DE LEON SAID HE WOULD BE DELIGHTED TO DISCUSS NOT ONLY THE TWO CASES BUT ALSO THE BROADER VIEW CONCERNING WHAT IS HAPPENING IN GUATEMALA. HE SAID THINGS WERE CHANGING, BUT ONLY GRADUALLY. THIS IS SOMETIMES DIFFICULT TO UNDERSTAND BECAUSE OF THE CULTURE OF VIOLENCE AND THE VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS THROUGHOUT THE HISTORY OF GUATEMALA. DE LEON EMPHASIZED HE BECAME PRESIDENT IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE PEACE AND TO CHANGE THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION. HE HAD MADE CHANGES IN THE ARMY, BUT CHANGE WAS SLOW. FORTUNATELY WE WERE TALKING ONLY OF TWO CASES: ONE INVOLVING THE ARMY; THE OTHER, THE POLICE; NOT MASS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. THE TASK WAS NOT EASY -- THE ARMY HAD DOMINATED FOR YEARS AND DONE WHAT IT WANTED WITH FULL IMPUNITY: THE OFFICERS, THE SOLDIERS, THE CIVIL PATROLLERS. THE TRADITIONAL ATTITUDE WAS TO PROTECT ALL MEMBERS OF THE INSTITUTION, REGARDLESS OF WHAT HAD OCCURRED.

7. THE PRESIDENT RELATED THAT HE HAD JUST HAD A ONE AND ONE HALF HOUR MEETING WITH A GROUP OF YOUNG OFFICERS OF THE NEW GENERATION. HE SAID THEY WISH CHANGE; THEY WISH TO END

MACHINERY OF THE INSTITUTION -- DOUBTS AND FEARS THAT IT WILL BE HARMED. SOME FEAR THAT IT WILL BE WIPED OUT. BUT THE ARMY IS PREPARING ITSELF FOR PEACE AND A NEW JUDICIAL SYSTEM IN WHICH THERE WILL NO LONGER BE IMPUNITY.

8. THIS IS A DIFFICULT PROCESS, BUT DE LEON STRESSED THAT THE ARMY HAD NOT CREATED OBSTACLES TO HIS DECISIONS OR BLOCKED HIM BY WITHHOLDING INFORMATION. THEY HAD NO ROLE IN SOCIAL OR ECONOMIC POLICY -- THEY UNDERSTOOD THE SUPREMACY OF CIVILIAN RULE. THE CONGRESS WAS QUESTIONING THE GOVERNMENT MINISTER, THE MOD, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, THE POLICE DIRECTOR, THE PROSECUTOR GENERAL AND OTHERS ABOUT THE RECENT EVENTS AT THE UNIVERSITY WHERE A STUDENT WAS KILLED. THIS WOULD HAVE BEEN UNHEARD OF A FEW YEARS AGO. THE CONGRESS IS BEGINNING TO EXERCISE ITS FUNCTION OF SERVING AS A CONTROL ON THE ACTS OF THE STATE. HE HAD INSTRUCTED HIS CABINET MINISTERS AND OTHER GOVERNMENT WITNESSES TO RESPOND HONESTLY TO THE CONGRESS' QUERIES.

9. DE LEON POINTED UP THE CRUCIAL DIFFERENCE FROM THE U.S. -- IT HAS A JUSTICE SYSTEM ONE CAN TRUST IN. THAT WAS NOT SO IN GUATEMALA AND PROGRESS WAS SLOW. THE NEW SUPREME COURT AND APPELLATE COURTS ARE A MAJOR STEP FORWARD, BUT THEY HAVE A LONG WAY TO GO. DE LEON SAID HE IS FULLY COMMITTED TO CHANGE THINGS; HE HAS HAD A GLOBAL VISION, BUT THERE ARE MANY OBSTACLES. THE ACHIEVEMENT OF PEACE IS VITAL; THE WAR IS THE PRINCIPAL SOURCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. HE STRESSED THERE IS NO GOVERNMENT POLICY OF VIOLATING HUMAN RIGHTS AND NO MASS VIOLATIONS AS IN THE PAST.

10. CONCERNING "LA EXACTA," DE LEON ACKNOWLEDGED THERE HAD

BEEN AN ERROR, AN EXCESS, BUT SAID THE PRESIDENT CANNOT GET INVOLVED IN THE DETAILS OF EVERYTHING, ALTHOUGH HE BELIEVES HIS PERSONAL INVOLVEMENT IN THIS CASE IS IMPORTANT. HE HAD BEEN GIVEN AN OFFICIAL VERSION WHICH HAD NOT BEEN FULLY ACCURATE. HE HAS NOW ORDERED COPREDEH TO GARNER ALL INFORMATION AVAILABLE FROM ALL SOURCES AND CHANNEL IT TO HIM DIRECTLY, NOT THROUGH THE SECURITY FORCES. ACCORDING TO THE HEAD OF COPREDEH, THE INVESTIGATION WOULD SOON BE COMPLETE. IT WOULD SHOW THAT NO ONE WAS THROWN FROM A HELICOPTER -- THAT HAD NOT HAPPENED. IT WAS VERY DIFFICULT TO ESTABLISH THE FACTS BECAUSE OF THE LACK OF TRUST IN THE PEOPLE ON THE GROUND DURING THE INCIDENT.

11. THE PRESIDENT STRESSED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO DETERMINE WHO WAS ACTUALLY RESPONSIBLE BEFORE TAKING ACTION. ON THE ADMINISTRATIVE SIDE, APPROPRIATE DISCIPLINARY STEPS WILL BE TAKEN AGAINST THOSE RESPONSIBLE. ON THE JUDICIAL SIDE, THOSE INVOLVED WILL BE TURNED OVER TO THE COURTS FOR TRIAL. THIS IS THE HARD PART, BECAUSE IT IS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO EXPECT A JUDGE TO CONVICT A HIGH-RANKING POLICE OFFICIAL. WHILE NOT A TOTAL SOLUTION, THIS SITUATION SHOULD BE GREATLY HELPED UNDER THE ORAL PROCEDURE MANDATED BY THE NEW PENAL PROCEDURES CODE. THIS LACK OF JUSTICE IN THE PAST IS THE REASON THE PEOPLE AND THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY HAVE LOST HOPE, SINCE THERE IS NO PUNISHMENT. ONE SHOULD NOT BE TOO NEGATIVE, BECAUSE THERE HAVE BEEN EXCEPTIONS. DE LEON NOTED ONE EXAMPLE SEVERAL YEARS AGO WHILE HE WAS STILL HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN IN WHICH BOTH MILITARY AND POLICE PERSONNEL WERE SENTENCED TO LONG PRISON TERMS FOR THE SHOOTING DEATH OF A STUDENT (IN THE HUNAPU CASE), BUT THERE THE EVIDENCE HAD BEEN MUCH MORE CLEAR CUT.

12. CONCERNING THE BAMACA CASE, DE LEON HAD LEARNED OF THE

CASE IN MARCH 1992 AS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. HE HAD RECEIVED THE COMPLAINT, AND IT HAD RESULTED IN THE FIRST EXHUMATION. HE SAID THERE WERE TWO FACETS TO THE CASE. HE SAID HE COULD ASSURE THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY THAT BAMACA IS NOT BEING HELD BY THE ARMY AND THAT HE IS NOT ALIVE. HE SAID ALL DOORS WILL BE OPENED TO NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL INVESTIGATIONS INCLUDING MINUGUA. HE ALSO ASSURED SHATTUCK THAT SINCE HE HAD BECOME PRESIDENT JUNE 6, 1993, THERE HAVE BEEN NO CLANDESTINE PRISONS. DE LEON SAID HE DID NOT KNOW WHETHER BAMACA HAD BEEN KILLED IN COMBAT OR HAD BEEN CAPTURED. THIS WAS THE HARD PART. WHILE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, THE URNG HAD SENT HIM A DESCRIPTION OF BAMACA. AT THAT TIME HE HAD REACHED THE CONCLUSION THAT BAMACA HAD EITHER DIED IN COMBAT OR HAD COMMITTED SUICIDE. HE HAD NOT BEEN ABLE TO TAKE THE CASE FARTHER. THIS HAS BEEN CONFIRMED BY HIS CHIEF OF INVESTIGATIONS AT THE TIME, IN A RECENT REVIEW OF THE INVESTIGATORS' FILES.

13. THE PRESIDENT STRESSED THAT THERE WERE THOUSANDS OF CASES OF DISAPPEARANCES IN GUATEMALA. THIS WAS DIFFERENT BECAUSE IT CONCERNED A GUERRILLA COMANDANTE AND BECAUSE HE HAD MARRIED OR LIVED WITH AN AMERICAN WOMAN. THIS WAS A DIRTY, CRUEL WAR FILLED WITH HORRORS COMMITTED BY BOTH SIDES. THOUSANDS WERE DEAD AND BURIED THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. AS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN HE HAD BEEN ABLE TO SAVE MANY LIVES. GUERRILLAS HAD BEEN TURNED IN TO HIM, AND HE HAD BEEN ABLE TO HELP THEM,

CHOOSE TO WORK FOR THE ARMY AND REMAIN WITH IT. SOME LATER LEAVE THE ARMY WHEN THEY HAVE ANOTHER WAY TO EARN A LIVING.

14. RETURNING TO THE CONCRETE STEPS ON THE BAMACA CASE, THE PRESIDENT STRESSED THAT HE IS SATISFIED THAT BAMACA HAD NOT BEEN HELD DURING THE PERIOD HE HAS BEEN PRESIDENT. SECONDLY, HE HAS FACILITATED ALL LEGAL STEPS TO AUTHORIZE INVESTIGATIONS BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE PUBLIC MINISTRY. THIRD, HE HAD ORDERED GUATEMALAN OAS AMBASSADOR CESAR ALVAREZ GUADAMUZ, DEPUTY TO DE LEON WHEN HE WAS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND WHO WAS FAMILIAR WITH THE CASE AT THAT TIME, TO ALSO PURSUE THE INVESTIGATION. FINALLY, HE SUPPORTED THE INVOLVEMENT OF MINUGUA, NOT TO INVESTIGATE A PAST CASE, BUT TO VERIFY THE FACTS SO THAT THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY HAS THE COMPLETE PICTURE. DE LEON NOTED THAT JENNIFER HARBURY HAD BEEN PRESENT AT THE LATEST EXHUMATION AND THAT THERE WOULD DOUBTLESS BE

OTHERS IN THE FUTURE. IT WILL BE VERY DIFFICULT TO LOCATE BAMACA'S BODY BECAUSE OF THE LARGE NUMBER OF MASS AND INDIVIDUAL GRAVES, AND, IF THE GUERRILLAS HAD HAD THE BODY, THEY HIDE THE GRAVES OF THEIR DEAD.

15. DE LEON NOTED THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT SAID THAT IT HAS INFORMATION THAT GUATEMALAN OFFICERS HAD HAD BAMACA. HE THOUGHT IT IMPORTANT THAT MINUGUA INTERVIEW THOSE OFFICERS (NOTE: THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS MADE NO REFERENCE TO "OFFICERS" -- NAMES OF INDIVIDUALS IN THE ARMY WHO WERE ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED WITH HOLDING BAMACA ARE CONTAINED IN THE OAS TESTIMONY OF A URNG GUERRILLA WHO ESCAPED FROM ARMY CUSTODY). IF INDEED BAMACA HAD BEEN KILLED, THIS INFORMATION SHOULD BE PASSED TO THE HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION (TO BE ESTABLISHED AT THE TIME THE PEACE AGREEMENT GOES INTO EFFECT). DE LEON SAID

THAT THIS COMPLETELY OPEN PROCESS IS TO DETERMINE THAT BAMACA IS NOT BEING HELD BUT IS DEAD -- THIS IS ALL HE CAN DO. ALL AVAILABLE INFORMATION SHOULD BE USED TO QUESTION THEM AND FIND OUT WHAT THEY MAY KNOW.

16. A/S SHATTUCK THANKED DE LEON FOR HIS EXTENSIVE RESPONSE, AND NOTED THAT THOSE WHO WORK ON HUMAN RIGHTS KNOW THAT INDIVIDUAL CASES ARE IMPORTANT TO ILLUSTRATE HOW WE CAN PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS. WE REALIZE THAT CASES ARE BEING WORKED ON AGAINST A BACKGROUND OF INEFFICIENT JUDICIAL SYSTEMS AND A TRADITION OF IMPUNITY IN GUATEMALA. THE ACTIONS AND EFFORTS OF THE PRESIDENT TO GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THESE CASES WERE VERY IMPORTANT TO MOVE TOWARD AN EFFECTIVE JUSTICE SYSTEM.

17. SHATTUCK OBSERVED THAT DE LEON HAD A PHOTOGRAPH OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY WITH HIS FAMOUS QUOTE "ASK NOT WHAT YOUR COUNTRY CAN DO FOR YOU, BUT WHAT YOU CAN DO FOR YOUR COUNTRY." DE LEON IS THE EMBODIMENT OF THAT PHRASE IN THE LIFE OF GUATEMALA. DE LEON APPRECIATED THE COMPLIMENT, NOTING THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS USING THE QUOTE IN ITS TELEVISION SPOTS. BECOMING PENSIVE, HE SAID THAT ABOVE ALL THE MANY PROBLEMS BESETTING THE COUNTRY WAS THE NEED TO ACHIEVE PEACE. THAT IS WHY HE HAD ACCEPTED THE PRESIDENCY, AND THIS GOAL WAS CLOSELY LINKED WITH ACHIEVING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THE PRESIDENT STRESSED THAT AT ALL COSTS ONE MUST PREVENT THE PEACE PROCESS FROM BEING BLOCKED. THIS WILL TAKE REAL EFFORT IN THE BAMACA CASE; IT CANNOT BE PERMITTED TO JEOPARDIZE THE PEACE PROCESS. ONE NO LONGER THINKS OF RIGGED ELECTIONS OR MILITARY COUPS, BUT THESE ARE ONLY FORMALISTIC. WHAT IS ESSENTIAL IS A TRUE PARTICIPATORY DEMOCRACY WITH A REALLY FUNCTIONING JUDICIAL SYSTEM. THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM ALSO NEEDS TO CONFRONT LABOR

PROBLEMS, NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING, CONTRABAND SMUGGLING, CORRUPTION AND OTHER ILLS AS WELL. HE HOPES TO LEAVE THE GOVERNMENT TO HIS SUCCESSOR BETTER THAN WHEN HE CAME. HE SAID THESE TWO CASES MUST BE CLARIFIED TO SHOW THE END OF IMPUNITY -- IT IS NECESSARY TO SHOW THAT THERE IS REASON TO HAVE HOPE.

18. A/S SHATTUCK TOOK THE OPPORTUNITY TO EXPRESS USG APPRECIATION FOR THE GUATEMALAN ARMY'S PARTICIPATION IN THE MULTINATIONAL FORCE IN HAITI. HE HAD VISITED HAITI THE PREVIOUS WEEK, AND THIS WAS A SYMBOL OF THE STRUGGLE FOR DEMOCRACY IN THIS HEMISPHERE. WE SHOULD CONTINUE TO WORK CLOSELY TOGETHER. HE STRESSED THAT WE WERE LOOKING FORWARD TO THE PRESIDENT ATTENDING THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS IN MIAMI, AND PASSED PRESIDENT CLINTON'S SPECIAL GREETING TO DE LEON.

19. SHATTUCK ALSO EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT ANY DISCUSSIONS WE HAVE, INCLUDING IN WASHINGTON, WILL MAINTAIN THE TONE OF TWO FRIENDS WORKING TOGETHER. HE ASSURED DE LEON WE WOULD DO OUR PART TO THIS END; IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE DIALOGUE ON HUMAN RIGHTS CASES AND ON THE PEACE PROCESS BE INTENSE AND CONSTRUCTIVE. DE LEON RESPONDED BY ASSURING SHATTUCK THAT HE HAD NO DOUBT OF THE FULL SUPPORT OF THE USG IN THE PEACE PROCESS. HE AGREED TOTALLY ON THE NEED TO KEEP A FRIENDLY TONE, EVEN WHEN THERE ARE DIFFERENCES. HE REMEMBERED FONDLY THE MEETING OF CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON IN THE WHITE HOUSE ONE YEAR AGO, AND WAS LOOKING.

20. COMMENT: THE PRESIDENT'S WILLINGNESS TO HAVE COMPLETE INVESTIGATIONS TO DETERMINE BAMACA'S FATE IS REVOLUTIONARY IN THE GUATEMALAN CONTEXT. HIS OBVIOUS HOPE IS THAT, ONCE IT IS CONFIRMED THAT BAMACA IS DEAD, THE MATTER CAN BE HANDLED BY THE HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION WHICH WILL NEITHER ASSIGN INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY NOR HAVE JUDICIAL CONSEQUENCES IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE OSLO AGREEMENT, IN ORDER TO LIMIT THE CHANCE OF THE CASE NEGATIVELY AFFECTING THE PEACE PROCESS. HIS COMMITMENT TO ACHIEVING A PEACE AGREEMENT, AND ADDRESSING THE BAMACA CASE SO THAT IT WOULD NOT STAND IN THE WAY OF AN ACCORD, WAS PALPABLE. END COMMENT.

2. SUMMARY: DRL A/S JOHN SHATTUCK AND AMBASSADOR BREAKFASTED NOV 18 WITH CONGRESSMEN OF THE FOUR SIGNIFICANT PARTIES. THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF GREATER CONGRESSIONAL INVOLVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND IN SUPPORTING THE PEACE TALKS, AND COMPLIMENTED CONGRESS' UNPRECEDENTED HEARINGS ON THE RECENT DISTURBANCES. THE CONGRESSMEN NOTED THE NEED FOR MORE STEADY SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS, AND EVINCED MOST CONCERN ABOUT THE INDIGENOUS ISSUE. LATER IN THE DAY THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY AND AMBASSADOR MET WITH UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT MONICA PINTO, ACCOMPANIED BY HER DEPUTY ARNALDO ORTIZ AND CARLOS VILLAN. SHATTUCK STRESSED THE TWO KEY POINTS THAT THE MOD HAD EXPRESSED WILLINGNESS TO PERMIT THE FACTS TO COME OUT ON THE BAMACA CASE AND TO ENGAGE MINUGUA ABOUT GUERRILLA DEFECTORS IN ARMY HANDS. DCM AND POLCOUNS ALSO PARTICIPATED IN THESE MEETINGS.

CONGRESS

3. SHATTUCK AND AMBASSADOR MET WITH FRANCISCO VILLAGRAN KRAMER AND HUMBERTO GARCIA SERRANO (FRG), ROBERTO STEIN AND RICARDO DE LA TORRE (PAN), LIZARDO SOSA (DC) AND JULIO GONZALEZ GAMARRA (UCN).. SHATTUCK EXPLAINED THAT THE USG WAS WORKING TO BRING ABOUT FUNDAMENTAL CHANGE IN GUATEMALA BY STRENGTHENING DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND THE RULE OF LAW AND BY ENCOURAGING THE PEACE PROCESS, AND DESCRIBED THE BROAD RANGE OF MEETINGS HE HAD HAD BOTH WITHIN AND OUTSIDE THE GOVERNMENT. HE COMPLIMENTED THE MEMBERS FOR CONGRESS' UNPRECEDENTED HEARINGS

ON THE RECENT DISTURBANCES.

4. IN THE ENSUING DISCUSSION, THE CONGRESSMEN NOTED THEIR HOPES FOR IMPROVEMENT IN THE COURTS FOLLOWING THE RECENT CHANGE IN SUPREME COURT AND APPELLATE JUDGES. SHATTUCK COMPLIMENTED THE EFFORTS TO IMPROVE THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM, INCLUDING THROUGH THE ORAL TRIAL PROCEDURE, WHICH HE HOPED WOULD ALSO HELP OVERCOME IMPUNITY. HE ENCOURAGED CONGRESS TO EXERCISE A VIGOROUS OVERSIGHT FUNCTION. HE AGREED WITH THE NEED TO ADDRESS THE INDIGENOUS ISSUE AND WELCOMED CONGRESS' PLANS TO ESTABLISH A SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO FOLLOW THE PEACE PROCESS. HE NOTED THE IMPORTANCE OF RESOLVING HOW TO INVOLVE ALL SECTORS OF GUATEMALAN SOCIETY IN SUPPORT OF THE PEACE PROCESS, INCLUDING THE INDIGENOUS COMMUNITY AND THE POLITICAL PARTIES. THE FRG DEPUTY REPRESENTING SAN MARCOS INSISTED ON THE NEED FOR DECENTRALIZATION TO EMPOWER AND MEET THE TRUE NEEDS OF GUATEMALA'S DIVERSE POPULATION. ONE CONCERN EXPRESSED WAS THAT EARLIER EXPERIMENTS IN DEMOCRACY HAD BEEN CUT SHORT BECAUSE THEY HAD NOT HAD STEADY SUPPORT OF THE POLITICAL SYSTEM FOR THE LONGER TERM.

5. SHATTUCK NOTED THAT ACHIEVEMENT OF PEACE IS ESSENTIAL TO BE ABLE TO ADDRESS GUATEMALA'S PROBLEMS. THE CONCERN WAS EXPRESSED THAT THE URNG WILL NOT SIGN AN AGREEMENT IN THE NEAR TERM BECAUSE IT IS TOO LATE FOR THEM AND THEIR ALLIES TO GET READY FOR THE 1995 ELECTIONS. THE INVOLVEMENT OF THE UN WAS VERY IMPORTANT TO LEND A SENSE OF URGENCY. SHATTUCK URGED THAT CONGRESS TAKE AN ACTIVE ROLE IN HUMAN RIGHTS CASES. IN RESPONSE, THE DEPUTIES OBSERVED THAT THE BAMACA CASE AND OTHERS LIKE IT WERE VERY HARD -- THEY ATTRACTED PUBLICITY, MOTIVES WERE SUSPECT AND THE FACTS WERE VERY DIFFICULT TO DETERMINE.

AND MOD TO PROCEED WITH INVESTIGATION OF BAMACA, INCLUDING INVOLVEMENT OF MINUGUA.

6. RETURNING TO THE INDIGENOUS ISSUE, IT WAS OBSERVED THAT FOR A VARIETY OF REASONS THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION HAD NOT ASSERTED ITSELF. SHATTUCK SUGGESTED THAT CONGRESS COULD PLAY A GREATER ROLE BY PROJECTING THIS AND OTHER ISSUES TO THE COUNTRY AS A WHOLE, PERHAPS THROUGH THE HEARING PROCESS, BUT THERE WERE CONCERNS THAT THE COUNTRY MIGHT NOT YET HAVE THE POLITICAL WILL TO ADDRESS THEM. FOR EXAMPLE, ISSUES SURROUNDING ILO CONVENTION 169 ON INDIGENOUS RIGHTS WERE PROVING PARTICULARLY DIFFICULT. THE DISCUSSION CONCLUDED WITH AN EXPRESSION OF DETERMINATION BY THE DEPUTIES TO SEEK TO ADDRESS THE MORE INTRACTIBLE ISSUES.

PINTO

7. IN HIS LATER MEETING WITH UN HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT MONICA PINTO BEFORE LEAVING FOR THE US, SHATTUCK NOTED SOME PROGRESS ON BAMACA, BUT THAT STILL IT IS VERY DIFFICULT. HE REPORTED GOOD DISCUSSIONS ON OTHER CASES, JUDICIAL REFORM AND CONGRESSIONAL OVERSIGHT, INCLUDING CONCERNING A RECENT UNIVERSITY INCIDENT. PINTO OBSERVED THAT THIS WAS ENCOURAGING,

8. RETURNING TO BAMACA, SHATTUCK REPORTED THAT IT IS BEING INCREASINGLY UNDERSTOOD BY THE GOG THAT THE CASE IS A HURDLE WHICH CANNOT BE AVOIDED. THEY REALIZE THAT INVESTIGATIONS ARE POSSIBLE: NOT THAT PROSECUTIONS WILL OCCUR BUT THAT THE FACTS MUST COME OUT. HE REPORTED THAT HE HAD MET WITH THE PRESIDENT, THE MOD AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. THE PRESIDENT HAD DIRECTED A FULL INVESTIGATION, AND HAS AGREED THAT MINUGUA SHOULD GET INVOLVED. THE MOD HAD INDICATED THAT THE ARMY WOULD COOPERATE FULLY. IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE HRO OFFICE AND

MINUGUA (WHICH WILL BE OFFICIALLY INSTALLED NOV 21) MAKE CONTACT. THE AMBASSADOR SAID SHE HAD EXPRESSED CONCERN TO THE OMBUDSMAN ABOUT THE NEED FOR DISPATCH IN VIEW OF THE 30 DAY DEADLINE FOR HIS REPORT, BUT HE MAY NOW HAVE REQUESTED MORE TIME FROM THE SUPREME COURT.

9. PINTO OBSERVED THAT THE MAIN DIFFICULTY WITH THE CASE IS THE ALLEGATION THAT THE ARMY STILL HAS BAMACA -- THIS PUTS THE ARMY INTO THE CORNER BECAUSE IF HE IS DEAD, THEY MAY NOT BE ABLE TO PRODUCE HIS BODY OR, IF THEY DO, IT MAY REVEAL HE WAS KILLED MORE RECENTLY. THERE WERE DIFFERING PERCEPTIONS OF THE CASE INTERNATIONALLY AND DOMESTICALLY. THIS IS IN THE CONTEXT OF THE INTERNAL CONFLICT. PINTO THOUGHT IT UNLIKELY THAT ARMY WOULD PRODUCE A CORPSE. THE AMBASSADOR CONFIRMED THAT SHE HAD TOLD DE LEON THAT WE HAD NO EVIDENCE INDICATING BAMACA WAS ALIVE MORE THAN SEVERAL WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE. THIS SUGGESTS (BUT DOES NOT PROVE) THAT HE IS DEAD. WHILE WE SUPPORTED JENNIFER BY PROCEEDING ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT HE MIGHT BE ALIVE, WE HAVE NO INFORMATION TO SUSTAIN THIS AND DO NOT BELIEVE THAT HE IS. SHATTUCK NOTED THAT THE MOD HAD TOLD HIM THAT THE ARMY WOULD PRODUCE ANYONE IMPLICATED IN THE INVESTIGATION, WHATEVER THE CONSEQUENCES. PINTO NOTED SHE HAD HAD A GOOD RELATIONSHIP WITH MOD ENRIQUEZ LAST YEAR, AND PERHAPS THIS WOULD CONTINUE.

10. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED IT WAS IMPORTANT TO RAISE THE ISSUE OF FORMER GUERRILLAS NOW COLLABORATING WITH THE ARMY. WE DON'T KNOW HOW MANY THERE MAY BE. WHILE THAY HAD ALWAYS BEEN IN DANGER FROM THE URNG, THIS SITUATION COULD BE PARTICULARLY DANGEROUS FOR THEM NOW BECAUSE THERE MAY BE A STRONG INCENTIVE FOR THE ARMY TO SILENCE THEM AS POTENTIAL WITNESSES TO THE FATE OF OTHER CAPTURED GUERRILLAS. SHE NOTED THE MOD HAD SAID HE WOULD BE WILLING TO TAKE UP THE CASE OF GUERRILLA DEFECTORS WITH MINUGUA. SHATTUCK STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF THE MOD'S COMMENTS, BOTH ON WILLINGNESS TO ENGAGE MINUGUA ABOUT FORMER URNG MEMBERS IN ARMY HANDS AND ABOUT THE BAMACA CASE, AND URGED PINTO TO REINFORCE ON THESE ISSUES.

11. PINTO NOTED SHE WOULD NEED A WHOLE WEEK OF WORK HERE TO GET AN ACCURATE ASSESSMENT OF THE SITUATION -- TO SEE IF THEY CONFIRMED THE PRESS REPORTS SHE HAD. SHE HAD THE IMPRESSION THERE WERE MANY MORE VIOLATIONS THAN LAST YEAR, AND SOME NEGATIVE CHANGES IN SENSITIVE AREAS. SHE WAS PARTICULARLY CONCERNED ABOUT THE RETURN TO A MILITARY PRESENCE IN THE MINISTRY OF GOVERNMENT (AN OBVIOUS REFERENCE TO FORMER D-2 COL. MERIDA AS VICE MINISTER). SHATTUCK OBSERVED THAT HE HAD NO

SATISFACTORY EXPLANATION FOR THE APPARENT INCREASE IN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, SPECULATING THAT BOTH SIDES MAY BE TESTING THE PEACE PROCESS. HE NOTED THAT HE HAD A GOOD MEETING WITH JUDGES WHO HAD RECEIVED TRAINING IN THE U.S., AND THAT SOME HAD COMPLAINED ABOUT BEING SENT TO LESS IMPORTANT COURTS OUTSIDE THE CAPITAL. PINTO RESPONDED THAT SHE SHARED HIS CONCERNS, SINCE THE IMPORTANT HUMAN RIGHTS CASES ARE TRIED IN GUATEMALA CITY. HOWEVER, SHE NOTED THAT THE NEW PRESIDENT OF THE SUPREME COURT HAD ONLY BEEN ON THE COURT A MONTH.

12. COMMENT: THE CONGESSMEN EVINCED A WILLINGNESS TO BECOME MORE INVOLVED ON CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES THAN IN THE PAST, WITNESS THEIR HEARINGS ON THE RECENT DISTURBANCES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF SAN CARLOS IN WHICH AT LEAST ONE STUDENT WAS KILLED. HOWEVER, THEY STILL SEEM UNSURE HOW BEST TO ADDRESS THEIR ROLE IN THE PEACE PROCESS. HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT PINTO WAS OBVIOUSLY STILL IN A FACT-FINDING MODE, ALTHOUGH THE PRESS HAS SINCE QUOTED HER AS SAYING THAT THE PEACE PROCESS SHOULD NOT BE RUSHED JUST TO SIGN A PIECE OF PAPER.

SUBJECT: PEACE PROCESS: URNG PUBLICLY RAISES BAMACA

1. (U) THE URNG PUBLICLY CALLED NOVEMBER 22 FOR THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT TO PRESENT EFRAIN BAMACA (AKA COMANDANTE EVERADO) ALIVE, ACCORDING TO PRESS REPORTS. IT DEMANDED JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS BEGIN AGAINST ARMY OFFICERS ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED IN BAMACA'S DETENTION/TORTURE. THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE CASE, THE URNG CONTINUED, MUST TAKE INTO ACCOUNT ALL EVIDENCE, INCLUDING THAT PRESENTED INTERNATIONALLY. ONLY BY COMPLYING WITH THE FOREGOING DEMANDS CAN THIS MATTER BE RESOLVED, AND DOUBTS OVER THE GOG'S POLITICAL WILL REMOVED.

2. (U) THE URNG GENERAL COMMAND ALSO REPORTEDLY STATED IT HAS REMAINED SILENT ON THIS MATTER IN THE PAST SO ITS WORDS WOULD NOT BE USED AS A PRETEXT TO INVALIDATE JENNIFER HARBURY'S HUMANITARIAN STRUGGLE. THE GUERRILLA COMMUNIQUE NOTED THAT IN MARCH 1992 IT HAD ASKED THEN-OMBUDSMAN RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO FOR HELP IN THE CASE AND HE HAD RESPONDED BY SENDING THE URNG A CORPSE'S DESCRIPTION THAT FIT BAMACA'S.

COMMENT:

3. (C) THE URNG HAS BEEN RELATIVELY (THOUGH NOT

United States Department of State

COMPLETELY) SILENT ON THIS CASE IN THE PAST. WHETHER IT JUDGES NOW IS THE TIME TO BEGIN PUSHING (ON THE EVE OF A NEW PEACE TALKS ROUND), OR IS SIMPLY REACTING TO THE INTERNATIONAL SWIRL INVOLVING THE CASE, REMAINS TO BE SEEN. THE GENERAL COMMAND'S MENTION OF TRIALS FOR THE OFFICERS ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED, HOWEVER, WILL EXACERBATE ARMY SUSPICIONS THIS CASE IS A GUERRILLA ATTEMPT TO UNDO THE JUNE HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION (TRUTH) COMMISSION ACCORD (WHICH RULED OUT NAMING NAMES IN PAST HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES) AND SET THE GROUNDWORK FOR POSTWAR PROSECUTIONS.

4.(C) THE ACCORD, WHICH RELEASED A STORM OF CRITICISM FROM HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AND LEFTIST GROUPS, OVERCAME A MAJOR OBSTACLE TO THE TALKS PROCEEDING AND RESULTED FROM A VERY DIFFICULT NEGOTIATION AT OSLO. TAKING UP THIS ISSUE COULD BE AN ATTEMPT BY THE URNG TO DELAY OR DERAIL THE PEACE TALKS. ARMY FEARS COULD PROMPT THE GOG TO PROMOTE SOME FORM OF AMNESTY FROM CRIMINAL PROSECUTION FOR WAR-RELATED HUMAN RIGHTS CRIMES BY BOTH SIDES, SUCH AS THE DISAPPEARANCE OF BAMACA OR THE KIDNAPPING AND MURDER BY URNG COMMANDANTE PABLO MONSANTO AND OTHERS OF FORMER AMBASSADOR JOHN GORDON MEIN, THE FORMER GERMAN AMBASSADOR AND MEMBERS OF OUR MILITARY GROUP. WE ARE AWARE, FOR EXAMPLE, THAT THE GOG PEACE COMMISSION IS ALREADY STUDYING A LAW PRESCRIBING (I.E. INVALIDATING) PROSECUTION FOR SPECIFIED CRIMES BASED ON THE URUGUAYAN "LEY DE CADUCIDAD". TECHNICALLY THIS WOULD NOT BE AN AMNESTY BUT IT WOULD BE VERY UNPOPULAR. ANOTHER POSSIBLE CONSEQUENCE WOULD BE ARMY WILLINGNESS TO JUMP START THE "TRUTH COMMISSION" AS CURRENTLY AGREED (NO NAMES, NO PROSECUTIONS), PRIOR TO THE SIGNING OF A FULL ACCORD, AS LONG AS IT IS PAIRED WITH AN AMNESTY.

SUMMARY

1. IN A MEETING HE REQUESTED WITH THE AMBASSADOR NOV. 25, PRESIDENT DE LEON ASKED REPEATEDLY FOR THE HELP OF THE USG IN CONTROLLING THE EFFECTS OF THE BAMACA CASE TO PREVENT SERIOUS DAMAGE TO THE PEACE PROCESS. ACKNOWLEDGING THE IMPORTANCE OF JENNIFER HARBURY'S PRESENCE IN THE COUNTRY TO PURSUE HER LEGAL CASES, HE PROMISED NOT TO IMPEDE HER REENTRY OR TAKE ANY OTHER NEGATIVE ACTION ON THE CASE. NONETHELESS, HE SAID THE CASE IS GETTING OUT OF HAND, CAUSING SERIOUS DAMAGE BOTH

WITHIN AND OUTSIDE GUATEMALA. IN THIS CONTEXT, HE SUGGESTED THAT HE MIGHT TRAVEL TO WASHINGTON FOR A SHORT MEETING WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON TO EXPLAIN THE DANGERS IN THE SITUATION AND SEEK HIS PERSONAL HELP. "I NEED YOUR HELP, HE SAID, "I SEE THINGS GOING BAD. I CAN'T PREDICT WHAT THE RESULTS WILL BE WITHOUT YOUR UNDERSTANDING AND HELP." END SUMMARY

2. PRESIDENT DE LEON ASKED THE AMBASSADOR TO COME TO HIS OFFICE NOV. 24 TO DISCUSS THE BAMACA CASE. HE RAISED THE CASE IN THE CONTEXT OF THE NUMEROUS OTHER PROBLEMS THAT ARE BESETTING HIS GOVERNMENT, ESPECIALLY HIS CURRENT DIFFICULTIES WITH THE CONGRESS OVER ENACTMENT OF AN ADEQUATE FISCAL PACKAGE TO LAY THE GROUND WORK FOR A BETTER FUTURE FOR GUATEMALA.

B1

HE LAMENTED THAT THE FRG DID NOT SEEM INCLINED TO AGREE TO THE TAXES THAT ARE IN THE INTEREST OF GUATEMALA, AND IN THEIR OWN INTEREST, BEFORE THE NEXT PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION. IN ADDITION, A CORRUPTION SCANDAL IS ABOUT TO BECOME PUBLIC, AND HE MAY HAVE TO FIRE THE MINISTER AND VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT. ALREADY DEMONSTRATIONS ARE OCCURRING IN RESPONSE TO THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT'S INTENT TO PRIVATIZE GUATEL

3. IT IS IN THE CONTEXT OF ALL THESE PROBLEMS THAT HE WANTED TO CONSULT PERSONALLY WITH THE AMBASSADOR ABOUT THE BAMACA CASE. HE NOTED THAT HE IS COMMITTED TO CARRYING OUT THE STEPS THAT WERE DISCUSSED WITH ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK, BUT THAT TAKES TIME. MEANWHILE, THE CASE CONTINUES TO GROW, CAUSING ENORMOUS

PROBLEMS BOTH INTERNALLY AND ABROAD FOR HIM AND HIS GOVERNMENT. HE HAD EXPECTED THAT THE CASE WOULD DISAPPEAR FROM THE SPOTLIGHT, BUT IT HAS NOT. INDEED, IT GROWS STRONGER AND STRONGER ALL THE TIME. THE MILITARY IS FEELING VERY THREATENED AND TURNING INWARD. THE URNG IS TAKING OUT FULL PAGE PAID ADS CALLING FOR BAMACA TO BE TURNED OVER. PRENSE LIBRE'S EDITOR IS

ATTACKING BAMACA. FRANKLY, HE SAID, THE PEACE PROCESS IS VERY FRAGILE NOW, AND HE IS EXTREMELY WORRIED THAT IT IS IN SERIOUS DANGER BECAUSE OF THIS CASE. WHILE HE REGRETS THAT COPAZ DIRECTOR ROSADA MADE PUBLIC COMMENTS ABOUT THE DAMAGE TO THE US ROLE IN THE PEACE PROCESS CAUSED BY THIS CASE ("WE SHOULD NOT WASH OUR DIRTY LINEN IN PUBLIC"), HE DOES BELIEVE THAT THE BAMACA CASE IS DOING EXTENSIVE DAMAGE TO THE PEACE PROCESS. (ROSADA TOLD THE PRESS NOVEMBER 22 THAT ONE OF THE FRIENDS WAS NOT LONGER NEUTRAL IN THE PEACE PROCESS.) IT IS IN THAT CONTEXT THAT HE WANTED TO TALK FRANKLY AND IN CONFIDENCE ABOUT THE SITUATION.

4. HE RELATED A STORY IN WHICH A MEMBER OF CACIF HAD TOLD HIM THAT THEY SAW MEXICO, VENEZUELA AND COLOMBIA AS FRIENDS OF GUATEMALA IN THE PEACE PROCESS, SPAIN AND NORWAY AS FRIENDS OF THE URNG, AND THE UNITED STATES AS NEUTRAL, A FRIEND OF NEITHER SIDE. IN RESPONSE, HE SAID, HE REJECTED THAT CHARACTERIZATION COMPLETELY, STRESSING THAT ALL THE COUNTRIES ARE FRIENDS OF THE PEACE PROCESS ITSELF AND PEACE IN GUATEMALA, NOT OF ONE SIDE OR THE OTHER IN THE CONFLICT. WE ALL MUST TAKE THE LONGER TERM VIEW OF THIS PROCESS, HE SAID. THE AMBASSADOR ASSURED HIM THAT THE USG STRONGLY AND FIRMLY

SUPPORTS THE PEACE PROCESS AND HIS EFFORTS TO REACH A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION TO THE INTERNAL CONFLICT, FOR WHICH HE THANKED HER.

5. RETURNING TO THE BAMACA CASE, HE PLEADED FOR TIME. THIS CASE DID NOT OCCUR UNDER MY GOVERNMENT, AND IN A SENSE IT IS UNJUST THAT WE SHOULD HAVE ALL THIS NEGATIVE PUBLICITY AND PRESSURE. BAMACA IS DEAD. THIS IS A CASE FOR THE COMMISSION ON HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION, WHICH THEY MUST DEAL WITH AT THE APPROPRIATE TIME. IT IS FAIR THAT HIS GOVERNMENT BE HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CARPIO CASE, THE CASE OF THE INVASION OF THE UNIVERSITY, AND THE LA EXACTA CASE, ALL OF WHICH OCCURRED DURING HIS TERM. BUT THE BAMACA CASE IS DIFFERENT. THEREFORE, "I AM TURNING TO MY ELDER BROTHER AND ASKING FOR HELP." HE THEN SUGGESTED THAT IT COULD BE USEFUL FOR HIM TO MEET PRIVATELY AND SECRETLY FOR JUST A FEW MINUTES WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON TO EXPLAIN THE CASE AND THE DAMAGE IT POSES FOR THE PEACE PROCESS, AND TO ASK DIRECTLY FOR HIS HELP AND UNDERSTANDING.

6. THE AMBASSADOR UNDERLINED THE DIFFICULTY OF THE CASE AND THE NEED FOR PATIENCE AND PROGRESS ON ALL SIDES. NOTING THAT SHE UNDERSTOOD HIS MESSAGE, SHE PROMISED TO CONVEY THE URGENCY OF HIS REQUEST FOR HELP TO SENIOR USG OFFICIALS. CONTINUING, SHE STRESSED THAT WE ALSO EXPECTED HIS FULL COOPERATION IN THE LEGAL/JUDICIAL PURSUIT OF THE CASE, AS HE HAD COMMITTED HIMSELF TO SUPPORT, NOTING THAT, FOR EXAMPLE, IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT JENNIFER HARBURY BE ALLOWED TO REENTER THE COUNTRY TO PURSUE HER LEGAL CASES. DE LEON SAID HE FULLY UNDERSTOOD THE IMPORTANCE OF HER PRESENCE HERE AND WOULD NOT ACT TO BAR HER FROM THE COUNTRY. IN CONCLUDING, DE LEON REPEATED THAT HE IS ASKING THE UNITED STATES FOR HELP. "WITHOUT YOUR HELP NOW, HE CONCLUDED, "I AM NOT SURE WHAT WE ARE GOING TO DO OR WHERE THIS IS GOING TO GO."

1. IN A MEETING HE REQUESTED WITH THE AMBASSADOR NOV. 25, PRESIDENT DE LEON ASKED REPEATEDLY FOR THE HELP OF THE USG IN CONTROLLING THE EFFECTS OF THE BAMACA CASE TO PREVENT SERIOUS DAMAGE TO THE PEACE PROCESS. ACKNOWLEDGING THE IMPORTANCE OF JENNIFER HARBURY'S PRESENCE IN THE COUNTRY TO PURSUE HER LEGAL CASES, HE PROMISED NOT TO IMPEDE HER REENTRY OR TAKE ANY OTHER NEGATIVE ACTION ON THE CASE. NONETHELESS, HE SAID THE CASE IS GETTING OUT OF HAND, CAUSING SERIOUS DAMAGE BOTH WITHIN AND OUTSIDE GUATEMALA. IN THIS CONTEXT, HE SUGGESTED THAT HE MIGHT TRAVEL TO WASHINGTON FOR A SHORT MEETING WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON TO EXPLAIN THE DANGERS IN THE SITUATION AND SEEK HIS PERSONAL HELP. The Constitution calls for election by universal suffrage of a one-term president, a unicameral Congress (116 members), and municipal officers; it mandates an independent judiciary and a Human Rights Ombudsman, who reports to Congress. Jorge Serrano won the January 6 round of Presidential elections with 68 percent of the vote, taking office January 14. Several hundred foreign observers and journalists monitored the elections, and found them free, fair, and genuine.

The Armed Forces operate with significant institutional and legal autonomy, particularly in security and military affairs. The 44,000-man Army has responsibility for national security and has been fighting a foreign-backed leftist insurgency for 31 years. The Army includes a 3,000-man Mobile Military Police (PMA) that guards key facilities and has a limited anti-crime role. The National Police (8,800 man) and the Treasury Police (1,900) report to the Interior Minister, a civilian. About 500,000 men in Voluntary Civil Defense Committees (CVDC), more commonly called "Civil Self-Defense Patrols" (PAC), perform ~~anti-guerrilla and law and order support roles in and around villages in North, Central, and Western Guatemala and are oriented toward civil disaster relief in non-conflictive Eastern departments.~~ Service in the PAC is ~~frequently~~ involuntary, ~~especially in areas of conflict.~~

Serrano inherited an economy with high inflation and a badly decayed infrastructure, including a nearly destroyed public health care system. In its first months, his Government took major strides to combat inflation, stabilize exchange rates, lower interest rates, and start the tough tasks of repairing the infrastructure and undertaking economic and fiscal reforms. This includes overhauling the tax system and establishing a more liberal trade regime. The new administration reduced corruption by public officials and began to investigate past graft. The economy grew at a real rate of 3.2 percent. Direct peace talks between Government and guerrillas continued at a slow but regular pace.

President Serrano and senior officials, in particular Attorney General Valladares and Interior Minister Hurtado, have taken welcome and encouraging first steps to ensure respect for human rights. In his inaugural address, Serrano vowed to end the impunity of rights violators. Valladares reopened the investigation into the 1990 Myrna Mack murder case, obtaining an arrest warrant for a suspect tied to the military staff of former President Cerezo. There were also positive moves towards resolving some killings by PAC. In July, the Government acknowledged that over 31,000 arrest warrants remained outstanding and vowed police would act on them. In August, Serrano announced the creation of a cabinet-level Human Rights Commission to advise him and respond to reports of violations. Over 1000 policemen were discharged for a variety of abuses. Extrajudicial killings and disappearances declined slightly from 1990. Two Army personnel, including an officer, were arrested for the 1990 Santiago Atitlan massacre and convicted and sentenced to prison. The main positive change from the recent past was a greater willingness by Guatemalans to discuss violations of human rights. Human rights became an open, legitimate, and important topic for media, politicians, and public. The Human Rights Ombudsman expanded his activities; the Archbishop's Human Rights Office became a major human rights voice. There was much more information available in 1991 than in prior years.

Despite these welcome signs, security force personnel continued to commit serious abuses with impunity. Abuses included extrajudicial killings, torture, and disappearances, mainly of people thought to be guerrilla backers. Guerrillas also committed major violations including killing police, summary executions, kidnappings, forced labor and recruitment, wide use of mines and other explosives, and use of children in combat. Many cases in which the United States officially expressed interest remained unsolved, such as the 1985 disappearances of U.S. citizens Blake and Davis; the 1989 kidnappings of several CERJ (Runujel Junam Council of Ethnic Communities) members and the disappearances and murders of university students; also in 1989, the reported kidnaping and abuse of American nun Diana Ortiz, and a knife attack on members of the Peace Brigades (PBI); the 1990 Hector Oquell, Gilda Flores, Gonzales Gamarra, and Villanueva de Negrave killings; and the 1990 disappearances of Maria Tiu Tojin and daughter from a relocation center. There is evidence that the Army high command, despite President Serrano's efforts, continues to impede a thorough investigation into the 1990 murder of American citizen Michael Devine. Because of a lack of sufficient progress on human rights in Guatemala, the U.S. has not resumed its military aid program, suspended since December 1990.

Due primarily to a lack of will, authorities did not stem growing violence during 1990. Reliable evidence indicates that security forces and civil patrols committed, with almost total impunity, a majority of the major human rights abuses. These included extrajudicial killings, torture, and disappearances of, among others, human rights activists, unionists, indigenous people, and street children. Whether supported by fact or merely spurious information, the motive behind many of the abuses appears to be the belief that the victims were somehow supportive of or sympathetic to the guerrillas. The Independent Office of the Human Rights Ombudsman repeatedly denounced the lack of the Government's political will to protect human rights. Criticism of Guatemala's human rights record by the U.S. Ambassador and the U.S. Government drew public and press attention. In March the U.S. Ambassador was temporarily recalled to Washington to stress the United States' dissatisfaction with the lack of progress in investigating cases of human rights abuse. In December the United States suspended deliveries of military assistance because of evidence that senior levels of the Guatemalan military were preventing an effective investigation into the June abduction, torture, and murder of resident American businessman Michael Devine by a group of men which included army enlisted personnel.

RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

Section 1 Respect for the Integrity of the Person, Including Freedom from:

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

Media and other reports indicated the 1991 murder toll to be higher than the official figures of 1800 to 2000. While common crime caused the vast majority of violent deaths, the number of extrajudicial killings, though fewer than in 1990, was significant. The January-June 1991 report by the Human Rights Ombudsman listed 321 complaints of extrajudicial killings (compared to 588 for all 1990). Of those, the Ombudsman ruled that 33 were not extrajudicial killings or otherwise fell outside his mandate. Of the 288 remaining, he found that 116 were extrajudicial killings with 172 under investigation at the time of the report's publication. The Archbishop's Human Rights Office reported 301 extrajudicial executions for the same period; a local human rights group, the Mutual Support Group (GAM), reported 547 "political killings," but did not define the term. While the Ombudsman had complaints of extrajudicial killings by guerrillas, it seems that most of the recorded extrajudicial killings committed by persons associated with or protected by the Army, such as the PKK. Many were in areas of Government-guerrilla conflict. Victims generally were rural indigenous people suspected of backing the guerrillas. In addition, there was evidence of vigilante killings of suspected criminals: In March and August several men were found with their hands tied, each killed by a shot to the head. Police and other security agents are thought to have taken part in these types of acts.

a. Political and Other Extrajudicial Killing

Press reports and other credible information showed that the murder rate in 1990 was at least three times higher than the official rate of 2,000 homicides nationwide. While most killings resulted from personal vendettas and criminal activities, a number were politically motivated. The Human Rights Ombudsman calculated there were 304 politically motivated murders in 1990, and that most of the victims were killed by the armed forces or persons associated with or protected by the army, such as civil defense patrols. Most of these killings took place in areas of military-guerrilla conflict, where the military often fails to distinguish between guerrillas and noncombatants.

The security forces are virtually never held accountable for human rights violations. With few exceptions, the Government failed to investigate, detain, and prosecute those perpetrators of extrajudicial and politically motivated killings who were connected with the security forces. Often the police were unwilling to investigate cases aggressively if the military was thought to be involved. It is likely that military officials also shield lower ranking personnel involved in killings. The Government also did not act to prevent members of the security forces, in particular certain rural military zone officers, from engaging in extrajudicial killings. These abuses continued despite attempts by foreign governments, some senior Guatemalan military officers, the Ombudsman, and the new Police Director to change poor human rights attitudes and practices within the security forces. During the year, approximately 400 policemen were discharged for a variety of abuses, including corruption.

The security forces were probably involved in many vigilante killings of criminals or criminal suspects. The media reported frequent discoveries of bodies in or near major cities, particularly the capital, often with signs of torture or postmortem mutilation. The criminal backgrounds of many of these victims suggests that the killers had access to police, court, and prison data.

UNCLASSIFIED

Official anti-crime/counterinsurgency policies do not include extrajudicial killings. However, with few exceptions, authorities do not properly investigate and prosecute such acts. The Ombudsman, the Attorney General, and rights groups have found unambiguous eyewitness and physical evidence of killings by the PAC; several clandestine cemeteries were found containing summarily executed victims, some showing signs of torture. The Army often fails to cooperate with police, courts, and prosecutors in bringing to justice Army personnel involved in abuses. This is particularly evident in the stalled investigation of the 1990 murder of American citizen Michael Devine. Army officers have continued to obstruct the investigation into the involvement of army personnel in the murder.

In January, gunmen killed Esquipulas Mayor Marco Tulio Collado; he had a history of receiving threats. Relatives blamed "right-wing extremists." Juan Perebal and two sons, all reportedly members of CERJ, were shot near Chunima (Quiche Department) on February 17. One son, badly hurt, lived and identified the attackers as Manuel Perebal Ajtzalam and Manuel Xon Lares, former PAC leaders. The victims previously named the two as involved in the 1990 kidnaping of Sebastian Velasquez Mejia, another apparent CERJ member later found dead (see the 1990 report). The two ex-PAC leaders had over 10 outstanding arrest warrants, but Praiseworthy efforts by police to arrest them failed when armed civil patrollers intervened. However, due to pressures brought by President Serrano, in July both surrendered and judicial proceedings have begun.

In April, two men in Guatemala City killed Dinora Peres, a young woman involved in forming a new leftist political party, the PGU. Most PGU members, including

In June, CGRT members ~~of Tzanjuyub~~ Tomas Ventura Xon and Celestino Vicente Tulay were killed, but no suspects have been arrested. According to Amnesty International (AI), in April CGRT member Camilo Ajqui Timon was knifed and nearly decapitated by three men who also threatened his wife.

1985 Social Democratic Party Vice-Presidential candidate Luis Zurita, fled abroad. The killers clearly meant to abort the PGU--a group many security force officers saw as a guerrilla front. In May, two men killed active-duty general and former defense attache to the United States, Anacleto Maza. Reports indicate Maza was about to reveal information concerning corruption in the Army commissary and corrupt acts by government officers involved with the national airline. In June, armed men killed Oscar Osvaldo Luma, a member of the San Carlos University (USAC) maintenance workers' union. He had taken part in a bitter strike in which USAC officials were held hostage. Although President Serrano ordered that the killing be thoroughly investigated, no results were available by year's end. Also in June, Genaro Cabrera Gomez, a guerrilla who accepted amnesty, was found dead: his body showed signs of torture. According to press reports, his body bore a note stating guerrillas killed him for "treason." Julio Quevedo, an agronomist in Quiche with the Catholic charitable organization CARITAS, was killed in July. The Archbishop called the killing political and tied it to the 1990 murder of Myrna Mack; later information indicated that the crime might have had personal motives. A crime which might be linked to the Mack case was the August murder of Police Homicides Investigation Chief Jose Luis Merida, who handled--among other sensitive tasks--the investigation into Mack's death. Two arrests followed. In a televised statement, one of those accused said he acted from personal motives; other reliable information lent credibility to that explanation. Relatives of Lorenzo Perabal and Andres Lopix, Solola military commissioners (civilian Army employees whose main job is to ensure compliance with the draft), said guerrillas kidnaped and murdered both men in October.

There continued to be credible reports that policemen and private security guards tortured and killed street children, although there were fewer such reports in 1991.

A court in March sentenced four policemen to long prison terms for the 1990 beating death of "street child" Nahamon Carmona Lopez. A higher court, however, found errors in sentencing, and as 1991 ended, the case remained under review. In June, police arrested five PAC members in Alta Verapaz for the death that same month of Domingo Xe, a rare example of swift issuance and execution of a warrant. Former PAC leader Santos Coj was arrested in June for killing 8 persons in the early 1980's; the arrest warrant against him was issued in 1989. Mr. Santos Coj subsequently escaped, and is a fugitive. As a result of the Attorney General's efforts on the Mack case, in June an arrest warrant was issued for Noel Beteta Alvarez, suspected of stabbing Mack. At the time of Mack's death, Beteta had worked for the Presidential military staff of the prior administration in its "archives" section. Beteta has not been found and might no longer be in Guatemala. The August discovery of eleven torture and murder victims led to the quick arrest of seven Navy personnel, including the commander of the Pacific Naval base. The strong initial reaction by the President, the Attorney General, and the Minister of Defense drew praise for the administration from numerous foreign governments, including that of the U.S. The victims apparently belonged to a contraband ring. As 1991 ended, the case was in court. The case against two policemen accused of involvement in the 1988 deaths of four other street children continued in court. In October, the Attorney General reaffirmed his intention to continue the government's appeal against the court's 1990 dismissal of the convictions of six Quetzaltenango policemen for the 1986 kidnap and murder of two students.

(R) President Serrano attempted steps to enforce the rule of law in a few human rights cases in 1991. An army lieutenant and a sergeant were convicted for the 1990 slaying of Father Augustin Ramirez in public. If people were killed, including two children, Serrano attempted to remain the focus in mid-1991 but was turned down by the Supreme Court.

3. DISAPPEARANCE

The Ombudsman's mid-year report stated that in the first half of 1991 he had received 161 complaints of disappearances (compared to 350 for all 1990). Of these, 80 were ruled politically motivated; 19 were resolved by the reappearance of victims (14 alive and 5 dead). Of the other political cases, 27 were ruled forced disappearances and 34 were still under review at the time of the report's publication. Of the 81 disappearances for other than political reasons, 26 were resolved by the reappearance of the victim (24 alive and 2 dead); the remaining 55 were under new study. The Archbishop's Human Rights Office reported 99 disappearances for the period, while the GAM reported charged 118 kidnappings. Most political disappearances were committed by persons linked to the armed forces against people victims they saw as involved with guerrillas. The Government failed to identify and prosecute these persons.

In response to demands for an investigation into thousands of reported disappearances over the past decade, President Serrano promised to name a commission with GAM as a member. After falling out disagreement with GAM over its backing of a resolution at the UN Commission on Human Rights, Serrano declined to form the commission. The Ombudsman took on the job, assigning GAM and other groups advisory roles. GAM demanded that Congress form a commission which would include the Attorney General and human rights groups as members. Chairman of the Congressional Human Rights Commission Andres Giron promised to support the bill, but Congress had not acted by year's end.

In April, CERJ leader Amilcar Mendez reported a kidnap attempt in Guatemala City in which men tried to drag him from his car into another vehicle, desisting only when a crowd gathered. no confirmation of this report was found. In May, CERJ member Miguel Sucuqui also claimed that he was the victim of an aborted kidnap attempt by a local PAC. According to witnesses, a reported member of CERJ, Felipe Lopez Mendoza, was abducted in June by two men near Santa Cruz del Quiche; no record of his arrest or detention was ever found. Also in June, Yolanda Figueroa, a leader in the Custom Workers Union, was the intended victim of a kidnaping. A Treasury Policeman foiled the crime, wounding two assailants; the Interior Minister publicly praised the policeman.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

As in past years, many bodies found throughout Guatemala bore signs of torture or postmortem mutilation. Such treatment, however, is not necessarily evidence of security force involvement: gangs and other criminals, as well as guerrillas, all use torture. There were, nevertheless, credible reports of torture and mistreatment by security forces.

While prison conditions remained harsh, but confirmed reports of torture of persons in official detention were rare. In April, police in Chiquimula arrested the ex-secretary general of the electric workers' union, Otto Ivan Rodriguez, claiming that he belonged to a car theft ring. They beat him, nearly blinding him in one eye. The abuse ended when a judge had Rodriguez taken from the local jail to one in Guatemala City where he received medical treatment. He was freed April 25 and left the country. Reportedly Rodriguez's arrest and abuse was ordered by powerful local Congressman Chinchilla Vega, who was also implicated in the 1990 death of Congressman Otto Ruano; see the 1990 Department of State Human Rights report. The motive was reportedly revenge for Rodriguez's work against him in the elections. Another reported case of abuse in official detention was that of Messrs. Rosales, Trujillo, and Castillo who were arrested in August on suspicion of multiple murders. Representatives of the Archbishop's Human Rights Office visited the three prisoners arrested in August and confirmed they were abused, praised the judge who ordered police to make them available for interviews, and accused the National Police of serious human rights violations. Judicial proceedings were begun against the police officers thought to be involved in the torture.

The Human Rights Ombudsman, reporting on the case, denounced the police and demanded the resignation of the National Police Director, a retired Army Colonel. He was replaced by a civilian, the first to head the police in many years.

(note: Emb- status update for 21)

A credible report of torture was given by Julio Chualcuben, who was kidnaped December 16, 1990. Found near death on a rural highway 10 days later and taken to a hospital, where he remained semi-comatose until June. After regaining consciousness, he did not have use of his voice, legs, and right arm, but he described his ordeal by writing with his left hand. According to his account, military commissioners accused him of being a guerrilla and took him to Solola's army base, where he was interrogated, tortured, and left for dead. During his ordeal base officers ignored writs of habeas corpus presented on his behalf. Once the case became publicly known, the Government officials quickly issued travel documents for him to get treatment in the United States. There is no information available on what may have been done to investigate the crime. In March, the Ombudsman charged abuse at an Army base near Izabal of three reported victims, and other people in the area, said the base commander and military commissioners sought to push them off land wanted by a local firm. The Ombudsman asked the Defense Minister to investigate: the commander was put at the "disposal" of a military judge. Nothing further was heard about the incident.

The Attorney General initiated an investigation of the case.

The government undertook steps to end police abuse of street children and to resolve the case of the alleged November 1989 kidnaping, rape, and torture of American nun Sister Diana M. Ortiz. The new police director on several occasions made clear he would not tolerate abuse of street children; reports of such incidents declined in 1991. The Attorney General appointed a special prosecutor and a special investigator to look into the Sr. Ortiz case. The investigator traveled to Kentucky to speak to Sr. Ortiz but was refused. Sr. Ortiz did speak to a Deputy Ombudsman but as of this writing has refused to answer questions or identify photographs as requested by the Human Rights Ombudsman and the Special investigator.

6. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

An arrest warrant is required unless a person is caught committing a crime. Police may not keep a suspect for over 6 hours without bringing him to a judge. The law provides for bail, access to lawyers, and limits to 20 days the time anyone may be held, after which he must be charged or freed. Authorities must produce detainees on request. Exile is not used. Despite these safeguards, credible reports exist of arbitrary arrest and incommunicado detention by security forces (see Sections 1.b. and 1.d.). Obviously, those engaged in illegal detentions ignore writs of habeas corpus. Several Guatemalans had to go abroad for safety. There was reliable evidence of detentions by guerrillas, particularly in guerrilla-run

Most human rights violations are never investigated because public officials commit many of the abuses, and are also reluctant to investigate cases in which their military colleagues are implicated.

(CPR) villages (Popular Communities in Resistance) total population of 8,000-10,000. Guerrillas forced CPR residents to take part in patrols similar to PAC. Guerrillas operating near the capital were also reported in October to have taken several civilian hostages.

Are these defensive patrols?

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

The judicial system is ineffective in human rights cases.

No political prisoners are known to exist. The Constitution provides for an independent judiciary comprised of a court of Constitutionality, a Supreme Court, Appeals Courts, and several courts of special jurisdiction, such as labor courts. Military courts have jurisdiction over military personnel, including military commissioners but not members of the PAC. Civilian trials are public; defendants have the right to be present and to legal representation. An appeals court automatically reviews convictions. The judicial branch remains weak, troubled and ineffective; reform efforts have so far been unsuccessful. Judges are susceptible to intimidation and corruption, suffer low pay, bad working conditions, and low morale. In October, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court denounced pressure on judges by Army officers in rural areas, and UN Human Rights Expert Tomuschat echoed those charges. The legal system is cumbersome and very complex, characterized by lengthy and numerous appeals and challenges. It is difficult to obtain accurate information on the status of cases. As mentioned (I.A), one accused in the Merida killing made a televised confession, raising doubts about due process.

There is a constitutional restriction on trying military personnel in civilian courts, thereby limiting the ability of those courts to prosecute military personnel for human rights abuses.

UNCLASSIFIED

f. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME, OR CORRESPONDENCE

The Constitution provides for inviolability of home, correspondence, and private documents, provisions which are not always respected. Army intelligence units are thought to have and use the ability to monitor private communications. In addition, enforcing the constitutionally-allowed military draft at times frequently involved entering homes and places of business without court orders.

The Constitution declares PAC service voluntary. While in most areas where PAC still exist they seem voluntary, reliable evidence exists that the degree of voluntarism of many participants in conflictive zones is open to serious doubt. Army officers, military commissioners, or PAC leaders often pressure men in those zones to take part; credible reports show refusal can mean risking serious abuse, including death.

g. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

Despite President Serrano's strong commitment to ending the internal armed conflict and the start of direct talks between the government and the guerrillas, that conflict entered its 31st year in 1991 and continued to be the principal cause of major human rights violations in Guatemala. Charges continued of indiscriminate Army "carpet bombings" and artillery barrages; given the small, tightly controlled aerial and artillery assets of the Army these charges are not credible. In October, the press reported an aerial attack on a CPR named Caba just prior to the scheduled visit of UN Human Rights Expert Tomuschat. Subsequent information, however, showed the firing was not aimed at Cabs, but was in response to guerrillas 3 kilometers away who had fired on an army helicopter.

Little information exists on the fate of many captured guerrillas. There were, however, publicized official reports of defectors being well received. In October, the Army charged that guerrillas summarily executed four wounded soldiers; the report was plausible, but without independent confirmation. Unconfirmed reports tell of guerrilla abuse of captured Army personnel. Guerrillas hit economic targets, such as power lines, highways, and civilian vehicles. They used children as young as 12 in combat and as young as 7 in non-combat roles, e.g., as lookouts, couriers, etc. They also made wide use of land mines and other explosives, including "pamphlet bombs," one of which injured a girl at the capital's zoo. In February, the Guerrilla Army of the Poor (EGP) in northern Quiche attacked a 13-man PAC, killing 10 and wounding 3. The EGP claimed the men were a "Kaibil" (Special Forces) unit. The Human Rights Ombudsman, who barely escaped injury when his helicopter took guerrilla fire, visited the site. Witnesses said the EGP had caught the lightly armed PAC in an well-laid ambush and summarily executed some wounded. The Ombudsman's report found that the EGP violated international humanitarian law. In March, guerrillas ambushed a police car escorting a bicycle race in Solola; both occupants died and the car was set afire. Guerrillas killed two more policemen in Nueva Vinas in July. This led to a public outcry, and in August guerrillas promised they would no longer target policemen and no more attacks have taken place.

In March, police dislodged squatters on a Pacific coast estate, Finca Olga Maria. A woman was killed and several other persons, including police, were hurt. Three foreigners of the Peace Brigades were arrested and had to leave Guatemala. The Ombudsman charged that the police used premeditated lethal force and acted without a judicial order. Police denied the charges and claimed not to need an order as a crime was in progress." A police official named by the Ombudsman as having killed the woman was removed from his post by the Interior Minister and judicial proceedings were initiated.

In October, a military tribunal sentenced an army sergeant to 16 years in prison and a lieutenant to 4 years for their roles in the December 2, 1990 Santiago Atitlan massacre in which 13 persons were killed (see 1990 report). While hailing the convictions as an important victory in the battle against impunity, the Attorney General announced his intention to seek a longer sentence for the sergeant.

SECTION 2 RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

The Constitution provides for freedom of expression, and Government critics, including guerrilla leaders, had access to the media—nearly all of which, including television, is privately owned. A range of organizations, many critical of the government, have their own publications, including the Ombudsman who began a monthly newsletter during the year. Press releases, paid announcements, and other anti-government statements by individuals, parties, business groups, unions, local and foreign human rights groups, CPRs, and guerrilla groups ran without interference. Foreign films, stage and TV shows, books, magazines, and newspapers were widely available.

A series of attempts of undetermined origin to intimidate the media occurred in August and September. These included anonymous telephone threats and the placing of a powerful bomb (deactivated by security forces) in a large office building where many foreign and domestic press agencies are located. Two men entered the offices of NOTIMEX, threatened the secretary, and rifled through files. Two days later, the home of the NOTIMEX correspondent was entered and ransacked. The local IPS correspondent had to leave Guatemala after receiving threats, but the office remained open.

A number of journalists who cover the courts reported receiving warnings not to publish articles on the cases of Michael Devine, Myrna Mack, the 1990 attempted murder of journalist Byron Barrera (his wife died in the attack), and on several U.S. narcotics-related extradition requests. These threats seemed to come from a variety of sources. Many journalists complained that the Serrano administration showed little sympathy or concern for threatened newsmen. Media representatives openly denounced the threats and vowed to continue their work, including extensive and detailed coverage of a number of sensitive topics, such as prospects of peace with the guerrillas, exhumations of clandestine cemeteries, and other once-taboo human rights topics.

In general, the media was more open and aggressive, both in its articles and editorials, than ever before. They gave wide coverage, for example, to activities of human rights groups and to controversial meetings such as the October international conference of indigenous people. There still were topics, however, that were either "off limits" or which had to be handled with great care, e.g. investigative reporting into corruption by the military or into illegal actions by powerful politicians.

6. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

The Constitution recognizes the rights of peaceful assembly and association: Parades, rallies, marches, forums, debates, and seminars on various topics, including human rights, took place openly and freely and drew publicity. While legally organizations must have association status, not having it did not stop groups, including some with foreign ties, from operating openly. In October, Guatemala played host to an international indigenous peoples' gathering to discuss their "500 year struggle against oppression" since Christopher Columbus arrived in America.

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

No state religion exists. Religious freedom is constitutionally guaranteed and respected in practice. While about 70 percent of Guatemala is nominally Catholic, many other faiths exist openly. More than 25 percent of Guatemalans adhere to Protestant denominations, some with international links. Foreign missionaries worked without hindrance. Guatemala has active Mormon, Jewish, Baha'i, Buddhist, Jehovah's Witness, and Islamic communities. In addition, many indigenous people still follow their own religious beliefs.

f. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

The government did not restrict foreign travel--critics went abroad and returned--nor did it revoke citizenship for political reasons. Movement inside Guatemala was unrestricted except in some conflictive areas. The EGP continued to control CPRs and severely limited travel of their residents. The Army, military commissioners and the PAC also limited travel in some areas.

Repatriation of refugees continued: 1200 to 1300 returned during 1991. Plans were made for repatriation of many of the 40,000 to 45,000 refugees in Mexico; two government agencies, CEAR and FONDOPAZ, were making the preparations in cooperation with foreign aid agencies. Large-scale return, however, is not likely until peace exists between government and guerrillas.

SECTION 3. RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

Guatemalans can change government by peaceful and democratic means. Universal suffrage by secret ballot exists for those 18 or older; there are no property or literacy requirements. Voting is not mandatory. On January 6, the remaining two candidates, Jorge Serrano of the MAS and Jorge Carpio of the UCN, had a run-off election for President. Serrano won, taking office on January 14. The governing Christian Democratic candidate was eliminated in a December round of voting in which 20 parties took part. All parties had access to the media and held rallies without interference. Foreign and local observers monitored the voting and ruled is free, fair, and genuine. Eight parties or groupings from center-left to far-right have seats in the Congress as do 5 independents.

SECTION 4 GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

(A)

The government did not hinder international human rights groups. Senior officials met representatives of numerous foreign and international nongovernmental human rights organizations, several of which have Americas Watch, Physicians for Human Rights, the Washington Office on Latin America, Amnesty International, and the Human Rights Project. Witnesses for Peace and PBI had local offices. The UN human rights expert visited Guatemala as did other foreign officials, and received wide press coverage for his often critical comments. Some foreign groups took part in the location and exhumation of clandestine cemeteries. The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) operated openly and visited CPRs. Many local human rights groups also operated without official interference although, as reported previously in sections of this report, some members of these groups continue to suffer threats and violence at the hands of the security forces and others.

The Government hailed the decision by the UN Commission on Human Rights not to name a human rights rapporteur. The government's relations with the human rights Ombudsman were often tense; officials often imputed political motives to his criticisms. However, the Government also was responsive to some criticism, by naming special prosecutors to handle particularly notorious cases and creating a cabinet-level human rights advisory committee. When the CERJ leader reported threats, he quickly received a police escort. The Attorney General and the new Interior Minister, a former Deputy Human Rights Ombudsman, are much more energetic and open on human rights issues than were their predecessors.

The office of the Human Rights Ombudsman expanded in size and activity. It issued many reports, including a stinging rebuke of the last year of President Cerezo's administration, and was not reluctant to criticize both the government and guerrillas for abuses. The Ombudsman's office was also involved in work on reported abuses in the textile industry and issued a tough report on the topic. The office remained the most reliable source of objective information on human rights practices.

SECTION 5 DISCRIMINATION BASED ON RACE, SEX, RELIGION, LANGUAGE, OR SOCIAL STATUS

Over one half of the population is culturally indigenous and the rest culturally European. While having equal legal rights, many indigenous people still remained outside the predominant culture, language, and economy. Rural indigenous men were more likely than urban counterparts to be drafted by the Army or forcibly recruited by guerrilla groups. Indigenous people suffered most of the serious abuses (sections 1 and 4). Although there are some indigenous Army officers, Congressmen, and judges, pervasive discrimination against indigenous people exists.

Women are active in the labor force, especially in the textile industry, agriculture, retail business, and in lower-paying public sector jobs. Several women hold prominent political positions, including at the cabinet level. Despite legal protection, women face discrimination, with jobs often advertised on the basis of sex--those for women generally lower paying. There are no major organizations devoted to women's issues. Violence against women, including domestic violence, remains common but receives low priority from police. Criminal sexual violence often goes unreported by victims and rates low priority from police, and relatively few rape cases came to court. The Ombudsman named a woman as a deputy with particular responsibility for violations of women's rights.

Aside from private clubs that bar membership to persons of certain religions, Guatemala is very tolerant of religious diversity. Government and business have senior people from many faiths.

SECTION 6 WORKER RIGHTS

A. THE RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION

Workers have the right to join or form unions. About 8 percent of the work force is organized, including much of the public sector. Due to their complexity, provisions of the Labor Code serve to hinder the ability to form unions and of unions to get legal recognition. During 1991, the Government used administrative powers to simplify rules for union recognition. Unions must have at least 20 members, but craft unions of skilled workers employed by several companies are permitted. Some employers, however, seek to avoid unionization by forming several entities of fewer than 20 workers each. A court ruling in 1990 opened the possibility that unions could organize these separate entities into a single union. Workers have the right to strike, but procedures involved made legal strikes cumbersome; most occur without permission. In practice, the Government made no effort to determine their legality. The structural weakness of organized labor and the lack of funds limit most strikes' length.

Union leaders must have no criminal record, work at the company being organized, and be literate. They may serve only one term in a union office, but by rotating offices the same persons stay on unions' boards of directors. The Constitution protects the right of political participation for individuals and drops previous prohibitions restricting participation by unions and their leaders. One prominent union leader was elected to Congress in 1990; two others are alternates. Unions may form federations and confederations, and join international organizations.

A "solidarity" movement was active; critics charged it was promoted by management to rival genuine unions. Unions continued to operate in workplaces which have despite "solidarity" associations, and the Government made clear these associations exist as civic organizations, and, as such, need not limit the ability of legal trade unions to function.

A draft labor code, drawn up with help from the International Labor Organization, remained under consideration by the Labor Committee in Congress. The Committee gave a favorable recommendation on July 10, in the first of three required readings. (note: Embassy - update as necessary for final)

Local and international labor and human rights groups, including the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, charged that unionists were "particular targets of death squads." Available evidence does not establish a pattern of systematic attacks on unionists by officials or security forces. While there have been threats to and violence against unionists by members of the security forces, but these abuses do not represent the policy of the government nor of the security forces.

Despite claims to the contrary, there is no credible evidence that the Army targeted union activists for union activities. Labor violence generally involved "thugs" used on an ad hoc basis by employers opposed to unions.

V. THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY

Workers have the legal right to organize and bargain collectively but often face discriminatory anti-union actions by employers. Labor courts, responsible for enforcing laws prohibiting such discrimination, are ineffective. The Labor Ministry indicated it intends to make a concerted effort to improve administration of labor laws.

Labor laws and regulations apply throughout Guatemala, the law authorizing establishment of export processing zones specifies that all labor code provisions apply. In April, the Ministry of Social Welfare, in cooperation with the Labor Ministry, issued a report on the "maquila" textile sector. The report documented in an open and forthright manner worker rights problems discovered. These included mistreatment of workers, low wages, long hours, and poor working conditions. The report put forward proposals to protect workers. The Government's issuance of the report and the creation of a commission to propose reforms to the 1989 maquila law are positive initial steps to try to solve worker rights problems in the maquila sector.

f. PROHIBITION OF FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR

The Constitution bars forced labor, and the practice generally does not exist. Allegations were made that the forced participation in the PAC violated prohibitions against forced labor. There have been credible reports of isolated instances of unpaid patrolmen used to provide free manual labor, but no systematic pattern of such abuse was established.

g. MINIMUM AGE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN

The Constitution bars employment of minors under age 14. In the industrial sector where labor codes are fairly easy to enforce, child labor is uncommon; not so, however, in the informal and agricultural sectors, children often help run family businesses, work as domestic help, engage in begging, and washing automobiles. In rural areas, whole families frequently work. A local organization, Casa Alianza, which champions the rights of street children, estimated over 5,000 children live in the capital's streets; they are often involved in prostitution and other crimes.

f. ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS OF WORK

The workday is legally 8 hours and the workweek 44 hours, but a sordid tradition of much longer hours remains. As noted in the April report on the maquila industry, most owners of textile plants paid minimum wages for a 12-hour day, violating both the Constitution and the Labor Code. Several complaints of beatings and firings of textile workers accused of failing to meet work requirements were made to the Labor Ministry.

Labor inspectors, who report to the Labor Courts, were accused of a lack of diligence in enforcing the 8-hour day, in part because the highly mobile third-country textile plants move when they find conditions more attractive elsewhere.

Little was done to educate workers and employers about the potential harmful effects of certain chemicals and procedures. Even simple precautions, such as helmets or hearing protection on construction sites, were rarely taken. Few employers offered [even minimally] anywhere near adequate medical and retirement programs for their workers.

Minimum wages are set by law and are the [de facto] wage for most rural and urban workers. The Government ordered the increase of minimum wages for construction and rural workers in late 1990, but more than 20 sectors had lower wages, including the export processing sector. While some skilled workers earned wages higher than the minimum, most workers were paid below the legal minimum. These wages do not provide a decent standard-of-living; over 75 percent of the population lives below the Guatemalan poverty line.

RELEASED

U.S. POLICY TOWARD GUATEMALA

Key Goals:

Consolidation of democracy and improved respect for human rights are the overarching foreign policy goals of the U.S. in Guatemala.

Peace Process:

The United States Government (USG) strongly supports efforts to end Guatemala's 34 year old guerrilla war. Efforts to consolidate democracy and improve respect for human rights have long been impeded by the continuing armed struggle. The USG is pleased that the Government of Guatemala (GOG) and the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Unity (URNG) are engaged in serious peace talks. The U.S. supports this process as a member of the "Friends" group (along with Colombia, Mexico, Spain, Norway, and Venezuela) which the parties have asked to assist the UN moderator in promoting the process. As a Friend of the process, the U.S. takes no position on substantive issues. Instead, we meet with the parties between negotiating sessions to review issues and search for common ground upon which they both can agree.

The parties on March 29 achieved an historic breakthrough in agreeing to a Human Rights Accord with UN verification to begin as soon as possible. The parties also agreed to a timetable for negotiations to reach a comprehensive Peace Accord by the end of 1994. The parties met in Oslo, signing an agreement on June 17 on displaced persons, which provided for a technical commission to oversee implementation of the accord. On June 23, the parties signed an accord calling for the creation of an historical clarification commission to address human rights violations committed during the armed conflict. The parties met in October and November to discuss indigenous rights.

Peace Fund:

The USG is establishing a Peace Fund to be disbursed following a peace agreement. Such a fund could be used to assist combatants from both sides of the conflict demobilize and integrate into civilian life, and to assist efforts of communities in the conflictive zones to put the war behind them and participate in the development process. Approximately $4.6 million of MAP (Military Assistance Program) and FMF (Foreign Military Funding) funds suspended in 1990 due to U.S. concerns about violations of human rights will be used to set up the Fund. We consulted closely with Congress and non-governmental organizations before reprogramming these funds. We are encouraging the international donor community and financial institutions to commit funds to support implementation of an eventual peace accord.

Democracy, Human Rights and Impunity:

Guatemala since mid-1993 has experienced a turbulent and historic period. Following the May 25, 1993 attempted "self-coup" by President Jorge Serrano, the Guatemalan Congress on June 5, 1993 elected Ramiro de Leon Carpio, then the Human Rights Ombudsman, as President. De Leon was sworn in on June 6, 1993. He is committed to improvement of the human rights situation in Guatemala and civilian control over the military.

As the 1993 State Department Human Rights Report on Guatemala makes clear, the USG views with concern the continuing high level of human rights violations in Guatemala. The U.S. Embassy in Guatemala regularly communicates to the GOG and public the seriousness with which we view this issue. Our Embassy maintains close contact with Guatemalan human rights organizations, the police, the Attorney General's office, and the courts, in order to promote investigation of abuses and prosecution of those responsible. Cases involving U.S. citizens include the 1985 murders of American citizens Nicholas Blake and Griffith Davis by members of the Civil Defense Patrols, the 1989 rape and torture of American citizen nun Sister Dianna Ortiz, and the 1990 murder of American citizen Michal Devine (discussed below under military assistance). Other cases of interest to the USG are those of Guatemalan anthropologist Myrna Mack, murdered in 1990, and Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, a URNG commander missing since March 1992. The USG has supported the efforts of Bamaca's American citizen wife, Jennifer Harbury, to locate him or his remains and has pressed the Government of Guatemala to conduct a full investigation into Bamaca's disappearance.

Many of Guatemala's problems, including investigation and prosecution of human rights abuses, are exacerbated by corruption and intimidation of responsible officials. An inadequately staffed and equipped police force compounds the problems. The result has been very low efficiency in state institutions in all three branches of government.

The USG supports efforts to expand the rule of law in Guatemala and will spend $1.5 million in ESF funding to promote progress in the administration of justice in Guatemala. The USG views civilian control of the police as fundamental to consolidation of democracy and promotion of human rights in Guatemala.

Travel Warning:

The State Department on June 25 updated its March 30 travel warning regarding travel by U.S. citizens to Guatemala to note that certain areas of the country have not been affected by the incidents prompting the earlier warning, and to provide additional guidance to U.S. citizens who travel to Guatemala. Two American citizens were injured -- one critically -- by mob violence March 29 in the town of San Cristobal, Alta Verapaz. The incident was sparked by rumors that foreigners are involved in the theft of children for the purpose of using their organs in transplants. The San Cristobal mob violence followed a similar event earlier in March in Santa Lucia Cotzumalguapa, Escuintla. The GOG has arrested 50 persons for involvement in the attack. We will work closely with the GOG to ensure that those responsible for this act are prosecuted to the full extent of the law. The June 25 travel warning warns U.S. citizens, and adoptive parents in particular, about possible dangers of travel to Guatemala because of these unfounded rumors. The warning notes that U.S. citizens should avoid traveling alone, should restrict their travel to areas frequented by tourists and business people, and should avoid contact with Guatamalan children.

PACs:

We share public concern about the abuses committed by the Civil Defense Patrols (PACs). We have communicated our concerns to the GOG. A PAC member involved in the August 1993 killing of an anti-PAC demonstrator in Colotenango has been taken into custody. President de Leon in a January 17 letter to President Clinton stated that the PACs will be converted into development committees with no ties to the military. Ten PACs in the Peten were converted to development committees earlier this year.

Reform Effort:

President de Leon spent the fall of 1993 locked in struggle with the legislative and judicial branches on the issue of corruption. On November 16, 1993, Catholic Church-brokered talks resulted in an agreement to hold a referendum on constitutional reforms. Although voter turnout was disappointingly low, over two-thirds of those who voted approved of the reforms in the referendum held January 30. Congressional elections were held August 14; although voter turnout was once again low, the elections were conducted peacefully. The Guatemalan Republican Front won 32 seats, the National Advancement Party won 24 seats, the Christian Democrats won 13 seats, and two other parties won the remaining four seats. The new Congress will elect a new Supreme Court.

De Leon is also trying to address the long-ignored needs of the indigenous population, the majority of Guatemala's population. Early in his presidency he launched an ambitious 180-day social action program designed to improve access to potable water, education, health care, employment, and economic development. The World Bank sponsored a Friends of Guatemala meeting in Washington on September 24, 1993, in order to bring together donor countries to assist Guatemala fund its development goals. The USG at that meeting pledged $10 million in Economic Support Funds (ESF).

U.S. Economic Assistance:

The U.S. contribution mentioned above constituted part of a multi-donor package, valued at over $100 million. By helping the GOG to stay current in its payments to the World Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), our aid enables the GOG to receive much larger loans from those institutions in order to carry out its development goals while maintaining macro-economic stability. Coordination among donors and with the international financial institutions maximizes the impact of limited aid along the lines set forth by President Clinton in his statement following his November 30, 1993, meeting with the leaders of the seven Central American countries.

The USG also provides a great deal of other bilateral assistance to Guatemala (see attached table for funding levels). Our goals are to protect health, build democracy, protect the environment, and promote broad-based sustainable development. Much USG aid to Guatemala is channeled through non-governmental organizations (NGOs); most of our aid addresses issues of interest to the U.S. Congress. Part of our food assistance, PL-480 Title I, generates local currency that the GOG uses to promote its development goals. PL-480 Title II food aid is provided to NGOs that carry feeding programs for Guatemala's most needy.

Trade:

Central America has made great progress in the past decade in democratization and economic development. As the U.S./Central America relationship has matured, a natural result is a shift in emphasis from aid to trade. President Clinton has emphasized the importance of trade in our relationship with the region, and the Central American countries have communicated their interest in acceding to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA). The USG is now working, through technical assistance programs, to assist the countries of the region to make the structural changes in their economies that are necessary for future accession to the NAFTA.

The Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) is USG legislation that seeks to promote trade with developing countries by granting most of their products duty-free access to the U.S. market. GSP beneficiaries, however, must respect norms such as worker rights and intellectual property rights (IPR). Guatemala's access to GSP has been under review since 1992 as a result of allegations of violations of worker rights and IPR. While considerable progress has been made to protect intellectual property, the GSP review process is continuing on workers' rights grounds.

Refugees:

Many thousands of Guatemalans, principally persons of Mayan descent, fled to Mexico and elsewhere at the height of the war in the early 1980s. Some 40,000 of those refugees live in refugee camps in southern Mexico near the border with Guatemala. The USG has provided and continues to provide extensive assistance to Guatemalan refugees through the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), which receives about 25 percent of its budget from the USG. The USG supports the return of Guatemalan refugees to their homes according to international standards of return under "safety and dignity."

Many refugee families routinely return individually or in small groups across the porous border. The first major organized return, however, took place in January 1993 to the Ixcan area of northern Quiche Department near the Mexican border. The refugees who returned in January 1993, located themselves at a site in the rainforest they have named La Victoria Veinte de Enero. They have built a town and removed a great deal of forest cover to plant fields. The northern Quiche area is the site of regular clashes between the Guatemalan army and the URNG guerrillas.

Several more organized returns took place in 1993 and 1994, and more are expected. Over 7600 refugees returned between January and November 1994. U.S. Embassy officers have maintained close contact with the refugees who returned to La Victoria. The Embassy also maintains close contact with other groups of returned refugees, such as those in Veracruz. Refugee leaders from throughout the Ixcan area have informed the Embassy that reports of army bombing and violence against returned refugees in early 1993 and 1994 were without foundation. The GOG, at the request of returning refugees, has moved the army post at Tercer Pueblo (a townsite to which many refugees hope to return) away from the center of the settlement.

Narcotics:

Guatemala is one of the few countries that has successfully reduced the amount of opium poppy cultivated within its borders. Opium poppy cultivation has fallen two thirds from the levels it reached in the late 1980s. Guatemalan Treasury Police work closely with USG agencies to combat transit of cocaine through the country. As with human rights, impunity for violators is a challenge for the GOG.

International Military Education and Training:

The prospects for consolidating democracy and increasing respect for human rights are improved to the extent that all groups and institutions support these goals. International Military Education and Training (IMET) promotes support of these goals by the Guatemalan military. IMET courses expose the Guatemalan military to U.S. military officers and students from other countries where civilian control over the military and protection of human rights are fundamental elements of military doctrine. President de Leon wants the U.S. to remain engaged with the Guatemalan military.

Several Guatemalan military personnel received IMET training in 1993. The decision was made after consulting with the Congress. The IMET program offered Guatemala is weighted at a 3:1 ratio toward "expanded" IMET. "Expanded" IMET courses and educational travel focus on issues such as human rights, the role of the military in a democracy, and resource management. Guatemala's FY 1993 INET program cost $112,000; the FY 1994 program cost $36,000.

Other Military Contacts, Civic Action:

The Minister of Defense of Guatemala visited Washington in January at the invitation of the USG to meet with human rights groups, Members of Congress and their staff, and executive branch officials, in order to communicate directly with U.S. officials and interest groups about events in Guatemala. Members of many U.S. National Guard units do their annual two-week training in Guatemala from January through June. Those units -- up to a maximum of 500 U.S. Guardsmen at a time -- have drilled wells, rebuilt roads, and renovated schools in Baja Verapaz Department of Guatemala. U.S. National Guard physicians have treated patients in rural areas and U.S. National Guard veterinarians have treated farm animals in those same areas. U.S. Army medical personnel provided assistance to the U.S. citizen critically injured as a result of being attacked by a mob March 29 in San Cristobal, Alta Verapaz Department. The Fuertes Caminos exercise proposed for 1995 is projected to build five schools, three medical clinics, and two bridges; to drill sixteen water wells; and to conduct medical readiness training.

Military Assistance, Peace Fund, Sale of Weapons:

Military assistance to Guatemala (MAP and FMF programs) was suspended in 1990 following the murder of American citizen Michael Devine by members of the Guatemalan armed forces. The soldiers responsible for Devine's murder were tried, convicted, and imprisoned. Captain Hugo Contreras, the officer who led the killers, was tried, convicted, and sentenced to 30 years in prison. The day that Captain Contreras was sentenced, however (in May 1993), he escaped from the military zone headquarters where he had been detained. The USG views the capture and imprisonment of Captain Contreras as fundamental to improved relations with the Guatemalan military. The intellectual authors of the crime have not been identified or prosecuted.

The State Department reviews, on a case-by-case basis, requests by U.S. companies to sell items listed on the munitions control list to purchasers in Guatemala. Requests by U.S. firms to sell non-lethal equipment to the Guatemalan military are reviewed on a case-by-case basis. No requests to sell lethal equipment to the military are approved.

Looking Ahead:

. Guatemala faces numerous challenges to consolidation of democracy, respect for human rights, acceptance of the rule of law, and economic reform. At the same time, there is substantial support throughout Guatemalan society -- and the de Leon administration -- to make progress in these areas. U.S. policy is aimed at supporting these efforts.

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. EMBASSY BELIEVES REF A WAS AN IMPORTANT STEP IN BEGINNING OUR EFFORT TO BREAK THE PEACE TALKS LOGJAM. PARAGRAPH FIVE OF REF A RAISED A NUMBER OF SPECIFIC QUESTIONS. REF B IS OUR ASSESSMENT OF MRNG MOTIVATION. AS FOR THE MILITARY PERSONNEL ACCUSED OF PARTICIPATING IN BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE, THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE, [redacted] INTERVIEWED THE FOLLOWING PERSONS IN THE COURSE OF ITS INVESTIGATION:

-- LT. COL. EDELBERTO BARAHONA
-- COL. JULIO ALBERTO SOTO BILBAO
-- COL. JULIO ROBERTO ALPIREZ
-- MAJOR MARIO ERNESTO SOSA ORELLANA
-- MAJOR ULISES NOE AMZUETO GIRON
-- CAPT. SALVADOR EDUARDO RUBIO PARRA
-- MAJOR OSCAR EDUARDO ARAGON CIFUENTES
-- SERGEANT MARGARITO SARCENO MEDRANO
-- SPECIALIST SIMEON CUN CHUTA
-- LT. EDWIN MANUEL LEMUS VASQUEZ
-- SPECIALIST JUAN JOSE OROZCO GIRON
-- SPECIALIST JACOBO RENE ALFARO LOARCA.

3. ACCORDING TO THE OMBUDSMAN'S REPORT, THE MILITARY OFFICERS PROFESSED TO KNOW NOTHING ABOUT BAMACA ("TODOS LOS MILITARES ENTREVISTADOS DESCONOCEN O NADA SABEN ACERCA DE LA CAPTURA O FALLECIMIENTO" OF BAMACA). IN A DECEMBER 15 MEETING WITH [redacted] WE WERE TOLD THE ARMY PERSONNEL INTERVIEWED [redacted] PRESENTED MORE-OR-LESS UNIFORM (NON) RESPONSES TO THE QUESTIONS POSED. WE ARE CHECKING TO SEE IF THE PUBLIC MINISTRY HAS SEPARATELY INTERVIEWED THE MILITARY PERSONNEL, BUT NOTE THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION WAS AN OFFICIAL, SUPREME COURT-ORDERED EFFORT.

6. REF A ALSO ASKED FOR SUGGESTIONS OF SPECIFIC STEPS THE GOG COULD "TAKE TO DEMONSTRATE PUBLICLY ITS COMMITMENT TO FULFILL THE MARCH HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD..." IN REVIEWING THIS REQUEST, IT IS VALUABLE TO REALIZE THAT JUDGMENT OF OVERALL COMPLIANCE WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD IS A SUBJECTIVE EXERCISE. IT ALSO IS IMPORTANT WE NOT SIMPLY "POCKET" PAST POSITIVE MOVES, SUCH AS THE ANNOUNCED END OF FORCED RECRUITMENT, THE SENDING OF A DRAFT CONSCRIPTION LAW TO CONGRESS AND ALLOWING MINUGUA'S PRESENCE. WE SHOULD RECOGNIZE THESE EFFORTS, WHICH ARE CONSISTENT WITH SPECIFIC POINTS IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD, WHILE PUSHING FOR FURTHER IMPROVEMENT.

7. WHILE ANY HUMAN RIGHTS ACTION FALLS UNDER THE RUBRIC OF THE MARCH 29 ACCORD (SEE TO THE POINT ONE "GENERAL COMMITMENT" OF THE SIGNATORIES), BELOW WE OFFER SOME SPECIFIC POSSIBILITIES DIRECTLY RELATED TO THE ACCORD. AFTER EACH POSSIBILITY, THE PERTINENT SECTION OF THE AGREEMENT IS LISTED. THE MOST FEASIBLE OF THESE OVER THE SHORT-TERM WOULD SEEM TO BE THE INTRODUCTION OF "SPECIAL GRAVITY" LEGISLATION AND PROMOTION OF THE "CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY" IDEA AT THE UN/UNHRC. SOME OF THE OTHER ACTIONS HAVE RESOURCE IMPLICATIONS AND WOULD BE DIFFICULT (THOUGH NOT IMPOSSIBLE) FOR THE CASH-STRAPPED GOG. CONCEIVABLY, WE COULD EVEN CONSIDER OFFERING SOME "PEACE FUND" MONIES TO UNDERTAKE THESE MOVES.

-- THE GOG CAN SEND DRAFT LEGISLATION TO CONGRESS CHANGING THE PENAL CODE TO TYPIFY CERTAIN VIOLATIONS AS OF "SPECIAL GRAVITY." IT CAN ALSO PUBLICLY COMMIT TO PROMOTE THE INTERNATIONAL LABELING OF CERTAIN CRIMES AS "AGAINST HUMANITY" AT THE UN/UNHRC. (POINT III: COMMITMENT AGAINST IMPUNITY) (NOTE: COPREDEH HEAD JORGE CABRERA TOLD HR OFFICER DECEMBER 28 THE GOG IS CONSIDERING FORMING A "SPECIAL COMMISSION" TO EXAMINE ALL THE NECESSARY LEGAL CHANGES STEMMING FROM THE HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD.)

-- THE GOVERNMENT COULD ANNOUNCE ITS WILLINGNESS TO BOLSTER THE POLICE'S "DISAPPEARED PERSONS" UNIT AND MOVE FORWARD, IN GENERAL, ON POLICE REFORM. IT COULD ALSO COMMIT TO FURTHER CIVILIANIZE THE GOVERNMENT MINISTRY (I.E., NO MILITARY IN KEY SLOTS) AND POLICE. THE GOG COULD ALSO STRENGTHEN THE PUBLIC MINISTRY'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE. (POINT II: FORTIFYING BODIES PROTECTING HUMAN RIGHTS; POINT IV: COMMITMENT AGAINST ILLEGAL SECURITY APPARATUSES AND REGULATING ARMS)

-- THE GOG PUBLICLY CAN CALL UPON THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE TO CHECK ON THE VOLUNTARY NATURE OF ALL PAC'S, WITH MINUGUA ASSISTANCE. IT CAN OFFER GOG CIVILIAN LOGISTICAL SUPPORT TO ACCOMPLISH THIS TASK. (POINT V: GUARANTEES OF FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT)

-- THE GOVERNMENT COULD PUBLICLY OFFER ASSISTANCE TO THE FORENSIC TEAM AS SUGGESTED REF A. (NOTE: THE TEAM ALREADY GETS POLICE PROTECTION UPON REQUEST.) (POINT VII. GUARANTEES/PROTECTION FOR PERSONS WORKING ON HUMAN RIGHTS)

-- THE GOG CAN ANNOUNCE ITS POLICY TOWARD ANY URNG TROOPS CAPTURED (E.G., HAVING MINUGUA IMMEDIATELY INFORMED OF THE CAPTURE AND BE ALLOWED TO INTERVIEW THE GUERRILLAS. THOSE CAPTURED CAN BE TURNED OVER TO COURTS/OMBUDSMAN.) COLLABORATORS ALSO CAN BE MADE AVAILABLE TO MINUGUA, WHICH (FOR SECURITY REASONS) WOULD NOT MENTION THEIR NAMES IN PUBLIC. PROCEDURES FOR COLLABORATORS DESIRING TO LEAVE ARMY SERVICE WOULD BE ESTABLISHED. THE GOG AND UN COULD ALSO CALL UPON THE URNG TO ALSO RESPECT THE RIGHTS OF ANYONE CAPTURED. (POINT IX: HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE ARMED INTERNAL CONFLICT)

TAGS: PHUM, PINS, PREL, PGOV, MARR, GT
SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR DISCUSSES BAMACA AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS CASES WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. AMBASSADOR, ACCOMPANIED BY DEFENSE ATTACHE, MET WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE GEN. ENRIQUEZ OVER BREAKFAST ON NOVEMBER 22. THE AMBASSADOR USED THE OPPORTUNITY TO PRESS GEN ENRIQUEZ STRONGLY FOR A RESOLUTION OF THE BAMACA CASE, AS WELL AS OTHER PENDING HUMAN RIGHTS CASES. GEN ENRIQUEZ PLEDGED TO FULLY COOPERATE WITH THE OMBUDSMAN AND SOLICITOR GENERAL'S INVESTIGATIONS INTO THE CASE, AND ALSO EXPLAINED THAT HE WILL GIVE MINUGUA ACCESS TO EX-GUERRILLAS WHO ARE STILL WITH THE GT ARMY AS COLLABORATORS. GEN ENRIQUEZ DESCRIBED HIS ATTEMPTS TO PERSUADE CPT CONTRERAS TO TURN HIMSELF IN, AND BECAUSE HE HAD VIOLATED THE MINISTERS CONFIDENCE, ALL SUPPORT HAD BEEN CUT OFF, TO INCLUDE CPT CONTRERAS' SALARY PAYMENTS TO HIS FAMILY.

3. GEN ENRIQUEZ DESCRIBED HOW THE GROWING NUMBER OF FINCA INVASIONS, NOW QUICKLY SPREADING THROUGHOUT ALTA VERAPAZ DEPARTMENT AS WELL AS THE SOUTHERN COAST, WERE UNDERMINING THE AUTHORITY OF THE GOG AS WELL AS PRESIDENT DE LEON HIMSELF. PRIVATE LANDOWNERS ARE INCREASINGLY COMING TO HIM DEMANDING ACTION TO RESTORE THE FINCAS TO THEIR LANDLORDS. GEN ENRIQUEZ STILL HAD HOPES FOR THE PEACE PROCESS, BUT SAW THE UPCOMING ROUND AS PERHAPS CRITICAL TO THE CONTINUATION OR BREAKDOWN OF THE PEACE PROCESS. GEN ENRIQUEZ PROUDLY EXPLAINED THE NUMEROUS AREAS IN WHICH THE GT ARMY HAD MADE PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, WHICH HE WAS LOOKING FORWARD TO EXPLAINING TO THE

SPECIAL UN REPRESENTATIVE, MONICA PINTO, ON NOVEMBER 23. END SUMMARY.

RUMORS ROLL IN GUATEMALA

4. THE AMBASSADOR, ACCOMPANIED BY THE DEFENSE ATTACHE, MET WITH THE GUATEMALAN MINISTER OF DEFENSE (MOD), MAJOR GENERAL MARIO RENE ENRIQUEZ MORALES, OVER BREAKFAST ON NOVEMBER 23. GEN ENRIQUEZ GREETED THE AMBASSADOR BY CHUCKLING THAT HE HAD JUST BEEN REVIEWING SOME OF THE RUMORS THAT HAVE BEEN CIRCULATING. HE ADDED THAT GUATEMALA IS THE LAND OF RUMORS, YOU KNOW. ONE RUMOR WAS THAT HE, GEN ENRIQUEZ, WOULD RETIRE WITHIN A MONTH. QUICKLY MOVING TO ANOTHER TOPIC, GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THE OTHER RUMOR WAS THAT HE AND THE AMBASSADOR HAD STRAINED RELATIONS. HE EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD ONLY RECENTLY BEEN ASKED BY A REPORTER TO EXPLAIN WHY HE AND THE AMBASSADOR HAD FALLEN OUT. THIS PARTICULAR RUMOR CLAIMED THAT HAD GEN ENRIQUEZ GONE AHEAD WITH HIS VISIT TO WASHINGTON, D.C. IN LATE NOVEMBER, THE AMBASSADOR WOULD HAVE RECOMMENDED THAT ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE ALEXANDER WATSON AND SECRETARY OF DEFENSE WILLIAM PERRY NOT GRANT HIM OFFICE CALLS, AS THEY WOULD LOSE PRESTIGE BY RECEIVING HIM ("DESPRESTIGIARSE").

AMBASSADOR PRESSES BAMACA CASE

5. THE AMBASSADOR THEN EXPLAINED THAT SHE CONTINUED TO BE EXTREMELY CONCERNED ABOUT THE CASE OF MISSING GUERRILLA COMMANDER EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ, THE HUSBAND OF U.S. CITIZEN JENNIFER HARBURY. SHE EXPLAINED THAT IF THIS CASE IS NOT RESOLVED BY THE ONGOING INVESTIGATIONS, IT WOULD HAVE SEVERE IMPLICATIONS FOR OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS. SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS AND DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS REMAIN THE DEFINING GOALS OF U.S. FOREIGN POLICY TOWARDS GUATEMALA. THE BAMACA CASE COULD BECOME A CRITICAL ELEMENT IN OUR RELATIONS, HOWEVER.

6. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE IS WELL AWARE OF THE GRAVITY OF THE CASE, AND WILL FULLY COOPERATE WITH THE ONGOING INVESTIGATION BEING CONDUCTED BY THE GUATEMALAN HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA. HE HAS ALREADY INSTRUCTED ALL OF HIS COMMANDERS TO OPEN THEIR DOORS TO THE OMBUDSMAN AND LET HIM SEE ANYTHING HE WANTS. LIKEWISE, HE HAS INSTRUCTED THAT IF THE OMBUDSMAN WANTS TO QUESTION ANY OFFICER HE SUSPECTS OF BEING INVOLVED WITH THE CASE, THEY ARE TO COMPLY AND COOPERATE FULLY. AFTER ALL, HE TOLD THE OFFICERS, IT WILL SIMPLY BE YOUR WORD AGAINST THE EX-GUERRILLA, SANTIAGO CABRERA LOPEZ, WHO HAS RECENTLY GIVEN TESTIMONY BEFORE THE OAS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IN WASHINGTON.

7. THE AMBASSADOR INTERJECTED TO THE MOD THAT HE SHOULD BE AWARE THAT THE USG HAS RELIABLE INFORMATION FROM SEVERAL CREDIBLE SOURCES THAT THE ARMY DID INDEED CAPTURE BAMACA ALIVE IN MARCH OF 1992, AND SUBSEQUENTLY HAD HIM UNDER INTERROGATION FOR SOME TIME AFTERWARDS. THEREFORE THE ARMY MUST KNOW WHAT HAPPENED TO HIM. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT YES, HE IS AWARE THAT THE USG HAS SUCH INFORMATION. THE CHIEF OF STAFF, MAJOR GENERAL MARCO ANTONIO GONZALEZ TARACENA, HAD COME TO SEE HIM VERY CONCERNED AFTER THE DATT AND MILGP CDR HAD INFORMED HIM OF THIS SAME INFORMATION. HE AND GEN GONZALEZ HAD DISCUSSED THE POSSIBLE CONSEQUENCES OF THE BAMACA CASE, TO INCLUDE THE POSSIBILITY THAT

UERTES CAMINOS 95 COULD BE CANCELED. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN MENTIONED THAT HE WOULD LIKE TO HAVE MORE DETAILS OF THE USG INFORMATION THAT HAD BEEN MENTIONED, TO INCLUDE WHAT OFFICERS HAD BEEN INVOLVED AND WHERE SO THEY CAN BE INVESTIGATED.

8. THE DATT ASKED GEN ENRIQUEZ WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF THE OMBUDSMAN DISCOVERED THAT SOME ARMY OFFICERS HAD INDEED INTERROGATED BAMACA AND THEN POSSIBLY KILLED HIM. HE REPLIED THAT THESE OFFICERS WOULD THEN HAVE TO BE TRIED IN COURT. THE DATT FOLLOWED UP BY ASKING IF SUCH TRIALS WOULD CAUSE INTERNAL PROBLEMS IN THE ARMY, AS CONVICTED OFFICERS MIGHT PROVIDE INFORMATION ON OTHER OFFICERS WHO ABUSED CAPTURED GUERRILLAS IN THE PAST. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN LAUGHED AND RESPONDED THAT THEN ALL GT ARMY OFFICERS WOULD GO TO JAIL, AND WOULDN'T THAT BE A GOOD PURIFICATION ("DEPURACION") OF THE ARMY?

9. THE AMBASSADOR REEMPHASIZED THAT THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION MUST PRODUCE GENUINE RESULTS, OR THERE WOULD BE SEVERE PROBLEMS IN THE USG-GOG BILATERAL RELATIONSHIP. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT LIKEWISE THERE WERE OTHER PENDING CASES THAT REMAINED UNRESOLVED, SUCH AS THE MURDERS OF U.S. REPORTERS NICK BLAKE AND GRIFFIN DAVIS; THE UNRESOLVED KIDNAPPING, RAPE AND TORTURE OF U.S. CITIZEN DIANA ORTIZ; AND THE ISSUE OF CPT CONTRERAS, CONVICTED FOR HIS INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE, STILL BEING AT LARGE.

SOLICITOR GENERAL INVESTIGATION ON BAMACA CASE

10. GEN ENRIQUEZ REPEATED THAT THE GT ARMY WOULD GIVE ITS FULL COOPERATION TO THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION. THE OTHER AVENUE STILL AVAILABLE WAS THE INVESTIGATION BEING CONDUCTED BY THE SOLICITOR GENERAL, ACISCLO VALLADARES. VALLADARES HAD EVEN DISCUSSED WITH THE MOD THE POSSIBILITY OF RECREATING THE COMBAT SKIRMISH IN WHICH BAMACA WAS KILLED. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE CERTAINLY COULD MAKE MOST IF NOT ALL OF THE OFFICERS AVAILABLE WHO WERE THERE AT THE TIME, BUT THE ENLISTED PERSONNEL WOULD BE MORE OF A PROBLEM. HOWEVER, HE THEN SPECULATED THAT THIS WOULD PROBABLY END UP BEING JUST ANOTHER OF VALLADARES' SHOWS, AND WOULDN'T REALLY CLARIFY VERY MUCH, ESPECIALLY SINCE IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE TO ASSEMBLE THE GUERRILLA PARTICIPANTS IN THE COMBAT ACTION.

11. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN RELATED THAT HE HAD BEEN ASKED TO ALLOW A COUNTER-DEMONSTRATION AGAINST JENNIFER HARBURY WHILE SHE WAS ON HER HUNGER STRIKE IN THE CENTRAL PLAZA, BUT HAD PROHIBITED IT. SEVERAL PERSONS HAD COME TO HIM ASKING PERMISSION TO GATHER ALL THE WAR WIDOWS AND CRIPPLED SOLDIERS WHO HAD SERVED IN COMBAT AGAINST THE ORPA'S LUIS IXMATA FRONT AROUND SAN MARCOS WHERE EFRAIN BAMACA HAD BEEN A COMMANDER. THESE PERSONS WOULD HAVE BEEN TAKEN TO THE CENTRAL PLAZA CARRYING SIGNS SAYING "THIS IS WHAT BAMACA DID TO ME," OR "THIS IS THE LOVED ONE BAMACA TOOK AWAY FROM ME," FOR EXAMPLE. THESE PEOPLE WOULD THEN HAVE CONFRONTED HARBURY WITH THEIR COMPLAINTS AGAINST BAMACA. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD DISAPPROVED THIS ACTIVITY, AS IT OULD HAVE SIMPLY BEEN USING POOR WIDOWS AND CRIPPLES FOR A POLITICAL PURPOSE, MUCH AS JENNIFER HARBURY IS DOING WITH THE DISAPPEARANCE OF EFRAIN BAMACA.

UNCLASSIFIED

12. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE HAD BEEN VERY DISAPPOINTED WHEN CPT CONTRERAS HAD NOT RESPONDED THROUGH AN INTERMEDIARY TO ENRIQUEZ' OFFER THAT CONTRERAS TURN HIMSELF IN TO THE JUSTICE SYSTEM, IN RETURN FOR THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE'S ASSISTANCE IN APPEALING HIS CONVICTION. AS A RESULT, ENRIQUEZ HAD PERSONALLY SIGNED THE ORDER TO END CPT CONTRERAS' SALARY PAYMENTS TO HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN, WHO CONTINUE TO RESIDE IN GUATEMALA CITY. MANY OFFICERS HAD CRITICIZED HIM FOR STOPPING THESE PAYMENTS. HE HAD ALSO SECRETLY OFFERED 25,000 DOLLARS TO ANY GT ARMY OFFICER WHO COULD PERSUADE CPT CONTRERAS TO TURN HIMSELF IN, WHICH LIKEWISE HAD NOT PRODUCED RESULTS. GEN ENRIQUEZ CONCLUDED THAT CPT CONTRERAS HAD VIOLATED HIS CONFIDENCE, AND THEREFORE WOULD RECEIVE NO HELP FROM THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE IN THE FUTURE IF HE IS CAPTURED. HE ADDED THAT CPT CONTRERAS WILL FALL EVENTUALLY. THE AMBASSADOR AGAIN EMPHASIZED THAT THIS CASE ALSO WOULD AFFECT THE USG RELATIONSHIP WITH THE GOG AS LONG AS IT REMAINED UNRESOLVED.

13. GOING BACK TO THE ISSUE OF FUERTES CAMINOS, GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THE GT ARMY WOULD COMPLY WITH THE REQUESTS MADE EARLIER BY [redacted] TO REMOVE CERTAIN OFFICERS INVOLVED IN THE COVERUP OF THE DEVINE MURDER WHO ARE CURRENTLY ASSIGNED TO MILITARY ZONE 10 IN JUTIAPA WHERE FUERTES CAMINOS 95 WOULD BE BASED. THE THIRD COMMANDER THERE, COL JULIO ALPIREZ, HAD ALREADY BEEN REMOVED AND SENT TO BE IN CHARGE OF SECURITY AT THE LA AURORA AIRPORT IN GUATEMALA CITY. THE ZONE COMMANDER, COL CESAR AUGUSTO CABRERA MEJIA, WOULD BE REMOVED IN JANUARY AS PART OF THE NORMAL ROTATIONS THAT COME OUT WITH THE END OF YEAR GENERAL ORDER. [redacted]

SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR DISCUSSES BAMACA AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS CASES WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE

GENERAL OFFICER PROMOTIONS

14. GEN ENRIQUEZ CONTINUED THAT HE AND GEN GONZALEZ HAD RECENTLY MET TO DISCUSS THE NEXT PROMOTIONS TO GENERAL OFFICER. THE CANDIDATES INCLUDED COLONEL HECTOR MARIO BARRIOS CELADA, THE COMMANDER OF MILITARY ZONE 20 AT SANTA CRUZ DEL QUICHE; COLONEL MARCO TULIO ESPINOZA CONTRERAS, COMMANDER OF THE NORTHERN AIRBASE; AND COLONEL MARIO ROBERTO GARCIA CATALAN, COMMANDER OF MILITARY ZONE 302 IN CHIMALTENANGO. (NOTE: COL GARCIA CATALAN WAS THE COMMANDER OF MILITARY ZONE 23 IN THE PETEN WHEN MICHAEL DEVINE WAS MURDERED THERE IN 1990, AND IS HEAVILY IMPLICATED IN BOTH THE MURDER AND THE SUBSEQUENT ARMY COVERUP OF THE MURDER.) GEN GONZALEZ HAD EXPLAINED THAT HE FULLY CONCURRED WITH THE PROMOTIONS OF COLONELS BARRIOS AND ESPINOZA, BUT WOULD LEAVE THE ECISION TO GEN ENRIQUEZ ON WHETHER OR NOT TO PROMOTE COL GARCIA CATALAN.

UNCLASSIFIED

16.. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN DISCUSSED THE GREAT CONFIDENCE HE HAS IN HIS CHIEF OF STAFF, MG GONZALEZ. LAST WEEK DURING THE CONGRESSIONAL HEARINGS ABOUT THE DISTURBANCES RELATED TO THE TRANSIT STRIKE, HE HAD BEEN ASKED BY SOME CONGRESSMEN WHY HE DIDN'T CUT SHORT HIS VISIT TO ISRAEL AND COME BACK EARLY TO DEAL WITH THE CRISIS. HE EXPLAINED TO THE AMBASSADOR THAT IN FACT HE HAD COME BACK TWO DAYS EARLY. HE TOLD THE CONGRESSMEN, ON THE OTHER HAND, THAT WITH MG GONZALEZ AS ACTING MINISTER, THERE REALLY WAS NO NEED FOR HIM TO COME BACK, AS MG GONZALEZ WAS MORE THAN CAPABLE OF DEALING WITH ANY CRISIS.

MINUGUA WILL SOON HAVE ACCESS TO EX-GUERRILLAS

17. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN SHIFTED THE CONVERSATION BY SAYING THAT HE WAS EXTREMELY PLEASED WITH THE STARTUP OF MINUGUA ON NOVEMBER 21. HE EXPLAINED THAT NO GOG OFFICIALS HAD GONE TO THE INAUGURAL ACT, AS URNG REPRESENTATIVES WERE UNABLE TO BE PRESENT. THIS GOG ABSENCE WAS TO HELP MINUGUA MAINTAIN ITS POSITION OF NEUTRALITY BETWEEN THE URNG AND THE GOG, EVEN THOUGH OF COURSE, MINUGUA HAD TO NEGOTIATE ITS OPERATING AGREEMENT WITH THE GOG. (NOTE: MINUGUA ASKED THE GOG NOT TO SEND ANY REPRESENTATIVES). GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE WILL SOON GIVE THE NAMES OF ALL EX-GUERRILLAS THAT ARE CURRENTLY COLLABORATING WITH THE GT ARMY TO MINUGUA. THERE WERE CERTAINLY MORE THAN 35 OF THESE INDIVIDUALS, AND IN THIS SENSE THE EX-GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA WAS INCORRECT WHEN HE SPOKE OF 35 GUERRILLA PRISONERS IN CLANDESTINE PRISONS. MINUGUA WILL THEN BE GIVEN ACCESS TO ALL OF THESE INDIVIDUALS TO VERIFY THAT THEIR HUMAN RIGHTS ARE BEING RESPECTED. THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THAT THIS WAS AN EXCELLENT GESTURE BY GEN ENRIQUEZ, AND WOULD HELP RESOLVE THE ISSUE OF THE GUERRILLAS BEING MAINTAINED IN CLANDESTINE PRISONS AS CLAIMED BY SANTIAGO CABRERA AND JENNIFER HARBURY. (NOTE: SUBSEQUENT TO THIS MEETING, THE AMBASSADOR REITERATED THIS COMMITMENT BY THE MOD TO MINUGUA EAD LEONARDO FRANCO. SEE GUAT 10581.)

GOG LOSES AUTHORITY OVER GROWING NUMBERS OF LAND INVASIONS

18. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT A MAJOR TOPIC OF DISCUSSION DURING THE LAST CABINET MEETING WITH PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO WAS THE ISSUE OF THE INCREASING LOSS OF AUTHORITY OF THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD EXPRESSED HIS CONCERN AT THE MEETING FOR THE SERIOUS EROSION OF PRESIDENT DE LEON'S PERSONAL AUTHORITY AS PRESIDENT. THE GOVERNMENT INCREASINGLY DESISTS FROM EXERCISING ANY CONTROL OVER THE POPULATION TO AVOID ANY ACCUSATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN AN ATTEMPT TO KEEP THE PEACE PROCESS ON TRACK. THE MOST SERIOUS ISSUE IS THE

EVER-INCREASING NUMBER OF FINCA INVASIONS. THESE INVASIONS FIRST BEGAN ALONG THE SOUTHERN COAST OF GUATEMALA ABOUT SEVEN MONTHS AGO. ABOUT FOUR MONTHS AGO THEY BEGAN TO SPREAD TO ALTA VERAPAZ DEPARTMENT. IN ALTA VERAPAZ DEPARTMENT ALONE, SQUATTER INVASIONS OF FINCAS HAVE NOW RISEN TO 41 DIFFERENT FINCAS. THESE SQUATTERS ARE ACTUALLY HARVESTING AND SELLING THE COFFEE ON THE FINCAS.

19. THE SQUATTERS IGNORE ALL AUTHORITIES WHO ASK THEM TO LEAVE, TO INCLUDE NATIONAL POLICE, JUDGES, AND LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMEN. THE ARMY CANNOT ACT TO RETURN THE FINCAS TO THEIR OWNERS FOR FEAR OF CREATING HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. FINCA

OWNERS HAVE EXPRESSED A DESIRE TO HIRE THEIR OWN PRIVATE FORCES TO DISLODGE THE SQUATTERS, BUT ARE REQUESTING THAT THE GOVERNMENT NOT PROSECUTE THEM IF ANYONE IS HARMED WHEN SQUATTERS ARE REMOVED, A REQUEST THE GOVERNMENT OF COURSE CANNOT ACCEDE TO. THIS SITUATION CANNOT GO ON INDEFINITELY. ALREADY PRIVATE LAND OWNERS ARE APPROACHING GENERAL ENRIQUEZ AND ASKING HIM FOR ACTION. THEY CLAIM PRESIDENT DE LEON IS IN FACT EXECUTING A DE FACTO LAND REFORM MUCH AS PRESIDENT ARBENZ ATTEMPTED TO ACCOMPLISH IN THE EARLY FIFTIES BEFORE HE WAS OVERTHROWN IN 1954. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPECTED PRESSURES FROM PRIVATE LANDOWNERS TO INCREASE UNTIL SOME ACTION IS TAKEN ON THIS PROBLEM.

20. OF COURSE, THE PROBLEM IS ALSO TIED IN WITH THE FAILURE OF FINCA OWNERS TO PAY THE MINIMUM WAGE TO THEIR WORKERS. THIS ISSUE WAS ALSO BROUGHT UP BY THE MINISTER OF LABOR DURING THE LAST CABINET MEETING. SHE EXPLAINED THAT ON THE SOUTHEAST COAST, 95 PERCENT OF LANDOWNERS PAY THE MINIMUM WAGE; ON THE SOUTHWEST COAST THE FIGURE IS 80 PERCENT, AND IN ALTA VERAPAZ ONLY 40 PERCENT PAY THE MINIMUM WAGE TO THEIR WORKERS. THE MINISTER OF LABOR COMPLAINED THAT HER OFFICIALS CANNOT GET OUT TO THE FINCAS TO ENFORCE COMPLIANCE WITH THE MINIMUM WAGE, AS THEY DON'T HAVE THE FOUR WHEEL DRIVE VEHICLES NEEDED TO REACH MANY OF THESE FINCAS. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT HE THEN OFFERED THE USE OF TWO PERSONNEL TRANSPORT HELICOPTERS THE ARMY HAS TO TRANSPORT MINISTRY OF LABOR PERSONNEL TO INSPECT FINCAS AND ENFORCE THE MINIMUM WAGE.

PEACE PROCESS AT CRITICAL MOMENT

21. THE AMBASSADOR THEN EXPLAINED THAT DESPITE ALL THE PROBLEMS N HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, SHE DID WANT TO EXPRESS HER APPRECIATION FOR GEN ENRIQUEZ' LEADERSHIP AND EFFORTS TO SUPPORT DEMOCRACY AND THE PEACE PROCESS IN GUATEMALA. HIS EFFORTS HAVE BEEN PARTICULARLY NOTEWORTHY IN ENSURING THE GT ARMY OFFICER CORPS' SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPRESSED HIS APPRECIATION FOR THIS EXPRESSION OF CONFIDENCE. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED GEN ENRIQUEZ FOR HIS PERSPECTIVE ON THE CURRENT STATUS OF THE PEACE TALKS.

22. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THE UPCOMING SESSION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION IS CRITICAL. THE URNG IS BEING ESPECIALLY DEMANDING ON THIS PARTICULAR ISSUE, HOPING THEY CAN USE IT TO CREATE THE CONDITIONS AMONG THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION TO DEVELOP A POLITICAL BASE FOR THEMSELVES IN GUATEMALA, WHICH THEY PRESENTLY LACK. IF AN AGREEMENT CANNOT BE REACHED ON THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION DURING THE NEXT MEETING IN MEXICO CITY, THE TALKS COULD BREAK DOWN. IF AN AGREEMENT IS REACHED, THERE IS A GOOD POSSIBILITY THAT A FINAL PEACE ACCORD WILL BE REACHED BY JUNE 1995.

ARMY PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES

UNCLASSIFIED

23. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE WAS PREPARING FOR HIS MEETING WITH MONICA PINTO, THE UN'S SPECIAL HUMAN RIGHTS REPRESENTATIVE FOR GUATEMALA. HE EXPLAINED THAT EIGHTY PERCENT OF HER PREVIOUS RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ACTIONS TO BE TAKEN BY THE GOG TO IMPROVE HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA HAVE IN FACT EITHER BEEN ACCOMPLISHED OR ARE IN PROGRESS AT THIS TIME. MUCH HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED REGARDING ISSUES AFFECTING THE ARMY. THE ARMY HAS STOPPED FORCED RECRUITMENT, AND A RECRUITMENT LAW IS CURRENTLY WITH THE CONGRESS FOR APPROVAL. THE "ARCHIVOS" INTELLIGENCE SECTION THAT USED TO BE WITH THE PRESIDENTIAL MILITARY STAFF IS BEING CONVERTED TO A CIVILIAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE, AND LEGISLATION FOR THAT CHANGE IS ALSO WITH THE CONGRESS FOR APPROVAL. THE CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE HAS BEEN REFORMED TO TAKE AWAY MUCH OF THE JURISDICTION OF MILITARY LAW OVER GT ARMY PERSONNEL. MILITARY PERSONNEL WILL NOW BE TRIED BY CIVILIAN COURTS RATHER THAN MILITARY TRIBUNALS FOR MOST INFRACTIONS. THESE ARE JUST SOME OF THE REFORMS MADE OR IN PROGESS TO IMPROVE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS WITHIN THE ARMY. A DOCUMENT OUTLINING ALL OF THESE CHANGES WAS TURNED OVER TO MONICA PINTO ON NOVEMBER 24.

COMMENTS.

24. ENCOURAGING IN THIS MEETING WAS GEN ENRIQUEZ' REITERATED INTENTION TO GIVE MINUGUA ACCESS TO EX-GUERRILLAS WHO CONTINUE TO WORK WITH THE GT ARMY AS COLLABORATORS. THESE INDIVIDUALS MAY BE THE ONES THAT EX-GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA AND JENNIFER HARBURY CLAIM ARE IN FACT "PRISONERS" BEING KEPT IN CLANDESTINE PRISONS AT DIFFERENT LOCATIONS AROUND THE COUNTRY. IF MINUGUA IS GRANTED ACCESS TO THESE EX-GUERRILLAS, THEIR TRUE STATUS CAN BE DETERMINED ONCE AND FOR ALL. MINUGUA VERIFICATION CAN ALSO SERVE TO ENSURE THE CONTINUED SAFETY AND PROPER TREATMENT OF THESE EX-GUERRILLAS.

25. LESS HOPEFUL WAS GEN ENRIQUEZ' DISCUSSION OF THE PROGRESS OF THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATON INTO THE WHEREABOUTS OF FORMER ORPA COMMANDER EFRAIN BAMACA. READING BETWEEN THE LINES OF GEN ENRIQUEZ STATEMENTS ABOUT ALLOWING THE OMBUDSMAN TO QUESTION OFFICERS SUSPECTED OF INTERROGATING BAMACA WAS THE INSINUATION THAT THESE OFFICERS, IF QUESTIONED, WOULD DENY EVER HAVING SEEN BAMACA, MUCH LESS HAVING INTERROGATED OR KILLED HIM. THUS THE INVESTIGATION COULD EASILY END UP WITH THE WORD OF SEVERAL GT ARMY OFFICERS AGAINST THE WORD OF ONE EX-GUERRILLA--RESULTING IN AN INCONCLUSIVE CASE, AND NO CLARIFICATION ABOUT WHAT HAPPENED

TO BAMACA.

26. ALSO WORISOME WAS THE INFORMATION ABOUT GROWING NUMBERS OF FINCA INVASIONS AROUND THE COUNTRY. THIS SITUATION COULD EASILY HAVE SEVERE DESTABILIZING EFFECTS ON PRESIDENT DE LEON'S ADMINISTRATION AND THE FRAGILE GUATEMALAN DEMOCRATIC PROCESS ITSELF. IT IS UNLIKELY THAT LANDOWNERS WILL PUT UP WITH THIS SITUATION TOO MUCH LONGER. THE DEMANDS FOR ARMY INTERVENTION TO

RETURN THE FINCAS TO THEIR LANDLORDS WILL CONTINUE TO GROW. IF THE CURRENT ADMINISTRATION AND ARMY LEADERSHIP DOES NOT RESPOND TO THESE DEMANDS TO RESOLVE THE SITUATION, PRIVATE LANDOWNERS COULD ATTEMPT TO SUPPORT HARDLINE OFFICERS IN THE GT ARMY TO OUST THE CURRENT PROGRESSIVE LEADERSHIP, AND FORCE THE PRESIDENT TO TAKE TOUGH MEASURES TO RESTORE ORDER TO THE COUNTRY. THEY COULD ALSO FORM PRIVATE SECURITY FORCES, RAISING THE SPECTRE OF RURAL "DEATH SQUADS."

REF: GUATEMALA 10619

1. I WOULD LIKE TO SHARE MY VIEWS ON THE FUNDAMENTAL US GOVERNMENT INTERESTS IN GUATEMALA AND MY RECOMMENDED ACTIONS, FOR CONSIDERATION AS PART OF THE ON-GOING DEBATE IN WASHINGTON ON US POLICY TOWARD GUATEMALA IN THE CONTEXT OF THE BAMACA CASE.

2. US FOREIGN POLICY INTERESTS IN GUATEMALA ARE BOTH CLEAR AND STRONG:

-- TO SUPPORT AND STRENGTHEN DE LEON'S DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. US ACTION TO HELP RESTORE DEMOCRACY IN MAY 1993 WAS ONE OF THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION'S EARLY FOREIGN POLICY VICTORIES THAT HAS GIVEN GUATEMALANS THE BEST CHANCE THEY HAVE HAD SINCE 1954;

-- TO END THE LAST ARMED CONFLICT IN CENTRAL AMERICA, AFTER 34 YEARS OF BRUTAL AND INHUMANE WAR. DIRECT US INVOLVEMENT AS THE MOST INFLUENTIAL "FRIEND" OF THE PEACE PROCESS IS BRINGING RESULTS AND, WITH LUCK, WILL LEAD TO ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT FOREIGN POLICY PLUS FOR THE ADMINISTRATION WITHIN THE NEXT YEAR; AND .

-- TO CONTINUE THE USG'S STRUGGLE FOR JUSTICE AND HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA, WHICH IS STARTING TO BEAR FRUIT THROUGH PATIENT AND CONSISTENT PRESSURE OVER THE YEARS. IN MY JUDGMENT, FORMAL PEACE IN GUATEMALA AND THE BEGINNING OF RECONCILIATION THAT IT WILL BRING ARE SINE QUA NONS FOR GENUINE, LASTING IMPROVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS HERE.

2. IN THAT CONTEXT, I WOULD RAISE THE FOLLOWING CAUTIONS IN RELATION TO THE BAMACA CASE, WHICH HAS ATTRACTED SO MUCH PUBLIC ATTENTION IN THE UNITED STATES:

-- BAMACA WAS A SEASONED GUERRILLA COMMANDER WHO WAS A LEADER IN A VICIOUS CIVIL WAR. WHILE THE NUMBERS HAVE BEEN SMALLER, THE GUERRILLAS HE LED WITHOUT DOUBT COMMITTED

SECRET

SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, INCLUDING SUMMARY EXECUTIONS OF MILITARY AND CIVILIANS.

-- THE BAMACA CASE IS NOT A SURPRISE. WHILE WE DO NOT KNOW THE DETAILS IN PARTICULAR CASES, WE HAVE KNOWN THAT NEITHER/NEITHER SIDE HAS KEPT PRISONERS WHO HAVE NOT CHOSEN TO DEFECT. THE GUERRILLAS HAVE BEEN NO MORE HUMANE TO COMBATANTS WOUNDED OR CAPTURED IN BATTLE THAN HAS THE ARMY. THE CRITICAL POINT IS THAT UNSPEAKABLE AND UNCONSCIONABLE ACTIONS BY BOTH SIDES MUST END.

-- WHATEVER JENNIFER HARBURY'S INTENT, THE RESULT OF USG ACTION AGAINST GUATEMALA UNDER CURRENT CIRCUMSTANCES WILL, WITHOUT QUESTION, BOOST THE FORTUNES OF THE URNG GUERRILLA MOVEMENT AND ENCOURAGE THEM TO INTENSIFY THEIR STALLING TACTICS IN THE PEACE TALKS. IT IS OUR JUDGMENT THAT NO AGREEMENT IS POSSIBLE WITHOUT STRONG, CONTINUING INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE ON THE URNG TO SETTLE NOW.

-- ANOTHER UNINTENDED RESULT OF USG ACTION AGAINST GUATEMALA WOULD BE TO STRENGTHEN THE HAND OF THE HARD-LINERS IN THE MILITARY AND IN THE CIVIL SOCIETY WHO CONTINUE TO OPPOSE PEACE AND FEAR RECONCILIATION. THE CURRENT MILITARY LEADERSHIP HAS SKILLFULLY FASHIONED A FRAGILE CONSENSUS IN SUPPORT OF THE PROCESS, ON THE UNALTERABLE CONDITION THAT THERE BE NO RETRIBUTION FOR PAST ABUSES. THAT CONSENSUS AND TOUGH INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE AGAINST THE URNG LAST JUNE LED TO AGREEMENT ON A RECONCILATION-BASED "HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION" THAT WOULD NOT NAME NAMES OR WHOSE FINDING WOULD NOT HAVE JUDICIAL CONSEQUENCES.

-- PRESSURING THE MILITARY TO NAME NAMES IN THIS CASE WITH THE OBJECTIVE, AS JENNIFER WISHES, TO PROSECUTE THOSE IMPLICATED IN BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE WOULD TEAR ASUNDER THAT FRAGILE CONSENSUS, PRECIPITATING A WITHDRAWAL OF THE MILITARY'S SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS, AND THEREFORE ITS END. IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR DE LEON TO REACH A PEACE AGREEMENT WITHOUT THE ACTIVE SUPPORT OF THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY.

-- WHILE WE BELIEVE CIVILIAN DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT IS STRENGTHENING IN GUATEMALA, OUR STRONG CAVEAT HAS ALWAYS BEEN "AS LONG AS THE BASIC INSTITUTION OF THE MILITARY IS NOT ITSELF FUNDAMENTALLY THREATENED." PUSHING THE MILITARY TOO HARD ON THIS CASE COULD TIP THAT BALANCE, EVEN PUTTING THE DE LEON ADMINISTRATION AND DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT ITSELF AT RISK.

-- FINALLY, WHILE A "TOUGH STAND" AGAINST GUATEMALA WOULD INITIALLY BE POPULAR IN THE UNITED STATES, THE ADMINISTRATION WOULD FACE AN INCREASING DILEMNA ONCE IT STARTED DOWN THIS

PATH, SINCE THE ARMY VICTORS IN THE WAR WILL NEVER PERMIT ITS MEMBERS TO BE IMPRISONED FOR ACTIONS TAKEN TO DEFEAT THE INSURGENCY. UNSUCCESSFUL ACTION WOULD INCREASE THE PRESSURE FOR STILL TOUGHER MEASURES, LEADING INEVITABLEY TO CRITICISM OF THE ADMINISTRATION FOR FAILURE TO ACHIEVE RESULTS. IN THE WORST CASE SCENARIO, INCREASING PRESSURE COULD LEAD TO THE FALL OF THE DE LEON GOVERNMENT, FACING THE UNITED STATES WITH

3. IN SUM, IT IS NOT REALISTICALLY IN OUR POWER, NOR IN OUR INTEREST, TO TRY TO FORCE DE LEON TO SATISFY HARBURY'S DEMAND FOR FULL, INDIVIDUAL ACCOUNTING AND PROSECUTION IN THIS CASE. DE LEON HAS NOW TOLD ME TWICE THAT 'BAMACA IS DEAD.' I BELIEVE HE IS DEAD AND THAT DE LEON KNOWS THAT TO BE THE CASE.
UTTING CONCRETE PRESSURES ON DE LEON TO PUNISH THOSE RESPONSIBLE IN THIS CASE WILL FORCE HIM TO CHOOSE BETWEEN BENDING TO OUR DEMANDS -- WHICH HE WILL NOT BE ABLE TO SATISFY BECAUSE THE MILITARY WILL CLOSE RANKS AROUND A HARDLINE, NO-COOPERATION STANCE -- WHILE HE DESTROYS THE PEACE PROCESS AND ENDANGERS HIS VERY GOVERNMENT OR FIGHTING BACK STRONGLY AGAINST US PRESSURE. IT WOULD BE NO CHOICE AT

ALL. WE CANNOT HAVE IT BOTH WAYS -- WE CAN'T SEEK TO PUSH PROSECUTION OF THIS CASE THROUGH INCREASING PRESSURE AND CONTINUE TO BE THE STRONG PILLAR OF SUPPORT FOR PEACE AND DEMOCRACY IN THIS COUNTRY THAT WE HAVE BEEN. WE TOO MUST CHOOSE.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

4. IN THE CONTEXT OF JENNIFER HARBURY'S MEETING WITH THE NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR AND OUR PUBLIC REVELATION THAT WE BELIEVE BAMACA WAS CAPTURED ALIVE, DE LEON -- EXTREMELY CONCERNED ABOUT IRREPARABLE DAMAGE TO THE PEACE PROCESS THAT HE REGARDS AS THE CRITICAL OBJECTIVE OF HIS GOVERNMENT AND VITAL TO ENDING HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS -- HAS ASKED FOR AN OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE HIS CASE FOR HELP AND UNDERSTANDING IN A PRIVATE DIRECT CONVERSATION WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON (REFTEL).

WHILE I DO NOT BELIEVE THIS IS NECESSARY AND INDEED COULD ENTAIL GREATER POLITICAL RISKS, I STRONGLY RECOMMEND THAT THE VICE PRESIDENT SEE HIM BRIEFLY AND CONFIDENTIALLY IN MEXICO WHERE BOTH WILL ATTEND THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT-ELECT ZEDILLO, OR IF IMPOSSIBLE TO ARRANGE ON SHORT NOTICE, THAT EITHER THE VICE PRESIDENT OR THE SECRETARY SEE HIM PRIVATELY IN MIAMI ON THE FRINGES OF THE SUMMIT.

5. IN ANTICIPATION OF THAT MEETING, I RECOMMEND THAT I BE AUTHORIZED TO PROPOSE TO DE LEON FOR HIS PRIOR CONSIDERATION THE FOLLOWING OUTLINE FOR A POSSIBLE SOLUTION TO THIS CASE TO ADVANCE BOTH PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA:

-- HE WILL PUBLICLY ANNOUNCE THAT HIS PERSONAL INQUIRIES INTO THE CASE HAVE REVEALED THAT BAMACA WAS INDEED A PRISONER OF THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY, BUT IS NOW DEAD.

-- (IF TRUE) HE HAS SEEN NO EVIDENCE INDICATING THE PRECISE CIRCUMSTANCES, OR THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR BAMACA'S DEATH.

-- UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, HE WILL TURN ALL OF THE INFORMATION HE HAS ON THE CASE OVER TO THE HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION, AS PROVIDED FOR IN THE ACCORD SIGNED WITH THE URNG IN JUNE, 1994.

-- JENNIFER HARBURY WILL OF COURSE BE FREE TO PURSUE LEGAL ACTIONS IN GUATEMALAN COURTS, IN ACCORDANCE WITH GUATEMALAN LAW.

-- HE WILL MAKE A PERSONAL COMMITMENT TO ENSURING THAT THE RIGHTS OF ANY COMBATANTS CAPTURED IN THE COURSE OF THIS WAR

ARE FULLY PROTECTED, IN ACCORDANCE WITH INTERNATIONAL LAW.

-- AS A FIRST STEP, HE HAS ORDERED THAT ALL FORMER GUERRILLAS CURRENTLY UNDER THE PROTECTION OF THE MILITARY FORCES OR RESIDING ON MILITARY BASES BE IMMEDIATELY MADE AVAILABLE FOR PRIVATE INTERVIEWS WITH MEMBERS OF MINUGUA. MINUGUA'S RECOMMENDATIONS AS TO THE MILITARY'S FUTURE INVOLVEMENT WITH THESE FORMER GUERRILLAS WILL BE ADOPTED.

-- HE WILL ORDER THE MILITARY TO IMMEDIATELY TURN OVER TO MINUGUA ANY URNG COMBATANTS CAPTURED BY, OR WHO TURN THEMSELVES IN TO, THE MILITARY IN THE FUTURE.

-- THE FRIENDS OF THE PEACE PROCESS WILL JOIN WITH HIM IN A CALL ON THE URNG TO MAKE A SIMILAR PUBLIC COMMITMENT AS TO THE TREATMENT OF ANY GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL NOW HELD BY THEM OR WHO MAY BE CAPTURED AS PART OF THE ON-GOING INSURGENCY.

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PHUM, PINS, PREL, PGOV, EAID, GT
SUBJECT: DRL ASSISTANT SECRETARY JOHN SHATTUCK MEETS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: DRL ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE JOHN SHATTUCK, AMBASSADOR MCAFEE MET NOVEMBER 18 WITH HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA. A/S SHATTUCK AND THE AMBASSADOR PUSHED THE OMBUDSMAN TO BECOME PROACTIVE ON BOTH THE "LA EXACTA" CASE AND THE BAMACA DISAPPEARANCE, AS WELL AS BUILDING UP AN INVESTIGATIVE CAPACITY. GARCIA LAGUARDIA CONSIDERS HIS ROLE IN THE "LA EXACTA" INCIDENT CLOSED AND PROMISED TO GRUDGINGLY MOVE ON THE BAMACA CASE. END SUMMARY.

3. DRL ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE JOHN SHATTUCK, AMBASSADOR MCAFEE, AID DIRECTOR RHODES, POLOFF KUSNITZ AND AIDOFF SLOAN VISITED THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA, IN HIS DOWNTOWN GUATEMALA CITY OFFICE ON NOVEMBER 18. TOPICS COVERED WITH OMBUDSMAN GARCIA LAGUARDIA INCLUDED THE PEACE PROCESS, THE BAMACA CASE, THE FINCA LA EXACTA CASE AND THE RECENT ARRIVAL OF MINUGUA.

OVERVIEW

4. ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK BEGAN THE MEETING BY GIVING AN OVERVIEW OF HIS VISIT TO GUATEMALA AND EMPHASIZING THE COMMITMENT HE HAS OBSERVED ON BEHALF OF THE PRESIDENT, GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND CIVIL SOCIETY TO THE PEACE PROCESS, JUSTICE, DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS. THE OMBUDSMAN RESPONDED BY NOTING THE SITUATION IN GUATEMALA IS VERY "DELICATE." GARCIA LAGUARDIA EMPHASIZED THE PEACE PROCESS IS THE KEY TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF DEMOCRACY IN GUATEMALA.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK STATED THE U.S. CURRENTLY SUPPORTS, AND WILL CONTINUE TO SUPPORT, HIS EFFORTS IN THE PEACE PROCESS, POINTING OUT, HOWEVER, THAT GARCIA LAGUARDIA MUST PROVIDE LEADERSHIP ON HUMAN RIGHTS MATTERS. THE OMBUDSMAN EXPRESSED HIS APPRECIATION FOR U.S. SUPPORT.

CASES

5. ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK LED THE CONVERSATION INTO A DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC CASES BY STATING THESE CASES, AND ISSUES OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN GENERAL, HAVE MOVED INTO THE FOREFRONT OF THE PEACE PROCESS. HE STRESSED THAT THESE CASES REPRESENT HURDLES THAT MUST BE OVERCOME TO MOVE FORWARD WITH THE PEACE PROCESS. THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY ALSO POINTED OUT THE VERY STRONG INTEREST HE HAS NOTED OF THE GUATEMALAN CONGRESS, PRESIDENT, MINISTER OF DEFENSE AND CIVIL SECTOR GROUPS IN RESOLVING THESE CASES IN THE SHORT TERM.

LA EXACTA

6. TURNING TO THE FINCA LA EXACTA INCIDENT, ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK POINTED OUT THAT IT NOT ONLY REPRESENTS A SERIOUS CASE OF HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSE, BUT ALSO HAS IMPLICATIONS ON THE LABOR AND TRADE FRONTS. THE OMBUDSMAN INDICATED HIS OFFICE HAS BEEN INVOLVED IN THIS CASE SINCE ITS INCEPTION. IT BEGAN AS A LABOR RIGHTS CASE AND SHOULD HAVE BEEN RESOLVED EARLY ON BY THE LABOR MINISTRY AND THE PUBLIC MINISTRY. UNFORTUNATELY, ARREST WARRANTS HAD BEEN ISSUED FOR SOME OF THE PROTESTERS AND A CONFRONTATION BETWEEN THEM AND THE POLICE ESCALATED TO THE VIOLENCE THAT LED TO SEVERAL DEATHS. THE OMBUDSMAN POINTED OUT THE LACK OF A PROFESSIONAL POLICE FORCE WAS READILY EVIDENT IN THE BEHAVIOR OF THE SECURITY FORCES DURING THE INCIDENT. THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION IS COMPLETE AND HE HAS REQUESTED THE REMOVAL OF THE POLICE CHIEFS IN CHARGE AT THE TIME AND THE PROSECUTION OF THE OFFICERS INVOLVED.

7. THE AMBASSADOR INQUIRED AS TO WHAT HAD HAPPENED TO THE LEADERS WHO WERE TAKEN AWAY DURING THE INCIDENT AND HAVE EITHER DISAPPEARED OR TURNED UP DEAD. THE OMBUDSMAN STATED THAT THEY HAVE TURNED THE CASE OVER TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE FOR ACTION, BUT TO DATE NO ACTION IS APPARENT. GARCIA LAGUARDIA ALSO NOTED THAT WHILE HIS OFFICE HAD INVESTIGATED THE FARM INCIDENT ITSELF, IT HAD NOT LOOKED INTO THE DISAPPEARANCE AND MURDER OF THE CAMPESINO LEADER WHO'S BODY WAS FOUND 60 KMS FROM THE FARM.

BAMACA CASE

8. ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK POINTED OUT THAT A CLEAR RESOLUTION OF THE BAMACA CASE IS ESSENTIAL TO THE PEACE PROCESS. HE STATED THE CASE SHOULD BE LOOKED AT IN THE LARGER CONTEXT OF WHAT HAPPENS TO COMBATANTS TAKEN PRISONER BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY. IN HIS CONVERSATIONS WITH THE PRESIDENT AND THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, THEY ASSURED HIM OF THEIR WILLINGNESS TO INVESTIGATE AND TO COOPERATE ON THIS CASE. HE ALSO MENTIONED THAT MINUGUA HAD EXPRESSED ITS WILLINGNESS TO SUPPORT THE OMBUDSMAN'S EFFORTS IN THIS CASE. A/S SHATTUCK THEN ASKED THE OMBUDSMAN WHAT HIS OFFICE IS DOING ON THE CASE, IN RESPONSE TO THE SUPREME COURT'S

United States Department of State
Office of FOI, Privacy, & Classification Review
Review Authority: MOSKOWITZ, SAM
Date: 09/08/95
Case ID: 951222D4

RECOMMENDATION THAT THE OMBUDSMAN CARRY OUT A FULL INVESTIGATION.

9. THE OMBUDSMAN RESPONDED THAT THE CASE IS NOT NEW TO HIS OFFICE, THAT IT HAD BEEN ORIGINALLY CONSIDERED BY THE PREVIOUS OMBUDSMAN (I.E., THE CURRENT PRESIDENT) WHO ASSISTED MS. HARBURY. GARCIA LAGUARDIA STATED HE OPENED A FILE ON THE CASE IN JANUARY, SINCE HE FOUND NO OFFICIAL FILE ON THE CASE AT THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE. HE IS PROCEEDING TO INVESTIGATE, AS DIRECTED BY THE SUPREME COURT UNDER AN ARTICLE OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE THAT ALLOWS THE SUPREME COURT TO ORDER FURTHER INVESTIGATION WHEN A HABEAS CORPUS PETITION IS NOT SATISFACTORILY RESOLVED, AS IN THIS CASE.

10. THE OMBUDSMAN NOTED THAT THIS CASE ILLUSTRATES THE WEAKNESS OF THE GUATEMALAN JUSTICE SYSTEM, AS THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE OR THE SUPREME COURT SHOULD HAVE INVESTIGATED MORE THOROUGHLY IN THE FIRST PLACE. HE STATED THAT HE RESPECTS THE MANDATE OF THE SUPREME COURT, AND WILL MOVE FORWARD WITH THE INVESTIGATION. HE HAS ALREADY MET WITH HARBURY AND HER LAWYERS AND IS AWAITING MORE INFORMATION FROM THEM. HE POINTED OUT THAT THERE HAVE BEEN DELAYS BECAUSE THIS IS THE FIRST TIME THIS PROVISION OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE HAS BEEN USED, AND THERE WERE PROCEDURAL ERRORS COMMITTED BY THE SUPREME COURT WHICH ARE BEING CORRECTED.

11. WHILE MS. HARBURY HAS PROVIDED THE OMBUDSMAN WITH AN EXTENSIVE INTERVIEW, HE STILL AWAITS AN OAS VIDEO PROMISED BY HER LAWYERS WHICH NAMES MILITARY OFFICERS SUPPOSEDLY IMPLICATED IN THE CASE. HE WILL CONDUCT INTERVIEWS WITH THESE OFFICERS ONCE HE HAS THE INFORMATION. THE AMBASSADOR URGED GARCIA LAGUARDIA NOT TO WAIT, NOTING THE NAMES HAD ALREADY APPEARED IN THE PRESS. THE OMBUDSMAN THEN CATEGORICALLY STATED THAT HIS OFFICE IS NOT AN INVESTIGATIVE ORGANIZATION. HE CLAIMS IT DOES NOT HAVE THE RESOURCES OR THE INFRASTRUCTURE TO CARRY OUT INVESTIGATIONS AS TASKED BY THE NEW PENAL CODE. GARCIA LAGUARDIA NOTED HE WOULD REQUEST SUPPORT FROM THE UN, BOTH MONICA PINTO AND MINUGUA, TO ASSIST IN THIS AREA.

12. AMBASSADOR THEN REMINDED THE OMBUDSMAN HE HAD INDICATED TO HER IN A PREVIOUS MEETING THAT HE HAD ALREADY REQUESTED THIS ASSISTANCE FROM MINUGUA. HOWEVER, IN A MEETING ON 11/17 WITH MINUGUA, IT INDICATED IT HAS NOT YET RECEIVED THIS REQUEST. THE OMBUDSMAN REPLIED HE HAS ONLY MENTIONED THIS REQUEST TO MINUGUA HEAD LEONARDO FRANCO AND ITS PRIOR ACTING DIRECTOR (FERNANDO CASTANON), BUT HAS NOT SUBMITTED A FORMAL REQUEST. (NOTE: HE HAS SUBSEQUENTLY DONE SO.) THE AMBASSADOR THEN POINTED OUT THE SUPREME COURT ONLY ALLOWS A 30 DAY PERIOD FOR THIS INVESTIGATION AND A WEEK HAD ALREADY TRANSPIRED. THE OMBUDSMAN SAID HE HAS HAS REQUESTED AN EXTENSION DUE TO THE PROCEDURAL DELAYS CAUSED BY THE SUPREME COURT.

13. ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK INDICATED THAT THIS INVESTIGATION WILL REQUIRE COORDINATION AMONGST A NUMBER OF DIFFERENT ENTITIES AND THAT IT IS CRITICAL FOR THE CASE TO MOVE FORWARD SO IT IS NOT AN OBSTACLE TO THE PEACE PROCESS. AS FRIENDS OF GUATEMALA, WE WANT TO SEE THE PEACE PROCESS MOVE FORWARD. THE OMBUDSMAN STATED HE WILL DO AS THE LAW REQUIRES. IN

THIS CASE HE NEEDS EVERYONE'S COOPERATION, ESPECIALLY THAT OF MS. HARBURY AND HER LAWYERS, SO THAT HIS OFFICE CAN HAVE ALL OF THE INFORMATION, INCLUDING THE VIDEO -- WHICH HAD BEEN PROMISED A WEEK AGO BUT AS YET HAS NOT BEEN DELIVERED. THE AMBASSADOR AGAIN

POINTED OUT THAT THE NAMES OF OFFICERS MENTIONED ON THE VIDEO HAVE ALREADY BEEN MADE PUBLIC.

14. THE OMBUDSMAN THEN OBSERVED THAT THERE MUST BE REAL WILL ON BEHALF OF THE AUTHORITIES TO RESOLVE THE CASE. HE WILL DO WHAT HE CAN, AND THE NEWS THAT THE PRESIDENT AND MINISTER OF DEFENSE ARE COMMITTED TO RESOLVING THE CASE, IS GOODS NEWS, HE STATED. A/S SHATTUCK STATED THAT THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE HAD SPECIFICALLY OFFERED TWO THINGS: (1) ALL WITNESSES

NAMED BY HARBURY WILL BE MADE AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEWS, AND (2) HE IS WILLING TO HAVE THE CAPTURE OF BAMACA AND ANY SUBSEQUENT ACTIONS REENACTED. THE MOD SAYS HE IS AT THE DISPOSAL OF ALL INVESTIGATIVE AGENCIES AND WILL FULLY COOPERATE. THE AMBASSADOR POINTED OUT THAT SOMEONE MUST REQUEST THIS COOPERATION AND THE OMBUDSMAN SAID HE WOULD DO SO.

INVESTIGATIVE ROLE OF THE OMBUDSMAN

15. ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK EXPRESSED CONCERN TO THE OMBUDSMAN THAT HIS IMPORTANT INVESTIGATIVE FUNCTION IS LIMITED WITH ONLY THREE INVESTIGATORS ON HIS STAFF AND SAID THAT THE U.S. IS WILLING TO SUPPORT GARCIA LAGUARDIA IN THIS AREA. THE OMBUDSMAN ANSWERED THAT THE SUBJECT OF THE INVESTIGATIVE FUNCTION IS A DIFFICULT ONE AND THAT

UNTIL LATER

16. ASSISTANT SECRETARY SHATTUCK THANKED THE OMBUDSMAN FOR TAKING TIME OUT FOR THIS INTERVIEW AND ASKED HIM TO PLEASE FOLLOW UP WITH MINUGUA. THE OMBUDSMAN ASSURED HIM THAT HE WOULD CONTACT FRANCO ON NOVEMBER 21 REGARDING THE HARBURY CASE. THE AMBASSADOR INQUIRED AS TO WHO WAS IN CHARGE OF THIS MATTER IN HIS OFFICE AND THE OMBUDSMAN STATED HE HAS ASSIGNED DEPUTY OMBUDSMAN RICARDO ALVARADO TO THE CASE. COMMENT: JUMP START

17. THIS MEET[illegible] WAS IMPORTANT TO ENCOURAGE GARCIA LAGUARDIA TO TAKE SERIOUSLY HIS TASKING TO INVESTIGATE THE BAMACA CASE AND TO REBUILD HIS INVESTIGATIVE CAPACITY. WE ARE NOT SANGUINE HE WILL

Background Information: Harbury/Bamaca Case

Foreign Minister de Vielman will plead for USG understanding of the difficulty the de Leon administration faces in acting forcefully on the case of Efrain Bamaca, a Guatemalan guerrilla who disappeared in 1992. It is important to reaffirm the USG's interest in improved human rights in Guatemala, while also expressing our continued support for the peace process and for de Leon's desire to strengthen democracy and respect for human rights.

Bamaca Case

This case first came to our attention in March 1993, when Harbury approached our embassy in Guatemala to seek assistance in locating the remains or determining the whereabouts of her common-law husband, who had disappeared after a battle with the Guatemalan army the year before. Although Bamaca was originally believed killed in battle, two ex-guerrillas told the UN and the OAS in 1993 that they had seen him and other guerrillas in clandestine army captivity. Harbury has made a high-profile effort since then to learn of Bamaca's fate, including two hunger strikes, an appearance on "60 Minutes," and a November 21 meeting with National Security Adviser Lake and the Vice President's National Security Adviser, Leon Fuerth.

Our embassy has provided extensive assistance to Harbury and has pressed the Guatemalan government repeatedly and at the highest levels for a thorough and transparent investigation of the case. We have told President de Leon and Harbury that, according to all information available to us, the Guatemalan military did in fact capture Bamaca, who was lightly wounded. We have no reports to indicate that Bamaca was alive much beyond the first few weeks after his capture. We have urged de Leon to conduct a complete investigation, which is now underway. (Assistant Secretary Shattuck visited Guatemala November 16-18 to press this point.)

B1

Harbury returned to Guatemala on November 28. The following day, the GOG announced that it was taking legal action to force Harbury to file criminal charges within fifteen days against Guatemalan military officials, as she had publicly declared she was going to do. Harbury cannot leave the country during this fifteen-day period. Last week, the Guatemalan Attorney General publicly declared that the GOG may file criminal charges against Harbury for "defaming" the Guatemalan state -- a move that is apparently legal under Guatemalan law, but which has only served to worsen the GOG's image with Congressional staffers, NGOs and others in the U.S.

US Interests in Guatemala and the Bamaca Case

The principal US interests in Guatemala are the maintenance of civilian rule, the strengthening of its fragile democratic institutions, and the modernization of Guatemala's economy to increase the well-being of the majority of Guatemala's population. Critical to our successful efforts to advance these interests have been strong stands on human rights (including suspension of all military assistance since 1990) and support for a fitful peace process which has finally taken on real momentum in 1994.

The Guatemalan government regards our pressure about this case and our assistance to Harbury as evidence that we have tilted toward the guerrillas, whom they regard with some justification as bent on derailing the peace process. The GOG maintains that Harbury is an agent, or at the very least a pawn, of the URNG. They are skeptical about Harbury's claim that she was married to Bamaca and point to her inability to produce any photos of the couple together. The GOG believes that Harbury is serving the URNG's desire to delay a final peace accord indefinitely.

Peace Process

Considerable progress has been made in resolving Guatemala's long-running internal conflict since UN-mediated peace talks began in January 1994. The U.S. has also played an important role in keeping the talks on track as one of six international "Friends" of the peace process (along with Mexico, Norway, Spain, Colombia, and Venezuela). The parties signed a framework agreement in January 1994, including a calendar of negotiation topics, to include discussions on human rights, displaced persons, indigenous issues, socio-economic reform and agrarian matters and the army's role in a democracy. So far this year, agreements on human rights, displaced persons and an Historical Clarification Commission have been signed. The March 29 human rights accord provided for the establishment of a UN verification mission to strengthen existing institutions to improve respect for human rights. That mission [acronym: MINUGUA] was approved by the UN General Assembly in September. A preliminary mission began work in Guatemala in mid-September; the full mission, which ultimately will employ about 300 people, was inaugurated November 21.

The Historical Clarification Commission, which will be established after a final peace accord is signed, will not name names of perpetrators of past human rights violations and its findings will not have judicial effect. The subsequent backlash from URNG troops and sympathizers was a major factor contributing to stalling of the talks from July to October. Although negotiations have resumed in Mexico and are currently underway to discuss the issue of indigenous rights, a final peace accord in the near future is by no means assured.

TAGS: PHUM, PINS, PREL, PGOV, MARR, GT
SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR DISCUSSES BAMACA AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS CASES WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE

[redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. AMBASSADOR, ACCOMPANIED BY DEFENSE ATTACHE, MET WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE GEN ENRIQUEZ OVER BREAKFAST ON NOVEMBER 22. THE AMBASSADOR USED THE OPPORTUNITY TO PRESS GEN ENRIQUEZ STRONGLY FOR A RESOLUTION OF THE BAMACA CASE, AS WELL AS OTHER PENDING HUMAN RIGHTS CASES. GEN ENRIQUEZ PLEDGED TO FULLY COOPERATE WITH THE OMBUDSMAN AND SOLICITOR GENERAL'S

INVESTIGATIONS INTO THE CASE, AND ALSO EXPLAINED THAT HE WILL GIVE MINUGUA ACCESS TO EX-GUERRILLAS WHO ARE STILL WITH THE GT ARMY AS COLLABORATORS. GEN ENRIQUEZ DESCRIBED HIS ATTEMPTS TO PERSUADE CPT CONTRERAS TO TURN HIMSELF IN, AND BECAUSE HE HAD VIOLATED THE MINISTERS CONFIDENCE, ALL SUPPORT HAD BEEN CUT OFF, TO INCLUDE CPT CONTRERAS' SALARY PAYMENTS TO HIS FAMILY.

3. GEN ENRIQUEZ DESCRIBED HOW THE GROWING NUMBER OF FINCA INVASIONS, NOW QUICKLY SPREADING THROUGHOUT ALTA VERAPAZ DEPARTMENT AS WELL AS THE SOUTHERN COAST, WERE UNDERMINING THE AUTHORITY OF THE GOG AS WELL AS PRESIDENT DE LEON HIMSELF. PRIVATE LANDOWNERS ARE INCREASINGLY COMING TO HIM DEMANDING ACTION TO RESTORE THE FINCAS TO THEIR LANDLORDS. GEN ENRIQUEZ STILL HAD HOPES FOR THE PEACE PROCESS, BUT SAW THE UPCOMING ROUND AS PERHAPS CRITICAL TO THE CONTINUATION OR BREAKDOWN OF THE PEACE PROCESS. GEN ENRIQUEZ PROUDLY EXPLAINED THE NUMEROUS AREAS IN WHICH THE GT ARMY HAD MADE PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, WHICH HE WAS LOOKING FORWARD TO EXPLAINING TO THE SPECIAL UN REPRESENTATIVE, MONICA PINTO, ON NOVEMBER 23. END SUMMARY.

RUMORS ROIL IN GUATEMALA

4. THE AMBASSADOR, ACCOMPANIED BY THE DEFENSE ATTACHE, MET WITH THE GUATEMALAN MINISTER OF DEFENSE (MOD), MAJOR GENERAL MARIO RENE ENRIQUEZ MORALES, OVER BREAKFAST ON NOVEMBER 23. GEN. ENRIQUEZ GREETED THE AMBASSADOR BY CHUCKLING THAT HE HAD JUST BEEN REVIEWING SOME OF THE RUMORS THAT HAVE BEEN CIRCULATING. HE ADDED THAT GUATEMALA IS THE LAND OF RUMORS, YOU KNOW. ONE RUMOR WAS THAT HE, GEN ENRIQUEZ, WOULD RETIRE WITHIN A MONTH. QUICKLY MOVING TO ANOTHER TOPIC, GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT THE

GUATEM 10728 00 OF 05 3818847Z SHC6341

OTHER RUMOR WAS THAT HE AND THE AMBASSADOR HAD STRAINED RELATIONS. HE EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD ONLY RECENTLY BEEN ASKED BY A REPORTER TO EXPLAIN WHY HE AND THE AMBASSADOR HAD FALLEN OUT. THIS PARTICULAR RUMOR CLAIMED THAT HAD GEN ENRIQUEZ GONE AHEAD WITH HIS VISIT TO WASHINGTON, D.C. IN LATE NOVEMBER, THE AMBASSADOR WOULD HAVE RECOMMENDED THAT ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE ALEXANDER WATSON AND SECRETARY OF DEFENSE WILLIAM PERRY NOT GRANT HIM OFFICE CALLS, AS THEY WOULD LOSE PRESTIGE BY RECEIVING HIM ("DESPRESTIGIARSE").

AMBASSADOR PRESSES BAMACA CASE

5. THE AMBASSADOR THEN EXPLAINED THAT SHE CONTINUED TO BE EXTREMELY CONCERNED ABOUT THE CASE OF MISSING GUERRILLA COMMANDER EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ, THE HUSBAND OF U.S. CITIZEN JENNIFER HARBURY. SHE EXPLAINED THAT IF THIS CASE IS NOT RESOLVED BY THE ONGOING INVESTIGATIONS, IT WOULD HAVE SEVERE IMPLICATIONS FOR OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS. SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS AND DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS REMAIN THE DEFINING GOALS OF U.S. FOREIGN POLICY TOWARDS GUATEMALA. THE BAMACA CASE COULD BECOME A CRITICAL ELEMENT IN OUR RELATIONS, HOWEVER.

6. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT HE IS WELL AWARE OF THE GRAVITY

OF THE CASE, AND WILL FULLY COOPERATE WITH THE ONGOING INVESTIGATION BEING CONDUCTED BY THE GUATEMALAN HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA. HE HAS ALREADY INSTRUCTED ALL OF HIS COMMANDERS TO OPEN THEIR DOORS TO THE OMBUDSMAN AND LET HIM SEE ANYTHING HE WANTS. LIKEWISE, HE HAS INSTRUCTED THAT IF THE OMBUDSMAN WANTS TO QUESTION ANY OFFICER HE SUSPECTS OF BEING INVOLVED WITH THE CASE, THEY ARE TO COMPLY AND COOPERATE FULLY. AFTER ALL, HE TOLD THE OFFICERS, IT WILL SIMPLY BE YOUR WORD AGAINST THE EX-GUERRILLA, SANTIAGO CABRERA LOPEZ, WHO HAS RECENTLY GIVEN TESTIMONY BEFORE THE OAS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IN WASHINGTON.

7. THE AMBASSADOR INTERJECTED TO THE MOD THAT HE SHOULD BE AWARE THAT THE USG HAS RELIABLE INFORMATION FROM SEVERAL CREDIBLE SOURCES THAT THE ARMY DID INDEED CAPTURE BAMACA ALIVE IN MARCH OF 1992, AND SUBSEQUENTLY HAD HIM UNDER INTERROGATION FOR SOME TIME AFTERWARDS. THEREFORE THE ARMY MUST KNOW WHAT HAPPENED TO HIM. GEN ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED THAT YES, HE IS AWARE THAT THE USG HAS SUCH INFORMATION. THE CHIEF OF STAFF, MAJOR GENERAL MARCO ANTONIO GONZALEZ TARACENA, HAD COME TO SEE HIM VERY CONCERNED AFTER THE DATT AND MILGP CDR HAD INFORMED HIM OF THIS SAME INFORMATION. HE AND GEN GONZALEZ HAD DISCUSSED THE POSSIBLE CONSEQUENCES OF THE BAMACA CASE, TO INCLUDE THE POSSIBILITY THAT

FUERTES CAMINOS 95 COULD BE CANCELED. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN MENTIONED THAT HE WOULD LIKE TO HAVE MORE DETAILS OF THE USG INFORMATION THAT HAD BEEN MENTIONED, TO INCLUDE WHAT OFFICERS HAD BEEN INVOLVED AND WHERE SO THEY CAN BE INVESTIGATED.

8. THE DATT ASKED GEN ENRIQUEZ WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF THE OMBUDSMAN DISCOVERED THAT SOME ARMY OFFICERS HAD INDEED INTERROGATED BAMACA AND THEN POSSIBLY KILLED HIM. HE REPLIED THAT THESE OFFICERS WOULD THEN HAVE TO BE TRIED IN COURT. THE DATT FOLLOWED UP BY ASKING IF SUCH TRIALS WOULD CAUSE INTERNAL PROBLEMS IN THE ARMY, AS CONVICTED OFFICERS MIGHT PROVIDE INFORMATION ON OTHER OFFICERS WHO ABUSED CAPTURED GUERRILLAS IN THE PAST. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN LAUGHED AND RESPONDED THAT THEN ALL GT ARMY OFFICERS WOULD GO TO JAIL, AND WOULDN'T THAT BE A GOOD PURIFICATION ("DEPURACION") OF THE ARMY?

9. THE AMBASSADOR REEMPHASIZED THAT THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION MUST PRODUCE GENUINE RESULTS OR THERE WOULD BE [redacted] USG-GOG BILATERAL RELATIONSHIP. THE

UNCLASSIFIED

AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT LIKEWISE THERE WERE OTHER PENDING CASES THAT REMAINED UNRESOLVED, SUCH AS THE MURDERS OF U.S. REPORTERS NICK BLAKE AND GRIFFIN DAVIS; THE UNRESOLVED KIDNAPPING, RAPE AND TORTURE OF U.S. CITIZEN DIANA ORTIZ; AND THE ISSUE OF CPT CONTRERAS, CONVICTED FOR HIS INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF U.S. CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE, STILL BEING AT LARGE.

SOLICITOR GENERAL INVESTIGATION ON BAMACA CASE

10. GEN ENRIQUEZ REPEATED THAT THE GT ARMY WOULD GIVE ITS FULL COOPERATION TO THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION. THE OTHER AVENUE STILL AVAILABLE WAS THE INVESTIGATION BEING CONDUCTED BY THE SOLICITOR GENERAL, ACISCLO VALLADARES. VALLADARES HAD EVEN DISCUSSED WITH THE MOD THE POSSIBILITY OF RECREATING THE COMBAT SKIRMISH IN WHICH BAMACA WAS KILLED. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE CERTAINLY COULD MAKE MOST IF NOT ALL OF THE OFFICERS AVAILABLE WHO WERE THERE AT THE TIME, BUT THE ENLISTED PERSONNEL

WOULD BE MORE OF A PROBLEM. HOWEVER, HE THEN SPECULATED THAT THIS WOULD PROBABLY END UP BEING JUST ANOTHER OF VALLADARES' SHOWS, AND WOULDN'T REALLY CLARIFY VERY MUCH, ESPECIALLY SINCE IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE TO ASSEMBLE THE GUERRILLA PARTICIPANTS IN THE COMBAT ACTION.

11. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN RELATED THAT HE HAD BEEN ASKED TO ALLOW A COUNTER-DEMONSTRATION AGAINST JENNIFER HARBURY WHILE SHE WAS ON HER HUNGER STRIKE IN THE CENTRAL PLAZA, BUT HAD PROHIBITED IT. SEVERAL PERSONS HAD COME TO HIM ASKING PERMISSION TO GATHER ALL THE WAR WIDOWS AND CRIPPLED SOLDIERS WHO HAD SERVED IN COMBAT AGAINST THE ORPA'S LUIS IXMATA FRONT AROUND SAN MARCOS WHERE EFRAIN BAMACA HAD BEEN A COMMANDER. THESE PERSONS WOULD HAVE BEEN TAKEN TO THE CENTRAL PLAZA CARRYING SIGNS SAYING "THIS IS WHAT BAMACA DID TO ME," OR "THIS IS THE LOVED ONE BAMACA TOOK AWAY FROM ME," FOR EXAMPLE. THESE PEOPLE WOULD THEN HAVE CONFRONTED HARBURY WITH THEIR COMPLAINTS AGAINST BAMACA. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD DISAPPROVED THIS ACTIVITY, AS IT OULD HAVE SIMPLY BEEN USING POOR WIDOWS AND CRIPPLES FOR A POLITICAL PURPOSE, MUCH AS JENNIFER HARBURY IS DOING WITH THE DISAPPEARANCE OF EFRAIN BAMACA.

STATUS OF MICHAEL DEVINE CASE REVIEWED

12. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE HAD BEEN VERY DISAPPOINTED WHEN CPT CONTRERAS HAD NOT RESPONDED THROUGH AN INTERMEDIARY TO ENRIQUEZ' OFFER THAT CONTRERAS TURN HIMSELF IN TO THE JUSTICE SYSTEM, IN RETURN FOR THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE'S ASSISTANCE IN APPEALING HIS CONVICTION. AS A RESULT, ENRIQUEZ HAD PERSONALLY SIGNED THE ORDER TO END CPT CONTRERAS' SALARY PAYMENTS TO HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN, WHO CONTINUE TO RESIDE IN GUATEMALA CITY.

MANY OFFICERS HAD CRITICIZED HIM FOR STOPPING THESE PAYMENTS. HE HAD ALSO SECRETLY OFFERED 25,000 DOLLARS TO ANY GT ARMY OFFICER WHO COULD PERSUADE CPT CONTRERAS TO TURN HIMSELF IN, WHICH LIKEWISE HAD NOT PRODUCED RESULTS. GEN ENRIQUEZ CONCLUDED THAT CPT CONTRERAS HAD VIOLATED HIS CONFIDENCE, AND THEREFORE WOULD RECEIVE NO HELP FROM THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE IN THE FUTURE IF HE IS CAPTURED. HE ADDED THAT CPT CONTRERAS WILL FALL EVENTUALLY. THE AMBASSADOR AGAIN EMPHASIZED THAT THIS CASE ALSO WOULD AFFECT THE USG RELATIONSHIP WITH THE GOG AS LONG AS IT REMAINED UNRESOLVED.

13. GOING BACK TO THE ISSUE OF FUERTES CAMINOS, GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THE GT ARMY WOULD COMPLY WITH THE REQUESTS MADE EARLIER BY [redacted] TO REMOVE CERTAIN OFFICERS INVOLVED IN THE COVERUP OF THE DEVINE MURDER WHO ARE CURRENTLY ASSIGNED TO MILITARY ZONE 10 IN JUTIAPA WHERE FUERTES CAMINOS 95 WOULD BE BASED. THE THIRD COMMANDER THERE, COL JULIO ALPIREZ, HAD ALREADY BEEN REMOVED AND SENT TO BE IN CHARGE OF SECURITY AT THE LA AURORA AIRPORT IN GUATEMALA CITY. THE ZONE COMMANDER, COL CESAR AUGUSTO SOSA MEJIA, WOULD BE REMOVED IN

JANUARY AS PART OF THE NORMAL ROTATIONS THAT COME OUT WITH THE END OF YEAR GENERAL ORDER. [redacted] B1

GENERAL OFFICER PROMOTIONS

14. GEN ENRIQUEZ CONTINUED THAT HE AND GEN GONZALEZ HAD

RECENTLY MET TO DISCUSS THE NEXT PROMOTIONS TO GENERAL OFFICER. THE CANDIDATES INCLUDED COLONEL HECTOR MARIO BARRIOS CELADA, THE COMMANDER OF MILITARY ZONE 20 AT SANTA CRUZ DEL QUICHE; COLONEL MARCO TULIO ESPINOZA CONTRERAS, COMMANDER OF THE NORTHERN AIRBASE; AND COLONEL MARIO ROBERTO GARCIA CATALAN, COMMANDER OF MILITARY ZONE 302 IN CHIMALTENANGO. (NOTE: COL GARCIA CATALAN WAS THE COMMANDER OF MILITARY ZONE 23 IN THE PETEN WHEN MICHAEL DEVINE WAS MURDERED THERE IN 1990, AND IS HEAVILY IMPLICATED IN BOTH THE MURDER AND THE SUBSEQUENT ARMY COVERUP OF THE MURDER.) GEN GONZALEZ HAD EXPLAINED THAT HE FULLY CONCURRED WITH THE PROMOTIONS OF COLONELS BARRIOS AND ESPINOZA, BUT WOULD LEAVE THE ECISION TO GEN ENRIQUEZ ON WHETHER OR NOT TO PROMOTE COL GARCIA CATALAN.

16. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN DISCUSSED THE GREAT CONFIDENCE HE HAS IN HIS CHIEF OF STAFF, MG GONZALEZ. LAST WEEK DURING THE CONGRESSIONAL HEARINGS ABOUT THE DISTURBANCES RELATED TO THE TRANSIT STRIKE, HE HAD BEEN ASKED BY SOME CONGRESSMEN WHY HE DIDN'T CUT SHORT HIS VISIT TO ISRAEL AND COME BACK EARLY TO DEAL WITH THE CRISIS. HE EXPLAINED TO THE AMBASSADOR THAT IN FACT HE HAD COME BACK TWO DAYS EARLY. HE TOLD THE CONGRESSMEN, ON THE

OTHER HAND, THAT WITH MG GONZALEZ AS ACTING MINISTER, THERE REALLY WAS NO NEED FOR HIM TO COME BACK, AS MG GONZALEZ WAS MORE THAN CAPABLE OF DEALING WITH ANY CRISIS.

MINUGUA WILL SOON HAVE ACCESS TO EX-GUERRILLAS

17. GEN ENRIQUEZ THEN SHIFTED THE CONVERSATION BY SAYING THAT HE WAS EXTREMELY PLEASED WITH THE STARTUP OF MINUGUA ON NOVEMBER 21. HE EXPLAINED THAT NO GOG OFFICIALS HAD GONE TO THE INAUGURAL ACT, AS URNG REPRESENTATIVES WERE UNABLE TO BE PRESENT. THIS GOG ABSENCE WAS TO HELP MINUGUA MAINTAIN ITS POSITION OF NEUTRALITY BETWEEN THE URNG AND THE GOG, EVEN THOUGH OF COURSE, MINUGUA HAD TO NEGOTIATE ITS OPERATING AGREEMENT WITH THE GOG. (NOTE: MINUGUA ASKED THE GOG NOT TO SEND ANY REPRESENTATIVES). GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE WILL SOON GIVE THE NAMES OF ALL EX-GUERRILLAS THAT ARE CURRENTLY COLLABORATING WITH THE GT ARMY TO MINUGUA. THERE WERE CERTAINLY MORE THAN 15 OF THESE INDIVIDUALS, AND IN THIS SENSE THE EXPANDED [illegible]

SANTIAGO CABRERA WAS INCORRECT WHEN HE SPOKE OF 35 GUERRILLA PRISONERS IN CLANDESTINE PRISONS. MINUGUA WILL THEN BE GIVEN ACCESS TO ALL OF THESE INDIVIDUALS TO VERIFY THAT THEIR HUMAN RIGHTS ARE BEING RESPECTED. THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THAT THIS WAS AN EXCELLENT GESTURE BY GEN ENRIQUEZ, AND WOULD HELP RESOLVE

THE ISSUE OF THE GUERRILLAS BEING MAINTAINED IN CLANDESTINE PRISONS AS CLAIMED BY SANTIAGO CABRERA AND JENNIFER HARBURY. (NOTE: SUBSEQUENT TO THIS MEETING, THE AMBASSADOR REITERATED THIS COMMITMENT BY THE MOD TO MINUGUA HEAD LEONARDO FRANCO. SEE GUAT 10581.)

GOG LOSES AUTHORITY OVER GROWING NUMBERS OF LAND INVASIONS

18. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT A MAJOR TOPIC OF DISCUSSION DURING THE LAST CABINET MEETING WITH PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO WAS THE ISSUE OF THE INCREASING LOSS OF AUTHORITY OF THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT. GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD EXPRESSED HIS CONCERN AT THE MEETING FOR THE SERIOUS EROSION OF PRESIDENT DE LEON'S PERSONAL AUTHORITY AS PRESIDENT. THE GOVERNMENT INCREASINGLY DESISTS FROM EXERCISING ANY CONTROL OVER THE POPULATION TO AVOID ANY ACCUSATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN AN ATTEMPT TO KEEP THE PEACE PROCESS ON TRACK. THE MOST SERIOUS ISSUE IS THE EVER-INCREASING NUMBER OF FINCA INVASIONS. THESE INVASIONS FIRST BEGAN ALONG THE SOUTHERN COAST OF GUATEMALA ABOUT SEVEN MONTHS AGO. ABOUT FOUR MONTHS AGO THEY BEGAN TO SPREAD TO ALTA VERAPAZ DEPARTMENT. IN ALTA VERAPAZ DEPARTMENT ALONE, SQUATTER INVASIONS OF FINCAS HAVE NOW RISEN TO 41 DIFFERENT FINCAS. THESE SQUATTERS ARE ACTUALLY HARVESTING AND SELLING THE COFFEE ON THE FINCAS.

19. THE SQUATTERS IGNORE ALL AUTHORITIES WHO ASK THEM TO LEAVE, TO INCLUDE NATIONAL POLICE, JUDGES, AND LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMEN. THE ARMY CANNOT ACT TO RETURN THE FINCAS TO THEIR OWNERS FOR FEAR OF CREATING HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. FINCA

OWNERS HAVE EXPRESSED A DESIRE TO HIRE THEIR OWN PRIVATE FORCES TO DISLODGE THE SQUATTERS, BUT ARE REQUESTING THAT THE GOVERNMENT NOT PROSECUTE THEM IF ANYONE IS HARMED WHEN SQUATTERS ARE REMOVED, A REQUEST THE GOVERNMENT OF COURSE CANNOT ACCEDE TO. THIS SITUATION CANNOT GO ON INDEFINITELY. ALREADY PRIVATE LAND OWNERS ARE APPROACHING GENERAL ENRIQUEZ AND ASKING HIM FOR ACTION. THEY CLAIM PRESIDENT DE LEON IS IN FACT EXECUTING A DE FACTO LAND REFORM MUCH AS PRESIDENT ARBENZ ATTEMPTED TO ACCOMPLISH IN THE EARLY FIFTIES BEFORE HE WAS OVERTHROWN IN 1954. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPECTED PRESSURES FROM PRIVATE LANDOWNERS TO INCREASE UNTIL SOME ACTION IS TAKEN ON THIS PROBLEM.

20. OF COURSE, THE PROBLEM IS ALSO TIED IN WITH THE FAILURE OF FINCA OWNERS TO PAY THE MINIMUM WAGE TO THEIR WORKERS. THIS ISSUE WAS ALSO BROUGHT UP BY THE MINISTER OF LABOR DURING THE LAST CABINET MEETING. SHE EXPLAINED THAT ON THE SOUTHEAST COAST, 95 PERCENT OF LANDOWNERS PAY THE MINIMUM WAGE; ON THE SOUTHWEST COAST THE FIGURE IS 80 PERCENT, AND IN ALTA VERAPAZ ONLY 40 PERCENT PAY THE MINIMUM WAGE TO THEIR WORKERS. THE MINISTER OF LABOR COMPLAINED THAT HER OFFICIALS CANNOT GET OUT TO THE FINCAS TO ENFORCE COMPLIANCE WITH THE MINIMUM WAGE, AS THEY DON'T HAVE THE FOUR WHEEL DRIVE VEHICLES NEEDED TO REACH MANY OF THESE FINCAS. GEN ENRIQUEZ SAID THAT HE THEN OFFERED THE USE OF TWO PERSONNEL TRANSPORT HELICOPTERS THE ARMY HAS TO TRANSPORT MINISTRY OF LABOR PERSONNEL TO INSPECT FINCAS AND ENFORCE THE MINIMUM WAGE.

PEACE PROCESS AT CRITICAL MOMENT

21. THE AMBASSADOR THEN EXPLAINED THAT DESPITE ALL THE PROBLEMS N HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, SHE DID WANT TO EXPRESS HER APPRECIATION

FOR GEN ENRIQUEZ' LEADERSHIP AND EFFORTS TO SUPPORT DEMOCRACY AND THE PEACE PROCESS IN GUATEMALA. HIS EFFORTS HAVE BEEN PARTICULARLY NOTEWORTHY IN ENSURING THE GT ARMY OFFICER CORPS' SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPRESSED HIS APPRECIATION FOR THIS EXPRESSION OF CONFIDENCE. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED GEN ENRIQUEZ FOR HIS PERSPECTIVE ON THE CURRENT STATUS OF THE PEACE TALKS.

22. GEN ENRIQUEZ EXPLAINED THAT THE UPCOMING SESSION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION IS CRITICAL. THE URNG IS BEING ESPECIALLY DEMANDING ON THIS PARTICULAR ISSUE, HOPING THEY CAN USE IT TO CREATE THE CONDITIONS AMONG THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION TO DEVELOP A POLITICAL BASE FOR THEMSELVES IN GUATEMALA, WHICH THEY PRESENTLY LACK. IF AN AGREEMENT CANNOT BE REACHED ON THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION DURING THE NEXT MEETING IN MEXICO CITY, THE TALKS COULD BREAK DOWN. IF AN AGREEMENT IS REACHED, THERE IS A GOOD POSSIBILITY THAT A FINAL PEACE ACCORD WILL BE REACHED BY JUNE 1995.

ARMY PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES

23. GEN ENRIQUEZ ADDED THAT HE WAS PREPARING FOR HIS MEETING WITH MONICA PINTO, THE UN'S SPECIAL HUMAN RIGHTS REPRESENTATIVE FOR GUATEMALA. HE EXPLAINED THAT EIGHTY PERCENT OF HER PREVIOUS RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ACTIONS TO BE TAKEN BY THE GOG TO IMPROVE HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA HAVE IN FACT EITHER BEEN ACCOMPLISHED OR ARE IN PROGRESS AT THIS TIME. MUCH HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED REGARDING ISSUES AFFECTING THE ARMY. THE ARMY HAS STOPPED FORCED RECRUITMENT, AND A RECRUITMENT LAW IS CURRENTLY WITH THE CONGRESS FOR APPROVAL. THE "ARCHIVOS" INTELLIGENCE SECTION THAT USED TO BE WITH THE PRESIDENTIAL MILITARY STAFF IS BEING CONVERTED TO A CIVILIAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE, AND LEGISLATION FOR THAT CHANGE IS ALSO WITH THE CONGRESS FOR APPROVAL. THE CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE HAS BEEN REFORMED TO TAKE AWAY MUCH OF THE JURISDICTION OF MILITARY LAW OVER GT ARMY PERSONNEL. MILITARY PERSONNEL WILL NOW BE TRIED BY CIVILIAN COURTS RATHER THAN MILITARY TRIBUNALS FOR MOST INFRACTIONS. THESE ARE JUST SOME OF THE REFORMS MADE OR IN PROGESS TO IMPROVE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS WITHIN THE ARMY. A DOCUMENT OUTLINING ALL OF THESE CHANGES WAS TURNED OVER TO MONICA PINTO ON NOVEMBER 24.

COMMENTS

24. ENCOURAGING IN THIS MEETING WAS GEN ENRIQUEZ' REITERATED INTENTION TO GIVE MINUGUA ACCESS TO EX-GUERRILLAS WHO CONTINUE TO WORK WITH THE GT ARMY AS COLLABORATORS. THESE INDIVIDUALS MAY BE THE ONES THAT EX-GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA AND JENNIFER HARBURY CLAIM ARE IN FACT "PRISONERS" BEING KEPT IN CLANDESTINE PRISONS AT DIFFERENT LOCATIONS AROUND THE COUNTRY. IF MINUGUA IS GRANTED ACCESS TO THESE EX-GUERRILLAS, THEIR TRUE STATUS CAN BE DETERMINED ONCE AND FOR ALL. MINUGUA VERIFICATION CAN ALSO SERVE TO ENSURE THE CONTINUED SAFETY AND PROPER TREATMENT OF THESE EX-GUERRILLAS.

25. LESS HOPEFUL WAS GEN ENRIQUEZ' DISCUSSION OF THE PROGRESS OF THE OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATON INTO THE WHEREABOUTS OF FORMER ORPA COMMANDER EFRAIN BAMACA. READING BETWEEN THE LINES OF GEN ENRIQUEZ STATEMENTS ABOUT ALLOWING THE OMBUDSMAN TO QUESTION OFFICERS SUSPECTED OF INTERROGATING BAMACA WAS THE INSINUATION THAT THESE OFFICERS, IF QUESTIONED, WOULD DENY EVER HAVING SEEN BAMACA, MUCH LESS HAVING INTERROGATED OR KILLED HIM. THUS THE INVESTIGATION COULD EASILY END UP WITH THE WORD OF SEVERAL GT ARMY OFFICERS AGAINST THE WORD OF ONE EX-GUERRILLA--RESULTING IN AN INCONCLUSIVE CASE, AND NO CLARIFICATION ABOUT WHAT HAPPENED

TO BAMACA.

26. ALSO NOT SOME WAS THE REPORT ON ABOUT GROWING NUMBERS OF

PAGE 04 OF 04 GUATEM 16720 09 OF 05 301804Z SHC6341
FINCA INVASIONS AROUND THE COUNTRY. THIS SITUATION COULD EASILY HAVE SEVERE DESTABILIZING EFFECTS ON PRESIDENT DE LEON'S ADMINISTRATION AND THE FRAGILE GUATEMALAN DEMOCRATIC PROCESS ITSELF. IT IS UNLIKELY THAT LANDOWNERS WILL PUT UP WITH THIS SITUATION TOO MUCH LONGER. THE DEMANDS FOR ARMY INTERVENTION TO RETURN THE FINCAS TO THEIR LANDLORDS WILL CONTINUE TO GROW. IF THE CURRENT ADMINISTRATION AND ARMY LEADERSHIP DOES NOT RESPOND TO THESE DEMANDS TO RESOLVE THE SITUATION, PRIVATE LANDOWNERS COULD ATTEMPT TO SUPPORT HARDLINE OFFICERS IN THE GT ARMY TO OUST THE CURRENT PROGRESSIVE LEADERSHIP, AND FORCE THE PRESIDENT TO TAKE TOUGH MEASURES TO RESTORE ORDER TO THE COUNTRY. THEY COULD ALSO FORM PRIVATE SECURITY FORCES, RAISING THE SPECTRE OF RURAL "DEATH SQUADS."

President-elect Of Mexico Names a Cabinet

MEXICO CITY—President-elect Ernesto Zedillo unveiled his cabinet yesterday, bringing an opposition leader into government and serving notice that he will push ahead with free-market economic reforms and an overhaul of the justice system.

Zedillo, who takes office today for a six-year term, named several key members of outgoing President Carlos Salinas de Gortari's economic team—all strong proponents of free trade—to top financial posts in his cabinet and also appointed a member of the conservative opposition National Action Party as attorney general.

It was the first time a president of the ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI), in power since 1929, has invited the opposition to join his cabinet.

Zedillo appeared to balance that gesture, however, by naming PRI president Ignacio Pichardo Pagaza, widely seen as linked to the anti-reform old guard of the party, as energy minister.

Probe Sought In Iranian's Death

■ NICOSIA, Cyprus—The New York-based Human Rights Watch/Middle East has called for an independent autopsy on a dissident Iranian writer who was buried two days after the government said he died of a heart attack in prison.

An autopsy is needed to "scientifically determine the date and cause of the death of Ali Akbar Saidi Sirjani," the organization said.

Sirjani, 63, died of a heart attack Sunday in an undisclosed prison following his arrest in March, Iran's state-run news agency said.

But in a statement and a letter sent to Iranian President Ali Akbar Hashemi Rafsanjani, Human Rights Watch said a physician who treated Sirjani for the flu three years ago said he had been in good health.

Hunger Striker Faces Charges

■ GUATEMALA CITY—The Guatemalan government said it is taking legal action against an American who staged a 32-day hunger strike to demand the return—dead or alive—of her leftist rebel husband.

Attorney General Asisclo Valladares said he is charging Harvard-educated lawyer Jennifer Harbury with "making accusations without evidence" against the Guatemalan army. Harbury said the army captured her husband, Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, after a battle with rebels in March 1992. She has named eight army officers who allegedly tortured her husband after his disappearance.

necessitate deserting hundreds of armored vehicles that would probably be wrecked so local armies could not use them.

Earlier this year, Serb women and children in the town of Hadzici, southwest of Sarajevo, blocked a French U.N. resupply convoy for a month. "They can stop one battalion with 10 children," the engineer said. "Do you see the U.N. allowing us to fire on women and children?"

Even for a well-prepared combat force from one country, withdrawal from the war zone would be a major military, logistical and political undertaking. For a U.N. force with troops from 28 countries, all answering both to their own governments and to a U.N. bureaucracy, pullout borders on the impossible.

"This is not an army, this is the U.N.," the engineering officer said. "It cannot be a U.N. withdrawal, it will have to be a combat operation. We do not have the mandate, and we do not have the weapons—we will need tanks and artillery batteries."

Right now, U.N. battalions vary in combat readiness from Danes in northeastern Bosnia, who have eight battle tanks, to Bangladeshis in the failing Bihac pocket, who have a few armored personnel carriers but only one rifle for every four soldiers.

In both NATO and the United Nations, there is agreement that the only way out is for an alliance combat force to come in with overwhelming force, secure roads and airfields and rescue the peacekeepers. Ironically, the combat troops would face the same problems that have kept the idea of a Western combat intervention at bay from the start.

"It takes a force that everyone understands can and will do everything that is necessary to get the U.N. out," said a NATO source. When the Western alliance drew up plans for the possibility of supplanting U.N. troops, they called for a 100,000-strong army. "If you put in a smaller number of troops, you don't have enough to get yourself back out," the source said. "That's the trap the U.N. has found themselves in."

U.S. ground troops, helicopters and warplanes all play critical roles in withdrawal plans. "It is difficult to imagine any option which does not foresee a significant U.S. role," a NATO diplomat said.

1. ARA TAKEN QUESTION FROM DEPT. BRIEFING (11/30/94) POSTED 12/1/94:

-CENTRAL AMERICA: TEMPORARY PROTECTED STATUS-

Q. WHAT IS THE STATUS OF TEMPORARY PROTECTED STATUS FOR SALVADORANS AND GUATEMALANS?

A: THE ADMINISTRATION IS REVIEWING DEFERRED ENFORCED DEPARTURE (DED) FOR SALVADORANS, WHICH EXPIRES DECEMBER 31, 1994. WE REFER YOU TO THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT FOR INFORMATION ON DED. TEMPORARY PROTECTED STATUS IS NOT IN EFFECT FOR SALVADORANS IN THE U.S.

STATE 322353 922338Z SHC8789

GUATEMALANS IN THE U.S. DO NOT CURRENTLY HAVE DEFERRED ENFORCED DEPARTURE OR TEMPORARY PROTECTED STATUS, BUT THERE ARE MORE THAN 130,000 WITH PENDING ASYLUM PETITIONS, WHICH AFFORDS PROTECTION AGAINST DEPORTATION.

2. ARA PRESS GUIDANCES OF 12/1/94:

-NEWS FROM HAITI-
DECEMBER 1, 1994

UNMIH ADVANCE TEAM TO BE EXPANDED: THE UN SECURITY COUNCIL ADOPTED A RESOLUTION ON TUESDAY AUTHORIZING THE EXPANSION OF THE ADVANCE TEAM IN HAITI OF THE UNITED NATIONS MISSION IN HAITI (UNMIH), FROM 60 TO 500. THE SECRETARY GENERAL EXPLAINED THE EXPANSION IS NEEDED "TO FACILITATE PLANNING OF UNMIH, IDENTIFICATION OF CONDITIONS REQUIRED FOR THE TRANSITION FROM THE MNF TO UNMIH, AND, MOST IMPORTANTLY, PREPARATION FOR THE ACTUAL TRANSITION."

MEETING LABOR: PRESIDENT ARISTIDE MET WITH SEVERAL LABOR UNION LEADERS YESTERDAY, CONTINUING HIS EFFORTS TO REACH OUT TO ALL SEGMENTS OF SOCIETY. THE LABOR LEADERS CALLED FOR A REDUCTION IN THE COST OF LIVING AND PRICE OF FUEL, ROAD REPAIR, THE REOPENING OF STATE FIRMS, AND THE CREATION OF A THREE-SIDED COMMISSION TO INCLUDE THE PRIVATE SECTOR, UNIONS AND THE GOVERNMENT. ARISTIDE HAD ALREADY INDICATED HE WILL SET UP A TRIPARTITE BODY TO REFORM THE LABOR CODE AND OTHER THORNY ISSUES SUCH AS MINIMUM WAGE LEGISLATION.

ARISTIDE MEETS STORM VICTIMS: PRESIDENT ARISTIDE ON NOVEMBER 29 VISITED THE SOUTHEASTERN CITY OF JACMEL, WHICH HAD SUFFERED EXTENSIVE DAMAGE AND LOSS OF LIFE FROM TROPICAL STORM GORDON. URGING PATIENCE, HE CAUTIONED THOUSANDS OF SUPPORTERS THAT "...THE HOUSE OF DEMOCRACY CANNOT BE BUILT IN ONE DAY...IT IS BEST TO TAKE TIME FOR BETTER RESULTS." TO AN ENTHUSIASTIC RESPONSE FROM THE CROWD, ARISTIDE AGAIN EXPRESSED HIS GRATITUDE TO PRESIDENT CLINTON AND U.S. FORCES IN HAITI.

DANISH AID: DENMARK WILL SEND A SPECIAL RED CROSS DELEGATION TO HAITI TO PROVIDE 164,000 TO PROVIDE FOOD AND MEDICINE TO PRISONERS, AMONG OTHER HUMANITARIAN TASKS. DENMARK WILL ALSO SHIP MEDICINE WORTH 59,000.

-GUATEMALA: HARBURY/BAMACA CASE-

Q: DO YOU HAVE ANY COMMENTS OR REPORTS THAT JENNIFER HARBURY HAS FILED CHARGES AGAINST GUATEMALAN MILITARY OFFICERS FOR THE MURDER OF HER HUSBAND? WHAT DO WE KNOW ABOUT THIS? WHAT ARE WE DOING TO HELP HER?

A: JENNIFER HARBURY RETURNED TO GUATEMALA EARLIER THIS WEEK, AS SHE HAD SAID SHE WOULD, TO COOPERATE WITH THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT'S INVESTIGATION AND TO FILE CRIMINAL CHARGES AGAINST PEOPLE SHE BELIEVES ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DISAPPEARANCE OF HER GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA HUSBAND, EFRAIN BAMACA.

WE DO NOT BELIEVE SHE HAS FILED THE CHARGES YET.

ON NOVEMBER 29, THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TOOK LEGAL ACTION TO FORCE HARBURY TO FILE CHARGES WITHIN FIFTEEN DAYS OR LOSE THE RIGHT TO DO SO SUBSEQUENTLY.

REGARDING MR. BAMACA, WE DO NOT KNOW IF HE IS ALIVE OR DEAD. BASED ON ALL THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES, WE HAVE CONCLUDED THAT MR. BAMACA WAS TAKEN CAPTIVE BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY IN MARCH, 1992. WE HAVE NO INFORMATION TO INDICATE THAT HE WAS ALIVE MUCH BEYOND THE FIRST FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE. IN THE ABSENCE OF SOLID EVIDENCE ONE WAY OR THE OTHER, WE HAVE ASSUMED THROUGHOUT THAT HE COULD STILL BE ALIVE, AND WE HAVE ACTED ACCORDINGLY.

WE WILL CONTINUE TO OFFER MS. HARBURY CONSULAR ASSISTANCE AND TO BE HELPFUL IN EVERY WAY WE CAN.

-MEXICO: PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURATION-

Q: DOES THE DEPARTMENT HAVE A COMMENT ON TODAY'S INAUGURATION OF ERNESTO ZEDILLO AS PRESIDENT OF MEXICO? IS THE U.S. GOVERNMENT GOING TO BE REPRESENTED AT THE INAUGURATION?

A: WE JOIN WITH OTHER NATIONS IN EXTENDING OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO INCOMING MEXICAN PRESIDENT-ELECT ERNESTO ZEDILLO AND THE MEXICAN PEOPLE. TODAY'S INAUGURATION IS A TRIBUTE TO MEXICO'S DYNAMISM AND RESILIENCY AND A SYMBOL OF THAT NATION'S COMMITMENTS TO DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES.

MEXICO IS ONE OF OUR CLOSEST FRIENDS AND PARTNERS. WE LOOK FORWARD TO CONTINUING TO BUILD ON OUR SOLID BILATERAL RELATIONSHIP WHICH WAS SO RICHLY ENHANCED UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF OUTGOING PRESIDENT CARLOS SALINAS.

THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION TO THE INAUGURATION IS HEADED BY VICE PRESIDENT GORE AND INCLUDES SUCH DISTINGUISHED REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES AS ATTORNEY GENERAL RENO, TRANSPORTATION SECRETARY PENA, H.U.D. SECRETARY CISNEROS, AND OUR AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO JAMES JONES.

3. ARA PRESS GUIDANCES OF 12/2/94:

-HAITI: DISARMAMENT-

Q: CAN YOU GIVE AN UPDATE ON THE NUMBER OF WEAPONS RECOVERED BY THE MULTINATIONAL FORCE THUS FAR?

A: AS OF NOVEMBER 29, 13,541 WEAPONS HAD BEEN RECOVERED, 2783 OF WHICH CAME IN THROUGH THE WEAPONS BUY-BACK PROGRAM.

-HAITI: MNF TROOP STRENGTH-

Q: CAN YOU GIVE AN UPDATE ON THE NUMBER OF PERSONNEL IN THE MULTINATIONAL FORCE, INCLUDING U.S. COMPONENTS?

A: AS OF NOVEMBER 29, TOTAL MNF STRENGTH WAS 11,488, INCLUDING 8746 IN U.S. MILITARY UNITS, 481 AMERICANS IN THE INTERNATIONAL POLICE MONITOR (IPM) CONTINGENT (49 OF WHOM ARE ACTUAL POLICE MONITORS AND MOST OF THE REST INTERPRETERS), AND 81 ADDITIONAL U.S. CIVILIANS.

-MEXICO: ZEDILLO ON PROPOSITION 187-

Q. WHAT IS OUR PUBLIC REACTION TO ZEDILLO'S COMMENT IN HIS INAUGURAL SPEECH REGARDING PROPOSITION 187?

A. IN HIS SPEECH, PRESIDENT ZEDILLO SAID HE WOULD USE LEGAL MEANS TO DEFEND THE DIGNITY AND HUMAN RIGHTS OF MEXICANS LIVING OUTSIDE OF THEIR COUNTRY. WE UNDERSTAND

PRESIDENT ZEDILLO'S POSITION ON THIS BECAUSE THIS IS ALSO THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT CONCERNING ITS CITIZENS WHO LIVE ABROAD.

-SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS DOCUMENT-

Q: ANY COMMENT ABOUT CNN'S OBTAINING A SPANISH-LANGUAGE COPY OF A SUMMIT DOCUMENT?

A: THE DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES AND PLAN OF ACTION FOR THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS ARE STILL IN DRAFT FORM, AND WILL BE UNTIL THE LEADERS APPROVE THEM AND RELEASE THEM

AT THE CLOSE OF THE SUMMIT DECEMBER 11 IN MIAMI.

WE DO NOT KNOW HOW CNN OBTAINED THE DOCUMENT NOR WHAT DRAFT OF THE DOCUMENT, BUT HOWEVER IT WAS, ITS RELEASE WAS UNAUTHORIZED.

SUBJECT: MINUGUA HEAD MEETS THE AMBASSADOR AND FRIENDS

REF: GT 10581

[redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. THIS IS AN ACTION REQUEST. PLEASE SEE PARA 10.

3. SUMMARY: MINUGUA HEAD LEONARDO FRANCO TOLD THE AMBASSADOR THAT THE MILITARY HAD BEEN COOPERATIVE DURING RECENT SEARCH OF ARMY BASES FOR BAMACA. FRANCO ASKED THAT THE USG SHARE WHAT DATA IT COULD ON THE BAMACA CASE, AND ALSO ASKED FOR USG SUPPORT AT THE FIFTH COMMITTEE BUDGET REVIEW, LEST MINUGUA'S FUNDING BE SLASHED. AT A SUBSEQUENT MEETING WITH THE FRIENDS, FRANCO MADE THE SAME BUDGETARY PITCH AND ASKED THE GROUP TO WEIGH IN WITH THE PRESIDENT TO HAVE HIM SIGN THE HEADQUARTERS AGREEMENT AND, FOLLOWING THIS, WITH CONGRESS TO PASS IT. HIS GUATEMALA CITY OFFICE DIRECTOR RELATED THAT THERE IS STILL MUCH POPULAR CONFUSION ABOUT MINUGUA AND A PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN WOULD BE UNDERTAKEN TO MAKE CLEAR WHAT IT CAN AND CANNOT DO. END SUMMARY.

AMBASSADOR'S MEETING

4. MINUGUA HEAD LEONARDO FRANCO AND ADMIN. OFFICER MARIO PASOLINO MET AMBASSADOR DEC. 2. POLOFF AND LABATT SAT IN. FRANCO TOLD THE AMBASSADOR THAT MINUGUA HAD BEEN ACCOMPANYING OFFICERS OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE ON VISITS TO VARIOUS MILITARY BASES IN SEARCH OF BAMACA, AND THAT THE MILITARY HAD BEEN COOPERATIVE. ONE SOLDIER BEING HELD IN THE STOCKADE REPORTEDLY SAID THAT HE HAD SEEN BAMACA RECENTLY. THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE IS FOLLOWING UP ON THIS. FRANCO SAID THE INVESTIGATION WOULD BE THOROUGH AND THAT MINUGUA WOULD INVESTIGATE ALL FACTS AS THEY APPEARED, BUT THAT HIS MISSION INTENDED TO CONCENTRATE ON THE PRESENT RATHER THAN THE PAST.

5. HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN GARCIA LAGUARDIA, WHOSE REPORT IS DUE DEC. 5, HAD REPORTEDLY ASKED FOR AN EXTENSION BUT HAD BEEN REFUSED. AT THE END OF THE INVESTIGATION THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE WILL PASS THE CASE BACK TO THE COURTS, WHICH CAN DECLARE THE CASE CLOSED, RETURN IT TO A JUDGE FOR FURTHER ACTION, OR ASK THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE TO COMPLETE AN EVALUATION OF THE CASE.

INFO SHARING

6. AS IN HIS NOV. 23 MEETING (REFTEL), FRANCO ASKED THE AMBASSADOR IF IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO SHARE WITH MINUGUA DATA THE DEPARTMENT HAS ON BAMACA. THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED THAT THIS WOULD HAVE TO BE APPROVED BY WASHINGTON, BUT THAT THE MOST IMPORTANT FACTS HAD ALREADY BEEN PROVIDED TO MS. HARBURY AND WERE IN THE PUBLIC DOMAIN. SHE ADDED THAT WE DO NOT KNOW WHETHER OR NOT BAMACA IS STILL ALIVE.

7. FRANCO NOTED THAT MINUGUA WAS NOT RESPONDING TO US PRESSURE TO FIND BAMACA, BUT WAS SIMPLY PROCEEDING ON THE MERITS OF THE CASE. THE AMBASSADOR THANKED MINUGUA FOR ITS ASSISTANCE AND ASKED WHAT ITS PLAN OF ACTION WAS. FRANCO REPLIED THAT MINUGUA WOULD FOLLOW ALL LEADS. THE AMBASSADOR MENTIONED THE POSSIBILITY OF INTERVIEWING OFFICERS NAMED BY SANTIAGO CABRERA, ADDING THAT SOMEONE MUST REQUEST THESE INTERVIEWS.

[redacted] FRANCO AGREED, AND SAID THAT EITHER THOSE OFFICERS NAMED IN CABRERA'S STATEMENT COULD BE INTERVIEWED, OR MINUGUA COULD APPROACH THE 30 OR MORE URNG DESERTERS WHO NOW LIVE ON ARMY BASES. FRANCO STRESSED THAT MINUGUA WOULD WORK WITH THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE BUT WOULD KEEP IN THE BACKGROUND; THE GOG MUST CARRY THE BALL.

"UNA PERSONA UNICA"

8. FRANCO OBSERVED THAT MS. HARBURY IS A "UNIQUE PERSON," ONE WIDELY DETESTED IN GUATEMALA. THE AMBASSADOR POINTED OUT THAT THE BAMACA CASE COULD BE IMPORTANT IN BREAKING THE VEIL OF IMPUNITY, AS WELL AS IN ESTABLISHING CRITICAL PRECEDENTS FOR MINUGUA ACTIONS AND OPERATIONS. FRANCO AGREED, STATING THAT THE IMPORTANT THING WAS TO MAKE SURE THAT SIMILAR CASES DID NOT HAPPEN IN THE FUTURE.

9. FRANCO AND MINUGUA ADMIN. OFFICER MARIO PASOLINO THEN DESCRIBED THE BUDGETARY LIMITATIONS UNDER WHICH MINUGUA IS WORKING, AS WELL AS PROPOSED CUTS IN FUNDING, SUPPLIES, AND STAFFING, AND ASKED FOR US SUPPORT AT THE FIFTH COMMITTEE BUDGET REVIEW, NOTING THAT THE COMMITTEE WAS ABOUT TO CUT MUSCLE AND BONE, NOT FAT.

FRIENDS MEETING

10. AT A SUBSEQUENT DECEMBER 3 FRIENDS MEETING, FRANCO MADE THE SAME BUDGETARY PITCH, ASKING THE GROUP TO HAVE THEIR UN REPS WEIGH-IN ON MINUGUA'S BEHALF. HE THOUGHT THE FIFTH COMMITTEE DISCUSSION WOULD OCCUR ON DECEMBER 7). HE STRESSED THE VERIFICATION TEAM ONLY HAD 40 HUMAN RIGHTS PROFESSIONALS FOR THE WHOLE COUNTRY (A NUMBER THAT DOES NOT INCLUDE MILITARY, POLICE, ADMINISTRATIVE AND VOLUNTEER PERSONNEL) AND PROPOSED BUDGET CUTS WOULD REDUCE THIS NUMBER BY 25 PERCENT. SUCH A CUT, FRANCO STRESSED, WOULD EFFECTIVELY HAMSTRING MINUGUA IN ITS WORK. ON A LESS URGENT NOTE, HE ASKED THE GROUP TO WEIGH IN WITH THE PRESIDENT TO HAVE HIM SIGN THE HEADQUARTERS AGREEMENT AND, FOLLOWING THIS, WITH CONGRESS TO PASS IT.

RELATED THERE IS STILL MUCH POPULAR CONFUSION ABOUT MINUGUA AND A PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN WOULD BE UNDERTAKEN TO MAKE CLEAR WHAT IT CAN AND CANNOT DO. IN MINUGUA'S FIRST 8 DAYS OF WORK, IT HAD RECEIVED 24 "DENUNCIAS," ONLY FIVE OF WHICH FELL WITHIN ITS MANDATE. LIMA SAID, HOWEVER, THAT SHE BELIEVED MINUGUA HAD SAVED ITS FIRST LIFE IN A CASE WHERE SECURITY FORCES IN JUTIAPA KIDNAPPED AND TORTURED A PERSON FOR "PRESUMED POLITICAL PARTICIPATION." THIS INDIVIDUAL WAS RELEASED TWO DAYS AFTER MINUGUA TOOK THE CASE.

12. RESPONDING TO A QUESTION FROM POLOFF, LIMA SAID THAT MINUGUA'S MOST IMPORTANT FUNCTION WILL BE REDUCING VIOLATIONS. INSTITUTION BUILDING WILL BE SECONDARY, ESPECIALLY GIVEN THAT MINUGUA WILL ONLY BE HERE FOR "ONE, TWO OR THREE YEARS." THOUGH WITHOUT IMPLYING HE DISAGREED WITH LIMA, FRANCO SAID THAT THIS EFFORT WILL

NOT BE OVERLOOKED. HE ALSO NOTED THAT MINUGUA'S WORK WILL BE AFFECTED BY THE PEACE PROCESS: IF THE NEGOTIATIONS STALL/COLLAPSE, IT WILL "UNDERMINE" ("ENTORPECER") MINUGUA.

ACTION REQUEST

13. POST HAS YET TO RECEIVE A RESPONSE TO REF ACTION REQUESTS RE GUIDANCE ON WHAT, IF ANY, INFORMATION ON THE BAMACA CASE CAN BE SHARED WITH MINUGUA AND ON OUR SUGGESTION THAT MINUGUA'S BUDGET BE PROTECTED, TO THE EXTENT POSSIBLE.

Background Information: Harbury/Bamaca Case

Foreign Minister de Vielman will plead for USG understanding of the difficulty the de Leon administration faces in acting forcefully on the case of Efrain Bamaca, a Guatemalan guerrilla who disappeared in 1992. It is important to reaffirm the USG's interest in improved human rights in Guatemala, while also expressing our continued support for the peace process and for de Leon's desire to strengthen democracy and respect for human rights.

Bamaca Case

This case first came to our attention in March 1993, when Harbury approached our embassy in Guatemala to seek assistance in locating the remains or determining the whereabouts of her common-law husband, who had disappeared after a battle with the Guatemalan army the year before. Although Bamaca was originally believed killed in battle, two ex-guerrillas told the UN and the OAS in 1993 that they had seen him and other guerrillas in clandestine army captivity. Harbury has made a high-profile effort since then to learn of Bamaca's fate, including two hunger strikes, an appearance on "60 Minutes," and a November 21 meeting with National Security Adviser Lake and the Vice President's National Security Adviser, Leon Fuerth.

Our embassy has provided extensive assistance to Harbury and has pressed the Guatemalan government repeatedly and at the highest levels for a thorough and transparent investigation of the case. We have told President de Leon and Harbury that, according to all information available to us, the Guatemalan military did in fact capture Bamaca, who was lightly wounded. We have no reports to indicate that Bamaca was alive much beyond the first few weeks after his capture. We have urged de Leon to conduct a complete investigation, which is now underway. (Assistant Secretary Shattuck visited Guatemala November 16-18 to press this point.) De Leon, a former Human Rights Ombudsman, shares our interest in resolving the case but has expressed frustration at the obstacles he faces, particularly the likely opposition of the military. He made this point to the Vice President on the margins of the Zedillo inauguration last week.

Harbury returned to Guatemala on November 28. The following day, the GOG announced that it was taking legal action to force Harbury to file criminal charges within fifteen days against Guatemalan military officials, as she had publicly declared she was going to do. Harbury cannot leave the country during this fifteen-day period. Last week, the Guatemalan Attorney General publicly declared that the GOG may file criminal charges against Harbury for "defaming" the Guatemalan state -- a move that is apparently legal under Guatemalan law, but which has only served to worsen the GOG's image with Congressional staffers, NGOs and others in the U.S.

US Interests in Guatemala and the Bamaca Case

The principal US interests in Guatemala are the maintenance of civilian rule, the strengthening of its fragile democratic institutions, and the modernization of Guatemala's economy to increase the well-being of the majority of Guatemala's population. Critical to our successful efforts to advance these interests have been strong stands on human rights (including suspension of all military assistance since 1990) and support for a fitful peace process which has finally taken on real momentum in 1994.

The Guatemalan government regards our pressure about this case and our assistance to Harbury as evidence that we have tilted toward the guerrillas, whom they regard with some justification as bent on derailing the peace process. The GOG maintains that Harbury is an agent, or at the very least a pawn, of the URNG. They are skeptical about Harbury's claim that she was married to Bamaca and point to her inability to produce any photos of the couple together. The GOG believes that Harbury is serving the URNG's desire to delay a final peace accord indefinitely.

Peace Process

Considerable progress has been made in resolving Guatemala's long-running internal conflict since UN-mediated peace talks began in January 1994. The U.S. has also played an important role in keeping the talks on track as one of six international "Friends" of the peace process (along with Mexico, Norway, Spain, Colombia, and Venezuela). The parties signed a framework agreement in January 1994, including a calendar of negotiation topics, to include discussions on human rights, displaced persons, indigenous issues, socio-economic reform and agrarian matters and the army's role in a democracy. So far this year, agreements on human rights, displaced persons and an Historical Clarification Commission have been signed. The March 29 human rights accord provided for the establishment of a UN verification mission to strengthen existing institutions to improve respect for human rights. That mission [acronym: MINUGUA] was approved by the UN General Assembly in September. A preliminary mission began work in Guatemala in mid-September; the full mission, which ultimately will employ about 300 people, was inaugurated November 21.

The Historical Clarification Commission, which will be established after a final peace accord is signed, will not name names of perpetrators of past human rights violations and its findings will not have judicial effect. The subsequent backlash from URNG troops and sympathizers was a major factor contributing to stalling of the talks from July to October. Although negotiations have resumed in Mexico and are currently underway to discuss the issue of indigenous rights, a final peace accord in the near future is by no means assured.

TO BREAK WITH THE PAST: ARMY LOYALTY, SEA CHANGE AGAINST POLITICAL CORRUPTION, STABLE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT INCLUDING FUNDING. NOW HE WAS MOVING TO THE MOST DIFFICULT: PEACE AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THESE WOULD LAY THE BASIS FOR THE NEXT DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION TO ADDRESS THE COUNTRY'S GRINDING SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC PROBLEMS.

3. PERVERSELY, THE BAMACA CASE WAS WEAKENING HIS SUPPORT INTERNALLY AND INTERNATIONALLY TO ACHIEVE THIS GOAL. HE WAS SENDING AN S.O.S. TO THE USG -- WHAT SHOULD HE DO? HE HAD RAISED THE ISSUE WITH VICE PRESIDENT GORE IN MEXICO (AND, ACCORDING TO THE PRESS, WILL SEEK TO DISCUSS IT WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON AT THE MIAMI SUMMIT). RICHARDSON RESPONDED THAT DE LEON WAS SINCERE, BUT STRESSED THE PUBLIC AWARENESS OF THIS CASE IN THE U.S. AND ITS EFFECT IN CONGRESS, WHICH COULD IMPACT ON TRADE PROGRAMS FOR GUATEMALA. HE COULD NOT ADVISE DE LEON

WHAT TO DO, BUT IT WAS OF KEY IMPORTANCE TO RESOLVE THE CASE. DE LEON MAY GO TO GENEVA TO DEFEND GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD PERSONALLY BEFORE THE UNHRC. THE AMBASSADOR URGED DE LEON TO SEEK TO HAVE THE SUPREME COURT EXTEND THE DEC 7 DEADLINE FOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN TO COMPLETE HIS INVESTIGATION.

THE RESULT, NOTING IT MARKED A MAJOR BREAK WITH THE PAST. HE HAD STAYED UP ALMOST ALL NIGHT NEGOTIATING IT BEFORE LEAVING FOR MEXICO FOR THE ZEDILLO INAUGURATION. RICHARDSON NOTED THAT THE PEACE TALKS SEEM TO BE STALLING AND WILL FALL SHORT OF THE DECEMBER 31 GOAL. HE MENTIONED THAT GUATEMALA'S INCLUSION IN SEVERAL PROGRAMS TO BE CONSIDERED NEXT YEAR IN CONGRESS, E.G. GSP AND THE INTERIM TRADE PROGRAM, COULD BE THREATENED BY THE BAMACA CASE.

5. DE LEON RESPONDED BY DESCRIBING HIS DILEMMA: HE IS UNDER TREMENDOUS INTERNAL PRESSURE FOR TOLERATING JENNIFER HARBURY'S EFFORTS ON BEHALF OF A GUERRILLA COMMANDER. HE WAS BEING SUBJECTED TO MERCILESS ATTACK IN THE GUATEMALAN PRESS, WHICH HE CONTRASTED WITH MEXICO WHERE THE MEDIA IS VERY CIRCUMSPECT ABOUT REPORTING MATTERS WHICH WERE UNPLEASANT FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

THE ARMY'S ROLE

6. HE LAID OUT THE PROBLEMS HE HAD PREVIOUSLY FACED: COMING INTO THE PRESIDENCY UNEXPECTEDLY WITHOUT A TEAM, WITHOUT A PLAN AND WITHOUT A POLITICAL BASE IN A POLITICAL PARTY. HE HAD REALIZED HE NEEDED TO CONFRONT POWERFUL GROUPS IN THE SOCIETY TO ACHIEVE A MEANINGFUL FUNCTIONING DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM AND INSTITUTIONAL STABILITY. TO DO THIS, HE HAD HAD TO MAKE WINNING THE SUPPORT OF THE ARMY HIS FIRST PRIORITY. THIS HE HAD ACHIEVED. HE HAD REPLACED THE MOD AND CHIEF OF STAFF WITHOUT QUESTION. THERE ARE NO LONGER COUP RUMORS. THE ARMY IS NOT CONSULTED ON POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ISSUES AND HAS NO SAY ON THEM. IT IS CONSULTED ON NATIONAL SECURITY MATTERS AND IS REPRESENTED ON THE PEACE COMMISSION WHICH IS FULLY APPROPRIATE. HIS CIVILIAN STAFF CONTROLS HIS SCHEDULE AND VISITORS, NOT HIS MILITARY CHIEF OF STAFF AS WITH PRIOR PRESIDENTS. HE IS MAKING CHANGES: HE HAS ABOLISHED CONFIDENTIAL FUNDS, HE IS CREATING A CIVILIAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE, AND HE SPEAKS PUBLICLY ABOUT ARMY REDUCTIONS. DE LEON ACKNOWLEDGED HE HAD HAD TO TAKE A STEP BACKWARD IN MAKING AN ARMY OFFICER VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT, BUT THAT HAD BEEN NECESSARY BECAUSE OF THE OUTCRY OVER BURGEONING CRIMINAL VIOLENCE.

COMBATTING CORRUPTION

7. HIS NEXT STEP HAD BEEN TO PURIFY THE POLITICAL SYSTEM BECAUSE OF THE CORRUPTION IN BOTH CONGRESS AND THE SUPREME COURT. HE HAD BROUGHT THEM DOWN TO RESTORE CREDIBILITY TO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT, AND HAD DONE SO PEACEFULLY AND LEGALLY WITH SATISFACTORY RESULTS. MOREOVER, THERE HAD BEEN CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES TO CREATE ACCOUNTABILITY AND TRANSPARENCY IN GOVERNMENT. THESE WERE KEY FOR GUATEMALA'S

8. DE LEON SAID HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS WERE CONTINUING, BUT THEY WERE INDIVIDUAL CASES AND NOT ON A SCALE WHICH JUSTIFIES CONDEMNING A GOVERNMENT OR A COUNTRY. THE RECENT KILLING OF A UNIVERSITY STUDENT AND THE MURDER OF HIS OWN COUSIN (FORMER UCN PARTY LEADER AND PRESIDENTIAL RUNNER UP) JORGE CARPIO LAST YEAR WERE BOTH BEING INVESTIGATED. THE "LA EXACTA" INCIDENT WAS IRRATIONAL WITH MAJOR MISTAKES -- HE WAS AWAITING THE FINAL REPORT TO DECIDE ON ADMINISTRATIVE PUNISHMENTS AND TO TURN THE CASE OVER TO THE COURTS, AS HE WOULD WITH THE UNIVERSITY CASE.

WAR AND PEACE

9. HE STRESSED THAT THE PRIMARY FOCUS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IS THE WAR, AND CAUSED BY BOTH SIDES. THEY WILL

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 94GUATEM010924

SUBSIDE WHEN THE WAR ENDS. HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT ONLY SLOW HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS IS BEING MADE NOW. IT IS NORMAL TO HAVE PROBLEMS AND PRESSURES IN THE END PHASE OF THE PEACE PROCESS. THERE WERE ONLY THREE MONTHS IN 1995 TO COME TO CLOSURE, AFTER THAT THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN WOULD INTERVENE. MANY PEOPLE WERE PARTICIPATING IN THE POLITICAL SYSTEM NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME AND THIS WOULD ACCELERATE WITH PEACE. SOME GROUPS WERE AFRAID OF THIS PEACEFUL REVOLUTION WHICH WILL HAVE MAJOR EFFECTS BECAUSE OF THE CURRENT EXTREME INJUSTICE IN THE SOCIETY. [redacted] B1

[redacted] PEACE SHOULD BRING SUBSTANTIAL INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT, BUT ONLY IF GUATEMALA IS PREPARED TO DO ITS SHARE; THIS HAS NOW BEEN MADE POSSIBLE. HE HAD BEEN OFFERED FUNDING BY THE PRIVATE SECTOR LIMITED TO 1995 BUT HAD REJECTED IT SO HIS SUCCESSOR WOULD NOT

10. DE LEON SAID HE WAS PREPARED TO MAKE ANY SACRIFICE TO ACHIEVE PEACE. AGREEMENT ON THE INDIGENOUS ISSUE PRESENTED NO PROBLEMS FOR THE GOG, PROVIDED CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES WERE NOT INVOLVED. HE SAID HE UNDERSTOOD URNG RETICENCE -- ITS LEADERS WERE TOTALLY UNKNOWN HERE AND WOULD BE UNABLE TO COMPETE DEMOCRATICALLY. THERE HAD BEEN SIX SOLID AGREEMENTS SO FAR, INCLUDING ON MANY SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES. THE BAMACA ISSUE WAS NOW CAUSING SERIOUS PROBLEMS FOR THE PEACE PROCESS, BOTH INTERNALLY AND INTERNATIONALLY. HE SAID IT WAS VERY UNFAIR -- THE INCIDENT HAD OCCURRED BEFORE HIS ADMINISTRATION. HE HAD BEEN FAMILIAR WITH IT AS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. BAMACA HAD BEEN A GUERRILLA FOR 17 YEARS, KILLING AND DESTROYING. HE IS NOT A PRISONER; THERE ARE NO CLANDESTINE PRISONS; MILITARY INSTALLATIONS HAVE BEEN OPENED TO MINUGUA. IN SHORT, HE HAD NOTHING TO HIDE. HE ASKED RICHARDSON WHAT HE COULD DO, FACED WITH CONFLICTING INTERNAL AND INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE. THE MATTER WAS NOW IN COURT IN GUATEMALA TO PRESS HARBURY TO SUBSTANTIATE HER CHARGES OR DROP THEM, AND THE GOG WOULD ALSO BE REFERRING IT TO THE INTER AMERICAN COURT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN COSTA RICA. HE HAD RELATED HIS PLIGHT TO VICE PRESIDENT GORE IN MEXICO (AND, ACCORDING TO THE PRESS HERE, WILL SEEK TO SPEAK TO PRESIDENT CLINTON ABOUT IT AT THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS).

11. RICHARDSON RESPONDED THAT HE SHOULD DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO FACILITATE THE INVESTIGATION OF BAMACA'S FATE HERE AND TO PERMIT HARBURY TO SEEK RECOURSE IN THE COURTS. IT WOULD BE

IMPORTANT NOT TO CREATE VISA PROBLEMS OR OBSTACLES TO HER PURSUING HER CASE. DE LEON RESPONDED WITH SOME RESIGNATION THAT BAMACA IS DEAD, HIS REMAINS CANNOT BE PRODUCED, AND THERE IS NO EVIDENCE OF HIS FATE. DE LEON SAID ALL HE COULD DO IS ATTEST THAT BAMACA DIED BEFORE HE TOOK OFFICE. IN RESPONSE TO RICHARDSON'S QUESTION, HE SAID THAT THE GOG WOULD ASK THE INTERAMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS OF THE OAS TO GIVE ITS JUDGMENT IN THE CASE. IN RESPONSE TO RICHARDSON'S QUERY WHETHER SOME MILITARY KNOW WHAT HAPPENED BUT WON'T SAY, DE LEON SAID THERE ARE MANY STORIES, ALSO WHETHER HARBURY WAS REALLY MARRIED TO BAMACA. IF HE WAS CAPTURED, THERE WOULD BE WITNESSES. ONE CAN ONLY AWAIT THE RESULTS OF THE INVESTIGATION. ON THIS POINT, THE AMBASSADOR URGED THAT THE OMBUDSMAN'S REQUEST THAT THE DEC 7 DEADLINE TO COMPLETE HIS INVESTIGATION BE EXTENDED. DE LEON NOTED THIS WAS THE PREROGATIVE OF THE SUPREME COURT, BUT HE WOULD SEE WHAT HE MIGHT DO INFORMALLY TO HELP. IN RESPONSE TO RICHARDSON'S ADMISSION HE HAD NO SOLUTION TO OFFER, BUT THE CASE MUST BE RESOLVED, DE LEON SAID HE WAS ALMOST IN DESPAIR -- THERE WAS MAJOR DISCONTENT INTERNALLY THAT HE WAS TOLERATING THIS "SHOW"

HE TOLD THE PRESIDENT: "YOU ARE SINCERE." HOWEVER, THROUGH CEREZO AND SERRANO TO THE PRESENT, THE PROBLEMS CONTINUE. DE LEON EXPRESSED DOUBT WHETHER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS WERE REALLY WORSE; WHEN HE WAS HUMAN RIGHTS ONBUDSMAN AND VIOLATIONS WERE CHECKED OUT, ONLY A SMALL PROPORTION TURNED OUT TO BE RELATED TO HUMAN RIGHTS. 14. DE LEON SAID HE WOULD DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO ACHIEVE PEACE, INCLUDING PERHAPS GOING PERSONALLY TO GENEVA (A REFERENCE TO THE UNHRC MEETING NEXT YEAR). HE SAID IT WOULD BE A TRAVESTY IF GUATEMALA WERE CONDEMNED THERE, AND APPEALED FOR US SUPPORT THERE NOW MORE THAN EVER. HE ASKED FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE FRIENDS GENERALLY TO PRESSURE THE URNG ON THE PEACE PROCESS IN ORDER TO END THE WAR AND ACHIEVE GENUINE RECONCILIATION. HE CLOSED BY SAYING HE HAD SENT THE US AN S.O.S. ON BAMACA AND NEEDED HELP.

15. COMMENT: DE LEON IS UNDER SERIOUS PRESSURE HERE TO EXCISE THE BAMACA PROBLEM AND IS TRYING TO SQUARE THE CIRCLE SOMEHOW. HE WILL BE LOOKING FOR US HELP AT THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS, WHERE HE HAS ELECTED HUMAN RIGHTS AS HIS TOPIC IN THE WORKING SESSION. MEANWHILE WE WILL CONTINUE PRESSING THE GOG HERE FOR A SUPREME COURT EXTENSION OF THE OMBUDSMAN'S DEADLINE TO REPORT ON THE RESULTS OF HIS INVESTIGATION.

CONGRESSMAN BILL RICHARDSON

Don't forget Guatemala
Tuesday, December 6, 1994

The recent Miami summit showcased a host of Western Hemisphere nations with ambitious plans for freer trade and economic integration, more protection for the environment, and for measures to strengthen democratic institutions in Latin America. With the summit over and Latin nations pursuing a self-imposed 2005 deadline to meet these worthy goals, it is critically important that our Latin neighbors, the United States, and the United Nations focus on resolving some festering problems in one of the last hemispheric sore spots: Guatemala.

Unless urgent international action is taken in the next ninety days, the much ballyhooed peace talks between the Guatemalan government and the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Union (URNG) will collapse, gross human rights abuses and impunity will continue in Guatemala and Guatemala's economic and political relationship with the United States could be jeopardized. Underscoring the weakness of the Guatemalan situation is the case of American Jennifer Harbury who continues to push the Guatemalan government and the United States to divulge information regarding the fate of her husband and guerilla leader Efrain Bamaca. Unless forthrightly addressed, failure to resolve this matter could severely harm and complicate the U.S.- Guatemala relationship and call into question the Administration's commitment to human rights.

The peace talks, which began in April 1991, have stalled due to the intransigence of both sides. The talks received new impetus when Ramiro De Leon

Carpio, the former Human Rights Ombudsman, assumed the Presidency. Under the sponsorship of the United Nations the peace process moved quickly in early 1994, but since May has slowed considerably. An utter lack of urgency among principals to conclude the talks by the agreed year-end deadline puts into jeopardy the UN mandate which expires on March 29, 1995. An agreement is needed soon, as Guatemala's October 1995 elections will dampen any real chance of ending a war that has already claimed 140,000, mainly indigenous, lives.

Despite some promising initiatives in the human rights arena early in his tenure, President De Leon appears weakened in his resolve to take on the Guatemalan military and curb their brutal methods. Additionally, the Guatemalan Government continues to erect bureaucratic and legal barriers in highly visible human rights cases such as Efrain Bamaca, Myrna Mack, and Jorge Carpio.

To untangle this morass, the following initiatives should be considered.

First, the United States should launch a major diplomatic initiative with the U.N. Group of Friends (which includes the U.S., France, Norway, Mexico, and Venezuela) to pressure both sides to reach a peace agreement. In this connection, Mexico should specifically pressure the guerrillas, comfortably ensconced in Mexico City to reach an agreement. Given President Zedillo's ambitious social agenda for Mexico's poor and disenfranchised, the last thing he needs is for the Guatemalan problem to continue with thousands of Guatemalan refugees inside Mexico's southern border. The United Nations and its negotiating team must seek a rapid end to this drawn out peace process. In this connection, the United States should become more actively engaged in the negotiations by committing to leading an internationally sponsored reconstruction effort as part of an agreement.

Second, the State Department should condemn the continuing human rights atrocities in Guatemala in the strongest language possible. Further, State should make clear that respect for the human rights accords signed in March, 1994 should not be secondary to ending the armed conflict. The United States should vigorously press for Guatemala's unconditional and avid support of MINUGUA, the U.N. human rights verification mission. Additionally, greater U.S. support should be given to the Agency for International Developments' programs to reform the judiciary and democratic institutions. The United States should not waiver in providing economic assistance to Guatemala. Such a cut-off would only hurt Guatemala's poor. I do believe, however, that the United States Congress should closely scrutinize Guatemala's renewal in the General System of Preferences (GSP) scheduled for Congressional consideration in early 1995 as well as other Clinton trade initiatives designed to cushion smaller nations' entrance into NAFTA. If measurable progress is not made on the human and indigenous rights, as well as labor and worker standards, Congress should give the Administration authority to flexibly withdraw GSP and other trade benefits. Guatemala's powerful private sector, presently dormant in the human rights debate, needs to support further democratic reforms that rein in Guatemala's powerful military.

Clearly, President De Leon is our best hope for democracy in Guatemala. While I believe that his efforts and goals are sincere, political and economic reform has been limited at best. Success in the last year of his presidency depends greatly on the support and constructive pressure from the international community to move boldly on the peace and human rights fronts. Without significant movement toward a civil society in Guatemala, the lofty goals of the Miami summit will be tarnished. And, Guatemala will remain a frustrating reminder of a once proud nation unable to shed its pariah status in the hemisphere.

SUBJECT: HARBURY MEETS WITH CONG. BILL RICHARDSON

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: NEW MEXICO CONGRESSMAN BILL RICHARDSON MET WITH JENNIFER HARBURY ON DECEMBER 2 TO DISCUSS THE CASE OF HER MISSING HUSBAND, URNG COMMANDER EFRAIN BAMACA, AND HER VIEWS ON THE RELATION BETWEEN THAT CASE AND THE PEACE PROCESS IN GUATEMALA. HARBURY OUTLINED HER PROPOSAL FOR THE APPLICATION OF SANCTIONS AGAINST GUATEMALA SHOULD THE BAMACA CASE CONTINUE UNRESOLVED. SHE MAINTAINS THAT UNTIL THE GOG IS FACED WITH REAL CONSEQUENCES FOR ITS ACTIONS (I.E., SANCTIONS) HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS WILL CONTINUE AND IMPUNITY WILL NOT BE BROKEN. IN HER VIEW, THE PEACE PROCESS WILL BEGIN TO MOVE FORWARD AGAIN WHEN THE LOWER CLASSES SEE THAT THE ARMY IS NEGOTIATING IN GOOD FAITH, CITING HER HUSBAND'S PRESENTATION AND A SIGNIFICANT DECREASE IN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AS A SIGN OF THAT FAITH.

3. SHE REPEATED THAT IF BAMACA IS PRODUCED ALIVE, SHE WILL DESIST ALL ACTIONS AGAINST THE GOG; HOWEVER, IF HE IS PRODUCED DEAD, SHE WILL CONTINUE HER CAMPAIGN, WHILE YIELDING ON SOME POINTS. HARBURY REQUESTED RICHARDSON'S ASSISTANCE IN HELPING HER BYPASS A FOIA REQUEST AND OBTAIN STATE DEPARTMENT DOCUMENTS ON THE BAMACA CASE THAT SHE NEEDS TO PRESENT AS EVIDENCE IN HER UPCOMING COURT CASE AGAINST THE GOG. WHILE RICHARDSON WAS RECEPTIVE TO HARBURY'S ARGUMENTS, HE NOTED THAT HE VIEWS THE PEACE PROCESS AND THE BAMACA CASE AS TWO SEPARATE ISSUES, EMPHASIZING THE URGENCY OF GETTING THE PEACE PROCESS GOING AGAIN AND AN AGREEMENT SIGNED BEFORE THE NEW U.S. CONGRESS TAKES OFFICE IN JANUARY. END SUMMARY.

HIS DECEMBER 2-4 VI[illegible] TO GUATEMALA (SEPTEL). ALSO PRESENT WERE THE AM[illegible]SSADOR, ACS OFFICER CAROLY. GORMAN AND RICHARDSON'S STAFFER MIGUEL MARQUEZ. AFTER HARBURY RECOUNTED THE DETAILS OF HER HUSBAND'S CASE, RICHARDSON ASKED HER WHAT LEVERS THE U.S. OR THE U.N. COULD EMPLOY TO FORCE THE GOG TO PRODUCE HER HUSBAND AND IMPROVE THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GENERAL. HARBURY REPLIED THAT GUATEMALAN HISTORY SHOWS THAT THE GOG ONLY RESPONDS TO MONETARY INCENTIVES. SHE THEREFORE ADVOCATES SANCTIONS, APPLIED IN 60-DAY STAGES. SUCH SANCTIONS SHOULD BE ATTACHED NOT ONLY TO HER HUSBAND'S CASE, BUT TO THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GENERAL. THE USG RESPONSE SHOULD ACCORDINGLY BEGIN WITH A 60-DAY WARNING PERIOD, DURING WHICH THE GOG MUST PRESENT BAMACA DEAD OR ALIVE AND HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS SHOULD DECREASE SIGNIFICANTLY AS CERTIFIED BY INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS. IF THESE CONDITIONS ARE NOT MET, THEN SHE PROPOSES THAT THE USG CANCEL THE "FUERTES CAMINOS" NATIONAL RESERVE TRAINING PROGRAM. ASSUMING THAT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS CONTINUE OVER THE NEXT 60-DAY PERIOD, HARBURY WOULD ADVOCATE ADDITIONAL CUT-OFFS OF EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE, THEN THE ICITAP PROGRAM, ETC., MOVING EVERY 60 DAYS TO EVER STRONGER SANCTIONS. THE BOTTOM-LINE MESSAGE SHOULD BE, "YOUR CHECK IS IN THE TOP DRAWER; LET US KNOW WHEN YOUR HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION HAS IMPROVED AND WE WILL SEND IT."

HARBURY ON THE URNG AND THE PEACE PROCESS

---

5. RICHARDSON ASKED HARBURY WHAT HER RELATIONSHIP WAS WITH THE URNG AND HOW SHE THOUGHT THE PEACE PROCESS COULD BE REINVIGORATED. HARBURY RESPONDED THAT WHILE SHE IS NOT A MEMBER OF THE URNG (JOKING THAT SHE IS "TOO OLD") SHE SYMPATHIZES WITH MOST ASPECTS OF ITS PLATFORM (INDIGENOUS RIGHTS, ETC.). RICHARDSON OBSERVED THAT SOME BELIEVED HER EFFORTS WERE DAMAGING THE PEACE PROCESS. HE ALSO SAID THAT IN HIS CONVERSATIONS IN MEXICO WITH URNG LEADERS RODRIGO ASTURIAS AND PABLO MONSANTO, HE HAD SENSED THAT THE TWO MEN LACKED THE NECESSARY "SENSE OF URGENCY" IN CONCLUDING A PEACE AGREEMENT.

6. HARBURY THEORIZED THAT THE PERCEIVED LACK OF URGENCY STEMMED PERHAPS FROM THE FACT THAT THE URNG AND LOWER CLASSES HAVE REALIZED THAT THE ARMY IS NOT NEGOTIATING IN GOOD FAITH, AS EVIDENCED BY THE SIGNIFICANT RISE IN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AFTER THE SIGNING OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD LAST MARCH. SHE SAID THAT THE GOG'S REAL GOAL IS TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF A CEASE-FIRE AGREEMENT TO RETURN TO THE OLD WAYS OF VIOLENCE AND TERROR, ELIMINATING THE OPPOSITION AS IT RETURNS FROM THE MOUNTAINS. IN ORDER TO GAIN THE FULL SUPPORT OF OPPOSITION GROUPS FOR THE PEACE AGREEMENT, THE GOG NEEDS TO DEMONSTRATE THAT IT IS NEGOTIATING IN GOOD FAITH. OTHERWISE, NO ONE WILL BE WILLING TO LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS. THE PEOPLE NEED TO BE CONFIDENT THAT IMPUNITY HAS BEEN BROKEN AND THE PAST WILL NOT BE REPEATED. THE SUCCESSFUL RESOLUTION OF CASES LIKE HERS AND KAREN [illegible] CARPIO'S CAN BREAK THAT CYCLE OF IMPUNITY AND GIVE THE LOWER CLASSES AND REBEL GROUPS RENEWED FAITH IN THE PEACE PROCESS.

HARBURY CHARGES GOG WITH HARRASSMENT

7. TURNING TO HER EFFORTS IN THE BAMACA CASE, RICHARDSON'S STAFFER ASKED HARBURY WHAT HER REACTION WOULD BE IF THE GOG PRODUCED HER HUSBAND DEAD RATHER THAN ALIVE. HARBURY ANSWERED WITH DIFFICULTY, SAYING SHE WOULD HAVE TO THINK ABOUT IT. AFTER ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATION, SHE SAID SHE WOULD YIELD SOMETHING IN RETURN BUT WOUL NOT COMPLETELY DESIST IN HER ACTIONS AGAINST THE GOG. SHE ALSO OBSERVED THAT THE HEAT WAS BEING TURNED UP AGAINST HER SUPPORTERS IN GUATEMALA. SHE SAID, "I HAVEN'T SEEN MY FRIENDS SO TERRIFIED IN YEARS."

8. JUST THAT DAY, SHE HAD BEEN TOLD BY LONG-TIME SUPPORTERS IN GUATEMALA CITY THAT SHE WAS NO LONGER WELCOME TO USE THEIR FAX MACHINE. THEY REPORTED THAT IN RECENT DAYS, UNFAMILIAR CARS AND "MEN IN DARK GLASSES" HAD BEEN OBSERVING THEIR MOVEMENTS AND THEY FEARED FOR THEIR LIVES. SHE ALSO REITERATED THAT THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S LEGAL SUIT REQUIRING HER TO FILE CHARGES WITHIN 15 DAYS WAS JUST ANOTHER MANEUVER TO DIVERT ATTENTION FROM THE REAL ISSUE OF BAMACA'S WHEREABOUTS. RICHARDSON ASKED WHAT HE COULD DO TO HELP AND HARBURY REQUESTED THAT HE HELP HER OBTAIN STATE DEPARTMENT DOCUMENTS VERIFYING THAT BAMACA WAS CAPTURED ALIVE WITHOUT THE RED TAPE OF A FOIA REQUEST.

9. RICHARDSON CLOSED THE DISCUSSION BY POINTING OUT THAT THE NEW REPUBLICAN MAJORITY IN CONGRESS MIGHT VIEW INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES DIFFERENTLY THAN THE PRESENT CONGRESS. IN HIS VIEW, IT IS URGENT THAT A PEACE AGREEMENT BE SIGNED BEFORE THE END OF THE YEAR AND THE INAUGURATION OF THE NEW U.S. CONGRESS. HARBURY COUNTERED THAT THE PEACE PROCESS COULD ONLY GET MOVING IF FAITH WAS RESTORED, MAINTAINING THAT SUCCESS IN THE HIGHLY VISIBLE BAMACA CASE WOULD RESTORE THAT FAITH AND PUSH THE PEACE PROCESS FORWARD AGAIN. SHE WOULD PRESENT HER CASE TO THE NEW CONGRESS AS "NOT JUST A GUERRILLA CASE, BUT A CASE ABOUT A FAIR TRIAL." RICHARDSON REMINDED HARBURY THAT "YOU'RE NOT THE ONLY COMPONENT IN THE PEACE PROCESS" AND OPINED THAT SHE SHOULD NOT BE SO SANGUINE ABOUT HER ABILITY TO INFLUENCE THE INCOMING CONGRESS.

SUBJECT: CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON MEETING WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON

REF: GUAT 10826

[redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT

2. SUMMARY: NEW MEXICO CONGRESSMAN BILL RICHARDSON AND AMBASSADOR CALLED ON PRESIDENT DE LEON CARPIO EVENING DEC 3. POLCOUNS AND RICHARDSON STAFFER MIGUEL MARQUEZ ALSO SAT IN. DE LEON STRESSED HE HAD ACHIEVED THREE KEY GOALS OF HIS GOVERNMENT TO BREAK WITH THE PAST: ARMY LOYALTY, SEA CHANGE AGAINST POLITICAL CORRUPTION, STABLE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT INCLUDING FUNDING. NOW HE WAS MOVING TO THE MOST DIFFICULT: PEACE AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THESE WOULD LAY THE BASIS FOR THE NEXT DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION TO ADDRESS THE COUNTRY'S GRINDING SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC PROBLEMS.

3. PERVERSELY, THE BAMACA CASE WAS WEAKENING HIS SUPPORT INTERNALLY AND INTERNATIONALLY TO ACHIEVE THIS GOAL. HE WAS SENDING AN S.O.S. TO THE USG -- WHAT SHOULD HE DO? HE HAD RAISED THE ISSUE WITH VICE PRESIDENT GORE IN MEXICO (AND, ACCORDING TO THE PRESS, WILL SEEK TO DISCUSS IT WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON AT THE MIAMI SUMMIT). RICHARDSON RESPONDED THAT DE LEON WAS SINCERE, BUT STRESSED THE PUBLIC AWARENESS OF THIS CASE IN THE U.S. AND ITS EFFECT IN CONGRESS, WHICH COULD IMPACT ON TRADE PROGRAMS FOR GUATEMALA. HE COULD NOT ADVISE DE LEON WHAT TO DO, BUT IT WAS OF KEY IMPORTANCE TO RESOLVE THE CASE. DE LEON MAY GO TO GENEVA TO DEFEND GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD PERSONALLY BEFORE THE UNHRC. THE AMBASSADOR URGED DE LEON TO SEEK TO HAVE THE SUPREME COURT EXTEND THE DEC 7 DEADLINE FOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN TO COMPLETE HIS INVESTIGATION.

CONGRESSIONAL PRESSURES

4. RICHARDSON LED OFF BY COMPLIMENTING THE PRESIDENT ON HIS SUCCESS IN GETTING CONGRESS TO PASS AN UNPRECEDENTED ECONOMIC AND TAX PACKAGE NOV 30. DE LEON EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH THE RESULT, NOTING IT MARKED A MAJOR BREAK WITH THE PAST. HE HAD STAYED UP ALMOST ALL NIGHT NEGOTIATING IT BEFORE LEAVING FOR MEXICO FOR THE ZEDILLO INAUGURATION. RICHARDSON NOTED THAT THE PEACE TALKS SEEM TO BE STALLING AND WILL FALL SHORT OF THE DECEMBER 31 GOAL. HE MENTIONED THAT GUATEMALA'S INCLUSION IN SEVERAL PROGRAMS TO BE CONSIDERED NEXT YEAR IN CONGRESS, E.G. GSP AND THE INTERIM TRADE PROGRAM, COULD BE THREATENED BY THE BAMACA CASE.

5. DE LEON RESPONDED BY DESCRIBING HIS DILEMMA: HE IS UNDER TREMENDOUS INTERNAL PRESSURE FOR TOLERATING JENNIFER HARBURY'S EFFORTS ON BEHALF OF A GUERRILLA COMMANDER. HE WAS BEING SUBJECTED TO MERCILESS ATTACK IN THE GUATEMALAN PRESS, WHICH HE CONTRASTED WITH MEXICO WHERE THE MEDIA IS VERY CIRCUMSPECT ABOUT REPORTING MATTERS WHICH WERE UNPLEASANT FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

THE ARMY'S ROLE

6. HE LAID OUT THE PROBLEMS HE HAD PREVIOUSLY FACED: COMING INTO THE PRESIDENCY UNEXPECTEDLY WITHOUT A TEAM, WITHOUT A PLAN AND WITHOUT A POLITICAL BASE IN A POLITICAL PARTY. HE HAD REALIZED HE NEEDED TO CONFRONT POWERFUL GROUPS IN THE SOCIETY TO ACHIEVE A MEANINGFUL FUNCTIONING DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM AND INSTITUTIONAL STABILITY. TO DO THIS, HE HAD HAD TO MAKE WINNING THE SUPPORT OF THE ARMY HIS FIRST PRIORITY. THIS HE HAD ACHIEVED. HE HAD REPLACED THE MOD AND CHIEF OF STAFF WITHOUT QUESTION. THERE ARE NO LONGER COUP RUMORS. THE ARMY IS NOT CONSULTED ON POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ISSUES AND HAS NO SAY ON THEM. IT IS CONSULTED ON NATIONAL SECURITY MATTERS AND IS REPRESENTED ON THE PEACE COMMISSION WHICH IS FULLY APPROPRIATE. HIS CIVILIAN STAFF CONTROLS HIS SCHEDULE AND VISITORS, NOT HIS MILITARY CHIEF OF STAFF AS WITH PRIOR PRESIDENTS. HE IS MAKING CHANGES: HE HAS ABOLISHED CONFIDENTIAL FUNDS, HE IS CREATING A CIVILIAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE, AND HE SPEAKS PUBLICLY ABOUT ARMY REDUCTIONS. DE LEON ACKNOWLEDGED HE HAD HAD TO TAKE A STEP BACKWARD IN MAKING AN ARMY OFFICER VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT, BUT THAT HAD BEEN NECESSARY BECAUSE OF THE OUTCRY OVER BURGEONING CRIMINAL VIOLENCE.

COMBATTING CORRUPTION

7. HIS NEXT STEP HAD BEEN TO PURIFY THE POLITICAL SYSTEM BECAUSE OF THE CORRUPTION IN BOTH CONGRESS AND THE SUPREME COURT. HE HAD BROUGHT THEM DOWN TO RESTORE CREDIBILITY TO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT, AND HAD DONE SO PEACEFULLY AND LEGALLY WITH SATISFACTORY RESULTS. MOREOVER, THERE HAD BEEN CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES TO CREATE ACCOUNTABILITY AND TRANSPARENCY IN GOVERNMENT. THESE WERE KEY FOR GUATEMALA'S FUTURE.

HUMAN RIGHTS

8. DE LEON SAID HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS WERE CONTINUING, BUT THEY WERE INDIVIDUAL CASES AND NOT ON A SCALE WHICH JUSTIFIES CONDEMNING A GOVERNMENT OR A COUNTRY. THE RECENT KILLING OF A UNIVERSITY STUDENT AND THE MURDER OF HIS OWN COUSIN (FORMER UCN PARTY LEADER AND PRESIDENTIAL RUNNER UP) JORGE CARPIO LAST YEAR WERE BOTH BEING INVESTIGATED. THE "LA EXACTA" INCIDENT WAS IRRATIONAL WITH MAJOR MISTAKES -- HE WAS AWAITING THE FINAL REPORT TO DECIDE ON ADMINISTRATIVE PUNISHMENTS AND TO TURN THE CASE OVER TO THE COURTS, AS HE WOULD WITH THE UNIVERSITY CASE.

WAR AND PEACE

9. HE STRESSED THAT THE PRIMARY FOCUS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

VIOLATIONS IS THE WAR, AND CAUSED BY BOTH SIDES. THEY WILL SUBSIDE WHEN THE WAR ENDS. HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT ONLY SLOW HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS IS BEING MADE NOW. IT IS NORMAL TO HAVE PROBLEMS AND PRESSURES IN THE END PHASE OF THE PEACE PROCESS. THERE WERE ONLY THREE MONTHS IN 1995 TO COME TO CLOSURE, AFTER THAT THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN WOULD INTERVENE. MANY PEOPLE WERE PARTICIPATING IN THE POLITICAL SYSTEM NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME AND THIS WOULD ACCELERATE WITH PEACE. SOME GROUPS WERE AFRAID OF THIS PEACEFUL REVOLUTION WHICH WILL HAVE MAJOR EFFECTS BECAUSE OF THE CURRENT EXTREME INJUSTICE IN THE SOCIETY. HE HAD BEEN CHALLENGING THE ECONOMIC CLASS SINCE LAST APRIL -- THIS HAD NOW SUCCEEDED WITH THE FISCAL PACKAGE. PEACE SHOULD BRING SUBSTANTIAL INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT, BUT ONLY IF GUATEMALA IS PREPARED TO DO ITS SHARE; THIS HAS NOW BEEN MADE POSSIBLE. HE HAD BEEN OFFERED FUNDING BY THE PRIVATE SECTOR LIMITED TO 1995 BUT HAD REJECTED IT SO HIS SUCCESSOR WOULD NOT HAVE TO FACE THE SAME LEGISLATIVE STRUGGLE FOR ADEQUATE FUNDING.

BAMACA

10. DE LEON SAID HE WAS PREPARED TO MAKE ANY SACRIFICE TO ACHIEVE PEACE. AGREEMENT ON THE INDIGENOUS ISSUE PRESENTED NO PROBLEMS FOR THE GOG, PROVIDED CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES WERE NOT INVOLVED. HE SAID HE UNDERSTOOD URNG RETICENCE -- ITS LEADERS WERE TOTALLY UNKNOWN HERE AND WOULD BE UNABLE TO COMPETE DEMOCRATICALLY. THERE HAD BEEN SIX SOLID AGREEMENTS SO FAR, INCLUDING ON MANY SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES. THE BAMACA ISSUE WAS NOW CAUSING SERIOUS PROBLEMS FOR THE PEACE PROCESS, BOTH INTERNALLY AND INTERNATIONALLY. HE SAID IT WAS VERY UNFAIR -- THE INCIDENT HAD OCCURRED BEFORE HIS ADMINISTRATION. HE HAD BEEN FAMILIAR WITH IT AS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN. BAMACA HAD BEEN A GUERRILLA FOR 17 YEARS, KILLING AND DESTROYING. HE IS NOT A PRISONER; THERE ARE NO CLANDESTINE PRISONS; MILITARY INSTALLATIONS HAVE BEEN OPENED TO MINUGUA. IN SHORT, HE HAD NOTHING TO HIDE. HE ASKED RICHARDSON WHAT HE COULD DO, FACED WITH CONFLICTING INTERNAL AND INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE. THE MATTER WAS NOW IN COURT IN GUATEMALA TO PRESS HARBURY TO SUBSTANTIATE HER CHARGES OR DROP THEM, AND THE GOG WOULD ALSO BE REFERRING IT TO THE INTER AMERICAN COURT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN COSTA RICA. HE HAD RELATED HIS PLIGHT TO VICE PRESIDENT GORE IN MEXICO (AND, ACCORDING TO THE PRESS HERE, WILL SEEK TO SPEAK TO PRESIDENT CLINTON ABOUT IT AT THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS).

11. RICHARDSON RESPONDED THAT HE SHOULD DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO FACILITATE THE INVESTIGATION OF BAMACA'S FATE HERE AND TO PERMIT HARBURY TO SEEK RECOURSE IN THE COURTS. IT WOULD BE IMPORTANT NOT TO CREATE VISA PROBLEMS OR OBSTACLES TO HER

PURSUING HER CASE. DE LEON RESPONDED WITH SOME RESIGNATION THAT BAMACA IS DEAD, HIS REMAINS CANNOT BE PRODUCED, AND THERE IS NO EVIDENCE OF HIS FATE. DE LEON SAID ALL HE COULD DO IS ATTEST THAT BAMACA DIED BEFORE HE TOOK OFFICE. IN RESPONSE TO RICHARDSON'S QUESTION, HE SAID THAT THE GOG WOULD ASK THE INTERAMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS OF THE OAS TO GIVE ITS JUDGMENT IN THE CASE. IN RESPONSE TO RICHARDSON'S QUERY WHETHER SOME MILITARY KNOW WHAT HAPPENED BUT WON'T SAY, DE LEON SAID THERE ARE MANY STORIES. ALSO WHETHER HARBURY WAS REALLY MARRIED TO BAMACA. IF HE WAS CAPTURED, THERE WOULD BE WITNESSES. ONE CAN ONLY AWAIT THE RESULTS OF THE INVESTIGATION. ON THIS POINT, THE AMBASSADOR URGED THAT THE OMBUDSMAN'S REQUEST THAT THE DEC 7 DEADLINE TO COMPLETE HIS INVESTIGATION BE EXTENDED. DE LEON NOTED THIS WAS THE PREROGATIVE OF THE SUPREME COURT, BUT HE WOULD SEE WHAT HE MIGHT DO INFORMALLY TO HELP. IN RESPONSE TO RICHARDSON'S ADMISSION HE HAD NO SOLUTION TO OFFER, BUT THE CASE MUST BE RESOLVED, DE LEON SAID HE WAS ALMOST IN DESPAIR -- THERE WAS MAJOR DISCONTENT INTERNALLY THAT HE WAS TOLERATING THIS "SHOW"

ABOUT AN OUTLAW GUERRILLA LEADER. HE ASKED RHETORICALLY HOW THIS CASE COULD BE SO IMPORTANT AS TO ENDANGER THE PEACE PROCESS.

BACK TO PEACE

12. DE LEON ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HE HAD ASKED MEXICAN PRESIDENT ZEDILLO TO HELP PRESSURE THE URNG TOWARD AN ACCORD IN THE THREE MONTH WINDOW REMAINING (REF). HE SAID THE FEBRUARY 28 DATE FOR MINUGUA'S DEPARTURE WAS IMPORTANT. HE SAID HE WOULD DO

EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO REACH AGREEMENT, AND THE ARMY WOULD SUPPORT HIM. HE INSISTED IT WAS IMPORTANT TO PRESSURE BOTH SIDES. IF IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH THE FORMER HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AS PRESIDENT AND THE PRESENT PROGRESSIVE ARMY LEADERSHIP, HE DIDN'T KNOW WHAT THE FUTURE WOULD HOLD. HE THOUGHT IT DOUBTFUL THAT RIOS MONTT WOULD SUCCEED IN OVERCOMING THE CONSTITUTIONAL BAR TO HIS RUNNING FOR PRESIDENT, BUT IT COULD NOT BE RULED OUT.

HUMAN RIGHTS AGAIN

13. RICHARDSON MENTIONED THAT COL. MERIDA HAD NOT SHOWN UP IN HIS MEETING WITH THE GOVERNMENT MINISTER, OBSERVING THAT HE HAS A VERY NEGATIVE IMAGE IN THE US AND IN EUROPE AMONG THOSE WHO FOLLOW GUATEMALA. HE THEN ASKED HOW HE COULD BE HELPFUL IN THE NEXT SIX MONTHS, NOTING THAT HIS OFFICE IS ALREADY GETTING CALLS ASKING WHY, IN VIEW OF ITS HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD, GUATEMALA WILL BE ATTENDING THE MIAMI SUMMIT. HE TOLD THE PRESIDENT: "YOU ARE SINCERE." HOWEVER, THROUGH CEREZO AND SERRANO TO THE PRESENT, THE PROBLEMS CONTINUE. DE LEON EXPRESSED DOUBT WHETHER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS WERE REALLY WORSE; WHEN HE WAS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND VIOLATIONS WERE CHECKED OUT, ONLY A SMALL PROPORTION TURNED OUT TO BE RELATED TO HUMAN RIGHTS. THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE NO LONGER PROVIDES RELIABLE STATISTICS, AND THE ARCHBISHOP'S OFFICE REPORTS ALL COMPLAINTS AS VIOLATIONS (COMMENT: WE CONCUR WITH THIS ASSESSMENT). THERE ARE SCATTERED CASES, MOSTLY FROM THIS DIRTY WAR.

TO GENEVA?

14. DE LEON SAID HE WOULD DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO ACHIEVE PEACE, INCLUDING PERHAPS GOING PERSONALLY TO GENEVA (A REFERENCE TO THE UNHRC MEETING NEXT YEAR). HE SAID IT WOULD BE A TRAVESTY IF GUATEMALA WERE CONDEMNED THERE, AND APPEALED FOR US SUPPORT THERE NOW MORE THAN EVER. HE ASKED FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE FRIENDS GENERALLY TO PRESSURE THE URNG ON THE PEACE PROCESS IN ORDER TO END THE WAR AND ACHIEVE GENUINE RECONCILIATION. HE CLOSED BY SAYING HE HAD SENT THE US AN S.O.S. ON BAMACA AND NEEDED HELP.

15. COMMENT: DE LEON IS UNDER SERIOUS PRESSURE HERE TO EXCISE THE BAMACA PROBLEM AND IS TRYING TO SQUARE THE CIRCLE SOMEHOW. HE WILL BE LOOKING FOR US HELP AT THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS, WHERE HE HAS ELECTED HUMAN RIGHTS AS HIS TOPIC IN THE WORKING SESSION. MEANWHILE WE WILL CONTINUE PRESSING THE GOG HERE FOR A SUPREME COURT EXTENSION OF THE OMBUDSMAN'S DEADLINE TO REPORT ON THE RESULTS OF HIS INVESTIGATION.

2. SUMMARY AND INTRODUCTION: CONGRESSMAN BILL RICHARDSON AND HIS LEGISLATIVE AIDE MIGUEL MARQUEZ VISITED GUATEMALA FROM DECEMBER 2-4, MEETING WITH A WIDE RANGE OF GOG OFFICIALS, POLITICIANS, HUMAN RIGHTS AND MAYAN LEADERS. IN ADDITION, THE CONGRESSMAN VISITED TWO PRISONS TO LOOK INTO HUMAN RIGHTS CONDITIONS THERE. THIS CABLE REPORTS ON THE BULK OF THE CONGRESSMAN'S MEETINGS; SEPTELS ON SESSIONS WITH PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO AND WITH JENNIFER HARBURY. THE AMBASSADOR ALSO HOSTED A DINNER IN HONOR OF THE CONGRESSMAN ATTENDED BY A NUMBER OF GOG OFFICIALS DEALING WITH PEACE (INCLUDING NEGOTIATOR MARIO PERMUTH), HUMAN RIGHTS AND SECURITY ISSUES.

3. THROUGHOUT HIS STAY, THE CONGRESSMAN STRESSED THE NEED TO HIS GOVERNMENT INTERLOCUTORS TO FULLY INVESTIGATE ALL HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, INCLUDING BAMACA'S DISAPPEARANCE. HE ALSO UNDERSCORED THE NEED TO ALLOW JENNIFER HARBURY TO PURSUE HER LEGAL OPTIONS WITHOUT THE THREAT OF HER VISA RUNNING OUT HANGING OVER HER HEAD. RICHARDSON NOTED THE PEACE PROCESS IS KEY FOR PROGRESS WITHIN GUATEMALA AND ENCOURAGED HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS TO CONTINUE THEIR WORK AND MAYAN REPS TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE OPENINGS THAT NOW EXIST IN THE POLITICAL SYSTEM. END SUMMARY AND INTRODUCTION.

4. CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON AND THE AMBASSADOR CALLED ON MOD MAJOR GENERAL MARIO RENE ENRIQUEZ MORALES ON DECEMBER 2. RICHARDSON EXPLAINED HE HAD COME TO GUATEMALA BECAUSE OF THE GREAT U.S. PUBLIC INTEREST IN THE CASE OF U.S. CITIZEN JENNIFER HARBURY'S MISSING HUSBAND, AS WELL AS IN RESPONSE TO REPORTED INCREASES IN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED BY GIVING A GENERAL REVIEW OF THE HARBURY'S ACTIVITIES SINCE BAMACA DISAPPEARED IN MARCH 1992.

HE ASSERTED THAT WHILE HER CASE HAS SOME JUSTIFICATION, IT IS ALSO OBVIOUS SHE IS WORKING WITH THE URNG GUERRILLAS. HE ADDED PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD JUST COME BACK FROM MEXICO WHERE VICE-PRESIDENT GORE HAD SPOKEN TO HIM ABOUT THE BAMACA CASE. THE PRESIDENT WAS VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE SITUATION.

5. CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON EMPHASIZED HE RECOGNIZED THE CRITICAL IMPORTANCE OF THE PEACE PROCESS. HOWEVER, THE BAMACA CASE COULD DAMAGE BILATERAL RELATIONS WHICH COULD, IN TURN, DAMAGE THE PEACE PROCESS. WHY CAN'T WE HAVE MORE INFORMATION ON WHAT HAPPENED TO BAMACA? ENRIQUEZ ANSWERED THE ARMY IS COOPERATING FULLY AND NOTED THAT ON NOVEMBER 29 REPRESENTATIVES OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE AND MINUGUA MADE SURPRISE VISITS TO NEARLY EVERY MILITARY INSTALLATION IN THE COUNTRY.

6. EVERY ROOM OF EVERY INSTALLATION WAS OPENED FOR THEIR SEARCHES, ENRIQUEZ UNDERSCORED. IN THE "MARISCAL ZAVALA" BRIGADE, FOR EXAMPLE, A SOLDIER IN THE BRIG, UPON BEING SHOWN A PHOTO OF BAMACA, EXCLAIMED THE GUERRILLA HAD BEEN IN JAIL WITH HIM TEN DAYS EARLIER. THE ARMY THEN FOUND THE SOLDIERS WHO HAD BEEN DETAINED THERE, INCLUDING ONE WHO HAD SINCE BEEN DISCHARGED, AND BROUGHT THEM IN FOR THE OMBUDSMAN/MINUGUA TO VERIFY THEY WERE NOT BAMACA.

7. FURTHER, MANY OF THE OFFICERS NAMED BY EX-GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA AS HAVING PARTICIPATED IN BAMACA'S DETENTION REPORTED TO THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE TO ANSWER QUESTIONS ON DECEMBER 2. MANY PERSONS, INCLUDING ENRIQUEZ HIMSELF, BELIEVE ORDERING THESE OFFICERS TO TESTIFY BEFORE THE OMBUDSMAN WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL. NEVERTHELESS, HE HAD ORDERED THESE OFFICERS TO COOPERATE. RICHARDSON RESPONDED THIS COOPERATION WAS LAUDABLE, AND HE WAS PLEASED WITH ENRIQUEZ' OFFER, DISCUSSED PREVIOUSLY WITH THE AMBASSADOR, TO ALLOW MINUGUA TO HAVE ACCESS TO ALL EX-GUERRILLA COLLABORATORS STILL WITH THE ARMY. BUT COULDN'T ENRIQUEZ DO MORE TO CLARIFY THE BAMACA CASE? ENRIQUEZ RESPONDED, "MORE THAN I AM NOW? IF I WERE JESUS CHRIST I COULD RAISE BAMACA FROM THE DEAD."

8. RICHARDSON THEN MENTIONED HE WAS APPRECIATIVE OF THE GUATEMALAN CONTRIBUTION TO THE HAITIAN MNF. ENRIQUEZ THANKED THE CONGRESSMAN FOR HIS COMMENTS. RICHARDSON THEN ASKED GEN ENRIQUEZ TO EXPLAIN WHY THERE WERE SO MANY ALLEGATIONS OF ARMY HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. THE MOD RESPONDED THAT WHILE THE ARMY HAS MADE ERRORS, IT IS ALSO THE VICTIM OF THE URNG'S PROPAGANDA WAR. PICKING UP ON THIS LINE, RICHARDSON NOTED THE URNG CLAIMS THE GOG IS NOT RESPONDING TO THE POINTS THEY PRESENT IN THE INDIGENOUS NEGOTIATIONS. ENRIQUEZ ANSWERED THE URNG IS RAISING UNREASONABLE DEMANDS IN ORDER TO PORTRAY THEMSELVES AS THE CHAMPIONS OF THE INDIGENOUS PEOPLE IN AN ATTEMPT TO BUILD A POPULAR BASE OF SUPPORT FOR THEMSELVES. ENRIQUEZ OPINED, THOUGH, THAT THE PEACE PROCESS IS IRREVERSIBLE, AND WHILE THE URNG CAN DELAY IT, THEY CANNOT STOP IT.

9. RICHARDSON ASKED ENRIQUEZ WHEN THE PAC'S WILL BE DEMOBILIZED. THE MOD ANSWERED THIS WILL OCCUR WHEN THE INSURGENCY ENDS AND NOTED PAC'S HAVE ALREADY BEEN DEMOBILIZED WHERE THERE IS NO CONFLICT. THE CONGRESSMAN THEN NOTED THAT ANY EFFORT TO THROW

JENNIFER HARBURY OUT OF GUATEMALA WHEN HER CURRENT 15 DAY PERMIT RUNS OUT WILL REDOUND NEGATIVELY ON GUATEMALA. THE MOD RESPONDED THE GOG WILL DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO CLARIFY THE BAMACA CASE. ENRIQUEZ ADDED HE IS SURPRISED THE U.S. NEVER SHOWED AS MUCH INTEREST IN PURSUING THE GUERRILLA MURDERERS OF U.S. AMBASSADOR GORDON MEIN.

GOVERNMENT MINISTER

10. CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON AND THE AMBASSADOR CALLED ON GOVERNMENT MINISTER PARINELLO DECEMBER 2. (NOTE: VICE MINISTER QUEZADA ATTENDED IN PLACE OF VM MERIDA, WHO HAD PREVIOUSLY CONFIRMED HE WOULD BE IN THE SESSION). RICHARDSON NOTED GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS IMAGE WAS BEING DAMAGED BY THE BAMACA CASE. PARINELLO

RESPONDED THAT THE ORPA FIELD COMMANDER HAD BEEN PART OF AN ILLEGAL ARMED MOVEMENT TRYING TO OVERTHROW A DEMOCRATICALLY ELECTED GOVERNMENT BY FORCE. THE URNG, HE CONTINUED, HAD ALSO MURDERED A US AMBASSADOR, THUS IT WAS DIFFICULT TO UNDERSTAND THE PROMINENCE THE CASE HAD BEEN GIVEN.

11. NONETHELESS, PRESIDENT DE LEON HAD ORDERED A FULL INVESTIGATION, WITH MINUGUA'S PARTICIPATION, THAT WOULD BE PURSUED WITHIN THE LIMITS OF GOG RESOURCES, PARINELLO SAID. RICHARDSON EMPHASIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF FORWARD MOVEMENT ON THIS CASE, AND HUMAN RIGHTS IN GENERAL, IF GUATEMALA IS TO GAIN SUPPORT IN THE US CONGRESS. WHEN ASKED ABOUT MILITARY INFLUENCE IN THE POLICE, PARINELLO CLAIMED THERE WAS NOT A SINGLE MILITARY MEMBER SERVING ON THE FORCE. HE CLAIMED COL. MERIDA HAD BEEN BROUGHT IN AS VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT TO TRY TO IMPROVE POLICE ORGANIZATION AND PARINELLO DISMISSED AS A MYTH THE NOTION THAT MERIDA RATHER THAN HE CALLS THE SHOTS. THE GOVERNMENT MINISTER ADDED THAT TIME AND RESOURCES WOULD BE NECESSARY TO PROFESSIONALIZE THE POLICE.

12. THE CONGRESSMAN ALSO EXPRESSED HOPE THE PROBLEM POSED BY LIMITING OF JENNIFER HARBURY'S VISA TO 15 DAYS CAN BE RESOLVED ADDING SUCH A MOVE CONTRADICTS THE GOG'S COMMITMENT TO OFFER FULL JUDICIAL ASSISTANCE TO HER. PARINELLO INSISTED SHE WOULD HAVE NO DIFFICULTIES STAYING IN THE COUNTRY AS LONG AS SHE IS HERE FOR LEGAL PROCEEDINGS, BUT NOT IF SHE ENGAGES IN POLITICAL ACTIVITY. RICHARDSON THEN NOTED THE IMPORTANCE OF ACHIEVING AN AGREEMENT TO END THE INSURGENCY AND OBSERVED THAT PROGRESS IN GUATEMALA'S DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS HAD BEEN SLOW SINCE IT RETURNED TO DEMOCRACY. PARINELLO EMPHASIZED GUATEMALA'S PROBLEMS WERE MORE COMPLEX THAN OTHER COUNTRIES THAT HAD FACED INSURGENCIES.

13. THE MINISTER CLOSED BY INSISTING HE WAS CLEANING UP POLICE CORRUPTION, CLAIMING TO HAVE TURNED ABOUT 200 OFFICERS OVER TO THE COURTS IN THE EIGHT MONTHS HE HAD BEEN MINISTER. HE REGRETTED THE CONTINUING HIGH LEVELS OF VIOLENT CRIME, AND NOTED THE KIDNAPPING OF BUSINESSMAN FRATERNO VILA HAD BEEN THE

WORK OF THE URNG. IN RESPONSE TO RICHARDSON'S CONCERNS OVER ALLEGED THREATS/DISAPPEARANCES OF UNION LEADERS, PARINELLO ANSWERED THERE IS NO GOG POLICY TO VIOLATE HUMAN RIGHTS, BUT RIGHT WING EXTREMIST GROUPS REMAIN ACTIVE. HE ALSO NOTED THERE WAS NO GUARANTEE

AGAINST "MAVERICKS" IN THE GOVERNMENT. RICHARDSON URGED THE MINISTER TO FULLY INVESTIGATE HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, TO WORK CLOSELY WITH MINUGUA AND TO FIGHT IMPUNITY.

LUNCH WITH CONGRESSIONAL/POLITICAL LEADERS

14. THE AMBASSADOR HOSTED A LUNCH WITH CONGRESSIONAL/POLITICAL LEADERS IN HONOR OF CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON ON DECEMBER 3. THE VARIOUS

POLITICOS CONGRATULATED AN OBVIOUSLY PLEASED FRG PARTY CHIEF GENERAL RIOS MONTT ON HIS ELECTION THE PREVIOUS DAY AS PRESIDENT OF CONGRESS AND MAINTAINED COOPERATION WOULD CONTINUE. ALL WERE PROUD OF THEIR ACHIEVEMENT IN PASSING A RESPONSIBLE FISCAL PACKAGE (INCLUDING TAX INCREASES) AND THE 1995 BUDGET.

15. WHILE THE CONGRESSMEN/POLITICAL LEADERS AGREED ON THE IMPORTANCE OF ACHIEVING A PEACE PACT, THEY WERE NOT OPTIMISTIC IT COULD BE DONE BEFORE THE ADVENT OF THE NEXT PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN. THEY GENERALLY CONSIDERED THE URNG RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DELAY, BUT THOUGHT IT IMPORTANT FOR INTERNATIONAL ACTORS TO KEEP UP THE PRESSURE ON BOTH SIDES. RIOS MONTT, IN PARTICULAR, EXPRESSED HIS OPPOSITION TO THE GOG AGREEING TO CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES WITH THE GUERRILLAS, AND NOTED THE EXECUTIVE COULD NOT COMMIT THE CONGRESS IN THIS REGARD. ALL AGREED THE NEW NONPARTISAN PEACE COMMITTEE IN THE CONGRESS SHOULD BE CONSULTED CLOSELY BY THE GOG, BUT THEY DID NOT FAVOR THE IDEA OF CONGRESSIONAL PARTICIPATION IN THE PEACE DELEGATION.

16. THROUGHOUT THE LUNCH, RICHARDSON STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF GUATEMALA TAKING ACTIONS IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS AREA. THIS WOULD BE IMPORTANT IF THE NATION EXPECTED TO BE A PARTICIPANT IN THE INCREASING OPENING OF HEMISPHERIC TRADE. THERE WAS GENERAL AGREEMENT ON THE NEED TO IMPROVE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN PRINCIPLE, ALTHOUGH SOME IRRITATION OVER THE BAMACA CASE. THEY NOTED THAT WITH THE ONGOING

INSURGENCY AND THE WEAK LAW ENFORCEMENT AND JUDICIAL SYSTEM, DIFFICULT INDIVIDUAL CASES WERE BOUND TO CONTINUE TO OCCUR. STRENGTHENING THESE INSTITUTIONS WAS CRITICAL FOR THE FUTURE OF THE COUNTRY, THEY UNDERSCORED. FINALLY, THE CONGRESSMEN EXPRESSED A STRONG INTEREST IN ESTABLISHING CONTACTS WITH THEIR US COLLEAGUES, SAYING THEY HOPED TO SEND A DELEGATION TO WASHINGTON EARLY NEXT YEAR.

CACIF

17. THE CONGRESSMAN HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO MEET A NUMBER OF CACIF/BUSINESS LEADER AT A DECEMBER 3 BREAKFAST HOSTED BY THE AMBASSADOR. THESE BUSINESS LEADERS UNDERSCORED THEIR DESIRE FOR PEACE, BUT NOTED THE URNG "STRATEGY" OF SEEKING TO INDIRECTLY PRESSURE THE ARMY BY KIDNAPPING THE WEALTHY, DEMANDING "WAR TAXES" AND OCCUPYING/BURNING THEIR FARMS WAS HAVING THE EXACT OPPOSITE EFFECT ON THE BUSINESS CLASS - LEADING THEM TO HARDNER POSITIONS. THEY ALSO ACCEPTED THE NEED TO IMPROVE HUMAN RIGHTS HERE (AND WERE CONCERNED ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY WOULD PERCEIVE THE ELECTION OF RIOS MONTT AS CONGRESSIONAL PRESIDENT), BUT EXPRESSED SKEPTICISM OVER THE BAMACA CASE, SEEING IT AS A CLEAR GUERRILLA SHOW. THE

BUSINESS LEADERS LAMENTED THE PASSAGE OF NEW TAXES AND THE INCAPACITY (IN THEIR EYES) OF THE FINANCE MINISTER.

INDIGENOUS REPS

18. IN AN EARLY DECEMBER 4 MEETING WITH INDIGENOUS REPS, RICHARDSON WAS TOLD NEITHER THE GOG OR URNG REPRESENT THEIR INTERESTS AT THE PEACE TABLE. AS SUCH, THEY HAVE PROPOSED MEETING THE TWO SIDES TO "DEEPEN" THEIR APPRECIATION OF THE CIVIL SOCIETY

ASSEMBLY (ASC) INDIGENOUS PAPER, ESPECIALLY ON THE LAND ISSUE. THE GOG TOLD MAYAN REPS THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO EXCHANGE VIEWS, BUT ONLY IN GUATEMALA. THE INDIGENOUS ARE SEEKING THE ATTENDANCE OF JEAN ARNAULT OR THE FRIENDS AT THIS (AS YET UNSCHEDULED) SESSION. IT WAS POINTED OUT THE GOG HAS ALWAYS HELD THE VIEW THAT GUATEMALANS SPEAKING AMONG THEMSELVES INSIDE THE COUNTRY DO NOT NEED FOREIGNERS PRESENT. GIVEN THIS, THE MAYANS SHOULD BE OPEN TO OTHER DIALOGUE FORMULAS. THE CONGRESSMAN URGED THEM TO USE THE FORMAL POLITICAL SYSTEM TO PRESS DEMANDS, INCLUDING CONSIDERING FORMING AN INDIGENOUS-BASED PARTY. THE MAYANS REACTED CAUTIOUSLY, ASSERTING THE WESTERN POLITICAL SYSTEM IS BASED ON ASSUMPTIONS NOT VALID WITHIN THEIR "COSMOVISION."

LABOR

19. THE CONGRESSMAN MET A NUMBER OF UNION LEADERS DECEMBER 2, WHO ASSERTED THE GOG'S FISCAL REFORM PROGRAM HURT THE POOR. IN ADDITION, FARM WORKERS WHO

ATTEMPT TO ORGANIZE A UNION ARE FIRED AND BLACKLISTED, THEY CLAIMED. IN RESPONSE TO CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON'S QUESTION HOW THE US COULD HELP ON WORKERS' RIGHTS, THE LEADERS SUGGESTED A SLIDING SCALE OF SANCTIONS, SUCH AS REDUCING QUOTAS OR IMPORTS OF SUGAR, COFFEE, ETC. TIED TO THE DEGREE TO WHICH WORKERS' RIGHTS ARE RESPECTED. FINALLY, THEY URGED THE US TO CEASE SUPPORTING THE GOG'S "NEO-LIBERAL ECONOMIC POLICY" AND EFFORTS TO PRIVATIZE STATE INDUSTRIES.

20. DURING A DECEMBER 3 DINNER, VARIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS[redacted]

B/

VOICED THEIR DISILLUSIONMENT WITH THE FAILURE OF "SO-CALLED" DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATIONS SINCE 1986 TO INVESTIGATE AND SANCTION HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. THE ACTIVISTS ASSERTED THE HUMAN RIGHTS CLIMATE HAS NOT REALLY IMPROVED BECAUSE THE MILITARY IS STILL THE DECISIVE FORCE.

21. ONE DINNER GUEST, TO GENERAL ASSENT BY THE OTHERS, CAUTIONED A PEACE ACCORD WILL NOT CAUSE THE LEVEL OF OVERALL VIOLENCE TO DIMINISH BECAUSE THE MILITARY IS STILL INVOLVED IN A VARIETY OF ILLICIT ACTIVITIES AND THE INSTITUTION WILL CONTINUE TO

PROTECT ITS INTERESTS, EVEN IF THIS MEANS FATAL CONSEQUENCES FOR OTHERS. HE ALSO LAMENTED THE MILITARY CONTINUES TO USE THE POLICE FORCE AS AN ENTITY TO SATISFY ITS OWN INTERESTS RATHER THAN AS A SEPARATE INSTITUTION WHOSE ROLE IS TO PROVIDE SECURITY FOR THE POPULATION. PRESSURE, THE ACTIVISTS SAID, IS THE ONLY THING THE MILITARY UNDERSTANDS AND THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY SHOULD NOT LET UP IN ITS INSISTENCE THAT (1) ARMY HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATORS BE PUNISHED AND (2) THE MILITARY ALLOW DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS TO GROW. THE LEADERS CALLED UPON THE US TO PRESSURE THE PRIVATE SECTOR, AS WELL, AS A MEANS TO KEEP THE MILITARY IN CHECK. IN CLOSING, RICHARDSON THANKED THE GROUP FOR THEIR EFFORTS AND PROMISED CONTINUED US SUPPORT ON BEHALF OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

LUNCH WITH CONGRESSIONAL/POLITICAL LEADERS

14. THE AMBASSADOR HOSTED A LUNCH WITH CONGRESSIONAL/POLITICAL LEADERS IN HONOR OF CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON ON DECEMBER 3. THE VARIOUS POLITICOS CONGRATULATED AN OBVIOUSLY PLEASED FRG PARTY CHIEF GENERAL RIOS MONTT ON HIS ELECTION THE PREVIOUS DAY AS PRESIDENT OF CONGRESS AND MAINTAINED

COOPERATION WOULD CONTINUE. ALL WERE PROUD OF THEIR ACHIEVEMENT IN PASSING A RESPONSIBLE FISCAL PACKAGE (INCLUDING TAX INCREASES) AND THE 1995 BUDGET.

15. WHILE THE CONGRESSMEN/POLITICAL LEADERS AGREED ON THE IMPORTANCE OF ACHIEVING A PEACE PACT, THEY WERE NOT OPTIMISTIC IT COULD BE DONE BEFORE THE ADVENT OF THE NEXT PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN. THEY GENERALLY CONSIDERED THE URNG RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DELAY, BUT THOUGHT IT IMPORTANT FOR INTERNATIONAL ACTORS TO KEEP UP THE PRESSURE ON BOTH SIDES. RIOS MONTT, IN PARTICULAR, EXPRESSED HIS OPPOSITION TO THE GOG AGREEING TO CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES WITH THE GUERRILLAS, AND NOTED THE EXECUTIVE COULD NOT COMMIT THE CONGRESS IN THIS REGARD. ALL AGREED THE NEW

NONPARTISAN PEACE COMMITTEE IN THE CONGRESS SHOULD BE CONSULTED CLOSELY BY THE GOG, BUT THEY DID NOT FAVOR THE IDEA OF CONGRESSIONAL PARTICIPATION IN THE PEACE DELEGATION.

16. THROUGHOUT THE LUNCH, RICHARDSON STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF GUATEMALA TAKING ACTIONS IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS AREA. THIS WOULD BE IMPORTANT IF THE NATION EXPECTED TO BE A PARTICIPANT IN THE INCREASING OPENING OF HEMISPHERIC TRADE. THERE WAS GENERAL AGREEMENT ON THE NEED TO IMPROVE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN PRINCIPLE, ALTHOUGH SOME IRRITATION OVER THE BAMACA CASE. THEY NOTED THAT WITH THE ONGOING INSURGENCY AND THE WEAK LAW ENFORCEMENT AND JUDICIAL SYSTEM, DIFFICULT INDIVIDUAL CASES WERE BOUND TO CONTINUE TO OCCUR. STRENGTHENING THESE INSTITUTIONS WAS CRITICAL FOR THE FUTURE OF THE COUNTRY, THEY UNDERSCORED. FINALLY, THE CONGRESSMEN EXPRESSED A STRONG INTEREST IN ESTABLISHING CONTACTS WITH THEIR US COLLEAGUES, SAYING THEY HOPED TO SEND A DELEGATION TO WASHINGTON EARLY NEXT YEAR.

17. THE CONGRESSMAN HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO MEET A NUMBER OF CACIF/BUSINESS LEADER AT A DECEMBER 3 BREAKFAST HOSTED BY THE AMBASSADOR. THESE BUSINESS LEADERS UNDERSCORED THEIR DESIRE FOR PEACE, BUT NOTED THE URNG "STRATEGY" OF SEEKING TO INDIRECTLY PRESSURE THE ARMY BY KIDNAPPING THE WEALTHY, DEMANDING "WAR TAXES" AND OCCUPYING/BURNING THEIR FARMS WAS HAVING THE EXACT OPPOSITE EFFECT ON THE BUSINESS CLASS, LEADING THEM TO HARSHER POSITIONS. THEY ALSO ACCEPTED THE NEED TO IMPROVE HUMAN RIGHTS HERE (AND WERE CONCERNED HOW THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY WOULD PERCEIVE THE ELECTION OF RIOS MONTT AS CONGRESSIONAL PRESIDENT), BUT EXPRESSED SKEPTICISM OVER THE BAMACA CASE, SEEING IT AS A CLEAR GUERRILLA SHOW. THE BUSINESS LEADERS LAMENTED THE PASSAGE OF NEW TAXES AND THE INCAPACITY (IN THEIR EYES) OF THE FINANCE MINISTER.

INDIGENOUS REPS

18. IN AN EARLY DECEMBER 4 MEETING WITH INDIGENOUS REPS, RICHARDSON WAS TOLD NEITHER THE GOG OR URNG REPRESENT THEIR INTERESTS AT THE PEACE TABLE. AS SUCH, THEY HAVE PROPOSED MEETING THE TWO SIDES TO "DEEPEN" THEIR APPRECIATION OF THE CIVIL SOCIETY

GIVEN THIS, THE MAYANS SHOULD BE OPEN TO OTHER DIALOGUE FORMULAS. THE CONGRESSMAN URGED THEM TO USE THE FORMAL POLITICAL SYSTEM TO PRESS DEMANDS, INCLUDING CONSIDERING FORMING AN INDIGENOUS-BASED PARTY. IN ADDITION, FARM WORKERS WHO ATTEMPT TO ORGANIZE A UNION ARE FIRED AND BLACKLISTED, THEY CLAIMED. IN RESPONSE TO CONGRESSMAN RICHARDSON'S QUESTION HOW THE US COULD HELP ON WORKERS' RIGHTS, THE LEADERS SUGGESTED A SLIDING SCALE OF SANCTIONS, SUCH AS REDUCING QUOTAS OR IMPORTS OF SUGAR, COFFEE, ETC. DURING A DECEMBER 3 DINNER, VARIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS [redacted] B1 VOICED THEIR DISILLUSIONMENT WITH THE FAILURE OF "SO-CALLED" DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATIONS SINCE 1986 TO INVESTIGATE AND SANCTION HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. THE ACTIVISTS ASSERTED THE HUMAN RIGHTS CLIMATE HAS NOT REALLY IMPROVED BECAUSE THE MILITARY IS STILL THE DECISIVE FORCE.

21. ONE DINNER GUEST, TO GENERAL ASSENT BY THE OTHERS, CAUTIONED A PEACE ACCORD WILL NOT CAUSE THE LEVEL OF OVERALL VIOLENCE TO DIMINISH BECAUSE THE MILITARY IS STILL INVOLVED IN A VARIETY OF ILLICIT ACTIVITIES AND THE INSTITUTION WILL CONTINUE TO PROTECT ITS INTERESTS, EVEN IF THIS MEANS FATAL CONSEQUENCES FOR OTHERS. HE ALSO LAMENTED THE MILITARY CONTINUES TO USE THE POLICE FORCE AS AN ENTITY TO SATISFY ITS OWN INTERESTS RATHER THAN AS A SEPARATE INSTITUTION WHOSE ROLE IS TO PROVIDE SECURITY FOR THE POPULATION. PRESSURE, THE ACTIVISTS SAID, IS THE ONLY THING THE MILITARY UNDERSTANDS AND THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY SHOULD NOT LET UP IN ITS INSISTENCE THAT (1) ARMY HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATORS BE PUNISHED AND (2) THE MILITARY ALLOW DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS TO GROW. THE LEADERS CALLED UPON THE US TO PRESSURE THE PRIVATE SECTOR, AS WELL, AS A MEANS

MEMORANDUM:

PARA: George A. Chester Jr.

DE: Marina Molina Rubio

FECHA: 8 de diciembre de 1994

ASUNTO: RESUMEN DE MI CONVERSACION CON JENNIFER HARBURY EL DIA 7 DE DICIEMBRE DE 1994.

El día miércoles 7 yo me comuniqué con el Licenciado Antonio Argueta, abogado de Harbury, a petición del Chuck Keil, para informarle la opinión de Acisclo Valladares en lo que respecta al matrimonio Harbury/Bámaca.

Por la tarde de ese mismo día, como a las tres de la tarde, recibí una llamada de Harbury preguntándome si podía venir a platicar conmigo sobre lo que yo le había manifestado al licenciado Argueta. Después de decirle que la esperaba llamé a Ada y le dije que por favor le avisara al Cónsul que Harbury vendría de un rato a otro.

Cuando Harbury vino empecé a explicarle el motivo de mi llamada al Lic. Argueta. Le comenté que Acisclo era de la opinión que su matrimonio no tenía ninguna validez en Guatemala debido a que dicho matrimonio había sido declarado por un Juez de Texas, en ausencia de Bámaca y que eso, nuestras leyes procesales y de derecho internacional privado no lo aceptaban.

Ella me indicó que eso era violatorio del derecho internacional, ya que su matrimonio se había llevado a cabo en 1991, ante Juez y testigos. Que efectivamente Bámaca no había presentado ningún documento de identificación pues no los tenía, ya que se encontraba completamente indocumentado. Que fué hasta el momento en que su esposo desapareció que ella acudió al Juez de Texas para que declarara su matrimonio. Que el Juez de Texas, de conformidad con la Common Law hizo la declaratoria correspondiente, y que la misma no solamente es legal sino que cualquier país tiene obligación de aceptarla como válida, pues de lo contrario estarían violando normas de derecho internacional privado.

Eso fué todo el contenido de nuestra plática que pudo haber tardado unos 15 minutos. Cuando recibí la llamada de Chuck, le dije que bajaríamos, pero antes de bajar pasé sacando fotocopias de algunos artículos de los códigos que ella me había solicitado.

Por lo visto, toda la base de Acisclo para no reconocer el matrimonio de Harbury/Bámaca radica en el Código de Derecho Internacional Privado que señala en su artículo 314 que la ley de cada Estado contratante determina la competencia de los Tribunales, así como su organización, las formas de enjuiciamiento y de ejecución de las sentencias y los recursos contra sus decisiones.

ARA - 3

Guatemala

1995

GUATEMALA

The publicity surrounding the case of guerrilla leader Efraín Bámaca has brought Guatemala and the peace process underway there more attention than ever before. Unfortunately, it has also created a number of false impressions about US policy toward Guatemala.

My personal involvement in the peace process began when I arranged a private interview for Congressman Robert Torricelli with then-President Jorge Serrano in 1992. At that point the peace process was stalled, and President Serrano asked Representative Torricelli to carry a personal message from him to the URNG guerrillas in Mexico about a way to reactivate it. I then arranged the first meeting between the URNG and any member of Congress. His meetings with the URNG and the government of Guatemala allowed Rep. Torricelli to play an important role in encouraging both sides to move forward in the peace process. Throughout this period, I worked closely with those State Department officials directly concerned with Guatemala. Eventually, Rep. Torricelli's initial contact with the URNG led to the first meetings between senior State Department officials and the URNG. These meetings were significant because they represented a policy decision to use contact with an active guerrilla organization, responsible for the deaths of American citizens, to advance the peace process. Such contact might have been very controversial were it not for the Congressional support offered by Rep. Torricelli for them.

When I joined the Clinton Administration in 1993 as Assistant Secretary Watson's senior advisor, Ambassador Watson asked me to coordinate US involvement in the peace process. I made several trips to Guatemala and Mexico to assess the peace process and met, eventually, with the entire URNG command. The State Department repeatedly encouraged both the URNG and the Guatemalan government to return to active negotiations and, in early 1994, the United Nations was invited by both sides to play a more direct and active role as a moderator of the talks. The parties also asked the US and Norway to join Colombia, Mexico, Spain, and Venezuela as a formal "Friend" of the process. I have had the privilege of representing the United States on those occasions when the UN or the parties called a meeting of the six countries constituting the "Friends."

Because of my role in the peace process, I met several times with Jennifer Harbury over this last year to talk about her husband's case and its relationship with the peace process. I always told Jennifer that I believed the peace process offered the best hope of finding out the truth about her husband, specifically through the UN verification mission that would eventually be installed to verify the human rights provisions of the peace accords.

This summer Jennifer met with me again to explain that she had been offered a "deal" by Defense Minister Enríquez: her husband would be produced alive, if she would promise to drop her protest against the Guatemalan government. I was frankly startled to hear that the Defense Minister had made such a proposal. The Guatemalan government was telling the US government that Bámaca had killed himself to prevent capture. Now, according to Jennifer, the Defense Minister was suggesting that Bámaca was alive and could be traded for her silence. I asked for more details and she then recounted to me various public and private statements by the General that had convinced her, and others who had heard the public statements, that such a deal was being offered.

I gave Jennifer my reaction that another interpretation of his comments was possible, but when she requested that I carry a message to the General I agreed. She asked me to convey to him the sincerity of her offer to drop her protests against the government if her husband was set free. I told her that I would raise her husband's case with General Enríquez and with URNG commander Gáspar Ilom, the head of her husband's guerrilla organization. I spoke with both in August and reported the relevant parts of each conversation to Jennifer. She told me then that if results were not produced soon, she would have to consider other steps to raise the pressure on Guatemala.

During a trip to Mexico and Guatemala in October I underlined the importance of the Bámaca case again with the URNG, with representatives of the Friends group, and in all my meetings with Guatemalan government officials. In particular, I had a long discussion of the case with General Enríquez. He repeated in that conversation some of the same phrases that had prompted Jennifer to conclude that he was offering her a "deal." Given the gravity of Jennifer's hunger strike, I decided to ask him directly if he was offering to produce Bámaca alive with these words. He denied emphatically that he was or that he knew anything about Bámaca's whereabouts.

During a second private meeting with Jennifer on the same day I met with General Enríquez, I told Jennifer about my conversation with him. Since I had earlier carried a message to the General on her behalf, I felt it was important to relate his specific denial that he had intended to communicate a "deal" to Jennifer. I told her that I was not trying to convince her of his intentions, but that I could not interpret what he said as confirming her conclusions. This was not a matter of believing the General over Jennifer. She had asked for my help in communicating her willingness to accept a deal and the General had now specifically rejected ever having offered one. Regardless of whether a "deal" had been offered or not, the US government's official position on the case remained that Efraín Bámaca was alive and that the Guatemalan government needed to explain his whereabouts.

I also informed Jennifer at my meeting with her of what we knew about a new investigation of her husband's case announced during my visit by President De León. The Inter-American Human Rights Commission has received testimony about the case and issued preliminary rulings on it. However, I thought President De León's announcement was important because it sent a direct message to all Guatemalan officials, civilian and military, that the President himself was directly concerned with the truth. I also believe that it is important for the long-term improvement of human rights in Guatemala that its national institutions develop greater capacity to investigate abuses. Indeed, it is the specific mandate of the UN verification mission to strengthen national institutions. This new investigation, initiated by President De León, would appear to be unique in its combination of high level national attention with the active participation of the UN verification mission.

There have also been assertions that the US government has secret information about the Bámaca case that should be made public. Signed commitments with criminal penalties prevent US officials from sharing classified information with the public. We have, however, briefed Congressional staff with security clearances about what information we have and made available to President De León and to Jennifer the conclusions of an intelligence review of the case. That review concluded that we now have multiple reports that the Guatemalan military did in fact capture Bámaca alive. We have no reports to indicate that he was alive much beyond the first few weeks after his capture.

Perhaps the most perverse criticism of US policy is that we "need" a peace agreement in Guatemala to pursue our "real" agenda of free trade. From this mistaken perspective, we are said to be ignoring human rights violations in Guatemala because they conflict with the peace process. This is a tragic distortion of our policy and an insult to the United Nations and to the many Guatemalans struggling to advance the peace process at some personal risk.

- First, it is Guatemala, not the United States that requires peace. An armed conflict of thirty years duration has already cost tens of thousands of lives. Guatemalans will be the principal beneficiaries of peace, not the United States.

- Second, a dramatic and lasting reduction in human rights violations is a prime goal of the peace process. A global human rights accord, verified by a UN human rights verification mission now being deployed, was one of the first achievements of the peace process. That accord is leading to the deployment of a 300 person mission with field offices throughout the country. The mission has already received hundreds of denunciations and has begun unannounced inspections of military facilities. It will be producing monthy reports on the condition of human rights in Guatemala.

  Tragically, as the peace process has moved forward, violence has escalated, not decreased. This may seem a contradiction, but is characteristic of many other peace processes from Cambodia and Angola to the Middle East and El Salvador, as those with entrenched interests in war seek to derail the process when breakthroughs occur. The violence is not only from security forces. The URNG has increased dramatically its military operations and the kidnapping for ransom of business leaders. Just this summer, an off-duty officer was kidnapped, tortured, and killed by the guerrillas.

  All of the six countries in the "Friends" group have criticized this violence as damaging to the process. We pressed the UN to deploy its verification mission this Fall despite a suspension of the negotiations and the potential risk posed to mission personnel by the continuing conflict because we wanted to reinforce the message that the violations must cease and to assist Guatemala's own institutional response. I believe that the best course now is to permit the UN verification mission to do its work and to allow MINUGUA and the Guatemalan government's special investigation to address the Bámaca case.

- Finally, I hope that Guatemalan government, military, and business leaders understand that without peace they may be isolated from the new post-Cold War world emerging in the hemisphere. That is a world in which violence of the kind that has marked Guatemala for too long will send trade and investment elsewhere. Guatemala cannot sign a piece of paper and expect to enter the new world of expanded prosperity and international acceptance. It must build a peace based on democracy and respect for the human rights of all Guatemalans. This is US policy and I believe it merits the support of all of us who want the best for Guatemala.

I have been a student of change in Guatemala for nearly ten years. Today sincere and courageous individuals on both sides of the conflict are struggling to overcome decades of suspicion and construct a new Guatemala together. I have watched this evolution at first hand and I believe the United States is contributing to it. NGOs and human rights groups have played an important role in support of Clinton Administration policy in the region. I hope that some of the clarification I have provided will convince you that our Guatemala policy is a sound one, in our own interest and that of the majority of Guatemalans, and is, therefore, worth supporting.

Guatemala Human Rights UPDATE #24/94

Guatemala Human Rights Commission/USA December 9, 1994

CASE UPDATES

Guatemalan Government Sues Harbury After Jennifer Harbury announced that she would criminally prosecute several Guatemalan military officers (including the Minister of Defense) for secretly detaining and torturing her husband, Efraín Bámaca Velásquez, the Guatemalan government charged her with "jactancia," or making false or unsubstantiated claims. On December 9, in a seven-hour hearing in Guatemala City, Attorney General Acisclo Valladares insisted that she present evidence to support her accusations. The judge decided to suspend the hearing and continue it in the first two weeks of January. Harbury, who had been prevented by a governmental order from leaving the country until the charge was resolved, is now free to leave. If in January she is found guilty of jactancia, she will face no penalties, but she will be obligated to file her criminal suit within fifteen days. Otherwise, she may lose the right to file it at all. Harbury said she has no objection to filing the charges within that time frame. A charge of jactancia is usually brought against someone who claims to own disputed land. According to Guatemalan legal experts, it has never been used against someone bringing criminal charges. Harbury's Washington, D.C. attorney, José Pertierra, noted that the Guatemalan government is harassing Harbury with a civil suit, attempting to divert public attention away from the real prosecution and the real investigation involving the capture, secret detention, and torture of her husband.

Bámaca Investigation May Be Closed Respecting a thirty-day time limit, on December 8, Human Rights Procurator Jorge Mario García Laguardia submitted to the Supreme Court a report on the case of Efraín Bámaca Velásquez, a guerrilla leader captured by the Guatemalan army in March 1992. García Laguardia reportedly asked that the investigation into Bámaca's disappearance be closed instead of extended, although he acknowledged that the investigation was incomplete. His report states that different military zones were visited, in particular, zone 1715 and 18, where the Nuevo San Carlos and Santa Ana Berlín bases are located. According to the report, no evidence of Bámaca was found. Vice President Arturo Herbruger also said the case should be closed.

García Laguardia has been uncomfortable from the beginning with his role in the investigation. On November 22, he filed an injunction with the Court of Constitutionality, arguing that the Supreme Court had violated the Constitution in appointing him to head the investigation. He said he was presenting the injunction so that this situation would not be repeated, since the Human Rights Procurator should not receive orders from anyone. He added that after accepting the responsibility imposed on him by the Supreme Court, he requested court documents on the case and discovered a number of faults in the investigative process.

Verification Team and Procurator Search Military Bases On November 29, members of MINUGUA and personnel from the Human Rights Procurator's Office made surprise visits to prisons and military bases throughout Guatemala City to search for Efraín Bámaca Velásquez. In Guatemala City, the institutions searched included the Mariscal Zavala Military Brigade; the Guardia de Honor; the Computer Center of the Ministry of Defense; the Military Reserves of the Republic; the General Prison; the Guatemalan Air Force; the Aurora Military Base; the Mobile Military Police; and the Army Archives. The investigators reportedly spent five hours in each place. As the searches began, officials from the Human Rights Procurator's Office said no vehicles or staff members could leave the premises. Nonetheless, several military vehicles and personnel were seen leaving the bases.

Soldier Reports Seeing Bámaca Recently A soldier who had been arrested and was being held in the Mariscal Zavala base said after examining a photograph of Bámaca that he had seen Bámaca ten days earlier. He did not give details. During her hunger strike Harbury received from several sources information that Bámaca was alive. No evidence to the contrary has been presented. In hopes of saving her husband's life, Harbury is asking the U.S. government to release to her immediately all information on her husband's capture, including a copy of the November 10 démarche (official protest) issued by the U.S. Embassy to President Ramiro de León Carpio. The démarche said the U.S. had information that Bámaca was captured by the Guatemalan army in March 1992. A State Department official told Harbury he was held in secret detention for at least four months. (For information on how to help Harbury in her efforts, contact GHRC/USA.)

Judge Releases Suspects in Carpio Case Judge Eliseo García Arenas recently released Isidro Mendoza Acabal and Lorenzo Mendoza Ordoñez, two members of the civil defense patrols (PACs) accused of involvement in the 1993 murder of National Centrist Union (UCN) politician Jorge Carpio Nicolle and three others.

In testimony before a court, former Defense Minister José Domingo García Samayoa, who is also suspected of involvement in the murders, denied that he had pressured Jorge Carpio to support an amnesty bill for political and common criminals (see Human Rights Update #23). Victor Augusto Vásquez Echeverría, who commanded the Quiché military zone at the time of the killings, also testified, stating that Quiché PAC members are given weapons and are taught to use them. This assertion contradicted the testimonies of several PAC members, who said they had never been taught to use weapons. Attorney Claudio Porres Rivas, who is defending some of those accused, is also being investigated. He is suspected of removing and misusing information related to the trial.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Human rights advocates in Guatemala repeatedly stress the importance of international vigilance. For this reason, we urge our readers to write letters in response to human rights violations reported in the Guatemala Human Rights Update. Letters do make a difference.

- As soon as you receive the Update, write to the Guatemalan authorities to express your concern for the safety of a Guatemalan who has been abducted or threatened (see "Disappearances" and "Other Human Rights Violations"). You could help save a life.
- Or, write to the Guatemalan authorities to denounce an extrajudicial execution, and/or to demand a thorough investigation into a killing.
- Send a copy of your letter to your members of Congress.

DEATH THREATS

CONAVIGUA Members Threatened Members of the National Coordinating Committee of Guatemalan Widows (CONAVIGUA) are being threatened with death by PAC chiefs in several Quiché communities. The threats increased after CONAVIGUA members participated in a demonstration commemorating the fifty-year anniversary of the October Revolution. Pedro López, a leader of the Chajul PAC, threatened to abduct JACINTA SICANA, ANTONIA CABA LAINES, ANA LAINES, and TERESA RIVERA CABA. On October 20, after the demonstration, the army went from house to house in the Nebaj villages of La Laguna, Tijom, and Vitzal and pointed their guns at the children. That night, the director of CONAVIGUA, CATARINA BRITO DE LEON, was threatened.

Pedro Pecheco Raymundo, the PAC chief in Chajul, and Gaspar Cobo Pérez, the PAC chief in Nebaj, accused CONAVIGUA members of being members of the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Unity (URNG). In the Nebaj village of Tsalbal, PAC leaders made similar accusations. Xecotz PAC chief Abelino de León and Nebaj PAC member Juan Brito also threatened CONAVIGUA members. On November 14, PAC member Sebastián Rivera Cobo gathered together all the patrollers and villagers in Pulay, Nebaj, and said CONAVIGUA members were bringing in "bad ideas and dirty thoughts because they talk a lot about human rights." In Xoloche and Pulay, PAC members and military commissioners said CONAVIGUA members would be abducted and executed by soldiers at the base in Nebaj.

GAM Members Threatened MIGUEL MORALES, of the Mutual Support Group for Relatives of the Disappeared (GAM), reported that on November 18, GAM staff members received several threatening phone calls. They were told that if they did not discontinue their activities, a bomb would be planted in their building. Days later, a call was received at the GAM house in Zone 12 of Guatemala City. An anonymous caller warned members to stop participating in demonstrations.

FESOC Members Threatened According to the Labor and Popular Action Unity, leaders of the Campesino Worker Federation (FESOC), have been threatened. MARIO APARICIO CIFUENTES FUNES, ALIRIO CIFENTES, and MIGUEL ANGEL LEMUS GALICIA are among those who received death threats.

DISAPPEARANCES

Son of Refugee Leader Disappears JOSE CHAT YEN (13), the son of Permanent Commissions (CCPP) leader Sebastián Chen, disappeared at approximately 5:30 P.M. on December 4, after going out to play in front of his house. He is thought to have been abducted by heavily armed men who had been watching his house for several days. The men were seen near the house on December 4. According to the Union of Education Workers of Guatemala (STEG), the abduction was aimed at impeding refugee returns.

Campesinos Abducted According to the Campesino Unity Committee, on November 8, JUAN CHIPIC and his son AGUSTIN CHIPIC PEREZ were abducted by civil patrol chiefs Aníbal de León and Juan Zapata Chicaj, in Chiche, Quiché. They were taken to military zone #20. The patrol chiefs reportedly were carrying a letter accusing the men of being guerrillas.

CERJ Leader Abducted According to the Runujel Junam Ethnic Communities Council (CERJ), on October 29, CERJ leader JOSE SUCUNU PANAJOJ was abducted as he waited to board a bus to Chichicastenango, Quiché. The abduction took place at a bus terminal in Zone 4 of Guatemala City.

Salesman Detained by Soldiers PEDRO WALTER GONZALEZ, a salesman in Jutiapa, was detained by soldiers from the Jutiapa Military base. When his relatives asked soldiers at the base why González had been detained, they answered that he was a guerrilla leader. The same soldiers later denied that González was in the base. His relatives, who have searched public prisons in vain, are afraid González will be executed.

EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS

Student Killed, Others Injured in Police Attack On November 11, Guatemalan security forces, including members of the National Police and the Rapid Response Force (FRI) as well as paramilitary personnel in civilian clothing, violently disrupted a student protest at the entrance to the University of San Carlos in Guatemala City. One student was killed and at least eight were wounded. Twenty-six students are believed to have been detained. As a result of wounds received from security forces during the attack, MARIO LOPEZ SANCHEZ (18) died. Like other wounded students, López Sánchez, who had been shot, was reportedly dragged out of an ambulance and severely beaten by police before being taken to the hospital. The Guatemalan news agency Teleprensa videotaped López Sánchez's beating. Students GUILLERMO FENANDEZ HERRERA, MARIO ENCARNACION SAY, and ERIC MIJANGOS were among the wounded. The students had been protesting a threatened sixty-percent increase in urban bus fares. The Public Ministry has asked that arrest warrants be issued for ninety-eight National Police officers involved in the attack. The Supreme Court is studying the request. The Public Ministry also is investigating the conduct of FRI chief Eli Orellana.

The body of JUAN MORALES EQUITE (45) was found in San Miguel Petapa, Guatemala. Morales had been shot nine times. According to his relatives, he had been abducted several days before on a street in El Porvenir, Villa Canales, Guatemala, by several armed men in a Mazda 323 with tinted windows.

In an area used as a body dump in Zone 8 of Mixco, Guatemala, the body of salesperson CONCEPCION ARANA FIGUEROA was found. ARANA had been bound at the wrists, tortured, shot several times, and executed with the coup de grace shot to the head. According to family members, Arana had been abducted on October 22 in Zone 4 of Guatemala City.

UNIDENTIFIED BODIES

The body of a man (35) was found on the banks of the Naranjo River in Ocos, San Marcos. He had been shot several times, then executed with the coup de grace.

The bodies of two men were found near the Villa Linda and "the Tulum Tzu" colony in Zone 7 of Guatemala City. Both had been shot several times and executed with the coup de grace.

The bodies of two men (25-30) were found on 42nd Street and Ferrocarril Avenue in Zone 12 of Guatemala City. They had been bound at the wrists and stabbed numerous times. One had the remains of a towel in his mouth.

OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES

Prosecutor in Carpio Nicolle Case Attacked As he was driving from Escuintla to Guatemala City on November 25, Special Public Ministry Prosecutor ABRAHAM MENDEZ, who is investigating the murder of Jorge Carpio Nicolle, was shot at by assailants who began following him at the entrance to the town of Villa Nueva. Méndez was not injured. State Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas said officers from the Quiché military zone were implicated in the attack.

Union Leader Abducted At 7:30 A.M. on November 7, AUGUSTIN ROSALIO MONZON, a leader of the National Reconstruction Committee (CRN) union, was abducted by several armed men on the Anillo Periférico in Guatemala City. Monzón was on his way to deliver documents to several press outlets denouncing the spoilage of large quantities of foodstuffs at the central offices and other CRN locations when unidentified men forced him into a Cherokee pickup truck with tinted windows. Several of Mozón's companions witnessed the abduction. He was detained for nearly two weeks. During his detention, he was interrogated about his union activities. When he was released on November 18, he was threatened with death and told that if he reported the abduction, he and his family, especially his son, could face consequences.

Break-In Attempt at CIEPRODH Office On November 27, three unidentified men supported by two vehicles with tinted windows tried to break into the office of the Center for Investigation, Study, and Promotion of Human Rights (CIEPRODH). Neighbors saw the men and called the police. Factor Méndez, the director of CIEPRODH, said he believed members of the state security forces were involved.

ARACELY EDILMAR SANTIZO GONZALEZ (18) was abducted by several armed men who broke into her house in El Mosquito, San Marcos, and forced her into a vehicle. She appeared days later and had apparently been drugged.

Two CUC Members Detained On November 8, JUAN CHITIC and his son AGUSTIN PEREZ CHITIC; both members of the Campesino Unity Committee (CUC), were detained by Civil Patrol Chief Anibal de León Afre, in Chiché, Quiché. They were taken to a military base, where they were forced to sign a statement saying they were guerrilla deserters who had grown "tired of being in the mountains and killing soldiers" and that now they wanted to live in peace. After this, personal information about them was recorded and they were released. Both are concerned for their safety.

Journalist Attacked Heavily armed men who got out of two cars with tinted windows beat and threatened journalist OSCAR ANGEL TOBAR. The attack occurred on 18th Street and 18th Avenue in Zone 12 of Guatemala City.

Staff Member of Fray Bartolome de las Casas Center Beaten The Fray Bartolome de las Casas Center, which is involved in communications work with Christian, popular, and human rights groups, was broken into by several armed men. The men threatened and severely beat the secretary of the organization, located in the Edificio del Centro in Zone 1 of Guatemala City. Then they searched the files, taking some documents with them. The men also asked for information on the center's director, ARMANDO CU MORAN, and took materials on another organization Cu Morán is involved in, the Civil Initiative for Democracy Foundation.

Karen Fischer de Carpio Threatened by Vice Minister of Interior On November 8, the National Centrist Union Party (UCN) called for the resignation of Vice Minister of the Interior Colonel Mario Mérida for allegedly threatening Karen Fischer de Carpio, the plaintiff in the case of Jorge Carpio Nicolle (see Case Updates). On November 5, Fischer de Carpio, Carpio Nicolle's daughter-in-law, told a court that Mérida had threatened her to discourage her from testifying. UCN Secretary General Juan Ayerdi said his party is requesting Mérida's resignation so that he can be prosecuted.

Families in Santiago Atitlán Threatened Twenty campesino families in Sanchali, Cerro de Oro, Santiago Atitlán are reportedly being threatened by Jorge Roberto Rivera del Aguila, who is trying to take away land they have owned for more than 100 years. On October 13, three men dressed in National Police uniforms arrived and tried to detain TERESA RAMIREZ, one of the people who had reported the threats, although they had no warrant for her arrest.

CONDEG Staff Harassed Shortly after 6:00 A.M. on November 4, three people who had apparently been waiting for members of the National Council of the Displaced of Guatemala (CONDEG) followed CONDEG members to their office. They beat on the door and later called the office by phone and threatened the staff.

Fincas Militarized Several fincas (plantations) on the South Coast and in Alta Verapaz are being occupied by the Guatemalan military. According to the army, the owners of various plantations have asked for the presence of soldiers to defend the property from guerrilla attacks. Members of the Judiciary union (STOJ) say the militarization is part of a plan formulated by the government, the army, and the Committee of Agricultural, Commercial, Industrial, and Financial Organizations (CACIF). The first fincas militarized on the South Coast were La Concha and Las Victorias. According to STOJ Secretary General Alirio Cifuentes, campesinos on La Concha and Las Victorias are not allowed to leave or take their products off the fincas.

Armed men who are dressed as civilians but appear to be soldiers are reportedly preventing campesinos from leaving several fincas in Alta Verapaz. Threats have increased since finca owners, the army, and the government accused campesino groups of being manipulated by priests and leaders of the popular movement. Also, the Human Rights Procurator said new PACs are being created, managed by finca owners.

Priests Accused of Inciting Finca Occupations The Guatemalan Association of Agriculture has asked the Guatemalan government and the army to evict campesinos who are occupying more than 100 fincas throughout Guatemala. DANIEL VOGT, a U.S. priest in El Estor, Izabal, and JORGE PUTEMPHURA, a priest in San Pedro Carcha, Alta Verapaz, have been accused of instigating the occupations. The Human Rights Procurator said the problem was not the occupation of fincas, but finca owners' failure to fulfill their obligations to workers.

OTHER INFORMATION

Round on Indigenous Ends without Accord A third discussion between the Guatemalan government and the URNG on the rights and identity of the Indigenous concluded on November 29 with no accord. URNG leaders said that, to facilitate an accord, they would be willing to allow the direct participation of Indigenous representatives in the talks. On December 5, talks resumed between a reduced number of representatives. President de León Carpio said governmental representative Hector Rosada had told him advances were made. De León Carpio added that if a peace treaty were not signed by February, the peace process could break down.

Ríos Montt Elected President of Congress On December 2, Efraín Ríos Montt, a retired general and former dictator, was elected president of Guatemalan Congress. Ríos Montt's year-long term will begin in 1995. The support of representatives of the National Centrist Union and the Guatemalan Christian Democracy were deciding factors in his election, won with forty-nine of eighty congressional votes. Representing the Guatemalan Republican Front, Ríos Montt will also form part of the Congressional Human Rights Committee. Representatives of human rights groups protested the general's inclusion in the committee, since Ríos Montt is accused of ordering the widespread massacres that took place under his presidency in the early eighties.

UN Human Rights Expert Reports Increased Militarization, Abuses On November 27, concluding an eleven-day visit to Guatemala, United Nations Independent Expert Mónica Pinto reported that human rights abuses have escalated substantially since last year. Military representation in government institutions has also increased. She said the militarization of the National Police has led to an "incredible increase" in extrajudicial executions and incidents like the November 11 brutality against student protesters. Pinto recommended that the Human Rights Procurator's Office be reinforced and that a committee be formed to investigate abuses. She also called for the dissolution of the PACs, which de León Carpio insists on maintaining until the armed conflict ends, and the abolition of the Presidential Military Guard. Pinto noted that incidents of forced recruitment have been reported since June 30, when President de León Carpio said forced recruitment would end. She added that the new penal code would be effective only if judges were allowed to implement it without pressure. The UN Expert pointed out that death threats against leaders of nongovernmental human rights organizations, journalists, and unionist, among others, have increased "in amazing dimensions." She highlighted the attack on the officer investigating the murder of Carpio Nicolle (see Human Rights Update #22), and called for the resolution of several cases in particular, among them the extrajudicial execution of Constitutional Court President Epaminondas González Dubón, the murder of Myrna Mack Chang, the murder of Michael Devine, and the detention and torture of Dianna Ortiz.

During her visit, military officers gave Pinto a document entitled "Advances of the Ministry of Defense in Fulfillment of the National Plan of Respect for Human Rights." The document outlined supposed

UN recommendations that the Defense Ministry had carried out. "We believe somewhere there was certain disinformation," Pinto said, "because various things that we did not suggest appear as our recommendations."

De León Carpio Embarks on Campaign to Help International Community Understand Guatemala Before leaving for the Summit of the Americas, held December 9–10 in Miami, President de León Carpio said he would begin an aggressive campaign for peace and for a better understanding of the Guatemalan reality among the international community. De León said the Central American countries would go to the summit with the view that the United States should not mix economic integration and free commerce with other internal affairs. The president said Guatemala had made notable advances in human rights matters and that he would discuss this subject with President Clinton. He insisted that only two violations had occurred in Guatemala: the violent eviction of workers from the Exacta finca and the assassination of a university student (see Extrajudicial Executions). Both, he said, were isolated events, not reflections of a policy of human rights violations, and the army was not involved. He added that no country could blame Guatemala for abuses in war because in every conflict there have been abuses. President de León Carpio said he spoke about the case of Efraín Bámaca Velásquez with Vice President Al Gore on November 25, at the inauguration of Mexican President Ernesto Zedillo, and planned to speak to President Clinton in a "private" and "extraofficial" way at the Summit of the Americas.

Campesinos in San Marcos Resign from PACs Fifty-one campesinos publicly resigned from the PAC in Pueblo Nuevo, Tajumulco, San Marcos. Clergymen and members of MINUGUA, including military advisor Colonel Juan Jague, Marie Cervetti, and Regional Coordinator Cecilia Olmos, were present to observe the resignation.

Refugees Return to Alta Verapaz In mid-November, 226 refugee families who had been living in Chiapas, Mexico, returned by plane to Alta Verapaz. The repatriates will settle on four fincas in Fray Bartolome de las Casas. According to the Guatemalan government's Special Commission for Attention to Refugees (CEAR), they will be given agricultural supplies, food, and housing materials.

Bill Affecting Activities of Foreigners Presented to Congress In response to Jennifer Harbury's actions on behalf of her husband Efraín Bámaca Velásquez, at the end of November a bill was presented to the Guatemalan Congress that would require all foreigners who enter the country to make a sworn statement that they will not interfere in the internal affairs of the country nor participate in any type of demonstration or other political activity. Members of MINUGUA would be exempt from this requirement, said National Immigration Director José Enrique Urrutia, because, as observers, they are not involved in political struggles.

Refugees Occupy Consulates On November 27, members of the Association of Dispersed Refugees of Guatemala (ARDIGUA) began occupying the Guatemalan consulates in Tapachula and Comitán, Chiapas, to protest the Guatemalan government's refusal to respond to a request for credits to buy three fincas. On August 31, ARDIGUA had requested credits to buy the Paraiso finca in San Marcos, the Violeta finca in Quetzaltenango, and the Santa Isabel finca in Retalhuleu. The October 1992 Accords between refugerepresentatives and the government state that the government must respond to credit requests within sixty days. Refugees left the consulates on November 29 when they were offered the opportunity to restate their demands to the government in a General Assembly.

More than 28,000 Refugees Have Returned to Guatemala According the UN High Commissioner for Refugees, in the past ten years, approximately 28,294 refugees have returned to Guatemala from camps in the Southeast of Mexico. From 1984–1988, 4,147 people repatriated. In 1989, 9,931 repatriated, and from 1990–1993, 8,800 refugees returned. In 1994, the number was 5,416. In December, thirty-one refugees are expected to return to Guatemala.

Squatters Demonstrate Before National Palace Displaced people who have settled in over twenty-five communities on the outskirts of Guatemala City protested outside Congress and the National Palace on November 28. The demonstrators threatened to bring their make-shift huts into Constitution Plaza unless the government helped them obtain legal ownership of the land they are occupying.

CORRECTION

The amount of funding allocated to Guatemala by U.S. Congress for International Narcotics Matters in 1995 is $2.55 million, not $42.55 as reported, due to a typographical error, in Update #23.

SUBJECT: GUATEMALA: U/S TARNOFF'S MEETING WITH FOREIGN MINISTER DE VIELMAN

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: IN HER DECEMBER 6 MEETING WITH UNDERSECRETARY TARNOFF, GUATEMALAN FOREIGN MINISTER DE VIELMAN PLEADED FOR U.S. UNDERSTANDING ON THE HARBURY/BAMACA CASE AND RECOGNITION OF HOW FAR GUATEMALA HAS COME ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEMOCRATIZATION UNDER PRESIDENT DE LEON. TARNOFF REITERATED U.S. SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS AND SAID THAT THE USG WANTS TO COOPERATE WITH THE GOG ON RESOLVING THE BAMACA CASE. HOWEVER, HE SAID THAT THE GOG'S GOAL SHOULD BE TO GIVE A FULL ACCOUNTING OF BAMACA'S FATE. END SUMMARY.

3. UNDERSECRETARY TARNOFF MET DECEMBER 6 WITH GUATEMALAN FOREIGN MINISTER MARITZA DE VIELMAN TO DISCUSS THE PEACE PROCESS AND THE CASE OF THE DISAPPEARANCE OF GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA. DE VIELMAN WAS ACCOMPANIED BY GOG AMBASSADOR TO THE U.S. EDMOND MULET, GOG PERMREP IN GENEVA FEDERICO URRUELA, AND GOG AMBASSADOR

TO CANADA FRANCISCO VILLAGRAN. ARA/CEN DIRECTOR JOHN HAMILTON, P STAFFER LESLIE BASSETT, DRL'S MARY CURTIN, AND DESKOFF (NOTETAKER) ALSO SAT IN.

4. AFTER A BRIEF DISCUSSION OF PREPARATIONS FOR THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS AND THE INCREASE OF CENTRAL AMERICAN REGIONAL INTEGRATION IN RECENT YEARS, DE VIELMAN

DESCRIBED GUATEMALA'S PROGRESS SINCE PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO TOOK OFFICE IN 1993. TARNOFF AGREED THAT STOPPING SERRANO'S AUTOCOUP HAD BEEN AN IMPORTANT SUCCESS FOR THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE AND FOR THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION. HE EMPHASIZED THAT USG SUPPORT AS A FRIEND OF THE PEACE PROCESS REMAINS FIRM. DE VIELMAN EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR THE KEY ROLE THAT THE USG HAS PLAYED AND APPEALED FOR CONTINUED U.S. LEADERSHIP AS THE TALKS APPROACH THEIR "DIFFICULT" FINAL PHASE.

5. TURNING TO THE HARBURY/BAMACA CASE, DE VIELMAN SAID THAT THE PURPOSE OF HER VISIT TO WASHINGTON WAS TO DISCUSS ITS POTENTIAL FOR DAMAGING BILATERAL RELATIONS AND THE PEACE PROCESS. THE GOG KNOWS THIS CASE IS IMPORTANT, SHE SAID, BUT FEELS THAT IT WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE TO "PROVE A NEGATIVE" SINCE BAMACA'S BODY CANNOT BE FOUND. NOTING THAT THE GOG IS MAKING EVERY EFFORT TO INVESTIGATE THE CASE, INCLUDING ALLOWING MINUGUA TO VISIT ARMY BASES, DE VIELMAN ASKED WHAT THE GOG CAN DO TO "PUT THE CASE BEHIND US." SHE ADDED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT FOR THE USG TO RECOGNIZE THAT STATE-SPONSORED ABUSES NO LONGER OCCUR IN GUATEMALA AND THAT THE GOG HAS CHANGED BECAUSE IT BELIEVES IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND NOT BECAUSE OF EXTERNAL PRESSURE. SHE NOTED THAT BAMACA DISAPPEARED BEFORE PRESIDENT DE LEON TOOK OFFICE, ADDING THAT THE PUBLICITY AND "DISINFORMATION" ABOUT THE CASE HAVE CAUSED A NEGATIVE REACTION IN GUATEMALA.

6. DE VIELMAN SAID THAT THIS BACKLASH MAY HARM BILATERAL RELATIONS AND THE USG'S ROLE AS AN IMPARTIAL PARTICIPANT IN THE PEACE PROCESS AND ASKED THAT HE USG JUDGE THE

BAMACA CASE IN A BROADER CONTEXT. SHE EMPHASIZED THAT THE GOG WANTS TO WORK WITH THE USG, POINTING OUT THAT THE GOG AGREED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE HAITI MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE DESPITE RIO GROUP OPPOSITION AND NOTING THAT GUATEMALA WAS ONE OF A HANDFUL OF COUNTRIES TO ABSTAIN ON THE UNGA RESOLUTION ON THE CUBA EMBARGO. SHE SAID THAT THE GOG WANTS TO REMAIN IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH HE USG ON THE HARBURY CASE AND IS OPEN TO SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO PROCEED.

7. TARNOFF RESPONDED THAT THE U.S. SHARES THE GOG'S SENSE

OF URGENCY ABOUT THE PEACE PROCESS AND RECOGNIZES THE SUFFERING TNAT GUATEMALA HAS ENDURED IN OVER THIRTY YEARS OF INTERNAL CONFLICT. HE NOTED THAT DE LEON HAD WON RESPECT IN THE U.S. AS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN BEFORE BECOMING PRESIDENT. HE SAID THAT WORKING TOGETHER TO RESOLVE THE BAMACA CASE IS FULLY CONSISTENT WITH ACHIEVING OUR COMMON GOALS FOR THE PEACE PROCESS, ADDING THAT TRANSPARENCY AND OPENNESS ARE PART OF WHAT DE LEON WANTS TO ACHIEVE IN GUATEMALA. HE ACKNOWLEDGED THE COMPLEXITY OF THE CASE BUT STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF COOPERATING TO RESOLVE IT. IDEALLY, TARNOFF SAID, THE BAMACA CASE CAN BECOME AN EXAMPLE OF HOW THE U.S. AND GUATEMALA CAN COOPERATE ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES.

8. DE VIELMAN AGAIN PLEADED FOR GREATER USG "UNDERSTANDING" OF THE DIFFICULTIES FACING THE GOG. SHE SAID THAT THE U.S. ROLE IN ASSISTING JENNIFER HARBURY IS NOT UNIVERSALLY UNDERSTOOD AND WARNED THAT "AT SOME POINT DOWN THE ROAD" BILATERAL RELATIONS MAY SUFFER AS A RESULT. DECLARED. TARNOFF REPLIED THAT WE BELIEVE THE GOG'S GOAL SHOULD BE TO GIVE A FULL ACCOUNTING OF WHAT HAPPENED TO BAMACA. HE CLOSED BY THANKING DE VIELMAN FOR DEMONSTRATING THE IMPORTANCE OF THE CASE BY VISITING WASHINGTON PERSONALLY TO DISCUSS IT.

9. COMMENT: LESS STRIDENT THAN AT A PREVIOUS LUNCH AT WHICH SHE MADE THE SAME POINTS TO ARA OFFICERS, DE VIELMAN CAME ACROSS AS CONCERNED ABOUT DAMAGE CONTROL AND EAGER TO LEARN WHAT IT WOULD TAKE FOR THE BAMACA CASE TO BE CLOSED. HER REPEATED REMARKS ABOUT THE EFFECT OF USG PRESSURE ON THE BAMACA CASE DEMONSTRATE THAT OUR MESSAGE HAS BEEN GETTING THROUGH, BUT HER STATEMENTS ABOUT THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF RESOLVING IT SUGGEST THAT THE GOG BELIEVES IT WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE TO PROVIDE THE ACCOUNTING WE ARE CALLING FOR. SUBJECT: GUATEMALA: U/S TARNOFF'S MEETING WITH FOREIGN MINISTER DE VIELMAN

2. SUMMARY: IN HER DECEMBER 6 MEETING WITH UNDERSECRETARY TARNOFF, GUATEMALAN FOREIGN MINISTER DE VIELMAN PLEADED FOR U.S. UNDERSTANDING ON THE HARBURY/BAMACA CASE AND RECOGNITION OF HOW FAR GUATEMALA HAS COME ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEMOCRATIZATION UNDER PRESIDENT DE LEON. TARNOFF REITERATED U.S. SUPPORT FOR THE PEACE PROCESS AND SAID THAT THE USG WANTS TO COOPERATE WITH THE GOG ON RESOLVING THE BAMACA CASE. HOWEVER, HE SAID THAT THE GOG'S GOAL SHOULD BE TO GIVE A FULL ACCOUNTING OF BAMACA'S FATE. END SUMMARY.

3. UNDERSECRETARY TARNOFF MET DECEMBER 6 WITH GUATEMALAN FOREIGN MINISTER MARITZA DE VIELMAN TO DISCUSS THE PEACE PROCESS AND THE CASE OF THE DISAPPEARANCE OF GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA. DE VIELMAN WAS ACCOMPANIED BY GOG AMBASSADOR TO THE U.S. EDMOND MULET, GOG PERMREP IN GENEVA FEDERICO URRUELA, AND GOG AMBASSADOR TO CANADA FRANCISCO VILLAGRAN. ARA/CEN DIRECTOR JOHN HAMILTON, P STAFFER LESLIE BASSETT, DRL'S MARY CURTIN, AND DESKOFF (NOTETAKER) ALSO SAT IN.

4. AFTER A BRIEF DISCUSSION OF PREPARATIONS FOR THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS AND THE INCREASE OF CENTRAL AMERICAN REGIONAL INTEGRATION IN RECENT YEARS, DE VIELMAN DESCRIBED GUATEMALA'S PROGRESS SINCE PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO TOOK OFFICE IN 1993. TARNOFF AGREED THAT STOPPING SERRANO'S AUTOCOUP HAD BEEN AN IMPORTANT SUCCESS FOR THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE AND FOR THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION. HE EMPHASIZED THAT USG SUPPORT AS A FRIEND OF THE PEACE PROCESS REMAINS FIRM. DE VIELMAN EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR THE KEY ROLE THAT THE USG HAS PLAYED AND APPEALED FOR CONTINUED U.S. LEADERSHIP AS THE TALKS APPROACH THEIR "DIFFICULT" FINAL PHASE.

5. TURNING TO THE HARBURY/BAMACA CASE, DE VIELMAN SAID THAT THE PURPOSE OF HER VISIT TO WASHINGTON WAS TO DISCUSS ITS POTENTIAL FOR DAMAGING BILATERAL RELATIONS AND THE PEACE PROCESS. THE GOG KNOWS THIS CASE IS IMPORTANT, SHE SAID, BUT FEELS THAT IT WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE TO "PROVE A NEGATIVE" SINCE BAMACA'S BODY CANNOT BE FOUND. NOTING THAT THE GOG IS MAKING EVERY EFFORT TO INVESTIGATE THE CASE, INCLUDING ALLOWING MINUGUA TO VISIT ARMY BASES, DE VIELMAN ASKED WHAT THE GOG CAN DO TO "PUT THE CASE BEHIND US." SHE ADDED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT FOR THE USG TO RECOGNIZE THAT STATE-SPONSORED ABUSES NO LONGER OCCUR IN GUATEMALA AND THAT THE GOG HAS CHANGED BECAUSE IT BELIEVES IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND NOT BECAUSE OF EXTERNAL PRESSURE. SHE NOTED THAT BAMACA DISAPPEARED BEFORE PRESIDENT DE LEON TOOK OFFICE, ADDING THAT THE PUBLICITY AND "DISINFORMATION" ABOUT THE CASE HAVE CAUSED A NEGATIVE REACTION IN GUATEMALA.

6. DE VIELMAN SAID THAT THIS BACKLASH MAY HARM BILATERAL RELATIONS AND THE USG'S ROLE AS AN IMPARTIAL PARTICIPANT IN THE PEACE PROCESS AND ASKED THAT HE USG JUDGE THE BAMACA CASE IN A BROADER CONTEXT. SHE EMPHASIZED THAT THE GOG WANTS TO WORK WITH THE USG, POINTING OUT THAT THE GOG AGREED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE HAITI MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE DESPITE RIO GROUP OPPOSITION AND NOTING THAT GUATEMALA WAS ONE OF A HANDFUL OF COUNTRIES TO ABSTAIN ON THE UNGA RESOLUTION ON THE CUBA EMBARGO. SHE SAID THAT THE GOG WANTS TO REMAIN IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH HE USG ON THE HARBURY CASE AND IS OPEN TO SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO PROCEED.

8. DE VIELMAN AGAIN PLEADED FOR GREATER USG "UNDERSTANDING" OF THE DIFFICULTIES FACING THE GOG. SHE SAID THAT THE U.S. ROLE IN ASSISTING JENNIFER HARBURY IS NOT UNIVERSALLY UNDERSTOOD AND WARNED THAT "AT SOME POINT DOWN THE ROAD" BILATERAL RELATIONS MAY SUFFER AS A RESULT. "WE CANNOT ACHIEVE THE IMPOSSIBLE," SHE DECLARED. TARNOFF REPLIED THAT WE BELIEVE THE GOG'S GOAL SHOULD BE TO GIVE A FULL ACCOUNTING OF WHAT HAPPENED TO BAMACA. HE CLOSED BY THANKING DE VIELMAN FOR DEMONSTRATING THE IMPORTANCE OF THE CASE BY VISITING WASHINGTON PERSONALLY TO DISCUSS IT.

9. 4. TEXT OF REPORT:

5. GUATEMALA'S 1985 CONSTITUTION CALLS FOR ELECTION BY UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE OF A ONE TERM PRESIDENT AND A UNICAMERAL CONGRESS. IT ALSO MANDATES AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY AND A HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO IS ELECTED BY AND REPORTS TO THE CONGRESS. ON JUNE 5, 1993, CONGRESS ELECTED THEN HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO TO FINISH THE PRESIDENTIAL TERM OF JORGE SERRANO, WHO HAD BEEN CONSTITUTIONALLY DEPOSED FROM OFFICE FOLLOWING HIS ATTEMPT TO SEIZE FULL POWER. PRESIDENT DE LEON LAUNCHED AN ANTI-CORRUPTION CAMPAIGN THAT LED TO A POLITICAL CONFRONTATION WITH THE LEGISLATURE AND SUPREME COURT, BOTH WIDELY SEEN AS CORRUPT. THIS CONFRONTATION WAS FINALLY RESOLVED WITH A JANUARY 30 REFERENDUM ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES, WHICH LED TO NEW CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS IN AUGUST AND THE OCTOBER REPLACEMENT OF THE SUPREME COURT.

6. THE ARMED FORCES OPERATE WITH CONSIDERABLE INSTITUTIONAL AND LEGAL AUTONOMY, PARTICULARLY IN SECURITY AND MILITARY MATTERS. WITH THE ENTRY INTO FORCE OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, MILITARY PERSONNEL ACCUSED OF COMMITTING CIVIL CRIMES ARE SUBJECT TO TRIAL

IN CIVILIAN COURTS. THE 43,000-MAN ARMY, WHICH HAS RESPONSIBILITY FOR NATIONAL SECURITY, HAS FOUGHT A LEFTIST INSURGENCY FOR MORE THAN THREE DECADES. THE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT OVERSEES THE NATIONAL POLICE AND THE TREASURY POLICE, WHICH SHARE RESPONSIBILITY FOR INTERNAL SECURITY WITH THE ARMY. IN MARCH PRESIDENT DE LEON APPOINTED THE THEN-HEAD OF ARMY INTELLIGENCE AS VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT, REVERSING A TREND HE BEGAN UPON TAKING OFFICE OF REMOVING MILITARY PERSONNEL FROM CIVILIAN LAW ENFORCEMENT POSITIONS.

UNCLASSIFIED

7. AN ESTIMATED 430,000 MEN SERVE IN CIVIL SELF-DEFENSE COMMITTEES CALLED CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS (PAC'S), SOME OF WHICH CONDUCT COUNTERINSURGENCY PATROLS IN RURAL AREAS. ALTHOUGH THESE ARE OSTENSIBLY VOLUNTARY, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT IN SOME REGIONS PAC MEMBERS WERE COMPELLED TO JOIN THE PATROLS, IN VIOLATION OF THE CONSTITUTION. SECURITY FORCES AND ESPECIALLY PAC'S AND CIVILIAN MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, WHO ARE THE INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN THE PAC'S AND THE ARMED FORCES, COMMITTED NUMEROUS SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

8. THE GOVERNMENT AND THE LEFTIST GUATEMALA NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNITY (URNG) INSURGENTS RESUMED PEACE TALKS IN JANUARY AND REACHED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD IN MARCH. THE AGREEMENT, WHICH TOOK FORCE IMMEDIATELY, LED TO THE SEPTEMBER INTRODUCTION OF A U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION INTO GUATEMALA. MANY HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS CRITICIZED THE GOVERNMENT FOR BEING LAX IN FULFILLING ITS COMMITMENTS UNDER THE MARCH ACCORD, AND

[redacted]

ALSO EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT THE DELAYED ARRIVAL OF THE U.N. TEAM.

9. THE AGRICULTURE-BASED, PRIVATE SECTOR-ORIENTED ECONOMY WAS PROJECTED TO GROW APPROXIMATELY 4 PERCENT IN REAL TERMS IN 1994, WHICH WOULD PRODUCE AN INCREASE IN PER CAPITA INCOME OF ABOUT 1 PERCENT. INFLATION WAS EXPECTED TO EXCEED 10 PERCENT. THERE IS A MARKED DISPARITY IN INCOME DISTRIBUTION AND POVERTY IS PERVASIVE, PARTICULARLY IN THE LARGE INDIGENOUS COMMUNITY.

UNCLASSIFIED

10. THE OMBUDSMAN NOTED THAT REPORTS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS DOUBLED OVER THE SAME PERIOD IN 1993. PAC'S, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, ARMY, POLICE, AND GUERRILLAS, AS WELL AS EXTREMIST MEMBERS OF THE LEFT AND RIGHT WINGS, COMMITTED MANY OF THE MAJOR VIOLATIONS, INCLUDING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, POLITICAL KIDNAPINGS, DEATH THREATS, AND FORCED RECRUITMENT. POLITICAL KILLINGS, FOR EXAMPLE, CONTINUED AT AN ALARMING RATE, AND THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THEM ADEQUATELY OR TO BRING PERPETRATORS TO JUSTICE. GOVERNMENT FORCES AND

UNKNOWN PERPETRATORS INCREASED ATTACKS ON LABOR UNION LEADERS AND MEMBERS, INCLUDING KILLINGS, DEATH THREATS, PHYSICAL ABUSE, AND OTHER FORMS OF MISTREATMENT AND HARASSMENT. GUERRILLA ABUSES INCLUDED KIDNAPINGS, THE WIDESPREAD USE OF MINES AND EXPLOSIVES IN CIVILIAN AREAS, FORCED RECRUITMENT OF CHILDREN, AND REPRISAL ATTACKS AGAINST PERSONS WHO REFUSED TO PAY EXTORTION. BOTH LEGAL AND SOCIETAL DISCRIMINATION AGAINST WOMEN CONTINUED, AS DID SOCIETAL ABUSE OF CHILDREN AND DISCRIMINATION AGAINST INDIGENOUS PEOPLES.

UNCLASSIFIED

11. (NOTE: EMBASSY: WHEN DRAFTING THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT FOR 1994, POST PROBABLY DID NOT HAVE ACCESS TO THE VIEWS OF THE LAWYERS COMMITTEE ON HUMAN RIGHTS WHICH WERE CRITICAL OF OUR 1993 REPORT. OUR EDITING HAS TRIED TO TAKE ACCOUNT OF LCHR'S VIEWS BECAUSE WE BELIEVE THEY ARE OFTEN SOUND. EMBASSY SHOULD REVIEW THIS DRAFT, CONFIRMING OR CLARIFYING BOTH THE TONE AND INFORMATION, AND KEEPING IN MIND THE LCHR CRITIQUE, WHICH YOU SHOULD NOW HAVE.)

RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

SECTION 1 RESPECT FOR THE INTEGRITY OF THE PERSON, INCLUDING FREEDOM FROM:

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

UNCLASSIFIED

12. MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES AND PERSONS ASSOCIATED WITH OR PROTECTED BY THEM CONTINUED TO PERPETRATE POLITICALLY MOTIVATED KILLINGS. DUE TO THE LACK OF POLITICAL WILL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT RESOURCES, THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THEM FULLY OR TO DETAIN AND PROSECUTE THE PERPETRATORS. THROUGH THE FIRST 7 MONTHS OF THIS YEAR (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE), THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE LISTED 83 CASES OF POSSIBLE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED 209 EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS THROUGH JULY, COMPARED WITH 97 IN THE SAME TIME PERIOD IN 1993 AND 142 IN 1992. THE CHURCH OFFICE LABELED 19 OF THE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS AS DEFINITELY POLITICAL AND 133 AS

PRESUMED POLITICAL. NEITHER HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE BROKE DOWN THE FIGURES ACCORDING TO THE ORGANIZATION BELIEVED TO BE RESPONSIBLE, BUT BOTH GOVERNMENT AND LEFTIST GUERRILLA FORCES COMMITTED SUCH OFFENSES. (EMBASSY: IN ADDITION TO THAT OF SANAN HERNANDEZ MENTIONED LATER IN THIS SECTION, ARE THERE ANY SPECIFIC CASES WE CAN CITE OF KILLINGS BY GUERRILLA FORCES?)

13. PAC LEADERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS ARE FEARED IN MANY RURAL COMMUNITIES. THEY ENJOY ARMY BACKING AND, FREQUENTLY, IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH FAILED TO CARRY OUT ARREST WARRANTS AGAINST 26 MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND PAC MEMBERS FOR THEIR INVOLVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS CRIMES. WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE ARREST OF A FEW PAC MEMBERS ACCUSED OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE 1993 JORGE CARPIO MURDER, MEMBERS OF THE PAC'S ARE RARELY HELD ACCOUNTABLE FOR THEIR CRIMES.

14. DESPITE BEING AWARE OF THE LOCATIONS OF VARIOUS PAC MEMBERS WANTED FOR INVOLVEMENT IN THE 1993 COLOTENANGO KILLING OF JUAN CHONAY PABLO AND THE 1993 QUICHE KILLING OF TOMAS LARES CIPRIANO, THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO CARRY OUT THE MAJORITY OF THE ARREST WARRANTS. IN THE JUAN CHONAY PABLO KILLING, WHICH OCCURRED DURING AN ANTI-PAC DEMONSTRATION, THE AUTHORITIES ISSUED 15 ARREST WARRANTS FOR PAC MEMBERS, BUT ARRESTED ONLY 2 PERSONS. THEY RELEASED ONE FOR INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE LINKING HIM TO THE CRIME; THE PUBLIC MINISTRY REQUESTED THE RELEASE OF THE OTHER UNDER PERSONAL BOND. THREE MORE PERSONS TURNED THEMSELVES IN, BUT THE AUTHORITIES RELEASED TWO OF THEM

FOR TO LACK OF EVIDENCE. THUS FAR, ONLY ONE PERSON REMAINS IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL. WITNESSES IN THE CHONAY CASE HAVE REPORTED BEING HARASSED BY PAC MEMBERS. IN THE LARES CIPRIANO KILLING, THE AUTHORITIES CHARGED SIX PAC MEMBERS WITH MURDERING HIM AFTER HE RESIGNED FROM A PAC. THEY ARRESTED TWO PERSONS, LATER RELEASED UNDER PERSONAL BONDS; DISMISSED ALL CHARGES AGAINST ANOTHER PERSON WHO TURNED HIMSELF IN, AND DID NOT CARRY OUT ARREST WARRANTS AGAINST THE REMAINING THREE PERSONS.

15. ON MAY 31, A JOINT MILITARY-POLICE OPERATION ARRESTED FOUR SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS PAC MEMBERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WANTED FOR THEIR ALLEGED INVOLVEMENT IN THE JULY 1993 MURDER OF NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER AND FORMER PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO. HOWEVER, JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES LATER RELEASED ALL FOUR, CITING INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TYING THEM TO THE CRIME. THE CARPIO FAMILY APPEALED THE RELEASE AND CRITICIZED THE GOVERNMENT FOR FAILURE TO CARRY OUT THE ARREST WARRANTS FOR SIX OTHER PAC MEMBERS WANTED IN THIS CASE. ON SEPTEMBER 7, THREE OTHER PAC MEMBERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WANTED BY THE AUTHORITIES TURNED THEMSELVES IN. THE JUDGE RELEASED THESE INDIVIDUALS UNDER PERSONAL BOND PENDING CLARIFICATION OF THEIR IDENTITIES AND FURTHER INVESTIGATION OF THE CRIME. THERE ARE A TOTAL OF FOUR PERSONS IN JAIL AWAITING FURTHER JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS WHO ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE PARTICIPATED IN THE CARPIO MURDER, INCLUDING ANOTHER SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS PAC MEMBER IN JAIL FOR ANOTHER MURDER. MEMBERS OF CARPIO'S FAMILY HAVE BEEN THREATENED SINCE HIS DEATH. ON JUNE 25, UNKNOWN ARMED PERSONS RAMMED THEIR

16. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT ARMY PERSONNEL OR FORMER PAC MEMBERS KILLED RETIRED ARMY OFFICER LIEUTENANT DIAZ ON JUNE 20. THE KILLERS, WHO HAD PARTICIPATED WITH DIAZ IN THE 1981-1982 RABINAL

MASSACRES, ALLEGEDLY MURDERED DIAZ TO PREVENT HIM FROM PUBLICLY COMMENTING OR TESTIFYING ON THE MASSACRES. THE CHURCH OFFICE ASSERTED THAT THE DEATHS OF TWO OTHER RABINAL RESIDENTS, A MILITARY COMMISSIONER AND THE SON OF THE LAND OWNER WHERE EXHUMATIONS WERE TAKING PLACE, WERE ORCHESTRATED TO SEND A MESSAGE TO THE RABINAL COMMUNITY TO REMAIN SILENT. THERE ARE CREDIBLE REPORTS BY THE MEDIA AND THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHT'S OFFICE THAT IN JULY THE ARMY CONDUCTED HOUSE-TO-HOUSE INSPECTIONS AND INTERROGATIONS IN THE COMMUNITY AND TOLD MALE RESIDENTS IN A COMMUNITY MEETING NOT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE EXHUMATIONS. WHILE NOT ADMITTING THESE EVENTS TOOK PLACE, THE AUTHORITIES TRANSFERRED THE SENIOR OFFICER WHO ALLEGEDLY CALLED THE MEETING.

UNCLASSIFIED

17. ON APRIL 1, CONSTITUTIONAL COURT PRESIDENT EPAMINONDAS GONZALEZ DUBON WAS KILLED WHILE RETURNING FROM HOLY WEEK RELIGIOUS PROCESSIONS; THE MOTIVE BEHIND THE CRIME REMAINS UNDETERMINED. INITIALLY, MANY BELIEVED THAT THE MURDER WAS AN INTIMIDATION ATTEMPT BY THOSE WISHING TO DESTABILIZE THE DE LEON ADMINISTRATION OR A [redacted]

REPRISAL DIRECTED AT THE JUDGE FOR HIS ANTI-SERRANO ROLE IN THE "AUTOGOLPE." (EMBASSY: WHAT IS YOUR JUDGMENT ON MOTIVES? DO YOU THINK THE ARREST OF MEMBERS OF A CAR THEFT RING IS JUST AN ATTEMPT TO DIVERT ATTENTION FROM POLITICAL MOTIVES?) ON APRIL 26, THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED THE ARREST OF 12 PERSONS, MEMBERS OF AN ALLEGED CAR THEFT RING, 4 OF WHOM WERE SAID TO HAVE PARTICIPATED IN THE SHOOTING. ONLY TWO INDIVIDUALS REMAIN IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL; THE OTHERS WERE RELEASED DUE TO INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE.

UNCLASSIFIED

18. (EMBASSY: PLEASE PROVIDE BRIEF INFORMATION ON THE NOVEMBER KILLING OF THE STUDENT AT THE UNIVERSITY.)

19. UNKNOWN PERSONS HAVE ALSO TARGETED JOURNALISTS FOR KILLING AND ACTS OF VIOLENCE (SEE SECTION 2.A.).

20. ON AUGUST 24, 2 PERSONS WERE KILLED AND 11 WOUNDED WHEN POLICE USED EXCESSIVE FORCE TO DISLODGE STRIKING WORKERS FROM A FARM KNOWN AS "LA EXACTA" IN COATEPEQUE.

A THIRD PERSON ALLEGEDLY DISAPPEARED; HIS BODY WAS FOUND SOME DISTANCE FROM THE FARM THE FOLLOWING DAY. THE WORKERS HAD TAKEN OVER THE FARM IN AN ATTEMPT TO PRESSURE THEIR SUPERVISORS TO COMPLY WITH A LABOR COURT ORDER; RATHER THAN COMPLY, THE OWNERS REPORTEDLY FIRED APPROXIMATELY 79 EMPLOYEES. AFTER INITIALLY SAYING THE POLICE HAD ACTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW, PRESIDENT DE LEON LATER EXPRESSED HIS REGRET FOR THE TRAGEDY, SAYING HE HAD MISSPOKEN EARLIER BASED ON PRELIMINARY POLICE REPORTS AND THAT A FULL INVESTIGATION WOULD BE MADE. ON SEPTEMBER 15, RESIDENTS FOUND THE BODY OF ANOTHER PEASANT

UNCLASSIFIED

WHO HAD PARTICIPATED IN THE STRIKE. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE BELIEVES THIS PERSON WAS KIDNAPED AND THEN KILLED IN REPRISAL FOR HIS PARTICIPATION IN THE STRIKE. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE INVESTIGATION AS OF END OF THE YEAR.)

21. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CHARGED THE URNG'S "UNITED FRONT" WITH THE EARLY SEPTEMBER EXTRAJUDICIAL MURDER OF ARMY JUNIOR OFFICER AMARILDO SANAN HERNANDEZ IN CHIMALTENANGO. SANAN WAS STOPPED AT A GUERRILLA ROADBLOCK. AFTER THE GUERRILLAS RECOGNIZED SANAN, WHO WAS DRESSED IN CIVILIAN GARB, THEY SHOT HIM IN THE LEGS, STABBED HIM WITH KNIVES, AND THEN EXECUTED HIM BY GUNFIRE.

22. THERE WAS SOME PROGRESS IN CERTAIN PAST HIGH-PROFILE CASES. ON FEBRUARY 8, THE SUPREME COURT CONFIRMED THE 25-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN TO FORMER GOVERNMENT SECURITY AGENT NOEL DE JESUS BETETA FOR THE 1990 KILLING OF MYRNA MACK. THE COURT LEFT LEGAL PROCEEDINGS OPEN AGAINST THE ALLEGED INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS OF THE CRIME, FORMER SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS WHO APPEALED THE DECISION TO THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT. HELEN MACK, MYRNA'S SISTER, ALSO APPEALED A SUPREME COURT DECISION DENYING HER REQUEST THAT IT ORDER THE RELEASE OF EXECUTIVE BRANCH DOCUMENTS CONCERNING HER SISTER'S MURDER. THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH MAINTAINED IT DOES NOT HAVE ANY FILES NOT ALREADY IN THE HANDS OF THE COURT.

23. ON MAY 18, THE COURT OF APPEALS CONFIRMED THE 2-YEAR

UNCLASSIFIED

SUSPENDED SENTENCE AND 40 FINE AGAINST THE CORPORAL [redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

WHOSE ABSENCE FROM POST FACILITATED THE MAY 1993 ESCAPE OF CAPTAIN HUGO CONTRERAS, WHO HAD JUST BEEN CONVICTED AND SENTENCED TO 20 YEARS IN PRISON FOR THE KILLING OF AMERICAN MICHAEL DEVINE IN 1990. CAPTAIN CONTRERAS REMAINS A FUGITIVE. ON SEPTEMBER 6, THE SUPREME COURT CONFIRMED THE 30-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN THE FIVE ENLISTED MEN CONVICTED IN THE DEVINE MURDER. HOWEVER, THE GOVERNMENT NEVER BROUGHT TO TRIAL THE SENIOR OFFICERS BELIEVED TO BE INVOLVED IN COVERING UP THE CRIME. TWO RELATIVES OF WITNESSES WHO TESTIFIED AT THE DEVINE TRIAL (ONE CIVILIAN AND ONE SOLDIER) WERE KILLED; ANOTHER (A SOLDIER) WAS SHOT IN THE LEG UNDER SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES. THE DEAD SOLDIER WAS FOUND WITH HIS TONGUE CUT OUT, HANDS MUTILATED, AND A BULLET WOUND IN HIS SKULL. ADDITIONALLY, TWO OTHER RELATIVES HAVE BEEN TARGETS OF INTIMIDATION.

24. ON MARCH 18 AND AUGUST 22, THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT DISMISSED APPEALS FILED BY 22 FORMER "HUNAPU" ANTI-CRIME TASK FORCE POLICE OFFICERS OVER THEIR LENGTHY (20 YEARS PLUS) PRISON SENTENCES, WHICH HAD BEEN PREVIOUSLY CONFIRMED BY THE SUPREME COURT. THE OFFICERS HAD BEEN FOUND GUILTY IN THE 1992 DEATH OF UNIVERSITY STUDENT JULIO RIGOBERTO CU QUIM AND INJURY TO SIX OTHER STUDENTS. THE CASE REMAINS UNDER SUPREME COURT REVIEW.

25. THERE WAS NO PROGRESS IN RESOLVING NUMEROUS OTHER OUTSTANDING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. THE GOVERNMENT'S FREQUENT INABILITY TO CONTROL, PROSECUTE, OR PUNISH THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR SUCH OFFENSES IS A MAJOR IMPEDIMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS. [redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

B. DISAPPEARANCES

26. THROUGH JULY THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED 35 FORCED DISAPPEARANCES, AS COMPARED WITH 15 FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1993. (EMBASSY: CAN YOU NOW PROVIDE A SENSE OF THE NUMBERS FOR THE ENTIRE YEAR?) ONE WAS LABELED DEFINITELY POLITICAL AND 27 WERE CLASSIFIED AS PRESUMED POLITICAL. VICTIMS INCLUDED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVIST, UNION EMPLOYEES, PRIVATE SECTOR EMPLOYEES, ENTREPRENEURS, FARMERS, A SOLDIER, A POLICEMAN, AND PERSONS OF UNKNOWN PROFESSION. THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE RECEIVED 17 COMPLAINTS OF FORCED DISAPPEARANCES. THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT IDENTIFY OR PROSECUTE THE PERPETRATORS OF ANY OF THESE DISAPPEARANCES.

27. THE DEFENSE MINISTRY CONTINUED TO DENY IT HAS EVER HELD GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN "EVERARDO" BAMACA OR 35 OTHER URNG PRISONERS OF WAR AS CLAIMED BY THE AMERICAN CITIZEN WIFE OF BAMACA. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE BAMACA CASE AND GOVERNMENT REACTION TO CHARGES OF CLANDESTINE DETENTION.)

28. IN LATE JANUARY AND EARLY FEBRUARY, SISTER DIANA ORTIZ, ACCOMPANIED BY HER ATTORNEY, RETURNED TO GUATEMALA TO PRESS AUTHORITIES TO TAKE ACTION ON HER 1989 KIDNAPING AND TORTURE CASE. THE GROUP ALSO VISITED THE OLD MILITARY ACADEMY, WHICH ORTIZ IDENTIFIED AS THE PLACE WHERE SHE WAS SEXUALLY ABUSED AND TORTURED. SHORTLY AFTER ENTERING THE FACILITY, ORTIZ WAS OVERCOME BY EMOTION AND UNABLE TO IDENTIFY THE SPECIFIC SITE OF THE

VIOLATIONS, WHICH SHE SAYS OCCURRED IN THE BASEMENT OF THE FACILITY. THE ARMY MAINTAINS THERE ARE NOT NOW NOR WERE THERE EVER ANY SUBTERRANEAN LEVELS AT THE SCHOOL.

29. ON JANUARY 12, LORENZO QUIEJ PU, A MEMBER OF CONDEG, AN ORGANIZATION DEDICATED TO HELPING GUATEMALANS WHO HAVE BEEN INTERNALLY DISPLACED DUE TO THE ARMED CONFLICT, DISAPPEARED AFTER LEAVING HIS HOME. MEMBERS OF CONDEG AND QUIEJ FAMILY MEMBERS REPORTED THAT PRIOR TO THE

DISAPPEARANCE, THEY HAD BEEN SUBJECT TO THREATS STEMMING FROM THE ORGANIZATION'S OCCUPATION OF PRIVATELY OWNED LAND. THE AUTHORITIES CHARGED NO ONE WITH THE CRIME.

UNCLASSIFIED

30. THE WHEREABOUTS REMAIN UNKNOWN OF SAN MARCOS PAC MEMBERS MARGARITO LOPEZ AND OBDULIO ZAPETA, ARMY ENLISTED MAN DIEGO CHEL MATOM, AND FARMERS RAMONA MUNOZ AND MARITZA GIL WHO WERE ALLEGEDLY KIDNAPED IN 1993 BY GUERRILLAS. RELIABLE REPORTS LINK THE GUERRILLAS TO VARIOUS KIDNAPINGS FOR PROFIT, INCLUDING THAT OF WEALTHY INDUSTRIALIST FRATERNO VILA.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

31. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INTEGRITY AND SECURITY OF THE PERSON. HOWEVER, AS IN PAST YEARS, MANY BODIES WERE FOUND THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA BEARING SIGNS OF SEVERE DISFIGUREMENT OR POSTMORTEM MUTILATION. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE LISTED THREE POTENTIAL CASES OF TORTURE IN THE FIRST 7 MONTHS OF 1994. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE THESE FIGURES.) THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS

[redacted]

OFFICE LISTED 14 CASES OF TORTURE THROUGH JULY AS COMPARED WITH 5 CASES FOR THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR. IN A TYPICAL CASE, UNKNOWN ARMED MEN KIDNAPED A LAW STUDENT IN JANUARY AFTER HE LEFT WORK, THEN BEAT HIM, BURNED HIM WITH CIGARETTES, AND LEFT HIM UNCONSCIOUS.

32. THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF MISTREATMENT BY SECURITY FORCES, INCLUDING SEXUAL ABUSE OF MINORS AND ADULTS, AND USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE BY POLICE AT THE TIME OF ARREST. ESPECIALLY IN RURAL AREAS, THE URNG GUERRILLAS, THE ARMY, CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND THE POLICE ALL USED EXCESSIVE FORCE AGAINST PERSONS THEY ENCOUNTERED. THE RUNUJEL JUNAM COUNCIL OF ETHNIC COMMUNITIES (CERJ), A RURAL-BASED HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION, REPORTED THAT JUAN OSORIO VASQUEZ FILED A LEGAL COMPLAINT ALLEGING THAT ON JULY 21, PAC MEMBERS HAD ACCUSED HIM OF BEING A GUERRILLA, KIDNAPED HIM, TIED A ROPE TO HIS NECK, HUNG HIM FROM A BEAM, AND LEFT HIM FOR DEAD. FAMILY MEMBERS LATER ARRIVED AND

RESCUED OSORIO.

33. SOME PEASANTS IN AREAS OF CONFLICT AROUND HUEHUETENANGO HAVE ALLEGED TO THE ARMY THAT MEMBERS OF "COMITE DE UNIDAD CAMPESINO," CUC, A LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION COMPRISED OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLE, HAVE THREATENED THEM WITH DEATH DUE TO THEIR ALLEGIANCE TO THE ARMY. (EMBASSY: HOW CREDIBLE ARE THESE ALLEGATIONS?)

34. CASA ALIANZA, AN ORGANIZATION DEDICATED TO ASSISTING STREET CHILDREN, REPORTED FIVE INSTANCES IN WHICH POLICE OR PRIVATE SECURITY GUARDS ABUSED STREET CHILDREN BETWEEN [redacted]

[redacted]

JANUARY AND AUGUST. ON MARCH 3, CASA ALIANZA FILED CHARGES AGAINST FOUR POLICEMEN ACCUSED OF INDUCING STREET CHILDREN TO STEAL FOR THEM. THE POLICE NEVER FORMALLY CHARGED THE ACCUSED AND INSTEAD TRANSFERRED THEM TO ANOTHER PART OF GUATEMALA CITY. ON JULY 14, THE NATIONAL POLICE REFERRED A CASE OF POLICE ABUSE AGAINST A MINOR TO THE COURTS AFTER CONCLUDING THAT FIVE POLICEMEN HAD ABUSED THEIR AUTHORITY IN THE MARCH 4 BEATING OF LUIS ANTONIO ROLDAN IZEPPI. CASA ALIANZA ALSO FILED CHARGES AGAINST THE NATIONAL POLICE FOR AN AUGUST 15 INCIDENT IN WHICH THREE POLICEMEN SPRAYED PAINT THINNER AT THE FACE OF SLEEPING STREET CHILD LUIS ALFREDO BONILLA JUAREZ. THERE WERE NUMEROUS OTHER REPORTS OF POLICEMEN ILLEGALLY DETAINING STREET CHILDREN; THE AUTHORITIES RARELY TOOK ACTION IN ANY OF THESE INCIDENTS. (EMBASSY: HAVE THE COURTS EVER FOUND THE POLICE GUILTY OF ABUSING STREET CHILDREN?)

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

UNCLASSIFIED

35. DESPITE LEGAL SAFEGUARDS, THERE WERE FREQUENT CREDIBLE REPORTS OF ARBITRARY ARREST BY THE SECURITY FORCES, INCOMMUNICADO DETENTION, AND FAILURE TO ADHERE TO THE PRESCRIBED TIME LIMITS FOR LEGAL PROCEDURES. THE LAW REQUIRES A COURT-ISSUED ARREST WARRANT UNLESS A PERSON IS CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF COMMITTING A CRIME. POLICE MAY NOT DETAIN A SUSPECT FOR OVER 6 HOURS WITHOUT BRINGING THE CASE BEFORE A JUDGE. THE LAW PROVIDES FOR BAIL, ACCESS TO LAWYERS, AND LIMITS TO 20 DAYS THE TIME ANYONE MAY BE

HELD. AFTER THAT PERIOD, THE AUTHORITIES MUST CHARGE OR FREE A DETAINEE, AND THEY MUST ALWAYS PRODUCE DETAINEES

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

ON COURT REQUEST. THE AUTHORITIES ARRESTED 13,235 PERSONS THROUGH AUGUST; OF THOSE, 1,764 PERSONS REMAIN IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL, WHICH REPRESENTED 32 PERCENT OF THE CURRENT TOTAL PRISON POPULATION. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE AT YEAR END.)

36. THE SECURITY FORCES ROUTINELY IGNORE WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS IN CASES OF ILLEGAL DETENTION (EMBASSY: PLEASE PROVIDE YOUR BEST JUDGMENT AS TO WHETHER THE SECURITY FORCES USE SAFE HOUSES FOR ILLEGAL DETENTIONS.) THERE ARE NO RELIABLE DATA ON THE NUMBER OF ARBITRARY DETENTIONS. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CHARGED THAT PRISONERS ARE SOMETIMES NOT RELEASED IN A TIMELY FASHION AFTER COMPLETING THEIR SENTENCES DUE TO THE FAILURE OF JUDGES TO ISSUE THE NECESSARY COURT ORDER.

37. THE CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS EXILE AND IT IS NOT PRACTICED.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

38. THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM IS INEFFECTIVE AND OFTEN UNABLE TO ENSURE A FAIR TRIAL. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY COMPOSED OF A CONSTITUTIONAL COURT, A SUPREME COURT, APPEALS COURTS, AND SEVERAL COURTS OF SPECIAL JURISDICTION, SUCH AS LABOR COURTS. THE SUPREME COURT APPOINTS JUDGES; THE CONGRESS APPOINTS MAGISTRATES, OR APPELLATE COURT JUDGES, FROM A LIST PREPARED BY A SELECTION COMMITTEE COMPOSED OF JUDGES, LAWYERS, AND UNIVERSITY DEANS. CIVILIAN TRIALS ARE PUBLIC AFTER THE FIRST 15 DAYS, WHICH ARE DEDICATED TO AN INITIAL

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

INVESTIGATIVE PHASE THAT IS CLOSED. DEFENDANTS HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE PRESENT AT TRIALS AND TO LEGAL REPRESENTATION. AN APPEALS COURT AUTOMATICALLY REVIEWS CONVICTIONS.

39. THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, WHICH TOOK EFFECT JULY 1, MODIFIED THE MILITARY CODE OF JUSTICE TO EXTEND JURISDICTION BY CIVILIAN COURTS OVER MILITARY PERSONNEL FOR OFFENSES "NOT ESSENTIALLY MILITARY IN NATURE." THESE REFORMS WILL BE PHASED IN ONCE THE GOVERNMENT DRAFTS SPECIFIC IMPLEMENTING RULES OR REGULATIONS. PRIOR TO THE CODE'S ENACTMENT, MILITARY COURTS RETAINED JURISDICTION OVER MILITARY PERSONNEL, INCLUDING MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WHO COMMIT CRIMES WHILE ON OFFICIAL BUSINESS, THUS LIMITING THE ABILITY OF CIVIL COURTS TO PROSECUTE PERSONS UNDER MILITARY CONTROL IN HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSE CASES. PAC MEMBERS ARE CIVILIANS AND ARE NOT UNDER MILITARY JURISDICTION.

40. THE NEW CODE ALSO EFFECTS SIGNIFICANT CHANGES IN THE WAY CRIMINAL TRIALS ARE CONDUCTED, INCLUDING PROVISION FOR THE ACCUSED OF LEGAL COUNSEL BY A NEW PUBLIC DEFENDER IN AN ORAL TRIAL SETTING. HOWEVER, THE FOLLOWING FACTORS HAMPERED THE CODE'S IMPLEMENTATION: A LACK OF FUNDING FOR EDUCATION, POLITICAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE EXECUTIVE AND JUDICIAL BRANCHES, INTRANSIGENCE BY MANY MEMBERS OF THE CRIMINAL BAR, CONSTITUTIONAL CHALLENGES, AND INADEQUATE PREPARATION BY LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES. AS OF EARLY SEPTEMBER, ONLY ONE DEPARTMENT HAD REPORTED CONDUCTING AN ORAL TRIAL, AS REQUIRED UNDER THE NEW PROCEDURES. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE TO END OF YEAR.)

MEANWHILE, THE BACKLOG OF CRIMINAL CASES CONTINUED TO MOUNT.

41. MOST HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS ARE NOT INVESTIGATED; SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL ARE RELUCTANT TO INVESTIGATE CASES POTENTIALLY INVOLVING COLLEAGUES. POLICE ARE VERY POORLY PAID, RELATIVELY FEW IN NUMBER, AND LACK ADEQUATE RESOURCES AND TRAINING. JUDGES ARE SUSCEPTIBLE TO

INTIMIDATION AND CORRUPTION AND SUFFER FROM LOW PAY, BAD WORKING CONDITIONS, AND LOW MORALE. OFFICIALS FROM THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICES, INCLUDING THE OMBUDSMAN HIMSELF, HAVE RECEIVED THREATS.

UNCLASSIFIED

42. CHARGES CONTINUE TO BE MADE PUBLICLY THAT THE SUPREME COURT PRESSURES LOWER COURT JUDGES TO DECIDE CASES IN LINE WITH ITS WISHES. IN 1993 THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT RULED THAT THE SUPREME COURT PRACTICE OF ARBITRARILY TRANSFERRING JUSTICES WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL, THEREBY LIMITING ONE MEANS OF SUPREME COURT INTERFERENCE IN LOWER COURT CASES.

43. MEMBERS OF THE JUDICIARY ALSO CONTINUED TO RECEIVE THREATS IN AN ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE DECISIONS OR AS REPRISALS FOR PAST DECISIONS. IN FEBRUARY JUDGE YOLANDA PEREZ RECEIVED DEATH THREATS AFTER SHE APPEARED AT A LOCAL ARMY BASE WITH THE LOCAL AUXILIARY OMBUDSMAN FOR HUMAN RIGHTS REQUESTING TO SEE A SERVICEMAN REPORTED TO BE MISSING. COTZUMALGUAPA JUSTICE OF THE PEACE CARLOS HUMBERTO DARDON REYES REPORTED RECEIVING DEATH THREATS AFTER HE SENT U.S. CITIZEN MELISSA LARSON TO THE [redacted]

ESQUINTLA DEPARTMENT COURT HOUSE FOR HER PROTECTION IN MARCH, AFTER A MOB WRONGLY ACCUSED HER OF TRANSPORTING BABY ORGANS IN HER BACKPACK. IN JULY, A THIRD DISTRICT APPELLATE COURT JUDGE AND JUDICIAL REFORM ACTIVIST, MARIA EUGENIA VILLASENOR, REPORTED SHE AND OTHER APPELLATE MAGISTRATES HAD BEEN HARASSED IN ATTEMPTS TO INFLUENCE DECISIONS IN HIGH PROFILE CASES. (THE THIRD DISTRICT COURT HAD ISSUED RULINGS IN A VARIETY OF CASES INVOLVING THE SECURITY FORCES.) ON AUGUST 29, A POLICEMAN ASSIGNED TO PROTECT VILLASENOR WAS KIDNAPED, INTERROGATED, AND ASSAULTED. FOLLOWING THIS INCIDENT, VILLASENOR LEFT THE COUNTRY FOR A NUMBER OF WEEKS.

UNCLASSIFIED

44. ON JANUARY 19, UNKNOWN PERSONS PURPOSELY SET FIRE TO THE JUDICIAL RECORDS BUILDING IN SANTA CRUZ DE QUICHE, WHICH HELD NUMEROUS FILES REGARDING PAC ABUSES. QUICHE JUDGE FRANCISCO PEREZ STATED THAT JUST BEFORE THE FIRE HE RECEIVED THREATS FROM JOYABAJ PAC MEMBERS ATTEMPTING TO PERSUADE HIM TO RELEASE TWO OF ITS MEMBERS CHARGED WITH COMMITTING MULTIPLE CRIMES, INCLUDING THE DEATHS OF NUMEROUS PERSONS.

UNCLASSIFIED

45. CORRUPTION CONTINUES TO PLAGUE THE PROPER FUNCTIONING OF THE POLICE FORCE. ON JUNE 25, A LIVE GRENADE WAS TOSSED AT THE RESIDENCE OF ANTI-CORRUPTION TRANSIT POLICE CHIEF ERNESTO RUIZ SAENZ DE TEJADA. RUIZ WAS NOT INJURED IN THIS ATTACK, BUT HE RESIGNED FROM THE POLICE FORCE SHORTLY AFTERWARD.

46. THERE ARE NO KNOWN POLITICAL PRISONERS.

F. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME, OR CORRESPONDENCE

47. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INVIOLABILITY OF HOME, CORRESPONDENCE, AND PRIVATE DOCUMENTS, BUT THE AUTHORITIES DO NOT ALWAYS RESPECT THESE PROVISIONS. ELEMENTS OF THE SECURITY FORCES CONTINUE TO MONITOR PRIVATE COMMUNICATIONS. MANY HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS REPORTED RECEIVING THREATS IN THE FORM OF SURVEILLANCE, TELEPHONE CALLS, AND ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

UNCLASSIFIED

48. ON MARCH 11, ONE YEAR AFTER AN ARREST WARRANT HAD BEEN ISSUED, JUAN JOSE GARCIA ORELLANA, A POSTAL CONTROL OFFICER CHARGED WITH OPERATING A MAIL ESPIONAGE RING IN THE POST OFFICE FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL SECURITY STAFF UNDER THE SERRANO ADMINISTRATION, TURNED HIMSELF INTO JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES. THE AUTHORITIES ARE STILL GATHERING EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE.

49. OFFICIALS ENFORCING THE MILITARY DRAFT CONTINUED TO STOP VEHICLES AND ENTER HOMES AND PLACES OF BUSINESS WITHOUT LEGALLY REQUIRED COURT ORDERS. THE ARMY HAS CONTINUED THE PRACTICE OF SETTING UP DRAFT BOARDS CONSISTING OF THE ZONE MILITARY COMMANDER, THE LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE, AND OTHER CIVILIAN LEADERS. UNDER RECRUITMENT PRACTICES ADOPTED IN SOME DEPARTMENTS, POTENTIAL DRAFTEES RECEIVE THREE INDUCTION NOTICES, AFTER WHICH THEY ARE ARRESTED IF

THEY DO NOT REPORT FOR ENLISTMENT. UNDER THE LAW, SUCH ARRESTS MUST BE EFFECTED PURSUANT TO A COURT ORDER.

UNCLASSIFIED

50. ON JUNE 14, AMILCAR MENDEZ, THE FOUNDER OF CERJ, FILED A LAWSUIT AGAINST DEFENSE MINISTER ENRIQUEZ CHARGING THAT THE ARMED FORCES' FORCED RECRUITMENT PRACTICES VIOLATED CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS REGARDING OBLIGATORY MILITARY SERVICE. A COURT, HOWEVER, RULED THE JUDICIAL BRANCH DID NOT HAVE JURISDICTION OVER THIS MATTER BECAUSE THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE HAD IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION, WHICH ONLY CONGRESS COULD REMOVE. IT REFERRED THE IMMUNITY QUESTION TO THE CONGRESS, WHICH RULED THAT THE CASE LACKED LEGAL MERIT, THUS EFFECTIVELY DISMISSING THE ENTIRE LAWSUIT.

51. THROUGH JULY 30, THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE HANDLED 89 INDIVIDUAL CASES OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. IN THE SAME PERIOD, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN OFFICE REPORTED RECEIVING 663 COMPLAINTS OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE THESE FIGURES FOR YEAR-END.) THE OFFICE OBTAINED THE RELEASE OF 268 PERSONS FROM MILITARY SERVICE, OF WHOM 79 WERE MINORS. ON JUNE 29, DEFENSE MINISTER GENERAL ENRIQUEZ ANNOUNCED A 6-MONTH MORATORIUM ON FORCED RECRUITMENT, WHICH WAS CONFIRMED BY PRESIDENT DE LEON DURING THE JUNE 30 ARMY DAY CELEBRATIONS. HOWEVER, THE OMBUDSMAN REPORTED THREE SEPARATE INSTANCES OF FORCED CONSCRIPTION IN JULY. ON AUGUST 28, THE DEFENSE MINISTRY ONCE AGAIN ORDERED A SUSPENSION OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. (EMBASSY: ARE THERE REPORTS THAT IT CONTINUES NONETHELESS?)

52. THE CONSTITUTION REQUIRES THAT PAC SERVICE BE VOLUNTARY. HOWEVER, ARMY OFFICERS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND PAC LEADERS OFTEN PRESSURE MEN IN [redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

AREAS OF CONFLICT TO BECOME MEMBERS. NEVERTHELESS, PAC'S DO ENJOY SOME POPULAR SUPPORT; A MAJORITY OF RESPONDENTS IN A RECENT SURVEY CLAIMED TO BE PLEASED WITH THE PAC MEMBERSHIP AND WITH THE PAC PRESENCE IN THEIR COMMUNITIES. (EMBASSY: WAS THE SURVEY IMPARTIAL? DID IT COVER THE ENTIRE COUNTRY, OR JUST PARTS THEREOF?)

53. IN JUNE AND JULY, CERJ FILED A LEGAL COMPLAINT ON BEHALF OF FORMER PAC MEMBER JUAN ANTONIO CHUMEL WITH LOCAL JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES AND THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS STATING THAT SINCE 1988, WHEN CHUMEL LEFT THE PAC'S, PAC MEMBERS THREATENED AND INTIMIDATED CHUMEL TO THE EXTENT THAT HE WAS FORCED TO LEAVE HIS COMMUNITY FOR FEAR OF HIS LIFE. THERE ARE OTHER CREDIBLE REPORTS THAT OTHERS WHO REFUSED TO SERVE IN THE PAC'S SUFFERED THREATS AND OTHER ABUSES.

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

54. GUATEMALA'S ARMED INTERNAL CONFLICT ENTERED ITS 34TH YEAR IN 1994 AND CONTINUED TO BE A MAJOR CAUSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS BY BOTH GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLA FORCES. COMMUNITIES OF PEOPLE IN RESISTANCE (CPR) CLAIMED ARMY HARASSMENT THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, INCLUDING LATE EVENING HELICOPTER OVERFLIGHTS AND RESTRICTION OF COMMERCE. REFLECTING INCREASED SECURITY IN THE VALLEYS, IN FEBRUARY, A NUMBER OF CPR'S CAME DOWN FROM THE MOUNTAINS AND ESTABLISHED PERMANENT VILLAGES.

55. ACCORDING TO STATISTICS REPORTED BY THE ARCHBISHOP'S

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE, REPEATED URNG ATTACKS AGAINST CIVILIAN INFRASTRUCTURE TARGETS DAMAGED ELECTRICAL AND COMMUNICATION FACILITIES AND PETROLEUM STORAGE AREAS. THE CHURCH OFFICE REPORTED TWO PERSONS INJURED BY EXPLODING MINES PLANTED BY GUERRILLAS. ON AUGUST 22, GUERRILLAS FIRED INDISCRIMINATELY AT A CIVILIAN BUS INJURING ELEVEN INDIVIDUALS AND KILLING ONE PERSON DURING

AN ATTACK AGAINST ARMY UNITS IN CHUPOL, CHICHICASTENANGO. ON VARIOUS OCCASIONS GUERRILLAS HAVE ALSO BURNED FARMS AND DESTROYED PROPERTY OF FARM OWNERS WHO REFUSED TO PAY EXTORTION.

56. TERRORIST BOMBINGS CONDUCTED BY UNKNOWN PERPETRATORS CONTINUED THROUGHOUT THE YEAR. BEFORE THE JANUARY 30 NATIONAL REFERENDUM, 25 EXPLOSIVE DEVICES DETONATED OR WERE DEACTIVATED IN GUATEMALA CITY ALONE. SEVERAL OF THESE DEVICES WERE ACCOMPANIED BY URNG LEAFLETS. OTHER BOMB ATTACKS WERE BELIEVED TO BE ORCHESTRATED BY FREE-LANCING RIGHTIST GROUPS OPPOSED TO THE REFERENDUM. ON MARCH 6 AND 7, BOMBS EXPLODED AT TWO KEY BRIDGES LEADING FROM THE CAPITAL. THE ARMY AND THE URNG ACCUSED EACH OTHER OF PLANTING THE BOMBS. ON SEPTEMBER 1, TWO MORE PAMPHLET BOMBS EXPLODED IN THE CAPITAL, RELEASING URNG LITERATURE. THE HOME OF THE BROTHER OF FORMER PEACE TALKS CONCILIATOR AND CURRENT PRESIDENT OF THE CIVIL SOCIETY ASSEMBLY BISHOP RODOLFO QUEZADA, WAS BOMBED IN JUNE. THE BROTHER IS A BUSINESSMAN AND PARTIAL OWNER OF THE NEWSWEEKLY CRONICA. ON SEPTEMBER 22, THREE BOMBS WENT OFF IN RESIDENTIAL ZONES, KILLING ONE CHILD WHO WAS WATCHING CARS IN EXCHANGE FOR TIPS. ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS DEATH THREAT LISTS, INCLUDING THE NAMES OF HUMAN RIGHTS [redacted]

AND LABOR LEADERS AND NEWSPAPER JOURNALISTS, CIRCULATED, BUT NO ONE LISTED WAS INJURED OR KILLED.

57. ON AUGUST 12, A LOWER COURT JUDGE DISMISSED THE AMNESTY GRANTED FOUR RECENTLY-CAPTURED URNG GUERRILLAS. IT HAD BEEN COMMON GOVERNMENT PRACTICE TO EXCUSE POST-1988 CRIMES COMMITTED BY GUERRILLAS EVEN THOUGH THE AMNESTY LAW ONLY APPLIES TO POLITICAL AND RELATED CRIMES COMMITTED BEFORE 1988. THE GOVERNMENT APPEALED THIS DECISION AND IS CONSIDERING NEW AMNESTY LEGISLATION TO COVER CRIMES COMMITTED AFTER 1988.

58. IN JANUARY THE URNG AND THE GOVERNMENT RESUMED PEACE TALKS WITH THE UNITED NATIONS SERVING AS MODERATOR. IN LATE MARCH, THE GOVERNMENT AND THE GUERRILLAS SIGNED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD THAT CALLED FOR THE IMMEDIATE ESTABLISHMENT OF A U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION

MISSION. ALTHOUGH THE START-UP OF THIS INTERNATIONAL MISSION WAS DELAYED UNTIL SEPTEMBER, THE ACCORD WAS A MAJOR STEP FORWARD. AS PART OF ITS MANDATE, THE U.N. TEAM WILL SEEK TO STRENGTHEN LOCAL INSTITUTIONS DEALING WITH HUMAN RIGHTS. AT THE SAME TIME, THE GOVERNMENT AND THE URNG AGREED UPON A CALENDAR TO ADDRESS THE MAJOR OUTSTANDING NEGOTIATING ISSUES. IN JUNE THE TWO SIDES SIGNED ACCORDS ON "UPROOTED" PEOPLES AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION TO CATALOG AND ANALYZE HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES RELATED TO THE GUERRILLA WAR. HOWEVER, THE COMMISSION WILL NOT NAME PAST VIOLATORS AND ITS FINDINGS WILL NOT HAVE JUDICIAL FORCE. (EMBASSY: PLEASE PROVIDE A BRIEF UPDATE ON NEGOTIATIONS AS OF THE END OF THE YEAR.)

SECTION 2 RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

59. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION. THERE WAS NO EVIDENCE OF HARASSMENT FROM SENIOR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, BUT BOTH MAJOR PRESS ASSOCIATIONS DENOUNCED INCIDENTS RESTRICTING FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. THE MEDIA REPORTED SENSITIVE ISSUES SUCH AS CORRUPTION, AS WELL AS MAJOR HUMAN RIGHTS STORIES. THEY ALSO PUBLICIZED COMMUNIQUES FROM THE URNG, LEFTIST GROUPS, AND OTHERS OPPOSED TO THE GOVERNMENT OR ITS POLICIES. JOURNALISTS ADMIT, HOWEVER, THAT PRESSURE AND FEARS OF REPRISAL RESULT IN SELF-CENSORSHIP AND LIMITS ON INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING. FOR EXAMPLE, THERE IS NO OPEN CRITICISM OF THE MILITARY NOR IS THERE OPEN DISCUSSION OF IMPORTANT ISSUES SUCH AS LAND USE, LAND OWNERSHIP, OR SIMILAR TOPICS THAT WOULD AFFECT THE INTERESTS OF POWERFUL ECONOMIC GROUPS AND INDIVIDUALS. REPORTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND NARCOTIC TRAFFICKING ARE CAREFULLY WRITTEN AND SOURCED SO THAT NEITHER JOURNALISTS NOR THEIR INSTITUTIONS ARE PUT AT RISK. RADIO AND TELEVISION STATION OWNERS OBSERVE THAT LICENSING PROCEDURES POTENTIALLY GIVE THE GOVERNMENT POWERFUL LEVERAGE OVER THEIR EDITORIAL POLICIES, BUT HAVE NOT CITED ANY INSTANCES IN WHICH THE DE LEON GOVERNMENT ATTEMPTED TO

ABUSE THIS POWER.

60. CONTINUING ACTS OF POLITICAL VIOLENCE DIRECTED AGAINST JOURNALISTS GIVE CREDENCE TO THEIR COMPLAINTS OF [redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

PRESSURE AND COERCION AT THE WORKING LEVEL. FOR THE FIRST 7 MONTHS (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE), THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE RECORDED 19 SEPARATE ACTS OF POLITICAL HARASSMENT: 1 EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING, 5 ASSAULTS AND 13 INTIMIDATING ACTS AGAINST MEDIA PERSONNEL OR ESTABLISHMENTS. ON MARCH 26, UNKNOWN MEN FIRED SHOTS AT NEWSPAPER REPORTER MARCO TULIO DE LA ROCA, KILLING HIM AND INJURING HIS COMPANION. JOURNALIST HECTOR ADOLFO BARRERA ORTIZ WAS TARGETED, FIRST BY A BOMB EXPLOSION OUTSIDE HIS HOME AND LATER BY A KIDNAPING ATTEMPT WHILE AT WORK. (EMBASSY: ANY INVESTIGATION INTO THE DE LA ROCA KILLING OR THE BARRERA INCIDENTS? IS THERE ANY INDICATION OF THE IDENTITY OR MOTIVES OF THE PERPETRATORS? DOES THE NATURE OF THESE JOURNALISTS' WORK POINT TOWARD LIKELY PERPETRATORS?)

B. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

61. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE RIGHT OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION. PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATIONS WERE COMMON AND DEMONSTRATORS SOMETIMES OCCUPIED GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS, INCLUDING THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE, GOVERNMENT MINISTRIES AND THE SUPREME COURT BUILDING. IN ALL THESE CASES, THE POLICE ACTED WITH RESTRAINT AND AUTHORITIES NEGOTIATED A PEACEFUL DEPARTURE OF DEMONSTRATORS. THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT INTERFERE WITH POLITICAL ASSOCIATIONS, ALTHOUGH THE LAW NOMINALLY REQUIRES ORGANIZATIONS TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS, A CUMBERSOME AND EXPENSIVE PROCEDURE. (EMBASSY: CAN YOU BRIEFLY PROVIDE DETAILS ON THE STREAMLINING OF THESE PROCEDURES ANNOUNCED LAST DECEMBER?)

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

62. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AND THE AUTHORITIES RESPECT IT IN PRACTICE. RELIGIOUS PERSONNEL ARE SOMETIMES THREATENED FOR POLITICAL REASONS. (EMBASSY: WHO THREATENS RELIGIOUS PERSONNEL? GOVERNMENT FORCES, GUERRILLAS, OR BOTH?)

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

63. THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT RESTRICT FOREIGN TRAVEL, NOR DOES IT REVOKE CITIZENSHIP FOR POLITICAL REASONS. MOVEMENT INSIDE THE COUNTRY WAS UNRESTRICTED EXCEPT WHERE THE ARMY AND PAC'S LIMITED TRAVEL IN SOME AREAS OF CONFLICT. GUERRILLAS CONTINUED TO ESTABLISH ROADBLOCKS TO ROB PRIVATE CITIZENS, EXTORT PROTECTION PAYMENTS FROM BUSINESSMEN, ATTACK AND DRAIN PETROLEUM TRUCKS, AND LIMIT TRAVEL IN CERTAIN RURAL AREAS.

64. VOLUNTARY REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES FROM MEXICO CONTINUED. ACCORDING TO THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR REFUGEES (UNHCR), BY AUGUST, 4,021 REFUGEES HAD BEEN REPATRIATED TO GUATEMALA. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE TO END OF YEAR IF POSSIBLE.) OVER THE LAST DECADE, OVER 18,000 PERSONS HAVE RETURNED SINCE THE INITIATION OF THE PROGRAM, DESPITE THE LACK OF SUITABLE LAND WHICH CAN SUPPORT THE RETURNING POPULATION.

SECTION 3 RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF [redacted]

CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

65. CITIZENS HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT BY PEACEFUL AND DEMOCRATIC MEANS, THROUGH SECRET BALLOT AND UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE FOR THOSE 18 YEARS OF AGE AND OLDER. MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES AND POLICE MAY NOT

VOTE. SINCE THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY AND CIVILIAN RULE IN 1985, THERE HAVE BEEN SEVEN FREE ELECTIONS. INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS CONCLUDED THAT BOTH THE JANUARY 30 NATIONAL REFERENDUM AND THE AUGUST 14 CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS WERE FREE AND FAIR.

66. THERE ARE NO LEGAL IMPEDIMENTS TO WOMEN'S PARTICIPATION IN POLITICS, BUT WOMEN ARE UNDERREPRESENTED IN THE POLITICAL ARENA. HOWEVER, WOMEN DO HOLD PROMINENT POLITICAL POSITIONS, INCLUDING THREE CABINET POSTS. THE PRESIDENT OF THE NEWLY ELECTED CONGRESS IS A WOMAN AND FIVE OTHER WOMEN HOLD SEATS IN THE 80-MEMBER BODY. THERE ARE ALSO TWO FEMALE SUPREME COURT JUSTICES AND ONE FEMALE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT JUSTICE.

67. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE ENJOY EQUAL RIGHTS UNDER THE CONSTITUTION, AND SOME HAVE ATTAINED POSITIONS AS ARMY OFFICERS (INCLUDING ONE GENERAL), JUDGES, AND GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, INCLUDING FIVE SEATS IN THE NEWLY ELECTED CONGRESS. NEVERTHELESS, LIMITED EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY AND PERVASIVE DISCRIMINATION (SEE SECTION 5) LEAD TO THEIR UNDERREPRESENTATION IN POLITICS.

SECTION 4 GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED [redacted]

VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

68. THE GOVERNMENT PERMITS LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS TO OPERATE FREELY, BUT THE SECURITY FORCES, PAC'S, AND EXTREMIST GROUPS CONTINUED TO THREATEN AND USE VIOLENCE AGAINST THEIR MEMBERS. FOR EXAMPLE, ON JANUARY 24 HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVIST AMILCAR MENDEZ REPORTED THAT A MASKED MOTORCYCLIST TRIED TO RUN OVER HIS 16-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER, MIRIAM ROCIO MENDEZ, WHO WAS EN ROUTE TO THE UNIVERSITY OF SAN CARLOS. THE DAUGHTER WAS UNINJURED. FIVE MONTHS LATER ON JUNE 29, THE MENDEZ FAMILY REPORTED THERE WERE ARMED MEN OUTSIDE HIS HOME. HOWEVER, WHEN THE POLICE WERE DISPATCHED TO THE SCENE, THE ARMED MEN HAD LEFT. IN AUGUST AN UNKNOWN PERSON CALLED A MENDEZ RELATIVE IN GUATEMALA CITY STATING THAT MENDEZ SHOULD NOT RETURN TO HIS HOME IN QUICHE BECAUSE HE WOULD BE KILLED.

69. ROSALINA TUYUC, DIRECTOR OF CONAVIGUA, THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF GUATEMALAN WIDOWS, REPORTED THAT DURING JUNE AND JULY ARMED SOLDIERS REPEATEDLY WERE STATIONED OUTSIDE HER PARENTS' HOME IN CHIMALTENANGO. THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, THE GUATEMALAN ARMY HAS ACCUSED TUYUC AND CONAVIGUA OF BEING ALLIED WITH THE GUERRILLAS. THE ARMY ALSO CHARGED THAT ONE OF TUYUC'S BROTHERS IS A GUERRILLA COMMANDER WHO ENGINEERED RECENT GUERRILLA ATTACKS. ON JUNE 22, UNKNOWN MEN ATTACKED, STABBED, AND ROBBED SARA POROJ VASQUEZ, AN OFFICER OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION GAM, "GRUPO DE APOYO MUTUO", OUTSIDE HER HOME. NO ONE WAS APPREHENDED FOR THIS ATTACK.

70. RELATIONS BETWEEN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH AND THE HUMAN [redacted]

RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO IS CONGRESSIONALLY APPOINTED, REMAIN TENSE. THE OMBUDSMAN REPEATEDLY ACCUSED PRESIDENT DE LEON, THE PREVIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, OF NOT TAKING ACTION ON THE NUMEROUS RESOLUTIONS HIS OFFICE HAS ISSUED CONCERNING HUMAN RIGHTS. ON SEPTEMBER 7, THE OMBUDSMAN CALLED FOR THE RESIGNATION OF THE NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR BECAUSE OF ALLEGATIONS OF POLICE ABUSE IN THE COATEPEQUE INCIDENT (SEE SECTION 1.C.). THE OMBUDSMAN REDUCED HIS OWN STAFF AND FOCUSED LESS ON INVESTIGATION OF INDIVIDUAL CASES THAN ON MAKING PUBLIC PRONOUNCEMENTS (EMBASSY: IS THIS A GOOD FORMULATION OF THE PROBLEM?).

71. HIGH-RANKING GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WORKING IN THE FIELDS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND JURISPRUDENCE COMPLAINED PUBLICLY AND PRIVATELY OF RECEIVING THREATS STEMMING FROM THEIR INTEREST IN RESOLVING CASES RELATED TO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, OFFICIAL CORRUPTION, AND DRUG TRAFFICKING.

72. BOTH THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE AND THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CONTINUED TO ENJOY WIDESPREAD PUBLIC SUPPORT AND RESPECT. SENIOR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS MET NUMEROUS FOREIGN OFFICIALS AND HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS. INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS TRAVEL THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY BUT ON OCCASION ADVISE LOCAL MILITARY AUTHORITIES OF THEIR PRESENCE TO ENSURE THEIR SAFETY, PARTICULARLY IN

RURAL AREAS. DESPITE A PERSISTENT, 13-YEAR EFFORT, PEACE BRIGADES INTERNATIONAL, AN INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION WHICH ACCOMPANIES PERSONS WHOSE LIVES MAY BE IN DANGER FOR THEIR POLITICAL BELIEFS OR ACTIVITIES, HAS BEEN UNABLE TO OBTAIN GOVERNMENT RECOGNITION. THE

ABSENCE OF LEGAL STATUS DID NOT, HOWEVER, PREVENT PEACE BRIGADES OR OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS FROM OPERATING OPENLY.

SECTION 5 DISCRIMINATION BASED ON RACE, SEX, RELIGION, DISABILITY, LANGUAGE, OR SOCIAL STATUS

73. (EMBASSY: PLEASE PROVIDE A ONE-SENTENCE LEAD-IN STATEMENT DESCRIBING WHAT THE CONSTITUTION OR OTHER LAWS SAY REGARDING DISCRIMINATION ON SOME OR ALL OF THESE GROUNDS.)

WOMEN

74. THE CONSTITUTION ASSERTS THE PRINCIPLE OF EQUALITY BETWEEN THE SEXES. NONETHELESS, WOMEN FACE JOB DISCRIMINATION AND ON AVERAGE RECEIVE SIGNIFICANTLY LOWER PAY THAN MEN. THEY ARE PRIMARILY EMPLOYED IN LOW-WAGE JOBS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY, AGRICULTURE, RETAIL BUSINESS, AND THE PUBLIC SECTOR. MORE WORKING WOMEN THAN MEN ARE EMPLOYED IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR OF THE ECONOMY, WHERE PAY AND BENEFITS ARE GENERALLY LOWER. A 1989 SURVEY REPORTED THAT IN GUATEMALA CITY WOMEN ARE UNDERREPRESENTED IN HIGH-INCOME CATEGORIES AND OVERREPRESENTED AMONG POORLY PAID WORKERS.

75. IN SOME CASES, DOMESTIC LAWS REMAIN DISCRIMINATORY AGAINST WOMEN, SUCH AS THE PENAL CODE'S PROVISIONS ON ADULTERY. ONLY WOMEN MAY BE CHARGED WITH ADULTERY, WHILE MEN FALL UNDER A DIFFERENT STATUTE WHICH IS MORE LIMITED, MAKES IT MORE DIFFICULT TO PROVE, AND CARRIES A LESSER

PENALTY.

76. CONAVIGUA REPORTED THAT VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN, INCLUDING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, REMAINS COMMON BUT RECEIVES LITTLE ATTENTION. THERE IS NO SPECIFIC LAW AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, ALTHOUGH IT IS CONSIDERED TO FALL UNDER OTHER STATUTES. CRIMINAL SEXUAL VIOLENCE OFTEN GOES UNREPORTED BY VICTIMS, AND RELATIVELY FEW RAPE CASES COME TO COURT. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE REPORTED RECEIVING 30 COMPLAINTS PER MONTH OF SPOUSAL ABUSE COMMITTED BY THE MALE SPOUSE.

CHILDREN

77. THE ABUSE OF STREET CHILDREN (SEE SECTION 1.C.) IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM IN MAJOR CITIES. ESTIMATES OF STREET CHILDREN RANGE BETWEEN 1,500 AND 5,000, WITH THE MAJORITY OF THESE YOUTHS CONCENTRATED IN GUATEMALA CITY. THESE CHILDREN ARE OFTEN RECRUITED INTO THIEVERY OR PROSTITUTION RINGS. THE GOVERNMENT AND A NUMBER OF NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE YOUTH CENTERS, BUT THE FUNDS DEVOTED TO THEM ARE INADEQUATE FOR THE PROBLEM. AN ACCORD BETWEEN CASA ALIANZA AND THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE WAS NOT RENEWED BECAUSE THE DE LEON ADMINISTRATION BELIEVES THAT THE TREATMENT OF STREET CHILDREN IS ADEQUATELY ADDRESSED IN EXISTING LAWS. COPREDEH, THE PRESIDENTIAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, HAS FORMED A SPECIAL COMMISSION CALLED THE PERMANENT COMMISSION FOR CHILDREN, COMPOSED OF CASA ALIANZA AND REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE BRANCHES, WHICH MEETS REGULARLY TO ADDRESS THE PROBLEMS OF STREET CHILDREN.

RELATIONS BETWEEN CASA ALIANZA AND THE NATIONAL POLICE IMPROVED DUE TO THE REPEATED PERSONAL INTERVENTION OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT'S INSPECTOR GENERAL AND THE INTEREST OF THE DEPARTMENT'S MINORS DIVISION, OFFICE OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY, AND HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE. HOWEVER, THE POLICE DEPARTMENT'S OFFICE OF CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS HAS BEEN RELUCTANT TO RELEASE INFORMATION ON PAST ALLEGED HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES COMMITTED BY POLICE OFFICERS.

UNCLASSIFIED

INDIGENOUS PEOPLE

78. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE COMPRISE ABOUT ONE-HALF OF THE POPULATION BUT REMAIN LARGELY OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY'S POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND CULTURAL MAINSTREAM. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUFFERED MOST OF THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES DESCRIBED THROUGHOUT THIS REPORT. RURAL INDIGENOUS MEN WERE MORE LIKELY THAN URBAN DWELLERS TO BE DRAFTED BY THE ARMY OR FORCIBLY RECRUITED BY EITHER THE ARMY OR GUERRILLA GROUPS. ALTHOUGH THE CONSTITUTION ACCORDS INDIGENOUS PEOPLE EQUAL RIGHTS, IN PRACTICE THEY HAVE ONLY MINIMAL PARTICIPATION IN DECISIONS AFFECTING THEIR LANDS, CULTURE, TRADITIONS, AND ALLOCATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES.

79. RURAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLE HAVE LIMITED EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES AND THUS HAVE LIMITED EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES. ILLITERACY IS PREVALENT IN INDIGENOUS COMMUNITIES. MANY INDIGENOUS PEOPLE DO NOT SPEAK SPANISH. LINGUISTIC BARRIERS HINDER INTERACTION WITH THE GOVERNMENT AND LIMIT ACCESS TO PUBLIC SERVICES, INCLUDING THE JUDICIARY, BECAUSE FEW OFFICIALS SPEAK ANY OF THE 21

INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES. INDIGENOUS PERSONS ARRESTED FOR CRIMES ARE OFTEN AT A DISADVANTAGE DUE TO THEIR LACK OF SPANISH. THE PUBLIC DEFENDER'S OFFICE IS CHARGED WITH PROVIDING JUDICIAL TRANSLATING SERVICES BUT IS NOT SUFFICIENTLY STAFFED TO COPE WITH THE PROBLEM. UNDER THE NEW PENAL PROCEDURES CODE, THE GOVERNMENT IS REQUIRED TO PROVIDE TRANSLATING SERVICES TO ALL WHO NEED IT IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS. (EMBASSY: DOES IT DO SO IN PRACTICE?)

PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

80. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES THAT THE STATE SHOULD PROTECT DISABLED PERSONS. NONETHELESS, PHYSICALLY DISABLED PERSONS ARE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST IN EMPLOYMENT

PRACTICES, AND FEW RESOURCES ARE DEVOTED TO COMBAT THIS PROBLEM OR OTHERWISE TO ASSIST PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES. THERE IS NO LEGISLATION MANDATING PROVISION OF ACCESSIBILITY FOR THE DISABLED.

SECTION 6 WORKER RIGHTS

UNCLASSIFIED

A. THE RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION

81. THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LABOR CODE PROVIDE WORKERS COMPLETE FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION AND THE RIGHT TO FORM AND JOIN TRADE UNIONS. THE 1992 AMENDMENTS TO THE LABOR CODE FACILITATE FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION, STRENGTHEN THE RIGHTS OF WORKING WOMEN, INCREASE PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS OF LABOR LAWS, AND ENHANCE THE ROLE OF THE LABOR MINISTRY AND LABOR COURTS IN ENFORCING THEM. ALL WORKERS HAVE THE

RIGHT TO FORM OR JOIN UNIONS, INCLUDING PUBLIC SECTOR EMPLOYEES, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF MEMBERS OF SECURITY FORCES. NATIONAL POLICE OFFICERS HAVE UNSUCCESSFULLY ATTEMPTED TO FORM A TRADE UNION OR ASSOCIATION. BETWEEN 5 AND 8 PERCENT OF THE WORK FORCE IS ORGANIZED. THE 993 REGISTERED UNIONS IN THE COUNTRY ARE INDEPENDENT OF GOVERNMENT AND POLITICAL PARTY DOMINATION.

82. THE LABOR CODE AMENDMENTS SIMPLIFIED THE PROCESS FOR UNIONS TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS. THIS WAS FURTHER REVISED WHEN THE MINISTER OF LABOR MADE ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES TO REDUCE THE NUMBER OF STEPS NEEDED WITHIN THE MINISTRY TO GRANT APPROVAL, ESTABLISHED STRICT TIMETABLES FOR CONSIDERATION OF UNION APPLICATIONS, AND CLARIFIED THAT NONCOMPLIANCE WITH THIS TIMETABLE COULD LEAD TO DISMISSAL OF THE OFFICIALS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DELAY.

UNCLASSIFIED

83. THESE NEW REGULATIONS ACCELERATED THE APPROVAL PROCEDURE, AND THE BACKLOG OF UNION APPLICATIONS WAS BASICALLY ELIMINATED BY MID-YEAR. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS GRANTED LEGAL STATUS TO 63 UNIONS SINCE LATE 1993, AND ONLY 13 APPLICATIONS ARE STILL PENDING. OF THE REGISTERED UNIONS, 834 ARE IN THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND 159 ARE IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS INITIATED A PROGRAM TO ASSIST UNIONS WITH THEIR APPLICATIONS, TO AVOID SOME OF THE PITFALLS STILL INHERENT IN THE LABOR CODE.

UNCLASSIFIED

84. WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO STRIKE, BUT LABOR CODE PROCEDURES MAKE LEGAL STRIKES CUMBERSOME. LABOR ORGANIZERS CRITICIZE THE REQUIREMENT THAT TWO-THIRDS OF THE WORKERS VOTE TO APPROVE A STRIKE, THE PROHIBITION OF STRIKES BY AGRICULTURAL WORKERS AT HARVEST TIME, AND THE RIGHT OF THE GOVERNMENT TO PROHIBIT STRIKES WHICH IT DEEMS AS SERIOUSLY AFFECTING THE NATIONAL ECONOMY. THOSE FEW STRIKES THAT DO OCCUR ARE GENERALLY CALLED WITHOUT LEGAL AUTHORIZATION, AND IN PRACTICE THE GOVERNMENT MAKES NO EFFORT TO INTERVENE ON THE BASIS OF ILLEGALITY. NONETHELESS, THE LACK OF LEGAL APPROVAL FOR A STRIKE CAN BE USED AS A THREAT AGAINST STRIKERS.

85. THE LAW PROTECTS WORKERS FROM RETRIBUTION FOR FORMING AND PARTICIPATING IN TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES, BUT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LAW VARIES. WHILE SOME EMPLOYERS ACCEPT UNIONIZATION, MANY ROUTINELY CIRCUMVENT LABOR CODE PROVISIONS IN ORDER TO RESIST UNION ACTIVITIES, WHICH MANY VIEW AS HISTORICALLY CONFRONTATIONAL AND DISRUPTIVE. AN INEFFECTIVE LEGAL SYSTEM AND THE INADEQUATE LEVEL OF PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS HINDERS ENFORCEMENT OF THE RIGHT TO FORM AND PARTICIPATE IN TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES.

86. TRADE UNION LEADERS AND MEMBERS WERE VICTIMS OF A MARKED INCREASE IN HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES, SUCH AS THREATS, ASSASSINATION ATTEMPTS, KIDNAPINGS, AND PHYSICAL HARM. IN ONE INCIDENT, POLICE KILLED AND WOUNDED SEVERAL PERSONS WHILE DISLODGING STRIKING WORKERS FROM A FARM (SEE SECTION 1.A.). THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT 4 UNIONISTS WERE KILLED IN 1994, 1 INJURED, AND 13 THREATENED BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANTS. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE THROUGH END OF THE YEAR IF POSSIBLE.) PUBLIC SECTOR UNION LEADERS, AS WELL AS

UNIONISTS IN THE HIGH-PROFILE IN-BOND EXPORT SECTOR, REPORTED RECEIVING THREATS AGAINST THEMSELVES AND THEIR FAMILIES. SUCH ANONYMOUS THREATS INCREASED MARKEDLY EARLY IN THE YEAR WHEN ONE OF THE FEDERATIONS OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES HELD A PROLONGED SERIES OF WORK STOPPAGES FOR IMPROVED WAGES AND GOVERNMENT COMPLIANCE WITH PREVIOUSLY NEGOTIATED AGREEMENTS.

87. UNIONS MAY AND DO FORM FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS AND JOIN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

88. AN ACTIVE "SOLIDARITY" MOVEMENT CLAIMS APPROXIMATELY 100,000 MEMBERS IN OVER 395 COMPANIES. UNIONS MAY LEGALLY CONTINUE TO OPERATE IN WORKPLACES WHICH HAVE SOLIDARITY ASSOCIATIONS, AND WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHOOSE BETWEEN THE TWO OR BELONG TO BOTH. THE GOVERNMENT VIEWS THESE ASSOCIATIONS AS CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS WHICH NEED NOT INTERFERE WITH THE FUNCTIONING OF TRADE UNIONS. THE AMENDED LABOR CODE STIPULATES VERY CLEARLY THAT TRADE UNIONS HAVE THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY OVER WORK CONDITIONS ON BEHALF OF WORKERS. UNIONISTS CHARGE, HOWEVER, THAT SOLIDARITY ASSOCIATIONS ARE PROMOTED BY MANAGEMENT TO AVOID THE FORMATION OF TRADE UNIONS OR TO RIVAL EXISTING LABOR UNIONS. THERE ARE CREDIBLE REPORTS THAT SOME OF THESE ASSOCIATIONS DID NOT ALWAYS ADHERE TO DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES IN THEIR FORMATION AND MANAGEMENT, AND THAT WORKERS ARE UNABLE TO PARTICIPATE FULLY AND FREELY IN DECISION MAKING. SIMILAR CREDIBLE CHARGES ARE MADE AGAINST SOME TRADE UNION ORGANIZATIONS.

89. AT THE REQUEST OF TRADE UNION LEADERS, THE INDEPENDENT HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, THROUGH HIS OFFICE FOR ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ISSUES, RECEIVES COMPLAINTS RELATED TO TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES. UNION LEADERS AND

WORKERS FILED A NUMBER OF COMPLAINTS WITH THE OMBUDSMAN DURING THE YEAR, AND THE OMBUDSMAN HAS SPOKEN OUT IN PUBLIC STATEMENTS ABOUT LABOR CONDITIONS IN VARYING SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY. (EMBASSY: WHAT SORT OF ACTION DOES/CAN THE OMBUDSMAN TAKE IN RESPONSE TO THEIR COMPLAINTS?)

UNCLASSIFIED

B. THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY

90. WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY. HOWEVER, THE PRACTICE OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IS LIMITED BY THE WEAK STRUCTURE OF THE UNION MOVEMENT, THE LACK OF EXPERIENCE WITH THIS PRACTICE, AND THE PREFERENCE OF MANAGEMENT IN MANY CASES TO AVOID FORMAL TIES WITH TRADE UNIONS. WHILE BOTH MANAGEMENT AND THE UNIONS HONORED SOME WELL-WRITTEN COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS, BOTH PARTIES OPENLY IGNORED AND VIOLATED OTHER CONTRACTS. MOST WORKERS, EVEN THOSE ORGANIZED BY TRADE UNIONS, DO NOT HAVE COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS TO COVER THEIR WAGES AND WORKING CONDITIONS, BUT DO HAVE INDIVIDUAL CONTRACTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW. MOST WORKERS RECEIVE THE MINIMUM WAGES ESTABLISHED BY BIPARTITE COMMISSIONS, WHICH OPERATE UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF THE MINISTRY OF LABOR.

91. EMPLOYERS CANNOT DISMISS WORKERS FOR PARTICIPATING IN THE FORMATION OF A TRADE UNION; WORKERS FILE COMPLAINTS IN THIS REGARD WITH THE LABOR INSPECTORS FOR

UNCLASSIFIED

RESOLUTION. THE LABOR CODE PROVIDES FOR THE RIGHT OF EMPLOYERS TO FIRE UNION WORKERS FOR CAUSE, PERMITS WORKERS TO APPEAL THEIR DISMISSAL TO THE LABOR COURTS, AND REQUIRES THE REINSTATEMENT OF ANY UNION WORKER FIRED WITHOUT CAUSE. THE REVISED CODE PROHIBITS EMPLOYERS FROM FIRING WORKERS FOR UNION ORGANIZING AND PROTECTS THEM FOR 60 DAYS FOLLOWING THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF APPROVAL OF THE UNION. IT ALSO PROHIBITS EMPLOYERS FROM FIRING ANY MEMBER OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF A UNION AND PROTECTS THEM FOR AN ADDITIONAL 12 MONTHS AFTER THEY ARE NO LONGER ON THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. AN EMPLOYER MAY FIRE A UNION MEMBER FOR CAUSE ONLY AFTER A TRIAL AND ISSUANCE OF A COURT RESOLUTION.

92. LABOR COURTS RESPONSIBLE FOR ENFORCING LABOR LAWS CONTINUED TO BE GENERALLY INEFFECTIVE. EFFORTS TO RESTRUCTURE AND MODERNIZE THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM MADE LITTLE HEADWAY DESPITE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW LABOR COURTS. A HEAVY BACKLOG OF LABOR CASES CONTINUED TO CLOG THE COURTS DUE TO CORRUPTION, INDOLENCE, AND LACK OF RESOURCES. THERE IS ONLY SPOTTY ENFORCEMENT OF THE LABOR CODE, DUE TO THE SCARCITY OF LABOR INSPECTORS, CORRUPTION, THE LACK OF ADEQUATE TRAINING AND RESOURCES, AND STRUCTURAL WEAKNESSES (OR THE LACK OF POLITICAL WILL) IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM.

93. LABOR LAWS AND REGULATIONS APPLY THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY, INCLUDING IN THE FEW EXPORT PROCESSING ZONES (EPZ'S). THE LAWS GOVERNING EPZ'S ARE NOT DISCRIMINATORY ON THE SUBJECT OF ORGANIZING TRADE UNIONS OR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING. WHILE UNION LEADERS OFTEN BLAME EMPLOYER [redacted]

PRESSURES AND UNOFFICIALLY RESTRICTED ACCESS TO THE EPZ'S FOR THEIR VIRTUAL INABILITY TO ORGANIZE WORKERS IN THESE ZONES, LABOR CONDITIONS IN THESE ZONES ARE NO DIFFERENT FROM THOSE FOUND OUTSIDE THE ZONES.

C. PROHIBITION OF FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR

94. THE CONSTITUTION BARS FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR, AND THE PRACTICE DOES NOT EXIST. HUMAN RIGHTS AND INDIGENOUS GROUPS CONTINUE TO CHARGE THAT COERCED PARTICIPATION, PARTICULARLY OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES, IN THE PAC'S VIOLATES PROHIBITIONS AGAINST FORCED LABOR.

D. MINIMUM AGE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN

95. ALTHOUGH THE CONSTITUTION BARS EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS UNDER THE AGE OF 14, CHILDREN BELOW THIS AGE ARE REGULARLY EMPLOYED. LAWS GOVERNING THE EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS ARE NOT EFFECTIVELY ENFORCED, DUE TO THE SHORTAGE OF QUALIFIED LABOR INSPECTORS AND STRUCTURAL WEAKNESSES IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM. ONLY 5,000 MINORS HAVE LEGAL PERMISSION FROM THE LABOR MINISTRY TO WORK. THOUSANDS WORKING WITHOUT LEGAL PERMISSION ARE OPEN TO EXPLOITATION, GENERALLY RECEIVING NO SOCIAL BENEFITS, NO

SOCIAL INSURANCE, NO PENSION OR VACATIONS, AND NO SEVERANCE PAY, AND ARE PAID BELOW THE MINIMUM WAGE LEVEL. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS A PROGRAM TO EDUCATE MINORS, THEIR PARENTS, AND EMPLOYERS ON THE RIGHTS OF MINORS IN THE LABOR MARKET. ECONOMIC NECESSITY, HOWEVER, FORCES MOST FAMILIES TO HAVE THEIR CHILDREN SEEK SOME TYPE OF EMPLOYMENT TO SUPPLEMENT THE FAMILY INCOME.

96. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR COMPULSORY EDUCATION FOR ALL CHILDREN UP TO THE AGE OF 12 OR TO THE SIXTH GRADE. HOWEVER, LESS THAN HALF THE POPULATION ACTUALLY RECEIVES A PRIMARY EDUCATION. CHILD LABOR IS LARGELY CONFINED TO SMALL OR FAMILY-TYPE ENTERPRISES, TO AGRICULTURAL WORK, AND TO THE INFORMAL SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY.

E. ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS OF WORK

97. ALTHOUGH THE LAW SETS MINIMUM WAGES, THE LEGALLY MANDATED MINIMUM WAGE FOR MOST UNSKILLED AND SEMISKILLED WORKERS IS ORDINARILY NOT PAID TO SIGNIFICANT NUMBERS OF RURAL AND URBAN WORKERS. A BILATERAL COMMITTEE REPRESENTING LABOR AND MANAGEMENT IN SPECIFIC ECONOMIC SECTORS IS NAMED EACH YEAR TO MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR INCREASES IN THE MINIMUM WAGE. IN THE EVENT THAT AGREEMENT IS NOT POSSIBLE, THE GOVERNMENT MAY DECREE SUCH INCREASES. IN JUNE THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COFFEE GROWERS (ANACAFE) REACHED AN AGREEMENT WITH ONE TRADE UNION GROUP REPRESENTING COFFEE FARM WORKERS WHICH INCREASED THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR COFFEE FARM WORKERS BY APPROXIMATELY 30 PERCENT TO 2.41 (14.50 QUETZALS) A DAY.

98. FOLLOWING THE ANACAFE ACCORD, THE GOVERNMENT INCREASED THE MINIMUM WAGE IN THE MAIN SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY IN SEPTEMBER. THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL WORKERS IS 3.29 (14 QUETZALS) FOR AN 8-HOUR WORKDAY, INCLUDING A REQUIRED HOURLY BONUS. THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR FARM WORKERS IS 2.00 (11.60 QUETZALS)

PER DAY, PLUS MANDATORY AND PRODUCTIVITY BONUSES. THE MINIMUM WAGE DOES NOT PROVIDE A DECENT STANDARD OF LIVING; AN ESTIMATED 80 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION LIVES BELOW THE POVERTY LINE, INCLUDING APPROXIMATELY 70 PERCENT OF THOSE EMPLOYED.

99. THE LEGAL WORKDAY IS 8 HOURS AND THE WORKWEEK IS 44 HOURS, BUT A TRADITION OF MUCH LONGER HOURS REMAINS IN PLACE DUE TO ECONOMIC CONDITIONS. THE AMENDED LABOR CODE REQUIRES A WEEKLY PAID (EMBASSY: PLEASE VERIFY THAT THE REST PERIOD IS "PAID".) REST PERIOD OF AT LEAST 24 HOURS. TRADE UNION LEADERS AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS CHARGE THAT WORKERS ARE SOMETIMES FORCED TO WORK OVERTIME, OFTEN WITHOUT PREMIUM PAY, OR GIVEN DRUGS TO HELP THEM WORK LONGER IN ORDER TO MEET WORK REQUIREMENTS. LABOR INSPECTORS REPORT THAT NUMEROUS INSTANCES WERE UNCOVERED OF SUCH ABUSES, BUT CORRUPTION AND INEFFICIENCIES IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM INHIBIT ADEQUATE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

100. OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS ARE INADEQUATE. AS WITH OTHER ASPECTS OF THE LABOR LAW, ENFORCEMENT OF STANDARDS THAT DO EXIST IS ALSO INADEQUATE. WORKERS HAVE THE LEGAL RIGHT TO REMOVE THEMSELVES FROM DANGEROUS WORKPLACE SITUATIONS, AND THE LAW PROVIDES THEM WITH PROTECTION FOR THEIR CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT. HOWEVER, FEW WORKERS ARE WILLING TO JEOPARDIZE THEIR JOBS BY COMPLAINING ABOUT UNSAFE WORKING CONDITIONS. WHEN SERIOUS OR FATAL INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS DO OCCUR, THE AUTHORITIES TAKE NO LEGAL STEPS AGAINST THOSE RESPONSIBLE. THE LABOR MINISTRY PROVIDES TRAINING

COURSES FOR LABOR INSPECTORS IN HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS, BUT DOES NOT ACCORD THEM HIGH PRIORITY. THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT EFFECTIVELY ENFORCE LEGISLATION

REQUIRING COMPANIES WITH MORE THAN 50 EMPLOYEES TO PROVIDE ON-SITE MEDICAL FACILITIES FOR THEIR WORKERS, EVEN THOUGH MANY LARGE EMPLOYERS DO PROVIDE SUCH FACILITIES.

Dear Ms. Larsen:

Thank you for your letter of December 6 in which you expressed the concern of the members of Coalition "Missing" over the case of Efrain Bamaca Velasquez.

First let me say that I was pleased to have been able to meet with you and the other members of Coalition "Missing." The efforts that your group has made on behalf of American victims of violence and their family members are instrumental in moving these cases forward.

As you know, I have and continue to press the Guatemalan government to fully investigate the case of Efrain Bamaca and provide answers to Ms. Harbury as soon as possible. I met with Ms. Harbury during her present visit to Guatemala and also arranged for her to meet with Congressman Bill Richardson of New Mexico as part of his two-day visit to the country. In those meetings, Ms. Harbury requested our assistance in helping her obtain U.S. Government documents that she feels would be helpful to the lawsuit she plans to file against the Guatemalan Government in the Guatemalan courts. I have passed her request on to Washington where the decision must ultimately be taken.

In her meeting with Congressman Richardson, at which I was also present, Ms. Harbury presented her views on the role of sanctions as a lever in the Bamaca and other human rights cases and her ideas on how those sanctions might be applied. I would like to add that I appreciated the opportunity to exchange viewpoints with your group and discuss the issue of sanctions at our meeting in October.

My staff and I are closely following the progress of the Human Rights Ombudsman's court-ordered investigation into the Bamaca disappearance as well as MINUGUA's efforts to assist in clarifying the questions surrounding Mr. Bamaca's fate. We will maintain these regular contacts and will continue to pressure the Guatemalan Government at all levels until the case is satisfactorily resolved.

Let me assure you that promoting respect for human rights is at the top of our bilateral agenda with Guatemala and we will continue to be as helpful as we possibly can to Jennifer Harbury.

Sincerely,

Marilyn McAfee

IT ALSO MANDATES AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY AND A HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO IS ELECTED BY AND REPORTS TO THE CONGRESS. ON JUNE 5, 1993, CONGRESS ELECTED THEN HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO TO FINISH THE PRESIDENTIAL TERM OF JORGE SERRANO, WHO HAD BEEN CONSTITUTIONALLY DEPOSED FROM OFFICE FOLLOWING HIS ATTEMPT TO SEIZE FULL POWER. PRESIDENT DE LEON LAUNCHED AN ANTI-CORRUPTION CAMPAIGN THAT LED TO A POLITICAL CONFRONTATION WITH THE LEGISLATURE AND SUPREME COURT, BOTH WIDELY SEEN AS CORRUPT. THIS CONFRONTATION WAS FINALLY RESOLVED WITH A JANUARY 30 REFERENDUM ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES, WHICH LED TO NEW CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS IN AUGUST AND THE OCTOBER REPLACEMENT OF THE SUPREME COURT.

6. THE ARMED FORCES OPERATE WITH CONSIDERABLE INSTITUTIONAL AND LEGAL AUTONOMY, PARTICULARLY IN SECURITY AND MILITARY MATTERS. WITH THE ENTRY INTO FORCE OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, MILITARY PERSONNEL ACCUSED OF COMMITTING CIVIL CRIMES ARE SUBJECT TO TRIAL IN CIVILIAN COURTS. THE 43,000-MAN ARMY, WHICH HAS RESPONSIBILITY FOR NATIONAL SECURITY, HAS FOUGHT A LEFTIST INSURGENCY FOR MORE THAN THREE DECADES. THE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT OVERSEES THE NATIONAL POLICE AND THE TREASURY POLICE, WHICH SHARE RESPONSIBILITY FOR INTERNAL SECURITY WITH THE ARMY. IN MARCH PRESIDENT DE LEON APPOINTED THE THEN-HEAD OF ARMY INTELLIGENCE AS VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT, REVERSING A TREND HE BEGAN UPON TAKING OFFICE OF REMOVING MILITARY PERSONNEL FROM CIVILIAN LAW ENFORCEMENT POSITIONS.

7. AN ESTIMATED 430,000 MEN SERVE IN CIVIL SELF-DEFENSE COMMITTEES CALLED CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS (PAC'S), SOME OF WHICH CONDUCT COUNTERINSURGENCY PATROLS IN RURAL AREAS. ALTHOUGH THESE ARE OSTENSIBLY VOLUNTARY, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT IN SOME REGIONS PAC MEMBERS WERE COMPELLED TO JOIN THE PATROLS, IN VIOLATION OF THE CONSTITUTION. SECURITY FORCES AND ESPECIALLY PAC'S AND CIVILIAN MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, WHO ARE THE INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN THE PAC'S AND THE ARMED FORCES, COMMITTED NUMEROUS SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

8. THE GOVERNMENT AND THE LEFTIST GUATEMALA NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNITY (URNG) INSURGENTS RESUMED PEACE TALKS IN JANUARY AND REACHED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD IN MARCH. THE AGREEMENT, WHICH TOOK FORCE IMMEDIATELY, LED TO THE SEPTEMBER INTRODUCTION OF A U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION INTO GUATEMALA. MANY HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS CRITICIZED THE GOVERNMENT FOR BEING LAX IN FULFILLING ITS COMMITMENTS UNDER THE MARCH ACCORD, AND ALSO EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT THE DELAYED ARRIVAL OF THE U.N. TEAM.

9. THE AGRICULTURE-BASED, PRIVATE SECTOR-ORIENTED ECONOMY WAS PROJECTED TO GROW APPROXIMATELY 4 PERCENT IN REAL TERMS IN 1994, WHICH WOULD PRODUCE AN INCREASE IN PER CAPITA INCOME OF ABOUT 1 PERCENT. INFLATION WAS EXPECTED TO EXCEED 10 PERCENT. THERE IS A MARKED DISPARITY IN INCOME DISTRIBUTION AND POVERTY IS PERVASIVE, PARTICULARLY IN THE LARGE INDIGENOUS COMMUNITY.

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

COMMITTED MANY OF THE MAJOR VIOLATIONS, INCLUDING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, POLITICAL KIDNAPINGS, DEATH THREATS, AND FORCED RECRUITMENT. POLITICAL KILLINGS, FOR EXAMPLE, CONTINUED AT AN ALARMING RATE, AND THE

LIMITED OFFICIAL USE SECTION 02 OF 14 STATE 331923

GOVERNMENT FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THEM ADEQUATELY OR TO BRING PERPETRATORS TO JUSTICE. GOVERNMENT FORCES AND UNKNOWN PERPETRATORS INCREASED ATTACKS ON LABOR UNION LEADERS AND MEMBERS, INCLUDING KILLINGS, DEATH THREATS, PHYSICAL ABUSE, AND OTHER FORMS OF MISTREATMENT AND HARASSMENT. GUERRILLA ABUSES INCLUDED KIDNAPINGS, THE WIDESPREAD USE OF MINES AND EXPLOSIVES IN CIVILIAN AREAS, FORCED RECRUITMENT OF CHILDREN, AND REPRISAL ATTACKS AGAINST PERSONS WHO REFUSED TO PAY EXTORTION: BOTH LEGAL AND SOCIETAL DISCRIMINATION AGAINST WOMEN CONTINUED, AS DID SOCIETAL ABUSE OF CHILDREN AND DISCRIMINATION AGAINST INDIGENOUS PEOPLES.

11. (NOTE: EMBASSY: WHEN DRAFTING THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT FOR 1994, POST PROBABLY DID NOT HAVE ACCESS TO THE VIEWS OF THE LAWYERS COMMITTEE ON HUMAN RIGHTS WHICH WERE CRITICAL OF OUR 1993 REPORT. OUR EDITING HAS TRIED TO TAKE ACCOUNT OF LCHR'S VIEWS BECAUSE WE BELIEVE THEY ARE OFTEN SOUND. EMBASSY SHOULD REVIEW THIS DRAFT, CONFIRMING OR CLARIFYING BOTH THE TONE AND INFORMATION, AND KEEPING IN MIND THE LCHR CRITIQUE, WHICH YOU SHOULD NOW HAVE.)

RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

SECTION 1 RESPECT FOR THE INTEGRITY OF THE PERSON, INCLUDING FREEDOM FROM:

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

12. MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES AND PERSONS ASSOCIATED WITH OR PROTECTED BY THEM CONTINUED TO PERPETRATE POLITICALLY MOTIVATED KILLINGS. DUE TO THE LACK OF POLITICAL WILL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT RESOURCES, THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THEM FULLY OR TO DETAIN AND PROSECUTE THE PERPETRATORS. THROUGH THE FIRST 7 MONTHS OF THIS YEAR (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE), THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE LISTED 83 CASES OF POSSIBLE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED 209 EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS THROUGH JULY, COMPARED WITH 97 IN THE SAME TIME PERIOD IN 1993 AND 142 IN 1992. THE CHURCH OFFICE LABELED 19 OF THE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS AS DEFINITELY POLITICAL AND 133 AS PRESUMED POLITICAL. NEITHER HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE BROKE DOWN THE FIGURES ACCORDING TO THE ORGANIZATION BELIEVED TO BE RESPONSIBLE, BUT BOTH GOVERNMENT AND LEFTIST GUERRILLA FORCES COMMITTED SUCH OFFENSES. (EMBASSY: IN ADDITION TO THAT OF SANAN HERNANDEZ MENTIONED LATER IN THIS SECTION, ARE THERE ANY SPECIFIC CASES WE CAN CITE OF KILLINGS BY GUERRILLA FORCES?)

~~12.~~ PAC LEADERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS ARE FEARED IN MANY RURAL COMMUNITIES. THEY ENJOY ARMY BACKING AND, FREQUENTLY, IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH FAILED TO CARRY OUT ARREST WARRANTS AGAINST 26 MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND PAC MEMBERS FOR THEIR INVOLVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS CRIMES. WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE ARREST OF A FEW PAC MEMBERS ACCUSED OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE 1993 JORGE CARPIO MURDER, MEMBERS OF THE PAC'S ARE RARELY HELD ACCOUNTABLE FOR THEIR CRIMES.

~~13.~~ DESPITE BEING AWARE OF THE LOCATIONS OF VARIOUS PAC MEMBERS WANTED FOR INVOLVEMENT IN THE 1993 COLOTENANGO KILLING OF JUAN CHONAY PABLO AND THE 1993 QUICHE KILLING OF TOMAS LARES CIPRIANO, THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO CARRY OUT THE MAJORITY OF THE ARREST WARRANTS. IN THE JUAN CHONAY PABLO KILLING, WHICH OCCURRED DURING AN ANTI-PAC DEMONSTRATION, THE AUTHORITIES ISSUED 15 ARREST WARRANTS FOR PAC MEMBERS, BUT ARRESTED ONLY 2 PERSONS. THEY RELEASED ONE FOR INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE LINKING HIM TO THE CRIME; THE PUBLIC MINISTRY REQUESTED THE RELEASE OF THE OTHER UNDER PERSONAL BOND. THREE MORE PERSONS TURNED THEMSELVES IN, BUT THE AUTHORITIES RELEASED TWO OF THEM FOR TO LACK OF EVIDENCE. THUS FAR, ONLY ONE PERSON REMAINS IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL. WITNESSES IN THE CHONAY CASE HAVE REPORTED BEING HARASSED BY PAC MEMBERS. IN THE LARES CIPRIANO KILLING, THE AUTHORITIES CHARGED SIX PAC MEMBERS WITH MURDERING HIM AFTER HE RESIGNED FROM A PAC. THEY ARRESTED TWO PERSONS, LATER RELEASED UNDER PERSONAL BONDS; DISMISSED ALL CHARGES AGAINST ANOTHER PERSON WHO TURNED HIMSELF IN, AND DID NOT CARRY OUT ARREST WARRANTS AGAINST THE REMAINING THREE PERSONS.

~~15.~~ ON MAY 31, A JOINT MILITARY-POLICE OPERATION ARRESTED FOUR SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS PAC MEMBERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WANTED FOR THEIR ALLEGED INVOLVEMENT IN THE JULY 1993 MURDER OF NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER AND FORMER PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO. HOWEVER, JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES LATER RELEASED ALL FOUR, CITING INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TYING THEM TO THE CRIME. THE CARPIO FAMILY APPEALED THE RELEASE AND CRITICIZED THE GOVERNMENT FOR FAILURE TO CARRY OUT THE ARREST WARRANTS FOR SIX OTHER PAC MEMBERS WANTED IN THIS

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

UNDER PERSONAL BOND PENDING CLARIFICATION OF THEIR IDENTITIES AND FURTHER INVESTIGATION OF THE CRIME. THERE ARE A TOTAL OF FOUR PERSONS IN JAIL AWAITING FURTHER JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS WHO ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE PARTICIPATED IN THE CARPIO MURDER, INCLUDING ANOTHER SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS PAC MEMBER IN JAIL FOR ANOTHER MURDER. MEMBERS OF CARPIO'S FAMILY HAVE BEEN THREATENED SINCE HIS DEATH. ON JUNE 25, UNKNOWN ARMED PERSONS RAMMED THEIR CAR INTO KAREN FISCHER DE CARPIO'S CAR; WHEN THEY DETERMINED SHE WAS NOT IN THE CAR, THEY LEFT DEATH THREATS FOR FISCHER WITH HER DRIVER. FISCHER SUBSEQUENTLY LEFT GUATEMALA WITH HER CHILDREN FOR THE U.S. WHERE SHE REMAINED FOR SEVERAL MONTHS.

15 ~~16.~~ THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT ARMY PERSONNEL OR FORMER PAC MEMBERS KILLED RETIRED ARMY OFFICER LIEUTENANT DIAZ ON JUNE 20. THE KILLERS, WHO HAD PARTICIPATED WITH DIAZ IN THE 1981-1982 RABINAL MASSACRES, ALLEGEDLY MURDERED DIAZ TO PREVENT HIM FROM PUBLICLY COMMENTING OR TESTIFYING ON THE MASSACRES. THE CHURCH OFFICE ASSERTED THAT THE DEATHS OF TWO OTHER RABINAL RESIDENTS, A MILITARY COMMISSIONER AND THE SON OF THE LAND OWNER WHERE EXHUMATIONS WERE TAKING PLACE, WERE ORCHESTRATED TO SEND A MESSAGE TO THE RABINAL COMMUNITY TO REMAIN SILENT. THERE ARE CREDIBLE REPORTS BY THE MEDIA AND THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHT'S OFFICE THAT IN JULY THE ARMY CONDUCTED HOUSE-TO-HOUSE INSPECTIONS AND INTERROGATIONS IN THE COMMUNITY AND TOLD MALE RESIDENTS IN A COMMUNITY MEETING NOT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE EXHUMATIONS. WHILE NOT ADMITTING THESE EVENTS TOOK PLACE, THE AUTHORITIES TRANSFERRED THE SENIOR OFFICER WHO ALLEGEDLY CALLED THE MEETING.

16 ~~17.~~ ON APRIL 1, CONSTITUTIONAL COURT PRESIDENT EPAMINONDAS GONZALEZ DUBON WAS KILLED WHILE RETURNING FROM HOLY WEEK RELIGIOUS PROCESSIONS; THE MOTIVE BEHIND THE CRIME REMAINS UNDETERMINED. INITIALLY, MANY BELIEVED THAT THE MURDER WAS AN INTIMIDATION ATTEMPT BY THOSE WISHING TO DESTABILIZE THE DE LEON ADMINISTRATION OR A REPRISAL DIRECTED AT THE JUDGE FOR HIS ANTI-SERRANO ROLE IN THE "AUTOGOLPE." (EMBASSY: WHAT IS YOUR JUDGMENT ON MOTIVES? DO YOU THINK THE ARREST OF MEMBERS OF A CAR THEFT RING IS JUST AN ATTEMPT TO DIVERT ATTENTION FROM POLITICAL MOTIVES?) ON APRIL 26, THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED THE ARREST OF 12 PERSONS, MEMBERS OF AN ALLEGED CAR THEFT RING, 4 OF WHOM WERE SAID TO HAVE PARTICIPATED IN THE SHOOTING. ONLY TWO INDIVIDUALS REMAIN IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL; THE OTHERS WERE RELEASED DUE TO INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE.

~~19.~~ UNKNOWN PERSONS HAVE ALSO TARGETED JOURNALISTS FOR

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

KILLING AND ACTS OF VIOLENCE (SEE SECTION 2.a.).

20. ON AUGUST 24, 2 PERSONS WERE KILLED AND 11 WOUNDED WHEN POLICE USED EXCESSIVE FORCE TO DISLODGE STRIKING WORKERS FROM A FARM KNOWN AS "LA EXACTA" IN COATEPEQUE. A THIRD PERSON ALLEGEDLY DISAPPEARED; HIS BODY WAS FOUND SOME DISTANCE FROM THE FARM THE FOLLOWING DAY. THE WORKERS HAD TAKEN OVER THE FARM IN AN ATTEMPT TO PRESSURE THEIR SUPERVISORS TO COMPLY WITH A LABOR COURT ORDER; RATHER THAN COMPLY, THE OWNERS REPORTEDLY FIRED APPROXIMATELY 79 EMPLOYEES. AFTER INITIALLY SAYING THE POLICE HAD ACTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW, PRESIDENT DE LEON LATER EXPRESSED HIS REGRET FOR THE TRAGEDY, SAYING HE HAD MISSPOKEN EARLIER BASED ON PRELIMINARY POLICE REPORTS AND THAT A FULL INVESTIGATION WOULD BE MADE. ON SEPTEMBER 15, RESIDENTS FOUND THE BODY OF ANOTHER PEASANT WHO HAD PARTICIPATED IN THE STRIKE. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE BELIEVES THIS PERSON WAS KIDNAPED AND THEN KILLED IN REPRISAL FOR HIS PARTICIPATION IN THE STRIKE. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE INVESTIGATION AS OF END OF THE YEAR.)

21. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CHARGED THE URNG'S "UNITED FRONT" WITH THE EARLY SEPTEMBER EXTRAJUDICIAL MURDER OF ARMY JUNIOR OFFICER AMARILDO SANAN HERNANDEZ IN CHIMALTENANGO. SANAN WAS STOPPED AT A GUERRILLA ROADBLOCK. AFTER THE GUERRILLAS RECOGNIZED SANAN, WHO WAS DRESSED IN CIVILIAN GARB, THEY SHOT HIM IN THE LEGS, STABBED HIM WITH KNIVES, AND THEN EXECUTED HIM BY GUNFIRE.

22. THERE WAS SOME PROGRESS IN CERTAIN PAST HIGH-PROFILE CASES. ON FEBRUARY 8, THE SUPREME COURT CONFIRMED THE 25-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN TO FORMER GOVERNMENT SECURITY AGENT NOEL DE JESUS BETETA FOR THE 1990 KILLING OF MYRNA MACK. THE COURT LEFT LEGAL PROCEEDINGS OPEN AGAINST THE ALLEGED INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS OF THE CRIME, FORMER SENIOR

MILITARY OFFICERS WHO APPEALED THE DECISION TO THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT. HELEN MACK, MYRNA'S SISTER, ALSO APPEALED A SUPREME COURT DECISION DENYING HER REQUEST THAT IT ORDER THE RELEASE OF EXECUTIVE BRANCH DOCUMENTS CONCERNING HER SISTER'S MURDER. THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH MAINTAINED IT DOES NOT HAVE ANY FILES NOT ALREADY IN THE HANDS OF THE COURT.

23. ON MAY 18, THE COURT OF APPEALS CONFIRMED THE 2-YEAR SUSPENDED SENTENCE AND 40 FINE AGAINST THE CORPORAL WHOSE ABSENCE FROM POST FACILITATED THE MAY 1993 ESCAPE OF CAPTAIN HUGO CONTRERAS, WHO HAD JUST BEEN CONVICTED AND SENTENCED TO 20 YEARS IN PRISON FOR THE KILLING OF AMERICAN MICHAEL DEVINE IN 1990. CAPTAIN CONTRERAS

REMAINS A FUGITIVE. ON SEPTEMBER 6, THE SUPREME COURT CONFIRMED THE 30-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN THE FIVE ENLISTED MEN CONVICTED IN THE DEVINE MURDER. HOWEVER, THE GOVERNMENT NEVER BROUGHT TO TRIAL THE SENIOR OFFICERS BELIEVED TO BE INVOLVED IN COVERING UP THE CRIME. TWO RELATIVES OF WITNESSES WHO TESTIFIED AT THE DEVINE TRIAL (ONE CIVILIAN AND ONE SOLDIER) WERE KILLED; ANOTHER (A SOLDIER) WAS SHOT IN THE LEG UNDER SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES. THE DEAD SOLDIER WAS FOUND WITH HIS TONGUE CUT OUT, HANDS MUTILATED, AND A BULLET WOUND IN HIS SKULL. ADDITIONALLY, TWO OTHER RELATIVES HAVE BEEN TARGETS OF INTIMIDATION.

22 ~~21.~~ ON MARCH 18 AND AUGUST 22, THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT DISMISSED APPEALS FILED BY 22 FORMER "HUNAPU" ANTI-CRIME TASK FORCE POLICE OFFICERS OVER THEIR LENGTHY (20 YEARS PLUS) PRISON SENTENCES, WHICH HAD BEEN PREVIOUSLY CONFIRMED BY THE SUPREME COURT. THE OFFICERS HAD BEEN FOUND GUILTY IN THE 1992 DEATH OF UNIVERSITY STUDENT JULIO RIGOBERTO CU QUIM AND INJURY TO SIX OTHER STUDENTS. THE CASE REMAINS UNDER SUPREME COURT REVIEW.

23 ~~25.~~ THERE WAS NO PROGRESS IN RESOLVING NUMEROUS OTHER OUTSTANDING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. THE GOVERNMENT'S FREQUENT INABILITY TO CONTROL, PROSECUTE, OR PUNISH THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR SUCH OFFENSES IS A MAJOR IMPEDIMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS.

B. DISAPPEARANCES

24 ~~26.~~ THROUGH ~~JULY~~ NOV. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED 35 FORCED DISAPPEARANCES, AS COMPARED WITH 15 FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1993. (EMBASSY: CAN YOU NOW PROVIDE A SENSE OF THE NUMBERS FOR THE ENTIRE YEAR?) ONE WAS LABELED DEFINITELY POLITICAL AND 27 WERE CLASSIFIED AS PRESUMED POLITICAL. VICTIMS INCLUDED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVIST, UNION EMPLOYEES, PRIVATE SECTOR EMPLOYEES, ENTREPRENEURS, FARMERS; A SOLDIER, A POLICEMAN, AND PERSONS OF UNKNOWN PROFESSION. THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE RECEIVED 17 COMPLAINTS OF FORCED DISAPPEARANCES. THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT IDENTIFY OR PROSECUTE THE PERPETRATORS OF ANY OF THESE DISAPPEARANCES.

25 ~~27.~~ THE DEFENSE MINISTRY CONTINUED TO DENY IT HAS EVER HELD GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN "EVERARDO" BAMACA OR 35 OTHER URNG PRISONERS OF WAR AS CLAIMED BY THE AMERICAN CITIZEN WIFE OF BAMACA. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE BAMACA CASE AND GOVERNMENT REACTION TO CHARGES OF CLANDESTINE DETENTION.)

26 ~~28.~~ IN LATE JANUARY AND EARLY FEBRUARY, SISTER DIANA ORTIZ, ACCOMPANIED BY HER ATTORNEY, RETURNED TO GUATEMALA TO PRESS AUTHORITIES TO TAKE ACTION ON HER 1989 KIDNAPING

AND TORTURE CASE. THE GROUP ALSO VISITED THE OLD MILITARY ACADEMY, WHICH ORTIZ IDENTIFIED AS THE PLACE WHERE SHE WAS SEXUALLY ABUSED AND TORTURED. SHORTLY AFTER ENTERING THE FACILITY, ORTIZ WAS OVERCOME BY EMOTION AND UNABLE TO IDENTIFY THE SPECIFIC SITE OF THE VIOLATIONS, WHICH SHE SAYS OCCURRED IN THE BASEMENT OF THE FACILITY. THE ARMY MAINTAINS THERE ARE NOT NOW NOR WERE THERE EVER ANY SUBTERRANEAN LEVELS AT THE SCHOOL.

27 ~~29~~. ON JANUARY 12, LORENZO QUIEJ PU, A MEMBER OF CONDEG, AN ORGANIZATION DEDICATED TO HELPING GUATEMALANS WHO HAVE BEEN INTERNALLY DISPLACED DUE TO THE ARMED CONFLICT, DISAPPEARED AFTER LEAVING HIS HOME. MEMBERS OF CONDEG AND QUIEJ FAMILY MEMBERS REPORTED THAT PRIOR TO THE DISAPPEARANCE, THEY HAD BEEN SUBJECT TO THREATS STEMMING FROM THE ORGANIZATION'S OCCUPATION OF PRIVATELY OWNED LAND. THE AUTHORITIES CHARGED NO ONE WITH THE CRIME.

28 ~~30~~. THE WHEREABOUTS REMAIN UNKNOWN OF SAN MARCOS PAC MEMBERS MARGARITO LOPEZ AND OBDULIO ZAPETA, ARMY ENLISTED MAN DIEGO CHEL MATOM, AND FARMERS RAMONA MUNOZ AND MARITZA GIL WHO WERE ALLEGEDLY KIDNAPED IN 1993 BY GUERRILLAS. RELIABLE REPORTS LINK THE GUERRILLAS TO VARIOUS KIDNAPINGS FOR PROFIT, INCLUDING THAT OF WEALTHY INDUSTRIALIST FRATERNO VILA.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING

LIMITED OFFICIAL USE SECTION 05 OF 14 STATE 331923

TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

29 ~~31~~. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INTEGRITY AND SECURITY OF THE PERSON. HOWEVER, AS IN PAST YEARS, MANY BODIES WERE FOUND THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA BEARING SIGNS OF SEVERE DISFIGUREMENT OR POSTMORTEM MUTILATION. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE LISTED THREE POTENTIAL CASES OF TORTURE IN THE FIRST 7 MONTHS OF 1994. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE THESE FIGURES.) THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE LISTED 14 CASES OF TORTURE THROUGH JULY AS COMPARED WITH 5 CASES FOR THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR. IN A TYPICAL CASE, UNKNOWN ARMED MEN KIDNAPED A LAW STUDENT IN JANUARY AFTER HE LEFT WORK, THEN BEAT HIM, BURNED HIM WITH CIGARETTES, AND LEFT HIM UNCONSCIOUS.

30 ~~32~~. THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF MISTREATMENT BY SECURITY FORCES, INCLUDING SEXUAL ABUSE OF MINORS AND ADULTS, AND USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE BY POLICE AT THE TIME OF ARREST. ESPECIALLY IN RURAL AREAS, THE URNG GUERRILLAS, THE ARMY, CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND THE POLICE ALL USED EXCESSIVE FORCE AGAINST PERSONS THEY ENCOUNTERED. THE RUNUJEL JUNAM COUNCIL OF ETHNIC COMMUNITIES (CERJ), A RURAL-BASED HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION, REPORTED THAT JUAN OSORIO VASQUEZ

FILED A LEGAL COMPLAINT ALLEGING THAT ON JULY 21, PAC MEMBERS HAD ACCUSED HIM OF BEING A GUERRILLA, KIDNAPED HIM, TIED A ROPE TO HIS NECK, HUNG HIM FROM A BEAM, AND LEFT HIM FOR DEAD. FAMILY MEMBERS LATER ARRIVED AND RESCUED OSORIO.

31 ~~33~~. SOME PEASANTS IN AREAS OF CONFLICT AROUND HUEHUETENANGO HAVE ALLEGED TO THE ARMY THAT MEMBERS OF "COMITE DE UNIDAD CAMPESINO," CUC, A LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION COMPRISED OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLE, HAVE THREATENED THEM WITH DEATH DUE TO THEIR ALLEGIANCE TO THE ARMY. (EMBASSY: HOW CREDIBLE ARE THESE ALLEGATIONS?)

32 ~~34~~. CASA ALIANZA, AN ORGANIZATION DEDICATED TO ASSISTING STREET CHILDREN, REPORTED FIVE INSTANCES IN WHICH POLICE OR PRIVATE SECURITY GUARDS ABUSED STREET CHILDREN BETWEEN JANUARY AND AUGUST. ON MARCH 3, CASA ALIANZA FILED CHARGES AGAINST FOUR POLICEMEN ACCUSED OF INDUCING STREET CHILDREN TO STEAL FOR THEM. THE POLICE NEVER FORMALLY CHARGED THE ACCUSED AND INSTEAD TRANSFERRED THEM TO ANOTHER PART OF GUATEMALA CITY. ON JULY 14, THE NATIONAL POLICE REFERRED A CASE OF POLICE ABUSE AGAINST A MINOR TO THE COURTS AFTER CONCLUDING THAT FIVE POLICEMEN HAD ABUSED THEIR AUTHORITY IN THE MARCH 4 BEATING OF LUIS ANTONIO ROLDAN IZEPPI. CASA ALIANZA ALSO FILED CHARGES AGAINST THE NATIONAL POLICE FOR AN AUGUST 15 INCIDENT IN WHICH THREE POLICEMEN SPRAYED PAINT THINNER AT THE FACE OF SLEEPING STREET CHILD LUIS ALFREDO BONILLA JUAREZ. THERE WERE NUMEROUS OTHER REPORTS OF POLICEMEN ILLEGALLY DETAINING STREET CHILDREN; THE AUTHORITIES RARELY TOOK ACTION IN ANY OF THESE INCIDENTS. (EMBASSY: HAVE THE COURTS EVER FOUND THE POLICE GUILTY OF ABUSING STREET CHILDREN?)

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

33 ~~35~~. DESPITE LEGAL SAFEGUARDS, THERE WERE FREQUENT CREDIBLE REPORTS OF ARBITRARY ARREST BY THE SECURITY FORCES, INCOMMUNICADO DETENTION, AND FAILURE TO ADHERE TO THE PRESCRIBED TIME LIMITS FOR LEGAL PROCEDURES. THE LAW REQUIRES A COURT-ISSUED ARREST WARRANT UNLESS A PERSON IS CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF COMMITTING A CRIME. POLICE MAY NOT DETAIN A SUSPECT FOR OVER 6 HOURS WITHOUT BRINGING THE CASE BEFORE A JUDGE. THE LAW PROVIDES FOR BAIL, ACCESS TO LAWYERS, AND LIMITS TO 20 DAYS THE TIME ANYONE MAY BE HELD. AFTER THAT PERIOD, THE AUTHORITIES MUST CHARGE OR FREE A DETAINEE, AND THEY MUST ALWAYS PRODUCE DETAINEES ON COURT REQUEST. THE AUTHORITIES ARRESTED 13,235 PERSONS THROUGH AUGUST; OF THOSE, 1,764 PERSONS REMAIN IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL, WHICH REPRESENTED 32 PERCENT OF THE CURRENT TOTAL PRISON POPULATION. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE AT YEAR END.)

~~36~~. THE SECURITY FORCES ROUTINELY IGNORE WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS IN CASES OF ILLEGAL DETENTION (EMBASSY: PLEASE PROVIDE YOUR BEST JUDGMENT AS TO WHETHER THE SECURITY FORCES USE SAFE HOUSES FOR ILLEGAL DETENTIONS.) THERE ARE NO RELIABLE DATA ON THE NUMBER OF ARBITRARY DETENTIONS. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CHARGED THAT PRISONERS ARE SOMETIMES NOT RELEASED IN A TIMELY FASHION AFTER COMPLETING THEIR SENTENCES DUE TO THE FAILURE OF JUDGES TO ISSUE THE NECESSARY COURT ORDER.

~~37~~. THE CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS EXILE AND IT IS NOT PRACTICED.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

~~38~~. THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM IS INEFFECTIVE AND OFTEN UNABLE TO ENSURE A FAIR TRIAL. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY COMPOSED OF A CONSTITUTIONAL COURT, A SUPREME COURT, APPEALS COURTS, AND SEVERAL COURTS OF SPECIAL JURISDICTION, SUCH AS LABOR COURTS. THE SUPREME COURT APPOINTS JUDGES; THE CONGRESS APPOINTS MAGISTRATES, OR APPELLATE COURT JUDGES, FROM A LIST PREPARED BY A SELECTION COMMITTEE COMPOSED OF JUDGES, LAWYERS, AND UNIVERSITY DEANS. CIVILIAN TRIALS ARE PUBLIC AFTER THE FIRST 15 DAYS, WHICH ARE DEDICATED TO AN INITIAL INVESTIGATIVE PHASE THAT IS CLOSED. DEFENDANTS HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE PRESENT AT TRIALS AND TO LEGAL REPRESENTATION. AN APPEALS COURT AUTOMATICALLY REVIEWS CONVICTIONS.

~~39~~. THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, WHICH TOOK EFFECT JULY 1, MODIFIED THE MILITARY CODE OF JUSTICE TO EXTEND JURISDICTION BY CIVILIAN COURTS OVER MILITARY PERSONNEL FOR OFFENSES "NOT ESSENTIALLY MILITARY IN NATURE." THESE REFORMS WILL BE PHASED IN ONCE THE GOVERNMENT DRAFTS SPECIFIC IMPLEMENTING RULES OR REGULATIONS. PRIOR TO THE CODE'S ENACTMENT, MILITARY COURTS RETAINED JURISDICTION OVER MILITARY PERSONNEL, INCLUDING MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WHO COMMIT CRIMES WHILE ON OFFICIAL BUSINESS, THUS LIMITING THE ABILITY OF CIVIL COURTS TO PROSECUTE PERSONS UNDER MILITARY CONTROL IN HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSE CASES. PAC MEMBERS ARE CIVILIANS AND ARE NOT UNDER MILITARY JURISDICTION.

~~40~~. THE NEW CODE ALSO EFFECTS SIGNIFICANT CHANGES IN THE WAY CRIMINAL TRIALS ARE CONDUCTED, INCLUDING PROVISION FOR THE ACCUSED OF LEGAL COUNSEL BY A NEW PUBLIC DEFENDER IN AN ORAL TRIAL SETTING. HOWEVER, THE FOLLOWING FACTORS HAMPERED THE CODE'S IMPLEMENTATION: A LACK OF FUNDING FOR EDUCATION, POLITICAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE EXECUTIVE AND JUDICIAL BRANCHES, INTRANSIGENCE BY MANY

MEMBERS OF THE CRIMINAL BAR, CONSTITUTIONAL CHALLENGES, AND INADEQUATE PREPARATION BY LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES. AS OF EARLY SEPTEMBER, ONLY ONE DEPARTMENT HAD REPORTED CONDUCTING AN ORAL TRIAL, AS REQUIRED UNDER THE NEW PROCEDURES. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE TO END OF YEAR.) MEANWHILE, THE BACKLOG OF CRIMINAL CASES CONTINUED TO MOUNT.

39 ~~41.~~ MOST HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS ARE NOT INVESTIGATED; SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL ARE RELUCTANT TO INVESTIGATE CASES POTENTIALLY INVOLVING COLLEAGUES. POLICE ARE VERY POORLY PAID, RELATIVELY FEW IN NUMBER, AND LACK ADEQUATE RESOURCES AND TRAINING. JUDGES ARE SUSCEPTIBLE TO INTIMIDATION AND CORRUPTION AND SUFFER FROM LOW PAY; BAD WORKING CONDITIONS, AND LOW MORALE. OFFICIALS FROM THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICES, INCLUDING THE OMBUDSMAN HIMSELF, HAVE RECEIVED THREATS.

40 ~~42.~~ CHARGES CONTINUE TO BE MADE PUBLICLY THAT THE SUPREME COURT PRESSURES LOWER COURT JUDGES TO DECIDE CASES IN LINE WITH ITS WISHES. IN 1993 THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT RULED THAT THE SUPREME COURT PRACTICE OF ARBITRARILY TRANSFERRING JUSTICES WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL, THEREBY LIMITING ONE MEANS OF SUPREME COURT INTERFERENCE IN LOWER COURT CASES.

41 ~~43.~~ MEMBERS OF THE JUDICIARY ALSO CONTINUED TO RECEIVE THREATS IN AN ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE DECISIONS OR AS REPRISALS FOR PAST DECISIONS. IN FEBRUARY JUDGE YOLANDA PEREZ RECEIVED DEATH THREATS AFTER SHE APPEARED AT A LOCAL ARMY BASE WITH THE LOCAL AUXILIARY OMBUDSMAN FOR HUMAN RIGHTS REQUESTING TO SEE A SERVICEMAN REPORTED TO BE MISSING. COTZUMALGUAPA JUSTICE OF THE PEACE CARLOS HUMBERTO DARDON REYES REPORTED RECEIVING DEATH THREATS AFTER HE SENT U.S. CITIZEN MELISSA LARSON TO THE ESQUINTLA DEPARTMENT COURT HOUSE FOR HER PROTECTION IN MARCH, AFTER A MOB WRONGLY ACCUSED HER OF TRANSPORTING BABY ORGANS IN HER BACKPACK. IN JULY, A THIRD DISTRICT APPELLATE COURT JUDGE AND JUDICIAL REFORM ACTIVIST, MARIA EUGENIA VILLASENOR, REPORTED SHE AND OTHER APPELLATE MAGISTRATES HAD BEEN HARASSED IN ATTEMPTS TO INFLUENCE DECISIONS IN HIGH PROFILE CASES. (THE THIRD DISTRICT COURT HAD ISSUED RULINGS IN A VARIETY OF CASES INVOLVING THE SECURITY FORCES.) ON AUGUST 29, A POLICEMAN ASSIGNED TO PROTECT VILLASENOR WAS KIDNAPED, INTERROGATED, AND ASSAULTED. FOLLOWING THIS INCIDENT, VILLASENOR LEFT THE COUNTRY FOR A NUMBER OF WEEKS.

42 ~~44.~~ ON JANUARY 19, UNKNOWN PERSONS PURPOSELY SET FIRE TO THE JUDICIAL RECORDS BUILDING IN SANTA CRUZ DE QUICHE, WHICH HELD NUMEROUS FILES REGARDING PAC ABUSES. QUICHE JUDGE FRANCISCO PEREZ STATED THAT JUST BEFORE THE FIRE HE RECEIVED THREATS FROM JOYABAJ PAC MEMBERS ATTEMPTING TO PERSUADE HIM TO RELEASE TWO OF ITS MEMBERS CHARGED WITH COMMITTING MULTIPLE CRIMES, INCLUDING THE DEATHS OF NUMEROUS PERSONS.

43 ~~45~~. CORRUPTION CONTINUES TO PLAGUE THE PROPER FUNCTIONING OF THE POLICE FORCE. ON JUNE 25, A LIVE

LIMITED OFFICIAL USE SECTION 07 OF 14 STATE 331923

GRENADE WAS TOSSED AT THE RESIDENCE OF ANTI-CORRUPTION TRANSIT POLICE CHIEF ERNESTO RUIZ SAENZ DE TEJADA. RUIZ WAS NOT INJURED IN THIS ATTACK, BUT HE RESIGNED FROM THE POLICE FORCE SHORTLY AFTERWARD.

44 ~~46~~. THERE ARE NO KNOWN POLITICAL PRISONERS.

F. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME, OR CORRESPONDENCE

45 ~~47~~. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INVIOLABILITY OF HOME, CORRESPONDENCE, AND PRIVATE DOCUMENTS, BUT THE AUTHORITIES DO NOT ALWAYS RESPECT THESE PROVISIONS. ELEMENTS OF THE SECURITY FORCES CONTINUE TO MONITOR PRIVATE COMMUNICATIONS. MANY HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS REPORTED RECEIVING THREATS IN THE FORM OF SURVEILLANCE, TELEPHONE CALLS, AND ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

46 ~~48~~. ON MARCH 11, ONE YEAR AFTER AN ARREST WARRANT HAD BEEN ISSUED, JUAN JOSE GARCIA ORELLANA, A POSTAL CONTROL OFFICER CHARGED WITH OPERATING A MAIL ESPIONAGE RING IN THE POST OFFICE FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL SECURITY STAFF UNDER THE SERRANO ADMINISTRATION, TURNED HIMSELF INTO JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES. THE AUTHORITIES ARE STILL GATHERING EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE.

47 ~~49~~. OFFICIALS ENFORCING THE MILITARY DRAFT CONTINUED TO STOP VEHICLES AND ENTER HOMES AND PLACES OF BUSINESS WITHOUT LEGALLY REQUIRED COURT ORDERS. THE ARMY HAS CONTINUED THE PRACTICE OF SETTING UP DRAFT BOARDS CONSISTING OF THE ZONE MILITARY COMMANDER, THE LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE, AND OTHER CIVILIAN LEADERS. UNDER RECRUITMENT PRACTICES ADOPTED IN SOME DEPARTMENTS, POTENTIAL DRAFTEES RECEIVE THREE INDUCTION NOTICES, AFTER WHICH THEY ARE ARRESTED IF THEY DO NOT REPORT FOR ENLISTMENT. UNDER THE LAW, SUCH ARRESTS MUST BE EFFECTED PURSUANT TO A COURT ORDER.

48 ~~50~~. ON JUNE 14, AMILCAR MENDEZ, THE FOUNDER OF CERJ, FILED A LAWSUIT AGAINST DEFENSE MINISTER ENRIQUEZ CHARGING THAT THE ARMED FORCES' FORCED RECRUITMENT PRACTICES VIOLATED CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS REGARDING OBLIGATORY MILITARY SERVICE. A COURT, HOWEVER, RULED THE JUDICIAL BRANCH DID NOT HAVE JURISDICTION OVER THIS MATTER BECAUSE THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE HAD IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION, WHICH ONLY CONGRESS COULD REMOVE. IT

REFERRED THE IMMUNITY QUESTION TO THE CONGRESS, WHICH RULED THAT THE CASE LACKED LEGAL MERIT, THUS EFFECTIVELY DISMISSING THE ENTIRE LAWSUIT.

49 ~~51~~. THROUGH JULY 30, THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE HANDLED 89 INDIVIDUAL CASES OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. IN THE SAME PERIOD, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN OFFICE REPORTED RECEIVING 663 COMPLAINTS OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE THESE FIGURES FOR YEAR-END.) THE OFFICE OBTAINED THE RELEASE OF 268 PERSONS FROM MILITARY SERVICE, OF WHOM 79 WERE MINORS. ON JUNE 29, DEFENSE MINISTER GENERAL ENRIQUEZ ANNOUNCED A 6-MONTH MORATORIUM ON FORCED RECRUITMENT, WHICH WAS CONFIRMED BY PRESIDENT DE LEON DURING THE JUNE 30 ARMY DAY CELEBRATIONS. HOWEVER, THE OMBUDSMAN REPORTED THREE SEPARATE INSTANCES OF FORCED CONSCRIPTION IN JULY. ON AUGUST 28, THE DEFENSE MINISTRY ONCE AGAIN ORDERED A SUSPENSION OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. (EMBASSY: ARE THERE REPORTS THAT IT CONTINUES NONETHELESS?)

50 ~~52~~. THE CONSTITUTION REQUIRES THAT PAC SERVICE BE VOLUNTARY. HOWEVER, ARMY OFFICERS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND PAC LEADERS OFTEN PRESSURE MEN IN AREAS OF CONFLICT TO BECOME MEMBERS. NEVERTHELESS, PAC'S DO ENJOY SOME POPULAR SUPPORT; A MAJORITY OF RESPONDENTS IN A RECENT SURVEY CLAIMED TO BE PLEASED WITH THE PAC MEMBERSHIP AND WITH THE PAC PRESENCE IN THEIR COMMUNITIES. (EMBASSY: WAS THE SURVEY IMPARTIAL? DID IT COVER THE ENTIRE COUNTRY, OR JUST PARTS THEREOF?)

51 ~~53~~. IN JUNE AND JULY, CERJ FILED A LEGAL COMPLAINT ON BEHALF OF FORMER PAC MEMBER JUAN ANTONIO CHUMEL WITH LOCAL JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES AND THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS STATING THAT SINCE 1988, WHEN CHUMEL LEFT THE PAC'S, PAC MEMBERS THREATENED AND INTIMIDATED CHUMEL TO THE EXTENT THAT HE WAS FORCED TO LEAVE HIS COMMUNITY FOR FEAR OF HIS LIFE. THERE ARE OTHER CREDIBLE REPORTS THAT OTHERS WHO REFUSED TO SERVE IN THE PAC'S SUFFERED THREATS AND OTHER ABUSES.

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

52 ~~54~~. GUATEMALA'S ARMED INTERNAL CONFLICT ENTERED ITS 34TH YEAR IN 1994 AND CONTINUED TO BE A MAJOR CAUSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS BY BOTH GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLA FORCES. COMMUNITIES OF PEOPLE IN RESISTANCE (CPR) CLAIMED ARMY HARASSMENT THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, INCLUDING

LATE EVENING HELICOPTER OVERFLIGHTS AND RESTRICTION OF COMMERCE. REFLECTING INCREASED SECURITY IN THE VALLEYS,

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

IN FEBRUARY, A NUMBER OF CPR'S CAME DOWN FROM THE MOUNTAINS AND ESTABLISHED PERMANENT VILLAGES.

53 ~~55.~~ ACCORDING TO STATISTICS REPORTED BY THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE, REPEATED URNG ATTACKS AGAINST CIVILIAN INFRASTRUCTURE TARGETS DAMAGED ELECTRICAL AND COMMUNICATION FACILITIES AND PETROLEUM STORAGE AREAS. THE CHURCH OFFICE REPORTED TWO PERSONS INJURED BY EXPLODING MINES PLANTED BY GUERRILLAS. ON AUGUST 22, GUERRILLAS FIRED INDISCRIMINATELY AT A CIVILIAN BUS INJURING ELEVEN INDIVIDUALS AND KILLING ONE PERSON DURING AN ATTACK AGAINST ARMY UNITS IN CHUPOL, CHICHICASTENANGO. ON VARIOUS OCCASIONS GUERRILLAS HAVE ALSO BURNED FARMS AND DESTROYED PROPERTY OF FARM OWNERS WHO REFUSED TO PAY EXTORTION.

54 ~~56.~~ 1TERRORIST BOMBINGS CONDUCTED BY UNKNOWN PERPETRATORS CONTINUED THROUGHOUT THE YEAR. 2BEFORE THE JANUARY 30 NATIONAL REFERENDUM, 25 EXPLOSIVE DEVICES DETONATED OR WERE DEACTIVATED IN GUATEMALA CITY ALONE. 3SEVERAL OF THESE DEVICES WERE ACCOMPANIED BY URNG LEAFLETS. 4OTHER BOMB ATTACKS WERE BELIEVED TO BE ORCHESTRATED BY FREE-LANCING RIGHTIST GROUPS OPPOSED TO THE REFERENDUM. ON MARCH 6 AND 7, BOMBS EXPLODED AT TWO KEY BRIDGES LEADING FROM THE CAPITAL. 5THE ARMY AND THE URNG ACCUSED EACH OTHER OF PLANTING THE BOMBS. 6ON SEPTEMBER 1, TWO MORE PAMPHLET BOMBS EXPLODED IN THE CAPITAL, RELEASING URNG LITERATURE. 7THE HOME OF THE BROTHER OF FORMER PEACE TALKS CONCILIATOR AND CURRENT PRESIDENT OF THE CIVIL SOCIETY ASSEMBLY BISHOP RODOLFO QUEZADA, WAS BOMBED IN JUNE. 8 THE BROTHER IS A BUSINESSMAN AND PARTIAL OWNER OF THE NEWSWEEKLY CRONICA. ON SEPTEMBER 22, THREE BOMBS WENT OFF IN RESIDENTIAL ZONES, KILLING ONE CHILD WHO WAS WATCHING CARS IN EXCHANGE FOR TIPS. ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS DEATH THREAT LISTS, INCLUDING THE NAMES OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND LABOR LEADERS AND NEWSPAPER JOURNALISTS, CIRCULATED, BUT NO ONE LISTED WAS INJURED OR KILLED.

55 ~~57.~~ ON AUGUST 12, A LOWER COURT JUDGE DISMISSED THE AMNESTY GRANTED FOUR RECENTLY-CAPTURED URNG GUERRILLAS. IT HAD BEEN COMMON GOVERNMENT PRACTICE TO EXCUSE POST-1988 CRIMES COMMITTED BY GUERRILLAS EVEN THOUGH THE AMNESTY LAW ONLY APPLIES TO POLITICAL AND RELATED CRIMES COMMITTED BEFORE 1988. THE GOVERNMENT APPEALED THIS DECISION AND IS CONSIDERING NEW AMNESTY LEGISLATION TO COVER CRIMES COMMITTED AFTER 1988.

56 ~~58.~~ IN JANUARY THE URNG AND THE GOVERNMENT RESUMED PEACE TALKS WITH THE UNITED NATIONS SERVING AS MODERATOR. IN LATE MARCH, THE GOVERNMENT AND THE GUERRILLAS SIGNED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD THAT CALLED FOR THE IMMEDIATE ESTABLISHMENT OF A U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION. ALTHOUGH THE START-UP OF THIS INTERNATIONAL MISSION WAS DELAYED UNTIL SEPTEMBER, THE ACCORD WAS A

MAJOR STEP FORWARD. AS PART OF ITS MANDATE, THE U.N. TEAM WILL SEEK TO STRENGTHEN LOCAL INSTITUTIONS DEALING WITH HUMAN RIGHTS. AT THE SAME TIME, THE GOVERNMENT AND THE URNG AGREED UPON A CALENDAR TO ADDRESS THE MAJOR OUTSTANDING NEGOTIATING ISSUES. IN JUNE THE TWO SIDES SIGNED ACCORDS ON "UPROOTED" PEOPLES AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION TO CATALOG AND ANALYZE HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES RELATED TO THE GUERRILLA WAR. HOWEVER, THE COMMISSION WILL NOT NAME PAST VIOLATORS AND ITS FINDINGS WILL NOT HAVE JUDICIAL FORCE. (EMBASSY:. PLEASE PROVIDE A BRIEF UPDATE ON NEGOTIATIONS AS OF THE END OF THE YEAR.)

SECTION 2 RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

59. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION. THERE WAS NO EVIDENCE OF HARASSMENT FROM SENIOR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, BUT BOTH MAJOR PRESS ASSOCIATIONS DENOUNCED INCIDENTS RESTRICTING FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. THE MEDIA REPORTED SENSITIVE ISSUES SUCH AS CORRUPTION, AS WELL AS MAJOR HUMAN RIGHTS STORIES. THEY ALSO PUBLICIZED COMMUNIQUES FROM THE URNG, LEFTIST GROUPS, AND OTHERS OPPOSED TO THE GOVERNMENT OR ITS POLICIES. JOURNALISTS ADMIT, HOWEVER, THAT PRESSURE AND FEARS OF REPRISAL RESULT IN SELF-CENSORSHIP AND LIMITS ON INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING. FOR EXAMPLE, THERE IS NO OPEN CRITICISM OF THE MILITARY NOR IS THERE OPEN DISCUSSION OF IMPORTANT ISSUES SUCH AS LAND USE, LAND OWNERSHIP, OR SIMILAR TOPICS THAT WOULD AFFECT THE INTERESTS OF POWERFUL ECONOMIC GROUPS AND INDIVIDUALS. REPORTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND NARCOTIC TRAFFICKING ARE CAREFULLY WRITTEN AND SOURCED SO THAT NEITHER JOURNALISTS NOR THEIR INSTITUTIONS ARE PUT AT RISK. RADIO AND TELEVISION STATION OWNERS OBSERVE THAT LICENSING PROCEDURES POTENTIALLY GIVE THE GOVERNMENT POWERFUL LEVERAGE OVER THEIR EDITORIAL POLICIES, BUT HAVE NOT CITED ANY

LIMITED OFFICIAL USE SECTION 09 OF 14 STATE 331923

INSTANCES IN WHICH THE DE LEON GOVERNMENT ATTEMPTED TO ABUSE THIS POWER.

60. CONTINUING ACTS OF POLITICAL VIOLENCE DIRECTED AGAINST JOURNALISTS GIVE CREDENCE TO THEIR COMPLAINTS OF PRESSURE AND COERCION AT THE WORKING LEVEL. FOR THE FIRST 7 MONTHS (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE), THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE RECORDED 19 SEPARATE ACTS OF POLITICAL HARASSMENT: 1 EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING, 5 ASSAULTS AND 13 INTIMIDATING ACTS AGAINST MEDIA PERSONNEL OR ESTABLISHMENTS. ON MARCH 26, UNKNOWN MEN FIRED SHOTS AT NEWSPAPER REPORTER MARCO TULIO DE LA ROCA, KILLING HIM

AND INJURING HIS COMPANION. JOURNALIST HECTOR ADOLFO BARRERA ORTIZ WAS TARGETED, FIRST BY A BOMB EXPLOSION OUTSIDE HIS HOME AND LATER BY A KIDNAPING ATTEMPT WHILE AT WORK. (EMBASSY: ANY INVESTIGATION INTO THE DE LA ROCA KILLING OR THE BARRERA INCIDENTS? IS THERE ANY INDICATION OF THE IDENTITY OR MOTIVES OF THE PERPETRATORS? DOES THE NATURE OF THESE JOURNALISTS' WORK POINT TOWARD LIKELY PERPETRATORS?)

B. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

59 ~~61~~. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE RIGHT OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION. PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATIONS WERE COMMON AND DEMONSTRATORS SOMETIMES OCCUPIED GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS, INCLUDING THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE, GOVERNMENT MINISTRIES AND THE SUPREME COURT BUILDING. IN ALL THESE CASES, THE POLICE ACTED WITH RESTRAINT AND AUTHORITIES NEGOTIATED A PEACEFUL DEPARTURE OF DEMONSTRATORS. THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT INTERFERE WITH POLITICAL ASSOCIATIONS, ALTHOUGH THE LAW NOMINALLY REQUIRES ORGANIZATIONS TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS, A CUMBERSOME AND EXPENSIVE PROCEDURE. (EMBASSY: CAN YOU BRIEFLY PROVIDE DETAILS ON THE STREAMLINING OF THESE PROCEDURES ANNOUNCED LAST DECEMBER?)

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

60 ~~62~~. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AND THE AUTHORITIES RESPECT IT IN PRACTICE. RELIGIOUS PERSONNEL ARE SOMETIMES THREATENED FOR POLITICAL REASONS. (EMBASSY: WHO THREATENS RELIGIOUS PERSONNEL? GOVERNMENT FORCES, GUERRILLAS, OR BOTH?)

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

61 ~~63~~. THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT RESTRICT FOREIGN TRAVEL, NOR DOES IT REVOKE CITIZENSHIP FOR POLITICAL REASONS. MOVEMENT INSIDE THE COUNTRY WAS UNRESTRICTED EXCEPT WHERE THE ARMY AND PAC'S LIMITED TRAVEL IN SOME AREAS OF CONFLICT. GUERRILLAS CONTINUED TO ESTABLISH ROADBLOCKS TO ROB PRIVATE CITIZENS, EXTORT PROTECTION PAYMENTS FROM BUSINESSMEN, ATTACK AND DRAIN PETROLEUM TRUCKS, AND LIMIT TRAVEL IN CERTAIN RURAL AREAS.

62 ~~64~~. VOLUNTARY REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES FROM MEXICO CONTINUED. ACCORDING TO THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR REFUGEES (UNHCR), BY AUGUST, 4,021 REFUGEES HAD BEEN REPATRIATED TO GUATEMALA. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE TO END OF YEAR IF POSSIBLE.) OVER THE LAST DECADE, OVER 18,000 PERSONS HAVE RETURNED SINCE THE INITIATION OF THE PROGRAM, DESPITE THE LACK OF SUITABLE LAND WHICH CAN SUPPORT THE RETURNING POPULATION.

SECTION 3 RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

63 ~~65.~~ CITIZENS HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT BY PEACEFUL AND DEMOCRATIC MEANS, THROUGH SECRET BALLOT AND UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE FOR THOSE 18 YEARS OF AGE AND OLDER. MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES AND POLICE MAY NOT VOTE. SINCE THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY AND CIVILIAN RULE IN 1985, THERE HAVE BEEN SEVEN FREE ELECTIONS. INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS CONCLUDED THAT BOTH THE JANUARY 30 NATIONAL REFERENDUM AND THE AUGUST 14 CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS WERE FREE AND FAIR.

64 ~~66.~~ THERE ARE NO LEGAL IMPEDIMENTS TO WOMEN'S PARTICIPATION IN POLITICS, BUT WOMEN ARE UNDERREPRESENTED IN THE POLITICAL ARENA. HOWEVER, WOMEN DO HOLD PROMINENT POLITICAL POSITIONS, INCLUDING THREE CABINET POSTS. THE PRESIDENT OF THE NEWLY ELECTED CONGRESS IS A WOMAN AND FIVE OTHER WOMEN HOLD SEATS IN THE 80-MEMBER BODY. THERE ARE ALSO TWO FEMALE SUPREME COURT JUSTICES AND ONE FEMALE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT JUSTICE.

65 ~~67.~~ INDIGENOUS PEOPLE ENJOY EQUAL RIGHTS UNDER THE CONSTITUTION, AND SOME HAVE ATTAINED POSITIONS AS ARMY OFFICERS (INCLUDING ONE GENERAL), JUDGES, AND GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, INCLUDING FIVE SEATS IN THE NEWLY ELECTED CONGRESS. NEVERTHELESS, LIMITED EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY AND PERVASIVE DISCRIMINATION (SEE SECTION 5) LEAD TO THEIR UNDERREPRESENTATION IN POLITICS.

SECTION 4 GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

66 ~~68.~~ THE GOVERNMENT PERMITS LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS TO OPERATE FREELY, BUT THE SECURITY FORCES, PAC'S, AND EXTREMIST GROUPS CONTINUED TO THREATEN AND USE VIOLENCE AGAINST THEIR MEMBERS. FOR EXAMPLE, ON JANUARY 24 HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVIST AMILCAR MENDEZ REPORTED THAT A MASKED MOTORCYCLIST TRIED TO RUN OVER HIS 16-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER, MIRIAM ROCIO MENDEZ, WHO WAS EN ROUTE TO THE UNIVERSITY OF SAN CARLOS. THE DAUGHTER WAS UNINJURED. FIVE MONTHS LATER ON JUNE 29, THE MENDEZ FAMILY REPORTED THERE WERE ARMED MEN OUTSIDE HIS HOME. HOWEVER, WHEN THE POLICE WERE DISPATCHED TO THE SCENE, THE ARMED MEN HAD LEFT. IN AUGUST AN UNKNOWN PERSON CALLED A MENDEZ RELATIVE IN GUATEMALA CITY STATING THAT MENDEZ SHOULD NOT RETURN TO HIS HOME IN QUICHE BECAUSE HE WOULD BE KILLED.

67 ~~69.~~ ROSALINA TUYUC, DIRECTOR OF CONAVIGUA, THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF GUATEMALAN WIDOWS, REPORTED THAT DURING JUNE

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

AND JULY ARMED SOLDIERS REPEATEDLY WERE STATIONED OUTSIDE HER PARENTS' HOME IN CHIMALTENANGO. THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, THE GUATEMALAN ARMY HAS ACCUSED TUYUC AND CONAVIGUA OF BEING ALLIED WITH THE GUERRILLAS. THE ARMY ALSO CHARGED THAT ONE OF TUYUC'S BROTHERS IS A GUERRILLA COMMANDER WHO ENGINEERED RECENT GUERRILLA ATTACKS. ON JUNE 22, UNKNOWN MEN ATTACKED, STABBED, AND ROBBED SARA POROJ VASQUEZ, AN OFFICER OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION GAM, "GRUPO DE APOYO MUTUO", OUTSIDE HER HOME. NO ONE WAS APPREHENDED FOR THIS ATTACK.

68 ~~70~~. RELATIONS BETWEEN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO IS CONGRESSIONALLY APPOINTED, REMAIN TENSE. THE OMBUDSMAN REPEATEDLY ACCUSED PRESIDENT DE LEON, THE PREVIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, OF NOT TAKING ACTION ON THE NUMEROUS RESOLUTIONS HIS OFFICE HAS ISSUED CONCERNING HUMAN RIGHTS. ON SEPTEMBER 7, THE OMBUDSMAN CALLED FOR THE RESIGNATION OF THE NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR BECAUSE OF ALLEGATIONS OF POLICE ABUSE IN THE COATEPEQUE INCIDENT (SEE SECTION 1.C.). THE OMBUDSMAN REDUCED HIS OWN STAFF AND FOCUSED LESS ON INVESTIGATION OF INDIVIDUAL CASES THAN ON MAKING PUBLIC PRONOUNCEMENTS (EMBASSY: IS THIS A GOOD FORMULATION OF THE PROBLEM?).

69 ~~71~~. HIGH-RANKING GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WORKING IN THE FIELDS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND JURISPRUDENCE COMPLAINED PUBLICLY AND PRIVATELY OF RECEIVING THREATS STEMMING FROM THEIR INTEREST IN RESOLVING CASES RELATED TO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, OFFICIAL CORRUPTION, AND DRUG TRAFFICKING.

70 ~~72~~. BOTH THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE AND THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CONTINUED TO ENJOY WIDESPREAD PUBLIC SUPPORT AND RESPECT. SENIOR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS MET NUMEROUS FOREIGN OFFICIALS AND HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS. INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS TRAVEL THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY BUT ON OCCASION ADVISE LOCAL MILITARY AUTHORITIES OF THEIR PRESENCE TO ENSURE THEIR SAFETY, PARTICULARLY IN RURAL AREAS. DESPITE A PERSISTENT, 13-YEAR EFFORT, PEACE BRIGADES INTERNATIONAL, AN INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION WHICH ACCOMPANIES PERSONS WHOSE LIVES MAY BE IN DANGER FOR THEIR POLITICAL BELIEFS OR ACTIVITIES, HAS BEEN UNABLE TO OBTAIN GOVERNMENT RECOGNITION. THE ABSENCE OF LEGAL STATUS DID NOT, HOWEVER, PREVENT PEACE BRIGADES OR OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS FROM OPERATING OPENLY.

SECTION 5 DISCRIMINATION BASED ON RACE, SEX, RELIGION, DISABILITY, LANGUAGE, OR SOCIAL STATUS

~~73~~. (EMBASSY: PLEASE PROVIDE A ONE-SENTENCE LEAD-IN STATEMENT DESCRIBING WHAT THE CONSTITUTION OR OTHER LAWS SAY REGARDING DISCRIMINATION ON SOME OR ALL OF THESE

WOMEN

71 THE CONSTITUTION ASSERTS THE PRINCIPLE OF EQUALITY BETWEEN THE SEXES. NONETHELESS, WOMEN FACE JOB DISCRIMINATION AND ON AVERAGE RECEIVE SIGNIFICANTLY LOWER PAY THAN MEN. THEY ARE PRIMARILY EMPLOYED IN LOW-WAGE JOBS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY, AGRICULTURE, RETAIL BUSINESS, AND THE PUBLIC SECTOR. MORE WORKING WOMEN THAN MEN ARE EMPLOYED IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR OF THE ECONOMY, WHERE PAY AND BENEFITS ARE GENERALLY LOWER. A 1989 SURVEY REPORTED THAT IN GUATEMALA CITY WOMEN ARE UNDERREPRESENTED IN HIGH-INCOME CATEGORIES AND OVERREPRESENTED AMONG POORLY PAID WORKERS.

72 IN SOME CASES, DOMESTIC LAWS REMAIN DISCRIMINATORY AGAINST WOMEN, SUCH AS THE PENAL CODE'S PROVISIONS ON

ADULTERY. ONLY WOMEN MAY BE CHARGED WITH ADULTERY, WHILE MEN FALL UNDER A DIFFERENT STATUTE WHICH IS MORE LIMITED, MAKES IT MORE DIFFICULT TO PROVE, AND CARRIES A LESSER PENALTY.

73 CONAVIGUA REPORTED THAT VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN, INCLUDING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, REMAINS COMMON BUT RECEIVES LITTLE ATTENTION. THERE IS NO SPECIFIC LAW AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, ALTHOUGH IT IS CONSIDERED TO FALL UNDER OTHER STATUTES. CRIMINAL SEXUAL VIOLENCE OFTEN GOES UNREPORTED BY VICTIMS, AND RELATIVELY FEW RAPE CASES COME TO COURT. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE REPORTED RECEIVING 30 COMPLAINTS PER MONTH OF SPOUSAL ABUSE COMMITTED BY THE MALE SPOUSE.

CHILDREN

74 /THE ABUSE OF STREET CHILDREN (SEE SECTION 1.C.) IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM IN MAJOR CITIES. 2ESTIMATES OF STREET CHILDREN RANGE BETWEEN 1,500 AND 5,000, WITH THE MAJORITY OF THESE YOUTHS CONCENTRATED IN GUATEMALA CITY. 3 THESE CHILDREN ARE OFTEN RECRUITED INTO THIEVERY OR PROSTITUTION RINGS. 4THE GOVERNMENT AND A NUMBER OF NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE YOUTH CENTERS, BUT THE FUNDS DEVOTED TO THEM ARE INADEQUATE FOR THE PROBLEM. 5 AN ACCORD BETWEEN CASA ALIANZA AND THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE WAS NOT RENEWED BECAUSE THE DE LEON ADMINISTRATION BELIEVES THAT THE TREATMENT OF STREET CHILDREN IS ADEQUATELY ADDRESSED IN EXISTING LAWS. 6 COPREDEH, THE PRESIDENTIAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, HAS FORMED A SPECIAL COMMISSION CALLED THE PERMANENT COMMISSION FOR CHILDREN, COMPOSED OF CASA ALIANZA AND REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE BRANCHES, WHICH MEETS REGULARLY TO ADDRESS THE PROBLEMS OF STREET CHILDREN.

RELATIONS BETWEEN CASA ALIANZA AND THE NATIONAL POLICE IMPROVED DUE TO THE REPEATED PERSONAL INTERVENTION OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT'S INSPECTOR GENERAL AND THE INTEREST OF THE DEPARTMENT'S MINORS DIVISION, OFFICE OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY, AND HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE. HOWEVER, THE POLICE DEPARTMENT'S OFFICE OF CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS HAS BEEN RELUCTANT TO RELEASE INFORMATION ON PAST ALLEGED HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES COMMITTED BY POLICE OFFICERS.

INDIGENOUS PEOPLE

75 ~~78~~. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE COMPRISE ABOUT ONE-HALF OF THE POPULATION BUT REMAIN LARGELY OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY'S POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND CULTURAL MAINSTREAM. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUFFERED MOST OF THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES DESCRIBED THROUGHOUT THIS REPORT. RURAL INDIGENOUS MEN WERE MORE LIKELY THAN URBAN DWELLERS TO BE DRAFTED BY THE ARMY OR FORCIBLY RECRUITED BY EITHER THE ARMY OR GUERRILLA GROUPS. ALTHOUGH THE CONSTITUTION ACCORDS INDIGENOUS PEOPLE EQUAL RIGHTS, IN PRACTICE THEY HAVE ONLY MINIMAL PARTICIPATION IN DECISIONS AFFECTING THEIR LANDS, CULTURE, TRADITIONS, AND ALLOCATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES.

76 ~~79~~. RURAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLE HAVE LIMITED EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES AND THUS HAVE LIMITED EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES. ILLITERACY IS PREVALENT IN INDIGENOUS COMMUNITIES. MANY INDIGENOUS PEOPLE DO NOT SPEAK SPANISH. LINGUISTIC BARRIERS HINDER INTERACTION WITH THE GOVERNMENT AND LIMIT ACCESS TO PUBLIC SERVICES, INCLUDING THE JUDICIARY, BECAUSE FEW OFFICIALS SPEAK ANY OF THE 21 INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES. INDIGENOUS PERSONS ARRESTED FOR CRIMES ARE OFTEN AT A DISADVANTAGE DUE TO THEIR LACK OF SPANISH. THE PUBLIC DEFENDER'S OFFICE IS CHARGED WITH PROVIDING JUDICIAL TRANSLATING SERVICES BUT IS NOT SUFFICIENTLY STAFFED TO COPE WITH THE PROBLEM. UNDER THE NEW PENAL PROCEDURES CODE, THE GOVERNMENT IS REQUIRED TO PROVIDE TRANSLATING SERVICES TO ALL WHO NEED IT IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS. (EMBASSY: DOES IT DO SO IN PRACTICE?)

PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

77 ~~80~~. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES THAT THE STATE SHOULD PROTECT DISABLED PERSONS. NONETHELESS, PHYSICALLY DISABLED PERSONS ARE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST IN EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES, AND FEW RESOURCES ARE DEVOTED TO COMBAT THIS PROBLEM OR OTHERWISE TO ASSIST PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES. THERE IS NO LEGISLATION MANDATING PROVISION OF ACCESSIBILITY FOR THE DISABLED.

SECTION 6 WORKER RIGHTS

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

A. THE RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION

78 ~~81~~. THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LABOR CODE PROVIDE WORKERS COMPLETE FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION AND THE RIGHT TO FORM AND JOIN TRADE UNIONS. THE 1992 AMENDMENTS TO THE LABOR CODE FACILITATE FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION, STRENGTHEN THE RIGHTS OF WORKING WOMEN, INCREASE PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS OF LABOR LAWS, AND ENHANCE THE ROLE OF THE LABOR MINISTRY AND LABOR COURTS IN ENFORCING THEM. ALL WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO FORM OR JOIN UNIONS, INCLUDING PUBLIC SECTOR EMPLOYEES, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF MEMBERS OF SECURITY FORCES. NATIONAL POLICE OFFICERS HAVE UNSUCCESSFULLY ATTEMPTED TO FORM A TRADE UNION OR ASSOCIATION. BETWEEN 5 AND 8 PERCENT OF THE WORK FORCE IS ORGANIZED. THE 993 REGISTERED UNIONS IN THE COUNTRY ARE INDEPENDENT OF GOVERNMENT AND POLITICAL PARTY DOMINATION.

79 ~~82~~. THE LABOR CODE AMENDMENTS SIMPLIFIED THE PROCESS FOR UNIONS TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS. THIS WAS FURTHER REVISED WHEN THE MINISTER OF LABOR MADE ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES TO REDUCE THE NUMBER OF STEPS NEEDED WITHIN THE MINISTRY TO GRANT APPROVAL, ESTABLISHED STRICT TIMETABLES FOR CONSIDERATION OF UNION APPLICATIONS, AND CLARIFIED THAT NONCOMPLIANCE WITH THIS TIMETABLE COULD LEAD TO DISMISSAL OF THE OFFICIALS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DELAY.

80 ~~83~~. THESE NEW REGULATIONS ACCELERATED THE APPROVAL PROCEDURE, AND THE BACKLOG OF UNION APPLICATIONS WAS BASICALLY ELIMINATED BY MID-YEAR. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS GRANTED LEGAL STATUS TO 63 UNIONS SINCE LATE 1993, AND ONLY 13 APPLICATIONS ARE STILL PENDING. OF THE REGISTERED UNIONS, 834 ARE IN THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND 159 ARE IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS INITIATED A PROGRAM TO ASSIST UNIONS WITH THEIR APPLICATIONS, TO AVOID SOME OF THE PITFALLS STILL INHERENT IN THE LABOR CODE.

81 ~~84~~. WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO STRIKE, BUT LABOR CODE PROCEDURES MAKE LEGAL STRIKES CUMBERSOME. LABOR ORGANIZERS CRITICIZE THE REQUIREMENT THAT TWO-THIRDS OF THE WORKERS VOTE TO APPROVE A STRIKE, THE PROHIBITION OF STRIKES BY AGRICULTURAL WORKERS AT HARVEST TIME, AND THE RIGHT OF THE GOVERNMENT TO PROHIBIT STRIKES WHICH IT DEEMS AS SERIOUSLY AFFECTING THE NATIONAL ECONOMY. THOSE FEW STRIKES THAT DO OCCUR ARE GENERALLY CALLED WITHOUT LEGAL AUTHORIZATION, AND IN PRACTICE THE GOVERNMENT MAKES NO EFFORT TO INTERVENE ON THE BASIS OF ILLEGALITY. NONETHELESS, THE LACK OF LEGAL APPROVAL FOR A STRIKE CAN BE USED AS A THREAT AGAINST STRIKERS.

82 ~~85~~. THE LAW PROTECTS WORKERS FROM RETRIBUTION FOR FORMING AND PARTICIPATING IN TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES, BUT

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

COMPLIANCE WITH THE LAW VARIES. WHILE SOME EMPLOYERS ACCEPT UNIONIZATION, MANY ROUTINELY CIRCUMVENT LABOR CODE PROVISIONS IN ORDER TO RESIST UNION ACTIVITIES, WHICH MANY VIEW AS HISTORICALLY CONFRONTATIONAL AND DISRUPTIVE. AN INEFFECTIVE LEGAL SYSTEM AND THE INADEQUATE LEVEL OF PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS HINDERS ENFORCEMENT OF THE RIGHT TO FORM AND PARTICIPATE IN TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES.

83 ~~86~~. TRADE UNION LEADERS AND MEMBERS WERE VICTIMS OF A MARKED INCREASE IN HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES, SUCH AS THREATS, ASSASSINATION ATTEMPTS, KIDNAPINGS, AND PHYSICAL HARM. IN ONE INCIDENT, POLICE KILLED AND WOUNDED SEVERAL PERSONS WHILE DISLODGING STRIKING WORKERS FROM A FARM (SEE SECTION 1.A.). THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT 4 UNIONISTS WERE KILLED IN 1994, 1 INJURED, AND 13 THREATENED BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANTS. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE THROUGH END OF THE YEAR IF POSSIBLE.) PUBLIC SECTOR UNION LEADERS, AS WELL AS UNIONISTS IN THE HIGH-PROFILE IN-BOND EXPORT SECTOR, REPORTED RECEIVING THREATS AGAINST THEMSELVES AND THEIR FAMILIES. SUCH ANONYMOUS THREATS INCREASED MARKEDLY EARLY IN THE YEAR WHEN ONE OF THE FEDERATIONS OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES HELD A PROLONGED SERIES OF WORK STOPPAGES FOR IMPROVED WAGES AND GOVERNMENT COMPLIANCE WITH PREVIOUSLY NEGOTIATED AGREEMENTS.

84 ~~87~~. UNIONS MAY AND DO FORM FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS AND JOIN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

85 ~~88~~. AN ACTIVE "SOLIDARITY" MOVEMENT CLAIMS APPROXIMATELY 100,000 MEMBERS IN OVER 395 COMPANIES. UNIONS MAY LEGALLY CONTINUE TO OPERATE IN WORKPLACES WHICH HAVE SOLIDARITY ASSOCIATIONS, AND WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHOOSE BETWEEN THE TWO OR BELONG TO BOTH. THE GOVERNMENT VIEWS THESE ASSOCIATIONS AS CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS WHICH NEED NOT INTERFERE WITH THE FUNCTIONING OF TRADE UNIONS. THE AMENDED LABOR CODE STIPULATES VERY CLEARLY THAT TRADE UNIONS HAVE THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY OVER WORK CONDITIONS ON BEHALF OF WORKERS. UNIONISTS CHARGE, HOWEVER, THAT SOLIDARITY ASSOCIATIONS ARE PROMOTED BY MANAGEMENT TO AVOID THE FORMATION OF TRADE UNIONS OR TO RIVAL EXISTING LABOR UNIONS. THERE ARE CREDIBLE REPORTS THAT SOME OF THESE ASSOCIATIONS DID NOT ALWAYS ADHERE TO DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES IN THEIR FORMATION AND MANAGEMENT, AND THAT WORKERS ARE UNABLE TO PARTICIPATE FULLY AND FREELY IN DECISION MAKING. SIMILAR CREDIBLE CHARGES ARE MADE AGAINST SOME TRADE UNION ORGANIZATIONS.

LIMITED OFFICIAL USE SECSTATE 331923

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

~~89~~ 86. AT THE REQUEST OF TRADE UNION LEADERS, THE INDEPENDENT HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, THROUGH HIS OFFICE FOR ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ISSUES, RECEIVES COMPLAINTS RELATED TO TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES. UNION LEADERS AND WORKERS FILED A NUMBER OF COMPLAINTS WITH THE OMBUDSMAN DURING THE YEAR, AND THE OMBUDSMAN HAS SPOKEN OUT IN PUBLIC STATEMENTS ABOUT LABOR CONDITIONS IN VARYING SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY. (EMBASSY: WHAT SORT OF ACTION DOES/CAN THE OMBUDSMAN TAKE IN RESPONSE TO THEIR COMPLAINTS?)

B. THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY

~~90~~ 87. WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY. HOWEVER, THE PRACTICE OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IS LIMITED BY THE WEAK STRUCTURE OF THE UNION MOVEMENT, THE LACK OF EXPERIENCE WITH THIS PRACTICE, AND THE PREFERENCE OF MANAGEMENT IN MANY CASES TO AVOID FORMAL TIES WITH TRADE UNIONS. WHILE BOTH MANAGEMENT AND THE UNIONS HONORED SOME WELL-WRITTEN COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS, BOTH PARTIES OPENLY IGNORED AND VIOLATED OTHER CONTRACTS. MOST WORKERS, EVEN THOSE ORGANIZED BY TRADE UNIONS, DO NOT HAVE COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS TO COVER THEIR WAGES AND WORKING CONDITIONS, BUT DO HAVE INDIVIDUAL CONTRACTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW. MOST WORKERS RECEIVE THE MINIMUM WAGES ESTABLISHED BY BIPARTITE COMMISSIONS, WHICH OPERATE UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF THE MINISTRY OF LABOR.

~~91~~ 88. EMPLOYERS CANNOT DISMISS WORKERS FOR PARTICIPATING IN THE FORMATION OF A TRADE UNION; WORKERS FILE COMPLAINTS IN THIS REGARD WITH THE LABOR INSPECTORS FOR RESOLUTION. THE LABOR CODE PROVIDES FOR THE RIGHT OF EMPLOYERS TO FIRE UNION WORKERS FOR CAUSE, PERMITS WORKERS TO APPEAL THEIR DISMISSAL TO THE LABOR COURTS, AND REQUIRES THE REINSTATEMENT OF ANY UNION WORKER FIRED WITHOUT CAUSE. THE REVISED CODE PROHIBITS EMPLOYERS FROM FIRING WORKERS FOR UNION ORGANIZING AND PROTECTS THEM FOR 60 DAYS FOLLOWING THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF APPROVAL OF THE UNION. IT ALSO PROHIBITS EMPLOYERS FROM FIRING ANY MEMBER OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF A UNION AND PROTECTS THEM FOR AN ADDITIONAL 12 MONTHS AFTER THEY ARE NO LONGER ON THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. AN EMPLOYER MAY FIRE A UNION MEMBER FOR CAUSE ONLY AFTER A TRIAL AND ISSUANCE OF A COURT RESOLUTION.

IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM.

90 ~~95~~. LABOR LAWS AND REGULATIONS APPLY THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY, INCLUDING IN THE FEW EXPORT PROCESSING ZONES (EPZ'S). THE LAWS GOVERNING EPZ'S ARE NOT DISCRIMINATORY ON THE SUBJECT OF ORGANIZING TRADE UNIONS OR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING. WHILE UNION LEADERS OFTEN BLAME EMPLOYER PRESSURES AND UNOFFICIALLY RESTRICTED ACCESS TO THE EPZ'S FOR THEIR VIRTUAL INABILITY TO ORGANIZE WORKERS IN THESE ZONES, LABOR CONDITIONS IN THESE ZONES ARE NO DIFFERENT FROM THOSE FOUND OUTSIDE THE ZONES.

C. PROHIBITION OF FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR

91 ~~94~~. THE CONSTITUTION BARS FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR, AND THE PRACTICE DOES NOT EXIST. HUMAN RIGHTS AND INDIGENOUS GROUPS CONTINUE TO CHARGE THAT COERCED PARTICIPATION, PARTICULARLY OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES, IN THE PAC'S VIOLATES PROHIBITIONS AGAINST FORCED LABOR.

D. MINIMUM AGE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN

92 ~~95~~. ALTHOUGH THE CONSTITUTION BARS EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS UNDER THE AGE OF 14, CHILDREN BELOW THIS AGE ARE REGULARLY EMPLOYED. LAWS GOVERNING THE EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS ARE NOT EFFECTIVELY ENFORCED, DUE TO THE SHORTAGE OF QUALIFIED LABOR INSPECTORS AND STRUCTURAL WEAKNESSES IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM. ONLY 5,000 MINORS HAVE LEGAL PERMISSION FROM THE LABOR MINISTRY TO WORK. THOUSANDS WORKING WITHOUT LEGAL PERMISSION ARE OPEN TO EXPLOITATION, GENERALLY RECEIVING NO SOCIAL BENEFITS, NO SOCIAL INSURANCE, NO PENSION OR VACATIONS, AND NO SEVERANCE PAY, AND ARE PAID BELOW THE MINIMUM WAGE LEVEL. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS A PROGRAM TO EDUCATE MINORS, THEIR PARENTS, AND EMPLOYERS ON THE RIGHTS OF MINORS IN THE LABOR MARKET. ECONOMIC NECESSITY, HOWEVER, FORCES MOST FAMILIES TO HAVE THEIR CHILDREN SEEK SOME TYPE OF EMPLOYMENT TO SUPPLEMENT THE FAMILY INCOME.

LIMITED OFFICIAL USE SECTION 14 OF 14 STATE 331923

93 ~~96~~. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR COMPULSORY EDUCATION FOR ALL CHILDREN UP TO THE AGE OF 12 OR TO THE SIXTH GRADE. HOWEVER, LESS THAN HALF THE POPULATION ACTUALLY RECEIVES A PRIMARY EDUCATION. CHILD LABOR IS LARGELY CONFINED TO SMALL OR FAMILY-TYPE ENTERPRISES, TO AGRICULTURAL WORK, AND TO THE INFORMAL SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY.

E. ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS OF WORK

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

RURAL AND URBAN WORKERS. A BILATERAL COMMITTEE REPRESENTING LABOR AND MANAGEMENT IN SPECIFIC ECONOMIC SECTORS IS NAMED EACH YEAR TO MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR INCREASES IN THE MINIMUM WAGE. IN THE EVENT THAT AGREEMENT IS NOT POSSIBLE, THE GOVERNMENT MAY DECREE SUCH INCREASES. IN JUNE THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COFFEE GROWERS (ANACAFE) REACHED AN AGREEMENT WITH ONE TRADE UNION GROUP REPRESENTING COFFEE FARM WORKERS WHICH INCREASED THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR COFFEE FARM WORKERS BY APPROXIMATELY 30 PERCENT TO 2.41 (14.50 QUETZALS) A DAY.

95 ~~98~~. FOLLOWING THE ANACAFE ACCORD, THE GOVERNMENT INCREASED THE MINIMUM WAGE IN THE MAIN SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY IN SEPTEMBER. THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL WORKERS IS 3.29 (14 QUETZALS) FOR AN 8-HOUR WORKDAY, INCLUDING A REQUIRED HOURLY BONUS. THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR FARM WORKERS IS 2.00 (11.60 QUETZALS) PER DAY, PLUS MANDATORY AND PRODUCTIVITY BONUSES. THE MINIMUM WAGE DOES NOT PROVIDE A DECENT STANDARD OF LIVING; AN ESTIMATED 80 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION LIVES BELOW THE POVERTY LINE, INCLUDING APPROXIMATELY 70 PERCENT OF THOSE EMPLOYED.

96 ~~99~~. THE LEGAL WORKDAY IS 8 HOURS AND THE WORKWEEK IS 44 HOURS, BUT A TRADITION OF MUCH LONGER HOURS REMAINS IN PLACE DUE TO ECONOMIC CONDITIONS. THE AMENDED LABOR CODE REQUIRES A WEEKLY PAID (EMBASSY: PLEASE VERIFY THAT THE REST PERIOD IS "PAID".) REST PERIOD OF AT LEAST 24 HOURS. TRADE UNION LEADERS AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS CHARGE THAT WORKERS ARE SOMETIMES FORCED TO WORK OVERTIME, OFTEN WITHOUT PREMIUM PAY, OR GIVEN DRUGS TO HELP THEM WORK LONGER IN ORDER TO MEET WORK REQUIREMENTS. LABOR INSPECTORS REPORT THAT NUMEROUS INSTANCES WERE UNCOVERED OF SUCH ABUSES, BUT CORRUPTION AND INEFFICIENCIES IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM INHIBIT ADEQUATE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

97 ~~100~~. OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS ARE INADEQUATE. AS WITH OTHER ASPECTS OF THE LABOR LAW, ENFORCEMENT OF STANDARDS THAT DO EXIST IS ALSO INADEQUATE. WORKERS HAVE THE LEGAL RIGHT TO REMOVE THEMSELVES FROM DANGEROUS WORKPLACE SITUATIONS, AND THE LAW PROVIDES THEM WITH PROTECTION FOR THEIR CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT. HOWEVER, FEW WORKERS ARE WILLING TO JEOPARDIZE THEIR JOBS BY COMPLAINING ABOUT UNSAFE WORKING CONDITIONS. WHEN SERIOUS OR FATAL INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS DO OCCUR, THE AUTHORITIES TAKE NO LEGAL STEPS AGAINST THOSE RESPONSIBLE. THE LABOR MINISTRY PROVIDES TRAINING COURSES FOR LABOR INSPECTORS IN HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS, BUT DOES NOT ACCORD THEM HIGH PRIORITY. THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT EFFECTIVELY ENFORCE LEGISLATION REQUIRING COMPANIES WITH MORE THAN 50 EMPLOYEES TO PROVIDE ON-SITE MEDICAL FACILITIES FOR THEIR WORKERS,

TAGS: PREL, PGOV, PHUM, UNSC, OAS, GT
SUBJECT: GUATEMALA: CONGRESS APPROVES MINUGUA SOFA, MISSION IS OVERWHELMED WITH WORK

1. (C) THE GUATEMALAN CONGRESS APPROVED THE MINUGUA STATUS OF MISSION AGREEMENT ON NOVEMBER 12, ACCORDING TO UN GUATEMALA DESK OFFICER DENISE COOK. APPARENTLY AN OFFER BY DEPUTY RIOS MONTT'S PARTY TO PRESENT THE AGREEMENT TO CONGRESS PROVIDED THE IMPETUS NEEDED FOR THE GOVERNMENT TO SUBMIT IT FOR APPROVAL. FOREIGN MINISTER VILCHEZ TOLD MINUGUA HEAD FRANCO THAT CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL WOULD NOT BE FINAL FOR TWO MORE READINGS. CONGRESSIONAL CONTACTS INDICATED THE AGREEMENT HAD BEEN FULLY CLEARED. MINUGUA IS ACTING ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT THE LATTER POSITION IS CORRECT.

2. (C) COOK ALSO FORESAW POSSIBLE COLLISION WITH THE GOVERNMENT ON CONFIDENTIALITY OF DEPOSITIONS. ARENALES HAD ALREADY TOLD FRANCO THE MISSION WAS OBLIGED TO GIVE THE GOVERNMENT ANY CASES WHICH COULD BE PROSECUTED, ON THE GROUNDS THAT WITHHOLDING INFORMATION ON CRIMINAL ACTIVITY WOULD MAKE MINUGUA AN ACCESSORY UNDER THE GUATEMALAN CONSTITUTION. FRANCO HAD NOT RESPONDED TO THE GOVERNMENT'S COMMUNICATION, AND HAD ASKED THE UN LEGAL OFFICE TO PROVIDE LEGAL ARGUMENTS TO REBUT THE GOG POSITION. COOK SAID FRANCO WOULD IGNORE THE REQUEST UNLESS THE GOVERNMENT PRESSED THE POINT.

MINUGUA ON THE GROUND

3. (C) COOK SAID MINUGUA HAD BEEN DELUGED FROM THE OUTSET WITH REPORTS TO INVESTIGATE, ALTHOUGH MANY WERE NOT REALLY HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. THE UN WAS WORKING TO PUBLICIZE THE EXACT TERMS OF THE MISSION'S MANDATE.

USUN N 05538 1518192 082162 S015699

WHEN DETERMINING THAT A CASE SUBMITTED WAS A SOCIAL ONE, MINUGUA RECOMMENDED THAT A COMPLAINT BE LODGED WITH THE POLICE. IN THE CASE OF ONE PEASANT GROUP OPPOSING ANOTHER PEASANT GROUP ON LAND OWNERSHIP, THE POLICE ARRESTED THE COMPLAINING GROUP. COOK EXPECTED THAT MANY CASES WHICH STARTED OUT AS SOCIAL ACTIONS WOULD BECOME LEGITIMATE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES.

4 (C) AMONG THE CASES MINUGUA IS BEING ASKED TO CONSIDER ARE THOSE OF THE "DISAPPEARED", ON THE GROUNDS THAT THESE PEOPLE, LIKE BAMACA, MAY STILL BE ALIVE. ONE IMPORTANT HUMAN RIGHTS GROUP (CAH) HAD ALREADY ASKED MINUGUA TO INVESTIGATE THE DISAPPEARANCES OF 128 MISSING PEOPLE WHOSE CASES THEY CLAIM ARE BEING CONSIDERED BY THE SUPREME COURT. MINUGUA FEARS REQUESTS TO LOOK INTO THE UP TO 45,000 TOTAL CASES WILL SOON BE FORTHCOMING.

Dear Chris:

I wanted you to see this op-ed I just completed following my recent trip to Guatemala. Hopefully, the Department can focus on some of the issues I outlined. I do not plan any press conferences or other activity.

I want to commend Ambassador McAfee for the excellent job she is doing in Guatemala. It is important that the Department and the Agency not make her the victim of the intensive Harbury campaign to get the records on the Bamaca case. I know sources and methods have to be protected, however, I do not think that endless bureaucratic delays on answering Harbury will help the situation nor McAfee's career. I know you will protect her. Put this issue behind you. She is a first-rate officer following instructions.

Secondly, I believe Watson and Nuccio in ARA are doing a great job handling this issue also. The little kick and encouragement I am giving you guys on this one hopefully will prompt a review of our policy.

I'll be in North Korea and Indonesia if you want to visit.

Best wishes for the holidays,

Bill

CONGRESSMAN BILL RICHARDSON

Don't forget Guatemala
Tuesday, December 6, 1994

The recent Miami summit showcased a host of Western Hemisphere nations with ambitious plans for freer trade and economic integration, more protection for the environment, and for measures to strengthen democratic institutions in Latin America. With the summit over and Latin nations pursuing a self-imposed 2005 deadline to meet these worthy goals, it is critically important that our Latin neighbors, the United States, and the United Nations focus on resolving some festering problems in one of the last hemispheric sore spots: Guatemala.

Unless urgent international action is taken in the next ninety days, the much ballyhooed peace talks between the Guatemalan government and the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Union (URNG) will collapse, gross human rights abuses and impunity will continue in Guatemala and Guatemala's economic and political relationship with the United States could be jeopardized. Underscoring the weakness of the Guatemalan situation is the case of American Jennifer Harbury who continues to push the Guatemalan government and the United States to divulge information regarding the fate of her husband and guerilla leader Efrain Bamaca. Unless forthrightly addressed, failure to resolve this matter could severely harm and complicate the U.S.- Guatemala relationship and call into question the Administration's commitment to human rights.

The peace talks, which began in April 1991, have stalled due to the intransigence of both sides. The talks received new impetus when Ramiro De Leon

DECLASSIFIED UNCLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED UNCLASSIFIED

Carpio, the former Human Rights Ombudsman, assumed the Presidency. Under the sponsorship of the United Nations the peace process moved quickly in early 1994, but since May has slowed considerably. An utter lack of urgency among principals to conclude the talks by the agreed year-end deadline puts into jeopardy the UN mandate which expires on March 29, 1995. An agreement is needed soon, as Guatemala's October 1995 elections will dampen any real chance of ending a war that has already claimed 140,000, mainly indigenous, lives.

Despite some promising initiatives in the human rights arena early in his tenure, President De Leon appears weakened in his resolve to take on the Guatemalan military and curb their brutal methods. Additionally, the Guatemalan Government continues to erect bureaucratic and legal barriers in highly visible human rights cases such as Efrain Bamaca, Myrna Mack, and Jorge Carpio.

To untangle this morass, the following initiatives should be considered.

First, the United States should launch a major diplomatic initiative with the U.N. Group of Friends (which includes the U.S., France, Norway, Mexico, and Venezuela) to pressure both sides to reach a peace agreement. In this connection, Mexico should specifically pressure the guerrillas, comfortably ensconced in Mexico City to reach an agreement. Given President Zedillo's ambitious social agenda for Mexico's poor and disenfranchised, the last thing he needs is for the Guatemalan problem to continue with thousands of Guatemalan refugees inside Mexico's southern border. The United Nations and its negotiating team must seek a rapid end to this drawn out peace process. In this connection, the United States should become more actively engaged in the negotiations by committing to leading an internationally sponsored reconstruction effort as part of an agreement.

DECLASSIFIED UNCLASSIFIED

Second, the State Department should condemn the continuing human rights atrocities in Guatemala in the strongest language possible. Further, State should make clear that respect for the human rights accords signed in March, 1994 should not be secondary to ending the armed conflict. The United States should vigorously press for Guatemala's unconditional and avid support of MINUGUA, the U.N. human rights verification mission. Additionally, greater U.S. support should be given to the Agency for International Developments' programs to reform the judiciary and democratic institutions. The United States should not waiver in providing economic assistance to Guatemala. Such a cut-off would only hurt Guatemala's poor. I do believe, however, that the United States Congress should closely scrutinize Guatemala's renewal in the General System of Preferences (GSP) scheduled for Congressional consideration in early 1995 as well as other Clinton trade initiatives designed to cushion smaller nations' entrance into NAFTA. If measurable progress is not made on the human and indigenous rights, as well as labor and worker standards, Congress should give the Administration authority to flexibly withdraw GSP and other trade benefits. Guatemala's powerful private sector, presently dormant in the human rights debate, needs to support further democratic reforms that rein in Guatemala's powerful military.

Clearly, President De Leon is our best hope for democracy in Guatemala. While I believe that his efforts and goals are sincere, political and economic reform has been limited at best. Success in the last year of his presidency depends greatly on the support and constructive pressure from the international community to move boldly on the peace and human rights fronts. Without significant movement toward a civil society in Guatemala, the lofty goals of the Miami summit will be tarnished. And, Guatemala will remain a frustrating reminder of a once proud nation unable to shed its pariah status in the hemisphere.

about

and
US POLICY TOWARD GUATEMALA

The publicity surrounding the case of guerrilla leader Efraín Bámaca has brought Guatemala and the peace process underway there more attention than ever before. Unfortunately, it has also created a number of false impressions about US policy toward Guatemala.

My personal involvement in the peace process began when I arranged a private interview for Congressman Robert Torricelli with then-President Jorge Serrano in 1992. At that point the peace process was stalled, and President Serrano asked Representative Torricelli to carry a personal message from him to the URNG guerrillas in Mexico about a way to reactivate it. I then arranged the first meeting between the URNG and any member of Congress. His meetings with the URNG and the government of Guatemala allowed Rep. Torricelli to play an important role in encouraging both sides to move forward in the peace process. Throughout this period, I worked closely with those State Department officials directly concerned with Guatemala. Eventually, Rep. Torricelli's initial contact with the URNG led to the first meetings between senior State Department officials and the URNG. These meetings were significant because they represented a policy decision to use contact with an active guerrilla organization, responsible for the deaths of American citizens, to advance the peace process. Such contact might have been very controversial were it not for the Congressional support offered by Rep. Torricelli for them.

When I joined the Clinton Administration in 1993 as Assistant Secretary Watson's senior advisor, Ambassador Watson asked me to coordinate US involvement in the peace process. I made several trips to Guatemala and Mexico to assess the peace process and met, eventually, with the entire URNG command. The State Department repeatedly encouraged both the URNG and the Guatemalan government to return to active negotiations and, in early 1994, the United Nations was invited by both sides to play a more direct and active role as a moderator of the talks. The parties also asked the US and Norway to join Colombia, Mexico, Spain, and Venezuela as a formal "Friend" of the process. I have had the privilege of representing the United States on those occasions when the UN or the parties called a meeting of the six countries constituting the "Friends."

Because of my role in the peace process, I met several times with Jennifer Harbury over this last year to talk about her husband's case and its relationship with the peace process. I always told Jennifer that I believed the peace process offered the best hope of finding out the truth about her husband, specifically through the UN verification mission that would eventually be installed to verify the human rights provisions of the peace accords.

This summer Jennifer met with me again to explain that she had been offered a "deal" by Defense Minister Enríquez: her husband would be produced alive, if she would promise to drop her protest against the Guatemalan government. I was frankly startled to hear that the Defense Minister had made such a proposal. The Guatemalan government was telling the US government that Bámaca had killed himself to prevent capture. Now, according to Jennifer, the Defense Minister was suggesting that Bámaca was alive and could be traded for her silence. I asked for more details and she then recounted to me various public and private statements by the General that had convinced her, and others who had heard the public statements, that such a deal was being offered.

I gave Jennifer my reaction that another interpretation of his comments was possible, but when she requested that I carry a message to the General I agreed. She asked me to convey to him the sincerity of her offer to drop her protests against the government if her husband was set free. I told her that I would raise her husband's case with General Enríquez and with URNG commander Gáspar Ilom, the head of her husband's guerrilla organization. I spoke with both in August and reported the relevant parts of each conversation to Jennifer. She told me then that if results were not produced soon, she would have to consider other steps to raise the pressure on Guatemala.

During a trip to Mexico and Guatemala in October I underlined the importance of the Bámaca case again with the URNG, with representatives of the Friends group, and in all my meetings with Guatemalan government officials. In particular, I had a long discussion of the case with General Enríquez. He repeated in that conversation some of the same phrases that had prompted Jennifer to conclude that he was offering her a "deal." Given the gravity of Jennifer's hunger strike, I decided to ask him directly if he was offering to produce Bámaca alive with these words. He denied emphatically that he was or that he knew anything about Bámaca's whereabouts.

During a second private meeting with Jennifer on the same day I met with General Enríquez, I told Jennifer about my conversation with him. Since I had earlier carried a message to the General on her behalf, I felt it was important to relate his specific denial that he had intended to communicate a "deal" to Jennifer. I told her that I was not trying to convince her of his intentions, but that I could not interpret what he said as confirming her conclusions. This was not a matter of believing the General over Jennifer. She had asked for my help in communicating her willingness to accept a deal and the General had now specifically rejected ever having offered one. Regardless of whether a "deal" had been offered or not, the US government's official position on the case remained that Efraín Bámaca was alive and that the Guatemalan government needed to explain his whereabouts.

I also informed Jennifer at my meeting with her of what we knew about a new investigation of her husband's case announced during my visit by President De León. The Inter-American Human Rights Commission has received testimony about the case and issued preliminary rulings on it. However, I thought President De León's announcement was important because it sent a direct message to all Guatemalan officials, civilian and military, that the President himself was directly concerned with the truth. I also believe that it is important for the long-term improvement of human rights in Guatemala that its national institutions develop greater capacity to investigate abuses. Indeed, it is the specific mandate of the UN verification mission to strengthen national institutions. This new investigation, initiated by President De León, would appear to be unique in its combination of high level national attention with the active participation of the UN verification mission.

There have also been assertions that the US government has secret information about the Bámaca case that should be made public. Signed commitments with criminal penalties prevent US officials from sharing classified information with the public. We have, however, briefed Congressional staff with security clearances about what information we have and made available to President De León and to Jennifer the conclusions of an intelligence review of the case. That review concluded that we now have multiple reports that the Guatemalan military did in fact capture Bámaca alive. We have no reports to indicate that he was alive much beyond the first few weeks after his capture.

Perhaps the most perverse criticism of US policy is that we "need" a peace agreement in Guatemala to pursue our "real" agenda of free trade. From this mistaken perspective, we are said to be ignoring human rights violations in Guatemala because they conflict with the peace process. This is a tragic distortion of our policy and an insult to the United Nations and to the many Guatemalans struggling to advance the peace process at some personal risk.

- First, it is Guatemala, not the United States that requires peace. An armed conflict of thirty years duration has already cost tens of thousands of lives. Guatemalans will be the principal beneficiaries of peace, not the United States.

- Second, a dramatic and lasting reduction in human rights violations is a prime goal of the peace process. A global human rights accord, verified by a UN human rights verification mission now being deployed, was one of the first achievements of the peace process. That accord is leading to the deployment of a 300 person mission with field offices throughout the country. The mission has already received hundreds of denunciations and has begun unannounced inspections of military facilities. It will be producing monthy reports on the condition of human rights in Guatemala.

  Tragically, as the peace process has moved forward, violence has escalated, not decreased. This may seem a contradiction, but is characteristic of many other peace processes from Cambodia and Angola to the Middle East and El Salvador, as those with entrenched interests in war seek to derail the process when breakthroughs occur. The violence is not only from security forces. The URNG has increased dramatically its military operations and the kidnapping for ransom of business leaders. Just this summer, an off-duty officer was kidnapped, tortured, and killed by the guerrillas.

  All of the six countries in the "Friends" group have criticized this violence as damaging to the process. We pressed the UN to deploy its verification mission this Fall despite a suspension of the negotiations and the potential risk posed to mission personnel by the continuing conflict because we wanted to reinforce the message that the violations must cease and to assist Guatemala's own institutional response. I believe that the best course now is to permit the UN verification mission to do its work and to allow MINUGUA and the Guatemalan government's special investigation to address the Bámaca case.

- Finally, I believe that many Guatemalan government, military, and business leaders understand that without peace they may be isolated from the new post-Cold War world emerging in the hemisphere. That is a world in which violence of the kind that has marked Guatemala for too long will send trade and investment elsewhere. Guatemala cannot sign a piece of paper and expect to enter the new world of expanded prosperity and international acceptance. It must build a peace based on democracy and respect for the human rights of all Guatemalans. This is US policy and I believe it merits the support of all of us who want the best for Guatemala.

I have been a student of change in Guatemala for nearly ten years. Today sincere and courageous individuals on both sides of the conflict are struggling to overcome decades of suspicion and construct a new Guatemala together. I have watched this evolution at first hand and I believe the United States is contributing to it. NGOs and human rights groups have played an important role in support of Clinton Administration policy in the region. I hope that some of the clarification I have provided will convince you that our Guatemala policy is a sound one, in our own interest and that of the majority of Guatemalans, and is, therefore, worth supporting.

2. THIS IS A JOINT STATE - DOD MESSAGE.

3. SEVERAL FACTORS HAVE LED THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND DOD TO BELIEVE THAT IT WOULD BE USEFUL FOR USCINCSO TO CONVEY OUR SERIOUS CONCERNS ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, INCLUDING SEVERAL HIGH-PROFILE INDIVIDUAL CASES, DIRECTLY TO GUATEMALA'S MILITARY. THIS VISIT WOULD ALSO SERVE AS AN OPPORTUNITY TO CONSULT WITH THE MILITARY ON A WIDE RANGE OF BILATERAL TOPICS, INCLUDING THE MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE IN HAITI, FUERTES CAMINOS, AND THE ONGOING PEACE NEGOTIATIONS. PRESIDENT DE LEON WILL BE INFORMED OF THE PURPOSE OF THIS VISIT BEFORE THE CINC'S ARRIVAL. THIS MESSAGE REQUESTS THAT GENERAL MCCAFFREY VISIT GUATEMALA TO EXPRESS THE ADMINISTRATION'S CONCERNS TO GUATEMALAN MOD ENRIQUEZ AND ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF GENERAL GONZALEZ TARACENA. SUGGESTED TALKING POINTS ARE IN PARA 10.

4. BACKGROUND: PEACE PROCESS
---

AFTER NEARLY A DECADE OF CIVILIAN RULE, GUATEMALA'S ARMY CONTINUES TO EXERT A GREAT DEAL OF INFLUENCE. THE MILITARY HAS PLAYED A CRUCIAL ROLE IN THE ONGOING PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WITH URNG GUATEMALAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNION) GUERRILLAS. CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN RESOLVING GUATEMALA'S LONG-RUNNING INTERNAL CONFLICT SINCE UN-MEDIATED PEACE TALKS BEGAN IN JANUARY 1994. THE U.S. HAS ALSO PLAYED AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN KEEPING THE TALKS ON TRACK AS ONE OF SIX INTERNATIONAL "FRIENDS" OF THE PEACE

PROCESS. THE PARTIES SIGNED A FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT IN JANUARY 1994, INCLUDING A CALENDAR OF NEGOTIATION TOPICS, TO INCLUDE DISCUSSIONS ON HUMAN RIGHTS, DISPLACED PERSONS, MATTERS AND THE ARMY'S ROLE IN A DEMOCRACY. SO FAR THIS YEAR, AGREEMENTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS, DISPLACED PERSONS AND A TRUTH COMMISSION, CALLED AN HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION, HAVE BEEN SIGNED. THE MARCH 29 HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD PROVIDED FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A UN VERIFICATION MISSION TO STRENGTHEN EXISTING INSTITUTIONS TO IMPROVE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THAT MISSION (ACRONYM: MINUGUA) WAS APPROVED BY THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN SEPTEMBER. A PRELIMINARY MISSION BEGAN WORK IN GUATEMALA IN MID-SEPTEMBER; THE FULL MISSION, WHICH ULTIMATELY WILL EMPLOY OVER 300 PEOPLE, WAS INAUGURATED NOVEMBER 21.

5. THE HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION, WHICH WILL BE ESTABLISHED AFTER A FINAL PEACE ACCORD IS SIGNED, WILL NOT NAME NAMES OF PERPETRATORS OF PAST HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AND ITS FINDINGS WILL NOT HAVE JUDICIAL EFFECT. THE MILITARY WOULD UNDOUBTEDLY NOT HAVE AGREED TO A MORE PROSECUTORIAL COMMISSION. AT THE SAME TIME, MILITARY PERSONNEL EXPRESSED SATISFACTION THAT THE COMMISSION WOULD ALSO BRING TO LIGHT ABUSES COMMITTED BY THE URNG. HOWEVER, ALTHOUGH THE URNG SIGNED THIS ACCORD IN JUNE, THE SUBSEQUENT BACKLASH FROM THEIR TROOPS AND SYMPATHIZERS WAS A MAJOR FACTOR CONTRIBUTING TO STALLING OF THE TALKS FROM JULY TO OCTOBER. NEGOTIATIONS RESUMED IN MEXICO IN OCTOBER TO DISCUSS THE ISSUE OF INDIGENOUS RIGHTS, BUT ENDED INCONCLUSIVELY LAST WEEK. A FINAL PEACE ACCORD IN THE NEAR FUTURE IS BY NO MEANS ASSURED.

6. BACKGROUND: HUMAN RIGHTS

ALTHOUGH THE MILITARY HAS COME A LONG WAY IN TERMS OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND RECOGNITION OF CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY SINCE THE SCORCHED-EARTH CAMPAIGN OF THE EARLY 1980S, THERE ARE CREDIBLE ALLEGATIONS THAT THE SECURITY FORCES CONTINUE TO COMMIT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. IN ADDITION, SEVERAL HIGH-PROFILE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES INVOLVING AMERICAN CITIZENS HAVE NOT BEEN RESOLVED COMPLETELY OR SATISFACTORILY. WHILE FIVE ARMY SPECIALISTS WERE CONVICTED OF THE MURDER OF AMERICAN CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE FWHOSE DEATH AT ARMY HANDS WAS THE PROXIMATE CAUSE OF OUR MILITARY AID CUTOFF IN 1990), A HIGHER-RANKING OFFICER, CAPTAIN HUGO CONTRERAS, ESCAPED FROM ARMY CUSTODY IN 1993. HE REMAINS AT LARGE, DESPITE OUR REPEATED DEMANDS FOR HIS RECAPTURE AND THE LIKELIHOOD THAT AT LEAST SOME GUATEMALAN OFFICERS KNOW WHERE HE IS HIDING.

7. A MORE CONTROVERSIAL BUT NONETHELESS IMPORTANT CASE IS THE DISAPPEARANCE OF GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ, AKA COMANDATE EVERARDO, AFTER A CONFRONTATION WITH THE GUATEMALAN ARMY IN MARCH 1992. ALTHOUGH BAMACA WAS INITIALLY THOUGHT TO HAVE DIED IN BATTLE, WE HAVE REASON TO BELIEVE THAT HE WAS IN FACT CAPTURED BY THE ARMY. WE HAVE NO INFORMATION INDICATING THAT HE WAS ALIVE MUCH BEYOND THE FIRST FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE. THIS CASE HAS ATTRACTED SIGNIFICANT PRESS AND PUBLIC ATTENTION

IN THE U.S. AND GUATEMALA IN THE WAKE OF A MONTH-LONG HUNGER STRIKE BY BAMACA'S AMERICAN CITIZEN COMMON-LAW WIFE, JENNIFER HARBURY, WHO SAYS SHE WILL FILE CRIMINAL CHARGES AGAINST MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES, INCLUDING GENERAL ENRIQUEZ, FOR RESPONSIBILITY FOR BAMACA'S FATE. THE USG HAS MADE CLEAR ITS INTEREST IN THIS CASE REPEATEDLY AND AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS. PRESIDENT DE LEON ON THE MARGINS OF THE ZEDILLO INAUGURATION. DE LEON ALSO RAISED THE CASE WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON AT THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS.

8. THE BAMACA CASE CAN SUPPORT OUR OVERALL HUMAN RIGHTS OBJECTIVES IN THAT IT GOES TO THE ISSUE OF IMPUNITY AND RESPECT FOR THE FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS OF POLITICAL PRISONERS. IT CAN ALSO SUPPORT THE PEACE PROCESS INSOFAR AS IT PRODS THE MILITARY TO HONOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS AGREEMENT SIGNED LAST MARCH. AT THE SAME TIME, PUSHING TO

CLARIFY A CASE OF A VETERAN GUERRILLA LEADER PRESUMED TO HAVE BEEN KILLED TWO YEARS AGO UNNERVES THE ARMY SINCE IT SEEMS TO REOPEN THE POSSIBILITY THAT NAMES WILL BE NAMED IN PAST ABUSES, A POINT THE ARMY BELIEVED HAD BEEN SETTLED IN THE JUNE ACCORD ON THE HISTORICAL COMMISSION. THIS COULD UNDERMINE MILITARY SUPPORT FOR THE NEGOTIATIONS. HOWEVER, MOD ENRIQUEZ TOLD PRESIDENT DE LEON THAT THE ARMY WOULD COOPERATE IN THE GOG'S ONGOING INVESTIGATION INTO BAMACA'S WHEREABOUTS, AND MINUGUA PERSONNEL WERE ALLOWED

TO VISIT ARMY BASES TO SEARCH FOR EVIDENCE IN LATE NOVEMBER.

9. CINC VISIT

---

WE BELIEVE THAT A VISIT TO GUATEMALA BY CINC MCCAFFREY WITH GENERAL ENRIQUEZ AND GENERAL GONZALEZ TARACENA WOULD BE AN EXTREMELY USEFUL STEP AT THIS JUNCTURE. IT IS IMPORTANT THAT OUR STRONG INTEREST IN HUMAN RIGHTS, AND THE BAMACA CASE IN PARTICULAR, NOT BE MISCONSTRUED AS INDICATIVE OF SIDING WITH THE URNG, AS IT WOULD DAMAGE OUR ABILITY TO SUPPORT THE PEACE PROCESS. AT THE SAME TIME, A DIRECT COMMUNICATION OF A PERSON OF THE CINC'S RANK AND STATURE WILL CARRY SIGNIFICANT WEIGHT WITH THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY AND WILL CONVEY THE SERIOUSNESS OF OUR INTEREST IN THESE ISSUES. IN ADDITION, A PRESENTATION BY GENERAL MCCAFFREY WILL ENSURE THAT ENRIQUEZ AND GONZALEZ TARACENA REALIZE THAT THE USG SPEAKS WITH ONE VOICE ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN GENERAL AND THIS CASE IN PARTICULAR. THE VISIT CAN BE PORTRAYED PUBLICLY AS A CONSULTATION ON A WIDE RANGE OF BILATERAL ISSUES, INCLUDING HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE PEACE PROCESS TOPIC ON THE ROLE OF THE MILITARY. WE APPRECIATE THE CINC'S SCHEDULING A VISIT AT HIS EARLIEST CONVENIENCE, IN LIGHT OF OTHER OBLIGATIONS HE HAS, TO CARRY THIS MESSAGE TO THE MOD AND CHIEF OF STAFF.

10. TALKING POINTS

BEGIN TALKING POINTS:

-- AS A RESULT OF RECENT HISTORIC AGREEMENTS INCLUDING NAFTA, GATT AND A VARIETY OF INITIATIVES OF THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS, THE NATIONS OF THIS HEMISPHERE ARE BUILDING A DYNAMIC NEW PARTNERSHIP WHICH WILL BRING ENHANCED PROSPERITY AND WELL-BEING TO ALL OF OUR PEOPLE. THE

GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT DE LEON HAS DEMONSTRATED ITS CAPACITY TO PLAY AN IMPORTANT LEADERSHIP ROLE IN THE PROCESS.

-- WE MUST NOT LOSE SIGHT OF THE CHANGES THIS HISTORIC PROCESS IMPLIES FOR EACH OF OUR COUNTRIES. ALL INSTITUTIONS IN OUR SOCIETIES WILL BE REQUIRED TO UNDERGO SIGNIFICANT LEVELS OF CHANGE TO ENABLE THEM TO CONTRIBUTE FULLY TO THE OVERALL PROCESS. A KEY ELEMENT OF THIS POSITIVE CHANGE IS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A PROGRESSIVE HUMAN RIGHTS ENVIRONMENT THAT ALLOWS ALL MEMBERS OF OUR SOCIETIES TO LIVE, WORK, AND INTERACT FREELY AND WITHOUT FEAR.

-- THE UNITED STATES IS VERY INTERESTED IN HELPING GUATEMALA TO STRENGTHEN ITS DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS, PROMOTE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, AND ENHANCE BROAD-BASED ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. BY SUPPORTING THE PEACE PROCESS, WE HOPE TO ACCOMPLISH THOSE LONG-TERM GOALS, AND WE HAVE WELCOMED THE ROLE THAT THE ARMY, AND YOU PERSONALLY, HAVE PLAYED IN FOSTERING THE NEGOTIATIONS.

-- IN ADDITION TO BRINGING BENEFITS TO GUATEMALAN SOCIETY, A FINAL PEACE ACCORD WILL NECESSARILY BRING CHANGES TO THE MILITARY. WE KNOW THE CHALLENGES THAT FACE THE MILITARY AT A TIME OF TRANSITION. OUR OWN ARMED FORCES HAVE HAD TO UNDERSTAND OUR ROLE IN A POST-COLD WAR ERA; AND WE UNDERSTAND THAT YOU ARE ALREADY PLANNING FOR THE ARMY'S ROLE IN PEACETIME.

-- A SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION TO PEACE REQUIRES THAT THE MILITARY FACE UP TO THE FACT THAT SOME ELEMENTS HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR VIOLATIONS OF FUNDAMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE PAST AND CONTINUE TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR VIOLATIONS IN THE PRESENT. THE WORLD COMMUNITY IS NO LONGER TOLERANT OF THESE SITUATIONS. THE SAME HOLDS TRUE FOR THE UNITED STATES, PARTICULARLY IN THOSE CASES THAT DIRECTLY AFFECT U.S. CITIZENS.

-- U.S. NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS ARE ARGUING STRONGLY AND PERSUASIVELY THAT OUR MILITARY-TO-MILITARY CONTACTS MUST SERVE TO PROMOTE HUMAN RIGHTS AND PEACE AND SHOULD BE CURTAILED IF THEY DO NOT DO SO. WE MUST WORK CONSTRUCTIVELY TO EXPLAIN THE CONTRIBUTION TO PEACE WE CAN MAKE BY BEING POSITIVELY INVOLVED WITH GUATEMALA DURING THIS CRITICAL PERIOD.

-- GENERAL ENRIQUEZ, YOU ARE IN A POSITION TO APPRECIATE

THE VERY REAL LIMITS THAT EXIST TO THE KIND OF COOPERATION THAT WE ARE WILLING TO PROVIDE THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY IF THERE IS NO SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS IN THE INVESTIGATION AND RESOLUTION OF KNOWN CASES OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

-- IN THE CASE OF MICHAEL DEVINE CASE, SEVERAL SENIOR U.S. GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS HAVE TOLD YOU THAT IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT EVERY EFFORT BE MADE TO FIND CAPTAIN CONTRERAS AND BRING HIM TO JUSTICE.

-- REGARDING EFRAIN BAMACA, OUR INTEREST IN THE CASE HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH HIS AFFILIATION WITH THE URNG. HOWEVER, THE FACT THAT HE WAS A GUERRILLA WOULD NOT EXCUSE DENYING HIM THE BASIC HUMAN RIGHTS GUARANTEED UNDER GUATEMALAN AND INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW.

-- WE COMMEND YOU ON THE COMMITMENT THAT YOU MADE TO PRESI-DENT DE LEON TO PROVIDE COMPLETE MILITARY COOPERATION IN THE ONGOING INVESTIGATION INTO THIS CASE, AND TO TAKE APPROPRIATE ACTION IF ANY ARMY PERSONNEL ARE IMPLICATED IN BAMACA'S DEATH. WE ENCOURAGE YOU UNCOVER AND PROVIDE ANY RELEVANT INFORMATION AND TO PURSUE VIGOROUSLY ALL LEADS TO ENSURE THAT THE TRUTH COMES OUT. ALTHOUGH IT MAY BE PAINFUL, THE INSTITUTION WILL BE STRENGTHENED IN THE PROCESS.

-- WE UNDERSTAND THAT MINUGUA PERSONNEL HAVE ALREADY VISITED MILITARY INSTALLATIONS IN CONNECTION WITH THIS CASE AND WE WELCOME THAT KIND OF COOPERATION.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
ARA/NEA REARCS

-- THE PROCESS OF RECONCILIATION WILL BE AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE AFTERMATH OF THE PEACE PROCESS. OPENING THE ARMY UP TO GREATER SCRUTINY WILL NOT WEAKEN, BUT RATHER STRENGTHEN IT AS AN INSTITUTION.

-- WE KNOW THAT THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY IS FULLY CAPABLE OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT THAT CAN BRING HONOR TO YOUR COUNTRY. THE OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE OF GUATEMALA'S CONTINGENT IN THE MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE IN HAITI IS MAKING A MAJOR CONTRIBUTION TO RESTORING DEMOCRACY TO HAITI AND ENSURING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF ITS PEOPLE. THE U.S. ATLANTIC COMMAND CONSIDERS THE GUATEMALAN CONTINGENT TO BE ONE OF THE BEST IN THE MNF.

-- ADDITIONALLY, OUR RECENT MULTILATERAL EXERCISE IN PUERTO RICO INDICATES THE SUPERB POTENTIAL WHICH EXISTS FOR REGIONAL MILITARY COOPERATION AMONG GUATEMALA, THE U.S., AND THE OTHER COUNTRIES OF CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

-- THE GUATEMALAN ARMY MAY FIND IT HARDER TO IMPLEMENT THE PEACE THAN IT WAS TO FIGHT THE WAR. PEACE WILL REQUIRE A PROFESSIONAL INSTITUTION AND EXCELLENT LEADERSHIP. WE ARE CONFIDENT THAT THE GUATEMALAN ARMY CAN RISE TO THE TASK AND THAT YOUR LEADERSHIP CAN HELP RESOLVE SHORT-TERM CHALLENGES TO THE PEACE PROCESS.

END TALKING POINTS.

11. USSOUTHCOM SHOULD WORK WITH EMBASSY GUATEMALA TO DEVELOP PROPOSED PUBLIC AFFAIRS GUIDANCE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. TO ENSURE THAT THE FRAMEWORK IS IN PLACE FOR MISSION SUCCESS, ATTENTION SHOULD BE PAID TO COORDINATED PUBLIC PORTRAYAL OF THE VISIT BY THE USG, BOTH IN WASHINGTON AND IN GUATEMALA, AND TO ANTICIPATING PRESS INTEREST LIKELY TO BE GENERATED WHEN THE VISIT BECOMES PUBLIC KNOWLEDGE. PUBLIC AFFAIRS GUIDANCE SHOULD BE FORWARDED TO DOD/OSD/PA FOR DOD AND INTERAGENCY APPROVAL.

GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT DE LEON HAS DEMONSTRATED ITS CAPACITY TO PLAY AN IMPORTANT LEADERSHIP ROLE IN THE PROCESS.

-- WE MUST NOT LOSE SIGHT OF THE CHANGES THIS HISTORIC PROCESS IMPLIES FOR EACH OF OUR COUNTRIES. ALL INSTITUTIONS IN OUR SOCIETIES WILL BE REQUIRED TO UNDERGO SIGNIFICANT LEVELS OF CHANGE TO ENABLE THEM TO CONTRIBUTE FULLY TO THE OVERALL PROCESS. A KEY ELEMENT OF THIS POSITIVE CHANGE IS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A PROGRESSIVE HUMAN RIGHTS ENVIRONMENT THAT ALLOWS ALL MEMBERS OF OUR SOCIETIES TO LIVE, WORK, AND INTERACT FREELY AND WITHOUT FEAR.

-- THE UNITED STATES IS VERY INTERESTED IN HELPING GUATEMALA TO STRENGTHEN ITS DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS,

PROMOTE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, AND ENHANCE BROAD-BASED ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. BY SUPPORTING THE PEACE PROCESS, WE HOPE TO ACCOMPLISH THOSE LONG-TERM GOALS, AND WE HAVE WELCOMED THE ROLE THAT THE ARMY, AND YOU PERSONALLY, HAVE PLAYED IN FOSTERING THE NEGOTIATIONS.

-- IN ADDITION TO BRINGING BENEFITS TO GUATEMALAN SOCIETY, A FINAL PEACE ACCORD WILL NECESSARILY BRING CHANGES TO THE MILITARY. WE KNOW THE CHALLENGES THAT FACE THE MILITARY AT A TIME OF TRANSITION. OUR OWN ARMED FORCES HAVE HAD TO UNDERSTAND OUR ROLE IN A POST-COLD WAR ERA AND WE UNDERSTAND THAT YOU ARE ALREADY PLANNING FOR THE ARMY'S ROLE IN PEACETIME.

-- A SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION TO PEACE REQUIRES THAT THE MILITARY FACE UP TO THE FACT THAT SOME ELEMENTS HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR VIOLATIONS OF FUNDAMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE PAST AND CONTINUE TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR VIOLATIONS IN THE PRESENT. THE WORLD COMMUNITY IS NO LONGER TOLERANT OF THESE SITUATIONS. THE SAME HOLDS TRUE FOR THE UNITED STATES, PARTICULARLY IN THOSE CASES THAT DIRECTLY AFFECT U.S. CITIZENS.

-- U.S. NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS ARE ARGUING STRONGLY AND PERSUASIVELY THAT OUR MILITARY-TO-MILITARY CONTACTS MUST SERVE TO PROMOTE HUMAN RIGHTS AND PEACE AND SHOULD BE CURTAILED IF THEY DO NOT DO SO. WE MUST WORK CONSTRUCTIVELY TO EXPLAIN THE CONTRIBUTION TO PEACE WE CAN MAKE BY BEING POSITIVELY INVOLVED WITH GUATEMALA DURING THIS CRITICAL PERIOD.

-- GENERAL ENRIQUEZ, YOU ARE IN A POSITION TO APPRECIATE

THE VERY REAL LIMITS THAT EXIST TO THE KIND OF COOPERATION THAT WE ARE WILLING TO PROVIDE THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY IF THERE IS NO SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS IN THE INVESTIGATION AND RESOLUTION OF KNOWN CASES OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

-- IN THE CASE OF MICHAEL DEVINE CASE, SEVERAL SENIOR U.S. GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS HAVE TOLD YOU THAT IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT EVERY EFFORT BE MADE TO FIND CAPTAIN CONTRERAS AND BRING HIM TO JUSTICE.

-- REGARDING EFRAIN BAMACA, OUR INTEREST IN THE CASE HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH HIS AFFILIATION WITH THE URNG. HOWEVER, THE FACT THAT HE WAS A GUERRILLA WOULD NOT EXCUSE DENYING HIM THE BASIC HUMAN RIGHTS GUARANTEED UNDER GUATEMALAN AND INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW.

-- WE COMMEND YOU ON THE COMMITMENT THAT YOU MADE TO PRESI-DENT DE LEON TO PROVIDE COMPLETE MILITARY COOPERATION IN THE ONGOING INVESTIGATION INTO THIS CASE, AND TO TAKE APPROPRIATE ACTION IF ANY ARMY PERSONNEL ARE IMPLICATED IN BAMACA'S DEATH. WE ENCOURAGE YOU UNCOVER AND PROVIDE ANY RELEVANT INFORMATION AND TO PURSUE VIGOROUSLY ALL LEADS TO ENSURE THAT THE TRUTH COMES OUT. ALTHOUGH IT MAY BE PAINFUL, THE INSTITUTION WILL BE STRENGTHENED IN THE PROCESS.

-- WE UNDERSTAND THAT MINUGUA PERSONNEL HAVE ALREADY VISITED MILITARY INSTALLATIONS IN CONNECTION WITH THIS CASE AND WE WELCOME THAT KIND OF COOPERATION.

-- THE PROCESS OF RECONCILIATION WILL BE AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE AFTERMATH OF THE PEACE PROCESS. OPENING THE ARMY UP TO GREATER SCRUTINY WILL NOT WEAKEN, BUT RATHER STRENGTHEN IT AS AN INSTITUTION.

-- WE KNOW THAT THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY IS FULLY CAPABLE OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT THAT CAN BRING HONOR TO YOUR COUNTRY. THE OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE OF GUATEMALA'S CONTINGENT IN THE MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE IN HAITI IS MAKING A MAJOR CONTRIBUTION TO RESTORING DEMOCRACY TO HAITI AND ENSURING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF ITS PEOPLE. THE U.S. ATLANTIC COMMAND CONSIDERS THE GUATEMALAN CONTINGENT TO BE ONE OF THE BEST IN THE MNF.

-- ADDITIONALLY, OUR RECENT MULTILATERAL EXERCISE IN PUERTO RICO INDICATES THE SUPERB POTENTIAL WHICH EXISTS FOR REGIONAL MILITARY COOPERATION AMONG GUATEMALA, THE U.S., AND THE OTHER COUNTRIES OF CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

-- THE GUATEMALAN ARMY MAY FIND IT HARDER TO IMPLEMENT THE PEACE THAN IT WAS TO FIGHT THE WAR. PEACE WILL REQUIRE A PROFESSIONAL INSTITUTION AND EXCELLENT LEADERSHIP. WE ARE CONFIDENT THAT THE GUATEMALAN ARMY CAN RISE TO THE TASK AND THAT YOUR LEADERSHIP CAN HELP RESOLVE SHORT-TERM CHALLENGES TO THE PEACE PROCESS.

END TALKING POINTS.

11. USSOUTHCOM SHOULD WORK WITH EMBASSY GUATEMALA TO DEVELOP PROPOSED PUBLIC AFFAIRS GUIDANCE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. TO ENSURE THAT THE FRAMEWORK IS IN PLACE FOR MISSION SUCCESS, ATTENTION SHOULD BE PAID TO COORDINATED PUBLIC PORTRAYAL OF THE VISIT BY THE USG, BOTH IN WASHINGTON AND IN GUATEMALA, AND TO ANTICIPATING PRESS INTEREST LIKELY TO BE GENERATED WHEN THE VISIT BECOMES PUBLIC KNOWLEDGE. PUBLIC AFFAIRS GUIDANCE SHOULD BE FORWARDED TO DOD/OSD/PA FOR DOD AND INTERAGENCY APPROVAL.

2. THIS IS A JOINT STATE - DOD MESSAGE.

3. SEVERAL FACTORS HAVE LED THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND DOD TO BELIEVE THAT IT WOULD BE USEFUL FOR USCINCSO TO CONVEY OUR SERIOUS CONCERNS ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, INCLUDING SEVERAL HIGH-PROFILE INDIVIDUAL CASES, DIRECTLY TO GUATEMALA'S MILITARY. THIS VISIT WOULD ALSO SERVE AS AN OPPORTUNITY TO CONSULT WITH THE MILITARY ON A WIDE RANGE OF BILATERAL TOPICS, INCLUDING THE MULTI-NATIONAL FORCE IN HAITI, FUERTES CAMINOS, AND THE ONGOING PEACE NEGOTIATIONS. PRESIDENT DE LEON WILL BE INFORMED OF THE PURPOSE OF THIS VISIT BEFORE THE CINC'S ARRIVAL. THIS MESSAGE REQUESTS THAT GENERAL MCCAFFREY VISIT GUATEMALA TO EXPRESS THE ADMINISTRATION'S CONCERNS TO GUATEMALAN MOD ENRIQUEZ AND ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF GENERAL GONZALEZ TARACENA. SUGGESTED TALKING POINTS ARE IN PARA 10.

AFTER NEARLY A DECADE OF CIVILIAN RULE, GUATEMALA'S ARMY CONTINUES TO EXERT A GREAT DEAL OF INFLUENCE. THE MILITARY HAS PLAYED A CRUCIAL ROLE IN THE ONGOING PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WITH URNG GUATEMALAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY

UNIONI GUERRILLAS. CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN RESOLVING GUATEMALA'S LONG-RUNNING INTERNAL CONFLICT SINCE UN-MEDIATED PEACE TALKS BEGAN IN JANUARY 1994. THE U.S. HAS ALSO PLAYED AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN KEEPING THE TALKS ON TRACK AS ONE OF SIX INTERNATIONAL "FRIENDS" OF THE PEACE

PROCESS. THE PARTIES SIGNED A FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT IN JANUARY 1994, INCLUDING A CALENDAR OF NEGOTIATION TOPICS, TO INCLUDE DISCUSSIONS ON HUMAN RIGHTS, DISPLACED PERSONS, INDIGENOUS ISSUES, SOCIO-ECONOMIC REFORM AND AGRARIAN MATTERS AND THE ARMY'S ROLE IN A DEMOCRACY. SO FAR THIS YEAR, AGREEMENTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS, DISPLACED PERSONS AND A TRUTH COMMISSION, CALLED AN HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION, HAVE BEEN SIGNED. THE MARCH 29 HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD PROVIDED FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A UN VERIFICATION MISSION TO STRENGTHEN EXISTING INSTITUTIONS TO IMPROVE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THAT MISSION (ACRONYM: MINUGUA) WAS APPROVED BY THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN SEPTEMBER. A PRELIMINARY MISSION BEGAN WORK IN GUATEMALA IN MID-SEPTEMBER; THE FULL MISSION, WHICH ULTIMATELY WILL EMPLOY OVER 300 PEOPLE, WAS INAUGURATED NOVEMBER 21.

5. THE HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION, WHICH WILL BE ESTABLISHED AFTER A FINAL PEACE ACCORD IS SIGNED, WILL NOT NAME NAMES OF PERPETRATORS OF PAST HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AND ITS FINDINGS WILL NOT HAVE JUDICIAL EFFECT. THE MILITARY WOULD UNDOUBTEDLY NOT HAVE AGREED TO A MORE PROSECUTORIAL COMMISSION. AT THE SAME TIME, MILITARY PERSONNEL EXPRESSED SATISFACTION THAT THE COMMISSION WOULD ALSO BRING TO LIGHT ABUSES COMMITTED BY THE URNG. HOWEVER, ALTHOUGH THE URNG SIGNED THIS ACCORD IN JUNE, THE SUBSEQUENT BACKLASH FROM THEIR TROOPS AND SYMPATHIZERS WAS A MAJOR FACTOR CONTRIBUTING TO STALLING OF THE TALKS FROM JULY TO OCTOBER. NEGOTIATIONS RESUMED IN MEXICO IN OCTOBER TO DISCUSS THE ISSUE OF INDIGENOUS RIGHTS, BUT ENDED INCONCLUSIVELY LAST WEEK. A FINAL PEACE ACCORD IN THE NEAR FUTURE IS BY NO MEANS ASSURED.

ALTHOUGH THE MILITARY HAS COME A LONG WAY IN TERMS OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND RECOGNITION OF CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY SINCE THE SCORCHED-EARTH CAMPAIGN OF THE EARLY 1980S, THERE ARE CREDIBLE ALLEGATIONS THAT THE SECURITY FORCES CONTINUE TO COMMIT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. IN ADDITION, SEVERAL HIGH-PROFILE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES INVOLVING AMERICAN CITIZENS HAVE NOT BEEN

RESOLVED COMPLETELY OR SATISFACTORILY. WHILE FIVE ARMY SPECIALISTS WERE CONVICTED OF THE MURDER OF AMERICAN CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE FWHOSE DEATH AT ARMY HANDS WAS THE PROXIMATE CAUSE OF OUR MILITARY AID CUTOFF IN 19901, A HIGHER-RANKING OFFICER, CAPTAIN HUGO CONTRERAS, ESCAPED FROM ARMY CUSTODY IN 1993. HE REMAINS AT LARGE, DESPITE OUR REPEATED DEMANDS FOR HIS RECAPTURE AND THE LIKELIHOOD THAT AT LEAST SOME GUATEMALAN OFFICERS KNOW WHERE HE IS HIDING.

7. A MORE CONTROVERSIAL BUT NONETHELESS IMPORTANT CASE IS THE DISAPPEARANCE OF GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ, AKA COMANDATE EVERARDO, AFTER A CONFRONTATION WITH THE GUATEMALAN ARMY IN MARCH 1992. ALTHOUGH BAMACA WAS INITIALLY THOUGHT TO HAVE DIED IN BATTLE, WE HAVE REASON TO BELIEVE THAT HE WAS IN FACT CAPTURED BY THE ARMY. WE HAVE NO INFORMATION INDICATING THAT HE WAS ALIVE MUCH BEYOND THE FIRST FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE. THIS CASE HAS ATTRACTED SIGNIFICANT PRESS AND PUBLIC ATTENTION

IN THE U.S. AND GUATEMALA IN THE WAKE OF A MONTH-LONG HUNGER STRIKE BY BAMACA'S AMERICAN CITIZEN COMMON-LAW WIFE, JENNIFER HARBURY, WHO SAYS SHE WILL FILE CRIMINAL CHARGES AGAINST MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES, INCLUDING GENERAL ENRIQUEZ, FOR RESPONSIBILITY FOR BAMACA'S FATE. THE USG HAS MADE CLEAR ITS INTEREST IN THIS CASE REPEATEDLY AND AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS. AMBASSADOR MCAFEE HAS RAISED THE ISSUE ON MANY OCCASIONS WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON AND OTHER GOG OFFICIALS; DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR DEFENSE JARAMILLO RAISED IT LAST AUGUST WITH MOD ENRIQUEZ; AND VICE PRESIDENT GORE DISCUSSED IT WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON ON THE MARGINS OF THE ZEDILLO INAUGURATION. DE LEON ALSO RAISED THE CASE WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON AT THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS.

8. THE BAMACA CASE CAN SUPPORT OUR OVERALL HUMAN RIGHTS OBJECTIVES IN THAT IT GOES TO THE ISSUE OF IMPUNITY AND RESPECT FOR THE FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS OF POLITICAL PRISONERS. IT CAN ALSO SUPPORT THE PEACE PROCESS INSOFAR AS IT PRODS THE MILITARY TO HONOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS AGREEMENT SIGNED LAST MARCH. AT THE SAME TIME, PUSHING TO CLARIFY A CASE OF A VETERAN GUERRILLA LEADER PRESUMED TO HAVE BEEN KILLED TWO YEARS AGO UNNERVES THE ARMY SINCE IT SEEMS TO REOPEN THE POSSIBILITY THAT NAMES WILL BE NAMED IN PAST ABUSES, A POINT THE ARMY BELIEVED HAD BEEN SETTLED IN THE JUNE ACCORD ON THE HISTORICAL COMMISSION. THIS COULD UNDERMINE MILITARY SUPPORT FOR THE NEGOTIATIONS. HOWEVER, MOD ENRIQUEZ TOLD PRESIDENT DE LEON THAT THE ARMY WOULD COOPERATE IN THE GOG'S ONGOING INVESTIGATION INTO BAMACA'S WHEREABOUTS, AND MINUGUA PERSONNEL WERE ALLOWED

TO VISIT ARMY BASES TO SEARCH FOR EVIDENCE IN LATE NOVEMBER.

9. CINC VISIT

WE BELIEVE THAT A VISIT TO GUATEMALA BY CINC MCCAFFREY WITH GENERAL ENRIQUEZ AND GENERAL GONZALEZ TARACENA WOULD BE AN EXTREMELY USEFUL STEP AT THIS JUNCTURE. IT IS IMPORTANT THAT OUR STRONG INTEREST IN HUMAN RIGHTS, AND THE BAMACA CASE IN PARTICULAR, NOT BE MISCONSTRUED AS INDICATIVE OF SIDING WITH THE URNG, AS IT WOULD DAMAGE OUR ABILITY TO SUPPORT THE PEACE PROCESS. AT THE SAME TIME, A DIRECT COMMUNICATION OF A PERSON OF THE CINC'S RANK AND STATURE WILL CARRY SIGNIFICANT WEIGHT WITH THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY AND WILL CONVEY THE SERIOUSNESS OF OUR INTEREST IN THESE ISSUES. IN ADDITION, A PRESENTATION BY GENERAL MCCAFFREY WILL ENSURE THAT ENRIQUEZ AND GONZALEZ TARACENA REALIZE THAT THE USG SPEAKS WITH ONE VOICE ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN GENERAL AND THIS CASE IN PARTICULAR. THE VISIT CAN BE PORTRAYED PUBLICLY AS A CONSULTATION ON A WIDE RANGE OF BILATERAL ISSUES, INCLUDING HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE PEACE PROCESS TOPIC ON THE ROLE OF THE MILITARY. WE APPRECIATE THE CINC'S SCHEDULING A VISIT AT HIS EARLIEST CONVENIENCE, IN LIGHT OF OTHER OBLIGATIONS HE HAS, TO CARRY THIS MESSAGE TO THE MOD AND CHIEF OF STAFF.

10. TALKING POINTS

BEGIN TALKING POINTS:
-- AS A RESULT OF RECENT HISTORIC AGREEMENTS INCLUDING NAFTA, GATT AND A VARIETY OF INITIATIVES OF THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS, THE NATIONS OF THIS HEMISPHERE ARE BUILDING A DYNAMIC NEW PARTNERSHIP WHICH WILL BRING ENHANCED PROSPERITY AND WELL-BEING TO ALL OF OUR PEOPLE. 1. LOU - NOFORN -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. FOLLOWING IS THE MISSION'S EDITED VERSION OF THE DEPARTMENT'S VERSION 1 1994 COUNTRY HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT FOR GUATEMALA (REFTEL).

3. GUATEMALA'S 1985 CONSTITUTION CALLS FOR ELECTION BY UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE OF A ONE TERM PRESIDENT AND A UNICAMERAL CONGRESS. IT ALSO MANDATES AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY AND A HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO IS ELECTED BY AND REPORTS TO THE CONGRESS. ON JUNE 5, 1993, CONGRESS ELECTED THEN HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO TO FINISH THE PRESIDENTIAL TERM OF JORGE SERRANO, WHO HAD BEEN CONSTITUTIONALLY DEPOSED FROM OFFICE FOLLOWING HIS ATTEMPT TO SEIZE FULL POWER. PRESIDENT DE LEON LAUNCHED AN ANTI-CORRUPTION CAMPAIGN THAT LED TO A POLITICAL CONFRONTATION WITH THE LEGISLATURE AND SUPREME COURT, BOTH WIDELY SEEN AS CORRUPT. THIS CONFRONTATION WAS FINALLY RESOLVED WITH A JANUARY 30 REFERENDUM ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES, WHICH LED TO NEW CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS IN AUGUST AND THE OCTOBER REPLACEMENT OF THE SUPREME COURT.

4. THE ARMED FORCES OPERATE WITH CONSIDERABLE INSTITUTIONAL AND LEGAL AUTONOMY, PARTICULARLY IN SECURITY AND MILITARY MATTERS. WITH THE ENTRY INTO

FORCE OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, MILITARY PERSONNEL ACCUSED OF COMMITTING CIVIL CRIMES ARE SUBJECT TO TRIAL IN CIVILIAN COURTS. THE 43,000-MAN ARMY, WHICH HAS RESPONSIBILITY FOR NATIONAL SECURITY, HAS FOUGHT A LEFTIST INSURGENCY FOR MORE THAN THREE DECADES. THE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT OVERSEES THE NATIONAL POLICE AND THE TREASURY POLICE, WHICH SHARE RESPONSIBILITY FOR INTERNAL SECURITY WITH THE ARMY. IN MARCH PRESIDENT DE LEON APPOINTED THE THEN-HEAD OF ARMY INTELLIGENCE AS VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT, REVERSING A TREND HE BEGAN UPON TAKING OFFICE OF REMOVING MILITARY PERSONNEL FROM CIVILIAN LAW ENFORCEMENT POSITIONS, BUT REMOVED HIM AT THE END OF THE YEAR. IN 1994, THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SECRETARIAT OF INTELLIGENCE, A CIVILIAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE. THIS IS INTENDED TO DIMINISH PRESIDENTIAL RELIANCE ON MILITARY INTELLIGENCE. (COMMENT: PART OF OUR ORIGINAL LANGUAGE SHOULD BE REINSERTED TO ADDRESS THE LHRC'S CRITIQUE THAT A NEW CIVILIAN INTELLIGENCE ORGANIZATION HAS BEEN CREATED. WE CONCUR WITH THE DEPT.'S DECISION TO NOT COMMENT ON WHAT HAPPENED TO THE OLD INTELLIGENCE FILES.)

5. AN ESTIMATED 430,000 MEN SERVE IN CIVIL SELF-DEFENSE COMMITTEES CALLED CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS (PAC'S), SOME OF WHICH CONDUCT COUNTERINSURGENCY PATROLS IN RURAL AREAS. ALTHOUGH THESE PACS ARE OSTENSIBLY VOLUNTARY, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT IN SOME REGIONS PAC MEMBERS WERE COMPELLED TO JOIN THE PATROLS, IN VIOLATION OF THE CONSTITUTION. SECURITY FORCES AND ESPECIALLY PAC'S AND CIVILIAN MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, WHO ARE THE INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN THE PAC'S AND THE ARMED FORCES, COMMITTED NUMEROUS SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

6. THE GOVERNMENT AND THE LEFTIST GUATEMALA NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNITY (URNG) INSURGENTS RESUMED PEACE TALKS IN JANUARY AND REACHED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD IN MARCH. THE AGREEMENT, WHICH TOOK FORCE IMMEDIATELY, LED TO THE NOVEMBER INTRODUCTION OF A U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION (MINUGUA) INTO GUATEMALA. AT YEAR'S END PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WERE CONTINUING.

7. THE AGRICULTURE-BASED, PRIVATE SECTOR-ORIENTED ECONOMY WAS PROJECTED TO GROW APPROXIMATELY 4 PERCENT IN REAL TERMS IN 1994, WHICH WOULD PRODUCE AN INCREASE IN PER CAPITA INCOME OF ABOUT 1 PERCENT. INFLATION WAS EXPECTED TO EXCEED 12 PERCENT. THERE IS A MARKED DISPARITY IN INCOME DISTRIBUTION AND POVERTY IS PERVASIVE, PARTICULARLY IN THE LARGE INDIGENOUS COMMUNITY.

8. WHILE HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS NOW HAVE GREATER FREEDOM TO REPORT, COMMENT AND DENOUNCE ABUSES, STATISTICS PREPARED BY THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE, UTILIZING MEDIA REPORTS AND INTERVIEWS WITH VICTIMS, SUGGEST A SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE IN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS COMPARED WITH THE SAME PERIOD IN 1993. (COMMENT: WE BELIEVE THIS LANGUAGE, TAKEN IN PART FROM OUR ORIGINAL SUBMISSION, CONTAINS THE TEXTUAL BACKGROUND THE LHRC CRITIQUE SAYS WAS LACKING IN OUR 1993 REPORT. ADDITIONALLY, WE PREFER TO CITE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE STATISTICS AND COMMENTARY SINCE THE CHURCH OFFICE IS MORE RELIABLE AND BETTER MANAGED THAN THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE WHICH CONTINUES TO SUFFER FROM BAD MANAGEMENT, POOR LEADERSHIP AND A BACK SEAT APPROACH TO HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA). THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE, WHICH COMPILES DATA BASED ON PERSONAL INTERVIEWS WITH VICTIMS AND THEIR FAMILIES, NOTED THAT REPORTS OF HUMAN RIGHTS COMPLAINTS FILED IN THAT OFFICE DOUBLED IN 1993. (COMMENT: THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE CAN ONLY COMMENT ON COMPLAINTS FILED IN ITS OFFICE, THE VAST MAJORITY OF WHICH DO NOT QUALIFY AS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS UNDER THE U.N. DEFINITION; MOST REMAIN UNVERIFIED AND UNINVESTIGATED BY THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE.). MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND MEMBERS OF THE ARMY, PAC'S, POLICE, AND GUERRILLAS, AS WELL AS EXTREMIST GROUPS OF THE LEFT AND RIGHT WINGS, COMMITTED THE MAJORITY OF VIOLATIONS, INCLUDING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, POLITICAL KIDNAPINGS, DEATH THREATS, AND FORCED RECRUITMENT. POLITICAL KILLINGS, FOR EXAMPLE, CONTINUED AT AN ALARMING RATE, AND THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THEM ADEQUATELY OR TO BRING PERPETRATORS TO JUSTICE. UNKNOWN PERPETRATORS INCREASED ATTACKS ON LABOR UNION LEADERS AND MEMBERS, INCLUDING KILLINGS, DEATH THREATS, PHYSICAL ABUSE, AND OTHER FORMS OF MISTREATMENT AND HARASSMENT (COMMENT: WHILE SECURITY FORCES HAVE OVERREACTED AND, USED EXCESS FORCE IN CERTAIN AREAS, E.G. "LA EXACTA", THERE IS LITTLE EVIDENCE THAT THEY AS AN INSTITUTION ARE ACTING IN SECRET TO VIOLATE THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF WORKERS). GUERRILLA ABUSES INCLUDED MURDER, KIDNAPINGS, THE WIDESPREAD USE OF MINES AND EXPLOSIVES IN CIVILIAN AREAS, FORCED RECRUITMENT OF CHILDREN, AND REPRISAL ATTACKS AGAINST PERSONS WHO REFUSED TO PAY EXTORTION. BOTH LEGAL AND SOCIETAL DISCRIMINATION AGAINST WOMEN CONTINUED, AS DID SOCIETAL ABUSE OF CHILDREN AND DISCRIMINATION AGAINST INDIGENOUS PEOPLES.

RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

SECTION 1 RESPECT FOR THE INTEGRITY OF THE PERSON, INCLUDING FREEDOM FROM:

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

9. POLITICALLY MOTIVATED KILLINGS CONTINUED IN 1994 AND, DUE TO THE LACK OF POLITICAL WILL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT RESOURCES, WITH FEW EXCEPTIONS THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO INVESTIGATE THEM FULLY OR TO DETAIN AND PROSECUTE THE PERPETRATORS. (COMMENT: WE BELIEVE OUR ORIGINAL LANGUAGE ACCURATELY REFLECTS THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA AS SUPPORTED IN THE REMAINDER OF SUBSECTION A., WHICH IS BASED ON OUR OWN ASSESSMENT AND INFORMATION MADE AVAILABLE TO US BY VARIOUS NGOS. WHILE NGOS MAY CLAIM OTHERWISE, THERE IS LITTLE FACTUAL EVIDENCE THAT THE ARMED FORCES AS AN INSTITUTION IS STILL CARRYING OUT POLITICAL MURDERS.) THROUGH THE FIRST 11 MONTHS OF THIS YEAR, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE LISTED 116 CASES OF POSSIBLE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED 336 EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS THROUGH NOVEMBER, COMPARED WITH 201 IN THE SAME TIME PERIOD IN 1993 AND 189 IN 1992. THE CHURCH OFFICE LABELED 42 OF THE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS AS DEFINITELY POLITICAL AND 237 AS PRESUMED POLITICAL. NEITHER HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE BROKE DOWN THE FIGURES ACCORDING TO THE ORGANIZATION BELIEVED TO BE RESPONSIBLE, BUT GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES (MILITARY, PACS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND THE POLICE), LEFTIST GUERRILLA AND RIGHT-WING EXTREMIST GROUPS' FORCES COMMITTED SUCH OFFENSES. (EMBASSY: IN ADDITION TO THAT OF SANAN HERNANDEZ MENTIONED LATER IN THIS SECTION, ARE THERE ANY SPECIFIC CASES WE CAN CITE OF KILLINGS BY GUERRILLA FORCES? ANS: YES. OTHER THAN CASUALTIES INFLICTED ON THE ARMY IN COMBAT, GUERRILLA FORCES FIRED ON A CIVILIAN BUS WHICH FAILED TO STOP AT A ROADBLOCK IN CHUPOL IN AUGUST, KILLING ONE CIVILIAN AND WOUNDING SEVERAL.)

10. PAC LEADERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS ARE FEARED IN MANY RURAL COMMUNITIES. THEY ENJOY ARMY BACKING AND OFTEN, DE FACTO IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION (COMMENT: IN REALITY, PAC MEMBERS HAVE ONLY DE FACTO NOT DE JURE IMMUNITY. WE SHOULD NOT IMPLY THAT THE LAW PERMITS THESE ACTIONS.). THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH FAILED TO CARRY OUT ARREST WARRANTS AGAINST 24 MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND PAC MEMBERS FOR THEIR INVOLVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS CRIMES (COMMENT: NUMERICAL UPDATE.). WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE ARREST OF A FEW PAC MEMBERS ACCUSED OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE 1993 JORGE CARPIO MURDER, MEMBERS OF THE PACS ARE RARELY HELD ACCOUNTABLE FOR THEIR CRIMES.

11. DESPITE BEING AWARE OF THE LOCATIONS OF VARIOUS PAC MEMBERS WANTED FOR INVOLVEMENT IN THE 1993 COLOTENANGO KILLING OF JUAN CHONAY PABLO AND THE 1993 QUICHE KILLING OF TOMAS LARES CIPRIANO, THE GOVERNMENT FAILED TO CARRY OUT THE MAJORITY OF THE ARREST WARRANTS. IN THE JUAN CHONAY PABLO KILLING, WHICH OCCURRED DURING AN ANTI-PAC DEMONSTRATION, THE AUTHORITIES ISSUED 15 ARREST WARRANTS FOR PAC MEMBERS, BUT ARRESTED ONLY 2 PERSONS. THEY RELEASED ONE FOR INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE LINKING HIM TO THE CRIME; THE PUBLIC MINISTRY REQUESTED THE RELEASE OF THE OTHER UNDER PERSONAL BOND. THREE MORE PERSONS TURNED THEMSELVES IN, BUT THE AUTHORITIES RELEASED TWO OF THEM FOR LACK OF EVIDENCE. TO DATE, THERE IS

NO ONE IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL. IN MARCH, THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS REQUESTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT TAKE PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES TO PROTECT WITNESSES, AND VICTIM'S FAMILY MEMBERS. IN JULY, BASED ON NEW EVIDENCE OF CONTINUING HARASSMENT OF THESE INDIVIDUALS, THE COMMISSION REQUESTED THE INTERNATIONAL COURT IN COSTA RICA TO ORDER THE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE ADDITIONAL PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES AND TO DISSOLVE THE LOCAL PAC. IN NOVEMBER, THE COURT ACCEPTED THE REQUEST AND ORDERED THE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE THESE ADDITIONAL MEASURES WHICH THE GOVERNMENT HAS AGREED TO DO. THE COURT DID NOT AGREE TO ORDER THE GOVERNMENT TO DISSOLVE THE PACS (COMMENT: UPDATE.).

12. IN THE LARES CIPRIANO KILLING, THE AUTHORITIES CHARGED SIX PAC MEMBERS WITH MURDERING HIM AFTER HE RESIGNED FROM A PAC. THE AUTHORITIES ARRESTED TWO PERSONS, LATER RELEASED UNDER PERSONAL BONDS; DISMISSED ALL CHARGES AGAINST ANOTHER PERSON WHO TURNED HIMSELF IN, AND DID NOT CARRY OUT ARREST WARRANTS AGAINST THE REMAINING THREE PERSONS.

13. ON MAY 31, A JOINT MILITARY-POLICE OPERATION ARRESTED FOUR SAN PEDRO JOCOPILAS PAC MEMBERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WANTED FOR THEIR ALLEGED INVOLVEMENT IN THE JULY 1993 MURDER OF NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER AND FORMER PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE JORGE CARPIO. HOWEVER, JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES LATER RELEASED ALL FOUR, CITING INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TYING THEM TO THE CRIME. THE CARPIO FAMILY APPEALED THE RELEASE AND CRITICIZED THE GOVERNMENT FOR FAILURE TO CARRY OUT THE ARREST WARRANTS FOR SIX OTHER PAC MEMBERS WANTED IN THIS CASE. ON JUNE 26, A PAC MEMBER ACCUSED OF HAVING PARTICIPATED IN THIS MATTER WAS KILLED BY UNKNOWN PERPETRATORS (COMMENT: UPDATE.). ON SEPTEMBER 7, THREE OTHER PAC MEMBERS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WANTED BY THE AUTHORITIES TURNED THEMSELVES IN. THE JUDGE RELEASED THESE INDIVIDUALS UNDER PERSONAL BOND PENDING CLARIFICATION OF THEIR IDENTITIES AND FURTHER INVESTIGATION OF THE CRIME. ON OCTOBER 12, THE QUICHE DEPARTMENT POLICE CHIEF, WHO HAD ORDERED THE CAPTURE OF FOUR PAC MEMBERS, WAS MURDERED. ON DECEMBER 5, ATTORNEYS PRESENTED THEIR CLOSING ARGUMENTS IN THE JORGE CARPIO CRIMINAL TRIAL. ONLY ONE JAILED DEFENDANT AND TWO OTHER DEFENDANTS CURRENTLY ON BOND WERE PRESENT FOR THE HEARING. UNDER GUATEMALAN LAW, BOTH SIDES WILL HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO PRESENT NEW EVIDENCE PRIOR TO A TRIAL COURT JUDGEMENT (COMMENT: UPDATE.). MEMBERS OF CARPIO'S FAMILY HAVE BEEN THREATENED SINCE HIS DEATH. ON JUNE 25, UNKNOWN ARMED PERSONS RAMMED THEIR CAR INTO KAREN FISCHER DE CARPIO'S CAR; WHEN THEY DETERMINED SHE WAS NOT IN THE CAR, THEY LEFT DEATH THREATS FOR FISCHER WITH HER DRIVER. FISCHER SUBSEQUENTLY LEFT GUATEMALA WITH HER CHILDREN FOR THE U.S. WHERE SHE REMAINED FOR SEVERAL WEEKS. IN A SEPARATE INCIDENT, AFTER RETURNING TO GUATEMALA, FISCHER MET WITH THE VICE MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT, A MILITARY OFFICER AND FORMERLY THE DIRECTOR OF MILITARY INTELLIGENCE, WHO SHE LATER CLAIMED HAD THREATENED HER IF HER FAMILY DID NOT DESIST FROM ASSERTIONS THAT SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS WERE BEHIND THE CARPIO MURDER (COMMENT: UPDATE.).

14. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT ARMY PERSONNEL OR FORMER PAC MEMBERS KILLED RETIRED ARMY OFFICER LIEUTENANT DIAZ ON JUNE 20. THE KILLERS, WHO APPARENTLY HAD PARTICIPATED WITH DIAZ IN THE 1981-1982 RABINAL MASSACRES, ALLEGEDLY MURDERED DIAZ TO PREVENT HIM FROM PUBLICLY COMMENTING OR TESTIFYING ON THE MASSACRES. THE CHURCH OFFICE ASSERTED THAT THE DEATHS OF TWO OTHER RABINAL RESIDENTS, A MILITARY COMMISSIONER AND THE SON OF THE LAND OWNER WHERE EXHUMATIONS WERE TAKING PLACE, WERE ORCHESTRATED TO SEND A MESSAGE TO THE RABINAL COMMUNITY TO REMAIN SILENT. THERE ARE CREDIBLE REPORTS BY THE MEDIA AND THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHT'S OFFICE THAT IN JULY THE ARMY CONDUCTED HOUSE-TO-HOUSE INSPECTIONS AND INTERROGATIONS IN THE COMMUNITY AND TOLD MALE RESIDENTS IN A COMMUNITY MEETING NOT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE EXHUMATIONS. WHILE NOT ADMITTING THESE EVENTS TOOK PLACE, THE AUTHORITIES TRANSFERRED THE SENIOR OFFICER WHO ALLEGEDLY CALLED THE MEETING.

15. ON APRIL 1, CONSTITUTIONAL COURT PRESIDENT EPAMINONDAS GONZALEZ DUBON WAS KILLED WHILE RETURNING FROM HOLY WEEK RELIGIOUS PROCESSIONS; THE MOTIVE BEHIND THE CRIME REMAINS UNDETERMINED. MANY BELIEVE THAT THE MURDER WAS AN INTIMIDATION ATTEMPT BY THOSE WISHING TO DESTABILIZE THE DE LEON ADMINISTRATION. ON APRIL 26, THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED THE ARREST OF 12 PERSONS, MEMBERS OF AN ALLEGED CAR THEFT RING, 4 OF WHOM WERE SAID TO HAVE PARTICIPATED IN THE SHOOTING. ONLY TWO INDIVIDUALS REMAIN IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL; THE OTHERS WERE RELEASED DUE TO INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE. (EMBASSY: WHAT IS YOUR JUDGMENT ON MOTIVES? DO YOU THINK THE ARREST OF MEMBERS OF A CAR THEFT RING IS JUST AN ATTEMPT TO DIVERT ATTENTION FROM POLITICAL MOTIVES?)(ANS: AFTER EIGHT MONTHS WE DO NOT HAVE ANY CREDIBLE INFORMATION WHICH HAS HELPED US DECIDE WHETHER THE MOTIVE FOR THIS CRIME WAS POLITICAL OR CRIMINAL. THE POLICE ARRESTED PERSONS BASED ON THE ONLY LEAD THEY HAD.).

16. ON NOVEMBER 11, DURING A UNIVERSITY OF SAN CARLOS STUDENT DEMONSTRATION AGAINST THE INCREASE IN NATIONAL BUS FARES, STUDENT ACTIVIST MARIO SANCHEZ LOPEZ WAS KILLED AFTER POLICE PURSUED DEMONSTRATORS ONTO THE BARRICADED UNIVERSITY GROUNDS IN RESPONSE TO STUDENT MOLOTOV COCKTAIL LOBBINGS AND SHOTS FIRED FROM THE INTERIOR OF THE UNIVERSITY. ACCORDING TO THE GOVERNMENT AUTOPSY, LOPEZ DIED OF GUNSHOT WOUNDS FROM UNKNOWN QUARTERS, HOWEVER CREDIBLE EYEWITNESS REPORTS AND PHOTOGRAPHS ALSO DETAIL POLICEMEN BEATING LOPEZ. THESE EYEWITNESSES ALSO REPORTED THAT NON-STUDENTS WERE AGITATING TO PROVOKE A CONFRONTATION WITH THE POLICE. SOON AFTERWARDS, THE PROSECUTOR GENERAL CALLED FOR THE COURTS TO CARRY OUT ARREST WARRANTS FOR THE POLICE OFFICERS WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE DISTURBANCE. HOWEVER, THE TRIAL JUDGE HAS SENT THE CASE BACK TO THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE REQUESTING MORE DETAIL.

17. ON AUGUST 24, 2 PERSONS WERE KILLED AND 11 WOUNDED WHEN POLICE USED EXCESSIVE FORCE TO DISLODGE STRIKING WORKERS FROM A FARM KNOWN AS "LA EXACTA" IN COATEPEQUE. A THIRD PERSON ALLEGEDLY DISAPPEARED; HIS BODY WAS FOUND SOME DISTANCE FROM THE FARM THE FOLLOWING DAY. THE WORKERS HAD TAKEN OVER THE FARM IN AN ATTEMPT TO PRESSURE THEIR SUPERVISORS TO COMPLY WITH A LABOR COURT ORDER THAT THE EMPLOYERS OBEY LABOR LAWS, PAY WORKERS THE MINIMUM WAGE AND OVERTIME, AS WELL AS GRANT VACATION, SICK LEAVE AND OTHER MANDATORY BONUSES (COMMENT: WE BELIEVE IT IS CRUCIAL TO UNDERSTANDING THIS INCIDENT AND WORKER'S RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA THAT OUR ORIGINAL LANGUAGE DETAILING THE ELEMENTS OF THE ORIGINAL COURT ORDER BE SPELLED OUT.). RATHER THAN COMPLY, THE OWNERS REPORTEDLY FIRED APPROXIMATELY 79 EMPLOYEES. AFTER INITIALLY SAYING THE POLICE HAD ACTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW, PRESIDENT DE LEON LATER EXPRESSED HIS REGRET FOR THE TRAGEDY, SAYING HE HAD MISSPOKEN EARLIER BASED ON PRELIMINARY POLICE REPORTS AND THAT A FULL INVESTIGATION WOULD BE MADE. ON SEPTEMBER 15, RESIDENTS FOUND THE BODY OF ANOTHER PEASANT WHO HAD PARTICIPATED IN THE STRIKE. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE BELIEVES THIS PERSON WAS KIDNAPED AND THEN KILLED IN REPRISAL FOR HIS PARTICIPATION IN THE STRIKE. INITIALLY, 23 POLICEMEN WERE BROUGHT BEFORE THE COURT BUT WERE LATER RELEASED PENDING INVESTIGATION. TO PREVENT POSSIBLE RETALIATION AGAINST THE CAMPESINOS , THE JUDGE ALSO ORDERED THAT THE POLICEMEN STAY AWAY FROM THE FARM (COMMENT: UPDATE.).

18. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CHARGED THE URNG'S "UNITED FRONT" WITH THE EARLY SEPTEMBER

EXTRAJUDICIAL MURDER OF ARMY RESERVE JUNIOR OFFICER AMARILDO SANAN HERNANDEZ IN CHIMALTENANGO. SANAN WAS STOPPED AT A GUERRILLA ROADBLOCK. AFTER THE GUERRILLAS RECOGNIZED SANAN, WHO WAS DRESSED IN CIVILIAN GARB, THEY SHOT HIM IN THE LEGS, STABBED HIM WITH KNIVES, AND THEN EXECUTED HIM BY GUNFIRE.

19. THERE WAS SOME PROGRESS IN CERTAIN PAST HIGH-PROFILE CASES. ON FEBRUARY 8, THE SUPREME COURT CONFIRMED THE 25-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN TO FORMER GOVERNMENT SECURITY AGENT NOEL DE JESUS BETETA FOR THE 1990 KILLING OF MYRNA MACK. THE COURT LEFT LEGAL PROCEEDINGS OPEN AGAINST THE ALLEGED INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS OF THE CRIME, FORMER SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS WHO APPEALED THE DECISION TO THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT. IN DECEMBER, THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT RULED IN FAVOR OF HELEN MACK, MYRNA'S SISTER, THAT THE CASE

AGAINST THE INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS MAY PROCEED. HOWEVER, IT FAILED TO OVERRULE A SUPREME COURT DECISION DENYING HER REQUEST THAT IT ORDER THE RELEASE OF EXECUTIVE BRANCH DOCUMENTS CONCERNING HER SISTER'S MURDER. THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH MAINTAINED IT DOES NOT HAVE ANY FILES NOT ALREADY IN THE HANDS OF THE COURT. (COMMENT: UPDATE)

20. ON MAY 18, THE COURT OF APPEALS CONFIRMED THE 2-YEAR SUSPENDED SENTENCE AND $40 FINE AGAINST THE CORPORAL WHOSE ABSENCE FROM POST FACILITATED THE MAY 1993 ESCAPE OF CAPTAIN HUGO CONTRERAS, WHO HAD JUST BEEN CONVICTED AND SENTENCED TO 20 YEARS IN PRISON FOR THE KILLING OF AMERICAN MICHAEL DEVINE IN 1990. CAPTAIN CONTRERAS REMAINS A FUGITIVE. ON SEPTEMBER 6, THE SUPREME COURT CONFIRMED THE 30-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN THE FIVE ENLISTED MEN CONVICTED IN THE DEVINE MURDER. HOWEVER, THE GOVERNMENT HAS NEVER BROUGHT TO TRIAL THE SENIOR OFFICERS BELIEVED TO BE INVOLVED IN COVERING UP THE CRIME. TWO RELATIVES OF WITNESSES WHO TESTIFIED AT THE DEVINE TRIAL (ONE CIVILIAN AND ONE SOLDIER) HAVE BEEN KILLED; ANOTHER (A SOLDIER) WAS SHOT IN THE LEG UNDER SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES. THE SOLDIER WHO WAS KILLED WAS FOUND WITH HIS TONGUE CUT OUT, HANDS MUTILATED, AND A BULLET WOUND IN HIS SKULL. ADDITIONALLY, TWO OTHER RELATIVES HAVE BEEN TARGETS OF INTIMIDATION.

21. IN 1994, THE BLAKE FAMILY FILED A PETITION WITH THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, ACCUSING THE GOVERNMENT OF INSTITUTIONAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE 1985 ABDUCTION AND MURDER OF AMERICAN CITIZENS NICOLAS BLAKE AND GRIFFITH DAVIS BY PAC MEMBERS. IN DECEMBER 1993, A BLAKE RELATIVE MET WITH PRESIDENT DE LEON AND SOUGHT UNSUCCESSFULLY A SETTLEMENT IN LIEU OF AN OAS PETITION FILING.

22. ON MARCH 18 AND AUGUST 22, THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT DISMISSED APPEALS FILED BY 22 FORMER "HUNAPU" ANTI-CRIME TASK FORCE POLICE OFFICERS OVER THEIR LENGTHY (20 YEARS PLUS) PRISON SENTENCES, WHICH HAD BEEN PREVIOUSLY CONFIRMED BY THE SUPREME COURT. THE OFFICERS HAD BEEN FOUND GUILTY IN THE 1992 DEATH OF UNIVERSITY STUDENT JULIO RIGOBERTO CU QUIM AND INJURY TO SIX OTHER STUDENTS. THE CASE REMAINS UNDER SUPREME COURT REVIEW.

23. THE INTER-AMERICAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION OF THE OAS REPORTED THAT ON SEPTEMBER 11, A LEADING WITNESS AND INCIDENT SURVIVOR IN THE 1988 WHITE VAN CASE, OSCAR VASQUEZ, HAD BEEN KILLED ALONG WITH HIS SON. IN THE 1988 WHITE VAN CASE CURRENTLY BEFORE THE COMMISSION, TREASURY POLICE ARE ACCUSED OF HAVING KIDNAPED, TORTURED AND ASSASSINATED CIVILIANS.

24. THERE WAS NO PROGRESS IN RESOLVING NUMEROUS OTHER OUTSTANDING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, INCLUDING THE 1989 DISAPPEARANCES AND MURDERS OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS, THE 1990 HECTOR OQUELI COLINDRES AND GILDA FLORES KILLINGS, THE 1990 DISAPPEARANCE OF MARIA TIU

TOJIN AND HER DAUGHTER, THE 1991 MURDER OF POLICE DETECTIVE JOSE LUIS MERIDA ESCOBAR, THE 1991 DISAPPEARANCE OF DIEGO DOMINGO MARTIN, THE 1992 KIDNAPPING, TORTURE AND MURDER OF HUEHUETENANGO PEASANT LUCAS PEREZ TADEO, THE 1993 SHOOTING OF STREET CHILDREN HENRY YUBANI ALVAREZ AND FRANCISCO TZIAC, THE 1993 SHOOTING OF A STUDENT PROTESTER ABNER ABDIEL HERNANDEZ ORELLANA OR PAST KIDNAPINGS AND MURDERS OF VARIOUS MEMBERS OF CERJ, AN INDIGENOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION (COMMENT: WE BELIEVE HUMAN RIGHTS NGOS WILL COMPLAIN THAT THE OMISSION OF THESE CASES SPECIFICALLY REMOVES POSSIBLE LEVERAGE IN THE COMBINED USG-NGO EFFORT TO FORCE THE GOVERNMENT TO RESOLVE PAST CASES.). THE GOVERNMENT'S FREQUENT

INABILITY TO DETER, PROSECUTE, OR PUNISH THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR SUCH OFFENSES IS A MAJOR IMPEDIMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS (COMMENT: WE BELIEVE "DETER" IS MORE ACCURATE THAN "CONTROL.").

B. DISAPPEARANCES

25. THROUGH NOVEMBER THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED 39 FORCED DISAPPEARANCES, AS COMPARED WITH 38 FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1993. ONE WAS LABELED DEFINITELY POLITICAL AND 32 WERE CLASSIFIED AS PRESUMED POLITICAL. VICTIMS INCLUDED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVIST, UNION EMPLOYEES, PRIVATE SECTOR EMPLOYEES, ENTREPRENEURS, FARMERS, A SOLDIER, A POLICEMAN, AND PERSONS OF UNKNOWN PROFESSION. THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE RECEIVED 24 COMPLAINTS OF FORCED DISAPPEARANCES. THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT IDENTIFY OR PROSECUTE THE PERPETRATORS OF ANY OF THESE DISAPPEARANCES.

(NOTE: THE BAMACA CASE HAS BEEN MOVED TO SUBSECTION G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS)

26. SISTER DIANA ORTIZ RETURNED TO GUATEMALA IN JANUARY AND AGAIN IN NOVEMBER TO PRESS AUTHORITIES TO TAKE ACTION ON HER 1989 KIDNAPING AND TORTURE CASE. IN JANUARY, SHE ACCOMPANIED GUATEMALAN OFFICIALS ON JUDICIAL INSPECTIONS OF THE GUARDIA DE HONOR BARRACKS AND THE OLD MILITARY ACADEMY. ORTIZ IDENTIFIED THE LATTER AS THE PLACE WHERE SHE WAS SEXUALLY ABUSED AND TORTURED. SHORTLY AFTER ENTERING THE FACILITY, ORTIZ WAS OVERCOME BY EMOTION AND UNABLE TO IDENTIFY THE SPECIFIC SITE OF THE VIOLATIONS, WHICH SHE SAYS OCCURRED IN THE BASEMENT OF THE FACILITY. HOWEVER, THE INSPECTION TEAM FAILED TO DISCOVER ANY SUBTERRANEAN LEVELS. THE ARMY MAINTAINS NONE EVER EXISTED. A PREVIOUSLY FILED PETITION ON THIS CASE REMAINS PENDING BEFORE THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS (COMMENT: UPDATE.).

27. ON JANUARY 12, LORENZO QUIEJ PU, A MEMBER OF CONDEG, AN ORGANIZATION DEDICATED TO HELPING GUATEMALANS WHO HAVE BEEN INTERNALLY DISPLACED DUE TO

THE ARMED CONFLICT, DISAPPEARED AFTER LEAVING HIS HOME. MEMBERS OF CONDEG AND QUIEJ FAMILY MEMBERS REPORTED THAT, PRIOR TO THE DISAPPEARANCE, THEY HAD BEEN SUBJECT TO THREATS STEMMING FROM THE ORGANIZATION'S OCCUPATION OF PRIVATELY OWNED LAND. THE AUTHORITIES CHARGED NO ONE WITH THE CRIME.

28. THE WHEREABOUTS REMAIN UNKNOWN OF SAN MARCOS PAC MEMBERS MARGARITO LOPEZ AND OBDULIO ZAPETA, ARMY ENLISTED MAN DIEGO CHEL MATOM, AND FARMERS RAMONA MUNOZ AND MARITZA GIL WHO WERE ALLEGEDLY KIDNAPED IN 1993 BY GUERRILLAS. RELIABLE REPORTS LINK THE GUERRILLAS TO VARIOUS KIDNAPINGS FOR PROFIT, INCLUDING THAT OF WEALTHY INDUSTRIALIST FRATERNO VILA.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

29. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INTEGRITY AND SECURITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL. HOWEVER, AS IN PAST YEARS, MANY BODIES WERE FOUND THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA BEARING SIGNS OF SEVERE DISFIGUREMENT OR POSTMORTEM MUTILATION. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE LISTED FIVE POTENTIAL CASES OF TORTURE IN THE FIRST 11 MONTHS OF 1994. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE LISTED 17 CASES OF TORTURE THROUGH NOVEMBER AS COMPARED WITH 16 CASES FOR THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR. IN A TYPICAL CASE, UNKNOWN ARMED MEN KIDNAPED A LAW STUDENT IN JANUARY AFTER HE LEFT WORK, THEN BEAT HIM, BURNED HIM WITH CIGARETTES, AND LEFT HIM UNCONSCIOUS.

30. THERE WERE CREDIBLE REPORTS OF MISTREATMENT BY SECURITY FORCES, INCLUDING SEXUAL ABUSE OF MINORS AND ADULTS, AND USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE BY POLICE AT THE TIME OF ARREST. ADDITIONALLY REPORTS WERE RECEIVED THAT, ESPECIALLY IN RURAL AREAS, THE URNG GUERRILLAS, THE ARMY, CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND THE POLICE AT TIMES HAVE USED EXCESSIVE FORCE AGAINST THE CIVILIAN POPULATION (COMMENT: THE PREVIOUS STATEMENT IS A MORE ACCURATE DESCRIPTION OF THE FREQUENCY OF VIOLATIONS.). THE RUNUJEL JUNAM COUNCIL OF ETHNIC COMMUNITIES (CERJ), A RURAL-BASED HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION, REPORTED THAT JUAN OSORIO VASQUEZ FILED A LEGAL COMPLAINT ALLEGING THAT ON JULY 21, PAC MEMBERS HAD ACCUSED HIM OF BEING A GUERRILLA, KIDNAPED HIM, TIED A ROPE TO HIS NECK, HUNG HIM FROM A BEAM, AND LEFT HIM FOR DEAD. FAMILY MEMBERS LATER ARRIVED AND RESCUED OSORIO.

31. SOME PEASANTS IN AREAS OF CONFLICT AROUND HUEHUETENANGO HAVE ALLEGED TO THE ARMY THAT MEMBERS OF "COMITE DE UNIDAD CAMPESINO" ("CUC", A FARM WORKERS ORGANIZATION COMPRISED OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLE) HAVE THREATENED THEM WITH DEATH DUE TO THEIR ALLEGIANCE TO THE ARMY (COMMENT: A MORE ACCURATE DESCRIPTION.). (EMBASSY: HOW CREDIBLE ARE THESE ALLEGATIONS? ANS: WE CONSIDER THE REPORT CREDIBLE

DUE TO THE POLARIZATION THAT EXISTS IN GUATEMALA, PARTICULARLY IN THE COUNTRYSIDE. WE DO NOT HAVE ANY INDEPENDENT MEANS TO VERIFY THIS SPECIFIC REPORT.).

32. CASA ALIANZA, AN ORGANIZATION DEDICATED TO ASSISTING STREET CHILDREN, REPORTED 13 INSTANCES IN WHICH NATIONAL POLICE ABUSED STREET CHILDREN BETWEEN JANUARY AND LATE DECEMBER. ON MARCH 3, CASA ALIANZA FILED CHARGES AGAINST FOUR POLICEMEN ACCUSED OF INDUCING STREET CHILDREN TO STEAL FOR THEM. THE POLICE NEVER FORMALLY CHARGED THE ACCUSED AND INSTEAD TRANSFERRED THEM TO ANOTHER PART OF GUATEMALA CITY. ON JULY 14, THE NATIONAL POLICE REFERRED A CASE OF POLICE ABUSE AGAINST A MINOR TO THE COURTS AFTER CONCLUDING THAT FIVE POLICEMEN HAD ABUSED THEIR AUTHORITY IN THE MARCH 4 BEATING OF LUIS ANTONIO ROLDAN IZEPPI. CASA ALIANZA ALSO FILED CHARGES AGAINST THE NATIONAL POLICE FOR AN AUGUST 15 INCIDENT IN WHICH THREE POLICEMEN SPRAYED PAINT THINNER AT THE FACE OF SLEEPING STREET CHILD LUIS ALFREDO BONILLA JUAREZ. ON DECEMBER 11, THREE NATIONAL POLICEMAN CHASED SIX STREET CHILDREN, WHO WERE ATTEMPTING TO ROB ANOTHER STREET CHILD'S SHOES, TO CASA ALIANZA OFFICES. THE POLICE CAUGHT UP WITH FOUR CHILDREN AT THE DOOR STEP, BEAT THEM AND ARRESTED ONE CHILD (COMMENT: UPDATE.). THERE WERE NUMEROUS OTHER REPORTS OF POLICEMEN ILLEGALLY DETAINING STREET CHILDREN; THE AUTHORITIES RARELY TOOK ACTION IN ANY OF THESE INCIDENTS.

33. CASA ALIANZA ALSO REPORTS THAT PRIVATE SECURITY GUARDS ROUTINELY ABUSE STREET CHILDREN AND THAT THIS ABUSE HAS LED TO THE DEATH OF SEVEN CHILDREN. WHILE A NUMBER OF CASES OF NATIONAL AND PRIVATE POLICE ABUSE REMAIN PENDING, THERE HAVE BEEN NO SUCCESSFUL CONVICTIONS. (EMBASSY: HAVE THE COURTS EVER FOUND THE POLICE GUILTY OF ABUSING STREET CHILDREN? ANS: ACCORDING TO CASA ALIANZA, NOT IN RECENT MEMORY.)

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

34. DESPITE LEGAL SAFEGUARDS, THERE WERE FREQUENT CREDIBLE REPORTS OF ARBITRARY ARREST BY THE SECURITY FORCES, INCOMMUNICADO DETENTION, AND FAILURE TO ADHERE TO THE PRESCRIBED TIME LIMITS FOR LEGAL PROCEDURES. THE LAW REQUIRES A COURT-ISSUED ARREST WARRANT UNLESS A PERSON IS CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF COMMITTING A CRIME. POLICE MAY NOT DETAIN A SUSPECT FOR OVER 6 HOURS WITHOUT BRINGING THE CASE BEFORE A JUDGE. THE LAW PROVIDES FOR BAIL, ACCESS TO LAWYERS, AND LIMITS TO 20 DAYS THE TIME ANYONE MAY BE HELD. AFTER THAT PERIOD, THE AUTHORITIES MUST CHARGE OR FREE A DETAINEE, AND THEY MUST ALWAYS PRODUCE DETAINEES ON COURT REQUEST. THE AUTHORITIES ARRESTED 13,235 PERSONS THROUGH AUGUST; OF THOSE, 1,764 PERSONS REMAIN IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL, WHICH REPRESENTED 32 PERCENT OF THE CURRENT TOTAL PRISON POPULATION. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE AT YEAR END. ANS: WE WILL UPDATE THIS FIGURE WHEN AVAILABLE, HOWEVER, DUE TO THE HOLIDAY SEASON AN ANSWER MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.).

35. THE SECURITY FORCES ROUTINELY IGNORE WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS IN CASES OF ILLEGAL DETENTION (EMBASSY: PLEASE PROVIDE YOUR BEST JUDGMENT AS TO WHETHER THE SECURITY FORCES USE SAFE HOUSES FOR ILLEGAL DETENTIONS. ANS: WE HAVE REPEATEDLY ASKED THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE THIS QUESTION AND TO THE BEST OF THEIR KNOWLEDGE THERE ARE NO SAFE HOUSES USED ON A RECURRING BASIS BY SECURITY FORCES TO COMMIT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.). THERE ARE NO RELIABLE DATA ON THE NUMBER OF ARBITRARY DETENTIONS. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CHARGED THAT PRISONERS ARE SOMETIMES NOT RELEASED IN A TIMELY FASHION AFTER COMPLETING THEIR SENTENCES DUE TO THE FAILURE OF JUDGES TO ISSUE THE NECESSARY COURT ORDER.

THE CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS EXILE AND IT IS NOT PRACTICED.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

36. THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM IS INEFFECTIVE AND OFTEN UNABLE TO ENSURE A FAIR TRIAL. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY COMPOSED OF A CONSTITUTIONAL COURT, A SUPREME COURT, APPEALS COURTS, AND SEVERAL COURTS OF SPECIAL JURISDICTION, SUCH AS LABOR COURTS. THE SUPREME COURT APPOINTS JUDGES; THE CONGRESS APPOINTS MAGISTRATES, OR APPELLATE COURT JUDGES, FROM A LIST PREPARED BY A SELECTION COMMITTEE COMPOSED OF JUDGES, LAWYERS, AND UNIVERSITY DEANS. CIVILIAN TRIALS ARE PUBLIC AFTER THE FIRST 15 DAYS, WHICH ARE DEDICATED TO AN INITIAL INVESTIGATIVE PHASE THAT IS CLOSED. DEFENDANTS HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE PRESENT AT TRIALS AND TO LEGAL REPRESENTATION. AN APPEALS COURT AUTOMATICALLY REVIEWS CONVICTIONS.

37. THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE, WHICH TOOK EFFECT JULY 1, MODIFIED THE MILITARY CODE OF JUSTICE TO EXTEND JURISDICTION BY CIVILIAN COURTS OVER MILITARY PERSONNEL FOR OFFENSES "NOT ESSENTIALLY MILITARY IN NATURE." THESE REFORMS WILL BE PHASED IN ONCE THE GOVERNMENT DRAFTS SPECIFIC IMPLEMENTING RULES OR REGULATIONS. PRIOR TO THE CODE'S ENACTMENT, MILITARY COURTS RETAINED JURISDICTION OVER MILITARY PERSONNEL, INCLUDING MILITARY COMMISSIONERS WHO COMMIT CRIMES WHILE ON OFFICIAL BUSINESS, THUS LIMITING THE ABILITY OF CIVIL COURTS TO PROSECUTE PERSONS UNDER MILITARY CONTROL IN HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSE CASES. PAC MEMBERS ARE CIVILIANS AND ARE NOT UNDER MILITARY JURISDICTION.

38. THE NEW CODE, WHICH IS DEEMED A MODEL OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE REFORM BY OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN NATIONS, EFFECTS SIGNIFICANT CHANGES TO THE WAY CRIMINAL TRIALS ARE CONDUCTED GENERALLY. ONCE FULLY IMPLEMENTED THE REFORMS SHOULD STRENGTHEN

PROSECUTORIAL AND INVESTIGATIVE FUNCTIONS WITHIN THE PUBLIC MINISTRY AND HAVE A MAJOR EFFECT ON THE INVESTIGATIVE ROLE OF THE JUDICIARY -- FROM CONDUCTING THE INVESTIGATION TO AN OVERSIGHT ROLE. FUNDAMENTAL DUE PROCESS IS ANOTHER OBJECTIVE OF THE NEW CRIMINAL PROCEDURES CODE WHICH GUARANTEES THE ACCUSED LEGAL COUNSEL BY A NEW PUBLIC DEFENDER IN AN ORAL TRIAL SETTING (COMMENT: WE BELIEVE OUR ORIGINAL LANGUAGE SHOULD BE REINSERTED BECAUSE OF THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THIS LEGISLATION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA AND AS AN EXAMPLE FOR LATIN AMERICA.).

39. HOWEVER, THE FOLLOWING FACTORS HAMPERED THE CODE'S IMPLEMENTATION: A LACK OF FUNDING FOR EDUCATION, POLITICAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE EXECUTIVE AND JUDICIAL BRANCHES, INTRANSIGENCE BY MANY MEMBERS OF THE CRIMINAL BAR, CONSTITUTIONAL CHALLENGES, AND INADEQUATE PREPARATION BY LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES. AS OF EARLY DECEMBER, ONLY THREE DEPARTMENTS HAD REPORTED CONDUCTING AN ORAL TRIAL, AS REQUIRED UNDER THE NEW PROCEDURES. (EMBASSY: PLEASE UPDATE TO END OF YEAR. ANS: WE WILL UPDATE THIS FIGURE WHEN AVAILABLE, HOWEVER, DUE TO THE HOLIDAY SEASON AN ANSWER MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.) MEANWHILE, THE BACKLOG OF CRIMINAL CASES CONTINUED TO MOUNT.

40. MOST HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS ARE NOT INVESTIGATED; SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL ARE RELUCTANT TO INVESTIGATE CASES POTENTIALLY INVOLVING COLLEAGUES. POLICE ARE VERY POORLY PAID, RELATIVELY FEW IN NUMBER, AND LACK ADEQUATE RESOURCES AND TRAINING. JUDGES ARE SUSCEPTIBLE TO INTIMIDATION AND CORRUPTION AND SUFFER FROM LOW PAY, BAD WORKING CONDITIONS, AND LOW MORALE. OFFICIALS FROM THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICES, INCLUDING THE OMBUDSMAN HIMSELF, HAVE RECEIVED THREATS.

41. CHARGES CONTINUE TO BE MADE PUBLICLY THAT THE SUPREME COURT PRESSURES LOWER COURT JUDGES TO DECIDE CASES IN LINE WITH ITS WISHES. IN 1993 THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT RULED THAT THE SUPREME COURT PRACTICE OF ARBITRARILY TRANSFERRING JUSTICES WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL, THEREBY LIMITING ONE MEANS OF SUPREME COURT INTERFERENCE IN LOWER COURT CASES.

42. MEMBERS OF THE JUDICIARY ALSO CONTINUED TO RECEIVE THREATS IN AN ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE DECISIONS OR AS REPRISALS FOR PAST DECISIONS. IN FEBRUARY JUDGE YOLANDA PEREZ RECEIVED DEATH THREATS AFTER SHE APPEARED AT A LOCAL ARMY BASE WITH THE LOCAL AUXILIARY OMBUDSMAN FOR HUMAN RIGHTS REQUESTING TO

SEE A SERVICEMAN REPORTED TO BE MISSING. COTZUMALGUAPA JUSTICE OF THE PEACE CARLOS HUMBERTO DARDON REYES REPORTED RECEIVING DEATH THREATS AFTER HE SENT U.S. CITIZEN MELISSA LARSON TO THE ESCUINTLA DEPARTMENT COURT HOUSE FOR HER PROTECTION IN MARCH,

AFTER A MOB WRONGLY ACCUSED HER OF TRANSPORTING BABY ORGANS IN HER BACKPACK. IN JULY, A THIRD DISTRICT APPELLATE COURT JUDGE AND JUDICIAL REFORM ACTIVIST, MARIA EUGENIA VILLASENOR, REPORTED SHE AND OTHER APPELLATE MAGISTRATES HAD BEEN HARASSED IN ATTEMPTS TO INFLUENCE DECISIONS IN HIGH PROFILE CASES. THE THIRD DISTRICT COURT HAD ISSUED RULINGS IN A VARIETY OF CASES INVOLVING THE SECURITY FORCES. ON AUGUST 29, A POLICEMAN ASSIGNED TO PROTECT VILLASENOR WAS KIDNAPED, INTERROGATED, AND ASSAULTED. FOLLOWING THIS INCIDENT, VILLASENOR LEFT THE COUNTRY FOR A NUMBER OF WEEKS.

43. ON JANUARY 19, UNKNOWN PERSONS PURPOSELY SET FIRE TO THE JUDICIAL RECORDS BUILDING IN SANTA CRUZ DE QUICHE, WHICH HELD NUMEROUS FILES REGARDING PAC ABUSES. QUICHE JUDGE FRANCISCO PEREZ STATED THAT JUST BEFORE THE FIRE HE RECEIVED THREATS FROM JOYABAJ PAC MEMBERS ATTEMPTING TO PERSUADE HIM TO RELEASE TWO OF ITS MEMBERS CHARGED WITH COMMITTING MULTIPLE CRIMES, INCLUDING THE DEATHS OF NUMEROUS PERSONS.

44. CORRUPTION CONTINUES TO PLAGUE THE PROPER FUNCTIONING OF THE POLICE FORCE. ON JUNE 25, A LIVE GRENADE WAS TOSSED AT THE RESIDENCE OF ANTI-CORRUPTION TRANSIT POLICE CHIEF ERNESTO RUIZ SAENZ DE TEJADA. RUIZ WAS NOT INJURED IN THIS ATTACK, BUT HE RESIGNED FROM THE POLICE FORCE SHORTLY AFTERWARD.

THERE ARE NO KNOWN POLITICAL PRISONERS.

F. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME, OR CORRESPONDENCE

45. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE INVIOLABILITY OF HOME, CORRESPONDENCE, AND PRIVATE DOCUMENTS, BUT THE AUTHORITIES DO NOT ALWAYS RESPECT THESE PROVISIONS. ELEMENTS OF THE SECURITY FORCES CONTINUE TO MONITOR PRIVATE COMMUNICATIONS. MANY HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS REPORTED RECEIVING THREATS IN THE FORM OF SURVEILLANCE, TELEPHONE CALLS, AND ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

46. ON MARCH 11, ONE YEAR AFTER AN ARREST WARRANT HAD BEEN ISSUED, JUAN JOSE GARCIA ORELLANA, A POSTAL CONTROL OFFICER CHARGED WITH OPERATING A MAIL ESPIONAGE RING IN THE POST OFFICE FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL SECURITY STAFF UNDER THE SERRANO ADMINISTRATION, TURNED HIMSELF IN TO JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES. THE AUTHORITIES ARE STILL GATHERING EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE.

47. THROUGH JULY, OFFICIALS ENFORCING THE MILITARY DRAFT CONTINUED TO STOP VEHICLES AND ENTER HOMES AND PLACES OF BUSINESS WITHOUT LEGALLY REQUIRED COURT ORDERS. PRIOR TO AUGUST, UNDER RECRUITMENT PRACTICES ADOPTED IN SOME DEPARTMENTS, POTENTIAL DRAFTEES RECEIVED THREE INDUCTION NOTICES, AFTER WHICH THEY WERE ARRESTED IF THEY DID NOT REPORT FOR ENLISTMENT.

UNDER THE LAW, SUCH ARRESTS MUST BE EFFECTED PURSUANT TO A COURT ORDER.

48. ON JUNE 14, AMILCAR MENDEZ, THE FOUNDER OF CERJ, FILED A LAWSUIT AGAINST DEFENSE MINISTER ENRIQUEZ CHARGING THAT THE ARMED FORCES' FORCED RECRUITMENT PRACTICES VIOLATED CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS REGARDING OBLIGATORY MILITARY SERVICE. A COURT, HOWEVER, RULED THE JUDICIAL BRANCH DID NOT HAVE JURISDICTION OVER THIS MATTER BECAUSE THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE HAD IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION, WHICH ONLY CONGRESS COULD REMOVE. IT REFERRED THE IMMUNITY QUESTION TO THE CONGRESS, WHICH RULED THAT THE CASE LACKED LEGAL MERIT, THUS EFFECTIVELY DISMISSING THE ENTIRE LAWSUIT.

49. THROUGH JULY 30, THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE HANDLED 89 INDIVIDUAL CASES OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. IN THE SAME PERIOD, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN OFFICE REPORTED RECEIVING 663 COMPLAINTS OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. THE OFFICE OBTAINED THE RELEASE OF 268 PERSONS FROM MILITARY SERVICE, OF WHOM 79 WERE MINORS. ON JUNE 29, DEFENSE MINISTER GENERAL ENRIQUEZ ANNOUNCED A 6-MONTH MORATORIUM ON FORCED RECRUITMENT, WHICH WAS CONFIRMED BY PRESIDENT DE LEON DURING THE JUNE 30 ARMY DAY CELEBRATIONS. HOWEVER,

THE OMBUDSMAN REPORTED THREE SEPARATE INSTANCES OF FORCED CONSCRIPTION IN JULY. ON AUGUST 28, THE DEFENSE MINISTRY ONCE AGAIN ORDERED A SUSPENSION OF FORCED RECRUITMENT. SINCE AUGUST THERE HAVE BEEN NO REPORTS OF FORCED RECRUITMENT.

50. THE CONSTITUTION REQUIRES THAT PAC SERVICE BE VOLUNTARY. HOWEVER, ARMY OFFICERS, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, AND PAC LEADERS OFTEN PRESSURE MEN IN AREAS OF CONFLICT TO BECOME MEMBERS. NEVERTHELESS, PACS DO ENJOY SOME POPULAR SUPPORT; A MAJORITY OF RESPONDENTS, IN A RECENT ACADEMIC SURVEY CONDUCTED FOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN IN 7 DEPARTMENTS, CLAIMED TO BE PLEASED WITH THE PAC MEMBERSHIP AND WITH THE PAC PRESENCE IN THEIR COMMUNITIES.

51. IN JUNE AND JULY, CERJ FILED A LEGAL COMPLAINT ON BEHALF OF FORMER PAC MEMBER JUAN ANTONIO CHUMEL WITH LOCAL JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES AND THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS STATING THAT SINCE 1988, WHEN CHUMEL LEFT THE PACS, PAC MEMBERS THREATENED AND INTIMIDATED CHUMEL TO THE EXTENT THAT HE WAS FORCED TO LEAVE HIS COMMUNITY FOR FEAR OF HIS LIFE. THERE ARE OTHER CREDIBLE REPORTS THAT OTHERS WHO REFUSED TO SERVE IN THE PACS SUFFERED THREATS AND OTHER ABUSES.

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

52. GUATEMALA'S ARMED INTERNAL CONFLICT ENTERED ITS 34TH YEAR IN 1994 AND CONTINUED TO BE A MAJOR CAUSE

OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS BY BOTH GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLA FORCES. COMMUNITIES OF PEOPLE IN RESISTANCE (CPR) CLAIMED ARMY HARASSMENT THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, INCLUDING LATE EVENING HELICOPTER OVERFLIGHTS AND RESTRICTION OF COMMERCE. REFLECTING INCREASED SECURITY IN THE VALLEYS, IN FEBRUARY, A NUMBER OF CPR'S CAME DOWN FROM THE MOUNTAINS AND ESTABLISHED PERMANENT VILLAGES.

53. ACCORDING TO STATISTICS REPORTED BY THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE, REPEATED URNG ATTACKS AGAINST CIVILIAN INFRASTRUCTURE TARGETS DAMAGED ELECTRICAL AND COMMUNICATION FACILITIES AND PETROLEUM STORAGE AREAS. THE CHURCH OFFICE REPORTED TWO PERSONS INJURED BY EXPLODING MINES PLANTED BY GUERRILLAS. ON AUGUST 22, GUERRILLAS FIRED INDISCRIMINATELY AT A CIVILIAN BUS INJURING ELEVEN INDIVIDUALS AND KILLING ONE PERSON WHILE CONDUCTING AN ATTACK AGAINST ARMY UNITS IN NEARBY CHUPOL, CHICHICASTENANGO. THE BUS HAD ATTEMPTED TO RUN A GUERRILLA ROADBLOCK NEAR THE THE ATTACK. ON VARIOUS OCCASIONS GUERRILLAS HAVE ALSO BURNED FARMS AND DESTROYED PROPERTY OF FARM OWNERS WHO REFUSED TO PAY EXTORTION.

54. TERRORIST BOMBINGS CONDUCTED BY UNKNOWN PERPETRATORS CONTINUED THROUGHOUT THE YEAR. BEFORE THE JANUARY 30 NATIONAL REFERENDUM, 25 EXPLOSIVE DEVICES DETONATED OR WERE DEACTIVATED IN GUATEMALA CITY ALONE. SEVERAL OF THESE DEVICES WERE ACCOMPANIED BY URNG LEAFLETS. OTHER BOMB ATTACKS WERE BELIEVED TO BE ORCHESTRATED BY FREE-LANCING RIGHTIST GROUPS OPPOSED TO THE REFERENDUM. ON MARCH 6 AND 7, BOMBS EXPLODED AT TWO KEY BRIDGES LEADING FROM THE CAPITAL. THE ARMY AND THE URNG ACCUSED EACH OTHER OF PLANTING THE BOMBS. ON SEPTEMBER 1, TWO MORE PAMPHLET BOMBS EXPLODED IN THE CAPITAL, RELEASING URNG LITERATURE. THE HOME OF THE BROTHER OF FORMER PEACE TALKS CONCILIATOR AND CURRENT PRESIDENT OF THE CIVIL SOCIETY ASSEMBLY BISHOP RODOLFO QUEZADA, WAS BOMBED IN JUNE. ON SEPTEMBER 22, THREE BOMBS WENT OFF IN RESIDENTIAL ZONES, KILLING ONE CHILD WHO WAS WATCHING CARS IN EXCHANGE FOR TIPS. ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS DEATH THREAT LISTS, INCLUDING THE NAMES OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND LABOR LEADERS AND NEWSPAPER JOURNALISTS, CIRCULATED, BUT NO ONE LISTED WAS INJURED OR KILLED.

55. ON AUGUST 12, A LOWER COURT JUDGE DISMISSED THE AMNESTY GRANTED FOUR RECENTLY-CAPTURED URNG GUERRILLAS. HOWEVER, THESE GUERRILLAS WERE FREED UNDER A PENAL CODE PROVISION, A MOVE CONSIDERED LEGALLY CONTROVERSIAL. IT HAD BEEN COMMON GOVERNMENT PRACTICE TO EXCUSE POST-1988 CRIMES COMMITTED BY GUERRILLAS EVEN THOUGH THE AMNESTY LAW ONLY APPLIES TO POLITICAL AND RELATED CRIMES COMMITTED BEFORE 1988. THE GOVERNMENT APPEALED THIS DECISION AND IS CONSIDERING NEW AMNESTY LEGISLATION TO COVER CRIMES COMMITTED AFTER 1988.

56. THE ARMY CONTINUED TO DENY IT HAS EVER HELD GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN "EVERADO" BAMACA OR 35 OTHER URNG PRISONERS OF WAR AS CLAIMED BY THE AMERICAN CITIZEN WIFE OF BAMACA. ACCORDING TO ARMY SPOKESPERSONS, BAMACA WAS KILLED IN BATTLE. THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT ALSO DENIES THE EXISTENCE OF CLANDESTINE PRISONS. ON NOVEMBER 14, 1994, A U.S. GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL STATED THAT "WE HAVE CONCLUDED THAT EFRAIN BAMACA WAS TAKEN CAPTIVE BY THE ARMY IN MARCH 1992. WE BELIEVE THAT HE HAD BEEN WOUNDED BUT THAT HIS INJURIES WERE NOT LIFE THREATENING. WE HAVE NO INFORMATION TO INDICATE THAT HE WAS ALIVE MUCH BEYOND THE FIRST FEW WEEKS AFTER HIS CAPTURE, BUT IN OUR EFFORTS TO TRY AND GET...INFORMATION ON THIS, WE HAVE ALWAYS PROCEEDED ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT HE COULD BE ALIVE." A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS WAS FILED ON BAMACA'S BEHALF AND THE SUPREME COURT ASSIGNED THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN TO CONDUCT A SPECIAL 30-DAY INVESTIGATION INTO THE DISAPPEARANCE. NO NEW LEADS WERE DEVELOPED BY THE OMBUDSMAN AND RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE INVESTIGATION IS BACK IN THE HANDS OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL. THE U.N. VERIFICATION COMMISSION, MINUGUA, IS ASSISTING IN THE INVESTIGATION. THE URNG ALSO CLAIMS TO HAVE NO PRISONERS.

57. IN JANUARY THE URNG AND THE GOVERNMENT RESUMED PEACE TALKS WITH THE UNITED NATIONS SERVING AS MODERATOR. IN LATE MARCH, THE GOVERNMENT AND THE GUERRILLAS SIGNED A HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD THAT CALLED FOR THE IMMEDIATE ESTABLISHMENT OF A U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION. ALTHOUGH THE START-UP OF THIS INTERNATIONAL MISSION WAS DELAYED UNTIL SEPTEMBER, THE ACCORD WAS A MAJOR STEP FORWARD. AS PART OF ITS MANDATE, THE U.N. TEAM WILL SEEK TO STRENGTHEN LOCAL INSTITUTIONS DEALING WITH HUMAN RIGHTS. TO DATE MINUGUA HAS ACCOMPANIED HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN OFFICIALS INSPECTING ARMY BASES, WITNESSING THE TURNING IN OF RIFLES BY PAC MEMBERS AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS RELATED ACTIVITY. AT THE SAME TIME, THE GOVERNMENT AND THE URNG AGREED UPON A CALENDAR TO ADDRESS THE MAJOR OUTSTANDING NEGOTIATING ISSUES. IN JUNE THE TWO SIDES SIGNED ACCORDS ON "UPROOTED" PEOPLES AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION COMMISSION TO CATALOG AND ANALYZE HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES RELATED TO THE GUERRILLA WAR. HOWEVER, THE COMMISSION WILL NOT NAME PAST VIOLATORS AND ITS FINDINGS WILL NOT HAVE JUDICIAL FORCE. FOLLOWING SIGNING OF THIS ACCORD, THE TALKS FELL INTO A TEMPORARY HIATUS. THEY RESUMED IN LATE OCTOBER THE SIDES DISCUSSING INDIGENOUS RIGHTS. AS OF THE END OF THE YEAR, THE SIDES WERE STILL DISCUSSING THIS ISSUE.

SECTION 2 RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

58. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION. THERE WAS NO EVIDENCE OF HARASSMENT FROM

SENIOR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, BUT BOTH MAJOR PRESS ASSOCIATIONS DENOUNCED INCIDENTS RESTRICTING FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. THE MEDIA REPORTED SENSITIVE ISSUES SUCH AS CORRUPTION, AS WELL AS MAJOR HUMAN RIGHTS STORIES. THEY ALSO PUBLICIZED COMMUNIQUES FROM THE URNG, LEFTIST GROUPS, AND OTHERS OPPOSED TO THE GOVERNMENT OR ITS POLICIES. JOURNALISTS ADMIT, HOWEVER, THAT PRESSURE AND FEARS OF REPRISAL RESULT IN SELF-CENSORSHIP AND LIMITS ON INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING. FOR EXAMPLE, THERE IS NO OPEN CRITICISM OF THE MILITARY NOR IS THERE OPEN DISCUSSION OF IMPORTANT ISSUES SUCH AS LAND USE, LAND OWNERSHIP, OR SIMILAR TOPICS THAT WOULD AFFECT THE INTERESTS OF POWERFUL ECONOMIC GROUPS AND INDIVIDUALS. REPORTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND NARCOTIC TRAFFICKING ARE CAREFULLY WRITTEN AND SOURCED SO THAT NEITHER JOURNALISTS NOR THEIR INSTITUTIONS ARE PUT AT RISK. RADIO AND TELEVISION STATION OWNERS OBSERVE THAT LICENSING PROCEDURES POTENTIALLY GIVE THE GOVERNMENT POWERFUL LEVERAGE OVER THEIR EDITORIAL POLICIES, BUT HAVE NOT CITED ANY INSTANCES IN WHICH THE DE LEON GOVERNMENT ATTEMPTED TO ABUSE THIS POWER.

59. CONTINUING ACTS OF POLITICAL VIOLENCE DIRECTED AGAINST JOURNALISTS GIVE CREDENCE TO THEIR COMPLAINTS OF PRESSURE AND COERCION AT THE WORKING LEVEL. FOR THE FIRST 11 MONTHS THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE RECORDED 19 SEPARATE ACTS OF POLITICAL HARASSMENT: 2 EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, 5 ASSAULTS AND 18 INTIMIDATING ACTS AGAINST MEDIA PERSONNEL OR ESTABLISHMENTS. ON MARCH 26, UNKNOWN MEN FIRED SHOTS AT NEWSPAPER REPORTER MARCO TULIO DE LA ROCA, KILLING HIM AND INJURING HIS COMPANION. JOURNALIST HECTOR ADOLFO BARRERA ORTIZ WAS TARGETED, FIRST BY A BOMB EXPLOSION OUTSIDE HIS HOME AND LATER BY A KIDNAPING ATTEMPT WHILE AT WORK. (EMBASSY: ANY INVESTIGATION INTO THE DE LA ROCA KILLING OR THE BARRERA INCIDENTS? IS THERE ANY INDICATION OF THE IDENTITY OR MOTIVES OF THE PERPETRATORS? DOES THE NATURE OF THESE JOURNALISTS' WORK POINT TOWARD LIKELY PERPETRATORS? ANS: WE HAVE NO INFORMATION REGARDING GOG INVESTIGATIONS INTO THESE MATTERS NOR HAVE WE SEEN EVIDENCE TO JUDGE OURSELVES WHETHER THE MOTIVE WAS CRIMINAL OR POLITICAL.).

B. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

60. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR THE RIGHT OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION. PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATIONS WERE COMMON AND DEMONSTRATORS SOMETIMES OCCUPIED GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS, INCLUDING THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE, GOVERNMENT MINISTRIES AND THE SUPREME COURT BUILDING. IN ALL THESE CASES, THE POLICE ACTED WITH RESTRAINT AND AUTHORITIES NEGOTIATED A PEACEFUL DEPARTURE OF DEMONSTRATORS. THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT INTERFERE WITH POLITICAL ASSOCIATIONS, ALTHOUGH THE LAW NOMINALLY REQUIRES ORGANIZATIONS TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS, A CUMBERSOME

AND EXPENSIVE PROCEDURE. (EMBASSY: CAN YOU BRIEFLY PROVIDE DETAILS ON THE STREAMLINING OF THESE PROCEDURES ANNOUNCED LAST DECEMBER? ANS: CONGRESS IS FOR ALL INTENTS AND PURPOSES ON HOLIDAY LEAVE AND THUS WE HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO GET A CLEAR ANSWER TO WHETHER PROCEDURES WERE STREAMLINED. WE SUSPECT THE PROPOSED LEGISLATION WAS NEVER PASSED.).

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

61. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AND THE AUTHORITIES RESPECT IT IN PRACTICE. RELIGIOUS PERSONNEL ARE SOMETIMES THREATENED FOR POLITICAL REASONS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, INDIGENOUS RIGHTS AND LAND REFORM ACTIVISM.

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

62. THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT RESTRICT FOREIGN TRAVEL, NOR DOES IT REVOKE CITIZENSHIP FOR POLITICAL REASONS. MOVEMENT INSIDE THE COUNTRY WAS UNRESTRICTED EXCEPT WHERE THE ARMY AND PACS LIMITED TRAVEL IN SOME AREAS OF CONFLICT. GUERRILLAS CONTINUED TO ESTABLISH ROADBLOCKS TO ROB PRIVATE CITIZENS, EXTORT PROTECTION PAYMENTS FROM BUSINESSMEN, ATTACK AND DRAIN PETROLEUM TRUCKS, AND LIMIT TRAVEL IN CERTAIN RURAL AREAS.

63. VOLUNTARY REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES FROM MEXICO CONTINUED. ACCORDING TO THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR REFUGEES (UNHCR), BY NOVEMBER, 6,000 REFUGEES HAD BEEN REPATRIATED TO GUATEMALA. OVER THE LAST DECADE, OVER 18,000 PERSONS HAVE RETURNED SINCE THE INITIATION OF THE PROGRAM, DESPITE THE LACK OF SUITABLE LAND WHICH CAN SUPPORT THE RETURNING POPULATION.

SECTION 3 RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

64. CITIZENS HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT BY PEACEFUL AND DEMOCRATIC MEANS, THROUGH SECRET BALLOT AND UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE FOR THOSE 18 YEARS OF AGE AND OLDER. MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES MAY NOT VOTE. SINCE THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY AND CIVILIAN RULE IN 1985, THERE HAVE BEEN SEVEN FREE ELECTIONS. INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS CONCLUDED THAT BOTH THE JANUARY 30 NATIONAL REFERENDUM AND THE AUGUST 14 CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS WERE FREE AND FAIR.

65. THERE ARE NO LEGAL IMPEDIMENTS TO WOMEN'S PARTICIPATION IN POLITICS, BUT WOMEN ARE UNDERREPRESENTED IN THE POLITICAL ARENA. HOWEVER, WOMEN DO HOLD PROMINENT POLITICAL POSITIONS, INCLUDING THREE CABINET POSTS. THE PRESIDENT OF THE NEWLY ELECTED CONGRESS IS A WOMAN AND FIVE OTHER WOMEN HOLD SEATS IN THE 80-MEMBER BODY. THERE ARE ALSO TWO FEMALE SUPREME COURT JUSTICES AND ONE FEMALE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT JUSTICE.

66. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE ENJOY EQUAL RIGHTS UNDER THE CONSTITUTION, AND SOME HAVE ATTAINED POSITIONS AS ARMY OFFICERS (INCLUDING ONE GENERAL), JUDGES, AND GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, INCLUDING FIVE SEATS IN THE NEWLY ELECTED CONGRESS. NEVERTHELESS, LIMITED EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY AND PERVASIVE DISCRIMINATION (SEE SECTION 5) LEAD TO THEIR UNDERREPRESENTATION IN POLITICS.

SECTION 4 GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

67. DISTURBED BY POLITICAL ACTIVITIES OF SOME FOREIGN VISITORS, IMMIGRATION IN LATE NOVEMBER BEGAN LIMITING U.S., CANADIAN AND SPANISH VISITORS TO 15 DAY STAYS (AS OPPOSED TO 90 DAYS PREVIOUSLY). WHEN EMBASSIES AND INDIVIDUALS PROTESTED, THE GOG DECIDED TO GRANT ALL FOREIGN VISITORS 30 DAY STAYS. (COMMENT: UPDATE.). THE GOVERNMENT PERMITS LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS TO OPERATE FREELY, BUT MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES, PACS, AND EXTREMIST GROUPS CONTINUED TO THREATEN AND USE VIOLENCE AGAINST THEIR MEMBERS. FOR EXAMPLE, ON JANUARY 24 HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVIST AMILCAR MENDEZ REPORTED THAT A MASKED MOTORCYCLIST TRIED TO RUN OVER HIS 16-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER, MIRIAM ROCIO MENDEZ, WHO WAS EN ROUTE TO THE UNIVERSITY OF SAN CARLOS. THE DAUGHTER WAS UNINJURED. FIVE MONTHS LATER ON JUNE 29, THE MENDEZ FAMILY REPORTED THERE WERE ARMED MEN OUTSIDE HIS HOME. HOWEVER, WHEN THE POLICE ARRIVED AT THE SCENE, THE ARMED MEN HAD LEFT. IN AUGUST AN UNKNOWN PERSON CALLED A MENDEZ RELATIVE IN GUATEMALA CITY STATING THAT MENDEZ SHOULD NOT RETURN TO HIS HOME IN QUICHE BECAUSE HE WOULD BE KILLED.

68. ROSALINA TUYUC, DIRECTOR OF CONAVIGUA, THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF GUATEMALAN WIDOWS, REPORTED THAT DURING JUNE AND JULY ARMED SOLDIERS REPEATEDLY WERE STATIONED OUTSIDE HER PARENTS' HOME IN CHIMALTENANGO. THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, THE GUATEMALAN ARMY HAS ACCUSED TUYUC AND CONAVIGUA OF BEING ALLIED WITH THE GUERRILLAS. THE ARMY ALSO CHARGED THAT ONE OF TUYUC'S BROTHERS IS A GUERRILLA COMMANDER WHO ENGINEERED RECENT GUERRILLA ATTACKS. ON JUNE 22, UNKNOWN MEN ATTACKED, STABBED, AND ROBBED SARA POROJ VASQUEZ, AN OFFICER OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION GAM, "GRUPO DE APOYO MUTUO", OUTSIDE HER HOME. NO ONE WAS APPREHENDED FOR THIS ATTACK.

69. RELATIONS BETWEEN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO IS CONGRESSIONALLY APPOINTED, REMAIN TENSE. THE OMBUDSMAN REPEATEDLY ACCUSED PRESIDENT DE LEON, THE PREVIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, OF NOT TAKING ACTION ON THE NUMEROUS

RESOLUTIONS HIS OFFICE HAS ISSUED CONCERNING HUMAN RIGHTS. HOWEVER, THE CURRENT OMBUDSMAN HAS SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCED HIS INVESTIGATIVE STAFF, THUS LIMITING HIS CAPACITY TO VERIFY COMPLAINTS. ON SEPTEMBER 7, THE OMBUDSMAN CALLED FOR THE RESIGNATION OF THE NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR BECAUSE OF ALLEGATIONS OF POLICE ABUSE IN THE LA EXACTA INCIDENT (SEE SECTION 1.A.) (COMMENT: CORRECTED CROSS REFERENCE).

70. HIGH-RANKING GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WORKING IN THE FIELDS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND JURISPRUDENCE COMPLAINED PUBLICLY AND PRIVATELY OF RECEIVING THREATS STEMMING FROM THEIR INTEREST IN RESOLVING CASES RELATED TO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, OFFICIAL CORRUPTION, AND DRUG TRAFFICKING.

71. BOTH THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE AND THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE CONTINUED TO ENJOY PUBLIC SUPPORT AND RESPECT. SENIOR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS MET NUMEROUS FOREIGN OFFICIALS AND HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS. INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS TRAVEL THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY BUT ON OCCASION ADVISE LOCAL MILITARY AUTHORITIES OF THEIR PRESENCE TO ENSURE THEIR SAFETY, PARTICULARLY IN RURAL AREAS. DESPITE A PERSISTENT, 13-YEAR EFFORT, PEACE BRIGADES INTERNATIONAL, AN INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION WHICH ACCOMPANIES PERSONS WHOSE LIVES MAY BE IN DANGER FOR THEIR POLITICAL BELIEFS OR ACTIVITIES, HAS BEEN UNABLE TO OBTAIN GOVERNMENT RECOGNITION. THE ABSENCE OF LEGAL STATUS DID NOT, HOWEVER, PREVENT PEACE BRIGADES OR OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS FROM OPERATING OPENLY.

SECTION 5 DISCRIMINATION BASED ON RACE, SEX, RELIGION, DISABILITY, LANGUAGE, OR SOCIAL STATUS

(EMBASSY PLEASE PROVIDE ONE SENTENCE LEAD-IN STATEMENT DESCRIBING WHAT THE CONSTITUTION OR OTHER LAWS SAY REGARDING DISCRIMINATION ON SOME OR ALL OF THESE GROUNDS. ANS: DONE.)

WOMEN

72. THE CONSTITUTION ASSERTS THE PRINCIPLE OF EQUALITY BETWEEN THE SEXES. NONETHELESS, WOMEN FACE JOB DISCRIMINATION AND ON AVERAGE RECEIVE SIGNIFICANTLY LOWER PAY THAN MEN. THEY ARE PRIMARILY EMPLOYED IN LOW-WAGE JOBS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY, AGRICULTURE, RETAIL BUSINESS, AND THE PUBLIC SECTOR. MORE WORKING WOMEN THAN MEN ARE EMPLOYED IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR OF THE ECONOMY, WHERE PAY AND BENEFITS ARE GENERALLY LOWER. A 1989 SURVEY REPORTED THAT IN GUATEMALA CITY WOMEN ARE UNDERREPRESENTED IN HIGH-INCOME CATEGORIES AND OVERREPRESENTED AMONG POORLY PAID WORKERS.

73. IN SOME CASES, DOMESTIC LAWS REMAIN DISCRIMINATORY AGAINST WOMEN, SUCH AS THE PENAL CODE'S PROVISIONS ON ADULTERY. ONLY WOMEN MAY BE CHARGED WITH ADULTERY, WHILE MEN FALL UNDER A DIFFERENT STATUTE WHICH IS MORE LIMITED, MAKES IT MORE DIFFICULT TO PROVE, AND CARRIES A LESSER PENALTY.

74. CONAVIGUA REPORTED THAT VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN, INCLUDING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, REMAINS COMMON BUT RECEIVES LITTLE ATTENTION. THERE IS NO SPECIFIC LAW AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, ALTHOUGH IT IS CONSIDERED TO FALL UNDER OTHER STATUTES. CRIMINAL SEXUAL VIOLENCE OFTEN GOES UNREPORTED BY VICTIMS, AND RELATIVELY FEW RAPE CASES COME TO COURT. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE REPORTED RECEIVING 30 COMPLAINTS PER MONTH OF SPOUSAL ABUSE COMMITTED BY THE MALE SPOUSE.

CHILDREN

75. THE CONSTITUTION CHARGES THE GOVERNMENT WITH PROTECTING THE PHYSICAL HEALTH AND MENTAL AND MORAL WELL BEING OF MINORS. HOWEVER, THE ABUSE OF STREET CHILDREN (SEE SECTION 1.C.) IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM IN MAJOR CITIES. ESTIMATES OF STREET CHILDREN RANGE BETWEEN 1,500 AND 5,000, WITH THE MAJORITY OF THESE YOUTHS CONCENTRATED IN GUATEMALA CITY. THESE CHILDREN ARE OFTEN RECRUITED INTO THIEVERY OR PROSTITUTION RINGS. THE GOVERNMENT AND A NUMBER OF NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE YOUTH CENTERS, BUT THE FUNDS DEVOTED TO THEM ARE INADEQUATE FOR THE PROBLEM. AN ACCORD BETWEEN CASA ALIANZA AND THE SOLICITOR GENERAL'S OFFICE WAS NOT RENEWED BECAUSE THE DE LEON ADMINISTRATION BELIEVES THAT THE TREATMENT OF STREET CHILDREN IS ADEQUATELY ADDRESSED IN EXISTING LAWS. COPREDEH, THE PRESIDENTIAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, HAS FORMED A SPECIAL COMMISSION CALLED THE PERMANENT COMMISSION FOR CHILDREN, COMPOSED OF CASA ALIANZA AND REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE BRANCHES, WHICH MET THROUGH OCTOBER TO ADDRESS THE PROBLEMS OF STREET CHILDREN. RELATIONS BETWEEN CASA ALIANZA AND THE NATIONAL POLICE HAS FLUCTUATED AND HAS ONLY IMPROVED DUE TO THE REPEATED PERSONAL INTERVENTION OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT'S INSPECTOR GENERAL AND THE INTEREST OF THE DEPARTMENT'S MINORS DIVISION AND OFFICE OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY. HOWEVER, THE POLICE DEPARTMENT'S OFFICE OF CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS HAS BEEN RELUCTANT TO RELEASE INFORMATION ON PAST ALLEGED HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES COMMITTED BY POLICE OFFICERS.

INDIGENOUS PEOPLE

76. THE CONSTITUTION STATES THAT GUATEMALA IS COMPOSED OF DIFFERENT DIVERSE ETHNIC GROUPS AND IT CALLS ON THE GOVERNMENT TO RECOGNIZE, RESPECT AND PROMOTE LIFE STYLES, CUSTOMS, TRADITIONS, SOCIAL ORGANIZATION AND THE MANNER OF DRESS OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES. GUATEMALAN INDIGENOUS PEOPLE COMPRISE AT LEAST ONE-HALF OF THE POPULATION BUT REMAIN LARGELY

OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY'S POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND CULTURAL MAINSTREAM. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUFFERED MOST OF THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES DESCRIBED THROUGHOUT THIS REPORT. RURAL INDIGENOUS MEN WERE MORE LIKELY THAN URBAN DWELLERS TO BE DRAFTED BY THE ARMY OR FORCIBLY RECRUITED BY EITHER THE ARMY OR GUERRILLA GROUPS. ALTHOUGH THE CONSTITUTION ACCORDS INDIGENOUS PEOPLE EQUAL RIGHTS, IN PRACTICE THEY HAVE ONLY MINIMAL PARTICIPATION IN DECISIONS AFFECTING THEIR LANDS, CULTURE, TRADITIONS, AND ALLOCATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES. RURAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLE HAVE

LIMITED EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES AND THUS HAVE LIMITED EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES. ILLITERACY IS PREVALENT IN INDIGENOUS COMMUNITIES. MANY INDIGENOUS PEOPLE DO NOT SPEAK SPANISH. LINGUISTIC BARRIERS HINDER INTERACTION WITH THE GOVERNMENT AND LIMIT ACCESS TO PUBLIC SERVICES, INCLUDING THE JUDICIARY, BECAUSE FEW OFFICIALS SPEAK ANY OF THE 21 INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES. INDIGENOUS PERSONS ARRESTED FOR CRIMES ARE OFTEN AT A DISADVANTAGE DUE TO THEIR LACK OF SPANISH. THE PUBLIC DEFENDER'S OFFICE IS CHARGED WITH PROVIDING JUDICIAL TRANSLATING SERVICES BUT IS NOT SUFFICIENTLY STAFFED TO COPE WITH THE PROBLEM. UNDER THE NEW PENAL PROCEDURES CODE, THE GOVERNMENT IS REQUIRED TO PROVIDE TRANSLATING SERVICES TO ALL WHO NEED IT IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS. (EMBASSY: DOES IT DO SO IN PRACTICE? ANS: NO, BECAUSE THEY ARE ONLY NOW BEGINNING TO INITIATE ORAL TRIAL PROCEDURES.)

PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

SECTION 6 WORKER RIGHTS

A. THE RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION

78. THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LABOR CODE PROVIDE WORKERS COMPLETE FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION AND THE RIGHT TO FORM AND JOIN TRADE UNIONS. THE MAJOR REFORMS TO THE LABOR CODE IN 1992 MANDATED CONCRETE STEPS TO IMPROVE WORKERS RIGHTS BY FACILITATING FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION, STRENGTHENING THE RIGHTS OF WORKING WOMEN, INCREASING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS OF LABOR LAWS, AND ENHANCING THE ROLE OF THE LABOR MINISTRY AND LABOR COURTS IN ENFORCING THEM. ALL WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO FORM OR JOIN UNIONS, INCLUDING PUBLIC SECTOR EMPLOYEES, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF MEMBERS OF SECURITY FORCES. NATIONAL POLICE OFFICERS HAVE UNSUCCESSFULLY ATTEMPTED TO FORM A TRADE UNION OR ASSOCIATION. BETWEEN 5 AND 8 PERCENT OF THE WORK FORCE IS ORGANIZED. THE 993 REGISTERED UNIONS IN THE COUNTRY ARE INDEPENDENT OF GOVERNMENT AND POLITICAL PARTY DOMINATION.

79. THE LABOR CODE AMENDMENTS SIMPLIFIED THE PROCESS FOR UNIONS TO OBTAIN LEGAL STATUS. THIS WAS FURTHER REVISED WHEN THE MINISTER OF LABOR MADE ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES TO REDUCE THE NUMBER OF STEPS NEEDED WITHIN THE MINISTRY TO GRANT APPROVAL, ESTABLISHED STRICT TIMETABLES FOR CONSIDERATION OF UNION APPLICATIONS, AND CLARIFIED THAT NONCOMPLIANCE WITH THIS TIMETABLE COULD LEAD TO DISMISSAL OF THE OFFICIALS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DELAY.

80. THESE NEW REGULATIONS ACCELERATED THE APPROVAL PROCEDURE, AND THE BACKLOG OF UNION APPLICATIONS WAS BASICALLY ELIMINATED BY MID-YEAR. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS GRANTED LEGAL STATUS TO 63 UNIONS SINCE LATE 1993, AND ONLY 13 APPLICATIONS ARE STILL PENDING. OF THE REGISTERED UNIONS, 834 ARE IN THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND 159 ARE IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS INITIATED A PROGRAM TO ASSIST UNIONS WITH THEIR APPLICATIONS, TO AVOID SOME OF THE PITFALLS STILL INHERENT IN THE LABOR CODE.

81. WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO STRIKE, BUT LABOR CODE PROCEDURES MAKE LEGAL STRIKES CUMBERSOME. LABOR ORGANIZERS CRITICIZE THE REQUIREMENT THAT TWO-THIRDS OF THE WORKERS VOTE TO APPROVE A STRIKE, THE PROHIBITION OF STRIKES BY AGRICULTURAL WORKERS AT HARVEST TIME, AND THE RIGHT OF THE GOVERNMENT TO PROHIBIT STRIKES WHICH IT DEEMS AS SERIOUSLY AFFECTING THE NATIONAL ECONOMY. THOSE STRIKES THAT DO OCCUR, FREQUENTLY IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR, ARE GENERALLY CALLED WITHOUT LEGAL AUTHORIZATION, AND IN PRACTICE THE GOVERNMENT MAKES NO EFFORT TO INTERVENE ON THE BASIS OF ILLEGALITY. NONETHELESS, THE LACK OF LEGAL APPROVAL FOR A STRIKE CAN BE USED AS A THREAT AGAINST STRIKERS. PUBLIC SECTOR WORKERS HELD A SERIES OF WORK STOPPAGES IN EARLY 1994 AND SUFFERED NO SANCTIONS FOR THEIR ACTION. INDEED, THE GOVERNMENT NEGOTIATED AND REACHED A PEACEFUL ACCOMMODATION WITH THE PUBLIC LABOR FORCE.

82. THE LAW PROTECTS WORKERS FROM RETRIBUTION FOR

FORMING AND PARTICIPATING IN TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES, BUT ENFORCEMENT OF THESE PROVISIONS VARIES. WHILE AN INCREASING NUMBER OF EMPLOYERS ACCEPT UNIONIZATION, MANY ROUTINELY SEEK TO CIRCUMVENT LABOR CODE PROVISIONS IN ORDER TO RESIST UNION ACTIVITIES, WHICH MANY VIEW AS HISTORICALLY CONFRONTATIONAL AND DISRUPTIVE. AN INEFFECTIVE LEGAL SYSTEM AND THE INADEQUATE LEVEL OF PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS HAS HINDERED ENFORCEMENT OF THE RIGHT TO FORM AND PARTICIPATE IN TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES. WHILE PENALTIES WERE INCREASED IN THE 1992 LABOR CODE REFORM, THE SUPREME COURT, RESPONDING TO PRESIDENT DE LEON'S ULTIMATELY SUCCESSFUL ANTI-CORRUPTION CAMPAIGN TO HAVE THEM DISMISSED, DELAYED FULL IMPLEMENTATION OF THE REFORMS.

83. TRADE UNION LEADERS AND MEMBERS WERE VICTIMS OF A MARKED INCREASE IN VIOLENCE AND ABUSE, SUCH AS THREATS, ASSASSINATION ATTEMPTS, KIDNAPINGS, AND PHYSICAL HARM. IN ONE INCIDENT, POLICE KILLED AND WOUNDED SEVERAL PERSONS WHILE ATTEMPTING TO ARREST WORKERS WHO WERE ILLEGALLY OCCUPYING A RANCH (SEE SECTION 1.A.).

84. THE ARCHBISHOP"S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED THAT 5 UNIONISTS WERE KILLED IN 1994, 2 INJURED, AND 36 THREATENED BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANTS, ALTHOUGH WHETHER SUCH VIOLENCE IS UNION-RELATED IS NOT ALWAYS CLEAR. PUBLIC SECTOR UNION LEADERS, AS WELL AS UNIONISTS IN THE HIGH-PROFILE MAQUILA EXPORT SECTOR, REPORTED RECEIVING THREATS AGAINST THEMSELVES AND THEIR FAMILIES. SUCH ANONYMOUS THREATS INCREASED MARKEDLY EARLY IN THE YEAR WHEN ONE OF THE FEDERATIONS OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES HELD A PROLONGED SERIES OF WORK STOPPAGES FOR IMPROVED WAGES AND GOVERNMENT COMPLIANCE WITH PREVIOUSLY NEGOTIATED AGREEMENTS, WHICH WAS PEACEFULLY SETTLED THROUGH NEGOTIATIONS WITH VARIOUS UNION REPRESENTATIVES.

85. ON SEPTEMBER 30, PRESIDENT DE LEON CARPIO ELIMINATED THE MORIBUND COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL RECONSTRUCTION, A GOVERNMENT ENTITY ESTABLISHED TO MANAGE RECOVERY FROM THE 1976 EARTHQUAKE, ALLEGEDLY WITHOUT FOLLOWING THE LEGALLY REQUIRED PROCEDURES. MANY OF THE 600 WORKERS WHO LOST THEIR JOBS OCCUPIED THE COMMITTEE'S HEADQUARTERS IN AN ATTEMPT TO FORCE THE GOVERNMENT TO NEGOTIATE SEVERANCE PAY OR FIND THEM ALTERNATIVE EMPLOYMENT. AGUSTIN MONZON, A MEMBER OF THE CNR UNION, WAS ALLEGEDLY KIDNAPPED NOVEMBER 7 AND RELEASED ONLY AFTER THE OCCUPIERS AGREED TO LEAVE THE SITE PEACEFULLY ON NOVEMBER 18.

86. UNIONS MAY AND DO FORM FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS AND JOIN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

87. AN ACTIVE "SOLIDARITY" MOVEMENT CLAIMS APPROXIMATELY 100,000 MEMBERS IN OVER 395 COMPANIES. UNIONS MAY LEGALLY CONTINUE TO OPERATE IN WORKPLACES WHICH HAVE SOLIDARITY ASSOCIATIONS, AND WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHOOSE BETWEEN THE TWO OR BELONG TO BOTH. THE GOVERNMENT VIEWS THESE ASSOCIATIONS AS CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS WHICH NEED NOT INTERFERE WITH THE FUNCTIONING OF TRADE UNIONS. THE AMENDED LABOR CODE STIPULATES VERY CLEARLY THAT TRADE UNIONS HAVE THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY OVER WORK CONDITIONS ON BEHALF OF WORKERS. UNIONISTS CHARGE, HOWEVER, THAT SOLIDARITY ASSOCIATIONS ARE PROMOTED BY MANAGEMENT TO AVOID THE FORMATION OF TRADE UNIONS OR TO RIVAL EXISTING LABOR UNIONS. THERE ARE CREDIBLE REPORTS THAT SOME OF THESE ASSOCIATIONS DID NOT ALWAYS ADHERE TO DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES IN THEIR FORMATION AND MANAGEMENT, AND THAT WORKERS WERE UNABLE TO PARTICIPATE FULLY AND FREELY IN DECISION MAKING. SIMILAR CREDIBLE CHARGES ARE MADE AGAINST

SOME TRADE UNION ORGANIZATIONS.

88. AT THE REQUEST OF TRADE UNION LEADERS, THE INDEPENDENT HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, THROUGH HIS OFFICE FOR ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ISSUES, RECEIVES COMPLAINTS RELATED TO TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES. UNION LEADERS AND WORKERS FILED A NUMBER OF COMPLAINTS WITH THE OMBUDSMAN DURING THE YEAR, AND THE OMBUDSMAN HAS SPOKEN OUT IN PUBLIC STATEMENTS ABOUT LABOR CONDITIONS IN VARYING SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY. THE OMBUDSMAN CAN INVESTIGATE THEIR COMPLAINTS AND ISSUE A STATEMENT: HE HAS NO ENFORCEMENT POWERS BUT CAN ATTEMPT TO AMELIORATE THE SITUATION THROUGH PUBLICITY AND MORAL SUASION.

B. THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY

89. WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY. HOWEVER, THE PRACTICE OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IS LIMITED BY THE WEAK STRUCTURE OF THE UNION MOVEMENT, THE LACK OF EXPERIENCE WITH THIS PRACTICE, AND THE PREFERENCE OF MANAGEMENT IN MANY CASES TO AVOID FORMAL TIES WITH TRADE UNIONS. WHILE BOTH MANAGEMENT AND THE UNIONS HONORED SOME WELL-WRITTEN COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS, IN OTHER INSTANCES, BOTH PARTIES HAVE OPENLY IGNORED AND VIOLATED CONTRACTS. MOST WORKERS, EVEN THOSE ORGANIZED BY TRADE UNIONS, DO NOT HAVE COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS TO COVER THEIR WAGES AND WORKING CONDITIONS, BUT DO HAVE INDIVIDUAL CONTRACTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW. MOST WORKERS RECEIVE THE MINIMUM WAGES ESTABLISHED BY BIPARTITE COMMISSIONS, WHICH OPERATE UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF THE MINISTRY OF LABOR, WHICH WERE INCREASED, ON AVERAGE, BY MORE THAN 35 PERCENT IN 1994.

90. EMPLOYERS CANNOT DISMISS WORKERS FOR PARTICIPATING IN THE FORMATION OF A TRADE UNION; WORKERS FILE COMPLAINTS IN THIS REGARD WITH THE LABOR INSPECTORS FOR RESOLUTION. THE LABOR CODE PROVIDES FOR THE RIGHT OF EMPLOYERS TO FIRE UNION WORKERS FOR CAUSE, PERMITS WORKERS TO APPEAL THEIR DISMISSAL TO THE LABOR COURTS, AND REQUIRES THE REINSTATEMENT OF ANY UNION WORKER FIRED WITHOUT CAUSE. THE REVISED CODE PROHIBITS EMPLOYERS FROM FIRING WORKERS FOR UNION ORGANIZING AND PROTECTS THEM FOR 60 DAYS FOLLOWING THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF APPROVAL OF THE UNION. IT ALSO PROHIBITS EMPLOYERS FROM FIRING ANY MEMBER OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF A UNION AND PROTECTS THEM FOR AN ADDITIONAL 12 MONTHS AFTER THEY ARE NO LONGER ON THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. AN EMPLOYER MAY FIRE A MEMBER OF A UNION'S EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE FOR CAUSE ONLY AFTER A TRIAL AND ISSUANCE OF A COURT RESOLUTION.

91. LABOR COURTS RESPONSIBLE FOR ENFORCING LABOR LAWS CONTINUED TO BE GENERALLY INEFFECTIVE. EFFORTS TO RESTRUCTURE AND MODERNIZE THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM

MADE LITTLE HEADWAY, EVEN THOUGH TWO NEW LABOR COURTS BEGAN TO FUNCTION, PARTIALLY BECAUSE OF PRESIDENT DE LEON"S CAMPAIGN TO PURIFY THE JUDICIAL BRANCH. A HEAVY BACKLOG OF LABOR CASES CONTINUED TO CLOG THE COURTS DUE TO CORRUPTION, INDOLENCE, AND LACK OF RESOURCES. THERE IS ONLY SPOTTY ENFORCEMENT OF THE LABOR CODE, DUE TO THE SCARCITY OF LABOR INSPECTORS, CORRUPTION, THE LACK OF ADEQUATE TRAINING AND RESOURCES, AND STRUCTURAL WEAKNESSES (OR THE LACK OF POLITICAL WILL) IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM. NONETHELESS, ENFORCEMENT IS IMPROVING AS THE 37 NEW LABOR INSPECTORS HIRED IN 1993 HAVE BEEN TRAINED, PROVIDED ADDITIONAL RESOURCES TO DO THEIR JOBS AND, IN SOME CASES, MOVED TO RURAL AREAS AND OFFICES ESTABLISHED OUTSIDE OF THE CAPITAL. THIS HAS ALLOWED THE LABOR MINISTRY SIGNIFICANTLY TO INCREASE ITS RATE OF INSPECTIONS AND THE NUMBER OF CASES IT HAS FILED IN THE COURTS FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THE LABOR CODE. THE MINISTRY HAS ALSO BEGUN A SIGNIFICANT EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN ON WORKERS RIGHTS, INCLUDING PUTTING OUT SOME DOCUMENTS IN INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES.

92. LABOR LAWS AND REGULATIONS APPLY THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY, INCLUDING IN THE FEW EXPORT PROCESSING ZONES (EPZ'S). THE LAWS GOVERNING EPZ'S ARE NOT DISCRIMINATORY ON THE SUBJECT OF ORGANIZING TRADE UNIONS OR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING. WHILE UNION LEADERS OFTEN BLAME EMPLOYER PRESSURES AND UNOFFICIALLY RESTRICTED ACCESS TO THE EPZ'S FOR THEIR VIRTUAL INABILITY TO ORGANIZE WORKERS IN THESE ZONES, LABOR CONDITIONS IN THESE ZONES ARE NO DIFFERENT FROM THOSE FOUND OUTSIDE THE ZONES.

C. PROHIBITION OF FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR

93. THE CONSTITUTION BARS FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR, AND THE PRACTICE DOES NOT EXIST. HUMAN RIGHTS AND INDIGENOUS GROUPS CONTINUE TO CHARGE THAT THERE IS COERCED PARTICIPATION IN THE PACS THAT VIOLATES PROHIBITIONS AGAINST FORCED LABOR.

D. MINIMUM AGE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN

94. ALTHOUGH THE CONSTITUTION BARS EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS UNDER THE AGE OF 14, CHILDREN BELOW THIS AGE ARE REGULARLY EMPLOYED. LAWS GOVERNING THE EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS ARE NOT EFFECTIVELY ENFORCED, DUE TO THE SHORTAGE OF QUALIFIED LABOR INSPECTORS AND STRUCTURAL WEAKNESSES IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM. ONLY 5,000 MINORS HAVE PERMISSION FROM THE LABOR

MINISTRY TO WORK LEGALLY. THOUSANDS WORKING WITHOUT LEGAL PERMISSION ARE OPEN TO EXPLOITATION, GENERALLY RECEIVING NO SOCIAL BENEFITS, NO SOCIAL INSURANCE, NO PENSION OR VACATIONS, AND NO SEVERANCE PAY, AND ARE PAID BELOW THE MINIMUM WAGE LEVEL. THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS A PROGRAM TO EDUCATE MINORS, THEIR PARENTS, AND EMPLOYERS ON THE RIGHTS OF MINORS IN THE LABOR MARKET. ECONOMIC NECESSITY, HOWEVER, FORCES

MOST FAMILIES TO HAVE THEIR CHILDREN SEEK SOME TYPE OF EMPLOYMENT TO SUPPLEMENT THE FAMILY INCOME. CHILD LABOR IS LARGELY CONFINED TO SMALL OR FAMILY-TYPE ENTERPRISES, TO AGRICULTURAL WORK, AND TO THE INFORMAL SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY. THERE ARE NO EXPORT INDUSTRIES IN WHICH CHILD LABOR IS A SIGNIFICANT FACTOR.

95. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR COMPULSORY EDUCATION FOR ALL CHILDREN UP TO THE AGE OF 12 OR TO THE SIXTH GRADE. HOWEVER, LESS THAN HALF THE POPULATION ACTUALLY RECEIVES A FULL PRIMARY EDUCATION.

E. ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS OF WORK

96. ALTHOUGH THE LAW SETS MINIMUM WAGES, THERE ARE CREDIBLE REPORTS THAT THE LEGALLY MANDATED MINIMUM WAGE IS ORDINARILY NOT PAID TO SIGNIFICANT NUMBERS OF RURAL AND URBAN WORKERS. A BILATERAL COMMITTEE REPRESENTING LABOR AND MANAGEMENT IN SPECIFIC ECONOMIC SECTORS IS NAMED EACH YEAR TO MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR INCREASES IN THE MINIMUM WAGE. IN THE EVENT THAT AGREEMENT IS NOT POSSIBLE, THE GOVERNMENT MAY DECREE SUCH INCREASES. IN JUNE THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COFFEE GROWERS (ANACAFE) REACHED AN AGREEMENT WITH ONE TRADE UNION GROUP REPRESENTING COFFEE FARM WORKERS WHICH INCREASED THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR COFFEE FARM WORKERS BY APPROXIMATELY 30 PERCENT TO $2.41 (14.50 QUETZALS) A DAY. THIS HISTORIC ACCORD, REACHED WITHOUT GOVERNMENT INVOLVEMENT, ALSO PROVIDES FOR BOTH PRODUCTIVITY TRAINING AND BONUS PAYMENTS AND FORESEES TALKS ON MODERNIZATION OF THE CRITICAL COFFEE SECTOR.

97. FOLLOWING THE ANACAFE ACCORD, THE GOVERNMENT SUBSTANTIALLY INCREASED THE MINIMUM WAGE IN THE MAIN SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY IN OCTOBER. THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL WORKERS IS $3.29 (16 QUETZALS) FOR AN 8-HOUR WORKDAY, INCLUDING A REQUIRED HOURLY BONUS. THE MINIMUM WAGE FOR FARM WORKERS IS $3.00 (14.50 QUETZALS) PER DAY, PLUS MANDATORY AND PRODUCTIVITY BONUSES. IT HAS BEEN ESTIMATED THAT AN URBAN FAMILY OF FOUR NEEDS AT LEAST 48 QUETZALES (USD 8.50) PER DAY TO LIVE, THUS THE MINIMUM WAGE DOES NOT PROVIDE A DECENT STANDARD OF LIVING; AN ESTIMATED 70 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION LIVES BELOW THE POVERTY LINE, INCLUDING APPROXIMATELY 60 PERCENT OF THOSE EMPLOYED.

98. THE LEGAL WORKDAY IS 8 HOURS AND THE WORKWEEK IS 44 HOURS, BUT A TRADITION OF MUCH LONGER HOURS REMAINS IN PLACE DUE TO ECONOMIC CONDITIONS. THE AMENDED LABOR CODE REQUIRES A WEEKLY PAID REST PERIOD OF AT LEAST 24 HOURS. TRADE UNION LEADERS AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS CHARGE THAT WORKERS ARE SOMETIMES FORCED TO WORK OVERTIME, OFTEN WITHOUT PREMIUM PAY, OR GIVEN DRUGS TO HELP THEM WORK LONGER IN ORDER TO MEET WORK REQUIREMENTS. LABOR INSPECTORS REPORT THAT NUMEROUS INSTANCES WERE UNCOVERED OF SUCH ABUSES, BUT

CORRUPTION AND INEFFICIENCIES IN THE LABOR COURT SYSTEM INHIBIT ADEQUATE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

99. OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS ARE INADEQUATE. AS WITH OTHER ASPECTS OF THE LABOR LAW, ENFORCEMENT OF STANDARDS THAT DO EXIST IS ALSO INADEQUATE. WORKERS HAVE THE LEGAL RIGHT TO REMOVE THEMSELVES FROM DANGEROUS WORKPLACE SITUATIONS, AND THE LAW PROVIDES THEM WITH PROTECTION FOR THEIR CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT. HOWEVER, FEW WORKERS ARE WILLING TO JEOPARDIZE THEIR JOBS BY COMPLAINING ABOUT UNSAFE WORKING CONDITIONS. WHEN SERIOUS OR FATAL INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS DO OCCUR, THE AUTHORITIES GENERALLY TAKE NO LEGAL STEPS AGAINST THOSE RESPONSIBLE. THE LABOR MINISTRY PROVIDES TRAINING COURSES FOR LABOR INSPECTORS IN HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS, BUT DOES NOT ACCORD THEM A HIGH PRIORITY DUE TO SCARCE RESOURCES. THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT EFFECTIVELY ENFORCE LEGISLATION REQUIRING COMPANIES WITH MORE THAN 50 EMPLOYEES TO PROVIDE ON-SITE MEDICAL FACILITIES FOR THEIR WORKERS, EVEN THOUGH MANY LARGE EMPLOYERS DO PROVIDE SUCH FACILITIES.

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT
2. SUMMARY: THE GOM UNVEILED THE "AGREEMENT TO OVERCOME THE ECONOMIC EMERGENCY" ON JANUARY 3, 1995 DETAILING THE EMERGENCY ECONOMIC PROGRAM PRIOR TO PRESIDENT ZEDILLO'S SPEECH LATER IN THE DAY (SEPTEL) EXPLAINING THE PROGRAM TO THE COUNTRY. THE PROGRAM IS ONE THAT CALLS FOR SACRIFICE FROM ALL SECTORS OF SOCIETY, BUT WHOSE CHIEF BURDEN SEEMS TO FALL ON WAGE EARNERS. NEGOTIATION OF THE PACT TOOK WELL OVER TWENTY HOURS, AS THE ORGANIZED LABOR SECTOR, SPECIFICALLY THE CTM AND FIDEL VELASQUEZ, PROVED RECALCITRANT IN ACCEPTING ITS TERMS. THE MAIN INGREDIENTS ARE TO FREEZE IN PLACE THE WAGE SETTLEMENT OF DECEMBER 20, TO CUT GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES BY ABOUT 1.3 PERCENT OF GDP, TO EXHORT BUSINESSMEN TO EXCERSIZE RESTRAINT IN

ACCELERATE THE PROCESS OF PRIVATIZATION AND DEREGULATION. THE GOAL IS TO HAVE A CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT OF NO MORE THAN 14

BILLION DOLLARS IN 1995 (VS. 28 BILLION IN 1994), TO BE FINANCED BY MODERATE BORROWING, DIRECT FOREIGN INVESTMENT, AND CURRENCY REPATRIATION.

3. THE MARKETS DID NOT ANTICIPATE GOOD NEWS, WITH THE STOCK MARKET FALLING 29 POINTS, OR ABOUT 1.4 PERCENT, TO 2325 POINTS. INTEREST RATES ROSE, WITH DOLLAR-DENOMINATED MEXICAN TREASURY NOTES (TESOBONOS) RISING TWO POINTS IN THE PRIMARY AUCTION TO 12.5 PERCENT. THE PESO ALSO LOST GROUND TO THE U.S. DOLLAR BY ABOUT 50 CENTAVOS, TO 5.30/5.50 (BUY/SELL).

4. IT IS ALSO CLEAR THAT LABOR LEADERS ARE TROUBLED BY THE U-TURN BACK TO DECLINING REAL WAGES AND AUSTERITY. END SUMMARY.

THE PACT....

5. ON JANUARY 3 THE GOM, WITH LABOR SECRETARY ONATE FRONTING, UNVEILED ITS LATEST PACT, ENTITLED THE AGREEMENT OF UNION TO OVERCOME THE ECONOMIC EMERGENCY (ACUERDO DE UNIDAD PARA SUPERAR LA EMERGENCIA ECONOMICA). THE PACT'S ANNOUNCEMENT HAD BEEN EXPECTED FOR JANUARY 2, BUT THE NEGOTIATION DRAGGED ON FOR 20 HOURS. THE CHIEF OBJECTORS WERE THE LABOR SECTOR. LABOR PATRIARCH FIDEL VELASQUEZ LEFT THE TABLE LATE JANUARY 2, BECAUSE OF HIS DISAGREEMENT WITH THE CONTINUED DEMAND FOR SACRIFICE FROM LOW-WAGE EARNERS. NONETHELESS, HE WAS AT ZEDILLO'S SIDE ON JANUARY 3 AND DUTIFULLY SIGNED THE PACT. AS IS CLEAR FROM THE DETAILS OF THE PACT, EVERYBODY IS ASKED TO SACRIFICE, BUT THE ONLY CONCRETE RESTRAINTS ARE ON FEDERAL GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES AND SALARIES -- THE BUSINESS SECTOR WILL BE ASKED TO EXCERCISE RESTRAINT IN PASSING ON PRICE RISES,

[redacted]

AND WILL BE SUBJECTED TO INCREASED CREDIT RESTRICTIONS.

6. ...THE GOALS...

---

THE EMERGENCY PLAN, AS PRESENTED BY LABOR SECRETARY SANTIAGO ONATE, STRUCK THE SAME THEMES AS ZEDILLO DID IN HIS SPEECH OF DECEMBER 29, I.E., ACTIONS HAD TO BE TAKEN TO AVOID A SPIRAL OF INFLATION AND DEVALUATION, TO DIMINISH THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT, TO ENSURE SOCIAL JUSTICE AND MINIMIZE HARDSHIP ON THE POOREST PEOPLE, AND TO MINIMIZE IN TIME AND DURATION THE INEVITABLE INFLATIONARY BUBBLE FOLLOWING ON THE DEVALUATION. THE GOM'S GOAL IS TO REDUCE THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT NEXT

[redacted]

YEAR TO 14 BILLION DOLLARS FROM ABOUT 28 BILLION DOLLARS NOW. ITS GROWTH TARGETS ARE BEING REDUCED FROM 4 PERCENT TO 1.5 TO 2 PERCENT.

9. THOUGH THE MARKETS CLOSED BEFORE ZEDILLO'S SPEECH (REPORTED [redacted]

SEPTEL), THEY REACTED ADVERSELY TO THE DETAILS OF THE PACT THAT WERE LEAKED IN THE EARLY MORNING HOURS, AND ESPECIALLY TO ANTICIPATED LABOR UNHAPPINESS. BROKERAGE HOUSES AND FINANCIAL ANALYSTS SAID THAT THE PROLONGED AND BITTER NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE LABOR SECTOR, AND ITS OBVIOUS UNHAPPINESS WITH THE RESULTANT STATE OF AFFAIRS, COULD LEAD TO LABOR UNREST. THESE FEARS CAUSED THE STOCK MARKET TO DROP 29 POINTS, OR ABOUT 1.4 PERCENT, TO 2325 POINTS, THE PESO TO WEAKEN TO 5.25/5.40 (BUY/SELL) ON THE INTERBANK MARKET, AND PRIMARY ISSUE TESOBONOS TO RISE TO 12.5 PERCENT, UP TWO POINTS FROM LAST WEEK'S 10.5 PERCENT.

9. COMMENT: REFTEL CONVEYED THE BROAD LINES OF WHAT THE EMERGENCY PLAN ENTAILED: WHAT EVENTUALLY EMERGED DIFFERED ONLY MODESTLY FROM EARLIER PREDICTIONS. CONCRETE RESTRAINTS WILL REMAIN ON WAGES, WITH LESS STRINGENT RESTRAINTS ON THE BUSINESS SECTOR. THE LABOR SECTOR HAS ALREADY BORNE A HEAVY SHARE OF THE AUSTERITY ASCENDING BACK TO 1982. OVER THE LAST 12 YEARS LABOR'S
URCHASING POWER LOST MORE, AND THEN RECOUPED LESS, RELATIVE TO OTHER SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY, LEADING TO LABOR'S RELUCTANCE TO SIGN ON TO TODAY'S PACT. BECAUSE LABOR BELIEVES THAT IT LOST GROUND IN THE SALINAS YEARS, AND BECAUSE ZEDILLO CAMPAIGNED ON A PROMISE OF GREATER WELL-BEING FOR THE FAMILY, DISILLUSIONMENT IS NOW EXACERBATED. SANTIAGO ONATE, THE SECRETARY OF LABOR, WILL HAVE A DIFFICULT JOB, AS THE LIKELIHOOD OF LABOR UNREST HAS RISEN MARKEDLY.

10. COMMENT CONTINUED: THE PRESENTATION OF THE EMERGENCY PLAN, AS WELL AS PRESIDENT ZEDILLO'S SPEECH, WAS ADDRESSED PRIMARILY TO THE MEXICAN PEOPLE. THE GOM NEEDED TO CONCENTRATE [redacted]

ON A RESTIVE CONSTITUENCY — A PEOPLE, AND PARTICULARLY A LABOR SECTOR, WITH LITTLE PATIENCE LEFT FOR AUSTERITY. IN CURRENT POLITICAL PARLANCE, ZEDILLO ACTED TO SECURE HIS "BASE." ANOTHER IMPORTANT CONSTITUENCY IS WALL STREET. SECRETARY OF HACIENDA ORTIZ WILL REPORTEDLY TRAVEL TO NEW YORK JANUARY 4 TO MAKE THAT PRESENTATION TO THE FINANCIAL COMMUNITY. IN OUR VIEW, THE NEW PACT GOES A CREDIBLE DISTANCE IN THE RIGHT ECONOMIC DIRECTION, BUT THE SOCIAL COST WILL BE HIGH. END COMMENT

RELEASED

Dear Mr. Richardson:

Thank you for your letter of December 15 and for sharing your draft op-ed piece with me. I also appreciate your kind words about Ambassador McAfee, and I am glad to hear that your trip to Mexico and Guatemala was productive. She and her staff are indeed doing an outstanding job in Guatemala, in the face of considerable challenge. The same is of course true of Alec Watson and Rick Nuccio.

Promoting respect for human rights is at the top of our bilateral agenda with Guatemala. We have devoted considerable effort to obtaining a full account in the case of Efrain Bamaca, and we will continue to press for results. At the same time, and as you note, nothing would do more to improve respect for human rights in Guatemala than to promote the peace process and bring an end to the country's internal conflict. The latest news from Mexico is not encouraging. The Government of Guatemala accepted a UN-drafted compromise proposal, but the URNG would not; and talks have at least temporarily broken off. We will keep up our efforts, however.

Again, thank you for taking the time to share your thoughts with me, and for all your efforts last month to secure the return of Chief Warrant Officer Hall and the remains of Chief Warrant Officer Hilemon. Your work in Pyongyang was key to our ability to resolve the incident successfully.

Sincerely,

Warren Christopher

2. SUMMARY: MARKETS ARE IN A WAIT-AND-SEE ATTITUDE, WITH LITTLE SENSE OF DIRECTION THROUGH JANUARY 5 AND 6. THERE IS A GENERAL FEELING AMONG FINANCIAL ANALYSTS THAT TREASURY SECRETARY ORTIZ'S PROGNOSIS FOR 1995 IS TOO OPTIMISTIC. THE TESOBONO PROBLEM IS A REAL SWORD OF DAMOCLES HANGING OVER THE GOM, WITH MORE THAN USD 10 BILLION WORTH OF OBLIGATIONS COMING DUE IN THE NEXT THREE MONTHS. SECRERARY ORTIZ'S TRIP TO NEW YORK WAS REPORTED AS MEETING WITH A FAVORABLE REACTION FROM WALL STREET, AND WITH THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT AS MUCH AS USD 14 BILLION WILL BE RAISED FROM PRIVATIZING SUCH THINGS AS THE NATIONAL ELECTRICITY COMPANY, FEDERAL HIGHWAYS, SATELLITES, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, ETC. GASOLINE PRICES WILL RISE ABOUT 10 PERCENT IN 1995. THE MEXICAN BANKING SECTOR ADMITS THAT IT IS IN A PARLOUS CONDITION. THERE IS GROWING PRESSURE TO PUNISH

THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CRISIS, AND LEGAL MOVES HAVE BEEN MADE BY THE OPPOSITION TO BRING FORMER PRESIDENT SALINAS AND ORMER FINANCE SECRETARIES ASPE AND SERRA PUCHE TO TRIAL. THE LABOR SECTOR IS CALLING FOR AGGRESIVE PURSUIT OF PRODUCTIVITY BONUSES IN THE SETTLEMENT OF WAGE CONTRACTS. END SUMMARY

MARKET MOVES

3. THE GOM'S PROJECTIONS FOR THE 1995'S INFLATION OF 15.9 PERCENT, 1.5 PERCENT GROWTH, AN EXCHANGE RATE OF 4.5 PESOS TO THE DOLLAR, AND 24 PERCENT AVERAGE INTEREST RATE ON SHORT TERM TREASURY BILLS (CETES -- REPORTED SEPTEL) DOMINATED MARKET ACTIONS ON JANUARY 5. IT APPEARS THAT THE MARKETS LACK DIRECTION. THE STOCK MARKET WHIPSAWED UP AND DOWN THROUGHOUT THE DAY, CLOSING UP 3.3 POINTS (0.1 PERCENT) TO 2273 POINTS. THE PESO, TRADING AT ABOUT 5.5 ON INTERBANK SETTLEMENTS, WAS A HAIR WEAKER ON JANUARY 5 FROM JANUARY 4. MONEY MARKET INTEREST RATES DECLINED FROM 28 PERCENT JANUARY 4 TO 26 PERCENT JANUARY 5.

4. JANUARY 6 WAS MUCH THE SAME, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE PESO. THE STOCK MARKET MOVED LATERALLY MOST OF THE DAY, CLOSING DOWN 17 POINTS (0.7 PERCENT) AT 2256 POINTS. SECONDARY MARKET INTEREST RATES REMAINED ABOUT THE SAME, BUT THE PESO WEAKENED TO ABOUT 5.85, AFTER HAVING TOUCHED 6.00 TO THE DOLLAR BRIEFLY. FINANCIAL ANALYSTS HAVE TOLD US THAT THEY ARE ADOPTING A WAIT-AND-SEE ATTITUDE, RECOMMENDING AGAINST FURTHER INVESTMENTS IN THE MEXICAN MARKET, BUT NOT ISSUING SELL RECOMMENDATIONS EITHER. MOST TEND TO BE SCEPTICAL OF THE GOM'S FORECASTS, PARTICULARLY THE EXCHANGE RATE, AS BEING TOO OPTIMISTIC.

THE TESOBONO PROBLEM

5. PRESS AND TELEVISION HAVE GIVEN CONSIDERABLE COVERAGE TO THE PROBLEM FACING MEXICO IN DEALING WITH THE ALMOST 30 BILLION

[redacted]

DOLLARS IN DOLLAR DENOMINATED MEXICAN TREASURY BILLS (TESOBONOS) WHICH WILL COME DUE THIS YEAR, WITH MORE THAN HALF (ALMOST 17 BILLION) DUE IN THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR, AND 10.4 BILLION COMING DUE BETWEEN JANUARY AND MARCH. THE GOM IS HOPING TO MAXIMIZE THE NUMBER OF INVESTORS WHO WILL ROLL THIS DEBT OVER, BUT REALIZES THAT A LARGE NUMBER WILL WANT TO TAKE THEIR MONEY IN DOLLARS AND CLOSE OUT THEIR ACCOUNTS. WHILE IN NEW YORK, TREASURY SECRETARY GUILLERMO ORTIZ PROPOSED

THE CREATION OF A NEW SWAP INSTRUMENT TO HANDLE THE TESOBONO PROBLEM. THE REPORTED CONCEPT IS TO HAVE HOLDERS OF TESOBONOS SWAP THEIR BONDS FOR MEXICAN INFRASTRUCTURE INVESTMENT INSTRUMENTS. THE SCHEME WOULD BE BACKED BY THE USD 3 BILLION IN PRIVATE FOREIGN BANK SUPPORT WITHIN THE 18 BILLION DOLLAR EXTERNAL SUPPORT FUND ANNOUNCED ON JANUARY 3.

GAS AND ENERGY PRICES

6. PEMEX ANNOUNCED THE INCREASES IN GAS AND OIL PRICES DUE TO THE ECONOMIC CRISIS. GASOLINE PRICES WILL RISE GRADUALLY ABOUT 10 PERCENT OVER THE COURSE OF 1995. WITH THE EXCEPTION OF GASOLINES AND LIQUIFIED NATURAL GAS FOR DOMESTIC USE, PEMEX PRODUCTS WILL INCREASE ON AVERAGE 48 PERCENT, LUBRICANTS, GREASES, AND OILS WILL INCREASE 45 PERCENT. LEAD-FREE GAS WILL RISE 8.9 PERCENT OVER 1995, LEADED GAS WILL RISE 9.3 PERCENT.

CONTINUING REACTIONS

7. THE CASTIGATION OF THE GOM'S HANDLING OF THE CRISIS IS IF ANYTHING GROWING IN INTENSITY. A PERCEPTION OF FUMBLING IS REINFORCED BY TREASURY'S ISSUING A STATEMENT DISAVOWING EARLIER VERSIONS OF THE EMERGENCY PLAN WHICH WERE SENT OUT PREMATURELY BY UNDER SECRETARY OF EXPENDITURES SANTIAGO LEVY. INITIALLY, THE PRESS HAD REPORTED, TO THE EMBARASSMENT OF THE TREASURY SECRETARIAT, THAT TWO VERSIONS OF THE EMERGENCY PLAN EXISTED, ONE FOR MEXICAN AND ONE FOR INTERNATIONAL CONSUMPTION. THE U.S. VERSION REPORTED PERMISSION FOR 100 PERCENT FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF BANKS AND FINANCIAL INTERMEDIARIES, THE MEXICAN VERSION DID NOT, THE U.S. VERSION ALSO REPORTED RISES IN FUEL PRICES, WHILE THE MEXICAN ONE DID NOT. THIS MISHAP ONLY HARDENED SUSPICIONS THAT THE GOM WAS NOT DEALING FORTHRIGHTLY. THE PROBLEM HAS BEEN CORRECTED, BUT THE AFTER-TASTE REMAINS.

8. SCATHING EDITORIALS BY RESPECTED ECONOMIC JOURNALISTS HAVE APPEARED CAUSTICALLY NOTING THAT ZEDILLO'S DECLARATION TO SPEAK THE THE TRUTH IN HIS JANUARY 3 SPEECH CAME ONLY AFTER THE GOM'S BREAKING ITS PROMISES OF CONTINUITY, EXCHANGE RATE STABILITY,

[redacted]

AND THE AVOIDANCE OF ABRUPT CHANGES IN ECONOMIC POLICY. MEXICAN'S UP AND DOWN THE SOCIAL SPECTRUM ARE INDICATING GENERAL DISENCHANTMENT WITH THE LACK OF FORCEFUL LEADERSHIP. ONE PROFESSOR TOLD US THAT ZEDILLO SEEMS DIFFIDENT ABOUT EXCERSIZING THE AUTHORITY OF THE PRESIDENCY, AND THAT MEXICANS WANT MORE FORCEFUL LEADERSHIP AND LESS ACADEMIC EXPLANATION. WHILE ZEDILLO'S EXPLANATION OF THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT WAS LUCID AND ACADEMIC, VERY FEW MEXICANS UNDERSTAND WHY THE ACTION

HAD TO BE TAKEN WHEN IT DID, AND THERE IS ENORMOUS LATENT ANGER IN THE POPULATION.

9. THE PRESIDENT OF THE BANKING SECTOR, JOSE MADARIAGA LOMELIN, PUBLICLY ANNOUNCED THAT THE PARLOUS SITUATION OF MANY BANKS WAS DUE PRIMARILY TO LARGE DELINQUENT LOAN ACCOUNTS, A PROBLEM WHICH WOULD GROW ENORMOUSLY AS HIGHER INTEREST RATES BEGAN TO BITE. HE SAID THAT ALL WOULD FACE LOWER PROFITS, DIMINISHED CREDIT AVAILABILITY, AND THE NECESSITY OF ALLOCATING LARGER AMOUNTS OF RESERVES AGAINST EXPECTED LOSSES. HE ANTICIPATED THAT THERE WOULD BE LARGE AMOUNTS OF LOAN RESTRUCTURING, ESPECIALLY WITH FIRMS THAT HAD LARGE AMOUNTS OF DOLLAR-DENOMINATED DEBT. HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT IT INDEED WOULD BE PERMITTED FOR FOREIGN BANKS TO OWN UP TO 100 PERCENT OF MEXICAN BANKS (THIS IS NOT/NOT OFFICIAL INFORMATION AND REMAINS TO BE CLARIFIED), SAYING SOMEWHAT DEFENSIVELY THAT THIS WOULD NOT CAUSE "EXTERNALIZATION OF THE FINANCIAL SECTOR, BUT SIMPLY AN IMPROVEMENT IN CAPITALIZATION, AS THE PAYMENTS SYSTEM WOULD STILL BE IN MEXICAN HANDS." MADARIAGA WAS PUTTING THE BEST FACE ON A BAD SITUATION -- LOSSES OF MEXICO'S BANKS DIRECTLY DUE TO THE DEVALUATION HAVE BEEN EXTIMATED AT USD 3.2 BILLION, – A 47 PERCENT INCREASE IN DOLLAR-DENOMINATED LIABILITIES.

[redacted]

10. THE NATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE (CONCANACO) EXPECTS SEVERE RECESESSION FOR 6 MONTHS DUE TO LOWERED NATIONAL PURCHASING POWER, WITH THE INFLATIONARY BUBBLE LASTING ABOUT THREE MONTHS. CONCANACO THINKS THAT THE ECONOMY MIGHT START TO PICK UP AGAIN BY JULY.

FINGERING THE BLAME

11. A PUBLIC OPINION TELEPHONE POLL OF 500 PEOPLE RELEASED ON JANUARY 6 CONVEYS THE CLEAR IMPRESSION THAT MOST MEXICAN (60 PERCENT) BLAME THE SALINAS ADMINISTRATION, AND ONLY 9 PERCENT BLAME ZEDILLO FOR THE CRISIS. AT THE END OF EACH OF THE THREE PREVIOUS SEXENIOS, THE OUTGOING GOVERNMENT CARRIED OUT THE DIRTY WORK OF A DEVALUATION, LEAVING THE INCOMING GOVERNMENT WITH A CLEAN SLATE. THE SALINAS ADMINISTRATION LEFT THE DIRTY WORK TO ZEDILLO. THE OPPOSITION PARTY OF THE DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTION (PRD) IS PUSHING FOR AN INDICTMENT OF FORMER PRESIDENT SALINAS AND OTHERS (ESPECIALLY FORMER FINANCE MINISTERS ASPE AND SERRA PUCHE) WHOM IT BELIEVES RESPONSIBLE. SALINAS, CALLED BY ONE NEWSPAPER WHILE IN EGYPT FOR HIS RESPONSE, REFUSED TO MAKE ANY COMMENT ON MEXICO'S ECONOMIC CRISIS.

12. IF THERE IS ONE GROUP MORE LIKELY THAN ANY OTHER TO BE HURT BY THE DEVALUATION AND ITS CONSEQUENCES, IT IS ORGANIZED LABOR. TODAY THE PATRIARCH OF ORGANIZED LABOR, FIDEL VELASQUEZ URGED ALL OF HIS UNIONS TO BE VIGOROUS IN PURSUING WAGE INCREASES VIA PRODUCTIVITY BONUSES, AN ELEMENT OF THE PACT SPECIFICALLY ACKNOWLEDGED IN THE JANUARY THIRD AGREEMENT AT THE INSISTENCE OF THE LABOR SECTOR. FIDEL WAS ADDRESSING HIS MID-LEVEL UNION OFFICIALS, WHO ARE ANXIOUS AND UNCERTAIN ABOUT HOW TO HANDLE THEIR RANK AND FILE, WHO FEAR DRASTICALLY INCREASED PRICES, DESPITE THE AGREEMENT TO THE CONTRARY JANUARY 3, LEADING TO SHARPLY REDUCED REAL WAGES.

13. LABOR SECRETARY ONATE'S PROBLEMS AND CHALLENGES ARE ONLY LIKELY TO INCREASE OVER THE NEXT YEAR -- UNDER PREVIOUS SECRETARIES GOMEZPERALTA AND FARELL HIS MINISTRY (STPS) REVIEWED FEDERAL COLLECTIVE BARGAINING CONTRACTS AND JAWBONED MOST UNIONS AND ENTERPRISES INTO LIMITING INCREASES TO THE PERCENTAGES CALLED FOR IN THE PACTS, OR NOT MUCH MORE, AND DISGUISING LARGER INCREASES AS BENEFITS, NOT WAGES. THERE IS GROWING PRESSURE FROM THE UNIONS TO STOP THIS STPS PRACTICE AND ONATE HAS STATED PUBLICLY THAT THERE ARE NO CIELINGS (BUT SO DID GOMEZPERALTA WHILE APPLYING THEM). (COMMENT: STPS HAS [redacted]

ALWAYS BEEN A DELICATE MINISTRY AND WILL BE EVEN MORE SO IN THIS SEXENIO -- DUE TO PRESSURES FOR AND AGAINST MODIFICATION OF THE FEDERAL LABOR LAW, TE UNCERTAINTY OVER WHAT WILL HAPPEN WHEN DON FIDEL DIES OR RETIRES, AND THE CONTINUING NEED TO OVRSEE THE LABOR ASPECTS OF NAFTA AND MEXICO'S ADJUSTMENT TO FREE TRADE. ON MUST NOW ADD THE RSPONSIBILITY OF TRYING TO KEEP AN INCREASINGLY RESTIVELABOR SECTOR ON THE ECONOMIC POLICY RESERVATION AND FULFILL ZEDILLO'S PROMISE OF BETTER INCOMES FOR EXICAN WORKER FAMILIES WHILE TRYING TO RECUPERATE FROM THIS LATEST ECONOMIC CRISIS. END COMMENT.)

14. COMMENT: THE PREVAILING LEITMOTIFS OF INFORMED OPINION ARE ALONG THE FOLLOWING LINES. THE DEVALUATION DID HAVE TO HAPPEN, BUT IT SHOULD HAVE BEEN DONE SOONER. IT WAS HANDLED VERY POORLY, WITH ERRORS OF COMMUNICATION, AND THE BREAKING OF COMMITMENTS AND DECLARED POLICY BY THE GOM CONTRIBUTING TO A LOSS OF STATURE AND CONFUSION THAT HAS EXACERBATED THE CRISIS. THE CRISIS REPRESENTS A VERY BAD SITUATION, BUT THE UNDERLYING CONDITION OF THE COUNTRY IS NOT SO BAD, AND PRESIDENT ZEDILLO NEEDS TO BRING THIS OUT WITH MORE FORCEFUL LEADERSHIP. THE MASS OF THE POPULATION, HOWEVER, FEELS BETRAYED, ANGRY AND CONFUSED. IT DOES NOT KNOW WHY THIS HAPPENED, AS IT WAS NEVER TOLD ABOUT THE PRESSURE ON CENTRAL BANK RESERVES AFTER ZAPATISTA INCURSIONS INTO SEVERAL CHIAPAS TOWNS IN MID-DECEMBER. INSTEAD, THE MASS OF PEOPLE ARE NOTING WITH GRIM IRONY THAT THEY VOTED FOR A MAN WHOSE CAMPAIGN THEMES INCLUDED "ZEDILLO -- HE KNOWS HOW TO DO IT" AND "WELL-BEING FOR YOUR FAMILY." MEXICAN'S HAVE DILUTED THEIR ANGER SOMEWHAT WITH HUMOR -- THE JOKE MAKING THE ROUNDS NOW IS "WHY IS JAIME SERRA'S NICKNAME THE CETE? BECAUSE HE EXPIRES IN 28 DAYS". END COMMENT.

2. SUMMARY: ON JANUARY 9 THE MEXICAN PESO STRENGTHENED FROM 5.85 TO 5.4 PESOS TO THE DOLLAR, INTERBANK MONEY MARKET INTEREST RATES ROSE ABOUT 4 PERCENT TO 32 PERCENT, AND THE STOCK MARKET TUMBLED 6.65 PERCENT, AS A CONSEQUENCE OF ARBITRAGE BETWEEN THE NEW YORK AND THE LOCAL MARKET FOR THOSE STOCKS QUOTED ON BOTH. SELL RECOMMENDATIONS FROM U.S. BROKERAGE HOUSES, AND SOME INVESTOR PANIC. THE IMF ANNOUNCED THAT IT WAS SENDING A TEAM TO ESTABLISH A STAND-BY LINE OF CREDIT, REPORTEDLY AS MUCH AS 2.5 BILLION DOLLARS. THERE IS INCREASING CONCERN OVER THE PROBLEM OF THE DEBT LOAD -- DOMESTIC PRIVATE DEBT AND PRIVATE AND PUBLIC DEBT DENOMINATED IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE -- AND MEXICO'S ABILITY TO CARRY THIS BURDEN. END SUMMARY
MARKET MOVEMENTS

3. THE MEXICAN PESO STRENGTHENED CONSIDERABLY ON JANUARY 9, CLOSING AT THE INTERBANK RATE OF 5.4 TO THE DOLLAR, COMPARED TO 5.85 ON FRIDAY. ANALYSTS SAID THAT THIS WAS DUE TO REPORTED

SALES OF DOLLARS BY THE U.S. FEDERAL RESERVE TO BUY PESOS. MEXICAN STOCKS QUOTED AS ADR'S IN NEW YORK BEGAN THE DAY BY STRENGTHENING, BUT THE REVALUATION OF THE PESO CAUSED STOCK PRICES IN PESOS TO DESCEND FROM THE OPENING IN MEXICO CITY (DUE TO ARBITRAGE MOVEMENTS IN NEW YORK). THE MEXICAN STOCK MARKET

DROPPED 80 POINTS IN THE MORNING, PROMPTING PANIC SELLING THROUGH THE REST OF THE DAY. BY ITS CLOSE THE MEXICAN STOCK MARKET HAD DROPPED 149.88 POINTS, OR 6.65 PERCENT, TO CLOSE AT 2104 POINTS. THE SELL-OFF WAS ALSO PARTIALLY EXPLAINED BY NUMEROUS SELL RECOMMENDATIONS FROM U.S. BROKERAGE HOUSES, BASED ON THEIR VIEW THAT MEXICO IS ENTERING A RECESSIONARY PERIOD. THE INTERBANK MONEY MARKET INTEREST RATE ROSE ABOUT 4 PERCENT, TO 32 PERCENT, FROM ITS CLOSE ON FRIDAY.

IMF SUPPORT

4. THE IMF DECLARED THAT IT WAS SENDING A TEAM TO STUDY THE DETAILS OF A STAND-BY LOAN AGREEMENT WITH MEXICO. NEWSPAPERS REPORTED THAT THE IMF STAND-BY COULD REACH 2.5 BILLION DOLLARS. FROM THE GOM'S POINT OF VIEW, ENDORSEMENT OF ITS ECONOMIC PLAN BY THE IMF, IN THE FORM OF AN ANNOUNCEMENT FROM IMF MANAGING DIRECTOR MICHEL CAMDESSUS THAT MEXICO'S EMERGENCY POLICIES "PROVIDE A SOLID BASIS OF AGREEMENT WHICH COULD BE SUPPPORTED BY IMF RESOURCES" CONSTITUTES A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE IN THE PLAN'S CREDIBILITY.

INCREASING WORRIES OVER DEBT

5. THERE IS GROWING CONCERN THAT THE DEVALUATION, HIGH INTEREST RATES, AND THE FOREIGN DEBT LOAD MAY BE AN EXCESSIVELY HEAVY BURDEN ON THE BUSINESS SECTOR. THE NATIONAL CHAMBER OF MANUFACTURERS (CANACINTRA), HAS PRESENTED A 12 POINT PLAN OF DEBT RESTRUCTURING. IT WOULD INCLUDE AUTOMATIC MECHANISMS TO STRETCH OUT THE PAYMENT OF ALL DOMESTIC BUSINESS AND COMMERCIAL

[redacted]

DEBT DUE BETWEEN 19 DECEMBER 1994 AND 31 MARCH 1995. THE PROPOSAL, WHICH AMOUNTS TO A DESPERATE PLEA FOR HELP, INCLUDES A 6-MONTH GRACE PERIOD OR MORATORIUM ON ALL DELINQUENT LOANS, A SPECIAL EXCHANGE RISK COVERAGE SCHEME FOR ALL COMPANIES WITH DOLLAR-DENOMINATED DEBT AS OF DECEMBER 19, AND A REQUEST TO THE BANKING SECTOR TO REDUCE ITS INTEREST RATE SPREADS. IT ALSO REQUESTS THAT THERE BE A 6-MONTH DELAY IN THE CHARGES OF FINES, PENALTIES, AND INTEREST FOR DELAYED TAX, SOCIAL SECURITY, HOUSING, AND RETIREMENT CONTRIBUTIONS. (COMMENT: THIS IS A WISH LIST, REFLECTING THE FINANCIAL PRESSURE HITTING MEXICO'S MANUFACTURERS, RATHER THAN A PREVIEW OF LIKELY MEASURES OF FISCAL RELIEF IN WHAT PROMISES TO BE A VERY DIFFICULT 1995. END COMMENT)

[redacted]

6. THE MEXICAN BANKING SECTORFACES EVEN MORE IMMEDIATE PRESSURES AS A CONSEQUENCE OF THE DEVALUATION (REPORTED SEPTEL). THE BANK OF MEXICO ANNOUNCED A TEMPORARY CAPITALIZATION SUPPORT SCHEME FOR THOSE MEXICAN BANKS WORST HIT BY THE DEVALUATION. THE MEXICAN EQUIVALENT OF THE FDIC, THE BANKING FUND TO PROTECT SAVINGS (FOBAPROA) WILL ACQUIRE SECONDARY BANK OBLIGATIONS FROM THOSE BANKS WHO FIND NO TAKERS FOR THEIR BONDS OR OTHER FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS. THE BANK OF MEXICO IS OPENING A CREDIT LINE TO FOBAPROA FOR THIS PURPOSE,

FIFTY-FIRST SESSION OF THE UN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS

THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA

(Agenda Item 21)

Position Paper

United States Department of State
Office of FOI, Privacy, & Classification Review
Review Authority: MOSKOWITZ, SAM
Date: 09/19/95
Case ID: 951222E3

ISSUE:

Whether to continue the review of human rights in Guatemala by placing Guatemala under advisory services (item 21), or to intensify scrutiny by naming a special rapporteur (item 12). In addition, how to respond to a possible Guatemalan government request to merge the existing UNHRC independent expert's mandate with that of the UN Human Rights Verification Mission (MINUGUA).

RELATIVE IMPORTANCE TO THE U.S.:

This item is important to the U.S.

U.S. POSITION:

1. USDEL should forward promptly to the Department for instructions any draft resolution under this agenda item.

2. USDEL should advocate continued consideration of Guatemala under advisory services (item 21).

3. USDEL should work closely with both the Latin group and interested WEOG delegations to draft a constructive resolution. Such a resolution would credit the GOG for positive measures taken to date, including cooperation with MINUGUA, while calling on the government of Guatemala and the URNG guerrillas to halt ongoing human rights abuses.

4. USDEL should seek to support through the resolution and UNHRC discussions the UN-mediated peace process. The Group of Friends of the process (the U.S., Mexico, Colombia, Venezuela, Spain, and Norway) should be a source of support in this effort.

5. If the Guatemalan Government seeks U.S. assistance on merging the mandate of UNHRC Independent Expert Monica Pinto with that of the UN Human Rights Verification Mission (MINUGUA), USDEL should seek Department guidance and consult with other Friends of the peace process.

6. USDEL should seek Department guidance if approached for comment on the Jennifer Harbury/Efrain Bamaca case.

7. This issue receives close attention from the Congressional and non-governmental community. 32 members of the Congressional Human Rights Caucus wrote to President Clinton in December urging that Pinto's mandate be renewed rather than being merged with that of MINUGUA.

BACKGROUND:

The UNHRC's treatment of the human rights situation in Guatemala has great political significance both for the Guatemalan Government and for the guerrilla umbrella organization, the URNG. Both sides put considerable effort into mobilizing support for what has become an annual, ritual battle in Geneva. (President de Leon himself may visit the Commission this year to present his government's point of view in person.) Although Guatemala was considered under agenda item 12 (country situations) as recently as 1987, they have avoided that political stigma since then, with perennial support from Latin American members. In recent years, the UNHRC has instead considered Guatemala under the advisory services agenda item, appointing an independent expert to advise the GOG and submit regular reports to the Commission. Argentine human rights expert Monica Pinto currently holds the position. She visited Guatemala in November and publicly deplored a deterioration in Guatemala's human rights situation, including continued militarization. Her report, which will be made public just before or during the UNHRC, is likely to portray the government in a negative light. The government, for its part, considers Pinto's public comments inaccurate.

While human rights violations by the military and groups associated with them continued and NGOs have reported an increase in the number of complaints filed with them in 1994, President de Leon, a former Human Rights Ombudsman, has taken a number of steps to improve the country's human rights situation since taking office in 1993. These measures include the appointment of a progessive Minister of Defense who supports civilian control of the military and the peace process; the disbanding of the military intelligence unit in the presidency linked to human rights abuses; and the announcement of his intention to convert the Civil Defense Patrols (PACs), which have been linked to human rights abuses, into "peace and development committees" in non-conflictive zones. Several committees have already been converted. De Leon also suspended forced recruitment into the military and in December 1994 fired his controversial Vice Minister of Government, the former head of military intelligence. In addition, over 7,000 refugees returned to Guatemala in 1994.

Despite these positive developments, there has been little progress in resolving individual human rights cases since de Leon took office, and many NGOs have expressed disappointment that the former Human Rights Ombudsman has not taken more forceful steps to disband civil defense patrols or moved more aggressively to end military impunity. A high-profile case involving the disappearance of a Guatemalan guerrilla, Efrain Bamaca Velasquez (aka Comandante Everardo) received considerable attention in 1994 when his American wife held a well-publicized hunger strike in Guatemala in October and November. She may attend the UNHRC, as she did last year, to draw more attention to this case.

URNG guerrilla activity has escalated in the last half of 1994, including military engagements with the Guatemalan army and criminal or terrorist acts, including sabotage, kidnapping, extortion and bombing. They have also committed human rights abuses, including firing on a busload of civilians in August 1994, killing one and wounding eleven, and torturing and murdering an off-duty military officer in September 1994.

De Leon appears committed to improving the human rights situation, and to working with us, the UN, and others in order to achieve this. One of the accords signed with URNG guerrillas before peace talks stalled in late 1994 provided for the establishment of a UN Verification Mission (MINUGUA) in Guatemala. This mission, which was approved by the UNGA in September and officially inaugurated in November, has begun to deploy some 300 personnel all over the country to work with local human rights intitutions to monitor events in Guatemala. By accepting the presence of so large and extensive an international observer mission, the Guatemalan Government can demonstrate that it is cooperating with the international community to promote human rights, and thus merits continued consideration under agenda item 21. However, Guatemala will meet with considerable NGO resistance if they propose -- as they did at ECOSOC last summer -- to merge Monica Pinto's mandate with that of MINUGUA. The U.S. will consult with other UNHRC members on this issue, should it arise, before taking a final position, bearing in mind NGO and Congressional interest in this matter.

After making significant progress in the first six months of 1994, peace negotiations stalled in the latter half of the year, prompting UN SYG Boutros-Ghali to issue a letter to the UNGA in December 1994, expressing concern about "stagnation" of the process and calling on both parties to renew their commitment to agree on a firm and lasting peace as close as possible to the now-expired December 31, 1994 deadline. The SYG also wrote directly to the parties to convey a similar message. Any UNHRC resolution on Guatemala should call on the parties to bring Guatemala's 34-year-old internal conflict to an end as soon as possible, as the best means of promoting greater respect for human rights.

SUMMARY: IN LABOR'S OPENING GAMBIT IN CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS, THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE MEXICAN LABOR CONFEDERATION (CTM) REPORTEDLY SENT CIRCULARS TO ITS STATE FEDERATIONS AND AFFILIATED NATIONAL UNIONS CALLING ON THEM TO SEEK WAGE INCREASES OF 15.3 PERCENT IN EXISTING CONTRACTS AND 56 PERCENT ON NEW CONTRACTS, TO RESTORE THE LOST PURCHASING POWER OF WAGES. ON JANUARY 10 THE MEXICAN PESO OPENED UNDER PRESSURE AT 5.50 TO THE DOLLAR. BY NOON IT WEAKENED TO 5.90 BEFORE REGAINING SOME STRENGTH STRENGTH AND CLOSING AT 5.80. THE STOCK MARKET CONTINUED ITS MELTDOWN, DROPPING 6.26 PERCENT. THE TWO-DAY LOSS IS 12.5 PERCENT. THE BANK OF MEXICO ANNOUNCED THAT 1994 INFLATION WAS 7.05 PERCENT AND THAT THE DEVALUATION IN DECEMBER HAD LITTLE IMPACT ON THIS RATE. END SUMMARY.

COMMITTEE OF THE MEXICAN LABOR CONFEDERATION (CTM) SENT CIRCULARS TO ITS STATE FEDERATIONS AND AFFILIATED NATIONAL UNIONS CALLING ON THEM TO SEEK WAGE INCREASES OF 15.3 PERCENT IN OFF-YEAR WAGE REOPENER NEGOTIATIONS AND 56 PERCENT WHEN NEGOTIATING NEW TWO-YEAR CONTRACTS. THIS, IT SAID, WOULD RESTORE THE LOST PURCHASING POWER OF WAGES AS A RESULT OF THE DEVALUATION. MOST CONTRACT RENEGOTIATIONS FALL IN THE FIRST THREE MONTHS OF THE YEAR, SO THIS REPRESENTS LABOR'S OPENING POSITION IN UPCOMING CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS. THE CIRCULAR EMPHASIZED THAT THE WORKING CLASS HAD MADE MORE OF A SACRIFICE THAN OTHER CLASSES TO ACHIEVE NATIONAL RECOVERY WITHOUT OBTAINING BENEFITS TO IMPROVE ITS CRITICAL ECONOMIC SITUATION. THE DEVALUATION AND THE RESULTING PRICE INCREASES HAVE ACCELERATED THE POVERTY OF THE WORKING CLASS.

MARKET MOVEMENTS

4. THE MEXICAN PESO YO-YOED ON JANUARY 10, CLOSING AT THE INTERBANK RATE OF 5.8 TO THE DOLLAR, REVERSING THE GAINS MADE N JAN 9. THE PESO OPENED UNDER PRESSURE AT 5.60 TO THE DOLLAR, BY NOON IT WEAKENED TO 5.90 BEFORE REGAINING SOME STRENGTH AT THE END OF THE DAY. AS ON THE PAST TWO TUESDAYS, STRONG DEMAND FOR DOLLARS WAS RELATED TO PURCHASES OF DOLLARS IN ANTICIPATION OF THE JANUARY 12 MATURING OF TESOBONOS (THIS WEEK OF APPROXIMATELY USD 680 MILLION). THE MEXICAN STOCK MARKET ALSO HAD A SEE-SAW DAY WITH A HIGH VOLUME OF 172 MILLION SHARES TRADED. IT LOST 11.30 PERCENT OF ITS VALUE BY MID-DAY AND THEN REGAINING STRENGTH TO CLOSE WITH A LOSS OF 131.72 POINTS OR 6.26 PERCENT OF ITS VALUE. THE INDEX CLOSED AT 1972, THE FIRST TIME UNDER 2000 SINCE LAST MARCH, FOLLOWING THE COLOSIO ASSASSINATION. THE MARKET HAS LOST 281 POINTS SO FAR THIS WEEK, OR A DROP OF 12.5 PERCENT. OF THE 85 STOCKS TRADED IN THE INDEX, 77 LOST VALUE, ONLY THREE GAINED AND FIVE WERE UNCHANGED. ANALYSTS SAY THAT THE SELLING PRESSURE RESULTED FROM THE IMPRESSION THAT, FOLLOWING THE PESO DEVALUATION,

[redacted]

MEXICAN STOCKS ARE OVERVALUED DUE TO LOWER PROFIT PROSPECTS. BARGAIN HUNTERS HAD A FEAST IN THE AFTERNOON TO GENERATE THE SLIGHT RECOVERY.

1994 INFLATION TWO POINTS OVER TARGET

5. TO CLOSE WITH SOME GOOD NEWS, THE BANK OF MEXICO ANNOUNCED THAT 1994 INFLATION WAS 7.05 PERCENT. THE DEVALUATION DURING THE LAST 10 DAYS OF DECEMBER HAD LITTLE IMPACT ON THE 0.9 PERCENT INCREASE IN THE CONSUMER PRICE INDEX DURING THE MONTH. THE ORIGINAL TARGET FOR INFLATION IN 1994 WAS 5.0 PERCENT, LATER REVISED TO 5.5 PERCENT; NEVERTHELESS, THE 1994 RESULT WAS

2. SUMMARY: THE MEXICAN STOCK MARKET STRENGTHENED DUE TO BARGAIN HUNTING, INTEREST RATES SHOT UP, AND THE PESO STRENGTHENED SLIGHTLY ON JANUARY 11. THE GOVERNMENT HAS ANNOUNCED BUDGET CUTS IN ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS AND A HIRING FREEZE. BASIC BASKET OF GOODS COSTS (NECESSITIES TO MEXICO'S POOR) ARE SLATED TO GO UP BETWEEN 15 AND 30 PERCENT, PROMPTING LABOR CALLS FOR HIGHER WAGE SETTLEMENTS THAN THOSE CALLED FOR IN THE PACT. MEXICO'S FOREIGN DEBT LOAD IS RISING TO LEVELS CLOSE TO THOSE PREVAILING IN 1988. THE MEXICAN BANKS WILL BE OPENED UP TO 100 PERCENT FOREIGN OWNERSHIP; THEY HAVE REFUSED TO ANSWER INDUSTRY CALLS FOR ACCROSS-THE-BOARD DEBT RELIEF AND RESTRUCTURING. VOLKSWAGEN IS CUTTING PRODUCTION BECAUSE OF LOWER DOMESTIC DEMAND. A SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS WAS CALLED TO CONSIDER MODIFICATIONS TO THE CONSTITUTION TO ALLOW GREATER PRIVATE PARTICIPATION IN RAILWAYS AND SATELLITES. THE MEXICAN STEEL INDUSTRY, HAVING LARGELY COMPLETED ITS MODERNIZATION, THINKS IT WILL COME OUT AHEAD WITH THE DEVALUATION. END SUMMARY

EXCHANGE RECOVERED STRONTLY. IN THE EXCHANGE MARKET, THE PESO STRENGTHENED SLIGHTLY TO 5.75 PER DOLLAR, UP FROM 5.8 AT YESTERDAY'S CLOSE. PRIMARY MARKET 28-DAY CETES SHOT UP 7 POINTS TO 40 PERCENT. IN AN INSIGHT INTO HOW THIS CREDIT CRUNCH HAS AFFECTED BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL BANK CREDIT IS GENERALLY AVAILABLE TO GOOD CUSTOMERS AT 81 PERCENT, WITH NO TERMS OVER 90 DAYS.

PRICE INCREASES IN THE BARE NECESSITIES

4. SECOFI UNDERSECRETARY FOR INTERNAL COMMERCE EUGENIO CARRION ANNOUNCED APPROVAL FOR PRICE INCREASES IN SOME OF THE 80 ITEMS THAT CONSTITUTE THE BASIC MARKET BASKET OF GOODS. MILK PRICES WILL INCREASE 15 PERCENT, WITH OTHER PRICE INCREASES IN MEAT, MEDICINES, AND OTHER GOODS TO BE ANNOUNCED SHORTLY. PRICE RISES IN THESE AREAS COULD BE AS HIGH AS 30 PERCENT. HE ALSO SAID THAT THE PRICES OF TORTILLAS AND SUGAR WOULD NOT RISE.

PRIVATIZATION

5. THE ZEDILLO ADMINISTRATION ANNOUNCED ITS PLAN OF ACTION FOR THE SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS TO PASS LEGAL INITIATIVES TO DEAL WITH THE PESO CRISIS. THE CONGRESS WILL BE ASKED TO MODIFY ARTICLE 28 OF THE CONSTITUTION IN ORDER TO ALLOW PRIVATE INVESTMENT IN THE NATIONAL RAILROAD AND THE SATELLITE OPERATING AGENCY. OTHER LEGAL INITIATIVES TO BE TAKEN UP BY THE SPECIAL SESSION WILL BE THE LEGISLATION ALLOWING FOREIGNERS TO OWN UP TO 100 PERCENT OF A BANK AND THE NECESSARY LEGAL MOVE THAT WOULD ALLOW AN UPWARD ADJUSTMENT OF THE MAXIMUM PUBLIC DEBT

NEWSPAPERS REPORT THAT JAPAN HAD CONFIRMED THAT ITS CENTRAL BANK WOULD SUPPORT MEXICO WITH A USD ONE BILLION LINE OF CREDIT THROUGH THE BANK OF INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS. AT THE SAME TIME, FINANCIAL ADVISORS AND ANALYSTS RAISED A WARNING FLAG WITH REGARD TO THE MEDIUM TERM IMPLICATIONS OF GREATER MEXICAN INDEBTEDNESS. THE BANK OF TOKYO REPRESENTATIVE IN MEXICO SAID THAT MORE EXTERNAL DEBT WAS NOT THE SOLUTION TO THE LOOMING CRISIS. SEVERAL BROKERAGE HOUSES HAVE CONCLUDED THAT AS A CONSEQUENCE OF THE DEVALUATION,

7. CONTROLLER GENERAL NORMA SAMANIEGO ANNOUNCED A SERIES OF MEASURES TO DIMINISH ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS. THESE INCLUDED A HIRING FREEZE, A PROHIBITION ON THE PURCHASE OF NEW CARS AND FIRST CLASS AIR-LINE TICKETS, A REDUCTION IN SIZE OF DELEGATIONS TO OFFICIAL CONFERENCES, CUTS IN PER-DIEM RATES, STRICT CEILINGS ON CELLULAR PHONE USAGE (INCLUDING THE OBLIGATION OF THE USER TO PAY OUT OF HIS OWN POCKET ABOVE THE CEILING), THE ELIMINATION OF PRESS-CLIPPING SERVICES FOR ALL BUT SECRETARIES AND UNDER-SECRETARIES AND THE REQUIREMENT THAT FOREIGN TRAVEL BY GOM OFFICIALS BE AUTHORIZED BY AGENCY OR DEPARTMENT HEADS.

HANDLED BY THE MEXICAN EQUIVALENT OF THE FDIC, THE FOBAPROA (BANKING FUND FOR THE PROTECTION OF SAVINGS).

9. COPARMEX, THE MEXICAN EMPLOYERS ASSOCIATION, ADDED ITSELF TO CANACINTRA'S REQUEST (REPORTED EARLIER) THAT THE MEXICAN BANKING INDUSTRY ADOPT A POLICY OF PROVIDING DEBT RELIEF AND RESTRUCTURING TO MEXICAN INDUSTRY. IN RESPONSE, THE MEXICAN BANKING ASSOCIATION (AMB) ANNOUNCED THAT IT WOULD REVIEW THE RESTRUCTURING OF DEBT ON A CASE TO CASE BASIS, BUT THAT IT WOULD NOT HONOR INDUSTRY-WIDE OR ASSOCIATED REQUESTS FOR DEBT RELIEF. IN EFFECT, THE AMB SAID NO TO CANACINTRA AND COPARMEX.

10. BANK OF MEXICO OFFICIALS ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT NEW LEGISLATION EASING ENTRY AND ALLOWING UP TO 100 PERCENT OWNERSHIP OF MEXICAN FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS (BANKS) WOULD BE PUBLISHED WITHIN A FEW DAYS. THE MEXICAN PRESS REPORTED THAT SEVERAL FOREIGN BANKS WERE LOOKING TO EXPAND INTO MEXICO, SINGLING OUT CITICORP, BANKAMERICA, NATION'S BANK, CHEMICAL, CHASE MANHATTAN, AND FIRST INTERSTATE AS THE MOST INTERESTED IN PURCHASING CONTROLLING INTERESTS IN MEXICAN BANKS.

11. VOLKSWAGEN DE MEXICO ANNOUNCED THAT IT WOULD BE SUSPENDING AUTOMOBILE PRODUCTION DESTINED FOR THE DOMESTIC MARKET DURING THE WEEK OF JANUARY 23-27. THIS WILL FOREGO PRODUCTION OF AS MANY AS 8000 VEHICLES. DURING THE CUT, EMPLOYEES WILL BE GIVEN HALF-PAY. PRODUCTION FOR THE EXPORT MARKET WILL CONTINUE WITHOUT INTERRUPTION. THE MEASURE WAS TAKEN, IN VW'S WORDS, TO ADJUST PRODUCTION TO DIMINISHED DOMESTIC DEMAND IN A

RECESSIONARY ENVIRONMENT.

12. THE NATIONAL STEEL PRODUCERS ASSOCIATION SAID THAT THE DEVALUATION OF THE PESO WOULD PROVE BENEFICIAL. THE PRESIDENT OF THE ASSOCIATION, ALONZO ANCIRA, SAID THAT MEXICO'S STEEL PRODUCERS HAD EITHER FINISHED OR WERE FINISING A LONG PROCESS OF RESTRUCTURING AND MODERNIZATION, AND THAT THEY WERE WELL PLACED TO PENETRATE FOREIGN MARKETS. STEEL CONTRIBUTES ABOUT 4 PERCENT OF GDP. THE ASSOCIATION THINKS THAT AS A RESULT OF OUTPUT INCREASES STEMMING FROM THE DEVALUATION, THIS FIGURE COULD RISE TO 6 PERCENT OF GDP.

1. SUMMARY: ON DEC. 9, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE (HRO) DELIVERED ITS FINAL REPORT ON THE 30-DAY

CONFIDENTIAL

PAGE 02 GUATEM 00313 00 OF 03 131613Z
INVESTIGATION INTO THE DISAPPEARANCE OF URNG GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ. THE HRO CONCLUDED THAT BAMACA WAS NOT FOUND TO BE DETAINED BY ANY GUATEMALAN OFFICIALS OR SECURITY FORCES. THE OMBUDSMAN WAS ALSO UNABLE TO DETERMINE WHETHER BAMACA IS ALIVE OR DEAD. THE INVESTIGATION CONSISTED OF FORMAL REQUESTS TO VARIOUS INSTITUTIONS AND INDIVIDUALS FOR INFORMATION ON BAMACA AND THE MARCH 1992 MILITARY CONFRONTATION, INTERVIEWS WITH ALL MILITARY ALLEGED TO BE INVOLVED IN HIS ALLEGED DETENTION AND TORTURE, AND SURPRISE VISITS TO MILITARY AND POLICE INSTALLATIONS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. HOWEVER, THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE WHO WROTE THE INITIAL DESCRIPTION OF THE BODY, WHICH CORRESPONDS TO THE DESCRIPTION OF BAMACA, ACCORDING TO HARBURY, WAS NOT FOUND NOR INTERVIEWED. ALL MILITARY INTERVIEWED DENIED ANY KNOWLEDGE OR INVOLVEMENT IN DETENTION OR TORTURE OF EFRAIN BAMACA. COMMENT: THE RESULTS AND LIMITED SCOPE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION COME AS NO SURPRISE TO THIS EMBASSY. HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA MADE IT CLEAR AT THE OUTSET THAT ALTHOUGH "HE WOULD DO HIS BEST", THE ASSIGNMENT OF THE CASE TO HIS OFFICE WAS

INAPPROPRIATE, UNWELCOME, AND HE LACKED THE BASIC RESOURCES NECESSARY FOR A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION. RESPONSIBILITY FOR INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE HAS REVERTED TO THE NORMAL CHANNEL IN THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE. END SUMMARY.

2. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S FINAL REPORT BEGINS BY NOTING THAT THE CURRENT OMBUDSMAN, JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA, LEARNED FROM OTHER INDIVIDUALS AND THE PRESS

CONFIDENTIAL

THAT THE PREVIOUS OMBUDSMAN, RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO, HAD BECOME INVOLVED IN THE CASE AT THE REQUEST OF THE URNG IN THE SPRING OF 1992. GARCIA LAGUARDIA COULD NOT FIND ANY FILE OR RECORD OF THAT PRIOR INVOLVEMENT. HE THEREFORE OPENED A NEW FILE WHEN JENNIFER HARBURY, BAMACA'S AMCIT WIFE, BROUGHT THE CASE TO HIS ATTENTION IN JANUARY 1994. THAT FILE CONSISTED OF HARBURY'S DECLARATION, AND A VIDEO TAPE OF EX-URNG GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA LOPEZ'S TESTIMONY TO THE MEXICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS. THE REPORT THEN LAYS OUT THE BACKGROUND OF THE CASE (REPORTED IN PREVIOUS CABLES), AS REPORTED BY HARBURY AND CABRERA. FROM A REVIEW OF THAT CHRONOLOGY, THE OMBUDSMAN RAISES THREE QUESTIONS, WHICH ARE ROUGHLY TRANSLATED AS FOLLOWS:

A. QUOTE: THE CHARACTERISTICS OF THE BODY EXHUMED ON AUG. 17, 1993 COINCIDE WITH THOSE OF THE BODY WHICH UNDERWENT AN AUTOPSY IN MARCH 1992, ACCORDING TO THE FORENSIC DOCTOR MENTIONED IN THE REPORT. THOSE CHARACTERISTICS DO NOT COINCIDE WITH THE ONES THAT WERE PROVIDED IN 1992 BY THE (FORMER) HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE ARMY WHICH DO CORRESPOND TO BAMACA VELASQUEZ. IN THIS RESPECT, IF THE ARMY DOESN'T HAVE BAMACA, THEN WHERE WAS THE DESCRIPTION PROVIDED OBTAINED? END QUOTE. COMMENT: THE ABOVE STATEMENT IS NOT ENTIRELY ACCURATE. CONOFF CONSULTED WITH THE ASSISTANT HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN IN CHARGE OF THE INVESTIGATION, RICARDO ALVARADO, WHO CONCEDED THAT IT SHOULD READ, "...THAT WERE PROVIDED BY THE (FORMER) HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND 'ALLEGEDLY' PROVIDED BY THE ARMY IN 1992..." ALVARADO

SAID THAT THERE IS NO DOCUMENT OR WITNESS STATEMENT TO SUPPORT THE ALLEGATION THAT THE ARMY PROVIDED THE DETAILED DESCRIPTION (WHICH ACCORDING TO HARBURY MATCHES THAT OF BAMACA) TO THE JUDGE WHO WROTE THE INITIAL REPORT. THE STATEMENT THAT THE "ARMY PROVIDED THE DESCRIPTION" (WRITTEN AS IF IT WERE FACT) IS BASED, RATHER, ON JENNIFER HARBURY'S SUPPOSITION AND LOGICAL INFERENCES DRAWN AFTER A REVIEW OF HARBURY AND CABRERA'S CHRONOLOGY. HARBURY AND HRO INVESTIGATORS "ASSUME" THAT THE ARMY GAVE THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, THE FIRST GUATEMALAN CIVILIAN OFFICIAL TO VIEW THE BODY WHERE IT HAD FALLEN, A DESCRIPTION OF SOMEONE ELSE (CORRESPONDING TO THAT OF BAMACA, ACCORDING TO HARBURY) TO PUT INTO HIS REPORT. AS REPORTED EARLIER, WHEN THE BODY WAS EXHUMED IN 1993, ALTHOUGH IT CLEARLY MATCHED THE MARCH 1992 AUTOPSY REPORT OF THE BODY IN QUESTION, IT IN NO WAY MATCHED THE DESCRIPTION OF THE "SAME" BODY WHICH HAD BEEN WRITTEN BY THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

ASST. H.R. OMBUDSMAN ALVARADO LATER TOLD CONOFF THAT IN RESPONSE TO HIS OFFICE'S REQUEST, THE SUPREME COURT INFORMED HIM THAT THE NUEVO SAN CARLOS JUSTICE OF THE PEACE AT THE TIME, SERGIO VIRGILIO OROZCO, WAS FIRED IN 1992. THE HRO DID NOT PURSUE THE ISSUE OF HIS CURRENT WHEREABOUTS AND THEREFORE DID NOT INTERVIEW HIM. ALVARADO SAID THAT IT IS NOW UP TO THE PUBLIC MINISTRY TO FIND HIM AND ASK HIM IF HE TRULY SAW THE BODY IN QUESTION AND IF SO, WHY DOES HIS DESCRIPTION OF THE BODY DIFFER FROM THAT OF THE FORENSIC DOCTOR WHO CONDUCTED

PAGE 05 GUATEM 00313 00 OF 03 131613Z

THE AUTOPSY ON THE BODY AND THE BODY ITSELF WHICH WAS EXHUMED IN 1993? TWO NATIONAL POLICE OFFICERS ACCOMPANIED THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE TO THE RIVER'S EDGE TO VIEW THE BODY. THE HRO ASKED THE NATIONAL POLICE CHIEF TO PROVIDE INFORMATION ON THEIR CURRENT ASSIGNMENTS OR WHEREABOUTS BUT THAT REQUEST WENT UNANSWERED AND IT WAS NOT PURSUED FURTHER. END COMMENT.

B. QUOTE: IF, AS THE ARMY MAINTAINS, THE BODY IN THE GRAVE WAS CHANGED BY THE URNG AFTER THE BURIAL, WHY DID THE INFORMATION ON THE EXHUMED BODY MATCH THE AUTOPSY REPORT OF MARCH 13? WHEN WOULD THEY HAVE SWITCHED THE BODY? END QUOTE.

C. QUOTE: WHERE DID THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE OF NUEVO SAN CARLOS (WHO WOULD HAVE AUTHORIZED REMOVAL OF THE CORPSE) OBTAIN THE FEATURES OF BAMACA VELASQUEZ WITHOUT HAVING NOTED HIS NUMEROUS SCARS, WHICH JENNIFER HARBURY ASSURES THAT HE HAD? DID THE JUDGE SEE THE CORPSE OR WAS HE GIVEN THE CHARACTERISTICS THAT HE SHOULD PUT IN HIS OFFICIAL REPORT? END QUOTE

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION AND STATEMENTS

---

PAGE 06 GUATEM 00313 00 OF 03 131613Z

AND INDIVIDUALS. THE U.N. VERIFICATION COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS (MINUGUA) PROVIDED OBSERVERS TO ACCOMPANY HRO INVESTIGATORS ON VISITS TO MILITARY AND POLICE INSTALLATIONS. THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND SUPREME COURT PROVIDED ALL RELEVANT INFORMATION FROM THEIR FILES. MORGUES AND HOSPITALS ANSWERED THE REQUEST FOR A LIST OF ALL ENTRANTS RESEMBLING BAMACA'S DESCRIPTION. THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, MARIO ENRIQUEZ, WAS ASKED TO PROVIDE A LIST OF ALL MILITARY BASES AND INSTALLATIONS, AS WELL AS HIS VERSION OF HIS DISCUSSIONS WITH JENNIFER HARBURY. HE WAS ALSO ASKED TO ORDER ALL MILITARY MEMBERS, IMPLICATED IN THE BAMACA CASE BY SANTIAGO CABRERA, TO APPEAR FOR QUESTIONING BY HRO INVESTIGATORS. HE COMPLIED WITH THESE REQUESTS ALTHOUGH THE LIST OF MILITARY BASES ARRIVED AT THE HRO OFFICE THE DAY AFTER THE STUDY WAS COMPLETED. SOME OF THE HRO'S OTHER VARIOUS REQUESTS WERE NEVER ANSWERED AND THE REPORT MAKES NO MENTION OF FOLLOW-UP.

4. THE HRO ASKED THE EMBASSY FOR A COPY OF THE DEMARCHE MADE TO PRESIDENT DE LEON BY THE AMBASSADOR IN NOVEMBER

1994 REGARDING EMBASSY'S INFORMATION THAT BAMACA WAS CAPTURED ALIVE. AFTER CONSULTING WITH DEPT., EMBASSY VERBALLY CONFIRMED THAT THE DEMARCHE HAD BEEN MADE, USING LANGUAGE PROVIDED BY THE DEPARTMENT. IN RESPONSE TO THE HRO REQUEST FOR THE MOD'S VERSIONS OF HIS DISCUSSIONS WITH HARBURY, THE MOD, MARIO ENRIQUEZ, RESPONDED IN WRITING THAT HE HAD NEVER STATED OR IMPLIED THAT HE WAS WILLING TO COME TO ANY KIND OF "ARRANGEMENT" WITH HARBURY NOR HAD HE EVER STATED IN ANY CONVERSATION INSIDE OR OUTSIDE OF GUATEMALA THAT HE KNEW WITH CERTAINTY THAT BAMACA WAS ALIVE.

OUTCOME OF INTERVIEWS

5. THE HRO INTERVIEWED ALL ARMY OFFICERS AND SPECIALISTS IMPLICATED IN SANTIAGO CABRERA'S TESTIMONY AS HAVING PARTICIPATED IN THE DETENTION AND/OR TORTURE OF EFRAIN BAMACA. THE NAMES OF THOSE INTERVIEWED APPEAR ON PAGE 12 OF THE HRO'S REPORT. THE MILITARY MEMBERS INTERVIEWED ADMITTED THAT THEY HAD BEEN STATIONED AT THE BASES IN QUESTION (ZONE 18 SAN MARCOS AND SANTA ANA BERLIN) DURING THE PERIODS IN QUESTION BUT DENIED KNOWLEDGE OF OR PARTICIPATION IN BAMACA'S ALLEGED DETENTION AND TORTURE. [redacted] TOLD US THAT IT APPEARED THAT THE ARMY MEMBERS INTERVIEWED HAD DISCUSSED THEIR TESTIMONY PRIOR TO THE INTERVIEWS AS THEIR ANSWERS WERE ALMOST IDENTICAL. END COMMENT.

INSPECTION OF MILITARY BASES

6. HRO REPRESENTATIVES, ACCOMPANIED BY MINUGUA OBSERVERS, MADE SURPRISE VISITS TO 86 MILITARY BASES, INSTALLATIONS AND POLICE STATIONS. THE OBSERVERS WERE ESCORTED AROUND EACH BASE BY ONE OR MORE ARMY OR POLICE OFFICIALS WHO, ACCORDING TO THE REPORT, PERMITTED THEM TO SEARCH FREELY AND SHOW BAMACA'S PHOTO TO PERSONNEL PRESENT ON THE BASES. ONLY ONE SOLDIER, CARLOS ALFREDO YUPE, DETAINED FOR DISCIPLINARY REASONS AT THE MILITARY

BASE MARISCAL ZAVALA, SAID THAT HE THOUGHT HE RECOGNIZED THE PICTURE OF EFRAIN BAMACA AS THAT OF A MAN WHO HAD BEEN DETAINED TWO WEEKS EARLIER IN THE FIRST FLOOR OF THE MARISCAL ZAVALA MILITARY JAIL. THAT MAN, ACCORDING TO THE SOLDIER, WAS SHORT, DARK, AND HAD AN INJURED RIGHT LEG WHICH MADE HIM LIMP: HOWEVER, HE DIDN'T HAVE THE FACIAL SCARS AS DID THE PERSON IN THE PHOTOGRAPH. THE COLONEL WHO WAS ESCORTING THE HRO GROUP THEN SHOWED THE BOOK OF ARRESTS AND PRISONERS TO THE INVESTIGATORS, NOTING THAT THE PERSON IN QUESTION WAS A MAN BY THE NAME OF ERNESTO GUZMAN CALDERON. AFTERWARDS, HRO AND MINUGUA OBSERVERS INTERVIEWED YUPE AGAIN. IN THAT INTERVIEW, ACCORDING TO THE REPORT, YUPE ARGUED WITH THE SOLDIER, ERNESTO GUZMAN CALDERON AND ANOTHER SOLDIER, AND AFTER LOOKING AT BOTH CLOSELY, STATED THAT THEY WERE THE ONES WHO HAD BEEN DETAINED IN THE FIRST FLOOR OF THE JAIL TWO WEEKS EARLIER. HRO INVESTIGATORS DETERMINED THAT NEITHER MAN WAS EFRAIN BAMACA. NONE OF THE VISITS TO MILITARY OR POLICE INSTALLATIONS REVEALED ANY HIDDEN

TUNNELS OR CAVITIES NOR THE WHEREABOUTS OF EFRAIN BAMACA. CONOFF COMPARED THE LIST OF BASES AND INSTALLATIONS VISITED WITH A LIST OF MILITARY AREAS IN THE EMBASSY'S DEFENSE ATTACHE'S OFFICE. INSTALLATIONS ON THE DAO'S LIST THAT WERE NOT VISITED BY HRO INVESTIGATORS INCLUDED THE VARIOUS MILITARY SCHOOLS, AN AMMUNITION FACTORY, THE SPECIAL FORCES TRAINING CENTER, AND SMALL PATROL BASES.

7. COMMENT: THE HRO'S INVESTIGATION YIELDED NO NEW INFORMATION ON THE FATE OF EFRAIN BAMACA. INTERVIEWS APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN CONDUCTED ON A VERY PERFUNCTORY AND SUPERFICIAL LEVEL AND THOSE REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION AND STATEMENTS THAT WENT UNFULFILLED WERE NOT FOLLOWED UP. THE MAJOR EFFORT WAS EXPENDED IN CONDUCTING SURPRISE VISITS TO 86 MILITARY AND POLICE INSTALLATIONS, ALL OF WHICH WERE PERFORMED IN THE COMPANY OF AN OFFICER OF EACH RESPECTIVE BASE OR INSTALLATION. IN GENERAL, INVESTIGATIONS OF CRIMES OR HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN GUATEMALA SELDOM APPROACH U.S. STANDARDS OR EXPECTATIONS.

2. SUMMARY: A RECENTLY STOLEN BABY WAS RECOVERED AND THE PERPETRATORS ARRESTED. WE INTERVIEWED ONE OF THE ARRESTEES AND FOUND SOME DISTURBING SIMILARIES TO A PATTERN WE HAVE ALREADY IDENTIFIED IN SOME OF OUR QUESTIONABLE ADOPTION CASES. END SUMMARY

3. POST HAS LONG REPORTED PARAGUAYAN MEDIA REPORTS, BOTH CREDIBLE AND SENSATIONALIST, OF BABY STEALING IN PARAGUAY. ONE RECENT CASE WAS NOTEWORTHY IN THAT THE BABY WAS RECOVERED AND

SEVERAL OF THE PERPETRATORS ARRESTED.

4. ON JANUARY 2, 1995, TWO YEAR OLD EDISON GRANCE WAS STOLEN FROM HIS MOTHER IN THE TOWN OF ITAGUA, JUST OUTSIDE ASUNCION. THE NEXT DAY, THE CHILD WAS RECOVERED AND THREE PEOPLE, ANTOLIANA PARRA, EVA LLANOS, AND RUFINO TROCHE WERE ARRESTED. OUR FRAUD INVESIGATOR WENT TO THE POLICE STATION AND INTERVIEWED ANTOLIANA PARRA.

5. PARRA CLAIMED THAT SHE WORKED AS AN AGENT FOR THE OTHER TWO, TROCHE AND LLANOS, WHO HAD LURED THE BIOMOTHER OF THE CHILD, MARILENE GRANCE, WITH A PROMISE OF EMPLOYMENT AS A MAID. IT WAS A SETUP FOR PARRA TO SNATCH THE BABY.

6. ACCORDING TO PARRA, TROCHE AND LLANOS HAD BEEN CONTACTED BY A LAWYER WHOM SHE KNEW ONLY AS "AUGUSTIN" (WE THINK IT IS WELL KNOWN ADOPTION LAWYER, AUGUSTINE GAVILAN) WHO HAD A SPECIAL ORDER FOR A BLUE-EYED, BLONDE BABY FOR AN "AMERICAN ADOPTION." AT THIS POINT, TROCHE AND LLANOS RECRUITED THE BIOMOTHER WHO WAS KNOWN TO HAVE SUCH A CHILD. AFTER THE KIDNAPPING, PARRA AND TROCHE WENT TO THE RENDEZVOUS IN THE TOWN OF FERNANDO DE LA MORA BUT "AUGUSTIN," WHO WAS GOING TO RECEIVE THE CHILD AND PLACE IT IN ONE OF ASUNCION'S FOSTER CARE FACILITIES, DID NOT KEEP THE APPOINTMENT. LATER, SHE FOUND OUT THAT "AUGUSTINE" REFUSED TO ACCEPT THE CHILD BECAUSE A) OF ALL THE PUBLICITY AND B) THE CHILD WAS TOO OLD (2 YEARS).

7. SUBSEQUENTLY, ON JANUARY 7, A SATURDAY WHEN THE COURTS WERE CLOSED, A GROUP OF ATTORNEYS (LED BY ONE NAMED "CANA") MET WITH THE LOCAL MAGISTRATE. ON MONDAY, JANUARY 9, THE ARREST ORDERS WERE LIFTED ON TOCHE AND LLANOS AND THEY WERE RELEASED. PARRA REMAINS IN JAIL. (PARRA CLAIMS THAT A 500,000 GUARANI --$2,500-- BRIBE CHANGED HANDS.

8. PARRA TOLD OUR INVESTIGATOR THAT AS FAR AS SHE KNEW, "AUGUSTINE" AND TROCHE HAD STARTED SOME OF THE ADOPTION DOCUMENTATION BUT SHE DID NOT KNOW WHERE AND UNDER WHAT ALLEGED NAMES. SHE TOLD US THAT EITHER SHE OR LLANOS WOULD APPEAR IN COURT AS THE BIOLOGICAL MOTHER TO GIVE THE CHILD UP FOR ADOPTION. WHEN ASKED HOW THE CHILD WOULD BE DOCUMENTED, SHE SAID

THAT THE CHILD WOULD BE REGISTERED IN ASUNCION WITH A STORY OF HOW THE CHILD HAD BEEN BORN IN A RURAL AREA FAR FROM ASUNCION, SO THAT NO ONE WOULD BOTHER TO TRACE HIM.

9. WE NOTE THAT WE HAVE SEEN THIS PATTERN IN A NUMBER OF CASES (ONE WAS RECENTLY RETURNED TO USINS TIJUANA--ALSO A BLUE EYED BLONDE BOY. ANOTHER CASE, HANDLED BY THE SAME ATTORNEY AND ADOPTION AGENCY, SLIPPED BY US). USUALLY THE CHILD IS ALLEGEDLY BORN IN PEDRO JUAN CABELLERO (ON THE BRAZILIAN BORDER) BUT REGISTERED IN AN OUT OF THE WAY CIVIL REGISTRY (NOT THE CENTRAL ONE) IN A SUBURB OF ASUNCION. IN ONE CASE, WE HAVE A PROBABLE FALSE BIOMOTHER. IN SEVERAL OTHERS, LOCAL ADOPTION ATTORNEYS OF QUESTIONABLE INTEGRITY ARE STONEWALLING US: REFUSING TO PROVIDE THE BIOMOTHERS---AND LEAVING THE ADOPTIVE AMERICAN PARENTS IN THE LURCH.

10. ACTION REQUESTED FOR SAO PAULO AND RIO. A NUMBER OF PARAGUAYANS HAVE TOLD US OF FREQUENT PRESS REPORTS OF BABIES STOLEN IN CURITBA, BRAZIL. THIS WOULD APPEAR TO DOVETAIL WITH SEVERAL OF OUR ADOPTION CASES, MENTIONED ABOVE. COULD YOU KEEP US APPRISED OF PRESS AND POLICE REPORTS OF SUCH INCIDENTS?

11. COMMENT: WE (AND OUR FRIENDS IN COURT) WILL BE WATCHING THIS CASE WITH GREAT INTEREST. UNFORTUNATELY, WITH THE ENTIRE COURT SYSTEM IN RECESS, THERE IS NOT MUCH MORE WE CAN DO FOR THE TIME BEING.

SUBJECT: BAMACA - HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION

REF: GUATEMALA 11232

1. SUMMARY: ON DEC. 9, THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE (HRO) DELIVERED ITS FINAL REPORT ON THE 30-DAY

INVESTIGATION INTO THE DISAPPEARANCE OF URNG GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ. THE HRO CONCLUDED THAT BAMACA WAS NOT FOUND TO BE DETAINED BY ANY GUATEMALAN OFFICIALS OR SECURITY FORCES. THE OMBUDSMAN WAS ALSO UNABLE TO DETERMINE WHETHER BAMACA IS ALIVE OR DEAD. THE INVESTIGATION CONSISTED OF FORMAL REQUESTS TO VARIOUS INSTITUTIONS AND INDIVIDUALS FOR INFORMATION ON BAMACA AND THE MARCH 1992 MILITARY CONFRONTATION, INTERVIEWS WITH ALL MILITARY ALLEGED TO BE INVOLVED IN HIS ALLEGED DETENTION AND TORTURE, AND SURPRISE VISITS TO MILITARY AND POLICE INSTALLATIONS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. HOWEVER, THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE WHO WROTE THE INITIAL DESCRIPTION OF THE BODY, WHICH CORRESPONDS TO THE DESCRIPTION OF BAMACA, ACCORDING TO HARBURY, WAS NOT FOUND NOR INTERVIEWED. ALL MILITARY INTERVIEWED DENIED ANY KNOWLEDGE OR INVOLVEMENT IN DETENTION OR TORTURE OF EFRAIN BAMACA. COMMENT: THE RESULTS AND LIMITED SCOPE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION CAME AS NO SURPRISE TO THIS EMBASSY. HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA MADE IT CLEAR AT THE OUTSET THAT ALTHOUGH "HE WOULD DO HIS BEST", THE ASSIGNMENT OF THE CASE TO HIS OFFICE WAS INAPPROPRIATE, UNWELCOME, AND HE LACKED THE BASIC RESOURCES NECESSARY FOR A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION. RESPONSIBILITY FOR INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE HAS REVERTED TO THE NORMAL CHANNEL IN THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE. END SUMMARY.

2. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S FINAL REPORT BEGINS BY NOTING THAT THE CURRENT OMBUDSMAN, JORGE MARIO GARCIA LAGUARDIA, LEARNED FROM OTHER INDIVIDUALS AND THE PRESS

THAT THE PREVIOUS OMBUDSMAN, RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO, HAD BECOME INVOLVED IN THE CASE AT THE REQUEST OF THE URNG

IN THE SPRING OF 1992. GARCIA LAGUARDIA COULD NOT FIND ANY FILE OR RECORD OF THAT PRIOR INVOLVEMENT. HE THEREFORE OPENED A NEW FILE WHEN JENNIFER HARBURY, BAMACA'S AMCIT WIFE, BROUGHT THE CASE TO HIS ATTENTION IN JANUARY 1994. THAT FILE CONSISTED OF HARBURY'S DECLARATION, AND A VIDEO TAPE OF EX-URNG GUERRILLA SANTIAGO CABRERA LOPEZ'S TESTIMONY TO THE MEXICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS. THE REPORT THEN LAYS OUT THE BACKGROUND OF THE CASE (REPORTED IN PREVIOUS CABLES), AS REPORTED BY HARBURY AND CABRERA. FROM A REVIEW OF THAT CHRONOLOGY, THE OMBUDSMAN RAISES THREE QUESTIONS, WHICH ARE ROUGHLY TRANSLATED AS FOLLOWS:

A. QUOTE: THE CHARACTERISTICS OF THE BODY EXHUMED ON AUG. 17, 1993 COINCIDE WITH THOSE OF THE BODY WHICH UNDERWENT AN AUTOPSY IN MARCH 1992, ACCORDING TO THE FORENSIC DOCTOR MENTIONED IN THE REPORT. THOSE CHARACTERISTICS DO NOT COINCIDE WITH THE ONES THAT WERE PROVIDED IN 1992 BY THE (FORMER) HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE ARMY WHICH DO CORRESPOND TO BAMACA VELASQUEZ. IN THIS RESPECT, IF THE ARMY DOESN'T HAVE BAMACA, THEN WHERE WAS THE DESCRIPTION PROVIDED OBTAINED? END QUOTE.

COMMENT: THE ABOVE STATEMENT IS NOT ENTIRELY ACCURATE. CONOFF CONSULTED WITH THE ASSISTANT HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN IN CHARGE OF THE INVESTIGATION, RICARDO ALVARADO, WHO CONCEDED THAT IT SHOULD READ, "...THAT WERE PROVIDED BY THE (FORMER) HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND 'ALLEGEDLY' PROVIDED BY THE ARMY IN 1992..." ALVARADO

SAID THAT THERE IS NO DOCUMENT OR WITNESS STATEMENT TO SUPPORT THE ALLEGATION THAT THE ARMY PROVIDED THE DETAILED DESCRIPTION (WHICH ACCORDING TO HARBURY MATCHES THAT OF BAMACA) TO THE JUDGE WHO WROTE THE INITIAL REPORT. THE STATEMENT THAT THE "ARMY PROVIDED THE DESCRIPTION" (WRITTEN AS IF IT WERE FACT) IS BASED, RATHER, ON JENNIFER HARBURY'S SUPPOSITION AND LOGICAL INFERENCES DRAWN AFTER A REVIEW OF HARBURY AND CABRERA'S CHRONOLOGY. HARBURY AND HRO INVESTIGATORS "ASSUME" THAT THE ARMY GAVE THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, THE FIRST GUATEMALAN CIVILIAN OFFICIAL TO VIEW THE BODY WHERE IT HAD FALLEN, A DESCRIPTION OF SOMEONE ELSE (CORRESPONDING TO THAT OF BAMACA, ACCORDING TO HARBURY) TO PUT INTO HIS REPORT. AS REPORTED EARLIER, WHEN THE BODY WAS EXHUMED IN 1993, ALTHOUGH IT CLEARLY MATCHED THE MARCH 1992 AUTOPSY REPORT OF THE BODY IN QUESTION, IT IN NO WAY MATCHED THE DESCRIPTION OF THE "SAME" BODY WHICH HAD BEEN WRITTEN BY THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

ASST. H.R. OMBUDSMAN ALVARADO LATER TOLD CONOFF THAT IN RESPONSE TO HIS OFFICE'S REQUEST, THE SUPREME COURT INFORMED HIM THAT THE NUEVO SAN CARLOS JUSTICE OF THE PEACE AT THE TIME, SERGIO VIRGILIO OROZCO, WAS FIRED IN 1992. THE HRO DID NOT PURSUE THE ISSUE OF HIS CURRENT

WHEREABOUTS AND THEREFORE DID NOT INTERVIEW HIM. ALVARADO SAID THAT IT IS NOW UP TO THE PUBLIC MINISTRY TO FIND HIM AND ASK HIM IF HE TRULY SAW THE BODY IN QUESTION AND IF SO, WHY DOES HIS DESCRIPTION OF THE BODY DIFFER FROM THAT OF THE FORENSIC DOCTOR WHO CONDUCTED

THE AUTOPSY ON THE BODY AND THE BODY ITSELF WHICH WAS EXHUMED IN 1993? TWO NATIONAL POLICE OFFICERS ACCOMPANIED THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE TO THE RIVER'S EDGE TO VIEW THE BODY. THE HRO ASKED THE NATIONAL POLICE CHIEF TO PROVIDE INFORMATION ON THEIR CURRENT ASSIGNMENTS OR WHEREABOUTS BUT THAT REQUEST WENT UNANSWERED AND IT WAS NOT PURSUED FURTHER. END COMMENT.

B. QUOTE: IF, AS THE ARMY MAINTAINS, THE BODY IN THE GRAVE WAS CHANGED BY THE URNG AFTER THE BURIAL, WHY DID THE INFORMATION ON THE EXHUMED BODY MATCH THE AUTOPSY REPORT OF MARCH 13? WHEN WOULD THEY HAVE SWITCHED THE BODY? END QUOTE.

C. QUOTE: WHERE DID THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE OF NUEVO SAN CARLOS (WHO WOULD HAVE AUTHORIZED REMOVAL OF THE CORPSE) OBTAIN THE FEATURES OF BAMACA VELASQUEZ WITHOUT HAVING NOTED HIS NUMEROUS SCARS, WHICH JENNIFER HARBURY ASSURES THAT HE HAD? DID THE JUDGE SEE THE CORPSE OR WAS HE GIVEN THE CHARACTERISTICS THAT HE SHOULD PUT IN HIS OFFICIAL REPORT? END QUOTE

THE OMBUDSMAN GOES ON TO STATE THAT THE LACK OF ANSWERS TO THESE QUESTIONS IS SUFFICIENT REASON TO INSIST ON A SEARCH FOR BAMACA, ALIVE, OR, IN THE CASE OF HIS DEATH, FOR THE REAL BODY.

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION AND STATEMENTS

3. THE HRO BEGAN THE INVESTIGATION BY REQUESTING INFORMATION AND ASSISTANCE FROM VARIOUS ORGANIZATIONS AND INDIVIDUALS. THE U.N. VERIFICATION COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS (MINUGUA) PROVIDED OBSERVERS TO ACCOMPANY HRO INVESTIGATORS ON VISITS TO MILITARY AND POLICE INSTALLATIONS. THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND SUPREME COURT PROVIDED ALL RELEVANT INFORMATION FROM THEIR FILES. MORGUES AND HOSPITALS ANSWERED THE REQUEST FOR A LIST OF ALL ENTRANTS RESEMBLING BAMACA'S DESCRIPTION. THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, MARIO ENRIQUEZ, WAS ASKED TO PROVIDE A LIST OF ALL MILITARY BASES AND INSTALLATIONS, AS WELL AS HIS VERSION OF HIS DISCUSSIONS WITH JENNIFER HARBURY. HE WAS ALSO ASKED TO ORDER ALL MILITARY MEMBERS, IMPLICATED IN THE BAMACA CASE BY SANTIAGO CABRERA, TO APPEAR FOR QUESTIONING BY HRO INVESTIGATORS. HE COMPLIED WITH THESE REQUESTS ALTHOUGH THE LIST OF MILITARY BASES ARRIVED AT THE HRO OFFICE THE DAY AFTER THE STUDY WAS COMPLETED. SOME OF THE HRO'S OTHER VARIOUS REQUESTS WERE NEVER ANSWERED AND THE REPORT MAKES NO MENTION OF FOLLOW-UP.

4. THE HRO ASKED THE EMBASSY FOR A COPY OF THE DEMARCHE MADE TO PRESIDENT DE LEON BY THE AMBASSADOR IN NOVEMBER 1994 REGARDING EMBASSY'S INFORMATION THAT BAMACA WAS CAPTURED ALIVE. AFTER CONSULTING WITH DEPT., EMBASSY VERBALLY CONFIRMED THAT THE DEMARCHE HAD BEEN MADE, USING LANGUAGE PROVIDED BY THE DEPARTMENT. IN RESPONSE TO THE HRO REQUEST FOR THE MOD'S VERSIONS OF HIS DISCUSSIONS WITH HARBURY, THE MOD, MARIO ENRIQUEZ, RESPONDED IN WRITING THAT HE HAD NEVER STATED OR IMPLIED THAT HE WAS WILLING TO COME TO ANY KIND OF "ARRANGEMENT" WITH HARBURY NOR HAD HE EVER STATED IN ANY CONVERSATION INSIDE OR OUTSIDE OF GUATEMALA THAT HE KNEW WITH CERTAINTY THAT BAMACA WAS ALIVE.

2. SUMMARY: A NUMBER OF LOCAL ADOPTION ATTORNEYS HAVE REFUSED TO COOPERATE WITH OUR BIO-MOTHER SCREENING AND ANTI-FRAUD PROGRAM. NOT SURPRISINGLY, THESE HAPPEN TO BE AMONG THE MOST OFTEN ACCUSED OF ILLEGAL PRACTICES. THEIR NON-COMPLIANCE AND OUTRIGHT MENDACITY HAVE CAUSED EXTREME HARDSHIP FOR MANY ADOPTIVE AMERICAN PARENTS. IN ORDER TO PROTECT AMCITS FROM FURTHER MANIPULATION AND EXPLOITATION, UNLESS DEPARTMENT ADVISES TO THE CONTRARY, POST WILL BE ANNOUNCING, BOTH TO ADOPTIVE AMERICANS AND TO THE ADOPTION AGENCIES, OUR INTENTION TO EXCLUDE THESE ATTORNEYS FROM CASES THAT WE PROCESS FOR IR-3 AND 4 VISAS. A TIMETABLE FOR THE CUT-OFF FOLLOWS. END SUMMARY.

3. POST HAS INITIATED A PROGRAM TO SCREEN OUT FRAUD, INCLUDING INTERVIEWING BIO-MOTHERS, IN OUR HUGE ADOPTION CASELOAD. MOST OF THE LOCAL ATTORNEYS HAVE COMPLIED. A FEW HAVE NOT. NOT SURPRISINGLY, THESE ARE AMONG THE ATTORNEYS MOST FREQUENTLY IMPLICATED IN PRESS REPORTS OF BABY STEALING AND OTHER ILLEGAL AND UNETHICAL PRACTICES. THE THREE ARE: RAUL ANDRADA, GRACIELA MELGAREJO, TERESITA TORRES. ALL ARE PARTNERS IN THE SAME FIRM. NOT ONLY HAVE THEY STONEWALLED US ON BRINGING IN THE BIOMOTHERS, THEY HAVE REPEATEDLY LIED TO BOTH THE EMBASSY AND, MORE IMPORTANTLY, TO THE ADOPTIVE AMERICAN FAMILIES. THEY HAVE MANIPULATED THESE ALREADY ANXIOUS AND STRESSED OUT AMERICANS AS PAWNS IN THEIR ATTEMPT TO UNDERCUT EFFORTS TO MAINTAIN INTEGRITY IN THE INTERNATIONAL ADOPTION PROCESS. POST DOES NOT EXPECT TO RESOLVE ALL PROBLEMS OVERNIGHT BUT

WE CAN PREVENT SOME OF THE MORE UNETHICAL ATTORNEYS FROM VICTIMIZING AMCITS WHILE WORKING ON ADOPTION CASES THAT WILL LEAD TO IR-3 VISAS. WE HOPE TO PROTECT OUR ADOPTIVE AMCITS FROM AS MUCH PAIN AND SUFFERING AS POSSIBLE IN AN ALREADY STRESSFUL PROCESS.

4. TYPICALLY, THESE THREE ATTORNEYS FIRST CLAIMED THAT NONE OF THE BIO-MOTHERS IN THEIR CASE COULD BE FOUND (AS DID ALL THE OTHER ATTORNEYS, REF A). AS MORE OF

THE ADOPTIVE AMERICANS BEGAN INSISTING THAT THE ATTORNEYS COMPLY WITH OUR NEW REQUIREMENTS, THESE THREE ATTORNEYS (AND A PARTICULAR AMERICAN ADOPTION AGENCY WHICH WILL BE DESCRIBED SEPTEL.) TOLD MOST OF THEIR AMERICAN CLIENTS THAT THE BIOMOTHER HAD ALREADY BEEN INTERVIEWED AND CLEARED--ALLEGEDLY WEEKS BEFORE. THE ADOPTIVE AMERICANS ARRIVE, INFANTS IN ARMS, FOR THEIR FINAL VISA INTERVIEW ONLY TO FIND THAT, NOT ONLY HAD THE BIOMOTHER NOT APPEARED, THE ATTORNEYS NEVER EVEN ATTEMPTED TO CONTACT US FOR AN APPOINTMENT. THE AMERICANS ARE UPSET AND RESOLVE TO GO STRAIGHT TO THE LAWYERS OFFICES (AS IT TURNS OUT, ALMOST NONE OF THE AMERICANS GET TO MEET ANY OF THESE ATTORNEYS FACE TO FACE) AND GET THIS STRAIGHTENED OUT. INVARIABLY, SOME FLACK FOR THE ATTORNEYS, TELLS THEM THAT, THE BIOMOTHER HAS BEEN FOUND, IS EN ROUTE TO THE EMBASSY AS THEY SPEAK, AND THAT THE AMERICAN SHOULD RETURN TO THE EMBASSY AND PICK UP THE VISA. OF COURSE, THE BIOMOTHER IS, AGAIN, A NO -SHOW. A NUMBER OF AMERICANS, DESPERATE TO BELIEVE ANYONE WHO CAN HELP THEM OUT OF THIS PERCEIVED TRAP, HAVE BEEN GULLED AS MANY AS FIVE TIMES. WE HAVE A STACK OF SWORN STATEMENTS, WRITTEN

BY THESE AMCITS, DESCRIBING THEIR TORMENTS AND A NUMBER OF WRITTEN COMPLAINTS THAT PREDATE THE CURRENT CONOFF'S ARRIVAL.

5. FREQUENTLY (AND NO DOUBT THE ATTORNEYS INTENDED PLAN) THE AMCITS BLAME THE EMBASSY. THEY DON'T SPEAK SPANISH, HAVE BEEN ABANDONED BY THEIR AGENCY AND ATTORNEYS, AND DEMAND THAT WE WAIVE OUR ANTI-FRAUD REQUIREMENTS AS THEIR ONLY WAY OUT. AS ANDRADA, THE DEAN OF THE LOCAL ADOPTION ATTORNEYS, TOLD CONOFF, "I'VE GOT MY MONEY, SO THEY'RE YOUR PROBLEM NOW."

6. IN SOME CASES, WE HAVE ALLOWED THE AMCIT PARENTS TO ADVERTISE, ON THEIR OWN, FOR THE BIOMOTHER. THIS HAS LIMITED VALUE, OF COURSE, SINCE MOST OF THE BIOMOTHERS ARE ILLITERATE AND ONLY SPEAK GUARANI. IN A FEW OF THESE CASES, WE LATER (AFTER THE VISA WAS ISSUED) FOUND SIMILARITIES BETWEEN THOSE CASES AND OTHERS WHERE ILLEGALITY IS MORE OBVIOUS. A NUMBER OF THE ADOPTIVE AMCITS HAVE SHOWN REMARKABLE INITIATIVE.

SOME OF THE SPANISH SPEAKING AMCITS ( OR THOSE WITH THE MORE TRUSTWORTHY TRANSLATORS) HAVE ACTUALLY GONE OUT AND FOUND, IF NOT THE BIOMOTHER, AT LEAST RELATIVES OR NEIGHBORS WHO COULD CORROBORATE THE STORIES. THEY HAVE BROUGHT BACK PHOTOS AND VIDEO TAPES. MOST OF THE OTHER AMCITS, HOWEVER, ARE LEFT AT THE MERCY OF THESE ATTORNEYS.

7. GRACIELA MELGAREJO DESERVES SPECIAL MENTION. ORIGINALLY, SHE BROUGHT IN SOME OF THE BIOMOTHERS (SHE HAD AT LEAST NINE CASES IN FRONT OF US IN ONE WEEK) BUT WE SOON IDENTIFIED AN IMPOSTOR BIOMOTHER. SHE HAS STONEWALLED US EVER SINCE. WE HAVE SINCE FOUND SIMILARITIES BETWEEN HER FALSE BIOMOTHER CASE AND OTHER ALLEGED CHILD STEALING CASES (REF B).

WHAT WE PROPOSE:

8. WE REALIZE THAT A NUMBER OF THESE ATTORNEYS ARE INVOLVED IN ONGOING CASES. SO AS NOT TO FURTHER PENALIZE AMCIT ADOPTIVE PARENTS, WE PROPOSE THE FOLLOWING TIMETABLE: WE WILL ACCEPT CASES FROM THESE ATTORNEYS IN WHICH THE ADOPTIVE PARENTS HAVE SENT THEM A POWER OF ATTORNEY (TO ADOPT A SPECIFIC, IDENTIFIED CHILD) BEFORE FEBRUARY 15. WE WILL ANNOUNCE THIS IN A CIRCULAR LETTER SENT TO ALL THE ADOPTION AGENCIES KNOWN TO WORK IN PARAGUAY. WE WILL ASK THE AGENCIES TO IDENTIFY THOSE CASES WHICH THEY HAVE PENDING, SO AS TO AVOID FUTURE PROBLEMS. WE WILL ALSO INCLUDE A STATEMENT TO THIS EFFECT IN THE DIRECT RELAY CABLE WE SEND TO ALL ADOPTIVE AMERICANS TO CONFIRM THE ARRIVAL OF THEIR VISAS 37.

9. ACTION REQUESTED FOR CA/VO AND CA/OCS/CI. IN THE ABSENCE OF A NEGATIVE RESPONSE, WE WILL BEGIN OUR

MAILING AND ADVISORIES ON THESE THREE ATTORNEYS ON FEBRUARY 1, 1995. IF THE DEPARTMENT HAS OBJECTIONS OR COMMENTS, PLEASE ADVISE ASAP.

MEXICANS ARE IN TWO MINDS ABOUT THE GUARANTEE PACKAGE, ACKNOWLEDGING ITS FINANCIAL NECESSITY BUT CONCERNED ABOUT LOSS OF SOVEREIGNTY. PRESIDENT ZEDILLO HAS BEEN WORKING TO ASSURE FINANCIAL MANAGERS AND OTHER LEADERS OF THE VIABILITY OF HIS EMERGENCY ECONOMIC MEASURES; HOWEVER, THERE ARE INDICATIONS THAT THE TRADITIONAL UNITY OF GOVERNMENT, LABOR AND BUSINESS, WHICH ALLOWED PAST GOVERNMENTS TO FACE SUCH CRISES, IS UNDER STRAIN. THE COST OF SERVICING THE GOM'S INTERNAL DEBT LOAD MAY RISE 118 PERCENT DUE TO HIGHER INTEREST RATES. BIG MACS HAVE GONE UP 35 PERCENT AND CEMENT 20 PERCENT. SARO

AIRLINES HAS CUT SERVICE TO 25 PERCENT OF ITS DESTINATIONS. FORMER PRESIDENT SALINAS IS INCREASINGLY VILLIFIED IN MEXICO, AND USG SUPPORT FOR HIS CANDIDACY TO HEAD THE WTO IS BECOMING A POLITICAL TARGET. END SUMMARY.

MARKET MOVEMENTS

3. THE MEXICAN STOCK MARKET DROPPED 104 POINTS (4.83 PERCENT) TO 2052.89 POINTS. THE PESO WEAKENED TO CLOSE AT 5.52 TO THE DOLLAR. THE SECONDARY MARKET INTEREST RATES WERE GENERALLY UNCHANGED. HOWEVER, WHILE YESTERDAY CETES DROPPED ABOUT 1 PERCENT IN YIELD, THE AVERAGE INTERBANK INTEREST RATE (TIIP) FOR 28-DAY CREDIT SHOT UP 7 PERCENT TO ALMOST 52 PERCENT. COMMERCIAL PAPER ISSUED BY TOP RATED CORPORATIONS REQUIRED THEM TO PAY 60 PERCENT FOR 28-DAY FUNDS, 58 PERCENT FOR 14-DAY MONEY AND 49 PERCENT FOR 7-DAY FINANCING. SECOND TIER FIRMS HAD TO COUGH UP 66 PERCENT TO BORROW FOR 7 DAYS. THE MAIN REASON FOR THE BAD NEWS WAS WIDESPREAD NERVOUSNESS OVER THE REPORTED NEWS THAT THE U.S. CONGRESS WILL NOT VOTE ON THE LOAN GUARANTEE PACKAGE FOR MEXICO UNTIL THE END OF THE MONTH. A SECONDARY REASON WAS A PERCEPTION OF GROWING POLITICAL TENSIONS IN TABASCO AND A FEAR OF GENERAL UNRAVELLING OF "GOVERNABILITY."

AMBIVALENCE TOWARD THE U.S.

4. THE ATTITUDE TOWARDS THE USG GUARANTEE PACKAGE NOW BEFORE CONGRESS IS SOMEWHAT SCHIZOPHRENIC. ON THE ONE HAND, THERE IS DEEP CONCERN AND MUCH REPORTING IN THE PRESS OF GROWING CONGRESSIONAL OPPOSITION TO SUPPORTING MEXICO, AND A DEEP FEAR THAT THE PACKAGE MIGHT NOT PASS. ON THE OTHER HAND, THERE IS ALMOST AS DEEP CONCERN THAT IF THE PACKAGE IS PASSED, IT WILL CARRY CONDITIONS UNACCEPTABLE TO MEXICO. THE OLD FEAR OF U.S. INFRINGEMENTS ON MEXICAN SOVEREIGNTY IS REVIVING. THE LEGISLATIVE CONTINGENTS OF ALL MAJOR PARTIES IN THE MEXICAN CONGRESS HAVE CONDEMMED THE ATTACHMENT OF POLITICAL CONDITIONS ON THE GUARANTEE. THE PROSPECTIVE USE OF PEMEX REVENUES TO GUARANTEE PAYMENT, PARTICULARLY THE POSSIBLE REQUIREMENT THAT PEMEX MONEY BE DEPOSITED DIRECTLY IN THE NEW YORK FEDERAL RESERVE BRANCH BANK, IS DEPICTED IN THE LEFT-WING PRESS AS A SURRENDER OF NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY.

PRESIDENTIAL ACTIVITY

5. PRESIDENT ZEDILLO HAS BEEN MEETING WITH SMALL GROUPS (20 OR SO) OF DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN INVESTORS INCLUDING A MEETING EARLIER THIS WEEK WITH FOREIGN MONEY MANAGERS. THE AIM OF THE MEETINGS IS TO CONVINCE THEM THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS WELL IN CHARGE OF THE SITUATION AND HAS A SOUND PLAN TO MOVE FORWARD.

95 MEXICO 1311

ACCORDING TO ONE OF THE PARTICIPANTS, ZEDILLO SAID HE IS CONFIDENT THAT THE LEGISLATION NEEDED TO ENACT HIS EMERGENCY PLAN WILL BECOME LAW IN "A FEW DAYS". BEYOND THE EMERGENCY, THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT IS THE BIG PROBLEM, AND THE GOVERNMENT'S ACTIONS ARE AIMED AT OVERCOMING THE DIFFICULTY. FTER ONE OF THESE MEETINGS, COMMERCE SECRETARY BLANCO TOLD ONE OF THE PARTICIPANTS THAT HE EXPECTED THE U.S. GUARANTEE LEGISLATION TO PASS, BUT THAT UNTIL IT IS BROUGHT TO A VOTE, THERE WILL BE UNCERTAINITY AND HARMFUL EFFECTS ON FINANCIAL MARKETS.

6. THE ORGANIZED GROUPS OF LABOR AND BUSINESS ARE NOT SO

SANGUINE AS THE GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, AND THERE ARE REGULAR DAILY INDICATIONS THAT THE TRADITIONAL UNITY WITH WHICH MEXICO
WOULD FACE PAST CRISES IS SHOWING SIGNS OF STRAIN. EVEN THOUGH THE ECONOMIC CONDITION OF THE COUNTRY IS FAR STRONGER THAN IN 1982, FOR EXAMPLE, THE POLITICAL DIVISION AND LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN TRADITIONAL INSTITUTIONS IS GREATER.
7. THE ASSOCIATION OF MEXICAN EMPLOYERS (COPARMEX) DISMISSED A SPEECH BY TREASURY UNDERSECRETARY PEDRO NOYOLA IN WHICH HE EXTOLLED ONE OF THE ELEMENTS OF THE ZEDILLO EMERGENCY PLAN -- THE ADVISORY TAX COMMISSION (CAFI) SET UP OSTENSIBLY TO SIMPLIFY AND RATIONALIZE TAX ADMINISTRATION. COPARMEX SAID THAT ITS VIEW OF THE COMMISSION'S PURPOSE WAS TO BUILD INCENTIVES INTO THE TAX CODE AND MAKE LIFE EASIER FOR THE NATION'S PRIVATE SECTOR. IT SAID THAT IN REALITY, HOWEVER, THE PROMISES OF NOYOLA WERE DEVOID OF ANY SUBSTANCE, THAT THE CAFI WAS A MESS, AND THAT THE TREASURY WAS NOT DISEMMINATING ANY [redacted] INFORMATION, EVEN WHEN PRESSED TO DO SO BY COPARMEX PHONE CALLS.

DEBT LOAD

8. THE ORIGINAL BUDGET PROJECTIONS OF FORMER TREASURY SECRETARY JAIME SERRA ANTICIPATED ABOUT 18 BILLION PESOS THIS YEAR FOR INTEREST PAYMENTS ON INTERNAL GOVERNMENT DEBT. THE [redacted]

MOST RECENT CALCULATIONS ESTIMATE A 113 PERCENT INCREASE IN SUCH PAYMENTS TO OVER 40 BILLION PESOS. MOST OF THE RISE IS DUE TO SHARPLY HIGHER INTEREST RATES.

PRICE RISES

9. THE PRICE OF BAG MACS IN MEXICAN MCDONALD'S ESTABLISHMENTS HAS RISEN 35 PERCENT, REFLECTING, ACCORDING TO COMPANY SOURCES, ONLY THE INCREASED COSTS OF ITS IMPORTED IMPUTS. BURGER KING DOUBLE WHOPPERS, ON WHICH THE AUTHOR OF THESE TELEGRAMS HAS NOURISHED HIMSELF THROUGHOUT THE CRISIS, HAVE GONE FROM 12 PESOS TO 14 PESOS EACH, A 16 PERCENT JUMP.

10. SECOFI AUTHORIZED THE PRICE OF CEMENT TO RISE 20 PERCENT TO REFLECT INCREASED COSTS. THAT SAID, GIVEN THE INCREASINGLY APPARENT SIZE OF MEXICO'S IMMINENT RECESSION, WITH A SHARP DOWNTURN IN INVESTMENT AND CONSTRUCTION, IT IS NOT CLEAR THAT THE CEMENT INDUSTRY WILL PROSPER EVEN TOWARD THE END OF 1995. WHETHER IT DOES WELL OR NOT DEPENDS ON EXPORTS.

11. SAHO AIRLINES, MEXICO'S FOURTH LARGEST AIRLINE, HAS CANCELLED ABOUT 25 PERCENT OF ITS FLIGHT DESTINATIONS AS A CONSEQUENCE OF LOWER DEMAND AND HIGHER COSTS FOLLOWING ON THE CRISIS. THE DESTINATIONS FROM MEXICO CITY THAT HAVE BEEN CANCELLED INCLUDE ACAPULCO, VERACRUZ, ZIHUATANEJO, MINATITLAN, AND TORREON. ALL AIRLINES ARE EXPERIENCING SHARP DROPS IN CONSUMER DEMAND.

SALINAS UNDER FIRE

12. ANTIPATHY TO FORMER PRESIDENT SALINAS, AND ANGER AND RESENTMENT AT HIS CONTINUED CANDIDACY FOR THE WTO, CONTINUES TO RISE. THE PAN POLITICAL PARTY SENT AN OFFICIAL DELEGATION TO THE EMBASSY TODAY TO PROTEST CONTINUED USG SUPPORT OF HIS CANDIDACY. THE NEWS THE SALINAS HAS JOINED THE BOARD OF DOW JONES WAS SARCASTICALLY CARICATURED IN THE PRESS. SALINAS HIMSELF, TO DEFEND AGAINST FORMAL CHARGES BROUGHT AGAINST HIM BY THE PRD, HAS RETAINED A PROMINENT LOCAL ATTORNEY.

DURING THE WEEK OF JANUARY 16, MORE ARRESTS WERE MADE AND MORE BABIES RECOVERED IN CASES WHICH, IF NOT DIRECTLY CONNECTED, DEMONSTRATE A CONSISTENT PATTERN OF BABY TRAFFICKING.

CASE NO. 1:

3. ON JANUARY 11, PARAGUAYAN POLICE ARRESTED SEVERAL OTHER PERSONS AND RECOVERED THREE MORE CHILDREN. THE NEW ARRESTEES ADMIT BEING PART OF A SYSTEMATIC BABY PROCUREMENT (THOUGH NOT NECESSARILY KIDNAPPING) RING WHICH IS TOTALLY INDEPENDENT OF THE FIRST CASE. IN THIS NEW CASE, THE MOTHER OF THE RESCUED CHILDREN WAS ALSO ARRESTED UNTIL THE POLICE SORT IT ALL OUT. NO ONE IS INNOCENT IN PARAGUAY.

4. OUR INVESTIGATOR INTERVIEWED SORAIDA MERELES DE CANDIA IN THE ASUNCION WOMAN'S LOCKUP ON JANUARY 19. MERELES IS CHARGED WITH KIDNAPPING THE THREE YOUNGEST CHILDREN (OUT OF 11, SEE BELOW), OF FLORINDA GARRIDO. THE CHILDREN ARE: EIGHT DAYS, TWO YEARS AND THREE YEARS OF AGE. MERELES CLAIMED TO BE INNOCENT OF KIDNAPPING: THAT SHE BOUGHT THE BABIES FAIR AND SQUARE.

5. ACCORDING TO MERELES, SHE REGULARLY RECRUITS PREGNANT WOMEN FOR WELL KNOWN ADOPTION ATTORNEY JORGE AMARILLA. AMARILLA HAS BEEN IMPLICATED IN OTHER BABY-STEALING SCAMS. SHE WOULD RECRUIT THESE WOMEN IN THE RURAL TOWN OF CABALLERO WHERE THEY WOULD BE OFFERED THE GOING RATE OF ONE MILLION GUARANIES ($500.00). AT THE SEVENTH OR EIGTH MONTH OF PREGNANCY, THE BIOMOTHER WOULD BE MOVED TO A HOUSE IN THE TOWN OF FERNANDO DE LA MORA WHERE THEY WOULD BE FED AND CARED FOR UNTIL THE CHILD WAS BORN. THEN THEY WOULD BE SENT HOME AND BABY WOULD BE TRANSFERED TO THE "NINO JESUS" FOSTER CARE CENTER AND THEN PUT UP FOR ADOPTION WITH AMARILLA AS THE ATTORNEY OF RECORD. BOTH THE SAFE HOUSE AND THE FOSTER CARE CENTER ARE OWNED BY JULIA QUINONEZ. QUINONEZ AND ANOTHER WOMAN, ROSA BENITEZ, ARE ALSO UNDER ARREST.

6. MERELES WOULD NOT SAY HOW MANY TIMES SHE HAD DONE THIS SORT OF THING ("A FEW TIMES"). SHE ALSO ADMITTED TO IMPERSONATING THE BIOMOTHER AT A CIVIL REGISTRY AND IN COURT--SURRENDERING THE PURCHASED CHILD AS HER OWN ISSUE IN SEVERAL CASES. IN THIS CASE, SHE OBTAINED ONE BIRTH CERTIFICATE IN THE REGISTRY

IN THE TOWN OF CAPIATA AND TWO IN FERNANDO DE LA MORA. WE FORGOT TO ASK HER WHAT SHE MADE ON THE DEAL.

7. IN THIS CASE, MERELES CLAIMS THAT THE KIDNAPPING CHARGE WAS TRUMPED UP BY A DISGRUNTLED BIOGRANDMOTHER. IT SEEMS THAT GARRIDO'S MOTHER THOUGHT THAT $500 PER HEAD WAS TOO LOW AND TRIED TO SQUEEZE SOME MORE MONEY OUT OF MERELES AND QUINONEZ. WHEN THE PAIR BAULKED, THE BIOGRANDMOTHER WENT TO THE POLICE.

[redacted] SECTION 02 OF 02 ASUNCION 000230

GARRIDO, BY HER OWN ADMISSION, HAS ALREADY GIVEN UP EIGHT (8!) CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION THROUGH A DIFFERENT ATTORNEY AND THE GRANDMOTHER THOUGHT IT WAS TIME TO MAKE SOME REAL MONEY. (NOTE: WE WONDER IF GARRIDO MIGHT HAVE BEEN AN IMPOSTER BIOMOTHER IN SEVERAL OF THESE CASES.)

8. WE TRIED TO TIE THIS TO THE EARLIER CASE

BUT MERELES CLAIMS THAT "WE ONLY WORK FOR AMARILLA." SUCH LOYALTY GOES UNREWARDED. LIKE PARRA IN THE FIRST CASE, MERELES WAS LEFT TO GET HER OWN LAWYER WHILE THE MIDLEVEL QUINONEZ AND BENITEZ WERE PROVIDED WITH LEGAL REPRESENTATION, ATTORNEY CARLA RIVAROLO. HERE, WE DO FIND A TIE-IN SINCE RIVAROLA IS THE THE ATTORNEY OF RECORD FOR PARRA'S BOSSES, EVA LLANOS AND RUFINO TROCHE.

CASE NUMBER 2:

9. ON JANUARY 19, POLICE RAIDED A "LUXURIOUS MANSION" OWNED BY FRENCHMAN BERNARD GASC. THE POLICE FOUND FOUR BABIES WHO WERE BEING WAREHOUSED FOR ADOPTION ATTORNEYS GLADYS DUARTE (LIKE AMARILLA, IMPLICATED IN PREVIOUS BABY STEALING SCAMS), SARA FLEITAS AND GLADYS GALVAN. THE THREE ARE BEING CHARGED IN THE CASE. IT ALSO APPEARS THAT SOME EMPLOYEES OF THE FOREIGN MINISTRY'S CONSULAR AFFAIRS DIVISION ARE ALSO IMPLICATED IN PROVIDING FALSE DOCUMENTATION. WE WILL CONTINUE TO MONITOR THIS CASE.

10. THE ARREST OF THE FRENCHMAN ADDS AN INTERESTING TWIST. AMCITS ACCOUNT FOR BETWEEN 70-90 PER CENT OF THE INTERNATIONAL ADOPTIONS (WE HAVE NEVER BEEN ABLE TO GET AN EXACT FIGURE). EVEN THE HARSHEST CRITICS OF INTERNATIONAL ADOPTIONS ADMIT THAT THE BULK OF BAD CASES GO TO EUROPE WHILE ALL THE "LEGAL" (AT LEAST IN THE TECHNICAL SENSE) CASES GO TO THE U.S. OUR NEW ANTI-FRAUD PROGRAM HAS IMPRESSED A NUMBER OF OFFICALS WHO ARE DIRECTLY INVOLVED IN ADOPTION REGULATION, BUT IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN HOW MUCH WEIGHT IT CARRIES WITH THE PARAGUAYAN CONGRESS AND THE PUBLIC AT LARGE. THESE THREE RECENT CASES WILL FUEL THOSE WHO WANT TO BAN OR CUT BACK ON ALL INTERNATIONAL ADOPTION. WE WILL BE MEETING WITH THE GOP FISCAL GENERAL (SOLICITOR GENERAL) TO FIND OUT WHAT IS IN THE WIND.

2. SUMMARY: AMBASSADOR MET WITH PRESIDENT ZEDILLO JANUARY 21 AND GAVE HIM A READOUT ON ISSUES RAISED IN CONGRESS OVER THE GUARANTEE. AMBASSADOR RAISED CONGRESSIONAL CONCERNS OVER EXTRADITION, NARCO-TRAFFICKING, ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION AND PRISONER EXCHANGE. HE DISCUSSED ACCELERATED TARIFF REDUCTIONS AND CERTIFICATES OF ORIGIN PROBLEMS AND ASKED ZEDILLO WHETHER MEXICO MIGHT IMPOSE EXCHANGE CONTROLS. [redacted]

[redacted]

4. AMBASSADOR MET WITH PRESIDENT ZEDILLO SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 21, TO REVIEW WHAT HAD HAPPENED IN WASHINGTON THAT WEEK ON THE MEXICAN LOAN GUARANTEE LEGISLATION. AMBASSADOR DISCUSSED THE LAW ENFORCEMENT ISSUES OF CONCERN TO CONGRESS ESPECIALLY THE EXTRADITION, NARCO-TRAFFICKING, ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION AND PRISONER EXCHANGE CONCERNS. AMBASSADOR SAID THAT HE HAD PERSONALLY ASSURED HOUSE AND SENATE MEMBERS THAT THERE WOULD BE ACTION NOT JUST PROMISES TO MOVE FORWARD IN ALL OF THESE AREAS IN A ZEDILLO GOVERNMENT. HE SAID THAT HE WOULD BE COMING TO ZEDILLO PERSONALLY IF [redacted]

5. AMBASSADOR ALSO SUGGESTED THAT ZEDILLO ANNOUNCE MOVEMENT ON TALKS FOR ACCELERATED TARIFF REDUCTIONS, AND SETTLEMENT OF THE CERTIFICATE OF ORIGIN ISSUE WHICH HAS DRAWN COMPLAINTS FROM U.S.

RETAILERS. HE POINTED OUT THAT BECAUSE OF THE PESO DEVALUATION, NEITHER OF THESE EFFORTS WOULD LIKELY HURT MEXICAN BUSINESS FOR AT LEAST ANOTHER YEAR.

7. AMBASSADOR ALSO REPORTED CRITICISMS FROM THE INVESTMENT COMMUNITY. FOR EXAMPLE, INVESTORS BELIEVE THE MEXICAN CENTRAL BANK SHOULD SHOW MORE INDEPENDENCE. THEY BELIEVE THAT ESPECIALLY [redacted]

ESOBONOS SHOULD GO AT MARKET RATES, NOT AT ARTIFICIALLY DETERMINED RATES.

AMBASSADOR PRESSED THE POINT: THE MARKETS BELIEVE THEY KNOW THE RISKS IN MEXICO AND FURTHER FAILURE TO LET MARKETS DETERMINE INTEREST RATES ON TESOBONOS FURTHER WEAKENS CONFIDENCE IN MEXICO.

1. SUMMARY. THE FINANCIAL CRISIS HAS SPEEDED UP ACCEPTANCE OF A ROLE FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR IN ELECTRICITY AND THIS PLAN (PRE-DATING THE CRISIS) PROVIDES SOME BASIC DATA OF INTEREST TO THE USG AND INVESTORS. IT INCORPORATES HIGH AND LOW GROWTH SCENARIOS, BUT UNFORTUNATELY BASES ITS PROJECTIONS ON A NOW IMPLAUSIBLE HIGH GROWTH GDP SCENARIO OF 4.5 PERCENT. ACCORDING TO THIS HIGH GROWTH SCENARIO, MEXICO WILL REQUIRE 14,639 MEGAWATTS (MW) OF NEW ELECTRIC GENERATING CAPACITY BY THE YEAR 2004. CFE, THE GOVERNMENT ELECTRICITY COMPANY, HAS UNDER CONSTRUCTION OR HAS HAD PLANS TO BUILD 6,479 MEGAWATTS OF GENERATING CAPACITY, LEAVING A DEFICIT OF 8,160 MEGAWATTS TO BE COVERED BY THE PRIVATE SECTOR. THE ELECTRICITY PLAN INCLUDES A PROJECT LIST FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR TO COVER THIS SHORTFALL. APART FROM NOT REFLECTING THE DRAMATICALLY CHANGED FINANCIAL ECONOMIC GROWTH, AND ELECTRICITY DEMAND GROWTH PROSPECTS, THE PLAN HAS SEVERAL ADDITIONAL DEFICIENCIES: (1) IT DOES NOT CONSIDER ELECTRICITY PRICING POLICY, AND (2) IT DOES NOT REFLECT THE GREAT POTENTIAL FOR ELECTRICITY SHARING AND SWAPPING ARRANGEMENTS WITH U.S. ELECTRIC COMPANIES THAT WERE HIGHLIGHTED IN THE JOINT DOE-SEMIP ELECTRICITY STUDY THAT WAS REVISED IN 1991. NONETHELESS, WHETHER FINANCED BY PUBLIC OR PRIVATE INVESTMENT, THERE WILL BE A GROWING NEED FOR NEW CAPACITY, AND THIS STUDY CAN HELP SET SOME PARAMETERS. END SUMMARY.

2. THE SECRETARY OF ENERGY, MINES, AND PARASTATALS, (SEMIP), RECENTLY ISSUED A TEN-YEAR ELECTRICITY PLAN AS PART OF THE FOLLOW-THROUGH OF THE REVISED ELECTRICITY LAW OF DEC 1, 1992 (POUCHED TO DOE/IA-SANTIAGO AND ECS/IEP). WHILE THE PLAN

INCORPORATES TWO GROWTH SCENRIOS, ONE OF 4.5 PERCENT AND ANOTHER OF 2.5 PERCENT OF GDP, THE ELECTRICITY FORECASTS ARE BASED UPON THE CURRENTLY IMPLAUSIBLE ASSUMPTION -- POST-DEVALUATION -- OF 4.5 PERCENT GROWTH. THE PLAN FORECASTS ELECTRICITY DEMAND OF ABOUT ONE PERCENT ABOVE REAL GDP GROWTH, A REASONABLE ASSUMPTION BASED ON PAST MEXICAN EXPERIENCE AND THE EXPERIENCES OF OTHER DEVELOPING NATIONS. THE PROJECTIONS INCLUDE MARKET STUDIES AND FORMAL APPLICATIONS BY MAJOR

ELECTRICITY USERS; FOR INSTANCE, FUTURE CAPACITY EXPANSIONS BY CEMENT COMPANIES. THE PLAN NOTES THAT ELECTRICITY CAN NOT BE STORED BECAUSE MEXICO'S ENERGY MIX DOES NOT INCLUDE PUMPED STORAGE GENERATING PLANTS WHERE WATER IS PUMPED TO A HIGH LEVEL RESERVOIR DURING OFF PEAK HOURS, TO BE RELEASED DURING PEAK DEMAND HOURS.

3. THIS PLAN REVIEWS MEXICO'S ELECTRICITY SYSTEM, WHICH HAS GROWN SUBSTANTIALLY IN THE LAST FEW DECADES. IN 1960 THE SYSTEM HAD A GENERATING CAPACITY OF 3,021 MW. BY MID-1994, THE TOTAL CAPACITY WAS 31,307 MW, INCLUDING 2,103 MW INSTALLED DURING 1994. MEXICO'S ELECTRICITY SYSTEM HAS THE FOLLOWING CHARACTERISTICS:

-- IT USES HIGH VOLTAGE SYSTEMS OF 230 AND 400 KILOVOLTS (KV).

-- IT IS DIVIDED INTO 9 AREAS. SEVEN OF THESE AREAS, COVERING MOST OF THE NATIONAL TERRITORY ARE INTERCONNECTED. THE 2 AREAS NOT CONNECTED TO THE NATIONAL GRID ARE THE TWO STATES OF THE BAJA CALIFORNIA PENINSULA. HOWEVER, THE BAJA CALIFORNIA AREAS ARE CONNECTED WITH THE UNITED STATES SOUTHWEST SYSTEM BY MEANS OF A 230 KV. TRANSMISSION LINE.

-- AT THE END OF 1993, MEXICO USED THE FOLLOWING TYPES OF FUELS TO GENERATE ITS ELECTRICITY (IN PERCENTAGES):

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| O | HYDROCARBONS | 55.9 |
| O | DUAL FIRED PLANTS | 4.8 |
| O | HYDROELECTRIC | 28.0 |
| O | COAL | 6.5 |
| O | GEOTHERMAL | 2.5 |
| O | NUCLEAR | 2.3 |

4. IMPORTANT HIGHLIGHTS OF THE VARIOUS TYPES OF MEXICAN ELECTRIC GENERATING CAPACITY ARE AS FOLLOWS:

-- MEXICO USES RESIDUAL FUEL TO FIRE BASE LOAD PLANTS LOCATED NEAR PORTS OR NEAR PEMEX REFINERIES. IT BURNS NATURAL GAS IN PLANTS IN OR NEAR MAJOR METROPOLITAN AREAS. DUAL FIRED PLANTS

OPERATE WITH FUEL OIL/GAS, COAL/FUEL OIL OR COAL/GAS. IT USES DIESEL GENERATORS FOR PEAK POWER AND IN ISOLATED AREAS.

-- THE LARGEST HYDRO PLANTS ARE IN THE SOUTHWEST, IN THE GRIJALVA RIVER BASIN. HYDRO PLANTS IN THIS AREA HAD A GENERATING CAPACITY OF 3,900 MW IN 1993.

-- THE LARGEST COAL FIRED PLANTS ARE LOCATED IN THE STATE OF COAHUILA. THE RIO ESCONDIDO PLANT HAS A CAPACITY OF 1,200 MW,

CARBON II HAS 700 MW IN OPERATION AND AN ADDITIONAL TWO UNITS WILL ADD ANOTHER 700 MW OF CAPACITY.

-- GEOTHERMAL ENERGY CONTRIBUTES 620 MW, WITH A PLANT A CIERRO PRIETO, NEAR MEXICALI, BAJA CALIFORNIA.

-- MEXICO'S NUCLEAR POWER PLANT, LAGUNA VERDE, HAS OPERATED IN ALTO LUCERO, VERACRUZ SINCE 1990 WITH AN INSTALLED CAPACITY OF 675 MW. A SECOND 675 MW UNIT SHOULD BEGIN OPERATIONS IN 1995.

5. UNDER THE HIGH DEMAND SCENARIO, AT THE END OF 1993, THE NATION WILL NEED TO INCORPORATE 14,639 MW OF GENERATING CAPACITY TO MEET PROJECTED ELECTRICITY DEMAND IN THE YEAR 2003. OF THESE, 6,479 MW ARE BEING BUILT OR COMMITTED BY CFE. THEREFORE, USING THE HIGH DEMAND FORECAST, MEXICO WILL REQUIRE AN ADDITIONAL 8,160 MW OF GENERATING CAPACITY. WHILE THE STUDY INCLUDES A LOW ECONOMIC GROWTH SCENARIO, THERE IS NO LOW ELECTRICITY GROWTH SCENARIO.

6. ALTHOUGH IT DOES NOT DO JUSTICE TO THE POTENTIAL OF SWAPS OR SHARING ARRANGEMENTS, THE STUDY DOES TAKE INTO ACCOUNT SOME SMALL EXISTING CONTRACTS TO IMPORT AND EXPORT ELECTRICITY, INCLUDING SAN DIEGO GAS AND ELECTRIC'S CONTRACT TO BUY ELECTRICITY FROM THE GEOTHERMAL FIELDS AND CONTRACTS TO IMPORT ELECTRICITY IN PEAK HOURS FROM EL PASO ELECTRIC CO. AND

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON. ADDITIONALLY, IN 1989 MEXICO BEGAN TO EXPORT SMALL AMOUNTS OF ELECTRICITY TO BELIZE.

ELECTRICITY LAW AND REGULATIONS, AND AS SUCH, PROVIDES CLUES TO WHAT MAY HAPPEN WITH FUTURE PROJECTS FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR. THIS POWER PLANT IS TO BE LOCATED NEAR MERIDA, STATE OF YUCATAN. THE BID WAS ISSUED FOR A TOTAL OF 440 MW, PLUS OR MINUS 10 PERCENT. THE FIRST UNIT OF 220 MW IS SCHEDULED TO BEGIN OPERATIONS IN 1998 AND THE SECOND ONE OF EQUAL CAPACITY, IN THE YEAR 2000. MERIDA III WILL BURN NATURAL GAS AND USE RESIDUAL FUEL AS BACKUP. THE PROJECT WILL OBTAIN ITS NATURAL GAS VIA A PIPELINE FROM CIUDAD PEMEX IN TABASCO TO MERIDA, YUCATAN. THE PIPELINE WILL HAVE A LENGTH OF 570 KMS TO MERIDA, WITH AN ADDITIONAL LENGTH OF 144 KMS, FROM MERIDA TO VALLADOLID. EMBASSY UNDERSTANDS THE BIDDING FOR THE MERIDA III IS SCHEDULED TO CLOSE ON APRIL 17, 1995. THE AWARDS MAY BE GRANTED SOMETIME AROUND AUGUST 1995. IN AN EARLY DECEMBER 1994 SPEECH THE MEXICAN MINISTER OF ENERGY, IGNACIO PICHARDO PAGAZA, STATED THE 1995 PEMEX BUDGET INCLUDES FUNDING FOR THE NATURAL GAS PIPELINE FOR MERIDA III.

13. THE PLAN INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION ON COGENERATION:

- THE NEW REGULATIONS FOR THE ELECTRIC SECTOR PERMIT ASSOCIATIONS TO BE CREATED AMONG ELECTRICITY USING FIRMS AND THOSE WHICH PRIMARILY DEMAND HEAT FROM COGENERATION PLANTS. THERE ARE AN ESTIMATED 2,000 SUCH COMPANIES PRESENTLY SERVED BY PEMEX AND BY CFE.

- IN THE NEXT 10 YEARS, ABOUT 4,200 MW OF COGENERATION CAPACITY IS SLATED TO BE DEVELOPED. SUCH PLANTS WILL BE FUELED PRIMARILY BY NATURAL GAS TURBINES AND RECIPROCATING

PAGE 04 MEXICO 01687 04 OF 04 252330Z
MOTORS THAT BURN NATURAL GAS. THE DEVELOPMENT OF COGENERATION WILL DEPEND ON THE AVAILABILITY OF FINANCE MECHANISMS. OTHER IMPORTANT FACTORS THAT WILL AFFECT THE DEVELOPMENT OF COGENERATION ARE PRICES AND AVAILABILITY OF FUELS.

14. COMMENT: THE PRESENT CRISIS IS ACCELERATING THE ALREADY PLANNED OPENING OF THE ELECTRICITY SECTOR. NONETHELESS, APART FROM PRE-DATING THE CRISIS, THE PLAN ALSO WAS CREATED WITHOUT ANY REGARD TO ENERGY PRICING POLICY. ALTHOUGH IT INCLUDES TWO GROWTH SCENARIOS, ITS PROJECTIONS ARE BASED ON THE HIGH ONE. IT FAILS TO CONSIDER ENERGY SWAPPING AND SHARING POSSIBILITIES THAT WERE HIGHLIGHTED IN THE 1991 SEMIP-DOE ENERGY STUDY. STILL, IT DOES SIGNAL THE ACCEPTANCE (WHICH THE CRISIS HAS TURNED INTO A WELCOME) OF A STRONG ROLE FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR IN INDEPENDENT POWER GENERATION AND COGENERATION AND PROVIDES A ROUGH GUIDE TO PROJECTS FOR THE POTENTIAL INVESTOR AND INTERESTED GOVERNMENT AGENCIES. END COMMENT.

1. SUMMARY. THE FINANCIAL CRISIS HAS SPEEDED UP ACCEPTANCE OF A ROLE FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR IN ELECTRICITY AND THIS PLAN (PRE-DATING THE CRISIS) PROVIDES SOME BASIC DATA OF INTEREST TO THE USG AND INVESTORS. IT INCORPORATES HIGH AND LOW GROWTH SCENARIOS, BUT UNFORTUNATELY BASES ITS PROJECTIONS ON A NOW IMPLAUSIBLE HIGH GROWTH GDP SCENARIO OF 4.5 PERCENT. ACCORDING TO THIS HIGH GROWTH SCENARIO, MEXICO WILL REQUIRE 14,639 MEGAWATTS (MW) OF NEW ELECTRIC GENERATING CAPACITY BY THE YEAR 2004. CFE, THE GOVERNMENT ELECTRICITY COMPANY, HAS UNDER CONSTRUCTION OR HAS HAD PLANS TO BUILD 6,479 MEGAWATTS OF GENERATING CAPACITY, LEAVING A DEFICIT OF 8,160 MEGAWATTS TO BE COVERED BY THE PRIVATE SECTOR. THE ELECTRICITY PLAN INCLUDES A PROJECT LIST FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR TO COVER THIS SHORTFALL. APART FROM NOT REFLECTING THE DRAMATICALLY CHANGED FINANCIAL ECONOMIC GROWTH, AND ELECTRICITY DEMAND GROWTH PROSPECTS, THE PLAN HAS SEVERAL ADDITIONAL DEFICIENCIES: (1) IT DOES NOT CONSIDER ELECTRICITY PRICING POLICY, AND (2) IT DOES NOT REFLECT THE GREAT POTENTIAL FOR ELECTRICITY SHARING AND SWAPPING ARRANGEMENTS WITH U.S. ELECTRIC COMPANIES THAT WERE HIGHLIGHTED IN THE JOINT DOE-SEMIP ELECTRICITY STUDY THAT WAS REVISED IN 1991. NONETHELESS, WHETHER FINANCED BY PUBLIC OR PRIVATE INVESTMENT, THERE WILL BE A GROWING NEED FOR NEW CAPACITY, AND THIS STUDY CAN HELP SET SOME PARAMETERS. END SUMMARY.

2. THE SECRETARY OF ENERGY, MINES, AND PARASTATALS, (SEMIP), RECENTLY ISSUED A TEN-YEAR ELECTRICITY PLAN AS PART OF THE FOLLOW-THROUGH OF THE REVISED ELECTRICITY LAW OF DEC 1, 1992 (POUCHED TO DOE/IA-SANTIAGO AND ECS/IEP). WHILE THE PLAN

INCORPORATES TWO GROWTH SCENRIOS, ONE OF 4.5 PERCENT AND ANOTHER OF 2.5 PERCENT OF GDP, THE ELECTRICITY FORECASTS ARE BASED UPON THE CURRENTLY IMPLAUSIBLE ASSUMPTION -- POST-DEVALUATION -- OF 4.5 PERCENT GROWTH. THE PLAN FORECASTS ELECTRICITY DEMAND OF ABOUT ONE PERCENT ABOVE REAL GDP GROWTH, A REASONABLE ASSUMPTION BASED ON PAST MEXICAN EXPERIENCE AND THE EXPERIENCES OF OTHER DEVELOPING NATIONS. THE PROJECTIONS INCLUDE MARKET STUDIES AND FORMAL APPLICATIONS BY MAJOR

ELECTRICITY USERS; FOR INSTANCE, FUTURE CAPACITY EXPANSIONS BY CEMENT COMPANIES. THE PLAN NOTES THAT ELECTRICITY CAN NOT BE STORED BECAUSE MEXICO'S ENERGY MIX DOES NOT INCLUDE PUMPED STORAGE GENERATING PLANTS WHERE WATER IS PUMPED TO A HIGH LEVEL RESERVOIR DURING OFF PEAK HOURS, TO BE RELEASED DURING PEAK DEMAND HOURS.

3. THIS PLAN REVIEWS MEXICO'S ELECTRICITY SYSTEM, WHICH HAS GROWN SUBSTANTIALLY IN THE LAST FEW DECADES. IN 1960 THE SYSTEM HAD A GENERATING CAPACITY OF 3,021 MW. BY MID-1994, THE TOTAL CAPACITY WAS 31,307 MW, INCLUDING 2,103 MW INSTALLED DURING 1994. MEXICO'S ELECTRICITY SYSTEM HAS THE FOLLOWING CHARACTERISTICS:

-- IT USES HIGH VOLTAGE SYSTEMS OF 230 AND 400 KILOVOLTS (KV).

-- IT IS DIVIDED INTO 9 AREAS. SEVEN OF THESE AREAS, COVERING MOST OF THE NATIONAL TERRITORY ARE INTERCONNECTED. THE 2 AREAS NOT CONNECTED TO THE NATIONAL GRID ARE THE TWO STATES OF THE BAJA CALIFORNIA PENINSULA. 4. IMPORTANT HIGHLIGHTS OF THE VARIOUS TYPES OF MEXICAN ELECTRIC GENERATING CAPACITY ARE AS FOLLOWS:

-- MEXICO USES RESIDUAL FUEL TO FIRE BASE LOAD PLANTS LOCATED NEAR PORTS OR NEAR PEMEX REFINERIES. IT BURNS NATURAL GAS IN PLANTS IN OR NEAR MAJOR METROPOLITAN AREAS. DUAL FIRED PLANTS

OPERATE WITH FUEL OIL/GAS, COAL/FUEL OIL OR COAL/GAS. IT USES DIESEL GENERATORS FOR PEAK POWER AND IN ISOLATED AREAS.

-- THE LARGEST HYDRO PLANTS ARE IN THE SOUTHWEST, IN THE GRIJALVA RIVER BASIN. HYDRO PLANTS IN THIS AREA HAD A GENERATING CAPACITY OF 3,900 MW IN 1993.

-- THE LARGEST COAL FIRED PLANTS ARE LOCATED IN THE STATE OF COAHUILA. THE RIO ESCONDIDO PLANT HAS A CAPACITY OF 1,200 MW,

CARBON II HAS 700 MW IN OPERATION AND AN ADDITIONAL TWO UNITS WILL ADD ANOTHER 700 MW OF CAPACITY.

-- GEOTHERMAL ENERGY CONTRIBUTES 620 MW, WITH A PLANT A CIERRO PRIETO, NEAR MEXICALI, BAJA CALIFORNIA.

-- MEXICO'S NUCLEAR POWER PLANT, LAGUNA VERDE, HAS OPERATED IN ALTO LUCERO, VERACRUZ SINCE 1990 WITH AN INSTALLED CAPACITY OF 675 MW. A SECOND 675 MW UNIT SHOULD BEGIN OPERATIONS IN 1995.

5. UNDER THE HIGH DEMAND SCENARIO, AT THE END OF 1993, THE NATION WILL NEED TO INCORPORATE 14,639 MW OF GENERATING CAPACITY TO MEET PROJECTED ELECTRICITY DEMAND IN THE YEAR 2003. OF THESE, 6,479 MW ARE BEING BUILT OR COMMITTED BY CFE. THEREFORE, USING THE HIGH DEMAND FORECAST, MEXICO WILL REQUIRE AN ADDITIONAL 8,160 MW OF GENERATING CAPACITY. WHILE THE STUDY INCLUDES A LOW ECONOMIC GROWTH SCENARIO, THERE IS NO LOW ELECTRICITY GROWTH SCENARIO.

6. ALTHOUGH IT DOES NOT DO JUSTICE TO THE POTENTIAL OF SWAPS OR SHARING ARRANGEMENTS, THE STUDY DOES TAKE INTO ACCOUNT SOME SMALL EXISTING CONTRACTS TO IMPORT AND EXPORT ELECTRICITY, INCLUDING SAN DIEGO GAS AND ELECTRIC'S CONTRACT TO BUY ELECTRICITY FROM THE GEOTHERMAL FIELDS AND CONTRACTS TO IMPORT ELECTRICITY IN PEAK HOURS FROM EL PASO ELECTRIC CO. AND

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON. ADDITIONALLY, IN 1989 MEXICO BEGAN TO EXPORT SMALL AMOUNTS OF ELECTRICITY TO BELIZE.

7. THE PLAN MENTIONS THE PROBABLE RETIREMENT OF SOME PLANTS, BUT OFFERS NO DETAILS. THE DOCUMENT, HOWEVER, GIVES AN ESTIMATE OF 35 YEARS OF USEFUL LIFE FOR CONVENTIONAL

THERMOELECTRIC PLANTS AND OF 60 YEARS FOR HYDRO PLANTS. A COST/BENEFIT ANALYSIS WILL BE MADE FOR EACH PLANT THAT BECOMES A CANDIDATE FOR RETIREMENT.

8. ONE OF THE MOST USEFUL PARTS OF THIS DOCUMENT IS ITS IDENTIFICATION OF THE 8,160 MW SHORTFALL BY GEOGRAPHIC LOCATION AND WHEN THE INCREASED OUTPUT WILL BE NEEDED. THE FOLLOWING TABLE SUMMARIZES MEXICAN ELECTRICITY NEEDS NOT COVERED BY PLANNED GOVERNMENT INVESTMENT:

ELECTRICITY LAW AND REGULATIONS, AND AS SUCH, PROVIDES CLUES TO WHAT MAY HAPPEN WITH FUTURE PROJECTS FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR. THIS POWER PLANT IS TO BE LOCATED NEAR MERIDA, STATE OF YUCATAN. THE BID WAS ISSUED FOR A TOTAL OF 440 MW, PLUS OR MINUS 10 PERCENT. THE FIRST UNIT OF 220 MW IS SCHEDULED TO BEGIN OPERATIONS IN 1998 AND THE SECOND ONE OF EQUAL CAPACITY, IN THE YEAR 2000. MERIDA III WILL BURN NATURAL GAS AND USE RESIDUAL FUEL AS BACKUP. THE PROJECT WILL OBTAIN ITS NATURAL GAS VIA A PIPELINE FROM CIUDAD PEMEX IN TABASCO TO MERIDA, YUCATAN. THE PIPELINE WILL HAVE A LENGTH OF 570 KMS TO MERIDA, WITH AN ADDITIONAL LENGTH OF 144 KMS, FROM MERIDA TO VALLADOLID. EMBASSY UNDERSTANDS THE BIDDING FOR THE MERIDA III IS SCHEDULED TO CLOSE ON APRIL 17, 1995. THE AWARDS MAY BE GRANTED SOMETIME AROUND AUGUST 1995. IN AN EARLY DECEMBER 1994 SPEECH THE MEXICAN MINISTER OF ENERGY, IGNACIO PICHARDO PAGAZA, STATED THE 1995 PEMEX BUDGET INCLUDES FUNDING FOR THE NATURAL GAS PIPELINE FOR MERIDA III.

13. THE PLAN INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION ON COGENERATION:

- THE NEW REGULATIONS FOR THE ELECTRIC SECTOR PERMIT ASSOCIATIONS TO BE CREATED AMONG ELECTRICITY USING FIRMS AND THOSE WHICH PRIMARILY DEMAND HEAT FROM COGENERATION PLANTS. THERE ARE AN ESTIMATED 2,000 SUCH COMPANIES PRESENTLY SERVED BY PEMEX AND BY CFE.

- IN THE NEXT 10 YEARS, ABOUT 4,200 MW OF COGENERATION CAPACITY IS SLATED TO BE DEVELOPED. SUCH PLANTS WILL BE FUELED PRIMARILY BY NATURAL GAS TURBINES AND RECIPROCATING

PAGE 04 MEXICO 01687 04 OF 04 252330Z
MOTORS THAT BURN NATURAL GAS. THE DEVELOPMENT OF COGENERATION WILL DEPEND ON THE AVAILABILITY OF FINANCE MECHANISMS. OTHER IMPORTANT FACTORS THAT WILL AFFECT THE DEVELOPMENT OF COGENERATION ARE PRICES AND AVAILABILITY OF FUELS.

14. COMMENT: THE PRESENT CRISIS IS ACCELERATING THE ALREADY PLANNED OPENING OF THE ELECTRICITY SECTOR. NONETHELESS, APART FROM PRE-DATING THE CRISIS, THE PLAN ALSO WAS CREATED WITHOUT ANY REGARD TO ENERGY PRICING POLICY. ALTHOUGH IT INCLUDES TWO GROWTH SCENARIOS, ITS PROJECTIONS ARE BASED ON THE HIGH ONE. IT FAILS TO CONSIDER ENERGY SWAPPING AND SHARING POSSIBILITIES THAT WERE HIGHLIGHTED IN THE 1991 SEMIP-DOE ENERGY STUDY. STILL, IT DOES SIGNAL THE ACCEPTANCE (WHICH THE CRISIS HAS TURNED INTO A WELCOME) OF A STRONG ROLE FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR IN INDEPENDENT POWER GENERATION AND COGENERATION AND PROVIDES A ROUGH GUIDE TO PROJECTS FOR THE POTENTIAL INVESTOR AND INTERESTED GOVERNMENT AGENCIES. END COMMENT.

CASE UPDATES

ODHA Says Government Official Ordered Belgian Priest's Murder The Guatemalan Archbishop's Human Rights Office (ODHA), after investigating the murder of Belgian priest ALFONSO STESSEL FONS, concluded that the priest was extrajudicially executed by order of an influential Guatemalan government official. The National Police had classified the December 20 murder as common crime (see Update #25, 1994). The ODHA said Father Stessel was investigating an attack on someone (whose name has been withheld) and that the order to eliminate him may have come as a result of the investigation. The ODHA is turning its evidence over to the Public Ministry, which will be responsible for arresting and prosecuting the suspects.

Prosecutor Accuses Police Chief of Ordering Attack on Students Guatemalan Public Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas has accused National Police Chief Salvador Figueroa of authorizing riot squads to fire on University of San Carlos students who were protesting an increase in bus fares last November (see Update #24, 1994). Cuestas said he could charge the police chief with abuse of authority and complicity in homocide. He said a videotape of the incident would permit the identification of the officers who carried out the abuses. (See Other Information, below).

Court Throws Out Government's Suit Against Harbury On January 27, a civil court in Guatemala threw out the civil suit Guatemalan Attorney General Acisclo Valladares had brought against Jennifer Harbury. The government charged Harbury with jactancia, or making unsupported claims, after she said she would file criminal charges against several high-ranking military officers accused of secretly detaining and torturing her husband, Efraín Bámaca Velásquez. The judge hearing the jactancia suit agreed with Harbury that the charges were defective. The government has announced no plans to appeal the ruling.

men armed M-16 rifles broke into their house in Cerro Corado, Amatitlán and opened fire. Neighbors managed to detain one of the men, army soldier Anibal Segura Alvarado. A few hours later, soldier Edwin Geovanni Harrarte de Cid was arrested. The United Nations Verification Mission (MINUGUA) is investigating the case.

Doctor ARMANDO BARILLAS SANDOVAL (44), the director of the health center in Atescatempa, Jutiapa, was shot to death by unidentified men as he was driving through La Sequía, El Progreso, Jutiapa. ALFREDO LEON CASTRO (55), who was with him, was seriously injured.

The bodies of CARLOS RENE CORDOVA (45), JUAN DE DIOS GALICIA PEREZ (44), along with the body of an unidentified man, were found on the grounds of the Mar finca (plantation or ranch) in Champerico, Retalhuleu. The victims had multiple bullet wounds.

UNIDENTIFIED BODIES

The body of a man was found in La Democracia, Escuintla, with three bullet wounds to the chest.

The bodies of two men were found in a pickup truck in Tres Monjas, Chiquimulilla, Santa Rosa. The bodies had several bullet wounds, and the truck was also riddled with twenty bullet holes.

OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS

Members of Family Shot Five members of the López Aguilar family were wounded on January 6 when armed men claiming to belong to the army intelligence (G-2) forced them out of their house and opened fire. FRANCISCO ISRAEL LOPEZ ESTRADA (56), his wife, ZOILA AGUILAR MORALES (35), and their sons MYNOR LEONEL (11), LUIS ELPIDIO (9), and RENE ISAI (5) LOPEZ AGUILAR were wounded. The López Aguilar family lives in La Verde, Tecún Umán, San Marcos.

Secretary at Fray Bartolomé de las Casas Center Beaten On January 4, ALMA MAYAN, a secretary at the Fray Bartolomé de las Casas Center, suprised two intruders who had broken into the office and were searching through documents and files. The intruders attacked and beat Mayán, leaving her dazed on the floor. On October 27 of last year, Mayán was also beaten in the office by armed intruders, who stole files and questioned her about the center's director, ARMANDO CU MORAN. Several weeks later, she was followed by two men, who tried to steal documents from her (see Updates #24, #25). The staff at the center, which provides radio equipment and printing facilities for popular and human rights groups, believes the attacks were politically motivated and that government security forces are responsible.

MONAP Representative Abducted ISRAEL MEJIA CRISTALES, a member of the council of representatives of the National Movement of Settlers (MONAP), was abducted by several men wearing ski masks and driving a black vehicle with polarized windows and no license plates. Days later, on January 21, he was released, suffering from trauma. He said he had been treated badly during his detention but has given no further details. Mejía is the treasurer of the neighbors' committee in Villa Lobos II, a community of displaced on the outskirts of Guatemala City.

Protesters Protest Presidency of Ríos Montt Hundreds of representatives of popular organizations demonstrated outside the Guatemalan Congress on January 15, as former dictator Efraín Ríos Montt assumed the presidency of Congress. The demonstrators burned an effigy of Ríos Montt, demanding that he be removed from office. He has been accused of responsibility for the massive human rights violations that took place under his administration in the early eighties, including the murders of approximately 50,000 campesinos and the destruction of 440 villages. Demonstrators said they were preparing a legal attack on Ríos Montt and seeking an injunction that would bar him from running for the presidency of Guatemala in 1996. The president of the Court of Constitutionality, Gabriel Larios Ochaeita, said the Court could rule in favor of Ríos Montt's candidacy for president.

Thirteen Street Children Murdered in 1994 According to Bruce Harris, the director of Casa Alianza (Covenant House), thirteen street children were assassinated last year. Harris said that in the majority of the cases, private security agents were responsible, whereas in the past, responsibility often lay with the National Police. Harris noted that 191 criminal suits are pending against people accused of violating the rights of minors. He said the Public Ministry on several occasions has refused to receive additional suits that Casa Alianza has tried to file.

MINUGUA Concerned about Recent Human Rights Violations In a meeting with Defense Minister General Mario René Enríquez, MINUGUA coordinator Leonardo Franco expressed concern over the assassinations of university professor Abner Esau Avadano Estrada and prosecutor Carlos Hernández Orantes (see Extrajudicial Executions). Franco said the incidents could affect the peace negotiations and told the Defense Minister that "the least that can be hoped for is that the security forces investigate these bloody actions as soon as possible, in order to identify, capture and try those responsible." He added that the recent increase in assassination attempts and other acts of violence was evidence of the impunity that reigns in Guatemala.

Procurators Endorse Signing of Convention on Indigenous Rights At a seminar held in Guatemala City, Central American human rights procurators insisted on the approval and ratification of Convention 169 of the World Labor Organization. The convention guarantees specific rights to indigenous peoples. Jorge Mario García Laguardia, Guatemala's human rights procurator, said discrimination is apparent in Guatemala, where the indigenous make up more than half the population. Guatemala's Chamber of Agriculture opposed the procurators' suggestion to approve the convention, saying it "does not adapt" to the national reality.

GAM Reports 1,488 Violations in 1994 The Mutual Support Group reported 1,488 human rights violations in 1994, including 138 extrajudicial executions, 69 attacks, 12 massacres, 108 abductions/disappearances, and 99 disappearances of children. Recently, GAM asked the Attorney General's Office and the Human Rights Procurator's Office to begin legal proceedings against the civil patrols of Huehuetenango and the Quiché for abusing and intimidating the people.

International Rights Organization Supports ASC Documents In its thirty-second congress, held in Madrid, Spain, the International Federation of Human Rights (FIDH) called for the continuation of the peace process, supported the proposals of the ASC, and asked the Guatemalan government to end human rights violations and impunity. The FIDH also congratulated the Mexico-based Guatemalan Human Rights Commission (CDHG) on its decision to open an office in Guatemala next week. Several founders of CDHG were assassinated in Guatemala soon after forming the commission in the early eighties, and the others were driven into exile in Mexico.

1. SUMMARY. ON DECEMBER 28, 1994, THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT DISMANTLED THE OLD SECRETARIAT OF ENERGY, MINES AND STATE-OWNED INDUSTRY (SEMIP) AND CREATED A MUCH SLIMMED-DOWN ENERGY SECRETARIAT. ENERGY POLICYMAKING RESPONSIBILITY REMAINS IN THE NEW ENERGY SECRETARIAT BUT MINING POLICYMAKING RESPONSIBILITIES WERE SHIFTED TO THE SECRETARIAT FOR COMMERCE AND INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT (SECOFI). EVEN WITH ITS NEW NARROWER FOCUS, IT WILL BE VERY DIFFICULT FOR THE NEWLY CREATED ENERGY SECRETARIAT TO FORMULATE AND IMPLEMENT ENERGY POLICY, AS IT FACES POWERFUL COMPETITION FROM PETROLEOS MEXICANS (PEMEX) AND THE FEDERAL ELECTRICITY COMMISSION (CFE), THE DIRECTORS OF WHICH MAINTAIN INDEPENDENT ACCESS TO THE PRESIDENT.

2. THE MINING SECTOR IS NOW LARGELY IN PRIVATE HANDS. MINERALS PRICES ARE RISING ON INTERNATIONAL MARKETS AND THIS SECTOR SHOULD BENEFIT FROM THE RECENT PESO DEVALUATION AND SHOULD CONTRIBUTE TO INCREASED GROWTH, EXPORTS AND JOBS IF IT CAN ATTRACT ABOUT USD 6 BILLION IN NEW INVESTMENTS OVER THE NEXT FEW YEARS. END SUMMARY.

ENERGY

3. ARTICLE 33 OF THE EXECUTIVE DECREE CREATING THE NEW ENERGY SECRETARIAT DEFINES ITS FUNCTIONS AS FOLLOWS:

(1) CONDUCT MEXICO'S ENERGY POLICY. (COMMENT: EASIER SAID THAN DONE. TRADITIONALLY, PEMEX'S DIRECTOR GENERAL HAS HAD DIRECT ACCESS TO THE MEXICAN PRESIDENCY AND THE STRONGEST ROLE IN ENERGY POLICYMAKING. END COMMENT).

(2) EXERCISE THE NATION'S RIGHTS OVER HYDROCARBONS, NUCLEAR ENERGY, AS WELL AS TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF ALL ASSETS AND NATURAL RESOURCES REQUIRED TO GENERATE, TRANSMIT, TRANSFORM, DISTRIBUTE AND SUPPLY ELECTRICITY, WITH THE OBJECTIVE OF PROVIDING A PUBLIC SERVICE. (COMMENT: IN DECEMBER 1992 THE ELECTRICITY LAW WAS CHANGED TO ALLOW THE GENERATION OF ELECTRICITY FOR PROFIT. THE NEW DEFINITION OF PUBLIC SERVICE IN THE ELECTRICITY LAW, EXCLUDED THE "GENERATION" OF ELECTRICITY. THE WORDING IN THIS DECREE STILL INCLUDES GENERATION OF ELECTRICITY AS PUBLIC SEVICE. END COMMENT).

(3) CONDUCT THE ACTIVITIES OF THE STATE-OWNED ENTERPRISES ENGAGED IN THE EXPLOITATION OF HYDROCARBONS, THE GENERATION OF ELECTRICITY AND OF NUCLEAR ENERGY, WITH DUE RESPECT FOR THE ECOLOGICAL LAWS. (COMMENT: TO PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT MEXICO WILL NOT BUILD MORE NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS EXCEPT FOR ONE UNIT IN PROCESS. FOR ECOLOGICAL AND OTHER REASONS, MEXICO ALSO ENCOURAGES THE USE OF NATURAL GAS AND DISCOURAGES THE USE OF HIGH SULFUR RESIDUAL FUEL IN THE GENERATION OF ELECTRICITY. END COMMENT).

(4) PARTICIPATE IN INTERNATIONAL FORA IN AREA OF COMPETENCE AND PROPOSE TO THE SECRETARIAT OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS (SRE) INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS AND TREATIES. (COMMENT: IN THE LAST DAYS OF THE SALINAS ADMINISTRATION, SEMIP, (NOW THE ENERGY SECRETARIAT), WAS CONSIDERING THREE TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE AGREEMENTS WITH THE USG: ONE FROM DOE, ANOTHER FROM THE US BUREAU OF MINES AND THE THIRD FROM THE US GEOLOGICAL SURVEY. ONLY THE LATTER WAS SIGNED. EMBASSY WILL FOLLOW UP ON THE BUMINES PROPOSAL WITH SECOFI AND ON THE DOE PROPOSAL WITH THE NEW ENERGY SECRETARIAT. END COMMENT).

(5) PROMOTE THE PARTICIPATION OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR IN THE GENERATION AND EFFICIENT USE OF ENERGY, WITH DUE REGARD TO ECOLOGICAL LAWS.

(6) CARRY OUT MEDIUM AND LONG TERM ENERGY PLANNING. DEFINE THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ROLE FOR THE STATE-OWNED ENERGY SECTOR. (COMMENT: THE TEN YEAR PLAN, PREPARED ONCE A YEAR BY CFE AND RELEASED BY SEMIP (NOW THE ENERGY SECRETARIAT) OUTLINES THE CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND CFE CAN PARTICIPATE IN THE GENERATION OF ELECTRICITY. END COMMENT).

(7) GRANT ENERGY CONCESSIONS, AUTHORIZATIONS AND PERMITS.

(8) CONDUCT AND PROMOTE STUDIES AND RESEARCH ON ENERGY CONSERVATION AND EFFICIENCY, INFRASTRUCTURE, COSTS, PROJECTS, MARKETING, PRICES AND TARIFFS. ALSO STUDY ASSETS, PROCEDURES, RULES AND OTHER ISSUES RELATED TO THE ENERGY SECTOR. PROPOSE APPROPRIATE ACTION.

(9) REGULATE AND ISSUE OFFICIAL NORMS ON PRODUCTION,

MINING

4. ARTICLE 34 OF THE EXECUTIVE DECREE DESCRIBES THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE SECRETARIAT FOR COMMERCE AND INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT (SECOFI). THE ARTICLE CONSISTS OF 30 ITEMS. ITEMS 27-29 (BELOW) DEFINE SECOFI'S RESPONSIBILITIES WITH REGARD TO THE MINING SECTOR:

(27) FORMULATE AND CONDUCT NATIONAL POLICY FOR THE MINING SECTOR. (COMMENT: WHEN MINING WAS PART OF SEMIP, MINING POLICY WAS FORMULATED BY AN UNDER SECRETARY FOR MINING. SHORTLY AFTER DECEMBER 1, 1994, MAURICIO TOUSSAINT, WHO WAS UNTIL THEN DIRECTOR GENERAL FOR HYDROCARBONS POLICY AT SEMIP, ASSUMED THE MINING PORTFOLIO AT SEMIP. WITH THE MOVE OF MINING FROM SEMIP TO SECOFI, THE TOP POLICYMAKING JOB FOR MINING IS STILL UNCONFIRMED. END COMMENT).

VATIZED. THE MINING
CADASTRE WAS COMPLETED DURING THE LAST TWO YEARS AND HAS PROVEN A VERY USEFUL TOOL IN ELIMINATING CONFLICTING CLAIMS. RESOURCE WATCHERS ARE FORECASTING A USD 6 BILLION INVESTMENT IN THE MINING SECTOR WITHIN THE NEXT 6 YEARS. THE RECENT PESO DEVALUATION FAVORED THE SECTOR AS ITS LOCAL COSTS ARE DENOMINATED IN PESOS BUT MOST OF ITS REVENUES ARE IN DOLLARS OR OTHER HARD CURRENCIES. END COMMENT).

(29) GRANT MINING CONTRACTS, CONCESSIONS, ASSIGNMENTS, PERMITS AND AUTHORIZATIONS ACCORDING TO THE LAW.

SUBJECT: ARA GUIDANCES, JANUARY 30, 1995

1. FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (JANUARY 27, 1995), TAKEN QUESTION (JANUARY 27, 1995):

-MEXICO: SIDE LETTER ON LOAN GUARANTEE?-

Q: IS IT TRUE THAT THE U.S. IS INSISTING THAT THE MEXICANS PROVIDE A SIDE LETTER CONTAINING A SERIES OF COMMITMENTS ON IMMIGRATION, LAW ENFORCEMENT AND NARCOTICS MATTERS AS PART OF THE LOAN GUARANTEE DEAL?

A: SECRETARY CHRISTOPHER REFERRED TO THIS MATTER IN SOME DETAIL DURING TESTIMONY BEFORE CONGRESS BOTH WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY. IN RESPONSE TO A DIRECT QUESTION ABOUT THE EXISTENCE OF SUCH A LETTER, HE SAID "THERE IS NO SUCH LETTER AT THE PRESENT TIME."

SECRETARY CHRISTOPHER WENT ON TO SAY THAT WE HAVE BEEN IN THE COURSE OF DISCUSSION WITH THE MEXICANS EVER SINCE HE ENTERED OFFICE, AND ESPECIALLY IN THE LAST SIX OR SEVEN MONTHS ABOUT SOME OF THESE URGENT PROBLEMS -- MIGRATION, NARCOTICS, LAW ENFORCEMENT, SO FORTH. ON EACH OF THOSE, WE HAVE HAD ASSURANCES FROM THE MEXICANS AND WE ARE HAVING CONTINUING DISCUSSIONS ABOUT THOSE ASSURANCES. IN THAT CONTEXT, IT IS ENTIRELY POSSIBLE FOR US TO CONTINUE TO HAVE DISCUSSIONS WHICH RESULT IN ASSURANCES FROM THEM AS TO THEIR INTENTIONS, THEIR GOALS, THEIR OBJECTIVES. AS LONG AS IT IS IN THAT CONTEXT, WE UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER AND THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZES THE NEED TO ENGAGE IN THIS KIND OF DIALOGUE.

ATTORNEY GENERAL JANET RENO ALSO ADDRESSED THIS ISSUE AT A PRESS CONFERENCE ON THURSDAY, JANUARY 26. MS RENO MET WITH THE MEXICAN ATTORNEY GENERAL, ON THE DAY THAT MEXICAN PRESIDENT ZEDILLO WAS SWORN IN, AND THERE WAS DISCUSSION OF PLANS FOR HOW WE COULD COME TOGETHER BOTH ON ISSUES RELATING TO MIGRATION, AND ISSUES RELATING TO LAW ENFORCEMENT AND NARCOTICS ENFORCEMENT. ATTORNEY

GENERAL RENO INDICATED THAT THE INTERVENING ISSUES IN MEXICO HAVE DELAYED THAT PROCESS SOMEWHAT, BUT THAT WE EXPECT A FOLLOW-UP TO THOSE MEETINGS IN FEBRUARY. THE ATTORNEY GENERAL STATED THAT SHE WAS VERY ENCOURAGED AT THE TIME AND THAT SHE HAS CONTINUED TO BE VERY ENCOURAGED IN CONVERSATIONS WITH THE (MEXICAN) MINISTERS AND WITH AMBASSADOR JONES."

2. ARA PRESS GUIDANCES OF JANUARY 30, 1995:

-HAITI: L.A. TIMES ARTICLE-

Q: HOW DO YOU RESPOND TO CRITICISM IN TODAY'S LOS ANGELES TIMES (WASHINGTON EDITION) THAT HAITIAN PRESIDENT ARISTIDE AND HIS GOVERNMENT ARE MIRED IN INEFFECTIVENESS, INDECISION AND INCOMPETENCE?

A: WHEN HE RETURNED TO HAITI IN OCTOBER, PRESIDENT ARISTIDE FACED A HOST OF DAUNTING CHALLENGES. SEEKING TO RESTRAIN EXPECTATIONS, HE ASSERTED THE GOAL OF MOVING THE PEOPLE OF HAITI FROM "MISERY TO POVERTY WITH DIGNITY." POLITICALLY, FOR ALL INTENTS AND PURPOSES, HAITI HAD BEEN WITHOUT A FUNCTIONING GOVERNMENT FOR OVER THREE YEARS, AS MILITARY STRONGMEN USED SIMPLE REPRESSION TO STAY IN POWER. THE ECONOMY WAS A WRECK: PER CAPITA GNP, ALREADY THE LOWEST IN THIS HEMISPHERE, WAS BROUGHT DOWN EVEN FURTHER BY THE INTERNATIONAL EMBARGO.

WE HAVE SEEN POSITIVE, HOPEFUL DEVELOPMENTS ACROSS THE BOARD SINCE THE LEGITIMATE, ELECTED CENTRAL GOVERNMENT WAS REINSTALLED THANKS TO THE EFFORTS OF THE

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

MULTINATIONAL FORCE. THE COUNTRY'S DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS ARE RETURNING TO LIFE: PARLIAMENT HAS PASSED A LAW ESTABLISHING A CIVILIAN POLICE FORCE AND IS CURRENTLY REVIEWING A NATIONAL BUDGET (THE FIRST IN FIVE YEARS) AND AN ELECTORAL LAW ANTICIPATING LEGISLATIVE AND LOCAL ELECTIONS THIS SPRING. ARISTIDE HAS FORMED A BROADLY REPRESENTATIVE CABINET AND THE VARIOUS MINISTRIES, ALTHOUGH THEY ARE BUILDING UP FROM NOTHING, ARE ALL AT WORK ON THEIR MOST IMMEDIATE PRIORITIES.

PROGRESS IS ALSO EVIDENT ON THE ECONOMIC FRONT: ARISTIDE HAS SIGNED A STANDBY AGREEMENT WITH THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND AND A PRIVATIZATION AGREEMENT WITH THE WORLD BANK. AND INTERNATIONAL AID IS HELPING: FOR EXAMPLE, EARLIER THIS MONTH THE INTERAMERICAN DEVELOPMENT BANK APPROVED A 68.5 MILLION DOLLAR SOFT LOAN TO STIMULATE HAITI'S ECONOMIC RECOVERY BY FINANCING KEY IMPORTS AND ESSENTIAL INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS. WE HAVE EVERY EXPECTATION THAT INCREASED LEVELS OF DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN INVESTMENT WILL FOLLOW. BUT EVEN UNDER THE BEST OF CONDITIONS, IT'S CLEAR THAT IT WILL TAKE MANY YEARS BEFORE THE MAJORITY OF THE HAITIAN PEOPLE CAN SEE AN APPRECIABLE IMPROVEMENT IN THEIR STANDARD OF LIVING.

-MEXICO: PASSAGE OF LOAN GUARANTEE PACKAGE-

Q. IS HILL PASSAGE OF A LOAN GUARANTEE PACKAGE NOW DEAD?

A: ABSOLUTELY NOT. WE FIRMLY BELIEVE LEGISLATION WILL ULTIMATELY BE APPROVED BY CONGRESS BECAUSE IT IS IN THE NATIONAL INTEREST.

UNCLASSIFIED

PRESIDENT CLINTON AND THE CONGRESSIONAL LEADERSHIP HAVE JOINTLY STATED "THAT THE UNITED STATES HAS AN IMPORTANT ECONOMIC AND STRATEGIC INTEREST IN A STABLE AND PROSPEROUS MEXICO" AND THAT THEY HAVE "AGREED TO DO WHAT IS NECESSARY TO RESTORE FINANCIAL CONFIDENCE IN MEXICO WITHOUT AFFECTING THE CURRENT BUDGET AT HOME."

PRESIDENT CLINTON HAS REPEATEDLY ENDORSED THIS LEGISLATION, INCLUDING IN HIS STATE OF THE UNION MESSAGE.

-CUBA: MIGRANTS FROM PANAMA TO GUANTANAMO-

Q. CAN YOU PROVIDE AN UPDATE ON THE MOVE OF CUBAN MIGRANTS FROM PANAMA TO GUANTANAMO? WHEN WILL THIS OCCUR? DO YOU ANTICIPATE ANY VIOLENCE? OTHER PROBLEMS?

A. THE FIRST TRANSFER OF CUBAN MIGRANTS FROM THE PANAMA SAFEHAVEN TO THE GUANTANAMO SAFEHAVEN WILL TAKE PLACE THIS WEEK. FOR OPERATIONAL DETAILS I WOULD REFER YOU TO THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE, WHICH WILL BE MAKING AN ANNOUCEMENT SHORTLY. THE MIGRANTS HAVE ALREADY HAD THE MOVE CAREFULLY EXPLAINED TO THEM. ALL MIGRANTS CURRENTLY IN PANAMA WILL CONTINUE TO RECEIVE SAFEHAVEN PROTECTION AT GUANTANAMO; NO ONE WILL BE FORCED TO GO HOME AGAINST HIS OR HER WILL. THE MILITARY HAS TAKEN APPROPRIATE SECURITY PRECAUTIONS.

-CUBANS IN SAFEHAVENS-

Q. DO WE PLAN TO MOVE CUBANS IN THE GUANTANAMO AND PANAMA SAFEHAVENS TO THE U.S. NOW, OR AT SOMETIME IN FUTURE?

A. U.S. POLICY REMAINS UNCHANGED: CUBANS UNDER U.S. GOVERNMENT SAFEHAVEN PROTECTION WILL NOT BE PROCESSED FOR ADMISSION TO THE U.S. THEY MAY REMAIN IN SAFEHAVEN INDEFINITELY; OR IF ELIGIBLE, BE RESETTLED IN A THIRD-COUNTRY; OR MAY CHOOSE VOLUNTARILY TO RETURN HOME; NO ONE WILL BE FORCED TO RETURN HOME AGAINST HIS OR HER WILL. THE ONLY EXCEPTIONS TO THIS POLICY ARE THOSE ANNOUNCED BY THE PRESIDENT ON OCTOBER 14 AND DECEMBER 2 AFFECTING THE VERY OLD, THE CHRONICALLY SICK, AND CHILDREN AND THEIR FAMILIES FOR WHOM A PROLONGED STAY IN THE SAFEHAVEN CONSTITUTES AN EXTREME HUMANITARIAN BURDEN.

-UPDATE ON ECUADOR - PERU BORDER SITUATION-

Q. WHAT NEW INFORMATION DO WE HAVE ON THE PERU-ECUADOR TERRITORIAL DISPUTE? IS THERE A "MASSIVE" MILITARY BUILD-UP, AS ECUADOR ALLEGES?

A: SKIRMISHES APPARENTLY ARE CONTINUING IN A SMALL ISOLATED INLAND AREA ALONG THEIR COMMON FRONTIER. DETAILS ARE SKETCHY.

WE HAVE RECEIVED NO CONFIRMED REPORTS OF CAS UALTIES,
ALTHOUGH THERE ARE NEWS REPORTS OF A SMALL NUMBER OF DEAD AND WOUNDED ON BOTH SIDES. BOTH SIDES ARE MOBILIZING AND REPOSITIONING THEIR MILITARY FORCES.

THESE DEVELOPMENTS, WITH THEIR POTENTIAL FOR ESCALATION, REMAIN OF DEEP CONCERN TO US AND TO OTHERS IN THE HEMISPHERE. THE 1942 RIO PROTOCOL PROVIDES A VIABLE FRAMEWORK FOR THAT. WE CALL ON BOTH COUNTRIES TO CEASE OPERATIONS IMMEDIATELY AND TO INITIATE A DIALOGUE TO RESOLVE THEIR DIFFERENCES.

Q. WHAT IS THE ROLE OF THE RIO PROTOCOL GUARANTORS IN RESOLVING THIS MATTER?

A: THE RIO PROTOCOL EXPRESSLY PROVIDES FOR THE FOUR GUARANTOR STATES ---THE UNITED STATES, BRAZIL, CHILE AND ARGENTINA -- TO PLAY AN ACTIVE "GOOD OFFICES" ROLE, AS NECESSARY. COLLECTIVE ACTION BY THE GUARANTORS HAS PROVEN IN THE PAST TO BE AN EFFECTIVE MECHANISM FOR REDUCING TENSIONS BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES.

THE GUARANTORS HAVE BEEN MEETING INTENSIVELY FOR THE PAST SEVERAL DAYS IN ORDER TO FACILITATE CESSATION OF MILITARY OEPRATIONS AND BRING THE TWO PARTIES TOGETHER TO SEEK A PEACEFUL RESOLUTION OF THEIR DIFFERENCES.

IN A COMMUNIQUE ISSUED ON JANUARY 27 THE GUARANTORS UNDERLINED THE NECESSITY FOR PROMPT CESSATION OF ANY MILITARY OR NON-MILITARY ACTIVITIES AND STRESS THE URGENCY FOR A SEPARATION OF FORCES.

Q. WHAT IS THE ROLE OF THE UN IN RESOLVING THIS MATTER?

A: THE SECRETARY GENERAL ON JANUARY 28 ISSUED A COMMUNIQUE EXPRESSING HIS CONFIDENCE IN THE RIO PROTOCOL

PROCESS AND HIS WILLINGNESS TO PROVPIDE ANY SUPPORT WHICH MIGHT BE APPROPRIATE TO THE TWO COUNTRIES.

Q. WHAT ARE WE ADVISING THE AMERICAN CITIZENS ABOUT TRAVEL TO THE REGION? IS IT TRUE THAT THE PAN AMERICAN HIGHWAY HAS BEEN MINED?

A: THE STATE DEPARTMENT IS REVIEWING THE SITUATION.

WE HAVE NO CONFIRMATION OF MINING ALONG ANY PORTION OF THE PAN AMERICAN HIGHWAY. WE WOULD NOTE THAT AS LATE AS YESTERDAY THAT COMMERCIAL AND CIVILIAN TRAFFIC WAS USING THE HIGHWAY AND CROSSING THE BORDER. APPARENTLY THERE ARE CHECK POINTS LEADING TO BACKLOGS IN TRAFFIC.

Q. IS U.S. MILITARY EQUIPMENT BEING USED IN THE FIGHTING?

A: THAT IS POSSIBLE. AS WITH MANY COUNTRIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD, THE U.S. HAS SOLD A VARIETY OF MILITARY EQUIPMENT TO BOTH PERU AND ECUADOR.

3. L PRESS GUIDANCE OF JANUARY 30, 1995:

-REPORTED ABUDCTION FROM MEXICO-

IF ASKED

Q: THERE ARE REPORTS THAT, ON JANUARY 22, A PRIVATE U.S. CITIZEN "BOUNTY HUNTER" ABDUCTED FROM MEXICO A MEXICAN NATIONAL U.S. PERMANENT RESIDENT ALIEN, ANDRA LETICIA MADRID-JUAREZ. MS. MADRID-JUAREZ HAD BEEN CONVICTED IN

UNCLASSIFIED

PAGE 10 STATE 024945 312015Z

TEXAS IN CONNECTION WITH THE DEATH OF HER YOUNG CHILD. REPORTS ALSO INDICATE THAT THE ABDUCTED WOMAN IS NOW IN CUSTODY OF TEXAS AUTHORITIES. CAN YOU COMMENT ON THE FACT OF THIS CASE?

A: U.S. LAW ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES ARE CURRENTLY CONDUCTING AN INQUIRY INTO THE FACTS OF THIS MATTER. IT IS PREMATURE TO COMMENT FURTHER AT THIS TIME.

Q: IF AN ABDUCTION HAS OCCURRED, WHAT WILL THE U.S. DO?

A: HOW THE U.S. RESPONDS WILL DEPEND LARGELY ON THE FACTS AS THEY ARE DETERMINED IN THE INQUIRY THAT IS BEING CONDUCTED BY U.S. LAW ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES. IT IS NOT POSSIBLE NOW TO COMMENT ON ANY POSSIBLE VIOLATIONS OF U.S. CRIMINAL LAW. SHOULD THE GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO BRING CHARGES AGAINST THE ABDUCTOR AND REQUEST THAT PERSON'S EXTRADITION, WE WOULD EVALUATE SUCH A REQUEST WHEN IT IS RECEIVED. I WOULD NOTE THAT THE U.S. STRONGLY DISCOURAGES BOUNTY HUNTERS FROM ABDUCTING PERSONS FROM ABROAD AND HAS, IN THE PAST, EXTRADITED PRIVATE PERSONS WHO HAVE BEEN CHARGED BY FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS WITH ABDUCTIONS.

Q: HOW WOULD THE U.S. GOVERNMENT RESPOND TO A REQUEST BY THE GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO FOR THE RETURN OF MS. MADRID-JUAREZ?

A: IT WOULD NOT BE APPROPRIATE TO SPECULATE ON SUCH MATTERS AT THIS TIME.

UNCLASSIFIED

Q: IS THIS CASE GOVERNED BY THE ANTI-ABDUCTION TREATY RECENTLY SIGNED BETWEEN THE U.S. AND MEXICO?

A: THE TREATY REFERRED TO ABOVE DEALS WITH THE SUBJECT OF ABDUCTIONS CONDUCTED BY FEDERAL, STATE OR LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS AND DOES NOT COVER ACTIONS BY A PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL WHO IS NOT ACTING UNDER THE DIRECTION OF SUCH OFFICIALS. IN ANY EVENT, THE ANTI-ABDUCTION TREATY HAS NOT YET ENTERED INTO FORCE.

4. INM PRESS GUIDANCE OF JANUARY 30, 1995:

-PERU/ECUADOR BORDER DISPUTE USE OF U.S. COUNTERNARCOTICS HELICOPTERS-

Q: THE ECUADORIANS HAVE ACCUSED THE PERUVIAN OF USING U.S. PROVIDED COUNTERNARCOTICS HELICOPTERS IN THEIR BORDER DISPUTE. IS THIS TRUE?

A: NO. THE U.S. OWNED HELICOPTERS IN PERU ARE USED EXCLUSIVELY FOR COUNTERNARCOTICS PURPOSES. ALL OF THOSE HELICOPTERS ARE CURRENTLY LOCATED AT PUCALLPA (PU CAL PA), NEARLY 600 KM. FROM THE BORDER AREA, AND HAVE BEEN THERE SINCE THE DISPUTE BEGAN.

Q: CAN YOU TELL US MORE ABOUT THERE COUNTERNARCOTICS HELICOPTERS ?

A: THERE ARE 10 U.S. GOVERNMENT (DEPARTMENT OF STATE/INM) OWNED UH-1H HELICOPTERS IN PERU. THEY ARE OPERATED BY PILOTS OF THE PERUVIAN NATIONAL POLICE, AND

ARE USED EXCLUSIVELY FRO NARCOTICS CONTROL PURPOSES.

THE HELICOPTERS ARE BASED IN AND OPERATE FROM PUCALLPA LOCATED IN CENTRAL PERU IN THE AMAZON JUNGLE.

1. SUMMARY

(U) MEXICAN LABOR PATRIARCH FIDEL VELAZQUEZ WELCOMED PRESIDENT CLINTON'S ANNOUNCEMENT JANUARY 31, AND SAID THE PACKAGE WILL AVOID LOSING MORE JOBS. EARLIER, JANUARY 26 HE EMPHASIZED HIS STRONG SUPPORT FOR PRESIDENT ZEDILLO IN FACING THE CRISIS AND TRIED TO REASSURE WORKERS BY EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE THE U.S. LOAN GUARANTEE WOULD BE IN PLACE BY MARCH, BUT, ON JANUARY 30, WARNED IT WAS NEEDED IMMEDIATELY TO STEM WAGE AND JOB LOSEES. HE ALSO WARNED MEXICAN BUSINESS LEADERS AGAINST INTOLERABLE CONTINUED PRICE INCREASES AND DEMANDS FOR WAGE CUTS OR FOR A MORATORIUM ON CONTRIBUTIONS FOR SOCIAL SECURITY (HEALTH CARE) AND WORKER HOUSING (INFONAVIT). UNLESS THIS STOPPED, HE THREEATENED JANUARY 26, WORKERS WOULD TAKE TO THE STREETS, LED BY THE CTM.

(C) FEDERAL EMPLOYEE FEDERATION SECGEN AND PRI SENATOR CARLOS JIMENEZ TOLD LABCOUNS JANUARY 27 THAT LACK OF PRIOR PRESIDENTIAL CONVINCING OF TOP LABOR AND BUSINESS LEADERS ADE THE JANUARY 2-3 UNITY AGREEMENT NEGOTIATION MUCH MORE CONFLICTIVE, BUT ALSO MORE GENUINE, AND ZEDILLO'S STYLE MAKES LABOR MORE INDEPENDENT AND MEXICO MORE DEMOCRATIC. JIMENEZ WORRIED ABOUT THE NEGATIVE EFFECT OF THE GUARANTEE PACKAGE DEBATE IN BOTH COUNTRIES, PARTICULARLY HOW IT WAS SOURING THE ATTITUDES OF MANY PROMINENT PRI POLITICIANS TOWARD THE U.S., THREATENING TO UNDO YEARS OF EXCELLENT RELATIONS AND GOOD FEELING, AND GIVING RENEWED CURRENCY TO THE OUTMODED RHETORIC OF THE FAR LEFT. END SUMMARY.

2. FIDEL BACKS ZEDILLO, APPEALS TO U.S., WELCOMES PACKAGE

(U) ON JANUARY 31, MEXICAN WORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTM) SECRETARY GENERAL FIDEL VELAZQUEZ WELCOMED THE NEW CLINTON PACKAGE AS OPPORTUNE, AS IT WOULD AVOID ELIMINATING MORE JOBS. EARLIER, ON JANUARY 26, AFTER THE MEETING OF THE FOLLOW UP COMMITTEE FOR THE JANUARY 3 EMERGENCY AGREEMENT AND THE PREVIOUS TRIPARTITE NATIONAL PACTS, DON FIDEL HAD

TRIED TO REASSURE WORKERS BY EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE THE U.S. LOAN GUARANTEE WOULD BE APPROVED BY MARCH, SO MEXICAN WORKERS' WAGES WOULD NOT LOSE MORE TO DEVALUATION, BUT AT HIS REGULAR MONDAY PRESS CONFERENCE JANUARY 30, DON FIDEL SAID THE GUARANTEE WAS NEEDED IMMEDIATELY TO STEM WORKER WAGE LOSSES. ON BOTH OCCASIONS, HE EXPRESSED STRONG SUPPORT FOR PRESIDENT ZEDILLO IN FACING THE CRISIS.

3. DON FIDEL WARNS BUSINESS TO OBSERVE PACT OR FACE UNREST

(U) ON JANUARY 26, DON FIDEL EXCORIATED MEXICAN BUSINESS LEADERS FOR VIOLATING THE EMERGENCY AGREEMENT BY RAISING PRICES WHERE INCREASES WERE NOT JUSTIFIED BY INCREASED IMPORT PRICES, AND WARNED THEM TO STOP DEMANDING WAGE CUTS OR THREATENING TO CUT OFF SOCIAL SECURITY (IMMS, MAINLY FREE HEALTH CARE) AND WORKER HOUSING (INFONAVIT) CONTRIBUTIONS, OR LAY OFF WORKERS OR SHUT DOWN PLANTS. HE ADMITTED LABOR LEADERS WERE "ON THE KNIFE'S EDGE" BECAUSE THE CRISIS HAD HURT WORKERS, BUT THE LEADERS "WOULD NOT GET CUT." INSTEAD, IF BUSINESS KEPT VIOLATING ITS EMERGENCY AGREEMENT COMMITMENTS, WORKERS WOULD TAKE TO THE STREETS, AND THE CTM WOULD LEAD, NOT OPPOSE THEM, THOUGH HE HIMSELF WOULD NOT (UNSAID, BE ABLE TO). OTHER UNION [redacted]

ON JANUARY 30, DON FIDEL HE ANNOUNCED AGREEMENT WITH THE NATIONAL INDUSTRY CHAMBER (CANACINTRA) TO AVOID LAYOFFS, STRIKES AND JOB LOSSES.

4. JANUARY 2-3 NEGOTIATIONS WERE TOUGHER TNAN REPORTED

(C) JIMENEZ TOLD LABCOUNS JANUARY 27 THAT GOVERNMENT-LABOR-EMPLOYER RELATIONS WILL NEVER BE THE SAME AFTER THE MARATHON JANUARY 2-3 NEGOTIATING SESSION (REF B). [redacted]

5. ZEDILLO STRONG, NOT WEAK; MOVING TO DEMOCRACY

UNCLASSIFIED

(C) JIMENEZ SAID IT IS NOT WEAKNESS BUT STRENGTH PRESIDENT ZEDILLO IS DISPLAYING, A NEW STYLE, MORE DEMOCRATIC, LESS AUTHORITARIAN, PERHAPS PARTLY OUT OF NECESSITY BUT AN IMPORTANT STEP FORWARD FOR THE COUNTRY, E.G., THE NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE PRD AND EZLN. EVEN THE REJECTION OF THE ORIGINAL EMERGENCY PLAN AND LONG NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN [redacted]

[redacted]

IRRITATED LABOR AND EMPLOYER LEADERS AND ZEDILLO'S CABINET MINISTERS JANUARY 2-3 MAY HAVE CONTRIBUTED SIGNIFICANTLY TO TRANSFORMING THE COUNTRY. INEXPERIENCE MAY HAVE LED THE PRESIDENT NOT TO CONVINCE THE TOP LABOR AND EMPLOYER LEADERS IN ADVANCE, BUT SUCH NEGOTIATIONS WILL NEVER BE THE SAME. THE NEW INDEPENDENT ATTITUDE OF LABOR AND EMPLOYERS VIS-A-VIS THE PRESIDENCY MAY BE FOR THE BEST. IT MAKES LABOR MORE INDEPENDENT AND MEXICO MORE DEMOCRATIC.

6. SALINAS MADE IT POSSIBLE--GOAT NOW, BUT THIS WILL PASS

(C) OF COURSE, JIMENEZ ADDED, NONE OF THIS WOULD HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE WITHOUT THE IMMENSE TRANSFORMATION OF THE COUNTRY FOR THE BETTER BY FORMER PRESIDENT SALINAS. EVERYONE IS SO MAD NOW AT WHAT HAPPENED TO THEM THAT ALL THEY CAN REMEMBER ABOUT THE SALINAS ADMINISTRATION IS BAD, BUT THAT WILL PASS.

7. LOAN GUARANTEE CONTROVERSY HURTING GOOD WILL FOR U.S.

(C) JIMENEZ WORRIED ABOUT THE EXASPERATION AND CONFUSION, ESPECIALLY IN THE PRI, OVER THE DEVALUATION, U.S.-MEXICO NEGOTIATION AND U.S. CONGRESSIONAL CONSIDERATION OF THE GUARANTEE PACKAGE. HE WAS HEARING ANTI-AMERICAN ATTITUDES EXPRESSED IN THE PRI NOT HEARD SINCE THE ERA OF CARDENAS AND LONG SINCE OVERCOME BY EXCELLENT U.S.-MEXICAN AND U.S.-PRI RELATIONS. HE FEARED THE FAR LEFT WAS SUCCEEDING IN IMPOSING ITS OUTMODED RHETORIC IN THE PRI AS WELL.

8. JIMENEZ WILL MOVE TO PRI, HEAD ITS POPULAR SECTOR

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

(C) LABCOUNS ASKED JIMENEZ WHETHER IT IS TRUE THAT HE WILL HEAD THE PRI'S POPULAR SECTOR (FNOC, FORMERLY CNOP), AFTER HE FINISHES HIS FSTSE TERM LATE IN MARCH, A QUESTION HE HAD EVADED WHEN ASKED BY THE PRESS JANUARY 26. (IMPORTANT TRADE UNION SECTORS--FSTSE, INCLUDING SNTE, STATE AND MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES AND IMSS AND BANK WORKERS--ARE IN THE FNOC, RATHER THAN THE PRI WORKER SECTOR.) JIMENEZ CONFIRMED THIS, PRIVATELY, BUT COULD NOT ACKNOWLEDGE IT ET PUBLICLY. JIMENEZ, A POOR BOY WHO ROSE THROUGH THE PRI, EMPHASIZED HIS STRONG CONVICTION THAT IT IS THE PRI'S GRASS ROOTS STRENGTH AND ORGANIZATION THAT MAKES MEXICO STRONG, HAS KEPT IT FROM SUFFERING THROUGH THE DICTATORSHIPS AND INSURGENCIES OF OTHER LATIN COUNTRIES, AND WILL PULL IT THROUGH THIS CRISIS.

9. GORDILLO UNLIKELY TO SUCCEED JIMENEZ AS FSTSE SECGEN

1. FOLLOWING BACKGROUND IS FOR POSTS' USE IN RESPONDING TO INQUIRIES FROM HOST COUNTRY GOVERNMENTS AND OTHERS FOR INFORMATION REGARDING THE FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PACKAGE FOR MEXICO ANNOUNCED BY PRESIDENT CLINTON JANUARY 31. IN ADDITION, WE ARE TRANSMITTING THE TEXT OF FACT SHEETS PREPARED BY THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT ON VARIOUS ASPECTS OF THE PACKAGE.

2. PRESIDENT CLINTON ANNOUNCED JANUARY 31 THAT HE WOULD USE HIS EXECUTIVE AUTHORITY TO EXTEND A FINANCIAL SUPPORT PACKAGE WORTH USD 20 BILLION TO MEXICO IN ORDER TO RESTORE CONFIDENCE AND ASSIST MEXICO TO OVERCOME ITS PRESENT LIQUIDITY PROBLEMS AND CONVERT ITS SHORT TERM DEBT INTO LONGER TERM OBLIGATIONS.

3. MEXICO'S FINANCIAL PROBLEMS AFFECT OUR ECONOMY, OUR ABILITY TO EXPORT, THOUSANDS OF AMERICAN JOBS, THE SECURITY OF OUR BORDERS AND PROGRESS TOWARD ECONOMIC

REFORM AND FREE MARKETS IN THE HEMISPHERE. SINCE THE CONGRESS WAS NOT ABLE TO COMPLETE ACTION ON THE LEGISLATIVE PROPOSAL IN A TIMELY FASHION TO PROVIDE LOAN GUARANTEES, THE PRESIDENT MOVED DECISIVELY IN THE NATIONAL INTEREST TO PUT TOGETHER A PACKAGE TO RESPOND TO MEXICO'S FINANCIAL CRISIS. HIS ACTION HAS RECEIVED THE SUPPORT OF THE LEADERSHIP OF CONGRESS.

4. MEXICO'S ECONOMY IS FUNDAMENTALLY SOUND AND WE ANTICIPATE THAT THE INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT PACKAGE WILL HELP RESTORE CONFIDENCE AND ALLOW MEXICO TO RESUME GROWTH

IN THE FUTURE.

5. THE USG PACKAGE IS PART OF AN INTERNATIONAL EFFORT SPEARHEADED BY THE UNITED STATES TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL SUPPORT TO MEXICO, AS OUTLINED BELOW.

6. USD 20 BILLION WILL COME FROM THE U.S. EXCHANGE

STABILIZATION FUND AND THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM. IT WILL BE IN THE FORM OF CURRENCY SWAPS, LOANS AND LOAN GUARANTEES WITH A MATURITY BETWEEN THREE MONTHS AND TEN YEARS, AS APPROPRIATE. DRAWINGS ON SWAP FACILITIES AND ISSUANCE OF GUARANTEES WILL BE STRICTLY CONDITIONED ON AN IMP APPROVED COMPREHENSIVE FINANCIAL PLAN AND THE IMPLEMENTATION OF STRONG ECONOMIC ADJUSTMENT AND REFORM PROGRAMS, INCLUDING CONTINUED PRIVATIZATION. PROCEEDS FROM THE SALE OF MEXICAN OIL WILL SERVE AS ASSURANCE OF REPAYMENT. THE PLAN USES EXISTING USG FUNDS, AND WILL HAVE NO EFFECT ON THE BUDGET. THE COST TO MEXICO WILL BE SUFFICIENTLY HIGH TO PROVIDE AN INCENTIVE TO THE GOM TO RETURN TO THE PRIVATE CAPITAL MARKETS AS SOON AS CONDITIONS PERMIT.

7. IN ADDITION, THE IMF ANNOUNCED IT IS PREPARED TO INCREASE ITS COMMITMENT TO MEXICO FROM THE CURRENT USD 7.8 BILLION TO USD 17.8 BILLION ON THE SAME TERMS AS THE STANDBY ARRANGEMENT. THIS WILL INCLUDE CONTRIBUTIONS FROM CENTRAL BANKS OF COUNTRIES WHICH ARE NOT MEMBERS OF THE BANK FOR INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS [BIS].

8. CENTRAL BANKS OF A NUMBER OF COUNTRIES, THROUGH THE BIS, WILL CONSIDER INCREASING THEIR EARLIER ANNOUNCED

SUPPORT FROM USD 5 BILLION, TO USD 10 BILLION.

9. THE BANK OF CANADA ALREADY HAD IN PLACE A CURRENCY SWAP ARRANGEMENT WITH MEXICO OF USD ONE BILLION; ARGENTINA, BRAZIL, CHILE AND COLOMBIA ANNOUNCED THEY ARE PREPARED TO EXTEND A CREDIT WORTH USD ONE BILLION; A CONSORTIUM OF COMMERCIAL BANKS IS PUTTING TOGETHER A COMMERCIAL CREDIT PACKAGE OF ABOUT USD 3 BILLION.

10. PARAGRAPHS 11-13 CONTAIN THE TEXTS OF TREASURY DEPARTMENT FACT SHEETS:

11. WHAT'S THE EXCHANGE STABILIZATION FUND?

-- THE EXCHANGE STABILIZATION FUND [ESF] WAS ESTABLISHED BY THE GOLD RESERVE ACT OF 1934 FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAINTAINING ORDERLY EXCHANGE ARRANGEMENTS.

-- THE ACT PROVIDES THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY AUTHORITY "CONSISTENT WITH THE OBLIGATIONS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES IN THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND ON ORDERLY EXCHANGE ARRANGEMENTS AND A STABLE SYSTEM OF EXCHANGE RATES ... MAY DEAL IN GOLD, FOREIGN EXCHANGE, AND OTHER INSTRUMENTS OF CREDIT AND SECURITIES AS THE SECRETARY CONSIDERS NECESSARY."

-- THE DOLLARS, FOREIGN CURRENCY RESERVES, AND SPECIAL DRAWING RIGHTS NOW HELD IN THE ESF HAVE BEEN USED TO ENTER INTO SWAP ARRANGEMENTS WITH FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS, TO FINANCE EXCHANGE MARKET INTERVENTION, TO PROVIDE

SHORT-TERM BRIDGE FINANCE, AND TO FACILITATE THE CLEARANCE OF ARREARS TO THE INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS.

-- WE HAVE HAD A STANDING SWAP LINE WITH MEXICO SINCE 1941. IT HAS BEEN USED ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS. MEXICO HAS ALWAYS REPAID ITS DRAWINGS ON THIS FACILITY.

-- AS A MATTER OF POLICY, THE RESOURCES OF THE ESF ARE NOT USED WITHOUT IDENTIFYING IN ADVANCE AN ASSURED SOURCE OF REPAYMENT. IN THE PAST, WE HAVE USED VARIOUS FORMS OF BACKING INCLUDING IMF DISBURSEMENTS AND OIL EXPORT PROCEEDS.

-- LOANS FROM THE ESF MAY BE EXTENDED FOR A PERIOD GREATER THAN SIX MONTHS IN ANY 12 MONTH PERIOD PROVIDED THE PRESIDENT NOTIFIED CONGRESS IN WRITING IN ADVANCE THAT "UNIQUE OR EMERGENCY CIRCUMSTANCES" REQUIRE IT. THE PRESIDENT HAS DONE SO IN THIS CASE.

12. THE MULTILATERAL PROGRAM TO RESTORE FINANCIAL STABILITY IN MEXICO.

-- THE UNITED STATES WILL USE THE EXCHANGE STABILIZATION FUND [ESF] TO PROVIDE A PROGRAM OF CONDITIONAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO MEXICO.

-- THREE TYPES OF SUPPORT WILL BE PROVIDED:

A] SHORT TERM SWAPS; B] SWAPS WITH MATURITIES OF THREE TO FIVE YEARS AND, C] SECURITIES GUARANTEES WITH MATURITIES

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

OF FIVE TO TEN YEARS.

-- THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM WILL PROVIDE SHORT-TERM SWAPS.

-- UP TO USD 20 BILLION IN TOTAL RESOURCES WILL BE MADE AVAILABLE FROM THE ESF AND THE FEDERAL RESERVE OVER A PERIOD OF 12 MONTHS. ALL OF THIS AMOUNT IS AVAILABLE IN MEDIUM AND LONG-TERM SUPPORT.

-- THE IMF IS PREPARING AN EXPANDED PACKAGE OF SUPPORT TOTALLING USD 17.8 BILLION, WHICH WILL INCLUDE CONTRIBUTIONS FROM CENTRAL BANKS WHICH ARE NOT MEMBERS OF THE BANK FOR INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS. THIS IS A SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE OVER THE USD 7.8 BILLION STAND-BY ARRANGEMENT PROPOSED EARLIER. THE WORLD BANK AND THE INTER-AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT BANK ARE REVIEWING OPTIONS FOR ACCELERATING DISBURSEMENTS UNDER EXISTING PROGRAMS AND PROVIDING OTHER ASSISTANCE TO SUPPORT REFORM IN MEXICO.

-- THE CENTRAL BANKS OF A NUMBER OF MAJOR INDUSTRIAL COUNTRIES ACTING THROUGH THE BANK FOR INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS, WILL CONSIDER PROVIDING USD 10 BILLION IN FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO HELP RESTORE FINANCIAL STABILITY IN MEXICO -- TWO TIMES THEIR CURRENT COMMITMENT. THE BANK OF CANADA HAS PUT IN PLACE A USD 1.0 BILLION SWAP FACILITY.

-- A GROUP OF LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES [ARGENTINA, BRAZIL, CHILE, COLOMBIA] IS ARRANGING A USD 1.0 BILLION FACILITY.

-- THE MAJOR INDUSTRIAL COUNTRIES, WORKING WITH THE INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, WILL EXPLORE ON AN URGENT BASIS APPROPRIATE INSTITUTIONAL ARRANGEMENTS TO CONTAIN THE PRESENT CRISIS AND PREVENT SIMILAR SITUATIONS FROM DEVELOPING IN THE FUTURE.

13. STRUCTURE OF THE U.S. FINANCIAL STABILIZATION PROGRAM FOR MEXICO

-- AMOUNT: DOLS. 20 BILLION. [FYI ONLY: THIS INCLUDES THE EARLIER USD 9 BILLION U.S. CURRENCY SWAP FACILITY AND USD 11 BILLION NEWLY AVAILABLE MONIES. END FYI].

-- SOURCES: THE EXCHANGE STABILIZATION FUND AND THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

-- FORM: SWAP FACILITIES AND SECURITIES GUARANTEES.

-- MATURITIES: FROM THREE MONTHS TO TEN YEARS, AS APPROPRIATE. THE FULL AMOUNT IS AVAILABLE ON A MEDIUM TO LONG-TERM BASIS.

-- USE OF FUNDS: THESE FUNDS WILL BE USED TO FACILITATE THE RESTRUCTURING OF MEXICO'S SHORT-TERM DEBT INTO LONG ER
MATURITIES TO HELP RESOLVE LIQUIDITY PROBLEMS AND TO HELP STABILIZE THE EXCHANGE MARKET.

-- CONDITIONS: DRAWINGS ON SWAP FACILITIES AND THE ISSUANCE OF GUARANTEES WILL BE CONDITIONED ON THE PRESENTATION OF AN IMF APPROVED COMPREHENSIVE FINANCIAL

PLAN AND THE IMPLEMENTATION OF A STRONG ECONOMIC ADJUSTMENT AND REFORM PROGRAM, INCLUDING CONTINUED PRIVATIZATION.

-- ASSURED SOURCE OF REPAYMENT: MEXICO WILL BE REQUIRED TO PROVIDE AN ASSURED SOURCE OF REPAYMENT FROM THE PROCEEDS OF THE EXPORTS OF MEXICAN OIL.

-- TERMS: FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROVIDED UNDER THIS PROGRAM WILL CARRY AN INTEREST RATE OR GUARANTEE FEES SET AT A LEVEL SUFFICIENTLY ABOVE THE COMPARABLE TREASURY RATE SO AS TO ENCOURAGE MEXICO TO RETURN TO THE PRIVATE CAPITAL MARKETS AS SOON AS CONDITIONS PERMIT.

The peso fell to 5.54, down from 5.44 yesterday. Just prior to closing the stock index was also down about 1.4 percent. FinMin Ortiz cancelled a Miami speech without explanation, which contributed to an edgy market. I've asked ARA to push on NPT -- and to let us know tomorrow what the strategy is. Late today they were still struggling to finalize agendas for next week's meetings -- if this can get done ARA will release them tomorrow (Mexicans should make parallel release).

Guatemala

ARA briefed Jennifer Harbury, telling her that new information had been given to the GOG re her husband's case. Harbury plans to return to Guatemala to pursue her case, and has threatened to engage on another hunger strike. Amb. McAfee demarched President de Leon over the weekend -- he remains committed to discovering the whereabouts of Bamaca or his remains, but believes resolution of the case would be a responsibility of an Historical Clarification Commission.

Somalia

Aideed chaired a demonstration of several thousand Somalis who criticized US policy and, according to some reports, threatened US soldiers. USLO is verifying the reports

(LOU) SUMMIT FOLLOW UP - HEMISPHERIC TRADE MINISTERIAL AND HEMISPHERIC TRADE AND COMMERCE FORUM: HEMISPHERIC AMBASSADORS WERE BRIEFED ON PLANS FOR KANTOR/BROWN-SPONSORED TRADE MEETINGS IN DENVER. KANTOR WILL SPEAK FEB. 9 TO THE CENTER FOR NATIONAL POLICY, RE-EMPHASIZING THE SUMMIT AND ECONOMIC INTEGRATION.

-- A TRADE MINISTERS DINNER WILL BE ON JUNE 29. ON JUNE 30, THE MINISTERS, BUILDING ON WORK OF THE TRADE AND INVESTMENT COUNCILS (TICS) AND OTHER FORA, WOULD LAUNCH WORK ON ITEMS THAT WOULD HELP BUSINESS. THE PRELIMINARY REPORT OF THE OAS SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON TRADE (SCT) WOULD ALSO BE DISCUSSED. COLORADO GOV. ROMER WILL HOST A DINNER FOR TRADE AND OTHER MINISTERS.

-- THE TRADE AND COMMERCE FORUM, WHICH WILL TAKE PLACE JULY 1-2 IS DESIGNED TO PROMOTE INTERACTION BETWEEN THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES. THE PROGRAM WOULD INCLUDE DISCUSSION OF THE "MIAMI PROCESS," SECTORAL WORKSHOPS (E.G. TELECOMS, TOURISM, FINANCIAL MARKETS, TRAINING, OR OTHER SECTORS SUGGESTED BY OTHER COUNTRIES), FUNCTIONAL WORKSHOPS (E.G. COMMERCIAL LAW, REGULATORY REGIMES), AND A PLENARY.

-- HEMISPHERE AMBASSADORS SUGGESTED A CONSULTATION WITH ALL COUNTRIES BE HELD AFTER THE REGIONAL TIC MEETINGS

BEFORE THE MINISTERIAL. THEY ALSO DISCUSSED HOW THE WORK OF THE SCT COULD BE USED IN THE PREPARATION FOR THE DENVER MEETING EVEN IF THE PRELIMINARY REPORT IS NOT FULLY READY. BARSHEFSKY INDICATED A READINESS TO DISCUSS THE LATTER WITH OAS SECGEN GAVIRIA.

(U) SUMMIT IMPLEMENTATION: MEETING OF CORE GROUP. IN PREPARATION FOR TOMORROW'S DEPUTIES COMMITTEE MEETING, A SESSION OF THE INTERAGENCY CORE GROUP ON SUMMIT IMPLEMENTATION WAS HELD THIS AFTERNOON UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF PDAS MICHAEL SKOL. THE GROUP AGREED THAT THE FOLLOWING POINTS SHOULD BE MADE TO DEPUTIES: (A) THE MEXICAN AND PERU-ECUADOR PROBLEMS HAVE DETRACTED SOMEWHAT FROM THE EXCELLENT PUBLIC IMPACT OF THE SUMMIT, BUT THEY GIVE US ALL THE MORE REASON TO PRESS FORWARD WITH SUMMIT FOLLOW-UP; (B) IMPLEMENTATION WITHIN THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS GOING VERY WELL EXCEPT ON TWO OR THREE ITEMS THAT WERE ADDED TO THE SUMMIT DOCUMENTS AT THE LAST MINUTE BY OTHER GOVERNMENTS; (C) WE WILL NOT HAVE A GOOD SENSE OF THE STATUS OF IMPLEMENTATION BY OTHER GOVERNMENTS UNTIL WE ARE ABLE TO SEND OUR CABLE CALLING FOR THE CONVENING OF A SUMMIT IMPLEMENTATION REVIEW GROUP; (D) CERTAIN U.S. DOMESTIC AGENCIES THAT WERE NOT INVOLVED IN SUMMIT PREPARATIONS ARE SHOWING SOME RELUCTANCE TO PLAY THE NECESSARY ROLES IN IMPLEMENTATION; A WHITE HOUSE INSTRUCTION TO THEM WOULD BE DESIRABLE; AND, (E) USIA SHOULD BE ASKED TO MAKE A GREATER EFFORT TO INFORM HEMISPHERIC AUDIENCES ABOUT THE SUMMIT; THIS MIGHT INCLUDE VERY WIDE DISTRIBUTION OF THE SUMMIT DOCUMENTS IN ALL FOUR SUMMIT LANGUAGES. (U) HEMISPHERIC TRADE MINISTERS CONFERENCE: DUSTR CHARLENE BARSHEFSKY (USTR) AND UNDER-SECRETARY JEFF GARTEN (DOC) MET WITH LATIN AMERICAN AND CARIBBEAN AMBASSADORS TO PRESENT THE USG'S PROPOSALS FOR THE U.S.-HOSTED TRADE MINISTERIAL MEETING MANDATED BY THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS (SOA). THE MEETING, WHICH WILL CONSIST OF TWO INTEGRATED PARTS - A TRADE MINISTERIAL AND A COMMERCIAL FORUM INCLUDING PRIVATE SECTOR REPRESENTATIVES - WILL TAKE PLACE IN DENVER, COLORADO JUNE 30-JULY 2.

TRADE MINISTERS ONLY WILL MEET DURING THE DAY ON JUNE 30. A TRADE AND COMMERCE FORUM WILL BE HELD JULY 1-2 INCLUDING TRADE AND OTHER MINISTERS AS WELL AS PRIVATE SECTOR REPRESENTATIVES SELECTED BY THEIR RESPECTIVE

GOVERNMENTS. THE TRADE AND COMMERCE FORUM WILL INCLUDE A SERIES OF SECTORAL SESSIONS ADDRESSING KEY SECTORS SUCH AS ENERGY, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, ENVIRONMENT, ETC. CONSULTATIONS ON THE AGENDA AND TOPICS FOR DISCUSSION WILL BE HELD ON A REGIONAL BASIS. BARSHEFSKY SUGGESTED THAT THE EXISTING TRADE AND INVESTMENT FRAMEWORK AGREEMENTS (TIFAS) BE REGIONALIZED AS NECESSARY (I.E. FOR CENTRAL AMERICA AND THE ANDEAN COUNTRIES) AND COUNTRIES SUCH AS PANAMA, HAITI AND THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC BE ASSOCIATED WITH THEIR RESPECTIVE REGIONS. THERE WAS NO MENTION OF HOW OR WHERE CHILE AND THE NAFTA PARTNERS WOULD PARTICIPATE. BARSHEFSKY SUGGESTED THAT THERE WOULD PROBABLY BE TWO ROUNDS OF MEETINGS WITH THESE REGIONAL TIFAS FOLLOWED BY ONE OR MORE MEETINGS OF REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE ENTIRE HEMISPHERE PRIOR TO THE CONFERENCE.

BARSHEFSKY AND GARTEN SUGGESTED THAT A REASONABLE GOAL FOR THE JUNE MINISTERIAL WOULD BE THE IDENTIFICATION OF 2-4 AREAS WHERE EARLY HEMISPHERE-WIDE AGREEMENT COULD BE REACHED AND TO DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT TO NEGOTIATE ANY SUCH AGREEMENTS BY THE NEXT MINISTERIAL IN MARCH 1996. BARSHEFSKY EMPHASIZED THAT THE USG WANTED TO REINFORCE EFFORTS TOWARD HEMISPHERIC INTEGRATION AND DEMONSTRATE U.S. COMMITMENT TO THE FTAA PROCESS.

THERE WAS A LENGTHY BUT INCONCLUSIVE DISCUSSION ABOUT THE ROLE OF THE OAS SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON TRADE (SCT) IN THE RUN-UP TO THE CONFERENCE. ALL AGREED THAT THE SCT WAS DOING WORK THAT SHOULD BE PART OF THE CONSULTATION PROCESS WHEN IT BECOMES AVAILABLE BUT EVERYONE CAREFULLY AVOIDED THE SUBJECT OF WHAT ROLE THE SCT SHOULD PLAY IN FUTURE TRADE MINISTERIALS. (U) GILMAN STRONGLY SUPPORTS HELMS BILL: ROGER NORIEGA TOLD US TODAY THAT ALTHOUGH HIRC CHAIR GILMAN'S NAME DOES NOT APPEAR AS A SPONSOR OF THE HELMS/BURTON CUBA LEGISLATION TO BE INTRODUCED TOMORROW, HE STRONGLY SUPPORTS IT AND WILL LIKELY APPEAR AT THE PRESS CONFERENCE ACCOMPANYING ITS INTRODUCTION. ROGER BELIEVES THE BILL HAS BIPARTISAN SUPPORT IN THE HIRC AND SHOULD BE APPROVED BY THE COMMITTEE WITHOUT SIGNIFICANT CHANGE.

(C) WHITHER THE CUBAN ADJUSTMENT ACT?: DURING A RECENT DISCUSSION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S PAROLE AUTHORITY, SENATOR SIMPSON ASKED INS GENERAL COUNSEL ALEX ALEINIKOFF WHAT WAS THE ADMINISTRATION'S POSITION ON ENDING THE CUBAN ADJUSTMENT ACT. ALEINIKOFF INFORMED AMBASSADOR SKOL THAT HE WAS UNAWARE OF ANY ADMINISTRATION POSITION, BUT PERSONALLY FAVORS RETAINING THE AUTHORITY. SKOL CONCURRED THAT THERE WAS NO AGREED POSITION AND HE BELIEVED THE AUTHORITY SHOULD BE KEPT BECAUSE OF ITS SYMBOLIC IMPORTANCE TO THE CUBAN-AMERICAN COMMUNITY AND THE GOC, AND BECAUSE A CHANGE MIGHT AFFECT THE US-CUBAN MIGRATION ACCORD.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF STATE
OFFICE OF THE SPOKESMAN
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (POSTED)
FEBRUARY 16, 1995

STATEMENT BY CHRISTINE SHELLY, ACTING SPOKESMAN

-MEXICO TO UNDERTAKE CONCRETE ACTIONS TO CURB VIOLENCE AND CRIME AT SW BORDER-

DELEGATIONS FROM THE U.S. AND MEXICO YESTERDAY ISSUED A JOINT COMMUNIQUE IN WHICH MEXICO STATES THAT IT WILL TAKE SEVERAL CONCRETE ACTIONS TO CURB VIOLENCE AND CRIME ALONG THE BORDER IN CALIFORNIA, TEXAS, ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO.

THE COMMITMENTS WERE MADE DURING DISCUSSIONS ON A BROAD RANGE OF MIGRATION ISSUES AT THE FIRST WORKING GROUP MEETING OF THE BINATIONAL COMMISSION HELD SINCE THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT ZEDILLO. THE MEETING TOOK PLACE FEBRUARY 13 AND FEBRUARY 14 IN MEXICO.

- IN THE COMMUNIQUE, MEXICO STATES THAT IT WILL:

- STRENGTHEN AND EXPAND GRUPO BETA, A SUCCESSFUL LAW ENFORCEMENT EFFORT THAT HAS EFFECTIVELY CURTAILED CRIMINAL TRAFFICKING IN MIGRANTS AS A RESULT OF ITS EFFORTS TO PREVENT VIOLENCE AGAINST THEM. THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT WILL BOLSTER THE CURRENT EFFORTS OF GRUPO BETA IN SAN DIEGO AND NOGALES AND EXPAND ITS OPERATIONS TO TWO OTHER BORDER CITIES.

- DEPLOY SUFFICIENT PERSONNEL AND EQUIPMENT TO ENSURE THE SAFE OPERATION OF BORDER BRIDGES AND CROSSINGS, PARTICULARLY IN SAN DIEGO, NOGALES, EL PASO AND LAREDO. THIS EFFORT WILL ADDRESS THE SERIOUS PROBLEM OF LANE AND

PORT RUNNERS THAT HAS ARISEN IN REACTION TO STRENGTHENED U.S. BORDER ENFORCEMENT.

- TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION TO CLOSE THE REMAINING ACCESS TO THE NOGALES FLOOD TUNNELS.

- WORK WITH THE U.S. TO DELINEATE PROCEDURES FOR INTERIOR REPATRIATION WITHIN MEXICO OF CERTAIN ILLEGAL ALIENS.

INS COMMISSIONER DORIS MEISSNER SAID "THESE ACTIONS BY MEXICO REPRESENT SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS IN OUR EFFORTS TO ENSURE A BORDER THAT IS SAFE AND FUNCTIONAL."

THE U.S. INFORMED MEXICO OF THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION'S COMMITMENT TO CONTROL AND PREVENT ILLEGAL MIGRATION AND FACILITATE AND SUPPORT LEGAL MIGRATION. THE PRESIDENT'S FY 1996 BUDGET PROPOSAL TO BOLSTER BORDER ENFORCEMENT AND RETURN OF CRIMINAL AND OTHER DEPORTABLE ALIENS WAS ALSO DISCUSSED.

THE U.S. ALSO INFORMED MEXICO ON THE IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE'S (INS) EFFORTS TO FACILITATE NATURALIZATION AND IMPROVE BORDER CROSSING CARD ISSUANCE PROCEDURES.

BOTH DELEGATIONS COMMITTED TO CONTINUED STRENGTHENING OF BORDER LIAISON MECHANISMS, INCLUDING PLANS FOR MEXICO TO CONVENE A REGIONAL CONFERENCE ADDRESSING MIGRATION PATTERNS IN NORTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA, AND JOINT RESEARCH TO BETTER UNDERSTAND THE MEXICAN-U.S. MIGRATION PHENOMENON.

-UPDATE ON ECUADOR - PERU BORDER SITUATION-

Q: IS THE CEASE-FIRE HOLDING?

United States Department of State
Office of FOI, Privacy, & Classification Review
Review Authority: MOSKOWITZ, SAM
Date: 10/03/95
Case ID: 9512228

A: MILITARY ACTIVITY SEEMS TO HAVE DIMINISHED CONSIDERABLY. THERE HAVE BEEN PRESS REPORTS OF SOME VIOLATIONS OF THE CEASE-FIRE. WE HOPE BOTH SIDES WILL ABIDE BY THEIR PUBLICLY STATED COMMITMENTS TO CEASE HOSTILITIES.

Q: HAS PERU PULLED BACK ITS FORCES?

A: A COMMUNIQUE FROM THE PERUVIAN ARMED FORCES HEADQUARTERS REPORTS A LIMITED PULLBACK OF MILITARY FORCES FROM THE AREAS OF THE BORDER NOT INVOLVED IN THE CONFLICT. WE ARE UNABLE TO VERIFY THIS REPORT.

Q: HAVE MILITARY-TECHNICAL TALKS BEGUN YET IN BRASILIA?

A: MILITARY TECHNICAL TALKS RELATED TO THE GUARANTORS OBSERVER GROUP BEGAN ON FEBRUARY 15 IN BRASILIA.

Q: WITH WHOM AT STATE WILL THE PERUVIAN DELEGATION MEET TODAY?

A: FORMER PERUVIAN VICE PRESIDENT FERNANDO SCHWALB HEADS THE DELEGATION. THE OTHER MEMBERS ARE CONGRESSMAN FRANCISCO TUDELA AND ENTREPRENEUR ALBERTO BENAVIDES.

THE GROUP IS SCHEDULED TO MEET WITH THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS. WE HAVE BEEN INFORMED THAT THEY ARE ALSO MEETING WITH MEMBERS OF CONGRESS AS WELL AS WITH OFFICIALS AT THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL AND THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE.

-MEXICO: UPDATE ON CHIAPAS-

Q. HAS THERE BEEN ANY FIGHTING IN CHIAPAS? WHAT CREDENCE DO YOU LEND TO ALLEGATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS OR BOMBINGS OF CIVILIAN POPULATION CENTERS?

A. PRESIDENT ZEDILLO'S ORDER TO HALT THE MILITARY OFFENSIVE IN CHIAPAS HOLDS. WE HAVE NO CONFIRMED REPORTS OF CONFRONTATIONS BETWEEN MILITARY AND REBEL FORCES. (IF PRESSED: NOR DO WE HAVE ANY CONFIRMATION OF ARMY BOMBINGS OF EZLN OR CIVILIAN CENTERS IN CHIAPAS; THE GOVERNMENT HAS CATEGORICALLY DENIED THIS CHARGE.)

PRESIDENT ZEDILLO OFFERED AN AMNESTY TO REBEL TROOPS WHO LAID DOWN ARMS AND PURSUED THEIR DEMANDS THROUGH A PEACEFUL, POLITICAL PROCESS. ACCORDING TO PRESS REPORTS, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL HAS INDICATED THAT THE AMNESTY COULD BE EXTENDED TO REBEL LEADER MARCOS.

LAST NIGHT, INTERIOR MINISTER MOCTEZUMA ANNOUNCED THAT THE RESTRICTIONS ON ACCESS IN CHIAPAS HAD BEEN LIFTED. HE ALSO SAID THAT THERE HAD BEEN FULL RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS DURING THE OPERATIONS CARRIED OUT BY THE MILITARY AND ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE. HOWEVER, SOME HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS HAVE EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT THERE HAD EXISTED A POTENTIAL FOR VIOLATIONS TO OCCUR IF HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS WERE NOT PRESENT.

THE MEXICAN NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS HAS INCREASED THE NUMBER OF INVESTIGATORS IT HAS IN CHIAPAS AND WRITTEN TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SEEKING FULL COOPERATION WITH ANY INVESTIGATIONS BY THE COMMISSION. WE LOOK FORWARD TO RECEIVING REPORTS FROM THE COMMISSION OR OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS IF THERE ARE SUBSTANTIATIONS OF RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

-MEXICO: WHY IS ECONOMIC SITUATION NOT STABLIZING-

Q: THE PESO HAS FALLEN CONSISTENTLY IN THE PAST TEN DAYS, AND THE STOCK MARKET IN MEXICO YESTERDAY TOOK A BIG HIT. WHY ISN'T THE SITUATION STABILIZING? IS THE FINANCIAL PACKAGE GOING TO DO THE JOB?

A: THE MEXICAN ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL SYSTEMS HAVE UNDERGONE A MASSIVE SHOCK IN THE LAST SIX WEEKS. THE DEVALUATION OF THE PESO IS BEGINNING TO REVERBERATE THROUGH THE ECONOMY. THIS IS NOT ENTIRELY SURPRISING.

THE MARKETS REMAIN SENSITIVE TO POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC EVENTS.

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT IS WORKING TO COMPLETE THE AGREEMENTS NECESSARY TO IMPLEMENT OUR FINANCIAL PACKAGE. WE EXPECT THESE AGREEMENTS TO BE COMPLETED IN THE NEAR FUTURE. I REFER YOU TO THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT FOR FURTHER DETAILS ON THIS QUESTION.

-HAITI: CARTER VISIT-

Q: WHAT COMMENT DO YOU HAVE ON REPORTS THAT PRESIDENT CARTER WILL TRAVEL TO HAITI? WHAT ROLE WILL HE PLAY? WILL HE BE CARRYING A MESSAGE FROM THE U.S. GOVERNMENT?

A: THE CARTER CENTER HAS INFORMED THE DEPARTMENT THAT FORMER PRESIDENT AND MRS. CARTER WILL MAKE A PRIVATE VISIT TO HAITI, FROM FEBRUARY 23 TO 26. PRESIDENT CARTER IS EXPECTED TO MEET WITH PRESIDENT ARISTIDE TO DISCUSS THE UPCOMING PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL ELECTIONS AND INAUGURATE TREE-PLANTING AND HOUSING PROGRAMS, IN ADDITION TO OTHER ACTIVITIES. FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT PRESIDENT CARTER'S ITINERARY MAY BE OBTAINED FROM THE CARTER CENTER OF EMORY UNIVERSITY.

PRESIDENT CARTER WILL NOT BE TRAVELLING IN ANY OFFICIAL CAPACITY, AND WILL NOT BE CARRYING A MESSAGE FROM THE U.S. GOVERNMENT. (IF PRESSED: IN 1990, THE EFFORTS OF PRESIDENT CARTER AND THE CARTER CENTER WERE INSTRUMENTAL IN ENSURING THAT THE ELECTIONS HELD THAT YEAR IN HAITI WERE FREE AND FAIR. AND, OF COURSE, HE, GENERAL POWELL, AND SENATOR NUNN LAST SEPTEMBER PLAYED A KEY ROLE IN THE RESTORATION OF DEMOCRACY IN HAITI.)

-CUBA: MIGRANTS FROM CAYMAN ISLANDS-

Q: CAN YOU PROVIDE AN UPDATE ON THE SITUATION OF THE VARIOUS GROUPS OF CUBAN MIGRANTS WHO APPARENTLY ATTEMPTED TO REACH THE U.S. FROM THE CAYMAN ISLANDS? HAVE ANY MORE BEEN DETECTED SINCE YESTERDAY?

A: FORTY-THREE CUBAN MIGRANTS WHO CAME ASHORE ON A BEACH IN WESTERN FLORIDA ON FEBRUARY 14 HAVE BEEN TAKEN TO AN INS DETENTION FACILITY. THE DISPOSITION OF THE 15 CUBANS WHO TRAVELED WITH THEM BUT WHO WERE PICKED UP BY THE U.S. COAST GUARD AT SEA HAS YET TO BE DETERMINED. THEY ARE CURRENTLY IN THE CUSTODY OF THE U.S. COAST GUARD.

ANOTHER GROUP OF 84 CUBANS WAS RESCUED ON THE HIGH SEAS IN UNSEAWORTHY VESSELS ON FEBRUARY 15. THESE CUBANS ARE CURRENTLY ABOARD A U.S. COAST GUARD CUTTER IN THE YUCATAN CHANNEL. ANOTHER VESSEL WITH 23 CUBANS ABOARD, ALSO APPARENTLY ORIGINATING IN THE CAYMAN ISLANDS, WAS DETECTED THIS MORNING.

-HONDURAS: VISAS REVOKED-

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
ARA/NEA REARCS

Q: WHAT CAN YOU TELL US ABOUT REPORTS THAT AMB PRYCE IS THE OBJECT OF CRITICISM BY HONDURAN LEGISLATORS FOR PULLING THE VISAS OF HONDURAN CITIZENS ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED IN THE SHOOTING OF A U.S. MILITARY GROUP OFFICER? ANY COMMENT, IN ADDITION TO AN EXPLANATION OF THE FACTS?

A: AMB. WILLIAM PRYCE IS BEING CRITICIZED IN THE HONDURAN PRESS FOR RECOMMENDING THE REVOCATION OF THE VISAS OF 17 PERSONS. THE DEPARTMENT HAS THE AUTHORITY TO REVOKE VISAS, AND DID SO IN THIS CASE BECAUSE IT INVOLVED A VIOLENT ATTACK UPON AN INTERNATIONALLY PROTECTED PERSON. WE HAVE INFORMATION THAT LEADS US TO BELIEVE THESE PERSONS WERE AMONG THOSE PRESENT ON DECEMBER 25 WHEN A U.S. MILITARY GROUP OFFICER ATTACHED TO THE

EMBASSY WAS BEATEN AND SHOT IN FRONT OF HIS HOUSE. AMB. PRYCE RECOMMENDED THE REVOCATIONS WHEN IT BECAME OBVIOUS THAT A COVERUP WAS OCCURRING AND THE PERPETRATOR WOULD SUFFER NO SANCTION. FURTHER INVESTIGATION IS UNDER WAY IN HONDURAS. SHOULD THE INVESTIGATION RESULT IN THE PERPETRATOR BEING BROUGHT TO JUSTICE, WE WILL BE ABLE TO REVIEW THE VISA ELIGIBILITY OF THOSE WHO WERE NOT INVOLVED.

Q: HOW DID THE INFORMATION REACH THE HONDURAN PRESS?

A. THE EMBASSY DID NOT RELEASE THE INFORMATION.

-GUATEMALA: JENNIFER HARBURY-

Q: WHAT REACTION DO YOU HAVE TO JENNIFER HARBURY'S REPORTED STATEMENT THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS NEW INFORMATION SHOWING THAT THE GUATEMALAN ARMY KILLED HER HUSBAND, EFRAIN BAMACA?

A: THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAS DEVOTED CONSIDERABLE RESOURCES AND ATTENTION TO THE CASE OF EFRAIN BAMACA. AS PART OF AN ONGOING EFFORT TO LEARN MORE ABOUT HIS FATE, WE HAVE SOUGHT INFORMATION FROM A WIDE VARIETY OF SOURCES. DURING THAT PROCESS, WE RECEIVE REPORTS OF VARYING DEGREES OF RELIABILITY ABOUT WHAT MAY HAVE HAPPENED TO HIM. ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS, BOTH IN GUATEMALA AND IN WASHINGTON, STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS HAVE SHARED INFORMATION ABOUT MR. BAMACA WITH MS. HARBURY. IN A RECENT MEETING, STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS ADVISED MS. HARBURY THAT WE CONTINUE TO SEEK NEW INFORMATION AND TO SHARE IT WITH THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO ASSIST THEM IN RESOLVING THIS CASE.

-GUATEMALA: JENNIFER HARBURY-

Q: WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO REPORTS THAT JENNIFER HARBURY DOES NOT BELIEVE THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S ASSESSMENT THAT HER HUSBAND IS DEAD?

A: OUR CONSIDERED ASSESSMENT IS THAT, BASED ON ALL THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US IS THAT, EFRAIN BAMACA DIED, IN MILITARY CUSTODY IN 1992 AFTER A SHORT, BUT INDETERMINATE, PERIOD OF CAPTIVITY AND INTERROGATION. WE HAVE SHARED THAT ASSESSMENT WITH MS. HARBURY.

NEVERTHELESS, WE ALWAYS APPROACHED THE ISSUE WITH A PRESUMPTION THAT HE COULD STILL BE ALIVE, IN THE ABSENCE OF INCONTROVERTIBLE EVIDENCE TO THE CONTRAY. WE CONTINUE TO PURSUE THE ISSUE WITH GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL AND WILL CONTINUE TO RENDER ALL POSSIBLE ASSISTANCE TO MS. HARBURY.

CHRISTOPHER

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF STATE
OFFICE OF THE SPOKESMAN
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (POSTED)
FEBRUARY 16, 1995

STATEMENT BY CHRISTINE SHELLY, ACTING SPOKESMAN

-MEXICO TO UNDERTAKE CONCRETE ACTIONS TO CURB VIOLENCE AND CRIME AT SW BORDER-

DELEGATIONS FROM THE U.S. AND MEXICO YESTERDAY ISSUED A JOINT COMMUNIQUE IN WHICH MEXICO STATES THAT IT WILL TAKE SEVERAL CONCRETE ACTIONS TO CURB VIOLENCE AND CRIME ALONG THE BORDER IN CALIFORNIA, TEXAS, ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO.

THE COMMITMENTS WERE MADE DURING DISCUSSIONS ON A BROAD RANGE OF MIGRATION ISSUES AT THE FIRST WORKING GROUP MEETING OF THE BINATIONAL COMMISSION HELD SINCE THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT ZEDILLO. THE MEETING TOOK PLACE FEBRUARY 13 AND FEBRUARY 14 IN MEXICO.

- IN THE COMMUNIQUE, MEXICO STATES THAT IT WILL:

- STRENGTHEN AND EXPAND GRUPO BETA, A SUCCESSFUL LAW ENFORCEMENT EFFORT THAT HAS EFFECTIVELY CURTAILED CRIMINAL TRAFFICKING IN MIGRANTS AS A RESULT OF ITS EFFORTS TO PREVENT VIOLENCE AGAINST THEM. THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT WILL BOLSTER THE CURRENT EFFORTS OF GRUPO BETA IN SAN DIEGO AND NOGALES AND EXPAND ITS OPERATIONS TO TWO OTHER BORDER CITIES.

- DEPLOY SUFFICIENT PERSONNEL AND EQUIPMENT TO ENSURE THE SAFE OPERATION OF BORDER BRIDGES AND CROSSINGS, PARTICULARLY IN SAN DIEGO, NOGALES, EL PASO AND LAREDO. THIS EFFORT WILL ADDRESS THE SERIOUS PROBLEM OF LANE AND

PORT RUNNERS THAT HAS ARISEN IN REACTION TO STRENGTHENED U.S. BORDER ENFORCEMENT.

- TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION TO CLOSE THE REMAINING ACCESS TO THE NOGALES FLOOD TUNNELS.

- WORK WITH THE U.S. TO DELINEATE PROCEDURES FOR INTERIOR REPATRIATION WITHIN MEXICO OF CERTAIN ILLEGAL ALIENS.

INS COMMISSIONER DORIS MEISSNER SAID "THESE ACTIONS BY MEXICO REPRESENT SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS IN OUR EFFORTS TO ENSURE A BORDER THAT IS SAFE AND FUNCTIONAL."

THE U.S. INFORMED MEXICO OF THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION'S COMMITMENT TO CONTROL AND PREVENT ILLEGAL MIGRATION AND FACILITATE AND SUPPORT LEGAL MIGRATION. THE PRESIDENT'S FY 1996 BUDGET PROPOSAL TO BOLSTER BORDER ENFORCEMENT AND RETURN OF CRIMINAL AND OTHER DEPORTABLE ALIENS WAS ALSO DISCUSSED.

THE U.S. ALSO INFORMED MEXICO ON THE IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE'S (INS) EFFORTS TO FACILITATE NATURALIZATION AND IMPROVE BORDER CROSSING CARD ISSUANCE PROCEDURES.

BOTH DELEGATIONS COMMITTED TO CONTINUED STRENGTHENING OF BORDER LIAISON MECHANISMS, INCLUDING PLANS FOR MEXICO TO CONVENE A REGIONAL CONFERENCE ADDRESSING MIGRATION PATTERNS IN NORTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA, AND JOINT RESEARCH TO BETTER UNDERSTAND THE MEXICAN-U.S. MIGRATION PHENOMENON.

Q: WHAT CAN YOU TELL US ABOUT REPORTS THAT AMB PRYCE IS THE OBJECT OF CRITICISM BY HONDURAN LEGISLATORS FOR PULLING THE VISAS OF HONDURAN CITIZENS ALLEGEDLY INVOLVED IN THE SHOOTING OF A U.S. MILITARY GROUP OFFICER? ANY COMMENT, IN ADDITION TO AN EXPLANATION OF THE FACTS?

A: AMB. WILLIAM PRYCE IS BEING CRITICIZED IN THE HONDURAN PRESS FOR RECOMMENDING THE REVOCATION OF THE VISAS OF 17 PERSONS. THE DEPARTMENT HAS THE AUTHORITY TO REVOKE VISAS, AND DID SO IN THIS CASE BECAUSE IT INVOLVED A VIOLENT ATTACK UPON AN INTERNATIONALLY PROTECTED PERSON. WE HAVE INFORMATION THAT LEADS US TO BELIEVE THESE PERSONS WERE AMONG THOSE PRESENT ON DECEMBER 25 WHEN A U.S. MILITARY GROUP OFFICER ATTACHED TO THE

EMBASSY WAS BEATEN AND SHOT IN FRONT OF HIS HOUSE. AMB. PRYCE RECOMMENDED THE REVOCATIONS WHEN IT BECAME OBVIOUS THAT A COVERUP WAS OCCURRING AND THE PERPETRATOR WOULD SUFFER NO SANCTION. FURTHER INVESTIGATION IS UNDER WAY IN HONDURAS. SHOULD THE INVESTIGATION RESULT IN THE PERPETRATOR BEING BROUGHT TO JUSTICE, WE WILL BE ABLE TO REVIEW THE VISA ELIGIBILITY OF THOSE WHO WERE NOT INVOLVED.

Q: HOW DID THE INFORMATION REACH THE HONDURAN PRESS?

A. THE EMBASSY DID NOT RELEASE THE INFORMATION.

-GUATEMALA: JENNIFER HARBURY-

Q: WHAT REACTION DO YOU HAVE TO JENNIFER HARBURY'S REPORTED STATEMENT THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS NEW INFORMATION SHOWING THAT THE GUATEMALAN ARMY KILLED HER HUSBAND, EFRAIN BAMACA?

A: THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAS DEVOTED CONSIDERABLE RESOURCES AND ATTENTION TO THE CASE OF EFRAIN BAMACA. AS PART OF AN ONGOING EFFORT TO LEARN MORE ABOUT HIS FATE, WE HAVE SOUGHT INFORMATION FROM A WIDE VARIETY OF SOURCES. DURING THAT PROCESS, WE RECEIVE REPORTS OF VARYING DEGREES OF RELIABILITY ABOUT WHAT MAY HAVE HAPPENED TO HIM. ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS, BOTH IN GUATEMALA AND IN WASHINGTON, STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS HAVE SHARED INFORMATION ABOUT MR. BAMACA WITH MS. HARBURY. IN A RECENT MEETING, STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS ADVISED MS. HARBURY THAT WE CONTINUE TO SEEK NEW INFORMATION AND TO SHARE IT WITH THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO ASSIST THEM IN RESOLVING THIS CASE.

-GUATEMALA: JENNIFER HARBURY-

Q: WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO REPORTS THAT JENNIFER HARBURY DOES NOT BELIEVE THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S ASSESSMENT THAT HER HUSBAND IS DEAD?

A: OUR CONSIDERED ASSESSMENT IS THAT, BASED ON ALL THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US IS THAT, EFRAIN BAMACA DIED IN MILITARY CUSTODY IN 1992 AFTER A SHORT, BUT INDETERMINATE, PERIOD OF CAPTIVITY AND INTERROGATION. WE HAVE SHARED THAT ASSESSMENT WITH MS. HARBURY.

NEVERTHELESS, WE ALWAYS APPROACHED THE ISSUE WITH A PRESUMPTION THAT HE COULD STILL BE ALIVE, IN THE ABSENCE OF INCONTROVERTIBLE EVIDENCE TO THE CONTRAY. WE CONTINUE TO PURSUE THE ISSUE WITH GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL AND WILL CONTINUE TO RENDER ALL POSSIBLE ASSISTANCE TO MS. HARBURY.

1. THIS UNHRC NUMBER 77.

2. (U) SUMMARY: UNDER MEXICAN LEADERSHIP THE GROUP OF FRIENDS MET FOR A TOTAL OF SOME TEN HOURS TO NEGOTIATE A RESOLUTION TO PRESENT TO THE UNHRC. INFORMAL DELEGATION TRANSLATION OF THE TEXT IS IN PARA 10 AND BEING FAXED FEB. 23 TO ARA/CEN AND IO/ESA. RESOLUTION WILL NOT BE FULLY SATISFACTORY TO EITHER GOG (WHICH HAS BEEN IN GENEVA IN FORCE) OR URNG, OR NGOS, (ALSO IN GENEVA IN FORCE) BUT STRIKES A PROPER BALANCE BETWEEN TAKING ACCOUNT OF THE REFORMS THE GOG HAS MADE WHILE STILL ACKNOWLEDGING THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA IS FAR FROM PERFECT. DELEGATION BELIEVES THAT A CONSENSUS RESOLUTION WHICH HAS WIDESPREAD SUPPORT WILL BE MOST HELPFUL TO THE PEACE PROCESS. END SUMMARY.

3. (U) MEANWHILE THE NGO COMMUNITY HAS BEEN HERE IN FORCE--EVERYONE FROM JUAN MOLINA TO RIGOBERTA MENCHU, BUT SO FAR WITHOUT JENNIFER HARBURY. AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS WATCH HAVE MADE GUATEMALA THEIR NUMBER ONE CAUSE IN LATIN AMERICA FOR THIS COMMISSION. ALL THE NGOS BELIEVE THAT ANYTHING OTHER THAN ITEM 12 CONSIDERATION FOR GUATEMALA WILL BE A TRAVESTY OF THE COMMISSION'S PROCEEDINGS. A WELL-ORCHESTRATED CAMPAIGN HAS GENERATED LETTERS FROM ACROSS THE U.S. TO AMBASSADOR FERRARO DEMANDING THAT THE US SUPPORT A TOUGH RESOLUTION ON GUATEMALA (AS WELL AS CUT OFF BILATERAL ASSISTANCE, AND FIND COMMANDER BANACA, ETC.).

B1

9. (U) AFTER ONE FINAL MEETING WITH THE FRIENDS AND THE GOG ON FEB. 23 FRIENDS AGREED TO MODIFY OPERATION PARAGRAPH 25 FURTHER. INSTEAD OF SPECIFYING TWO AGENDA ITEMS BY NAME IT SIMPLY SAYS THE QUESTION OF EI. MISSION REQUESTS DEPARTMENT CONCURRENCE TO JOIN CO-SPONSORSHIP ON RESOLUTION BELOW. FRIENDS WOULD LIKE TO TABLE RESOLUTION EARLY IN THE WEEK OF FEB. 27. TEXT FOLLOWS:

FRAMEWORK OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE INTERNAL ARMED CONFLICT, AND TO DESIST FROM ANY ACTIVITIES WHICH COULD PUT IN DANGER THE RIGHTS OF THE GREAT MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE OF GUATEMALA WHO ARE NOT INVOLVED IN THIS CONFLICT AND WHICH AFFECT THE CIVIL POPULATION IN ITS PHYSICAL SECURITY AND ITS PROPERTY;

06. CALLS UPON THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO CONTINUE ADOPTING THE NECESSARY LEGAL AND POLITICAL MEASURES TO CONSOLIDATE THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE JUDICIARY AND

RESPECT FOR ITS DECISIONS, TO INTENSIFY THE INVESTIGATIONS WHICH ALLOW THE IDENTIFICATION AND SUBMISSION TO THE JUDICIARY, ALL THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, TO GRANT LEGAL COMPENSATION TO HE VICTIMS OF THESE VIOLATIONS, TO GUARANTEE THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM CAN ACT WITH THE PROPER PROTECTION FOR JUDGES, INVESTIGATORS, WITNESS AND RELATIVES OF THE VICTIMS AND TO FACILITATE THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ORGANIZATIONS WHICH ARE IN CHARGE OF PROMOTION AND PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS, OFFICIALS AS WELL NON GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS;

07. CALLS ALSO UPON THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO CONTINUE TO APPLY WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF ITS GENERAL HUMAN RIGHTS POLICIES, THE INDEPENDENT EXPERT'S RECOMMENDATIONS, SUCH AS THOSE RELATED TO THE ABOLITION

OF VOLUNTARY CIVIL SELF-DEFENSE COMMITTEES, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CRITERIA ESTABLISHED IN THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS AND TO DEMILITARIZE THE POLICE FORCE;

08. TAKES NOTE WITH SATISFACTION THE DECISION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO STOP THE FORCED MILITARY RECRUITMENT PENDING THE APPROVAL BY CONGRESS OF THE NEW LAW REGULATING MILITARY SERVICE AND ELIMINATING ARBITRARY RECRUITMENT PRACTICES;

09. AGAIN, CALLS ON THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO INTENSIFY ITS EFFORTS TO GUARANTEE THAT ALL THE AUTHORITIES, INCLUDING THE ARMED AND SECURITY FORCES,

RESPECT THE FULL ENJOYMENT OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS OF THE PEOPLE OF GUATEMALA AND WELCOMES WITH SATISFACTION THE INCLUSION IN THE TRAINING MATERIALS GIVEN TO THE ARMED FORCES AND SECURITY FORCES THE INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS UNDERTAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS FIELD;

010. TAKES NOTE WITH SATISFACTION OF THE LEGAL AND INSTITUTIONAL REFORMS THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS IMPLEMENTED IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE TO STOP VIOLENCE AND IMPUNITY, INCLUDING THE ENTRY INTO FORCE OF THE NEW PENAL CODE, AND URGES IT TO CONTINUE THE APPLICATION OF LEGAL NORMS THAT GUARANTEE RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS OF INDIGENOUS POPULATION AND OF THE MOST VULNERABLE SECTORS OF THE SOCIETY;

011. EXPRESSES ITS CONVICTION THAT THE PRE-EMINENCE OF CIVILIAN AUTHORITY IN THE NATIONAL DECISION-MAKING PROCESS IS AN INDISPENSABLE CONDITION FOR THE CONSOLIDATION OF THE RULE OF LAW AND THE FULL REALIZATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS;

012. RECOGNIZES THE POSITIVE WORK DONE IN DEFENSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS PROSECUTOR AND EXHORTS THE GOVERNMENT TO GIVE HIM SUPPORT AND TO GUARANTEE THE CONDITIONS FOR THE STRENGTHENING OF HIS ACTIVITIES, INTER ALIA, THROUGH THE ADOPTION OF LEGISLATIVE MEASURES

TO ENABLE HIM TO PARTICIPATE IN PROCEEDINGS RELATING TO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS;

013. ENCOURAGES THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO PROVIDE

THE REQUISITE FACILITIES AND ADOPT THE NECESSARY MEASURES SO THAT THE PRESIDENTIAL COMMISSION COORDINATOR OF THE EXECUTIVE POLICY IN HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES (COPREDEH) IS THE FOCAL POINT FOR THE COORDINATION OF THE GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS TO COMPLY WITH ITS INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INDEPENDENT EXPERT'S RECOMMENDATIONS;

014. ENCOURAGES THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO ADOPT CONCRETE MEASURES THAT WILL ENABLE THE POPULATION TO ATTAIN BETTER LIVING STANDARDS, GIVING PRIORITY TO THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM, AND TO STRENGTHEN THE POLICIES AND PROGRAM RELATED TO THE INDIGENOUS POPULATION OF GUATEMALA, TAKING ITS ASPIRATIONS INTO ACCOUNT, AS WELL AS THE INDEPENDENT EXPERT'S RECOMMENDATIONS IN THIS REGARD;

015. TAKES NOTE OF THE ADVANCES ACHIEVED IN THE CONTINUATION OF THE PROCESS OF REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES AND CALLS UPON THE COMPETENT AUTHORITIES TO ENSURE THAT THIS PROCESS CONTINUES WITH FULL CONSIDERATION FOR THE WELL-BEING AND DIGNITY OF ALL AFFECTED PERSONS, PROVIDING THE NECESSARY FACILITIES FOR THEIR PROMPT RESETTLEMENT AND URGES THE PARTIES CONCERNED TO COMPLY STRICTLY WITH THE AGREEMENTS REACHED ON THE SUBJECT SINCE OCTOBER 1992;

016. TAKES ALSO NOTE OF THE RESETTLEMENT OF THE POPULATION DISPLACED BY THE INTERNAL ARMED CONFLICT AND URGES THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO CONTINUE

FACILITATING THEIR RESETTLEMENT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE TECHNICAL COMMISSION OUTLINED IN THE AGREEMENT FOR THE RESETTLEMENT OF POPULATIONS DISPLACED BY THE ARMED CONFLICT;

017. INVITES THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO CONSIDER HE EARLIEST POSSIBLE RATIFICATION OF THE INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS INSTRUMENTS TO WHICH IT IS NOT YET A PARTY, PARTICULARLY THE CONVENTION NUMBER 169 OF THE INTERNATIONAL LABOUR OFFICE ABOUT INDIGENOUS AND TRIBAL POPULATIONS IN INDEPENDENT COUNTRIES;

018. EXPRESSES ITS SATISFACTION AT THE SIGNATURE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS GLOBAL AGREEMENT OF MARCH 29, 1994 AND FOR

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE "VERIFICATION MISSION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE FULFILLMENT OF THE GLOBAL ACCORD" (MINUGUA);

019. URGES THE PARTIES TO COMPLY WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS GLOBAL AGREEMENT AND EXPRESSES ALSO ITS SATISFACTION THAT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE "MISSION DE NACIONES UNIDAS PARA GUATEMALA" (MINUGUA), WILL CONTRIBUTE TO THE IMPROVEMENT OF CIVIL, POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, SOCIAL AND CULTURAL RIGHTS OF ALL GUATEMALANS;

SUBJECT: COURTESY CALL ON MINISTER OF GOVERNMENT

1. SUMMARY: CONSUL GENERAL, ACCOMPANIED BY VISA CHIEF AND ACS OFFICER, MADE A FEB. 17 COURTESY CALL ON NEW MINISTER OF

GOVERNMENT CARLOS REYNOSO GIL AND VICE MINISTER FOR SECURITY ISSUES, VICTOR MANUEL BATRES ROJAS. THEY DISCUSSED THE

ISSUES OF TOURIST SAFETY, THE TRAVEL WARNING FOR GUATEMALA, COOPERATION IN COMBATTING ALIEN SMUGGLING AND THE USG'S STRONG INTEREST IN THE IMMINENT CAPTURE OF ESCAPED FELON, CAPT. HUGO CONTRERAS, CONVICTED FOR THE 1990 MURDER OF AMCIT

MICHAEL DEVINE. REYNOSO APPEARED GENUINELY OPEN TO CONOFFS' CONCERNS, PROFESSING A WILLINGNESS TO WORK TO IMPROVE THE

GENERAL SECURITY SITUATION AS WELL AS TO ADDRESS THE EMBASSY'S REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE ON SPECIFIC CASES. END SUMMARY.

---

TOURIST SAFETY

---

2. THE CONSUL GENERAL EXPLAINED THAT PROTECTING AMERICAN CITIZENS IS AT THE TOP OF THE EMBASSY'S AGENDA. HE REVIEWED

THE PROBLEMS THAT HAD BESET AMERICAN TOURISTS AND RESIDENTS

DURING THE PAST YEAR, PLACING SPECIAL EMPHASIS ON THE EMBASSY'S CONCERN OVER DANGERS OF MOB VIOLENCE AGAINST AMERICANS, STEMMING FROM UNFOUNDED RUMORS THAT AMCITS STEAL

GUATEMALAN CHILDREN. HE EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR THE GOG'S RAPID RESPONSE TO POTENTIAL MOB INCIDENTS AGAINST AMERICANS THAT OCCURRED IN THE SECOND HALF OF 1994. HE NOTED, HOWEVER THAT CRIME AFFECTING TOURISTS SEEMED TO BE ON THE RISE AGAIN, POINTING OUT THAT AMERICANS HAD BEEN AFFECTED BY MURDERS, KIDNAPPINGS, AND VIOLENT ASSAULTS IN RECENT MONTHS.

3. TO THE CONGEN'S INQUIRY ON THE STATUS OF CURRENT MOG EFFORTS TO COMBAT CRIME, THE MINISTER RESPONDED THAT HIS OFFICE WAS FORMING A NEW, SPECIAL TOURIST POLICE TO PATROL THE MAIN TOURIST AREAS OF THE COUNTRY. THIS FORCE SHOULD GO INTO ACTION BY EASTER. HE ALSO SAID THAT A RAPID REACTION POLICE FORCE OF APPROXIMATELY 250 MEMBERS IS DEPLOYED THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY AND HAS BEEN FUNCTIONING SUCCESSFULLY SINCE ITS FORMATION AFTER THE MARCH 1994 JUNE WEINSTOCK INCIDENT. HE ALSO REPORTED THAT A SPECIAL SECURITY COMMITTEE WITHIN THE MINISTRY MEETS REGULARLY TO DEVISE AND COORDINATE STRATEGIES TO IMPROVE THE SECURITY ENVIRONMENT.

4. ALIEN SMUGGLING: THE CONSUL GENERAL TURNED TO THE THEME OF ALIEN SMUGGLING, EXPLAINING THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION'S RENEWED CONCERNS AND DESIRE TO ENLIST THE COOPERATION OF "TRANSIT COUNTRY" GOVERNMENTS IN COMBATTING ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION. IN THE CASE OF ILLEGAL CHINESE IMMIGRANTS IN PARTICULAR, THE CONGEN NOTED THAT GOG COOPERATION HAD BEEN VERY EFFECTIVE BOTH IN THE JIN YINN BOAT INCIDENT OF MAY 1994 AND THE AN SHIEN CASE OF JULY 1993. THE MINISTER REPORTED THAT HE HAD ALREADY ISSUED AN ORDER THAT NO MORE PRC CHINESE WOULD BE ALLOWED TO ENTER GUATEMALA WITHOUT PROPER DOCUMENTATION. HE ALSO SAID THAT HE HAD RECENTLY RECEIVED CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REGARDING A BOATLOAD OF CHINESE ALLEGEDLY SAILING OFF THE SHORE OF GUATEMALA OR MEXICO. IF THAT INFORMATION WERE CORRECT, GUATEMALA WOULD NOT RECEIVE THEM.

5. THE VISA CHIEF MENTIONED THAT THE EMBASSY HOPES TO BRING AN INS TEAM TO GUATEMALA FOR A TWO WEEK VISIT IN THE NEAR FUTURE. HE EXPLAINED THAT THE TEAM WILL OFFER TRAINING IN THE DETECTION OF FALSE DOCUMENTS AND WILL MEET WITH VARIOUS GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS TO DISCUSS WHAT MEASURES COULD BE TAKEN TO COMBAT ALIEN SMUGGLING. THE MINISTER RESPONDED POSITIVELY TO THAT REPORT.

THE MICHAEL DEVINE CASE

6. CONSUL GENERAL SAID THAT THE EMBASSY IS STILL WAITING FOR THE GOG TO LOCATE AND APPREHEND GUATEMALAN ARMY CAPTAIN HUGO CONTRERAS, WHO ESCAPED FROM MILITARY CUSTODY AFTER ECEIVING A 30 YEAR SENTENCE FOR MASTERMINDING THE MURDER OF MICHAEL DEVINE. HE SAID THAT WE HAD RAISED THE CONTRERAS DISAPPEARANCE WITH THE DEFENSE MINISTRY ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS WITHOUT SUCCESS, AND ASKED THAT REYNOSO USE INTERIOR MINISTRY RESOURCES TO LOCATE CONTRERAS, EMPHASIZING THAT RESOLUTION OF THAT PENDING HUMAN RIGHTS CASE TOPS OUR

HUMAN RIGHTS AGENDA. THE MINISTER SAID THAT HE WOULD FOLLOW-UP ON THE CONGEN'S REQUEST, BUT SEEMED TO IMPLY THAT THE SUCCESS OF THAT EFFORT MAY NOT BE WITHIN HIS POWER ALONE.

7. COMMENT: AS REPORTED SEPTELS, EMBASSY HAS MOVED QUICKLY TO ENGAGE REYNOSO ON THE BROAD RANGE OF MPP ISSUES THAT FALL WITHIN THE PURVIEW OF HIS MINISTRY. DURING THIS TOUR D'HORIZON OF THE CONSULAR PORTFOLIO, CONOFFS FOUND REYNOSO TO BE COMFORTABLE AND INFORMED IN DISCUSSING A WIDE RANGE OF DIFFICULT ISSUES. HE DID NOT HESITATE IN ACCEPTING OUR INVITATION TO EXPLAIN THE GOG POSITION TO THE CONSULAR CORPS GROUP THAT DEALS WITH TOURIST SAFETY ISSUES, WAS ON TOP OF THE CHINESE BOAT SITUATION, AND ASKED AFTER THE MEDICAL SITUATION OF JUNE WEINSTOCK. REYNOSO WAS able TO DESCRIBE ACTIONS ALREADY TAKEN TO MEET SEVERAL OF OUR MOST IMPORTANT CONCERNS, AND DID NOT BLINK WHEN WE SUGGESTED THAT IT WAS HIS RESPONSIBILITY TO LOCATE CAPTAIN CONTRERAS AND RETURN HIM TO JAIL SO THAT HE CAN SERVE OUT A SENTENCE HANDED DOWN BY A CIVILIAN COURT. DESPITE HAVING LESS THAN TEN MONTHS TO SERVE IN A LAME DUCK ADMINISTRATION, REYNOSO AND HIS TEAM SEEM GENUINELY COMMITTED TO MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN THE CRITICAL LAW ENFORCEMENT ARENA. END COMMENT. SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR MEETS GT ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. AMBASSADOR, ACCOMPANIED BY DEFENSE ATTACHE, MET WITH GUATEMALAN ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, GENERAL GONZALEZ TARACENA, ON FEBRUARY 16. MG GONZALEZ WAS PESSIMISTIC THAT THE URNG WOULD SIGN A FINAL PEACE ACCORD IN 1995 WITH THE WANING DE LEON ADMINISTRATION, BUT WAS HOPEFUL THAT A CEASEFIRE COULD BE ACHIEVED AND THE EXISTING PEACE AGREEMENTS STRENGTHENED IN THE MEANTIME. HE SAW THE POLITICAL CLIMATE AS CHARACTERIZED BY UNCERTAINTY, AND SPECULATED THAT PRESIDENT DE LEON COULD STILL BE A CANDIDATE IF THERE WAS ELECTORAL REFORM PRIOR TO THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS. HE EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT THE ACCUSATIONS AGAINST COL FERNANDEZ, AND HOW THE MOD'S DEFENSE OF HIM HAD MADE IT APPEAR THAT THE GT ARMY CONSIDERED THESE AS ATTACKS AGAINST THE ARMY AS AN INSTITUTION RATHER THAN AGAINST AN INDIVIDUAL: THE AMBASSADOR RAISED THE BAMACA CASE AND ENCOURAGED GEN GONZALEZ TO SUPPORT PUBLIC MINISTRY QUESTIONING OF GT ARMY OFFICERS ASSIGNED TO SAN MARCOS IN 1992. GEN GONZALEZ DEFENDED THE RIGHT OF CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS TO CONVERT THEMSELVES TO PEACE AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEES PROVIDED THEY WERE DELINKED FROM ARMY INFLUENCE AND WERE DEDICATED STRICTLY TO DEVELOPMENT TASKS. END SUMMARY.

COS PESSIMISTIC ON PEACE PROCESS

4. THE AMBASSADOR, ACCOMPANIED BY THE DEFENSE ATTACHE, MET WITH THE GUATEMALAN ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF (COS), MAJOR GENERAL MARCO ANTONIO GONZALEZ TARACENA, OVER BREAKFAST ON FEBRUARY 16. GEN

GONZALEZ EXPLAINED THAT HE IS SOMEWHAT PESSIMISTIC CONCERNING THE PEACE PROCESS AT THIS TIME, AS IT IS OBVIOUSLY NOT IN THE URNG'S INTERESTS TO SIGN A FINAL PEACE SETTLEMENT WITH A GOG ADMINISTRATION IN ITS WANING DAYS. IT MAKES MUCH MORE SENSE FROM THE URNG'S STANDPOINT TO DELAY UNTIL A NEW ADMINISTRATION IS INAUGURATED IN JANUARY 1996, AND THEN NEGOTIATE A FINAL SETTLEMENT WITH THE ASSURANCE THAT THE NEW ADMINISTRATION MUST ABIDE BY THE AGREEMENTS REACHED.

5. GEN GONZALEZ ALSO NOTED THAT THERE IS DISCORD WITHIN THE URNG LEADERSHIP, WITH THE FAR'S PABLO MONSANTO BEING MUCH MORE HARDLINE THAN ORPA'S GASPAR ILOM OR THE EGP'S ROLANDO MORAN. IN THIS RESPECT, GEN GONZALEZ REMARKED THAT IT IS UNFORTUNATE THAT PABLO MONSANTO CANNOT TRAVEL TO NEW YORK WITH THE OTHER COMANDANTES WHEN THEY VISIT THE UN THERE, AS IT WOULD MAKE HIM FEEL MORE A PART OF THE OVERALL PROCESS. EVERY TIME PABLO MONSANTO IS LEFT BEHIND, HE MUST FEEL THAT HE HAS LESS POLITICAL FUTURE THAN THE OTHER COMANDANTES WHEN THE CONFLICT ENDS, WHICH MAKES HIM BITTER. IT IS DURING THESE MOMENTS THAT HE MAKES INDEPENDENT, UNCOORDINATED STATEMENTS, SUCH AS HIS RECENT DECLARATION THAT THE URNG WANTS TO PARTICIPATE IN THE UPCOMING GUATEMALAN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS AS PART OF A POPULAR COALITION. GEN GONZALEZ DID NOT BELIEVE URNG PARTICIPATION IN ELECTIONS COULD BE ALLOWED WHILE THEY ARE STILL BEARING ARMS IN OPPOSITION TO THE GOG.

6. GEN GONZALEZ ALSO BELIEVED IT WAS UNFORTUNATE THERE HAS BEEN NO PEACE PROCESS NEGOTIATING SESSION IN GUATEMALA ITSELF. AT THE PRESENT, A LARGE PART OF GUATEMALAN SOCIETY FEELS VERY DISTANT FROM THE NEGOTIATIONS, PERCEIVING IT AS A DISTANT EVENT GOING ON ONLY BETWEEN THE GOG AND THE URNG. IF A SESSION COULD BE HELD IN GUATEMALA, MANY ELEMENTS OF SOCIETY WOULD SEE IT AS A REAL PROCESS THAT DIRECTLY AFFECTS THEIR FUTURE, AND THEY WOULD BE MOTIVATED TO BECOME MORE INVOLVED.

7. GEN GONZALEZ THEN COMMENTED THAT IT IS POSSIBLE THAT TOO MUCH PRESSURE COULD BE PLACED ON THE URNG. MONSENOR GERARDI HAD RECENTLY REMARKED TO GEN GONZALEZ THAT IT IS NOT WISE TO PRESSURE THE URNG TOO MUCH, AS THE NORWEGIANS HAD DONE DURING THE OSLO ROUND OF THE NEGOTIATIONS. THE RESULT WAS THAT THE URNG WAS FORCED TO SIGN A DIFFICULT HISTORICAL CLARIFICATION ACCORD, AND THEN PULLED OUT OF THE PROCESS FOR FIVE MONTHS WHILE THEY TRIED TO REESTABLISH THE SUPPORT OF THEIR BASES. THE AMBASSADOR DISSENTED WITH THIS ARGUMENT, POINTING OUT THAT THE ALTERNATIVE OF LESS PRESSURE ON THE URNG WAS LENGTHY WRANGLING WITH NO AGREEMENT AT ALL AS IS CURRENTLY HAPPENING WITH THE ACCORD ON THE RIGHTS OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES. GEN GONZALEZ AGREED, BUT POINTED OUT THAT HE HAD GREAT RESPECT FOR MONSENOR GERARDI, WHO IS OFTEN CONSULTED FOR ADVICE BY OTHER MEMBERS OF THE GUATEMALAN CATHOLIC HIERARCHY.

8. GEN GONZALEZ ADDED THAT EVEN THOUGH THERE WILL PROBABLY NOT BE A FINAL PEACE ACCORD IN 1995, TWO IMPORTANT ACCOMPLISHMENTS

COULD STILL BE ACHIEVED. A CEASEFIRE COULD POSSIBLY BE PLACED IN EFFECT. EVEN THOUGH THE URNG IS NOT A THREAT MILITARILY, AS LONG AS THE ARMED CONFLICT CONTINUES THE POLITICAL POLARIZATION OF SOCIETY REMAINS. IF THE SHOOTING ENDS, GUATEMALAN SOCIETY COULD BEGIN TO END ITS POLARIZATION. SECONDLY, VALUABLE AGREEMENTS HAVE ALREADY BEEN SIGNED, PARTICULARLY THE GLOBAL HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORD, AND THEY SHOULD BE STRENGTHENED.

POLITICAL CLIMATE CHARACTERIZED BY UNCERTAINTY

9. TURNING TO THE POLITICAL SITUATION, GEN GONZALEZ DESCRIBED IT AS A TIME OF GREAT UNCERTAINTY. FIRST, NO ONE KNOWS IF RETIRED GENERAL EFRAIN RIOS MONTT WILL BE A CANDIDATE OR NOT. SECONDLY, IT IS UNCERTAIN WHETHER THERE WILL BE ELECTORAL REFORM

OR NOT. IF THERE IS ELECTORAL REFORM THAT CHANGES THE SUPREME ELECTORAL TRIBUNAL AND ALLOWS RIOS MONTT TO RUN, PRESIDENT RAMIRO DE LEON CARPIO MAY RECONSIDER HIS RECENTLY ANNOUNCED DECISION NOT TO BE A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE. CERTAINLY PRESIDENT DE LEON'S SUPPORTERS, AND HE HAS MANY, WILL PRESSURE HIM TO RECONSIDER HIS DECISION IF THERE IS AN ELECTORAL REFORM. IF RIOS MONTT IS ELECTED PRESIDENT, GEN GONZALEZ DID NOT BELIEVE THE URNG WOULD NEGOTIATE A PEACE ACCORD WITH HIS ADMINISTRATION. THE URNG WOULD PERCEIVE THEIR ARMED STRUGGLE AS JUSTIFIED AGAINST A RIOS MONTT ADMINISTRATION.

EZLN HAS BEEN ISOLATED BY MEXICAN ARMY

10. DISCUSSING MEXICO, GEN GONZALEZ BELIEVED THAT THE MEXICAN ARMY HAD ACHIEVED THEIR IMMEDIATE GOALS AS A RESULT OF THEIR RECENT OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE EZLN. THEY NOW OCCUPIED THE PRINCIPAL POPULATION CENTERS OF CHIAPAS AND HAD ARRIVED AT THE ENTRANCES TO THE LACANDON JUNGLE. THEY HAD NOW REALLY ENCIRCLED THE EZLN, AND WERE IN A GOOD POSITION TO CUT OFF THEIR OUTSIDE SOURCES OF SUPPLY. THE MEXICAN ARMY IS NOW CONTENT TO ISOLATE THE EZLN AND WAIT THEM OUT. HOWEVER, IT MAY HAVE BEEN A MISTAKE FOR THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT TO ANNOUNCE THEY WOULD ARREST SUBCOMANDANTE MARCOS AND THEN CALL OFF THE SEARCH FOR HIM. THEY SHOULD HAVE SIMPLY ANNOUNCED THEY WISHED TO ARREST THE EZLN LEADERSHIP WITHOUT IDENTIFYING INDIVIDUALS, AND THEN IT WOULD NOT HAVE APPEARED AS A SETBACK WHEN SUBCOMANDANTE MARCOS HIMSELF WAS NOT CAPTURED.

ACCUSATIONS AGAINST COL FERNANDEZ

11. GEN GONZALEZ THEN TURNED TO THE CASE OF THE PUBLIC ACCUSATIONS OF INVOLVEMENT IN A STOLEN CAR RING AND NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING RECENTLY MADE AGAINST COLONEL JOSE LUIS FERNANDEZ LIGORRIA, THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE'S CHIEF OF STAFF. HE DESCRIBED THE SITUATION AS VERY DELICATE FOR THE GUATEMALAN ARMY. THE MOD, GENERAL MARIO RENE ENRIQUEZ MORALES, IS A SENTIMENTAL AND LOYAL OFFICER, AND WANTS TO SHOW THAT LOYALTY TO

COL FERNANDEZ WHO HAS SERVED HIM WELL AS CHIEF OF STAFF OF HIS PERSONAL STAFF. THAT IS WHY GEN ENRIQUEZ HAS COME OUT PERSONALLY IN DEFENSE OF COL FERNANDEZ, WHICH GIVES THE APPEARANCE THAT THE GT ARMY REGARDS THE ACCUSATIONS AGAINST COL FERNANDEZ AS AN ATTACK AGAINST THE GT ARMY AS AN INSTITUTION RATHER THAN AGAINST AN INDIVIDUAL, WHICH IS THE WAY IT SHOULD BE TREATED. GEN GONZALEZ ADDED THAT IT IS VERY DIFFICULT TO DISCUSS THIS SITUATION WITH GEN ENRIQUEZ. THE AMBASSADOR POINTED OUT THAT THE U.S. EMBASSY HAS RECEIVED MANY NEGATIVE REPORTS ABOUT COL FERNANDEZ, ALTHOUGH NONE OF THEM HAVE BEEN VERIFIABLE.

12. GEN GONZALEZ CONTINUED THAT HE WAS VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE THREATS AGAINST THE EDITOR OF THE SIGLO VEINTIUNO NEWSPAPER, JOSE RUBEN ZAMORA, AS A RESULT OF THE STORIES PUBLISHED ABOUT COL FERNANDEZ. MR. ZAMORA IS A VERY SERIOUS PERSON WHO WOULD NOT EXAGGERATE ABOUT SUCH A SITUATION. IF ANYTHING DOES HAPPEN TO HIM, THE GT ARMY WILL OBVIOUSLY BE BLAMED. GEN GONZALEZ EXPLAINED THAT UNFORTUNATELY MANY OFFICERS DO VIEW THE PUBLIC ACCUSATIONS AGAINST COL FERNANDEZ AS AN ATTACK ON THE GT ARMY AS AN INSTITUTION.

13. GEN GONZALEZ THEN RECALLED A NEGOTIATING SESSION WITH THE URNG WHEN PABLO MONSANTO HAD LOST HIS TEMPER, WHICH WAS NOT UNCOMMON. HE PULLED A FILE OUT OF A BRIEFCASE, AND SHOUTED THAT THIS IS ONE OF ELEVEN FILES HE HAD TO SEND GT ARMY OFFICERS TO PRISON WHERE THEY BELONGED. MANY OFFICERS BELIEVE THAT THE ATTACKS AGAINST COL FERNANDEZ ARE THE FIRST OF THE ELEVEN FILES. GEN GONZALEZ SAID THAT WHEN THE DUST SETTLES CONCERNING THE ACCUSATIONS AGAINST COL FERNANDEZ, IT MAY BE CONVENIENT FOR HIM TO MOVE ON TO ANOTHER LESS PROMINENT POSITION. HE SUGGESTED THAT SENDING COL FERNANDEZ TO THE INTER-AMERICAN DEFENSE COLLEGE WAS ONE OPTION. THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDED THAT SENDING AN OFFICER OF COL FERNANDEZ' NOTORIETY TO THE IADC WAS NOT A GOOD IDEA, AND ANOTHER ASSIGNMENT SHOULD BE CONSIDERED.

COS NONCOMMITTAL ON BAMACA CASE

14. THE AMBASSADOR THEN RAISED THE CASE OF THE MISSING GUERRILLA COMANDANTE, EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ, WITH GEN GONZALEZ. SHE EMPHASIZED THAT BASED ON INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO THE EMBASSY, COL JULIO ALPIREZ AND OTHER OFFICERS ASSIGNED TO MILITARY ZONE 18 IN SAN MARCOS IN 1992 SHOULD HAVE INFORMATION ABOUT THE FATE OF BAMACA. THEREFORE THEY SHOULD BE QUESTIONED BY ATTORNEYS FROM THE MINISTERIO PUBLICO, WITH THE PRESENCE OF REPRESENTATIVES FROM MINUGUA. THE PREVIOUS INTERVIEWS WITH THESE OFFICERS BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE HAD BEEN SUPERFICIAL AND INEFFECTIVE. GEN GONZALEZ RESPONDED THAT GEN ENRIQUEZ HAD BRIEFED HIM ABOUT THIS REQUEST, BUT WAS OTHERWISE NONCOMMITTAL.

COS DECRIES DISCRIMINATION AGAINST "PEACE AND DEVELOPMENT" COMMITTEES

15. THE AMBASSADOR THEN ASKED GEN GONZALEZ FOR HIS VIEWS ON THE CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS AND THEIR DEMOBILIZATION OR CONVERSION TO "PEACE AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEES." GEN GONZALEZ RESPONDED THAT IT SEEMS UNJUST TO HIM THAT ALL INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE IS DIRECTED TOWARDS THE REFUGEES RETURNING FROM MEXICO, AND NONE IS ALLOWED FOR MEMBERS OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS. SIMPLY BECAUSE PATROL MEMBERS STAYED BEHIND DURING THE CONFLICT DOES NOT MEAN THEY SHOULD BE DENIED INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE IF THEY ARE IN NEED.

16. GEN GONZALEZ CONTINUED THAT NEITHER THE GT ARMY NOR THE GOG CAN PREVENT CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS FROM STAYING ORGANIZED, EVEN THOUGH UNARMED, OF THEIR OWN FREE WILL. IF THESE PEACE AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEES ARE DELINKED FROM THE ARMY AND ANY SECURITY FUNCTIONS, AND ARE STRICTLY PERFORMING COMMUNITY ASSISTANCE AND DEVELOPMENT TASKS, THEY SHOULD NOT BE DENIED INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE ONCE THE CONFLICT IS OVER. GEN GONZALEZ ADDED THAT HE HAD MADE THIS ARGUMENT TO MONICA PINTO, THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS REPRESENTATIVE, BUT SHE INSISTED THAT PACS MUST "DISAPPEAR." HE THEN COULDN'T HELP RESPONDING BY SAYING, WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY SAYING THEY MUST "DISAPPEAR," AT WHICH SHE BECAME INCENSED WITH GEN GONZALEZ.

COMMENTS

17. GEN GONZALEZ PRESENTED SOME SURPRISING VIEWPOINTS ON THE PEACE PROCESS THAT ARE NOT SHARED BY MOST GT ARMY OFFICERS. HIS IDEAS THAT PABLO MONSANTO SHOULD TRAVEL TO NEW YORK, THAT A PEACE ROUND SHOULD BE HELD IN GUATEMALA, AND THAT PERHAPS THE URNG HAS BEEN PRESSURED TOO MUCH, ARE THE KINDS OF VIEWPOINTS THAT HAVE GIVEN GEN GONZALEZ A REPUTATION OF BEING SOMEWHAT LEFT-LEANING AMONG THE GT ARMY OFFICER CORPS. CERTAINLY HIS HOPES FOR A CEASE-FIRE IN 1995 EVEN IF A FINAL ACCORD IS NOT SIGNED ARE OVERLY OPTIMISTIC. THE URNG IS UNLIKELY TO AGREE TO A CEASEFIRE BEFORE ALL OTHER AGREEMENTS ARE FINALIZED, AS THEY VIEW CONTINUED FIGHTING AS A NECESSARY CONDITION FOR THEM TO HAVE LEVERAGE AT THE NEGOTIATING TABLE.

18. GEN GONZALEZ' STRONG VIEWS ABOUT CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS CONTINUING ON AS PEACE AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEES IN POST-CONFLICT GUATEMALA ARE A HARBINGER OF PROBLEMS TO COME. HE IS PROBABLY QUITE RIGHT THAT AT LEAST SOME OF THEM WILL WANT TO REMAIN ORGANIZED IN SOME WAY WHEN THE CONFLICT ENDS. HOWEVER, IT WILL BE DIFFICULT TO VERIFY THAT THEY ARE TRULY "DELINKED" FROM ARMY CONTROL GIVEN THE PRESENCE OF MILITARY COMMISSIONERS IN MOST COMMUNITIES. THEIR TOTAL DEDICATION TO ONLY DEVELOPMENT TASKS MAY ALSO BE DIFFICULT TO ACHIEVE, AS SOME OF THE LOCAL COMMUNITIES SEE THE PATROLLERS PRINCIPAL VALUE AS A DETERRENT TO LOCAL CRIME. THE RESULTING PEACE AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE, WHICH WOULD LIKELY CONTAIN AT LEAST A MAJORITY OF THE MEN IN SOME COMMUNITIES, COULD THEN HAVE REPERCUSSIONS ON THE OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE SUCH A COMMUNITY MIGHT RECEIVE.

THE SITUATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA: PROCEDURES FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A FIRM AND LASTING PEACE AND PROGRESS IN FASHIONING A REGION OF PEACE, FREEDOM, DEMOCRACY AND DEVELOPMENT

Note by the Secretary-General

1. The present document contains the first report of the Director of the United Nations Mission for the Verification of Human Rights and of Compliance with the Commitments of the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights in Guatemala (MINUGUA), created pursuant to General Assembly resolution 48/267 of 19 September 1994. MINUGUA was established with the mandate to verify implementation of the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights, signed by the Government of Guatemala and the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (URNG) at Mexico City on 29 March 1994 (A/48/928-S/1994/448, annex I).

2. The report was prepared following the first three months of MINUGUA's operation. It presents valuable information on the background to the Mission, its launching and deployment, the context in which it is operating, a description of the activities carried out by the Mission, including references to the most important cases so far considered, and preliminary conclusions regarding the human rights situation in Guatemala. I have transmitted a copy of the report to the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights with a request that it be brought to the attention of the members of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights.

3. I am grateful to the Group of Friends of the Guatemalan peace process for their ongoing support for the United Nations efforts, to the Governments of Brazil, Colombia and Spain for having made their police officers available for service in the Mission, and to the Governments of Brazil, Spain and Sweden for having offered the services of their military officials to provide liaison with the military leaders of the two parties in order to facilitate MINUGUA's complex tasks.

4. I should also like to thank the Government of Guatemala and URNG, whose support and cooperation have been central to MINUGUA's verification work. The readiness of both parties to respect the commitments undertaken in the Comprehensive Agreement will, I am convinced, permit a substantial improvement of the human rights situation in the country. In addition, success in this area can be expected to contribute positively to the negotiating process aimed at achieving a firm and lasting peace in Guatemala.

ANNEX

Report of the Director of the United Nations Mission for the Verification of Human Rights and of Compliance with the Commitments of the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights in Guatemala

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The United Nations Mission for the Verification of Human Rights and of Compliance with the Commitments of the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights in Guatemala (MINUGUA) was established within the framework of the ongoing negotiating process between the Government of Guatemala and the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (URNG) being conducted under the auspices of the Secretary-General. Following the resumption of the negotiating process, suspended since May 1993, on 29 March 1994, the parties signed the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights (A/48/928-S/1994/448, annex I), in which they asked the Secretary-General to establish a mission for the verification of human rights and of compliance with the commitments of the Agreement. The mission would be a component of the overall verification of a firm and lasting peace agreement, which the parties undertook to sign under the provisions of the Framework Agreement for the Resumption of the Negotiating Process between the Government of Guatemala and the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (A/49/61-S/1994/53, annex).

2. In the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights (hereinafter referred to as "the Agreement"), the parties requested that, in verifying human rights, the United Nations mission should receive, consider and follow up complaints of possible human rights violations; establish whether the competent national institutions had carried out the necessary investigations autonomously, effectively and in accordance with Guatemalan and international human rights norms; and determine whether or not a violation had occurred. In verifying the other commitments set forth in the Agreement, the mission would determine whether they were being fully implemented by the parties. The mission would make recommendations to the parties, in particular regarding measures necessary to promote full observance of human rights and faithful implementation of the Agreement. The mission's activities would relate to events and situations subsequent to its installation.

3. The parties further requested that the mission be empowered to establish itself and move freely throughout Guatemala, conduct interviews freely and privately; visit State premises and URNG camps freely and without prior notice; and collect information that might be relevant for the implementation of its mandate. The Agreement also empowered the mission to cooperate with national institutions and entities for the effective protection and promotion of human rights; sponsor technical cooperation programmes and carry out institution-building activities; offer its support to the judiciary and its auxiliary organs, the Public Prosecutor's Office (Ministerio Público), the Counsel for Human Rights (Procurador de los Derechos Humanos) and the Presidential Human Rights Committee (Comisión Presidencial para los Derechos Humanos (COPREDEH)); promote international technical and financial cooperation to strengthen the Office of the Counsel for Human Rights and other national institutions and entities; and contribute, in cooperation with the State and various bodies of society, to encouraging a culture of respect for human rights.

4. In response to the parties' request, the Secretary-General sent a preliminary mission to Guatemala and Mexico (24 April-7 May 1994) in order to assess the specific requirements for the establishment of a mission. Based on its findings, which, inter alia, were that the conditions existed for a human rights verification mission to begin its activities even prior to a cease-fire, the Secretary-General, in his report to the General Assembly of 18 August 1994 (A/48/985), recommended that the Assembly authorize the establishment of MINUGUA.

5. The General Assembly, in its resolution 48/267 of 19 September 1994, decided to establish MINUGUA for an initial period of six months and requested the Secretary-General to keep it fully informed of the implementation of its resolution. On the same day, the Secretary-General appointed Mr. Leonardo Franco Director of the Mission. A day later, a technical advance team was dispatched to Guatemala in order to carry out all the necessary substantive and logistical activities for the expeditious deployment of the Mission. In addition to establishing contacts with the Government, State institutions, non-governmental organizations and other sectors of Guatemalan society, the team drafted a handbook on methods for the verification of human rights in Guatemala, to be used by international observers, and a set of guidelines for MINUGUA staff. The team also designed and organized training seminars, which were later given to incoming members of the Mission.

II. LAUNCHING AND DEPLOYMENT OF THE MISSION

6. On 21 November 1994, agreement having been reached between the United Nations and the Government of Guatemala on the status of mission of MINUGUA, the work of the technical advance team concluded and the Mission formally opened its doors to the Guatemalan public. Following an exchange of letters between the Secretary-General and the Minister for Foreign Affairs, the status-of-mission agreement was approved by the Guatemalan Congress in December 1994 and passed into law in January 1995. It grants MINUGUA all the powers provided for in the Agreement, determines the Mission's legal status and defines the privileges and immunities of its members and property.

7. Two days after MINUGUA's formal installation, on 23 November, the Mission inaugurated its first regional office, at Guatemala City (see appendix I). Although that office was to provide human rights verification only in the southern central area of the country, it was stressed that, until the remaining offices were opened, it would accept complaints and follow cases from all other regions.

8. The structure of MINUGUA (see appendix II) follows the recommendations of the preliminary mission as set out in the Secretary-General's report (A/48/985). By 21 February, a total of 211 international staff members from 36 countries had joined the Mission, comprising 111 substantive staff, of whom 72 are United Nations Volunteers, 60 administrative and logistical support staff, 10 military liaison officers and 30 civilian police observers. In addition, MINUGUA has 67 local staff. Women comprise 39 per cent of the total staff and head more than half of the regional offices. The Mission is close to attaining its authorized strength of 245 international staff; nevertheless, it is a matter for concern that the human rights verification teams are having to operate with only half of the authorized police observers, 30 of whom are yet to be provided by Member States.

9. As the preliminary mission pointed out, MINUGUA's success depends to a large extent on its full deployment, since topography, distances and the inadequate road system make travel difficult in many areas of Guatemala. In addition, that deployment must take into account the location of the most vulnerable groups and the population directly affected by the armed confrontation (including displaced persons, refugees and returnees). For these reasons, as soon as the minimum logistical and personnel requirements were met, MINUGUA opened regional offices at Santa Cruz del Quiché (5 December), Huehuetenango (16 December), Cobán (21 December), Quetzaltenango (11 January), Sololá (19 January), Zacapa (23 January) and Santa Elena (26 January). Sub-offices were established in Cantabal (17 January), Nebaj (6 February), Barillas (14 February), San Marcos (21 February) and Escuintla (28 February).

10. While the support offered by the Government greatly facilitated the rapid deployment of MINUGUA in the field, several offices (Cobán, Santa Elena, Sololá, Barillas and Nebaj) have still not obtained telephone/fax lines. It is hoped that the Government will provide these facilities urgently, given their crucial importance to the work of the Mission.

11. MINUGUA's presence - even in the most remote areas of the country - allowed for the early establishment of working relations with local civilian authorities, representatives of the army and the police, auxiliary offices of the Counsel for Human Rights, churches, indigenous communities, non-governmental organizations and other sectors of society. It is also serving to focus public attention on the parties' commitments under the Agreement.

12. As stipulated in the Agreement, the Mission has established working arrangements with both parties for the regular discussion of specific aspects related to their compliance with their respective commitments. The Director of the Mission meets frequently with the President of the Republic and with COPREDEH in Guatemala City, and with the leadership of URNG in Mexico City. The Mission uses those meetings to transmit and follow up on cases of alleged human rights violations that have been brought to its attention.

13. In addition to a pledge of full support to the Mission in its work, the Agreement contains an undertaking by the Government of Guatemala and URNG to ensure the security of the members of MINUGUA, as well as of those presenting complaints and giving testimony to the Mission. Furthermore, given that verification tasks are being carried out while military operations continue, in compliance with the Agreement, MINUGUA signed agreements on security arrangements with URNG and the Government on 6 and 23 January 1995, respectively.

III. CONTEXT IN WHICH THE MISSION IS OPERATING

14. Following its visit to Guatemala in April/May 1994, the preliminary mission pointed out that, notwithstanding positive efforts made by the Government of President Ramiro de León Carpio, the human rights situation in Guatemala was still very troubling. This same concern is reflected in recent reports covering 1994 issued by the United Nations Independent Expert, 1/ the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, the Counsel for Human Rights and the Archdiocesan Human Rights Office. It appears clear that, despite certain recent institutional improvements, there remain a number of long-standing structural elements that severely limit the adequate protection of human rights. The most significant deficiencies are described briefly in the following paragraphs.

15. The political history of Guatemala and more than 30 years of armed confrontation have resulted in the existence of a pervasive climate of violence in which State institutions, especially those responsible for the administration of justice and public security, are widely perceived as ineffective. The army has been entrusted with a disproportionate role in the social, economic and political life of the country. The absence of State institutions in vast areas of rural Guatemala contrasts with the presence of the military commissioners (the representatives of the army in the communities) and of Voluntary Civil Defence Committees (CVDC), described by the Counsel for Human Rights in his report of 1994 as "paramilitary organizations subordinate to the military authorities ... which have served to instil fear and anxiety in the communities where they operate".

16. The main institution officially entrusted with the maintenance of public security is the National Police, which, according to a December 1994 study carried out by a Multinational Commission on Public Security, 2/ is seriously lacking in human and material resources, and is involved chiefly in administrative and protection functions in urban areas. There are indications that civil society is generally fearful and mistrustful of the National Police owing to its record of inefficiency, corruption and disrespect for human rights. In December 1994, the then Minister of the Interior stated that 10,000 arrest warrants issued by the courts were still pending action by the National Police. Thus, in a context of waves of violent crimes, generalized impunity and widespread possession of unregistered firearms, there is a tendency in many sectors of Guatemalan society to take matters of security and justice into one's own hands.

17. With respect to social and economic conditions, the governmental General Secretariat for Planning (Secretaría General de Planificación, SEGEPLAN) estimates that 75 per cent of Guatemalan families live in conditions of poverty; 37.4 per cent of the population are affected by malnutrition; the infant mortality rate is 54 per 1,000 live births; and half of the population over 15 years of age is illiterate. All of the above indicators tend to rise sharply when referred to rural areas. The mandated minimum wage is rarely paid. Poverty is especially extreme among the indigenous communities, which make up approximately 60 per cent of Guatemala's population and which remain largely outside the country's political, social and economic mainstream. This long-standing marginalization has made the indigenous population the most vulnerable sector of Guatemalan society and the principal victim of human rights violations.

18. The long-standing problem of land tenure and usage is also a serious destabilizing factor in Guatemala. The occupation of lands by farm workers is on the rise, as are protests against labour conditions and non-compliance with minimum-wage laws. These occupations tend to lead to forced evictions, which are in themselves a further source of social instability and violence. Especially vulnerable to the problem of land are the refugee, returnee and displaced populations. According to the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), over 20,000 refugees have returned to Guatemala since 1984, while 44,000 remain in neighbouring Mexico. In many cases the returnees, often devoid of personal documents, face serious difficulties when they attempt to resettle on their own property or to buy land.

19. To date, the State has been hindered in its attempts to resolve many of the grave social problems outlined above by a number of difficulties, among them its inability to obtain and administer financial resources. Currently, tax revenues in Guatemala represent only 8 per cent of GDP - one of the lowest percentages in Latin America - while corporate and individual tax evasion is over 50 per cent. In December 1994, the Government finally succeeded in obtaining congressional approval of a package of fiscal reforms that will enter into force at the beginning of 1996 aimed at raising taxes and sanctioning evaders.

20. The institutional crisis brought about by former President Jorge Serrano's attempt to seize full powers in May 1993 began to be resolved a month later, with the designation of current President de León Carpio, who at that time held the post of Counsel for Human Rights. In January 1994, a referendum on constitutional reforms allowed for the election of a new Congress in August 1994 and the election by Congress of a new Supreme Court in October 1994. Despite the fact that the January and August elections were characterized by a high abstention rate (90 and 78.9 per cent, respectively), they resolved the crisis and paved the way for further reforms and improvements. None the less, State institutions and other bodies of civil society remain very weak and largely hampered in their efforts to solve the acute national problems they have inherited. Thus, human rights verification must be set in the context of wider efforts to end the armed conflict, promote the rule of law, strengthen the democratic process and encourage development.

IV. VERIFICATION OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND OF FULFILMENT OF OTHER COMMITMENTS MADE IN THE COMPREHENSIVE AGREEMENT

Commitment I. General commitment regarding human rights

21. This commitment has two elements. The first, which includes the Government's adherence to the principles and norms designed to guarantee and protect the full observance of human rights, will be examined by means of verification of the rights to which the Agreement gives priority (paras. 24-86). The second, which concerns the encouragement which the Government must give to all those measures designed to promote and perfect norms and mechanisms for the protection of human rights, warrants the following comments.

22. Fulfilment of this second part of Commitment I is closely linked to the fulfilment of other commitments set forth in the Agreement. Political will and the adoption of measures such as the purification of State agencies, constitutional and legal reforms, the reorganization of the National Police and the strengthening of basic institutions such as the Office of the Counsel for Human Rights, the Public Prosecutor's Office and the judiciary, are aspects that must serve as a basis for evaluating the Government's fulfilment of this obligation.

23. The presence of MINUGUA in the country, as a mechanism for verifying observance of human rights, and the gestures of support received from the Government, such as its help in ensuring the adoption by Congress of the status-of-mission agreement, the facilities extended for the installation of MINUGUA, the periodic meetings with the President of the Republic and the relationship with the Presidential Human Rights Committee (COPREDEH), are all expressions of fulfilment of this commitment.

Analysis of verification of the rights accorded priority under the Comprehensive Agreement

24. In the Agreement, the parties agree that they understand human rights as meaning those rights which are recognized in the Guatemalan legal order, including international treaties, conventions and other instruments on the subject to which Guatemala is a party. They specify that, in verifying the observance of human rights, the Mission shall pay particular attention to the rights to life, to integrity and security of person, to individual liberty, to due process, to freedom of expression, to freedom of movement, to freedom of association and to political rights.

25. One of the basic principles mentioned in the Mission's verification handbook is the guarantee of confidentiality. All persons or organizations that file complaints with the Mission decide whether their personal data or any other information they provide shall be kept secret. During the verification process, the affected parties are directly informed of the action taken - a function different from that performed by the present report - and are encouraged to go to the competent State organs to request investigation of the case.

26. Of the complaints received, only those that meet the requirements established in the verification handbook and that have undergone preliminary verification are admitted and registered. Subsequently, the verification teams of the regional offices, composed of civilian and police human rights observers, exercising the powers conferred on the Mission, travel throughout the territory to interview victims, relatives, witnesses, alleged perpetrators, State authorities or URNG leaders; visit State offices or URNG camps without having to give prior notice; and gather all relevant information in order to be able to determine the veracity of the complaint and whether the violation occurred. At the same time, the Mission verifies that the complaint is being investigated effectively and independently by State agencies, to which end cooperation and follow-up arrangements are maintained with the Office of the Counsel for Human Rights, the judiciary, the Public Prosecutor's Office and the security forces.

27. During the period between 21 November 1994 and 21 February 1995, MINUGUA received around 1,000 complaints, of which 288 were admitted for verification because they affected specific commitments made or rights accorded priority under the Agreement (see tables 1 and 2). The results of the verification carried out thus far give a preliminary idea of the situation of those rights. The conclusions in this report are not based on statistics from all the complaints received, but on a selected group of such complaints. The selection of illustrative cases summarized in this section, although for the most part still in the process of verification, reveal a pattern of violations that makes them highly credible.

1. Right to life

28. During the period covered by this report, 100 complaints of violations of the right to life were admitted, involving deaths as a result of the violation of legal guarantees and extrajudicial executions (22), attempted executions (10) and death threats (68). The Mission is concerned that the largest number of complaints admitted - almost 35 per cent of the total - refer to alleged violations of the right to life.

29. On the basis of the obligations deriving from treaties binding on Guatemala and taking the position adopted unanimously by various organs of the United Nations and the inter-American system in the area of human rights, this section covers complaints of violations of the right to life as a result of the State's failure to provide guarantees. The complaints involve violations of this right in which State agents are not necessarily implicated directly but for which, whether by act or omission, the State bears responsibility because it failed repeatedly in its duty to prevent, investigate, bring to trial and punish such violations.

30. The complaints admitted and verified on a preliminary basis continue a pre-existing pattern of such violations, with similar characteristics as regards the background of the victims, the nature of the deaths and the participation of State agents, whether the latter were the direct perpetrators, instigated or consented to the violations or acted as accessories by failing to investigate the alleged violation and even by losing basic evidence. The method followed is that these facts are verified and, where appropriate, a final determination is made that the violation occurred, indicating the corresponding category. It is up to the State, through the competent agencies, to investigate the violation effectively and independently to determine whether the allegation that its agents were responsible is founded.

31. In some cases, the complaints and, on a number of occasions, the preliminary evidence uncovered during verification point to the responsibility of members of the police, the army or persons under its control, such as military commissioners and members of the Voluntary Civil Defence Committees (CVDCs), also known by their earlier name of Civilian Self-Defence Patrols (PACs). The perpetrators have often not been identified, but the way in which the events occurred and the characteristics of the victims make it possible to assume that the cases were politically motivated.

(a) Extrajudicial executions and deaths in violation of legal guarantees

32. Some of the complaints admitted are summarized below as examples, indicating that the principal victims include members of popular and human rights organizations, priests, union leaders and university staff and students.

Case 1

33. On 28 November 1994, Manuel Nix Morales and Gaspar Chumil Chumil, members of the "Runujel Junam" Council of Ethnic Communities (CERJ) were murdered by unidentified persons in the municipality of Chiché, in Quiché, at the end of a patron saint's festival.

34. The Mission has found that the police, after accusing the victims of being thieves, failed to carry out basic inquiries. There were also serious irregularities in the judicial investigation, such as the illegal removal of the bullets from the body of Manuel Nix Morales when it was in the mortuary at Santa Cruz del Quiché hospital, before the autopsy, which meant that a ballistics test could not be conducted.

35. The Mission is verifying this case in conjunction with the extrajudicial execution, on 13 January 1995, of another CERJ member, Tomás Huachán Osorio, also in Quiché, and the repeated death threats and acts of intimidation against CERJ members (see para. 49).

Case 2

36. On 19 December 1994, in Guatemala City, unidentified persons shot and killed a Belgian Catholic priest, Alfons Stessel Fons, parish priest of Tierra Nueva, in Chinautla, when he was returning home. At this stage of its verification and even assuming that the killers were members of a "mara" or criminal gang as Government authorities maintained, the Mission is not ruling out the possibility of a political motive. This is the view held by authorities of the Catholic Church, since the priest, who was connected with the Confederación de Religiosos de Guatemala (Guatemalan Confederation of Priests), had been under surveillance shortly before his murder. Several days after the crime, MINUGUA members verifying the case were also subject to surveillance. The National Police arrested a member of the gang as the alleged murderer, but reliable sources have informed MINUGUA that they do not think he was involved. However, the same sources identify him as a police informer and say that military commissioners are operating in the same gang. Moreover, the Public Prosecutor's Office gave the National Police the names and addresses of three individuals alleged to have been responsible for the murder and the three of them escaped, allegedly with the complicity of police officers for whom arrest warrants have been issued. The Mission considers that, even if the crime was committed by a gang, there are grounds for investigating the possibility that Father Stessel's murder was planned and that military commissioners and members of the police were involved.

Case 3

37. On the night of 24 September 1994, Benigno Santos López Reyna, a schoolteacher and a leader of the Sindicato de Trabajadores de Guatemala (Guatemala Workers' Union), was murdered in the presence of his family by three hooded men, armed with guns, who broke into his home in the municipality of Tecún Umán, in San Marcos. The fact that, as they fled the scene, the killers stole a small suitcase of no value does not rule out the possibility of a political motive for the murder, given the victim's background.

38. The Mission is verifying the case also in the light of a complaint filed by the Sindicato de Trabajadores de la Educación (Union of Education Workers), and similar complaints filed by other trade unions in the San Marcos Department, about a series of incidents in which teachers belonging to unions, and members of their families, have been threatened, followed and intimidated.

39. On 7 January 1995, in Guatemala City, Abner Esau Avendaño, a lecturer at San Carlos University, died when he was shot four times as he was leaving a pharmacy close to his home, accompanied by his wife. In 1992, he had received death threats which, under the protection of the office of the University president, he had reported to the Counsel for Human Rights.

40. MINUGUA feels that the investigation conducted by the Public Prosecutor's Office has been adversely affected by lack of coordination and by an absence of support from the National Police, which more than a month after the murder had still to make its report. The Mission is still verifying the case, in conjunction with other alleged violations against lecturers and students at the same university.

41. On 29 November 1994, Ignacio Cruz Contreras, aged 19, was stopped and shot dead by three members of the police outside the National Police station at Cayuga in the municipality of Morales, Department of Zacapa. The friend who was with him was detained by one of the police, taken inside the police station, beaten and pressured not to make a statement about what he had witnessed. The police say that Ignacio Cruz was shot by his friend in an argument, a version denied by four eyewitnesses. The 30,000 quetzales that the victim had on him at the time of the incident, and with which he was going to conduct a bank transaction, disappeared.

42. Three days after the crime, the three police were transferred to another police station in the same department. Until MINUGUA began its investigation, the competent organs did nothing to investigate the murder, despite the complaint filed by the victim's family. The Mission has been informed that one of the police has resigned and it is verifying the follow-up of the case by the Public Prosecutor's Office and the National Police Directorate.

(b) Attempted extrajudicial executions

43. On 25 November 1994, public prosecutor Abraham Méndez was the victim of an attempt on his life on the Pacific Highway near Amatitlán, in the Department of Guatemala. His attackers shot at him from a vehicle, using large-calibre weapons, and then fled without managing to hit him. Although this serious incident was reported to the competent authorities, the judicial dossier so far contains only the complaint and the relevant inquiries have yet to be made.

44. Since July 1994, when the prosecutor took on the investigation of the Carpio Nicolle case (see para. 70), he has received death threats, has been followed and watched by unidentified armed persons, and has encountered numerous impediments in his investigative work. During a reconstruction of the incident, a member of a CVDC pointed a firearm directly at the prosecutor. A few days later, unidentified persons followed him in the street and filmed his activities. The Mission wishes to mention the prosecutor's determination to continue investigating the Carpio Nicolle case, despite the conditions with which he is having to contend.

45. On 31 December 1994, on the Pan-American Highway near Chupol, Chichicastenango, in Quiché, five men brutally attacked 15-year-old Mariano Morales Salvador and left him lying in the middle of the road, bleeding profusely. The Mission was informed by witnesses that the victim is the son of the Chupol representative of the Comité Unidad Campesina (Committee for Peasant Unity), a well-known community leader. His attackers accused him of being a guerrilla member because he had taken part in public demonstrations calling for the removal of the military base and because he is linked with human rights activities.

(c) Death threats

Case 1

46. Félix Hernández, President of the Federación Nacional de Servidores Públicos (National Federation of Public Servants), received several death threats by telephone on 29 December 1994 in Guatemala City. The same day, he was followed by a vehicle with polarized windows. Shortly before that, he had reported to the press a case of alleged corruption involving senior officials of the Ministry of the Interior. The Mission contacted the President of the Republic through COPREDEH and, through him, obtained special protection for Mr. Hernández.

Case 2

47. Eliseo Caleí, a leader of the Human Rights Committee in Panajabal, Chimaltenango, and a member of the Defensoría Maya (Mayan Legal Defence Office) and the Kakchiquel Presbyterian Church, receives constant death threats from the local military commissioner and CVDC members. These threats increased after a public meeting on the mandate of MINUGUA in which Mission observers participated. On that occasion, the observers witnessed a physical attack on him by a group connected with the commissioner who, moments before, had tried to prevent the meeting. Mission members were recently followed by the same commissioner and other persons when they were accompanying witnesses to make statements at the local prosecutor's office. The military commissioner, who has made death threats against the witnesses, even urged the prosecutor not to hear their testimony.

Case 3

48. On 14 December 1994, Catholic priest Daniel Vogt, parish priest of the municipality of El Estor, in Izabal, was informed by a person who identified himself as a member of the army intelligence service that his name was on a "list of subversives" to be eliminated. The priest is known for his social work on behalf of marginal communities and the indigenous population. When questioned by MINUGUA, the army reported that the alleged member of the intelligence service had left the army in October 1994.

Case 4

49. At midnight on 24 December 1994, Amílcar Méndez, founder of the Council of Ethnic Communities (CERJ), received an anonymous telephone call at the Council's head office warning him that his life was in danger and that the military authorities of Santa Cruz del Quiché, where he lives, had a file with photos and detailed information on him and his relatives. Since that night, he has received telephone threats accusing him of being linked to the guerrillas. MINUGUA found that the request made by the Office of the Counsel for Human Rights to the National Police that Méndez be given protection had been disregarded. Having been informed of other verbal threats made by a police authority of the zone on two occasions in February, and in the presence of MINUGUA, Mr. Méndez was received by the Minister of the Interior, who offered him protection and said that the police authority in question would be punished. Some months ago, the wife and daughter of Mr. Méndez were the victims of a kidnapping attempt that has yet to be investigated.

2. Right to integrity and security of person

50. In all, the complaints of violations of the right to integrity and security of person admitted during the period covered by this report account for a little over 22 per cent of all complaints. Considering the obligations of the Republic of Guatemala as a party to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, it is particularly disturbing that a large proportion of complaints refer to cases of torture, the most serious violation of the right to integrity of person.

(a) Torture

51. On 26 November 1994, a person who asked that his name be withheld was stopped and detained by a military patrol who accused him of being a guerrilla member. The next day, the military authority of the zone denied that he was being held, but two days later he was released after MINUGUA contacted the General Staff and the military base. The then chief of the military zone admitted in writing to the Mission that the victim had been detained for arms possession. The victim informed MINUGUA that he had been tied up and interrogated under torture, in which a plastic bag had been placed over his head so that he could not breathe, a spike had been inserted in his palate and he had been beaten on the soles of his feet. In the course of his interrogation about the alleged origin of a rifle and while he was still blindfold and chained to a metal bed, a gold crown had been removed from one of his teeth with a sharp knife. MINUGUA confirmed the signs of physical abuse. The Mission has asked COPREDEH and the military authorities repeatedly for information on the follow-up to this case, to ensure that it does not go unpunished. So far, the only reply it has received is that "the case has been handed over to the public prosecutor" by the Ministry of Defence. The commander of the military zone at the time of the incident was assigned to another military zone.

Case 2

52. On 2 January 1995, in Guatemala City, Jorge Ottoniel De León Ramírez, a student at San Carlos University, was abducted by unidentified persons who blindfolded him, forced him into a vehicle and interrogated him violently about members of the Asociación de Estudiantes Universitarios (Association of University Students) and his alleged links with URNG and with Mario López, in whose death a number of police are implicated (see paras. 74-76). The victim was threatened before he was released and is now in hiding. A similar incident occurred to another student at the University, whose injuries have left him in precarious health. There are indications that members of the police were connected with these incidents.

Case 3

53. An individual who asked not be identified was abducted on 20 December 1994 in Cobán, Alta Verapaz, by an armed group of unknown persons. He was abandoned, with a gunshot wound in his back, after four days of violent interrogation about the activities of Olga Esperanza Choc Jolomná, a former judge and the Partido Aranzada Nacional congressional candidate for Cobán, who had been attacked a month previously. The police have conducted no investigations and are treating the incident as an ordinary crime.

(b) Other threats to the right to integrity and security of person

54. Rural areas are witnessing incidents of the kind reported by the inhabitants of the municipality of Colotenango, Huehuetenango, who have stated that members of the local CVDC regularly fire their weapons at night, causing panic among the population and subjecting it to a virtual curfew. CVDC members allege that they are engaged in skirmishes with the guerrillas and accuse members of popular organizations of having links with URNG.

/...

55. On other occasions, threats have been made against individuals who have gone to the courts. On 20 May 1994, Víctor Mendoza Sic filed a complaint with the court in Salamá, Baja Verapaz, requesting the investigation and punishment of those responsible for the alleged collective extrajudicial execution of approximately 1,000 people, in the village of Agua Fría in the municipality of Rabinal in 1982, at the hands of members of the army, military commissioners and PACs. Since filing his complaint, the individual concerned has been kept under surveillance and followed both in Salamá and in the capital city, where he lives.

3. Right to individual liberty

56. The number of complaints of violations of this right during the period in question totalled 39, or 13.5 per cent of the total number of complaints admitted. The large number of complaints of arbitrary detention (21 cases) is particularly significant. There are also five cases of alleged enforced disappearances which occurred before the Mission was set up; these have been admitted because they constitute ongoing violations. Cases of forcible recruitment are included in this category (13 cases).

(a) Arbitrary or illegal detention

57. Marvin Alfonso Vásquez was detained illegally by the police on 9 December 1994 for the alleged theft of a bicycle and possession of cocaine. His father, Oscar Vásquez, was murdered in September 1994 along with his 11-year-old son; he had been one of the main witnesses in the "panel blanco" case before the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, in which State agents are implicated. The Mission found that the victim had been detained for 12 days without a court order, without any evidence against him and without access to defence counsel. While in police custody, he was wounded in the thorax.

58. It should be pointed out that there have been cases of arbitrary detention which, because of the complete lack of any legal authority on the part of the perpetrators, the secrecy involved and the premeditated violation of all the detainee's rights, have actually been classed as "abductions" by intergovernmental bodies for the protection of human rights.

59. Jacinto Brito Seto, a member of the Communities of Population in Resistance in the Highlands (CPR-Sierra), was abducted on 29 January 1995 in the presence of eyewitnesses by a number of men in civilian clothing in the Sicomol district of the municipality of Nebaj, in Quiché. He was taken to the Nebaj military base, where he was beaten and accused of being a member of URNG. The following day, 30 January, the commander of the military base, in the presence of MINUGUA, denied all knowledge of the incident to the detainee's relatives, with the result that it became a case of enforced disappearance. On 31 January, the Mission received a communication from the military base dated 30 January, stating that Brito Soto had been arrested that day by intelligence agents "just as he was and others with him were preparing to launch a grenade attack on the Nebaj military base", and had been handed over to the police in Santa Cruz. The judge in the case, after questioning the witnesses, ordered the detainee's release.

(b) Enforced disappearances

60. According to the Agreement, the Mission will examine events and situations occurring subsequent to its installation. Nevertheless, given that enforced disappearance is a continuing or ongoing crime, the Mission will verify cases where the evidence seems to indicate that the victim is still alive.

Case 1

61. On 19 October 1993, Francisco Guarcas Cipriano was abducted by unidentified armed persons at the bus station in zone four of the capital city. Since then, nothing has been known of his whereabouts. After a non-governmental human rights organization, the Grupo de Apoyo Mutuo (Mutual Support Group) (GAM), announced publicly in December 1994 that the victim was still alive, his relatives, who are also members of GAM, were repeatedly intimidated, subjected to death threats and accused of being guerrillas by members of the CVDC for the Semejá II district of Chichicastenango, in Quiché. The application for habeas corpus filed three months ago has not clarified the situation.

62. GAM handed over to the Mission several hundred copies of applications for habeas corpus filed on behalf of persons who disappeared prior to the installation of MINUGUA. The Mission is examining these applications and identifying those cases which can be verified as alleged violations of due process, such as those of Rumualda Camey and Tomás López Chitic.

4. Right to due process

63. A total of 46 complaints of violations of due process were admitted during the period in question. All these complaints, which account for 16 per cent of the overall total, refer to violations of procedural guarantees (presumption of innocence (4), the right to a hearing by a competent, independent and impartial tribunal within a reasonable period of time (3), the right of habeas corpus (8) and the legal duty of the State to investigate and administer punishment (31)).

64. The right to due process presupposes the existence of a set of minimum guarantees such as access to the courts, legal assistance and the opportunity to plead before the courts, produce evidence and receive sentences from the courts within a reasonable period of time. In addition, in pursuance of its functions under the Agreement, the Mission is verifying that investigations by the competent national bodies are being conducted independently, efficiently and in conformity with the legal order in force.

65. The current status of verification shows that there has been no progress in investigating a number of cases and that action and inquiries which could and should have been undertaken in a timely manner were not, thereby jeopardizing the gathering of evidence. The fact that the police have failed to enforce arrest warrants, including some for the arrest of CVDC members, a fact admitted to the press on 7 February 1995 by the Minister of the Interior, has had an adverse effect.

66. Efraín Bámaca, a URNG member known as "Commander Everardo", was captured by the army following a skirmish in 1992. The Mission received information from a diplomatic source, which corroborates the testimony of a witness, that Bámaca was captured alive with minor injuries and that he was later seen alive on military premises. Based on the information received, the Supreme Court of Justice announced in November 1994 that a special investigation would be conducted, given the failure of an application for habeas corpus and the existence of "sufficient grounds to suspect that (the individual) was detained or kept in detention illegally by a public official, members of the State security forces or regular or irregular agents, without disclosing his whereabouts". This investigation was entrusted to the Office of the Counsel for Human Rights, which requested the assistance of MINUGUA.

67. The special investigation by the Office of the Counsel for Human Rights was adversely affected by the circumstances of the case, the complexity of which requires that direct leads be followed up with all due thoroughness and speed, and that strategies be devised for comparing conflicting versions of the events. The absence of any replies to the requests for information which the Office sent to State institutions, including the Supreme Court and the Ministries of Defence and the Interior, should also be noted.

68. Anthropologist Myrna Mack was murdered in September 1990 by a sergeant who worked in the documentation unit of the Presidential General Staff, known as the "Archives". He was tried, convicted and is serving his sentence. The current proceedings, designed to determine who masterminded the crime, exemplify the resistance and paralysis of the system for the administration of justice in dealing with a murder in which high-ranking army officers are allegedly implicated. On 20 December 1994, the Constitutional Court decided to authorize the prosecution of the alleged ringleaders, one of whom had been promoted to the rank of colonel two weeks previously. However, that same day and after a delay of almost seven months, the Constitutional Court, like the Supreme Court of Justice before it, avoided ruling on the confiscation of documents in order to preserve evidence that might demonstrate their involvement, invoking formal arguments to justify its tardy decision.

69. Moreover, the Mission has found irregularities in the handling of the application for clarification filed by the plaintiff in the light of the failure to rule on his request for these urgent measures, with the result that as of 10 February the decision handed down in December had not been enforced because the magistrates had not signed it. The Public Prosecutor's Office said that it had not taken action because it had not been notified of the decision authorizing the soldiers' prosecution; the Mission established that such notification had in fact been given. This lack of initiative on the part of the competent organs amounts to a denial of the right to justice.

70. On 3 July 1993, Jorge Carpio Nicolle, editor of the newspaper El Gráfico and founder and former presidential candidate of the Unión del Centro Nacional party, was ambushed and murdered by a group of approximately 30 hooded individuals on the road to Chichicastenango, Quiché, during a campaign tour. Three of his aides also died.

71. The numerous irregularities in the case began on the very day of the crime. In violation of basic legal norms on the preservation of evidence and without a judge being present, soldiers from the base at Chichicastenango immediately arrived at the scene of the crime, combed the area in conjunction with the police and never reported on their findings. Since then, basic pieces of evidence such as empty cartridge cases, bullets, weapons used by the alleged killers, photographs and other material evidence, including the report of the National Police, have disappeared, and other pieces of evidence have been tampered with. Moreover, arsonists set fire to the court archives in Santa Cruz del Quiché only days after members of the San Pedro Jocopilas CVDC had asked for the files on this and other cases in which they are implicated. Ten CVDC members involved in the case were arrested by order of the judge and released on bail. Since then, public prosecutors, their assistants and the victim's family have all been threatened, and attempts have been made on the life of Karen Fischer, Jorge Carpio Nicolle's daughter-in-law, and on Abraham Méndez, the public prosecutor handling the case.

72. MINUGUA also verified that the defence lawyer for the CVDC members, who had handled the case when he worked in the Public Prosecutor's Office, arrives at inquiries with a military and CVDC escort, which obviously obstructs the proceedings and endangers the prosecution. Members of the Mission have also witnessed threats against the public prosecutor during inquiries.

73. A decision by the Supreme Court of Justice on a question of competence is currently pending, as is a ruling on the request for an order requiring additional steps to be taken so that other evidence can be incorporated. The responsibility of the National Police and the army for the loss of important evidence, the obstruction of the inquiries and the army's financial support for the defence of the accused are also important facts that cast doubt on the independence of the trial.

74. On 11 November 1994, during a student protest which began near San Carlos University in the capital city, Mario Alioto López Sánchez, a member of the Students' Association, was shot in the leg and then beaten up by a group of policemen inside the University, as a video of the events shows. He died several hours later in hospital. The Special Commission set up to investigate the case, presided over by COPREDEH and consisting of university lecturers and a journalist, analysed videotapes of the events and concluded in its report that the investigation by the competent organs had been flawed and that the police bore responsibility.

75. Confirming this assessment, the Mission finds that the Public Prosecutor's Office did not consider it necessary to stage a reconstruction of the events and limited itself to conducting formal inquiries which did not make it possible to gather evidence that might have identified the perpetrators of the extrajudicial execution, thereby causing considerable delays.

76. Following a conflict of jurisdiction lasting several months which raised fears that the culprits might go unpunished and after repeated recommendations by MINUGUA, the judge issued a summons to the policemen implicated in the case and to Colonel Mérida, who had been Deputy Minister of the Interior at the time the events took place. The judge thus went back on his initial decision and ruled that the former Deputy Minister of the Interior, despite his military rank, should be subject to civilian jurisdiction; he also placed a restricted residence order on the former Director of the National Police. Both officials were released on bail, despite the fact that the seriousness of the crime would have warranted tougher measures.

5. Political rights

77. The Mission received three complaints which verification established did not involve violations of specifically political rights, such as the right to vote or to be elected, the right to take part in the conduct of public affairs or the right to have access to public service. Nevertheless, since general elections are scheduled for this year, it should be emphasized that there are a number of factors which militate against the exercise of these rights in Guatemalan society. These include the large number of people without identity papers, the low voter turnout in elections and other factors deriving from the country's structural deficiencies and the internal armed conflict.

6. Freedom of expression

78. The Mission has made a careful study of this right, which includes the right to seek, receive and disseminate information and opinions, and is verifying two recent complaints regarding possible violations of this right. On a positive note, it should be mentioned that the news agency CERIGUA, 3/ the magazine Noticias de Guatemala and the Guatemalan Human Rights Commission were recently established inside the country, whereas before they had to operate from outside. The extensive information on human rights being disseminated by the media is another positive development.

79. The Mission is nevertheless aware of the large number of cases and situations in which journalists and press organs were targets of violence in 1994. According to the Inter-American Press Society, three journalists were murdered in Guatemala during that year, another 36 were physically attacked and eight news media were the targets of various attacks. Two journalists were murdered in January 1995. For the moment, the Mission has no evidence to link the murders with the fact that the victims were journalists. Lastly, the Mission is concerned about the death threats issued against various journalists by the self-styled "Unidad Patriótica Anticomunista".

7. Freedom of movement

80. The Mission received complaints from the CPR-Sierra about restrictions placed on their freedom of movement by members of the army, military commissioners and CVDCs. These cases are being verified.

8. Freedom of association

81. The Constitution of Guatemala recognizes and guarantees this right. However, individuals who try to unionize or to take action to defend union interests often suffer violations of their rights, including those established in International Labour Organization (ILO) Conventions Nos. 87 and 98 (concerning freedom of association and protection of the right to organize and concerning the application of the principles of the right to organize and bargain collectively, respectively), which have been ratified by Guatemala. This report has already mentioned some cases of serious violations of the right to life and physical integrity of trade unionists which restrict the exercise of trade union activity (see paras. 37 and 46).

Case 1

82. Obed Valladares, general secretary of the Sindicato de Trabajadores in a Ministry of Health section in the capital city, is applying to leave the country after receiving constant death threats. Union leaders in public hospitals in the metropolitan area have also complained of persistent threats, surveillance and harassment.

Case 2

83. Herminio González, a municipal employee and a member of the ad hoc committee to establish a branch of the Sindicato de Trabajadores in the municipality of Esquipulas, in Izabal, received a letter of immediate dismissal on 28 November 1994. He told MINUGUA that a few days previously he had received death threats for trying to set up the union.

Case 3

84. The Mission is following the proceedings instituted in the case of the workers on the San Juan del Horizonte estate, in Quetzaltenango against the La Exacta company. In response to a collective application to the Labour Court in Coatepeque, demanding such basic workers' rights as payment of the legal minimum wage, 64 workers were dismissed. The authorities failed to rule in a timely fashion on the legality of that action. The workers were forcibly evicted from the estate by 400 to 500 members of the National Police, supported by two helicopters and a small plane, and three people were killed and nine others injured. According to complaints received by MINUGUA subsequent to its installation, the mayor, the judge and the parish priest of Flores-Costa Cuca, Quetzaltenango, who are accused of having helped the farmworkers' union, have received serious death threats. The mayor of Flores-Costa Cuca has received protection from the National Police through COPREDEH. Furthermore, the inhabitants of Los Encuentros, San Vicente, Rafael Pacaya and El Troje are still being harassed for having supplied food to the La Exacta workers during the dispute.

85. The Mission is verifying the death threats against Carlos Enrique Lobos García, general coordinator of the Frente Sindical y Popular de las Verapaces in Cobán, which took the form of anonymous telephone calls and letters signed by a group calling itself "Jaguar Justiciero".

86. The following tables provide statistics on the complaints received and alleged violations of the various rights.

Commitment II. Commitment to strengthening institutions for the protection of human rights

87. The proper functioning of the system for the administration of justice is of the greatest importance for the effective exercise of human rights. The Mission, confirming the findings of many reports of human rights organizations, has been able to observe the serious deficiencies in this system in Guatemala.

88. With regard to the judiciary, the new Supreme Court of Justice has undertaken a review of the conduct of judges, especially in cases of alleged corruption, which has resulted in several dismissals. Although such measures are steps in the right direction, much more must be done to remedy the serious shortcomings in the administration of justice.

89. With regard to the Public Prosecutor's Office, Government support is essential during this phase of normative and operational transition resulting from the entry into force of the new Code of Criminal Procedure and the constitutional and legislative amendments concerning the Office's organization and functioning. As of 1994, prosecutors are in charge of directing criminal investigations, a function previously performed by judges. This requires increasing the number of prosecutors, which has already begun, and training them in this new task. It is also necessary to instruct the police to cooperate fully with prosecutors and, where necessary, to work under their supervision.

90. The Attorney-General of the Republic has informed MINUGUA of cases in which the police have failed to follow the instructions of the Public Prosecutor's Office, as well as a large number of cases in which they have not enforced arrest warrants. In this situation, it is essential to verify the proper functioning of the National Police as an auxiliary organ of justice. The Mission notes that the police have been cooperating more readily with prosecutors since the recent changes in the Ministry of the Interior.

91. The Public Prosecutor's Office, through the Attorney-General of the Republic has publicly acknowledged that there are three to four incidents of intimidation against investigators per month and that attacks on them are also frequent. The Mission, for its part, has recorded cases of attempted extrajudicial execution, intimidation and death threats against prosecutors which, in at least one case, resulted in the victim's death and, in another, forced him to leave the country.

92. The Government has made a commitment to support the work of the Counsel for Human Rights so as to strengthen that institution. Although the Counsel's recommendations are not legally binding, the Government's attention and timely response to them will be a revealing indicator of its political will to support his work. The Counsel has stated publicly, however, that his recommendations have not been followed, that he does not have sufficient resources to carry out his duties properly and that he receives frequent threats.

Commitment III. Commitment against impunity

93. Verification has shown the extent of the problem of impunity. Most of the violations discussed in this report have received no response from the State in terms of identifying and duly punishing the perpetrators. The Mission believes that the existence of such widespread impunity, about which concern has also been expressed in other reports on human rights in Guatemala, is the greatest obstacle to the effective exercise of human rights.

94. Fulfilment of the commitment to take firm action against impunity must be considered in the light of all the commitments made in the Agreement. The Government's passive obligation "not to act", in other words, not to sponsor the adoption of legislative or any other type of measures designed to prevent the prosecution and punishment of persons responsible for human rights violations, is supplemented by its active obligation to "act", namely, to encourage all those measures designed to promote and perfect norms and mechanisms for the protection of human rights, as well as its legal duty to investigate human rights violations and punish those responsible. For this reason, it is essential to strengthen the national institutions responsible for investigating such incidents and, where appropriate, for imposing criminal, disciplinary or administrative penalties on the perpetrators.

95. Although the President of the Republic appointed a Legal Commission for the Peace Process to draft a bill that would enable amendments to the Penal Code to be amended so that enforced disappearances and summary or extrajudicial executions could be characterized as crimes of particular gravity and punished as such, no bill has been sent to Congress.

96. Concerning the commitment to foster in the international community the recognition of such human rights violations as crimes against humanity, the Mission is not aware that any action has been taken to that end.

97. With regard to the possibility that special laws or exclusive jurisdictions could be invoked to uphold impunity in respect of human rights violations, a careful study has begun of Guatemalan domestic legislation, with special reference to the military criminal justice system and the identification of cases in which the functioning of this special system could promote impunity.

Commitment IV. Commitment that there are no illegal security forces and clandestine structures; regulation of the bearing of arms

98. The large number of murders and threats, the particular characteristics of the victims and the modus operandi employed make it possible to attribute responsibility for these incidents to organized groups that would fall under the heading of this commitment. Although the Mission has so far been unable to prove reliably who runs these groups, the allegations made by the persons reporting the various cases and the preliminary evidence obtained in some of them point in two basic directions: "maras" or criminal gangs, and clandestine groups organized or used by agents of the State. Some of the gangs that exist in Guatemala are allegedly used, and paid in advance, to carry out this kind of criminal activity. The clandestine structures of State agents are allegedly used either against people who are considered to be subversives or to protect private interests or carry out "social clean-up" campaigns.

99. Juan René Juárez González was abducted on 16 November 1994 in the municipality of San Pedro Carchá in Alta Verapaz. The following day, his body was found on the road from Cobán to Chisec, showing clear evidence of torture. According to testimony received by MINUGUA, the victim had feared for his safety ever since an attempt had been made to abduct him along with some friends. The victim's background and the methods used, added to the killings of six young men in the area under similar circumstances, point to the organized action of irregular groups whose members, according to the testimony received, include army and National Police personnel. During its verification of due process, the Mission found that the authorities investigating the case had been pressured and felt intimidated in performing their duties. It also found that, since it lodged the complaint with the Public Prosecutor's Office, the Juárez González family has received death threats and has been constantly harassed by individuals riding in vehicles with polarized windows. The names of the alleged culprits appear in connection with other cases of serious violations, including an enforced disappearance.

100. Guatemalans feel that violence and lack of public safety are one of their most serious problems and reflect the State's inability to fulfil its duty to guarantee such basic rights as the rights to life, physical integrity, security of person and individual liberty. Much of the responsibility for this rests with the National Police, whose inaction, flawed action or complicity on the part of some of its members are acknowledged by the general public and by the Government itself.

101. Professionalization of the police first requires the establishment of a public security programme that delimits the responsibilities of the various forces in order to separate police functions from military functions. These functions currently overlap because the Constitution gives the army responsibilities in the area of internal security, because this constitutional mandate and the term "subversion" are interpreted very loosely and because of the role played by the Mobile Military Police, the military commissioners and CVDCs. The last two receive very little professional training and perform security and law and order functions under the direct supervision of the army.

Professionalization also involves the necessary training and provision of human, technical and material resources to the security forces.

102. The Ministries of Defence and the Interior have received instructions from the President of the Republic to analyse the internal regulations of the security forces and establish whether they must be amended in order to increase control over actions of their members. The Government has been asked to inform MINUGUA of the kind of measures taken to give impetus to the purification process and of the preliminary assessment of the results achieved to date. Although the removal of senior police officials was a positive step, these measures must be continued and expanded. Verification of this commitment covers not only cases involving human rights violations, but also cases of negligence or abuse of power by members of the security forces.

103. The preamble to the Arms and Ammunition Act of 1992 is more than explicit about the opportunity that the law must give to citizens to guarantee by their own means the security that the State acknowledges that it is unable to provide them. The possession and bearing of firearms in Guatemala is thus virtually unrestricted, since the conditions that must be met are minimal.

104. This fact, rather than remedying the situation of insecurity that the Act was designed to address, has considerably aggravated the situation by increasing the levels of criminal activity and violence and even placing the police at a disadvantage against better-armed groups. In addition to this legal permissiveness, which has increased the number of registered weapons to around 50,000, the problem is aggravated by the large number of weapons that are in the possession of private individuals illegally. According to data submitted by the Public Prosecutor's Office, such weapons could number 250,000. The press, citing the firearms control body as its source, puts the number of illegal firearms at as many as 500,000.

105. The Mission appreciates the steps taken by the Ministry of the Interior, involving action at the national level to control arms possession and confiscate weapons that have not been registered legally, although it considers them grossly inadequate given the scale of the problem. The need to initiate legislative amendments to reduce the almost indiscriminate possession and bearing of arms that now exists, and increased control by the security forces over the illegal possession and bearing of arms and over the entry of unregistered weapons into the country, are considered fundamental aspects of this commitment.

106. There are cases in which the illegal bearing of arms is protected by the very institutions that are responsible for enforcing the Act. The National Police has been issuing to private individuals the so-called identity card or confidential credential with which they can carry unregistered weapons (which prevents identification of their owners and the conduct of ballistic tests. The current Director of the National Police has pledged to put an end to this practice. Furthermore, the Mission has verified that CVDC members with criminal or police records which would technically bar them from carrying weapons, such as those in San Pedro Jocopilas, are continuing to do so because the army has done nothing to stop them.

Commitment V. Commitment to guarantee freedom of association and freedom of movement

107. The Agreement identifies three aspects of this commitment which covers the issue of the CVDCs: (a) voluntary membership; (b) human rights violations by their members; and (c) establishment of new CVDCs. The Agreement gives the Counsel for Human Rights a crucial role in the verification of the first two aspects and the Mission therefore defers to the Counsel's findings. Nevertheless, the Counsel has indicated that the mechanism provided for in the Agreement has been unable to function, for practical reasons and owing to the prevailing climate of fear.

108. In his latest report, covering 1994, the Counsel states:

> "It has been found in a great number of cases that the population are compelled to perform this kind of service through coercion and threats which jeopardize the freedom of action and movement of the inhabitants of rural areas and, in some cases, restrict even their economic activities and employment."

Case 1

109. In the Lacamá Segundo district of Chichicastenango, in Quiché, the CVDC representative, alluding to 32 families who refuse to participate in the Committees, publicly harangued the population, saying that those who did not want to join and who talked of human rights were involved in subversive activities and that the day would come when they would be turned over to the authorities.

Case 2

110. Valeriano Cajbón, a resident of El Corozal, Cobán, Alta Verapaz, reported that several military commissioners threatened that he would be killed if he refused to sign up with the CVDC.

Case 3

111. Similar information from various departments in the country's interior indicates that, before the deployment of MINUGUA, members of the army, accompanied by military commissioners and CVDC members, held public meetings to spread the information that the Missions's presence would be only temporary and that people should continue to join CVDCs. Other reports state that, during a visit by members of the army to San Miguel Uspantán, Quiché, leaflets were passed out calling on the population to joint CVDCs and saying that if they did not, there would be a return to the violence of the 1980s. Cases have been verified such as that in Casaca, Ixtahacán, Huehuetenango, where an army platoon, after gathering together the population and verbally attacking popular organizations, called people to join the Committees.

112. CVDC members have traditionally been identified by the Counsel for Human Rights and by reliable reports on human rights in Guatemala as being responsible for serious and repeated human rights violations. The information recorded by the Mission on the current activities of CVDCs, based on the verification of a number of complaints on violations of priority rights, supports the conclusion that they are still a source of human rights violations.

113. The Mission is verifying the progress of an application for amparo (enforcement of constitutional rights) brought by the residents of San Pedro de Jocopilas and the Archdiocesan Human Rights Office, requesting that the Ministry of Defence should be ordered to disarm the local CVDC, in exercise of its duty to supervise and coordinate it. They claim that several CVDC members have been guilty of murders, threats and intimidation and that the CVDC poses a permanent threat to the population's rights to life, security and integrity. Although an application for amparo, by virtue of its special nature, is supposed to be dealt with by means of summary proceedings, in this case, the action was brought in June 1994 but by February 1995 the investigation was still pending, owing to the unjustified delay in notifying interested third parties, namely the CVDC members.

114. The military commissioners, who are linked with CVDCs by virtue of the similarity of some of their functions and the areas in which they carry out their tasks, deserve special mention. The existence which goes back a long way in the history of Guatemala, is governed by the Regulations for Military Commissioners of May 1993 and is designed to ensure that the army leadership has representatives in every community to carry out security functions and collaborate with it. The commissioners' functions also include army recruitment, law and order and social functions, since they have to act as mediators among the various community structures.

115. The wide variety of tasks assigned to the military commissioners and CVDCs, the backing they receive from the army and the large number of them in each town or village (the total number of commissioners is unknown, while the number of CVDC members is estimated at around 400,000) give the commissioner and the CVDCs considerable authority in the community. In some cases, that authority has been used to commit abuses, human rights violations and criminal acts.

116. Regarding the creation of new CVDCs, the Government undertook unilaterally not to encourage the organization of new committees, or to arm them, in any part of the national territory, provided that there was no reason to do so. The Mission has not observed the creation of any new committees. In December 1994, the Mission informed COPREDEH of its concern at reports that the military authorities in Zacapa were seeking to create a new CVDC. In January 1995, it was learnt that this decision had been reconsidered and ruled out by the same authorities. It should also be mentioned that, in January, the Minister of the Interior issued a statement denying press reports that he had decided to create new CVDCs in the capital city.

Commitment VI. Commitment concerning military conscription

117. The Agreement stipulates that conscription shall not be forcible and that it must be fair and non-discriminatory. Pursuant to this commitment, President de León announced on 30 June 1994, in his Army Day speech, that until such time as a new military service act came into force, compulsory military conscription was being suspended and only voluntary military service would continue to exist.

118. The Mission has verified cases of forcible recruitment. In addition, it has been discovered that the army has been sending call-up letters to young men of military age, informing them that they have been selected for military service and ordering them to report to various barracks. Complaints about this practice have also been made to the Counsel for Human Rights by members of indigenous people's organizations. The procedure followed and the wording of the letter clearly amount to pressure on the person receiving it, encourage forcible recruitment, raise questions about discrimination in the selection process and, above all, contradict the spirit and the letter of the transitional voluntary system that the President of the Republic is seeking to introduce for military service. It should be noted that on 31 January, the President, on being informed by MINUGUA of the practice being used by the army, informed the Mission that he would give appropriate instructions for its suspension.

119. Pursuant to this commitment, the Government has submitted to Congress the draft of the new military service act prepared by the Ministry of Defence; this complements the proposals put forward by the Counsel for Human Rights and by the Guatemalan Widows' National Coordinating Committee (CONAVIGUA).

Commitment VII. Commitment to safeguard and protect individuals and entities working for the protection of human rights

120. In the context of the internal armed conflict and the resulting polarization of society, the work of promoting and protecting human rights has in some quarters been publicly equated with subversive activities. This message has been reiterated in public statements and accusations by senior military authorities. Verification has revealed the persistence of this attitude, especially among military commissioners and CVDC members. As a result, entities and individuals carrying out activities related to human rights have been the victims of various serious human rights violations.

Case 1

121. On 30 November 1994, Juana Calel Algua, of Chichicastenango, Quiché, was accused by the CVDC representative of being a guerrilla member because of her active membership of a human rights organization.

Case 2

122. On 4 December 1994, a relative of Nobel Peace Prizewinner Rigoberta Menchú, who is a member of the Human Rights Committee in Uspantán, Quiché, and a representative of Defensoría Maya, was publicly accused by CVDC members of being "a guerrilla leader, like everyone in his family" and "like all human rights activists, of organizing the population to join the guerrillas".

Case 3

123. Pedro Martín García was publicly threatened by the leader of the Huehuetenango CVDC for distributing copies of the Agreement. The copies were destroyed by the same leader. This case is one of several which show how military commissioners and CVDC members automatically identify the subject of human rights with URNG activities.

Case 4

124. On 10 January 1995, the home of María Mónica Sis Iboy, a CONAVIGUA representative, in the village of Tampisque, Baja Verapaz, was shot at by two individuals who, according to information given to the Mission, have close ties to the military commissioner. The victim, whose husband has been missing since 1987, has received repeated death threats from the commissioner, accusing her of "supplying the guerrillas".

Case 5

125. A relative of Natividad Felipe Lainez, CONAVIGUA representative in the village of La Cumbre in the municipality of San Ildefonso, Huehuetenango, reported that on 6 February 1995, an army patrol shot at his house. Although the military authorities initially denied to the Mission that a patrol had passed that way, they later admitted that they had opened fire because they had been "attacked by the dogs".

126. As a special protective measure, the Government has instructed COPREDEH to draw up a list of entities and individuals working for the protection of human rights, and to receive telephone complaints 24 hours a day. On the basis of such complaints, COPREDEH is responsible for coordinating prompt and exhaustive action by the competent national bodies to investigate and provide protection. Nevertheless, the Mission is concerned at the inadequate response of the competent bodies and institutions.

Commitment VIII. Commitment to compensate and/or assist the victims of human rights violations

127. The Government considers the civilian and socio-economic measures and programmes referred to in this commitment to be part of its overall policy planning, rather than isolated actions. In this context, the government bodies responsible for project or programme planning have been instructed by the Government to take this commitment into account in performing their functions.

128. The Government has been asked to report on the bodies responsible for designing these measures and programmes and on the progress made in implementing this commitment. In the verification process, the Mission will pay particular attention to the way in which those bodies determine who is the victim of a human rights violation, the criteria for selecting beneficiaries, and the priority given to those whose need is greatest, given their economic and social position. In addition, it will be important to verify that these measures and programmes do not involve any discrimination on political, ethnic, social or religious grounds.

Commitment IX. Commitment concerning human rights and the internal armed conflict

129. Until such time as the Agreement on a Firm and Lasting Peace is signed and, hence, as long as military operations continue, the Mission must verify the commitment made by both parties to respect the human rights of wounded, captured or disabled combatants and to put a stop to the suffering of the civilian population.

Case 1

130. On 2 February 1995, near the Ximula river in Quiché, a duly identified ambulance of the volunteer fire brigade, which was evacuating a wounded soldier, was hit by a rifle shot. Although in a letter dated 9 February addressed to MINUGUA, the URNG command denied responsibility for the incident and stated its determination to fulfil these commitments, there is reason to believe that the shot came from URNG lines, although it is true that the proximity of the fighting makes it difficult to judge whether the shot was intentional.

Case 2

131. The Mission took action on its own initiative following the publication in the press of a communiqué issued by the Army Information and Publicity Department accusing alleged URNG members of temporarily occupying, on 10 February 1995, a village in Nuevo Progreso, San Marcos. The troops in question were alleged to have attacked a number of shops and dwellings, raped three under-age girls, and kidnapped seven women. In the light of the seriousness of the incident and the alarm it caused among the population, the Mission carried out an urgent verification in which it found that, while the description of the events contained in the communiqué was generally accurate, the culprits were a gang of criminals who operate frequently in that area.

132. The persistence of the armed conflict and its adverse effects on the civilian population forced the Mission to draw on certain basic principles of international humanitarian law. It is from those principles that the so-called "rule of proportionality" is derived, which helps to draw the not always clear-cut line between a legitimate military operation and a violation of the Agreement.

133. Guatemala has ratified the four Geneva Conventions on humanitarian law of 1949 and also the two Protocols Additional to those Conventions of 1977. Those legal instruments, being international treaties, are legally binding on Guatemala if the actual conditions exist for their application. Although the internal armed conflict does not meet the conditions for applying Additional Protocol II in its entirety, a number of principles deriving from humanitarian law are applicable. Those principles are also human rights norms and are universally valid. Thus, the minimum level of rights protected by article 3 common to the four Geneva Conventions coincides with the rights protected by the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and also with those protected by the American Convention on Human Rights; both instruments are compulsory and binding for Guatemala, in all circumstances. Regarding Protocols I and II Additional to the Geneva Conventions, several of their basic norms also coincide with those contained in the above-mentioned international instruments.

134. The minimum rules and principles referred to above include those intended to protect the civilian, non-combatant population. Any armed attack on the civilian population is obviously prohibited, and that prohibition does not end even if the indirect aim is to achieve military objectives, unless there is a pressing military need and, at the same time, a certain proportionality between the military objective to be achieved and the expected and foreseeable harm which may be caused to the civilian population. Additional Protocols I and II provide some guidance for the interpretation of the rule of proportionality and for acts of reprisal. The Mission has a duty to consider the complaints transmitted to it, as well as those cases in which it has intervened on its own initiative, because of the importance of the issue.

Case 3

135. Several electric power pylons were deliberately demolished, leaving various areas of the country and large numbers of the population without electricity and causing damage to the national utilities infrastructure. During the verification carried out by the Mission into these incidents, the URNG command admitted responsibility for blowing up electric power pylons in Santa Bárbara, Piedras Negras and Huehuetenango on 31 December 1994 and 14 January 1995, as well as in Chiché, Quiché, on 8 January 1995. Subsequently, on the basis of a presentation made to it by the Mission on the application of the rule of proportionality, on 23 January URNG pledged to MINUGUA that it would desist from such actions when they had no direct impact on the armed conflict. URNG denied responsibility for the explosion which occurred subsequently in Alta Verapaz and which had the greatest impact, causing restrictions on electricity consumption in several areas of the country, including the capital city, for eight days.

136. According to army sources, the refusal by owners of rural estates to pay the so-called "war tax" has led to reprisals involving the destruction by URNG forces of installations on those estates. URNG has admitted responsibility for actions of this kind (destroying installations), although it considers them to be operations intended to achieve a clearly military objective which is legitimate in the context of the armed conflict. The basis of their argument is that these rural estates, with the consent and approval of their owners, are or have been used to supply and billet counterinsurgency military units, and that, in other cases, they have private security groups which monitor estate employees and restrict their rights.

137. Both in the cases of sabotage of electric power pylons and in the cases of destruction of installations on rural estates, the Mission concluded that, bearing in mind the rule of proportionality and the commitments which it has to verify, in cases for which URNG forces are responsible, URNG has failed to fulfil the commitment made in the Agreement to put a stop to the suffering of the civilian population and has thus failed to observe minimum principles deriving from humanitarian law and international human rights law.

138. As laid down in the Agreement, MINUGUA has taken into account the situation of the population directly affected by the internal armed conflict (including displaced persons, refugees and returnees) and has deployed staff in those areas where the armed conflict gave rise to the forced migration of considerable numbers of people both within and outside the country's borders. The Mission has established close cooperation and collaboration with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), in a manner consistent with their respective mandates. In addition, MINUGUA staff have participated regularly in the working meetings convened by the technical commission created pursuant to the Agreement on resettlement of population groups uprooted by the armed conflict, keeping themselves informed of the problems faced by refugees returning to Guatemala from Mexico, by CPRs and by displaced population.

139. The return and resettlement of Guatemalan refugees is being seriously affected by the problem of land ownership, as land holders are being asked to give back land to the original owners or, failing that, to find solutions involving compensation. The Mission is paying particular attention to this situation, which also affects internally displaced persons and CPRs and is a source of conflict and possible human rights violations.

140. The majority of Guatemalans among uprooted populations do not have personal documentation. As a result of this situation, which is a direct consequence of the armed conflict, they are unable to exercise their basic rights to security, individual liberty and freedom of movement, and their political rights.

V. INSTITUTION-BUILDING, INTERNATIONAL TECHNICAL AND FINANCIAL COOPERATION AND HUMAN RIGHTS PROMOTION AND EDUCATION

141. The Agreement gives MINUGUA the authority to strengthen Guatemalan governmental and non-governmental institutions for the protection of human rights. To that end, the Mission must promote international technical and financial cooperation and contribute to a culture of respect for human rights. The following paragraphs briefly describe the plans and achievements made in these areas during the period covered by this report.

A. Institution-building

142. To maximize its fulfilment of this part of its mandate, MINUGUA has agreed with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) to create a Joint Unit supervised by the UNDP Resident Representative and the Director of MINUGUA. The Unit's principal tasks are to promote projects for strengthening Guatemala's human rights institutions and to secure the necessary technical and financial cooperation.

143. The approach followed has been to identify a number of activities that will have an immediate impact on institutions identified for their importance in ensuring the full application of the rule of law, and at the same time to design a wide-ranging project for the structural reform of the administration of justice.

144. The group of projects to be carried out within a period of six months comprises:

(a) Support for the Office of the Public Prosecutor: by agreement between the Attorney General of the Republic and the MINUGUA-UNDP Joint Unit, a working group has been set up, consisting of three prosecutors and three international consultants, to train the country's prosecutors in the application of the new Code of Criminal Procedure and to assist them in the investigation of crimes and the prosecution of those responsible. Activities under this subsection began in February 1995;

(b) Support for the Counsel for Human Rights: a coordinating committee has been set up between staff of the Office of the Counsel for Human Rights and MINUGUA for the purpose of strengthening the Office. Needs have been identified in the areas of management and the investigation of human rights violations. At the same time, consultations are being held with the international community with a view to planning future cooperation activities;

(c) Support for the Ministry of the Interior: two kinds of activities are planned: one aimed at improving criminal investigation and cooperation between the Police and the Office of the Public Prosecutor, and the other aimed at improving the prison system, which includes making a survey and possibly adopting prison legislation based on modern standards.

145. The wide-ranging project for the structural reform of the administration of justice (entitled "Project for strengthening the rule of law") is being drawn up in conjunction with the executive and judicial branches, the Office of the Public Prosecutor and the Counsel for Human Rights and covers the courts and public defence, the police, the prison system, the Office of the Public Prosecutor and the Counsel for Human Rights. It provides for the establishment of a coordinating commission which would be the national counterpart for any financial and technical cooperation which the international community may provide for improving Guatemala's democratic institutions. MINUGUA is currently engaged in consultations to promote the establishment of the coordinating commission.

146. Among other components, the project includes completion of legal reform already begun in Guatemala with the adoption of the new Code of Criminal Procedure and the law on the Public Prosecutor's Office, modernization of the administrative systems of the institutions involved and a comprehensive legal education plan. This project will require a considerable amount of financial cooperation which could be channelled through donations and loans from multilateral financial institutions.

147. In the area of non-governmental organizations, a study will be made of non-governmental human rights organizations in order to explore the possibilities of cooperation between them and the Mission. At least three areas of interrelationship have been identified: (a) non-governmental organizations as sources of information for the verification and submission of complaints; (b) MINUGUA as a channel for cooperation to strengthen non-governmental organizations in their work of protecting and promoting human rights; and (c) organization of seminars and training courses in all regions of Guatemala.

148. In the areas of human rights promotion and education, educational activities have been carried out for the benefit of governmental and non-governmental organizations. A promotion and education strategy is currently being devised and it is envisaged that the strategy will be implemented in a decentralized manner, in view of the ethnic diversity of the Guatemalan population.

B. International cooperation

149. The Mission must promote access to technical and financial resources for the implementation of institution-building and human rights promotion and education activities and to facilitate the dissemination of information on its mandate.

150. Regular consultations are being held with the representatives of the international community in Guatemala, including the Group of Friends of the Guatemalan peace process, the European Union countries and Japan, in order to secure their cooperation. This can be channelled through a trust, which is in the process of being approved, or through bilateral agreements and conventions. The Mission is grateful to countries which have already indicated their willingness to support the strengthening of the rule of law in Guatemala.

VI. CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

151. It should be noted that, three months after its establishment, MINUGUA is already deployed throughout the territory of Guatemala as a result of the opening of eight regional offices and six sub-offices. Deployment was facilitated by the support and cooperation of the Government, agencies of the United Nations system and, in particular, the Development Programme for Displaced Persons, Refugees and Returnees in Central America (PRODERE). The rapid start of verification work in the regional offices was largely made possible by the effective incorporation of the legal officers and human rights observers provided by the United Nations Volunteers. The Mission also expresses its special gratitude and thanks to the six ambassadors of the Group of Friends of the Guatemalan peace process (Colombia, Mexico, Norway, Spain, United States of America and Venezuela) for their constant support and invaluable advice.

152. The signing of a status-of-mission agreement between the United Nations and the Government of Guatemala met the requirements stipulated by the General Assembly in its resolution 48/267. The speedy ratification of this agreement by the Congress of the Republic, which demonstrated the support of the legislative and executive branches for MINUGUA, has enabled the Mission to operate in Guatemala on solid legal foundations. Other objectives reached have been: the establishment and regular functioning of bilateral working mechanisms with the Government and URNG; the signing of agreements on security arrangements with each of the parties; the establishment of close relations with the competent State organs in the area of human rights; and permanent, flexible contacts with other human rights bodies and non-governmental organizations.

153. As a result of the verification and institution-building activities carried out by MINUGUA during the three months of its operation (21 November 1994-21 February 1995), and even though it is not yet possible to make final determinations, the following conclusions may be drawn:

General commitment regarding human rights

154. In fulfilment of the terms of the Agreement, the Mission paid particular attention to verifying the rights which were accorded priority under the Agreement.

155. The Mission concludes that there have been numerous violations of the right to life, including cases of extrajudicial executions or deaths in violation of legal guarantees. The large number of people against whom death threats have been made is also extremely disturbing. The right to life seems to have been the right most seriously affected during the reporting period, and the Mission expresses deep concern at this fact. The vast majority of cases involving death have not been adequately investigated or resolved by the competent authorities, and this increases levels of impunity, promoting a widespread feeling of insecurity among the public, and makes it more difficult to distinguish violations of the right to life which could be classified as human rights violations from common crimes without a political motive.

156. The Mission urgently recommends that the Government should institute strict control over its agents through existing hierarchical structures; implement the public security programme devised by the Ministry of the Interior; and, above all, combat any incident or attitude which could give rise to impunity. At the same time, it recommends that the Government should implement and take into account the provisions of the following international legal instruments and, in particular, make their contents known to members of all the security forces:

(a) Code of Conduct for Law Enforcement Officials, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 34/169 of 17 December 1979;

(b) Basic Principles on the Use of Force and Firearms by Law Enforcement Officials, which supplement the Code of Conduct and were adopted by the Eighth United nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders in September 1990;

(c) Principles on the Effective Prevention and Investigation of Extra-legal, Arbitrary and Summary Executions, adopted by the Economic and Social Council in resolution 1989/65 of 24 May 1989.

157. The Government has not adequately guaranteed the right to integrity and security of person, that is to say, the right to be free from torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment, and cases have been verified in which military and police officers appear to be implicated. The Mission has no information that such cases have been investigated in depth or that the guilty parties have been prosecuted.

158. The Mission recommends that criminal legislation should be amended so as to incorporate in it a specific description of the crime of torture, making it punishable by appropriate penalties which take into account its grave nature, as required in the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, which has been ratified by Guatemala. In addition, it recommends that Guatemala should make the declaration referred to in article 22 of that Convention, recognizing the competence of the Committee against Torture to receive and consider communications from or on behalf of individuals who claim to be victims of acts which violate the provisions of the Convention. It further recommends that the Government should transmit specific instructions to military and police officers in order to prevent such acts, warning them that any such act is a criminal offence, subject to disciplinary, administrative and criminal penalties.

159. The Mission also recommends that the Government should implement and take into account the Body of Principles for the Protection of All Persons under Any Form of Detention or Imprisonment, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 43/173 of 9 December 1988.

160. As to the right to individual liberty, the Mission has noted cases of arbitrary or illegal detention which, according to available information, have not been investigated in depth; moreover officers responsible have not been disciplined or brought to trial.

161. The Mission recommends that the Government should institute strict control, under a hierarchical command structure, over the actions of all officials authorized by law to make arrests, detain persons and guard detainees and prisoners. Other officials should not participate in such acts.

162. The Mission concludes that in many cases, the right to due process has not been properly respected; it has verified glaring defects in the functioning of the judiciary, the Public Prosecutor's Office and the National Police. In particular, no progress has been made in the investigation of criminal acts alleged to constitute human rights violations, and specific actions and inquiries which could and should have been undertaken promptly were not carried out, making it difficult to obtain evidence. The fact that, in a number of cases, the police have not enforced duly issued arrest warrants has also had an adverse effect.

163. The Mission recommends that changes should be made in the operation of the above institutions, so that they can comply fully and promptly with their obligations to investigate, prosecute and punish cases of human rights violations and, where appropriate, grant due compensation to the victims of such acts or, if the victims have died, to their families. Similarly, it recommends that the Government should encourage the Congress of the Republic to ratify the Optional Protocol to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights recognizing the competence of the Human Rights Committee to receive and consider communications from individuals claiming to be victims of violations of any of the rights set forth in the Covenant.

164. The few complaints received by the Mission of violations of freedom of expression are under verification. In addition, the Mission's presence in Guatemala is enabling it to observe the operation of a free press which reports regularly on the human rights situation. However, the cases in which journalists and other persons linked with the communications media have been attacked and, in some cases, killed, are a source of concern. Shortcomings in the investigation of these incidents by the Public Prosecutor's Office and the National Police make it impossible at present to distinguish attacks which might have been directed against journalists in their professional capacity from those which might have had other motives. It is also disturbing that some journalists, after publishing critical pieces and articles on politically sensitive subjects, have received threatening anonymous telephone calls and letters accusing them of having links with subversives.

165. The Mission recommends that the Government, through the competent organs, should protect the life and integrity of journalists so that they can perform the function that is theirs in a democratic society.

166. The Mission concludes that the State, through its competent authorities, has not taken effective measures to guarantee freedom of association as regards the right to form trade unions, join them or withdraw from them.

167. As to political rights, the Mission has not verified any violations of specifically political rights, such as the right to vote and to be elected, to take part in the conduct of public affairs and have access to public service.

168. Even so, in view of the problem of low voter turnout in elections, citizens' lack of identity papers and other aspects already noted, the Mission recommends that the Government should pay due attention to these shortcomings, particularly in an electoral year.

Commitment to strengthening institutions for the protection of human rights

169. Proper functioning of the system for the administration of justice is of crucial importance for the exercise of human rights. The Mission, in the course of its verification activities, has noted serious shortcomings in that system. At the same time, the Mission is concerned about the large number of acts of intimidation and threats against judges and prosecutors - which in at least one case went as far as murder - motivated by their professional activity in socially or politically sensitive cases.

170. The Mission is interested in the Government's follow-up to the recommendations made by the Council for Human Rights and recommends, in turn, that refresher courses and specialized courses for magistrates, judges and prosecutors should be developed as a matter of urgency and that the infrastructure of the system for the administration of justice should be modernized. Furthermore, it recommends that the competent bodies should implement and take into account the provisions of the following international legal instruments:

(a) Basic Principles on the Independence of the Judiciary, adopted by the Seventh United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders in September 1985 and confirmed by the General Assembly in its resolutions 40/32 and 40/146 of 29 November and 13 December 1985, respectively;

(b) Guidelines on the Role of Prosecutors, adopted by the Eighth United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders in September 1990.

Commitment that there are no illegal security forces and clandestine structures; regulation of the bearing of arms

171. Verification has yielded evidence of the existence of organized groups which would fall within the scope of this commitment. These appear to consist of bands of criminals who are allegedly used, in return for advance payment for the illicit act requested, by clandestine structures to which agents of the State are linked.

172. The Mission recommends that such forces should immediately be identified, disbanded and suppressed, and that possible links between them and State agents should be investigated, establishing accountability.

173. With regard to the purification and professionalization of the security forces, the Mission notes with interest the efforts made by the Government through the Ministry of the Interior, including measures to replace senior officials of the National Police. An assessment of fulfilment of this commitment cannot be made until a reasonable period of time has passed, however.

174. The Mission recommends that the Government should pursue the measures already taken, strictly respecting the legal guarantees of those affected by such measures. In this context, it would be desirable to separate the police function from the military function and to have a police body with sufficient technical and operational training to carry out its activity in a spirit of respect for human rights, and for such a body to have greater human and material resources so that it can operate in rural areas and perform its irreplaceable functions. The Ministry of the Interior should issue specific instructions on the obligation of the police to cooperate with the Public Prosecutor's Office in investigating crimes and to follow the guidelines issued by prosecutors in this respect, as required by law.

175. As to the regulation of the possession, bearing and use of firearms by private individuals, the Mission values the measures ordered by the Ministry of the Interior, and already implemented, to conduct inspections nation-wide to monitor the regulation of the bearing of arms and confiscate illegally held firearms, although it considers them to be grossly inadequate in view of the scale of the problem.

176. The Mission recommends that statutory changes should be made so as to heavily restrict the right of private individuals to carry firearms and increase police and customs control, the latter in order to prevent the illegal entry of weapons into Guatemala.

Commitment to guarantee freedom of association and freedom of movement

177. It seems logical to consider the military commissioners and CVDCs together because of the close links between them and the fact that similar complaints have been made about both.

178. The Comprehensive Agreement assigns special tasks to the Council for Human Rights with regard to monitoring the voluntary nature of CVDCs and possible human rights violations by their members. Accordingly, the Mission defers to the Counsel's findings.

179. None the less, the Mission was able to observe from its own verification of the rights accorded priority under the Agreement that military commissioners and CVDC members have been responsible for: (a) persistent and repeated human rights violations of various kinds; and (b) many cases of intimidation, harassment and threats against community residents in order to force them to join or remain in CVDCs.

180. Based on its verification, the Mission believes that the Government has fulfilled its commitment not to establish new CVDCs.

181. The Mission recommends that the Government should support the work of the Counsel for Human Rights in order to ensure proper verification of this commitment. It further recommends that the activities of military commissioners and CVDCs should be monitored and that those accused of human rights violations and other criminal offences should be brought to trial and, where appropriate, relieved of their functions.

182. Given the paramount importance of the rights in question, the Mission is concerned about the actions of military commissioners and CVDCs, who have extended their functions to include some which traditionally come within the sphere of law and order. It is not legally possible to delegate essential State functions to such groups. The Mission therefore recommends that the State alone should be authorized to use force, subject to the normal controls available under the rule of law and the corresponding responsibilities.

Commitment concerning military conscription

183. The President of the Republic, pursuant to this commitment, ordered on 30 June 1994 that military conscription be suspended and that, until such time as a new military service act entered into force, recruitment would be on a voluntary basis only.

184. The Mission concludes that the Government has not fulfilled this commitment, since the Mission has verified cases of forcible recruitment.

185. In addition to these cases, the army has selectively sent call-up letters to young men of military age, ordering them to military units for military service. On 31 January 1995, the President of the Republic assured the Mission that he would issue instructions for that practice to be discontinued, thereby reaffirming his decision of 30 June.

186. The Government has submitted a draft of a new military service act to the Congress of the Republic.

187. The Mission recommends that the Government should supervise recruitment for military service, to ensure that it is strictly voluntary, pending the entry into force of a new military service act which will have to be consistent with the spirit of the Comprehensive Agreement.

Commitment to safeguard and protect individuals and entities working for the protection of human rights, as well as their activities

188. The Mission received and admitted for verification various complaints related to the fulfilment of this commitment. It is profoundly concerned at the many cases of abuse and intimidation against such individuals and entities by members of the army, military commissioners and members of CVDCs, a number of whom have publicly equated working for the promotion and protection of human rights with engaging in subversive, pro-URNG activities, with all the risks that this implies in a situation of armed conflict. Except in a few isolated cases, the Government has yet to respond satisfactorily to such incidents.

189. The Mission recommends that the Government should adopt effective mechanisms and measures to guarantee protection for such individuals and entities and for their activities. Accordingly it should put an end to any intimidating act or public statement against them by military personnel, miliary commissioners or CVDC members. The Mission recalls that, in its Declaration and Programme of Action, the World Conference on Human Rights, held at Vienna in June 1993, recognized the important role of non-governmental organizations in the promotion of all human rights and in humanitarian activities and that they should be free to carry out their activities without interference. 4/

Commitment to compensate and/or assist the victims of human rights violations

190. The Government has yet to fulfil its commitment to adopt civilian and socio-economic measures and programmes to compensate and/or assist anyone who has been a victim of a human rights violation or who might be in the future. The Mission recommends the speedy adoption of such measures and programmes, to which end the Declaration of Basic Principles of Justice for Victims of Crime and Abuse of Power, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 40/34 of 29 November 1985, should be taken into account.

Commitment concerning human rights and the armed conflict

191. In verifying the commitment to end the suffering of the civilian population, the Mission took into account the rule of proportionality mentioned above (see paras. 132 and 134) and the basic applicable principles of international law. On that basis, URNG sabotage of electric power pylons and the installations of rural estates can be characterized as violations of this commitment.

192. Such actions affecting private property or public utilities designed to meet the needs of the civilian population involve a high degree of risk for civilians and cannot be justified as legitimate military operations. Verification of such incidents does not reveal the existence of any pressing military need, but does reveal a clear lack of proportionality between the intended military objective and the damage caused and the risk run by the civilian population. The Mission therefore finds that URNG in cases attributable to it, has not distinguished between civilian property and military targets and that it has attacked civilian property as well, at times by way of reprisal.

193. On 23 January 1995, URNG pledged to MINUGUA that it would desist from acts of sabotage against electric power pylons.

194. The Mission recommends to URNG that it should issue precise instructions to its combatants to refrain from placing at risk persons wounded in the armed conflict and from endangering ambulances and duly identified health workers who assist such wounded persons. It further recommends that URNG should not destroy, or threaten to destroy, installations on rural estates, and that it should abide by its decision to refrain from sabotaging electric power pylons. It should also prevent any retaliatory attacks against civilian persons or property.

195. Lastly, the Mission appeals to URNG to desist from all acts of intimidation against individuals, since such acts contribute to feelings of defencelessness and to impunity.

196. Concerning the situation of the population directly affected by the internal armed conflict (including displaced persons, refugees and returnees), the Mission recommends that, without waiting for the entry into force of the Agreement on Resettlement of Population Groups Uprooted by the Armed Conflict, the laws on the replacement of records and birth certificates should be amended in order to make it easier, in particular, for internally displaced persons to obtain documentation in their new places of residence.

Commitment against impunity

197. In agreeing on the need for firm action against impunity, the parties noted what the Mission considers to be the most serious obstacle to the enjoyment of human rights in Guatemala. The Mission has observed numerous, persistent serious human rights violations to which, in nearly every case, there has been no response from the competent authorities.

198. The Mission notes that the Government has yet to comply with its commitment to initiate in the legislature amendments to penal legislation that would ensure that "enforced disappearances" and "summary or extrajudicial executions" are characterized as crimes of particular gravity and punished as such. Nor has it taken action to join in the efforts being made in the international community to have those two human rights violations characterized as crimes against humanity.

199. It recommends to the Government that it comply with both commitments and also that it promote legislative amendments with a view to limiting the jurisdiction of military courts to specifically military offences committed by military personnel.

200. In combating impunity, the State has a legal duty to take all reasonable steps to prevent human rights violations; to conduct, using the means available to it, thorough investigations of violations committed within its jurisdiction in order to identify the perpetrators; to punish them accordingly; and to ensure that the victims receive appropriate compensation (see para. 93).

201. Moreover, impunity in Guatemala is a phenomenon which goes beyond the human rights sphere and affects other aspects of national life. The Mission is equally concerned at the impunity enjoyed by ordinary criminals, which creates a feeling of defencelessness among Guatemalan society and undermines basic values such as public safety, the concept of justice and equality before the law. It should also be pointed out that everyone living in Guatemala has the fundamental right to be able to live a life free from fear and disruption and to be safe from attacks on his or her life, integrity, safety and freedom.

202. The State must identify and tackle the root causes of impunity in order to eliminate it. The Mission, taking into account the evidence uncovered in the course of its verification, wishes to stress, inter alia, the following elements:

(a) The defective functioning of the administration of justice, of the Public Prosecutor's Office and of the security forces responsible for preventing and punishing crime, which is attributable to a variety of interrelated reasons;

(b) The existence of illicit associations linked with drug trafficking, car theft and timber smuggling and with financial or other interests which may enjoy the support, the complicity or the tolerance of State agents;

(c) The autonomy enjoyed by the army in its counter-insurgency and anti-subversive activities and also the procedures it uses in this sphere and the broad interpretation it gives to those concepts;

(d) The control exerted over rural communities by military commissioners and CVDCs;

(e) The proliferation of and lack of control over individual possession of firearms in the possession of private individuals.

203. The Mission recommends to the Government as a matter of high priority that it should make resolute efforts to put an end to the impunity enjoyed by the perpetrators of both human rights violations and ordinary crimes. The rapid settlement of pending criminal cases in accordance with the principles of due process will help to inspire confidence in the administration of justice. Such confidence will help Guatemalan society to overcome the widespread feeling of defencelessness which is prevalent today. In this connection, the President of the Republic has reassured the Mission of his deep concern and his commitment to combating impunity.

Role of the Mission

204. In its efforts to help improve the human rights situation in Guatemala, MINUGUA has benefited from United Nations experience in the field of human rights, particularly that acquired in Latin America. MINUGUA can contribute to improving the situation described in this report in three ways: (a) through its permanent presence on the ground, which gives it direct access to the human rights situation in the country and, in turn confidence among the population as to what can be done; (b) through its verification work, which directly or indirectly strengthens the administration of justice and which, as the parties fulfil their commitments under the Agreement, will enhance the credibility of the peace process; (c) through its strengthening of the institutions responsible for the promotion and observance of human rights, which will contribute to the comprehensive functioning of the rule of law in Guatemala.

205. The Mission reiterates its gratitude to the members of the international community for their willingness to provide diplomatic, political and financial support for the peace process in Guatemala through MINUGUA. It also recalls General Assembly resolution 48/267, which invites the international community to support institution-building and cooperation projects which could be implemented by the Mission and the relevant Guatemalan institutions with the participation of United Nations organizations and programmes.

206. The effective fulfilment of the Mission's mandate in the areas of both verification and institution-building will take a reasonable amount of time. However, in many different sectors of Guatemalan society there is already a feeling that MINUGUA is doing work that is beneficial to the country. There is also an expectation that the Mission will be able to continue to promote efforts to ensure human rights, peace and national reconciliation.

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: GOVERNMENT PEACE NEGOTIATORS HECTOR ROSADA AND ANTONIO ARENALES ARE PESSIMISTIC OVER PEACE PROSPECTS. THEY VIEW THE LATEST UN PLAN (WHICH THEY HAVE ACCEPTED) AS WATERED DOWN TO MEET GUERRILLA OBJECTIONS AND FIND LITTLE IN THE URNG RESPONSE TO MAKE THEM OPTIMISTIC. THEY HOPE TO RENEW TALKS WITHIN THE FIRST TEN DAYS OF MARCH, VIEWING THE MARCH 15 URNG SUGGESTED DATE AS UNACCEPTABLE. CONCERNING THE INSURGENT VISIT TO HONDURAS, ROSADA CLAIMED IT WAS A COMPLETE SURPRISE. ARENALES, ONE OF THE DRAFTERS OF THE AMNESTY LAW-TO-BE, SAID THE LEGISLATION IS LIKELY TO GIVE FINAL DETERMINATION OF WHAT CRIME FALLS UNDER IT TO THE PRESIDENT. END SUMMARY.

BAD UN PEACE PLAN, WORSE URNG RESPONSE

3. GOG PEACE COMMISSION (COPAZ) CHAIRMAN HECTOR ROSADA AND MEMBER ANTONIO ARENALES MET POLOFF FEBRUARY 27 TO DISCUSS THE PEACE PROCESS. CLEARLY DISAPPOINTED WITH THE NEW UN PLAN (WHICH THE GOG, NONETHELESS, ACCEPTED), ROSADA SAID IT IS NOW PLAUSIBLE NO FINAL PEACE ACCORD WILL BE SIGNED THIS YEAR. THE URNG RESPONSE, WHICH PROPOSES NOT RESTARTING THE TALKS UNTIL MARCH 15, IS EVEN WORSE, HE OPINED, REFLECTIVE OF ITS INTEREST IN DELAYING PROGRESS. ROSADA SAID THE GOG WILL ASK THE UN TO RESTART THE NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN MARCH 6-10.

4. DESPITE HIS PESSIMISM, ROSADA REITERATED THE GOG WILL NOT WALK AWAY FROM THE PEACE TABLE. THE COPAZ CHAIRMAN HOPED THE FRIENDS COULD HELP PUSH THE URNG TO NEGOTIATE IN GOOD FAITH, BUT COMPLAINED THE SPANISH WERE PRO-GUERRILLA AND COULD NOT BE TRUSTED. QUESTIONED ABOUT THE URNG ELECTORAL GAMBIT (REF A), ROSADA ARGUED IT WAS ANOTHER DELAYING TACTIC, THOUGH HE HAD USED IT TO PUBLICLY CLAIM THE INSURGENTS NOW ACCEPTED THE LEGITIMACY OF THE ELECTORAL AND CONSTITUTIONAL SYSTEMS.

HONDURAS

5. QUERIED ON THE RECENT URNG TRIP TO HONDURAS (REF B), ROSADA SAID IT WAS A COMPLETE SURPRISE TO THE GOG. THE HONDURANS, HE CONTINUED, OVERSTEPPED THEIR BOUNDS BY ALLOWING THE INSURGENTS TO MEET REINA AND OFFERING THEIR COUNTRY AS A NEGOTIATING SITE. ROSADA BLAMED THE HONDURAN FOREIGN MINISTER AND REINA'S BROTHER FOR THIS, ASSERTING THEY BROKERED THE TRIP. AS A BLACKENING ASIDE, ROSADA ADDED THE TWO HAD RECENTLY SPOKE TO THE GUATEMALAN FOREIGN MINISTER TRYING TO GET HER TO IMPROVE RELATIONS WITH CUBA.

(NOTE: WE DEFER TO AMEMBASSY TEGUCIGALPA ON THE VERACITY OF THESE COMMENTS.)

"LEY DE CADUCIDAD"

6. DISCUSSION THEN TURNED TO HOW THE INSURGENTS, IF THE WAR ENDS, WOULD RETURN TO NORMAL LIFE. ARENALES, WHO ALONG WITH MARIO PERMUTH AND ERNESTO VITERI, IS DRAFTING LEGISLATION TO THIS END, RELATED HIS FOCUS IS ON A "LEY DE CADUCIDAD" (A PROSCRIPTION ON LEGAL ACTIONS). ARENALES RELATED THE DRAFT LAW, AS IT NOW STANDS, WOULD ALLOW CIVIL DAMAGE SUITS, THOUGH THIS COULD CHANGE BEFORE ITS PRESENTATION TO CONGRESS (FOLLOWING A CEASE-FIRE, HE THOUGHT).

7. ASKED HOW THE GOG WOULD PREVENT PERSONS SUCH AS MYRNA MACK KILLER BETETA FROM BEING RELEASED, ARENALES SAID IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO ARGUE THE MACK CASE IS THE "PROTOTYPICAL WAR-RELATED" CRIME, SINCE POLITICAL MOTIVES STOOD BEHIND IT. THE ONLY WAY AROUND THIS PROBLEM IS TO GIVE FINAL DETERMINATION OF WHAT CRIME FALLS UNDER THE AMNESTY TO EITHER A JUDGE OR THE PRESIDENT. SINCE A "POLITICAL DECISION" WOULD BE NEEDED IN SUCH CASES, ARENALES EXPECTS THE FINAL DRAFT TO GIVE SUCH DETERMINING POWER TO THE PRESIDENT.

AMBASSADOR WHITE

8. AS THE MEETING WAS CLOSING, ARENALES ASKED IF FORMER U.S. AMBASSADOR TO EL SALVADOR ROBERT WHITE WAS AN OFFICIAL "REPRESENTATIVE" OF JENNIFER HARBURY. POLOFF RESPONDED HE WAS UNSURE, BUT BELIEVED THAT WHITE, LIKE MANY OTHERS, WAS INTERESTED IN A JUST SOLUTION TO THE BARRACA CASE. POLOFF ALSO NOTED THAT WHITE'S TRIP WAS A PERSONAL ONE. ROSADA, WHO MET WITH WHITE ON FEBRUARY 23, SAID THE WAY TO END THIS CASE WAS TO IMMEDIATELY DO A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION. SECONDED BY ARENALES, ROSADA SAID HE HAD TOLD THE PRESIDENT AS MUCH.

FORWARD, WITH LITTLE EXPECTATION

9. ROSADA AND ARENALES GAVE LITTLE INDICATION THEY EXPECT A FINAL PEACE ACCORD THIS YEAR. THEIR DISAPPOINTMENT WITH THE UN WAS PALPABLE. NONETHELESS, THEY INTEND TO KEEP NEGOTIATING, HOPING TO BE PLEASANTLY SURPRISED AND UNDERSTANDING THE POLITICAL DOWNSIDE OF WALKING AWAY.

I. INTRODUCTION

Tens of thousands of Guatemalans have been forcibly "disappeared" by government forces over the past three decades, many of them civilians and some of them combatants. One of the fundamental tasks assumed by the government and guerrillas through the ongoing U.N.-mediated peace process is to end the impunity with which such crimes have been committed. In an agreement on the formation of a commission to study past human rights violations, signed in Oslo on June 23, 1994, the two sides acknowledged "the right of the Guatemalan people to know completely the truth about these events."[1] In a separate accord on human rights signed by the parties on March 29, 1994, they agreed on "the need for firm action against impunity."[2] In other words, the parties agreed that the truth about human rights violations should be exposed and those responsible should be brought to justice.

The disappearance of Efraín Bámaca Velásquez, a combatant with the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (URNG) who was captured by the army in March 1992, puts these solemn commitments to the test, a test which thus far, the government has failed. It is also a case which highlights the fundamental rights that any human being enjoys under both Guatemalan and international law, regardless of his status as a combatant in an armed conflict. While Bámaca's status as a combatant made him subject to investigation and prosecution under domestic law, it by no means gave the army license to secretly detain and "disappear" him.[3]

The facts of the Bámaca case open a window into the secretive world of clandestine army detention. The cover-up illustrates a well-established pattern, familiar to many Guatemalans who have sought legal redress for the disappearances of their loved ones. Also typical has been the harassment of Jennifer Harbury, Bámaca's North American wife, who has aggressively pursued the case in a high-profile confrontation with the government.

Fear of the army permeates the Guatemalan judicial system, rendering it dysfunctional in resolving disappearances. Habeas corpus petitions presented on behalf of the disappeared are handled mechanically, and investigations are routinely abandoned long before the truth is established. To this day, there has not been a single prosecution in a case of forced disappearance in Guatemala.[4] Over the years, the victims have included trade unionists, leftist political activists, students, teachers, peasants, and human rights activists, and many people suspected of having contacts or sympathizing with the guerrillas. Recently, information has surfaced regarding long-term clandestine detention of captured guerrilla combatants as well.

[3] The Guatemalan army appears unwilling to acknowledge the rights of combatants. In a television interview in November 1994, Defense Minister Gen. Mario Enríquez Morales criticized the media for giving the Bámaca case so much coverage: "...this is an attempt to turn someone who has committed atrocities in Guatemala into a martyr. He has kidnapped, he has extorted, he has demanded war taxes, he has killed, and he has crippled a whole lot of soldiers in the Guatemalan Army. He has done all sorts of things, he has blown up bridges, towers and so forth. Now they want to make a martyr out of him." (Teleonce, Foreign Broadcast Information Service (FBIS), Latin America, November 29, 1994, p. 27.) A similar perspective was voiced regarding a different case by Gen. Julio Balconi in an interview with Human Rights Watch/Americas in October 1993. Speaking of an ex-combatant allegedly responsible for violent abuses against the civilian population who was nearly lynched by civil patrollers in Todos Santos Cuchumatán in August 1993, Balconi said no one would be punished for beating and nearly killing the guerrilla because he had "lost" his rights when he joined the guerrilla movement. [See Human Rights Watch/Americas, Human Rights in Guatemala During President De León Carpio's First Year (New York: Human Rights Watch, 1994), pp. 47-48.]

[4] "Disappearance" is a euphemism for an arbitrary or illegal detention which is denied by the authorities. The term was first used to describe a practice employed massively in Guatemala in the 1960s, when many political opponents were kidnapped by government forces and never seen again. The technique was used systematically by military regimes in Argentina and Chile during the 1970s, in El Salvador and Honduras in the 1980s, and is used in Peru, Colombia, and Guatemala today. A common thread to the practice is the involvement of specialized, highly secret bodies within the military which, although directed through a clandestine chain of command, have the necessary credentials to prevent interference from public security forces. Victims are taken to secret detention centers where they are interrogated and tortured, beyond the reach of court inspections and controls. Often they are executed after interrogation and torture. (See Americas Watch, "Clandestine Detention in Guatemala," A Human Rights Watch Short Report, vol. V, no. 2, March 1993; and Juan E. Méndez and José Miguel Vivanco, "Disappearances and the Inter-American Court: Reflections on a Litigation Experience," Hamline Law Review, Summer 1990, vol. 13, no. 3, pp. 510-511.)

Guatemala's security forces engaged in massive disappearances beginning in the late 1960s and through a succession of military governments. The practice has persisted, albeit more selectively, since the army turned the government over to civilians in 1986. According to the Archbishop of Guatemala's Human Rights Office, in 1994, forty-one individuals were forcibly disappeared. Recent victims of disappearance are Lorenzo Quiej Pu, a member of the National Council of Displaced Guatemalans (CONDEG), who disappeared on January 12, 1994, in Guatemala City; Mario López Gabriel and Mariano Gómez Ramos, who disappeared in the village of Tuixiquel-Xemal on February 4, 1994; and José Sucunú Panjoj, an active member of the human rights group CERJ (Consejo de Comunidades Etnicas Runujel Junam), who disappeared on October 29, 1994.

Because Efraín Bámaca Velásquez married U.S. citizen Jennifer Harbury, and because Harbury in 1994 engaged in a dramatic thirty-two day hunger strike in front of the National Palace in Guatemala City, his disappearance has received an unprecedented level of attention from international media, generating tremendous pressure on Guatemalan and U.S. government officials to resolve the case. Nonetheless, as the text of this report shows, the Guatemalan authorities—with the exception of the human rights ombudsman, whose investigation is discussed below—have not undertaken the most basic steps of a serious investigation. Instead they have engaged in a series of legal maneuvers which give the appearance of activity, but do not run the risk of finding the truth. Nearly three years after his disappearance, the whereabouts of Efraín Bámaca Velásquez remain undisclosed.

Like Harbury, relatives of thousands of disappearance victims have pressed unsuccessfully on a series of civilian and military governments to account for the whereabouts of their loved ones. Although the Cerezo (1986-1991) and Serrano (1991-1993) governments went through the motions of setting up formal investigations, these efforts were superficial at best and profoundly disappointing to victims' relatives.[5]

This report is a result of a mission to Guatemala conducted from November 9-12, 1994, by Anne Manuel, Deputy Director of Human Rights Watch/Americas; Makau Mutua, Projects Director at the Harvard Law School Human Rights Program; Bernard Harcourt, a Harvard-educated lawyer and cousin of Jennifer Harbury; Kathryn Cameron Porter, spouse of Congressman John Porter (Republican-Illinois), Chairman of the Congressional Human Rights Caucus; and Craig Powers, aide to Congresswoman Connie Morella (Republican-Maryland). The delegation traveled to Coatepeque, four hours from Guatemala City, to witness the exhumation of bodies the government claimed might match Bámaca. Delegation members met with Guatemalan officials, including Attorney General Acisclo Valladares, and with U.S. Amb. Marilyn McAfee and other ranking U.S. Embassy officials. This report was written by Makau Mutua, Bernard Harcourt and Anne Manuel, and edited by Manuel.

II. THE DISAPPEARANCE OF EFRAÍN BÁMACA VELÁSQUEZ

Efraín Bámaca Velásquez, a Mam Indian, was born on the Finca El Tablero in the San Marcos region of Guatemala in 1957 and grew up on a coffee plantation on the southwest coast of Guatemala. At eighteen, he joined the guerrillas seeking the overthrow of the Guatemalan government.[6] By 1990, Bámaca, alias Everardo, had risen to the rank of commander of the "Luis Ixmata" front of the Organización Revolucionaria del Pueblo en Armas (ORPA), one of the four guerrilla groups which today form the URNG.[7]

[7] Affidavit of Jennifer Kristina Harbury, October 4, 1994, p. 2 (hereinafter Harbury Affidavit).

Bámaca and Harbury met while she was researching the insurgency for a book. They married in Texas in September 1991, and Bámaca returned to combat in Guatemala in January 1992.[8] On March 12, 1992, he vanished following a firefight with the army at the Ixcucúa River, in the hamlet of Montúfar, near Nuevo San Carlos. Retalhuleu, in western Guatemala. Bámaca was apparently the only combatant missing after this engagement.

On April 24, 1992, the URNG wrote to Ramiro de León Carpio, who at that time was the Serrano government's human rights ombudsman, about Bámaca's disappearance. The letter notes that the military had publicly stated, and the press repeated, that an unidentified guerrilla had fallen in combat in Montúfar on March 12. The URNG also reports that a body which supposedly belonged to the fallen guerrilla was buried in the cemetery in the city of Retalhuleu shortly after the confrontation. Other versions, the letter noted, suggest that the army had captured a live guerrilla commander during the firefight and was detaining him secretly, torturing him to elicit information. The letter gave a terse physical description of Bámaca, including his height, eye color, and complexion (described simply as morena, or dark).

On May 11, 1992, Ombudsman de León Carpio wrote back to the URNG, giving a detailed description of a body found in Montúfar on March 13, including what it was wearing, its weapons and ammunition. The deceased "supposedly...shot himself in the mouth," the letter stated. According to Harbury, the physical description contained in de León Carpio's letter corresponded with her husband's characteristics.

The URNG then pressed for an exhumation of the body buried in Retalhuleu to determine whether or not it was Bámaca. The URNG also requested forensic photographs of the guerrilla found dead at Montúfar, to which the army responded—according to Harbury—that none had been taken. An exhumation set for May 20, 1992 was interrupted by then-Attorney General Acisclo Valladares, who protested that the proceeding had not been authorized by his office.[9] For more than a year after the interrupted exhumation, the government was able to insist that Bámaca had shot himself and been buried in Retalhuleu.

Evidence that Bámaca was Held Alive

In late December 1992, a guerrilla from Bámaca's unit, who had been captured and held in secret detention by the army for twenty-two months, escaped and provided written testimony about his ordeal to the United Nations Human Rights Commission in Geneva. Santiago Cabrera López, alias Carlos, also reported having seen Bámaca repeatedly, detained and apparently suffering the effects of torture. Cabrera says he last saw Bámaca around July 24 or 25, 1992.[10]

In an interview with Human Rights Watch/Americas, and in a sworn affidavit, Cabrera stated that he and another combatant, Anastasia López Calvo, were captured on March 8, 1991. Both were beaten and severely tortured by officers who demanded information about the URNG. Sometimes in front of his companion, and sometimes alone, Cabrera was beaten with bricks and kicked; soldiers tied a grenade to his face and took off the safety, and applied electric shocks to his legs and testicles. During his twenty-two months of captivity, he was held in a variety of stockades and military bases, in places such as San Pablo and Esquipulas Palo Gordo, in the department of San Marcos, and the San Marcos military zone No. 18, as well as the Santa Ana Berlín military base in Coatepeque, in the department of Quezaltenango. During the early weeks, he told Human Rights Watch/Americas, he and López Calvo were held for days on end in a hole under the ground. In between long periods of interrogation and torture, Cabrera was on several occasions taken to the sites of recent combat or to other barracks to identify captured or slain combatants.

In early 1994, under a broad judicial sector reform, the office of the attorney general was split into two separate functions: the attorney general's office (headed by Procurador General Acisclo Valladares) and the Public Ministry, headed by a prosecutor general (Fiscal General Ramsés Cuestas). As attorney general, Valladares serves as the legal advisor to the president, the legislature, the courts, the Public Ministry and the municipal governments. The prosecutor general is in charge of criminal prosecutions.

[10] Human Rights Watch/Americas interviewed Santiago Cabrera López in Washington on October 5, 1994. Although we were unable to independently verify the information he provided, we found his testimony credible and consistent with existing evidence about clandestine army detention and the use of torture to obtain information. Our account also draws on an affidavit Cabrera López wrote describing his experiences in clandestine detention (hereinafter Cabrera Affidavit, Washington, D.C., October 7, 1994).

On March 12, 1992, while at the Santa Ana Berlín military base, Cabrera has testified, he heard military intelligence officers comment that they had captured Bámaca in combat in Nuevo San Carlos, Retalhuleu.[11] That day, Cabrera said, he "saw Everardo [Bámaca], with my own eyes, lying on a metal bed, with his hands chained and his feet boundwith a rope." Cabrera claimed to have seen Bámaca repeatedly over the next twenty days at Santa Ana Berlín. According to him, Bámaca was kept under interrogation "day and night." In late May, 1992, Cabrera and other prisoners were told that Bámaca was killed attempting to escape and warned never to speak of him.[12]

Cabrera asserted he saw Bámaca again in July 1992, this time at the San Marcos military base No. 18, in the infirmary, with both hands chained and his feet tied to a metal bed. The next day, Cabrera saw Bámaca being interrogated. According to Cabrera:

> Everardo sounded sleepy or drugged. He had only his underwear on. His whole body was extremely swollen. His right arm and his left leg were completely bandaged. His eyes were bandaged as well. Next to him was [a] tank of gas.[13]

A few days later, Cabrera saw Bámaca again. "He was dressed in an army uniform and I could not see his arm or his leg. But his body was no longer swollen. His voice was normal again."[14] That was the last time Cabrera saw Bámaca.

Cabrera escaped to Mexico on December 22, 1992. He has also provided information about thirty-five other URNG combatants who, he says, were held in clandestine detention, like Bámaca, during this period. Practically all are still missing to date. Anastasia López Calvo, who Cabrera says was captured with him, remains in the hands of the army, although in a December 1994 interview with the local office of the human rights ombudsman in San Marcos she stated that she and Cabrera had voluntarily turned themselves in to the army and had been well-treated.[15]

Another combatant, Jaime Adalberto Augustín Recinos, escaped from what he asserted to be clandestine military detention at approximately the same time as Cabrera, although he was allegedly held at different military bases, including

López Calvo's situation appears to be similar to that of a number of guerrillas who were captured by the army and then forced to publicly declare that they have been well-treated and joined the army of their own free will. Some of these ex-combatants have remained with the army as collaborators for years. (See Americas Watch, "Clandestine Detention in Guatemala.") In her statement to the ombudsman, López Calvo says that one month and fifteen days after she turned herself in to the army, she was allowed to leave and visit her family. those in Santa Lucía Cotzumalguapa, Mazatenango, Chimaltenango, and the Mobile Military Police and military intelligence headquarters in Guatemala City. While being held in the military intelligence headquarters in August 1992, Recinos has stated, an officer told him that Bámaca was being held alive in San Marcos.[16] The government has discounted the assertions of the two combatants on the grounds that they have not presented their charges before a judge in Guatemala.[17]

Various other sightings of Bámaca since his capture have been reported. Bámaca was seen alive in August 1993, according to a reporter with the Guatemalan daily Prensa Libre, who interviewed witnesses in the village of El Tumbador, San Marcos, where Bámaca grew up. Several residents, interviewed separately, told the reporter they saw Bámaca brought to the village by two soldiers. He was dressed in an army uniform, but had no weapons. In addition, the reporter claimed to have received previous information from a confidential military source that Bámaca was held in military custody in base No. 18 in San Marcos.[18]

Jennifer Harbury has reported that many individuals approached her in Guatemala in 1994, including a military officer, to tell her they had seen her husband alive in the hands of the army. While reports of this nature proliferate, we are unaware of any accounts that Bámaca has been killed, except for the government's version.

On November 6, 1994, the U.S. television network CBS broadcast a segment of its "60 Minutes" program focusing on the Bámaca case and citing confidential sources that "The CIA had reported they had been told by a source in the Guatemalan army that Everardo was alive after Jennifer [Harbury] was notified he had died in combat. . ."[19] The "60 Minutes" broadcast, and the suggestion that the United States had hidden information about the case from Harbury, prompted intense criticism of the Clinton administration, including a lead editorial in the New York Times excoriating U.S. officials for failing to take up publicly Harbury's demands for the return of her husband, dead or alive.[20] (U.S. policy on this case is discussed further below.)

In response to this pressure, the U.S. State Department broke its silence on the case on November 14, for the first time publicly holding the army responsible for Bámaca's disappearance. State Department spokeswoman Christine Shelly told reporters at the daily briefing:

> . . . [W]e have concluded that Efraín Bámaca was taken alive by the army in March 1992. We believe that he had been wounded, but that his injuries were not believed to be life-threatening. We have no information to indicate that he was alive much beyond the first few weeks after his capture, but in our efforts to try to get a better accounting and information on this, we of course have always proceeded on the assumption that he could be alive, and that has been a governing factor for us in terms of trying to get information about the case.[21]

III. INVESTIGATIONS

This evidence notwithstanding, the Guatemalan army and government have consistently maintained that Bámaca has never been in military custody. "As far as I am concerned," Defense Minister Enríquez told Guatemala's Teleonce newscast in November 1994, "he died in that clash," referring to the firefight between the army and guerrillas on March 12, 1992. "I know he is dead," Enríquez repeated.[22]

As international pressure to solve the case mounted, particularly during 1994, the government multiplied investigations, giving the appearance of intense activity. None of these investigations, however, with the exception of that carried out by the human rights ombudsman after Harbury completed a thirty-two-day hunger strike, appeared designed to discover the truth.

A. Initial Examinations

On March 13, 1992, the day after the firefight in which Bámaca disappeared, the Guatemalan army announced that its forces had discovered a body in olive green uniform at the Ixcucúa River after an engagement with URNG forces.[23] The army stated that the body had been sent to Retalhuleu for autopsy and burial.[24]

Prior to the autopsy, a justice of the peace had visited the scene where the cadaver was found. His report described the body on the banks of the Ixcucúa River as follows:

> ...dark complexion, round face, wide forehead, coffee-colored eyes closed, thick eyebrows, flat nose, large mouth, thick lips, straight black hair, shaven moustache, no beard, no moles or scars, height approximately one meter and sixty centimeters, strong features, age approximately thirty years. ...Injuries: bullet wounds, firearms in the head and the back at the level of the waist and spine, cranium destroyed.[25]

According to Harbury, the description in the report matched her husband excepting the absence of scars and moles. Bámaca had many scars on his body and face from his years of combat.[26] However, the autopsy performed by the official Retalhuleu forensic doctor on the body once it was brought from the Ixcucúa River on March 13, 1992, offered an entirely different description:

Sergio Virgilio Orozco Orozco, transcribed before Notary Antonio Argueta Beltrán, August 23, 1993, Retalhuleu. (Human Rights Watch/Americas translation)

[26] Harbury Affidavit, p. 8.

...a medicolegal examination (necropsia) was performed on the cadaver of an unidentified man, apparently about twenty-five years old, light brown skin, slanted eyes, thin moustache, no beard, straight black hair, 1.55 meters tall....[27]

The wounds were also reportedly different from those described by the justice of the peace on what was supposed to be the same body. The autopsy listed the cause of death as "asphyxia by strangulation" and fourth-degree contusions. It also noted "broad laceration and multiple bone fractures of the cranium and face," a "deep traumatic groove" circling the neck, stab wounds in and around the left clavicle, a "firearm entrance wound in the right pectoral region," an "irregular slash wound about five centimeters long" on the right nostril, and a "broad perforation of the colon." The report also noted that the hands were stained with black ink.[28]

Harbury has surmised from these anomalies that the justice of the peace did not personally record the description of the body found at the Ixcucúa River. "Obviously the Juez de Paz [justice of the peace] never saw my husband's body out there at the Río Ixcucúa at all. Instead he saw a different cadaver in olive green, and was given a pre-written description by the army to sign and file with the courts," she stated in a sworn affidavit. Harbury added that journalists who were present that day were not allowed to approach the body or photograph the face, but instead were provided with an official version of what had been found by soldiers present.[29]

Two and a half years later, Attorney General Acisclo Valladares admitted to our delegation that explaining the discrepancy between the justice of the peace's report and that of the forensic doctor is "the key" to the case. He called the governmental investigations "deficient" in failing to address this discrepancy. Valladares acknowledged the possibility that the army had captured Bámaca alive and provided the justice of the peace with a falsified description of a body which matched Bámaca in order to stifle questions about his whereabouts. Or, he suggested, either the justice of the peace or the forensic doctor was not skilled at writing descriptions of bodies.[30]

The differences, however, could hardly be more striking. The body buried in Retalhuleu was younger and shorter than that described by the justice of the peace, and with different facial features. It also bore evidence of injuries which suggested torture and custody, conditions that did not match the army's explanation of Bámaca's alleged demise. The discrepancy between the description of the cadaver in the report of the justice of the peace and the actual body autopsied on the same day, March 13, 1992, remains unresolved.

As described above, in April and May 1992 the URNG exchanged letters with then-Ombudsman Ramiro de León Carpio, who provided a description of the body essentially identical to that found in the justice of the peace report. Since becoming president of Guatemala in June 1993, de León Carpio has refused several requests to meet with Harbury or with

B. First Exhumation

As noted above, an exhumation of the body buried in Retalhuleu after the firefight at the Ixcucúa River was scheduled by the office of the human rights ombudsman for May 20, 1992, at the request of the URNG. Jennifer Harbury traveled to Guatemala to attend the exhumation, but did not publicly identify herself as Bámaca's wife out of fear for her safety. Harbury spoke privately with de León Carpio—at that time the human rights ombudsman—the night before the exhumation and traveled to Retalhuleu with de Leon's forensic specialist, Leonel Gómez.

In Retalhuleu, Harbury, Gómez, and other observers went to the cemetery where an unidentified cadaver was about to be exhumed.[32] The exhumation was brought to an abrupt halt, however, by Attorney General Valladares, who personally traveled the 186-kilometer journey from Guatemala City to Retalhuleu to interrupt the proceedings. According to Valladares, the local prosecutor from Retalhuleu had told him that the ombudsman had organized the exhumation even though there would be no one present who could identify the body. When asked why he personally traveled to Retalhuleu, instead of ordering his local representative to act in his place, Valladares told our delegation that he did many unusual things during his tenure as attorney general.[33]

In July 1993, Harbury returned to Guatemala and herself filed in court for the exhumation of the body buried in the Retalhuleu cemetery.[34] On August 17, 1993, the court-ordered exhumation finally took place.

Among those present at the exhumation were the Retalhuleu judge who had previously ordered the exhumation; the Retalhuleu forensic expert who had performed the official autopsy on March 13, 1992; Dr. Michael Charney, an independent forensic doctor retained by Harbury; Janet Hawkins, an associate editor of Harvard Magazine; representatives from the United States Embassy, the Guatemalan Public Ministry and the Department of Health; and Harbury.[35]

After several bodies had been exhumed, the Retalhuleu forensic doctor identified the one he had autopsied on March 13, 1992, and allowed Dr. Charney to examine it. He determined the body to be that of an eighteen- to twenty-year-old male. The upper front teeth were capped in metal. Bámaca, thirty-five at the time of his disappearance, did not have metal caps on his front teeth.[36]

---

[31] Human Rights Watch/Americas has traveled to Guatemala four times during President De León Carpio's presidency. Each time we have formally requested a meeting with the president to discuss human rights issues. On three of these occasions, our request was denied. In September 1994, a meeting with the president was scheduled by the Foreign Ministry, but cancelled at the last minute by COPREDEH, the executive branch human rights agency.

[32] Harbury Affidavit, pp. 4, 9.

[33] Valladares was named attorney general by President Jorge Serrano Elías in January 1991 and impeached in October 1992 by the Congress, on charges of corruption for which he was later cleared. He was named attorney general again under the current administration in 1994.

[36] Hawkins, "Confronting a Culture of Lies," pp. 50, 52; and Harbury Affidavit, p. 10.

Following this exhumation, Harbury met with the Guatemalan minister of defense, General Enríquez, in August 1993 and in January and May 1994. While General Enríquez stated at one point that he was ordering a search for Bámaca, he maintained throughout that the army had never captured him.[37] Guatemalan military officials have at times suggested that Bámaca killed himself to avoid being captured, became a Zapatista guerrilla in the Mexican state of Chiapas, or undertook a secret URNG mission that he did not disclose to Harbury. They have also suggested that the URNG switched the bodies in the Retalhuleu cemetery, although this would not explain the discrepancy between the justice of the peace's description of the body and that provided by the original forensic doctor on the body presented for autopsy.[38]

C. The Special Commission

On October 11, 1994, Harbury began a hunger strike in front of the National Palace in Guatemala City, an action which would last thirty-two days. The flood of press attention that her action provoked put unprecedented pressure on both the U.S. and Guatemalan governments to resolve the case. On October 27, President de León Carpio announced the establishment of a special commission headed by Guatemala's ambassador to the OAS, César Alvarez Guadamuz, to "investigate and elucidate the cases of Efraín Bámaca Velásquez and the alleged existence of clandestine prisons in Guatemala that some groups claim exist."[39] This commission does not appear to have taken any action to date.

D. Second Exhumation

On Thursday, November 3, 1994, Harbury—while attending a hearing on her case before the Supreme Court in Guatemala City—was notified by a public prosecutor that the next morning in Coatepeque there would be an exhumation of two bodies, one of which might be her husband's. Harbury objected to the exhumation, on the grounds that the bodies in question—according to court records—had been interred ten days before Bámaca's disappearance and in a different location. Nonetheless, Harbury traveled the 214 kilometers to Coatepeque, and there filed for postponement. The exhumation was rescheduled for November 10.

Predictably, the November 10 exhumation did not yield Bámaca's body. Instead, it produced the remains of two younger men who had been shot in the back and side of the head.[40] When Human Rights Watch/Americas sought to determine who had ordered the futile exercise, officials scrambled to avoid taking responsibility. Attorney Leonel Machuca, the Guatemala City-based prosecutor from the Public Ministry assigned to the case, stated emphatically to our delegation that the Supreme Court ordered the exhumation as part of a special investigation requested by Attorney General

Valladares.[41] Valladares, on the other hand, insisted to us that Machuca requested the exhumation as part of the Public Ministry's investigation.[42]

E. The Ombudsman's Investigation

On June 2, 1994—in response, he told our delegation, to a letter from Amnesty International about Bámaca's disappearance—Attorney General Valladares filed a habeas corpus action with the Supreme Court naming as defendants the president, minister of defense, minister of the interior, and all military or civilian authorities who could be involved in Bámaca's disappearance. According to Valladares, the Supreme Court ordered all the judges in the country to make unannounced visits to all the military bases within their jurisdictions to find Bámaca, which, he claims, was done. On September 1, 1994, the Supreme Court dismissed the habeas corpus action, finding that there was no evidence Bámaca had been detained. No attempt was made to interview military officers accused of detaining and torturing Bámaca, nor those who participated in the firefight in which Bámaca disappeared. Nor did the court investigate the complete mismatch between the report of the justice of the peace and the body autopsied in Retalhuleu.[43]

Following the dismissal of the habeas corpus action, Valladares petitioned the Supreme Court for a "special proceeding," a new kind of investigation permitted under the new criminal procedures code implemented on July 1, 1994.[44] Under the new code, the Supreme Court can order a special investigation if there is reason to believe that an individual has been detained, even after a habeas corpus action has been dismissed. The investigation can be carried out by either the human rights ombudsman, a non-governmental organization legally incorporated in Guatemala, or the spouse or relatives of the victim. During the week of November 7, 1994, the Supreme Court ordered the special proceeding and turned the investigation over to Human Rights Ombudsman Jorge Mario García Laguardia, directing him to file a report by December 9, 1994.[45] This procedure in no way substitutes for the obligation on the part of the Public Ministry to investigate Bámaca's disappearance, Valladares acknowledged in our interview.

García Laguardia quickly made clear that he disagreed with his designation as investigator and that his first action in the case would be to challenge the constitutionality of the special procedure with the Constitutional Court, on the grounds that criminal or judicial investigations are not the role of his office.[46] Despite his objections and time constraints on his investigation, the ombudsman's inquiry was the first serious effort to locate Bámaca.

The ombudsman appealed for assistance to the newly installed United Nations human rights verification mission (known as MINUGUA), and MINUGUA members accompanied the ombudsmen's staff throughout the investigation. In addition to visiting numerous military bases and police stations to search for Bámaca, the ombudsman's investigators interviewed military officers named as responsible for Bámaca's detention and torture by Santiago Cabrera López, the [45] Valladares interview. Valladares stated that the Supreme Court did not choose Jennifer Harbury to lead the special proceedings because she had not proved to the court's satisfaction that she was married to Bámaca. Although Harbury presented a Texas marriage certificate, proof of marriage in Guatemala is a person's birth certificate, Valladares said, and Bámaca's birth certificate still identifies him as single.

guerrilla who escaped army detention. As noted above, they also interviewed Anastasia Lopez Calvo, a guerrilla who has remained in army hands since her capture in 1991.

During the inspection of the Mariscal Zavala military base in Guatemala City by the ombudsman's staff, a soldier, when shown a photograph of Bámaca, said he recognized him as having been detained in the base two weeks earlier. The soldier, Carlos Alfredo Yupe, reported that the detainee he had seen walked with a limp because of an injury to his right leg. A military officer then showed the ombudsman's team the registry of soldiers detained at the base and suggested that the person Yupe was referring to was a soldier named Ernesto Guzmán Calderón, who had since been transferred to the military base in Puerto Barrios. At the ombudsman's office's request, two soldiers—Guzmán Calderón and another identified as Amadeo Sánchez—were then brought to the capital from Puerto Barrios and presented to Yupe, who declared that indeed they were the ones he had remembered seeing. Neither, according to the ombudsman, matched the photograph of Efraín Bámaca.[47]

The military officers interviewed by the ombudsman's investigators all denied any knowledge of Bámaca's capture or demise, although three of them said that they knew "soldier" Santiago Cabrera López—the guerrilla who escaped army clandestine detention in 1992 and named the officers as Bámaca's torturers.[48]

The ombudsman's investigation failed to address the most obvious anomaly of the case—the dramatic discrepancy between the justice of the peace description of the body allegedly found at the scene of the battle on March 12, 1992, and the forensic doctor's description of the body brought from the battle to Retalhuleu the next day. The ombudsman's office formally requested the secretary of the Supreme Court to report whether or not the justice of the peace Sergio Virgilio Orozco Orozco and his secretary, Gustavo Adolfo Maldonado de León, still worked for the judiciary and if so, in what capacity. The Supreme Court had not responded to the request by the time the ombudsman's report had to be filed, a little more than a week later.[49]

The ombudsman's investigation demonstrated how difficult it is in Guatemala for civilian investigators to find any traces of someone whose fate the army is determined to hide. The army's refusal to acknowledge Bámaca's capture, and its insistence that Bámaca died in the firefight of March 12, 1992, despite all evidence to the contrary, has thus far proved an insurmountable obstacle to investigators. Despite these difficulties, the Public Ministry has the legal obligation to investigate and resolve the disappearance of Efraín Bámaca.

F. Attorney General Sues Jennifer Harbury

In late November, 1994, Attorney General Valladares filed a civil complaint against Jennifer Harbury under a rarely used article of the Civil Code called jactancia. The complaint was based on a press report quoting Harbury as threatening to file criminal charges against the military for the disappearance of her husband. Were the jactancia case to proceed, Harbury would be given fifteen days in which to file charges, or cease alleging criminal conduct by the army. On December 2, 1994, the court prohibited Harbury from leaving the country in connection with the suit. This prohibition was lifted, however, ten days later, and on January 25, 1995, the judge ruled that he did not have jurisdiction over the case because jactancia applies only to cases involving property disputes. Because the Civil Procedures Code makes this clear in its Article 225, the attorney general's action appeared to be simple harassment and an attempt to stifle Harbury's freedom of expression.

Also in November, Harbury was threatened with death in a written communiqué signed by the so-called Anticommunist Patriotic Union (Unidad Patriótica Anti-Comunista), and delivered to the Guatemalan newspaper El Gráfico. The communiqué listed eight people "who should be eliminated completely," with Harbury topping the list. Such death lists are a common form of intimidation widely believed to originate with the security forces, who employ fictitious names such as Anticommunist Patriotic Union to appear independent.

IV. THE ROLE OF THE UNITED STATES

The Clinton administration, and especially its Ambassador in Guatemala, Marilyn McAfee, made early efforts to help Harbury by raising her case privately with Guatemalan officials, including Defense Minister Enriquez, and by facilitating her access to those officials. The fact that Enriquez agreed during discussions in 1993 to investigate the case, while denying responsibility for the disappearance, initially seemed encouraging, U.S. officials told Human Rights Watch/Americas at the time.

However, as months passed without any serious governmental efforts to resolve the case, and as Harbury raised the public visibility of her search by launching her 1994 hunger strike, pressure built on the Clinton administration to take up her case publicly. Quiet diplomacy had clearly failed.

Nonetheless, the administration was reluctant to openly criticize the Guatemalan government. State Department officials emphasized the delicacy attached to U.S. participation—together with Norway, Spain, Mexico, Venezuela, and Colombia—in the Group of Friends of the U.N.-mediated peace talks for Guatemala. According to these officials, the Group of Friends had agreed not to make public comments which could affect the talks. Human Rights Watch/Americas has insisted that the administration ought not bite its tongue on human rights cases, as if protesting such abuses would somehow make the U.S. appear partial in its diplomatic efforts. Indeed, public criticism of human rights violations and laws of war violations as they occur, by either government forces or guerrillas, would send a clear message that compliance with international human rights standards is a vital ingredient of a stable peace accord. For example, during the critical months after the government and guerrillas signed a human rights agreement in March 1994, the Clinton administration avoided comment on human rights in Guatemala, even as the government and guerrillas were blatantly violating the accord they had just signed. Public criticism would have pressured both parties to take seriously the commitments they had made.

The Clinton administration's public silence on the Bámaca case provoked intense criticism in the U.S. as the case became well known. In particular, the allegations in a "60 Minutes" broadcast that the CIA possessed information that Bámaca had been captured alive, but had not provided that information to Harbury, prodded the administration to break its silence. And on November 9, 1994, the lead editorial in the New York Times criticized U.S. Amb. Marilyn McAfee and Richard Nuccio, an advisor to Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs Alexander Watson, for not publicly supporting Harbury's efforts. On November 10, 1994, Ambassador McAfee delivered a formal démarche to President de León Carpio, which was followed by a public comment at the State Department on November 14. In both instances, the U.S. affirmed that the army had taken Bámaca alive, with superficial wounds, in March 1992, and that he had been held alive for at least several weeks thereafter. U.S. officials repeated the démarche in early February, making clear that the government of Guatemala can and should explain what became of Bámaca.

The Clinton administration has resisted pressure to attach some form of sanction to the Guatemalan government's failure to explain Bámaca's whereabouts. U.S. officials considered canceling a previously scheduled joint civic action between U.S. National Guard units and the Guatemalan army called "Fuertes Caminos", but then went ahead with the program.

Nearly four months have passed since Ambassador McAfee's original démarche to President de León Carpio, and the government still refuses to provide an accounting of Bámaca's whereabouts. The Clinton administration should reiterate publicly its insistence that answers be provided and should attach clear conditions, such as the suspension of any further joint programs with the Guatemalan army, both National Guard exercises and U.S. military training for the Guatemalan army, until the army can—at a minimum—provide a credible explanation of what became of Efrain Bámaca after his capture. Washington should insist that if Bámaca is still alive, he should be produced immediately and either released or turned over to the appropriate court for investigation and prosecution. Whether he is alive or dead, those responsible for his secret detention and torture should be presented to civilian courts for prosecution and punishment, in keeping with the government's commitment in the March 29, 1994 human rights accord to end impunity and severely punish those responsible for disappearances.

V. CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Conclusions

♦ Efrain Bámaca Velásquez, a URNG commander, was captured and forcibly disappeared by the Guatemalan army on March 12, 1992. To cover up the disappearance, the body of an unknown man was delivered to the morgue in Retalhuleu for autopsy and burial. Bámaca's current whereabouts are unknown, except by those in the army responsible for his secret detention and possible murder.

♦ The Guatemalan authorities have been unable or unwilling to account for the whereabouts of tens of thousands of victims of disappearances; although this cruel practice has become more rare in recent years, it continues to be used by the authorities with impunity.

♦ With the exception of the investigation undertaken by the human rights ombudsman, all other governmental inquiries into the Bámaca case have given the appearance of activity, without running the risk of finding the truth. The failure of the ombudsman's investigation to determine Bámaca's whereabouts demonstrates how difficult it is for civilian investigators to find any traces of someone whose fate the army is determined to hide.

Recommendations

♦ The Public Ministry, which is legally responsible for investigating Bámaca's disappearance, should press the army to explain what became of Bámaca after his capture on March 12, 1992. Investigators should find the explanation for the discrepancy between the justice of the peace's initial description of the body allegedly found at the sight of the combat, a description later repeated by then-Ombudsman Ramiro de León Carpio, and the body autopsied and buried the next day in Retalhuleu. Soldiers and officers involved in the firefight on March 12, as well as those on duty at the Santa Ana Berlin military base, should be closely questioned about the case.

♦ MINUGUA, the United Nations human rights verification mission, should continue to study the case carefully and to monitor and report on the Guatemalan authorities' investigation.

♦ The Clinton administration should continue to press the Guatemalan government to produce Bámaca and to explain what became of him after his capture. The administration should insist that those responsible for Bámaca's secret detention and torture be presented to civilian courts for prosecution and punishment. Absent genuine progress in the case, Washington should curtail programs involving the Guatemalan army, such as joint civic action programs and military training. Should these measures prove ineffective, the administration should seriously consider additional sanctions.

PREVIOUSLY REPORTED AS A SOURCE OF COUNTERFEIT MEDICAL REPORTS. HER TELEPHONE BILLS TIE HER TO A PROMINENT US ADOPTION FACILITATOR. END SUMMARY.

2. ACCORDING TO PRESS REPORTS, BELGIAN POLICE ARRESTED FRANCISCO NIEVES DIAZ BARRETO (OF URUGUAY) AND NOEMI RECALDE DE DIAZ(PARAGUAYAN) FOR "BABY TRAFFICKING" ON FEBRUARY 2, 1995. ALSO REPORTED ARRESTED WERE THREE "PURCHASERS FROM ISRAEL."

3. THIS LED TO THE ARREST OF TWO PARAGUAYANS IN THE ASUNCION SUBURB OF FERNANDO DE LA MORA, MARIO ROBERTO GOMEZ AND LUCY ASUNCION FRANCO AGUILERA. GOMEZ HAD PREVIOUSLY BEEN CHARGED WITH BABY TRAFFICKING OFFENSES IN PARAGUAY AND HIS SISTER, VIRINA GOMEZ, WAS ARRESTED IN SAO PAULO IN 1992 FOR HAVING AN UNDOCUMENTED BABY IN HER POSSESSION. ON FEB 27, POLICE SEARCHED GOMEZ' HOUSE AND FOUND BLANK PARGUAYAN BIRTH CERTIFICATES AND GOP SEALS AND STAMPS.

4. IN BRUSSELS, IN DIAZ' POCKET, BELGIAN POLICE FOUND THE BUSINESS CARD FOR A PROFESSIONAL PARAGUAYAN MID-WIFE NAMED MARIA TERESA AUADA DE PIRIS. PARAGUAYAN POLICE SEARCHED HER HOUSE AND ARRESTED HER. IN HER HOUSE THEY FOUND BOTH BLANK (BUT WITH ALL THE CORRECT SEALS AND STAMPS) AND ALTERED BIRTH CERTIFICATES (SOME FROM CIVIL REGISTRY NO. 2, LONG ALLEGED TO BE A SOURCE OF ILLEGAL DOCUMENTS), COPIES OF VARIOUS ALTERED ADOPTION DECREES, ACCOUNTS OF MONEY PAID TO VARIOUS LAWYERS AND A GOVERNMENT ATTORNEY (ROCQUE MINARRO, ALREADY ALLEGED TO BE CORRUPT) IN THE ADOPTION COURT, AND MORE OF THE COUNTERFEIT MEDICAL EXAMS AND LAB REPORTS ON WHICH WE REPORTED IN REF A. ON FEBRUARY 27, THE PRESS REPORTED, THAT THE MIDWIFE'S HUSBAND, PELAGIO PIRIS VERA, WAS ARRESTED WHILE HIDING OUT WITH AN UNDOCUMENTED FOUR MONTH OLD BABY.

5. POLICE ALSO FOUND SEVERAL MONTHS OVERDUE TELEPHONE BILLS (595-21-507-353). MOST OF THE TELEPHONE CALLS WERE TO BRAZIL, ARGENTINA, AND ISRAEL (PLUS ANOTHER ISRAELI NUMBER ON A SEPARATE NOTE). THE BILLS ALSO SHOWED TWO MINNESOTA TELEPHONE NUMBERS, ONE OF THEM BELONGING TO THE MINNESOTA BASED DAWN BONN ADOPTION AGENCY.

6. THE ISRAELI TELEPHONE NUMBERS ARE:

972-349-0946 AND ON A SEPARATE HANDWRITTEN SHEET, "FLIO, BANDER, HAGOLAN 126 TELAVIT (SIC) 69271, ISRAEL." LOCAL NEWS ARTICLES STATE THAT THE PAIR, ARRESTED IN BRUSSELS, HAVE NAMED ANOTHER CONTACT IN ISRAEL, ALISA SALOMAN. IN FACT, IN A 1991 BABY TRAFFICKING CASE, ALISA SOLOMAN WAS DESCRIBED AS AN ATTORNEY LIVING AT 80 HAGOLAN ST, TEL AVIV. HIS TELEPHONE NUMBERS, FOUND IN A 1991 ARRESTEE'S POCKET, WERE: HOME, 03-490946 (SAME AS THE ABOVE TELEPHONE BILL), OFFICE, 03-544618, 475696, FAX 03-5446168.

7. THE ARGENTINE NUMBERS CALLED ARE:
541-804-9289 WHERE A MESSAGE SAID, "IF YOU CALLED ABOUT THE AD, LEAVE YOUR NAME AND NUMBER."
541-334-9061 WAS THE HOTEL ASTURIAS.

8. THE BRAZILIAN NUMBERS ON THE TELEPHONE BILLS ARE:

(COMMENT: OUR GUESS IS THAT PEOPLE WERE WAITING IN THE HOTELS TO EITHER PICK UP OR DROP OFF INFANTS. SEVERAL OF THE PREVIOUS ISRAELI CASES INVOLVED SMUGGLING INFANTS USING ALTERED BRAZILIAN PASSPORTS.)

9. MEANWHILE, ON FEBRUARY 9, 1995, PARAGUAYAN POLICE ARRESTED ROSAURA BENITEZ IN THE ACT OF STEALING A BABY. SHE ACTUALLY CONFESSED TO STEALING TEN BABIES INCLUDING TWO FROM THE HOSPITAL DE OBREROS (REF A). ACCOMPANIED BY THE POLICE, SHE WENT TO DELIVER THE BABY TO INEZ VIUDA DE SOTO WHO ALLEGEDLY SMUGGLED PREVIOUS KIDNAPPED BABIES INTO ARGENTINA. DE SOTO ALLEGEDLY PAID BENITEZ $250 PER KIDNAPPING. THERE APPEARS TO BE NO CONNECTION BETWEEN HER AND THE BRUSSELS COUPLE. DE SOTO WAS BAILED OUT BY THE SAME ATTORNEY, CARLA RIVAROLA, WHO BAILED OUT THE CHILDNAPPERS IN TWO OF THE PREVIOUSLY REPORTED CASES (REFS B AND C). LIKE

THE PREVIOUS CASES, THE LOW LEVEL ARRESTEES, GOMEZ,FRANCO,AND BENITEZ WERE LEFT IN JAIL.

10. FOR RIO, SAO PAULO, BUENOS AIRES: WE WOULD BE INTERESTED IN ANY REPORTS OF CROSS BORDER KIDNAPPING OF BABIES LINKED TO THIS CASE, OF WHICH YOU ARE AWARE.

11. FOR TEL AVIV: ISRAELI INVOLVMENT IN BABY TRAFFICKING HAS RECEIVED CONSIDERABLE PRESS HERE. DO YOU HAVE ANY FURTHER INFORMATION?

12. FOR BRUSSELS. WE WOULD BE INTERESTED IN ANY DEVELOPMENTS YOU MAY PICK UP ON THE DIAZ CASE.

2. THE FOLLOWING IS ARA/PPCP ASDAR FOR MARCH 2, 1995.

(LOU) DRL, ARA/PPCP DISCUSS ANNUAL HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT PROCESS: MARSHALL CARTER AND MARK SUSSER OF DRL/AAA MET WITH ARA/PPCP TO EXPLORE WAYS TO BETTER COORDINATE THE EDITING PROCESS OF THE ANNUAL HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT WITH ARA. IT WAS AGREED THAT MORE SPECIFIC INSTRUCTION CABLES WOULD BE PREPARED BY DRL. FOR EXAMPLE, DRL IS PREPARING A CABLE WITH BRIEF FORMULAIC LANGUAGE THAT CAN BE USED IN SPECIFIC AREAS OF THE REPORT IN WHICH THERE WERE NO ABUSES. DUE DATES FOR FIRST VERSIONS FROM EMBASSIES WOULD BE SET APPROXIMATELY 10 DAYS EARLIER IN ORDER TO ALLOW MORE TIME FOR COORDINATION BETWEEN DESK OFFICERS, ARA/PPCP AND DRL ON THE REPORTS BEFORE THE HOLIDAY SEASON. DRL ALSO AGREED TO INFORM ARA/PPCP EARLY ON OF REPORTS WHICH IN THEIR VIEW PRESENTED PROBLEMS REQUIRING MAJOR EDITING JOBS. (HUSTED)

(C) DEFMIN MINISTERIAL ARRANGEMENTS: ACCORDING TO OSD/ISA/IA SPECIAL ASSISTANT TED PICCONE, JCS SHALIKASHVILI WILL NOT BE DELIVERING THE CHILEAN MOD'S INVITATION DURING HIS UPCOMING TRIP (DUE TO DECISIONS UNRELATED TO THE MINISTERIAL). TED ADDED THAT DASD JARAMILLO IS WILLING TO DISCUSS COSTA RICAN CONCERNS [illegible] THE CONFERENCE WITH SOLIS NEXT WEEK (LINO WILL MEET [illegible] AS WELL). HE NOTED THAT THE VISITING ARGENTINES

ARA/NEA REARCS

WERE VERY ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT THE CONFERENCE, THAT THEY SUGGESTED FORMING A "CIRCLE OF FRIENDS" TO ENCOURAGE RECALCITRANT COUNTRIES TO PARTICIPATE, AND THAT HOLDING THE CONFERENCE WAS, IN ITSELF, A SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT. THE ARGENTINES RECOMMENDED REPLACING THE PHRASE "(ENCOURAGING) CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY" WITH "(ENCOURAGING MILITARY) RESPECT FOR DEMOCRATICALLY ELECTED AUTHORITY" VIS A VIS THE MINISTERIAL. (HABRON)

3. THE FOLLOWING IS ARA/ECP ASDAR FOR MARCH 2, 1995.

(U) LATIN EQUITY AND BOND MARKETS: SINCE THE MEXICAN DEVALUATION, LATIN AMERICA'S EQUITY AND BOND MARKETS HAVE NOT RETURNED TO MID-DECEMBER LEVELS. WITH THE EXCEPTIONS OF CHILE AND COLOMBIA, THE INDICES OF LATIN AMERICAN STOCK MARKETS (DENOMINATED IN LOCAL CURRENCY) HAVE FALLEN DRAMATICALLY. THE 42 PERCENT DECLINE OF THE BUENOS AIRES MERVAL INDEX SINCE MID-DECEMBER EXCEEDS THAT OF MEXICO (34 PERCENT) AND SAO PAULO (33 PERCENT). AS OF FEBRUARY 24 (THE MOST RECENT DATA), THE IFC INVESTABLE STOCK INDEX (WHICH TRACKS STOCKS AVAILABLE TO FOREIGN INSTITUTIONAL INVESTORS AND IS DENOMINATED IN DOLLARS) IS RISING FOR MAJOR LATIN MARKETS, INCLUDING MEXICO, BUT IS STILL WELL

BELOW MID-DECEMBER. MEXICO'S 57 PERCENT DROP EXCEEDS A DECLINE OF ABOUT 38 PERCENT IN BOTH ARGENTINA AND BRAZIL. THE PRICES OF LATIN ADRS AND COUNTRY FUNDS TRADED ON U.S. EXCHANGES ARE DOWN SIGNIFICANTLY AND CONTINUE TO FALL. BRADY BOND PRICES ALSO CONTINUE TO DECLINE WITH ARGENTINA RECORDING THE GREATEST RELATIVE DROP OVER THE PAST FOUR MONTHS. (DETAILED TABLES AND CHARTS WITH PRICE DATA AND MOVEMENTS ARE AVAILABLE FROM ECP.) (DIAZ/THOMPSON)

(U) GUATEMALA TEXTILE NEGOTIATIONS: U.S. AND GUATEMALA TEXTILE NEGOTIATORS MET TODAY IN RESPONSE TO A U.S. PRODUCT CALL ISSUED IN NOVEMBER 1994 AND TO AGREE ON AN ARRANGEMENT TO BRIDGE THE GAP BETWEEN THE NOW DEFUNCT MFA AND GUATEMALA'S ENTRY INTO THE WTO. U.S. CHIEF TEXTILE NEGOTIATOR JENNIFER HILLMAN (USTR) NOTED THAT BECAUSE GUATEMALA WAS NOT YET A MEMBER OF THE WTO, THE U.S. WAS UNDER NO LEGAL OBLIGATION TO NEGOTIATE TEXTILE QUOTA LEVELS AND IS TECHNICALLY FREE TO UNILATERALLY IMPOSE QUOTAS. THE GOG DELEGATION INDICATED ITS DESIRE TO SIGN A NEW AGREEMENT CONSISTENT WITH WTO STANDARDS AND WAS PREPARED TO NEGOTIATE A NEW AGREEMENT AT THIS TIME INCLUDING A QUOTA ON THE CALLED PRODUCT. THE GUATEMALAN CHIEF NEGOTIATOR NOTED THAT HE EXPECTED THE GUATEMALAN CONGRESS TO RATIFY GUATEMALAN ACCESSION TO THE WTO BEFORE THE END OF MARCH. (HEMLER)

Guatemala City's archbishop has released a scathing report laying the blame for most of Guatemala's human rights violations on the government and the military that controls it.

ARCHBISHOP PRÓSPERO PENADOS has strongly criticized the Guatemalan government's inability to stop military impunity, and blamed the state for the dismal human rights situation here.

«If the state wants the support of the people, it will have to free itself from its jailers,» said the Guatemala City archbishop recently in an implicit criticism of President Ramiro de León Carpio's dependence on the army.

«We have death-squad style killings, kidnappings, psychological warfare, campaigns to destroy reputations, threats, and continuous calculated terror. The same people as always are behind it. They are part of a powerful elite whose domination of the state security apparatus has turned it into a mafia,» Penados added.

The Human Rights Office of the Archbishop released its annual report in February, with a grim analysis backing up the prelate's statements.

In 1994, a death-squad style killing occurred every day, on average. Sixty percent of the victims were unidentified and buried as «XX,» according to the report. Sixteen percent of the victims were actively involved in social change: 14 were students, three politicians, seven unionists, three human rights activists, two journalists, 25 campesino activists, and one NGO worker.

The document outlines a state policy of persecution and control over the civilian population, which has become a «military wall» and «establishes impunity as the norm within the state.»

Penados said, «violations are more sophisticated and calculated. Many political crimes are now disguised as common crime.»

The Archbishop's office also detected a new trend in rights violations: persecution of members of the security forces who attempt to fight corruption or investigate certain cases. Six percent of the death-squad killings were of this type: five military commissioners, seven soldiers, and eight police officers.

«The government talks about improving citizen security. What about police commissioner Augusto Medina, who tried to demilitarize the police in Quiché and end the impunity of the civil patrols in the Jorge Carpio murder? Medina also fired corrupt police officers who were highway bandits. He was murdered, and the crime remains unpunished, as do the murder of several other policemen," Penados said.

Penados also cast doubt on the government's claims of carrying out significant judicial reforms, charging that pro-human rights judges have been marginalized in the courts, and even murdered.

One example in the report, is Judge Edgar Ogáldez, who was gunned down death-squad style at the university in August, 1994. Ogáldez had made the mistake of trying a case against a military intelligence officer.

«Our investigations suggest that the murderers work for the Presidential High Command,» Penados charged. The accusation is particularly delicate for the de León government because of the president's dependency on this special security unit. The unit is headed by Col. Otto Pérez Molina, one of the president's most important allies in the army.

The archbishop's report also described a death squad operating out of a military base in north-eastern Cobán. It is part of the government's new crime-fighting efforts, Penados said with irony.

Soon after the squad was organized by an army captain, the tortured bodies of locally-known thieves began appearing at roadsides. Penados added that investigators were afraid to look into the murders for fear of reprisals.

«What kind of a state of law do we have, when the state turns into a criminal in order to fight crime? This is all happening before our very eyes. And the worst of it is, that it keeps happening even with international verification (UN mission),» Penados finished.

The Catholic Church was also hit by violence in 1994, the most recent attack being the Dec. 19 murder of the Rev. Alfonso Stessel, a Belgian priest. Stessel had worked for years in a marginal barrio of the capital and was stabbed and shot by gang members when returning from a religious procession.

The archbishop's office believes that someone linked to security forces paid the gang to murder Stessel. At the time, Stessel was investigating the murder of a union activist.

Despite the severe criticism of the government, Penados admitted that the human rights situation has improved in comparison with the dark and bloody 1980s. The archbishop also blamed the guerrillas of the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca for several violations of international human rights accords in 1994 and urged them to lay down their arms.

—FROM GUATEMALA CITY, TRISH O'KANE, LP CORRESPONDENT

CHURCH

GUATEMALA

No confidence. The Guatemalan Catholic Church has given a tacit vote of «no confidence» to the peace negotiations between the government and guerrillas by withdrawing its representative, Bishop Rodolfo Quezada Toruño, from the talks.

The Guatemalan Bishops Conference said it is not willing to play the «political games» involved in the process, but emphasized that Toruño's withdrawal does not mean the church would stop «participating in the peace process.»

Members of the Civil Society Assembly (ASC), which represents diverse civilian interests in Guatemala at the talks, said the announcement was a «bucket of cold water.»

«He was the main figure in the ASC and kept the group together. Without him it will be difficult to maintain this cohesion,» said Nineth Montenegro, leader of the Mutual Support Group; which represents families of the disappeared.

ARGENTINA

Martyrs' celebration. The «Celebration of the Martyrs.» organized by progressive Catholic Church groups, was held on Feb. 9 to honor those who died during Argentina's «dirty war.»

An estimated 1,500 people attended the event, including theologians Gustavo Gutiérrez from Peru and Rolando Muñoz from Chile.

Protestant Church groups were invited to the event, which was held during the Tenth Theological Encounter [illegible].

The celebration was officiated by Bishop Jorge Novak of Quilmes, where the celebration was held, and Bishop Emeritus Federico Pagura of the Argentine Methodist Church.

MEXICO

Bishop beatified. Pope John Paul II has beatified Rafael Guizar Valencia, the former bishop of Veracruz, Mexico, who died in 1938.

Valencia was known for his work treating the wounded and sick during the Mexican Revolution.

The pope said «he carried out his Apostolate, as a priest and as a bishop, almost always in conditions of persecution and danger.»

4. THE FOLLOWING IS U.S. MISSION TO THE OAS ASDAR FOR MARCH 6, 1995.

IACHR ISSUES ANNUAL REPORT: HARSH CRITICISM OF CASTRO REGIME; NOTES IMPROVEMENTS IN COLOMBIA, GUATEMALA AND EL SALVADOR; NO REFERENCE TO CASES AGAINST U.S.: THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS RELEASED ITS ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1994 THIS WEEK. BESIDES DETAILING THE ACTIVITIES AND ON-SITE VISITS OF THE COMMISSION IN 1994, THE REPORT SUMMARIZES SIX INDIVIDUAL CASES (INVOLVING ARGENTINA, GUATEMALA, PANAMA AND PERU) AND HAS CHAPTER 4 (GENERAL HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION) REPORTS ON CUBA, COLOMBIA, GUATEMALA AND EL SALVADOR. (NOTE: THE IACHR'S 1993 REPORT INCLUDED TWO CASES AGAINST THE U.S. THIS YEAR WE MANAGED TO AVOID THAT DISTINCTION. END NOTE).

THE COMMISSION'S TRADITIONAL CHAPTER 4 REPORT ON CUBA DESCRIBES THE "EXTREMELY SERIOUS" HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION ON THE ISLAND. IT ILLUSTRATES WITH MULTIPLE EXAMPLES HOW THE CASTRO REGIME VIOLATED ITS CITIZENS RIGHT TO EXPRESSION, VIOLATED THE RIGHT TO WORK AND ASSOCIATE FREELY, DETAINED POLITICAL OPPONENTS ARBITRARILY IN INHUMAN PRISON CONDITIONS, DEPRIVED THE POPULATION OF THE RIGHT TO LEAVE THE ISLAND AND THEN CYNICALLY LET THEM RISK THEIR LIVES ON THE HIGH SEAS. THE COMMISSION FOUND THAT CUBA'S ECONOMIC CRISIS "HAS, PRIMARILY, DEEP INTERNAL ROOTS" BASED ON THE REGIME'S REPRESSIVE POLICIES.

CLASSIFIED

REGARDING COLOMBIA, GUATEMALA AND EL SALVADOR, THE COMMISSION CONCLUDED THAT THESE SOCIETIES CONTINUE TO HAVE ONGOING HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS ON A LARGE SCALE, BUT THAT ALL THREE GOVERNMENTS RECOGNIZE THE PROBLEM AREAS AND ARE TAKING STEPS TO CORRECT THEM. THE COMMISSION DEDICATED TEN PAGES OF THEIR REPORT TO DESCRIBING HOW THE COMMISSION AND MEMBER STATES CAN CARRY OUT HUMAN RIGHTS MANDATES EMANATING FROM THE SUMMIT OF THE AMERICAS. COPIES OF THE RELEVANT PORTIONS OF THE REPORT ARE BEING DISTRIBUTED TO DESK OFFICERS. (DELINDWALL)

PRESIDENT CLINTON TO VISIT HAITI: PRESIDENT CLINTON WILL VISIT HAITI FOR THE MARCH 31 TRANSFER OF AUTHORITY FROM THE MULTINATIONAL FORCE (MNF) TO THE UN MISSION IN HAITI (UNMIH), AND FOR A BILATERAL REVIEW WITH PRESIDENT JEAN-BERTRAND ARISTIDE OF POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC PROGRESS IN HAITI.

PRESIDENTIAL MISSION IN HAITI: A PRESIDENTIAL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT MISSION HEADED BY DEPUTY SECRETARY OF STATE STROBE TALBOTT WAS IN HAITI ON MARCH 7-8. DEPUTY SECRETARY OF COMMERCE BARRAM AND MEMBERS OF CONGRESS JOINED OVER 25 SENIOR AMERICAN BUSINESS EXECUTIVES IN THIS MISSION. THE MISSION SERVED TO PROMOTE THE RECOVERY OF THE HAITIAN ECONOMY, PARTICULARLY THROUGH PRIVATE SECTOR INITIATIVE. DEPUTY COMMERCE UNDER SECRETARY DAVID ROTHKOPF SAID THE PRESENT FOCUS OF U.S. BUSINESS IS ON THE ELECTRIC POWER SECTOR, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, ASSEMBLY OPERATIONS (MAINLY OF APPAREL AND ELECTRONIC PRODUCTS), AGRIBUSINESS AND TOURISM.

OPIC AGREEMENTS WITH FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BOSTON: SENIOR VP BOB DRAGGON OF THE OVERSEAS PRIVATE INVESTMENT CORP. (OPIC), IRA JACKSON, SENIOR V-P FOR EXTERNAL AFFAIRS OF THE BANK OF BOSTON, AND GUY CUVILLY, GENERAL MANAGER OF BANK OF BOSTON PORT-AU-PRINCE SIGNED TWO AGREEMENTS FOR FUTURE COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT IN HAITI. THE FIRST CREATES A 65 MILLION ON-LENDING FACILITY MAKING WORKING CAPITAL AND LOANS AVAILABLE FOR HAITI. THE SECOND COMMITS OPIC FOR 10 MILLION IN POLITICAL RISK INSURANCE.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT OPENS IN HAITI: THE U.S. DEPARMENT OF COMMERCE OFFICIALLY OPENED A COMMERCIAL OFFICE IN PORT AU PRINCE HEADED BY A COMMERCIAL OFFICER. THE OFFICE ASSISTS AMERICAN FIRMS IN DOING BUSINESS IN HAITI.

HAITIAN AMERICAN BUSINESS COUNCIL FORMED: DEPUTY SECRETARY OF COMMERCE DAVID BARRAM AND FINANCE MINISTER MICHELE REY SIGNED INTO BEING THE HAITIAN AMERICAN BUSINESS COUNCIL IN PORT AU PRINCE. IT IS MADE UP OF SOME 20 U.S. AND 20 HAITIAN BUSINESS LEADERS, AND SEEKS TO EXPAND TRADE AND INVESTMENT TIES AND TO HELP RESOLVE COMMERCIAL PROBLEMS.

IMF STAND-BY APPROVED: THE IMF BOARD APPROVED MARCH 8 AN SDR 20 MILLION (ABOUT 31 MILLION) STAND-BY ARRANGEMENT FOR HAITI, CONSTITUTING AN IMF SEAL OF APPROVAL FOR HAITIAN ECONOMIC POLICIES. THE IMF PROJECTS FOR THIS YEAR 4.5 GROWTH IN REAL GDP, INFLATION LOWERED FROM 36 TO 15 , AND A BIG BALANCE OF PAYMENTS SURPLUS.

USAID AGREEMENT FUNDS HAITIAN MIXED COMMISSION: USAID ADMINISTRATOR MARK SCHNEIDER AND EDOUARD BAUSSAN OF PRESIDENT ARISTIDE'S MIXED COMMISSION ON MODERNIZATION AND ECONOMIC GROWTH SIGNED AN AGREEMENT PROVIDING OVER 1 MILLION IN USAID FUNDING FOR TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO THE COMMISSION. THE COMMISSION IS DEVELOPING SPECIFIC REGULATORY AND LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS TO PROMOTE ECONOMIC GROWTH.

-CUBA: FRENCH INVITATION TO CASTRO-

Q: WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO THE INVITATION FRENCH PRESIDENT MITERRAND REPORTEDLY HAS EXTENDED TO FIDEL CASTRO TO MEET WITH HIM IN PARIS?

A: WE HOPE THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT WILL USE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO IMPRESS UPON CASTRO THE URGENT NEED FOR DEMOCRATIC REFORMS AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN CUBA. WE NOTE THAT FRANCE SUPPORTED THE RESOLUTION CONDEMNING HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES AND LACK OF FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN CUBA WHICH WAS RECENTLY ADOPTED BY THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IN GENEVA.

-CUBA: RETURNS FROM GUANTANAMO-

Q. IS IT TRUE THAT HUNDREDS OF CUBANS HAVE WALKED ACROSS MINEFIELDS TO GO HOME FROM GUANTANAMO?

A. FOUR HUNDRED AND SIXTY SIX CUBAN MIGRANTS HAVE RETURNED TO HAVANA FROM GUANTANAMO ON U.S. GOVERNMENT-ORGANIZED FLIGHTS. ON MARCH 7 WE RECEIVED APPROVAL FROM THE GOC FOR THE RETURN OF 75 MORE MIGRANTS. WE ARE CURRENTLY MAKING THE NECESSARY FLIGHT ARRANGEMENTS.

WE ARE AWARE OF 848 CUBAN MIGRANTS WHO HAVE RETURNED HOME ON THEIR OWN ACCORD. CUBAN MIGRANTS AT GUANTANAMO ENJOY CONSIDERABLE FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE LIMITS IMPOSED BY THEIR PRESENCE ON A MILITARY BASE AND THE NEED TO ENSURE THE SAFETY OF MIGRANTS AND U.S. SOLDIERS ALIKE.

U.S. OFFICIALS STAND READY AT ALL TIMES TO ARRANGE THE RETURN HOME OF ANY MIGRANT WISHING TO DO SO. THE MIGRANTS ARE COUNSELED AGAINST RISKY ATTEMPTS TO RETURN HOME ON THEIR OWN. SOME MIGRANTS HAVE BECOME IMPATIENT WITH THE RATE AT WHICH THE GOC HAS ACCEPTED VOLUNTARY RETURNEES. THEY HAVE THEREFORE CIRCUMVENTED THE FORMAL RETURN MECHANISM AND EITHER SWUM AWAY FROM THE BASE OR WALKED ACROSS THE MINEFIELD THAT SURROUNDS THE BASE. WE UNDERSTAND THAT FIVE MIGRANTS HAVE DIED IN THESE ATTEMPTS.

WE CONTINUE TO URGE THE GOC TO INCREASE THE TEMPO OF VOLUNTARY RETURN SO THAT TRAGEDIES SUCH AS THESE CAN BE AVOIDED.

-GUATEMALA: HARBURY HUNGER STRIKE-

Q: DO YOU HAVE ANY COMMENT ON REPORTS THAT AMCIT JENNIFER

HARBURY WILL BEGIN A HUNGER STRIKE ON SUNDAY?

A: WE ARE AWARE OF MS. HARBURY'S ANNOUNCEMENT THAT SHE WILL GO ON HUNGER STRIKE ON MARCH 12. AS THE WHITE HOUSE SPOKESPERSON TOLD THE "WASHINGTON POST," WE WILL CONTINUE TO PRESS THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT FOR A FULL ACCOUNTING OF WHAT HAPPENED TO EFRAIN BAMACA, MS. HARBURY'S GUATEMALAN HUSBAND, AS WE HAVE DONE REPEATEDLY. WE WILL CONTINUE TO KEEP MS. HARBURY INFORMED OF PROGRESS IN THE CASE.

-HARBURY/BAMACA CASE-

Q: WHAT HAS THE USG DONE TO ASSIST AMCIT JENNIFER HARBURY IN HER ATTEMPTS TO FIND OUT WHAT HAPPENED TO HER HUSBAND, URNG GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA?

A: WE SHARE MS. HARBURY'S CONCERNS ABOUT THE LACK OF PROGRESS IN RESOLVING THE CASE OF EFRAIN BAMACA, AND WILL CONTINUE TO PRESS GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO GIVE A FULL ACCOUNTING OF THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING HIS DISAPPEARANCE.

WE HAVE REPEATEDLY RAISED THIS CASE AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS OF THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT, INCLUDING THE SOLICITOR AND PROSECUTOR GENERALS, MINISTER OF DEFENSE, AND PRESIDENT DE LEON.

STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON AND GUATEMALA HAVE MET WITH MS. HARBURY ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS, MOST RECENTLY ON FEBRUARY 8. AMBASSADOR MCAFEE AND EMBASSY OFFICERS VISITED HER OFTEN DURING HER HUNGER STRIKE IN GUATEMALA LAST FALL AND HAVE CONTINUED TO PROVIDE HER ASSISTANCE ON HER SEVERAL VISITS TO GUATEMALA SINCE THEN.

-HARBURY/BAMACA CASE-

Q: WHAT INFORMATION HAS THE USG SHARED WITH JENNIFER HARBURY ABOUT WHAT HAPPENED TO HER HUSBAND, URNG GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA?

A: DURING THE PAST SEVERAL MONTHS, U.S. OFFICIALS IN GUATEMALA AND WASHINGTON HAVE TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT, WHILE WE HAVE NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE, BASED ON ALL THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US, IT IS OUR CONSIDERED ASSESSMENT THAT HER HUSBAND DIED IN MILITARY CUSTODY IN 1992 AFTER A SHORT, BUT INDETERMINATE, PERIOD OF CAPTIVITY AND INTERROGATION.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS PROVIDED MS. HARBURY WITH AN AUTHENTICATED COPY OF ITS OFFICIAL SPOKESMAN'S PUBLIC STATEMENTS ON THE BAMACA CASE. ALSO, WE AND OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES TO WHOM MS. HARBURY HAS ADDRESSED FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT REQUESTS FOR DOCUMENTS ARE HANDLING HER REQUESTS ON AN EXPEDITED BASIS.

(IF ASKED)
WE ARE NOT ABLE TO DISCUSS INTELLIGENCE WITH PRIVATE CITIZENS, BUT WITHIN THAT CONSTRAINT, WE HAVE BEEN AS FORTHCOMING WITH MS. HARBURY AS POSSIBLE.

-GUATEMALA: U.S. ASSISTANCE-

Q: HOW MUCH AID DO WE GIVE GUATEMALA?

A: OUR RELATIVELY SMALL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM IN GUATEMALA (APPROXIMATELY 55 MILLION) FOCUSES ON BASIC HUMAN NEEDS AND SUPPORT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND JUDICIAL REFORM. IT PROVIDES VITALLY NEEDED AID THAT PROMOTES HEALTH AND CHILD SURVIVAL, JUDICIAL REFORM, MEASURES TO PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT AND TO ENCOURAGE BROAD-BASED SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT.

MUCH OF OUR AID TO GUATEMALA IS DELIVERED THROUGH NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS (NGOS) TO ENSURE THAT IT GOES DIRECTLY TO THE MOST NEEDY.

MILITARY AID TO GUATEMALA WAS SUSPENDED IN 1990 BECAUSE OF CONCERN OVER PERSISTENT HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

IN 1994, WE CONVERTED THE 4.6 MILLION OF FROZEN MILITARY AID TO CIVILIAN ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUNDS AND EARMARKED IT FOR ACTIVITIES SUPPORTING THE PEACE PROCESS.

(IF ASKED)

IN 1994, WE PROVIDED APPROXIMATELY 28 MILLION IN FOOD AID, 15 MILLION IN DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE TO PROMOTE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT, 11.5 MILLION IN ECONOMIC SUPORT FUNDS, 2 MILLION IN COUNTERNARCOTICS ASSISTANCE, AND 36,000 IN INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING FUNDS TO PAY FOR FIVE INDIVIDUALS TO PARTICIPATE IN A COURSE ON CIVIL-MILITARY RELATIONS.

-GUATEMALA: TRADE SANCTIONS-

Q: WHY DOESN'T THE USG IMPOSE TRADE SANCTIONS ON GUATEMALA?

A: ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST GUATEMALA WOULD HURT THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE.

BROADLY-BASED, SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT ARE ESSENTIAL FOR POSITIVE POLITICAL AND SOCIAL CHANGE.

TRADE SANCTIONS WOULD HURT MILLIONS OF POOR GUATEMALANS, INCLUDING AGRICULTURAL ENTREPRENEURS AND THE PRIMARILY WOMEN GARMENT WORKERS WHO GENERALLY ARE PROVIDING

DISPOSABLE INCOME FOR THEIR FAMILIES FOR THE FIRST TIME.

SUCH SANCTIONS WOULD NOT DIRECTLY AFFECT THE MILITARY LEADERSHIP NOR BE LIKELY TO PRODUCE ANY POSITIVE PROGRESS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS, BUT INSTEAD WOULD HURT POOR GUATEMALAN WOKERS.

-GUATEMALA: CUTTING OFF AID-

Q: WHY DOESN'T THE U.S. CUT OFF DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE TO GUATEMALA?

A: AS WITH TRADE SANCTIONS, CUTTING OFF AID TO GUATEMALA WOULD HURT GUATEMALA'S POOREST CITIZENS AND WOULD BE UNLIKELY TO BRING ABOUT POSITIVE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

U.S. ASSISTANCE IS FOCUSED SPECIFICALLY ON KEY OBSTACLES TO DEMOCRATIC STABILITY AND DEVELOPMENT IN GUATEMALA: STRENGTHENING FRAGILE DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS (THEREBY FIGHTING IMPUNITY AND PROMOTING THE RULE OF LAW); IMPROVING SOME OF THE WORST SOCIAL INDICATORS IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE; WORKING TO PRESERVE THE GUATEMALAN RAIN FOREST CRITICAL TO THE ENTIRE HEMISPHERE; AND STIMULATING JOB CREATION AND BETTER WORKING CONDITIONS

FOR ALL GUATEMALANS.

THE CURRENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM DESIGNED TO STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY THROUGH INSTITUTIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND CITIZEN PARTICIPATION IS PARTICULARLY CRITICAL FOR IMPROVING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE RULE OF LAW.

FROM THE HUMANITARIAN PERSPECTIVE, ON-GOING USG PROGRAMS IN BILINGUAL AND GIRLS EDUCATION AND IN MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH ARE SETTING THE FRAMEWORK FOR ADDRESSING THE HEALTH AND EDUCATION NEEDS OF THE POOREST, MARGINALIZED GUATEMALANS.

CURTAILING ALREADY-DIMINISHED FUNDING IN RESPONSE TO HUMAN RIGHTS CONCERNS WOULD PUT PREVIOUS ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN JEOPARDY, UNDERMINE CHANGES NEEDED TO PROMOTE IMPROVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS, AND ABANDON MILLIONS OF GUATEMALANS WHO STAND TO BENEFIT OVER THE MEDIUM TERM FROM CONTINUED ADVANCES IN HEALTH EDUCATION, INCOME AND EMPLOYMENT GENERATION AND LABOR POLICY.

-GUATEMALA: IMET-

Q: HAS THE U.S. CUT OFF GUATEMALA'S 1995 FUNDING FOR INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING (IMET)?

A: THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS DECIDED TO SUSPEND GUATEMALA'S 1995 IMET FUNDS TO DEMONSTRATE OUR CONCERN ABOUT THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT'S UNRESPONSIVENESS ON SEVERAL HIGH-PROFILE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES IN WHICH THE SECURITY FORCES HAVE BEEN IMPLICATED.

-MEXICO: NEW ECONOMIC MEASURES-

Q: DO YOU HAVE ANY COMMENT ON THE NEW ECONOMIC MEASURES ANNOUNCED MARCH 9 BY THE GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO?

A: WE WELCOME THE TOUGH MEASURES ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY BY THE GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO TO RESTORE FINANCIAL STABILITY AND LAY THE GROUNDWORK FOR RESUMED ECONOMIC GROWTH.

FROM THE BEGINNING WE HAVE SAID THIS PROGRAM COULD WORK ONLY IF MEXICO TOOK THE DIFFICULT STEPS TO RE-ESTABLISH STABILITY AND PUT ITSELF ON THE ROAD TO LONG TERM ECONOMIC HEALTH.

THE NEW MEASURES DEMONSTRATE MEXICO IS COMMITTED TO TAKE THESE NECESSARY AND PAINFUL STEPS.

THE U.S. AND MULTILATERAL EMERGENCY SUPPORT FUNDS ARE A CRITICAL ELEMENT OF MEXICO'S ECONOMIC RECOVERY PLAN.

IT IS IN OUR INTEREST THAT MEXICO SUCCEED IN THIS EFFORT. AS A CLOSE ECONOMIC PARTNER, NEIGHBOR AND FRIEND, THE UNITED STATES HAS RESPONDED WITH ITS SUPPORT.

2. PRM PRESS GUIDANCE OF MARCH 10, 1995:

-CUBA: CUBAN MIGRANTS-

Q. HOW MANY CUBAN MIGRANTS ARE NOW IN GUANTANAMO?

A. 24,444 CUBANS ARE NOW AT GUANTANAMO.

THESE INCLUDE 7,291 CUBAN MIGRANTS WHO WERE TRANSFERRED FROM SAFEHAVEN CAMPS IN PANAMA AND 572 FROM THE CAYMAN ISLANDS.

NO CUBAN MIGRANTS REMAIN IN THE CAMPS IN PANAMA.

Q. HOW MANY CUBANS HAVE BEEN PAROLED/MEDEVACED INTO THE U.S.?

A. SOME 6,660 CUBAN MIGRANTS HAVE NOW BEEN BROUGHT TO THE U.S. UNDER THE HUMANITARIAN PAROLE PROGRAM OR HAVE BEEN MEDICALLY EVACUATED TO THE U.S.

5,390 FROM GUANTANAMO, AND

1,270 FROM PANAMA.

Q. HOW MANY CUBANS HAVE RETURNED TO CUBA?

A. 466 CUBANS HAVE RETURNED VOLUNTARILY TO CUBA THROUGH OFFICIAL CHANNELS.

848 CUBANS, THAT WE KNOW OF, HAVE LEFT THE BASE AND RETURNED TO CUBA OF THEIR OWN ACCORD.

IF ASKED

Q. WHEN WAS THE LAST VOLUNTARY RETURN FLIGHT TO HAVANA?

A. THE LAST VOLUNTARY RETURN FLIGHT WAS ON JANUARY 24. IT HAD 45 CUBAN MIGRANTS ON BOARD.

Q. HOW MANY MORE ARE AWAITING VOLUNTARY RETURN?

A. THE NAMES OF SOME 200 CUBANS WHO HAVE ASKED TO RETURN HOME HAVE BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE GOVERNMENT OF CUBA FOR APPROVAL.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CUBA HAS JUST APPROVED 75 OF THESE NAMES FOR VOLUNTARY RETURN. ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING MADE TO RETURN THIS GROUP SHORTLY.

Q. HOW MANY CUBANS HAVE BEEN MOVED TO THIRD COUNTRIES?

A. 10 CUBAN MIGRANTS FROM PANAMA HAVE BEEN RESETTLED IN VENEZUELA.

110 CUBAN MIGRANTS FROM PANAMA HAVE BEEN MOVED TO SPAIN TO JOIN FAMILIY MEMBERS THERE.

1 CUBAN MIGRANT HAS BEEN MOVED TO ITALY TO JOIN A FAMILY MEMBER THERE.

A. WE SHARE MS. HARBURY'S CONCERNS ABOUT THE LACK OF PROGRESS IN RESOLVING THE CASE OF EFRAIN BAMACA, AND WILL CONTINUE TO PRESS GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO GIVE A FULL ACCOUNTING OF THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING HIS DISAPPEARANCE.

WE HAVE REPEATEDLY RAISED THIS CASE AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS OF THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT, INCLUDING THE SOLICITOR AND

THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS PROVIDED MS. HARBURY WITH AN AUTHENTICATED COPY OF ITS OFFICIAL SPOKESMAN'S PUBLIC STATEMENTS ON THE BAMACA CASE. ALSO, WE AND OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES TO WHOM MS. HARBURY HAS ADDRESSED FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT REQUESTS FOR DOCUMENTS ARE HANDLING HER REQUESTS ON AN EXPEDITED BASIS.

(IF ASKED)
WE ARE NOT ABLE TO DISCUSS INTELLIGENCE WITH PRIVATE CITIZENS, BUT WITHIN THAT CONSTRAINT, WE HAVE BEEN AS FORTHCOMING WITH MS. HARBURY AS POSSIBLE.

-GUATEMALA: U.S. ASSISTANCE-

Q: HOW MUCH AID DO WE GIVE GUATEMALA?

A: OUR RELATIVELY SMALL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM IN GUATEMALA (APPROXIMATELY $5 MILLION) FOCUSES ON BASIC HUMAN NEEDS AND SUPPORT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND JUDICIAL REFORM. IT PROVIDES VITALLY NEEDED AID THAT PROMOTES HEALTH AND CHILD SURVIVAL, JUDICIAL REFORM, MEASURES TO PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT AND TO ENCOURAGE BROAD-BASED SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT.

MUCH OF OUR AID TO GUATEMALA IS DELIVERED THROUGH NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS (NGOS) TO ENSURE THAT IT

GOES DIRECTLY TO THE MOST NEEDY.

MILITARY AID TO GUATEMALA WAS SUSPENDED IN 1990 BECAUSE OF CONCERN OVER PERSISTENT HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

IN 1994, WE CONVERTED THE $4.6 MILLION OF FROZEN MILITARY AID TO CIVILIAN ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUNDS AND EARMARKED IT FOR ACTIVITIES SUPPORTING THE PEACE PROCESS.

(IF ASKED)

IN 1994, WE PROVIDED APPROXIMATELY $8 MILLION IN FOOD AID, $5 MILLION IN DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE TO PROMOTE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT, $1.5 MILLION IN ECONOMIC SUPORT FUNDS, $2 MILLION IN COUNTERNARCOTICS ASSISTANCE, AND $36,000 IN INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING FUNDS TO PAY FOR FIVE INDIVIDUALS TO PARTICIPATE IN A

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
ARA/NEA-REARCS

COURSE ON CIVIL-MILITARY RELATIONS.

-GUATEMALA: TRADE SANCTIONS-

Q: WHY DOESN'T THE USG IMPOSE TRADE SANCTIONS ON GUATEMALA?

A: ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST GUATEMALA WOULD HURT THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE.

BROADLY-BASED, SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT ARE ESSENTIAL FOR POSITIVE POLITICAL AND SOCIAL CHANGE.

TRADE SANCTIONS WOULD HURT MILLIONS OF POOR GUATEMALANS, INCLUDING AGRICULTURAL ENTREPRENEURS AND THE PRIMARILY WOMEN GARMENT WORKERS WHO GENERALLY ARE PROVIDING DISPOSABLE INCOME FOR THEIR FAMILIES FOR THE FIRST TIME.

SUCH SANCTIONS WOULD NOT DIRECTLY AFFECT THE MILITARY LEADERSHIP NOR BE LIKELY TO PRODUCE ANY POSITIVE PROGRESS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS, BUT INSTEAD WOULD HURT POOR GUATEMALAN WOKERS.

-GUATEMALA: CUTTING OFF AID-

Q: WHY DOESN T THE U.S. CUT OFF DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE TO GUATEMALA?

A: AS WITH TRADE SANCTIONS, CUTTING OFF AID TO GUATEMALA WOULD HURT GUATEMALA'S POOREST CITIZENS AND WOULD BE UNLIKELY TO BRING ABOUT POSITIVE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

U.S. ASSISTANCE IS FOCUSED SPECIFICALLY ON KEY OBSTACLES TO DEMOCRATIC STABILITY AND DEVELOPMENT IN GUATEMALA: STRENGTHENING FRAGILE DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS (THEREBY FIGHTING IMPUNITY AND PROMOTING THE RULE OF LAW); IMPROVING SOME OF THE WORST SOCIAL INDICATORS IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE; WORKING TO PRESERVE THE GUATEMALAN RAIN FOREST CRITICAL TO THE ENTIRE HEMISPHERE; AND STIMULATING JOB CREATION AND BETTER WORKING CONDITIONS FOR ALL GUATEMALANS.

THE CURRENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM DESIGNED TO STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY THROUGH INSTITUTIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND CITIZEN PARTICIPATION IS PARTICULARLY CRITICAL FOR IMPROVING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE RULE OF LAW

FROM THE HUMANITARIAN PERSPECTIVE, ON-GOING USG PROGRAMS IN BILINGUAL AND GIRLS EDUCATION AND IN MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH ARE SETTING THE FRAMEWORK FOR ADDRESSING THE HEALTH AND EDUCATION NEEDS OF THE POOREST, MARGINALIZED GUATEMALANS

CURTAILING ALREADY DIMINISHED FUNDING IN RESPONSE TO HUMAN RIGHTS CONCERNS WOULD PUT PREVIOUS ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN JEOPARDY, UNDERMINE CHANGES NEEDED TO PROMOTE IMPROVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS, AND ABANDON MILLIONS OF GUATEMALANS WHO STAND TO BENEFIT OVER THE MEDIUM TERM FROM CONTINUED ADVANCES IN HEALTH, EDUCATION, INCOME AND EMPLOYMENT GENERATION AND LABOR POLICY.

GUATEMALA: IMET-

Q: HAS THE U.S. CUT OFF GUATEMALA'S 1995 FUNDING OF INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING (IMET)?

STATE 060178 182183Z 828572 S028677

A: THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS DECIDED TO SUSPEND GUATEMALA'S 1995 IMET FUNDS TO DEMONSTRATE OUR CONCERN ABOUT THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT'S UNRESPONSIVENESS ON SEVERAL HIGH-PROFILE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES IN WHICH THE SECURITY FORCES HAVE BEEN IMPLICATED.

-MEXICO: NEW ECONOMIC MEASURES-

Q: DO YOU HAVE ANY COMMENT ON THE NEW ECONOMIC MEASURES ANNOUNCED MARCH 9 BY THE GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO?

A: WE WELCOME THE TOUGH MEASURES ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY BY THE GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO TO RESTORE FINANCIAL STABILITY AND LAY THE GROUNDWORK FOR RESUMED ECONOMIC GROWTH.

FROM THE BEGINNING WE HAVE SAID THIS PROGRAM COULD WORK ONLY IF MEXICO TOOK THE DIFFICULT STEPS TO RE-ESTABLISH STABILITY AND PUT ITSELF ON THE ROAD TO LONG TERM ECONOMIC HEALTH.

THE NEW MEASURES DEMONSTRATE MEXICO IS COMMITTED TO TAKE THESE NECESSARY AND PAINFUL STEPS.

THE U.S. AND MULTILATERAL EMERGENCY SUPPORT FUNDS ARE A CRITICAL ELEMENT OF MEXICO'S ECONOMIC RECOVERY PLAN.

IT IS IN OUR INTEREST THAT MEXICO SUCCEED IN THIS EFFORT. AS A CLOSE ECONOMIC PARTNER, NEIGHBOR AND FRIEND, THE UNITED STATES HAS RESPONDED WITH ITS SUPPORT.

2. PRM PRESS GUIDANCE OF MARCH 10, 1995:

CUBA: CUBAN MIGRANTS-

Q. HOW MANY CUBAN MIGRANTS ARE NOW IN GUANTANAMO?

A. 24,444 CUBANS ARE NOW AT GUANTANAMO.

THESE INCLUDE 7,291 CUBAN MIGRANTS WHO WERE TRANSFERRED FROM SAFEHAVEN CAMPS IN PANAMA AND 572 FROM THE CAYMAN ISLANDS.

NO CUBAN MIGRANTS REMAIN IN THE CAMPS IN PANAMA.

Q. HOW MANY CUBANS HAVE BEEN PAROLED/MEDEVACED INTO THE U.S.?

A. SOME 6,660 CUBAN MIGRANTS HAVE NOW BEEN BROUGHT TO THE U.S. UNDER THE HUMANITARIAN PAROLE PROGRAM OR HAVE BEEN MEDICALLY EVACUATED TO THE U.S.

5,398 FROM GUANTANAMO, AND

1,270 FROM PANAMA.

Q. HOW MANY CUBANS HAVE RETURNED TO CUBA?

A. 466 CUBANS HAVE RETURNED VOLUNTARILY TO CUBA THROUGH OFFICIAL CHANNELS.

648 CUBANS, THAT WE KNOW OF, HAVE LEFT THE BASE AND RETURNED TO CUBA OF THEIR OWN ACCORD.

IF ASKED

Q. WHEN WAS THE LAST VOLUNTARY RETURN FLIGHT TO HAVANA?

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
ARA/NEA REARGS

A. THE LAST VOLUNTARY RETURN FLIGHT WAS ON JANUARY 24. IT HAD 45 CUBAN MIGRANTS ON BOARD.

Q. HOW MANY MORE ARE AWAITING VOLUNTARY RETURN?

A. THE NAMES OF SOME 200 CUBANS WHO HAVE ASKED TO RETURN HOME HAVE BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE GOVERNMENT OF CUBA FOR APPROVAL.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CUBA HAS JUST APPROVED 75 OF THESE NAMES FOR VOLUNTARY RETURN. ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING MADE TO RETURN THIS GROUP SHORTLY.

Q. HOW MANY CUBANS HAVE BEEN MOVED TO THIRD COUNTRIES?

A. 10 CUBAN MIGRANTS FROM PANAMA HAVE BEEN RESETTLED IN VENEZUELA.

118 CUBAN MIGRANTS FROM PANAMA HAVE BEEN MOVED TO SPAIN TO JOIN FAMILY MEMBERS THERE.

1 CUBAN MIGRANT HAS BEEN MOVED TO ITALY TO JOIN A FAMILY MEMBER THERE.

THE COMMISSION IS DEVELOPING SPECIFIC REGULATORY AND LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS TO PROMOTE ECONOMIC GROWTH.

-CUBA: FRENCH INVITATION TO CASTRO-

Q: WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO THE INVITATION FRENCH

PRESIDENT MITTERRAND REPORTEDLY HAS EXTENDED TO FIDEL CASTRO TO MEET WITH HIM IN PARIS?

A: WE HOPE THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT WILL USE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO IMPRESS UPON CASTRO THE URGENT NEED FOR DEMOCRATIC REFORMS AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN CUBA. WE NOTE THAT FRANCE SUPPORTED THE RESOLUTION CONDEMNING HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES AND LACK OF FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN CUBA WHICH WAS RECENTLY ADOPTED BY THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IN GENEVA.

Q. IS IT TRUE THAT HUNDREDS OF CUBANS HAVE WALKED ACROSS MINEFIELDS TO GO HOME FROM GUANTANAMO?

A. FOUR HUNDRED AND SIXTY SIX CUBAN MIGRANTS HAVE RETURNED TO HAVANA FROM GUANTANAMO ON U.S. GOVERNMENT-ORGANIZED FLIGHTS. ON MARCH 7 WE RECEIVED APPROVAL FROM THE GOC FOR THE RETURN OF 75 MORE MIGRANTS. WE ARE CURRENTLY MAKING THE NECESSARY FLIGHT ARRANGEMENTS.

WE ARE AWARE OF 848 CUBAN MIGRANTS WHO HAVE RETURNED HOME ON THEIR OWN ACCORD. CUBAN MIGRANTS AT GUANTANAMO ENJOY CONSIDERABLE FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE LIMITS IMPOSED BY THEIR PRESENCE ON A MILITARY BASE AND THE NEED TO ENSURE THE SAFETY OF MIGRANTS AND U.S. SOLDIERS ALIKE.

U.S. OFFICIALS STAND READY AT ALL TIMES TO ARRANGE THE RETURN HOME OF ANY MIGRANT WISHING TO DO SO. THE MIGRANTS ARE COUNSELED AGAINST RISKY ATTEMPTS TO RETURN HOME ON THEIR OWN. SOME MIGRANTS HAVE BECOME IMPATIENT WITH THE RATE AT WHICH THE GOC HAS ACCEPTED VOLUNTARY RETURNEES. THEY HAVE THEREFORE CIRCUMVENTED THE FORMAL RETURN MECHANISM AND EITHER SWUM AWAY FROM THE BASE OR WALKED ACROSS THE MINEFIELD THAT SURROUNDS THE BASE. WE UNDERSTAND THAT FIVE MIGRANTS HAVE DIED IN THESE ATTEMPTS.

WE CONTINUE TO URGE THE GOC TO INCREASE THE TEMPO OF VOLUNTARY RETURN SO THAT TRAGEDIES SUCH AS THESE CAN BE AVOIDED

-GUATEMALA: HARBURY HUNGER STRIKE-

Q: DO YOU HAVE ANY COMMENT ON REPORTS THAT AMCIT JENNIFER HARBURY WILL BEGIN A HUNGER STRIKE ON SUNDAY?

A: WE ARE AWARE OF MS. HARBURY'S ANNOUNCEMENT THAT SHE WILL GO ON HUNGER STRIKE ON MARCH 12. AS THE WHITE HOUSE SPOKESPERSON TOLD THE "WASHINGTON POST," WE WILL CONTINUE TO PRESS THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT FOR A FULL ACCOUNTING OF WHAT HAPPENED TO EFRAIN BAMACA, MS. HARBUPY'S GUATEMALAN HUSBAND, AS WE HAVE DONE REPEATEDLY. WE WILL CONTINUE TO KEEP MS. HARBURY INFORMED OF PROGRESS IN THE CASE.

-HARBURY/BAMACA CASE-

Q: WHAT HAS THE USG DONE TO ASSIST AMCIT JENNIFER HARBURY

IN HER ATTEMPTS TO FIND OUT WHAT HAPPENED TO HER HUSBAND, URNG GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA?

A: WE SHARE MS HARBURY'S CONCERNS ABOUT THE LACK OF PROGRESS IN RESOLVING THE CASE OF EFRAIN BAMACA, AND WIL, CONTINUE TO PRESS GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO GIVE A FUL, ACCOUNTING OF THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING HIS DISAPPEARANCE.

WE HAVE REPEATEDLY RAISED THIS CASE AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS OF THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT, INCLUDING THE SOLICITOF AND PROSECUTOR GENERALS, MINISTER OF DEFENSE, AND PRESIDENT DE LEON

STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON AND GUATEMALA HAVE MET WITH MS HARBURY ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS, MOST RECENTLY ON FEBRUARY 6. AMBASSADOR MCAFEE AND EMBASSY OFFICERS VISITED HER OFTEN DURING HER HUNGER STRIKE IN GUATEMALA LAST FALL AND HAVE CONTINUED TO PROVIDE HER ASSISTANCE ON HER SEVERAL VISITS TO GUATEMALA SINCE THEN.

-HARBURY/BAMACA CASE-

Q: WHAT INFORMATION HAS THE USG SHARED WITH JENNIFER HARBURY ABOUT WHAT HAPPENED TO HER HUSBAND, URNG GUERRILLA LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA?

A: DURING THE PAST SEVERAL MONTHS, U.S. OFFICIALS IN GUATEMALA AND WASHINGTON HAVE TOLD MS. HARBURY THAT, WHILE WE HAVE NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE, BASED ON ALL THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US, IT IS OUR CONSIDERED ASSESSMENT THAT HER HUSBAND DIED IN MILITARY CUSTODY IN 1992 AFTER A SHORT, BUT INDETERMINATE, PERIOD OF CAPTIVITY AND INTERROGATION.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS PROVIDED MS. HARBURY WITH AN AUTHENTICATED COPY OF ITS OFFICIAL SPOKESMAN'S PUBLIC STATEMENTS ON THE BAMACA CASE. ALSO, WE AND OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES TO WHOM MS. HARBURY HAS ADDRESSED FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT REQUESTS FOR DOCUMENTS ARE HANDLING HER REQUESTS ON AN EXPEDITED BASIS.

(IF ASKED)
WE ARE NOT ABLE TO DISCUSS INTELLIGENCE WITH PRIVATE CITIZENS, BUT WITHIN THAT CONSTRAINT, WE HAVE BEEN AS FORTHCOMING WITH MS. HARBURY AS POSSIBLE.

-GUATEMALA: U.S. ASSISTANCE-

Q: HOW MUCH AID DO WE GIVE GUATEMALA?

A: OUR RELATIVELY SMALL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM IN GUATEMALA (APPROXIMATELY $5 MILLION) FOCUSES ON BASIC HUMAN NEEDS AND SUPPORT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND JUDICIAL REFORM. IT PROVIDES VITALLY NEEDED AID THAT PROMOTES HEALTH AND CHILD SURVIVAL, JUDICIAL REFORM, MEASURES TO PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT AND TO ENCOURAGE BROAD-BASED SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT.

MUCH OF OUR AID TO GUATEMALA IS DELIVERED THROUGH NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS (NGOS) TO ENSURE THAT IT

GOES DIRECTLY TO THE MOST NEEDY.

MILITARY AID TO GUATEMALA WAS SUSPENDED IN 1990 BECAUSE OF CONCERN OVER PERSISTENT HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

IN 1994, WE CONVERTED THE $4.6 MILLION OF FROZEN MILITARY AID TO CIVILIAN ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUNDS AND EARMARKED IT FOR ACTIVITIES SUPPORTING THE PEACE PROCESS.

(IF ASKED)

IN 1994, WE PROVIDED APPROXIMATELY $8 MILLION IN FOOD AID, $5 MILLION IN DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE TO PROMOTE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT, $1.5 MILLION IN ECONOMIC SUPORT FUNDS, $2 MILLION IN COUNTERNARCOTICS ASSISTANCE, AND $36,000 IN INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING FUNDS TO PAY FOR FIVE INDIVIDUALS TO PARTICIPATE IN A COURSE ON CIVIL-MILITARY RELATIONS.

-GUATEMALA: TRADE SANCTIONS-

Q: WHY DOESN'T THE USG IMPOSE TRADE SANCTIONS ON GUATEMALA?

A: ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST GUATEMALA WOULD HURT THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE.

BROADLY-BASED, SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT ARE ESSENTIAL FOR POSITIVE POLITICAL AND SOCIAL CHANGE.

TRADE SANCTIONS WOULD HURT MILLIONS OF POOR GUATEMALANS, INCLUDING AGRICULTURAL ENTREPRENEURS AND THE PRIMARILY WOMEN GARMENT WORKERS WHO GENERALLY ARE PROVIDING DISPOSABLE INCOME FOR THEIR FAMILIES FOR THE FIRST TIME.

SUCH SANCTIONS WOULD NOT DIRECTLY AFFECT THE MILITARY LEADERSHIP NOR BE LIKELY TO PRODUCE ANY POSITIVE PROGRESS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS, BUT INSTEAD WOULD HURT POOR GUATEMALAN WOKERS.

-GUATEMALA: CUTTING OFF AID-

Q: WHY DOESN'T THE U.S. CUT OFF DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE TO GUATEMALA?

A: AS WITH TRADE SANCTIONS, CUTTING OFF AID TO GUATEMALA WOULD HURT GUATEMALA'S POOREST CITIZENS AND WOULD BE UNLIKELY TO BRING ABOUT POSITIVE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

U.S. ASSISTANCE IS FOCUSED SPECIFICALLY ON KEY OBSTACLES TO DEMOCRATIC STABILITY AND DEVELOPMENT IN GUATEMALA: STRENGTHENING FRAGILE DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS (THEREBY FIGHTING IMPUNITY AND PROMOTING THE RULE OF LAW); IMPROVING SOME OF THE WORST SOCIAL INDICATORS IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE; WORKING TO PRESERVE THE GUATEMALAN RAIN FOREST CRITICAL TO THE ENTIRE HEMISPHERE; AND STIMULATING JOB CREATION AND BETTER WORKING CONDITIONS FOR ALL GUATEMALANS.

THE CURRENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM DESIGNED TO STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY THROUGH INSTITUTIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND CITIZEN PARTICIPATION IS PARTICULARLY CRITICAL FOR IMPROVING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE RULE OF LAW.

FROM THE HUMANITARIAN PERSPECTIVE, ON-GOING USG PROGRAMS IN BILINGUAL AND GIRLS EDUCATION AND IN MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH ARE SETTING THE FRAMEWORK FOR ADDRESSING THE HEALTH AND EDUCATION NEEDS OF THE POOREST, MARGINALIZED GUATEMALANS.

CURTAILING ALREADY-DIMINISHED FUNDING IN RESPONSE TO HUMAN RIGHTS CONCERNS WOULD PUT PREVIOUS ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN JEOPARDY, UNDERMINE CHANGES NEEDED TO PROMOTE IMPROVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS, AND ABANDON MILLIONS OF GUATEMALANS WHO STAND TO BENEFIT OVER THE MEDIUM TERM FROM CONTINUED ADVANCES IN HEALTH, EDUCATION, INCOME AND EMPLOYMENT GENERATION AND LABOR POLICY.

-GUATEMALA: IMET-

Q: HAS THE U.S. CUT OFF GUATEMALA'S 1995 FUNDING FOR INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING (IMET)?

A: THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS DECIDED TO SUSPEND GUATEMALA'S 1995 IMET FUNDS TO DEMONSTRATE OUR CONCERN ABOUT THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT'S UNRESPONSIVENESS ON SEVERAL HIGH-PROFILE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES IN WHICH THE SECURITY FORCES HAVE BEEN IMPLICATED.

-MEXICO: NEW ECONOMIC MEASURES-

EL SALVADOR

(C) AFL-CIO Letter To Calderon Sol About Labor Death: Lane Kirkland urged Calderon Sol to suspend the export license of a Korean-owned "maquila" whose apparent negligence resulted in the death of Julia Esperanza Quintanilla, a labor organizer. Embassy confirms she died from acute gastroenteritis after a hospital refused to admit her because her employer had not filed proper documentation or paid required government fees. The company then fired workers who attended her funeral, but has rehired them. AIFLD's Bill Doherty faxed Kirkland's letter to you and to Amb. Flanigan, asking for assistance. Ambassador Flanigan plans to raise with Calderon Sol, currently in Denmark, at their next meeting. (Griffin)

(C) No Injuries From Shots Fired At Fuertes Caminos: Unknown persons exchanged fire with ESAF at a remote Fuertes Caminos site, there were no injuries, and Embassy report will arrive soon. (Griffin)

(C) IMF Agreement; IDB Mission: The IMF has negotiated a new standbuy program that will require GOES to increase its reserves to cover its fixed exchange rate and to cope with anticipated (by IMF) pressure to spend as ONUSAL pulls out. IMF has not formally approved GOES' currency convertibility, but is giving technical advice on how to do it, and believes El Salvador may be better able to run a fixed rate system than Mexico or Argentina. GOES is expected to ask an IDB mission, headed by Iglesias, for loans to provide support for reserves. (Griffin)

-GUATEMALA: SCHOOL OF AMERICAS/FUERTES CAMINOS-

Q: I UNDERSTAND THAT THIS YEAR'S DISTINGUISHED GUEST INSTRUCTOR AT THE SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS IS A GUATEMALAN OFFICER AND THAT U.S. NATIONAL GUARD TROOPS ARE GOING DOWN TO GUATEMALA IN AN ARMY PROGRAM TO BUILD ROADS. DOES THE ADMINISTRATION INTEND TO USE ANY OF THESE ASSOCIATIONS TO OBTAIN FROM THE GUATEMALAN ARMY A DETERMINATION OF THIS CASE?

A: NO. WE HAVE DETERMINED THAT THE MOST APPROPRIATE STEP THAT WE COULD TAKE TO ENCOURAGE A FULL ACCOUNTING FROM THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT AND MILITARY IS TO SUSPEND THE PARTICIPATION OF GUATEMALAN MILITARY PERSONNEL IN THE INTERNATIONAL MILEITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING (IMET) PROGRAMS IN THE UNITED STATES FOR THE REMAINDER OF 1995.

THERE ARE CURRENTLY NO GUATEMALAN INSTRUCTORS AT THE SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS AND THERE HAVE BEEN NO GUATEMALAN STUDENTS THERE SINCE 1992. FOR YOUR INFORMATION, ALL INSTRUCTORS AT THE SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS ARE GIVEN THE TITLE "DISTINGUISHED GUEST INSTRUCTOR."

THE HUMANITARIAN CIVIC EXERCISE YOU REFER TO, FUERTES CAMINOS ("STRONG ROADS,") IS A PROGRAM THAT ALLOWS U.S. MILITARY PERSONNEL TO TRAIN IN A REALISTIC ENVIRONMENT WHILE PROVIDING ASSISTANCE TO PEOPLE IN NEED. U.S. RESERVISTS AND NATIONAL GUARD MEMBERS WHO PARTICIPATE IN FUERTES CAMINOS IN 1995 ARE PROJECTED TO BUILD FIVE SCHOOLS, THREE MEDICAL CLINICS, AND TWO BRIDGES; TO DRILL SIXTEEN WATER WELLS; AND TO CONDUCT MEDICAL READINESS TRAINING. OUR SOLDIERS WILL BE HELPING TO IMPROVE THE LIVES OF VERY POOR PEOPLE. IN ADDITION TO HUMANITARIAN BENEFITS FOR RURAL GUATEMALANS, FUERTES CAMINOS PROVIDES A VALUABLE OPPORTUNITY FOR OUR MILITARY PERSONNEL TO OPERATE IN A CHALLENGING ENVIRONMENT, ENHANCING THEIR READINESS. THIS TYPE OF TRAINING IN REMOTE AREAS AND RUGGED TERRAIN IS GENERALLY NOT AVAILABLE TO AMERICAN MILETARY PERSONNEL IN THE UNITED STATES. FINALLY, BUT OF EQUAL IMPORTANCE, FUERTES CAMINOS EXPOSES GUATEMALAN MILITARY PERSONNEL -- PRIMARILY MILITARY ENGINEERS -- TO THE PROFESSIONALISM AND VALUES THAT GUIDE THE U.S. MILITARY, NOTABLY THE IMPORTANCE OF CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER THE MILITARY AND THE NEED TO PROTECT BASIC HUMAN RIGHTS. Q. DO YOU KNOW WHERE CARLOS SALINAS IS? IS HE IN THE UNITED STATES? DOES HE HAVE A U.S. VISA? WHAT COMMENT DO YOU HAVE ON THE RUMOR THAT HE HAS GONE INTO EXILE IN THE UNITED STATES?

A. WE HAVE SEEN REPORTS THAT FORMER PRESIDENT SALINAS DEPARTED MEXICO YESTERDAY AND ENTERED THE UNITED STATES. WE ARE NOT AWARE OF HIS FINAL DESTINATION OR IMMEDIATE PLANS. (FYI: SALINAS HAS TRAVELLED TO THE U.S. AT LEAST THREE TIMES SINCE LEAVING THE PRESIDENCY LAST DECEMBER. HE HAS A VISA, BUT WE DO NOT KNOW WHAT TRAVEL DOCUMENTS HE USED TO ENTER THE U.S. YESTERDAY.)

DECLASSIFIED

Serbs in Krajina and the Croatians, is there any word from Tudjman about keeping the troops there, while all this is being shuffled and reconfigured through the U.N., etc? Will there be a buffer in place, or do you know, Christine?

MS. SHELLY: The exact details are something that will have to be worked out through the Security Council.

Q One question. You know, it really sounds like if you're cutting the number in half -- and right now they're mainly in the zone of separation, and instead they've got a new function -- let's say they're going to the borders to monitor I don't know how many borders posts -- I don't quite see how the continued presence of the U.N. there is going to prevent a conflict, because basically when you take them out of the zone -- you know, this no-man's land -- then that's where the conflict begins.

MS. SHELLY: But I have not said anything to suggest that they're all coming out of the zones. I think you're making a presumption that I ...

Q You're cutting it in half, and you're giving them a new assignment on the borders.

MS. SHELLY: There already is some presence along the borders as it is, so my understanding is that it's stepping up the presence on the border. But I have not suggested that they're all coming out of the protected areas either.

Q Can I pick up on that question about what the real function is going to be of the U.N. there and how it's going to lead to stability and not raise the prospect of war?

MS. SHELLY: Okay, but those are all issues that will be addressed as the Security Council begins its deliberations on the new mandate.

Q Will there be further steps to pressure the Guatemalan army to provide a full account of the Bimaca and other cases, such as the suspension of police programs or a request to expedite the extradition of military officers suspected in drug cases?

MS. SHELLY: First of all, I assume that you have seen the statement that we put out last Friday. We said in connection with our concerns over the lack of progress on a number of human rights cases that we were suspending the participation of Guatemalan military personnel in the IMET program -- the International Military, Education and Training program.

We put out a very strong statement, as I mentioned on Friday, in response to questions about what we were doing. You were here, I think, on Friday when we discussed that, and that's still certainly very much where we are, and we will certainly continue to press the case.

I think you also asked me a couple of other questions about exchanges. I've had a chance to run that down as well. You asked about an instructor at the School of the Americas, a Guatemalan instructor, and I'm told that there is not an instructor. There currently is no Guatemalan instructor at the school, and there have been no Guatemalan students there since 1992.

The instructors who are there are given this title, "Distinguished Guest Instructor," so that's not anything new. But I'm told there is no Guatemalan instructor there now.

You also asked me about -- and it took some time for me to check on this -- the possibility of some U.S. National Guard troops going down to Guatemala. Wasn't that the second part of your question on Friday?

That is actually a humanitarian civic exercise, something called "Fuertes Caminos," which is "strong roads" in English. It's a program that allows U.S. military personnel to train in a realistic environment while providing assistance to people in need. U.S. Reservists and National Guard members, who are expected to participate this year, will be doing things like building some schools, establishing a couple of medical clinics, a couple of bridges; they also drill water wells and conduct medical readiness training.

Part of what they do there is to designed to try to improve the lives of very poor people. But in addition to humanitarian benefits for the Guatemalans in these rural areas, it also provides a valuable opportunity for our military personnel to operate in a challenging environment and to enhance their own readiness.

This type of training in remote areas and rugged terrain is generally not available to American military personnel in the United States.

We have determined at this point the most appropriate step that we can take to try to encourage the full accounting from the Guatemalan Government and authorities, and the military is to suspend their participation in the IMET program. I referred our statement on Friday, and we obviously will continue to keep this issue on the agenda for our exchanges with the Guatemalan authorities.

the latest developments really changing the basic assumption on that.

As I think you know, a very tough economic program was announced by the Mexican authorities on March 9 with a view to restoring financial stability and to lay the ground work for resumed economic growth. Tough measures certainly are in order to overcome Mexico's problem, and from the beginning we said that the program would only work if Mexico took the difficult steps to re-establish stability and to put itself on the road to long-term economic health.

We believe that the new measures demonstrate that Mexico is committed to taking these steps, and certainly many of them will be painful.

Q But do you know the whereabouts of President Salinas in this moment and if he seeks for ...

MS. SHELLY: I think I just answered that.

Q Okay. And if he seeks for a political asylum, will the United States be willing to give it to him?

MS. SHELLY: I'm not aware that's an issue.

Q Christine, to follow that, you did, I think, confirm that he is in the country.

MS. SHELLY: No, I actually said that we had seen reports suggesting that he was in the country, and that he may have entered yesterday.

Q You said you don't know what travel documents he used to enter the United States yesterday.

MS. SHELLY: That's based on a presumption that the reports that he entered are correct.

Q Let me follow a little further on her question.

MS. SHELLY: Try me.

Q Okay. The Sunday article in the Post, a very scandalous article about drugs, drug barons and control in Mexico and in high offices. Is there a possibility that Mr. Salinas is running from investigation here, now his brother is being essentially indicted for being a part of an assassination plot? And if indeed Mexican authorities were seeking him, would we give him asylum?

MS. SHELLY: First of all, as I just answered to the previous question, as far as I'm aware, the asylum point is now at issue here. He has a visa. He is able to enter the United States, but lots of people enter the United States every day, and so we cannot always instantaneously entertain whether a particular person has come in and, if so, what was the port of entry. Obviously, that's something that we're checking on, but I simply don't have anything to report on that.

I think that's probably as far as I can take it. I'm not aware that there are any other factors underway at this point that would involve any other actions, present and potential, against the former President.

Q On the kind of visa he has, could you find out how long he could remain in the United States?

MS. SHELLY: I will do my best.

Q What sort of documentation does he need? Does he need a visa to come to the United States? He does not need a visa to come.

MS. SHELLY: He has a visa already. And, as I mentioned, I was able to ascertain that he had already entered the country three times since he left the Presidency.

Q Is this a permanent visa or what kind of visa?

MS. SHELLY: A visa which enables him to come and visit. (Laughter)

Q And doesn't expire.

MS. SHELLY: As you know, it is very often, and certainly with government officials and very frequently with former senior government officials, they are given multiple-entry visas, and very often they have an indefinite date of applicability to them. So that would not be at all uncommon. So I will see if I can find out the exact details.

But as a Foreign Service Officer, and having been overseas, and having watched us grant visas to eminent government -- former and present government officials, it's not at all at odds with our customary practice to give multiple-entry indefinite duration visas. That's something we do very commonly.

Q May I switch the subjects for just a moment. With reference to the Secretary of State's visit with the Syrian President today, can you give us any specific on the new peace proposal ...

2. ARA PRESS STATEMENT POSTED SATURDAY, MARCH 11, 1995:

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
MARCH 11, 1995
STATEMENT BY CHRISTINE SHELLY, ACTING SPOKESMAN
-GUARANTORS AGREEMENT ON OBSERVER GROUP-

THE GUARANTORS OF THE 1942 RIO PROTOCOL (ARGENTINA, BRAZIL, CHILE AND THE U.S.) AND THE TWO PARTIES TO THAT AGREEMENT (ECUADOR AND PERU) CONCLUDED ON MARCH 10 A DEFINITION OF PROCEDURES AGREEMENT FOR THE RAPID DEPLOYMENT OF A GUARANTOR COUNTRY OBSERVER MISSION. U.S. PARTICIPANTS ARE EXPECTED TO ARRIVE AT THE STAGING BASE FOR THE OBSERVER MISSION THIS WEEKEND.

THE OBSERVER MISSION, MADE UP OF TEN MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES OF EACH GUARANTOR COUNTRY, WILL MONITOR THE CEASE-FIRE AND THE SEPARATION OF PERUVIAN AND ECUADORIAN FORCES AND WILL RECOMMEND TO THE PARTIES AN AREA TO BE DEMILITARIZED. AN ADDITIONAL 82 U.S. MILITARY PERSONNEL WILL PROVIDE TRANSPORTATION AND OTHER LOGISTICAL SUPPORT TO THE MISSION.

AS THE OBSERVER MISSION BEGINS ITS WORK, THE UNITED STATES ENCOURAGES BOTH ECUADOR AND PERU TO TAKE THE OPPORTUNITY OFFERED BY THE PRESENCE OF THE GUARANTOR COUNTRY OBSERVERS TO BEGIN A DIRECT DIALOGUE, THAT WILL LEAD TO A PERMANENT SOLUTION TO THEIR REMAINING DIFFERENCES.

Serbs in Krajina and the Croatians, is there any word from Tudjman about keeping the troops there, while all this is being shuffled and reconfigured through the U.N.; etc? Will there be a buffer in place, or do you know, Christine?

MS. SHELLY: The exact details are something that will have to be worked out through the Security Council.

Q One question. You know, it really sounds like if you're cutting the number in half -- and right now they're mainly in the zone of separation, and instead they've got a new function -- let's say they're going to the borders to monitor I don't know how many borders posts -- I don't quite see how the continued presence of the U.N. there is going to prevent a conflict, because basically when you take them out of the zone -- you know, this no-man's land -- then that's where the conflict begins.

MS. SHELLY: But I have not said anything to suggest that they're all coming out of the zones. I think you're making a presumption that I ...

Q You're cutting it in half, and you're giving them a new assignment on the borders.

MS. SHELLY: There already is some presence along the borders as it is, so my understanding is that it's stepping up the presence on the border. But I have not suggested that they're all coming out of the protected areas either.

Q Can I pick up on that question about what the real function is going to be of the U.N. there and how it's going to lead to stability and not raise the prospect of war?

MS. SHELLY: Okay, but those are all issues that will be addressed as the Security Council begins its deliberations on the new mandate.

Q . Will there be further steps to pressure the Guatemalan army to provide a full account of the Bimaca and other cases, such as the suspension of police programs or a request to expedite the extradition of military officers suspected in drug cases?

MS. SHELLY: First of all, I assume that you have seen the statement that we put out last Friday. We said in connection with our concerns over the lack of progress on a number of human rights cases that we were suspending the participation of Guatemalan military personnel in the IMET program -- the International Military, Education and Training program.

We put out a very strong statement, as I mentioned on Friday, in response to questions about what we were doing. You were here, I think, on Friday when we discussed that, and that's still certainly very much where we are, and we will certainly continue to press the case.

I think you also asked me a couple of other questions about exchanges. I've had a chance to run that down as well. You asked about an instructor at the School of the Americas, a Guatemalan instructor, and I'm told that there is not an instructor. There currently is no Guatemalan instructor at the school, and there have been no Guatemalan students there since 1992.

The instructors who are there are given this title, "Distinguished Guest Instructor," so that's not anything new. But I'm told there is no Guatemalan instructor there now.

You also asked me about -- and it took some time for me to check on this -- the possibility of some U.S. National Guard troops going down to Guatemala. Wasn't that the second part of your question on Friday?

That is actually a humanitarian civic exercise, something called "Fuertes Caminos," which is "strong roads" in English. It's a program that allows U.S. military personnel to train in a realistic environment while providing assistance to people in need. U.S. Reservists and National Guard members, who are expected to participate this year, will be doing things like building some schools, establishing a couple of medical clinics, a couple of bridges; they also drill water wells and conduct medical readiness training.

Part of what they do there is to designed to try to improve the lives of very poor people. But in addition to humanitarian benefits for the Guatemalans in these rural areas, it also provides a valuable opportunity for our military personnel to operate in a challenging environment and to enhance their own readiness.

This type of training in remote areas and rugged terrain is generally not available to American military personnel in the United States.

We have determined at this point the most appropriate step that we can take to try to encourage the full accounting from the Guatemalan Government and authorities, and the military is to suspend their participation in the IMET program. I referred our statement on Friday, and we obviously will continue to keep this issue on the agenda for our exchanges with the Guatemalan authorities.

Q Can I have a follow-up. Also, your statement says that there will be a restriction of visas for guerrilla representatives coming to the United States. Will there be a restriction of the delegation of peace to military officers because of their role in the violence in the country?

MS. SHELLY: I don't know. I'd have to check on that specific point.

Q Christine, could you tell us anything about President Salinas' trip to the United States?

MS. SHELLY: I can probably tell you about as much as the White House spokesman did when he was asked. He actually briefed a little earlier today, and he's already gotten this question, I think, at his briefing, or else he took it earlier this morning.

Other than being able to work along the same lines and to tell you that we've seen the reports that he has entered the United States, we are not aware of his final destination or even his immediate plans.

He had already traveled to the U.S. three times since he left the Presidency. He has a visa. But we do not know specifically what travel documents he used to enter the U.S. yesterday. As far as we know, he had not contacted the U.S. Government regarding his plans to stay in the U.S., and as soon as we have more information on that, I'm sure we'll try to make that available.

Q Is there some concern, since he was one of the principal negotiators of NAFTA, that now that he's left apparently the economic situation is not too well there in kind terms. Is there some concern about that agreement that was negotiated that the U.S. put so much on the line with?

MS. SHELLY: Is there concern about NAFTA or the Mexican economy, or what's the angle of the question?

Q Concern about the effect of NAFTA, the Mexican economy and the agreement the U.S. negotiated -- loss of jobs -- and is there concern about the Mexican economy because the U.S. is still sending money to Mexico?

MS. SHELLY: I'm not aware of any re-thinking being given to NAFTA at this point. I think that it still is our view that NAFTA is in the long-term interests of all of the countries that have become part of it. I'm not aware of OAS DRUG COMMISSION TACKLES SUMMIT IMPLEMENTATION: MONEY LAUNDERING, PRECURSOR CHEMICALS, OTHER ISSUES: IN DECISIONS THAT MET SEVERAL U.S. OBJECTIVES, THE INTER-AMERICAN DRUG ABUSE CONTROL COMMISSION (CICAD), MEETING IN PANAMA LAST WEEK, PINPOINTED ITS ROLE IN IMPLEMENTING THE MIAMI SUMMIT COMMITMENTS ON NARCO-TRAFFICKING. IT DISCUSSED U.S. PLANS TO HOST THE WORKING LEVEL CONFERENCE ON MONEY LAUNDERING IN APRIL AND DECIDED--AS THE U.S. WISHED AND DESPITE MISGIVINGS FROM SOME DELEGATIONS--TO POSTPONE THE MEETING OF THE CICAD EXPERTS GROUP ON THIS SUBJECT UNTIL AFTER THE MINISTERIAL LEVEL MEETING THIS FALL.

THE COMMISSION ALSO APPROVED THE FRAMEWORK FOR BILATERAL AGREEMENTS WITH THE EUROPEAN UNION ON PRECURSOR CHEMICALS CONTROLS CALLED FOR IN THE SUMMIT ACTION PLAN, AFTER AMENDING THE DRAFT TO MEET A CRUCIAL U.S. OBJECTION. THE CICAD REPORT WILL HIGHLIGHT THE IMPORTANCE OF THE WORLD BANK AND IDB IN ORGANIZING THE DONORS CONFERENCE ON ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT CALLED FOR BY THE SUMMIT. A WORKING GROUP WILL MEET BRIEFLY TO DETERMINE IN DETAIL HOW OTHER CICAD PROJECTS ALREADY IMPLEMENT, OR CAN BE MODIFIED TO IMPLEMENT, OTHER SUMMIT OBJECTIVES.

THE PROBLEM OF STRENGTHENING THE IMPACT OF NATIONAL DRUG COMMISSIONS--A MAJOR U.S. INTEREST IN THE REGION--WAS DISCUSSED AT LENGTH; THE COMMISSION DECIDED TO DEVOTE ITS OCTOBER SESSION TO THIS TOPIC. LASTLY, THE DESIGNATION OF DAVID BEALL AS CICAD'S NEW EXECUTIVE SECRETARY WAS WARMLY WELCOMED. HE IS EXPECTED TO TAKE OFFICE NEXT MONTH.

INTER-AMERICAN JURIDICAL COMMITTEE OPENS SESSION IN WASHINGTON. GUATEMALA SAYS U.S. HUNGER STRIKER IS SUBVERSIVE@
BY FIONA NEILL
GUATEMALA CITY, MARCH 13 (REUTER) - GUATEMALA LEVELED ACCUSATIONS OF ''SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES'' ON MONDAY AGAINST A U.S. WOMAN WHO WENT ON A HUNGER STRIKE OUTSIDE THE WHITE HOUSE TO DEMAND INFORMATION ABOUT HER MISSING REBEL HUSBAND.

THE GOVERNMENT, IN A 14-PAGE STATEMENT, ALLEGED THAT LAWYER JENNIFER HARBURY HAD ADMITTED HER INVOLVEMENT IN ARMS-TRAFFICKING AND SHELTERING GUERRILLAS IN A BOOK SHE WROTE ON GUATEMALA CALLED ''BRIDGE OF COURAGE.''

''MRS. HARBURY HAS BEEN INVOLVED IN SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES AGAINST THE GUATEMALAN STATE,'' THE STATEMENT SAID.

THE GOVERNMENT ALSO ACCUSED HARBURY OF MOUNTING A CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT TO UNDERMINE PEACE TALKS WITH LEFTIST REBELS AND DESTROY GUATEMALA'S RELATIONSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES.

HARBURY BEGAN A HUNGER STRIKE IN WASHINGTON SUNDAY TO DEMAND THE RETURN OF HER HUSBAND, TOP REBEL LEADER EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ, WHO SHE SAYS WAS SEIZED BY THE ARMY IN MARCH 1992.

THE STATEMENT CAME THREE DAYS AFTER THE U.S. GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED IT WAS SUSPENDING THE LAST OF ITS MILITARY AID TO GUATEMALA DUE TO LACK OF PROGRESS BY THE GOVERNMENT IN RESOLVING KEY HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, INCLUDING THAT OF BAMACA.

THE U.S. EMBASSY IN GUATEMALA SAID IT COULD NOT COMMENT ON THE GOVERNMENT'S STATEMENT.

HARBURY SAYS THE GUATEMALAN ARMY CAPTURED HER HUSBAND AFTER THE MARCH 1992 BATTLE.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT, BASED ON INFORMATION FROM ITS INTELLIGENCE SOURCES IN GUATEMALA, HAS BACKED HER CLAIMS.

THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT HAS PREVIOUSLY SAID BAMACA EITHER DIED IN THE BATTLE OR COMMITTED SUICIDE TO AVOID CAPTURE.

BUT IN ITS LATEST STATEMENT THE GOVERNMENT SAYS IT CANNOT CONFIRM WHETHER BAMACA EVEN PARTICIPATED IN THE BATTLE.

IN OCTOBER HARBURY STAGED A 32-DAY HUNGER STRIKE IN GUATEMALA CITY'S MAIN SQUARE TO DRAW ATTENTION TO HER CASE.

THE HUNGER STRIKE RECEIVED WIDESPREAD NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL COVERAGE AND PUT THE SPOTLIGHT ON GUATEMALA'S DISMAL HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD.

MORE THAN 100,000 PEOPLE HAVE BEEN KILLED DURING THREE DECADES OF CIVIL WAR AND A FURTHER 40,000 DISAPPEARED.

THE GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLAS BEGAN A NEW ROUND OF PEACE TALKS AIMED AT ENDING LATIN AMERICA'S LONGEST CIVIL WAR IN MEXICO CITY ON MONDAY.

SUBJECT: MINUGUA ISSUES FIRST REPORT

1. (C) SUMMARY: THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION IN GUATEMALA (MINUGUA) ISSUED ITS FIRST REPORT ON MARCH 13. THE DOCUMENT DETAILS NUMEROUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, MANY APPARENTLY CONNECTED TO GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES. THE URNG IS ALSO TAKEN TO TASK FOR VIOLATIONS AND IT IS AUTHORITATIVELY STATED, FOR THE FIRST TIME TO OUR KNOWLEDGE, THAT THE GUERRILLAS ACCEPTED RESPONSIBILITY IN SOME CASES OF REPRISAL FOR "WAR TAX" NON-PAYMENT.

2. (C) THE GOOD WILL OF THE GOG (AND URNG) IS NOTED, THOUGH CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS ARE DESCRIBED AS WOEFULLY INADEQUATE AND NON-EXISTENT IN MANY AREAS AND, IT IS NOTED, MOST POLICE AND MILITARY OFFICERS INVOLVED IN VIOLATIONS ARE NOT TRIED. THE REPORT IS A SERIOUS EFFORT BY A GROUP OF COMMITTED HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS. THOUGH IT LINKS GOVERNMENT FORCES TO A NUMBER OF CASES ONLY BY ASSERTION. LIKE OTHERS BEFORE IT, THE UN DOCUMENT REFLECTS THE DIFFICULTY OF PIERCING THE VEIL OF IMPUNITY HERE AND SEPARATING PURELY CRIMINAL FROM POLITICAL ACTS. END SUMMARY.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

3. (U) THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION IN GUATEMALA (MINUGUA) ISSUED ITS FIRST REPORT ON MARCH 13. THE 44-PAGE DOCUMENT COVERS THE NOVEMBER 21, 1994 TO FEBRUARY 21, 1995 PERIOD. OF THE APPROXIMATELY 1000 COMPLAINTS RECEIVED IN THESE THREE MONTHS, IT FOUND 288 WITHIN ITS COMPETENCE. IT SHOULD BE STRESSED THAT MINUGUA LABELED THESE "PRESUMED VIOLATIONS," AS A NUMBER OF CASES ARE UNCLEAR AND STILL BEING INVESTIGATED ("VERIFIED"). THE MOST SERIOUS OF THE "COMPLAINTS ADMITTED" ARE SUMMARIZED AS FOLLOWS:

Guatemala Files H.M. Veloz

GUATEM 02118 00 OF 04 151411Z SHB2621

PAGE(S) MISSING

-- ARBITRARY DETENTION: 21

-- FORCED DISAPPEARANCE: 6

-- FORCED, UNJUST OR DISCRIMINATORY RECRUITMENT: 13

-- OTHER VIOLATIONS OCCURRING IN THE ARMED CONFRONTATION: 14 (NOTE: THIS CATEGORY INCLUDES ATTACKS AGAINST CIVILIAN TARGETS.)

4. (U) THE REPORT ALSO NOTES THE MISSION IS ALMOST UP TO ITS AUTHORIZED INTERNATIONAL STRENGTH OF 245 PERSONS, THOUGH IT HAS ONLY HALF OF THE 60 POLICE OFFICERS IT PLANNED FOR. ALL 13 BRANCH AND REGIONAL OFFICES ARE NOW OPEN, IN ADDITION TO THE HEADQUARTERS OPERATION.

5. (U) IN A SECTION ENTITLED, "CONTEXT IN WHICH THE MISSION OPERATES," MINUGUA NOTES THAT "DESPITE CERTAIN RECENT INSTITUTIONAL IMPROVEMENTS, THERE REMAIN A NUMBER OF LONG-STANDING STRUCTURAL ELEMENTS THAT SEVERELY LIMIT THE ADEQUATE PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS." IN ADDITION, IT NOTES THE GENERALIZED CLIMATE OF VIOLENCE HERE AND THE INADEQUACY OF CIVILIAN SECURITY INSTITUTIONS AND THE ABSENCE OF CIVILIAN AUTHORITY IN MANY COUNTRYSIDE AREAS.

6. (U) SUMMARIZING THIS PORTION OF THE REPORT, MINUGUA NOTES, "STATE INSTITUTIONS AND OTHER BODIES OF CIVIL SOCIETY REMAIN VERY WEAK AND LARGELY HAMPERED IN THEIR EFFORTS TO SOLVE THE ACUTE NATIONAL PROBLEMS THEY HAVE INHERITED. THUS, HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MUST BE SET IN THE CONTEXT OF WIDER EFFORTS TO END THE ARMED CONFLICT, PROMOTE THE RULE OF LAW, STRENGTHEN THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS AND ENCOURAGE DEVELOPMENT."

7. (U) THE REPORT ALSO BRIEFLY TOUCHES ON A NUMBER OF WELL-KNOWN CASES. AMONG THESE ARE:

-- BELGIAN PRIEST STESSEL: MINUGUA BELIEVES THERE ARE GROUNDS TO BELIEVE THE MURDER WAS PLANNED "AND THAT MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND MEMBERS OF THE POLICE WERE INVOLVED." IT ALSO NOTES SOME MINUGUA MEMBERS WERE SURVEILED AFTER TAKING UP THIS CASE.

-- USCIT FATHER DAN VOGT: IT IS NOTED HE WAS THREATENED BY A PERSON WHO IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS AN ARMY INTELLIGENCE AGENT. WHEN QUESTIONED, THE ARMY STATED THE INDIVIDUAL IN QUESTION HAD LEFT THE MILITARY TWO MONTHS EARLIER.

-- CERJ LEADER ANILCAR MENDEZ: THREATS AGAINST HIM ON CHRISTMAS EVE AND LACK OF GOVERNMENTAL RESPONSE TO THESE IS NOTED.

-- URNG COMANDANTE EFRAIN BAMACA: IT IS REPORTED,

UNCLASSIFIED

UNDER THE "RIGHT TO DUE PROCESS" SECTION, THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION "WAS ADVERSELY AFFECTED BY THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CASE, THE COMPLEXITY OF WHICH REQUIRES THAT DIRECT LEADS BE FOLLOWED UP WITH ALL DUE THOROUGHNESS AND SPEED, AND THAT STRATEGIES BE DEVISED FOR COMPARING CONFLICTING VERSIONS OF EVENTS." THE FAILURE OF VARIOUS STATE INSTITUTIONS TO PROVIDE INFORMATION TO THE OMBUDSMAN IS ALSO NOTED, AS IS THAT A "DIPLOMATIC SOURCE" PROVIDED CORROBORATION THAT BAMACA WAS "CAPTURED ALIVE."

-- ANTHROPOLOGIST MYRNA MACK: IRREGULARITIES WERE FOUND IN THE JUDICIAL HANDLING OF THE LATEST PHASE OF THIS CASE, DESIGNED TO DETERMINE THE GUILT OF THE ALLEGED (RETIRED MILITARY) INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS OF THIS KILLING. IN THIS VEIN, MINUGUA DETERMINED "A LACK OF INITIATIVE ON THE PART OF THE COMPETENT ORGANS (WHICH) AMOUNTS TO A DENIAL OF THE RIGHT OF JUSTICE."

-- UCN LEADER JORGE CARPIO: IRREGULARITIES IN THE CASE ARE NOTED. IT IS CONCLUDED THAT, "THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE NATIONAL POLICE AND THE ARMY FOR THE LOSS OF IMPORTANT EVIDENCE, THE OBSTRUCTION OF THE INQUIRIES AND THE ARMY'S FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR THE DEFENSE OF THE ACCUSED ARE ALSO IMPORTANT FACTS THAT CAST DOUBT ON THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE TRIAL."

-- LA EXACTA: THE FACTS OF THE CASE ARE REVIEWED WITH MINUGUA STATING IT IS FOLLOWING THE MATTER AND CONCERNED ABOUT THREATS MADE AGAINST THOSE WHO HELPED THE NON-DISLODGED CAMPESINOS. IT IS NOTED THE COATEPEQUE LABOR COURT WAS PARTIALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE TRAGEDY DUE TO ITS FAILURE TO RULE IN A TIMELY FASHION ON THE LEGALITY OF THE DISMISSAL OF 64 WORKERS.

-- COBAN VIGILANTE SQUAD/CLANDESTINE SECURITY SQUADS: IT IS STATED INDICATIONS EXIST THAT THE ARMY AND POLICE WERE INVOLVED IN AN IRREGULAR CLANDESTINE SECURITY APPARATUS RESPONSIBLE FOR AT LEAST ONE DEATH AND OTHER CASES OF SERIOUS VIOLATIONS IN THE COBAN AREA, INCLUDING A FORCED DISAPPEARANCE. IN GENERAL TERMS, MINUGUA NOTES HARD EVIDENCE ON THE EXISTENCE OF CLANDESTINE SECURITY APPARATUSES "ORGANIZED OR USED BY AGENTS OF THE STATE" DOES NOT EXIST, BUT THAT THE "PRELIMINARY EVIDENCE" GATHERED IN SOME CASES POINTS TO THEIR EXISTENCE.

-- FORCED RECRUITMENT: DESPITE THE PRESIDENT'S JUNE 30, 1994 COMMITMENT AGAINST THIS PRACTICE, SOME COMPLAINTS OF IT WERE RECEIVED. THERE WAS ALSO CONCERN THAT THE CALL-UP LETTER SELECTIVELY SENT TO DRAFTEES, AND THE PROCEDURE INVOLVED IN THIS (APPARENTLY DELIVERY BY MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, THOUGH THIS IS NOT MENTIONED IN THE REPORT), AMOUNTED TO INAPPROPRIATE PRESSURE. IN A JANUARY 31 DISCUSSION WITH MINUGUA, THE PRESIDENT AGREED TO END THIS CALL-UP PRACTICE.

-- URNG VIOLATIONS: THE SHOOTING AT A VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE AMBULANCE EVACUATING A WOUNDED SOLDIER IS

LISTED, THOUGH THE URNG DENIED INVOLVEMENT AND FIGHTING AT THE TIME OF THE EVACUATION MADE INTENT DIFFICULT TO DETERMINE. IT IS ALSO STATED THAT URNG INFRASTRUCTURE ATTACKS ARE VIOLATIONS, BREAKING THE "RULE OF PROPORTIONALITY" IN A MILITARY CONFLICT. "BOTH IN THE CASES OF SABOTAGE OF ELECTRICAL PYLONS AND IN THE CASES OF DESTRUCTION OF INSTALLATIONS ON RURAL ESTATES (FOR NON-PAYMENT OF WAR TAXES), THE...URNG HAS FAILED TO FULFILL THE COMMITMENT MADE IN THE (HUMAN RIGHTS) AGREEMENT TO PUT A STOP TO THE SUFFERING OF THE CIVILIAN POPULATION AND HAS THUS FAILED TO OBSERVE MINIMUM PRINCIPLES DERIVING FROM HUMANITARIAN LAW AND INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS LAW."

(C) (NOTE: THIS SECTION STATES THE URNG

ACKNOWLEDGES COMMITTING SOME REPRISALS FOR NON-PAYMENT OF "WAR TAXES," THOUGH IT SOUGHT TO JUSTIFY THESE ACTIONS IN MILITARY/STRATEGIC TERMS. TO OUR KNOWLEDGE, THIS WOULD BE THE FIRST GUERRILLA ACKNOWLEDGEMENT THAT NON-PAYMENT HAS CONSEQUENCES.)

INSTITUTION BUILDING

8. (U) IN ADDRESSING ITS ROLE IN FORTIFYING LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS-RELATED INSTITUTIONS, MINUGUA STATES THERE ARE "SERIOUS DEFICIENCIES" IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE IN GUATEMALA. THE UN TEAM NOTES ITS WORK WITH THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE, THE OMBUDSMAN AND THE GOVERNMENT MINISTRY, AS WELL AS THE CREATION OF A JOINT WORK UNIT WITH THE UNDP. WORK ON IMPROVING THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE AND DEEPENING TIES WITH LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS NGO'S WILL ALSO BE STRENGTHENED IN THE MONTHS TO COME.

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

9. (U) AMONG OTHER POINTS MADE IN A LENGTHY CONCLUSIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS SECTION, THE UN TEAM:

-- THANKS THE AMBASSADORS OF THE GROUP OF FRIENDS FOR THEIR SUPPORT AND COUNSEL;

-- "CONCLUDES THAT THERE HAVE BEEN NUMEROUS VIOLATIONS OF THE RIGHT TO LIFE, INCLUDING CASES OF EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS OR DEATHS IN VIOLATION OF LEGAL GUARANTEES. THE LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE AGAINST WHOM DEATH THREATS HAVE BEEN MADE IS ALSO EXTREMELY DISTURBING. THE RIGHT TO LIFE SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN THE RIGHT MOST SERIOUSLY AFFECTED DURING THE REPORTING PERIOD, AND THE MISSION EXPRESSES DEEP CONCERN AT THIS FACT."

-- NOTES "THE VAST MAJORITY OF CASES INVOLVING DEATH HAVE NOT BEEN ADEQUATELY INVESTIGATED OR RESOLVED BY THE COMPETENT AUTHORITIES, AND THIS INCREASES LEVELS OF IMPUNITY PROMOTING A WIDESPREAD FEELING OF INSECURITY AMONG THE PUBLIC, AND MADE IT MORE DIFFICULT TO DISTINGUISH VIOLATIONS OF THE RIGHT TO LIFE WHICH COULD BE CLASSIFIED AS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS FROM COMMON CRIMES WITHOUT A POLITICAL MOTIVE."

-- BELIEVES "THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOT ADEQUATELY GUARANTEED THE RIGHT TO INTEGRITY AND SECURITY OF PERSON, THAT IS TO SAY, THE RIGHT TO BE FREE FROM TORTURE OR OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN OR DEGRADING TREATMENT, AND CASES HAVE BEEN VERIFIED IN WHICH MILITARY AND POLICE OFFICERS APPEAR TO BE IMPLICATED. THE MISSION HAS NO INFORMATION THAT SUCH CASES HAVE BEEN INVESTIGATED IN DEPTH OR THAT THE GUILTY PARTIES HAVE BEEN PROSECUTED."

SUBJECT: MINUGUA ISSUES FIRST REPORT

1. [redacted] SUMMARY: THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION IN GUATEMALA (MINUGUA) ISSUED ITS FIRST REPORT ON MARCH 13. THE DOCUMENT DETAILS NUMEROUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, MANY APPARENTLY CONNECTED TO GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES. THE URNG IS ALSO TAKEN TO TASK FOR VIOLATIONS AND IT IS AUTHORITATIVELY STATED, FOR THE FIRST TIME TO OUR KNOWLEDGE, THAT THE GUERRILLAS ACCEPTED RESPONSIBILITY IN SOME CASES OF REPRISAL FOR "WAR TAX" NON-PAYMENT.

2. [redacted] THE GOOD WILL OF THE GOG (AND URNG) IS NOTED, THOUGH CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS ARE DESCRIBED AS WOEFULLY INADEQUATE AND NON-EXISTENT IN MANY AREAS AND, IT IS NOTED, MOST POLICE AND MILITARY OFFICERS INVOLVED IN VIOLATIONS ARE NOT TRIED. THE REPORT IS A SERIOUS EFFORT BY A GROUP OF COMMITTED HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS, THOUGH IT LINKS GOVERNMENT FORCES TO A NUMBER OF CASES ONLY BY ASSERTION. LIKE OTHERS BEFORE IT, THE UN DOCUMENT REFLECTS THE DIFFICULTY OF PIERCING THE VEIL OF IMPUNITY HERE AND SEPARATING PURELY CRIMINAL FROM POLITICAL ACTS. END

SUMMARY.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

3. (U) THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MISSION IN GUATEMALA (MINUGUA) ISSUED ITS FIRST REPORT ON MARCH 13. THE 44-PAGE DOCUMENT COVERS THE NOVEMBER 21, 1994 TO FEBRUARY 21, 1995 PERIOD. OF THE APPROXIMATELY 1000 COMPLAINTS RECEIVED IN THESE THREE MONTHS, IT FOUND 288 WITHIN ITS COMPETENCE. IT SHOULD BE STRESSED THAT MINUGUA LABELED THESE "PRESUMED VIOLATIONS," AS A NUMBER OF CASES ARE UNCLEAR AND STILL BEING INVESTIGATED ("VERIFIED"). THE MOST SERIOUS OF THE "COMPLAINTS ADMITTED" ARE SUMMARIZED AS FOLLOWS:

-- EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS AND DEATHS IN VIOLATION OF LEGAL GUARANTEES: 22

-- ATTEMPTED EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS: 10

-- DEATH THREATS: 68

-- TORTURE: 9

-- ARBITRARY DETENTION: 21

-- FORCED DISAPPEARANCE: 5

-- FORCED, UNJUST OR DISCRIMINATORY RECRUITMENT: 13

-- OTHER VIOLATIONS OCCURRING IN THE ARMED CONFRONTATION: 14 (NOTE: THIS CATEGORY INCLUDES ATTACKS AGAINST CIVILIAN TARGETS.)

4. (U) THE REPORT ALSO NOTES THE MISSION IS ALMOST UP TO ITS AUTHORIZED INTERNATIONAL STRENGTH OF 245 PERSONS, THOUGH IT HAS ONLY HALF OF THE 60 POLICE OFFICERS IT PLANNED FOR. ALL 13 BRANCH AND REGIONAL OFFICES ARE NOW OPEN, IN ADDITION TO THE HEADQUARTERS OPERATION.

5. (U) IN A SECTION ENTITLED, "CONTEXT IN WHICH THE MISSION OPERATES," MINUGUA NOTES THAT "DESPITE CERTAIN RECENT INSTITUTIONAL IMPROVEMENTS, THERE REMAIN A NUMBER OF LONG-STANDING STRUCTURAL ELEMENTS THAT SEVERELY LIMIT THE ADEQUATE PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS." IN ADDITION, IT NOTES THE GENERALIZED CLIMATE OF VIOLENCE HERE AND THE INADEQUACY OF CIVILIAN SECURITY INSTITUTIONS AND THE ABSENCE OF CIVILIAN AUTHORITY IN MANY COUNTRYSIDE AREAS.

6. (U) SUMMARIZING THIS PORTION OF THE REPORT,

MINUGUA NOTES, "STATE INSTITUTIONS AND OTHER BODIES OF CIVIL SOCIETY REMAIN VERY WEAK AND LARGELY HAMPERED IN THEIR EFFORTS TO SOLVE THE ACUTE NATIONAL PROBLEMS THEY HAVE INHERITED. THUS, HUMAN RIGHTS VERIFICATION MUST BE SET IN THE CONTEXT OF WIDER EFFORTS TO END THE ARMED CONFLICT, PROMOTE THE RULE OF LAW, STRENGTHEN THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS AND ENCOURAGE DEVELOPMENT."

7. (U) THE REPORT ALSO BRIEFLY TOUCHES ON A NUMBER OF WELL-KNOWN CASES. AMONG THESE ARE:

-- BELGIAN PRIEST STESSEL: MINUGUA BELIEVES THERE ARE GROUNDS TO BELIEVE THE MURDER WAS PLANNED "AND THAT MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND MEMBERS OF THE POLICE WERE INVOLVED." IT ALSO NOTES SOME MINUGUA MEMBERS WERE SURVEILED AFTER TAKING UP THIS CASE.

-- USCIT FATHER DAN VOGT: IT IS NOTED HE WAS THREATENED BY A PERSON WHO IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS AN ARMY INTELLIGENCE AGENT. WHEN QUESTIONED, THE ARMY STATED THE INDIVIDUAL IN QUESTION HAD LEFT THE MILITARY TWO MONTHS EARLIER.

-- CERJ LEADER AMILCAR MENDEZ: THREATS AGAINST HIM ON CHRISTMAS EVE AND LACK OF GOVERNMENTAL RESPONSE TO THESE IS NOTED.

-- URNG COMANDANTE EFRAIN BAMACA: IT IS REPORTED, UNDER THE "RIGHT TO DUE PROCESS" SECTION, THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN'S INVESTIGATION "WAS ADVERSELY AFFECTED BY THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CASE, THE COMPLEXITY OF WHICH REQUIRES THAT DIRECT LEADS BE FOLLOWED UP WITH ALL DUE THOROUGHNESS AND SPEED, AND THAT STRATEGIES BE DEVISED FOR COMPARING CONFLICTING VERSIONS OF EVENTS." THE FAILURE OF VARIOUS STATE INSTITUTIONS TO PROVIDE INFORMATION TO THE OMBUDSMAN IS ALSO NOTED, AS IS THAT A "DIPLOMATIC SOURCE" PROVIDED CORROBORATION THAT BAMACA WAS "CAPTURED ALIVE."

-- ANTHROPOLOGIST MYRNA MACK: IRREGULARITIES WERE FOUND IN THE JUDICIAL HANDLING OF THE LATEST PHASE OF THIS CASE, DESIGNED TO DETERMINE THE GUILT OF THE ALLEGED (RETIRED MILITARY) INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS OF THIS KILLING. IN THIS VEIN, MINUGUA DETERMINED "A LACK OF INITIATIVE ON THE PART OF THE COMPETENT ORGANS (WHICH) AMOUNTS TO A DENIAL OF THE RIGHT OF JUSTICE."

-- UCN LEADER JORGE CARPIO: IRREGULARITIES IN THE CASE ARE NOTED. IT IS CONCLUDED THAT, "THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE NATIONAL POLICE AND THE ARMY FOR THE LOSS OF IMPORTANT EVIDENCE, THE OBSTRUCTION OF THE INQUIRIES AND THE ARMY'S FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

THE DEFENSE OF THE ACCUSED ARE ALSO IMPORTANT FACTS THAT CAST DOUBT ON THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE TRIAL."

-- LA EXACTA: THE FACTS OF THE CASE ARE REVIEWED, WITH MINUGUA STATING IT IS FOLLOWING THE MATTER AND CONCERNED ABOUT THREATS MADE AGAINST THOSE WHO HELPED THE NOW-DISLODGED CAMPESINOS. IT IS NOTED THE COATEPEQUE LABOR COURT WAS PARTIALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE TRAGEDY DUE TO ITS FAILURE TO RULE IN A TIMELY FASHION ON THE LEGALITY OF THE DISMISSAL OF 64 WORKERS.

-- COBAN VIGILANTE SQUAD/CLANDESTINE SECURITY SQUADS: IT IS STATED INDICATIONS EXIST THAT THE ARMY AND POLICE WERE INVOLVED IN AN IRREGULAR CLANDESTINE SECURITY APPARATUS RESPONSIBLE FOR AT LEAST ONE DEATH AND OTHER CASES OF SERIOUS VIOLATIONS IN THE COBAN AREA, INCLUDING A FORCED DISAPPEARANCE. IN GENERAL TERMS, MINUGUA NOTES HARD EVIDENCE ON THE EXISTENCE OF CLANDESTINE SECURITY APPARATUSES "ORGANIZED OR USED BY AGENTS OF THE STATE" DOES NOT EXIST, BUT THAT THE "PRELIMINARY EVIDENCE" GATHERED IN SOME CASES POINTS TO THEIR EXISTENCE.

-- FORCED RECRUITMENT: DESPITE THE PRESIDENT'S JUNE 30, 1994 COMMITMENT AGAINST THIS PRACTICE, SOME COMPLAINTS OF IT WERE RECEIVED. THERE WAS ALSO CONCERN THAT THE CALL-UP LETTER SELECTIVELY SENT TO DRAFTEES, AND THE PROCEDURE INVOLVED IN THIS (APPARENTLY DELIVERY BY MILITARY COMMISSIONERS, THOUGH THIS IS NOT MENTIONED IN THE REPORT), AMOUNTED TO INAPPROPRIATE PRESSURE. IN A JANUARY 31 DISCUSSION WITH MINUGUA, THE PRESIDENT AGREED TO END THIS CALL-UP PRACTICE.

-- URNG VIOLATIONS: THE SHOOTING AT A VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE AMBULANCE EVACUATING A WOUNDED SOLDIER IS LISTED, THOUGH THE URNG DENIED INVOLVEMENT AND FIGHTING AT THE TIME OF THE EVACUATION MADE INTENT DIFFICULT TO DETERMINE. IT IS ALSO STATED THAT URNG INFRASTRUCTURE ATTACKS ARE VIOLATIONS, BREAKING THE "RULE OF PROPORTIONALITY" IN A MILITARY CONFLICT. "BOTH IN THE CASES OF SABOTAGE OF ELECTRICAL PYLONS AND IN THE CASES OF DESTRUCTION OF INSTALLATIONS ON RURAL ESTATES (FOR NON-PAYMENT OF WAR TAXES), THE...URNG HAS FAILED TO FULFILL THE COMMITMENT MADE IN THE (HUMAN RIGHTS) AGREEMENT TO PUT A STOP TO THE SUFFERING OF THE CIVILIAN POPULATION AND HAS THUS FAILED TO OBSERVE MINIMUM PRINCIPLES DERIVING FROM HUMANITARIAN LAW AND INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS LAW."

(C) (NOTE: THIS SECTION STATES THE URNG ACKNOWLEDGES COMMITTING SOME REPRISALS FOR NON-PAYMENT OF "WAR TAXES," THOUGH IT SOUGHT TO JUSTIFY THESE ACTIONS IN MILITARY/STRATEGIC TERMS.

UNCLASSIFIED

[redacted]

TO OUR KNOWLEDGE, THIS WOULD BE THE FIRST GUERRILLA ACKNOWLEDGEMENT THAT NON-PAYMENT HAS CONSEQUENCES.)

INSTITUTION BUILDING

8. (U) IN ADDRESSING ITS ROLE IN FORTIFYING LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS-RELATED INSTITUTIONS, MINUGUA STATES THERE ARE "SERIOUS DEFICIENCIES" IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE IN GUATEMALA. THE UN TEAM NOTES ITS WORK WITH THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE, THE OMBUDSMAN AND THE GOVERNMENT MINISTRY, AS WELL AS THE CREATION OF A JOINT WORK UNIT WITH THE UNDP. WORK ON IMPROVING THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE AND DEEPENING TIES WITH LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS NGO'S WILL ALSO BE STRENGTHENED IN THE MONTHS TO COME.

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

9. (U) AMONG OTHER POINTS MADE IN A LENGTHY CONCLUSIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS SECTION, THE UN TEAM:

-- THANKS THE AMBASSADORS OF THE GROUP OF FRIENDS FOR THEIR SUPPORT AND COUNSEL;

-- "CONCLUDES THAT THERE HAVE BEEN NUMEROUS VIOLATIONS OF THE RIGHT TO LIFE, INCLUDING CASES OF EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS OR DEATHS IN VIOLATION OF LEGAL GUARANTEES. THE LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE AGAINST WHOM DEATH THREATS HAVE BEEN MADE IS ALSO EXTREMELY DISTURBING. THE RIGHT TO LIFE SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN THE RIGHT MOST SERIOUSLY AFFECTED DURING THE REPORTING PERIOD, AND THE MISSION EXPRESSES DEEP CONCERN AT THIS FACT."

-- NOTES "THE VAST MAJORITY OF CASES INVOLVING DEATH HAVE NOT BEEN ADEQUATELY INVESTIGATED OR RESOLVED BY THE COMPETENT AUTHORITIES, AND THIS INCREASES LEVELS OF IMPUNITY PROMOTING A WIDESPREAD FEELING OF INSECURITY AMONG THE PUBLIC, AND MADE IT MORE DIFFICULT TO DISTINGUISH VIOLATIONS OF THE RIGHT TO LIFE WHICH COULD BE CLASSIFIED AS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS FROM COMMON CRIMES WITHOUT A POLITICAL MOTIVE."

-- BELIEVES "THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOT ADEQUATELY GUARANTEED THE RIGHT TO INTEGRITY AND SECURITY OF PERSON, THAT IS TO SAY, THE RIGHT TO BE FREE FROM TORTURE OR OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN OR DEGRADING TREATMENT, AND CASES HAVE BEEN VERIFIED IN WHICH MILITARY AND POLICE OFFICERS APPEAR TO BE IMPLICATED. THE MISSION HAS NO INFORMATION THAT SUCH CASES HAVE BEEN INVESTIGATED IN DEPTH OR THAT THE GUILTY PARTIES HAVE BEEN PROSECUTED."

-- OBSERVED THAT "MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND CVDC (PAC) MEMBERS HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR: (A) PERSISTENT AND REPEATED HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS OF VARIOUS KINDS; AND (B) MANY CASES OF INTIMIDATION, HARASSMENT AND THREATS AGAINST COMMUNITY RESIDENTS IN ORDER TO FORCE THEM TO JOIN OR REMAIN IN CVDCS."

-- STATES THAT "VERIFICATION HAS YIELDED EVIDENCE OF THE EXISTENCE OF ORGANIZED (CLANDESTINE) GROUPS..."
-- HAS NOTED "SERIOUS SHORTCOMING" IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE AND "IS CONCERNED ABOUT THE LARGE NUMBER OF ACTS OF INTIMIDATION AND THREATS AGAINST JUDGES AND PROSECUTORS--WHICH IN AT LEAST ONE CASE WENT AS FAR AS MURDER--MOTIVATED BY THEIR PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY IN SOCIALLY OR POLITICALLY SENSITIVE CASES."

-- THE MISSION FOUND THAT THE URNG "HAS NOT DISTINGUISHED BETWEEN CIVILIAN PROPERTY AND MILITARY TARGETS AND THAT IT HAS ATTACKED CIVILIAN PROPERTY AS WELL, AT TIMES BY WAY OF REPRISAL." AS SUCH, "THE MISSION APPEALS TO (THE) URNG TO DESIST FROM ALL ACTS OF INTIMIDATION AGAINST INDIVIDUALS, SINCE SUCH ACTS CONTRIBUTE TO FEELINGS OF DEFENSELESSNESS AND TO IMPUNITY."

COMMENT: AN UNPIERCED VEIL OF IMPUNITY

10. [redacted] THE MINUGUA REPORT IS A SERIOUS ATTEMPT TO DOCUMENT EVENTS HERE, LAUDABLE FOR ITS BALANCED COMMENTARY. NONETHELESS, THE REPORT CONTAINS MANY ASSERTIONS NOT FULLY BACKED BY "SMOKING GUNS" (E.G., ON CLANDESTINE SECURITY SQUADS, EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS). THIS IS LESS A CRITICISM THAN A REFLECTION OF THE DIFFICULTY IN PIERCING THE VEIL OF IMPUNITY FOR ALL VIOLATIONS -- CRIMINAL AND NOT -- THAT EXISTS HERE.

11. [redacted] IN ADDITION, WHILE UNDERLINING THE GOG'S GOOD WILL IN A NUMBER OF AREAS, THE MINUGUA DOCUMENT POINTS OUT THE WOEFUL INEFFICIENCY OF ALMOST EVERY STATE INSTITUTION, LAMENTING THE CIVILIAN VACUUM IN THE COUNTRYSIDE IS BEING FILLED BY THE PAC'S, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND THE ARMY ITSELF. IN ADDITION, IT HIGHLIGHTS THE FAILURE OF THE GOVERNMENT TO PROSECUTE MOST MILITARY AND POLICE OFFICERS IMPLICATED IN VIOLATIONS. FINALLY, WE WOULD NOTE THAT THE REPORT DOES NOT RAISE THE QUESTION OF GUERRILLA COLLABORATORS. WE WILL SEEK A FURTHER READOUT FOR WHY THEY WERE NOT MENTIONED.

SUBJECT: ARA SENIOR ADVISER'S MEETING WITH URNG'S FRANCISCO ORTEGA

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ARA SENIOR ADVISER NUCCIO MET MARCH 15 WITH WASHINGTON-BASED URNG REPRESENTATIVE FRANCISCO ORTEGA TO DISCUSS THE PEACE PROCESS. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE URNG WAS COMMITTED TO THE PEACE PROCESS, BUT WILL INSIST THAT THE ACCORDS ARE MORE THAN "A PIECE OF PAPER." ORTEGA ALSO RAISED THE CASE OF JENNIFER HARBURY, SAYING THAT THE URNG TRIED TO DISSUADE HER FROM CONDUCTING HER CURRENT HUNGER STRIKE. NUCCIO DISCUSSED RECENT POLICY CHANGES AND WELCOMED THE URNG'S DECISION TO SUPPORT THE ELECTORAL PROCESS. END SUMMARY.

3. ARA SENIOR ADVISER RICHARD NUCCIO MET MARCH 15 WITH FRANCISO ORTEGA, A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE GUATEMALAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNION (URNG), AT THE LATTER'S REQUEST TO DISCUSS THE PEACE PROCESS. GUATEMALA DESKOFF (NOTETAKER) ALSO SAT IN. ORTEGA TOLD NUCCIO THAT THE URNG IS "ONE HUNDRED PERCENT IN FAVOR" OF THE PEACE PROCESS AND WANT "REAL RESULTS." THE URNG ACCEPTS THE UN'S PROPOSED TIMETABLE IN PRINCIPLE BUT WILL INSIST ON HAVING SUFFICIENT TIME TO DISCUSS ALL ISSUES FULLY AND THAT THE ACCORDS CONTAIN REAL SUBSTANCE AND ARE IMPLEMENTED AND VERIFIED, ORTEGA SAID. HE ADDED THAT THE URNG WANTS A FINAL ACCORD THAT LAYS A FIRM FOUNDATION FOR THE FUTURE, RATHER THAN "JUST A PIECE OF PAPER." NUCCIO

SAID THAT THE USG AGREES ON THE IMPORTANCE OF A MEANINGFUL AGREEMENT.

4. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE URNG REFUSED TO ACCEPT THE UN'S CEASEFIRE PROPOSAL BECAUSE INCREASED MILITARY ACTIVITY GIVES THE URNG GREATER LEVERAGE. NUCCIO SAID HE NEITHER UNDERSTANDS NOR AGREES WITH THIS ARGUMENT, ADDING THAT BY MAKING THINGS WORSE, THE URNG PROVOKES REACTIONARIES AND UNDERMINES PROGRESSIVES. ORTEGA REPLIED THAT THE URNG RECOGNIZES THAT THEY SHOULD FOCUS ON ATTACKING THE MILITARY, RATHER THAN CIVILIAN TARGETS. NUCCIO POINTED OUT THAT SUCH ATTACKS ARE NONETHELESS CONTINUING. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE URNG CONDUCTED 881 OPERATIONS IN 1994, INCLUDING 368 ATTACKS AGAINST THE MILITARY, 470 PROPAGANDA OPERATIONS, AND 43 ACTS OF SABOTAGE. HE ADDED THAT THE URNG IS NOT DOING "MANY" KIDNAPINGS ANYMORE AND NOTED THE URNG'S DECLARATION TO UN U/SYG GOULDING TO DESIST FROM ACTS OF SABOTAGE AS A GOOD FAITH GESTURE.

5. NUCCIO ASKED WHY, IF THE URNG WHOLEHEARTEDLY ENDORSED SIGNING ALL OF THE ASSEMBLY OF CIVIL SECTORS (ASC)'S PROPOSALS, IT DOESN'T ALSO ACCEPT THE ASC'S CALL FOR A CEASEFIRE. ORTEGA, CLEARLY UNCOMFORTABLE, REPLIED THAT MANY ASC MEMBERS DID NOT ATTEND THE MEETING AT WHICH THAT DECISION WAS TAKEN, ADDING THAT THE URNG CANNOT AGREE TO A CEASEFIRE UNTIL OTHER ISSUES ARE SETTLED. ORTEGA EXPRESSED "REGRET" OVER THE AUGUST 1994 KILLING OF A CIVILIAN BUS PASSENGER AT A URNG ROADBLOCK IN CHUPOL BUT EXPLAINED THAT THE INCIDENT STEMMED FROM THE WAR. HOWEVER, IN ORDER TO RID GUATEMALA OF REPRESSION, THE URNG NEEDS ITS ARMS "AS A COUNTERPOINT," ORTEGA SAID.

6. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE URNG SEES THE U.S. AS A "FRIENDLY COUNTRY," KNOWS THAT THE ACTIONS OF AMERICAN CITIZEN JENNIFER HARBURY ARE HURTING THEIR RELATIONSHIP WITH THE USG, AND HAS TRIED TO DISSUADE HER FROM CONDUCTING HER LATEST HUNGER STRIKE. ORTEGA CLAIMED THAT ORPA COMMANDER RODRIGO ASTURIAS SHARES THE VIEW THAT HARBURY'S ACTIONS ARE NOT HELPFUL POLITICALLY, BUT ADDED THAT SHE IS "OBSESSED" AND THUS COULD NOT BE DETERRED. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE URNG DOES NOT SEE HARBURY'S ACTIONS AS AN ATTACK ON THE USG; SHE HAS ALSO "OPENED A USEFUL SPACE" FOR GUATEMALAN HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS TO PRESS THEIR OWN CONCERNS. HENCE, IT IS NOW DIFFICULT FOR THE URNG TO QUESTION HER ACTIONS. ORTEGA SAID THAT HE KNEW AND LIKED BAMACA, IS CONVINCED THAT THE ARMY KILLED HIM, AND DOES NOT BELIEVE BAMACA DIVULGED ANY INFORMATION ABOUT THE URNG BEFORE HIS DEATH. HIS KILLING "WAS A CRIME, BUT WE WILL VERIFY THAT LATER," HE SAID.

7. NUCCIO REPLIED THAT, CONTRARY TO ORTEGA'S ASSERTION, IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT NOT TO INTERPRET HARBURY'S ACTIONS AS DIRECTED AGAINST THE USG WHEN SHE IS DEMONSTRATING IN FRONT OF THE WHITE HOUSE AND CRITICIZING THE POLICIES OF PRESIDENT CLINTON. HE NOTED THAT THE USG HAS PROVIDED CONSIDERABLE ASSISTANCE TO HARBURY AND HAS REPEATEDLY PRESSED THE GOG TO GIVE A FULL ACCOUNTING OF BAMACA'S FATE. [redacted]

[redacted] B1

URNG VIOLATIONS HAVE CLEARLY INCREASED SINCE JUNE, FORCING THE USG TO TAKE ACTION BY RESTRICTING URNG VISAS, AS ANNOUNCED ON MARCH 10. NUCCIO SAID THAT WE DO NOT CONTEMPLATE FURTHER MEASURES AGAINST THE GOG, ADDING THAT HE IS CONVINCED THAT DOING SO WOULD HURT THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE.

8. ORTEGA REITERATED THAT THE URNG TRIED TO DISSUADE HARBURY FROM HER HUNGER STRIKE, ADDING "WE NEED TO MOVE BEYOND THIS DIFFICULT MOMENT." HE SAID THAT HE WAS OPTIMISTIC THAT HARBURY'S HUNGER STRIKE WOULD NOT LAST MORE THAN "TWENTY OR TWENTY-FIVE DAYS."

9. THE MEETING CLOSED WITH A DISCUSSION OF THE URNG'S ELECTORAL PLANS. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE URNG HAS REVERSED ITS POLICY OF DISCOURAGING GUATEMALANS FROM VOTING, AND WILL ACTIVELY ENCOURAGE VOTING AND WILL PARTICIPATE INDIRECTLY IN THE ELECTIONS. HE ADDED THAT THE URNG HAS NOT YET IDENTIFIED ANY CANDIDATE TO SUPPORT OR TO RECOMMEND TO THE ELECTORATE, BUT THEIR OVERRIDING GOAL IS TO PREVENT THE ELECTION OF RIOS MONTT. NUCCIO SAID THAT THE USG AS A MATTER OF POLICY DOES NOT FAVOR ANY SINGLE CANDIDATE, BUT WELCOMES THE URNG'S DECISION TO SUPPORT THE ELECTORAL PROCESS.

The Rebel and the Lawyer: Unlikely Love in Guatemala

By CATHERINE S. MANEGOLD

WASHINGTON, March 26 — Theirs was the most improbable of intimacies. The first time they touched was in an awkward dance in a rebel camp on the slope of a volcano, he, blushing furiously with a machete still slung over one shoulder, she, nervous, too, but laughing anyway and unwilling to pull back. Their shadows dusted the barren ground by firelight as the soldiers clapped and urged them on, two dancers, a spark of something.

Jennifer Harbury was 39 when she first saw Efraín Bamaca Velásquez. She was a lawyer working on a book about the women in Guatemala's rebel army, following an idiosyncratic path that led her deeper and deeper inside a well-hidden, war-hardened society of guerrilla fighters. She had traveled from Texas to Mexico City to the jungles of western Guatemala in her research. She was there to tell their story. She made no pretense of objectivity. She did not see gray and did not want to.

He was a 35-year-old rebel leader known mostly by his nom de guerre, Commander Evarardo. He had a reputation for leading swift and punishing attacks. The only Maya Indian to reach the top ranks in the rebel army, he was born a peasant and was illiterate until he joined the rebels at 18. The war was his adult life. He had lost two lovers to it, and countless friends.

She had expected someone older, harsh and unappealing. But he was not like that, she said in interviews in Guatemala last November and in Washington recently. When she first glimpsed him in the camp she was startled and quite moved: "He looked almost like a fawn," she said.

The prospect of death ordered his days. A fear of banality ordered hers. Their attraction was immediate, but they parted chaste. No path seemed possible or wise. A year later, when they met again in Mexico, wisdom gave way to passion. They married in 1991 in a party with her friends at a rented house in rural Texas. In the tradition of the leftist guerrilla army, they exchanged spoons, not rings.

Commander Evarardo disappeared during an ambush by the Guatemalan military on March 12, 1992. It took three years and 10 days and help from Congress to find out his fate.

On Wednesday, Congressman Robert G. Torricelli, a New Jersey Democrat, sent a letter to President Clinton, accusing the Central Intelligence Agency of operating beyond civilian control. Documents he had obtained showed that a colonel in the Guatemalan Army, a contract employee of the C.I.A., had supervised Mr. Bamaca's torture, then ordered his death.

That announcement began what is sure to be a difficult round of inquiries for the Government. But for Ms. Harbury it was the end of a three-year ordeal of sorrow, uncertainty and fear. "It lets me know he's not suffering anymore," she said. "But I want his body. It's mine. I want to bury him."

There were those in Guatemala who suggested that no Harvard-trained lawyer would marry an elusive rebel leader unsophisticated in the ways of modern life. "Do you mean to say that Jenny, after having eaten caviar and hobnobbed with the jet set of Boston, would tie her luck with a man who killed soldiers, civilians and cows, set off bombs and abused his countrymen, costing many lives?" wrote José Eduardo Zarco, a columnist, in Guatemala City's Prensa Libre last Nov. 26. "Is that normal?" Her motivation, he suggested, must be money. "Bah!"

But Ms. Harbury tells it as a love story, her first, though she was married once before to a Texas lawyer whom she lived with only briefly.

No tale of two lovers is ever quite ordinary. Yet Ms. Harbury's romance carried special poignancy and sadness. Even before Mr. Bamaca's disappearance in the jungles of Guatemala, the pair had seen clearly that their time together might be short. They never said goodbye, fearing it might be bad luck.

They met in 1990. By then she had worked with the underground for years, first hearing tales of atrocities from exiles living in southern Texas where she worked with immigrants, then among expatriates in Mexico City and finally in the shady networks that trailed through Guatemala City's grimy urban sprawl.

Slowly, she gained the rebels' trust and their grudging respect. It was rare for outsiders to be welcomed in the mountain camps. But her request for access was approved. Foot soldiers in civilian disguise met her in a remote village. At the edge of town they quickly changed into combat fatigues and began an eight-hour trek up rugged, mountainous terrain.

In her interviews, she came to know the rebel commander well. She watched him guard over younger soldiers and coolly run the camp. Night after night, while the others settled to sleep under the stars, she asked about his life, his loves and losses.

> A nervous dance led to romance, marriage, and, finally, death.

But he turned the questions back and asked about her, too. She told him of her childhood in Baltimore, her father, a biochemist who now teaches at Dartmouth, her mother and her sister, Katherine, an anthropologist who was born deaf and sat beside Ms. Harbury every day at school. She talked about her endless wandering, her younger brothers, Olin, a doctor, and Alex, a computer expert. She recalled her studies at Cornell, where she learned Chinese, then Harvard, where she learned law.

"He took me by the ankles and shook me out," she said. Then she listened as he talked, haltingly, of a childhood spent working "like a donkey" in the fields.

At 15 he ran away to join Gaspar Ilom, the son of a Nobel prize winner and leader of a new revolutionary army, the Organization of the People in Arms. The revolution taught him to think for himself, he told her. Mr. Ilom taught him to read.

He left the camp early most mornings. But she awoke to subtle tokens of a deepening friendship — fresh tortillas he had set aside for her. One night they kissed, but went no further. He told her, "Women are not toys."

The visit ended and she retraced the old grooves of her life, traveling between Texas and Mexico on $25 bus tickets and subsisting on the generosity of friends. For a year he smuggled notes to her through the underground. One explained that he was leaving for Mexico to take part in the peace talks. He suggested that they meet again.

They did and found that their unlikely connection had not dissolved. "We thought we needed to just knock this out of our heads," she said. "We had this insane relationship for about a month." It only drew them closer.

He worried she would be unfaithful. She worried he might die. They married on Sept. 25, 1991. Eight friends came to join that celebration. There was no priest or justice of the peace present. But in their minds, and under Texas law, it was a wedding. Ms. Harbury translated their vows from Spanish to English. "It was a side of Jennifer that I had never seen," said Emily Jones, an old friend who now teaches education at the University of Texas in Austin. Ms. Harbury had never seemed so happy.

UA 71/95 Fear of "disappearance" 17 March 1995
GUATEMALA Alexander Yovani GOMEZ VIRULA, trade unionist

Alexander Yovani Gómez Virula was last seen at about 7.30pm on 13 March 1995, some 800 metres from his home on the road to Atlántico, from Guatemala City. His family has been unable to find him in detention centres or hospitals, and there are fears that he may have been abducted in connection with his trade union activities. When he went missing, he was on his way home from the headquarters of Unión Sindical de Trabajadores de Guatemala (UNSITRAGUA), Guatemalan Workers Union.

Alexander Gómez was financial secretary of the Sindicato de Trabajadores de la Empresa R.C.A., R.C.A. Workers Union. R.C.A. was a "maquiladora" or assembly-line factory, the type of operation which has been moved from countries such as the United States to those like Mexico and Guatemala in order to keep labour costs down. In August 1994, the R.C.A. factory closed down. The workers believe that the owners carried out the closure in order to destroy the union, and they occupied the factory in protest. They also charged that the owners had not complied with their legal responsibilities to the workers in the event of such a closure. The occupiers were subsequently evicted by a court order. Some 70 workers are continuing the protest, pressing to have their rights to work and to organize a trade union recognized.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Those attempting to organise trade unions in Guatemala have been a long- term target of human rights violations including extrajudicial execution and "disappearance." In a recent incident which occurred on 28 February 1995, Débora Guzmán Chupén, a leader of the trade union of L y L Modas, a clothing assembly factory.(maquiladora de ropa) in Amatitlán, went missing in similar circumstances to those of Alexander Gómez. It was later revealed that she had been abducted. Following her release, she reported that she had been drugged and threatened with death and that her captors had questioned her about her husband's trade union activities. Both she and her husband, Félix González, a trade union leader with the Lunafil textile factory had been subjected to earlier threats. (UA 395/94, 3 November 1994 and follow-up (9 March 1995).

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Please send telegrams/telexes/faxes/express and airmail letters:

- expressing concern for the safety of Alexander Yovani Gómez Virula, who has been missing since 13 March 1995;
- asking that his whereabouts be made known and that, if detained, his detention be acknowledged and he be given access to his family and legal representation;
- asking for guarantees for his safety and for the safety of other workers from the R.C.A. factory in Guatemala City.

This Urgent Action appeal originated from Amnesty International's research headquarters at the International Secretariat in London, United Kingdom. Amnesty International is an independent worldwide movement working for the international protection of human rights. It seeks the release of men and women detained anywhere because of their beliefs, color, sex, ethnic origin, language or religious creed, provided they have not used nor advocated violence. These are termed prisoners of conscience. It works for fair and prompt trials for all political prisoners and works on behalf of such people detained without charge or trial. It opposes the death penalty and torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment of all prisoners without reservation.

Please send appeals immediately. Check with the Colorado office between 9:00 am and 6:00 pm, Mountain Time, weekdays only, if sending appeals after May 2, 1995.

- Please take action as soon as you receive this Urgent Action appeal. Carefully read the recommended action and send a telegram, fax or airmail letter immediately to one or more of the addresses given. Other letters can be sent afterwards.
- In Urgent Action appeals, A.I. has to act rapidly to prevent a serious human rights abuse. An appeal is issued when the organization believes it has received reliable and accurate information in such cases. It is not always possible to verify all details independently and in some instances the situation outlined in the appeal may change. Urgent Action participants are always notified of any significant new information.
- Send your appeals in English unless you are fluent with the language of the target country.
- Information about the alleged connection of any person with an organization which is banned in their country is provided as information only and should not be included in appeals.
- Copies of any replies from government authorities should be sent immediately to the Colorado office. If appropriate, thank the official who has replied and ask to be kept informed about the case.
- Postage costs: airmail letters cost 50 cents a page (1/2 oz.) to most countries; aerogrammes are 45 cents each; airmail postcards costs 40 cents.
- The name of Amnesty International may be used although letters written in a private or professional capacity are often more effective.

RELEASED E6234

sighting of Bamaca (by Santiago Cabrera Lopez) took place in July 1992. Harbury responded affirmatively, based on the belief that her husband's experience and close ties to OPRA leader Asturias would make him a valuable source of intelligence. (State 339783)

PAGE(S) MISSING

1994

January 6: Ambassador raises case with MOD, who agrees to meet with Harbury but says that a "meticulous investigation" had produced no results. (Guatemala 185)

January 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury (no further details; Guatemala 185).

January 7: Defense attache and political officer meet with Guatemalan military officer Otto Noack, who agreed to their request to help Harbury obtain appointments with MOD officials.

February 10: Central American Parliament deputy and former GOG peace commission chief Manuel Conde tells political officer that a former ORPA comandante told Conde that Bamaca was missing before the March 12, 1992 clash in which he was reportedly killed. The embassy notes that this is a second-hand account and should be read as such. (Guatemala 1483)

May 24: Harbury meets with Consul General, Defense Attache, human rights officer, and American services officer to ask for an account of the Embassy's efforts on her case. Embassy officers report that they "regularly prod their GOG contacts for acation and answers on all unresolved human rights cases of interest to the USG," including her husband's. Embassy officers told Harbury that they were unaware of any new information on Bamaca's whereabouts. Harbury asked that the Embassy arrange an appointment for her with President De Leon (the Ambassador again sought such a meeting, but De Leon, who was out of the country during part of Harbury's visit, did not do so). Harbury said that the Minister of Defense had hinted to her that Bamaca was alive; the Defense Attache, who had been present on the occasions when Harbury conversed with the MOD, said that he had never heard the MOD suggest that Bamaca was alive. Harbury replied that she was "reading between the lines." (Guatemala 6060)

GUATEMALA
CASE - Jennifer Harbury
Consular Section
#327226

May 26: Ambassador meets with Harbury, who urges that the U.S. cut off aid to Guatemala. Ambassador replied that the embassy would "continue to push for a satisfactory resolution to the Bamaca case" but voiced her concerns that halting USG funds would adversely affect much-needed criminal justice reforms and affect Guatemala's neediest citizens. (Guatemala 6060)

May 30: Harbury tells Ambassador, Defense Attache and human rights officer that the Minister of Defense was "sounding her out" about "compromise solutions." Defense Attache warns Harbury not too place too much credence in this, particularly since the army had never admitted to holding Bamaca. (Guatemala 6060)

June 27: Guatemala 6060, reporting on Harbury's various meetings with Embassy officials during her most recent visit, closes with the following sentences: "Embassy has no information to support her belief that Bamaca is alive. However, we will continue to press the GOG on this case."

July 12: Consul General and Human Rights Officer meet with Supreme Court officials to discuss this and other cases of USG interest.

August 17: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss several bilateral issues; she asks that he meet with Jennifer Harbury when she next visits Guatemala. De Leon agrees to do so. (Guatemala 7719)

August 17: Human Rights Officer formally includes this case in the written list of cases of USG interest given to various GOG entities including COPREDEH, the National Police and the Public Ministry during regularly scheduled meetings.

August 22: Ambassador raises case with Minister of Defense at dinner in honor of visiting DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo. Enriquez said he had no idea where Bamaca was and suggested that the body disinterred in Retalhuleu in August 1993 was really Bamaca's. The Ambassador "retorted that she didn't believe that" and emphasized that this case continued to be of high priority to the USG. (Guatemala 8176)

August 23: Ambassador and DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo raise Harbury/Bamaca case with MOD. Jaramillo notes that this case is "of special concern" to the USG. Enriquez "stated emphatically that the army did not have Bamaca" and speculated that he might "still be alive somewhere." (Guatemala 8176)

October 11 - November 11: Harbury conducts hunger strike in National Plaza, Guatemala City.

October/Nov 94: Throughout Harbury's hunger strike, Embassy continues assistance to Harbury and makes representations to GOG, including almost daily visits to Harbury; eight meetings between Ambassador and Harbury; instructions to the National Police "roving patrols" assigned to the Embassy to check on Harbury's safety three times daily and every 60-90 minutes at night; and meetings with GOG officials to urge an investigation. (Guatemala 9332, 9557, 9608, 9680, 9769, 9786, 9796, 9880, 9924, 9978)

October 11: Consular officer meets with Harbury, emphasizing that the Embassy continues to place high priority on her case and that the Ambassador and the rest of the embassy staff praise with Bamaca case with GOG contacts at every opportunity. Consular officer also tells Harbury that, "despite Ms. Harbury's assertions to the contrary, the Ambassador and other embassy officiails with whom she had met in the past had been completely candid with her when discussing Embassy efforts to obtain information on her husband's whereabouts and our lack of independent evidence up to this point regarding his fate. Consular officer expresses concern for Harbury's health and personal safety and provides her with the Embassy's 24-hour emergency telephone number. (Guatemala 9332)

October 14: Guatemala desk officer meets with visiting ICRC delegates, who tell her in confidence that they interviewed Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos for over two hours in Geneva (apparently in February 1993) and found their story lacking in credibility.

October 18-19: Desk officer spends two full days searching through 1993 and 1994 files to compile a single, consolidated file on Harbury/Bamaca case.

October 19: DCM meets Asisclo Valladares to emphasize the case's potential for harm to bilateral relations and to discuss possible entities capable of investigating case, such as the ICRC, UN Human Rights Commission, UN Verification Mission in Guatemala (MINUGUA), and domestic Guatemalan entities. The DCM urged international participation in any Guatemalan investigation in order to give it credibility. (Guatemala 9786)

October 24: In a memo, ARA DAS Patterson asks INR/IL to seek more information about intelligence reports on Bamaca's fate.

October 24: ARA/CEN Director John Hamilton speaks in Tegucigalpa with de Leon and Formin de Vielman. De Leon complains that Harbury had consistently misrepresented information which had come from him while he was Human Rights Ombudsman. He expresses concern at Harbury's health and considers hospitalizing her at some point soon. Hamilton urges de Leon to think of steps permitting Harbury to stand down from strike, suggests independent investigation. MINUGUA considered; de Vielman supports idea. (email)

October 25: Harbury tells Ambassador, during course of long conversation, that a Guatmalan woman had told her that she had heard from a friend in the military that Bamaca was alive. Harbury declines Ambassador's request to contact the woman. (Guatemala 9769)

October 25: Embassy receives information, sourced to a disgruntled former soldier, that Bamaca was seen alive at a military hospital in late March 1992. (Guatemala 9760)

October 26: DCM meets with Solicitor General Valladares who tells DCM that Harbury has rejected any investigation but demanded a negotiation with the army. Valladares will file a writ of habeus corpus for Bamaca, requesting appointment of investigators to visit every military installation in search of information on Bamaca.

October 26: Defense Attache meets with MG Gonzalez Taracena, Chief of Staff of National Defense Staff, suggesting high level statement and independent expert to investigate Bamaca case from top to bottom. Gonzalez would discuss with Defense Minister.

10/27/94: Pres. De Leon announces new investigation at a press conference.

October 27: Ambassador and Nuccio meet with Pres. later in the day and hear that he has asked MINUGUA to investigate the case. (Guatemala 9880) Meet with Defmin Enriquez to emphasize importance of a thorough investigation of the case. (Guatemala 10520)

October 27: Ambassador, Nuccio, DCM, POLCOUNS meet with FM de Vielman and Amb. Mulet mid-evening and discuss this case. Nuccio adds need to address concerns re possibility of clandestine prisons. (Guatemala 9880)

October 29: Department requests US Mission to UN to ask UN staff to encourage MINUGUA's receptivity to de Leon's willingness to work with it on Bamaca case. (State 293768)

October 29: Ambassador and Carolyn Gorman call on Guatemalan Amb to OAS Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz and recommend to him that Amb Mulet be given a more active role in managing various aspects of the case and investigation. (Guatemala 9977)

October 31: Ambassador directs poloff to call COPREDEH to arrange meeting with "Coalition Missing" members, headed by Sister Dianna Ortiz. COPREDEH Director returns call and says that he and GOG Amb. Guadamuz will meet with CM members and that he is still trying to arrange meetings with other GOG officials.

October 31: Poloff calls the office of Human Rights Ombudsman Garcia Laguardia to arrange a meeting for CM representatives, passes the Ombudsman's office suggested meeting times to Sister Ortiz.

November 2: ConGen and ACS officer meet with GT Supreme Court Secretary re possible Bamaca grave, inform Ms. Harbury. (Guatemala 9978)

November 5: Embassy, working through the night, manages to delay a suddenly scheduled exhumation of reported Bamaca cadaver, assists Harbury with information and arrangements and is present at the subsequent exhumation, which is not of Bamaca, according to Harbury. (Guatemala 10067)

November 5: Embassy reports that recent DAO information contains credible information that the Guatemalan army captured Bamaca, interrogated him and almost certainly did away with him. Suggests that Ambassador be instructed to inform de Leon of the basic elements of the report. (Guatemala 10068)

November 9: Guatemalan Supreme Court designates Human Rights Ombudsman Jorge Mario Garcia Laguardia to investigate Bamaca's fate.

November 11: Ambassador makes demarche to De Leon, telling him that according to information available to us, Bamaca was captured alive by the military but did not survive beyond a few weeks. De Leon has ordered Human Right Ombudsman to conduct an investigation. (Guatemala 10274) Harbury informed of meeting later in day; notes she has ended her hunger strike and will return to the U.S. for meetings with White House officials. (Guatemala 10259)

November 12: Ambassador meets with Human Rights Ombudsman to discuss investigation. Ombudsman is uncomfortable with the task. (Guatemala 10326)

November 15: DAO and MilGroup commander meet with Army Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena to discuss Bamaca case and disinvite him from Fuerzas Unidas exercise.

November 16-18: DRL A/S Shattuck and DRL/AAA's Mary Curtin visit Guatemala, meet with President De Leon, MOD Enriquez, Human Rights Ombudsman Garcia LaGuardia, MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco, and human rights NGOS, discussing Bamaca with interlocutors and urging importance of clarification of Bamaca's fate. (Guatemala 10457, 10460, 10558)

November 23: Ambassador and Defense Attache meet with Minister of Defense to press strongly for a resolution of the Bamaca case and other pending human rights cases, noting that if the case is not resolved, bilateral relations would suffer. She says that the USG had reliable information from several credible sources that the army captured Bamaca alive in March 1992 and thus must know what happened to him. Enriquez pledged to cooperate fully with the Human Rights Ombudsman and Solicitor General's investigations. (Guatemala 10720)

November 23: Ambassador McAfee meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. (Guatemala 10581)

November 25: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss case. De Leon asks for USG "help" in dealing with the repercussions of the Bamaca case. He said that Bamaca is dead and the case should be turned over to the Historical Clarification Commission (to be established after a final peace accord). The Ambassador emphasizes the need for progress and stresses that the USG expects his full cooperation in the legal/judicial pursuit of the case, including allowing Jennifer Harbury to re-enter Guatemala to pursue her legal cases. (Guatemala 10619)

November 29: GOG files suit against Jennifer Harbury to force her to file civil charges against th Guatemalan government or lose her right to do so in the future. (Guatemala 10695)(In a legal victory for Harbury, the case is ultimately dismissed in January.)

Late November/Early December: The Human Rights Ombudsman's staff, accompanied by MINUGUA personnel, interviews military personnel accused of participating in Bamaca's disappearance, including Col. Alpirez. All professed to know nothing about Bamaca's capture or death.

December 1 or 2: President De Leon approaches Vice President Gore on the margins of the Zedillo inaugural in Mexico to ask for USG understanding on the Bamaca case.

December 1: Harbury meets with Ambassador McAfee, demanding all USG confidential records without having to file a Freedom of Information Act request and seeking the provision of a USG "witness" to help her prosecute her case. The Ambassador promises to relay Harbury's request to Washington, which she does via Guatemala 10853.

December 2: Ambassador meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. Franco says that the military was cooperative during late November searches of military installations, which MINUGUA observed, and asks for more USG information about the case. Ambassador tells him that the salient facts had already been provided to Ms. Harbury and were in the public domain, adding that the USG does not know whether or not Bamaca is still alive. (Guatemala 10855)

December 3: Congressman Bill Richardson and Ambassador discuss Bamaca case with President De Leon, who repeats previous statements to the effect that Bamaca was dead and that there is no evidence of his fate. Ambassador urges that the Human Rights Ombudsman's request to extend his investigation be granted. (Guatemala 10924)

December 5: DCM meets with Attorney General Valladares to discuss case, expressing "strong USG support for a comprehensive investigation into Bamaca's whereabaouts, to include interviewing both army and guerrilla personnel" and noting that the Human Rights Ombudsman needs more time to complete his investigation. Regarding the GOG's suit against Harbury, the DCM told Valladares that the suit appears to interested parties in the U.S. and elsewhere as an attempt to muzzle Harbury and that GOG efforts to question the bona fides of her marriage to Bamaca strike some observers as harassment. (Guatemala 11007)

December 5: Embassy officers contact Harbury to discuss the Valladares's discussion of the GOG suit against her. (Guatemala 11007)

December 6: ARA officials and U/S Tarnoff discuss case with Guatemalan Foreign Minister de Vielman in Washington; Anthony Lake discusses case with her on 12/7/94. All note the importance of the case and urge that the GOG provide a full accounting of Bamaca's fate. (State 331770)

December 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury to discuss GOG's suit against her and her plans to rebut the charges. (Guatemala 11007)

December 9: Embassy officer attends hearing of GOG's suit against Harbury. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Human Rights Ombudsman concludes 30-day investigation into Bamaca's disappearance without producing any conclusive results. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Charge speaks with Minister of Government to ask if Harbury would be permitted to return to Guatemala to continue her search for Bamaca and to cooperate in the GOG's investigation of the case. Parinello says that the decision would be made at a higher level. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9 or 10: President De Leon approaches President Clinton at the Summit of the Americas to ask for understanding on the Bamaca case.

December 20: Harbury meets with NSC official Richard Feinberg, who reiterates that information available to the USG suggests that Bamaca was captured by the military but did not appear to have survived much beyond a few weeks after his capture.

December 22: ARA DAS Patterson meets with Harbury, reiterating same message.

December 24: The Departments of State and Defense instruct USCINCSO General McCaffrey to visit Guatemala to discuss the Bamaca case and other issues with Guatemalan MOD.

1995

January 9: Harbury files Freedom of Information Act request with Department of State and other USG agencies. Shortly thereafter, Department decides to process her request on an expeditious basis for humanitarian reasons.

January 12: Embassy officer attends second "jactancia" hearing. (Guatemala 802)

January 20: Ambassador discusses case with Minister of Government.

January 26: USCINCSO McCaffrey discusses Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, emphasizing the importance of this and other human rights cases to the USG and urging that the military move forward for the future of Guatemala's sake. He tells MOD and COS that all Guatemalan officers must accept that outside scrutiny is not a violation of national sovereignty. "The Guatemalan army must simply face this case the right way." (Guatemala 1248)

January 26: Intelligence report suggests that Col. Alpirez may have been directly involved in Bamaca's death.

January 31: DCM discusses case with Solicitor General Acisclo Valladares.

February 3: Department instructs Ambassador to demarche President De Leon regarding new information about Alpirez. (State 28652)

February 6: Ambassador carries out demarche. Talking points reiterate information contained in November 11 demarche, note that those conclusions had been corroborated by additional information and ask that the GOG reinterview implicated military officers, particularly Alpirez. She notes "profound concern existing at the highest levels of the USG about Baaca's fate, and decried the absence to date of an in-depth investigatioan into Bamaca's whereabouts. De Leon reiterates his belief that Bamaca was dead, committs the GOG to make every effort to find Bamaca, and notes that the Historical Clarification should look into the circumstances of his death. (Guatemala 1041)

February 7: Ambassador discusses Bamaca with Minister of Defense, delivering talking points contained in demarche given to President De Leon. Enriquez said that he would not voluntarily make Alpirez or other officers available for questioning but would comply with an official summons to do so. Ambassador "again emphasized the importane of resolving the Bamaca case." (Guatemala 1210)

February 8: Ambassador delivers same demarche points to Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, who replies that Bamaca's alleged capture occurred under a previous administration and asks for more information about officers assigned to the San Marcos military zone in 1992. Ambassador tells him that Santiago Cabrera Lopez had publicly identified several officers, including Alpirez, who should be re-interviewed. (Guatemala 1155)

February 8: Harbury meets with ARA DAS Patterson , who tells her that the USG continues to press the GOG on this case, most recently in the February 6 meeting with De Leon. Harbury asks that her FOIA request be expedited, requests access to classified information, and says she will go back on hunger strike if the U.S. does not impose economic sanctions on Guatemala. Patterson tells her that the information used in the February 6 demarche was based on intelligence sources and thus the State Department could not release it to her. Harbury accuses the USG of deliberately refusing to do anything about Bamaca's capture; Patterson replies that the USG has in fact devoted considerable resources to the case. Paterson reiterates our conclusion that all information available to us suggests that Bamaca did not survive for more than a few weeks beyond his capture, although we have no conclusive evidence about his actual death. (State 40484)

February 9: Ambassador discusses case with MINUGUA director Leonardo Franco to discuss the continuing need for MINUGUA to assist on the Bamaca case, describing the demarche in general terms. Franco responded positively. (Guatemala 1186)

February 16: Ambassador and Defense Attache discuss Bamaca case with Acting MOD and Army Chief of Staff General Gonzalez Taracena, encouraging General Gonzalez to support Public Ministry questioning of army officers assigned to San Marcos in 1992, including Col. Alpirez. (Guatemala 1630)

February 17: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for details on the Ambassador's latest demarche and confirmation of any kind that Bamaca is dead. Ambassador suggests that she direct her inquiries regarding sensitive information to the Department in Washington but confirms that she met with De Leon and that the Embassy does not think Bamaca is alive because it has received no information to support such an assumption. (Guatemala 1569)

February 21: Ambassador discusses case with newly-appointed COPREDEH chairman Vicente Arranz

February 22: Ambassador and PolCouns meet with former Amb. Robert White to discuss Harbury case. Political section sets up appointments with GOG officials for Amb. White.

February 23: Ambassador meets with Ambassador White for outbrief on his meetings with GOG officials.

March 6: Ambassador raised the need for positive movement on the Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, reiterating the critical importance of resolving it. They were noncommittal; the Ambassador told Gonzalez at a subsequent meeting that day that the U.S. and Guatemala "are on a collision course if no positive action is taken." (Guatemala 1889)

March 7: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for the Embassy's help in getting the GOG to allow her to be present at interviews of military officers and in facilitating a meeting between the MOD and Congressman Richardson (the Ambassador tells her that we have already passed the latter request on and promises to pass on the former request, noting that the GOG may be reluctant to comply). Harbury presses the Ambassador for hard information that Bamaca is dead. The Ambassador responds that the USG has reached the conclusion that he is dead, based on all available evidence. She adds "I am convinced he is dead, but I do not know what happened to him." She suggests that Harbury refer additional questions on this topic to Washington. (Guatemala 2007)

March 9: Ambassador discusses case with representatives of the private sector and with a Guatemalan congressional delegation.

March 10: Guatemalan Ambassador to the U.S Edmond Mulet calls on ARA/CEN Director on instructions from the GOG to present a "white paper" on the Bamaca case, as well as a press release reaffirming the GOG position that Bamaca was not captured by the Guatemalan military. Hamilton notified Mulet of the U.S. decision to suspend participation by Guatemalan military personnel in IMET programs in the U.S. for the rest of 1995, out of concern over a lack of substantial progress on several pending human rights cases, including Bamaca's.

March 10: Ambassador meets with Acting Foreign Minister, who says that the GOG considers the Bamaca case as still open and denying that the Guatemalan government had ever said Bamaca was dead. Ambassador stresses the importance of the Bamaca case and passes along Harbury's request to be present at interviews of army personnel allegedly involved in this case. (Guatemala 2033)

March 13: Guatemala 2032 (Roger channel) discusses lack of credibilty of report by Guatemalan officer claiming to have seen Bamaca alive in December 1992.

March 15: DCM discusses case with Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, pressing for interviews to begin immediately and conveying Harbury's request to be present. DCM notes that the U.S. recognizes Harbury's marriage as legal and valid, adding that the U.S. expects Guatemala to respect our legal system and not delay the registration of Harbury's marriage in Guatemala (a step required for her continued legal actions there). (Guatemala 2193)

3/17/95: Polcouns discusses case with COPREDEH chairman Arranz

3/17/95: AMB discusses case with Minister of Government and the President of the Supreme Court

SUBJECT: BAMACA CASE: AMBASSADOR SPEAKS TO FOREIGN MINISTER

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. THE AMBASSADOR SPOKE WITH FOREIGN MINISTER MARITHZA RUIZ DE VIELMAN THE AFTERNOON OF MARCH 23. THE FOREIGN MINISTER PHONED FROM MEXICO, RETURNING A CALL THE AMBASSADOR HAD MADE THE PRIOR EVENING.

3. DE VIELMAN TOLD THE AMBASSADOR SHE HAD SPOKEN WITH THE PRESIDENT AND MET WITH PEOPLE IN THE ARMY. SHE EXPECTED A POSITIVE REACTION. SHE HAD STRESSED TO THEM THAT THE BAMACA CASE WAS NOT JUST A HUMAN RIGHTS CASE, BUT INVOLVED THE BROADER PICTURE OF OUR ENTIRE BILATERAL RELATIONSHIP. HER ADVICE HAD BEEN TO KEEP INITIAL REACTIONS TO A MINIMUM AND TO PREPARE THEIR RESPONSE WITH A FOCUS ON THE GOVERNMENT'S WILLINGNESS TO CONTINUE THE INVESTIGATION.

4. THE FOREIGN MINISTER THEN COMMENTED THAT THE GOG POSITION HAS BEEN TO CONTINUE THE INVESTIGATION. SHE LAMENTED THAT, IN THE RECENT GOG STATEMENT, THE PRESS HAD CHOSEN TO FOCUS ON OTHER ELEMENTS SUCH AS ACCUSATIONS JENNIFER HARBURY SUPPORTS THE URNG.

5. THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED THAT CONTRARY TO THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S IMPRESSIONS, WE HAD FOUND THE GOG STATEMENT INTRANSIGENT, THAT IT HAD CLOSED DOORS AND BEEN MOST UNHELPFUL. THE GOVERNMENT'S VERSION OF BAMACA EVENTS WAS AT COMPLETE VARIANCE WITH THE INFORMATION WE HAD SHARED WITH IT ON THE CASE. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED SHE HOPED STATEMENTS THIS TIME WOULD BE MORE FORTHCOMING. SHE ALSO COMMENTED ON THE BUREAUCRATIC OBSTACLES COPREDEH SEEMED TO NOW BE PUTTING IN THE WAY OF OUR EFFORTS TO SUPPORT THE INVESTIGATION.

6. THE AMBASSADOR ALSO TOOK THE OPPORTUNITY OF THIS CONVERSATION TO TELL DE VIELMAN WE HAD HEARD THE GOG MIGHT INCORRECTLY CLAIM WE HAD NEVER MENTIONED ALPIREZ TO THEM. THE AMBASSADOR REMINDED THE FOREIGN MINISTER THAT SHE HAD DELIVERED A WRITTEN DEMARCHE TO THE PRESIDENT ON FEBRUARY 6 WHICH SPECIFICALLY MENTIONED ALPIREZ' NAME AND HAD URGED RENEWED INVESTIGATIVE EFFORTS AND INTERVIEWS. WITH THE PRESIDENT'S CONCURRENCE, THE AMBASSADOR NOTED, SHE HAD ORALLY DELIVERED THE SAME MESSAGE TO THE MOD, RAMSES CUESTAS AND, IN MODIFIED FORM, TO MINUGUA.

7. IN RESPONSE, DE VIELMAN REITERATED SHE HOPED THINGS COULD BE MOVED FORWARD NOW AND SAID THAT, TO THE DEGREE THEY COULD CONTROL THINGS, THE RESPONSE WOULD BE POSITIVE AND COOPERATIVE. THE FONMIN ADDED SHE WOULD BE IN TOUCH WITH THE PRESIDENT AND PASS ALONG THE GIST OF THE CONVERSATION.

SUBJECT: PEACE PROCESS: ANATOMY OF A URNG SHAKEDOWN

DRL Guatemala

1. CONFIDENTIAL -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. THIS IS AN ACTION MESSAGE. PLEASE SEE PARAS 13 AND 14.

3. SUMMARY: A LARGE FARM, PARTIALLY OWNED BY AN AMERICAN CITIZEN USCIT HAS RECEIVED A URNG "WAR TAX" REQUEST. AS MANY AS 100 OTHER FARMS, MOSTLY ON THE SOUTH COAST, HAVE RECEIVED SIMILAR LETTERS IN THE LAST TEN DAYS. END SUMMARY.

4. AMERICAN CITIZEN BUSINESSMAN [redacted] B7D
SPOKE TO POLOFF MARCH 21 AND 22 ABOUT A URNG DEMAND HIS FIRM ("PATZULIN, S.A.") PAY "WAR TAXES." [redacted] WHO IS PART OF A GROUP OF INVESTORS WHO TOOK OVER DOLE'S GUATEMALAN FARMS SOME YEARS BACK, RECEIVED DEATH THREATS IN LATE 1993 FOR NON-PAYMENT OF WAR TAXES ON A SOUTH COAST FARM. EVENTUALLY, THE GUERRILLAS PARTIALLY BURNED DOWN THAT FARM ("PACAYAL").

5. THE NEW INCIDENT OCCURRED MARCH 17 WHEN A GROUP OF "25 TO 30 PEOPLE, MOST OF THEM WOMEN AND TEENAGERS" ENTERED A DIFFERENT "PATZULIN" FARM, THIS ONE NEAR EL PALMAR/SAN FELIPE ON THE ROAD BETWEEN MAZATENANGO AND QUETZALTENANGO. THEY DELIVERED A "WAR TAX" REQUEST LETTER SIGNED BY ORPA "LUIS IXMATA" FRONT COMMANDER ISAIAS. THE MISSIVE ASKED FOR A "TAX" OF 10,000 QUETZALS (ABOUT USD 1750) PER "CABELLERIA" (110 ACRES). THE TOTAL TAX FOR THE 30 "CABELLERIA" FARM AMOUNTS TO 300,000 QUETZALS (ABOUT USD 52,500).

6. WHILE AT THE FARM, THE GUERRILLAS PREPARED AN INVENTORY OF PROPERTY (E.G., VEHICLES, GUNS, CROPS) AND ALSO CHECKED TO SEE IF THE WORKERS WERE BEING PAID ACCORDING TO THE LAW (THEY WERE). IN ADDITION TO THE "WAR TAX" LETTER, THE URNG UNIT HANDED THE FARM ADMINISTRATOR ANOTHER LETTER WITH INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO PAY THE GUERRILLAS. THE FARM OWNERS WERE INSTRUCTED TO BROADCAST A RADIO MESSAGE ON A LOCAL STATION BETWEEN 1 AND 2 PM ON MARCH 27 SAYING WHETHER

THEY INTENDED TO PAY. THE ANNOUNCEMENT WOULD BE: "DON RICARDO OCHOA ADVISES LEONEL CONTRERAS OF SAN MARCOS PALAJUNOJ, RETALHULEU THAT HE WAS/OR DOES NOT HAVE THE SPARE PARTS THAT ARE BEING AWAITED."

7. IF THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAYS THE "SPARE PARTS" ARE IN (I.E., THE FARM WILL PAY), THE URNG WILL SEND WORD MARCH 28 ABOUT WHERE TO BRING THE MONEY. THE GUERRILLAS, AS PER THEIR NORMAL BEHAVIOR, TOOK TWO POLAROIDS OF THE FARM ADMINISTRATOR, LEAVING ONE WITH HIM AND TAKING THE OTHER. BESIDES THE IMPLIED THREAT IN THIS, THE INSTRUCTION LETTER STATES THE WAR TAX SHOULD ONLY BE TURNED OVER TO SOMEONE WHO HAS THE OTHER PHOTO.

8. WHAT IF DON RICARDO DOESN'T HAVE THE PARTS? [redacted] B7D
SAID THE GUERRILLA BAND DID NOT THREATEN RETALIATION FOR NON-PAYMENT, BUT IT WAS UNDERSTOOD (ESPECIALLY SINCE THE PARTIAL BURNING OF HIS OTHER FARM). THOUGH THE TWO-PAGE LETTER STATES THE FARM OWNERS SHOULD HAVE NO WORRIES ABOUT THEIR OWN SAFETY, IT "SUGGESTS" THAT THE LETTER NOT BE SHOWN TO

SECURITY FORCES. IT ALSO STATES, THAT "IN THE CASE OUR REQUEST DOES NOT RECEIVE A POSITIVE RESPONSE, WE WILL UNDERSTAND YOU ARE NOT INTERESTED IN HAVING GOOD RELATIONS WITH US, SOMETHING THAT WILL BENEFIT NO ONE."

9. ASKED WHAT ELSE OCCURRED DURING THE GUERRILLA VISIT, [redacted] WHO WAS NOT PRESENT, BUT LEARNED THE FACTS FROM THOSE WHO WERE THERE) SAID THE GUERRILLAS TALKED TO FARM HANDS, TRYING TO INTEREST THEM IN JOINING THE URNG. THEIR RECRUITMENT EFFORTS, HE CONTINUED, FOCUSED ON THE 14-16 YEAR OLDS. HE ALSO SAID THE LEADER OF THE BAND EXPRESSED HIS VIEW MINUGUA WAS DOING A GOOD JOB.

10. [redacted] B7F
[redacted] SHAKEN BY HIS PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE, AND THE FACT THAT MATERIAL LOSES STEMMING FROM THE "PACAYAL" BURNING WERE HIGHER THAN THE 500,000 QUETZALS REQUESTED AT THAT TIME, HE RECOMMENDED TO HIS BOARD OF DIRECTORS THEY PAY THE RANSOM. FOR THE MOMENT, AT LEAST, HIS FELLOW INVESTORS ARE REFUSING TO DO SO.

11. [redacted] CLOSED BY SAYING STARTING MARCH 13, A B7D
NUMBER OF OTHER FARMS, MAINLY ON THE SOUTH COAST, HAD RECEIVED SIMILAR EXTORTION LETTERS. HIS FIRM HAS

PERSONALLY CONFIRMED EIGHT OTHER VISITS IN THE LAST NINE DAYS. THERE WAS A MEETING OF AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION (AGA) AND ANACAFE PERSONNEL LATE MARCH 21 OVER THIS LATEST EXTORTION WAVE. [redacted] DESCRIBED THE GROUP AS ANGRY AND CONSIDERING TAKING SOME UNSPECIFIED ACTION.

12. SUBSEQUENT TO THE DISCUSSIONS WITH MELODOSIAN, THE AGA AND AGRICULTURAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MET MARCH 22 IN A PUBLIC SESSION WITH MOD ENRIQUEZ. THEY COMPLAINED THAT OVER A 100 "WAR TAX" LETTERS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED BY FARMS IN THE LAST TEN DAYS ASKING FOR SUMS AS MUCH AS ONE MILLION QUETZALS. THE LEADERS OF THE TWO AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATIONS ALSO EXPRESSED THEIR CONTINUING CONCERN OVER FARM INVASIONS. ON MARCH 23, ABOUT TWENTY-FIVE SOUTH COAST FARM OWNERS MET AND ANNOUNCED THEY WERE

INVASIONS AND OTHER "URNG-CONNECTED" ACTIONS.

13. COMMENT AND ACTION REQUEST: THOUGH EXTORTION OF "WAR TAXES" IS A COMMON OCCURRENCE HERE, WE HAVE PUT [redacted] IN TOUCH WITH MINUGUA (WHICH HAS LABELED ATTACKS ON FARMS AS A HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATION). SEPARATELY, WE SUGGEST THE DEPARTMENT, AT THE NEXT AVAILABLE OPPORTUNITY, RAISE THE ISSUE OF "WAR TAXES" AND RETALIATIONS WITH THE COMANDANTES (AND PERHAPS THE ISSUE OF CHILD RECRUITMENT AS WELL).

14. [redacted] IS AMENABLE TO HAVING HIS CASE (BUT NOT HIS NAME) MENTIONED TO THE GUERRILLAS, DESPITE THEIR WRITTEN WARNINGS. WE SUGGEST THE GUERRILLAS BE TOLD WE ARE CONCERNED ABOUT THIS BEHAVIOR IN GENERAL

AND THE "PATZULIN/PACAYA" CASE IN PARTICULAR (WE WILL FAX THE LETTERS MELODOSIAN GAVE US TO ARA/CEN), SINCE AMERICAN INVESTORS ARE INVOLVED. MAKING THIS REPRESENTATION WILL ALSO HELP COUNTER ANY FUTURE COMPLAINTS THAT MIGHT ARISE THAT THE U.S. CARES ABOUT THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF GUERRILLAS, BUT NOT BUSINESSMEN.

Case of Efrain Bamaca Velasquez
Chronology of Key Events

Note: This chronology is drawn from a review of ARA/CEN's extensive files, which have been provided to A/IM/IS/FPC pursuant to a January 1995 FOIA request by Jennifer Harbury. Embassy Guatemala also furnished some information contained below. Ms. Harbury has filed a second FOIA request covering information until mid-March, to which ARA/CEN is responding.

Summary

Guatemalan guerrilla Efrain Bamaca Velasquez disappeared on March 12, 1992 after a firefight with the Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu. For nearly a year, his colleagues and American citizen wife, Jennifer Harbury, believed that he died in combat. However, a former guerrilla, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, claimed in February 1993 that while detained by the Guatemalan military, he had seen Bamaca alive in military custody in March and July 1992. Harbury contacted our Embassy in March 1993 for assistance in resolving the case. From that time forward, the Embassy and USG officials in Washington assisted Harbury, repeatedly pressed the GOG for information and action, and shared as much information as possible with her.

After an exhumation facilitated by the Embassy failed to discover Bamaca's remains in August 1993, Harbury conducted a week-long hunger strike in Guatemala to publicize her demand for more information. She conducted a 32-day hunger strike in Guatemala in October-November 1994 for the same purpose, during which time she was visited on a near-daily basis by Embassy personnel, including the Ambassador on several occasions. During that hunger strike, ARA/CEN searched its CASC and PHUM files for 1993 and 1994 to create a unified file on the Bamaca case. The Embassy conducted a similar review and the CIA wrote the first of several intelligence updates/chronologies on the case.

Drawing on information developed during the file search and subsequent taskings for additional intelligence, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to meet with President De Leon on November 11. The Ambassador told De Leon that, according to information available to the USG, Bamaca was captured alive by the military and that we had no information indicating that he survived much beyond the first few weeks of his capture. On the same day, Ambassador McAfee shared this same information with Jennifer Harbury, who had just ended her hunger strike. In subsequent meetings with Ms. Harbury, USG officials, including National Security Advisor Anthony Lake, reaffirmed this conclusion, while noting (as remains true to this day) that we have no direct, conclusive evidence of when or how Bamaca was actually killed.

On February 3, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to approach President De Leon again, urging him to order the re-interrogation of senior military officers who might have been involved in Bamaca's disappearance, including Colonel Julio Roberto Alpirez. Ambassador McAfee made this demarche on February 6. ARA DAS Anne Patterson met February 8 with Jennifer Harbury to inform her of the demarche but without revealing Alpirez's name, in view of the fact that Alpirez' degree of involvement in Bamaca's presumed death was not clear. Harbury initiated another hunger strike on March 12 in Washington but concluded it on March 23 after Congressman Torricelli provided her with information alleging involvement in her husband's death by Colonel Alpirez. End Summary.

March 12: Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, aka Comandante Everardo, disappears after firefight with Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu.

March 18: CIA report from Guatemala reports capture of ORPA commander Everardo, described as "lightly wounded in the arm ... in good physical condition ... being well treated by the army ... cooperating fully with his captors." The report's comment speculates that the army will keep news of his capture secret or even claim that he was killed to maximize Everardo's intelligence value. The name "Efrain Bamaca Velasquez" is not used in this report, and an army officer told the Embassy in March 1993 that it did not know that Everardo was actually Efrain Bamaca Velasquez until Jennifer Harbury and Santiago Cabrera Lopez publicized his alleged capture. Given the description of Everardo as in good condition and cooperating with the army, the USG has no reason to suspect foul play nor to know of his connection to Harbury.

March and July: Santiago Cabrera Lopez says that he saw Bamaca in army custody. CLARIFY--DID HE SEE THEM AT THESE TIMES OR MAKE STATEMENTS THAT HE HAD SEEN HIM. HOW ABOUT: SCL PURPORTEDLY SAW B IN ARMY CUSTODY.

May: The exhumation of a grave in Retalhuleu believed to contain Bamaca's remains is suspended by Attorney General Acisclo Valladares on the grounds that no family member is there to identify the body, nor IS other identifying evidence (x-rays, dental records, etc.) available. Jennifer Harbury, who was present, did not identify herself as Bamaca's wife, reportedly because she wa afraid to do so.

December: Santiago Cabrera Lopez PURPORTEDLY escaped from army custody and left Guatemala.

February: Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos (noms de guerre: Carlos and Willy) testify at the UN Human Rights Commission in Geneva about HAVING SEEN Bamaca and 35 other guerrillas in clandestine army detention. (Recinos said he heard guards talking about Bamaca'S being in custody in August 1992; he did not claim to have seen Bamaca personally.)

March 1: Guatemala 2435 contains Embassy's evaluation of Cabrera and Recinos's claims, commenting, "we have no idea whether the guerrillas' accusations are accurate ... the ex-guerrillas' claims are not beyond the realm of possibility ... "

April 2: Guatemala 3794 of this date reports that the Guatemalan Government denies holding Bamaca, alleging that he may have died in combat and been buried in Retalhuleu. The cable also reports Jennifer Harbury's first contact with the Embassy to seek assistance in the case: her March 9 phone call to the Embassy's human rights officer JEFF MOON, asking Embassy assistance in seeking information from GOG officials about Bamaca's whereabouts and arranging for an exhumation of the Retalhuleu grave. The human rights officer, according to the cable, "pledged to assist in any way possible but requested no publicity concerning such efforts," to which Harbury agreed.

March 11: Guatemala desk officer meets with Jennifer Harbury in Washington.

March 12: Harbury writes to Embassy human rights officer outlining case and describing aborted exhumation.

March 15: Charge and Acting DCM talk to Attorney General Acisclo Valladares about case. (Guatemala 3794 -- no additional details)

March 18: Embassy officers speak to then-Human Rights Ombudsman Ramiro De Leon Carpio about case. He tells them that he became involved in the case after receiving discreet inquiries from Bishop Quezada and the URNG guerrilla group. He approached the Minister of Defense and other GOG officials, and was told that Bamaca was probably buried in an unmarked grave in Retalhuleu. De Leon requested and received permission to exhume the grave in May 1992, but the proceeding was stopped (as noted earlier in this chronology). (Guatemala 3794)

March 22: Embassy human rights officer contacts COPREDEH (Guatemala's Presidential Human Rights Commission) about case. The COPREDEH staffer said that the UN Human Rights Commission's independent expert on Guatemala had inquired about the case and the GOG was preparing a reply denying that the military had ever had Bamaca. (Guatemala 3794)

March 23: Embassy receives from Jennifer Harbury a privacy act waiver imposing no restrictions on U.S. officials regarding discussions of the case. (Guatemala 3794)

March 24: Embassy human rights officer speaks with Harbury by telephone, giving her a status report on inquiries to the GOG and steps taken to arrange an exhumation.

March 26: Embassy human rights officer and another embassy officer contact Military Intelligence Chief Otto Fernando Perez Molina about case; Perez says that the military definitely did not have Bamaça, who is "probably buried in Retalhuleu.". He pledges military cooperation with future exhumation efforts and says that he believes that "Harbury had no reason to fear returning to Guatemala for the exhumation". (Guatemala 3794)

March 30: Harbury calls Embassy to discuss ways to identify Bamaca.

Mid-May: Intelligence report based on "generally reliable source with excellent access" says that unidentified senior Guatmalan military officers claim that the army holds URNG members in clandestine jails. The officers reportedly believe Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos's accounts regarding seeing Bamaca alive.

May/June: Guatemalan stability breaks down, culminating in President Serrano's auto-coup attempt and De Leon's election by the Guatemalan Congress to the Presidency.

July 9: Harbury meets with consular and political officers, who tell her that the embassy stands ready to assist her in any way it can during her search for her husband. (Guatemala 8697)

July 11: Ambassador McAfee meets with Pres. De Leon, suggesting that he abolish clandestine prisons if any exist, an allusion to Bamaca and others who might have been held at any point. (BAMACA NOT REPORTED IN CABLE AS HAVING BEEN MENTIONED SPECIFICALLY BY NAME.)

July 22: Harbury meets with Ambassador to discuss case (THEIR FIRST MEETING). (Guatemala 8697)

July 29: Ambassador raises issue of clandestine prisons with Minister of Defense, notes he should be careful nothing happens to individuals such as Bamaca if they are being held.

August 2: Ambassador meets with President De Leon and raises clandestine prisons and Bamaca case.

August 17: Accompanied by the Embassy's American citizen services officer, Harbury witnesses the exhumation of a grave in Retalhuleu. None of the bodies unearthed appear to be Bamaca. (Guatemala 10348)

August 20: Ambassador and consular officer meet with Harbury to discuss the exhumation results. Journalist Janet Hawkins of "Harvard" magazine also sits in. Harbury asked for Ambassador's support for her ongoing efforts to get the GOG to move all clandestine prisoners to publicly-accessible detention centers. Ambassador tells Harbury that she and other Embassy officers have discussed and will continue to discuss the case with highest-level GOG officials, including the President and Minister of Defense. She notes that "at present we have no evidence to confirm Harbury's claim of the ongoing detention of URNG combatants to include Bamaca, but against that possibility the Ambassador has continued to press the case with the GOG." (Guatemala 9845)

August 25: Ambassador raises case with MOD Enriquez and asks him to receive Jennifer Harbury.

August 30: Pursuant to the Ambassador's request, MOD Enriquez meets with Harbury.

August 30: During a dinner meeting, Ambassador and President De Leon discuss Bamaca case.

September 4: Consular officer meets with Harbury to discuss Harbury's meeting with Minister of Defense. Harbury reported that Enriquez was "cordial and non-committal" but did not respond to her questions about how the army could have provided an accurate physical description of Bamaca in spring 1992 to the Human Rights Ombudsman if the army had not held Bamaca. (Guatemala 10257)

September 6: Ambassador meets with MOD and discusses his recently held meeting with Jennifer Harbury.

September 7: Harbury begins a week-long fast IN FRONT OF A MILITARY SCHOOL AND MOD RESIDENCE to pressure the GOG to reveal the whereabouts of Bamaca. Consular officers from the Embassy visit her several times each day. (Guatemala 10257)

September 10: Charg‡ discusses case with Foreign Minister, who implicity sought Embassy assistance in getting Harbury to end her fast. Charg‡ told Foreign Minister not to take any action to interfere with Harbury's activities and urgED that MS. HARBURY'S well-being be protected. The reporting cable on the conversation notes that President De Leon told the press that Harbury "is WITHin her rights to exercise such pressure." (Guatemala 10302)

September 13: GOG Peace Commission member Mario Permuth tells political counselor and political officer that URNG commander Rodrigo Asturias, head of the guerrilla faction ORPA to which Bamaca reportedly belonged, once told Permuth that he thought Bamaca was dead. (Guatemala 10416)

October 7: A Guatemalan army officer tells Defense Attache and political officer that the Guatemalan government, in response to Harbury's decision to file a case with the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (IACHR), may seek to prove that Harbury was never legally married to Bamaca. The officer said that many guerrillas have died and been buried in places unknown to the Guatemalan government, so the fact that Bamaca's body was not buried in Retalhuleu proves nothing. (Guatemala 11429)

October 21: Harbury meets with ARA DAS Anne Patterson in Washington to discuss her IACHR case. Patterson emphasized the importance of human rights issues in U.S. policy toward Guatemala and USG opposition to the use of secret detention facilities. Patterson asked Harbury if she still believed her husband was alive, in view of the fact that the last reportED

sighting of Bamaca (by Santiago Cabrera Lopez) took place in July 1992. Harbury responded affirmatively, based on the belief that her husband's experience and close ties to OPRA (THIS MORNING'S SHOW: HOW I LOST 300 POUNDS--TRY ORPA) leader Asturias would make him a valuable source of intelligence. (State 339783)

October 22: Harbury meets with Assistant Secretary for Human Rights John Shattuck to review her IACHR complaint. Shattuck assured her of continued U.S. support in urging Guatemalan authorities to investigate the case. (State 339783)

1994

January 6: Ambassador raises case with MOD, who agrees to meet with Harbury but says that a "meticulous investigation" had produced no results. (Guatemala 185)

January 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury (no further details; Guatemala 185).

January 7: Defense attache and political officer meet with Guatemalan military officer Otto Noack, who agreed to their request to help Harbury obtain appointments with MOD officials.

February 10: Central American Parliament deputy and former GOG peace commission chief Manuel Conde tells political officer that a former ORPA comandante told Conde that Bamaca was missing before the March 12, 1992 clash in which he was reportedly killed. The embassy notes that this is a second-hand account and should be read as such. (Guatemala 1483)

May 24: Harbury meets with Consul General, Defense Attache, human rights officer, and American CITIZENS' services officer to ask for an account of the Embassy's efforts on her case. Embassy officers report that they "regularly prod their GOG contacts for acation (VACATION? CLARIFICATION?) and answers on all unresolved human rights cases of interest to the USG," including her husband's. Embassy officers told Harbury that they were unaware of any new information on Bamaca's whereabouts. Harbury asked that the Embassy arrange an appointment for her with President De Leon (the Ambassador again sought such a meeting, but De Leon, who was out of the country during part of Harbury's visit, did not AGREE). Harbury said that the Minister of Defense had hinted to her that Bamaca was alive; the Defense Attache, who had been present on the occasions when Harbury conversed with the MOD, said that he had never heard the MOD suggest that Bamaca was alive. Harbury replied that she was "reading between the lines." (Guatemala 6060)

May 26: Ambassador meets with Harbury, who urges that the U.S. cut off aid to Guatemala. Ambassador replied that the embassy would "continue to push for a satisfactory resolution to the Bamaca case" but voiced her concerns that halting USG funds would adversely affect much-needed criminal justice reforms and affect Guatemala's neediest citizens. (Guatemala 6060)

May 30: Harbury tells Ambassador, Defense Attache and human rights officer that the Minister of Defense was "sounding her out" about "compromise solutions." Defense Attache warns Harbury not too place too much credence in this, particularly since the army had never admitted to holding Bamaca. (Guatemala 6060)

June 27: Guatemala 6060, reporting on Harbury's various meetings with Embassy officials during her most recent visit, closes with the following sentences: "Embassy has no information to support her belief that Bamaca is alive. However, we will continue to press the GOG on this case."

July 12: Consul General and Human Rights Officer meet with Supreme Court officials to discuss this and other cases of USG interest.

August 17: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss several bilateral issues; she asks that he meet with Jennifer Harbury when she next visits Guatemala. De Leon agrees to do so. (Guatemala 7719)

August 17: Human Rights Officer formally includes this case in the written list of cases of USG interest given to various GOG entities including COPREDEH, the National Police and the Public Ministry during regularly scheduled meetings.

August 22: Ambassador raises case with Minister of Defense at dinner in honor of visiting DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo. Enriquez said he had no idea where Bamaca was and suggested that the body disinterred in Retalhuleu in August 1993 was really Bamaca's. The Ambassador "retorted that she didn't believe that" and emphasized that this case continued to be of high priority to the USG. (Guatemala 8176)

August 23: Ambassador and DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo raise Harbury/Bamaca case with MOD. Jaramillo notes that this case is "of special concern" to the USG. Enriquez "stated emphatically that the army did not have Bamaca" and speculated that he might "still be alive somewhere." (Guatemala 8176)

October 11 - November 11: Harbury conducts hunger strike in National Plaza, Guatemala City.

October/Nov 94: Throughout Harbury's hunger strike, Embassy continues assistance to Harbury and makes representations to GOG, including almost daily visits to Harbury; eight meetings between Ambassador and Harbury; instructions to the National Police "roving patrols" assigned to the Embassy to check on Harbury's safety three times daily and every 60-90 minutes at night; and meetings with GOG officials to urge an investigation. (Guatemala 9332, 9557, 9608, 9680, 9769, 9786, 9796, 9880, 9924, 9978)

October 11: Consular officer meets with Harbury, emphasizing that the Embassy continues to place high priority on her case and that the Ambassador and the rest of the embassy staff RAISE THE Bamaca case with GOG contacts at every opportunity. Consular officer also tells Harbury that, "despite Ms. Harbury's assertions to the contrary, the Ambassador and other embassy officials with whom she had met in the past had been completely candid with her when discussing Embassy efforts to obtain information on her husband's whereabouts and our lack of independent evidence up to this point regarding his fate. Consular officer expresses concern for Harbury's health and personal safety and provides her with the Embassy's 24-hour emergency telephone number. (Guatemala 9332)

October 14: Guatemala desk officer meets with visiting ICRC delegates, who tell her in confidence that they interviewed Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos for over two hours in Geneva (apparently in February 1993) and found their story lacking in credibility.

October 18-19: Desk officer spends two full days searching through 1993 and 1994 files to compile a single, consolidated file on Harbury/Bamaca case.

October 19: DCM meets Asisclo Valladares to emphasize the case's potential for harm to bilateral relations and to discuss possible entities capable of investigating THE case, such as the ICRC, UN Human Rights Commission, UN Verification Mission in Guatemala (MINUGUA), and domestic Guatemalan entities. The DCM urged international participation in any Guatemalan investigation in order to give it credibility. (Guatemala 9786)

October 24: In a memo, ARA DAS Patterson asks INR/IL to seek more information about intelligence reports on Bamaca's fate.

October 24: ARA/CEN Director John Hamilton speaks in Tegucigalpa with De Leon and Formin de Vielman. De Leon complains that Harbury had consistently misrepresented information which had come from him while he was Human Rights Ombudsman. He expresses concern at Harbury's health and considers hospitalizing her at some point soon. Hamilton urges De Leon to think of steps permitting Harbury to stand down from strike, suggests independent investigation. MINUGUA considered; de Vielman supports idea. (email)

October 25: Harbury tells Ambassador, during course of long conversation, that a Guatmalan woman had told her that she had heard from a friend in the military that Bamaca was alive. Harbury declines Ambassador's request to contact the woman. (Guatemala 9769)

October 25: Embassy receives information, sourced to a disgruntled former soldier (ALSO ON A HUNGER STRIKE IN THE CENTRAL PLAZA??), that Bamaca was seen alive at a military hospital in late March 1992. (Guatemala 9760)

October 26: DCM meets with Solicitor General Valladares who tells DCM that Harbury has rejected any investigation but demanded a negotiation with the army. Valladares will file a writ of habeus corpus for Bamaca, requesting appointment of investigators to visit every military installation in search of information on Bamaca.

October 26: Defense Attache meets with MG Gonzalez Taracena, Chief of Staff of National Defense Staff, suggesting high level statement and independent expert to investigate Bamaca case from top to bottom. Gonzalez SAID HE would discuss THIS with Defense Minister.

October 27: Pres. De Leon announces new investigation at a press conference.

October 27: Ambassador and Nuccio meet with PRESIDENT DE LEON later in the day and hear that he has asked MINUGUA to investigate the case. (Guatemala 9880) THEY meet with Defmin Enriquez to emphasize importance of a thorough investigation of the case. (Guatemala 10520)

NB: JENNIFER WAS ALSO AT AMB RESIDENCE NIGHT OF OCT 27. CAROLYN GORMAN GAVE HER A RIDE BACK TO PLAZA AND SHE LEFT FRONT DOOR JUST AS AMB MULET AND DE VIELMAN PULLED UP. MULET GREETED HER WARMLY, DE VIELMAN GAVE HER A SCATHING GLARE AND STALKED INSIDE.

October 27: Ambassador, Nuccio, DCM, POLCOUNS meet with FM de Vielman and Amb. Mulet mid-evening and discuss this case. Nuccio adds need to address concerns re possibility of clandestine prisons. (Guatemala 9880)

October 29: Department requests US Mission to UN to ask UN staff to encourage MINUGUA's receptivity to de Leon's willingness to work with it on Bamaca case. (State 293768)

October 29: Ambassador and Carolyn Gorman call on Guatemalan Amb to OAS Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz and recommend to him that Amb Mulet be given a more active role in managing various aspects of the case and investigation. (Guatemala 9977)

October 31: Ambassador directs poloff to call COPREDEH to arrange meeting with "Coalition Missing" members, headed by Sister Dianna Ortiz. COPREDEH Director returns call and says that he and GOG Amb. ALVAREZ Guadamuz (I THINK IT IS A DOUBLE BARRELED NAME) will meet with CM members and that he is still trying to arrange meetings with other GOG officials.

October 31: Poloff calls the office of Human Rights Ombudsman Garcia Laguardia to arrange a meeting for Coalition Missing representatives, passes the Ombudsman's office suggested meeting times to Sister Ortiz.

November 2: ConGen and ACS officer meet with GT Supreme Court Secretary re possible Bamaca grave, inform Ms. Harbury. (Guatemala 9978)

November 5: Embassy, working through the night, manages to delay a suddenly scheduled exhumation of reported Bamaca cadaver, assists Harbury with information and arrangements and is present at the subsequent exhumation (DATE?), which is not of Bamaca, according to Harbury. (Guatemala 10067)

November 5: Embassy reports that recent DAO information contains credible information that the Guatemalan army captured Bamaca, interrogated him and almost certainly did away with him. Suggests that Ambassador be instructed to inform De Leon of the basic elements of the report. (Guatemala 10068)

November 9: Guatemalan Supreme Court designates Human Rights Ombudsman Jorge Mario Garcia Laguardia to investigate Bamaca's fate.

November 11: Ambassador makes demarche to De Leon, telling him that according to information available to us, Bamaca was captured alive by the military but did not survive beyond a few weeks. De Leon has ordered Human Right Ombudsman to conduct an investigation. (Guatemala 10274) Harbury informed of meeting later in day; notes she has ended her hunger strike and will return to the U.S. for meetings with White House officials. (Guatemala 10259)

November 12: Ambassador meets with Human Rights Ombudsman to discuss investigation. Ombudsman is uncomfortable with the task. (Guatemala 10326)

November 15: DAO and MilGroup commander meet with Army Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena to discuss Bamaca case and disinvite him from Fuerzas Unidas exercise.

November 16-18: DRL A/S Shattuck and DRL/AAA's Mary Curtin visit Guatemala, meet with President De Leon, MOD Enriquez, Human Rights Ombudsman Garcia LaGuardia, MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco, and human rights NGOS, discussing Bamaca with interlocutors and urging importance of clarification of Bamaca's fate. (Guatemala 10457, 10460, 10558)

November 23: Ambassador and Defense Attache meet with Minister of Defense to press strongly for a resolution of the Bamaca case and other pending human rights cases, noting that if the case is not resolved, bilateral relations would suffer. She says that the USG had reliable information from several credible sources that the army captured Bamaca alive in March 1992 and thus must know what happened to him. Enriquez pledged to cooperate fully with the Human Rights Ombudsman and Solicitor General's investigations. (Guatemala 10720)

November 23: Ambassador McAfee meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. (Guatemala 10581)

November 25: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss case. De Leon asks for USG "help" in dealing with the repercussions of the Bamaca case. He said that Bamaca is dead and the case should be turned over to the Historical Clarification Commission (to be established after a final peace accord). The Ambassador emphasizes the need for progress and stresses that the USG expects his full cooperation in the legal/judicial pursuit of the case, including allowing Jennifer Harbury to re-enter Guatemala to pursue her legal cases. (Guatemala 10619)

November 29: GOG files suit against Jennifer Harbury to force her to file civil charges against the Guatemalan government or lose her right to do so in the future. (Guatemala 10695)(In a legal victory for Harbury, the case is ultimately dismissed in January.)

Late November/Early December: The Human Rights Ombudsman's staff, accompanied by MINUGUA personnel, interviews military personnel accused of participating in Bamaca's disappearance, including Col. Alpirez. All professed to know nothing about Bamaca's capture or death.

December 1 or 2: President De Leon approaches Vice President Gore on the margins of the Zedillo inaugural in Mexico to ask for USG understanding on the Bamaca case.

December 1: Harbury meets with Ambassador McAfee, demanding all USG confidential records without having to file a Freedom of Information Act request and seeking the provision of a USG "witness" to help her prosecute her case. The Ambassador promises to relay Harbury's request to Washington, which she does via Guatemala 10853.

December 2: Ambassador meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. Franco says that the military was cooperative during late November searches of military installations, which MINUGUA observed, and asks for more USG information about the case. Ambassador tells him that the salient facts had already been provided to Ms. Harbury and were in the public domain, adding that the USG does not know whether or not Bamaca is still alive. (Guatemala 10855)

December 3: Congressman Bill Richardson and Ambassador discuss Bamaca case with President De Leon, who repeats previous statements to the effect that Bamaca was dead and that there is no evidence of his fate. Ambassador urges that the Human Rights Ombudsman's request to extend his investigation be granted. (Guatemala 10924)

December 5: DCM meets with Attorney General Valladares to discuss case, expressing "strong USG support for a comprehensive investigation into Bamaca's whereabaouts, to include interviewing both army and guerrilla personnel" and noting that the Human Rights Ombudsman needs more time to complete his investigation. Regarding the GOG's suit against Harbury, the DCM told Valladares that the suit appears to interested parties in the U.S. and elsewhere as an attempt to muzzle Harbury and that GOG efforts to question the bona fides of her marriage to Bamaca strike some observers as harassment. (Guatemala 11007)

December 5: Embassy officers contact Harbury to discuss the DCM'S AND Valladares's discussion of the GOG suit against her. (Guatemala 11007)

December 6: ARA officials and U/S Tarnoff discuss case with Guatemalan Foreign Minister de Vielman in Washington; Anthony Lake discusses case with her on 12/7/94. All note the importance of the case and urge that the GOG provide a full accounting of Bamaca's fate. (State 331770)

December 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury to discuss GOG's suit against her and her plans to rebut the charges. (Guatemala 11007)

December 9: Embassy officer attends hearing of GOG's suit against Harbury. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Human Rights Ombudsman concludes 30-day investigation into Bamaca's disappearance without producing any conclusive results. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Charge speaks with Minister of Government to ask if Harbury would be permitted to return to Guatemala to continue her search for Bamaca and to cooperate in the GOG's investigation of the case. Parinello says that the decision would be made at a higher level. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9 or 10: President De Leon approaches President Clinton at the Summit of the Americas to ask for understanding on the Bamaca case, (AND PASSES HIM A DOCUMENT ALLEGING TO BE A STATEMENT FROM A FORMER GUERRILLA COLLABORATOR STATING THAT BAMACA NEVER KNEW HARBURY).

December 20: Harbury meets with NSC official Richard Feinberg, who reiterates that information available to the USG suggests that Bamaca was captured by the military but did not appear to have survived much beyond a few weeks after his capture.

December 22: ARA DAS Patterson meets with Harbury, who DELIVERS THE same message. (DON'T REITERATE REITERATE)

December 24: The Departments of State and Defense instruct USCINCSO General McCaffrey to visit Guatemala to discuss the Bamaca case and other issues with Guatemalan MOD.

1995

January 9: Harbury files Freedom of Information Act request with Department of State and other USG agencies. Shortly thereafter, Department decides to process her request on an expeditious basis for humanitarian reasons.

January 12: Embassy officer attends second "jactancia" hearing. (Guatemala 802)

January 20: Ambassador discusses case with NEW Minister of Government CARLOS REYNOSO GIL (PARRINELLO CANNED FOR CORRUPTION).

January 26: USCINCSO McCaffrey discusses Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, emphasizing the importance of this and other human rights cases to the USG and urging that the military move forward for the SAKE OF GUATENALA'S FUTURE. He tells MOD and COS that all Guatemalan officers must accept that outside scrutiny is not a violation of national sovereignty. "The Guatemalan army must simply face this case the right way." (Guatemala 1248)

January 26: Intelligence report suggests that Col. Alpirez may have been directly involved in Bamaca's death.

January 31: DCM discusses case with Solicitor General Acisclo Valladares.

February 3: Department instructs Ambassador to demarche President De Leon regarding new information about Alpirez. (State 28652)

February 6: Ambassador carries out demarche. Talking points reiterate information contained in November 11 demarche, note that those conclusions had been corroborated by additional information and ask that the GOG reinterview implicated military officers, particularly Alpirez. She notes "profound concern existing at the highest levels of the USG about BaMaca's fate, and decrieS the absence to date of an in-depth investigatioan into Bamaca's whereabouts. De Leon reiterates his belief that Bamaca was dead, commits the GOG to make every effort to find Bamaca, and notes that the Historical Clarification should look into the circumstances of his death. (Guatemala 1041)

February 7: Ambassador discusses Bamaca with Minister of Defense, delivering talking points contained in demarche given to President De Leon. Enriquez said that he would not voluntarily make Alpirez or other officers available for questioning but would comply with an official summons to do so. Ambassador "again emphasized the importanCe (PEG ARE YOU GETTING TIRED OF THIS?) of resolving the Bamaca case." (Guatemala 1210)

February 8: Ambassador delivers same demarche points to Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, who replies that Bamaca's alleged capture occurred under a previous administration and asks for more information about officers assigned to the San Marcos military zone in 1992. Ambassador tells him that Santiago Cabrera Lopez had publicly identified several officers, including Alpirez, who should be re-interviewed. (Guatemala 1155)

February 8: Harbury meets with ARA DAS Patterson , who tells her that the USG continues to press the GOG on this case, most recently in the February 6 meeting with De Leon. Harbury asks that her FOIA request be expedited, requests access to classified information, and says she will go back on hunger strike if the U.S. does not impose economic sanctions on Guatemala. Patterson tells her that the information used in the February 6 demarche was based on intelligence sources and thus the State Department could not release it to her. Harbury accuses the USG of deliberately refusing to do anything about Bamaca's capture; Patterson replies that the USG has in fact devoted considerable resources to the case. Paterson reiterates our conclusion that all information available to us suggests that Bamaca did not survive for more than a few weeks beyond his capture, although we have no conclusive evidence about his actual death. (State 40484)

February 9: Ambassador discusses case with MINUGUA director Leonardo Franco to EMPHASIZE the continuing need for MINUGUA to assist on the Bamaca case, describing the demarche in general terms. Franco responded positively. (Guatemala 1186)

February 16: Ambassador and Defense Attache discuss Bamaca case with Acting MOD and Army Chief of Staff General Gonzalez Taracena, encouraging General Gonzalez to support Public Ministry questioning of army officers assigned to San Marcos in 1992, including Col. Alpirez. (Guatemala 1630)

February 17: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for details on the Ambassador's latest demarche and confirmation of any kind that Bamaca is dead. Ambassador suggests that she direct her inquiries regarding sensitive information to the Department in Washington but confirms that she met with De Leon and that the Embassy does not think Bamaca is alive because it has received no information to support such an assumption. (Guatemala 1569)

February 21: Ambassador discusses case with newly-appointed COPREDEH chairman Vicente Arranz.

February 22: Ambassador and PolCouns meet with former Amb. Robert White to discuss Harbury case. Political section sets up appointments with GOG officials for Amb. White.

February 23: Ambassador meets with Ambassador White for outbrief on his meetings with GOG officials.

March 6: Ambassador raised the need for positive movement on the Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, AGAIN STRESSING the critical importance of resolving it. They were noncommittal; the Ambassador told Gonzalez at a subsequent meeting that day that the U.S. and Guatemala "are on a collision course if no positive action is taken." (Guatemala 1889)

March 7: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for the Embassy's help in getting the GOG to allow her to be present at interviews of military officers and in facilitating a meeting between the MOD and Congressman Richardson (the Ambassador tells her that we have already passed the latter request on and promises to pass on the former request, noting that the GOG may be reluctant to comply). Harbury presses the Ambassador for hard information that Bamaca is dead. The Ambassador responds that the USG has reached the conclusion that he is dead, based on all available evidence. She adds "I am convinced he is dead, but I do not know what happened to him." She suggests that Harbury refer additional questions on this topic to Washington. (Guatemala 2007)

March 9: Ambassador discusses case with representatives of the private sector and with a Guatemalan congressional delegation WHICH IS PLANNING TO GO TO WASHINGTON.

March 10: Guatemalan Ambassador to the U.S Edmond Mulet calls on ARA/CEN Director on instructions from the GOG to present a "white paper" on the Bamaca case, as well as a press release reaffirming the GOG position that Bamaca was not captured by the Guatemalan military. Hamilton notified Mulet of the U.S. decision to suspend participation by Guatemalan military personnel in IMET programs in the U.S. for the rest of 1995, out of concern over a lack of substantial progress on several pending human rights cases, including Bamaca's.

March 10: Ambassador meets with Acting Foreign Minister, who says that the GOG considers the Bamaca case as still open and denying that the Guatemalan government had ever said Bamaca was dead. Ambassador stresses the importance of the Bamaca case and passes along Harbury's request to be present at interviews of army personnel allegedly involved in this case. (Guatemala 2033)

March 13: Guatemala 2032 (Roger channel) discusses lack of credibilty of report by Guatemalan officer claiming to have seen Bamaca alive in December 1992.

March 15: DCM discusses case with Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, pressing for interviews to begin immediately and conveying Harbury's request to be present. DCM notes that the U.S. recognizes Harbury's marriage as legal and valid, adding that the U.S. expects Guatemala to respect our legal system and not delay the registration of Harbury's marriage in Guatemala (a step required for her continued legal actions there). (Guatemala 2193)

3/17/95: Polcouns discusses case with COPREDEH chairman Arranz.

3/17/95: AMB discusses case with Minister of Government and the President of the Supreme Court.

Case of Efrain Bamaca Velasquez
Chronology of Key Events

Note: This chronology is drawn from a review of ARA/CEN's files, which have been provided to A/IM/IS/FPC pursuant to a January 1995 FOIA request by Jennifer Harbury. Embassy Guatemala also furnished some information contained below. Ms. Harbury has filed a second FOIA request covering information until February 12, 1995, to which ARA/CEN is responding. Although this chronology refers to some intelligence reports, it by no means represents a comprehensive summary of all existing intelligence on this case.

Summary

Guatemalan guerrilla Efrain Bamaca Velasquez disappeared on March 12, 1992 after a firefight with the Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu. For nearly a year, his colleagues and American citizen wife, Jennifer Harbury, believed that he died in combat. However, a former guerrilla, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, claimed in February 1993 that, while detained by the Guatemalan military, he had seen Bamaca alive in military custody in March and July 1992. Harbury contacted our Embassy in March 1993 for assistance in resolving the case. From that time forward, the Embassy and USG officials in Washington assisted Harbury, repeatedly pressed the GOG for information and action, and shared as much information as possible with her.

After an exhumation facilitated by the Embassy failed to discover Bamaca's remains in August 1993, Harbury conducted a week-long hunger strike in Guatemala in September 1993 to publicize her demand for more information. She conducted a 32-day hunger strike in Guatemala in October-November 1994 for the same purpose, during which time she was visited on a near-daily basis by Embassy personnel, including the Ambassador on several occasions. During that hunger strike, ARA/CEN searched its CASC and PHUM files for 1993 and 1994 to create a unified file on the Bamaca case. The Embassy conducted a similar review and the CIA wrote the first of several intelligence updates/chronologies on the case.

Drawing on information developed during the file search and subsequent taskings for and receipt of additional intelligence, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to meet with President De Leon on November 11, 1994. The Ambassador told De Leon that, according to information available to the USG, Bamaca was captured alive by the military and that we had no information indicating that he survived much beyond the first few weeks of his capture. On the same day, Ambassador McAfee shared this same information with Jennifer Harbury, who had just ended her hunger strike. As more information became available in the ensuing months, we became even more convinced of this conclusion, which USG officials shared with Ms. Harbury in several subsequent meetings, while noting (as remains true to this day) that we have no direct, conclusive evidence of when or how Bamaca was actually killed, nor who ordered his murder or who actually committed it.

On January 26, the CIA provided intelligence that, according to [redacted] "it was known within the senior ranks of the army that Alpirez ... killed Bamaca." [redacted] On February 3, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to approach President De Leon again, urging him to order the re-interrogation of senior military officers who might have been involved in Bamaca's disappearance, including Colonel Julio Roberto Alpirez. Ambassador McAfee made this demarche on February 6. ARA DAS Anne Patterson met February 8 with Jennifer Harbury to inform her of the demarche but without revealing Alpirez's name, in view of the fact that Alpirez' degree of involvement in Bamaca's presumed death was not clear. Harbury initiated another hunger strike on March 12 in Washington but concluded it on March 23 after Congressman Torricelli provided her with information alleging involvement in her husband's death by Colonel Alpirez. End Summary.

1992

March 12: Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, aka Comandante Everardo, disappears after firefight with Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu.

March 18: CIA report from Guatemala reports capture of ORPA commander Everardo, described as "lightly wounded in the arm ... in good physical condition ... being well treated by the army ... cooperating fully with his captors." The report's comment speculates that the army will keep news of his capture secret or even claim that he was killed to maximize Everardo's intelligence value. The name "Efrain Bamaca Velasquez" is not used in this report, and an army officer told the Embassy in March 1993 that it did not know that Everardo was actually Efrain Bamaca Velasquez until Jennifer Harbury and Santiago Cabrera Lopez publicized his alleged capture. Given the description of Everardo as in good condition and cooperating with the army, the USG has no reason to suspect foul play nor to know of his connection to Harbury. [redacted]

May: The exhumation of a grave in Retalhuleu believed to contain Bamaca's remains is suspended by Attorney General Acisclo Valladares on the grounds that no family member is there to identify the body, nor was other identifying evidence (x-rays, dental records, etc.) available. Jennifer Harbury, who was present, did not identify herself as Bamaca's wife, reportedly because she was afraid to do so. (93 Guatemala 3794)

February: Former guerrillas Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos (noms de guerre: Carlos and Willy) testify at the UN Human Rights Commission in Geneva about having seen Bamaca and 35 other guerrillas in clandestine army detention in March and July 1992. (Recinos said he heard guards talking about Bamaca being in custody in August 1992; he did not claim to have seen Bamaca personally.) Cabrera Lopez says he escaped from army custody and left Guatemala in December 1992. (93 Guatemala 2435 and October 1994 sworn statement by Cabrera)

March 1: 93 Guatemala 2435 contains Embassy's evaluation of Cabrera and Recinos's claims, commenting, "we have no idea whether the guerrillas' accusations are accurate ... the ex-guerrillas' claims are not beyond the realm of possibility ... "

March 9: Jennifer Harbury makes her first contact with the Embassy to seek assistance in the case in a phone call to the Embassy's human rights officer, asking Embassy assistance in seeking information from GOG officials about Bamaca's whereabouts and arranging for an exhumation of the Retalhuleu grave. The human rights officer, according to the cable, "pledged to assist in any way possible but requested no publicity concerning such efforts," to which Harbury agreed. (93 Guatemala 3794, which also reports that the Guatemalan Government denies holding Bamaca, alleging that he may have died in combat and been buried in Retalhuleu)

March 11: Guatemala desk officer meets with Jennifer Harbury in Washington. (Embassy records)

March 12: Harbury writes to Embassy human rights officer outlining case and describing aborted exhumation. (Embassy records)

March 15: Charge and Acting DCM talk to Attorney General Acisclo Valladares about case. (93 Guatemala 3794)

March 18: Embassy officers speak to then-Human Rights Ombudsman Ramiro De Leon Carpio about case. He tells them that he became involved in the case after receiving discreet inquiries from Bishop Quezada and the URNG guerrilla group. He approached the Minister of Defense and other GOG officials, and was told that Bamaca was probably buried in an unmarked grave in Retalhuleu. De Leon requested and received permission to exhume the grave in May 1992, but the proceeding was stopped (as noted earlier in this chronology). (93 Guatemala 3794)

March 22: Embassy human rights officer contacts COPREDEH (Guatemala's Presidential Human Rights Commission) about case. The COPREDEH staffer said that the UN Human Rights Commission's independent expert on Guatemala had inquired about the case and the GOG was preparing a reply denying that the military had ever had Bamaca. (93 Guatemala 3794)

March 23: Embassy receives from Jennifer Harbury a privacy act waiver imposing no restrictions on U.S. officials regarding discussions of the case. (93 Guatemala 3794)

March 24: Embassy human rights officer speaks with Harbury by telephone, giving her a status report on inquiries to the GOG and steps taken to arrange an exhumation. (Embassy records)

March 26: Embassy human rights officer and other embassy officer contacts Military Intelligence Chief Otto Fernando Perez Molina about case; Perez says that the military definitely did not have Bamaca, who is "probably buried in Retalhuleu." He pledges military cooperation with future exhumation efforts and says that he believes that "Harbury had no reason to fear returning to Guatemala for the exhumation". (93 Guatemala 3794)

March 30: Harbury calls Embassy to discuss ways to identify Bamaca. (Embassy records)

Mid-May: Intelligence report [redacted] says that unidentified [redacted] Guatemalan military officers claim that the army holds URNG members in clandestine jails. The officers reportedly believe Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos's accounts regarding seeing Bamaca alive. [redacted]

May/June: Guatemalan stability breaks down, culminating in President Serrano's May 25 auto-coup attempt and De Leon's election by the Guatemalan Congress to the Presidency June 6. (Multiple reports)

July 9: Harbury meets with consular and political officers, who tell her that the embassy stands ready to assist her in any way it can during her search for her husband. (93 Guatemala 8697)

July 11: Ambassador McAfee meets with Pres. De Leon, suggesting that he abolish clandestine prisons if any exist. (Embassy records)

July 22: Harbury meets with Ambassador to discuss case (their first meeting in Guatemala). (Guatemala 8697)

July 29: Ambassador raises issue of clandestine prisons with Minister of Defense, notes he should be careful nothing happens to individuals such as Bamaca if they are being held. (Embassy records)

August 2: Ambassador meets with President De Leon and raises clandestine prisons and Bamaca case. (Embassy records)

August 17: Accompanied by the Embassy's American citizen services officer, Harbury witnesses the exhumation of a grave in Retalhuleu. None of the bodies unearthed appears to be Bamaca. (93 Guatemala 10348)

August 20: Ambassador and consular officer meet with Harbury to discuss the exhumation results. Journalist Janet Hawkins of "Harvard" magazine also sits in. Harbury asked for Ambassador's support for her ongoing efforts to get the GOG to move all clandestine prisoners to publicly-accessible detention centers. Ambassador tells Harbury that she and other Embassy officers have discussed and will continue to discuss the case with highest-level GOG officials, including the President and Minister of Defense. She notes that "at present we have no evidence to confirm Harbury's claim of the ongoing detention of URNG combatants to include Bamaca, but against that possibility the Ambassador has continued to press the case with the GOG." (93 Guatemala 9845)

August 25: Ambassador raises case with MOD Enriquez and asks him to receive Jennifer Harbury. (93 Guatemala 9845)

August 30: Pursuant to the Ambassador's request, MOD Enriquez meets with Harbury. (93 Guatemala 10257)

August 30: During a dinner meeting, Ambassador and President De Leon discuss Bamaca case. (Embassy records)

September 4: Consular officer meets with Harbury to discuss Harbury's meeting with Minister of Defense. Harbury reported that Enriquez was "cordial and non-committal" but did not respond to her questions about how the army could have provided an accurate physical description of Bamaca in spring 1992 to the Human Rights Ombudsman if the army had not held Bamaca. (93 Guatemala 10257)

September 6: Ambassador meets with MOD and discusses his recently held meeting with Jennifer Harbury. (Embassy records)

September 7: Harbury begins a week-long fast to pressure the GOG to reveal the whereabouts of Bamaca. Consular officers from the Embassy visit her several times each day. (93 Guatemala 10257)

September 10: Charge discusses case with Foreign Minister, who implicitly sought Embassy assistance in getting Harbury to end her fast. Charge tells Foreign Minister not to take any action to interfere with Harbury's activities and urges that Ms. Harbury's well-being be protected. The reporting cable on the conversation notes that President De Leon told the press that Harbury "is in her rights to exercise such pressure." (93 Guatemala 10302)

September 13: GOG Peace Commission member Mario Permuth tells political counselor and political officer that URNG commander Rodrigo Asturias, head of the guerrilla faction ORPA to which Bamaca reportedly belonged, once told Permuth that he thought Bamaca was dead. (93 Guatemala 10416)

October 7: A Guatemalan army officer tells Defense Attache and political officer that the Guatemalan government, in response to Harbury's decision to file a case with the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (IACHR), may seek to prove that Harbury was never legally married to Bamaca. The officer said that many guerrillas have died and been buried in places unknown to the Guatemalan government, so the fact that Bamaca's body was not buried in Retalhuleu proves nothing. (93 Guatemala 11429)

October 21: Harbury meets with ARA DAS Anne Patterson in Washington to discuss her IACHR case. Patterson emphasized the importance of human rights issues in U.S. policy toward Guatemala and USG opposition to the use of secret detention facilities. Patterson asked Harbury if she still believed her husband was alive, in view of the fact that the last reported sighting of Bamaca (by Santiago Cabrera Lopez) took place in July 1992. Harbury responded affirmatively, based on the belief that her husband's experience and close ties to ORPA leader Asturias would make him a valuable source of intelligence. (93 State 339783)

1994

January 6: Ambassador raises case with MOD, who agrees to meet with Harbury but says that a "meticulous investigation" had produced no results. (94 Guatemala 185)

January 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury (94 Guatemala 185).

January 7: Defense attache and political officer meet with Guatemalan military officer Otto Noack, who agreed to their request to help Harbury obtain appointments with MOD officials. (e-mail)

January 12: Ambassador meets with Harbury and promises to continue pressing GOG on case. (94 Guatemala 705)

February 10: Central American Parliament deputy and former GOG peace commission chief Manuel Conde tells political officer that a former ORPA comandante told Conde that Bamaca was missing before the March 12, 1992 clash in which he was reportedly killed. The embassy notes that this is a second-hand account and should be read as such. (94 Guatemala 1483)

May 24: Harbury meets with Consul General, Defense Attache, human rights officer, and American citizen services officer to ask for an account of the Embassy's efforts on her case. Embassy officers report that they "regularly prod their GOG contacts for action and answers on all unresolved human rights cases of interest to the USG," including her husband's. Embassy officers told Harbury that they were unaware of any new information on Bamaca's whereabouts. Harbury asked that the Embassy arrange an appointment for her with President De Leon (the Ambassador later sought such a meeting, as she had done before). Harbury said that the Minister of Defense had hinted to her that Bamaca was alive; the Defense Attache, who had been present on the occasions when Harbury conversed with the MOD, said that he had never heard the MOD suggest that Bamaca was alive. Harbury replied that she was "reading between the lines." (94 Guatemala 6060)

May 26: Ambassador meets with Harbury, who urges that the U.S. cut off aid to Guatemala. Ambassador replied that the embassy would "continue to push for a satisfactory resolution to the Bamaca case" but voiced her concerns that halting USG funds would adversely affect much-needed criminal justice reforms and hurt Guatemala's neediest citizens. (94 Guatemala 6060)

May 30: Harbury tells Ambassador, Defense Attache and human rights officer that the Minister of Defense was "sounding her out" about "compromise solutions." Defense Attache warns Harbury not too place too much credence in this, particularly since the army had never admitted to holding Bamaca.

June 27: Reporting on Harbury's various meetings with Embassy officials during her most recent visit, Embassy closes with the following sentences: "Embassy has no information to support her belief that Bamaca is alive. However, we will continue to press the GOG on this case." (94 Guatemala 6060)

July 12: Consul General and Human Rights Officer meet with Supreme Court officials to discuss this and other cases of USG interest. (Embassy sources)

August 17: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss several bilateral issues; she asks that he meet with Jennifer Harbury when she next visits Guatemala. De Leon agrees to do so. (94 Guatemala 7719)

August 17: Human Rights Officer formally includes this case in the written list of cases of USG interest given to various GOG entities including COPREDEH, the National Police and the Public Ministry during regularly scheduled meetings. (Embassy sources)

August 22: Ambassador raises case with Minister of Defense at dinner in honor of visiting DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo. Enriquez said he had no idea where Bamaca was and suggested that the body disinterred in Retalhuleu in August 1993 was really Bamaca's. The Ambassador "retorted that she didn't believe that" and emphasized that this case continued to be of high priority to the USG. (94 Guatemala 8176)

August 23: Ambassador and DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo raise Harbury/Bamaca case with MOD. Jaramillo notes that this case is "of special concern" to the USG. Enriquez "stated emphatically that the army did not have Bamaca" and speculated that he might "still be alive somewhere." (94 Guatemala 8176)

October 11 - November 11: Harbury conducts hunger strike in National Plaza, Guatemala City. (Multiple reports)

October/Nov 94: Throughout Harbury's hunger strike, Embassy continues assistance to Harbury and makes representations to GOG, including almost daily visits to Harbury; eight meetings between Ambassador and Harbury; instructions to the National Police "roving patrols" assigned to the Embassy to check on Harbury's safety three times daily and every 60-90 minutes at night; requests that GOG officials and MINUGUA personnel meet with Harbury; and meetings with GOG officials to urge an investigation. (94 Guatemala 9332, 9557, 9608, 9680, 9769, 9786, 9796, 9880, 9924, 9978)

October 11: Consular officer meets with Harbury, emphasizing that the Embassy continues to place high priority on her case and that the Ambassador and the rest of the embassy staff raise Bamaca case with GOG contacts at every opportunity. Consular officer also tells Harbury that, "despite Ms. Harbury's assertions to the contrary, the Ambassador and other embassy officials with whom she had met in the past had been completely candid with her when discussing Embassy efforts to obtain information on her husband's whereabouts and our lack of independent evidence up to this point regarding his fate." Consular officer expresses concern for Harbury's health and personal safety and provides her with the Embassy's 24-hour emergency telephone number. (94 Guatemala 9332)

October 14: Guatemala desk officer meets with visiting ICRC delegates, who tell her in confidence that they interviewed Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos for over two hours in Geneva (apparently in February 1993) and found their story lacking in credibility. (Desk officer notes)

October 18-19: Desk officer spends two full days searching through 1993 and 1994 files to compile a single, consolidated file on Harbury/Bamaca case. (Desk officer notes)

October 19: DCM meets Asisclo Valladares to emphasize the case's potential for harm to bilateral relations and to discuss possible entities capable of investigating the case, such as the ICRC, UN Human Rights Commission, UN Verification Mission in Guatemala (MINUGUA), and domestic Guatemalan entities. The DCM urges international participation in any Guatemalan investigation in order to give it credibility. (94 Guatemala 9786)

October 24: In a memo, ARA DAS Patterson asks INR/IL to seek an evaluation of previous intelligence reports and additional new intelligence on Bamaca's fate.

October 24: ARA/CEN Director John Hamilton speaks in Tegucigalpa with President De Leon and Foreign Minister de Vielman. De Leon complains that Harbury had consistently misrepresented information which had come from him while he was Human Rights Ombudsman. He expresses concern at Harbury's health and considers hospitalizing her at some point soon. Hamilton urges De Leon to think of steps permitting Harbury to stand down from strike, such as an independent investigation by MINUGUA. De Vielman supports this idea. (e-mail)

October 25: Harbury tells Ambassador, during course of long conversation, that a Guatemalan woman had told her that she had heard from a friend in the military that Bamaca was alive. Harbury declines Ambassador's request to contact the woman. (94 Guatemala 9769)

October 25: Embassy receives information, sourced to a disgruntled former soldier, that Bamaca was seen alive at a military hospital in late March 1992. (94 Guatemala 9760)

October 26: DCM meets with Prosecutor General Valladares, who tells DCM that Harbury has rejected any investigation by international bodies like MINUGUA and demands a negotiation with the army. Valladares says he will file a writ of habeas corpus for Bamaca, requesting appointment of investigators to visit every military installation in search of information on Bamaca. DCM presses for this effort to include interviews with all persons who participated in the March 1992 firefight when Bamaca disappeared and again urges international participation in any Guatemalan investigation in order to give it credibility. (94 Guatemala 9786)

October 26: Defense Attache meets with MG Gonzalez Taracena, Chief of Staff of National Defense Staff, emphasizing that lack of action on the case so far was seriously jeopardizing bilateral relations, urging action, and suggesting a high-level statement and independent investigation. Gonzalez says he will discuss with Defense Minister. (94 Guatemala 9796)

October 27: President De Leon announces new investigation at a press conference, appointing Guatemalan Ambassador to the OAS Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz to coordinate and proposing the appointment of a special prosecutor. He says that every facility will be offered to those investigating the Bamaca case. (94 State 293768, e-mail)

October 27: Ambassador and ARA Senior Adviser Nuccio meet with President De Leon, who says he has asked MINUGUA to investigate the case. (94 Guatemala 9880) They also meet with MOD Enriquez to emphasize importance of a thorough investigation of the case. (94 Guatemala 10520)

October 27: Ambassador, Nuccio, DCM, and political counselor meet with FM de Vielman and Ambassador to the U.S. Edmond Mulet to discuss case. Nuccio raises need to address concerns about clandestine prisons. (94 Guatemala 9880)

October 27: Jennifer Harbury meets with Ambassador at latter's residence.

October 29: Department instructs USUN to ask UN staff to encourage MINUGUA's receptivity to de Leon's willingness to work with it on Bamaca case. (94 State 293768)

October 29: Ambassador and consular officer call on Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz and recommend that Ambassador Mulet be given a more active role in managing various aspects of the case and investigation. (94 Guatemala 9977)

November 2: ConGen and American citizen services officer meet with Guatemalan Supreme Court Secretary about reports that Bamaca may be buried in Coatepeque. They subsequently inform Ms. Harbury. (94 Guatemala 9978)

November 4: DCM meets with Prosecutor General Acisclo Valladares, who gives an update on legal aspects of the case. DCM emphasizes that the U.S. considers Harbury's right to petition and freedom of expression to be inviolable and asks about possible Guatemalan government intervention to hospitalize Harbury. Valladares said Ms. Harbury's medical attention should be left to her associates and the Embassy. (94 Guatemala 10117)

November 5: Embassy, working through the night, and at the request of friends of Ms. Harbury, manages to delay a suddenly scheduled exhumation of a grave reported to contain Bamaca's remains. Embassy assists Harbury with information and arrangements, including transportation, consular accompaniment, security, cameras, a forensic specialist, and assistance to Harbury's colleagues, and is present at the subsequent exhumation on November 8, which is not of Bamaca. (94 Guatemala 10067)

November 5: Embassy reports that recent [redacted] contains credible information that "the Guatemalan army captured Bamaca, interrogated him and almost certainly did away with him." Embassy notes urgency of need for action and suggests that Ambassador be instructed to inform De Leon of the basic elements of the report. (94 Guatemala 10068, Roger Channel)

November 9: Guatemalan Supreme Court designates Human Rights Ombudsman Jorge Mario Garcia Laguardia to investigate Bamaca's fate. (Embassy records)

November 9: Department instructs Ambassador to demarche President De Leon, noting that "a comprehensive review of holdings on the Bamaca case leads Department to conclude that Bamaca was alive in army custody in 1992" and telling Ambassador to press De Leon to use this information to obtain a full accounting of this case. (94 State 302742)

November 11: On instructions, Ambassador makes demarche to De Leon, telling him that "multiple reports from several reliable sources ... indicate that Efrain Bamaca was taken captive in March 1992 and transferred to a base in San Marcos for further interrogation. Bamaca had been wounded, but his injuries were not believed to be life-threatening. Because he was in army custody, the army should be aware of his fate at that time. We are bringing these credible reports to your attention because, as President, you have a responsibility to ensure that the investigation now underway should be vigorously pursued to confirm the facts in this case, and to take appropriate strong action." Ambassador gives De Leon a copy of these points in writing. De Leon responds that he has ordered an investigation, hopes MINUGUA will make a major contribution, and asserts that Bamaca is dead, without elaborating. (94 Guatemala 10274)

November 11: Ambassador meets with Harbury to tell her about meeting with De Leon and informing her that the demarche contained the following information: "Based on all the information available to us from a variety of sources, we have concluded that Bamaca was taken captive by the army in March 1992. He had been wounded, but his injuries were not believed to be life-threatening. We have no information that he was alive much beyond the first few weeks after his capture." The Ambassador declines to expand or respond to questions about the information, noting that it concerned intelligence matters, but says she had pressed De Leon for a vigorous investigation. Harbury asks for copies of all Embassy communications on her case; the Ambassador tells her to make the request in Washington. Harbury notes she has ended her hunger strike and will return to the U.S. for meetings with White House officials. (94 Guatemala 10259)

November 12: Ambassador meets with Human Rights Ombudsman to discuss investigation that President De Leon has assigned to him. Ombudsman says is uncomfortable with the task. (94 Guatemala 10326)

November 15: DAO and MilGroup commander meet with Army Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena to discuss Bamaca case [redacted]

November 16-18: DRL A/S Shattuck and DRL/AAA's Mary Curtin visit Guatemala, meet with President De Leon, MOD Enriquez, Human Rights Ombudsman Garcia LaGuardia, MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco, and human rights NGOS, discussing Bamaca with interlocutors and urging importance of clarification of Bamaca's fate. (94 Guatemala 10457, 10460, 10558)

November 21: Harbury meets with National Security Adviser Anthony Lake, Vice President Gore's adviser Leon Fuerth, and Assistant Secretary of State John Shattuck. Lake gives Harbury an up-to-date assessment of our intelligence on the Bamaca case, affirming that we have no information as to Bamaca being alive. (NSC records)

November 23: Ambassador and Defense Attache meet with Minister of Defense to press strongly for a resolution of the Bamaca case and other pending human rights cases, noting that if the case is not resolved, bilateral relations would suffer. She says that the USG had reliable information from several credible sources that the army captured Bamaca alive in March 1992 and thus must know what happened to him. Enriquez pledged to cooperate fully with the Human Rights Ombudsman and Solicitor General's investigations. (94 Guatemala 10720)

November 23: Ambassador McAfee meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. Franco notes that the Human Rights Ombudsman has sought MINUGUA's help and asks Ambassador for information about Bamaca having been captured alive. Ambassador tells him that we believe Bamaca was captured by the military in March 1992 but his wounds were not life-threatening. We have no information concerning sightings of Bamaca after a few weeks, however. (94 Guatemala 10581)

November 25: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss case. De Leon asks for USG "help" in dealing with the repercussions of the Bamaca case. He said that Bamaca is dead and the case should be turned over to the Historical Clarification Commission (to be established after a final peace accord). The Ambassador emphasizes the need for progress and stresses that the USG expects his full cooperation in the legal/judicial pursuit of the case, including allowing Jennifer Harbury to re-enter Guatemala to pursue her legal cases. (94 Guatemala 10619)

November 29: GOG files suit against Jennifer Harbury to force her to file civil charges against th Guatemalan government or lose her right to do so in the future. (94 Guatemala 10695) (Note: In a legal victory for Harbury, the case is ultimately dismissed in January.)

Late November/Early December: The Human Rights Ombudsman's staff, accompanied by MINUGUA personnel, interviews military personnel accused of participating in Bamaca's disappearance, including Col. Alpirez. All professed to know nothing about Bamaca's capture or death. (94 Guatemala 10855)

December 1: President De Leon approaches Vice President Gore on the margins of the Zedillo inaugural in Mexico to ask for USG understanding on the Bamaca case.

December 1: Harbury meets with Ambassador McAfee, demanding all USG confidential records without having to file a Freedom of Information Act request and seeking the provision of a USG "witness" to help her prosecute her case. The Ambassador promises to relay Harbury's request to Washington, which she does. (94 Guatemala 10853)

December 2: Ambassador meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. Franco says that the military was cooperative during late November searches of military installations, which MINUGUA observed, and asks for more USG information about the case. Ambassador tells him that the salient facts had already been provided to Ms. Harbury and were in the public domain, adding that the USG does not know for certain whether or not Bamaca is still alive. (94 Guatemala 10855)

December 3: Congressman Bill Richardson and Ambassador discuss Bamaca case with President De Leon, who repeats previous statements to the effect that Bamaca was dead and that there is no evidence of his fate. Ambassador urges that the Human Rights Ombudsman's request to extend his investigation be granted. (94 Guatemala 10924)

December 5: DCM meets with Attorney General Valladares to discuss case, expressing "strong USG support for a comprehensive investigation into Bamaca's whereabouts, to include interviewing both army and guerrilla personnel" and noting that the Human Rights Ombudsman needs more time to complete his investigation. Regarding the GOG's suit against Harbury, the DCM told Valladares that the suit appears to interested parties in the U.S. and elsewhere as an attempt to muzzle Harbury and that GOG efforts to question the bona fides of her marriage to Bamaca strike some observers as harassment. (94 Guatemala 11007)

December 5: Embassy officers contact Harbury to discuss the Valladares's discussion of the GOG suit against her. (94 Guatemala 11007)

December 6: ARA officials and U/S Tarnoff discuss case with Guatemalan Foreign Minister de Vielman in Washington; Anthony Lake discusses case with her on 12/7/94. All note the importance of the case and urge that the GOG provide a full accounting of Bamaca's fate. (94 State 331770)

December 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury to discuss GOG's suit against her and her plans to rebut the charges. (94 Guatemala 11007)

December 9: Embassy officer attends hearing of GOG's suit against Harbury. (94 Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Human Rights Ombudsman concludes 30-day investigation into Bamaca's disappearance without producing any conclusive results. (94 Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Charge speaks with Minister of Government Parinello to ask if Harbury would be permitted to return to Guatemala to continue her search for Bamaca and to cooperate in the GOG's investigation of the case. Parinello says that the decision would be made at a higher level. (94 Guatemala 11232)

December 9 or 10: President De Leon approaches President Clinton at the Summit of the Americas to ask for understanding on the Bamaca case and passes him a document purporting to be a statement from a former guerrilla collaborator stating that Bamaca never knew Harbury.

December 20: Harbury meets with NSC official Richard Feinberg, who reiterates that information available to the USG suggests that Bamaca was captured by the military but did not appear to have survived much beyond a few weeks after his capture.

December 22: ARA DAS Patterson meets with Harbury, delivering same message.

December 24: The Departments of State and Defense instruct USCINCSO General McCaffrey to visit Guatemala to discuss the Bamaca case and other issues with Guatemalan MOD. (94 State 340143)

1995

January 9: Harbury files Freedom of Information Act request with Department of State and other USG agencies. Shortly thereafter, Department decides to process her request on an expeditious basis for humanitarian reasons.

January 12: Embassy officer attends second "jactancia" hearing, the GOG case against Harbury. (Guatemala 802)

January 20: Ambassador discusses case with new Minister of Government Carlos Reynoso Gil. (Embassy records)

January 26: USCINCSO McCaffrey discusses Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, emphasizing the importance of this and other human rights cases to the USG and urging that the military move forward for the sake of Guatemala's future. He tells MOD and COS that all Guatemalan officers must accept that outside scrutiny is not a violation of national sovereignty. (Guatemala 1248)

January 26: Intelligence report says that according to a Guatemalan government official, "it was known within the senior ranks of the army that Alpirez ... killed Bamaca." The field comment notes that Alpirez was the third commander of the San Marcos military zone when Bamaca was apparently brought there in March 1992.

January 27:

January 27: ARA Assistant Secretary Watson informs Undersecretary Tarnoff in writing about the January 26 intelligence report on Alpirez

January 31: DCM discusses case with Solicitor General Acisclo Valladares. (Embassy records)

February 3: Department instructs Ambassador to demarche President De Leon to reiterate information contained in November 11 demarche, note that those conclusions had been corroborated by additional information and ask that the GOG reinterview implicated military officers, particularly Alpirez. (State 28652)

February 6: Ambassador carries out demarche as instructed, noting "profound concern existing at the highest levels of the USG" about Bamaca's fate, and decrying the absence to date of an in-depth investigation into Bamaca's whereabouts. She tells him that in the time that has passed since the November 11 demarche, the USG has "become even more firmly convinced" that the conclusion that Bamaca had not survived was correct. De Leon reiterates his belief that Bamaca was dead, commits the GOG to make every effort to find Bamaca, and notes that the Historical Clarification should look into the circumstances of his death. Ambassador leaves a written copy of the talking points with De Leon. (Guatemala 1041)

February 7: Ambassador discusses Bamaca with Minister of Defense, delivering talking points contained in demarche given to President De Leon. Enriquez said that he would not voluntarily make Alpirez or other officers available for questioning but would comply with an official summons to do so. Ambassador "again emphasized the importance of resolving the Bamaca case." (Guatemala 1210)

February 8: Ambassador delivers same demarche points to Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, who replies that Bamaca's alleged capture occurred under a previous administration and asks for more information about officers assigned to the San Marcos military zone in 1992. Ambassador tells him that Santiago Cabrera Lopez had publicly identified several officers, including Alpirez, who should be re-interviewed. (Guatemala 1155)

February 8: Harbury meets with ARA DAS Patterson, who tells her that the USG continues to press the GOG on this case, most recently in the February 6 meeting with De Leon. Harbury asks that her FOIA request be expedited, requests access to classified information, and says she will go back on hunger strike if the U.S. does not impose economic sanctions on Guatemala. Patterson tells her that the information used in the February 6 demarche was based on intelligence sources and thus the State Department could not release it to her except pursuant to a FOIA request. Harbury accuses the USG of deliberately refusing to do anything about Bamaca's capture; Patterson replies that the USG has in fact devoted considerable resources to the case. Patterson reiterates our conclusion that all information available to us suggests that Bamaca did not survive for more than a few weeks beyond his capture, although we have no conclusive evidence about his actual death. (State 40484)

February 9: Letter signed by Anne Patterson on January 25 delivered to Harbury's attorney's messenger in Washington (letter had been mis-sent to Nicaragua desk by mistake and thus not mailed sooner). Letter, addressed to Harbury, recommends that she request documents through the Freedom of Information Act process and encloses information describing provisions for expeditious handling of such requests. The letter states "in all fairness, you should be aware there may be documents responsive to your inquiry which were generated by other U.S. government agencies. Information generated by other agencies cannot be unilaterally disclosed by the State Department. You may therefore wish to consider making FOIA requests to those agencies. Although every effort would be made to release as many State Department documents as possible, we can offer no prior assurances in this regard, particularly with respect to any information that is restricted from disclosure by law for reasons of classification or other applicable criteria." The letter also encloses an authenticated copy of the Department of State's press spokesperson's remarks at the November 14 press briefing containing the same information given to Harbury by Ambassador McAfee orally November 11.

February 9: Ambassador discusses case with MINUGUA director Leonardo Franco to emphasize the continuing need for MINUGUA to assist on the Bamaca case, describing the demarche in general terms. Franco responds positively. (Guatemala 1186)

February 16: Ambassador and Defense Attache discuss Bamaca case with Acting MOD and Army Chief of Staff General Gonzalez Taracena, encouraging General Gonzalez to support Public Ministry questioning of army officers assigned to San Marcos in 1992, including Col. Alpirez. (Guatemala 1630)

February 17: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for details on the Ambassador's latest demarche and confirmation of any kind that Bamaca is dead. Ambassador suggests that she direct her inquiries regarding sensitive information to the Department in Washington but confirms that she met with De Leon and that the Embassy does not think Bamaca is alive because it has received no information to support such an assumption. (Guatemala 1569)

February 21: Ambassador discusses case with newly-appointed COPREDEH chairman Vicente Arranz. (Embassy records)

February 22: Ambassador and PolCouns meet with former Amb. Robert White to discuss Harbury case. Political section sets up appointments with GOG officials for Amb. White. (Embassy records)

February 23: Ambassador meets with Ambassador White for outbrief on his meetings with GOG officials. (Embassy records)

March 6: Ambassador raised the need for positive movement on the Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, again stressing the critical importance of resolving it. They were noncommittal; the Ambassador told Gonzalez at a subsequent meeting that day that the U.S. and Guatemala "are on a collision course if no positive action is taken." (Guatemala 1889)

March 7: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for the Embassy's help in getting the GOG to allow her to be present at interviews of military officers and in facilitating a meeting between the MOD and Congressman Richardson (the Ambassador tells her that we have already passed the latter request on and promises to pass on the former request, noting that the GOG may be reluctant to comply). Harbury presses the Ambassador for hard information that Bamaca is dead. The Ambassador responds that the USG has reached the conclusion that he is dead, based on all available evidence. She adds "I am convinced he is dead, but I do not know what happened to him." She suggests that Harbury refer additional questions on this topic to Washington. (Guatemala 2007)

March 9: Ambassador discusses case with representatives of the private sector and with a Guatemalan congressional delegation that is planning a visit to Washington. (Embassy records)

March 10: Guatemalan Ambassador to the U.S Edmond Mulet calls on ARA/CEN Director Hamilton on instructions from the GOG to present a "white paper" on the Bamaca case, as well as a press release reaffirming the GOG position that Bamaca was not captured by the Guatemalan military. Hamilton responds that the statement and white paper are not credible and notifies Mulet of the U.S. decision to suspend participation by Guatemalan military personnel in IMET programs in the U.S. for the rest of 1995, out of concern over a lack of substantial progress on several pending human rights cases, including Bamaca's. (State 61944)

March 10: Ambassador meets with Acting Foreign Minister Arevalo, who says that the GOG considers the Bamaca case as still open and denying that the Guatemalan government had ever said Bamaca was dead. Ambassador stresses the importance of the Bamaca case and passes along Harbury's request to be present at interviews of army personnel allegedly involved in this case. (Guatemala 2033)

March 13: Embassy discusses lack of credibility of report by Guatemalan officer claiming to have seen Bamaca alive in December 1992.. (Guatemala 2032, Roger channel)

March 15: DCM discusses case with Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, pressing for interviews to begin immediately and conveying Harbury's request to be present. DCM notes that the U.S. recognizes Harbury's marriage as legal and valid, adding that the U.S. expects Guatemala to respect our legal system and not delay the registration of Harbury's marriage in Guatemala (a step required for her continued legal actions there). (Guatemala 2193)

March 17: Polcouns discusses case with COPREDEH chairman Arranz (Embassy records)

March 17: AMB discusses case with Minister of Government and the President of the Supreme Court (Embassy records)

Case of Efrain Bamaca Velasquez
Chronology of Key Events

Note: This chronology is drawn from a review of ARA/CEN's extensive files, which have been provided to A/IM/IS/FPC pursuant to a January 1995 FOIA request by Jennifer Harbury. Embassy Guatemala also furnished some information contained below. Ms. Harbury has filed a second FOIA request covering information until mid-March, to which ARA/CEN is responding.

Summary

Guatemalan guerrilla Efrain Bamaca Velasquez disappeared on March 12, 1992 after a firefight with the Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu. For nearly a year, his colleagues and American citizen wife, Jennifer Harbury, believed that he died in combat. However, a former guerrilla, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, claimed in February 1993 that while detained by the Guatemalan military, he had seen Bamaca alive in military custody in March and July 1992. Harbury contacted our Embassy in March 1993 for assistance in resolving the case. From that time forward, the Embassy and USG officials in Washington assisted Harbury, repeatedly pressed the GOG for information and action, and shared as much information as possible with her.

After an exhumation facilitated by the Embassy failed to discover Bamaca's remains in August 1993, Harbury conducted a week-long hunger strike in Guatemala to publicize her demand for more information. She conducted a 32-day hunger strike in Guatemala in October-November 1994 for the same purpose, during which time she was visited on a near-daily basis by Embassy personnel, including the Ambassador on several occasions. During that hunger strike, ARA/CEN searched its CASC and PHUM files for 1993 and 1994 to create a unified file on the Bamaca case. The Embassy conducted a similar review and the CIA wrote the first of several intelligence updates/chronologies on the case.

Drawing on information developed during the file search and subsequent taskings for additional intelligence, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to meet with President De Leon on November 11. The Ambassador told De Leon that, according to information available to the USG, Bamaca was captured alive by the military and that we had no information indicating that he survived much beyond the first few weeks of his capture. On the same day, Ambassador McAfee shared this same information with Jennifer Harbury, who had just ended her hunger strike. In subsequent meetings with Ms. Harbury, USG officials, including National Security Advisor Anthony Lake, reaffirmed this conclusion, while noting (as remains true to this day) that we have no direct, conclusive evidence of when or how Bamaca was actually killed, NOR WHO ORDERED HIS MURDER OR WHO ACTUALLY DID IT.

On February 3, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to approach President De Leon again, urging him to order the re-interrogation of senior military officers who might have been involved in Bamaca's disappearance, including Colonel Julio Roberto Alpirez. Ambassador McAfee made this demarche on February 6. ARA DAS Anne Patterson met February 8 with Jennifer Harbury to inform her of the demarche but without revealing Alpirez's name, in view of the fact that Alpirez' degree of involvement in Bamaca's presumed death was not clear. Harbury initiated another hunger strike on March 12 in Washington but concluded it on March 23 after Congressman Torricelli provided her with information alleging involvement in her husband's death by Colonel Alpirez. End Summary.

March 12: Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, aka Comandante Everardo, disappears after firefight with Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu.

March 18: CIA report from Guatemala reports capture of ORPA commander Everardo, described as "lightly wounded in the arm ... in good physical condition ... being well treated by the army ... cooperating fully with his captors." The report's comment speculates that the army will keep news of his capture secret or even claim that he was killed to maximize Everardo's intelligence value. The name "Efrain Bamaca Velasquez" is not used in this report, and an army officer told the Embassy in March 1993 that it did not know that Everardo was actually Efrain Bamaca Velasquez until Jennifer Harbury and Santiago Cabrera Lopez publicized his alleged capture. Given the description of Everardo as in good condition and cooperating with the army, the USG has no reason to suspect foul play nor to know of his connection to Harbury.

March and July: Santiago Cabrera Lopez says that he saw Bamaca in army custody.

May: The exhumation of a grave in Retalhuleu believed to contain Bamaca's remains is suspended by Attorney General Acisclo Valladares on the grounds that no family member is there to identify the body, nor IS other identifying evidence (x-rays, dental records, etc.) available. Jennifer Harbury, who was present, did not identify herself as Bamaca's wife, reportedly because she wa afraid to do so.

December: Santiago Cabrera Lopez escaped from army custody and left Guatemala.

February: Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos (noms de guerre: Carlos and Willy) testify at the UN Human Rights Commission in Geneva about HAVING SEEN Bamaca and 35 other guerrillas in clandestine army detention. (Recinos said he heard guards talking about Bamaca'S being in custody in August 1992; he did not claim to have seen Bamaca personally.)

March 1: Guatemala 2435 contains Embassy's evaluation of Cabrera and Recinos's claims, commenting, "we have no idea whether the guerrillas' accusations are accurate ... the ex-guerrillas' claims are not beyond the realm of possibility ... "

April 2: Guatemala 3794 of this date reports that the Guatemalan Government denies holding Bamaca, alleging that he may have died in combat and been buried in Retalhuleu. The cable also reports Jennifer Harbury's first contact with the Embassy to seek assistance in the case: her March 9 phone call to the Embassy's human rights officer JEFF MOON, asking Embassy assistance in seeking information from GOG officials about Bamaca's whereabouts and arranging for an exhumation of the Retalhuleu grave. The human rights officer, according to the cable, "pledged to assist in any way possible but requested no publicity concerning such efforts," to which Harbury agreed.

March 11: Guatemala desk officer meets with Jennifer Harbury in Washington.

March 12: Harbury writes to Embassy human rights officer outlining case and describing aborted exhumation.

March 15: Charge and Acting DCM talk to Attorney General Acisclo Valladares about case. (Guatemala 3794 -- no additional details)

March 18: Embassy officers speak to then-Human Rights Ombudsman Ramiro De Leon Carpio about case. He tells them that he became involved in the case after receiving discreet inquiries from Bishop Quezada and the URNG guerrilla group. He approached the Minister of Defense and other GOG officials, and was told that Bamaca was probably buried in an unmarked grave in Retalhuleu. De Leon requested and received permission to exhume the grave in May 1992, but the proceeding was stopped (as noted earlier in this chronology). (Guatemala 3794)

March 22: Embassy human rights officer contacts COPREDEH (Guatemala's Presidential Human Rights Commission) about case. The COPREDEH staffer said that the UN Human Rights Commission's independent expert on Guatemala had inquired about the case and the GOG was preparing a reply denying that the military had ever had Bamaca. (Guatemala 3794)

March 23: Embassy receives from Jennifer Harbury a privacy act waiver imposing no restrictions on U.S. officials regarding discussions of the case. (Guatemala 3794)

March 24: Embassy human rights officer speaks with Harbury by telephone, giving her a status report on inquiries to the GOG and steps taken to arrange an exhumation.

March 26: Embassy human rights officer and another embassy officer contact Military Intelligence Chief Otto Fernando Perez Molina about case; Perez says that the military definitely did not have Bamaca, who is "probably buried in Retalhuleu." He pledges military cooperation with future exhumation efforts and says that he believes that "Harbury had no reason to fear returning to Guatemala for the exhumation". (Guatemala 3794)

March 30: Harbury calls Embassy to discuss ways to identify Bamaca.

Mid-May: Intelligence report based on "generally reliable source with excellent access" says that unidentified senior Guatmalan military officers claim that the army holds URNG members in clandestine jails. The officers reportedly believe Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos's accounts regarding seeing Bamaca alive.

May/June: Guatemalan stability breaks down, culminating in President Serrano's auto-coup attempt and De Leon's election by the Guatemalan Congress to the Presidency.

July 9: Harbury meets with consular and political officers, who tell her that the embassy stands ready to assist her in any way it can during her search for her husband. (Guatemala 8697)

July 11: Ambassador McAfee meets with Pres. De Leon, suggesting that he abolish clandestine prisons if any exist, an allusion to Bamaca and others who might have been held at any point.

July 22: Harbury meets with Ambassador to discuss case (THEIR FIRST MEETING). (Guatemala 8697)

July 29: Ambassador raises issue of clandestine prisons with Minister of Defense, notes he should be careful nothing happens to individuals such as Bamaca if they are being held.

August 2: Ambassador meets with President De Leon and raises clandestine prisons and Bamaca case.

August 17: Accompanied by the Embassy's American citizen services officer, Harbury witnesses the exhumation of a grave in Retalhuleu. None of the bodies unearthed appear to be Bamaca. (Guatemala 10348)

August 20: Ambassador and consular officer meet with Harbury to discuss the exhumation results. Journalist Janet Hawkins of "Harvard" magazine also sits in. Harbury asked for Ambassador's support for her ongoing efforts to get the GOG to move all clandestine prisoners to publicly-accessible detention centers. Ambassador tells Harbury that she and other Embassy officers have discussed and will continue to discuss the case with highest-level GOG officials, including the President and Minister of Defense. She notes that "at present we have no evidence to confirm Harbury's claim of the ongoing detention of URNG combatants to include Bamaca, but against that possibility the Ambassador has continued to press the case with the GOG." (Guatemala 9845)

August 25: Ambassador raises case with MOD Enriquez and asks him to receive Jennifer Harbury.

August 30: Pursuant to the Ambassador's request, MOD Enriquez meets with Harbury.

August 30: During a dinner meeting, Ambassador and President De Leon discuss Bamaca case.

September 4: Consular officer meets with Harbury to discuss Harbury's meeting with MiniSter of Defense. Harbury reported that Enriquez was "cordial and non-committal" but did not respond to her questions about how the army could have provided an accurate physical description of Bamaca in spring 1992 to the Human Rights Ombudsman if the army had not held Bamaca. (Guatemala 10257)

September 6: Ambassador meets with MOD and discusses his recently held meeting with Jennifer Harbury.

September 7: Harbury begins a week-long fast IN FRONT OF A MILITARY SCHOOL AND MOD RESIDENCE to pressure the GOG to reveal the whereabouts of Bamaca. Consular officers from the Embassy visit her several times each day. (Guatemala 10257)

September 10: Charg† discusses case with Foreign Minister, who implicity sought Embassy assistance in getting Harbury to end her fast. Charg† told Foreign Minister not to take any action to interfere with Harbury's activities and urgED that MS. HARBURY'S well-being be protected. The reporting cable on the conversation notes that President De Leon told the press that Harbury "is WITHin her rights to exercise such pressure." (Guatemala 10302)

September 13: GOG Peace Commission member Mario Permuth tells political counselor and political officer that URNG commander Rodrigo Asturias, head of the guerrilla faction ORPA to which Bamaca reportedly belonged, once told Permuth that he thought Bamaca was dead. (Guatemala 10416)

October 7: A Guatemalan army officer tells Defense Attache and political officer that the Guatemalan government, in response to Harbury's decision to file a case with the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (IACHR), may seek to prove that Harbury was never legally married to Bamaca. The officer said that many guerrillas have died and been buried in places unknown to the Guatemalan government, so the fact that Bamaca's body was not buried in Retalhuleu proves nothing. (Guatemala 11429)

October 21: Harbury meets with ARA DAS Anne Patterson in Washington to discuss her IACHR case. Patterson emphasized the importance of human rights issues in U.S. policy toward Guatemala and USG opposition to the use of secret detention facilities. Patterson asked Harbury if she still believed her husband was alive, in view of the fact that the last reportED

sighting of Bamaca (by Santiago Cabrera Lopez) took place in July 1992. Harbury responded affirmatively, based on the belief that her husband's experience and close ties to ORPA leader Asturias would make him a valuable source of intelligence. (State 339783)

October 22: Harbury meets with Assistant Secretary for Human Rights John Shattuck to review her IACHR complaint. Shattuck assured her of continued U.S. support in urging Guatemalan authorities to investigate the case. (State 339783)

1994

January 6: Ambassador raises case with MOD, who agrees to meet with Harbury but says that a "meticulous investigation" had produced no results. (Guatemala 185)

January 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury (no further details; Guatemala 185).

January 7: Defense attache and political officer meet with Guatemalan military officer Otto Noack, who agreed to their request to help Harbury obtain appointments with MOD officials.

February 10: Central American Parliament deputy and former GOG peace commission chief Manuel Conde tells political officer that a former ORPA comandante told Conde that Bamaca was missing before the March 12, 1992 clash in which he was reportedly killed. The embassy notes that this is a second-hand account and should be read as such. (Guatemala 1483)

May 24: Harbury meets with Consul General, Defense Attache, human rights officer, and American CITIZENS' services officer to ask for an account of the Embassy's efforts on her case. Embassy officers report that they "regularly prod their GOG contacts for action and answers on all unresolved human rights cases of interest to the USG," including her husband's. Embassy officers told Harbury that they were unaware of any new information on Bamaca's whereabouts. Harbury asked that the Embassy arrange an appointment for her with President De Leon (the Ambassador again sought such a meeting, but De Leon, who was out of the country during part of Harbury's visit, did not AGREE). Harbury said that the Minister of Defense had hinted to her that Bamaca was alive; the Defense Attache, who had been present on the occasions when Harbury conversed with the MOD, said that he had never heard the MOD suggest that Bamaca was alive. Harbury replied that she was "reading between the lines." (Guatemala 6060)

May 26: Ambassador meets with Harbury, who urges that the U.S. cut off aid to Guatemala. Ambassador replied that the embassy would "continue to push for a satisfactory resolution to the Bamaca case" but voiced her concerns that halting USG funds would adversely affect much-needed criminal justice reforms and affect Guatemala's neediest citizens. (Guatemala 6060)

May 30: Harbury tells Ambassador, Defense Attache and human rights officer that the Minister of Defense was "sounding her out" about "compromise solutions." Defense Attache warns Harbury not too place too much credence in this, particularly since the army had never admitted to holding Bamaca. (Guatemala 6060).

June 27: Guatemala 6060, reporting on Harbury's various meetings with Embassy officials during her most recent visit, closes with the following sentences: "Embassy has no information to support her belief that Bamaca is alive. However, we will continue to press the GOG on this case."

July 12: Consul General and Human Rights Officer meet with Supreme Court officials to discuss this and other cases of USG interest.

August 17: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss several bilateral issues; she asks that he meet with Jennifer Harbury when she next visits Guatemala. De Leon agrees to do so. (Guatemala 7719)

August 17: Human Rights Officer formally includes this case in the written list of cases of USG interest given to various GOG entities including COPREDEH, the National Police and the Public Ministry during regularly scheduled meetings.

August 22: Ambassador raises case with Minister of Defense at dinner in honor of visiting DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo. Enriquez said he had no idea where Bamaca was and suggested that the body disinterred in Retalhuleu in August 1993 was really Bamaca's. The Ambassador "retorted that she didn't believe that" and emphasized that this case continued to be of high priority to the USG. (Guatemala 8176)

August 23: Ambassador and DOD DAS Mari-Luci Jaramillo raise Harbury/Bamaca case with MOD. Jaramillo notes that this case is "of special concern" to the USG. Enriquez "stated emphatically that the army did not have Bamaca" and speculated that he might "still be alive somewhere." (Guatemala 8176)

October 11 - November 11: Harbury conducts hunger strike in National Plaza, Guatemala City.

October/Nov 94: Throughout Harbury's hunger strike, Embassy continues assistance to Harbury and makes representations to GOG, including almost daily visits to Harbury; eight meetings between Ambassador and Harbury; instructions to the National Police "roving patrols" assigned to the Embassy to check on Harbury's safety three times daily and every 60-90 minutes at night; and meetings with GOG officials to urge an investigation. (Guatemala 9332, 9557, 9608, 9680, 9769, 9786, 9796, 9880, 9924, 9978)

October 11: Consular officer meets with Harbury, emphasizing that the Embassy continues to place high priority on her case and that the Ambassador and the rest of the embassy staff RAISE THE Bamaca case with GOG contacts at every opportunity. Consular officer also tells Harbury that, "despite Ms. Harbury's assertions to the contrary, the Ambassador and other embassy officiails with whom she had met in the past had been completely candid with her when discussing Embassy efforts to obtain information on her husband's whereabouts and our lack of independent evidence up to this point regarding his fate. Consular officer expresses concern for Harbury's health and personal safety and provides her with the Embassy's 24-hour emergency telephone number. (Guatemala 9332)

October 14: Guatemala desk officer meets with visiting ICRC delegates, who tell her in confidence that they interviewed Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos for over two hours in Geneva (apparently in February 1993) and found their story lacking in credibility.

October 18-19: Desk officer spends two full days searching through 1993 and 1994 files to compile a single, consolidated file on Harbury/Bamaca case.

October 19: DCM meets Asisclo Valladares to emphasize the case's potential for harm to bilateral relations and to discuss possible entities capable of investigating THE case, such as the ICRC, UN Human Rights Commission, UN Verification Mission in Guatemala (MINUGUA), and domestic Guatemalan entities. The DCM urged international participation in any Guatemalan investigation in order to give it credibility. (Guatemala 9786)

October 24: In a memo, ARA DAS Patterson asks INR/IL to seek more information about intelligence reports on Bamaca's fate.

October 24: ARA/CEN Director John Hamilton speaks in Tegucigalpa with De Leon and Formin de Vielman. De Leon complains that Harbury had consistently misrepresented information which had come from him while he was Human Rights Ombudsman. He expresses concern at Harbury's health and considers hospitalizing her at some point soon. Hamilton urges De Leon to think of steps permitting Harbury to stand down from strike, suggests independent investigation. MINUGUA considered; de Vielman supports idea. (email)

October 25: Harbury tells Ambassador, during course of long conversation, that a Guatmalan woman had told her that she had heard from a friend in the military that Bamaca was alive. Harbury declines Ambassador's request to contact the woman. (Guatemala 9769).

October 25: Embassy receives information, sourced to a disgruntled former soldier (ALSO ON A HUNGER STRIKE IN THE CENTRAL PLAZA??), that Bamaca was seen alive at a military hospital in late March 1992. (Guatemala 9760)

October 26: DCM meets with Solicitor General Valladares who tells DCM that Harbury has rejected any investigation but demanded a negotiation with the army. Valladares will file a writ of habeus corpus for Bamaca, requesting appointment of investigators to visit every military installation in search of information on Bamaca.

October 26: Defense Attache meets with MG Gonzalez Taracena, Chief of Staff of National Defense Staff, suggesting high level statement and independent expert to investigate Bamaca case from top to bottom. Gonzalez SAID HE would discuss THIS with Defense Minister.

October 27: Pres. De Leon announces new investigation at a press conference.

October 27: Ambassador and Nuccio meet with PresIDENT DE LEON later in the day and hear that he has asked MINUGUA to investigate the case. (Guatemala 9880) THEY meet with Defmin Enriquez to emphasize importance of a thorough investigation of the case. (Guatemala 10520)

NB: JENNIFER WAS ALSO AT AMB RESIDENCE NIGHT OF OCT 27 AND MET WITH NUCCIO AND THE AMBASSADOR.

October 27: Ambassador, Nuccio, DCM, POLCOUNS and POLOFF meet with FM de Vielman and Amb. Mulet mid-evening and discuss this case. Nuccio adds need to address concerns re possibility of clandestine prisons. (Guatemala 9880)

October 29: Department requests US Mission to UN to ask UN staff to encourage MINUGUA's receptivity to de Leon's willingness to work with it on Bamaca case. (State 293768)

October 29: Ambassador and Carolyn Gorman call on Guatemalan Amb to OAS Cesar Alvarez Guadamuz and recommend to him that Amb Mulet be given a more active role in managing various aspects of the case and investigation. (Guatemala 9977)

October 31: Ambassador directs poloff to call COPREDEH to arrange meeting with "Coalition Missing" members, headed by Sister Dianna Ortiz. COPREDEH Director returns call and says that he and GOG Amb. ALVAREZ Guadamuz will meet with CM members and that he is still trying to arrange meetings with other GOG officials.

October 31: Poloff calls the office of Human Rights Ombudsman Garcia Laguardia to arrange a meeting for Coalition Missing representatives, passes the Ombudsman's office suggested meeting times to Sister Ortiz.

November 2: ConGen and ACS officer meet with GT Supreme Court Secretary re possible Bamaca grave, inform Ms. Harbury. (Guatemala 9978)

November 5: Embassy, working through the night, manages to delay a suddenly scheduled exhumation of reported Bamaca cadaver, assists Harbury with information and arrangements and is present at the subsequent exhumation (DATE?), which is not of Bamaca, according to Harbury. (Guatemala 10067)

November 5: Embassy reports that recent DAO information contains credible information that the Guatemalan army captured Bamaca, interrogated him and almost certainly did away with him. Suggests that Ambassador be instructed to inform De Leon of the basic elements of the report. (Guatemala 10068)

November 9: Guatemalan Supreme Court designates Human Rights Ombudsman Jorge Mario Garcia Laguardia to investigate Bamaca's fate.

November 11: Ambassador makes demarche to De Leon, telling him that according to information available to us, Bamaca was captured alive by the military but did not survive beyond a few weeks. De Leon has ordered Human Right Ombudsman to conduct an investigation. (Guatemala 10274) Harbury informed of meeting later in day; notes she has ended her hunger strike and will return to the U.S. for meetings with White House officials. (Guatemala 10259)

November 12: Ambassador meets with Human Rights Ombudsman to discuss investigation. Ombudsman is uncomfortable with the task. (Guatemala 10326).

November 15: DAO and MilGroup commander meet with Army Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena to discuss Bamaca case and disinvite him from Fuerzas Unidas exercise.

November 16-18: DRL A/S Shattuck and DRL/AAA's Mary Curtin visit Guatemala, meet with President De Leon, MOD Enriquez, Human Rights Ombudsman Garcia LaGuardia, MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco, and human rights NGOS, discussing Bamaca with interlocutors and urging importance of clarification of Bamaca's fate. (Guatemala 10457, 10460, 10558)

November 23: Ambassador and Defense Attache meet with Minister of Defense to press strongly for a resolution of the Bamaca case and other pending human rights cases, noting that if the case is not resolved, bilateral relations would suffer. She says that the USG had reliable information from several credible sources that the army captured Bamaca alive in March 1992 and thus must know what happened to him. Enriquez pledged to cooperate fully with the Human Rights Ombudsman and Solicitor General's investigations. (Guatemala 10720)

November 23: Ambassador McAfee meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. (Guatemala 10581)

November 25: Ambassador meets with President De Leon to discuss case. De Leon asks for USG "help" in dealing with the repercussions of the Bamaca case. He said that Bamaca is dead and the case should be turned over to the Historical Clarification Commission (to be established after a final peace accord). The Ambassador emphasizes the need for progress and stresses that the USG expects his full cooperation in the legal/judicial pursuit of the case, including allowing Jennifer Harbury to re-enter Guatemala to pursue her legal cases. (Guatemala 10619)

November 29: GOG files suit against Jennifer Harbury to force her to file civil charges against the Guatemalan government or lose her right to do so in the future. (Guatemala 10695)(In a legal victory for Harbury, the case is ultimately dismissed in January.)

Late November/Early December: The Human Rights Ombudsman's staff, accompanied by MINUGUA personnel, interviews military personnel accused of participating in Bamaca's disappearance, including Col. Alpirez. All professed to know nothing about Bamaca's capture or death.

December 1 or 2: President De Leon approaches Vice President Gore on the margins of the Zedillo inaugural in Mexico to ask for USG understanding on the Bamaca case.

December 1: Harbury meets with Ambassador McAfee, demanding all USG confidential records without having to file a Freedom of Information Act request and seeking the provision of a USG "witness" to help her prosecute her case. The Ambassador promises to relay Harbury's request to Washington, which she does via Guatemala 10853.

December 2: Ambassador meets with MINUGUA head Leonardo Franco to discuss case. Franco says that the military was cooperative during late November searches of military installations, which MINUGUA observed, and asks for more USG information about the case. Ambassador tells him that the salient facts had already been provided to Ms. Harbury and were in the public domain, adding that the USG does not know whether or not Bamaca is still alive. (Guatemala 10855)

December 3: Congressman Bill Richardson and Ambassador discuss Bamaca case with President De Leon, who repeats previous statements to the effect that Bamaca was dead and that there is no evidence of his fate. Ambassador urges that the Human Rights Ombudsman's request to extend his investigation be granted. (Guatemala 10924)

December 5: DCM meets with Attorney General Valladares to discuss case, expressing "strong USG support for a comprehensive investigation into Bamaca's whereabaouts, to include interviewing both army and guerrilla personnel" and noting that the Human Rights Ombudsman needs more time to complete his investigation. Regarding the GOG's suit against Harbury, the DCM told Valladares that the suit appears to interested parties in the U.S. and elsewhere as an attempt to muzzle Harbury and that GOG efforts to question the bona fides of her marriage to Bamaca strike some observers as harassment. (Guatemala 11007)

December 5: Embassy officers contact Harbury to discuss the DCM'S AND Valladares's discussion of the GOG suit against her. (Guatemala 11007)

December 6: ARA officials and U/S Tarnoff discuss case with Guatemalan Foreign Minister de Vielman in Washington; Anthony Lake discusses case with her on 12/7/94. All note the importance of the case and urge that the GOG provide a full accounting of Bamaca's fate. (State 331770)

December 7: Embassy officers meet with Harbury to discuss GOG's suit against her and her plans to rebut the charges. (Guatemala 11007)

December 9: Embassy officer attends hearing of GOG's suit against Harbury. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Human Rights Ombudsman concludes 30-day investigation into Bamaca's disappearance without producing any conclusive results. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9: Charge speaks with Minister of Government to ask if Harbury would be permitted to return to Guatemala to continue her search for Bamaca and to cooperate in the GOG's investigation of the case. Parinello says that the decision would be made at a higher level. (Guatemala 11232)

December 9 or 10: President De Leon approaches President Clinton at the Summit of the Americas to ask for understanding on the Bamaca case, (AND PASSES HIM A STATEMENT FROM A GUERRILLA COLLABORATOR STATING THAT BAMACA NEVER KNEW HARBURY).

December 20: Harbury meets with NSC official Richard Feinberg, who reiterates that information available to the USG suggests that Bamaca was captured by the military but did not appear to have survived much beyond a few weeks after his capture.

December 22: ARA DAS Patterson meets with Harbury, who DELIVERS THE same message.

December 24: The Departments of State and Defense instruct USCINCSO General McCaffrey to visit Guatemala to discuss the Bamaca case and other issues with Guatemalan MOD.

1995

January 9: Harbury files Freedom of Information Act request with Department of State and other USG agencies. Shortly thereafter, Department decides to process her request on an expeditious basis for humanitarian reasons.

January 12: Embassy officer attends second "jactancia" hearing. (Guatemala 802)

January 20: Ambassador discusses case with NEW Minister of Government CARLOS REYNOSO GIL.

January 26: USCINCSO McCaffrey discusses Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, emphasizing the importance of this and other human rights cases to the USG and urging that the military move forward for the SAKE OF GUATEMALA'S FUTURE. He tells MOD and COS that all Guatemalan officers must accept that outside scrutiny is not a violation of national sovereignty. "The Guatemalan army must simply face this case the right way." (Guatemala 1248)

January 26: Intelligence report suggests that Col. Alpirez may have been directly involved in Bamaca's death.

January 31: DCM discusses case with Solicitor General Acisclo Valladares.

February 3: Department instructs Ambassador to demarche President De Leon regarding new information about Alpirez. (State 28652)

February 6: Ambassador carries out demarche. Talking points reiterate information contained in November 11 demarche, note that those conclusions had been corroborated by additional information and ask that the GOG reinterview implicated military officers, particularly Alpirez. She notes "profound concern existing at the highest levels of the USG about BaMaca's fate, and decrieS the absence to date of an in-depth investigatioan into Bamaca's whereabouts. De Leon reiterates his belief that Bamaca was dead, commits the GOG to make every effort to find Bamaca, and notes that the Historical Clarification should look into the circumstances of his death. (Guatemala 1041)

February 7: Ambassador discusses Bamaca with Minister of Defense, delivering talking points contained in demarche given to President De Leon. Enriquez said that he would not voluntarily make Alpirez or other officers available for questioning but would comply with an official summons to do so. Ambassador "again emphasized the importance of resolving the Bamaca case." (Guatemala 1210)

February 8: Ambassador delivers same demarche points to Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, who replies that Bamaca's alleged capture occurred under a previous administration and asks for more information about officers assigned to the San Marcos military zone in 1992. Ambassador tells him that Santiago Cabrera Lopez had publicly identified several officers, including Alpirez, who should be re-interviewed. (Guatemala 1155)

February 8: Harbury meets with ARA DAS Patterson , who tells her that the USG continues to press the GOG on this case, most recently in the February 6 meeting with De Leon. Harbury asks that her FOIA request be expedited, requests access to classified information, and says she will go back on hunger strike if the U.S. does not impose economic sanctions on Guatemala. Patterson tells her that the information used in the February 6 demarche was based on intelligence sources and thus the State Department could not release it to her. Harbury accuses the USG of deliberately refusing to do anything about Bamaca's capture; Patterson replies that the USG has in fact devoted considerable resources to the case. Paterson reiterates our conclusion that all information available to us suggests that Bamaca did not survive for more than a few weeks beyond his capture, although we have no conclusive evidence about his actual death. (State 40484)

February 9: Ambassador discusses case with MINUGUA director Leonardo Franco to EMPHASIZE the continuing need for MINUGUA to assist on the Bamaca case, describing the demarche in general terms. Franco responded positively. (Guatemala 1186)

February 16: Ambassador and Defense Attache discuss Bamaca case with Acting MOD and Army Chief of Staff General Gonzalez Taracena, encouraging General Gonzalez to support Public Ministry questioning of army officers assigned to San Marcos in 1992, including Col. Alpirez. (Guatemala 1630)

February 17: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for details on the Ambassador's latest demarche and confirmation of any kind that Bamaca is dead. Ambassador suggests that she direct her inquiries regarding sensitive information to the Department in Washington but confirms that she met with De Leon and that the Embassy does not think Bamaca is alive because it has received no information to support such an assumption. (Guatemala 1569)

February 21: Ambassador discusses case with newly-appointed COPREDEH chairman Vicente Arranz.

February 22: Ambassador and PolCouns meet with former Amb. Robert White to discuss Harbury case. Political section sets up appointments with GOG officials for Amb. White.

February 23: Ambassador meets with Ambassador White for outbrief on his meetings with GOG officials.

March 6: Ambassador raised the need for positive movement on the Bamaca case with MOD Enriquez and Chief of Staff Gonzalez Taracena, AGAIN STRESSING the critical importance of resolving it. They were noncommittal; the Ambassador told Gonzalez at a subsequent meeting that day that the U.S. and Guatemala "are on a collision course if no positive action is taken." (Guatemala 1889)

March 7: Ambassador meets with Jennifer Harbury, who asks for the Embassy's help in getting the GOG to allow her to be present at interviews of military officers and in facilitating a meeting between the MOD and Congressman Richardson (the Ambassador tells her that we have already passed the latter request on and promises to pass on the former request, noting that the GOG may be reluctant to comply). Harbury presses the Ambassador for hard information that Bamaca is dead. The Ambassador responds that the USG has reached the conclusion that he is dead, based on all available evidence. She adds "I am convinced he is dead, but I do not know what happened to him." She suggests that Harbury refer additional questions on this topic to Washington. (Guatemala 2007)

March 9: Ambassador discusses case with representatives of the private sector and with a Guatemalan congressional delegation WHICH IS PLANNING TO GO TO WASHINGTON.

March 10: Guatemalan Ambassador to the U.S Edmond Mulet calls on ARA/CEN Director on instructions from the GOG to present a "white paper" on the Bamaca case, as well as a press release reaffirming the GOG position that Bamaca was not captured by the Guatemalan military. Hamilton notified Mulet of the U.S. decision to suspend participation by Guatemalan military personnel in IMET programs in the U.S. for the rest of 1995, out of concern over a lack of substantial progress on several pending human rights cases, including Bamaca's.

March 10: Ambassador meets with Acting Foreign Minister, who says that the GOG considers the Bamaca case as still open and denying that the Guatemalan government had ever said Bamaca was dead. Ambassador stresses the importance of the Bamaca case and passes along Harbury's request to be present at interviews of army personnel allegedly involved in this case. (Guatemala 2033)

March 13: Guatemala 2032 (Roger channel) discusses lack of credibilty of report by Guatemalan officer claiming to have seen Bamaca alive in December 1992.

March 15: DCM discusses case with Chief Prosecutor Ramses Cuestas, pressing for interviews to begin immediately and conveying Harbury's request to be present. DCM notes that the U.S. recognizes Harbury's marriage as legal and valid, adding that the U.S. expects Guatemala to respect our legal system and not delay the registration of Harbury's marriage in Guatemala (a step required for her continued legal actions there). (Guatemala 2193)

3/17/95: Polcouns discusses case with COPREDEH chairman Arranz.

3/17/95: AMB discusses case with Minister of Government and the President of the Supreme Court.

Feinberg called wanting to know if Alpirez has a visa; Len Kusnitz says no -- he evidently wanted to apply five or six months ago but was told not to apply because of Devine case. In that vein, Margaret Cooperman's replacement in the visa office, Elaine Urban, called to ask if we want to put Alpirez in the lookout system; I said I'd pass that request along.

Feinberg also asked if the Amb. had met with De Leon recently, suggesting that she should since we should be working on a "common strategy." In my now familiar role as naysayer to Feinberg suggestions, I said that it remains to be seen if the GOG's approach and ours are indeed common, but I said I'd pass the request along.

Finally, Peter De Shazo of Emb Caracas called to let us know that NY Times reporter Tim Winer called to talk to PolCouns (or DCM?) Tom Tomkins about Devine case since Tomkins served in GT in 1988-91 period. Tomkins, through De Shazo, told Winer that the emb. worked extremely hard on case and referred him to consular section for more info. Winer claims that Mrs Devine just told the NY Times that the embassy denied visas and did not include in social functions military personnel who had been helpful with the Devine investigation.

I asked De Shazo if Winer had asked about any Venezuela-specific connection to Devine case; he said no.

Case of Michael Vernon Devine
Chronology of Key Events

Note: This chronology is drawn from a review of over 100 mostly non-captioned cables, provided by A/IM/IS/FPC. That office is seeking captioned traffic dealing with the Devine case from S/S-IRM/SRD. This chronology does not draw on other agency reporting, except to the extent that it is reflected in State reporting.

Summary: U.S. citizen Michael Devine was murdered June 8, 1990 near his ranch in Poptun, Guatemala. Embassy Guatemala initially sought investigative assistance from the Guatemala military but quickly concluded that the military itself was likely involved. Thereafter, and until the senior military commanders at the time of Devine's murder were replaced, it pressed its interest with the civilian government, first under President Cerezo and thereafter with Presidents Serrano and De Leon. Goals throughout were to see the killers, intellectual authors and senior officers believed to have covered up the crime punished and, in doing so, to have civilian control exerted over the military. In December 1990 the Department suspended nearly $12 million of FMF pipeline and new assistance and stopped authorization of the commercial sale of defense items to the Guatemalan military. A military court convicted five enlisted men for the murder in September 1992 and gave them 30-year sentences, upheld by the Supreme Court. They are still encarcerated. Guatemalan army Captain Hugo Contreras was charged and convicted of complicity in the murder in May, 1993; he was given a 20-year sentence but escaped from military custody the same day. The Embassy has pressed without interruption for the Guatemalan military to find Contreras and recapture him, thus far without success. A Guatemala corporal was given a two-year suspended sentence and token fine for facilitating his escape. We believe that senior officials of the Guatemalan Army ordered the detention and interrogation of Devine, in connection with a case of missing army rifles. We have no evidence that they ordered him killed. Nor do we have evidence that the commanders of the military zone and the base at Poptun knew in advance that Devine would be killed. It appears, based on the views of the Devine family investigators, that Captain Contreras, during the investigation of Devine, issued the order to kill him, but it is not clear whether that order was an impromptu decision based on Devine's resistance to interrogation or if it had been directed from aabove. It is certain that the two colonels (Garcia Catalan and Portillo) who commanded the base from which the five enlisted men operated, were conspirators in the subsequent cover up, as was Col. Alpirez, the commander of the ranger training base at which the enlisted men who killed Devine were housed and fed for two days prior to the murder. No senior officials, including Catalan, Portillo and Alpirez, have been charged with the murder or with the cover up, although under Embassy pressure thier careers have been damaged.

Comment: The material reviewed provides a number of instances of the Embassy pressing the Government of Guatemala and senior military officials to obtain an honest account from Alpirez, both before and after October 1991 (when the CIA provided an account that Alpirez may have been involved in the killing itself). It does not answer the queston what if any action was taken on that particular piece of intelligence. But the cable traffic portrays an aggressive ambassador and embassy staff energetically taking the lead on the case throughout, with an interested Department providing guidance, backstopping and an occasional word of caution. The Embassy appears to have thought throughout, however, that Alpirez was guilty of covering up the crime, not of committing it. There was no testimony at the trial or at any time during the judicial proceedings suggesting that Alpirez was involved in the killing and it does not appear that Mrs. Devine's private investigator or her attorney (who were key to the successful prosecution) developed any information that implicated Alpirez in the murder itself. End Comment.

June 8: Devine murdered near his ranch in Poptun, Guatemala.

June 13: Ambassador Stroock asks Minister of Defense Bolanos for aid in investigating the murder. (GT 9953)

June 15: Embassy officers meet with private investigator, Carl West, hired by Mrs. Devine. (GT 9953)

June 19: DCM meets with head of military intelligence to inquire about progress in investigation. (GT 9953)

June 20: Department instructs Embassy Guatemala (Emb GT) to report status of Guatemalan police investigation and to let appropriate authorities know of Department interest in a thorough investigation. (90 State 199095)

June 23: Ambassador inquires about state of investigation from Army Chief of Staff General Marroquin. (GT 9953)

June 26: Emb GT reports having met with Guatemalan national police and military authorities to press for a full investigation. Embassy reports meetings with Mrs. Devine's private investigator (West); her intention is to have West share information he develops with the Embassy. (90 GT 7824)

July 6: Emb GT reports GT military and police investigations appear inactive. Ambassador Stroock raises Emb concerns with Minister of Defense (MOD) Bolanos July 3 and National Police Director Caballeros July 4. Amb gives Bolanos all information he knows about case in writing July 5 or 6. This letter contains information about a white Toyota pickup seen by witnesses outside the Devine ranch the day of the murder; also that witnesses saw the pickup and Devine's van drive away from the ranch together, Devine in his van but not driving. (90 GT 8304, GT 9953)

July 11: DAO asks Chief of Staff Marroquin state of play; is informed an "interim report" has been prepared. Advises Embassy that MOD Bolanos himself will be Embassy point of contact. (GT 9953)

July 15: AOD meets again with Marroquin, who reiterates that Bolanos is the appropriate point of contact. (GT 9953)

July 16: Bolanos sends Ambassador Stroock July 13 interim report, which says the toyota pickup (see July 6 entry) is not in army inventory; reports police conclusion that murder motive was robbery. (GT 9953)

July 16: Charges meets with MOD, telling him Army's inability to locate an easily recognizable vehicle widely known to Poptun residents was "disturbing." (GT 9953)

July 18: Two DAO officers interview base commander in Poptun

July 19: Emboffs meet with G-2 head Cabrera, with Mrs. Devine, her attorney, among others. (GT 9953)

July 25: Emboff informs Chief of Staff that pickup truck is now painted red. Marroquin says no such vehicle at Poptun base (GT 9953)

July 31: Mrs. Devine provides Flores court with information developed by private investigator West. (GT 9953)

August 2: DATT meets with G-2 Chief Cabrera, who has nothing to report. (GT 9953)

August 3: DATT and Emboff met with Marroquin, reiterating importance Ambassador attaches to credible investiation. (GT 9953)

August 7: Ambassador sends letter to MOD Bolanos with names of three army intelligence personnel who could have information on the case. (GT 9953)

August 9: Ambassador sends letter to MOD with names of six more individuals, all active duty army personnel assigned in the Poptun area, who might have knowledge of the case. (GT 9953)

August 10: Emb GT reports Guatemalan military "may be involved in a cover-up of involvement" in the Devine murder. "If this is true, it calls into serious question the continuation of security assistance." (90 GT 9953)

August 16: Dept commends Embassy for vigorous pursuit of Devine case, agrees GT military is "dragging its feet" and recommends Embassy not provide GOG with further information for the moment in order not to put the information developed by the private investigator in jeopardy of compromise. (90 State 273109)

August 23: Summarizing what's known to date, Emb GT reports to cable captioned for DAS Sullivan that Devine was murdered by team of Guatemalan army enlisted personnel who acted with knowledge of military zone 23 commander Col. Garcia Catalan, in Flores, Peten. Embassy concludes GT Army is covering up, doubts that President Cerezo is aware of the facts. Sets minimum goal of removal/punishment of Col. Garcia and prosecution/conviction of murderers. Reports intention to inform Cerezo August 24. (GT 10551)

August 23: Sullivan replies to Stroock by O-I, agreeing with general approach (of going over head of Bolanos to Cerezo, given that Bolanos is part of coverup) but advising that in light of importance of the issue ARA is preparing instructions to be approved at undersecretary level and instructs Stroock not to raise the subject with Cerezo until he has formal instructions.

August 27: Stroock reports that, in August 24 meeting, Cerezo raised Devine murder, saying military was not conducting investigation well. (GT 10721)

August 29: Emb GT reports receipt of August 24 MOD official note acknowleding Embassy communications and advising that investigation/prosecution is responsibility of judicial authorities, describing legal procedures and pledging military cooperation. Emb comments that note is "transparent attempt to remove the Army from any responsibility for the murder and investigation. (GT 10842)

September 4: Stroock reports assurances from Cerezo August 30 that Garcia would be removed, murderers arrested and army would issue public statement acknowleding likelihood of its involvement. Only Garcia removal has taken place. Embassy recommends series of public/private steps designed to have guilty punished and to "change institutional behavior," requests Dept review/approval. Among others, steps include further demarches, public lodging of formal complaints, recall of the Ambassador, revision of travel advisory, cancellation of official U.S. military visits to GT, delay of NIV processing for GT military personnel and elimination of security assistance. (GT 11031)

September 6: Department requests Embassy analysis of its recommended steps on bilateral relationship, other U.S. interests (including civilian transfer of power and peace talks). Agrees GOG has not taken strong action but says it wants to consider carefully best path to achieve goals. (State 300581)

September 7: Embassy reports receipt of Cerezo letter admitting military involvement and promising serious investigation. (GT 11189)

September 8: Dept sends instructions for Ambassador's scheduled September 10 meeting with Cerezo. Amb is to apply private pressure that Cerezo establish a timeline for progress in the case, asks Embassy to advise what would be achievable and says it will work with Embassy to develop list of actions USG might take if targets not met. (90 State 302642)

September 10: Embassy reports Amb/DCM meeting September 7 with Foreign Minister Rivera, recapping case. (GT 11299)

September 10: Embassy sends evaluation of its proposed action plan as instructed in State 300581, urges strong but measured USG response to lack of progress. (GT 11300)

September 11: Embassy reports Cerezo agrees to two benchmarks in Devine case: release of ltr promising action to foreign press and report from Attorney General. (GT 11376)

September 13: Dept reports discussion of Devine case with former Minister of Defense Gramajo. (State 310408)

September 15: Dept outlines areas for special attention in Embassy's draft human rights report for 1990. (State 313168)

September 19: Emb GT reports conclusion of GT deputy human rights ombudsman Alvarez that military was involved in murder of Devine. (GT 11844)

September 19: Dept cautions Amb Stroock that using media to bring public pressure on GOG could be counter-productive. (State 318679)

September 20: Emb GT reports circumstances of press interview that prompted above caution. (GT 11911)

September 25: Emb GT reports issuance of arrest warrants for eight persons for Devine murder, some of them military. (GT 12048)

September 25: Cerezo promises Attorney General report that same day. (GT 12068)

September 25: MOD Bolanos expresses regret that Devine investigation "had not gone well until now," pledge better effort. (GT 12106)

September 26: Cerezo letter of September 25 outlines actions by Attorney General to make arrests. (GT 12145)

October 3: In recap on state of play, Emb GT reports arrest warrants issued for six active duty personnel, two civilians and that five military are in custody. (GT 12463)

October 4: Emb GT reports Ambassador expresses concern to FM Rivera over recent death threats to private investigator West. (GT 12481)

October 4: Ambassador raises West death threats with MOD. (GT 12437)

October 10: Emb GT reports ceding of jurisdiction by civilian to military court (had been expected). (GT 12663)

October 11: Amb Stroock urges Cerezo to follow through with prompt resolution of Devine case. (GT 12799)

October 17: Embassy reports on ConGen visit to Flores to push authorities there for resolution of Devine case. (GT 13042)

November 2: Emb reports on meetings with National police deputy director and Flores zone commander. FBI polygrapher has arrived to begin exams of detainees. (GT 13503)

November 5: Emb reports four of six detainees exonerated by polygraph exam; one exam is inconclusive and one detainee gave deceptive replies to material question. (GT 13551).

November 6: Emb GT presses military attorney on Devine case, points to actions not yet taken. (GT 13589)

November 7: FBI polygrapher amends conclusions, says four of six may have lied. (GT 13642)

November 8: Dept commends Embassy pursuit of case, suggests several additional steps, including interrogation of former zone commander Garcia. (State 378441)

November 15: Cerezo says Garcia will be interrogated. (GT 13917)

December 5: Amb reports December 5 meeting with Cerezo, following personal visit to Poptun, with lack of real progress in Devine murder.

December 12: Amb Stroock, following unsatisfactory December 11 meeting with President Cerezo, recommends public statement of impatience signalling military aid cutoff. (GT 15010)

December 19: Amb Stroock, on eve of departure for Washington, reports of warning Cerezo again of growing USG impatience. (GT 15252)

December 21: Department instructs Embassy to inform President Cerezo of immediate suspension in delivery of military assistance. Affected: FMF pipeline; FY 91 FMF to be provided and issuance of commercial licenses (for military articles). (90 State 430003)

1990 (cont'd)

Dec 21: Charge meets with Presidential Press Secretary (Cerezo was unavailable) to inform GOG of immediate suspension of military assistance. (GT 15362)

1991

Jan 15: Amb sends A/S Aronson suggestions for benchmarks to be met by GOG before military assistance reinstated. (GT 517)

Feb 8: Emb reports on FBI polygraph results for six persons detained in Devine murder investigation. Results passed to MinDef and Military Court. (GT 1356)

Mar 8: Emb reports on Amb's meeting with Pres Serrano to deliver summary of witness' statements detailing names and specific actions of military personnel who killed Devine. (GT 2316)

Mar 8: Emb reports on DCM meeting with MinDef to discuss witness' statements identifying military personnel who allegedly killed Devine. (GT 2317)

Mar 8: Emb reports that five military men detained for Devine murder have made statements to Guat Attorney General giving names of two officers who ordered killing and of eight persons who carried it out. (GT 2324)

Mar 15: Emb reports that civilian judge gets notifications of declarations accusing eight active duty military personnel of Devine murder, promptly transfers jurisdiction to military courts. (GT 2605)

April 1: In update, Embassy reports shift of case from Flores military court to Guatemala City military court, pressures from military judicial authorities on the accused to change their stories. (GT 3102)

April 2: Embassy protests "anomalies" in Devine case to Foreign Ministry. (GT 3109)

April 24: Embassy thanks Department and INS for prompt and positive response to requests for authority to resettle family of Devine case witnesses to protect them. (GT 3997)

April 24: US Secretary of Army Stone tells GT MOD Mendoza Devine case will not go away. (GT 4055)

April 29: Emb reports that military court has recieved original judicial file and is preparing to question the nine persons accused of murdering Devine. (GT 3897)

May 7: Embassy reports detained military personnel are accusing nine people as being Devine's killers. Military court detains five enlisted personnel, puts a captain in a provisional liberty status. (GT 4488)

May 10: Embassy requests urgent FBI polygraph assistance to test five newly arrested persons accused of Devine murder. (GT 4643)

May 31: Emb reports that Col. Portillo, acting commander of hit squad home base, seeks secret interview to declare his innocence. Also, Col. Alpirez -- commander of Poptun ranger training school where hit squad stayed during Devine operation -- offers to make sworn statement that death squad spent nights of June 6 & 7 at his base. (GT 5404)

June 14: DCM and CG meet with presidential adviser Col. Ortega to discuss Devine case. (GT 5933)

June 14: Dept requests Embassy to confirm its understanding of state of play in Devine case. (State 195794)

June 17: Emb GT reports on conversation with President Serrano involving briefing of him by Mrs. Devine's lawyer. Embassy comment: Unusual step, but probably not a bad idea. (GT 5965)

June 17: Embassy responds to State 195794, urging that USG "stand firm," requiring resolution of Devine case as condition for resuming a normal relationship with GT military. Embassy believes action against Devine was carried out on orders from a senior officer, possibly Colonel Garcia Catalan, perhaps Portillo. (GT 5990)

June 21: Witnesses identify two Devine death squad members in line-up. (GT 6197)

June 26: Devine attorney meets again with President Serrano; presidential adviser reports veiled coup threats if Serrano presses military too hard on Devine case. (GT 6357)

June 26: Embassy asks for pre-processing of five witnesses in Devine case. (GT 7429)

July 13: Dept is prepared to consider small, potential steps to recognize substantial but partial progress in Devine investigation. (State 228703)

July 26: In Devine case update, Embassy reports "much motion, meager movement." (GT 7436)

Aug 8: Dept sends letter from President Bush to Pres Serrano that states inter alia "..... when the investigation, currently underway into the murder of the U.S. citizen Michael Devine is complete and judicial proceedings initiated against the accused, we will then be in a position to work towards restoring military assistance." (Stste 261557)

Aug 14: Emb reports that USCINCSO urged MinDef Mendoza to resolve the Devine case. (GT 8168)

August 23: Embassy reports that, with re-arrest of Captain Contreras, Devine case took one step closer to resolution but, noting that re-arrest does not constitute an indictment (and therefore criterion for providing some military aid not met). (GT 8493)

August 28: In update, Emb GT reports that, on August 9, Lt. Col. Julio Roberto Alpirez, former commander of the Rangers Training base in Poptun, who allegedly provided room and board to the death squad for two days prior to Devine's murder, gave testimony to the military prosecutor. He denied all knowledge of the death squad and said none had visited his base. Embassy says evidence that the squad did visit his base is clear and convincing that Alpirez is likely lying. Devine Attorney Gonzalez hopes Alpirez can be charged as co-conspirator once his testimony is shown to be false. (GT 8641)

September 4: Department reviews next steps, advises some FMF pipeline items in storage in GT will be released following the October 2 meeting between Presidents Serrano and Bush in Washington. (State 292394)

September 20: In meeting with President Serrano, and in response to Serrano's plea for releasing more military pipeline than USG contemplated, Amb/DCM point to, among other ways in which there had been lack of progress, delay in deposing Col Alpires (sic). (GT 9586)

September 30: Emb GT reports military court releases Capt Contreras (thought to be person who organized the death squad, provided its orders and arranged for disposition of pickup truck) and concludes there is insufficient evidence to detain the two colonels (Garcia Catalan and Portillo) who commanded the base from which the squad operated. Attorney General appeals release decision. (GT 9832)

November 12: Emb GT reports Devine case before appeals court. (GT 11404)

November 27: Emb GT requests parole for active duty specialist in Gt army prepared to offer testimony that the squad charged with killing Devine was housed and fed on the Kaibil (ranger training) base in Poptun; that the squad was driving the Toyota pickup truck, that they left the base headed toward the Devine farm at the time other corroborating witnesses saw the truck. Embassy says the declaration provides adequate information to enable Mrs. Devine's attorney to oper a case against Col. Alpirez for attempted cover-up of a crime. (GT 12097)

December 2: Emb GT reports on comprehensive review of Devine case in meeting among Amb, DCM, other embassy staff, Guatemalan presidential human rights commission head Neumann and Mrs. Devine lawyer Gonzalez. (GT 12199)

December 17: Embassy recommends that it be authorized to refute in writing to President Serrano comments he apparently made to a NYTimes reporter that the USG had offered visas and other such inducements to potential witnesses as "bribes" for their testimony. (GT 12704)

December 20: Emb GT reports Amb Stroock raised Serrano's comments orally with presidential adviser Neumann. (GT 12844)

December 27: Emb GT reports Charge Taylor's meeting with new MOD Garcia Samayoa to brief him on importance of Devine case, urge better progress. Taylor said chief facts were known: who did the killing and how and the subsequent effort to cover-up. (GT 13049)

1992

January 22: Ambassador discusses Devine case with MOD Garcia Samayoa. (GT 674)

January 22: Ambassador discusses Devine case with new Guatemalan Army Chief of Staff Perussina. (GT 673)

January 22: Emb reports that Court Appeals orders rearrest of Captain Hugo Contreras. (GT 720)

January 22: Ambassador Stroock reports testy exchange with President Serrano, who urged that forthcoming U.S. human rights report note progress in Devine case. (GT 676)

March 4: Emb GT reports DATT, CG and Devine Attorney Gonzalez meeting March 3 with Army Chief of Staff Perussina. Among other actions that could be taken in Devine case, they urge that Col. Alpires be instructed to give an honest and complete declaration about what he knows of the case. Gonzalez says a candid declaration by Alpirez could provide all the evidence necessary to convict the guilty parties. Embassy encouraged by positive attitude of Perussina but notes his lack of familiarity with details of the case. (GT 2373)

March 11: Emb reports more legal delays in Devine case. Consul General asks Army Chief of Staff Perussina to help out. (GT 2693)

March 25: MOD Garcia Samayoa tells ambassador in March 24 meeting that, as a result of a "new investigation" into the Devine murder, Col. Alpirez had provided a "new version" of events, which Garcia had heard personally. (GT 3163)

June 5: In an O-I to Amb-designate McAfee, Emb GT gives status report on Devine case that notes, inter alia, that "the base commander where the death squad was housed and fed for two days prior to the crime refuses to acknowledge its presence on his base;" "the log recording all entries/departures from the base during the period of the murder has disappeared;" the army has consistently denied the existence of the pick-up truck used in the kidnapping and continues to deny sworn statements re its disposition. (GT 5865)

June 12: In an update, Emb GT characterizes judicial events as "accelerating but not illuminating." No mention or reference to Alpirez. (GT 6152)

July 1: DCM Philip Taylor departs Guatemala.

Sept 1: Emb GT reports Ambassador's August 31 meeting with MOD Garcia Samayoa for thorough review of the Devine case. Stroock gives Garcia lengthy list of judicial inadequacies and incidents that suggest military is still not seeking full resolution. MOD indirectly suggested to the Ambassador that other officers (than Contreras) had not acted correctly with this case, and specifically named as examples Colonels Alpirez and Garcia Catalan. Garcia expects judicial decision on Contreras September 25. (92 GT 9196)

Sept 17: Emb GT reports on judicial reconstruction of events September 8-9 (involving participants visiting site). Pages from missing log book at Kaibul base appear, contain no mention of pickup truck, entry/exit of death squad members. Close questioning of Alpirez revealed he had no knowledge of how such reports might have been prepared and typed and Alpirez made a fool of himself in front of Judge Advocate Pantaleon. Other witnesses appeared to be intimidated, did not provide the testimony expected of them. In continuation of the process September 14, "once again...lied about what he knows, claiming the accused were never on his base, nor was the famous white Toyota." Embassy comments that judicial proceedings are limping to a resolution; MOD Garcia and Chief of Staff Perussina have played positive roles but could not compensate for inadequacies of process before they assumed their duties. (92 GT 9799)

Sept 23: Emb GT reports that, on last day for presentation of evidentiary material, witness for Devine family (army enlisted specialist Batz Peruch assigned to Kaibul base) provided testimony exposing the falsity of base commander Col. Alpirez' sworn testimony, opening the way for subsequent charges against him for coverup. Testimony of Batz Peruch states that Alpirez was on the base during this period and, because of base procedures, must have known of the presence of the truck and men from the Santa Elena base. Devine attorney plans to request the military tribunal to initiate legal action against Alpirez for coverup. (GT-10087)

Sept 30: Six army enlisted personnel are convicted in Devine case, sentenced to 30 years. Embassy press release welcomes this development but notes it considers the case unresolved because military superiors were not punished. (GT 12229)

November 10: Ambassador Strook departs Guatemala. John Keane assumes charge.

December 14: Visiting ARA DAS Maisto cites Devine case among others in discussion with Acting Foreign Minister of human rights issues. (GT 13122)

December 18: Visiting ARA DAS Maisto, in meeting with Guatemalan Chief of Staff Perussina, says Washington saw two problems with the Devine case: "responsibility of command" and "coverup." Maisto express that no one finds its believable that th enlishted on their own killed Devine, and that everyone is of the opinion that the authorities at the time knew the details of the killing, but for whatever reason chose to cover it up rather than resolve it. (GT 13355)

December 24: Emb GT reports visiting DAS Maisto raising Devine case President Serrano, along with other (more recent) cases. (92 GT 13524)

1993

January 14: Emb reports that judicial errors have delayed progress in the Devine case by nearly three months. (GT 2693)

March 8: Emb GT reports opening of appeals court proceedings in the Devine case. Effective prosecution noted. Defense of enlisted men structured around alleged procedural flaws in case.

May 13: Captain Contreras convicted for complicity in Devine murder but escapes from custody at a military base the same day. Charge makes strong demarche to an ill-at-ease President Serrano, who speaks of coup tremors. Charge demands arrest of officer who commanded base where Contreras was in custody. (GT 5564)

May 13: Charge gives televised statement expressing deep US disappointment and concern about escape of Captain Contreras. Statement receives wide coverage on networks and in headlines of all print media.

May 14: Charge demands that President Serrano arrest base commander where Contreras was in custody, and provide Embassy with preliminary results of investigation into Contreras' escape. Defense Attache makes similar demarches on MOD and other counterparts. Message is that USG will not conduct business as usual with GT Army while Contreras is at large. To demonstrate seriousness, Charge cancels visit of Deputy Southcom Commander to FC-93, cancels Lt. Gen. Jaco's May 22 visit to Guatemala, cancels U.S. armed Forces Day reception hosted jointly by Charge, Defense Attache and MILGP Commander scheduled for May 22, and cancels CINC's planned June 1 visit. Senior Emboffs warn Guat counterparts of USG sanctions if Contreras is not recaptured, includiing not accepting visa applications of GT Army officers and their families, and cancellation of FC-94 and other military exercises. (GT 5629)

May 18: Charge raised USG concerns about Contreras escape with Foreign Minister, notes concrete actions taken in response. (GT 5662)

June 13: Ambassador McAfee arrives in Guatemala, assumes charge.

June 25: Ambassador McAfee pays initial courtesy call on MOD MG Perussina. She stresses importance of the Devine case and the rearrest of Captain Contreras as problems that must be resolved before military to military programs can be restored. Perussina describes GOG efforts to apprehend Contreras. (GT 7362)

July 11: In meeting with President DeLeon to discuss military assistance, Ambassador McAfee raises the Devine case, pointing out its great symbolic value regarding military impunity. (GT 7836)

July 29: Ambassador visits MOD MG Enriquez, raises the Devine case, and notes that Contreras' escape is still viewed with deep concern in Washington. MOD says that Contreras wishes to return, but not as a scapegoat. Enriquez has asked Supreme Court Chief Justice Rodil to be fair and impartial with Contreras. Ambassador stresses that there can be no deals on a Contreras acquittal. (GT 8910)

August 4: US Army Chief of Staff Sullivan and USCINCSO Joulwan raise Devine case, Contreras' escape during call on MOD Enriquez. (GT 9148)

August 12: Embassy reports that Court of Appeals denies appeals by the seven soldiers convicted in the Devine murder. (GT 9106)

August 25: Ambassador raises the Devine case with MOD Enriquez, who states that he has no new information. Amb notes that rumors are circulating that Contreras is in Honduras. Enriquez replies " if we knew where he was, he would be standing in front of a military tribunal now." (GT 9757)

October 29: Consul General meets with Guat Attorney General to discuss protection for soldiers convicted in Devine murder who are now offering new testimony on human rights cases, including Devine. (GT 12123)

December 13: Amb McAfee reports recent meeting with Mrs. Devine and her attorney. Mrs. Devine says she does not intend to pursue further legal action herself. Amb says embassy recently interviewed two of the convicted soldiers following reports that they had further information on this and other human rights cases but found them uncommunicative. DATT notes that Embassy presses MOD on whereabouts of Captain Contreras every time there is an encounter with him. At request of Mrs. Devine, Embassy arranges for visit to her ranch in Peten by Chief of Staff Quilo, to send signal that high command has interest in her safety. (GT 13518)

December 17: Emb reports on Consul General'a meeting with prison inmates claiming to have information implicating senior Guat military officers in ordering the Devine killing. Inmates retract earlier statements attributed to them. (GT 13737)

December 18: Amb McAfee presses MOD Enriquez to re-institute search for Captain Contreras. (GT 13756)

December 18: Emb GT reports approach of source claiming to have information relating to whereabouts of Captain Contreras. Embassy doubts his veracity. (GT 13757)

December 30: Amb raises Devine with MOD Enriquez, who says that he is negotiating throug an intermediary with Mrs. Contreras to secure Capt. Contreras' return. (GT 14064)

1994

January 6: Amb asks MOD Enriquez about status of efforts to locate Captain Contreras. (GT 185)

January 11: Consul General raises importance of apprehending Captain Contreras during meeting with senior Supreme Court officials.

March 14: Amb meets with MOD Enriquez at his request in response to a letter from the Amb asking for an update and further action on the fugitive Captain Contreras, and a status report on the military's investigation of the Devine case. Enriquez reports that he has ordered concerted effort to arrest Contreras. (GT 2832)

May 18: Court of Appeals confirms a two-year suspended sentence and (token) fine against the corporal whose absence from post facilitated the May 1993 escape of Captain Contreras, convicted and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

June 14: Amb meets with MOD Enriquez, opposes Colonel Garcia Catalan's desire to be promoted, reminds Enriquez of the unsatisfactory progress on capturing Contreras and on completely investigating the Devine murder case. She notes that, as long as Contreras remained free, it would be very difficult to improve the USG relationship with the Guat Army. (GT 5870)

July 19: Amb meets with MOD Enriquez and pressures him to bring Captain Contreras back to justice. The D-2 has been unable to locate him, and the MOD believes that he may no longer be in Guatemala. (GT 6740)

August 23: Amb and visiting DASD Mari-Luci Jaramillo raise the Devine case during meeting with MOD Enriquez. (GT 8176)

August 29: Col. Alpirez comes to Embassy and requests assistance of DATT to obtain a visa to transit the U.S. enroute to an official visit to Germany.

August 30: After consultations with DATT, [redacted] ConGen, Human Rights Officer and DCM, Ambassador decides that DATT should ask Col. Alpirez to withdraw his visa request. After meeting with DATT, Col. Alpirez agrees.

September 6: Supreme Court upholds 30-year sentence given the five enlisted men in the Devine murder.

November 22: Amb raises the Devine case in meeting with MOD Enriquez. Enriquez describes unsuccessful efforts to convince Contreras to turn himself in, and says that all support, including salary payments, to Contreras and his family have been cut off. He also informed Amb that Army would comply with U.S. requests to remove two officers (Col Contreras and Col. Alpirez) implicated in the Devine case from Military Zone 10 headquarters at Jutiapa, the site of the future base camp for Fuertes Caminos 95. (GT 10720)

November 23: Carol Devine informs Embassy that Contreras was reportedly sighted in Santo Tomas De Castilla on Guatemala's Atlantic Coast. She suggests that Embassy maintain a watching brief while she attempts to verify reports.

Department Human Rights report for 1994 notes that the Government of Guatemala has never brought to trial the senior officers believed to be involved in covering up the crime. It also notes that two relatives of witnesses who testified at the Devine trial have been killed and that another, a soldier, had been wounded under suspicious circumstances. One of the two killed had been mutilated.

January 25: CINCSO General McCaffrey and Ambassador raise Devine case during meeting with MOD Enriquez. (GT 1248)

February 17: Consul General presses for action on rearrest of Captain Contreras during meeting with new Interior Minister Reynoso. (GT 1563)

NOTE: With the exception of Benny's material on El Bucky and the inmates (under review, this concludes the Embassy revision of the Department's chronology based on information in State Dept. channels. The following chronology is based on an exhaustive review of [redacted] files. The items referring to Embassy reporting cables and Alpirez' visa request has been included in the chronology provided above. Information contained in [redacted] has not been included pending the Department's review.

1992

October 1: (C/NF) US CONGEN met with Chief of Staff (COS) MG Perussina concerning Devine case. CONGEN asked COS why the Army did not recommend a guilty verdict against Capt Contreras for the two new charges of cover-up and failure to report the role of the specialists. COS did not answer but also appeared frustrated.

October 2: (C/NF) DATT meets with Vice Chief of Staff (VCOS) BG Enriquez concerning Devine case. Enriquez states that he believes Capt. Hugo Contreras innocent.

October 9: (C/NF) GT Army Staff Judge Advocate, Col Ramon ((Pantaleon)) Palencia pressed by DATT on problems with the on-site "reconocimiento" (similar to a reenactment) at Poptun and the Contreras case. DATT also asks COL Pantaleon about possible military tribunal proceedings to be held against COL Julio ((Alpirez)) and COL Mario ((Garcia)) Catalan. An u uncomfortable Pantaleon weakly answers that there may be judicial proceedings.

November 11: (C/NF) DATT and CONGEN speak with the former legal advisor assigned to MZ-23 (Peten), ex-Captain (asimilado) Edgar ((Figueroa)) Guerra. Figueroa was fired by Minister of Defense (MOD) MG ((Garcia)) Samayoa for attempting to block judicial proceedings in the Devine case. Came to US Embassy looking for someone to blame for his dismissal.

November 19: (C/NF) DAO reports comments of a junior officer who states that GT officers are frustrated with continued IMET cutoff as a reaction to the Devine case. Most Army officers expected to respect final outcome of judicial proceedings although a small unidentified group may not.

December 4: (C/NF) DATT comments on the apparent rehabilitation of COL Garcia Catalan as he assumes command, effective December 1, of MZ-12 (Escuintla) after being assigned to an office at the Army IG. The MOD did this despite a promise to former Ambassador Stroock (Amb Stroock departed the previous month) that the careers of those associated with the Devine case would not prosper.

April 15: (S/NF/OC) DAO reports that COL Garcia Catalan admitted privately that he, COL Garcia, "gave the order" in the Devine case.

May 11: (C/NF) An appellate court reverses an earlier decision and convicts CAPT. Contreras of having planned the Devine murder.

May 13: (U) GT press reports that the army was in disagreement with the recent guilty verdict against Captain Contreras in the Devine case. Army spokesman denies he stated "army disagreement" and claims he will demand corrections in the press.

May 15: (C/NF) A variety of commentary on the escape of CAPT Contreras. Chief of the Presidential Staff, BG Francisco ((Ortega)) Menaldo tells he is upset with the escape of Contreras, but claimed there was information placing Contreras in El Salvador and that he would be recaptured soon. Contreras could face additional charges of escape and desertion.

May 19: (S/NF) DAO reports that GT enlisted soldiers upset with Contreras conviction and believe that CAPT Contreras should not have been convicted. CAPT Contreras believed by these soldiers to be the "fall guy" and that other senior officers are at fault. Soldiers upset over "double standard" which permitted the escape of CAPT Contreras but not the other convicted soldiers.

May 20: (C/NF) DAO reports that there is some sympathy among officers at the operational level for escaped CAPT Contreras -- that he is the scapegoat in the Devine case in order to protect the career of at least one colonel; COL Garcia Catalan. President Serrano tells officers of the importance of CAPT Contreras' return.

May 27: (C/NF) DAO reports that a GT Army officer expresses sympathy for CAPT Contreras and expresses fear for his safety along with the belief that a senior officer gave CAPT Contreras the order to kill Devine.

May 27: (C/NF) COS tells DATT that the escaped CAPT Contreras has been sighted in Honduras and may be recaptured soon.

May 28: (C/NF) DATT and CONGEN met with COS and BG Ortega, who provided details relating to the successful escape of CAPT Contreras. Both generals were optimistic that Contreras, reportedly sighted moving through Honduras the previous week, would be recaptured soon.

June 15: (C/NF) Contreras reportedly sends an emissary to the MOD stating that he will turn himself in for a guarantee of a judicial relook at the case. DATT tells MOD Perussina that in his personal opinion, the appeals process in the Devine case can only go in one direction and that is to the Supreme Court.

June 25: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee pays initial courtesy call on then MOD MG Perussina. She stresses the importance of the Devine Case and the escape of CPT Contreras as problems that must be resolved before military to military programs can be restored. MG Perussina describes efforts to bring CPT Contreras back to custody. (GT 7362)

July 2: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee pays call on Guatemala's newest MOD, MG Enriquez, who has only held the office for four days. Ambassador raises the Devine Case, and emphasizes the importance of the GT Army providing the U.S. Embassy with a complete investigation of the Army's role in Mr. Devine's murder, and the escape of CPT Contreras. She emphasized that the GT Army must find CPT Contreras. (GT 7639)

July 5: (C/NF) DAO reports that CAPT Contreras ready to turn himself in and tell the whole story surrounding the killing of Devine.

July 23: (S/NF/WN) DAO reports that some GT Army officers mistakenly believe the U.S. was providing protection for Contreras in order to bring him forward to testify against those believed responsible for the death of Devine.

July 29: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee visits the MOD, MG Enriquez. Ambassador raises the Devine Case, and told the MOD that Contreras" escape is still viewed with deep concern in Washington. The MOD responded that Contreras has indicated he wishes to return but that what he really wants is a finding of innocent. General Enriquez said that he had passed the word to the Commanders of his meeting with the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Jose Rodil Peralta, in which he asked Rodil that the Supreme Court be just and impartial with Contreras. Enriquez also said that he would guarantee the safety of Contreras upon his return, and would even send his youngest son out to come in with Contreras when Contreras was ready. The Ambassador stressed that there could be no deals struck on a Contreras acquittal. (GT 8910)

August 4: (C/NF) Chief of Staff of the Army General Sullivan and USCINCSO General Joulwan pay an office call on the MOD, MG Enriquez. General Joulwan told the MOD that the return fugitive CPT Contreras would be very helpful and would permit a more cooperative relationship. MG Enriquez responded that the Devine murder hurt both Guatemala as well as the Army, and expressed hope Contreras would be returned as soon as possible. (GT 9148)

August 25: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee raises the Devine case with the MOD, MG Enriquez. MG Enriquez said he had no new information. Ambassador explained that a rumor was circulating that some officers knew CPT Contreras was hiding on a farm in Honduras. MG Enriquez responded "If we knew where he was, he would be standing in front of a military tribunal now." (GT 9757)

September 17: (C/NF) DAO reports that former MOD Perussina lamented the continued absence of Contreras, who Perussina felt could clarify responsibility at the upper ranks for the Devine murder. Perussina faults MOD Mendoza for continuing to allow the case to be blocked. Perussina also blames former MOD MG Juan Leonel ((Bolanos)) Chavez and former D-2 Colonel Cesar ((Cabrera)) Mejia as the ones most responsible for the coverup.

October 4: (C/NF) Colonel Luis ((Miranda)) Trejo, commander of the Mariscal Zavala Brigade at the time of CAPT Contreras' escape is promoted to general officer effective October 1.

October 26: (C/NF) DAO reports that COL Garcia Catalan has been complaining and pressuring COS MG Jose ((Quilo)) Ayuso (an academy classmate of Garcia) in an effort to get promoted to general officer. Garcia's wife has also been pressuring Quilo's wife. MOD Enriquez tells DATT that as long as he is MOD, Garcia will not be promoted due to a lack of clarification as to Garcia's role in the Devine murder.

December 7: (C/NF) DCM, DATT, MILGP CDR met with the MOD and spoke of the Devine case. DCM explains to MOD why the Devine case is unfinished as far as the USG is concerned. MOD agrees and states that there is no good information on the whereabouts of CAPT Contreras.

December 7: (C/NF) DAO reports that COS visited Carol Devine, widow of Michael Devine, at her farm at Poptun. COS tells her the Army bears her no ill will and that she can count on his full support.

December 8: (C/NF) DATT tells the commander of MZ 23 (Peten) of the need for the return of CAPT Contreras and a complete investigation into why and how Devine was killed.

December 17: (S/NF/WN) DAO reports that at a 3 December the MOD tells the assembled senior officers that the Devine case is closed because CAPT Contreras had been sentenced by the courts. He continued that the desertion of Contreras was unfortunate. He also stated that the USG does not view the case as being closed, and that in fact, a fax from the US Embassy had been received stating that the Embassy will not accept that the case is closed until Contreras is captured.

December 21: (C/NF) MOD tells DATT that COL Garcia Catalan still pressuring COS for promotion to general officer. MOD tells DATT of his opposition to the possibility of COL Garcia's being promoted. MOD states that many officers would be stunned by the promotion of Garcia Catalan, as he is viewed by them as the colonel who was responsible -- in charge -- of the military zone within which Devine was murdered.

December 29: (C/NF) DAO reports that COL Garcia Catalan has been transfered to command of MZ-1715 (Quetzaltenango). This was reported as a move up for Garcia and possible positioning for a shot at general officer. [redacted]

December 30: (C/NF) Ambassador raises the Devine Case with the MOD, MG Enriquez. MG Enriquez explained that he was negotiating using an intermediary with Mrs. Contreras to secure CPT Contreras' return to justice. The idea was to offer Mrs. Contreras financial help for her husband's defense in return for him voluntarily turning himself in. If CPT Contreras did not turn himself in by February 1994, there would be no such help, and instead, a reward would be offered for his capture. (GT 14064)

March 14: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee meets with MOD MG Enriquez at his request in response to a letter from the Ambassador to the MOD asking for an update and further action on escaped CPT Contreras, as well as the status of the Michael Devine Case in general. The letter was sent to remind the MOD of his late December promises to obtain CPT Contreras' return or put out a reward for his arrest. The MOD explained that he had ordered a concerted effort to arrest CPT Contreras and had publicly announced the new tougher approach on CPT Contreras to an assembly of officers in the Peten Department last week. (GT 2832)

May 2: (C/NF) DAO reports that MOD admits that some officers may be protecting fugitive CAPT Contreras and that the D-2 has an order to intensify efforts to get him back to Guatemala. [redacted]

June 14: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee meets with the MOD, MG Enriquez. MG Enriquez mentions that COL Garcia, who was involved in the murder of Michael Devine, was seeking promotion to General. The Ambassador admonished the MOD that such a promotion would be unacceptable, and further used the oportunity to remind the MOD of the unsatisfactory progress on capturing CPT Contreras and on completely resolving the Devine murder case. MG Enriquez admitted there was no new progress on finding CPT Contreras. The Ambassador reminded the MOD that this lack of progress was extremely disappointing and that as long as CPT Contreras remained free, it would be very difficult to improve the U.S. government relationship with the GT Army. (GT 5870)

July 19: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee meets with the MOD, MG Enriquez, and once again pressures him to bring CPT Contreras back to justice. The D-2 has been unable to locate him, and the MOD believes he may no longer be in Guatemala. (GT 6740)

August 23: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee and visiting DASD Ambassador Mari-Luci Jaramillo visit with MOD, MG Enriquez. They raise the Devine Case with the MOD. MOD insists that CPT Contreras cannot be found despite D-2's best efforts, but that the Zone Commander at the time of the murder, COL Garcia, will not be promoted to General Officer. (GT 8176)

August 29: (C/NF) COL Alpirez comes to U.S. Embassy and requests the assistance of the DATT to obtain a visa to transit the U.S. enroute to an official visit to Germany.

August 30: (C/NF) After consultations between DATT, [redacted] CONGEN, Human Rights Officer, DCM, and AMB, it is decided to ask COL Alpirez to withdraw his visa request. DATT meets COL Alpirez and tells him that it is unlikely he will be granted a visa. COL Alpirez agrees to withdraw his visa application.

October 26: (C/NF) DATT and MILGP CDR discuss the Devine case with COS MG Marco ((Gonzalez)) Taracena. The problem of keeping both COL Cabrera Mejia as MZ-10 (Jutiapa) commander and COL Alpirez as MZ-10 third commander where Fuertes Caminos 95 will be based was discussed. Both officers were subsequently transfered -- COL Cabrera to assume command of MZ-6 (Izabal) effective January 1 1995 and COL Alpirez to the La Aurora Military Base in the capital. [redacted]

November 22: (C/NF) Ambassador McAfee meets with the MOD, MG Enriquez and raises the Devine Case. MG Enriquez described his attempts to persuade CPT Contreras to turn himself in, and because he had violated the MOD's confidence, all support had been cut off, to include CPT Contreras' salaruy payments to his family. MOD explained that the GT Army would comply with U.S. requests to remove two officers (COL Contreras and COL Alpirez) implicated in the Devine Case from MZ 10 at Jutiapa, the site of the future base camp for Fuertes Caminos 95. (GT 10720)

January 26: (C/NF) CINCSO, General Barry McCaffrey visits MOD, MG Enriquez and COS, MG Gonzalez. CINCSO and Ambassador McAfee raise the Devine and Bamaca Cases with the MOD and COS as issues that must still be addressed by the GT Army. (GT 1248)

February 28: (S/NF) DAO GT reports that GT Army Captain Hugo Contreras Alvarado, sentenced to 20 years in prison for his involvement in the murder of Michael Devine, may have been working for a petroleum company in Maracaibo, Venezuela for some time. [redacted]

March 2: (C/NF) DAO Caracas requests additional information on CPT Contreras and the Michael Devine, as Caracas LEGATT wishes to pursue the case in Venezuela. (USDAO Caracas [redacted] 1630)

March 7: (C/NF) DAO Guatemala provides additional information to DAO Caracas to include personal physical characteristics of CPT Contreras and other available information. (USDAO Guatemala [redacted] 1877)

Traffickers finance local harvests in order to eliminate the expense and risk of importing their raw materials from Peru and Bolivia, where the biggest drug crops are grown.

As a fine mist of glysophate settled over a poppy field here, Col. Jose Leonardo Gallego, director of Colombia's anti-narcotics police, said, "The peasants don't cooperate."

In mid-December, guerrillas trapped Gallego for two days in Miraflores, an Amazon town surrounded by coca plantations. When police in two helicopters went to rescue him, guerrillas raked the aircraft with fire from automatic rifles, killing a police lieutenant.

The episode occurred during two months of protests against eradication in two of Colombia's largest coca growing states -- Guaviare, in central Colombia, and Putumayo, on the border with Ecuador and Peru.

In Guaviare -- described as "a sea of coca" by one police official -- officials estimate that traffickers pay $5 million a year in protection money to the state's main guerrilla group, the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia, or Farc.

In Putumayo, protests against eradication peaked Dec. 22, when about 1,000 coca growers occupied pumping stations along the Transandino pipeline, shutting down local oil production for three weeks.

"We voted for Samper, not for the DEA," protest signs said, referring to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration.

To make peace, the government promised to use aerial eradication only against plots larger than 7.5 acres.

Samper unveiled a $300 million program to bring roads, telephones, schools, health clinics and rural electrification to the 300,000 families affected by eradication.

But the farmers get four times as much money for coca as for the highest-earning legal competitor. A week after the President's speech, guerrillas shot down a police helicopter in Putumayo, killing three police officers.

Some Colombians say they worry that the eradication may be splashing gasoline on the smoldering embers of a 30-year-old guerrilla war. Peru has shied away from eradication out of fear of pushing peasants to the Shining Path guerrillas there.

In Colombia, some officials say, the eradication campaign by 2,500 counter-narcotics police may be tightening a loose alliance between the guerrillas, traffickers and peasants.

"In the coca zones, the Farc. fronts are showing that, after many years, subversion has found a definitely solid popular base," Roberto Pombo, a columnist, warned in an essay in Semana, Colombia's largest selling weekly news magazine. "With the coca growers, the Farc achieved the eternal dream of the guerrillas, which is to share an enemy with the people: the state."

(FS) A WOMAN'S OBSESSION PAYS OFF
(New York Times 03/26/95 Catherine Manegold article) (1490)

(Following FS Material Not For Publication)

WASHINGTON -- Obsession is a wild, defining force. Like fire, it can forge or destroy. The line between the two, as any smithy knows, is thin. Jennifer Kristina Harbury walked that line for several years.

When friends said stop, she did not stop. When enemies said stop, she did not stop. She left legions of quizzical admirers in her wake. She made enemies, too, and appeared on a death list. But she had convinced herself that she could change the course of history and she never did back down.

Still, it is no simple thing to balance obsession and one's sanity. Time after time, Ms. Harbury encountered disappointment and deceit in her quest to learn the fate of her husband, a Guatemalan guerrilla who disappeared in 1992.

But she tried everything. One moment, she was the latest nonstop naysayer to lay her mark on Lafayette Park, pointing fingers at the White House and sharing bench space with the obsessed, the possessed, the skinheads and the saved.

The next, she was walking up the stairs of Congress, a quirky modern heroine on a hunger strike for justice, wearing a borrowed dress and a pair of high heels as she waltzed in to see Madame Mitterrand at a private reception in a polished hall.

In the park, the homeless man who wears his whiskers long and whispers confidences about covert operations had precisely the same message. He spat out accusations all day long: Murder! Conspiracy! Injustice and betrayal!

But he is a former mental patient. Ms. Harbury is a 43-year-old Harvard-trained lawyer. And when she talked about murder, conspiracy, injustice and betrayal, she was right.

Last week, she caught her government in the thick of it. Now, she must reconstruct a life -- her own -- both shattered and shaped by a single explosive thought: "They are lying!" For three years and three hunger strikes that conviction carried her, like Alice, down a rabbit hole into Washington's own wonderland.

The government, as it often seems to in any crusade against entrenched bureaucracy, most obligingly played the heavy. Even her most frightful scenarios had not captured the grim truth.

Last Wednesday, a member of the House Intelligence Committee accused the CIA of concealing information that linked a Guatemalan army colonel who was a paid CIA informer to the killings of an American hotel-keeper in Guatemala in 1990 and, later, of Ms. Harbury's husband.

The American hotel-keeper apparently had stumbled onto a smuggling scandal involving the Guatemalan military. Ms. Harbury's husband was a Mayan rebel who, the Guatemalan military said, had been killed in battle. Instead, it appears that he was captured, tortured and executed without trial.

The Guatemalan colonel was dropped from the CIA payroll about the time he supervised the interrogation and killing of Ms. Marbury's husband, government officials now say.

Rep. Robert G. Torricelli, D-N.J., who blew the whistle, admonished his government for a cover-up that the CIA is denying: "It's not bad policy," he said firmly. "It's a crime."

Ms. Harbury, dazed and shaken, sipped carrot juice, ending a little-noticed 12-day fast and quieting speculation that she was, as many government officials insisted, "well-meaning," but "a little wacky."

She was somber in victory, and still angry. "I do feel really, really pleased to finally, finally catch the CIA red-handed," she said Thursday. "They are exposed. And so is the State Department exposed. And so is the White House."

Yes, there will be a movie. Ted Turner had already put up $200,000 for the rights before this week's disclosures. Perhaps Madonna should consider the part. It would take a certain controlled irreverence and mad gusto to get Jennifer Harbury on the screen.

Her lonely, quixotic crusade jarred the jaded and the cynical with a lesson often overlooked by a society that disdains nonconformity: sometimes, only a radical heart can force change. But how would the movie end? What seems an unambiguous victory of good over evil has come at tremendous personal cost.

In Guatemala City last winter, she explained herself with some excitement. After numbing hours talking of death squads, forensics, scare tactics and torture, she pulled the whole haunting history of Guatemala's 34-year civil war within the framework of her search for her husband.

Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, a 35-year-old rebel commander known mostly by his nom de guerre, Comandante Everardo, vanished on March 12, 1992 after a firefight in the Guatemalan jungles. Ms. Harbury always viewed her search in a broader context.

"I have a really good chance now of just ending this, once and for all," she said over breakfast last winter, referring not just to her husband but to three decades of atrocities. "It's why people hug me in the streets and won't let me pay taxi fares." But many did not cheer her on. Instead, they said she sounded programmed, too pat and too political by half.

"Really," said a Texas friend who used to call her "tank" in deference to her relentless drive, "if you had lined up 20 of my friends 10 years ago and asked who would go on a hunger strike for her husband who is a missing Guatemalan guerrilla leader, appear on '60 Minutes' and get a hearing at the White House, well, I would have definitely picked Jennifer."

Born to Obsess

Others in the circle of liberal advocates she worked with on Latin American immigration issues called her the "God hog," always so mired in messy causes that she seemed to monopolize all God's energies.

She was born hard-wired for a righteous fight. And she found one when her husband disappeared.

But by the time Ms. Harbury started her fast outside the White House this month, she was no longer a romantic figure wasting away on a hunger strike on foreign soil but a tiresome evangelist endlessly pounding the same theme.

Single-mindedness does that. It wears at the nonbelievers until they either react or withdraw. In this country with its short attention span, Guatemala's grisly history hardly registered and she quickly became easy to overlook.

Yet for months, she had travelled between Washington and Guatemala, asking for answers. Now she wants more. She plans to file criminal charges in Guatemala, and perhaps here as well. She has already called for congressional hearings.

She plans to return to Guatemala too, to face the men she has long accused of complicity in her husband's death. "They don't want to see me," she said. "So I guess that means they NEED to see me."

Affairs of state are usually handled in the murk of secrecy and strict decorum. Ms. Harbury can handle the formalities as well as anyone. After her hunger strike last fall, she made a strong case with the national security adviser, Anthony Lake, in the White House and then pummelled Congressional staffers with theories.

Her Harvard chic made her comfortable in those circles. But it was her wild obsession that made her win. In a city driven by compromise, she would not bend.

Though the White House received news of the death of Ms. Harbury's husband months ago, the information stayed secret until Torricelli spoke out.

In retrospect, the secrecy seems a puzzling failure. (On Friday, the White House said anyone at the CIA who had withheld information would be dismissed.) Since the CIA's link to the Guatemalan colonel dated back well before Bill Clinton's term began, this White House had little reason to be defensive. But Washington lives inside the rabbit hole, where normal logic does not hold.

State Department officials spun in frustration, speaking a language all their own. While Ms. Harbury spoke of justice, love and murder, they talked of policy.

Taking the risky gamble that the Guatemalan military was already on the road to reform, they had suggested, always off the record, that she was caught in a personal time warp of 1960s revisionism or was being twisted by leftist strategists.

"They treated me like this nuclear bomb rolling in through the door," Ms. Harbury said of her meeting at the White House. "They wanted to know, 'Is it Patty Hearst? Is it a monster? What is it?' "

The story detailed by Torricelli last week pointed to other questions: "What did they know and when did they know it?" By the time those questions are answered, Ms. Harbury will be working on a book and managing the nonprofit foundation she plans to start with money from her movie deal.

"I'm real tired and kind of beat up and dilapidated," she said as she ended her fast the other day. "But I'm still here."

So is the rabbit hole.

(FS) FOREIGN INVESTORS REMAIN DOUBTFUL ABOUT MEXICO
(Washington Post 03/25/95 Clay Chandler article) (810)

(Following FS Material Not for Publication)

Two weeks after Mexican officials announced a tough reform package aimed at putting their economy back on track, foreign investors said they remain deeply reluctant to bet on the battered Latin economy.

Their reticence reflects a persistent concern among many foreign observers that recovery of the Mexican economy may take months -- or even years -- longer than government officials have projected.

Although Mexican stock prices soared more than 6 percent yesterday, the market was driven almost entirely by domestic buyers. The Mexican currency rallied slightly for a second straight day, rising 1.4 percent to 6.86 pesos against the dollar. In Mexico City, some analysts said the gains suggested investors have decided the government's program was taking hold and that the worst is over.

But outside Mexico, the outlook for its economy remains mostly gloomy. In London and on Wall Street, many analysts pooh-poohed yesterday's stock buying spree, noting light trading volumes and the lack of foreign participation.

At this stage, "any small return of confidence will see prices rally sharply," said John Ford, a Latin American equities analyst with T. Rowe Price in London. "But in terms of a fundamental improvements in the Mexican economy -- that's some way off."

"The verdict is still out," cautioned Salomon Brothers Inc. Vice President Lawrence Goodman, who said foreign investors are watching nervously to see how the economy will react to steep increases in tax and energy prices to be imposed soon.

The markets' verdict on Mexico matters enormously to the Clinton administration, which has gambled that a U.S. credit line of $20 billion -- combined with an additional $32 billion in rescue loans from the International Monetary Fund and other sources -- will be enough to help the Latin nation's economy bounce back fast.

If the Mexican government fails to meet the stringent economic targets it agreed to in return for the U.S. loans, Treasury Secretary Robert E. Rubin will have to make a vexing judgment call: He could cut U.S. losses by refusing to give Mexico its next installment of credit, risking blame if Mexico's remaining private creditors pull out too. Or, he could

Much more explicit fare, in both text and pictures, can be found in countless other locations. One site on the World Wide Web called "For Your Eyes Only" offers everything from the Leather and Fetish Community Outreach as well as quick access to on-line forums devoted to "BDSM" -- bondage, domination, submission and masochism.

But attempts to clamp down on the Internet's sexual content face vexing legal and practical issues. Companies that offer on-line computer services, including America Online and Compuserve, fear the proposal would make them liable for material that travels over the networks but which they do not control. Civil rights groups say the legislation would create an enormous new intrusion on privacy and free speech.

There are also big questions about whether anybody -- even the federal government -- can police a world that is linked by little more than a common technical language and is governed by almost no one.

One obvious enforcement problem, for example, is that the global nature of the Internet makes it easy for people to evade the reach of U.S. law.

A company might easily choose to set up a computer in Denmark to dispense nude pictures, and people in the United States would be able to tap into that computer as easily as two college students communicate from opposite sides of the same campus.

At present, international links over the Internet cost a person nothing extra.

Indeed, a company selling sexual fare would not even need to employ any people at its off-shore location -- simply transmitting its latest material overseas electronically.

That kind of arrangement is already being used in a different context by the Electronic Privacy Information Center, a nonprofit group in Washington. That group operates a public site in the Netherlands on what is called the World Wide Web that contains information on encryption technology.

By using a computer in the Netherlands, the group avoids running afoul of U.S. laws that restrict the export of encryption technology.

Users of the Internet have been mounting a frantic attack on the Senate bill, circulating electronic petitions in opposition and raising an alarm wherever possible.

"This will be the end of the electronic love note as we know it," said Marc Rotenberg, head of the electronic privacy center, which opposes the legislation.

But supporters of the legislation say they are merely trying to modernize laws that already try to restrict indecency and pornography. "I'm not trying to be a super censor," said Sen. Jim Exon, D-Neb., who wrote the legislation. "The first thing I was concerned with was kids being able to pull up pornography on their machines."

The United States has considerable legal experience in trying to restrict hard-core pornography and indecency, and the Supreme Court has upheld laws that restrict "dial-a-porn" telephone lines and the shipment of pornography through the mail.

But experts say the technology used to link computer networks poses several devilish new legal and practical issues. Should a company that operates an electronic bulletin board -- akin to a computer chat line in which people exchange thoughts on a particular topic -- be held liable if its customers post bawdy stories or foul language?

Well aware of the problems, Senator Exon refined an earlier draft of his proposal to protect on-line services like Compuserve or America Online from being held liable for material posted by its own customers.

As adopted by the Senate Commerce Committee, the bill exempts companies that merely provide transmission services, navigational tools for the net or "intermediate storage" for customers moving material from one location to another.

It also allows an on-line service to defend itself in court by showing that it made a good-faith effort to give customers the ability to lock out adult material and provide them with warnings about the adult material before they download it into their computers.

(FS) LONG ROAD TO TRUTH ABOUT KILLINGS IN GUATEMALA
(New York Times 03/24/95 Tim Weiner article) (860)

(Following FS material not for publication)

WASHINGTON -- In November, President Clinton's national security adviser, Anthony Lake, told Jennifer Harbury, an American lawyer married to a Guatemalan guerrilla, that the United States had no information that her common-law husband was alive.

That was the truth, but not the whole truth.

A month earlier, provoked by a long hunger strike Ms. Harbury had conducted in front of the U.S. embassy in Guatemala, State Department officials began searching their files. From October to January, they made a series of discoveries that horrified them.

The Clinton administration possessed secret documents linking a paid informer of the CIA -- a Guatemalan army colonel -- to the killings of Ms. Harbury's husband and of an American innkeeper in Guatemala. The files had been in the possession of the CIA and the State Department since the administration took office.

The files said the intelligence agent, Col. Julio Roberto Alpirez, became a CIA informer in the 1980s. He spent a year at an elite U.S. Army training program for foreign soldiers, the School of the Americas, in 1989. He had overseen the 1990 killing of Michael DeVine, a U.S. citizen who ran a hotel in the Guatemalan rain forest and apparently had stumbled onto a smuggling operation involving the Guatemalan military.

Alpirez was not dropped from the CIA's payroll until 1992, about the time he supervised the interrogation and killing of the leftist guerrilla, Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, government officials said.

The CIA has refused to comment on the case.

By late January, when the State Department and the National Security Council pieced together what the CIA knew, a struggle erupted at the intelligence agencies, government officials said.

The U.S. ambassador in Guatemala demanded the removal of the CIA's station chief, they said, and the National Security Council ordered a internal investigation at the intelligence agency.

The CIA fought to stop disclosure of its relationship with the colonel in the Guatemalan military, generally considered to be the worst human-rights violator in the Western Hemisphere.

Administration officials began to mistrust what the CIA was saying about the case. They tried to find a way to release the information -- or at least to tell Ms. Harbury what they knew.

In the end, both sides lost: The information was disclosed on Wednesday by Rep. Robert Torricelli, D-N.J., a member of the House Intelligence Committee.

The story of the strange case of Alpirez, what and when administration officials knew about his role in the two killings, was provided by several officials from the White House and the intelligence agenices and members of Congress briefed by the CIA. Most asked for anonymity.

Alpirez first came to the United States in 1970 as an army cadet to receive combat training at the School of the Americas.

When he returned to the School of the Americas in 1989, to take the year-long Command and General Staff course, he was already on the CIA payroll, officials said.

He returned to Guatemala as a senior officer at a special-forces base in the northern town of Poptun. In June 1990, he crossed paths with DeVine, who ran an inn in Poptun. The encounter was fatal for DeVine, government officials said.

Ms. Harbury's husband, Bamaca, who used the nom de guerre Comandante Edvardo, was captured by the Guatemalan military on March 12, 1992, tortured for an unknown time and killed. Alpirez was removed from the CIA payroll around the time of the capture, government officials said.

What happened next is in dispute.

Adm. William O. Studeman, the acting director of Central Intelligence, said Thursday that the CIA had no information about the deaths of Bamaca or DeVine "at the time the deaths occurred."

But several members of Congress briefed by the CIA said the agency's reports on the killing of Bamaca date from the summer and fall of 1992, and were not shared with senior diplomats.

On Oct. 19, 1994, as Ms. Harbury conducted her hunger strike in front of the embassy in Guatemala, officials of National Security Council and State Department began searching their files on the case.

They asked the CIA for its records on Bamaca, which produced files. But when Lake briefed Ms. Harbury, he still did not know everything the CIA knew about the case.

A few weeks later, someone thought to ask the CIA for its files on "Comandante Edvardo" -- same man, different name. That request produced far more files, and spawned more distrust between the administration and the CIA. Finally, on Jan. 25, 1995, the CIA produced information that linked its agent, Alpirez, to the killings.

Now the State Department agonized over what to tell Ms. Harbury. On March 7, the U.S. ambassador in Guatemala, Marilyn McAfee, told her: "Bamaca is dead. I am convinced he is dead, but I do not know what happened to him."

But others knew: he had died on the orders of Alpirez.

(FS) EDITORIAL: SHAMEFUL CIA SECRETS
(New York Times 03/24/95 editorial) (510)

(Following FS material not for publication)

In 1990 Michael DeVine, an American who ran an inn in the Guatemalan rain forest, was mysteriously abducted and killed. In 1992 Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, a member of a guerrilla movement fighting the Guatemalan government, was taken captive after a firefight and disappeared.

His American wife, Jennifer Harbury, received word that he had been seen alive in a secret military prison and began trying to find out what happened to him. Now, it turns out, both were killed at the direction of a paid agent of the CIA. Adding to the shame of these events for America is the fact that the man implicated in the killings was a Guatemalan colonel trained by the U.S. Army.

Ms. Harbury was given contrary reports of her husband's death. In frustration she staged a hunger strike in Guatemala City that finally embarrassed both Guatemalan and U.S. authorities into promises that they would pursue the case more energetically.

But Ms. Harbury never found out what happened to her husband until Wednesday, when she was told by Rep. Robert Torricelli, D-N.J.

Torricelli wrote a letter to the president protesting the CIA's methods and the secrecy that kept both it and other government agencies from telling Ms. Harbury the truth.

He rightly said that such information reveals an organization out of control. When a federal agency pays people who kill U.S. citizens, and then lies about it, it underscores again the clear need for deep, comprehensive reform. The CIA said Thursday that it had not improperly concealed information, but its slippery wording does nothing to undermine Torricelli's main points.

As The Times' Tim Weiner points out, the secrecy surrounding the fate of Ms. Harbury's husband did not stop with the CIA itself.

Other government agencies -- most notably the State Department and the National Security Council -- and individuals were aware of what had happened to him and withheld the information.

Torricelli has asked President Clinton to request a Justice Department investigation into the activities of all government agencies involved in the Harbury case. The president would do well to act on that suggestion, and to extend any inquiry to cover the case of DeVine, an apparently innocent U.S. citizen who was murdered by someone on the U.S. payroll.

The Clinton administration can use this occasion to signal a new approach to covert operations. It can lay open all the facts of this case and make it clear that in the future rogue operators, who abuse their relationship with the United States, will be exposed rather than protected.

It can announce that America will no longer train and encourage Latin American thugs. It can make an even stronger case for thorough, systemic reform of the CIA to make it lean, honest, less wasteful and more accountable for the millions of taxpayer dollars it spends.

(FS) NEW CENTER AIMS FOR BOOST IN SALES
(Washington Times 03/23/95 Tony Munroe article) (650)

(Following FS Material Not for Publication)

Exports are key to U.S. economic growth, but the international marketplace is stacked against American firms, the Commerce Department said yesterday as it unveiled its trade Advocacy Center.

"We can level the playing field for American businesses around the world," Commerce Secretary Ron Brown said at a news conference at the department. Under the Advocacy Network, the center consolidates tradepromoting efforts previously spread among 19 federal agencies.

Housed at the department's hulking headquarters and designed to look like a Wall Street trading floor -- complete with wall clocks showing the time in major world cities -- the center offers trade counseling, technical assistance, financing and the occasional arm-twist on behalf of U.S. business.

Aquatics Unlimited of Martinez, Calif., for example, called on the services of the Commerce Department office in Jakarta, Indonesia, last year after negotiations to export dredging equipment to that country ground to a halt.

GUATEMALA: U.S. HUMAN RIGHTS POLICY

Q: What is the State Department human rights policy on Guatemala?

AS OUR MOST RECENT HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT MAKES CLEAR (AS HAVE PAST REPORTS, TOO), WE VIEW WITH CONCERN THE CONTINUING HIGH LEVEL OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN GUATEMALA. OUR EMBASSY REGULARLY COMMUNICATES TO THE GOVERNMENT AND THE PUBLIC IN GUATEMALA THE SERIOUSNESS WITH WHICH WE VIEW THIS ISSUE, AND MAINTAINS CLOSE CONTACT WITH HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, THE POLICE, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, THE COURTS AND OTHERS IN ORDER TO PROMOTE INVESTIGATION OF ABUSES AND PROSECUTION OF THOSE RESPONSIBLE THEM.

AMONG THE CASES INVOLVING U.S. CITIZENS THAT WE HAVE REPEATEDLY URGED THE GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO PURSUE TO CONCLUSION ARE: THE 1985 MURDERS OF NICHOLAS BLAKE AND GRIFFIN DAVIS; THE 1989 KIDNAPPING, RAPE AND TORTURE OF SISTER DIANNA ORTIZ, AND THE 1990 MURDER OF MICHAEL DEVINE. OTHER CASES OF INTEREST TO THE U.S. GOVERNMENT ARE THOSE OF GUATEMALAN ANTHROPOLOGIST MYRNA MACK, MURDERED IN 1989, AND EFRAIN BAMACA VELASQUEZ, A URNG COMMANDER MISSING, AND WE BELIEVE DEAD, SINCE 1992. THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAS ACTIVELY SUPPORTED THE EFFORTS OF BAMACA'S U.S. CITIZEN WIFE, JENNIFER HARBURY, TO LOCATE HIM OR HIS REMAINS AND HAS REPEATEDLY PRESSED THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO CONDUCT A FULL INVESTIGATION INTO BAMACA'S CASE.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT STRONGLY SUPPORTS EFFORTS TO END GUATEMALA'S 34-YEAR OLD GUERRILLA WAR. EFFORTS TO CONSOLIDATE DEMOCRACY AND IMPROVE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS HAVE LONG BEEN IMPEDED BY THE CONTINUING ARMED STRUGGLE.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS PLEASED THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA AND THE GUATEMALAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNITY (URNG) CONTINUE TO BE ENGAGED IN SERIOUS PEACE TALKS. THE U.S. SUPPORTS THIS PROCESS AS A MEMBER OF THE "FRIENDS" GROUP (ALONG WITH COLOMBIA, MEXICO, NORWAY, SPAIN AND VENEZUELA) WHICH THE TWO PARTIES HAVE ASKED TO ASSIST THE UNITED NATIONS MODERATOR IN PROMOTING THE PEACE PROCESS.

ARA PRESS GUIDANCES MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1995

1. COLOMBIA: NY TIMES ARTICLE ON U.S. COPTERS

Q. WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO TODAY'S NEW YORK TIMES ARTICLE ON TARGETTING OF HELICOPTERS INVOLVED IN ERADICATION?

A. THE COLOMBIAN COUNTERNARCOTICS POLICE HAVE SHOWN CONSIDERABLE COURAGE IN THE FACE OF LOSSES TO BOTH EQUIPMENT AND LIFE IN THE COURSE OF THEIR AMBITIOUS ERADICATION EFFORTS.

THE SYMBIOTIC RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE TRAFFICKERS AND CERTAIN GUERRILLA ORGANIZATIONS IS INCREASINGLY STRONG. THE COUNTERNARCOTICS POLICE NOW FACE SERIOUS ARMED OPPOSITION FROM THOSE WHO USE TERRORISM TO ASSIST THE TRAFFICKERS IN CULTIVATING, PRODUCING AND TRANSPORTING THEIR ILLICIT CROPS.

WE SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT OF COLOMBIA'S RESOLVE TO COMBAT THE LAWLESSNESS OF THESE INDIVIDUALS WHO MAKE THEIR LIVING THROUGH EXTORTION, KIDNAPPINGS AND THE ILLEGAL TRADE OF OPIUM AND COCAINE RATHER THAN THROUGH LEGAL AND DEMOCRATIC PROCESSES TO ACHIEVE SOCIAL CHANGE.

-COLOMBIA: 1995 COUNTERNARCOTICS PERFORMANCE TO DATE-

Q. HOW WOULD YOU CHARACTERIZE COLOMBIA'S COUNTERNARCOTICS PERFORMANCE THUS FAR IN 1995?

A. THE COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT HAS TAKEN A NUMBER OF POSITIVE STEPS THUS FAR IN 1995:

ON ERADICATION, THE COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT HAS SERIOUSLY ATTACKED THE ILLICIT PRODUCTION OF COCA IN GUAVIARE AND PUTUMAYO DEPARTMENTS. TO DATE, APPROXIMATELY 7,000 HECTARES OF COCA AND OPIUM POPPY HAVE BEEN AERIALLY ERADICATED SINCE JANUARY 1ST, EVEN IN THE FACE OF DANGEROUS CONDITIONS.

ON THE JUDICIAL FRONT, THE CALI POLICE FORCE ARRESTED JORGE RODRIGUEZ-OREJUELA, THE BROTHER OF CALI ORGANIZATION LEADERS ON MARCH 3. WHILE NOT A LEADING FIGURE, HIS CAPTURE INDICATES THAT EFFORTS ARE BEING MADE TO LOCATE AND ARREST DRUG TRAFFICKERS BEFORE THEY ARE ABLE TO TURN THEMSELVES IN AND TAKE ADVANTAGE OF GENEROUS SENTENCE REDUCTION PROVISIONS OF THE LAW.

THE GOVERNMENT OF COLOMBIA APPEARS TO BE TAKING POSITIVE STEPS IN KEEPING WITH THE GOALS SET OUT BY PRESIDENT SAMPER IN HIS FEBRUARY SPEECH ON COUNTERNARCOTICS GOALS FOR 1995. WE WILL CONTINUE TO MONITOR THE SITUATION AND PROVIDE WHATEVER ASSISTANCE WE CAN IN THESE EFFORTS.

WE HOPE THAT THE COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT WILL CONTINUE TO INCREASE ITS PRESSURE ON ALL FRONTS THROUGHOUT 1995. SPECIFICALLY, WE ARE CONCERNED ABOUT THE USE OF AIRPORTS AND PARTICULARLY THE ISLAND OF SAN ANDRES FOR MULTI-TON SHIPMENTS OF COCAINE FROM COLOMBIA TO MEXICO. WE ALSO HOPE THAT THE GOVERNMENT WILL BE SUCCESSFUL IN LOCATING AND ARRESTING THE LEADERS OF THE CALI ORGANIZATION.

2. -GUATEMALA: PROSECUTING ALPIREZ-

Q. WHY DIDN'T THE USG PRESS THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA TO PROSECUTE ALPIREZ?

A. IN THE CASES OF BOTH MICHAEL DEVINE AND EFRAIN BAMACA, WE PRESSED THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT TO CONDUCT THE KIND OF THOROUGH AND CREDIBLE INVESTIGATIONS THAT WOULD RESULT IN PROSECUTION OF ALL RESPONSIBLE PARTIES.

IN THE DEVINE CASE, THE INTENSIVE INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED BY MRS. DEVINE'S PRIVATE INVESTIGATOR, COUPLED WITH

EFFORTS BY HER ATTORNEY AND THE EMBASSY, IDENTIFIED ALPIREZ EARLY ON AS HAVING KNOWLEDGE OF THE MURDER AFTER THE FACT. THUS, HE WAS SUSPECTED OF PARTICIPATING IN A COVERUP, ALONG WITH OTHER SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS. WE CONTINUALLY PRESSED THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT TO CONDUCT AN INVESTIGATION OF THE SENIOR MILITARY COMMAND IN CONNECTION WITH THIS CASE, BUT NEVER SUCCEEDED, DESPITE TAKING STEPS SUCH AS SUSPENDING MILITARY ASSISTANCE. FIVE ENLISTED MEN AND AN ARMY CAPTAIN WERE TRIED AND CONVICTED. THE CAPTAIN ESCAPED FROM MILITARY CUSTODY AND IS STILL AT LARGE.

WITH RESPECT TO THE BAMACA CASE, OUR DEMARCHE OF FEBRUARY 6 IDENTIFIED ALPIREZ TO PRESIDENT DE LEON AS AN INDIVIDUAL WHO ALMOST CERTAINLY HAD DIRECT KNOWLEDGE OF THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING BAMACA'S FATE AND WHO SHOULD BE RE-INTERROGATED.

WE CONTINUE TO URGE GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO DEVELOP EVIDENCE THAT WOULD SUPPORT A PROSECUTION OF ANY SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS INVOLVED IN THESE CASES. OUR EFFORTS HAVE BEEN DIRECTED AT INFORMING GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES WHERE TO FOCUS THEIR INVESTIGATION TO OBTAIN SUCH EVIDENCE.

-GUATEMALA: ALPIREZ TESTIMONY-

Q. WHAT IS YOUR REACTION TO REPORTS THAT COLONEL ALPIREZ HAS BEEN SUMMONED TO TESTIFY TO THE GUATEMALAN PUBLIC MINISTRY ABOUT HIS ACTIVITIES ?

A. THE RE-INTERROGATION OF COLONEL ALPIREZ AND OTHER GUATEMALAN MILITARY OFFICERS IS ONE OF THE ACTIONS WE URGED IN OUR FEBRUARY 6 DEMARCHE TO PRESIDENT DE LEON AND WE ARE ENCOURAGED THAT THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT IS TAKING THAT STEP.

-GUATEMALA: OIG INVESTIGATION-

Q. WILL THE INSPECTOR GENERAL BE LOOKING INTO THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S HANDLING OF THESE MATTERS?

A. THE DEPARTMENT'S INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE IS WORKING WITH THE CIA'S INSPECTOR GENERAL, WHO HAS THE PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY IN THIS MATTER.

(NOTE: STATE DEPT OIG WILL NOT MAKE A DECISION ON WHETHER TO CONDUCT AN INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATION OF THE DEPT/EMBASSY'S HANDLING OF THE CASE UNTIL AFTER THE CIA'S IG HAS DEVELOPED ITS INFORMATION FURTHER.)

3.-HAITI: UPDATE -

Q. PROVIDE AN UPDATE ON THE UPCOMING ELECTIONS, U.S. TROOP LEVELS, UNMIH TROOP LEVELS, THE CRIME SITUATION, VIGILANTISM, ETC.

A. THE FIRST ROUND OF PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL ELECTIONS IS SCHEDULED TO TAKE PLACE JUNE 4, WITH RUN-OFFS AS NEEDED JUNE 25. VOTER REGISTRATION BEGAN ON MARCH 26 BUT

WITH ONLY A SMALL FRACTION OF THE REGISTRATION PLACES OPEN.

AS OF MARCH 26, THERE WERE 4,934 U.S. TROOPS IN HAITI AND 1,864 TROOPS FROM EIGHT OTHER COUNTRIES.

FOR THE PAST SEVERAL MONTHS, THE LEVEL OF VIOLENCE IN HAITI IN GENERAL, AND IN PORT-AU-PRINCE IN PARTICULAR, HAS BEEN SIGNIFICANTLY LOWER THAN MOST OTHER SOCIETIES AND CITIES OF COMPARABLE SIZE.

IN RECENT WEEKS, A HIGHER LEVEL OF VIOLENCE HAS BEEN OBSERVED. NATURALLY, IT IS A SOURCE OF CONCERN FOR THE HAITIAN GOVERNMENT AND THE MULTINATIONAL FORCE. SEVERAL OF THE RECENT KILLINGS SEEM TO HAVE BEEN SPONTANEOUS REACTIONS TO CRIMINAL BEHAVIOR -- PEOPLE CAUGHT STEALING, MUGGING, OR ENGAGED IN OTHER CRIMES BEING SEIZED AND KILLED BY ENRAGED CROWDS.

PRESIDENT ARISTIDE HAS CALLED UPON THE CITIZENRY TO BE ACTIVE IN MAINTAINING WATCH OVER THEIR OWN COMMUNITIES, BUT ALSO TO COOPERATE WITH THE MNF AND THE POLICE, AND TO TURN OVER WRONGDOERS TO THE AUTHORITIES. THE HAITIAN COURT SYSTEM IS NOT YET OPERATING EFFECTIVELY, HOWEVER, LACKING ADEQUATE FACILITIES, EQUIPMENT AND TRAINED PERSONNEL. WE HAVE MADE A MAJOR START IN TRAINING A NEW PROFESSIONAL HAITIAN POLICE, AND WE ARE BEGINNING TO DO THE SAME, IN COOPERATION WITH OTHER DONOR COUNTRIES, FOR THE HAITIAN JUDICIARY.

THE HERALD, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1995

Guatemalan colonel denies role in murders

By EDWARD ORLEBAR
Special to The Herald

GUATEMALA CITY — A Guatemalan army colonel has defiantly denied charges that he was a CIA informant and involved in two notorious murders, including one of a U.S. citizen whose widow says she always regarded the colonel as a suspect.

"I am very shocked at this [the CIA link]," said Carole DeVine, who lives in a remote area without working phones and had not heard details of the scandal in Washington involving her husband's death until reporters provided them. "But I have always known that Alpirez was implicated."

Army Col. Julio Roberto Alpirez has been accused by Rep. Robert Torricelli, D-N.J., of being on the CIA payroll just about the time he ordered the murders of Michael DeVine and a captured Guatemalan guerrilla leader, Efrain Bamaca, who was married to U.S. lawyer Jennifer Harbury.

"The allegations Mr. Torricelli has made through the different media are a perverse and unfounded accusation against my person," Alpirez told reporters Monday night as he emerged from a five-hour interrogation in the public prosecutor's office.

Looking tired and uneasy, Alpirez appeared on the staircase of the public prosecutor's office in a well-cut gray suit, flanked by his lawyer and army spokesman Col. Morris de Leon.

All but shouting his defiance, the 44-year-old Alpirez said: "I never worked for a U.S. agency. I work and am paid by the Guatemalan army, not by a U.S. institution."

He said he has asked for an investigation of the allegations against him.

Torricelli "will have to present the proof of the accusations against me which I would like to tell you have not damaged just me, but the army, Guatemala, my family and fellow military officers. I am a professional soldier and could never — let it be well understood — never order the killing of an American citizen or a Guatemalan citizen."

Widow convinced of culpability

But Carole DeVine told reporters at her farm near the town of Poptun, 140 miles north of the capital, that she remains convinced Alpirez played a role in the murder of her husband, whose body was found beside a country road June 8, 1990.

At the couple's remote farm and guest house in the Peten area, about 10 hours' drive from Guatemala City, Carole DeVine learned details of Torricelli's allegations in detail for the first time Saturday. The farm has no television, she rarely sees newspapers, and the phones in Poptun had been out for several days.

Alpirez was the commander of the military base in Poptun at the time of her husband's killing. Witnesses have reported that a white Toyota pickup believed to have carried the death squad that killed Michael DeVine had been seen going in and out of the base in the days before his death.

"If a death squad goes in and he gives them food and says go and kill Mike DeVine, he's as much a member of the death squad as if he were in the car," DeVine said.

She said the log that records the entry and exit from the military base for the days before her husband's murder has never been produced despite repeated requests.

The truck and its passengers had come from a larger military base at Flores, about 50 miles to the north.

Cordial relations

Carole DeVine, 43, originally from Southern California, and her husband had built up the 400-acre farm and guest house over 20 years in the midst of isolated jungle. They had attended events at the Poptun army base over the years and thought their relations with the officers were cordial.

The only motive she can come up with for his murder relates to an incident in their restaurant in the mid-80s, when her husband removed an abusive army officer who had demanded to be served before an Indian.

"That didn't sit well with army officers who wanted you to kiss their boots," she said.

The officer pulled a gun but was prevented from shooting DeVine by another officer. He left saying, "I'll get you someday," Carole DeVine said.

On June 7, 1990, she saw her husband for the last time in their restaurant, when he set off by car for the guest house, taking a load of vegetables. When she realized later that he had not reached the house, she went to the army base to ask for help.

She was turned away.

Michael DeVine's body was found the next morning off the main road running south from Poptun, lying near the car with his hands tied behind his back and his head almost severed.

Through the efforts of a private investigator she hired and pressure from the U.S. government, five soldiers and army Capt. Hugo Contreras have been convicted of the killing. DeVine believes Contreras may have been the officer who threatened her husband in the restaurant.

On the day of his conviction in 1993, Contreras escaped from military custody.

PERU said on Tuesday that Ecuadorean troops attacked its troops with mortars and gunfire in a disputed border zone, killing a soldier in what it called a new breach in a cease-fire agreed to last month.

EL SALVADOR — Three Germans and a Salvadoran pilot died Tuesday when a helicopter belonging to former President Alfredo Cristiani, crashed in San Salvador. The passengers were believed to be business partners of Cristiani.

HAITI — The Coast Guard cutter Vigilant on Tuesday returned 19 Haitians to their homeland from the U.S. refugee camp at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Head of Colosio guard suspected in his death

MEXICO CITY — The army general who was responsible for protecting ruling party presidential candidate Luis Donaldo Colosio is now a prime suspect in his assassination, sources close to the investigation told The Los Angeles Times.

Brig. Gen. Domiro Garcia Reyes is now being "thoroughly investigated as part of a line of inquiry that leads to Los Pinos," the Mexican White House, said one source.

Sources confirmed reports that special prosecutor Pablo Chapa Bezanilla has told Mexican legislators that the general is under investigation as a suspect. "They are really trying to hang this on him," another source said. "My sense is that he will be arrested in a matter of days."

Case of Efrain Bamaca Velasquez
Chronology of Key Events

Note: This chronology is drawn from a review of ARA/CEN's files, which have been provided to A/IM/IS/FPC pursuant to a January 1995 FOIA request by Jennifer Harbury. Embassy Guatemala also furnished some information contained below. Ms. Harbury has filed a second FOIA request covering information until February 12, 1995, to which ARA/CEN is responding. Although this chronology refers to some intelligence reports, it by no means represents a comprehensive summary of all existing intelligence on this case.

Summary

Guatemalan guerrilla Efrain Bamaca Velasquez disappeared on March 12, 1992 after a firefight with the Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu. For nearly a year, his colleagues and American citizen wife, Jennifer Harbury, believed that he died in combat. However, a former guerrilla, Santiago Cabrera Lopez, claimed in February 1993 that, while detained by the Guatemalan military, he had seen Bamaca alive in military custody in March and July 1992. Harbury contacted our Embassy in March 1993 for assistance in resolving the case. From that time forward, the Embassy and USG officials in Washington assisted Harbury, repeatedly pressed the GOG for information and action, and shared as much information as possible with her.

After an exhumation facilitated by the Embassy failed to discover Bamaca's remains in August 1993, Harbury conducted a week-long hunger strike in Guatemala in September 1993 to publicize her demand for more information. She conducted a 32-day hunger strike in Guatemala in October-November 1994 for the same purpose, during which time she was visited on a near-daily basis by Embassy personnel, including the Ambassador on several occasions. During that hunger strike, ARA/CEN searched its CASC and PHUM files for 1993 and 1994 to create a unified file on the Bamaca case. The Embassy conducted a similar review and the CIA wrote the first of several intelligence updates/chronologies on the case.

Drawing on information developed during the file search and subsequent taskings for and receipt of additional intelligence, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to meet with President De Leon on November 11, 1994. The Ambassador told De Leon that, according to information available to the USG, Bamaca was captured alive by the military and that we had no information indicating that he survived much beyond the first few weeks of his capture. On the same day, Ambassador McAfee shared this same information with Jennifer Harbury, who had just ended her hunger strike. As more information became available in the ensuing months, we became even more convinced of this conclusion, which USG officials shared with Ms. Harbury in several subsequent meetings, while noting (as remains true to this day) that we have no direct, conclusive evidence of when or how Bamaca was actually killed, nor who ordered his murder or who actually committed it.

On January 26, the CIA provided intelligence that, according to a Guatemalan government official, "it was known within the senior ranks of the army that Alpirez ... killed Bamaca." On January 27, the CIA told ARA that Alpirez had been their asset. On February 3, the Department instructed Ambassador McAfee to approach President De Leon again, urging him to order the re-interrogation of senior military officers who might have been involved in Bamaca's disappearance, including Colonel Julio Roberto Alpirez. Ambassador McAfee made this demarche on February 6. ARA DAS Anne Patterson met February 8 with Jennifer Harbury to inform her of the demarche but without revealing Alpirez's name, in view of the fact that Alpirez' degree of involvement in Bamaca's presumed death was not clear. Harbury initiated another hunger strike on March 12 in Washington but concluded it on March 23 after Congressman Torricelli provided her with information alleging involvement in her husband's death by Colonel Alpirez. End Summary.

March 12: Efrain Bamaca Velasquez, aka Comandante Everardo, disappears after firefight with Guatemalan army near Retalhuleu.

March 18: CIA report from Guatemala reports capture of ORPA commander Everardo, described as "lightly wounded in the arm ... in good physical condition ... being well treated by the army ... cooperating fully with his captors." The report's comment speculates that the army will keep news of his capture secret or even claim that he was killed to maximize Everardo's intelligence value. ARA/CEN comment: The name "Efrain Bamaca Velasquez" is not used in this report, and an army officer told the Embassy in March 1993 that it did not know that Everardo was actually Efrain Bamaca Velasquez until Jennifer Harbury and Santiago Cabrera Lopez publicized his alleged capture. Given the description of Everardo as in good condition and cooperating with the army, there is no reason at the time to see this report in a human rights context. Although this report was undoubtedly disseminated to CEN and other ARA offices at the time of acquisition, it first comes to our attention in the Harbury/Bamaca context on November 8, 1994) [redacted] B1

May: The exhumation of a grave in Retalhuleu believed to contain Bamaca's remains is suspended by Attorney General Acisclo Valladares on the grounds that no family member is there to identify the body, nor was other identifying evidence (x-rays, dental records, etc.) available. Jennifer Harbury, who was present, did not identify herself as Bamaca's wife. On March 12 of the following year, she stated that she did not identify herself because she was afraid to do so. (93 Guatemala 3794 and embassy notes)

1993

February: Former guerrillas Santiago Cabrera Lopez and Jorge Augusto Recinos (noms de guerre: Carlos and Willy) testify at the UN Human Rights Commission in Geneva about having seen Bamaca and 35 other guerrillas in clandestine army detention in March and July 1992. (Recinos said he heard guards talking about Bamaca being in custody in August 1992; he did not claim to have seen Bamaca personally.) Cabrera Lopez says he escaped from army custody and left Guatemala in December 1992. (93 Guatemala 2435 and October 1994 sworn statement by Cabrera)

March 1: 93 Guatemala 2435 contains Embassy's evaluation of Cabrera and Recinos's claims, commenting, "we have no idea whether the guerrillas' accusations are accurate ... the ex-guerrillas' claims are not beyond the realm of possibility ... "
